

CAST SELECTED FOR FIRST PLAY

Alumni Will be Entertained at Homecoming by Old English Play

The annual homecoming play which is sponsored by the Willamette chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, the national dramatic honorary, is to be "The Rivals" by R. B. Sheridan.

The play, in an old English setting of 1774, is longer than most plays which have been produced on the campus before, although the coach and managerial staff are forecasting a rapidly moving program. Professor H. E. Rahe, the head of the Speech department and adviser for Theta Alpha Phi is coaching the production.

In the play are five acts and 18 scenes. There are five separate interior scenes and five exterior scenes; the remaining ones being duplicates of the others.

Lawrence Brown is taking the main lead in the role of Sir Anthony Absolute, and playing opposite him is Kathleen Skinner who portrays the rather middle-aged aunt, Mrs. Malaprop. Dorothy Dalk is the young Miss Lydia Languish and Miss Julia, a cousin to Miss Lydia is taken by Savilla Phelps. Harold Rose is the young Captain Absolute who makes maidens' hearts flutter, while Ray Griffith is a close rival in taking the part of Sir Lucius O'Toole. Acres, who is played by William Mangum is the other man mixed up in the plot. Other characters are, Faulkand, played by Talbot Bennett, Thomas, played by William Mascher, David, played by Paul Hauser, Fag, by Rex Rhoten, and the English house-maid is Veva Garrett.

In the managing staff of the production the main supervisor is Alfred King. Lulu Allen is the technical director, but the play manager has as yet not been chosen. Val Gardner has charge of the stage and Katherine Holden is designing all of the scenes. Miss Latimer, of the Home Economics department and her class in the "History of Costumes" are helping to make the wigs and the colonial costumes.

Members of Choir Not Yet Selected

The Philharmonic Choir tryouts are still being held. Most of the men have been chosen, but as yet the women have not. The voices for this choir are picked from both the men's and women's glee clubs.

Wednesday, which was Salem day at the state fair, the Philharmonic choir presented an interesting program at 5:00 in the Agricultural building. They sang "Until" by Sanderson; "Mountains" by Rasbach; "Tingling" from the Hi-Jinx and "Windy Weather" by Wiewer. During the program Jeanette Scott and Jeanette Smith played an interesting duet. It was "Frosquita" by Kreisler.

JEWISH PHOBIA RELATES PORKING GOOD STORY

By PAUL HAUSER

"It was a long time ago," said the Dean, reaching for another olive (the Dean had a weakness for olives). "It was a long time ago."

"What was a long time ago?" queried the soc. prof., stirring his coffee from left to right. (The soc. prof. had a weakness for stirring his coffee from left to right).

The Dean laughed. "I was thinking," he said, "of the time a bunch of young fellows hid a pig under the chapel platform. I've never seen a speaker quite as embarrassed as the one who was met that day by squeals and grunts under his very feet. It was very disconcerting."

They all laughed except the psych. prof., who was busy buttering a roll on the right side. It was a peculiarity of the psych. prof. that he always buttered his rolls on the right side.

"Oh, I never saw anything so funny in all my life," cried the Pork Dinner Sandwich, which had taken no part in the conversation. He burst into another fit of laugh-

New Library Committee Organized For Duties

Group of Upperclassmen to Handle Discipline; Act as Contact Body

The newly appointed library committee composed of the following eleven juniors and seniors, Ralph McCullough, chairman; Brenda Savage, secretary; Carl Marcy, Herbert Hardy, Amelia Schrack, Kenneth McKenzie, Ralph Foster, Harold Tefft, Elizabeth Hazelton, Dorothy Rose and Ronald Hewitt met for its first official meeting Tuesday night.

Discipline in the library will be entirely handled by this committee and according to the chairman

CLASSES CHOOSE CHAPEL COMMITTEE

For the purpose of securing more popular and interesting programs for Chapel during this year, a committee has been elected to take charge of the entertainment for these meetings.

A member from each class is elected to serve on this committee for the year, and those who will serve this year are: Margaret Nelson, chairman, from the senior class; Kenneth McKenzie from the junior class; and John Ross, from the freshman class. The sophomore member of this committee has not as yet been elected.

This group, who will work with President Doney, will begin immediately to ascertain in what the students are most interested; and then secure for the Chapel meetings speakers and entertainment which will be both beneficial and enjoyable.

W. U. Teacher Wins Acclaim

Miss Melton Makes Valuable Contacts During Vacation Months

Frances Virginia Melton was received with wide acclaim at the Oregon State Music Teachers' Convention last June. Miss Melton, who was a guest pianist at the convention at Bend, is head of the piano department of the Willamette school of music.

Miss Melton played a beautiful group of numbers by Grieg and MacDowell. Immediately following the meeting of this group Miss Melton carried greetings from the Oregon conference and Willamette university to the Washington group, meeting at Everett, Washington. This greeting was given at one of the banquets attended by heads of music schools from Whitman college, Washington State college, University of Washington, Bellingham Normal and other large educational systems.

Miss Melton spent the remainder of the summer on her island home in the Puget Sound studying with Miss Liszewska in Seattle.

of the group, "anything that disturbs other students will be considered as a matter for discipline." Form slips, issued by the committee as a first warning will be handed to students who are causing a disturbance in the library. If matters calling for serious discipline should arise, a special committee composed of McCullough, Savage, Marcy, Foster and Schrack will assume responsibility for dealing with offenders.

The encouragement of outside reading by interest in current books is also an important function of the group. A committee will be appointed from the student body in the near future.

