Varsity Talent To Perform For Parents' Variety Show

Singing, dancing, comedy, jazz and even roller skating mark the program for Varsity Varieties 1962, according to manager Barbara Woodworth. "I was very pleased with the results of Saturday's auditions," commented Miss Woodworth, "and thanks to a conscientious and enthusiastic stage crew plans are progressing fairly well for sets."

VARSIETY VARIETIES this year will not adhere to a single theme, as it has in several past years, but will concentrate on presenting exactly what the name implies, a varieties show. There are several major sets, which will divide the show into scenes to effectively emphasize the groups performing during each scene. Individual emphasis will be created by lighting effects.

"Right-hand men" for the backstage phase of the production include Bob DePew, Ty Gillespie, George Cornwall, Lee Knosher, Jim Dean, Kirk Ann Niel, Marianne May and Glenda Kraft.

TICKETS for the show will be on sale next week in Eaton Hall. They will also be on sale in the boxoffice on performance night from 7 p.m. Tickets are $1 each and all profits go to the Campus Chest. There are no reserved seats so the audience is urged to be early to get a good seat and to also allow the show to start on time at 8:30 p.m.

Performing on stage Friday will be Cynthia Kaufman, Carole Batchelder, Cheryl Clark, Jim Dean, Jim Baker, Dan Hartley, Ynez Taggart, Karen Reppun, Tony Good, Gary Temple, Nancy Van Winkle, Robin Taylor, Jon Putnam, Bob Wallace, Toye Fae Esch, Dianne Lord, Sharon Brown, Marjorie MacIver, Sally Bowe, Ron Gustafson, Jeff Heatherington, John Vaagen, Steve McPhetres, Dick Trefren, Roger Kirchner and Barbara Woodworth. Emcee for the evening will be Dave Hawk.

A new feature to Varieties this year will be the announcement of Mr. and Miss Campus Chest after termination of the contest Friday afternoon.

Campus Scene

TODAY—"Present Trends in Theology," Encounter Group, 3 p.m., Waller Chapel.

Lausanne and Doney house dances, 8-12 p.m.

TOMORROW—Willamette vs. Whitman, Walla Walla, football. AFROTC military ball, Marion Motor Hotel, 9-12 p.m.

SUNDAY—Tea honoring Dean Vera Haberer and housemothers, 2-5 p.m., Doney Hall.

TUESDAY—Portland Symphony, 7:30-10:30 p.m., Fine Arts Auditorium.

Parents Arrive Next Week For 12th Annual Honor Visit

Willamette University students plan to host their parents once again at the twelfth annual Parents' Weekend, to be held the weekend of October 19-21.

THIS YEAR'S program will accentuate the University's accomplishments in the scientific field. Dr. Paul H. Duell of the Willamette chemistry department will be the key speaker. Visiting parents will see the new wing of Collins Hall, now under construction. They will also be able to view the achievements of several science students and converse with the faculty.

The registration of parents in the foyer of the Fine Arts auditorium Friday evening will mark the opening of the active weekend. At 8:15 p.m. parents and students will be treated to the Varsity Varieties, talent program, in the auditorium.

IMMEDIATELY following the talent program, all campus living organizations will be open for the parents to visit.

Activities on Saturday will begin at 9 a.m. with a coffee klatch in Baxter Hall sponsored by the Portland Mothers' Club.

ACADEMIC Preview will take place in the library and in the dining room of Matthews-Belknap Halls Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m. During this time parents will be able to meet informally with several members of the faculty. Parent registration will continue in the library Saturday morning.

At 11 a.m. on Saturday, the annual meeting of the Parents' Association will convene in the Fine Arts Auditorium. At the meeting, President G. Herbert Smith will extend greetings to the parents, and Dr. Paul M. Duell, professor of chemistry, will issue an address. Also on the agenda will be the election of new officers of the Parents'

Association for the coming year.

THE MEETING will be followed by a sizable barbecue luncheon on Saturday at 12:30 p.m. in the gym for parents and students.

At 3 p.m. the All Campus Sing will take place in the gym with each living organization singing several songs. Visiting parents will be guests at dinner in the living organizations of the sons and daughters at 5:30 p.m.

THE EXCITING conclusion to the Weekend will be the Willamette-College of Idaho football game, beginning at 8 p.m. Saturday evening at McCulloch Stadium. Directly after the game, living organizations will once again hold open house firesides for parents.

General chairman for the occasion is Mary Lee Jones. Other chairmen are Karen Gellerman, Heather Birnie, Joyce Larson, Sharon Paulson and Dave Beir.

Pack Pickle Pots With Coins

By BOB WOODLE

Campus Chest will fall flat unless support is tendered by benevolent Bearcats. Hence, purse strings and wallet leather should come into prominence when empty Saga pickle jars "make the scene" at each living organization Monday.

"BRAND" names on the jars will belong to Bearcat "brutes" and beauties who are vying for monetary votes that will tag them with a Campus Chest King and Queen title.

As in previous campaigns, Willamette's entire contribution will "help students to help themselves" through World University Service projects.

Students and faculty members in the US are being asked to raise a million dollars to help their fellow students and colleagues who are struggling for education in the midst of poverty and disease.

LAST YEAR Willamette residents hiked $245 out of pin money and coffee date caches for the WUS "kitty."

By chucking coins into CC containers with reckless abandon, two lucky living organizations will receive a tidy return on their generous investment.

A QUARTET of trim coed waitresses will add a little spice to the dinner at the victorious men's house, while four dashing (or is that tripping) men waiters will dish up femme food at the most charitable women's unit.

KINGLY aspirants, one from each class, are Bruce Marcy, Pete Ruotsi, Don Lorenzen and George Douglass while K. D. Barta, Joan Kane, Mary Lee Jones and Martha Boyer offer the pulchritude.

