Tea Finishes Frosh Week

The annual President's reception Monday night with the attendance of freshmen and new students marked the end of the 1957 Orientation Week. Dimming the pleasure of the reception was the illness of President Smith, which made it impossible for him to attend.

Along with the regular general assemblies, placement tests, and special activities of Orientation Week, a new feature for the entire student body was the "Spirit of Willamette" program added by Pete Leveton, Orientation manager and his staff.

Organized and presented by the ASWU officers and other ambitious students, this program dramatized the four different aspects of Willamette life—scholastic, religious, social, and athletic.

Last Saturday morning, signs of the completion of Orientation Week showed as nearly 400 freshmen students registered for the first semester. Early this week the freshman class organization meeting was held.

1120 Register Reports Jory

When classes started Tuesday, a tentative overall total of 1120 students had registered, according to figures compiled by Harold B. Jory, registrar.

In the freshman class, a large number of 381 registrants were registered Saturday. Among the freshmen were only 166 students of the fairer sex, compared to 215 men.

A total of 149 men and 129 women signed up for classes as sophomores, while 101 men and 54 women comprised the junior class. Next spring 99 males and 51 females hope to graduate from Willamette, as indicated by senior registration figures.

One hundred and seven started classes in the College of Law this week and in the music school 81 aspirants have begun studies. There are a total of 28 special students and 9 graduate students.

These figures are only temporary, Jory emphasized, and changes will definitely result within the next week, from late registrants and a more accurate tallies of students.

Grads to Travel For More Study

Thirty-three members of the class of 1957 will be traveling to 11 different states, France, and Geneva, Switzerland, on the scholarships and assistantships they received last spring. This represents an increase of 10 students over the previous spring.

Departments in order of number of students receiving awards are psychology, physics, philosophy, economics, chemistry, biology, English, history, French, mathematics, political science, and sociology.

States to which the students will be traveling include New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Washington, Illinois, Colorado, North Carolina, Massachusetts, and Washington, D. C.

This seems to indicate a trend toward working for advanced degrees. Since World War II 50 per cent of the Willamette graduates have gone on for graduate study, commented President Smith.

Blood Petitions Due

Petitions are due for the position of Blood Drive manager by Tuesday noon, October 8, in the Student Body office, according to a recent announcement by Dick White, second vice-president.

Ted Cook, Campus Chest manager, has just royally flushed Dean Short, SB treasurer, out of his student body funds to fill the coffers of the Campus Chest. Dean Rieck at the far right is not very happy about the whole deal and has declared the game void for obvious reasons. Thus Mr. Card Shark Cook is seeking a new means of raising funds from yet unsuspecting and unsolicited freshmen Gordon Rounds and Ron Van Noy. Looking confused is publicity chairman Carol McMinimee at the far left.

Law Students Register

Students representing 58 colleges and universities registered Saturday in the College of Law, according to Dean Seward Reese. The 107 future lawyers, who came from schools as far away as Mexico City College and the University of Geneva, will be studying under a faculty of 11.

Dean Reese reported that three out of five law students are married. There is a total of 83 children in their families.

Drop, Add Rules Set by Registrar

October 7 is the last day to add a class, and October 26 is the last day to drop a class, announces H. B. Jory, registrar.

Dropping or adding a class involves obtaining a card from the registrar's office and getting it properly signed by instructor, advisor, dean, and business manager. Besides this new enrollment card, the student must fill out six new schedule cards.

"You must be careful, because you have not withdrawn from a subject until the proper cards have been turned into the registrar's office," warned Mr. Jory. He continued to say that failure to complete the withdrawal process will result in a grade of "F" in any courses which a student has continued unofficially.

Debaters to Visit Forensics Meet

Dr. Howard W. Runkel, director of forensics, and Lewis Bright, senior debater and departmental major, will attend the annual retreat and planning session of the Intercollegiate Forensic Association of Oregon at Silver Creek Falls tomorrow.

In attendance will be debate coaches and student representatives from the nine member universities and colleges of the association, Willamette, Linfield, University of Oregon, Oregon State, Northwest Christian College, Portland State, George Fox, University of Portland, and Lewis and Clark.

The assembly will give attention to state intercollegiate forensic problems as well as setting dates for a number of association events to be held during the academic year 1957-58 on the member campuses.

Purvine Gives Flu Dangers

The following information about Asiatic flu has been issued by Dr. Ralph Purvine of the Health Center.

1. Asiatic flu vaccine is on order. A sufficient amount has been ordered to care for the student body and faculty. Further information will be available upon arrival of the vaccine.

2. Epidemics now existing on college campuses are generally of a type other than Asiatic. However, it is very contagious and as many as 30 to 40 per cent of student bodies have rapidly become ill.

3. If an epidemic of either type should occur, pre-arranged plans would be put into effect:

- The Health Center would be reserved for seriously ill cases or those with complications.
- Less seriously ill students would be cared for in their own living organizations.

4. If influenza becomes widespread, there will not be enough personnel to care for the ill. Arrangements are being made to give basic home nursing courses to men and women students in sufficient numbers to care for students in living organizations.

