Student Body Elects Friday; Ackerman, Campbell, Harland Presidential Nominees

Cochran and Stiles for First Vice; Felton and K. Jones for Second Vice; Findley and E. White for Secretary

Interest on the campus centers at present around the elections for student body officers which takes place Friday from ten in the morning until four in the afternoon. Nominations have been made, and platforms declared. Electioneering is in full swing, and excitement is running high. Nominations for president of the student body are Paul Ackerman, Charles Campbell and Roy Harland.

Paul Ackerman states that, "As students of Willamette university, we owe the utmost in loyalty and respect to the institution which is to be our alma mater. We can be proud that it is our duty to make known the qualities and high scholarship of our student body to other colleges on the coast. If elected I will endeavor to place the Willamette university student body in the position of leadership which it justly deserves."

Charles Campbell says: "If elected I will endeavor to promote the intelligent and efficient administration of student body affairs. I will encourage, in particular, the careful management of student body finances, and the fostering of the public's respect for Willamette."

Roy Harland's platform is: "Willamette has attained recognition through our success in athletics and the endowment campaign. Likewise our student government has grown until we have an organization that we may well be proud of. Being interested in student activities, if elected, I will endeavor to conduct

JUNIOR AND SENIOR 'FLUNKDAYS' OVER

James Allison Hoodwinks Sophomores; Saves Food for Juniors

Following close upon the heels of the seniors, the class of '32 "flunked" on Thursday, April 16, with an all-day trip to the coast.

"Flunking" is an old tradition that is indulged in every year as early in the spring as the weather permits.

This year the seniors went to Neiscott beach. It is reported that they had an enjoyable trip although there was some trouble over detours. Mildred Emmons, Ray Waddell, and Leslie Frewing were in charge of committees for the seniors.

The juniors met with some conflict in getting started on their trip. Most of the excitement took place in and about Dallas. Several members of the party spent some time in bondage, and the supplies for the day were the objects of much dispute.

Jim Allison used trickery in reaching Dallas in time to join the party. He made certain sophomores believe that he was a senior. These sophomores gave Jim a lift over to Dallas, and instead of helping them to get away with the food as they expected him to, he joined the junior forces.

The juniors spent the day at Neskonung. Nellie Badley was in charge of the general plans for the trip. Her committees were: breakfast—Maxine Ulrich, Stearns Cushing, Ellen Jean Moody, and Don Faber; lunch—Doris Clarke, Floyd Albin, and Irma Sawyer; dinner—Bertha Babcock, Claire Miller, Cecil Harmon, and Beuna Brown; transportation—Wesley Warren, Esther Girod, Glen Houston, Clarence Poor, and Betty Ogden; entertainment—Frank Bashor, Edith Findley, and Percy Carpenter; place and time—Charles Campbell, Eloise White, Eric Anderson, Faye Cornutt, Margaret Eddy, and Isabel Childs.

PROFESSOR JONES RETURNS FROM TRIP

Professor William C. Jones returned last week from a two weeks' trip through Oregon cities, where he spoke in behalf of Willamette to high schools, service clubs, and chambers of commerce.

His program in the high schools usually consisted of an address before the student body, a talk to the seniors, and afterward, individual conferences with students who desired more information. Much interest was evidenced by the students, Professor Jones states.

This week he is covering the small towns near Salem, and on Wednesday he spoke at Oregon City. Next Monday he will begin a longer trip, covering Eugene, Springfield, Cottage Grove, Bend, Roseburg, Coquille, Marshfield, and other places.

In the near future he will visit Bend, Prineville, and other eastern and central Oregon cities, and will also visit several towns just across the Columbia in Washington.

SURGICAL SET GIVEN MUSEUM

Amputating Set Containing Knives, Saws and Forceps Presented

DOCTOR GODDARD DONOR

Medically, Set is Valueless, but it is Invaluable to Museum

Dr. Goddard of Portland, who graduated from Willamette, receiving his A. B. degree in 1886 and his M. D. degree in 1888, recently presented the Willamette University with an old set of surgical instruments. This set of instruments is very interesting. It was purchased in 1888 by Dr. Goddard. At the time of the purchase Dr. Goddard said this type of instruments was just going out of date since they are the type of amputating instruments used before anaesthetics and aseptic surgery came into use.