COLLECTIONS in each men's organization will be handled by Greg Childs, Beta Theta Pi, Jim O'Hair, Phi Delta Theta; Don Lorenzen, SAE; John Schwartz, Sigma Chi; Penn Handwerker, Kappa Sigma; Bob Rieder, Delta Tau Delta; Ken Rost, Matthews; Mike Egans, Baxter; and Ron Gould, Belknap.

For the women, money will be collected by Joan Kane, York; Patti Hull, Lee House; Cheryl Bohannon, Pi Beta Phi; Ann Finlayson, Alpha Chi Omega; Nan Means, Delta Gamma; Judy Jessen, Chi Omega; Judi Rogers, Alpha Phi; K. D. Barta, Lausanne; and Suzanne Keller, Doney.

WOMEN will select the King, so will have four jars as targets for penny pitching or five dollar flying and Bearcat men will play the usual role of dishing out cash for the women.

Chest coffers will be available for just five days, Monday through Friday noon, at which time CC Chairman Bob Fletcher and his committee will tally the cash outlays and determine the various winners.

Keep in mind that WUS is the real winner and let's not let Campus Chest be a bust!

In tune for Varsity Varieties are Gary Temple, Karen Reppun and Tony Good, shown as they auditioned for the annual Parents' Weekend show. Many students are working diligently—practicing and building sets—to make the program a success for parents, students and the Campus Chest.

Wallulahs Out Today

For you who have been waiting patiently for your 1962 Wallulah—take heart. Copies are available today at the Wallulah office. Distribution procedure requires that you bring your Student Body card with you when you pick up your annual.

Rake Opens Homecoming

Homecoming this year will begin on Thursday, November 3, with a leaf rake and end with the dance on Saturday night, announced homecoming manager, Joe Hughes.

Tentative plans are now being made for the activities which will include a bonfire and rally, a jazz festival, a sock hop, a barbecue, halftime entertainment, a coffee klatch and the coronation of the queen.

The football game will be against Linfield, and the students will be able to buy tickets for their parents about two weeks beforehand.

Freshmen are asked to take part in the dance committee, and the reception and registration committee.

The junior class will sponsor five candidates for Homecoming Queen to be elected by the student body.

Carol Carver and Bob Fletcher show the true Campus Chest spirit by hiking out dollar votes that will go to select a Campus Chest King and Queen and also aid World University Service projects. Jars such as the above will display gaping mouths in all living organizations next week with names of the royalty candidates. Containers will be collected next Friday at noon, money will be counted, and winners will be announced at Varsity Varieties. Miss Carver is CC secretary while Fletcher heads the entire campaign.

WU Students, Take a Bow

Christmas vacation has been extended by one day. Willamette students, faculty and administration can now take a long awaited bow. This problem of returning to classes on the day directly following New Year's day has been one that has been kicking around for years.

This year the students, faculty and administration saw the problem in a new light . . . not a situation to worry and grumble about but one to constructively alleviate.

Prompted by student and faculty interest, Student Senate referred the issue to student affairs. By a unanimous vote student affairs extended the holiday by one day and sent the issue to the faculty for debate.

Tuesday's faculty meeting saw the faculty approve the extra day.

The action on the part of student leaders in Student Senate and of the administration in student affairs perhaps foretells a rosy future when Willamette students, faculty and administration can work in a peaceful, positive manner to bring about changes, felt necessary by one or all parties concerned.

The processes for organized suggestion, debate and action have long been established at Willamette. This is one of the first chances for Willamette to show that its organizations work well—in practice as well as in theory.

So, collegiate and administrative leaders, TAKE A BOW!

Unander Harangues Morse; Calls for Firm Policy

Senatorial candidate Sig Unander attacked senior Senator Morse last Tuesday by saying that Morse attempts "to beat the drums for weak kneed conciliation." Criticizing the present administration for lack of action Unander called for a firmer policy regarding Cuba.

STATING THAT Morse was what he called "a talking senator rather than a working senator," Unander said that he was tired of the ifs and whens in our policy and advocated drawing a firm line. He stated that where we have stood up in an issue the communists have backed down and urged that we stop the communists from traveling on the "dangerous and treacherous path we permit them to walk."

Part of Unander's vigorous attack included urging that the voice of America be heard around the world. He stated that the time for talking is past and the time for action is here.

Not only did Unander criticize the past activity but he stated that he expected a new measure to be taken about Cuba called "the Kennedy doctrine." And he added that he thought the wording would be impeccable, the sentiment inspiring, and the content ambiguous.

UNANDER praised ex-Senator McNary for being able to cooperate with the president and stated that he would like to be able to fit this mold, urging that the United States speak with a united tongue.

When questioned about what he would do if elected, Unander said he would advocate his philosophy from the floor of the Senate. He emphasized speaking with a "strong philosophy" and taking a strong stand. He also advocated taking a strong stand on the Formosan situation.

Concert Initiates Symphony Season

The 1962-63 Portland Symphony season opens October 15 with an all-orchestral concert which will include performances of Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in C Minor, Opus 68, and Respighi's "Pines of Rome."

Bemused freshman, Willy Maze, encounters the perplexity of a student facing the sordid chore of preparing for his parents to visit his room next Friday. Realizing the value of planning, Maze has begun preparations early so that his parents will miss the confusion, laxity, and generalized debauchery his tender young mind has absorbed in the short time he's been away from home. Who knows, toward the end of the semester he may want some extra loot from good old dad. (Photo by Burt Czapszys.)

Chaplain Weighs, Sums WU

By GERRY BILL.

The following is an interview with University Chaplain Calvin McConnell on his impressions of Willamette after one year as chaplain.