5. The Health Service desires to contact trained volunteers who would care to assist in such an emergency. This would include such persons as medical corpsmen, nurses aides, ward attendants, etc. Training may be from the military service or civilian.

6. These are basic rules to help prevent the spread of influenza:

- Get an adequate diet.
- Get adequate rest.
- Avoid close personal contact.
- If you become ill, report to the Health Center for instructions.

Thomas Brand, Local Lawyer Accepts Econ Faculty Position

The eighth professor who has joined the Willamette faculty this year is Thomas Brand. He will teach a three-hour course in business law.

Brand graduated from Stanford University in 1951 and from the University of Oregon Law School in 1954. After graduation he was the assistant district attorney in Multnomah county at Portland for a year and a half. He was then assistant federal district attorney for the state of Oregon, stationed at Portland, for another year and a half.

Last June he went into business as a local Salem attorney with Pete Gunner and Richard Lee. Both are graduates of the Willamette University Law school.

Other new professors to the Willamette faculty, introduced in the last issue, are Dr. William Merrill, who will teach courses in economic theory; Dr. Homer H. Hawes, associate professor of education, who will concentrate on methods of teaching and supervision of student teachers; Dr. Paul M. Duell, associate professor of chemistry; Charles A. Roud, Director of Information and former Collegian editor; Capt. Douglas Weart, assistant air science professor; Capt. William Wright, also an assistant air science professor; and Sergeant Leslie Ostlund, graduate of a technical school at the University of Oklahoma.

Ackerson to Head Fall Cadet Group

Chest Drive Sets $1250 Goal; Each Student Asked to Give $1

This year's Campus Chest, headed by Ted Cook, has set as its fund goal $1250. Before October 11, last day of the drive, each member of the student body will be contacted and requested to donate $1 to this all-campus drive.

Forty-five per cent of the money to be collected will go to the World University Service, the foreign student aid organization. Fifteen per cent becomes part of the Salem City United Fund drive and another 10 per cent of this Fall's contributions will be a part of the National Scholarship service Fund for Negroes. The remaining 30 per cent of the $1250 is to be divided equally among the YMCA, the YWCA, and the UNESCO.

Solicitors for the Campus Chest will be members of each living organization. These solicitors are Mara Paulson, Doney Hall; Lee Thornton, University House; Laurel Blye and Donna Fraser, Lausanne Hall; Henrietta Nichols and Sally Omshied, Chi Omega; Barbara Dixon and Bev Krough, Alpha Chi; Babs Pfaff and Bev Julian, Phi Beta Phi; Jan Nelson and Joann Warren, Delta Gamma.

John Sweeney and Roy Chapin, Phi Delta Theta; Jim Brentlinger and Norm Davis, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Arbee McDonald and Pete McDowell, Sigma Chi; Ralph Latchfield and Bob Craig, Beta Theta Pi; Claude Garvin, Baxter Hall; Joe Karmos, South Hall; Pete Blewett, town students.

This is the only fund raising campaign on Willamette's campus and each student is urged to donate at least $1 when he is contacted by one of the solicitors.

Students are reminded that there are only 100 student tickets still available for the 1958-59 Distinguished Artist concert series.

Internationally acclaimed artists scheduled to appear at Willamette this year are Kovach and Rabovsky, a Russian ballet team; Leonard Warren, the leading baritone of the Metropolitan opera; Seymour Lipkin, celebrated pianist; and Marian Anderson, world famous contralto.

Chuck Marsters, manager of the series, reports that most of the student tickets were sold during registration but those left may be secured from Esther Gwilliam at the Delta Gamma house. The $4.50 ticket will reserve a seat in the student section for all four concerts.

Classes to Elect Autumn Officers

With six elections scheduled for the very near future and one already completed, the election machinery is now in motion.

Elections for the temporary positions of president and secretary of the freshman class were held Monday. Gene Gripenrog from Sacred Heart of Salem was elected president pro-tem, and Nora Hounsell, Hood River, will be acting secretary until the final elections, which are scheduled for October 3, 4, 7 and 8.

Primary elections for all classes will be held Thursday and Friday, October 3 and 4, with the runoffs being held on the following Monday and Tuesday, October 7 and 8.

October 17 and 18 are the dates of the primary elections for Homecoming Hostess and Freshman Glee manager, and the runoffs will follow on October 21 and 22.

Goodbye, Love

The miracle has happened on our fair campus. After last week's enthusiastic beginning it was the generally conceived opinion about campus that there would be no way to possibly wiggle out, crawl away, or escape from the pep that had been winging its way about during the beginning of school. However, at Saturday night's game it was only too obvious that Bearcat fans were frequenting other haunts than McCulloch or if they were present were too busy looking over the new crop of the opposite sex to notice the game.

If you are one of these romantic buzzards Wayne Carr, student body president and therefore expert on such matters, says, "It's really bad news." Shedding a tear for the favorite sport of millions of so called football rooters the student officers and rally commission have resorted to Ivy League and Big School tactics. Segregation of the sexes will be the war cry of the powers that be in order to combat our seemingly lagging spirit. White shirts or blouses will be order to boot and if you're anxious to attract the opposite gender let out with a few genuine screams. After all the Willamette football team is certainly a hunk more male than Mr. Presley and when he was in Portland a few weeks ago the noise was shattering.

