

WOMEN LOSE 3 TO 0 LINFIELD DEBATE

DR. ALDEN IS CHAIRMAN

Edith Starret and Yvonne Cornell Pitted Against Erickson, Sargent

The Linfield women's debate team won a 3 to 0 decision over the Willamette women debaters in a contest held Wednesday evening in the chapel. Miss Sargent and Miss Erickson of Linfield upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that the plea of temporary insanity, as a defense of crime, should be prohibited by law." Miss Edith Starret and Miss Yvonne Cornell upheld the negative side for Willamette.

The first speaker for the affirmative started the debate with a pleasantry about the nearness of the state penitentiary to the state institutions. The following speakers also expressed the desire that friendly relations be maintained between Linfield and Willamette.

Professor Alden presided as chairman and the judges were Professor M. M. Chambers, Dr. W. H. Dreesen, and Dr. F. A. Magruder, all of the Oregon State College.

The next women's debate will be held March 9 with the College of Puget Sound. Last year the Puget Sound debate was held at Tacoma, but this year it will be in Salem. Willamette women consider this their hardest debate of the season, and the team for this contest has not yet been chosen.

It was announced Tuesday that Miss Mary Ann Morange had been chosen to represent Willamette in the state "Old Line" oratorical contest. This contest will be held on the campus of Pacific University at Forest Grove on March 8. Miss Morange's oration, "Wild Wings", has as its theme the preservation of North American birds.

MCCULLY FINISHES FILING OF GRADES

Registrar McCully and his assistants have completed the filing and mailing of semester grades. Twenty-eight students lost all of their semester hours because of unexcused absences. According to the value the university places on these hours, $220 has been lost since the cost for each student is $5.50 per semester for semester hours.

GATKE GIVES LECTURE STUDY COURSE STARTS

Tuesday evening Dr. Robert M. Catke spoke before the Parent-Teacher's Association of Falls City on the "Heritage of Oregon History".

The association is starting a study course in Oregon history under the leadership of Fred Patton, principal of the Falls City High school and a Willamette graduate of '24.

The story of the establishment of civilization in the Oregon country is interwoven with romance and hardship, and the earnest student cannot fail to get an inspiration from its history.

Prof. Laemer accompanied Dr. Catke to Falls City.

Salem Union Votes To Join Y Sunrise

The regular monthly meeting of the Salem Young People's union was held at a banquet at the evening. A good crowd of young people attended evidencing a large amount of enthusiasm.

The main event of the program was a talk given by Dean Hewitt after the address some time was given over to a yell contest, which was won by the Jason Lee group. Following the regular program a short business meeting was held at which it was voted to unite with the campus Y. M. C. A. in their Chresto cottage Easter sunrise service. Miss Betty Lewis was also elected secretary.

NEW ERA IS OPEN FOR CHRISTIANITY

Slusser Elected Secretary and Hutchason Editor of Volunteer Conference

The spread of Christianity faces a New Era, according to the speakers at the Oregon Student Volunteer Conference, held in Portland at the Western Baptist Theological Seminary, February 22-24, 1929.

Miss Dorothy Hutchason, a junior at Willamette University, presided at all the sessions of the conference, as she is president of the Oregon Student Volunteer Union. Those who attended the conference from Willamette were: Virginia Slusser, Edna Holder, Esther Lisle, Roy Currier, Edwin Rounds, Dorothy Hutchason, and three Willamette alumni: Margaret Leavenworth, '27, William Wright, '28, and Beach Patton, '28. Two Willamette students secured berths on the Executive Committee of the Oregon S. V. Union. They were Miss Virginia Slusser, '31, who was elected corresponding secretary of the Union, and Miss Dorothy Hutchason, '30, who was elected editor of the monthly newsletter of the Oregon Volunteers.

Dr. Culver Is Speaker

TEAM MEMBERS TO GET GOLD TOKENS

The Blue Key fraternity with the cooperation of the "W" club and the executive committee will present small gold basketballs to the basketball team which won the northwest conference championship.

The small trophies will be of solid gold bearing the enameled inscription: N.W.C.-W.U. 28-29; which interpreted means: Northwest conference champions Willamette university, season 1928-1929. The expense will be borne jointly by the Blue Key, the "W" club and by the student body.

This is the first time that such a presentation has been made by the student body to the members of a winning athletic team.

Rev. D. George Cole, Kimball student, also had a slight attack of the flu and was in bed over the week-end. Dr. Cane took charge of his services at Brooks and Keizer.

CINDERS FOR TRACK NOT FORTHCOMING

The track situation at Willamette has far from a bright outlook. The promised help from the Southern Pacific railway has fallen through, and unless the unexpected happens Willamette cinder men must be content with the present conditions.

At the first of the year it was announced that Willamette would have a new track for its athletes this spring. The Union Pacific at Portland consented to furnish the cinders and the Southern Pacific local agents said that they would transport the cinders free of charge. However when those higher up in the Southern Pacific learned of the agreement they immediately stopped the hauling of cinders free of charge. Thus the cause for Willamette's failure to provide the promised improvement.