QUESTION: "Chaplain McConnell, in your chapel address on October 2, you indicated that all is not well on the Willamette campus. In your opinion what are the indications that there is something definitely wrong at Willamette?"

Answer: "First let me say that I think that there are many things that are right about Willamette. I certainly wouldn't want the idea to get across that I see no good at Willamette.

"BUT AS FOR indications that things are not as they could (rather than should) be, I would cite the freshmen of last year and this year. Last year's freshmen seemed to feel that they weren't finding what they expected nor what they wanted in the way of an academic community at Willamette. This year's freshmen have made the same complaint, and have expressed a desire not to get into the rut that they see the upper classmen in.

"Another indication that something is wrong comes from some of the faculty members, who have indicated that Willamette students are disinterested in most intellectual pursuits. They feel that it takes a great deal of prodding to stimulate Willamette students.

Question: "Do you see any signs that the situation on campus may be improving?"

Answer: "I see many signs of hope. The first is Willamette's high academic standing, and the desire upon the part of many of the students for academic pursuit. At least some of the students seem to realize what a university is all about.

"ANOTHER sign of hope is the interest shown in programs like people-to-people, a program which reaches out to people beyond our own campus.

"I also see a general desire on the part of students to move out and try new things, to take part in conferences and projects involving issues of a challenging nature. For instance, there were upper classmen willing to grab the idea of a freshman orientation camp and to make a success of it under student leadership.

"ALSO, THE very fact that students are aware that they aren't getting everything they could out of their university experience.

Question: "What would you suggest as steps that could be taken by students to improve the situation on campus?"

"IF THERE is an artificiality in inter-personal relationships or a lack of concern for other individuals on campus, then we must work on our understanding of our relationships with others.

"If there is a lack of information on or interest in world problems, international relations, and political affairs, then groups like people-to-people and the campus political organizations should make students more aware of problems in these areas.

"IF THERE is a lack of communication between faculty and students, then we must devise new ways to come together significantly.

"If there is apathy toward religion, then we need to find new, creative ways of expressing religious faith.

"IF NOT enough things are done by the campus as a whole but instead we are too divided into living groups, then we must discover more pertinent reasons and find new ways for doing things together as a total university.

Maki-Williston Pose Questions, In Far East Institute

Dr. Frank Williston and Dr. Frank Maki posed some interesting points for the consideration of Willamette students before the Far East institute concluded Saturday.

DR. WILLISTON presented some personal reactions to the far east and pointed out that there was a wide variety of people politics and culture. For example, Indonesia has seen a wide growth of support for Sukarno's policy and there will be a real problem if Sukarno is killed or dies.

Williston pointed out that the local Chinese Nationalists had relation with the formal government of Chiang Kai Shek. He pointed out that negotiated settlement of the native nationalism of Indonesia, The Philippines and Burma and Korea will probably occur and said that little attention seems to be paid to the similar feelings of the Formosans, three-fourths of whom have no sympathy for Chiang Kai Shek or his Kuo Mintang regime.

DR. JACK Maki pointed out that Japan has made outstanding progress in building a modern nation state with definite ties and sympathies with the west. He predicted that it would be some years before other SE Asian countries could reach the present level of Japanese economy pointing out that Japan has a 16 per cent economic growth per year and a three to four per cent population increase.

Student Criticizes Unander, Finds Speech Slippery

Dear Editor:

With none of A. A. Allan's showmanship, Sig Unander, Republican candidate for Senator, has come to urge us to break the bonds of a dark past and forge links with the bright future of Sig Unander.

MR. UNANDER'S campaign speech, inexplicably titled in connection with Cuba, left me rather unsatisfied. Obviously the speech was typed up little in advance of the occasion and, as read by Mr. Unander, left some points in the penumbra of his glittering generalities. For instance:

Does Mr. Unander really know the difference between the powers of the legislature and the powers of the executive? He said that the Congress and the President must "speak with one voice" and both must "represent the people." I don't recall that the Constitution calls for such unmitigated unanimity. It seems to me that this is an insidious misinterpretation of the executive office of government. Perhaps this is the source of that Administrative vacillation which Mr. Unander condemns.

AT ONE POINT in the question and answer period Unander remarked that he favored a pact between all the free nations to counter Communist threats. Rusty Whitney, sensitive to the implications of this plan, asked simply, "What about the UN?" Mr. Unander replied that if the international organization was not strong enough the US would be impelled to act. This self-same arrogance motivates the Communist world. Mr. Unander claims that the U.S. supports the UN and that other nations get a "free ride." Perhaps if we, and by "we" I include the world, took our hands off the strings and gave the UN autonomy together with force to back it up . . . but these are idle dreams in the face of Mr. Unander's provincialism.

Or again, in answer to Ron Slaugh's question as to whether the Rio Pact infringes upon the force and scope of the Monroe Doctrine Mr. Unander airily noted that the United States has hundreds of pacts and treaties cross-linking us to all the countries in the Free World. He indicated that the Rio Pact will not get in our way, however we wish to use the Monroe Doctrine. Action of this sort would certainly not add to our integrity.

FROM ALL this one can see that Mr. Unander's grasp of international affairs is slippery at best. His remarks concerning Senator Morse represent the merely typical sniping of one politician at another. And I found that I was left with only one definite thought after Mr. Unander's speech:

"I want you all to vote for me."
William Bliss.

Campus Anticipates Parents, Prepares for Coming Weekend

By RANDI DOUGLAS

You're tearing your hair about how to get your room cleaned up and the laundry done for the parental occupation forces next weekend. Compoz. The invasion is traditional—and tradition takes precedence over justice.

THE FIRST Parents' Weekend

was "for men only" in 1950. However, rumor has it that an irresponsible minority of dads decided to sound out the town life as well as campus functions. The result was the influx of wives in 1951, and a rosy weekend of togetherness for parents and child.