Now folks, who wants to make sappy eyes at your girl friend when your feet are frozen and your nose is red. You might as well face the fact that you're going to get a lot warmer jumping up and down over that last terrific pass than you will be making one yourself. There is always the hot dog stand for romantic sideliights during the half and the dim lights at the Victory Dance can be slightly more romantic than the casual game approach. On top of this the rally squad is not an unsightly group so it could be cool to keep an eagle eye on them too.

Willamette is made of the stuff that wins. At the next game there should be enough pep for two games. Everyone cooperate with the new seating system and whoop it up. You'll have a bang up time as the team does likewise to the opponents with your support. —C. M.

It's All Over

Our hats are off to the genius who discovered that more than one building could be used for registration. The peace and quiet which settled in the library early Monday afternoon was unbelievable to the hardy upperclassmen in the past who have braved two and three hours of waiting in lines to pay fees while avoiding the trampling of students still trying to get signatures from profs.

Wallulah Jobs Open

All students interested in working on the Wallulah are asked to attend a staff meeting Monday noon in the Wallulah office. The position of sports editor is open, and those interested in the position are asked to contact co-editors Muriel Miettunen or Miriam Mathews.

Last year's Wallulah may be picked up in the Wallulah office all day Tuesday and Thursday or every noon in the Student Body office.

Varsity Show Taking Shape

Everyone, but everyone, is talking about the most exciting event to hit old W. U. since Jason Lee founded it—the 1957 presentation of "VARSITY VARIETIES." This year's "Varsity Varieties," to be held November 8, will be on the level of a Broadway show with "new faces" the promised attraction.

In order to provide the "new faces," manager Bob Braddy is looking for talent—especially male singers and comedians. Fresh—here is your chance to sell the other classes here at Willamette on what an outstanding class you have.

It is imperative that all those wishing to participate, and have not auditioned, attend the final audition tonight in Waller hall between 7 and 9 p.m. There will be accompanists present at auditions, but music will not be furnished.

Auditions must be completed this week so that rehearsals may begin immediately to assure Willamette students of the most terrific "Varsity Varieties" ever presented.

SB Roundtable

Second Veep Talk Election

Before we even have a chance to assume a comfortable, relaxed position in our desks, an integral part of student government comes to the fore and must be considered within the next couple of weeks. This is the election of class officers and not to be confused with the classless society for which all of us in the Party are striving. Class officers can do a great deal to unite the class and guide them into feeling that they are working together as a unit, as well as building the loyalty and spirit which makes college life in its many facets more interesting. The freshmen have an especially large challenge before them. It is not easy to learn 400-odd (nothing personal) names and the characteristics that go with them in such a short time. But there is no means which can be as helpful to these cherubs in getting to know each other as a concentrated and alert effort during the nomination and election of their first permanent set of class officers; this is, of course, not counting 5 a.m. formation practice for Freshman Glee.

Now that you are all eagerly awaiting the dates for this tremendous experience, here they are: the primary elections will be held on October 3 and 4, and the runoffs will hop right up on the next Monday and Tuesday, October 7 and 8.

There have been some cynical souls who have mumbled that the need for class officers, especially in the two upper classes, was not too great, as they did very little except the basic functions concerning Glee, senior beach trip, etc. These criticisms can mostly be attributed to those who forgot to pick up their

Econ Chief Mexico Expert

By Dot Manker

The student first. As I talked with Dr. William M. Merrill, the new head of Willamette's economics department, I felt that his primary interest was the welfare of the student.

Dr. Merrill was born and raised in the small Illinois town of Charleston. He then entered Harvard college where he earned his BA degree; he received his MA and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. At Willamette he will be teaching four courses, comparative economic systems, current economic problems, money and banking, labor economics.

Money and banking are Dr. Merrill's special interest, and he is writing a text on this subject to clarify many concepts which are difficult for students. His experience in this area was gained at the Castner, Carran, and Bullett Securities corporation in New York whose function was to purchase and sell securities (stocks and bonds) for corporations.

A veteran of World War I, during the second world struggle Dr. Merrill was working for the operations department of the Panama Canal in Balboa. This department supplied recreational equipment such as swimming pools, theatres, restaurants, bowling alleys, and libraries for all employees on the canal.

While in Panama he studied Spanish and then taught English to Spanish-speaking students at USO centers in Colon (Spanish for Columbus) at the Atlantic end of the canal.

Dr. Merrill was a professor at Mississippi State College two different times, head of the economics department at Centre College in Danville, Ohio, and has taught at the Georgia State College of Business Administration.

While he was at Centre College, the school awarded him a grant which he used in Mexico to study the Mexican banking system. As a result of this experience in the summer of 1954, Dr. Merrill wrote a pamphlet entitled "Some Economic Effects of Mexican Monetary Politics."

student body card, either at registration time or in the SB office and so did not have the opportunity to vote. By the way, don't YOU get demoted to the same group by not picking up your student body card—you've paid for it, you might as well have the advantages which come from having it.