Due to the lack of financial arrangements, there is not enough money to have the cinders hauled and apparently this has put a damper on the project. However it is hoped that those in charge will find some way in which the situation may be improved.

Cardinal and Gold Captures Northwest Title by Winning Puget Sound 2 Game Series

Games Played Between Whitman and Linfield Do Not Count Toward Conference Ranking. Last Game Close. Loggers Leading at Half Time

By fighting through their last game to a 35 to 34 victory over College of Puget Sound the Willamette Basketeers definitely won the Northwest conference championship. They not only won the championship, but showed themselves to be true champions by coming from behind and cutting down the Loggers' half time lead of 15 to 13.

STUDENTS DONATE $1500 TO COLLEGE

Entire Fund for Forward Movement Reached $180,000 Wednesday Afternoon

The students reach a total of $1412.50 in their drive for the Willamette endowment fund. The entire fund had reached $180,000 late Wednesday afternoon.

The Junior class has the highest amount for any one class, $481, the Seniors are second, $436.50, the Freshmen take third, $295, the Sophomores, $100. The most of these sums were in the form of pledges with $101.50 in cash. This is in a slight deficit of that which was expected from the students, but it has given the desired impetus to the drive. Most of the pledges are to be paid within two years after the graduation of the student.

This total of $180,000 is exclusive of the $100,000 received from the estate of Eric Hauser, recently of Portland, and the pledge of E. S. Collins to give 15c for every dollar obtained in the campaign. The pledges were still coming in from all parties but that of the students at this late date on Wednesday. The drive is an attempt of the University to reach the required $300,000 to obtain the $148,000 offered by the Rockefeller Foundation. The Willamette Drive must reach this figure to meet the demands of the foundation.

LAEDLER WILL VISIT CAMPUS THURSDAY

Mr. Harvey Laedler, well-known lecturer and author, who is the Executive Director of the League of Industrial Democracy will be on the Willamette campus Thursday evening.

Mr. Laedler is on an extended lecture tour of the United States. He will only be on the campus the one evening, however, he will give two lectures, one at 4 p. m. and another at 7:30.

The subject of his lectures has not been announced as yet but will pertain to the field of industrial and social problems.

One of Mr. Laedler's books is being used as a text book at Kimball School of Theology.

WOMAN ENTERS CONTEST

Marion Morange, who has had experience as a debater, will take part in the Old Line Contest. The subject of her speech will be "Wild Wings".

The victory removed the last bit of doubt about the championship for the Bearcats for although they broke even with Whitman in the two game series here their percentage in conference ranking is higher than that of the Missionary aggregation. This is due to the fact that Whitman played two less regular conference games, the last two but recently scheduled with Linfield not counting toward the percentages having been scheduled out of order.

Scales and Croxdell were tied for high point honors with two twelve counters apiece. Croxdell and Gillihan were the big stars for C. P. S. and they are largely responsible for the close score. Croxdell was especially annoying with his one-handed shots from the corners, while Gillihan played a fast aggressive floor game. Scales, Willamette forward, led the Bearcat scoring and was important in defense. Adams the other forward also worked well and added the final basket to the W. U. score. Cardinal, center; Hawk and Flesher, guards; also played hard and contributed their part to the W. U. victory.

Last Six Minutes Prove Exciting

The last part of the game was one of the most exciting to be played in the conference this year. With six minutes to go, and with the Loggers leading by one point, Litchfield was substituted for Scales. An attempted C. P. S. basket finally gave the ball to the Bearcats, and a long pass from Cardinal to Litchfield took the ball again into W. U. territory and enabled the Bearcats to ring up two more points. With this lead of one point, Adams converted two foul throws to give Willamette a three point lead. However the lead was soon cut to one point when C. P. S. looped one through. The next score for the victors came when Adams passed out to Flesher, who dribbled in to make a perfect shot. C. P. S. again came back but missed their chance to tie the score, when they dropped a free throw with but five seconds left to play.

During the early part of the game, C. P. S. was leading 15 to 8 and seemed determined to win. However, the Bearcats finally kept gaining until they were able to nose out a one point victory.

The lineups:

Willamette (35)	(34) C. P. S.
Scales (12)	F (11) Gillihan
Adams (6)	F (7) Leon
Cardinal (5)	C (12) Croxdell
Flesher (3)	G (2) Ferguson
Hawk (7)	G (2) Hannus
Litchfield (2)	S Fausett

Referee, Bobby Clarke.

First Game Easily Won

In the first game the Bearcats led by Scales and Cardinal early piled up a substantial lead which was never endangered during the game leaving the final score 43 to 23 Willamette.

Northwest Conference Champions

Willamette has won its first Northwest Conference basketball championship. In spite of any claims that the Whitman coach, Nig Borleske, may make the title belongs to the Cardinal and Gold.

