ARCHERY INSTRUCTION STARTS NEXT MONDAY

Monday, between four and five o'clock, the first class in archery instruction will be conducted on the Willamette university campus. The range will either be in the old tennis court or on the west side of Waller hall between music hall and Science hall.

NEW RALLY SPIRIT NOW BEING SHOWN

Spirit and Size of Downtown Rally is Big Surprise to Salem People.

The pep rally staged by the student body last Thursday evening before the Willamette-College of Idaho football game was such a Salem had not experienced for some time. School spirit ran high in the large group of enthusiastic rooters who assembled in Waller Hall to sing and yell before starting the street parade.

The Collegian stands for:

1. Elimination of antiquated ideas of educational practice.
2. New buildings, planned with foresight, and soundly and beautifully constructed.
3. Adequate and equal facilities for each school of the university, with especial attention to the law school and the school of music.
4. Remedy of the evils of compulsory chapel.
5. A new social aim, without narrow-visioned taboos.
6. Doing away with short-sightedness of administration.
7. Scholarship, of the true type.
8. Avoidance of commercialization of athletics.
9. Development here of a great, outstanding university of the Pacific Northwest.

NO EXPLANATION NEEDED.

The above principles need no explanation. They explain themselves. Feeling that a definite program would be of benefit to all, we have formulated the above standards or goals to look forward to. They are not set forth with the desire to be personal or merely bellicose; rather, they constitute what would seem to us the logical and to-be-hoped-for program of the university.

UNCHANGING CHALLENGE.

The suggestion has been made that one of these much joked about SLOW SCHOOL street signs should be placed at each end of our campus. This would, indeed, be a wise move, until those who direct this institution permit it to become a wide awake, fully progressive, and non-time-marking university. This administration, it is understood, is not vested in one person alone.

A great need of the Pacific Northwest is a university of outstanding merit that can specialize in character building, and scientific development of individuals, who will take their place in the positions of leadership when they graduate. State universities, obviously, cannot fulfill this purpose. They are bound to follow in large measure the mass of customs which are the direct products of a past time. Change for them comes slowly. Meanwhile, the opportunity is open for a highly progressive institution of broad but sound standards to step in and take the helm of the ship of all-round education. Willamette could be this institution.

One of our many points of backwardness, our total lack of campus local life at Willamette, ever points a shaming finger at us. Cliques have a strange grip on our throats. We can't get away from it, while the present attitude toward certain forms of amusement prevails. There is a limited number of student gatherings; but these are for only a few out of the whole number of those attending this university. Recent rumors to the effect that fraternity and sorority parties would be held on one night each, respectively, are ample evidence that a sizeable per centage of Willamette students do not have an opportunity to give vent to the normal urge of social beings. The purpose of the fraternity party night and sorority party night was to force the invitation of more persons to social affairs. It was to prevent one person's receiving three invitations—a triple threat man, the fraternities would call him—thus keeping two others at home.

The remedy is not with such forcing measures but rather with un-prejudicing the campus of antiqued taboos. And, like compulsory chapel, these are not the taboos of the persons to whom they are applied.

This problem of a more unified social system on our campus is one of many. It applies very directly to that of student spirit which is here dormant. This spirit only needs awakening. This has been proven during the past two weeks. The trouble, then, must lie with the administration of the university.

Alumni, to you we say this, more than to ourselves, the present students, because you can better boost Willamette. Your suggestions be not as unheeded as ours. You no doubt see conditions and problems differently than you did when you were an active part of this body of students associated but still you most surely recognize that Willamette is far from being the institution of all-round education that it might be. Lend your voices to the cause of progress.

CALIFORNIATUS SHOWS THE WAY.

Professor Jones' recent remarks in chapel, which have caused much comment, supplied the finishing touch required to bring out the growing sentiment of the students. For a year, or more, a tide of indignation at the lack of unified pep, enthusiasm, and athletic success has been arising. Californiatus, or no, Professor Jones showed a type of spirit which, shown oftener and by more of our professors, could work wonders with the Willamette inferiority complex which grips many of its students.

And, incidentally, these professors would find their relations with their "knowledge-seekers" far more pleasant and intimate than they are at present. It is for them to make the first move; the anti-professorial enmity has become an almost unseatable tradition with college students in general.

BY THE WAYSIDE.

Complaint at the disappearance of Along the Way from these columns is worth studying. Why should individuals and fraternities want to have themselves set up at jest?