The Library committee is also to serve as a contact group for student complaints and will welcome any suggestions for improvements from the students.

In the opinion of Mr. Spencer, library discipline has so far been quite satisfactory, and he also believes the new committee will serve as a contact group between student and faculty.

BUSY SCHEDULE THIS YEAR FOR Y. W.

As a climax to the Y. W. C. A. membership drive to take place the week of October 16, recognition services for new members will be held October 23. The new girls are urged to become active in that phase of Y-work most interesting to them as soon as possible. The finance drive will follow in a few weeks.

Active Y. W. work will start the middle of October. This year the organization plans to focus student opinion on the present economic situation. Through discussions led by faculty members and townspeople they hope to investigate some of the modern movements, to come to a reasonable solution of the problems facing the world, and to discover those things college women can actually do to relieve the distress. Professor Clarke will lead one group, especially for freshman women, in a discussion of the correlation of science and religion. In addition there will be speakers and various programs to make as diversified as possible.

Next month Willamette is to be hostess to the Y. W. C. A. cabinets of Linfield, Monmouth, Albany College, Pacific College, and Pacific University in an all-day session to plan and discuss Oregon Y. W. work, and to further the inter-collegiate work.

In the near future a fashion show is to be given, and later on the annual Co-ed Carnival for the girls on the campus, with costumes, stunts, and prizes. There will also be a series of worship services, especially around Christmas and Easter.

The Seabeck division at the Seabeck Conference decided as their purpose the undertaking of the education of all its members as a first step in bringing about social and economic reconstruction and international good-will. They also plan to urge as many as possible to attend the Seabeck Conference next summer, since both individually and as a group Seabeck is most inspiring and helpful.

The social service committee will continue its work of visiting the schools for the blind and deaf, and of providing the younger deaf children with clothing and scrap books.

NEWLY ELECTED CUBS HONORED BY MEMBERS

New sophomore members of the Cubs, who were initiated at a dinner at Hunt's cafe last Tuesday noon are Galea Dean, Norman Speck, Earl Carlin, Max Higby, and Bill Unruh.

Newly-elected officers of the organization are: vice-president, Melvin Zahrl; secretary, William Thome. Hold-over officers are: president, Garfield Barnett, and treasurer, Dave Moser.

Collegian Staff Now Complete

"News, Not History" to be New Motto of Editor and Staff for '32-'33

With a permanent staff selected for the first time on a basis of experience and ability as shown in tryouts, Lois Wilkes, Collegian editor, expects this year to put out a paper that shall have as its motto, "News, not history."

Curtailed this year in size, the Collegian finds it necessary to concentrate news, and to print only that which has genuine news value. This will be accomplished by training the staff to cut their copy to the facts, eliminating the unnecessary detail that is characteristic of amateur news writing. The Collegian editor plans to call on professional newspaper men for instructive talks to the staff.

Varying from the staff activities of former years, it is planned to bring the staff together informally at a social meeting at least once a month, in order to produce a more cohesive and interested staff.

The following students were those who were selected from the group of participants in the tryouts: Louise Anderson, Ralph Barnes, Eleanor Barth, Florence DuRette, Molly Gallagher, Pat Gallagher, Edythe Glaisyer, Paul Hauser, Virginia Heath, Olive Jones, Margaret Magee, Ellen Nasburg, Kenneth Oliver, Margaret Savage, Evelyn Shields, Edith Sidwell, Alice Speck, Jeryme Upston and Florence Zweifel.

LIBRARY IS IMPROVED BY BOOKS AND QUIET

Out of our increased endowment, the library has grown again. A new book rack has been purchased, and about 400 new books with which to adorn it. Conducive to quiet and study are also the new rugs extending along every aisle—not to mention the blotters which are scattered freely about. But not only the students should rejoice, but also the assistants in the library, for an anonymous giver has placed an electric eraser at their disposal, with which they will be enabled to more easily change numbers on books, when necessary. A new periodical record file has also been purchased, in order that a more systematic record might be kept, and several more periodicals have been subscribed for. Of note among these are Hesperia, a journal of the American school of classical studies at Athens, Parents Magazine (self-explanatory), A Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology, of interest to law students, Sportsman, and, for those interested in astronomy, the Monthly Evening Star Map.

Dearer to the heart of the librarian, however, is a huge volume (which weighs 16 1/2 pounds, according to the library "family scales"—also a new acquisition) entitled The Publisher's Trade List Annual for 1932. It is a collection of catalogues arranged alphabetically, and is complete with all available material, and is especially valuable because it lists all the latest prices of books.

Of more interest to the students, however, are the new books themselves. In the field of literature there are added among other books Great Short Biographies of the World, by Barrett H. Clark and A Survey of English Literature, in four volumes, by Oliver Elton. The classic student will

22 W. U. Men Clash With Cougars Next Saturday

Several First String Men Will Not Be in Shape for Washington Game

Minus the services of no less than six of their star performers, the Willamette football machine will entrain for Pullman Friday night where they will tackle the Washington State Cougar in his den the following afternoon.

With such men as Erickson, Grannis, Jones, Drager, Franz, and Boyd laid up with injuries suffered in the games with Oregon State and Coach Wolfe's "Teachers", it will be a makeshift lineup which will enter the fray with the strong Cougar outfit. Keene will undoubtedly take no chances in injuring any of his players in this contest as there is the Conference game with the College of Idaho coming up the following week end.

Twenty-two players are to make the trip Friday and all of them will probably have plenty of chances to see what they can do against the Washington State defense. With the game, which will be the first meeting of the two teams, drawing near, Willamette's chances look pretty slim.