After Willamette had decisively beaten Whitman in the second game in Salem, Graduate Manager Borleske (for he holds this title as well as that of coach) immediately scheduled two more games with Linfield to be played at Walla Walla hoping thus to bring his team's percentage to a tie with that of Coach Keene's. Now "Nig" had previously refused to, or, as he stated it, had been unable to come to an agreement on playing dates with the Linfield coach. But the Whitman mentor can move with alacrity if he so desires as he has proved.

The Whitman coach has definitely illustrated that old adage, "give a calf rope enough and it will hang itself." Two years ago Willamette tied Whitman for the basketball honors. Both colleges had played two games with every other institution in the conference. "Would Mr. Borleske play off the tie?" "No," Mr. Borleske did not deign to answer the telephone calls, letters, and telegrams from Spec Keene. Instead he scheduled two more games with College of Idaho knowing that he could gain two easy victories as the Missionaries had previously defeated them twice. He could then proclaim to the sports writers and to Spaulding's year book that Whitman was Northwest Conference champion by basis of having a higher percentage than any other team. Coach Keene refused to resort to Borleske tactics so the matter stood.

This year conditions are just reversed. Our rival coach now feels the rope, and Willamette remains the champion. Congratulations to the team, coach, and to the student body.

"Oh, Bert, I forgot to tell you I got a date with three other boys tonight, too!"
"Yeah, but they won't be over—we tossed coins and I won."

Salem, Ore., Feb. 28, 1929.—(PEP)—It is rumored that the Wayfarers, of Willamette University, strangely disappeared last week. Nobody knows what happened to them. But their usual weekly sheaf of copy failed to appear on the Editor's desk. If anyone sees any of the Wayfarers, please let them know that the Collegian is still being published.

If we knew who they were, we should send a reporter after them; but all the information we have at hand is hearsay. We have "heard say" that they are Alpha Psi's, Delta Phi's, Beta K's, Kappa's, Alpha Phi's, and even Daleth Teth Gimels. Who are the Wayfarers? Who was Junius?

air trip of several hours with the girl he will marry. The airplane, four passenger monoplane named "The City of Wichita," had been crippled by the loss of a landing wheel and the colonel faced a situation of unusual danger with the chances favoring a crash.

He brought the plane safely to earth and taxied for thirty yards on one wheel with the axle of the missing wheel dragging the ground. Suddenly the plane pitched forward and turned completely over.

Reporters, photographers, mechanics and Mexican aviation officials at the field rushed toward the plane and the photographers took hurried pictures while others helped pull the colonel and Miss Morrow out of the cabin windows.

Colonel Lindbergh's first act was to clutch his right arm, which appeared to pain him, and smile reassuringly at Miss Morrow. She was somewhat agitated and the colonel seemed to be chiefly concerned with telling her that there was nothing to worry about.

"Are you hurt?" Miss Morrow asked and the colonel replied:

"Don't bother me. It is nothing. Are you all right?"

Miss Morrow was dusty, disheveled and trembling, but tried to smile and replied: "Yes, I'm all right."

Colonel Lindbergh grinned boyishly and turned toward a group of reporters who had begun to aim a broadside of questions at him. He said and repeated several times: "I have nothing to say."

A few minutes later he changed his mind and modified his refusal enough to remark:

"This is nothing at all. It is not an accident. It is simply a mishap."

A special meeting of the board of trustees of Willamette university concerned primarily with the progress of the university's endowment campaign, was held here Wednesday.

Although it was impossible to ascertain the exact amount of money pledged thus far, Dr. Doney reported that approximately $180,000 have been promised at this time. This figure does not include the gift of E. S. Collins of 15 cents for every dollar raised to a total of $250,000, nor does it include what will be paid to the university from the Rockefeller foundation. Students in the university have made pledges or paid in cash a total of $1412.50.

While today is the last day of the intensive campaign, Dr. Doney reported that the effort to complete the $300,000 would continue, and that every effort would be made to raise the pledges to the amount necessary for Willamette to claim the balance of over $147,000 due on the Rockefeller contract.

Former Student Here Will Take Charge in Bend

Word was received Wednesday that Rev. P. M. Blenkinsop of Portland has been appointed to the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal church at Bend. He succeeds Rev. Ira P. Aldrich, who has requested release from pastoral duties. Rev. Blenkinsop will take up the work in Bend about April 1.

Rev. Blenkinsop was graduated from Kimball school of Theology in 1923. During his school days he was a member of the Willamette university glee club, and was well known here. During the five years that he has been pastor at the Clinton Kelly church in Portland, he has been in constant demand as a singer in both religious meetings and at civic gatherings. His successor has not been named.

FREE TEXT BILL IS CARRIED IN HOUSE

The "free text book" bill, backed ardently by the laborites and many who are giving education close study, upset all the dope Wednesday and sailed quite easily through the house. This bill, H. B. 297, introduced by Anderson, the labor representative from Multnomah provides that districts may if they wish furnish textbooks to all pupils. It is not mandatory unless the district wishes it.

The fact that the bill got through the house quite easily now leads backers to hope that it will pass the senate and get the approval of the governor. Last year a similar measure was defeated.