It is an interesting thing to contemplate over. The truth of the matter is that Along the Way has fallen along the way through lack of somebody to carry the Wayfarers on. The heading of this column is being kept, however, in the hope that another Wayfarer will take up the task of humor, light ridicule, and purposeful satire.

Beta Chi Informal Has Unique Setting

The Beta Chi sorority gave its first informal of the year on Saturday evening October 26. The members and their guests motored to Staten where they enjoyed a blue party at the Staton theater. At the end of the evening refreshments were served at the old Beta Chi house on South Winter street, which had been converted for the occasion into a haunted house with its cobwebby passageways, mysteriously slamming doors and Jack-O-Lantern Light.

The hostesses and their guests were: Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Professor and Mrs. Frank Leamer, the Misses Katherine Everett, Gaynelle Beckett, Emily Brown, Helen McPherson, Florence Power, Louise Brown, Marvella Edwards, Margaret Gormley, Harriette Hagaman, Faye Cornutt, Helen Fyburn, Eloise White, Lucile Schultz, Frances Smullen, Helen Cochran, Caroyl Bradon, Beatrice Booth, Olive Jones, Olivia Jones, Evelyn High, Elma Nell, Helen Pemberton, Rosalind Van Winkle, Minnie Shrode, Frances McGilvra, Margaret Morehouse, Lois Jean Rasch, Lucile Brown, Louise Sidwell, Ruth Kaufman, and the Messrs. Walter Kaufman, Frank Alfred, Ramond Waddell, Paul Pemberton, George Seales, Paul Geddes, Lawrence Gibson, Roy Harland, John Steelhammer, Steven Mergler, Ed Biggs, Jack Grant, Kenneth Denman, Lawrence Winslow, Wendell Keck, George Lloyd, Wilbur Engebretsen, Harvey Reynolds, Ben Eyr, William Linfoot, Lars Nelson, Keith Jones, Leslie Frewing, Percy Carpenter, Joseph Silvar, Joseph Felton, Jack Routh, James Nutter, John Puntio and Ralph McCullough.

Delta Phi's Skate At Dreamland Rink

The members of the Delta Phi sorority entertained their friends with a skating party at the Dreamland rink last Friday evening. The group returned from the rink to the sorority house where the decorations very effectively carried out the Halloween idea.

A clever stunt was given by the Misses Viola Crozier, Cynthia Delano, Mildred Wampler and Lois Wilkes, and the Misses Edith Findley, Jean Middleton and Marjory Miller entertained with a vocal trio.

The members and their guests attending the affair were Mrs. Paul E. Edwards, Mrs. M. C. Findley, the Misses Pauline Findley, Margaret Holt, Nellie Badley, Bona Brown, Marjorie Moser, Virginia Edwards, Yvonne Cornell, Viola Crozier, Ardeth Young, Beatrice Hartung, Mildred Cook, Anna Lanke, Frances Laws, Mildred Miller, Amy Fox, Gertrude Oehler, Marjory Miller, Sylvia Duhoise, Marian Bretz, Edith Findley, Jean Middleton, Mildred Wampler, Cynthia Delano, Lois Wilkes, Marie Ledbetter, Phyllis Dennison, Esther Tucker, Virginia Durkee, Dorothy Pemberton, Margaret Pro, Jean Spencer, Margaret Baird, Alvis Love, Pauline Livesay, Margaret Eddy, Elizabeth Clement, Hattie Cooley, Kathryn Elgin, Marie Messersmith, and the Messrs. La Raut Lewis, Lawrence Winslow, Paul Ackerman, Jack Ramage, Alfred French, Hugh Curran, Pete Gretch, Leslie Manker, Bud Fisher, Paul Geddes, Hayes Beall, Michael Fitzpatrick, Lars Nelson, Ed Stadter, Ed Beggs, Joe Felton, Sam Bowe, Eric Anderson, Wm. Faculty Meets At Lausanne

The members of the faculty held an interesting meeting at Lausanne Hall last Friday evening. It was the first large informal faculty affair of the season and has become an annual occasion. Short talks concerning their varied summer travels were given by Professor Roy Lockenour, Dean Roy R. Hewitt, Professor Morton Peck, Miss Louise Curry, and Miss Alida Gale Currey.

There were delightful musical numbers by Miss Frances Virginia Melton and Professor and Mrs. Forrest Gaw.

Misses Dorothy Gordon and Elizabeth Ogden spent last week-end at their homes in Portland.

Mr. Earl Douglas, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at Eugene, was a visitor at Alpha Psi Delta on Sunday.