Varsity Varieties is well established as the kick-off event. The show offers a sketchy view of campus talent and an even sketchier view of campus cheesecake. At one of the first productions of VV a very former member of the Zeigfield Follies coached the chorus line. That was back when girls wore shoulder pads to make the front row.

THERE ARE some advantages to the faculty-parent conclaves. At least the profs will meet the folks before they have thorough opinion about your progress in the course. Parents' Weekend could be after midterms. Also, the family will certainly become accustomed to the sound of the dean's voice during the course of the meetings. Then, if occasion arises for a phone call later in the year, the shock will be subdued.

Don't get your hopes up about eating out with the folks though. Just when you're anticipating steaks Mom will decide she digs 19 cent hamburgers. The best attitude is passive resistance. Just make sure they get a motel with a swimming pool. Here are some suggested family fun expeditions for that free time:

1. Tour YMCA.
2. Feed squirrels.
3. Check out Pi Phi building site.
4. Set watches by sun dial.
5. Empty car ash tray.
6. For an evening of enlightening entertainment, visit the "Inferno."

Skiing Fans Organizing Club To Spark Wintery Activities

Skiers take note! A ski club is in the embryonic stages, after being passed recently by activities board. Dale Sticka and Bill Lang, Phi Delta Theta, are organizing the group and sign-up sheets are being posted in all living organizations.

MEN AND women interested in skiing and in other winter sports are encouraged to sign these sheets. "The purpose of the club," commented Sticka, "will be to sponsor a ski team and to organize other wintertime activities. We hope that enough students will show interest so that we may begin renting buses for ski trips this winter."

Advisor for the group will be Lt. Col. John P. Davis of the ROTC department. Col. Davis has been instrumental in the formation of the group since interest was expressed last spring.

STICKA emphasized that, while one of the main activities of the group will be the sponsorship of the racing team to Winter Carnival, the group also hopes to spark interest in the other events that take place at Carnival, such as the powder-puff derby and snow sculpturing. There are also many trophies to be earned by competing schools.

"Maybe enriched enthusiasm by Willamette snow fans could lead to Willamette's participation in other northwest skiing events and could become another of Willamette's major sports," speculated Sticka.

As soon as sign-ups are completed, the lists will be gathered and an organizational meeting will be held. A constitution for the group has been tentatively prepared, based upon the document of a club attempted in 1958.

Law Student Named Head

Willamette law student Kenneth W. Weber has been appointed national chairman of the legal aid and defenders committee of the American law students association.

Weber, a third year law student, will work towards establishing legal aid clinics and increasing the benefit law students derive from such an experience in the clinics.

Weber was the Willamette delegate at the annual convention of the student legal aid clinics, held in San Francisco this past August.

SENATOR WAYNE L. MORSE

Oregon's senior senator, Wayne L. Morse, will address Tuesday's convocation audience on the Democratic views toward government and his platform for the coming election. Morse, Oregon senator since 1944, will follow Sig Unander, Republican candidate for US Senator, who spoke during convocation hour last Tuesday.

Senator Morse holds assignment on the foreign relations committee, labor and public welfare committee, District of Columbia committee, and select committee on small business and special committee on aging. He also serves as chairman of the sub-committee for Latin American affairs and the sub-committee on education.

AWS Hosts Campus Tea

Do you detest reception lines, dressing up, conversation over tea and coffee, or just people in general? Well, AWS and the Willamette faculty and administration are providing relief for all who complain of these symptoms! Fall tea sufferers will only have to "grim and bear it" once this autumn. So cure all your ills and come to Doney Sunday from 2 to 5 for this once-in-a-fall tea.

The tea will be to honor our new Dean and housemothers on campus. Thus eliminating the need for each house to have a separate tea honoring its housemother.

All faculty, administration, students, and housemothers are invited and encouraged to attend this event. In this way the new Dean and housemothers can meet and be welcomed by the entire campus.

Planning the Sunday afternoon affair are the AWS Social Committee and a special steering committee composed of Dave Lewis, Mr. McFadden, Miss Deischer, Carol Kitchen, Joyce Castor and Mary Ann Wright.

People To People Proposes Adoption of a Sister School

For those interested in promoting international cultural exchanges on the Willamette campus, a campus people-to-people group is meeting Tuesday nights at 7 in Waller auditorium.

THE GROUP is planning a number of projects for this semester, including a state people-to-people conference and the finding of a sister university in a foreign land.

The state people-to-people conference will be held in the Capitol October 29. Rafer Johnson, national director of the program, will be here to lead the conference.

A SISTER university is being sought by the campus people-to-people in either Mexico or in Salem, India. Mexico was selected due to its proximity, in the hope that students in the universities might exchange visits in the summer.

It was also selected because of the strained relations between this country and Mexico. The other choice, Salem, India, is Salem, Oregon's sister city. It is hoped that the city of Salem will help the program if a sister school is found in that city.

WU Launches Fall Blood Drive

Willamette University will attempt to win its second straight state trophy in the annual Blood Drive November 19 in the basement of Matthews Hall. Last year a state-wide contest was initiated, Willamette triumphing over all other schools in Oregon to win the state trophy.

Blood Drive Chairman Bill Bliss announces that there will be a meeting about mid-October of all the living organization chairmen who should be chosen by each group in the near future. As soon as chosen, each chairman should contact either Bill Bliss at Belknap or Cheryl Bohannon at Pi Beta Phi.

Students under the age of 21 must have a release slip signed by their parents before they will be allowed to donate blood. Release slips will be given to students by living organization chairmen at an early date to allow plenty of time to obtain a parent's signature. Students must have their release slips signed before November 19.

