WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY
1999-2000

DEAN OF CAMPUS LIFE WELCOME

Dear Willamette Students:

On behalf of the Division of Campus Life, I want to extend to you a very warm welcome as you enter or return to the Willamette community. As a Willamette student, you are part of a company of students, faculty and staff deeply committed to the ideals of liberal learning: a belief in the power of reasoned inquiry, a tolerance for diverse points of view, integrity in the process of gaining and demonstrating knowledge, the active pursuit of understanding and the cultivation of civility in dealing with one's colleagues.

At Willamette we further believe that learning is not only the province of the classroom, the lab and the library, but that it is also achieved in the volunteer or political project, the athletic field or court, in conversations at the Bistro, in residence halls and in numerous other venues. Active learning, both in and out of class, is part of the student culture at Willamette and this committed participation should be a basic component of your experience here. Just as you explore a variety of academic disciplines and areas of study, we urge you to explore the many opportunities to engage in, contribute to and learn from the co-curricular life of the campus. Moreover, we are strongly committed to the proposition that liberal learning is not simply an individual endeavor. A residential, liberal arts college such as Willamette depends for its vitality on the intellect, the energy and the enthusiasm of its students and faculty focused on the well-being of the whole community.

The goal of the Campus Life Division is to help sustain this community of learning. We aim to enhance and extend students' total learning experience at Willamette. The staff works closely with the members of the faculty and the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts to coordinate the curriculum and the cocurriculum. But, above all, we concentrate on connecting with Willamette students in ways that will enrich their lives both today and tomorrow.

I urge you to carefully read this student handbook, as it outlines Willamette's numerous opportunities for involvement and the resources available to students. Your rights and responsibilities as a student are also outlined, as well as the policies to which we all adhere.

I very much look forward to meeting and working with you during your Willamette experience!

Best wishes,

A handwritten signature in dark ink that reads "Robert E. Hawkinson". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, prominent "R" at the beginning.

Robert E. Hawkinson
Dean of Campus Life

HISTORY OF WILLAMETTE

Missionary Jason Lee came to Oregon to begin a school for Native American children in the Willamette Valley in 1834. Within a few years the slowly growing group of missionaries felt the need for a school to serve their own children. Jason Lee organized a series of meetings in his home and, on Feb. 1, 1842 — now celebrated as the founding date for Willamette University — bylaws were adopted and a board of trustees was appointed.

As the first university in the West, Willamette takes pride in its pioneer heritage, not just because it was founded in the early days of the Oregon Territory, but because, like those early pioneers, it has had an important place in the development of the West.

When Willamette was founded the cities of Portland, Seattle and Tacoma did not exist. Thus the University is closely associated with the beginning of law and government in this vast region, which now comprises Oregon, Washington, Idaho and parts of Montana and Wyoming. It educated many of the Northwest's first leaders, artists and business people. Not only was Willamette the first University in the West, but it established the first law school (1883) and the first school of medicine (1866) in the Pacific Northwest, which later merged with the medical school of the University of Oregon.

Originally called the Oregon Institute, the name was changed to "Wallamet" University in 1853. The original building (first occupied in 1844) was a three-story frame structure which served the community as well as the school since it was considered the most imposing edifice in the Northwest. It housed the first session of the legislature to meet in Salem and sheltered the first court in the territory under United States auspices.

During the University's first half-century, its land holdings were gradually sold to meet other needs, with the result that much of the present Salem downtown is built on former University land.

Willamette was one of the earliest coeducational institutions in the United States, and its first graduate was a woman. Women were attending the School of Medicine as early as 1877.

Today, Willamette University continues to push the frontier of higher education, always aware of the courageous leadership of its pioneer founders. Willamette now enrolls approximately 2,500 students in the College of Liberal Arts, School of Education, College of Law and Atkinson Graduate School of Management. The University's faculty has grown from one teacher in 1842 to 136 full-time professors. Ninety-two percent of the faculty have their doctorates, and all take pride in the learning environment fostered by a 10.5-1 student-to-teacher ratio.

Located on the edge of downtown Salem and across the street from the Oregon State Capitol, Willamette's campus now encompasses 61 acres and has 37 buildings. Recent additions to the ever-growing campus include the F.W. Olin Science Center, the Hallie Ford Museum of Art and the Mary Stuart Rogers Music Center.

FIGHT SONG AND ALMA MATER

Fight Bearcats Fight

Fight Bearcats fight;
A victory for WU
The card'nal and gold
Victorious of old
Shall give us a spirit ever new.
Fight Fight Fight
Card'nal courage shows,
And gold is our faith so true
We shout our war cry to you
Come on and fight, fight
Fight, fight, fight

Ode To Willamette

There's an old Historic Temple
Rising grandly through the years,
Where the oaken-hearted fathers
drew their strength for strong careers;
Down the years its portals open,
gather wise ones to its fold.
Breathe the spirit of the Westland
Card'nal emblem 'bossed with gold.

Dear old School! How strong we love thee!
'Round thy mem'ries how we cling!
Gladsome hearts beneath thy shadow,
Loyal hearts to thee we bring.
Old Willamette how we cherish
All thy legends and thy lore,
Born up on the calm Pacific,
Guides us onward ever more.

Spirit of the Golden Westland breathing through our father's tears;
tells the story of the temple,
bids us hope a'down the years.
Sing, oh sing, of old Willamette,
Sing, while hearts are young and true,
Sea to sea the chorus swelling,
dear Old School of our W.U.

The Office of Residence Life follows the ethical guidelines and goals of Willamette University, the Association of College and University Housing Officers-International (ACUHO-I), the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators (NASPA) and the American College Personnel Association (ACPA).

An organization is responsible to its constituents. Therefore, the Office of Residence Life is committed to regularly and effectively communicating with all of its constituents including students, parents, alumni and institutional and national colleagues. Concerted efforts are made to proactively address the concerns of these constituents and to involve their recommendations in improving operations.

COMMUNITY LIVING

The residential community at Willamette University consists of you, the members of your floor and building, and members of the other residences on campus. Your community will begin to develop from the day residences open in August. The direction your community takes depends largely upon your involvement. Your interaction with others and their interaction with you is the largest factor in the creation of a supportive living environment. The residence environment can offer you support in achieving academic excellence, social maturity, self-reliance and an increased understanding of yourself and others.

THEME HOUSING

Within the residence halls, theme housing provides students the opportunity to experience informal education outside of the classroom. Willamette's theme programs include international study (WISH), community service (Shepard House), environmental appreciation (Terra House), wellness (Kaneko Hall), healthy-choice living (Baxter Hall) and intensive study (Lausanne Hall). Each program provides special activities and the opportunity to interact with faculty and friends who share common interests.

RESIDENCE LIFE STAFF

A Residence Life staff member is available to help you and your neighbors build a positive community which fosters attitudes of respect and personal responsibility for your actions. The staff is available to help you in your adjustment to new people, ideas and freedoms.

One to six Resident Assistants (RAs) live in each residence hall and apartment building. Resident Assistants are undergraduate students who have attended Willamette for at least one semester and have an understanding of campus resources and events. They are enthusiastic leaders who strive to help students make their Willamette experience the best it can be. RAs will:

- work to ensure that each member of the community feels welcome and valued
- help residents get to know other residents in the community
- assist residents who seek information or assistance with academic or personal concerns
- be one of many community members who develop activities and educational opportunities for residents
- help develop a sense of community and a group responsibility for the hall
- explain policies and community expectations and respond to violations of these expectations

- perform administrative duties (duty coverage, weekly staff meetings and maintenance requests)

University Representatives (UReps) are students hired by Residence Life to live in the fraternities and represent the University. UReps' primary roles are to inform fraternity residents of their rights and responsibilities and to act as liaisons between fraternity residents and the Office of Residence Life.

Each sorority has a full-time Sorority House Director who is responsible for the overall operation of the house. House Directors have an apartment in the sorority house.

Assistant Coordinators are students with prior Residence Life staff experience who have central office responsibilities. These individuals have expertise in specific areas related to their roles.

- Programming — provides support and direction for departmental programming
- Leadership Development — oversees the development and support of hall governments and House of Hall Representatives
- Fraternity Living — supervises the University Representatives in the fraternities
- Constituent Relations — gathers feedback from and communicates with constituents such as students, parents, alumni and faculty

The Coordinator of Residence Life is a professional staff member who administers and oversees the advising of the men's fraternity system, works with sorority women on residential issues, assumes responsibility for departmental efforts in constituent relations and assessment, and supervises the Assistant Coordinators for Fraternity Living and Constituent Relations.

Area Coordinators are professional staff members responsible for the total operation of the residences in their complex. They supervise the RA staff, support hall governments, ensure students' rights and responsibilities, oversee the physical condition of the building, support programs and maintain communications with the Office of Residence Life and the rest of the University community. They also take on other departmental responsibilities such as leadership development, programming, diversity, alcohol education and working with University faculty and staff. Area Coordinators live in apartments in their respective complexes.

The Residence Life staff is concerned about every person's rights and well-being. If you have any questions, problems or concerns, or if you just want to talk, you should seek out a staff member. Staff is trained to handle emergency situations and to be of assistance to all students.

PROGRAMMING

During the year you will see posters on campus inviting you to attend events such as a time management workshop, a study skills seminar, a faculty fireside or a short study break in which another student will share a talent or travel experience. So much learning occurs during college years, both inside and outside the classroom, that your residence becomes a living-learning center for discussion of social, political, spiritual and life issues. Faculty and administrators are often invited to your residence to get to know you on a more informal basis. Educational programs are for your benefit — to learn and to grow.

COMMUNITY STANDARDS

One of the best ways to help ensure the successful growth of your community is for residents to foster an atmosphere of mutual respect. Before you act, consider the impact your behavior may have upon your fellow community members.