The Misses Claire Wells, Elizabeth Wetherell, Marie Ledbetter, Esther McMinnee, and Margaret Baird motored to Corvallis last Saturday.

Luncheon guests at Lausanne Hall, Sunday October 27, were Miss Estel Chaney and Mr. Shackelford.

Miss Lois Barker was the house guest of Miss Edna Card last week-end at her home at the coast.

Miss Olive Feathers visited her home in Canby last week-end.

Miss Helen Hanke was the guest of Miss Helen Proctor at Kiddle Hall, Oregon State College, for Homecoming week-end.

Mr. Stanley Satchwell and Mr. Joseph Felton were dinner guests

Prominent Couple Wed

An event of the week-end was the marriage of Miss Mildred Pugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Pugh, and Mr. Clarence Emmons. The wedding was quietly solemnized on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rowe in Roseburg. The Reverend Mr. Tenhall of the Methodist church read the wedding service.

Mrs. Emmons is a member of the Junior class and of the Beta Chi sorority. Mr. Emmons is a Junior in the law school and a member of Alpha Psi Delta and Delta Theta Phi, national law fraternity. He has been prominent in Willamette athletics. The announcement of their engagement was made last spring at the Beta Chi informal banquet.

Miss Gertrude Oehler was hostess at dinner on Monday evening at her home on South High street. The rooms were attractive with decorations in green and yellow. The guests were the Misses Pauline Findley, Edith Findley, Buena Brown, Bertha Babcock, Jean Middleton, Kathryn Elgin, Dorothy Bosshard, Viola Crozier, Henrietta Bishop, Margaret Morehouse, and Marion Bretz.

Lausanne Entertains Faculty Members

Lausanne Hall entertained the members of the Willamette faculty at dinner on the Wednesdays, October 23 and October 30. The tables were effectively decorated with footballs and Halloween motifs. After dinner the guests enjoyed a short program of songs by Miss Josephine Olsson and readings by Miss Jean Spencer.

W. A. A. Holds Informal Dinner

On last Friday evening The Women's Athletic Association held a pot luck dinner at Cresto Cottage. Miss Marvella Edwards was in charge of the arrangements.

The members present were the Misses Emily Brown, Alvina Briethaupt, Rosalind Van Winkle, Muriel White, Elsie Allen, Leona Clothier, Florence Power, Dorothy Whipple, Evelyn Hartung, Loretta Fisher, Frances McGilvra, Dorothy Hutchason, Dona Hildeshiem, Lillian Scott, Marvell Edwards, Dorothy Pemberton, Mildred Pugh, Margaret Warnke, Lea McGaughey, Dorothy Eastridge, Marjorie Moser, Doris Steele, Nellie Badley, Helen Stiles, Helen Briethaupt, Lois Jean Rasch, and Sarah Poor.

Faculty Meets At Lausanne

The members of the faculty held an interesting meeting at Lausanne Hall last Friday evening. It was the first large informal faculty affair of the season and has become an annual occasion. Short talks concerning their varied summer travels were given by Professor Roy Lockenour, Dean Roy R. Hewitt, Professor Morton Peck, Miss Louise Curry, and Miss Alida Gale Currey.

There were delightful musical numbers by Miss Frances Virginia Melton and Professor and Mrs. Forrest Gaw.

Misses Dorothy Gordon and Elizabeth Ogden spent last week-end at their homes in Portland.

Mr. Earl Douglas, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at Eugene, was a visitor at Alpha Psi Delta on Sunday.

The Misses Claire Wells, Elizabeth Wetherell, Marie Ledbetter, Esther McMinnee, and Margaret Baird motored to Corvallis last Saturday.

Luncheon guests at Lausanne Hall, Sunday October 27, were Miss Estel Chaney and Mr. Shackelford.

Miss Lois Barker was the house guest of Miss Edna Card last week-end at her home at the coast.

Miss Olive Feathers visited her home in Canby last week-end.

Miss Helen Hanke was the guest of Miss Helen Proctor at Kiddle Hall, Oregon State College, for Homecoming week-end.

Mr. Stanley Satchwell and Mr. Joseph Felton were dinner guests

If she goes with all the boys she's a "coquette." If she prefers a "steady" she couldn't get anyone else.

If she majors in chemistry or Greek, she's queer. If she doesn't she's looking for snap courses.

If she is athletic she loses her maidenly charm. If she isn't—well, girls can't do much anyway.

If she doesn't wear a diamond she's not engaged. If she does she's running a bluff.