The Cougars, who have just returned from Los Angeles where they suffered a hard 20-0 drubbing from El Tropan, will be out to win by a big margin. Whether or not the Willamette defense which held Oregon State scoreless in the first half will be able to do much with the Cougar attack, headed by such backfield stars as Sanders, Colburn, Davis and the large Mr. Theodoratus, remains to be seen.

Coach Keene has been working his men hard this week and they look vastly improved. However, they will have to spring quite an attack if they are to gain much ground against the Washington State defense which held the strong U. S. C. team for downs on the one yard line.

FRESHMAN COME TO CAMPUS FROM AFAR

FROSH WILL BE INITIATED FRIDAY

Freshman initiation will take place in front of Lausanne Hall this afternoon at 4 p. m. Gwendolyn Hunt, vice-president of the sophomore class, who is in charge of the initiation ceremonies, advises that all freshman girls be there promptly with their ribbons and "Freshman Bibles." The boys are to report at the gym at 3:30 where Garfield Barnett, president of the Cubs, will give them further instructions.

"Rook lids" must be worn every day by the boys. Freshman girls must wear their ribbons both on and off of the campus on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The outcome of the annual Freshman-Sophomore scrimmage between halves of the Homecoming game will determine whether "lids" and ribbons may be discarded or whether they must be worn until Christmas.

S. H. S. GRADUATE IS ELECTED FROSH PREXY

Earle Potter was elected president of the freshman class at the election on Tuesday, October 4. Other officers include Kenneth Manning, vice president; Wanda Landon, secretary; Leander Quering, treasurer; Talbot Bennett, inter-class rivalry committee member.

Up to this time Charles West was temporary president and Helen Benner, secretary. The elections were delayed until members of the freshman class could become better acquainted with each other.

Y. M. C. A. Plans Program for Year

The Willamette Y. M. C. A. has adopted a fine program for this year that should be of considerable interest to all students. Among other things, the organization plans to establish an employment bureau for students, hold vocational talks and conferences, send out service teams to small churches near Salem, correspond with students abroad, discuss campus problems as they arise, participate in intramural athletics and sponsor hikes, bring in outside speakers, hold monthly conferences on subjects of general interest, and sponsor a conference on international affairs.

To do this the Y. M. C. A. has made out a budget of about $250. This is considerably less than the budget of last year and it is hoped that more than that amount can be raised. Letters are being sent out to all the men of the campus telling of the plans of the Y and asking for contributions. Pledges or cash may be left in a box to be provided for that purpose in Eaton Hall Friday, October 7. Weekly meetings will be held each Wednesday night 7 to 8. All men are invited.

WALLULAH STAFF CHOSEN BY MARGY

Pictures to Be Taken at Kennell-Ellis Studio During This Month

The staff of the Wallulah Annual publication of the junior class has been selected by Carl Marcy, editor. The theme has been selected, the departments organized, and work has been started. The staff is composed of:

Editor, Carl Marcy; Assistant editor, Edith Sidwell; Associate editors, Mildred Kester, Mary White; Administration editors, Amelia Schrack, Mary Beth Gallagher; Open section, Ruth Chapman; Classes, Margaret Purvine; Law School, Forrest Mills; Activities, Ruth Schreiber; Snaps, Helen Childs, Madeline Schmidt; Athletics, Galen Dean, Bill Thome; Women's Athletics, Margaret Lang; Organizations, Virginia Kaiser; Humor, Dick Upjohn; Staff Photographers, Prof. Monk, Bob Logan; Mounting, Esther Black, Leola Johnson; Typist, Lorraine Sheldon; Manager, Herbert Hardy; Managerial Staff, Ray Rhoten, Jack Simpson, Joe Roe.

Pictures of the four classes will be taken within the next month at the Kennell-Ellis studio. Freshman pictures are to be taken this week. The pictures will be taken free of charge upon presentation of the coupon from the activity ticket designated for that purpose.

The annual will appear approximately June 1 and may be procured with a coupon from the second semester activity book.

Change in Course Selection Effectuated

Upper-Division Subjects Limited to Juniors and Seniors in Change

Beginning this September juniors and seniors only will be admitted to upper division subjects. Dean Erickson states that there are two principal reasons for this: to raise the standard of the upper division, and to eliminate upperclassmen from lower division subjects.

The upper division is, generally speaking, the university part of the school, also it includes most of the research work done here and requires a different type of product than most freshman and sophomore have as yet been trained to produce. Since the grading system is based on the average curve, having underclassmen in upper division classes tends to make it easier for juniors and seniors to make the grade, so to speak, and thereby lowers the scholastic standing of the institution as a whole.

In the past quite a few students have taken only the subjects which interest them and have avoided required subjects until their senior year, which is an undesirable situation.

GIRLS WILL SUPERVISE ACTIVITY IN SCHOOLS

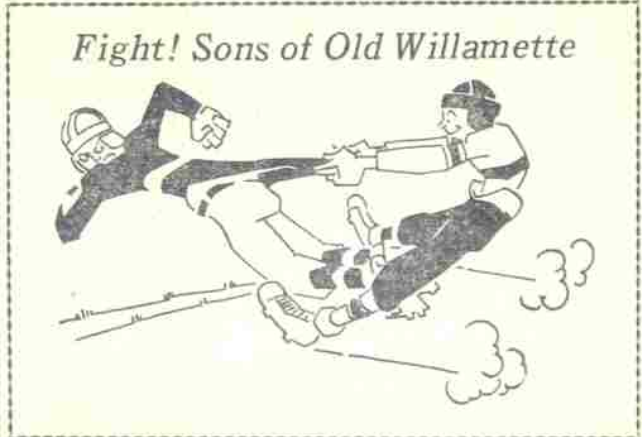

Willamette girls under the direction of Esther McMinnimee will act as advisers to Girl Reserve groups organized in the public schools of Salem.