Living within your community, you will have the opportunity to meet people from a variety of backgrounds and lifestyles. The diversity of our community enriches our classes, activities, programs and everyday interactions. Getting to know others in your community may be one of the most rewarding aspects of your college experience. You are encouraged to become well-acquainted with community members, to use these experiences to increase your knowledge of others and to make new and lasting friendships. Share yourself and your experiences as well. Your active involvement in the community and your participation in its activities is essential for its growth and the formation of positive relationships.

ROOMMATES

Willamette University provides varied housing options for its students. The following suggestions apply to all situations in which two or more students live in a room or an apartment. Most also pertain to living in a setting where common space and hallways are shared by many individuals. Unless otherwise noted, these suggestions can and should be applied to your living arrangement.

Living with Roomates

You and your roommate(s) will be sharing the same living space for the entire school year. It may be difficult to talk about differences when you are first getting to know each other. To live together you will need to realize and resolve your personal differences early on in the relationship. The first step is to discuss the things each of you value, such as your backgrounds and lifestyles. Sharing some of your background information is an easy way to begin to get to know your roommate(s). Topics such as birthdays, home towns, academic interests and knowledge of Willamette are good starting points.

Communication is the key to successful community living and interactions of all kinds. Always strive to keep communication channels open. Chances are that if something is bothering you, it is bothering your roommate(s). Be honest but tactful when talking to your roommate(s). If you are finding it difficult to express your feelings, ask your Residence Life staff member for help.

One potential area of conflict between roommates is the question of personal cleanliness and tidiness. Decide on what is important to each of you and go from there. If your roommate(s) fails to do his or her part, don't wait around for a change. Talk to your roommate(s) soon. Don't demand or write notes of complaint. These things cause hard feelings and increase problems rather than remedy them.

Understanding Each Other

To get along well with your roommate(s), it is important to understand how he or she feels in certain situations. If you can share your feelings and reactions in some of the following situations, you will be ahead of the game in understanding and empathizing with each other during the ups and downs of college life. Be sure to take some time to talk about:

- The way you react when you're working under pressure
- The way you act when you're depressed
- The way you react to most people when you meet them
- Something that will usually cheer you up when you're down
- How you usually let people know that you're angry
- Some things that make you tense
- Some things that make you easily annoyed

Roommate Conflicts

Because each person is unique, with different needs and lifestyles, conflict may be inevitable when people live or work in close proximity and are interdependent on each other. We believe that the process of working through conflict with roommates and community members is an important part of the residential living experience — an opportunity to improve conflict resolution skills.

If you have a conflict with your roommate(s) or other community member and are unable to resolve the conflict, discuss your situation with a Residence Life staff member. He or she can help you develop a plan to address the problem or provide mediation. Usually, concerns can be successfully addressed through these methods. However, if after these efforts an assignment isn't working, schedule an appointment with your Area Coordinator to discuss your situation. Requests to change rooms are honored if the residents' and staff's best efforts to resolve the conflict are unsuccessful and more suitable accommodations are available. Residents requesting a room change must receive approval from their Area Coordinator and complete the residential transfer process prior to moving.

Behavior which intimidates or interferes with the quiet enjoyment of the premises by others, specifically but not limited to behavior which attempts to force a roommate to move out of the room, or to prevent a new roommate from moving in, and behavior which is disruptive in dining areas, classrooms or any other residential/campus facility, is prohibited.

ASSIGNMENTS

All Residences

The Office of Residence Life places people in rooms as needed. Priority for assignments is based on class standing (with preference going to seniors first) and one's current occupancy status. New students are assigned based on the date their enrollment deposit is received by the Admission Office. Specific roommate requests must be mutual and be received by the Office of Residence Life by the advertised deadline. Mutual roommate requests will be honored as long as all other criteria for residency are met.

Residence Halls

Students who do not have a mutually requested roommate are matched on the basis of interests and the information provided on the Personal Information Card.

If a vacancy occurs in a double-occupancy room, the remaining student will be given two days to select one of the following options:

- a) Accept a roommate assigned by Residence Life at any time
- b) Select a roommate from another room that is under/over-assigned
- c) Move into another under assigned room
- d) Move into an available single room, paying the single rate

Under assigned rooms may be consolidated at the end of the fall semester if option (a) above is selected.

If a vacancy occurs in a triple occupancy room, the remaining student(s) will be given two days to select one of the following options:

- a) Select a roommate(s) from another room that is under/over-assigned
- b) Move into another under assigned room
- c) Move into an open double room
- d) Each move into an available single room, paying the single rate

Greek Chapters

Affiliates of Greek organizations are required to live in the chapter house unless it is fully occupied and they have signed their chapter's waiting list. Members and pledges will be reassigned to their chapter if a vacancy occurs in the house. Each chapter assigns residents to rooms in its house.

Apartments

Generally, apartment residents select other students with whom they will share an apartment. However, Residence Life will match roommates for entering graduate students upon request. The following assignment eligibility will be considered for students in good standing with the University (academic and disciplinary) and wishing to live in the apartments:

- a) students currently under contract/lease with the Office of Residence Life, with first priority given to junior, senior and graduate standing
- b) other Willamette students
- c) students on approved study-abroad programs, of junior, senior or graduate standing
- d) new students of junior, senior or graduate standing

If a vacancy within an apartment other than a designated single occurs, the remaining occupant(s) will be given the following choices:

- a) select an eligible roommate under University contract within 48 hours of the vacancy
- b) occupy the apartment with one less resident at the prevailing rate of the apartment
- c) Willamette University will reassign an occupant to a residence hall or cancel the lease if conditions of (a) or (b) above are not met

Requests to underassign an apartment will not be honored without payment of the full rent by the remaining occupant(s).

Temporary Over-Assignments

Periodically, campus residences may open in the Fall with some students placed in over-assigned rooms or given temporary assignments. Students may be temporarily placed in a guest room, in a double room with three students or in a triple room with four students. Within the first few weeks most students are reassigned to standard occupancy rooms. Those who remain in overassigned rooms receive a reduction in their housing charges.

Room Transfers

Assignments are considered permanent throughout the academic year. If you have a concern about your living environment, Residence Life staff are available to assist you.

If you have a conflict with your roommate(s) or other community member and are unable to resolve the conflict, discuss your situation with a Residence Life staff member. He or she can help you develop a plan to address the problem or provide mediation. Usually, concerns can be successfully addressed through one of these methods. However, if after these efforts an assignment isn't working, schedule an appointment with your Area Coordinator to discuss your situation. Requests to change rooms are honored if the residents' and staff's best efforts to resolve the conflict are unsuccessful and more suitable accommodations are available. Residents requesting a room change must receive approval from their Area Coordinator and complete the residential transfer process. If a portion of a residence needs to be closed or redesignated, residents in that area may be required to move.

Waiting Lists

The Office of Residence Life keeps a waiting list by class standing for rate change moves (i.e., double to single, single to double, residence hall to apartment). The waiting list is started at the time of the housing lottery in April for the upcoming academic year. It begins with the first student who does not receive assignment to the chosen rate (i.e., selects a double room and signs the waiting list for an apartment since apartments are already full). The waiting list is then used throughout the next academic year. If you are interested in a rate change, stop by Residence Life to sign up.

CONTRACTS AND LEASES

Room and Apartment Sizes and Rates

Rooms and apartments differ in exact dimensions and character, even within the same residence. The majority of rooms and apartments on campus are multiple occupancy, housing either two or three students. Requests for single rooms and apartments are honored on a first-come, first-served basis with upper-class students having priority. Single rooms at Lee House and York House are an additional $500 per year. Single rooms in other residences are an additional $700 per year. See the apartment lease for rates.

Residency Requirement

The Board of Trustees of Willamette University has created a residency requirement for all freshmen and sophomores unless they are married, over the age of 21 or living with parents within a commutable distance of 25 miles. An exception may be granted by the Residency Requirement Waiver Committee in extreme circumstances. Applications for a waiver of the residency requirement are available in the Office of Residence Life. Residents are advised not to sign outside contracts or leases until they have been formally notified of their release.

We strongly support the Board of Trustees' decision and offer the following information as an explanation of the benefits of living on campus. Research comparing students who have lived on campus to those who have not demonstrates that students with residential living experience:

- 1) have higher expectations of academic achievement
- 2) are more satisfied with their interpersonal relationships and the campus social climate
- 3) participate more in extracurricular activities
- 4) report higher levels of personal growth and development
- 5) have increased interaction with faculty AND
- 6) are more likely to graduate from college (contact the Office of Residence Life for citations)

Willamette University believes that students achieve more complete and thorough progress toward the fulfillment of their potential through on-campus living than is accomplished without the benefit of this experience.

Canceling Your Housing Contract or Apartment Lease

Housing contracts and apartment leases cover the full academic year for students who enter Fall Semester. Single-semester contracts/leases are available only to Spring Semester entrants. The contract/lease may be terminated without financial penalty for the following reasons:

- graduation
- withdrawal for at least one semester
- participation in a university-sponsored study abroad program
- leave of absence
- ineligibility to continue enrollment due to a failure to meet academic requirements
- failure to enroll second semester
- marriage

Junior and senior residents or those 21 or older who choose to cancel their housing contract/apartment lease to move off campus after the published deadline are assessed a non-negotiable cancellation penalty ($350 for a housing contract, $500 for an apartment lease). In addition, residents of a residence hall or Greek house are assessed to-date room and board charges while apartment residents would be required to pay rent charges until the University leases their portion of the apartment to an approved Willamette student.

Students who are still enrolled and leave the residences during the academic year without a release from the contract/lease continue to be responsible for room and board or rent charges, which accrue against their accounts. Residents are advised not to sign outside contracts or leases until they have been formally notified of their release.

Relocation and Termination

Any student who violates the contract and/or rules and regulations covered by the Terms and Conditions for Room and Board or Terms and Conditions for the Single Student Apartment Lease (including nonpayment) may be required to relocate or withdraw from housing accommodations by the Office of Residence Life.