The set consists of two single edged amputating knives, one Catlin double edged knife, one very large scalpel, one large tenaculum, one pair of bulldog artery forceps, one tourniquet, a tray for needles and thread and two bone saws, in a plush lined, hardwood box. The knives have wooden handles. This is one of the things that shows that they are out of date because all modern surgical instruments are all metal so that they may be boiled and sterilized. The blade of the longest of these old surgical knives is nine inches and the two single edged amputating knives are six and one-half inches long.

The original cost of the set was between twenty-five and thirty dollars. It is worthless to the medical world today but as an addition to the Willamette museum it is almost invaluable.

WILLAMETTE PLACES SECOND IN CONTEST

Maurice Dean won second place for Willamette in the state after-dinner speaking contest, held Friday evening at the Gray Belle Silver Grill. His topic was "Don't be a Flat Tire." George Fletcher of Oregon State college won first place. His topic was "It's Nationally Advertised." Robert Oliver of Pacific university won third place with the topic "It Just Isn't Done." The other speakers were Wallace J. Campbell, U. of O. and Helen Matt of Pacific college. Professor Rahe said, concerning the contest: "It was very much pleased with the excellence of the work done by the contestants. This contest was undoubtedly one of the most interesting and worthwhile events the speech department has sponsored during the year. Dean Hewitt deserves particular commendation for the topics he selected, and for his good work as toastmaster." Professor Rahe also expressed pleasure because so many of his speech students attended the contest.

Those who attended the contest were: Coach Wynger of Pacific U., Professor Walter Hempstead, Professor and Mrs. Rahe, Professor and Mrs. E. S. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Panek, Walter Pickthal, who represented Oregon State in the state extempore contest, J. Hobart Wilson of U. of O., Philip Armstrong, Tom Hall, Fred Harris, John Rudin, Eugene Smith, Doris Corbin and Miss Mary Laak of Pacific university.

STUDENTS ENTERTAIN HAYSVILLE P. T. A.

A number of students have been appearing on programs outside of school through the Willamette Speakers and Entertainers bureau which is headed by Miss Elma Nell.

Tuesday evening a group of Willamette people gave readings at a parent-teacher social function at Haystack. Those appearing were: Eugene Smith, Dorothy Dale, Fred Harris and Doris Corbin. The Haystack people supplemented the program with their own musical numbers.

Doris Corbin and Keith Jones read on a program at Brush College one night last week.

Men's Glee Club Gives Elsinore Concert May 1st

Professor Marshall Has Had Experience With Several Glee Clubs

An announcement of unusual interest coming as it does during May festivities, is the concert to be presented by the Willamette Men's Glee Club, Friday night, May 1st, at the Elsinore theatre.

The club this year affords a most delightful balance in ensemble, and the program chosen for this occasion will be of particular interest. Mr. Marshall, head of the School of Music and director of the club, has had much experience in stage productions and a novel presentation is being arranged. Before coming to Willamette, one of his clubs was visited by district and New York managers of the Public Circuit, and after a very successful presentation of his club at the Palace theatre in Dallas, Texas, the club was offered several weeks over the De Luxe Public circuit.

A picture of more than ordinary interest, booked especially for the occasion at the Elsinore, and a pre-music week feature, will be Victor Herbert's "Kiss Me Again," familiarly known as "Mademoiselle Modiste." This picture is in technicolor. The combined features will afford Salem audiences, and particularly students and friends of the university, a most delightful program as a May Day, and pre-music week presentation.

STUDENTS PRESENT SOPHOMORE RECITAL

Misses Clement and Laws Show Fine Training and Excellent Interpretation

A charming recital was given last Monday night by Elizabeth Clement and Frances Laws as their sophomore program. Both girls showed thorough preparation and foundation in technique, and have pleasing stage presence.

The program opened with a lovely "Gavotte" by Bach-St. Saens, which Miss Clement played. Her Gram's "Indian Lament" and O. Merikanto's Finnish folk song, "Mother Don't Cry," were beautiful numbers gracefully played. Miss Clement's last individual group, of MacDowell, was especially enjoyed by the audience. "Polonaise" of this group was one of the features of the performance, and was most excellently played—rhythmic and full of tone.

Frances Laws opened with a Bach number, and included in her first group "Three Scotch Dances" by Chopin. Her exceptional velocity, combined with clear tones and excellent staccato were especially noted. Among Miss Laws' numbers, Beethoven's "Sonata," Opus 1, No. 2, MacDowell's "To a Water Lily" and Liszt's "Intermezzo in Octaves" were liked especially well and were well interpreted. All the numbers were interesting, and the program was well varied.