The first meeting of girls who will supervise this work is to be held Saturday evening, October 7 in the Y. W. C. A. building. At this meeting an adviser and assistants will be appointed for each school. Girls wishing to act in either capacity will let Miss McMinnimee know immediately.

BUDDING WRITERS INVITED TO MEETING

All students who are interested in creative writing are invited by Coffee House to attend an open meeting next Wednesday evening, October 12 in Willamette Lodge at 7:30.

Interested students are asked to bring their own compositions to read at this meeting. About ten members were present at the first meeting of the year, last Wednesday evening, when poetry was predominant among the readings.

VITAL STATISTICS

Word has been received from Boston, Mass., of the marriage of Miss Lois Benjamin, '30, and Everett Gardner, '29, September 17 in Robinson chapel, Boston.

June 30 was the wedding date of Mr. Joseph Silver, '30, and Miss Mildred Mitchener, with Dr. Carl G. Doney officiating.

From Portland comes the announcement of the marriage of Miss Norabel Pratt, ex-'30, to Raymond Miller, ex-'31, September 25.

Since San Francisco and Los Angeles detective forces for nearly a month have sought, without results, traces of the whereabouts of James G. Heltzel, '08, Salem attorney who disappeared from the S. S. Admiral Farragut enroute to the bay city.

In 1906 Mr. Heltzel married Miss Clara A. Holstrom of Salem. Four children were born, all of whom now reside in Salem.

Mrs. Mamie Parvin Brown passed away at her home in Portland on August 18. Mrs. Brown graduated from Willamette in 1889.

Captain and Mrs. E. C. Flegel (Barbara Steiner) are the parents of a son, Lee Meyers, who was born August 21.

On August 25 Elizabeth Ann arrived at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Roeder (Elizabeth McClure). The parents, who are members of the class of '25, make their home in Huancayo, Peru, S. A.

A third son, Bertrand Philip, was born September 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ford of Salem.

A daughter, Dorothy Gwendolyn, was born September 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Day of Salem.

AID SECURED FOR MISS CORNER

Through the efforts of Dr. Robin E. Fisher, '21, and others, Miss Marie Corner, '22, has obtained a car to aid in her work as a missionary in India.

We are permitted to quote from a letter which Dr. Carl G. Doney received from Dr. Fisher, acknowledging his contribution to the fund.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred McGrew are now located in Fresno, California, where Mr. McGrew is professor of Public Speaking and Debate at State Teachers college.

James Rettle, '28, who has received his master's degree from Yale university, is en route to England to enter the school of economics at University of London.

In sending in his dues, George H. Tucker, '96, writes: "Our schools opened September 6 with an increased enrollment."

In a note accompanying his dues, Kenneth Litchfield writes that Frances and he are both on the job and feeling fine.

Professor Ray L. Smith, '13, has begun his duties as instructor in the law school.

THE "M's" HAVE IT! Midge, Mel, and Max. These are our pep leaders, and from the way they handled their first game last Friday, they are going to work up into a trio that will put the traditional three musketeers in the shade.

The student body at large does not realize the responsibility of their positions. They appear before us more often than do any other school officers; their job requires hours of planning and preparation, of doing the work one's committee forgot, of assuming 99 44-100% of the responsibility for the school spirit, and this is the hardest—trying to please everybody.

It is not possible to make any plan work without cooperation, and too often the pep squad gets mostly a negative response. After planning a pep chapel and facing 500 pairs of critical eyes, doing everything possible to work up enthusiasm for the coming game, nothing helps make for a dead school any more than to see students in the chapel slump down and spend their time making "dirty digs" about the three martyrs instead of bursting their lungs for the good old school.

You might do well to remember a few of these things, and, the next time you feel like saying anything, come up with a big grin and say, "Good work, gang!" It will do more good than all the criticisms put together.

Last year a school band was planned and really organized for the first time, and, for its "baby days," the band did commendable work. This year the band is suffering from lack of numbers, a situation that does not speak well for the musical members of the student body, and we happen to know that there are plenty of them.

FILM FLICKERS

George Brent, the new screen leading man who has come into unusual popularity in the past few months, again supports Ruth Chatterton, now his wife, in "The Crash," her next First National picture which opens at the Elsbore theatre next week.

The terrible drama of the stock market collapse of three years ago—with all its disastrous complications for the idle rich—told in terms of a young couple caught in the orgy of headlong speculation and swept down to poverty in the catastrophe, is embodied for the first time in motion pictures in the tense scene of "The Crash."

At the Grand theatre, beginning next week is a new picture, "The Rich Are Always With Us," having the same two players, Ruth Chatterton and George Brent in the leading roles.

Adapted from the famous book, "Silent Thunder" by Andrew Sauer, "The Man Called Back," a Tiffany production, begins Saturday night at the Hollywood. Conrad Nagel and Doris Kenyon, two of screenland's favorites, head a brilliant cast. Robert Florey is the director.

Sororities Honor Freshman

A series of informal parties, replete with beauty and gaiety, filled the past week only to be climaxed by the formal affairs of this week.