For the benefit of the individual students and/or the community, behavior that significantly disrupts individuals or the community shall be grounds for notice to relocate to another assignment or to vacate the residence and terminate the contract (e.g., disorderly conduct, harassment, unreasonable noise or violation of a theme living contract).

The University will give the student at least 3 days notice of termination or reassignment unless the student or someone under the student's control threatens to inflict, or actually inflicts, personal injury or substantial damage to the premises or commits an act which is a significant disruption to the community. In such a case, immediate notice of relocation or 24-hour notice of termination may be delivered to the student.

Failure to comply with instructions from the Office of Residence Life to vacate after termination or relocation by Willamette University will result in the removal and storage of the student's possessions by the University at the student's expense.

Residence Halls and Greek Houses: If the University chooses to cancel a student's contract, the student is required to pay the non-negotiable $350 cancellation penalty and the to-date accrued room and board charges.

Apartments: If the University chooses to cancel a student's lease, the student is required to pay the to-date accrued rent charges, the non-negotiable $500 cancellation penalty and rent charges until the University leases your portion of the apartment to an approved Willamette student.

The following information covers only a few of the most frequently asked questions. For complete information, please refer to your copy of the 1999-2000 Terms and Conditions for Room and Board or 1999-2000 Terms and Conditions for the Single Student Apartment Lease. If you need a copy or have additional questions, contact the Office of Residence Life.

- Gambling

Gambling is not permitted.

- Payment

The student agrees to pay room and board fees and properly billed charges (e.g., for damage, guests, lost keys, etc.) at the time(s) scheduled by the University. Room and board charges are to be paid each semester in advance unless a deferred payment plan is arranged with the Business Office.

- Vacation Periods

Campus residences (except sororities) are open during Thanksgiving and spring vacations, although meals are not provided. Only Willamette University students may reside in campus living organizations during these vacation periods. Unauthorized individuals found within secured residences during vacation periods will be considered trespassers.

Baxter Hall Contract Addendum — Substance Free Community

The Baxter community is designated as a Substance Free living environment. It is a community free of tobacco, alcohol and/or other substances. Residents and staff work cooperatively to provide substance-free alternatives. The community represents a lifestyle in which members of the community have chosen to live without the first- and second-hand effects of substance use and/or abuse.

In choosing to reside in the Baxter community, I agree:

- 1) To make a positive, personal commitment to maintain the community norms outlined above. The choice to not use substances in the Baxter community is my statement of affirmation toward supporting a community that has made the commitment to refrain from the use of substances while in the Baxter community.
- 2) Not to be in possession of tobacco, alcohol and/or other substances while in the Baxter community as set forth in this agreement.

At all times, it is the community's expectation that I am respectful, honest and cooperative with all members of the Willamette community.
- 4) Not to display or be in possession of any materials that symbolize the support, encouragement or use/abuse of any substances within the Baxter community. This could include but is not limited to: (a) displays of empty alcohol containers, (b) advertisement such as neon signs, posters or billboards, or (c) drug paraphernalia.

reassignment from the Baxter community. If I choose to use any substances in the Baxter community, I understand I may be relocated to another residence hall. Removal from the community will result in forfeiture of my programming fee for the semester.

Kaneko Hall Wellness Floor Contract Addendum Mission Statement

The Wellness Floor is more than just a substance-free community. Although it is free of tobacco, alcohol and other drugs, the Wellness Floor is best known for its tight-knit community. Members of the Wellness Floor share a common tie: their choice not to live with the first- and second-hand effects of substance abuse. They also choose to make positive choices regarding the well-being of the body, mind and spirit. Residents take responsibility for their own actions and community; thus each member has an active role in defining their living environment. Willamette University is committed to providing the resources and guidance necessary for residents to comfortably make wellness a part of their life.

Community Description

The Wellness Floor is located on the fourth floor of Kaneko Hall. Like the rest of the hall, Wellness Floor residents enjoy having access to computer labs, Bon Appetit food service, tennis and volleyball courts and much more. The fourth floor has its own TV lounge, study tables and kitchens. The Wellness Floor has a programming budget that funds floor activities. While the Office of Residence Life provides partial funding for the program, resident fees of $15 per semester contribute the additional funding necessary to maintain high-quality programs.

Terms and Conditions

In choosing to reside on the Wellness Floor, I agree to:

- 1) Make a positive, personal commitment to maintain the community norms and values established by the Mission Statement.
- 2) Uphold the following alcohol/drug-related policies:

 - a. displays of empty alcohol containers
 - b. advertisement such as neon signs, posters or billboards
 - c. drug paraphernalia.
- 3) Pay a programming fee of $15 per semester, charged to my student account. This money is used directly to fund Wellness Floor programs and activities.
- 4) Abide by the sanctions imposed should I violate the above terms and conditions. These sanctions may include removal from the Wellness Floor. Removal from the floor will result in forfeiture of my programming fee for the semester.

Lausanne Hall Intensive Study/Smoke-Free Contract Addendum

The Lausanne community is a place that fosters an atmosphere conducive to academic success. Living in Lausanne brings many benefits and responsibilities.

As a resident of the Lausanne community, you are guaranteed the following benefits:

- 1) A Quiet Environment — Quiet hours in Lausanne are from 9 p.m.-7 a.m. on weekdays and 11:00 p.m.-8:00 a.m. on weekends. In addition to Quiet Hours, there are daytime Courtesy Hours that will be enforced by Residence Life staff. Courtesy Hours in Lausanne are based on the expectation that Lausanne residents will be able to study in their rooms any time of the day; anything that disrupts this atmosphere will be addressed by Residence Life staff as a possible noise violation.
- 2) Smoke-Free Residence — Lausanne Hall is primarily a wood core building, therefore smoking is not allowed anywhere in the building and is strongly discouraged near the residence. If you are a smoker, please consider this seriously; there will be no exceptions.

As a resident of the Lausanne community, you will be expected to:

- 1) Abide by both Courtesy Hours and Quiet Hours. Any infraction will result in documentation by a Residence Life staff member and an administrative hearing with the Area Coordinator. Failure to abide by Courtesy Hours or Quiet Hours may result in relocation to another residence hall.
- 2) Maintain a Smoke-Free Environment. A Residence Life staff member will address anyone smoking in Lausanne and the violation will be documented. Failure to abide by the No Smoking policy will result in relocation to another residence hall.

Terra House Contract Addendum — Environmental Awareness and Outdoor Adventure

I agree to participate in and promote the environmental/outdoors theme of Terra House. I understand that Terra House is a residence hall dedicated to environmental awareness and outdoor adventure. I will be expected to recycle, attend hall retreats and become active in the Willamette community. I understand that I will be required to pay a $15 programming fee per semester in order to fund environmental/outdoors programming in Terra House.

RESIDENTIAL FACILITIES

Building Access

Campus residences are open when the University is in session. Except for the sororities, residences are also open during both Thanksgiving and spring breaks. Residences are closed during semester break (except Haseldorf and the University Apartments). All residences are locked 24 hours a day and all buildings have a card-lock access system for entry. Your ID card is your "outside door key." Nonresident students have access to your residence from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. with the use of their ID cards. After 11 p.m., only those assigned to the building have card-lock access.

Duty Coverage

Duty coverage in the residences (except sororities) is provided by the Residence Life Staff after normal working hours (Monday through Friday from 8 a.m.-5 p.m.). The Resident Assistant or University Representative on duty carries a pager and can respond in case of a lock-out or other concern from 5 p.m.-8 a.m. An Area Coordinator is also on call for the campus and can be paged in case of an emergency from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. on weekends. The Area Coordinator on call does not have access to master keys for lock-outs. Pager numbers are listed on page 62.

Energy Conservation

In an effort to conserve energy, the University participates in a program of replacing older fixtures with energy-efficient ones. In addition, low-flow shower heads have been installed to regulate the amount of water used.

Kitchenettes in Residence Halls

Most of the residences have student kitchens. These facilities are provided since cooking is not permitted in student rooms, bathrooms or hallways, or on the balconies at Kaneko Hall.

Laundry Facilities

Each residence has coin-operated washers and dryers. Most laundry rooms have ironing boards, but you will need to use your own iron. If the laundry machine is broken or takes your money, report it to your Residence Life staff member. Refunds will be ordered by your Area Coordinator.

Maintenance and Phone Repairs

Physical Plant and WITS staff make every effort to keep the residences and phone system in good condition. However, normal wear and tear does occur and repairs are necessary. To order repairs in your room/apartment, contact your Residence Life staff member to submit a Maintenance or WITS Request Form. Your signature on a registration form at check-in authorizes a Physical Plant or WITS staff member to enter your room/apartment to complete any work order that you submit throughout the contract period. Please report emergency situations to a Residence Life staff member immediately.

Storage

A locked storage room is available in some residences, but space is limited. Storage space in residences, fraternities and apartments is not guaranteed for students. All items must be stored in a designated storage room and clearly marked with your name, address and the date stored. Only current on-campus students may store items during the academic year, and only students who have reserved a room/apartment for the following academic year may store items over the summer. Storage areas are for items to be stored for long periods of time. Keep items that you need periodically in your room/apartment. Items left in designated storage rooms over one year will be subject to donation and/or disposal. Items left in common areas at any time are subject to donation and/or disposal.

STORED ITEMS ARE LEFT AT YOUR OWN RISK! The University does not accept responsibility for the damage, loss or theft of personal property.

Items that CANNOT be stored on campus include but are not limited to: motor vehicles (such as scooters), gasoline, oil, paint, hazardous chemicals or chemicals that are a potential fire danger, weapons, animals, empty cardboard boxes, student-owned furniture or carpet, and other items that may be deemed unsafe by the fire marshal or the University.