In speaking for the bill Representative Anderson said that 43 states now have free textbook laws, and in 19 of these the furnishings of books is mandatory. The other states have laws like the one proposed for Oregon.

MYSTERY SHROUDS LINDBERGH'S CRASH

Landing Gear Defective; Flyer and Fiancee Both Shaken; He Injured

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Anne Morrow inspected their wrecked monoplane at Valubena field tonight less than one hour after the colonel had been under an anaesthetic for the purpose of resetting his dislocated shoulder.

An attempt had been made to administer the anaesthetic at the American embassy residence, but the colonel was taken later in the afternoon to Lady Cowdray sanitarium, a British institution. At 5:45 p.m., he was brought back to the embassy residence and appeared to be entirely well. Thirty-five minutes later he entered a motorcar with Miss Morrow and started for the flying field.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Colonel Lindbergh hovered over Valubena field this afternoon faced with the realization that his plans would probably overturn when he attempted to land with one wheel missing.

He warned his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow, of the danger, and piled cushions about her in such a manner that she would not be hurt by a minor crash. He then maneuvered the plane to the ground. He would have avoided an accident entirely if the one remaining wheel had not cracked under the strain.

A thick curtain of secrecy has surrounded the events of the day before and after the accident. Col. Lindbergh was returning from an

Western Baptist Seminary, and Mrs. Charles Williams of the Presbyterian mission board.

Mrs. Williams told about the influence exerted by the missionary conference at Jerusalem last Easter which, she said, stirred the Protestant churches to work together with the indigenous churches on the foreign field. Mr. Maxfield talked on the problems and work of foreign students in America. Dr. Culver made Christian leadership his main topic, dividing it into three separate talks on the responsibility of college students, the power of right motives, and the power of the will. Dr. Culver is the leader and advisor of the Student Volunteers in Oregon.

Alice Gwinn Represents S. V. M. Headquarters

Other speakers at the conference were: Miss Alice Gwinn, representing the Student Volunteer Movement headquarters in New York City, who is to return soon to her work in Japan, where she has been a missionary for the past six years; Miss Camilla Anderson, a senior in U. of O. Medical School, Portland, who represented the Oregon Union at the national council last summer at Kalamazoo, Michigan; and Dr. C. H. According to custom the seniors will wear caps and gowns, while the other classes will bring their class colors into the presentation of their song by the use of flowers or banners.

After the Glee program each class will celebrate with a party. The Freshmen will remain in the gymnasium. The winning class according to tradition, will serenade all the houses on the campus after the party.

Many Bets Arranged

Competition is keen between the four classes, both in songs and presentation. Various and sundry bets have been arranged on the outcome of the Glee contest, including wheel-barrow rides about town, shaving sessions at the park fountain, dinners minus the pie, and nights of sleeping under tables.

Formation practices in the gym are well under way, the schedule for the remainder of the week being as follows:

On Thursday, 7 a. m.—Freshmen; 12 a. m.—Seniors; 4 p. m.—Sophomores; 7 p. m.—Juniors.
On Friday, 7 a. m.—Sophomores; 12 a. m.—Freshmen; 4 p. m.—Juniors; 7 p. m.—Seniors; 8:30 p. m.—Freshmen.

"Cac" Hubbard's outfit seemed to be bothered by bad passing and lack of smooth team play.

The victory was the sixth for Willamette and left little doubt that the Beavers were the class of the conference. Gillihan starred for the Loggers, but his best efforts were not enough to offset the hard playing Salem team.

The committee consists of the student's major professor, another professor in the same group, and a professor from another group. JAMES MCLINTOCK GETS SCHOLARSHIP IN DREW

The Dr. James Easton scholarship award which is presented each year to the student in Drew Theological Seminary, New York, who has the highest scholastic standing during his year of attendance was received this year by James McClintock a graduate of Willamette with the class of '27. The maintenance of such a scholastic standing is the more noteworthy since Mr. McClintock carried, in full, twenty hours of school work, attending, as well to his charge in West Livingston, New Jersey. The award amounted to $150. While at Willamette, Mr. McClintock was awarded the Joseph Albert prize of $25.

EDITOR BILL assigned us (Note to imotype operator—Since this story is late, maybe you should set "Editor Bill" in 8 point caps and "us" in 6 point lower case)—anyhow he told us to cover the seminar which meets every two weeks at Dr. Gatke's residence.

Stupid definitions are those which the dictionary gives for "Seminar." Even Webster's "Collegiate" left our Freshman brain foggy. "A group of students engaged, under an instructor, in original research"—what and how? Now, however, we know the meaning of the word and we're going to take in one when we're a Senior.

You sit around the fireplace and drink coffee and chew cookies or crackers or whatever the members of the class who arrived first have left to you from that abundance originally provided by gracious host and hostess.