There are also some radical souls who point out that even these basic functions of the two upper classes are done second semester and there is really no need to elect two sets of class officers, especially as these two crews barely have enough people left to make up a slate of nominees. We don't plan to sneak anything by you concerning this, but we'd like to hear your views on this and any other matters in which you have an interest. By following student government, and participating in it, both through voting and holding various positions, we can help to make it more vital, interesting and downright fun for all of us.

We'll be glad to see you in the student body office or at Student Council any time. And don't ignore those BAG and SAX members nobly manning the polls—they may get complexes from feeling left out, and we'll have a bunch of maladjusted Future Leaders on our hands.

Dr. Howard W. Runkel will conduct Sunday morning worship services and deliver the sermon entitled "The Eternal Plus" at the Knight Memorial Congregational church Sunday.

Artists to Appear Here Soon

KOVACH and RABOVSKY
Dancers to Come First

First performers in this year's Distinguished Artist series have already won acclaim from Portland and Salem audiences in earlier performances here. Kovach and Rabovsky, a Russian dance team, will commence this season's concerts on November 28 in the Fine Arts Auditorium with their troupe. The dance team made their first appearances in the West several years ago with the London Festival Ballet and again last season with the Distinguished Artists series.

Chuck Marster, concert series manager, comments that those who attended last year will remember these artists for their outstanding performance.

Other celebrated stars to appear during the 1957-58 season at the

LEONARD WARREN
Opera Man Next

Salem series will be Leonard Warren, leading baritone of the Metropolitan opera company, and pianist Seymour Lipkin of the Metropolitan Opera. Marian Anderson, famous contralto, will conclude the series in early spring.

Manager Marsters confirmed the coming of the priorly announced series performers this week. Working under Manager Marsters are Pete Van Horn, financial advisor; Carole Warren, publicity manager; and Esther Gwilliam, ticket sales.

All students are urged to purchase their tickets immediately. A special price offered to Willamette students will be in effect only a few days longer. Regular tickets are purchased at Stevens and Son while campus solicitors sell the students price tickets.

Grandfather 'Gus' Grows Gobs of Green Grass

Here's one person who was impressed with Oregon's beautiful weather! Mr. G. H. Schwalen, known universally as "Gus" on the Willamette campus, and whose official title is Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, came to Oregon to spend the winter with his oldest son 17 years ago, spent some warm February days on the front porch in his shirt sleeves, returned to Wisconsin to sell his business and was back to stay in Salem by the following October.

Five years later he came to Willamette to serve in his present capacity. Since that time he has seen the maintenance crew at the University grow from the work of one old man to the full-time work of 17 men. This includes general maintenance men who see that the buildings are properly lighted and heated and at the proper times, janitors, and perhaps the most important of all, gardeners.

"When I came to Willamette," says Gus, "Lausanne was heated with sawdust and the maintenance department was in the basement of Waller."

Since that time there has been a complete shop in the rear of the gym and in 1953 a combined stock room, paint shop, and office was made out of a wing of the old art building. Other than the improvements on the campus Mr. Schwalen's family has grown too. Gus will proudly tell you that he is a great-grandfather, and a grandfather ten times. His three sons live in Salem, Eugene, and Oakland, California, where the youngest is the chief electrical engineer for Kaiser Electric. It is interesting to note that his boys all followed his own career to some extent. Before coming to Willamette Gus was an engineer for several firms.

It is because of the devotion and work of such people as Mr. Schwalen that Willamette is renowned for her beautiful campus. Gus, who himself declares, "I'm sold on Willamette," and his crew keep the campus in tip-top shape and with relatively few problems other than the perennial parking problem. To Willamette Business Manager Richard Petrie praises the maintenance staff in stating observances he has made at other campuses he has recently visited Willamette is by far the neatest he says. At one campus he even observed last fall's leaves still on the ground. "You don't sell yourself unless you make a good impression," says the business manager. Willamette's maintenance crew under Mr. Schwalen has more than met Willamette's growing needs in this aspect, it is obvious.

Old Seniors Grab Grades

Seniors led all the classes in grades last spring, with 19 out of 40 four-points and with 55 on the honor roll, as against the juniors with 34, the sophomores with 27 and the freshmen with 37, according to figures released by the registrar's office.

bara Dixon, Judith Eberhardt, John Edmondson, Mildred Edmondson, Michelle Edwards.

All too typical of Willamette students this week were scenes like this one in the book store. Severe cases of standingitis and fallen arches were reported after hours in waiting for those precious books and more precious fee slips. With the end of this week, however, even the freshmen are old hands at the first fall fluster of getting back in the old swing of school life.

A Cappella Choir Rehearses; Additional Members Needed

With a few openings still in the tenor, second bass, and alto sections, the membership in the University Choir now numbers approximately 75, according to an announcement by Donald Gleckler, director. Rehearsals began Wednesday, and additional singers may sign up for tryouts in FA 145W.

MIXED CHORUS, a credit or non-credit class meeting twice a week on Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m., invites the participation of all those who like to sing, whether interested in concert appearances or not.

This group is a training and recreational singing group which will make some chapel and Salem performances during the year. No tryouts are necessary and interested students are urged to attend on Tuesday at the scheduled hour in FA 145W.