Television

Residence hall and fraternity lounges have satellite access television. Antenna service to student rooms/apartments is only available in Haseldorf, University Apartments and portions of Lausanne and Shepard. Installation of or tampering with outside antennas, cables of any kind or DSS equipment, except as authorized by the Office of Residence Life, are not permitted.

Vending Machines

Food and beverage machines are provided in most residences. Should a machine be empty, broken, or keep your money without returning goods, report it to a Residence Life staff member. Refunds may be ordered by your Area Coordinator.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES

Emergency Phone Numbers

Campus Safety	x6911
Campus Safety (from off campus)	503-370-6911
Salem Police business line	503-588-6123

Medical Emergencies

In the event of a medical emergency, notify Campus Safety (x6911) immediately. Identify yourself, give the location and name of the ill or injured student and explain the problem. Stay with the ill or injured person until help arrives.

Fire

All alarms are to be treated as an emergency and it is your responsibility to leave the building when an alarm sounds. Failure to evacuate the building during a fire alarm will result in a $50 fine. Fire alarms in all residences (excluding Haseldorf Apartments) and the smoke detectors in student rooms at Lausanne and Kaneko Halls are connected to the Fire Department.

Fire Evacuation Procedures

In the event of a fire:

- Pull the alarm if it is not already ringing.
- In a burning building, keep close to the floor, cover your head with a towel or an item of clothing to provide protection from heat and smoke. Feel doors with the back of your hand. If they are hot, do not open them.
- If the door is warm or the hallway is impassable, place towels or a blanket (wet, if possible) at the base of the door. Call Campus Safety (503-370-6911) with your name and room/apartment number, go to the window and make your presence known.

- If the door is cool and the hallway is clear, close your door behind you and evacuate the building immediately.
- If the hallway is filled with smoke, cover your nose and mouth, stay low to the ground and move quickly to the nearest exit. If it is blocked, return to your room/apartment, close the door and signal for help.
- If the clothes you are wearing are on fire, do not run. Drop to the floor and roll up in a rug or bedspread. Remove smoldering clothing.
- Residence Life staff members will clear their floors and continue to clear people from the building as they proceed to the nearest exit.
- Do not attempt to fight the fire. Wait for the Fire Department. Stay away from the building, main sidewalk and entrance area. Meet your fellow residents at the designated location.
- No one is to re-enter the building without the Fire Department's permission. The Fire Department has legal control of the building whenever an alarm is activated. Anyone who interferes with the firefighters or who fails to cooperate in any way is subject to a fine and/or arrest.

Fire Extinguisher Safety

Do not use water on electrical fires or on fires involving grease or oil; use the CO₂ or ABC extinguishers. If a grease fire develops in a container or on a stove, eliminate the source of heat by turning off the stove and cover the container by slipping a lid across the top from the side. Wash extinguisher chemicals off the skin as soon as possible.

use of its facilities.

- 9) Students have a right to be interviewed on campus by any graduate or professional school or employer desiring to recruit at the University, subject to the Non-Discrimination Policy and requirements for the use of University facilities.
- 10) Students have a right to a press free of any censorship, subject to state, local and federal laws, and University policies.
- 11) Students have a right to an environment conducive to intellectual freedom and a campus characterized by safety and order.
- 12) Students have a right to a confidential disciplinary process, as outlined in the University Standards of Conduct.

In addition to the rights accorded to all students of Willamette University, each person living on campus possesses certain individual rights which must be held in high regard. This guide is intended to define the minimal expectations of the rights and responsibilities of residents in actualizing their freedoms, without placing constraints upon such rights of other residents. Each individual has the right to engage in those physical, educational, and social pursuits that are a necessary part of his or her university life. However, these rights carry with them a reciprocal responsibility on the part of the individual to ensure those same rights for other residents.

Residents' Primary Rights

Every resident is entitled to the following rights:

- 1) The right to read and study free from undue interference in one's room. One of the basic purposes of the University is the dissemination and application of knowledge. Unreasonable noise and other distractions inhibit the exercise of this right.
- 2) The right to sleep, the right to one's personal belongings, the right to access one's room or apartment, and the right to a certain environment in which to live. Optimum physical conditions are essential as they support, reinforce and provide for positive conditions in which to learn and live.
- 3) The right to be treated with dignity and respect. The University affirms the value of each person. All persons are entitled to live with and learn from each other in an atmosphere of positive engagement and mutual respect.
- 4) The right to identify and seek resolution of grievances. If the academic and residential communities are to function in the most educationally beneficial manner, the right to initiate actions and referrals for impartial and fair adjudication of grievances is held paramount. In exercising this right, the student further holds the right to be free from fear of intimidation, physical and/or emotional harm, and without the imposition of sanctions apart from fair procedure.

Residents' Secondary Rights

Secondary rights of the individual are those which should be protected, but which should not infringe upon the reasonable exercise of the primary rights defined above. These secondary rights include:

- 1) The right to personal privacy. All persons should have freedom from interference with their personal activities, and should be able

- to maintain privacy for other than academic reasons.
- 2) The right to host visitors. All persons should have the opportunity to maintain personal contacts and friendships with other persons to fulfill their needs for socialization. Visitors are to respect the above stated rights of residents and to adhere to all regulations.

Any abuse of these rights is subject to review and action according to the procedures given in the Standards of Conduct for Willamette University.

Student Responsibilities

Willamette University is sensitive to the rights, freedoms and responsibilities of all student residents. Policies and procedures have been established to ensure that individual rights and freedoms are protected and responsibilities are understood. The residential community aims to maintain standards conducive to academic, social and personal growth. Students at Willamette University are expected to:

- Observe state and federal laws as well as University policies and regulations
- Respect the rights and privileges of others
- Be forthright and honest in all of their academic and social conduct
- Share the responsibility of maintaining an environment where individual actions do not violate the community's welfare

This means that students have both the right and the responsibility to confront each other directly in a constructive manner when problems occur. Residence Life staff will support and work with students in an effort to understand and abide by University policies.

Students are also responsible for abiding by all policies, rules and regulations for on-campus living contained in this handbook, as well as information from other sources including:

- Willamette University Selected Policies Manual
- Terms and Conditions for Room and Board
- Terms and Conditions for the Single Student Apartment Lease
- Residence Life staff

The University, however, does not attempt to use formal rules to define every unacceptable form of behavior. In situations not covered by specific regulations, you are expected to use common sense and conduct yourself at all times as a mature, responsible individual. Remember: If it's illegal off campus, it's illegal on campus. University property does not insulate students from being accountable for their actions.

While most students demonstrate respect for others in the community and conduct themselves in an appropriate manner, the small number of individuals who do cause behavioral problems may have a negative effect and disrupt the entire community. Failure to comply with University and/or residential policy may result in disciplinary action. Serious or repetitive violations of these policies would be grounds for termination of a student's housing contract/lease and may affect his/her opportunity to return to University residences.

Conversely, those students who are positive and active community members may enhance their residential status, as they are vital to the quality of life on the Willamette University campus. Abiding by the regulations set forth in this guide is a major part of developing a supportive residential community which encourages academic, social and personal growth.

Civility

Community, civility, comity and stewardship, and the search for knowledge and truth, are the essence of Willamette University life.

A community is a group of people that hold values in common. Civility springs from the concept of accepting and respecting the rights of individuals. Comity is the friendly spirit that supports and surrounds us as we learn and celebrate the unique contributions that each of us brings to our community called Willamette University. Stewardship is the responsibility we accept that makes this a great community, for now and for future generations. These principles are of little use as definitions on paper. The principles must be in practice to sense the magical transforming qualities they bring to each of us and to humanity.

The primary participants in this community are administrators, students, faculty, staff and alumni. All gather here from a variety of external communities. We all have agreed to participate as a member of this community of scholars. We ask that all members of the community participate by practicing and promoting civility, comity and stewardship.

Communities derive their strength from each individual. Each individual must sustain the community in order for the community to protect and sustain the individual. We believe that tolerating an individual is not the same as supporting the individual. Willamette discourages behavior that threatens the freedom and respect that each member deserves. Behaving civilly implies acting in a manner consistent with the principles of courtesy, honesty and integrity, and encouraging the practice of these behaviors in others.

Ideally, the adherence to these principles is voluntary although these principles are a part of the University's Standards of Conduct. Choosing to accept the direction of the principles strengthens the individual and the community. Discovering the natural benefit of these principles is a virtue.

Standards of Conduct (from the Willamette University Selected Policies Manual)

The University may take disciplinary action against a student or student organization that willfully engages or attempts to engage in any of the actions listed below. The University may take disciplinary action against a student organization when the alleged violation may reasonably be held to be a collective act of that organization.

- 1) Falsification, forgery, unauthorized alteration, or misuse of University documents, records, keys, student identification, or combination door locks;
- 2) Disruption, obstruction, or material interference with the process of instruction, research, administration, career placement, discipline, or any other service or activity provided or sponsored by the University;
- 3) Deliberate lying, withholding of information, or misrepresentation in any transaction with the University, whether oral or written;

- 4) Damage, destruction, theft, or misuse of University property or personal property located on the University campus;
- 5) Unauthorized entry or use of University owned or controlled property, facilities, equipment or resources;
- 6) Conduct which threatens the health or safety of any person on University property or at University-sponsored activities;
- 7) Aiding and abetting another in a violation of the Standards of Conduct;
- 8) Failure to comply with a directive from a University staff member in the performance of his/her duty;
- 9) Lewd or indecent conduct on University property or at University-sponsored activities;
- 10) Sexual harassment (quid pro quo and hostile work environment) - see Willamette University Selected Policies Manual, 1999-2000;
- 11) Sexual harassment (peer) - Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, physical or written activity of a sexual nature when such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive living or academic environment, regardless of whether the alleged harasser or person being harassed are members of the same or opposite sex;
- 12) Non-sexual harassment - includes harassment on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, as well as the existence of a hostile environment that is created, encouraged, accepted, tolerated, or left uncorrected. (see Standards of Conduct, IV, A. I. for the inclusive list)
- 13) Acts that threaten, intimidate, harass, degrade or disgrace another. The University standard for differentiating between an isolated instance and harassment is "...when the conduct is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive to limit a student's ability to participate in or benefit from the educational program, or to create a hostile or abusive educational environment."