The Misses Pauline Livezey, Alvis Love and Mildred Miller were ushers, while Marjory O'dell and Edwyna Broadbent assisted in decorating the room.

NOTES ON POPULAR BOOKS AVAILABLE

In addition to the Book of the Month club, the Literary Guild and similar organizations, according to Professor Oliver, we now have associations which, for a small sum, will send one notes and appraisals of the most popular books just off the press. These notes consist of short phrases and adjectives. They enable one to discuss the latest books without having read them. A form of preselected literature is to speak. It is fervently hoped that none of the Willamette students will fall afoul of one of these reports.

TREBLE CLEF CLUB SINGS AT AUDITORIUM

Final arrangements have been completed for the appearance of the Treble Clef Club in Portland on the closing program of Music Week at the auditorium. The club will remain in Portland on Sunday, singing in the morning at Seaside, in the evening they will be with Dr. Taylor, former pastor of the First Methodist church, Salem. They will return following the Sunday night concert.

CO-ED CARNIVAL IS JUDGED SUCCESS

The Co-ed Carnival went off with a bang! Last Friday evening a number of Willamette girls and faculty women met in the public speaking room of Waller hall for their annual polly get-together. Everyone came in clever, colorful costumes, and the very atmosphere, sparkled with good-humor and fun.

The stunts presented by the several classes had been carefully worked out, and the effect was most entertaining. The freshmen opened the program with a scene from pioneer life, in which a cowboy rescued a charming daughter from a terrible villain. Special interest was achieved by the repetition of the act, first, at a slower rate, then at a faster rate than the original. The sophomores attempted to educate the taste of the general public for grand opera. The juniors dramatized a scene from Willamette's Matrimonial Bureau, and the result was especially amusing. The seniors gave a delightful band and trio concert.

The class stunts were not judged. However, a "silver" double boiler, with the name "Co-ed Carnival" engraved upon it, was awarded to Marvell Edwards and Margaret Gormley for having the most original costumes of the evening. The winners were dressed as sebras and acted out their parts with skill.

Mary Allen Miller led the group in singing Willamette songs.

Ralph Foster is Winner of Interclass Debate Cup

Paul Ackerman Is Postmaster At Monroe, Wn.

Ackerman Forced to Hold Position Until Mr. Osborn Returns from Texas

Paul Ackerman, well-known member of the junior class, was unexpectedly called to Monroe, Washington, his home town, to fill the place in the post office for which he was bonded as a substitute. Mr. Osborn, whose place Paul is taking, was called to Texas because of his brother's death, and Paul is unable to come back until Mr. Osborn returns from Texas. He hopes to be back at school studying hard and entering into the school activities again next Monday. He is sorry that he was called away at the time when the school finances are under discussion, but he is keeping in touch with university activities and has consented to run for student body president.

STUDENTS DISCOVER CASKETS ON CAMPUS

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—Discovery by workmen of an old iron casket on the old campus of Louisiana State university here is believed to have determined that the old campus was formerly a Spanish graveyard. In the casket was the well-preserved body of a young man who appeared to have been killed in a duel. For there was a deep gash across one cheek. His clothes were of the finest materials. Other caskets also are to be removed from the plot.

Members of the Salem Life Savers Corp. are: Mrs. Bob Boardman, Mrs. Glen Niles, Miss Echo Baidere, Miss Esther Arnold, Miss Ruth Arnold, Miss Edith Clement, Mr. Charles Gill, Mr. Maxey Langford, Mr. Dwight Adams, Mr. Fred Smith and Mr. Irving Hale. It is hoped that as a result of Mr. Carlson's talk in chapel more Willamette students will become interested in life saving and first aid.

Underclassmen Sit in Classes While Juniors and Seniors Play Hockey at the Various Beaches

The seniors scanned the heavens; they consulted the weather reports; they surveyed off the spigot from the fountain—and very soon vanished. For a whole day the underclassmen were without surveillance. For a whole day they scampered about the campus happy in their freedom. Only one cloud to darken the radiant brightness—as the sophomores moaned. "They just walked out after dinner and never showed up." How truly touching is the deep attachment of the underclassmen for the worthy seniors, displayed in this remark.