The following students have been selected as members of the a cappella choir:

Women Inhabit U. House Again

University House, the perennial favorite of Willamette women students, has once again been pressed into active duty. After serving as the official residence for the University chaplain, Dr. Harley Zeigler, and his family for seven months last spring, it is now the official residence for 13 new women students.

Miss Ruth Lofstrom, U-House housemother, and also a newcomer, said in an interview with The Collegian, "The duties of a housemother are a challenge which I feel I will very much enjoy." Miss Lofstrom comes from Lebanon, where she operated a dress shop for the past ten years. She had previously served eighteen months with the WACS.

WU Adds Two Acres

The size of the university increased this summer with the purchase of two and a half acres of land adjoining the campus, according to Dr. Richard Petrel, financial vice-president.

The Vick building in Salem, a university holding, was exchanged for the new property, formerly owned by the W. H. Grabenhorst company of Salem.

At present, the new property is composed of vacant lots and residences, but it is earmarked for future university expansion.

Food Quality To Stay High

No change in menus or in the quality of meats and other foods in the Baxter quarters of the University Food Service this year was promised by Ed Andrick, new director of the service. Andrick recently moved with his family from Overland, Ohio, where he was a food manager.

Andrick said that the food will remain the best in quality and students may still eat as much as they like. There will be a few changes in serving methods, however.

Women who before were employed in respective fraternity sections have now been eliminated. Besides getting costs more in line with the budget, Andrick said that food can now be kept hot more easily until it is served. Fraternity waiters from respective dining rooms will have access to aluminum trays for carrying food from the central kitchen when they are ready for it.

William Highfield, last year's director, is now district manager of the national service in Oregon and Washington. James McFadden, formerly a manager, is now a manager of the Lausanne-Doney dining service.

The service is now accommodating 22 schools throughout the United States, Andrick concluded.

Recitals Planned By Music Profs

The first two recitals of the 1957-58 faculty series of the College of Music will be held Tuesday, October 9 and 16. The first will be comprised of chamber music, with the program planned by Willamette's Dr. Willis Gates, head of the string program of Willamette.

A main event of the first recital will be the playing of a piano quartet by three music staff members and a resident of Salem.

The second recital had been scheduled for last spring and was postponed due to an illness of Allan Gove, cello performer. Gove will be presented with Katherine Schnelker, recital pianist.

Both recitals are free of charge. They will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the recital hall of the music building.

Student Guide Ready Soon

The Fusser's Guide, student-faculty director, will tentatively be ready for distribution to the student body via their living organizations by the week of October 14, according to Jane Dedrick, co-editor.

As usual, the Fusser's Guide will include the names, home and campus addresses, phone numbers, class and marital status of every member of the student body, plus those of the housemothers and faculty, and a list of the presidents and social chairmen of every club and living organization.

Old friends of the Guide will notice the absence of the usual advertising in this year's book. It will be replaced by cartoons drawn by Mary Beebe, this year designing her second cover for the Guide.

Working with Miss Dedrick is Carol McMinimoe, co-editor, plus a representative from each of the living organizations whose names and positions will be available in the near future.

Dean to Issue Excuses

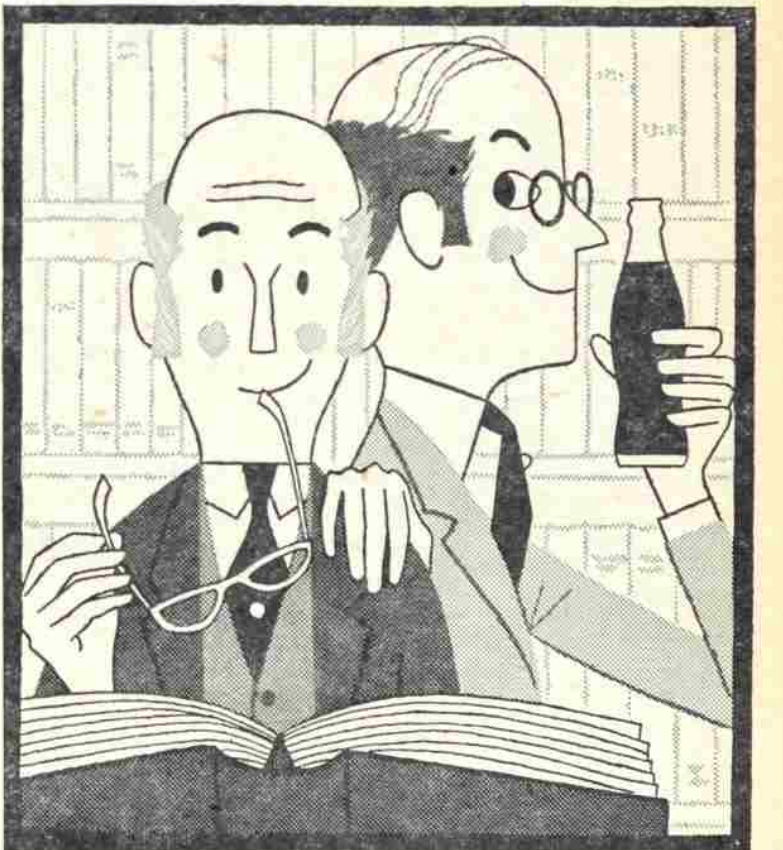

All excuses for missed classes will be handled through the dean of students' office again this year. According to the dean's office, each evening a list of those students admitted to the Bishop Health Center during the day will be sent to the dean's office and the next morning those who were admitted may pick up their excuses.