Each incident is to be judged individually and is subject to a "reasonable person" standard, which would include such criteria as whether a reasonable person would subjectively feel harmed, or if a reasonable person would actually incur harm.

The following examples are intended to clarify where harassment is not severe enough to create a hostile environment:

- Single comment (e.g., "You have a nice figure")
 - Single request for a date, even if unwelcome
 - Single gift of flowers, even if unwelcome
 - Single incident or comment re: student's muscles, even if sexual in nature and unwelcome
 - Student actively participates in sexual banter and gives no indication that he/she doesn't like it
- 14) Sexual offenses — the following are sexual offenses when the alleged victim does not consent or is incapable of consenting.*
 - a) Sexual intercourse — penetration of the penis into the vagina, sodomy, oral sex and/or penetration with a foreign object.

- b) Sexual contact — any touching of intimate parts of the alleged victim or causing the alleged victim to touch the intimate parts of the alleged perpetrator for the purpose of arousing or gratifying sexual desire of either party.
- * Incapacity to consent — if at the time of the alleged offense, the alleged victim is rendered incapable of making or communicating a decision to the alleged perpetrator for any of the following reasons:
- the alleged victim is under the influence of a controlled substance or other intoxicating substance
 - the alleged victim is unconscious
 - the alleged victim has a mental disability
 - consent is obtained by force or threat of force
 - for any other reason the alleged victim is unable to communicate his/her intentions
- 15) Possession, use, or threatened use of firearms, ammunition, explosives, or any other objects as weapons on University property or at University-sponsored activities;
- 16) Possession, sale, or unauthorized use of narcotics or illegal drugs on University property or at University-sponsored activities;
- 17) Violations of the University Alcohol Policy (see Alcohol Policy);
- 18) Disorderly conduct (including disorderliness resulting from drunkenness), unreasonable noise, or behavior which results in material inconvenience, annoyance, or alarm;
- 19) Tampering with fire fighting equipment, turning in a false alarm, or engaging in behavior which constitutes a fire hazard;
- 20) Making harassing phone calls, misusing or abusing of University telephone equipment, computer access lines, mail services and telecommunication resources;
- 21) Failure to abide by any published University policy or procedure, applicable local, state and federal laws (e.g., including, but not limited to Residence Life policies, catalogs);
- 22) Failure to comply with the terms of any sanction imposed in accordance with these Standards of Conduct.

RESIDENTIAL AND GUEST RESPONSIBILITIES

"For years our nation's courts have been using four basic arguments in an effort to sustain the balance between the individual and the state's interest in our public colleges and universities." Although Willamette is a private university, the following compelling community interests still provide a useful framework for understanding the rationale behind our policies:

- Health and safety
- Property, property loss or damage
- Serious disruption of the educational living environment
- Legitimate educational purpose

Each of the policies in the Residential and Guest Responsibilities section of this handbook were developed to address one or more of these compelling community interests.

Gathercoal, Forrest, Judicious Leadership for Residence Hall Living, 1991.

COMPELLING COMMUNITY INTEREST: ISSUES OF HEALTH AND SAFETY

The University has the responsibility to establish policies and procedures which safeguard the health and safety of its community members. The following policies and procedures were designed to protect students against incidents or behavior that may jeopardize the physical, mental and emotional health and/or safety of either the group or the individual. Most of the policies related to issues of health and safety were established to reduce the risk of fire. At first glance, some of these policies may seem unduly restrictive. However, given the potential for loss of life, the State of Oregon Fire Marshal mandates strict adherence to these standards. Certain rights of the individual may be limited for the common good of the community.

Alcohol

As educators, our goals are to promote legal and responsible use of alcohol for those who choose to drink and to take appropriate action to stop minors who are drinking and legal drinkers who are drinking irresponsibly. These goals are based on a) our concern about alcohol use which is detrimental to the physical, social or academic well-being of the students involved or is inconsiderate of the rights of others and b) on our responsibility to uphold state laws and University policies.

The use or possession of alcoholic beverages is only permitted in accordance with Oregon State law and as outlined in the University's alcohol policy (see Willamette University Selected Policies Manual for the complete policy).

- Individuals 21 years of age or older may consume alcohol in accordance with this policy. Individuals not of legal drinking age (not yet 21 years old) are not permitted to consume alcohol.
- No person shall misuse or abuse alcohol.
- No person shall sell, give or otherwise make available any alcoholic beverage to a person under the age of 21 years.
- No person shall sell, give or otherwise make available any alcoholic beverage to any person who is visibly intoxicated.
- Consistent with Oregon State law, private gatherings in individual student rooms will not be considered social functions and need not be registered. Occupants and participants are responsible for abiding by all University policies.
- Any gathering in an individual student room where alcohol is present may not exceed a safe and manageable occupancy for that room. The University defines "safe and manageable occupancy" as no more than three (3) times the residential occupancy for that room.
- Regardless of the number of persons in an individual student room, a University employee may enter a room to ensure compliance with health and safety standards, or if there is reason to believe that there have been violations of University policy or state and federal law.
- Alcohol may not be served or consumed in any outdoor areas of the campus.
- Willamette University community members are responsible for their guests.

- Kegs, party balls and other common-source containers are not permitted on campus without the written permission of the Dean of Residence Life.

Please consult the Willamette University Selected Policies Manual and Office of Residence Life for information regarding permitted alcohol use in public areas of the residences.

- University Trips and Off-Campus University Events

The University alcohol policy is in force on all University travel and at off-campus, University functions, as applicable. All participants will be held responsible for their behavior during University travel and at off-campus, University functions.

- Minor in Possession

University staff have the responsibility to confront behavior which appears to violate the Willamette University Standards of Conduct and State and Federal law. When Campus Safety officers encounter individuals who appear to be violating such standards, including the University Alcohol Policy, they have a duty to confront such behavior and may issue citations which can result in fines up to $50. An administrative hearing will then be scheduled following the procedures outlined in the Standards of Conduct. At that time the fine may be assessed, remanded or reversed. The fine, if assessed, will then be billed to the student's account.

- Sanctions will be administered under the policies and procedures of the Standards of Conduct, or as outlined in the Employee Handbook, whichever is appropriate. Sanctions will be administered for the abusive use of alcohol. Sanctions will always include an educational component. Students should expect a required alcohol education class for first time violations of the Alcohol Policy. The University may require additional sanctions such as, but not limited to, Risk Management and liability or leadership education programs. Repeat or egregious behavior will require more comprehensive educational sanctions including outpatient treatment and assessment. Repeated violations may require that the University contact a parent under FERPA guidelines. Repeated violations may lead to suspension.

Sanctions may include suspension of privileges to serve, possess or consume alcohol on campus in University-owned facilities. The University may require students to be absent from functions where alcohol is served or consumed including, but not limited to, their own private residences.

Appliances

Residence Halls and Greek Houses: Refrigerators must have a UV label, draw 1.5 amps or less of electricity and be no larger than 3 cubic feet. Appliances with any type of exposed burner or open flame device are prohibited. Examples include space heaters, toaster ovens, toasters, woks, fry pans, sun lamps and hot plates. Hot pots and hot air poppers are permitted. Microwave ovens are only permitted in the student kitchens.

Apartments: Microwave ovens and cooking devices with exposed burners are permitted. Please use extreme caution and do not leave them unattended while in use.

Balconies at Kaneko Hall

Student rooms at Kaneko Hall have balconies. Balconies are not to be used for cooking, storage of flammable materials or littering. A $50 fine will be issued to anyone throwing anything off a balcony at Kaneko. Oregon Fire Code violations will result in disciplinary action.

Biohazard (Bodily Fluid) Cleanup

When you or your guest(s) vomit or leave bodily fluids in common areas, you are responsible for contacting a Residence Life or Housekeeping staff member to obtain a bodily fluid cleanup pack to clean up the fluids. The area should be cleaned within half an hour of the incident. If you are incapacitated, then any other individuals involved or accompanying you may be responsible for cleaning up the fluids within half an hour or contacting a Residence Life staff member to do so. If the responsible party cannot be found, residents have half an hour to clean up the fluids. If it is necessary for a Residence Life staff member or Housekeeping to clean the area, the living unit will be charged a $50 biohazard cleanup fee. If the responsible party is identified after the fluids have been cleaned up, the person will be charged a $50 biohazard cleanup fee.

Common Area Event

In concern for the safety of all residents, any activity in a residence hall or Greek chapter house must register this activity with the Office of Residence Life, seven working days prior to the event if expected attendance will exceed one-and-a-half of the building's capacity. This will allow for proper coordination among the many constituents needed to coordinate a large-scale event.

Cooking

It is a violation of the Oregon Fire Code to cook in your room, bathrooms and hallways, or on the balconies of Kaneko Hall (i.e., no barbecues). Food left out in your room or in the common area also tends to attract pests and bugs. Cooking is only permitted in the student kitchens and the apartments. It is the responsibility of the residents to keep the student kitchens clean. If it is necessary for Housekeeping staff to clean the kitchen area, the living organization will be responsible for any additional cleaning charges.

Decorations in Student Rooms and Apartments

Because your room/apartment is your home away from home, you may prefer to bring your own decorations to give it a personal touch. Furniture may be added if it does not create a health or fire hazard. However, all current furnishings must remain in the room/apartment. Tapestries or other large pieces of material cannot be hung from light fixtures, sprinklers or smoke detectors and must be fire retarded. Lights cannot be covered, tampered with nor have the bulbs removed. Oregon's Fire Code does not permit the use of live holiday decorations (i.e., trees, wreaths, holly, etc.) in student rooms.