SALEM SENIOR LIFE SAVERS ORGANIZED

Corporation May Sponsor Swim Campaign May 25 to June 5

Salem may now boast of a new service organization—the Salem Senior Life Savers' Corp. At a meeting held on Wednesday evening, April 15, the charter was received and the group of Senior Life Savers and Examiners was definitely organized. Tentative plans were read for a swimming campaign which is to be held from May 25 to June 5. The campaign will include classes for beginners, swimmers and Life Savers. It is to be under the auspices of the local chapter of Red Cross and will be open to the public.

Members of the Salem Life Savers Corp. are: Mrs. Bob Boardman, Mrs. Glen Niles, Miss Echo Baidere, Miss Esther Arnold, Miss Ruth Arnold, Miss Edith Clement, Mr. Charles Gill, Mr. Maxey Langford, Mr. Dwight Adams, Mr. Fred Smith and Mr. Irving Hale. ## Webster Would Never Recognize These Unusual Definitions Given by Members of Sociology Class

Dr. Laughlin recently conducted an interesting test in his Sociology class with the purpose of finding out how many enthusiastic dictionary students were in the class. Fifty words were given from the text and the students were to give the definition of each word.

The two words, pululating and ethnocentrism, puzzled the students most as there were no correct definitions given. Dr. Laughlin prizes the rare collection of answers and has consented to the publication of some of the definitions.

foot, caused by the low stage of evolution; pululating was defined as high blood pressure; buckstering, the farmer's needed helper; stereotype, a kind of a person; abasement, to be surprised; Neptunism, sea life and belief in Neptune; fatuousness, tire out and fascinating; ethnocentrism, morally cynical and queer.

One young man was thinking of Reno when he said polygot means a place where a man can live happy with many wives. Listen brother—there is no city in Oregon that serves the purpose that Reno does in Nevada and don't marry a woman who says "embroiled" is a form of cooking.

ASK TOMMY, HE KNOWS

Were you ever acquainted with a person who seemed to be "in the know" about everything—someone who is an admitted authority on almost anything from the exact date of the next party to the final score of the last ball game?

No doubt some of it is gossip. He simply has a "nose for news." However, the chances are he also spends those famous 15 minutes a day in gathering facts another way.

WE BEG YOUR PARDON

Last week Dame Rumor had the juicy misinformation that the Blue Key chapter on our campus had disbanded. Whereupon a number of people, the present writer among them, were quick to say, "Small loss."

The Blue Key is a national service fraternity having more than 106 chapters in the U. S. The local group holds monthly luncheons where campus policies are formulated and various plans made which are seldom widely published.

Among the definite acts for which the student body may give thanks to this fraternity, a few that might be mentioned are: sponsoring the Whitman and basketball banquets, conducting the sale of "W" sweatshirts, opening the east door in Eaton hall, taking care of announcements on the bulletin boards, and the giving of cosmopolitan dinners for Willamette students and professors of foreign birth.

Whenever any group, zealous for power, makes loyalty to one of its own members the test of citizenship and the object of any election, then sooner or later corruption comes. —William Allen White.

EDITION OF ENGLISH POETS RECEIVED

Library Receives Book Containing English Writers from 1564 to 1764

Among the new books received by the university library is "Famous Editions of English Poets" by John C. Beatty and John W. Bower, which includes the poets William Shakespeare, John Milton, Alfred Tennyson, John Dryden, Alexander Pope, Thomas Gray, William Wordsworth, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, George Byron, Percy Bysshe Shelley, John Keats, and Robert Browning, extending over a period of time from 1564 to 1764.

Another book is "The Good Earth" by Pearl S. Buck, an English woman who has spent much of her time in China. The book is the story of the life of Wang Lung, a Chinese man, telling his experiences and his ideas as he lives from day to day. It is very interesting, well written and has a very plain and simple way of saying things.

Management" by J. H. Tregon, "Civic Attitudes in American School Text Books" by Bessie Louise Pierce, "The History of British Civilization," by Esmé Wingfall-Straford, "The Origin, Structure and Working of the League of Nations" by Charles Howard-Ellis, "In the Realm of Carbon" by Horace G. Deming, "Medizinisches Konversationsbuch" and "Dictionary of Medical Terms" by Paul Blaschke, "The Book Review Digest, 1930," "Who's Who in Colored America, 1928-1929," edited by Joseph J. Boris, "Bulletin of the Association of American Colleges" containing the addresses and proceedings of the seventeenth annual meeting, March, 1931, edited by Robert L. Kelly, and "Fifty Years of the Prudential, 1875-1925, the History of a Business Charged with Public Interest," published by the Prudential Life Insurance Co., and prepared by William Starr Myers.