In addition to the state contest, living organizations will compete for awards. Contest winners last spring among the women were first place, Chi Omega; second place, Pi Beta Phi; third place, Alpha Phi. First place among the men was Sigma Chi; second place, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; third place, Kappa Sigma. The first place winners were awarded plaques.

Grad Awards Need Exams

Seniors going into graduate work should see Dean Robert Gregg immediately to obtain forms for the graduate record exams to be held November 17. Some scholarships and fellowships require the exams, and others strongly suggest that they be taken.

It is important that the exams be taken at the earliest possible date, since some scholarships close early and these scores are required.

The exams will be given at Portland State, University of Oregon, and Southern Oregon College. Applications for the November 17 date must reach the educational Testing Service in Los Angeles no later than November 2. The next testing date after November 17 will be January 19.

Young Republicans Express Enthusiasm for Coming Year

Because of the enthusiasm voiced at the first meeting and because this is an election year the Young Republicans are looking forward to an especially prosperous year.

THIS YEAR'S officers are, Mark Hamilton, president; Ed Cole, first vice president; Dave Foote, second vice president; Barbara Morse, secretary; and Justin King, treasurer.

At their first meeting, Sept. 27, the general ideals of the Republican party were discussed.

OBJECTIVES of the organization are to bring young people to the Republican Party and to provide opportunity for them to find political expression and recognition, to train young people as effective political workers and to cooperate in the election of the party's nominees.

THE GROUP also encourages the activities of the Republican Party, promotes its ideals and collects, analyzes, discusses and disseminates information concerning the organization's affairs.

Hamilton expressed the club's enthusiasm for obtaining interesting and capable speakers from government, business and labor.

Membership for the year is $1.00. Those interested in the organization may contact Mark Hamilton or Justin King.

WUPS To Set Swan Stage; Cast Chosen

The first meeting of WUPS, the campus dramatics association, will be held Wednesday, October 17 at 6:30 p. m. in the little theatre.

Any students interested in technical work for the first production, "The Swan," should plan to attend. Assistance is needed for set construction, costumes, props, programs, posters, and make-up.

Four men are lacking to complete the cast. The minor roles of two young men and two hussars are available. Any interested student should contact Director Robert Putnam.

Leading the cast for "The Swan" are Martha Wynd as Alexandra, Dennis Cook as Dr. AGI, Paul Wynne as Prince Albert and Bob DePew as Hyacinth.

Other members of the cast include Molly Staples, Drue Barnum, Cris Hjelt, Jim Dixon, Frank Swayze, Amy Spaulding, Sue Meyer, Francis McKinley and Carol Bachelder.

Little Colonel To Be Revealed Tomorrow During Military Ball

Cadets Salute Little Colonel Hopefuls

Joy reigned in San Francisco as the GIANTS finally won the National League Pennant. Astronaut Schirra was high in the clouds last week on his journey around the earth. Perhaps similar feelings will be experienced by Bonnie Johnson, Mary Dorsch, or Sue Thompson when one of them is named Little Colonel at the Military Ball Saturday night.

BESIDES the coronation, students can enjoy dancing in the Grand Ballroom of the Marion Hotel and Arne Menke's ten-piece

Sigs Initiate Annual Search

The Sigma Chi's will embark next week on their annual campaign for a Sweetheart and court to be presented at their fall house dance November 16.

Each women's living organization has been asked by the Sigs to submit the names of three nominees for the Sweetheart honors. These 27 women received word of their nomination via notes from the Sigs accompanied by a long-stemmed white rose.

Next Tuesday the coeds will attend an informal after-dinner get-together after which the field of contestants will gradually be narrowed down to a court of three.

Attending the initial function will be Mary Lane, Marcia Luscher, and Karen Reppun, Alpha Chi Omega; Jollie Heidbrake, Nancy Van Winkle, and Hedwig Williamson, Alpha Phi; Betsy Dutton, Darlene Hawkins and Marilyn Miller, Delta Gamma; Ruth Rodgers, Kathy Squire, and Suzanne Underwood, Chi Omega; Molly Gaynor, Pat Hart, and Joan Kane, Pi Beta Phi; Marilyn Jones, Marcia McAdoo, and Nancy Young, Lucy Anna Lee; Pam Maynard, Sally Thome, and Linda Torkelson, Lausanne; Gail McElrath, Pam Potter, and Jean Stevenson, Emily, J. York, and Kathy Dawson, Bev Kleiner, Terri Paquette, Doney Hall.

dance band will play from 9 to 12 midnight. This dance is annually presented by the Lindberg Squadron of the Arnold Air Society with the support of the 700th AFROTC cadet group.

The three girls vying for the Little Colonel position are all freshmen, small, compact, and blue eyed.

BONNIE JOHNSON, the first member of the court, plans to go into pre-med, and with her friendly smile will warm the heart of every patient. This active freshman keeps busy by working at J. C. Penney's and participating on the debate team. Her wide variety of interests include swimming, tennis, reading, horse back riding, and knitting. People who rattle their church programs in church is her pet peeve. Her escort will be Brad Kerwin.

The smallest member of the court is Mary Dorsch, an Alpha Chi Omega pledge. Everything at Willamette is agreeable to this brown-haired cutie except the rain. She is an active member of the band and plays both the flute and alto sax. Music, art and hiking are a few of her likes and her escort will be Dave Powers.

A DELTA GAMMA, Sue Thompson is the only member of the court from California. She is a member of Angel Flight and various decoration committees. This stunning blonde is a collector of blown glass figures and enjoys swimming and sailing. A psychology major is in the plans of our last member of the court. Her escort for the evening will be Kip Boisot.

Who's Whose

Marda Kay Conrad, Chi Omega senior, to Lyle Brown, Beta Theta Pi senior.