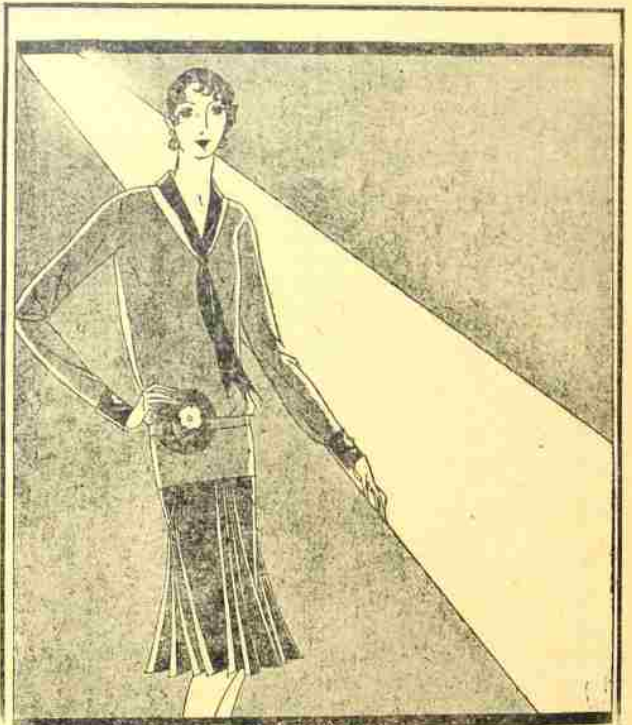

Oh, yes, we nearly forgot that besides eating and drinking there is talking at these bi-weekly meetings—reports (in this case on questions of interest to political science majors), book reviews and discussions.

Yes, we know all about seminars; they're just like the legislature, the only difference being that here you put your feet on the fender and drink coffee—there you put your feet on the desk and smoke a big black cigar; in both places the men outnumber the women—and outtalk them, too!

TWENTY ARE PREPARING FOR LIFE SERVICE WORK

Dr. J. D. McCormick, life service secretary for the Oregon conference, reports that eight students on the W. U. campus are at the school preparing to become foreign missionaries. Twenty-two others are preparing to go into other types of life service work.

FLOATING COLLEGE CONFERS DEGREE

It has been authorized by a revision of the charter to give the institution known as the Floating University the right to confer degrees upon students taking courses in the university tours.

Courses of study will be offered leading to the B.A., M.A., and B.W.A. degrees. The last mentioned, Bachelor of World Affairs, which is a new degree, is not conferred elsewhere. To win this degree at least the junior and senior years must be spent in an intensive study of the subjects in the World Affairs division in the Floating University curriculum.

An M. A. degree from the university will require individual research and a thesis compiled during the world cruises. The B.A. can be won in the last two years if the major is literature or art, and the university will accept a few well qualified seniors with majors in art or literature; French; history, government, economics or sociology; or philosophy, religion and ethics.

A certificate will be conferred by the Floating University upon any student who is not a candidate for a degree but who completes the requirement for a full years work.

BASEBALL STARTS LAST WEEK, MARCH

Several Veterans On Hand Pitching Staff Strengthened Prospects Good

Baseball practice will start immediately after the close of Spring vacation, according to Coach Keene. Under the Keene regime Willamette has had a hard hitting outfit but one that has been weak in the pitching staff.

This year things should be different, as the latter part of the outfit has been strengthened with the addition of several new men. Of the veterans Vannice and Ledbetter, Ledbetter has had the most practice, but Vannice showed much promise last year. McMullin, pitcher on the 1928 team will be eligible this year and undoubtedly will be a great help. Other new men are Kimki who carries the reputation of being a good hurler.

Since the entire squad has returned there will be plenty of competition for the positions, and the new men will give the regulars a run for their money.

In the infield there are Welsh, Trachsel, Girod, and Hawk of last year's team. The new men who ought to show promise for infield posts are Scales, Gibson, Lloyd Girod, Benjamin, Carpenter, Englebretson, Steelhammer, McGinn, Gill, Page and Holt. The gardens still have its three, hard hitting veterans, Dietz, Roundtree, and Cardinal. Cardinal will undoubtedly alternate with Barney Kaufman, as he did last year, behind the bat. Dutch Dietz will give the outfielders some stiff competition.

More can be told of the ability of the Bearcats after actual practice begins. There is no doubt however that if the pitching staff can come through like it ought that Willamette's 1929 baseball aggregation is going to be mighty hard to beat.

W. U. DONUT LEAGUE IS LED BY FACULTY

The seventh week of the Donut League was nearly as eventful as the sixth. By winning over the Law School 12-11, the Faculty are leading the league, while the Law School and the Alpha Pairs are tied for second place. The Sigs finally broke into the win column with a win over the Kappa Gammas in a hard, fast game in which the score was tied continually, and which required an overtime period before either team could score the winning margin.

Lower Class 11, Upper Class 23
Wednesday, February 20.—The rejuvenated Upper Class team overwhelmed the Lower classmen with a 23-11 win. Both teams disregarded the guarding part of the game, and everyone shot at the basket. Silkey and Vannice starred for the winners, while Bell and Harland showed up well for the losers.