Decorations for Community Events and Programs in and around Campus Residences

For the health and safety of Willamette residents and their guests, the following fire safety guidelines are provided to assist all living organizations on campus with planning for community events or programs in and around the campus residences. These include holiday celebrations, parties, Greek Rush, etc.

- Paper decorations cannot cover more than 10 percent of wall space.
- If decorative material could ignite, it cannot be used unless treated effectively with a flame retardant purchased through Campus Safety. (Examples are: paper, streamers, etc.) Hay bales, cornstalks and the like are not permitted as decorative material. Campus Safety will provide the retardant at cost between 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday ($5 per quart which will cover 125 square feet).
- As stated in the Oregon Uniform Fire Code, "Decorative Materials shall include all materials such as curtains, draperies, streamers, surface coverings applied over the building interior, cotton batting, straw, vines, leaves, trees and moss used for decorative effect, but it shall not include floor coverings, ordinary window shades, nor materials 1/40 of an inch or less in thickness applied directly to and adhering tightly to a base."
- Plastic tarp and styrofoam are classified as flammable, toxic materials by the Fire Department. They cannot be flame retarded and therefore are prohibited under any conditions.
- Keep stairways and hallways free of clutter and handrails clear of decorations. Doorways, corridors, stairways or other passageways cannot be obstructed by decorative materials or displays. Movement through these areas cannot be impaired.
- Exit signs or fire protection equipment must not be obscured or obstructed.
- Tunnels or other passageways cannot be constructed to serve as a means of entering, moving through or exiting a building, hallway or room.
- Decorative materials of any kind are not permitted on light fixtures, fire sprinkler heads, smoke detectors, fire extinguisher cabinets or electrical fans. Remember that hallway and room lights cannot be covered, tampered with or have the bulbs removed. As an alternative, consider turning off the overhead lights and providing an alternative source of light which might be dimmer, but still provides enough light for people to be able to see objects and exits.
- Use of extension cords must meet the requirement listed under Electrical Extensions.
- Candles or any flame-producing devices are not permitted. With prior approval from a Residence Life professional staff member, residents who want to observe religious holidays which involve open flames as part of the ceremony may do so conditional on strict adherence to the specific guidelines set forth.
- Smoke and simulated smoke cannot be used as it obstructs vision and sets off the smoke detectors.
- Mini lights are the only type of light strands permitted. If you use lights, make sure they are UL approved and test them before use. Look for loose, broken sockets and frayed cords. Make sure bulbs do not touch combustible materials. Similar to electrical extensions, lights cannot be strung through doorways, across hallways or any where the cords could be pinched or broken. No more than two strands of lights can be can be strung together. Do not use a staples to suspend lights; use painter's masking tape only.

- Use painter's masking tape whenever possible to attach decorations to walls. Small quantities are available through the Residence Life staff. Larger quantities can be purchased at hardware stores. Masking tape or very small pins are acceptable alternatives. Do not use duct tape, cellophane tape, nails or staples.
- If a stage is being constructed as part of the event, it must be preapproved through Physical Plant with a final inspection done by a Campus Safety officer prior to its use. Please remember that Physical Plant hours are 7:30 a.m.-4 p.m., Monday-Friday. Any stage that is constructed for an event must be disassembled and removed within 72 hours.
- Painting on windows and tiled bathroom walls is permitted if the materials are washable, leaving no permanent damage. Be sure to use plastic under the window to prevent damage to the wall or carpet. Let custodial staff know you are planning to paint and when the paint will be removed.

A Campus Safety officer must inspect all event decorations. Please schedule your inspection with Campus Safety no less than two hours before the beginning of an event to ensure that the above safety guidelines are being followed. During the inspection, the Campus Safety officer will verify that decorative materials have been flame retarded.

Campus Safety may consider exceptions to these guidelines in some instances. For example, it might be permissible to relax the mandate for exclusive use of flame-resistant material if the event is scheduled for a finite period of time, sober individuals will be monitoring the event, and the officer feels certain that the possibility of a source of heat or flame is virtually nil. Any exceptions to these guidelines need to be approved through Campus Safety.

- Halloween
Be careful handling dry ice. Handle it only while wearing heavy-duty gloves.

Small flashlights can be purchased for use in pumpkins.

There are several alternatives to black plastic. The least expensive option is to use flame-retardant black butcher paper. Black sheets can be coated with flame retardant and saved for future use.

Flame-retardant polyvinyl is similar to plastic and is available in a variety of colors from:

- Winter Holidays

Live holiday trees in lounges must be kept in water stands. Check the water level daily. Lights cannot be put on trees that exceed six feet in height. (An eight-foot pine tree can burn completely in 30 seconds.)

Artificial trees need to be labeled flame resistant.

Never use glass wool (angel hair) in combination with spray or flocking. The combination is highly combustible.

Saran Wrap should be put on windows before any artificial snow is applied. Snow leaves stains on wood and painted surfaces. There will be a charge if Housekeeping needs to clean or the Physical Plant needs to repaint these surfaces.

Cleanup and removal of decorations must be completed before students leave for the semester.

Drugs

The possession, use, distribution, cultivation or sale of drugs or drug paraphernalia is illegal as defined by Oregon state law and is prohibited on campus. Also, the manufacture, sale, delivery, possession or use in any amount of any controlled substance, drug, chemical, product or material for the purpose of use as an intoxicant is not permitted. A student who chooses to violate this policy or other University policies while under the influence of a drug will be required to attend an educational workshop on alcohol and other drugs at the student's expense. Additional sanctions may also be imposed.

Electrical Extensions

Please use caution in the use of electrical extensions. Their improper use can start fires. The Oregon Fire Code requires adherence to the following guidelines. All electrical equipment must be plugged into: a) an outlet, b) a single-use, heavy-gauge, grounded (three-pronged plug) extension cord, or c) a UL-approved, grounded and fused power strip. These extension cords and power strips are available at cost through Campus Safety. The maximum cord length between an outlet and a fused power strip is 15 feet. Without a power strip, the maximum cord length between an outlet and an electrical appliance is 15 feet (including the appliance cord). See the diagrams on the following page for clarification.

A fused power strip should be plugged directly into an outlet. The maximum cord length on a power strip is 15 feet.

A fused power strip can be plugged directly into a single-use, heavy-gauge, grounded extension cord as long as the combined cord length is not longer than 15 feet.

An electrical appliance can be plugged directly into a single-use, heavy-gauge, grounded extension cord as long as the combined cord length is not longer than 15 feet.

Power strips may not be plugged into other power strips.

Residential-type, low-gauge extension cords, called 'zip cords,' are not permitted.

Nonfused multi-use extension cords and nonfused multi-use plug adapters are not permitted.

Electrical extensions cannot be strung through doorways or across hallways. Keep power strips away from heat sources and moisture and do not use paper around electrical outlets. Fines are issued by the City of Salem for noncompliance with these regulations.

Fireworks, Explosives and Dangerous Chemicals

Because of their potential to start a fire or otherwise endanger members of the campus community, explosives, fireworks and dangerous chemicals are prohibited on University property. Equipment and vehicles that use combustible fuel are also prohibited in the residences without written permission.

Fire Safety Equipment

Fire extinguishers are located throughout each building and in staff apartments. Fire doors close automatically when an alarm sounds to prevent a fire from spreading. If fire doors do not operate properly, notify your Residence Life staff member. Fire doors, hallways and stairwells must be clear of obstructions at all times. Know the location of all fire exits, fire alarms and extinguishers.

All smoke detectors must be operational and have at least 18 inches of clearance (i.e., from shelves, drapes, etc.). In Lausanne and Kaneko Halls and the University Apartments, the sprinkler heads must also have 18 inches of clearance and cannot be used to hang things. If smoke detectors or sprinkler heads have been tampered with, a $50 fine will be assessed to the occupant(s).

Pulling the fire alarm in a nonemergency situation or tampering with fire safety or firefighting equipment will result in a fine of up to $250, referral for further disciplinary action and possible eviction from campus housing. This equipment includes fire extinguishers, smoke detectors, sprinklers, fire alarms, EXIT signs and automatic door closures. If an alarm is intentionally set off or equipment is tampered with and the responsible party is unknown, the entire living unit or portion thereof will be responsible for payment of up to $250 fine.

In the event of a fire alarm, you are expected to close windows or balcony doors, leave your room/apartment, close the door behind you and evacuate the building according to the posted evacuation routes. Stay away from the building until instructions are given to return. Anyone who fails to cooperate with these expectations is subject to disciplinary action and a fine of $50. See Emergency Procedures under Safety in Residences.

Hallways

Fire doors, hallways and stairwells must be clear of obstructions at all times. Fire doors need to be free to close automatically when an alarm sounds to prevent a fire from spreading.

Halogen Lights

Halogen lights generate a considerable amount of heat and have been responsible for fires. Due to the potential hazards, halogen lights are not to be used on campus.

Identification

The Willamette ID card is for the sole use of the person to whom it is issued. Do not lend it to anyone. If you lose your ID card, report it promptly to Campus Safety. The replacement cost for a new ID card is $10.

Keys and Building Security

All living organizations are locked 24 hours a day and all have a card-lock access system for entry. The residences are only as safe and secure as residents help to keep them. To protect the safety and security of all residents, do not prop an outside door to a residence unless it is attended. The student responsible (or living group organization if the responsible individual is unknown) will be fined $25 for an unattended propped door. Repeat offenses double the fine and may result in disciplinary action against the student or living organization.

Student ID cards are used for the card-lock system. At check-in you are issued a key to your room/apartment. You are responsible for your key until check-out. All keys are picked up at the Office of Residence Life and returned to your staff member at check-out. If you lose a key or do not return it at check-out, it is your responsibility to pay for the lock to be changed to ensure the security of the next resident. If you fail to return a room/apartment key at check-out, the lock will be changed at your expense. A lock change and new keys cost $40.