Working hard to make this dance a success are Doug Simon, publicity; Mike Laughlin, tickets and program; Bob Hartman, refreshments; Brad Kerwin, decorations; Gene Juve, chaperones and invitations, and Robert Lutje, Little Colonel selection.

CHAPERONES for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Noel Kaestner, Mr. and Mrs. "Buzz" Yocom, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Trueblood. Tickets can be purchased from any ROTC member or at the door tomorrow night. The price will be $2.50 per couple.

Autumn House Dances Begin

The U.S.S. Lausanne has sunk! The women of Lausanne will be "Shipwrecked" for their fall house dance to be held tonight from 8:30 until 12:30 p.m. Music will be provided by KGAY disc jockey Richard Ferrier and live entertainment by the Beta Theta Pi Ascots.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Gleckler, Mrs. Ruth Boylen, Miss Caroline Parr and Mr. Mike Estcourt.

General chairman is Eileen Doern with Connie Whiteside, Ann Bowman and Ginger Verity, decorations; Cathy Atterbury, refreshments; Marcia Luscher and Jollie Heidbrake, favors; Sally Thome, invitations; and Pam Dean, chaperones.

The women of Doney Hall would like to let all hillbillies on campus know that there is now a place for them. From 8 to 12 p.m. tonight, Doney will be hold a "Hic Hop" in the basement of the Hall with music on tape and entertainment by the Ascots.

Judi Moen is general chairman of the dance. She is assisted by Pat Mathews, favors; Donna Brietherick, refreshments; Mary Dorsch, hay; Roberta Stanbury, decorations; and Pat Casson, special effects.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Markus and Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Stillings.

The Collegian would like to apologize for the omission of Ruth Younker, a Pi Beta Phi pledge, from the list of Little Colonel nominees.

Summer Wedding Plans Revealed

The scene was set, all were in their places, and the Pi Phi's entered the room chattering about the air of mystery and the strange box in the corner. Each co-ed was given an envelope which she opened suspiciously. This clue plus the emerging of a familiar figure from the box announced the engagement of Trish Evans and Stu Hall.

The petite, blonde Miss Evans is a senior majoring in history. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi and has served it as pledge trainer. In four years at Willamette Miss Evans has been a member of Honeybears, Angel Flight, Rally Squad, and the Homecoming Court. A highlight of her freshman year was her selection as Little Colonel. A departmental assistant, this attractive co-ed hails from Portland.

Hall is now in his first year at Willamette Law School. He is a Scholastic All-American and permanent president of the class of 1962. While at Willamette he was a member of Phi Delta Theta, Omicron Delta Kappa, Honors Program, and Sigma Alpha Chi. He also claims Portland as home.

'Cats Tromp Pacific '11'

Willamette's Bearcats slashed their way to an impressive 40-7 victory over Pacific University Saturday evening in the first Northwest Conference grid contest of the year. The game, played on a wet field in Forest Grove, was marred by several fumbles on the part of both ball clubs.

Although the Jasons completely dominated the action throughout the contest and were impressive in every department, the win could have been a costly one. Tommy Toombs, the junior halfback from Parkrose, was injured with only 21 seconds remaining in the first quarter. He was taken from the field on a stretcher and later reports indicated that he had suffered a double dislocation of his ankle. The injury could possibly end Toombs' football career and will certainly hurt Willamette's chances of gaining the conference championship.

Cat quarterback, Tommy Lee, had one of his best games ever, as he skillfully guided his charges to a trio of first quarter scores. Lee accounted for 214 of Willamette's 482 total offense with 94 yards on the ground and 120 in the air.

The Jasons wasted little time scoring in the opening stanza. Toombs took a handoff from Lee and went the final six yards to cap a drive that covered 80 yards in just eight plays. Nels Pederson added the extra point and it was 7-0 with 7:09 left in the period.

Following the kickoff Pederson stole one of Pacific quarterback Bob Light's passes and returned the ball to the PU 25-yard line. Two plays later Lee found Jiggs Burnett clear in the end zone and fired a perfect 18-yard pass. Pederson's PAT was again good.

Two minutes later the 'Cats were on the scoreboard again as George Koch intercepted another Light aerial that had been deflected and rambled the final 16 yards to pay dirt. Pederson's kick was again true.

After the break WU went back to work in earnest. With only five minutes elapsed in the third quarter Walter Maze flashed across the

KING'S KORNER

By JUSTIN KING, Collegian Sports Editor

Last week's Pacific game brought together two of the top small college quarterbacks on the Pacific coast, Tommy Lee and the Badgers' Bob Light. Both boys are seniors and both have played four years of varsity ball, although Light was sidelined most of last season with a knee injury.

IT IS DIFFICULT to determine a great deal as to the superiority of one over the other, since the game statistics show that both had slightly over 200 yards of total offense. That's good in anybody's book.

In viewing the game, however, we will have to give the nod to Lee as being the best all-around player. He nearly balanced his aerial yardage with his ground gains and several times showed his elusiveness by bursting into the clear on quarterback keepers.

MR. LIGHT, on the other hand, stayed almost entirely with his passing game. He threw a nearly unbelievable total of 41 passes and completed 21 of them for 199 yards. The big guy (6' 3" and 205 pounds) seemed quite reluctant to run with the ball even when the opportunity presented itself. We will say, though, that given a better line and a pair of good ends, Light could well make some people sit up and take notice.

The story has it that Light is to be drafted into the ranks of pro football next year, so there is definitely some who think he shows promise.

LEN CASANOVA, veteran University of Oregon football boss, is supposed to have said that he thinks Tommy Lee to be the second best quarterback on the coast (behind OSU's great Terry Baker, of course) so guess our boy can have a feather in his cap, too.

It is interesting to note the reactions of crowds at different stages of an athletic contest. We had the opportunity last Saturday of sitting in the Pacific rooting section during the Bearcats' game in Forest Grove and couldn't help noticing the spirit of the Badger fans go from bad to worse as our gridsters proceeded to roll over their hapless squad.