Excuses will not be given unless the students have been placed on the infirmary list.

Professor Holmer Writes Article

Prof. A. Freeman Holmer, associate professor of political science, was the author of an article on the Oregon legislature's overhauling of the state election code which appeared in the September issue of the National Municipal Review.

In his article, Holmer reviewed the seven bills adopted by the 1957 Oregon legislature, which accomplished, he said, "an extensive overhauling of Oregon's election code."

Mr. Funk & Mr. Wagnalls

"In re this matter of Good Taste," said Mr. Funk to his secretary, "take a definition."
"Taste: sensations . . . excited . . . by the . . . action of the gustatory nerves . . ."
"And add this," put in Mr. Wagnalls. "Taste: the faculty of . . . appreciating the beautiful . . ."
"That," said Mr. Funk, "wraps it up. Mr. Wagnalls, will you join me in a Coca-Cola?"
"So good in taste . . ."
"And . . . in such good taste!"

FRESHMEN and other newcomers at Willamette were welcomed at the President's Reception Monday evening at the home of President and Mrs. Smith. In the receiving line were Wayne Carr, Mrs. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Petrie, Dean Gregg, Dean Ewalt, Dean Rieck, Dean and Mrs. Melvin Geist, Dr. and Mrs. Harley Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paeth.

Flowers in a predominantly red color scheme decorated the Smith's home where guests visited on the lawn after being served punch, doughnut holes, and petit-fours. An unusual incident caused much puzzlement in the receiving line when two freshmen girls announced their names as Judy Teufel. The freshmen are more confused than ever this year, since only one girl has that name.

LAST CALL for Wesley Weekend. Buses leave Lausanne Hall at 4:30 p.m. today for Silver Creek Falls where Wesley members and friends will discuss the Theme for the weekend, "Christianity Comes to Campus." The weekend lasts till Sunday, September 29 and requires sleeping bag or bed roll and camp type clothes. "We hope to be back in time for the Sunday noon dinner," said Dave McClard, chairman of the weekend. Transportation was arranged by Jim Warner who asks that those deciding to go at the last minute contact him at EM 4-4491.

FIVE WOMEN have surprised law students by enrolling in Willamette's predominantly male Law School. The one "old-timer" is Pat Payne Drake who is in her second year at the school. Four newcomers are Mrs. Helen Simpson, who plans to return to Alaska after completing her studies; Mrs. Doris Wilson from Salem who attended the University of Washington; Miss Norma Jean Peterson of Salem who is secretary for Supreme Court Judge; and Mrs. Gena Schlegel from the University of Oklahoma. Law Professors find they have to watch their language a little more carefully in lectures while the fellows think these women "spruce up the scenery."

AL NICHOLS

PAT DRAKE

MARILYN HANTHORNE

A recent surprise announcement at the Pi Beta Phi house made known to its members the engagement of Alberta Nichols, a senior English major to Lon Tetrick, a junior from Oswego. Miss Nichols has set her wedding date for December 29 in Menro Park, California. After their marriage, the couple plans to live in Salem and to complete the year at Willamette.

Marilyn Hanthorn, a 1957 graduate of Willamette and Mac Baker, a senior member of Phi Delta Theta who is majoring in drama, will be married Wednesday in St. John's Lutheran church in Salem. Miss Hanthorn was a charter member of Pi Kappa Lambda, national music honorary installed at Willamette last year. She was also a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, Cap and Gown, Alpha Lambda Delta and was a senior scholar for Dr. Willis Gates.

The couple plans to live in Salem after their marriage, and Baker will finish the year here.

Of interest to their friends on the Willamette campus is the recent marriage of Patricia Payne to Arthur Drake at St. Paul's Episcopal church here in Salem. The bride, a 1956 graduate who was affiliated with Chi Omega, will continue her studies at the Willamette law school, while the groom, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, will commute to classes in Corvallis.

Big-Little Sisters Set Party Sunday

Come, Come, Come! to the most outstanding women's social event of the year. This, of course, is the Big-Little Sister party sponsored by the YWCA and takes place Sunday, September 29, from 3 to 5 p.m. Co-chairmen Judy Seely and Peggy Doerfler, ask all big sisters to contact their little sisters early for this important event.

Manners Make Friends

Manners can make girl friends if you're a gentleman. When you see a girl struggle with an armful of books, open the door for her. Or if she drops one, pick it up. Once you prove you're a gentleman, half the battle is won.

If a girl has not yet been assigned a big sister, she should call Judy Seely at Em. 3-8287. After a tour of Salem's new YWCA, Jody Mills will teach some very unusual games, and punch and cookies will be served. Especially featured this year will be friendliness and fun. Don't miss it!

The Taxpayer

Are high taxes reducing your incentive to work harder and earn more?

IF YOU'RE ONE of the more than 65 million Americans who hold down a job, you probably work about 40 hours a week.