February 21.—In the fastest and closest game of the second half of the Donut league, the fighting Sigs won from the Kappas 18-15. Both teams fought as if the game would win them the pennant, and displayed a very good brand of ball. Neither team had a lead of over two points the entire first half, the score being tied at both quarter and half time. Although the Kappas were constant along with a four-point lead with only two minutes to play, the Sigs tied the score by field goals by Satchwell and Tweedie. In the five-minute overtime period, the Sigs scored four points, while the Kappas could garner but one, and won their first game.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE SUMMARIZES POLITICS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 26. — (PIP) — William Allen White, well-known American journalist and publicist, spoke Wednesday at one of the best-attended university assemblies of the year. His subject was a rapid summary of politics from forty years ago to the present day. He traced the changing tendencies of American politics, beginning with the era of "whiskered populism", the gold standard, and William Jennings Bryan, and ending with the administration of Coolidge, which, he explained, was "honest even if it was dumb and dull". White expressed great confidence in the coming regime, and closed with the exhortation to the younger generation as the torch-bearers of the future.

SPECIMENS COLLECTED FROM MARINE GARDENS

Professor and Mrs. Gerald Prescott and mother, Mrs. Cox, and Clarence Poor spent the week end at Newport where they collected specimens for the Biology laboratory. The specimens were collected at Otter Rock marine gardens. Among the five kinds of starfish found was a twenty-rayed fish which is of a rare species. Several kinds of sponges and many sea urchins were also collected.

The five highest individual scores for the Willamette team are: Cardinal—82, Scales—80, Adams—66, Hawk 41, and Litchfield 25. Adams had the highest game average of all of the men on the team scoring an average of 11 points plus and Scales third with 10. Adams was unable to play the first two conference games on account of eligibility requirements.

Five highest individual conference scores of Whitman and College of Puget Sound are:

DEAN HEWITT TALKS TO YM GROUP AT CHESTO

Wednesday evening Dean Hewitt spoke to a group of Willamette students on the marriage problems which they will be forced to face owing to the change in the economic situation of the world. The meeting was informally opened for discussion. Dean Hewitt encouraged questions on the problem and offered to answer any that might be asked to the best of his ability. The group responded with a great variety of questions. These were very ably discussed and in most cases answered by the Dean.

This is one of a series of talks that Dean Hewitt has been carrying on in the Chesto Cottage of the Y. M. C. A. which is maintained by that organization on the campus.

THIEF STEALS TWO MORE TYPEWRITERS

The two remaining typewriters were stolen from the Collegian office either late Friday night or early Saturday morning. This leaves the university paper without a single machine.

Up to the time of going to press the police had found no suspects to the act, nor could any trace of the missing typewriters be located. The manager of the Collegian has not stated just what will be done, whether he will be able to purchase new machines, or whether he will be forced to rent some.

Both were of the L. C. Smith make, and were practically new, one having been purchased this fall and the other last spring.

OLD ORDINANCE IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Decree declaring Salem's city ordinance 1902 unconstitutional was handed down here Wednesday by Circuit Judge McMahan. The ordinance, which has been superseded by a later one, prohibited the erection of gasoline pumps until permission had been obtained from the city council.

The point was raised in the injunction suit brought by C. J. Berger against the city of Salem. The decree handed down Wednesday was against Berger.

City Attorney Williams announced Wednesday night that he would recommend to the city council that the case be appealed to the supreme court.

28-29 BASKETBALL SEASON IS SUCCESS

Team Starts Strong, Wanes Comes Back, and Ends as New Champion

	W	L	Pctg.
Willamette	7	1	875
Whitman	5	1	833
Linfield	2	1	333
Pacific	2	5	287
C. P. S.	1	6	162

A season which started brilliantly, lapsed dismally, and finally culminated gloriously in Willamette's first Northwest Basketball Championship, was this 1929 basketball year.

Prospects were good for a winning team, six lettermen and several promising underclassmen—including the one and only George Seales—answering the opening basketball call.

First Games Taken Easily

Preliminary games were taken easily, the Mohawk and Shell Oil teams, both powerful independent outfits, being buried under one sided scores. Oregon and O. S. C. eked out close victories the Webfoot winning 35-31 in a air-raising finish. On their next meeting the Bearcats turned on the Beavers and walloped them 24-21 for the first victory a Willamette team has scored over the Beavers in some time.

With prospects bright for a successful year, colds and injuries suddenly struck the Bearcats with almost Champion-taking force. Oregon and O. S. C. overwhelmed the local five in return encounters and the approach of the conference season found the Bearcats in dismal condition.

Linfield, supposedly weak, was beaten only when with the game over and the score tied, Ledbetter sunk a foul throw that gave Willamette a one point victory. Seales went on a scoring spree to help slink a weak Pacific team 48-26.