AS THE GAME began everyone seemed to be on the edge of his seat, and when the yell squad led those first few cheers they could probably be heard all over town. When Willamette quickly and effectively mounted the score to 21-0 at the end of the first quarter, this rabid enthusiasm became a sort of disgruntled sigh.

The fans seemed to lose all interest in what was going on on the playing field and instead of watching the action as they would have if the score had been reversed, they became engaged in their own conversations. This attitude seems typical of the students in most collegiate institutions, including Willamette.

GRANTED, IT IS difficult to keep your spirits high if your team seems destined to go down to a humiliating defeat, but at least a person should give it the "old college try." Don't get us wrong now, we're not insinuating that everyone resort to some sort of alcoholic beverage before the game in order to maintain spirit. The idea is, that with just a little extra effort one can force himself to stand up and give a few cheers for the ol' Alma Mater. It's certainly not going to hurt your image on campus just because you quit "playing the role" for a few hours at a game. We could all stand to act a little "gung ho" every once in a while and the cheers sound mighty good to a guy when he is out there on the field getting bashed around.

goal from 11 yards out. Seven minutes later Lee hit Burnett with a 32-yard pass. Maze again picked up the scoring honors, this time from the two.

The Badgers finally succeeded in getting on the scoreboard in the fourth period when Light engineered a drive that covered 44 yards in 12 plays.

With the second and third teams now in the game Coach Ted Ogdahl's warriors picked up their last score with only 1:51 left in the contest. Frosh Jack Deja plunged in from the one to climax a 67-yard drive.

In commenting on the game Willamette mentors Norm Chapman and Ogdahl singled out George Koch, defensive end Dick Carney, and Bruce Anderson for special praise. Chapman stated that he felt the entire defensive line and linebackers played "great ball." On offense Burnett was a standout at end, while Willy Hartman at center, along with John Travis and Dick Takei all had good games.

Juniors Pace Interclass B-Ball

After one week of action, the juniors have taken an early lead in the annual interclass basketball league. With close victories over the seniors and the two frosh teams, they had an unblemished 3-0 mark at press time.

The sophomores are giving chase and with a win over their upperclassmen, could vault into first place.

Led by big Bill Webber, Ed Swearingen, and jumping Eric McDowell, the juniors have edged the seniors 47-44, frosh A 33-30, and the frosh B squad 40-38.

On the other hand, the rangy sophs, with five players standing 6' 3" or better, have clobbered the frosh A five 52-36 and the experienced (?) seniors 64-36. Leading the sophomore onslaught are 6' 6" letterman Dave Nielsen, 6' 6" Lyle Smith, 6' 6" Jim Smith, 6' 3" Kirk McNeil, 6' 3" Randy Bowles, and 5' 8" quick-handed Jeff Topping.

Although the frosh hoopsters have not won a contest, there are some reportedly good prospects for John Lewis' varsity squad this win-

Willamette Aims Sights At Questionable Whits

Encouraged by last week's decisive victory over Pacific University, the Willamette Bearcats are ready to confront the Whitman Fighting Missionaries in Walla Walla tomorrow evening.

Coach Ted Ogdahl and assistant coach Norm Chapman agreed that Whitman could prove to be tough. "They looked pretty good in their first two games," commented Ogdahl.

The Missionaries have only nine lettermen on their thirty-one man squad. Leading the Whitman wing-T offense will be quarterback Andy Fegan, who has shown great skill in his ball handling.

The Bearcat cause will be severely hampered by injuries. Sidelined by injuries this weekend are Carl Neu, Tom Toombs, Jim O'Hair, George Douglass, Roger Bergman and Rich Payne.

In previous games between the two schools, Willamette has controlled the victory column with twenty-six wins, fifteen losses and two ties. Since 1944, the victor of the yearly grid contests has received the famous "Bunyan Axe".

Mural Flagball Action Persists

With a convincing 28-7 victory over Matthews Hall, the Law School has held its lead in the intramural flag-football league.

The Betas, Phi Deltas, and SAE's are hanging close by in second place only a half game behind the leaders.

In other action last week the Phi Deltas edged Baxter 20-12, the SAE's handed the Sigs their first defeat 13-7, Belknap pounced into the win column with a decisive 27-7 thrashing of the winless Deltas, and Baxter got their initial win by a 21-14 margin over the Kappa Sigs.

This afternoon, weather permitting, the Sig A squad will oppose Belknap Hall behind Lee and York dorms. Three games are scheduled tomorrow morning: SAE's vs. Baxter, Law A vs. Kappa Sigs, and Sig B vs. the Deltas.

Coast Representation Discussed

Students of government from Oregon, as well as legislators, league of women voters members, political scientists and journalists are invited to attend the West Coast conference on legislative apportionment to be held on October 26 and 27 at Portland State College.

"The great interest shown nationally and in the region in the problems of securing and retaining fair and equal representation prompts the calling of this conference," stated Mrs. Richard T. Frost, chairman of the conference.

"Experts on reapportionment from all three Pacific Coast states will have an opportunity to exchange information and ideas.

This conference will examine what is taking place in the reapportionment field in the three states as well as the practical consequence of the proposed changes."

The conference is sponsored by the bipartisan league to retain equal representation.

Films Leave Fund Surplus

A balance of $117.83 left over from last year's educational film series will hopefully be applied to a similar film series this year, says Dr. John Rademaker. The voluntary memberships in the series last year brought in a total of $845.78. The 11 films in the series cost $471.70, and rental on the Fine Arts auditorium came to $250. The total expenditure, including other minor expenses, was $727.95, leaving the $117.83 surplus.