The library has recently subscribed to the "Scientia" which is one of the leading scientific magazines in the world. It is published in Italy. The January number has been received and contains an article on the "Expanding Universe" by DeSitter, a famous Dutch physicist. The magazine is published in different languages.

Dr. Ralph B. Winn spoke at the Willamette Alumni Council meeting which was held in Portland Monday evening, April 20.

Campus Litterae

Picking flowers for the little pink bowl—
I was out there
In the garden—on my soul,
Birds were singing—sunshine everywhere.

That choking, scorching grief has left me now.
My cheeks are cool, my lips can smile again.

I armed myself to meet the pounding rain
Of well-meant sympathy. I know, somehow,

I lived through those first days of emptiness.
I do not want this weighted heart I bear

Yonder he sits astride his mighty horse,
A sturdy member of a sun-bronzed race;

Strong as his wooded hills alone he waits,
Powerful arms outstretched and head held high;

He has no home; he travels lonely ways
Through forests dark, o'er towering mountain heights,

His single campfire glows throughout the night,
And for this simple life he thanks the sun.

There are bikers of renown in almost every town,
But none of more fame, I assure you.

He climbed up the Alps one day,
When a torrent washed miles of dirt away.

He was left high and dry,
And he naught could espy
But chasms around

Where Mother Nature Dwells
Enclosed between two hills of Balsam-wood

The mother of the spring has built her nest,
The domelets of sweet content and good.

Some sunbeams trickling through a leafy tree
Disclose a spring of dew drops crystal clear,

The happy streamlet dancing off to play
Relates its joy with ceaseless murmuring

Monk, Professor Cambiare, Mr. Wesley Warren, and Mr. Seichi Yamaguchi, Mr. Rodere Chang, Mr. Nicholas Yablouckoff, Mr. Umekichi Sugiama, Mr. Mariano Rodriguez, and Mr. Augustina Balmoja. Mr. Hayes Beall was in charge of arrangements. The affair was considered very profitable and Blue Key intends to have another dinner before the end of the school year.

ALL-NATIONS CLUB FORMED AT W. U.

Foreign and American Students to Meet Weekly at Hall Home

The new international club met for the second time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, where they expect to continue their meetings. This group, made up of foreign and American students, expect to form a more definite organization when they have met more of the American students. There are approximately thirty members, both American and foreign, having as their purpose better cooperation both as students and as friends. They will meet once a week at the Hall home for study and entertainment with one out of every four meeting nights set aside for those of one nationality to serve food as in their own country and to entertain as if they were actually in their native land. The first meeting was held April 10 under the charge of the Filipinos. The Japanese will be the next nationality to entertain.

During the meeting one room in the Hall home is reserved for those who wish to study and another for those who wish to converse.

Foreign students who have attended the meetings are: Rodereck Chang, Augustina Balmoja, Mariana Rodrigo, Seichi Yamaguchi, S. Niwa, Chai Wan Lee, Jessie Fukuda, Joe White, Mylie Lawyer and Nick Yablokoff.

Any professor: How do you make anti-freeze? Anybody: Steal her woolen nightgown.

Carnival Held In Little Theatre

One of the most interesting and enjoyable Co-ed Carnivals that has been held on the Willamette Campus was the one given in the Little Theatre in Waller Hall last Friday evening for all the women students and faculty women. Entertainment was furnished by each class, readings by Miss Doris Corbin, and a parade in order to decide upon the most unique and best costume. The prize, an engraved double boiler, was awarded to Miss Margaret Gormley and Miss Marvella Edwards, who were dressed as Albinos on Zebras. Other costumes were those of peasants, tom-boys, cooks, Dutch girls, Grecians, and gypsies.

One of the activities in which Willamette women participate is that of Girl Reserve work; and on Tuesday at the city Y. W. C. A. Open House, three Willamette students received their Girl Reserve rings at the ceremonial. They were Miss Margaret Gormley, Miss Louise Brown, and Miss Elizabeth Atkinson. Others who participated in the program were Miss Helen Breithaupt who spoke, and Miss Helen Cochran, who sang, accompanied by Miss Miriam Armitage.

STUDENT BODY ELECTION FRIDAY

In order that the members of the Associated Student body may know the provisions of the constitution concerning requirements for eligibility to office in the elections to be held Friday, April 24, the Collegian prints them as follows:

Article III, Section 1. General officers: The officers of this organization shall be a president, first vice-president, second vice-president and secretary, all of whom shall be chosen from the two upper classes of the following year.