But did you ever stop to consider that taxes are so high today you work for yourself only 27 of those 40 hours? The other 13 go to pay your share of the cost of government.

No one expects to live without taxes, obviously. But when they take more than $110 billion, or about one dollar out of every three earned, something's wrong.

You pay these taxes in more ways than you know, too.

If you lived in California, for instance, made

$7,500 last year, and listed a wife and two children as dependents, you were taxed these ways to start with: Federal income $875, Social Security $95, State income $25, Property tax $325, Auto license tax $40, State and Local sales tax $75 and Telephone tax $10.

This adds up to $1445 and it's only the beginning.

Did you buy a car? Figure another $175 tax. The tax on the gasoline to run your car was at least $65. You also paid a 10% tax every time you bought a plane or train ticket or spent a dollar at the movies.

And you're still not through. Because every company that made anything you bought had to pay taxes on practically everything that went into the product.

These thousands of indirect taxes were eventually passed on to you as part of the cost of your purchases.

The result? At least one-third of what you earned went to pay some form of taxes.

The real danger is obvious: taxes this high may be so discouraging that you have less incentive to work harder, earn more money and produce more.

Gridders Travel to Spokane, Play Whitworth Tomorrow

COACH TED Ogdahl has been working his battlin' Bearcats under somewhat of a handicap this past week in preparation for tomorrow's battle with the potent Pirates of Whitworth College. Coach Ogdahl faces the peculiar problem of sending his charges against a team which he knows very little about.

This is due to the fact that the Pirates have acquired a new coach since last season. Going east for a new mentor, the Whitworth school has hired Wally Uphoff, a seasoned veteran of Ohio prep coaching ranks.

Thus far this season, Uphoff has kept much of his field strategy and offensive patterns a secret. Whitworth will be playing their first game of the season when they meet the Bearcats tomorrow afternoon in the Pine Bowl at Spokane.

COACH UPHOFF has a fine backfield led by fullback Warren Lashua and halfback Bernie Rakes. Veteran quarterback Don Price is also back this year, and should be doing a lot of throwing to the Pirates' veteran end, Bill Cole. Up front the Whits have a strong and experienced line, with the only weak spot being at tackle—due to injuries suffered in early season workouts.

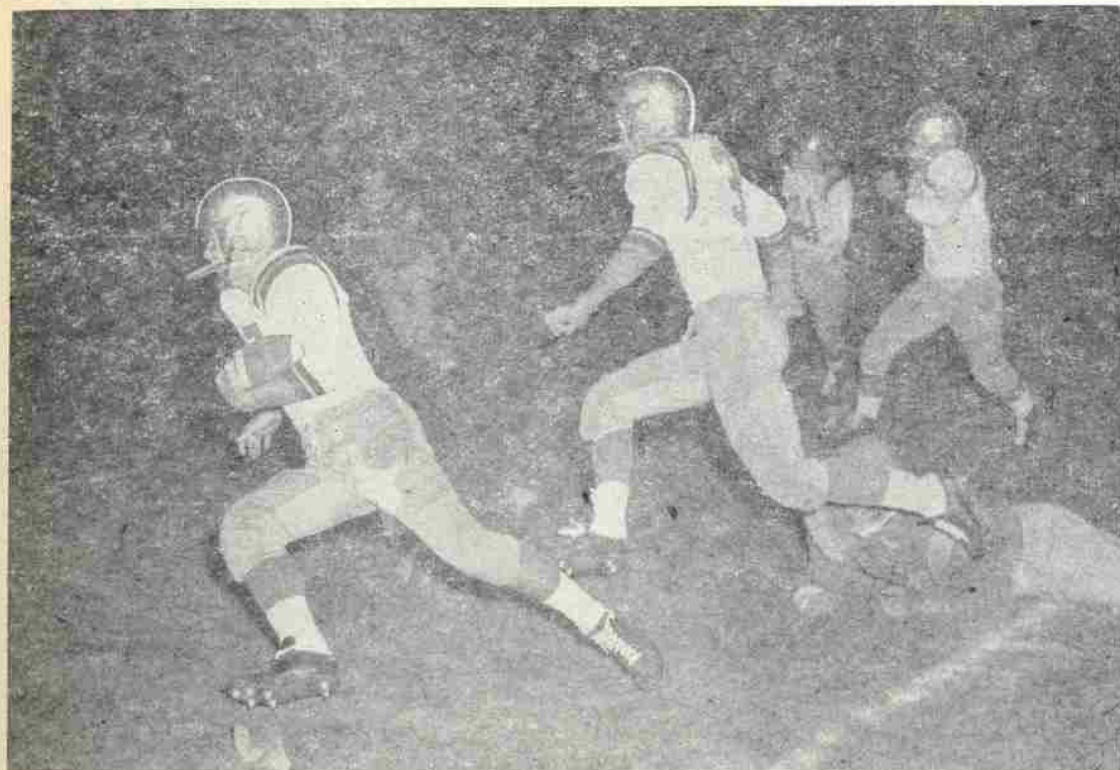

This week, Coach Ogdahl has been working his gridders overtime on passing—from both an offensive and defensive standpoint. Ogdahl warned his club that their pass defense must be much sharper against the Pirates than it was last weekend. In discussing the defensive play against the California Aggies, Ogdahl had high praise for end Terry Kent and halfback Earl Jambura.