Colds and Injuries Cripple Team

Colds and injuries were slowly mending and desperate efforts were made to get into condition for the crucial series on the local floor with the Missionaries. They appeared to be unsuccessful, when in the first encounter, the team left the floor with a substantial lead at the half, only to return to be out maneuvered and out shot in the second period, by a wide margin, Whitman winning 38-27. The following night the Bearcats, showing a fire and dash totally unexpected, shot baskets from all over the floor, and ran wild over a dazed Whitman outfit 52-25. Probably the game was the high point of the past several years in Willamette athletics.

The following week Pacific was snowed under, Linfield beaten, and Multnomah Club overwhelmed.

Chance Comes for Championship

With a chance to clinch championship honors, the Bearcats engaged the C. P. S. Loggers at Tacoma, February 22 and 23. The first game was an easy Bearcat triumph, but in the second game of the series, the Loggers showed greatly improved form, and only the pinch shooting of Kenny Litchfield in the last few moments, brought victory.

Individually, the entire team has shown exceptional form, and in the reckoning for All-Conference honors, every Willamette regular will be given serious consideration.

A particularly pleasing condition, is that only one of the regulars will be lost through graduation. Gurney Fleisher, regular guard, together with Ledbetter and Litchfield, substitutes who have seen much service, has seen his last game for the Bearcats. Hank is a Junior; Adams and Cardinal, Sophomores; and Seales a Freshman. In addition there is an undefeated Freshman squad, whose members if they can attain the eligibility requirements, will be a great help in the defense of the championship in 1930.

Sportorials

Truly the Linfield aggregation of so called basketball players must have a deep love and affection for this great game, when they will consent to play a team two games in which defeat to them is a certainty. Here's for bigger and better Spineless Athletic policies.

Coach Sielke of Linfield believes that it would be a good education for his boys and he should round out their knowledge by travel. Thus the playing of two games with Whitman.

The most perplexing problem before one today is whether the element of sportsmanship should enter into the quest of a conference championship? Perhaps that is a term to be applied only to participants and not to coaches and graduate managers.

'NIG' THINKS WC TOO BIG FOR NWC

Hopes to Enter Coast Conference. Does Not Wish to Settle Matter of Title

The Northwest conference is getting too small for Whitman college and its athletic director, R. V. "Nig" Borleske.

That is the latest interpretation placed on the controversy in which Borleske has embroiled the conference by scheduling two extra basketball games after Willamette university had practically clinched the title, in an attempt to bring the result into a tie.

Inquiries wired to Borleske Wednesday as to whether he wished to schedule a playoff game or series, resulted in a reply which evaded the question and related only to the status of the two games with Linfield.

The inquiries, it should be explained, were not made by Willamette athletic officials, who have indicated their intention to do nothing in the matter until conference officials decide upon the legality of the games in question.

Borleske said in his reply that he had, each year, tried to schedule basketball games with every school in the conference, and that failure to schedule games with Linfield at the opening of the season was not due to a desire to save the expense.

The situation at present, then, is that Whitman has a talking claim to the title, even though clouded, and he doesn't appear anxious to settle the matter.

Seeks Coast Berth

Recalling gossip prevalent at the end of the last football season, in which Whitman won the conference title handily, fans here are of the belief that Borleske has his eyes on a place in the Coast conference, but in order to make the showing necessary to accompany an application for membership, he had to make it appear that his school, athletically speaking, was out of the Northwest conference class. Second place in the basketball race would not tend to that result, and therefore Borleske manipulated the situation so as to make it appear that his was the best team, but doesn't care to put it to a final test.

AUTHORIZES BUILDINGS

Senate bill 262, introduced by the ways and means committee, was placed on first hearing today. The measure authorizes replacement of buildings at the state penitentiary.

KEENE PICKS TEN LEADING PLAYERS

Five Willamette Men Placed in Group, Three Whitman, One CPS, One Linfield

The time for picking all-star college basketball teams has rolled around again, and Coach "Spec" Keene of Willamette university has made an all-Northwest conference selection but has contended himself with picking ten leading players and has not assigned any five of them as "the" team.

His list includes five Willamette players, which is eminently fair in view of the fact that the Bearcats won the championship, and Keene isn't claiming that all five are entitled to selection on a first team.

Forwards are Croxell of C. P. S., Wood of Whitman, Adams and Seales of Willamette. Centers are Cardinal of Willamette and Holmgren of Whitman. Guards are Hawk and Fleisher of Willamette, Croxdale of Whitman and Druse of Linfield. Druse played center but was picked because he belongs among the best men, and is a good defensive player.

With the exception of Druse, this list includes only Whitman, C. P. S. and Willamette players, and on the basis of the games Willamette played with the other two teams, it would be difficult to narrow the selection down any further, with the exception that Cardinal certainly showed himself to be Holmgren's superior. The performances of Willamette's four other players mentioned, and those of the two C. P. S. men, varied greatly from one game to the next.

In Whitman's first game here, Wood was the outstanding star; in the second game he looked like a dud. The Willamette players couldn't hit the basket in the first game and they couldn't miss it in the second game. Performances in the two games at Tacoma were equally varied. It would be difficult to narrow down the selections any farther than Keene has done, although undoubtedly plenty of coaches, officials and newspapermen will try it.