Article IV, Section 4: Term of office. The officers listed in Section 1 shall assume the duties of their respective offices at the beginning of the college year following their election, and shall hold office one year or until their successors shall be regularly elected and qualified.

Enthusiastic Frosh Enjoy Picnicking at Silver Creek Falls

No, the freshmen weren't to be left out in the rush of spring picnics. Saturday morning—bright and early—about seventy-five enthusiastic freshmen set out in cars, trucks, and what have you for Silver Creek falls.

The frosh left the campus at about eight o'clock Saturday morning. The larger portion of the group went in a large truck and trailer. Entertainment of various kinds was had on the way to the falls. A harmonica solo and duet, a debate, and a song fest provided the entertainment on the way out.

The cars and truck arrived at the falls at about ten-thirty. Before dinner the students went out to the Upper Falls. These falls, being about eighty feet in height, presented a very inspiring spectacle. Upon returning from the Upper Falls, the students had dinner at Silver Creek camp.

Wienies, buns, beans served as the first course, while dessert consisted of pop, cookies, and candy. Inasmuch as the students were somewhat tired and hungry, the food met with the approval of all. The roasting of wienies proved the favorite pastime at noon.

After dinner the frosh were free to go where they cared to, and the majority of them visited the North Falls and the Lower Falls. The North Falls was a spot of interest to all. The group walked under the falls, which are one hundred and ninety feet high.

Some of the group who were desirous of remaining at camp enjoyed themselves by playing in-door baseball, fishing, and wading. Kodaks were the order of the day, with many a roll of film being used.

The ride home revealed more frosh class talent. All participated in the singing, and there was room in the large truck and trailer for the playing of various games. The group arrived home at about six o'clock in the evening, and the freshman class is now looking forward to the spring frosh class picnic.

the student government in a manner that will command respect and aid in maintaining the new spirit at Willamette.

For first vice-president Helen Cochran and Helen Stiles are nominated.

Cochran

According to Helen Cochran: "I elected first vice-president. I will endeavor to plan more social affairs for the school as a whole and to fulfill my other duties to the best of my ability."

Helen Stiles affirms that: "If chosen by the students as first vice-president, I shall endeavor to take care of the social life of the student body in a way that will bring us all closer together socially and make us better acquainted with each other."

Stiles

For second vice-president Joseph Felton and Keith Jones are nominated.

(There has been a report circulated concerning the ineligibility of Mr. Jones to hold office, but this has been cleared up by the fact that if elected he will meet the requirements by qualifying as a junior when school starts in the fall. On account of outside work Mr. Jones has not carried a full course but his deficiency will be made up in summer school.)

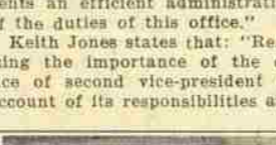

Joseph Felton says: "I believe that two things are necessary in extra-curricular activities—an efcient student government and an effective school spirit. If elected to the office of second vice-president of the associated students of Willamette university, I shall endeavor to give the students an efficient administration of the duties of this office."

Keith Jones states that: "Realizing the importance of the office of second vice-president on account of its responsibilities and duties, I pledge myself, if I am elected, to do all in my power to promote the best interests of the students."

Secretarial nominations are Edith Findley and Eloise White.

Findley

Edith Findley affirms that: "If elected, I will endeavor to perform the duties of secretary of the Willamette student body and executive committee proceedings and of taking the president's dictation. If chosen for this office I will do these things as well as I am able."

For editor of the Collegian, Isabel Childs and Muriel White are nominated.

Childs

Isabel Childs states that: "The Collegian, as the official newspaper of the associated students of Willamette university, should impartially publish the news of all college activities. I believe each member of the university student body should have the opportunity for expression of his views on matters pertaining to the university through the columns of the Collegian. Nevertheless, the paper should have a policy for which it should stand fearlessly—a policy of upbuilding for Willamette not only along educational lines, but in athletics, forensics, music, social life, and other worthwhile extra-curricular interests."

White

Muriel White says: "If the students of Willamette university entrust to my hands the editorship of the Collegian, it will be my purpose to produce an efficient and progressive paper based upon those ideals and standards which Willamette university upholds."

Nominations for Wallulah editor comprises Deena Hart and Harold Rose.