On Friday, September 30, the Delta Phi sorority was hostess for a charming oriental tea. Miss Lois Wilkes, in complete oriental costume, greeted the guests at the door. The spacious living and dining rooms of the Delta Phi house were beautifully decorated with rare oriental hangings and baskets of orange and rust colored asters.

Mrs. Clifton Clemens and Miss Beatrice Hartung presided at the tea table. During the hour musical numbers were presented by Miss Elizabeth Clement and Miss Marjorie Wunder.

On the same day the Beta Chi sorority entertained with a night club dinner. Tap dancers and blues singers together with the decorations cleverly promoted the modernistic idea. A color scheme of red, black and white was used in floral arrangements, tapers, place cards and wall-hangings.

Saturday, October 1, was marked by a lovely informal tea at the Alpha Phi Alpha house. Miss Carolyn Schneider, Miss Ruth Schreiber and Miss Frances Poor presented clever program numbers. Tea was served by Miss Margaret Morris, Miss Elva Nelson, Miss Josephine Anderson and Miss Vernita Van Fleet.

This tea was followed by a dinner at the Delta Phi house within an Indian Summer atmosphere. Brilliantly-colored maple leaves, pumpkins, corn and grapes were cleverly used in the decorations.

The Beta Chi girls were hostesses for a casual tea Monday afternoon, October 3. Graceful bouquets of flowers in shades of peach and blue provided the decorative note in the spacious living rooms of the sorority house. Miss Rosalind Van Winkle and Miss Eloise White poured during the tea hour.

Monday evening found a dinner at the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority lovely in its 'ships' idea. Ships were favored in the program which was composed of songs by Miss Benetta Edwards and Miss Harriett Adams; a piano solo by Miss Ruth Schreiber; and a tap dance by Miss Roberta Varley. Ship of flowers centered the dinner tables.

Delta Theta Phi Honors Law Freshman

The members of the Freshman law class were honored by Delta Theta Phi with a banquet Friday evening at the Hont Cafe.

Mr. Howard Bergman served as toastmaster, and responses were made by Judge Walker of McMinnville, Mr. Harold Aiken, Prof. W. R. Griggs, Mr. Jack Grant, Mr. Melvin Goode, Mr. Lawrence Brown, Mr. Paul Heath, Mr. George Duke, and Mr. Wallace Douglas.

Theta Alpha Phi Initiation Services

The home of Prof. and Mrs. R. L. Gatke made a lovely setting for the impressive initiation services of Theta Alpha Phi, dramatic fraternity, which were held recently. A buffet supper followed the services.

Members of the fraternity present were Prof. R. F. Gatke, Prof. H. E. Rahe, Mr. Ralph McCullough, Mr. Alfred King, Miss Paye Cornutt, and Miss Beuna Brown.

The newly initiated members of the Oregon Alpha chapter of Theta Alpha Phi are Mr. Lawrence Brown, Miss Savilla Phelps, Miss Lulu Allen, Miss Virginia Durkee, and Miss Dorothy Dalk.

Kappa Gamma Rho Sunday Dinner Guests

Guests for dinner Sunday at the Kappa Gamma Rho fraternity were Rev. and Mrs. Swift, and the Misses Lucille Flanary, Doris Clarke, Dorothy Ann Walker and Elizabeth Booth.

Alpha Psi Delta Sunday Dinner Guests

Dinner guests Sunday at the Alpha Psi Delta house included Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Jones, and the Misses Louisa Sidwell, Beatrice Hartung, Ida McNeal, Leolyn Barnett, Midge Hewitt, Wilma Nuttor, Claudia Buntin, Elizabeth Hazelton, and Margaret Lange.

ber everyone always referred to my father as the "Pig Shot." He was the whole hog in the little town in which we lived. In my youth I was innocent and tender.

The Dean laughed up his sleeve. "But things changed for us. My father lost everything, and I had to support my invalid mother, and my two debutante sisters. I would do anything for a few paltry dollars. So it was that I took the position of inhabiting the lower portions of the chapel platform.

That was a better job than any I had had before. It was warm, cheerful, and I was surrounded by the spirit of education. I had always felt the desire for knowledge strong in me, and I jumped at this opportunity, feeling that somehow I would absorb education."

Fraternities Announce Pledges

The Alpha Psi Delta fraternity announces the pledging of the following Kenneth Manning, Gervais; Karner Crow, Lostine; David Johnson, Clyde Dunham, Malcolm Jones, Ashland; Frank de Lespinasse, Hubbard; Delmer Ramdell, Woodburn; Floyd Walts, James Schon, Grover Bellingier, Salem; Errol Walling, Lebanon; Rex Pemberton, Dallas, and Steve Anderson, Bandon.

Pledged at Kappa Gamma Rho are William Hess, Robert Logan, Leonard Logan, Edward Kenstra, Kenneth Henniger, Dick Hyatt, and Frances Ely.

Sigma Tau Sunday Dinner Guests

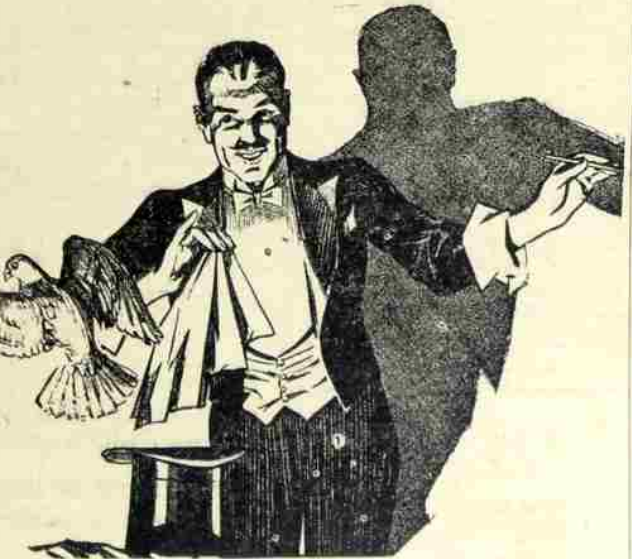

Sigma Tau members were hosts for a delightful dinner Sunday, October 2, at the fraternity house.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Carl G. Doney, and the Misses Josephine Corroyer, Ruth Young, Elaine Chaney, Savilla Phelps, Dorothy Durkee, Doris Gee, Doris Nye, Bernice Rickman, Eloise White, and Marcia Brown.