If she belongs to a literary society she's frivolous. If she doesn't she couldn't get in.

If she asserts herself in class she's strong minded. If she doesn't she hasn't any brains.

If she doesn't talk much she's uninteresting. If she does she's tiresome.

YOU WHO COME HOME AT EVENTIDE

You, who come home at eventide With the laughter of years in your smile, As a bird wings westward at close of day,

You wander, yet always come back a while; Back to the sunlight gleaming on high,

Back to the flush of the dawn, Back to the millstream kissed by the moon,

And back to the days that are gone.

You, who come home at eventide With memories gleam in your eye:

Those yesterdays are but today,

They are not the days gone by. Come back to the cardinal and the gold, Come back to the azure-blue skies, Come back to the soul-sprung spirit of old, To the light of your Alma Mater's eyes.

NIGHTMARE

Earth, a stinking ash-can crushes Sallow-eyed, unhealthy dragons, Dirty skies throw poison kisses— Fireflies burn the houses' shingles—

Hills lie dead in velvet canopies— Moon-struck trees plink out-of-tune banjos.

Shapeless beings in shapeless beds, "Horror—

Horror— then Sleep. —M. J. W.

Festival Week End

ers, around which Homecoming celebrations center this year is called for two o'clock tomorrow and forms the climax of the week-end. Preparations have been made to seat hundreds of spectators on bleachers at the south side of the field should the weather be fine and the grandstand filled to overflowing. Between halves the inter-class cross-country races will come to a finish on Sweetland Field.

Reservations for what promises to be the largest alumni banquet in Willamette's history have been made with Leatie Sparks, alumni secretary, during the past six weeks and were still pouring into his office last night. The banquet will be held at 5:00 Saturday evening.