Interclass B-Ball

COACH JOHNNY Lewis announced that practices for interclass basketball will start Monday, September 30. He released the tentative schedule and roster, emphasizing anyone not listed who wishes to play should contact him by Monday.

Practice schedule for first week: Monday, September 30: Frosh A—7 to 8, Frosh B—8 to 9. Tuesday, October 1: Frosh C—7 to 8, Sophomores—8 to 9. Wednesday, October 2, Juniors—7 to 8, Seniors—8 to 9. Thursday, October 3: Frosh A—7 to 7:30, Frosh B—7:30 to 8, Sophomores—8 to 8:30, Frosh C—8:30 to 9.

TEAM ROSTER—Seniors: Watanabe, Johns, Hartley, Ziegelman, Wilcox, Domagolla and Taylor (team leader). Juniors: Osterlund, Klindworth, D. Williams, B. Gustafson, W. Feller, Mainwaring, Henslee, and Willingham (leader). Sophomores: Winner, Lynn, Weston, Phlug, Karmos, Johnson, Duncan, Knox, Jelders, and Grossbacher (leader). Frosh A: Warfield, Wilfert, Clifton, Sato, Speer, Montgomery, and Gaviola (leader). Frosh B: Russell, Erickson, McDowell, Krebs, VanLoon, Spoonemore, and Rounds (leader). Frosh C: Chase, Harris, Coon, Vannice, Burgess, Auvinen, Marsters, and Olinger (leader).

Willamette's quarterback, Keith Driver, eludes Cal. Aggie tacklers and scoots around end for a sizable gain. Other Bearcats running interference are Stan Solomon (3), Jerry Tankersley (25), and Earl Jambura (21).

Back, Tie Cal Aggies 13-13 Determined Bearcats Fight

IF WILLAMETTE football fans were to choose the one attribute which enabled Willamette's battlin' Bearcats to gain a tie with the rough and rugged California Aggies last Saturday night, it would probably be "determination." It was indeed a determined group of Bearcat gridders who fought back from a 13-point deficit to turn sure defeat into a respectable tie, although outweighed eight pounds per man.

Willamette's first touchdown was the product of the second Bearcat platoon, which was quarterbacked by Herb Juran. The spark which was to prevail throughout the remainder of the ball game—lowered his head and fought his way into the end zone.

Stan "King" Solomon climaxed a 71-yard drive when he shot through the right side of the line for three yards and Willamette's second touchdown. It was following this second six-pointer that Willamette received the big break of the game. Solomon kicked for the extra point, the ball hit the left goal post and bounced over the cross bar, between the posts.

The California Aggie Mustangs scored both touchdowns on long passes by quarterback Nat Carasali. Carasali hit end Myrel Moore on a down-the-middle pitch good for 23 yards and six points, with 2:14 left in the first half. This wound up a drive that devoured 73 yards on 13 plays.

WITH 3:22 remaining in the final period, the Aggies were on the 44-yard line. "Slim" Carasali flipped a short pass to halfback Al Vomsteeg, who caught it on Willamette's 45 and raced all the way to pay dirt for the Mustangs. Barovetti, whose kick had gone wide after the first Aggie touchdown, converted to make the score 13 to 0.

Willamette led in total net yardage with 242 compared to the Aggies' 226. The California club had the edge in passing as they completed five aerials for a total of 130 yards, and Willamette gained but 33 yards in four completions.

NWC Teams Defeated In Last Week's Games

IF IT WERE not for Willamette's tie and College of Idaho's 20-14 battle with Humboldt State, the Northwest conference teams would have had a very disasterous weekend. Linfield, defending NWC champions, was slaughtered by a powerful California Poly team, 37-7. Pacific University was humbled 48-6 by Chico State, and Hawaii romped to a 40-6 win over the Lewis and Clark Pioneers. Whitman was edged in its opener with Central Washington, 14-13.

STATISTICS
First downs	12 15
Rushing yardage	96 209
Passing yardage	130 33
Total net yardage	226 242
Passes completed	5-10 4-8
Passes intercepted by	0 1
Punting average	30.2 37
Fumbles lost	0 1
Yards penalized	46 19

seemed to ignite the fire and put tremendous determination into the Bearcats was a 69-yard kickoff return by hard running Dale Shumway. After Shumway had romped to the 21-yard line, he and big Vic Backlund teamed up to give Willamette a first down on the 10-yard line. After going nowhere for three downs, pint sized Jack Berkey—showing the determination that Vic Backlund, newly converted fullback, was the leading ground gainer in last week's game with the Cal Aggies.

Mural Football to Begin Next Week

Willamette's director of physical education, Les Sparks, announced plans for the intramural athletic program for the coming season. Coach Sparks said that Skip Wilcox had been appointed intramural director for the year, and that a meeting of all campus intramural managers would be held this weekend.

It was Sparks' hope that each team could play three games during the week, instead of the usual one game on Saturday morning.

Thus far a field has not been secured for football, but it is believed that one of the Salem school fields will be obtained by next week.