For the security of all campus residents, students may not lend their key or ID card to anyone. If you live in Haseldorf or the University Apartments and circumstances require that another student have access to your apartment over the semester break, contact the Office of Residence Life for additional information. In addition, the unauthorized possession, use, reproduction or sale of keys to University facilities is prohibited.

Lockouts

Residence Life staff members and Campus Safety open your room/apartment when you are locked out. This service is provided to you three times during the academic year. Each time you are let into your residence/apartment/room you will be given a notice which explains that there is a three-time limit and this is one of those times. You will be required to present your student ID and sign a form. Staff will turn these notices in to Residence Life to be logged. If you receive three notices you will be sent a memo stating that the service is no longer free and there will be a $10 charge assessed to your student account for each subsequent entry.

If you lock yourself out of your room:

Lofts

Due to the danger of added fire load (combustible material) created by lofts, lofts are not permitted on campus.

Open Flames

As a means of fire prevention, burning candles, potpourri, incense or any open flames are not permitted in the residence halls, apartments or Greek chapter houses.

Exceptions to these guidelines will only be considered for specific celebrations or ceremonies, such as candles on a birthday cake or a menorah for Hanukkah. Any exception to the open flame policy needs to be approved in advance through a Residence Life professional staff member.

Pesticides, Notification of Use

If there are pests or bugs in your room/apartment, turn in a request to your Residence Life staff member to have the area treated. Notices from Physical Plant will be posted 24 hours in advance of the treatment.

Pets

Fish are the only animals residents may keep as pets in University residences. Animals carry diseases, irritate allergies, may not have had the required immunizations, may offend others and can cause damage. Animals without homes (strays) can be taken to the Humane Society of Willamette Valley, 4246 Turner Road SE, Salem, Ore., 503-585-5900.

Physical Harm

Physical harm or the threat of physical harm to any person, including sexual misconduct (e.g., sexual assault, sexual harassment), assault, battery and physical fights, will result in serious disciplinary action. You and your guests are expected to resolve differences in a mature, constructive manner.

Roofs, Porches and Fire Escapes

In order to reduce the potential for injury to individuals and damage to University property, the roof areas of buildings, ledges, porches, fire escapes and covered walkways are not to be used for storage, to be walked on, or to be otherwise occupied except as an exit from the building in the event of an emergency. Violators will be subject to disciplinary action and assessed a $50 fine.

Smoke Detectors/Sprinklers

All smoke detectors must be operational and have at least 18 inches of clearance (i.e., from shelves, drapes, etc.). If smoke detectors have been tampered with, a $50 fine will be assessed to the occupant(s). In Lausanne and Kaneko Halls and the University Apartments, the sprinkler heads must also have 18 inches of clearance and cannot be used to hang things.

Smoking

All University buildings, with the exception of individual student rooms/apartments, are designated "No Smoking" areas. Baxter, Lausanne and Kaneko Halls are No Smoking residences. At Kaneko, smoking is only permitted on the balconies with the sliding door closed to the room. In residences that permit smoking, you and your guests may only smoke in the privacy of your room/apartment with the door closed and the consent of your roommate(s). A nonsmoking roommate will not be paired with a smoking roommate unless the nonsmoker does not object.

In general, rights of nonsmokers take precedence over the rights of smokers. It is a smoker's responsibility to ensure that smoke does not disturb other residents.

Stolen Property

The possession and/or display of stolen property (i.e., street signs, etc.) is prohibited. All stolen property will be collected and returned to its rightful owner by Campus Safety.

Weapons

The possession of dangerous weapons, explosives, fireworks, dangerous chemicals or launching/propulsion devices is prohibited on University property. A weapon includes:

- any item or instrument defined as a weapon by local, state or federal law
- any item designed to cause injury or incapacitate another person
- any item used to harass, threaten, intimidate, assault or batter another person
- any item the University deems dangerous.

The University has a zero tolerance policy regarding dangerous weapons and may summarily dismiss students for weapons possession. If you plan to bring a hunting weapon to campus, you must store it at Campus Safety.

Windows

Using windows for exits (except in emergencies) and for throwing anything outside is prohibited and will result in a $50 fine and possible disciplinary action. Hanging items out windows also creates a hazard and is therefore not permitted.

COMPELLING COMMUNITY INTEREST: PROPERTY, PROPERTY LOSS AND DAMAGE

Care and protection of both community and personal property is a shared responsibility of all its members. The following policies were developed to create an environment where students respect and protect their own property as well as the property of their neighbors and the University.

Abandonment

Be sure to take all belongings with you or store them properly in designated storage rooms at the end of your contract/lease. Bicycles, furniture and other items stored improperly or left on campus will be considered abandoned and are subject to donation or disposal at the student's expense. (See Storage under Residential Facilities.)

Bikes

Riding your bike inside the residences is prohibited. Any damage caused (i.e., to the walls, carpet, etc.) by bringing your bike in and out of the building is your responsibility.

Check-In

When you move into your room or apartment, your Residence Life staff member will provide you with a Room/Apartment Inventory Card. For your protection, it is essential that you ensure that damages to your room/apartment prior to your occupancy are documented on the card. You are responsible for reviewing and signing the card with your staff member within 24 hours of moving into your room/apartment. Failure to properly check in will result in a $25 fine. You will be held responsible for any damage or other loss incurred which is in excess of normal wear and tear and which was not documented at check-in, unless it can be verified that another individual is responsible.

Check-Out

Occupancy ends 24 hours after the student's last final exam. This 24-hour time allowance may vary with the last day of each semester. You are responsible for returning your room/apartment to its original state, scheduling a time with your RA or URep to inventory your room/apartment and returning your key. Failure to follow these guidelines constitutes improper check-out of your room/apartment. Students will be responsible for all damages and assessed a $25 fine. The $150 cleaning deposit for the apartments is refundable provided the apartment meets all cleaning expectations at check-out and is ready for occupancy by the next student. No partial refunds are given. In addition to a Residence Life staff member doing an inventory of your living space at check-out, the Physical Plant and Housekeeping staff will inspect rooms, apartments and common areas after closing for cleanliness, damages beyond normal wear and tear, and missing furnishings. Residents will be assessed for any damages, missing furnishings, extra cleaning charges (including common areas) and for a damaged, dirty or missing phone.

Common Areas

To reserve common space for a program in a residence hall or apartment, contact the Area Coordinator responsible for the residence.

Lounge furniture is intended for the use and enjoyment of all residents. Proper care and use of this furniture is everyone's responsibility. Removal of furniture from the common areas is considered theft. Furniture that is removed, damaged or stolen is the financial responsibility of the individuals involved, if known, or the residents in the community.

Damage or Loss of University Property

Remember that student rooms/apartments and the furnishings provided are to be used in the manner for which they are designed. If you lose or damage University property, even accidentally, you will be billed for the cost of replacement or repair. Residents are only responsible for 50 percent of the cost for broken glass in their room or apartment when the responsible party is unknown. In addition, residents are responsible for the actions of any guests they invite to campus. A minimum $25 charge will be assessed for damages caused by vandalism ($50 minimum for vandalism of laundry and vending machines). Charges for repairs or property replacement will be assessed to your University account.

Remember that damage or loss within student rooms is the joint responsibility of the students assigned. Students are responsible for reporting any room damages or maintenance needs to their Residence Life staff member immediately so repairs can be made in a timely manner.

Because all residents share responsibility for damage or loss to public areas of their building, an entire living group or floor/wing may be charged for damages or losses to public areas of the building when the person(s) responsible is unknown. If it is necessary to bill an entire living group or portion thereof, a service charge will be added to the cost of repairs. Refer to section H of the Terms and Conditions for Room and Board or to sections L and M of the Apartment Lease.

If you are aware of others damaging property, ask them to stop and advise a University staff member immediately. We can reduce damages and the resulting charges when everyone in a community works to ensure that residents and guests respect others' property.

Entry of Rooms/Apartments

It is the University's policy to respect your right to maximum privacy in your room/apartment. When possible, notice is given prior to entering your room/apartment for routine maintenance and inspection. You will not reasonably withhold consent to Willamette University or its designee to enter your room/apartment/residence in order to inspect the premises or make reasonable or agreed-upon repairs or improvements. University personnel and their authorized designee(s) may enter your room/apartment without notice for an emergency, maintenance work, fire safety inspections, during fire drills, to ensure compliance with health standards, or if there is reasonable cause to believe there have been violations of University policy or state or federal law. University Physical Plant personnel may also enter your room/apartment without notice in case of maintenance needs. A note should be left if your room/apartment has been entered. Your room/apartment may be entered during semester and spring breaks without prior notice by University personnel when they are conducting building inspections and doing maintenance work. University staff members are not to enter a student room/apartment unaccompanied.

Your signature on a registration form at check-in authorizes Physical Plant and WITS staff members to enter your room/apartment to complete any work order that you submit.

Furniture in Rooms and Apartments

Residence halls and fraternity chapter houses: Furniture cannot be removed from your room and/or switched between rooms. Physical Plant personnel will remove the extra furniture used in overassigned rooms.

Haseldorf, University Apartments: University furniture cannot be removed from the apartments.

Beds may not be raised off the floor in any manner not consistent with manufacturer specifications. Due to limited storage in most residences, it is not an option to remove any of the original room/apartment furniture. Please be mindful that your room/apartment is to be left in the same condition as upon your arrival. Permanent additions are not permitted.

Hanging Decorations in Student Rooms and Apartments

To hang items on the walls, use painter's masking tape, pins or very small nails. Do not use duct tape, cellophane tape, double-sided mounting tape, stickers, staples, screws or large nails. Do not hang items from the ceiling.