According to Deena Hart: "If the trust of publishing the year book is placed in my hands, I shall do my best to put out the best book that Willamette has had. My staff will be composed of those who are competent, efficient and interested in furthering the fulfillment of the purpose of the Wallulah."

Hart

Harold Rose states: "If I am elected editor of the Wallulah, I will endeavor to publish a book which will be an accurate written and pictorial account of the events and organizations on the campus."

TWO GLEE CLUBS TO GIVE ORATIO

Rehearsals are already under way for the outstanding concert of the season, to be presented by the combined clubs of Willamette university, and the Salem Junior Symphony orchestra, when they will present Maunder's Oratorio, "From Olivet to Calvary," on Sunday night, May 31, at the First Methodist church. There will be more than one hundred musicians in this concert, the soloists being, Miss Elmore Moore, soprano, Helen Cochran, soprano, Miss Hazel Shutt, alto, Miss Elizabeth Ogden, alto, Ronald Craven and A. A. Schramm, tenors, and Lawrence Deacon and Mr. Marshall, baritone. Prof. T. S. Roberts will be at the organ.

MISS MELTON ASKED TO JUDGE CONTEST

Miss Frances Virginia Melton, head of the Piano and Theory department of Willamette's school of music, has been asked to serve as a judge for the biennial state contest which is sponsored by the National Federation of Music clubs and held in Portland every two years.

This is a distinct honor, since there are but three judges from the state to judge the piano contests. The students are divided into 3 groups and each group is separately judged. Each contestant plays a Bach number, from the Inventions or Well-Tempered Clavier, Liszt's Etude in C-b, which is a piece Miss Elizabeth Boylan played at her concert, and a number by the Russian composer, Arensky. Miss Melton was one of the judges at the contest two years ago.

SOME SENIORS HAVE APPOINTMENTS NOW

Although it is still a little early in the year, some of the Willamette seniors have received appointments for teaching next fall. Miss Helen Pemberton goes to Paisley, Oregon, in Lake county. Miss Pauline Findley will teach in Noxse City, Washington, and Mr. Laurence Deacon has received an appointment to teach at Adna, Washington.

Three teaching fellowships have also been awarded other members of the graduating class. Mr. Raymond Waddell and Mr. Arthur Hollenberg have received fellowships at New York university, and Mr. Lars Nelson will go to Syracuse university.

Before the year is over it is expected that several others in the class of '31 will locate positions in various schools throughout the country.

MATHEWS IS POPULAR

Our Willamette professors are very popular as commencement speakers. Professor Matthews has already made four appointments to give Commencement addresses. They are: May 21, Ione; May 28, Dundee; May 28, McMinnville, Oregon; and May 26, Battleground, Washington.

When we were in Miller's the other day their Advertising Man, along with many other people in that very busy store, was pretty excited about their

which begins at 9 o'clock Friday Morning

In order that Willamette Students might know of this sale (which sounded to us well worth getting excited about), he asked us to put a little note in the Collegian. You know that Miller's do not advertise "Astounding... Greatest in History... or Marvelous Sales", but, nevertheless, this sounds to us like a

KNOCKOUT

Imagine, if you can, buying a complete spring outfit at 10c per item

We won't guarantee that you can—but MILLER'S are going to have a table of merchandise selling at ridiculously low prices in the basement store, and although none of this generation of Willamette Students has ever seen such an affair as this at Miller's (they've had three of them in history) it is rumored that 'twill be a big day.

"GREAT AMERICAN WRITERS" OFFERED

Courses to Consider Writers with View of Helping to Interpret Works

Professor E. S. Oliver promises that the course, "Great American Writers" to be offered in summer school this June, will be much different from the course in American Literature previously offered. Instead of being a review of American Literature as a whole, the course will give a full discussion of nine great writers, and will attempt to aid the students in a better interpretation and understanding of their works.

In speaking of some of the greatest American writers, he stated that Walt Whitman, now recognized as America's greatest poet, is perhaps better known, read and appreciated in Europe than in this country. Likewise, Thoreau was recognized as a great writer in Europe long before he was famous here. Many of the writers who earned lasting fame did their best work late in life and received a tardy recognition, or sometimes very little recognition at all, during their lifetimes. Hawthorne was past forty, and Emerson past thirty-six years of age before their works became well known. As a result of years of thought and experience, their writings possessed merit and authority, which is impossible to authors less mature, for example Vina Delmar, who was recently welcomed by the Literary Guild.