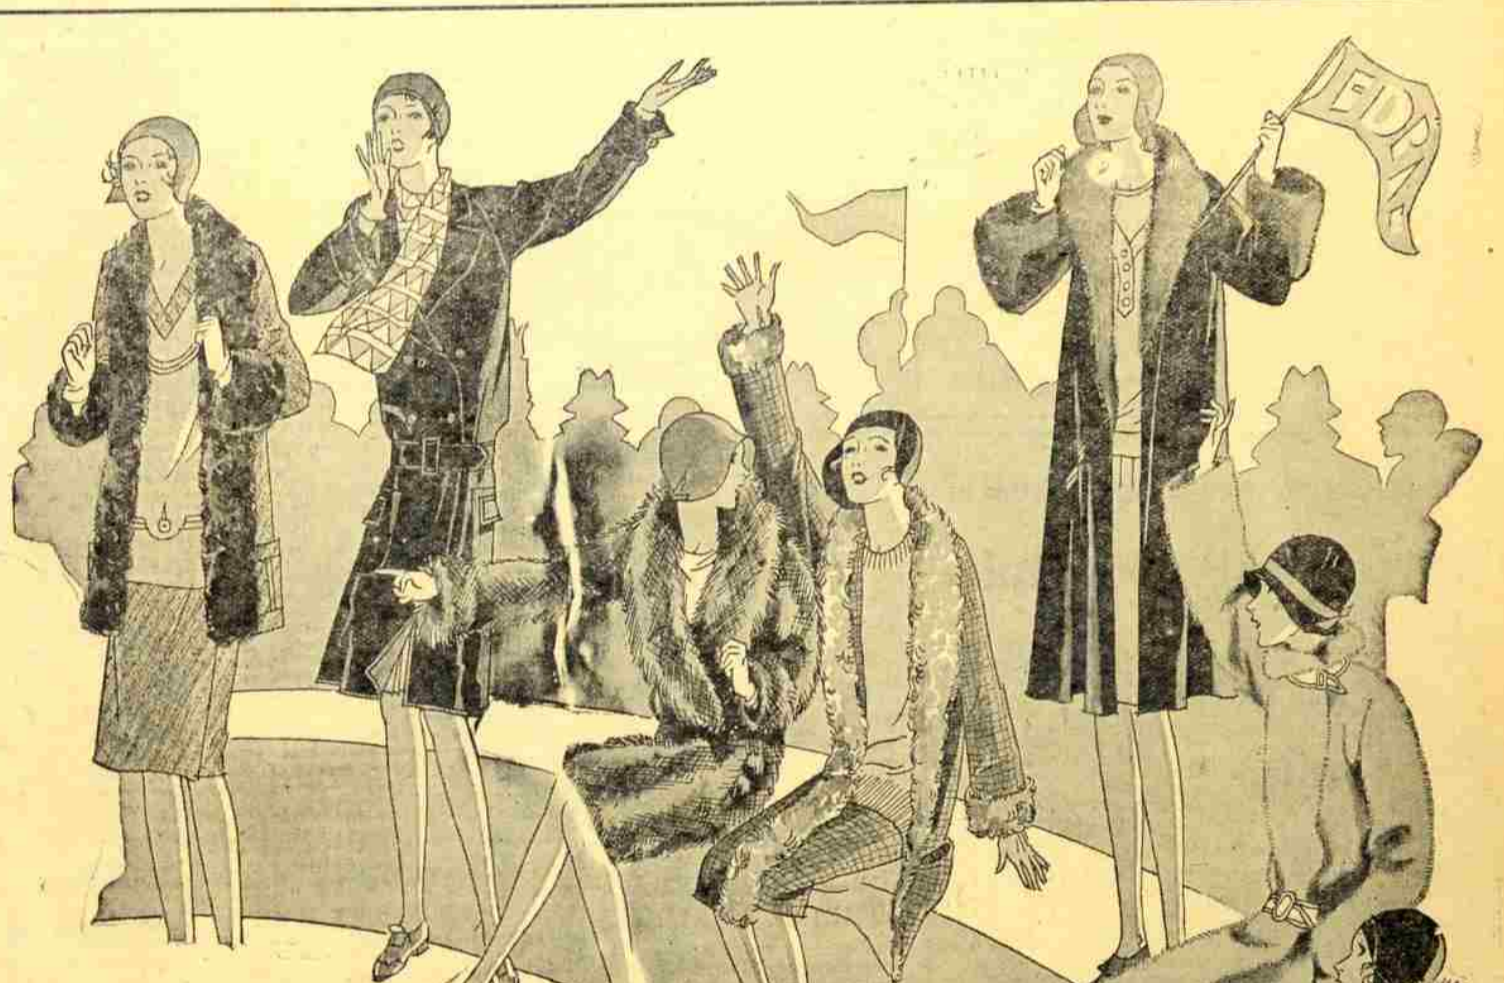

If the football game forms the climax of Homecoming week-end, the most dramatic part of it will begin Saturday night at 8:15 when Theta Alpha Phi presents its first production of the year, "It Pays to Advertise," in the Grand theatre.

In a number of ways this year's Homecoming is different from those of previous years. A new activity, the cross-country run, has been added. They, too, it has at least one unofficial aspect which has been acquired this year: the freshmen celebrate the season by discarding forever their cardinal and gold headgear in favor of more conventional styles or rooters' lids.

Previously, when this class wore the green, it wore it until May day but with the innovation of the caps and ribbons in school colors the change in date was made.

The great hour approaches; in a short time it will be past; Homecoming stickers, flags and signs of 1929 will have a place only in memories and memory books.

Football Fashions

The football season is on . . . and the dash and sparkle of our new football fashions will contribute considerably to your enjoyment of these occasions. Warm, rugged coats . . . with lavish fur trimming. Frocks to wear under them . . . of the new lightweight woolsens . . . or of lighter stuffs in which to attend the "frat" dances that follow victory or defeat. Hats, too . . . saucy affairs in felt or velvet, or closely fitting turbans in which one can nestle comfortably into deep fur collars. Fashions and accessories designed to youth's own taste . . . priced to youth's purse.

New Felt Hats $3.95

Chic little off the face hats that look reveal not only the face but a lock of hair as well. The ensemble idea is carried out to perfection here . . . browns trimmed with tan . . . reds trimmed with lighter contrasts, etc. These sell regularly at $5.95. Mezzanine floor.

Collegiate Coats $25

Sport fabrics aplenty! Soft woolly tweeds! Furs that are deep and cozy. But at this price the furs are, of course, imitations. Good imitations of fox, wolf, badger, squirrel, mink, moutton, and many others that are easy to imitate. Millers invites college girls to inspect this range of special $25 coats this week-end.

Sale of New Bags $2.95

Direct as the fast express carries them . . . these are but a few hours from New York City . . . Simulated snake, reptile, suede, and the newest tapestry weaves. New ways . . . new fasteners, etc. At a special purchase price . . . Main floor.

Leather Coats $14.95

Genuine chrome tanned leathers go into the making of these fine coats by Gordon . . . Chrome tanned leather is impervious to the elements. All Gordon leather coats are wool lined in smart plaid patterns. Main floor apparel sections.