Insurance

The University assumes no responsibility for damage, loss or theft to residents' personal property from any cause. Even items you place in a University storage room are left at your own risk. Therefore, students are responsible for obtaining their own personal property insurance and liability coverage for damage, loss/theft of property or fire. If you do not have coverage under your family's homeowner's insurance, another resource is:

National Student Services Inc. 1-800-256-NSSI (6774)
P.O. Box 2137
Stillwater, OK 74076
<http://www.nssinc.com>

Painting

Residents are not permitted to paint their rooms/apartments. Students who paint their rooms/apartments are responsible for the cost of repainting the space and will be subject to disciplinary action. Common area painting requests must be submitted to the Office of Residence Life for advance approval.

Sidewalk Chalking

Writing on sidewalks and buildings is prohibited.

Skating

Roller skating, roller blading or skateboarding is prohibited in the residences.

Sports in Public Areas

For the safety of residents and to eliminate the potential of damage, outdoor sports are prohibited inside the residences.

Waterbeds

Due to the potential for flooding and extensive damage to the facilities, waterbeds are not permitted in University residences.

COMPELLING COMMUNITY INTERESTS: LEGITIMATE EDUCATIONAL PURPOSE AND DISRUPTION OF THE EDUCATIONAL LIVING ENVIRONMENT

A student's primary purpose in attending Willamette University is to obtain a degree. Any behavior which directly or indirectly interferes with the accomplishment of this goal goes against the legitimate educational purpose of the University and of the Residence Life system. Therefore, Willamette University established the following policies to ensure that the campus living environment is conducive to students' personal development and academic success.

Appropriate Decorations in Student Rooms and Apartments

While you are encouraged to personalize your living space, possessions or displays which are inconsistent with accepted standards or University policies should not be displayed on the outside of room doors or in general view of the public. This includes your room windows. For example, collections of alcoholic beverage containers, posters of nude persons and harassing or intimidating visual materials are generally considered inappropriate. It is our goal to ensure that people feel welcomed and comfortable in their living environment and are not threatened or offended. If you display an item in public view which is incongruent with this goal, a Residence Life staff member will discuss the concern with you. Be aware that some items displayed in public view may constitute a violation of University policies regarding harassment. Check with a Residence Life staff member if you have questions about what may or may not be appropriate.

Bathrooms

Bathrooms in the residences are single-sex facilities. Because some coed floors have only one bathroom, some residents are required to use bathroom facilities on another floor.

Civility

Behaving civilly implies acting in a manner consistent with the principles of courtesy, honesty and integrity and encouraging the practice of these behaviors in others. All members of the Willamette University community are expected to practice and promote civility.

Guests

All members of the campus community have responsibility for helping secure the community welfare by communicating to visitors and/or guests the expectations of the guest policy. Students are not to permit a nonresident or guest to remain in or use the campus facilities, including rooms/apartments, for more than three consecutive nights on campus. As a host, you must obtain permission from your roommate(s) before a guest is permitted to stay in a shared room/apartment.

Public areas of the residences are not available as sleeping space without permission from the Area Coordinator. However, guest rooms can be rented through the Office of Residence Life for a nominal cost.

Because students are responsible for the behavior of their guests and incidents which occur in their rooms or apartments, guests must have a host or be escorted while in the building. This responsibility includes charges for any damages incurred. If you are concerned about a guest's behavior, you may need to assert yourself or contact a Residence Life staff member for assistance.

Identification

If, in the performance of their duty, a University staff member requests to see your Willamette ID or another form of identification, you must present it promptly.

Names of Residence Halls and Apartment Buildings

Residence and facility names are the property of Willamette University. Therefore, use of the names of residence hall and apartment buildings on t-shirts, posters or other materials must be approved by the Area Coordinator.

Noise

Courtesy Hours: To ensure an environment where all students can study or sleep free from outside noise distractions 24 hours a day, campus courtesy hours are always in effect. In other words, the right to quiet always supersedes the privilege to make noise. Students are expected to discuss concerns about noise with their neighbors and to reduce their noise if asked to do so. Being responsive to each other's needs can significantly reduce tension and conflict in the community. Amplified sound instruments and drums need to be modified or used with headphones; otherwise they are incompatible with 24-hour courtesy hours.

Because the campus residences are close to each other and to academic buildings, residents need to ensure that noise does not emanate outside their building. If a community wants to plan an event which could disturb other residences/classes in the area, they need to get approval from those other communities in advance. Also, the event must conclude at least 30 minutes prior to quiet hours so that departing guests do not disturb others past quiet hours.

The Eastside community must be particularly attentive to noise because any sound generated in the quad area (between Baxter and Matthews Halls) is amplified by reverberating off the surrounding residences. Students congregating in the Eastside quad must be especially aware of their noise level, as even a small group of people can unintentionally generate sufficient noise to disturb others. If University staff receive complaints about noise generated from individuals in the Eastside area, individuals will be asked to go inside a residence or leave the area.

Quiet Hours: In addition to 24-hour courtesy hours, students are expected to observe the University-wide quiet hours: Sunday through Thursday 11 p.m. to 7 a.m.; Friday and Saturday 1 p.m. to 9 a.m. In Lausanne, quiet hours are Sunday through Thursday 9 p.m. to 7 a.m.; Friday and Saturday 11 p.m. to 9 a.m. During quiet hours, residents are expected to ensure that noise does not disturb even their next-door neighbors. Generally, if sound can be heard in the hallway one to two doors away, it is too loud. Because sound travels differently in each residence, residents should talk with their staff member for clarification on acceptable levels of noise after quiet hours.

Individual residences, by action of their hall council, may choose to establish more restrictive guidelines for quiet hours if they so desire.

During study days and finals, quiet hours are extended to 23 hours a day. Twenty-three hour quiet hours begin at 11 p.m. the night before the first CLA study day and continue through finals for the entire University. During a designated hour in the evening, residents do not need to observe quiet hours unless the residence is in close proximity to an academic building in which students are studying or taking a final exam. Staff will inform residents of the quiet hour expectations for their residence during study days and finals. A fine of $25 will be imposed for repeated violations of quiet hours after 23-hour quiet hours have begun.

Notice

All required notices shall be delivered to a student's University mailbox. Students need to check their mailboxes regularly because notice is considered effective once it is deposited in the mail.

Posting in Campus Residences (except sororities)

Campus departments, administrative offices, student organizations, groups sponsored by campus organizations and off-campus nonprofit organizations may post information or publicity in University residences on a space available basis. Posters of an organization internal to the house/hall/complex (staff, hall council, fraternity executive council) do not need approval. All other postings within campus residences need to be approved through the Office of Residence Life.

Individuals need to bring or send the posters to the Office of Residence Life. The material will be reviewed, and if approved, our staff will stamp each poster with the date the poster will be taken down. After receiving approval, the ASWU programming board is the only group which may post materials in the halls themselves. All other posters will be posted by Residence Life staff within three working days and will be removed on the stamped date. Unauthorized postings will be removed.

The number of copies an organization provides depends on its publicity needs:

- Eighteen copies will provide one in the lobby of each residential building.
- Thirty-three copies will provide one for each staff member to post in each community.

Baxter	3	WISH	1	Lausanne	4
Belknap	2	Shepard	2	Doney	3
Matthews	3	Lee	1	Haseldorf	1
Terra House	1	York	1	Kaneko	4
Fraternities	5	Univ Apts	2

- If the organization only wants the posters displayed in selected halls (up to 33) the hall needs to be designated on each poster.

Posting Guidelines

- Poster size is limited to a maximum of 11" x 17"
- Material which contains obscene language or references to alcoholic beverages or illegal substances will not be approved
- Posting on individual room doors without the permission of the occupants is prohibited
- Posters may not be placed on the exterior of buildings or on entrance/exit doors without the approval of the Area Coordinator
- Soliciting for events is not permitted

It is our goal to ensure that people feel welcome and comfortable in their living environment and are not threatened or offended by posted material. If material submitted for posting is incongruent with this goal, the Office of Residence Life reserves the right to contact the organization and discuss concerns prior to posting the material.

For information on the posting policies in other University buildings (including sororities), please refer to pages 23 and 24 of this handbook.

Posting During ASWU elections

While candidates do not need to abide by the standard Residence Life posting policy restrictions, they do need to abide by guidelines established by the Elections Board and the following policies.

Candidates may not post anything on any doors. Doors are entrances and exits and therefore need to be free from material that could block view through a glass door and to be free from flammable material that would inhibit exit during a fire. Also, the number of posters needs to be kept to a reasonable level for the same fire safety reasons. If candidates were to plaster walls and corridors with paper, it could create a very dangerous situation in a fire. Three posters per candidate in a particular area (lounge, hallway, etc.) are reasonable.

Candidates may not solicit door to door. That means they may not go through buildings trying to campaign. Nor may they slide materials under residents' doors.

Solicitation

To protect your privacy, no one is permitted to solicit door-to-door in campus living organizations. This policy applies to sororities and fraternities as well. However, newspaper carriers, sportswear representatives, scout groups and other organizations may be granted permission by the Dean or Associate Director of Residence Life to set up tables at designated times in lounges. You are advised not to pay for merchandise in advance.

To protect our residential population from unwanted requests to purchase goods or services as well as to protect the University from any association with suspect businesses, residents may not operate a business from their room/apartment. Therefore, students are not able to represent University room numbers, phone numbers or e-mail addresses as contacts for a place of business. However, students are able to use University box numbers and phone numbers if they are labeled as home contact information. You can also use your room as a meeting place as long as it doesn't infringe on your roommate's rights or create a disruption in your community.

Verbal Abuse and Harassment

All persons are entitled to live with and learn from each other in an atmosphere of positive engagement and mutual respect. Therefore, verbal abuse and harassment of another individual will not be tolerated. This includes threats, malicious pranks, abusive name calling, and racial, gender or sexual orientation harassment. You and your guests are expected to resolve differences in a mature, constructive manner. Refer to the Standards of Conduct (page 51) or contact a Residence Life staff member for more information and/or clarification.