(It was my last, too). In those days the faculty came to chapel in their gowns. I mean their academic gowns, of course. It was quite impressive when they came rustling up the aisle. They were wonderful rustlers."

"We had wonderful rustlers back in the cow country," said the soc. prof.

"And then the singing. I have always had an excellent baritone, and I revelled in displaying my vocal faculties that day. Everyone sang the first verse of the hymn, although my own powerful voice overtopped the rest easily, and then they stopped. I was never a person to do a thing by halves, so I went on singing the second verse. Everyone was enthralled by my rich tones. It was only because the speaker of the Birch, the noted magician, will appear in a two-hour entertainment next Tuesday afternoon and evening, October 11, in Waller Hall at 7:30 and 8:00 P. M., under the auspices of the Philharmonic Choir. The matinee rates are 20c for students and 30c for townspeople. The evening performance prices are 25 and 35c, respectively.

Professor Cameron Marshall, who has secured the date, is personally acquainted with Mr. Birch and his company and recommends him and his program highly to Willamette students.

The Birch production is one of the finest and most magnificent now on tour and it is undoubtedly the most complete ever presented here. Although he is a young man, so great has been his experience and so ably demonstrated has been his exceptional talent, that Thurston, the world's greatest, has publicly stated that Birch is the logical one to become the world's reigning king of maggie when he retires from the stage.

Included in the Birch repertoire are such magnificent illusions as the Vanishing Pony, in which a beautiful Shetland is caused to vanish while suspended in mid air, the Challenge Packing Box Escape in which Birch will attempt to escape from a strong box constructed by a local lumber company, the beautiful Silk Mirage, said to be the most beautiful silk production act ever devised, the Canary and the Mazda Lamp, in which a live canary is shot into a burning light bulb, slicing a young lady into four separate parts, and almost 50 other bewildering illusions.

The advance ticket sale has already started and tickets are being purchased from Professor Marshall. Admission prices have been fixed remarkably low for an attraction of such high calibre, and present an opportunity which has rarely been duplicated, to see a master of his craft.

day, a jealous person, raised a lamentable clamor that I was taken out from under the platform, and set safely outside the chapel door. All real music lovers in the audience regretted this as much as I. But it was great spork while it lasted, as Popeye would say."

"That was one of the really enjoyable incidents of my unhappy life, but it could not equal in excitement the time I was put into a synagogue. Now things are no longer happy for me. Everywhere I go in this town I see "No Porking" signs. But if you think I am ruff-raff you have only to look at my present apparel to see that I am a well bread piece of pork."

The P. Dinner Sandwich hadn't noticed, but all this time the Dean had surreptitiously been eating him, and now as the P. D. Sandwich opened his mouth to say some more the Dean swallowed the last morsel, silencing him effectively. (Swallowing the last morsel of a pork dinner sandwich was a weakness of the Dean's.)

THE WHISPERING CAMPAIGN

This week's fable: It's fun to study in the Collegian office.

One innocent freshman thinks that the reason they put water on the football field was so that the players would get used to playing in the mud.

By the way, the water that was turned on the football field would have worked wonders if turned on other parts of the campus during the summer. As it is, the only thing green about the campus is the freshmen.

Well, well. So the deer-hunting season is on. Some people we could mention have been deer-hunting out of season.

During the summer vacation, Deena Hart, that worthy potter of Coffee House, composed limericks for a certain well-known corn medicine. From this literary activity she earned practically all her tuition for this year. Miss Hart has kindly consented to our printing some of her gems:

"A young lady to college would go for knowledge, (she claimed) not a beau.

Dining at a frat
 Her line fell quite flat
 Because she had corns on her toe."

"A fellow with corns on his hoof had scarcely a hair on his roof.
 He used Blue-Jay with care
 Where there should have been hair—
 Remains are with Barrick and Clough."

(This poem won for its creator a bottle of Blue-Jay. Miss Hart immediately purchased a pair of tight shoes.)

"There's no one a gentleman scores
 As a co-ed who constantly mourns.
 Use Blue-Jay Remover

The Corn syrup company rejected this lovely bit of verse, but it was later purchased by the Young Republican League of Marion county.

We heard the other day about a frosh who is so dumb that he thinks star dust is the face powder of movie actresses.

We'll bet he thinks Eaton hall is the campus dining-room.

Prof. Matthews told us in chapel that while we're in class, we should pretend we're a buckleberry in a saucer, entirely surrounded by cream.

When we're in chemistry class, we feel like a prune—in whipped cream.

When Prof. Kohler calls the roll and comes to the name "Poor" the whole class answers,

See you in chapel—unless we hear that Prof. Oliver will speak. THE MUDSLINGERS.

P. S.—Anyone (if any one) voting for Franklin D., please register immediately with Professor Jones who is organizing the Marion County Democratic association. All members of last year's economics class have already joined.