Brogues $5 and $6

The new brogues are, indeed, campus style . . . Grained leathers . . . snugly heels. These will add zest to your trappings. In black and tan. Main floor.

Souvenir of Salem Linen Guest Towel

LINEN . . . Oregon's newest industry is coming into its own in a very large way . . . Millers offer a high grade souvenir linen guest towel in special wrapper for this week-end for 75c. The finest Christmas gift one can buy for this small amount. A gift to your hostess . . . a gift to mother . . . at Millers tomorrow! MAIN FLOOR

BEARCATS SET FOR BADGERS' INVASION

CAMPUS IN READINESS

Frankmen Present Trouble in Former Contests With Honors About Even.

In what promises to be a battle royal, the Willamette Bearcats meet the Pacific Badgers in the annual Homecoming game. It will mean the elimination of one or the other from the race for the grid supremacy of the Northwest Conference. These schools are traditional rivals, with honors about even. Last year Pacific went into the game the underdog and emerged the victor. This year Willamette is out for revenge while Pacific will be battling to keep her slate clean.

On paper, advance dope gives Willamette the margin but against the Badgers dope means nothing. At Pacific an overconfident Bearcat team fell before a Badger onslaught. Saturday the Bearcats are determined not to let their 42 to 0 victory over Idaho turn their heads. The team that plays the hardest headed football is coming off the gridiron the winner and some coach's hopes for a title will rest in oblivion.

From Pacific come reports that four of the Badger regulars are on the injured list, following their encounter with Puget Sound. Bear story or not, Coach Frank will have a lineup that will furnish Coach Keene's men plenty of trouble.

A record crowd is expected. Salem has a chance to see one of the best Willamette teams since the coaching days of Bob Mathews. When Bearcat meets Badger the fur is bound to fly. It will be eye for eye and tooth for tooth.

The probable lineups are:

Willamette	Pacific
Cardinal	Walker
Carpenter	LT
Ruch	LG
Ackerman	C
Philpott	RG
Jones	RT
Haldane	RE
Engelbreten	Q
Erickson	LH
Cranor	RH
Lang	F

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL PRACTICE IS STARTED

A great deal of interest is being shown in women's interclass basketball. Each class is working hard and has a scheduled practice every day.

Managers have been elected by each class and are as follows: seniors, Dorothy Whipple; juniors, Dorothy Pemberton; sophomores, Muriel White, freshmen, Eshter Arnold.

Turn-outs have been good and there is splendid material. The games are scheduled for the three days preceding Thanksgiving vacation November 25, 26, 27.

Missionaries and Badgers Are Very Much in Running for Titular Honors.

NW. Conference Standings

Willamette	1	0	1000
Whitman	2	0	1000
Pacific	2	0	1000
College of Idaho	0	2	0000
Puget Sound	0	1	0000
Linfield	0	2	0000

The race for titular honors in the Northwest Conference has narrowed down to three teams. Willamette, Whitman and Pacific remain undefeated. The College of Idaho has dropped two games, one to the Missionaries and one to Willamette. Linfield has met two defeats, one at the hands of the Badgers and another from Whitman. The Loggers of Puget Sound were barely nosed out by Pacific in a game last Saturday.

On paper Willamette has the best chance to get through the season with a clean slate. Her showing against the two state colleges was impressive and her victory over the Coyotes has again boosted Bearcat stock.

Borleske's Missionaries are always in the running. Since the establishment of the conference, they have made off with the lion's share of honors. It looks like clear sailing for them until they meet Willamette, Thanksgiving, on the Walla Walla field. There, in the Whitman's big opportunity. A strong team playing on its home field has a 25 per cent better chance to win than the squad making a long trip. Also there is

ALPHA PSI'S OUTCLASS KAPPA GRID WARRIORS

Thursday noon, October 24, the Alpha Psi grid team defeated the Kappas 31 to 0 in their annual encounter. It was sweet revenge for the two defeats inflicted on them last year by the Kappa machine.

Although the Kappas were doped to lose and were out-weighted, they never let up the fight. Don Earl played the best game for the losers.

For the winners, Petersen, Moore, Seales and Adams flashed some balls that would have done the varsity credit. Petersen's passing and end runs were the big features of the game.

factor in Idaho's overwhelming defeat. The Jason Lee line repeatedly outcharged the Coyote men. Erickson was the big gun on the offense, but when it came to line smashing, Red Lang excelled.

From the opening kickoff Idaho was completely outclassed. The Coyotes completed nine passes out of 22 tries for 67 yards. Willamette completed six out of 16