Present Edison's Work—The Science club of Willamette university presented the film, "The Benefactor" in a meeting held in Science hall Wednesday night. The film gave a review of the life of Thomas Edison and a brief history of some of Mr. Edison's famous electrical inventions.

Fraternity Head Here—Samuel Bassett of Seattle, district chancellor of Delta Theta Phi, national legal fraternity, was in Salem Wednesday for a short time. While here he visited John Rottle.

Forty Vocalists Take Part in "Rosamunde"

The dialogue in the operetta "Rosamunde" which will be given Friday evening, March 1 at Salem high school is most satisfying in that there is none of the modern slang in the play. The publishers had in mind the true educational aim of an operetta for high schools and the beautiful combination of the spontaneous melodies of Schubert with perfect use of language is at once impressive to the performer as well as to the listener.

Costumes for the opera arrived Tuesday from Seattle and the production promises to be one of the most colorful that has graced the local high school stage.

Stage settings are being directed by Norborne Berkeley of the school faculty assisted by Lucille Downing and Harry Skelton.

Forty vocalists will take part in the opera Friday evening assisted by an orchestra of twenty-four players. Lena Belle Tartar is directing the performance.

VACATION CHOICE IS DINNER TOPIC

Professor Bossing of University of Oregon to Lecture to Willamette Men at Y.

Professional Nelson L. Bossing of the University of Oregon, an outstanding authority on the subject of vocational guidance will be the speaker at a Young Men's Dinner in the local Y.M. C. A. on Tuesday, March 5 at 6:15 o'clock.

Open to All Young Men

The dinner is open to all young men who are interested in making a choice of their life work. Professor Bossing makes a very practical, and yet scientific, presentation in which he briefly sketches the history of the vocational guidance movement. As early as 1890 there was an attempt made to determine vocational fitness by physical characteristics. The Physiograph which came a little later was a means of determining vocational fitness by reading the facial features; and later came Phrenology, or head measurement. This was based on the theory that the brain has centers which, if there is special ability, there is a corresponding bulge at that portion of the skull. Recently scientific investigations have shown that all these methods have been of very little help. The present basis of vocational guidance is based more upon personal qualities, mental and physical aptitudes.

Some recent test experiments appear to indicate great promise for the future. Intelligence tests are fairly reliable as an index to general level of intelligence, which to a considerable measure should determine the choice of a vocation. The self-analysis has also been the means of enabling men to evaluate their own qualities. The vocational analysis which have been made by some of the schools for all major vocations give available, accurate information as to the cost of preparation, physical, intellectual and moral qualities required for success—the possibilities and limitations of the field and a great deal of other valuable information.

Professor Bossing will strive to help young men make the right approach to the whole problem—to analyze themselves and to think and read around the subject. The meeting is being held for Willamette students.

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, Wash. — (PIP) — "The Scandal Sheet" or the Whitman College Quarterly, in which the grades of all students are published at the end of each term, shows that only twenty students received an "A" average. The average of the fall term was 78.33 which was somewhat lower than that of the fall term last year.

ABILITY TO LOOK INTO FUTURE, SUCCESS AID

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 27—(PIP)—"Vision and ability to look into the future, to see the problems of life and solve them, are the prime requisites of success," voiced Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the college of education at the University of Kentucky, who spoke to 700 high school delegates here on "The New Vision for a New Age" at the first assembly of the sixth annual Educational exposition February 22 and 23. Dr. Taylor came in accordance with the practice of obtaining some recognized leader in the field of education to conduct major discussions with the hundreds of high school men and women who came to take part in the numerous conferences and exhibits of Oregon State college's Educational exposition.

"Vision is the result of education," Dr. Taylor believes. "Where there is little education there is little vision, and where there is little vision there is little progress. The challenge of the new age to youth is to do the impossible, what no one else can do."

ELSINORE WILL SHOW "TALKIES"

Famous motion picture stars will walk and talk, acts and novelties will be described in action and in sound, and the music of popular and symphony orchestras will be reproduced with new life-like effect from motion picture screens, when the Elsinore theater inaugurates Saturday an entertainment program of the latest sound motion pictures.

Equipped with the R. C. A. Photophone system of sound reproduction, the theater will begin a new era of entertainment in Salem. Through the projection of sound-motion picture films, and pictures with the sound accompaniment, the Elsinore hereafter will present all of the leading motion-picture productions from the world's largest studios.

Many Sounds Heard Because of the great sensitivity of the R. C. A. Photophone system, all incidental sounds such as street noise, pistol shots, airplane engine sounds, the crash of thunder, the chirping of a canary, the ringing of a bell, knocking on a door, in fact, any sounds which may accompany a picture, are reproduced in perfect synchronization with the action on the screen.

The feature sound picture to be presented Saturday at the premiere of the R. C. A. Photophone installation at the Elsinore theater will be "Hit of the Show," an all sound musical and talking production with many well known stage stars.

Talking and singing acts will also be included in the program.