The rumor that Dr. Doney received a box of cigars is unfounded. (Authority for this statement—Frank himself.)

O. N. S. TAKES VICTORY 6-0

In the second game of the season, the Bearcats, a somewhat revised edition of the lineup which went into action against Oregon State, it is true, lost a hotly contested game with Monmouth by the score of six to nothing. The absence of the injured men no doubt cost Willamette the game, but we must not cry "cripple" too often for the lack of better showing. Good material was on the field, but the plays did not seem to go as smoothly as they should. Had the plays gone as good and accurately as they did on the Oregon State field, with a little punch added, the score no doubt would have been turned around, with entire co-operation was lacking.

In the first quarter, the contest was fairly even and close, with Monmouth having a little of the edge on yardage. Something sensational in the way of backs was developed Friday night in the person of Ovaroe, a dynamic little freshman. He pierced the Monmouth defense time and time again for long gains, and peppered them frequently with shorter gains of from three to five yards all through the game. He was Willamette's ground gainer of the game.

The second quarter ended in no score. In the last three minutes of the period, Edwards of Oregon Normal ran 32 yards, carrying the ball to Willamette's 45-yard line. Scroggins, on the next play, carried the ball to the Bearcat's 26. It seemed that a touchdown was coming up for the Teachers, but Monmouth fumbled the next play and the ball was driven back to Willamette's 35 yard line. Two incomplete passes gave them a five-yard penalty, and another penalty was given on the third incomplete pass, making it Willamette's ball on their own 45-yard line. On the next play, Scroggins of Monmouth intercepted a forward pass, giving the Teachers the ball, as the gun ended the half.

It was in the third quarter that Monmouth made their only score of the game. A play by play of that quarter follows.

Willamette kicked off, and Monmouth recovered and were stopped on their own 20-yard line. On the next play, a pass from Gretch to Edwards was completed and Edwards ran 47 yards to a touchdown for Oregon Normal. The play, which was the famous dead man play of football history, was called back. Officials argued in the center of the field for five minutes or so and the point was not counted. Edwards was in incorrect uniform, and stepped outside, was probably offside, and had not lined up with the team. Three plays later, the Monmouth players, now inflamed to the point of playing spectacular football, cleared the way for a pass from Scroggins to Edwards again and Edwards took the ball to Willamette's eight-yard line. Gretch plunged into the Bearcat line for three more yards, making it fourth down, and one to go for a goal. On the next play, Willamette recovered a fumble back of her own goal line, and it was their ball on the 20. After being held for four downs, Willamette kicked out to the 50, and dropped the ball carrier on her own 45. Here was the failure of Monmouth's "sneak play." The ball carrier never straightened up to take a step. He was smothered under an avalanche of Bearcat line men. On the next play, however, Monmouth made a first down on a completed pass from Scroggins to Edwards. Scroggins ran for another first down, and was forced out on Willamette's 23-yard line. On the next play, Monmouth was given five yards for off side. Scroggins carried the ball four more yards. This, minus the penalty, made it second and nine for Oregon Normal. The next play was a pass, which fell incomplete. A two yard loss on the next play. A pass from Welter to Scroggins on the next made a first down, with 27 yards to go to the goal.

Scroggins, who was rapidly tiring out, made a 20 yard run, and on the play following, collapsed when bunted in the mid section by a Bearcat lineman, White replaced him. On the fourth down, and one to go, Welter carried the ball over for the score. Failed to convert.
Oregon kicked and Willamette ran the ball to the 50. As the quarter ended, it was second and four for Willamette.

The last quarter was a mess of penalties and frequent long runs by Ovaroe. Scroggins came back in the latter part of the fourth period and began once more to duel with Ovaroe in the matter of ground gaining. Willamette fought better, between penalties imposed on both sides, than she did in her first quarter, and several times made first downs, once coming near the Monmouth goal. She did not recover, however, from the third quarter, and the game ended with the score of six to nothing, in favor of Oregon Normal.

The starting lineup:
Willamette Kaiser, E. Gordon, Jockiak, T. Gustafson, Boyd, G. Bura, Frannis, C. Harp, Felton, G. McKenzie, Weiser, T. Cannon, Clark, E. Phillips, Paul, Q. Welter, Williams, H. Hlatt, Ovaroe, H. Gretch, Johnson, F. Scroggins

Library Improved

find two new books of plates on ancient Greece, Pompeii—It's Life and Art, by August Mau. (The latter is out of print, so it was purchased second hand, but it is an expensive book, well bound, and in good shape), Child Life in Greek Art, by A. E. Klein, and others. Every class seems to have benefited by the increased number of books, and something new awaits even the reader of fiction.
The world's foremost statisticians (to quote Professor Oliver) have had a hand in increasing our store of knowledge, for there is also a new Who's Who. Although Who's Who ordinarily deals only with Englishmen, Sinclair Lewis is included in it. The volume is unusual in that it gives not only the works of those included, but also their recreations. (There's a chance to check up on the football fans!)

The problem of space has been admirably met by Dean Clark, for he is preparing a new stock-room in the basement, and many volumes which are never used will go the way of all flesh, making room for their more useful successors.

DOUGHNUT LEAGUE STARTS NEXT WEEK

Competition between the various class and fraternity pass-ball teams will probably begin the first of next week, it was announced Wednesday.
The various teams taking part in this sport form what is known as the Doughnut League.

Lively competition was displayed between the teams last season, and a repetition of the spirit shown is expected this year.