Due to a new university policy, any such film series this year will have to be scheduled through a committee headed by Dean Robert Gregg. If the scheduling is completed soon enough, Dr. Rademaker hopes to sponsor the films by voluntary memberships again this year, applying last year's surplus to the fund.

MSM Offers Communion

Starting next Wednesday, weekly communion services will be held in the Chapel of the Seeker in Waller Hall from 7:30 to 7:50 a. m. The services will be sponsored by the Methodist student movement, but will be open to all students on campus. The services will be directed by Rev. Jay Herriman.

The reason for the services, according to Rev. Herriman, is that many students occasionally feel a need to attend a communion service, but are not sure when communion services are being held by the local churches.

Most Protestant churches celebrate communion only a few times a year. Therefore, the Wednesday morning services have been established for students to attend as often or as seldom as they like.

Students Plan Advisory Meet

The Honors program student advisory committee under the direction of Dr. Orcutt Frost plans to hold its first meeting this week. The committee consists of Susan Bowers, Frank Swayze, Lyle Smith and Terry Albright. Each was elected by his seminar to represent Honors students in the program.

The organization initiates and organizes extracurricular activities such as discussion groups, special seminars and public lectures and assists in the evaluation of the Honors program.

Last year the committee organized discussion groups on such questions as the civil liberties issue and the controversial convocation "Commission on the Map."

Orchestra's Opening Concert Illustrates Concerto's Growth

The first concert for the 1962-63 season of the Willamette-community orchestra is scheduled for November 14, announced Dr. Charles Heiden, conductor. This concert will present the orchestra and student soloists Anne Kaufmann, piano; Suanne Hower, cello and Ray Krueger, trumpet, in a program designed to illustrate the development of the concerto as a music form.

Programmed are concertos by Stradella, Corelli, Beethoven and Saint-Saens. Other concerts for the Council Plans New Program

The Religious Life Council has approved plans for a campus-wide inter-denominational religious program to be held in Waller auditorium every Sunday from 6:30 to 7 p. m.

The program will consist of various speakers, dramatic cuttings, musical presentations and silent meditation. It is an attempt toward creative forms of worship, and will deal with issues and needs that arise within the campus community. The programs, which will begin October 14, will be selected and managed by a student steering committee.

Bill Sefton and Nancy Flinn will be serving as president and secretary for the council.

Disciplinary Committee Plans Formation of Student Judiciary

This year's student disciplinary committee met Monday to discuss the organization and objectives of the committee. At the organizational meeting, Dean Walter Blake brought up for discussion the philosophy of collegiate discipline under which the committee operates. This includes the concept that discipline is an integral part of education in which students learn to accept the controls and regulations of society.

The university takes the place of the student's parents in matters of discipline. This action of the committee is not punitive in intention, but is aimed toward helping the student realize his responsibilities toward himself and the university.

THE STUDENT discipline committee meets at the request of one of the personnel deans. When the dean feels there may have been a serious infraction of a University rule which could result in probation, suspension or expulsion for the offender, he or she first talks individually to the student.

The student is then asked to appear before a scheduled meeting of the committee. The women students on the committee serve when a woman is involved, and the men serve when a man is involved.

To help the committee arrive at a just and impartial decision for each student or organization referred to the committee, other students may be asked either by the committee or by the student involved to serve as witnesses. It is not obligatory for a student to testify, but it is believed that students will want to do so to supply the information necessary for a just decision.

THE COMMITTEE meets as long as it is necessary to evaluate the situation and do justice to the student. The decision as to what action should be taken is arrived at by the committee as a whole, including faculty, administration and students.

Bob Elder, student body president, states "In the coming year, we hope to be able to supplement the committee with a student judiciary composed entirely of students. This would be a step forward in student responsibility.

"EVERY student should have the right to appeal to a faculty-administration committee if he felt the student judiciary did not treat his case fairly. The student judiciary will only be formed if students indicate they are ready to accept this responsibility."

Mary Ann Wright, AWS president, indicates that the women students are discussing their views on a student judiciary through the AWS standards boards already formed, and through the AWS representatives. In this way, AWS hopes they will be able to assess if the women students feel ready to plan for a student judiciary and accept the responsibilities it entails.

Members of the committee include Dean Blake as chairman, Dean Vera Haberer, Professors Jack Leonard, Edward Stillings and Sara Fernald, and students George Douglass, Renn Harris, Mary Ann Wright and Karen Stone.

President Brad Kerwin leads initiation ceremonies for five Arnold Air society cadets, now beginning a two months pledgship. In the October 26 ceremony cadets Denny Drew, Steve Smith, Robert Hartman, Mike Laughlin and Gene Juve were initiated. Also initiated but not present at the ceremonies was cadet Robert Lutje. Upon successful completion of the two month pledgship, these men will be initiated into Arnold Air Society, an honorary society of outstanding AFROTC cadets.

All Convo Notices Due Day Before

Those wishing to make announcements during convocation programs must give the written announcement to the convo manager, Susan Jones, the day before, either personally or via the Alpha Chi Omega intercom box in Eaton Hall.

This new policy has arisen from a tendency in the past for convocations to run over due to the amount of time taken at the beginning for various announcements. This system will save time for the speakers.

Smith Speaks In Nashville

Dr. G. Herbert Smith is currently in Chicago representing Willamette University at the American Council on Education. He will also be attending several commission sessions related to the council.

From Chicago, Dr. Smith will fly to Nashville, Tennessee, for the convening of the university senate of the Methodist Church which is the accrediting organization for Methodist church related colleges and universities.

At the Nashville meeting Dr. Smith will lead the memorial service for the late Rev. Russell J. Humbert, past president of DePauw University, often referred to as Willamette's "sister university." Dr. Humbert was a close personal friend of Dr. Smith.