The game, which is quite similar to football, is nothing but the childhood game of touch-football played on a more serious scale. Briefly, the backfield gets the ball and runs it forward until the one carrying it is touched by a member of the opposing team.

The rules will be published as soon as the committee appointed can determine just what they shall be. No great change is expected from those of last year.

BEARCATS HOLD O.S.C. FIRST HALF

With a stubbornness that somewhat offset their weak offensive, the Willamette Bearcats held the over-abundant man power of Oregon State for an epic first half in the opening game of the season.

The Bearcats, with only 25 men to draw from, managed to keep a fairly fresh front presented to the Beavers during the first period. Four times the Beavers worked down to within the ten yard line, and for four times, the Willamette gridgers held them for downs. The many passes that the Oregon group uncorked were successfully dealt with.

Although Keene's men managed to hold the Beavers scoreless in the first half, they seemed unable to gain themselves. While the running plays of Oregon knifed through frequently, the plays of the same type, when launched from the Bearcat backfield, went nowhere.

At the beginning of the second half, an almost completely fresh team was sent in from the reserves of Oregon State. But they seemed unable to gain. Their line plays refused to pierce the Willamette defensive, and ordinary end runs were smothered. So, the Staters opened the passing attack that was responsible for the score. Executing short laterals with deadly accuracy, the Beavers ran up four of the touchdowns and scored the fifth when Jarvis, a left half substitute for Adams, carried the ball over. The final score was 32 to 0.

Erickson and Johnson appeared to be the only ground gainers for Willamette on the field. Keith Jones, shifted to the backfield for the first time, made several good tackles.

But the battering that Willamette took from the heavier squad cost them more than the game. Frantz, Erickson and Jones, almost the entire backfield, were taken out on injuries, and because of these injuries, were definitely shelved for the Monmouth game.

Variety in Sports Offered to Women

A full schedule of athletics, soccer, tennis, and archery, is open to all Willamette girls this fall. Fair weather should be a great incentive to all girls to participate in one or more of a variety of sports offered in the regular schedule planned by Miss Curry for afternoon athletics.

Soccer practices, coached by Esther Arnold, are open to all. Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 4:00 P. M. It is hoped that later in the season teams may be chosen, and individual practices may be held in preparation for a final inter-class tournament.

Beginners' tennis classes, coached by Mildred Miller, are held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 4:00 P. M. A tournament for new and old players will be held later in the season.

Archery classes, under the direct supervision of Miss Curry are held Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 3:00 P. M. New equipment is being ordered, and it is hoped that many more will take advantage of this opportunity.

The regular swimming classes, instructed by Esther Arnold, are held on Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 1:15 to 3:05 P. M. at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool.

SPORTORIALS

Since the team must lose some games, we think it is just as well that these games be non-conference games. When the team hits College of Idaho we look for a victory.

If W. S. C. is as hard on the boys as O. S. C. was Spec will probably have to import another team. More than half the first string was injured in that O. S. C. encounter.

We're glad to welcome Howard Maple back to the coaching staff. He has been a catcher for the Washington team of the American baseball league during the past season.

Johanne Ovaroe, the latest addition to the team, is looking pretty good at his position at halfback. Here's hoping he keeps up the good work.

If certain members of the team appear a bit crazy lately, don't be alarmed—this phenomenon is simply the result of their working out at the State hospital. Every year several of the players work out there.

The team is certainly going in for travel. Next Saturday they will be in Pullman, Washington. A week from next Friday they will be in Caldwell, Idaho.

Hard workouts have been the schedule for the team this week. The fellows ought to be getting into pretty good shape.

We wish the team lots of luck up at Pullman next Saturday.

Would any of you AA English students be interested in a definition of football as given by one of the professors in connection with the English department of Harvard University? Believe it or not, the prof. thought that the ordinary layman could understand him. Just listen to this:
The ball: A large inflated ball to be kicked in games. It is now composed of India rubber or canvas treated with rubber, often with an outer case of leather, the size varying in circumference from 20 to 30 inches.

The game: A game in which two contesting parties of players try to kick or carry such a ball to or over an opposite goal or line. The ball, a prolate spheroid, may be kicked, generally by the right bi-pedal extremity, or run with, or thrown, toward the opposite goal, which opponents try, by various and sundry subtle tactics, often accompanied by odious roughness, to protect.

INSTRUCTION FOR WOMEN IN TENNIS

Thirty-two girls have been enrolled in a tennis class under the direction of Mildred Miller, who is to be assisted by Anna Calaba. The instruction will at first be elementary, which is a boon to the many girls entirely unfamiliar with the fundamental principles of the game. It should not, however, discourage the more advanced player from taking part, since the basic technique will be taught from the first and continued on through the period of instruction. Meanwhile there is excellent opportunity for supervised practice.

The class will meet at 4 o'clock Tuesdays and Thursdays, recently changed from Mondays and Wednesdays.

Practice on strokes and other technicalities will be continued through the winter in the gym. In the spring, a tournament within the class will provide some excitement for its members.

It is the first tennis class to be successfully organized on the campus. The cooperation of all tennis players and those who wish to learn the game is asked.

PING PONG PLAYERS HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

How many of you have seen the inviting ping-pong tables at the Y. M. C. A. and have longed to have a chance at them? The W. A. A. has installed a similar table in the gym. The only requirement is that you keep the paddle and balls in good condition, and return them to the office of the graduate-manager when you are through playing. If sufficient interest is shown, the W. A. A. hopes to install another table.

Heard at the football game—Monmouth cheer leader: "All normal students sit in this section."
W. U. Co-ed: "All super-normal students sit over here."
