Pre-Registration to Begin Monday for Fall Semester

Pre-registration will begin Monday and continue all week for students planning to attend Willamette next fall.

Students may pick up registration booklets on the way to 8 a.m. classes Monday.

Harold B. Jory, registrar, advised all men to complete registration, in case the draft board desires any such information.

Tuition for next year will be raised from $185 to $210 per semester.

Next year's schedule will include air science and tactics. Major Norman Campion will be available in the office of chief accountant, opposite room two in Eaton hall, during advance registration week for anyone interested in this course.

Liberal Arts students will be allowed to take introduction to music literature which is available to any registered student, not just for music students.

All registration books must be returned by May 25, whether they are completed or not.

Men May Meet, Discuss ROTC With Air Science Prof Monday

Major Norman W. Campion, newly appointed professor of air science and tactics for Willamette's ROTC program, will arrive on campus Monday in Eaton 2 to confer with men students in their pre-registration for fall semester, according to President G. Herbert Smith.

First instructions in the AROTC program are scheduled for September, with the basic course to be included in lower division requirements for all men students entering the university after June 1.

Next year's sophomores can complete the four year program in their three remaining years by taking the first basic course in the fall, double courses as juniors,

Discard Books

Little Hoover Group Progresses With Council Nod on Proposals

Little Hoover commission recommendations for a wide reallocation of student finances and more efficient student government were approved Tuesday by the student council.

An informal poll of the council taken by Hoover chairman Jack Gunn showed that they are in accord with the proposals, which also include a new student officer-treasurer, and an assistant general manager.

The most disagreement arose over plans for enlarging the student council to include members from each living organization and town students. Though most of the members agreed that there should be representatives from each campus hall, four out of seven voted for four town student representatives, while the majority favored only two.

"The fewer there are," said Tom Scheidel, "the more efficient the government will be."

Jack Pierce told the group, "When the present constitution was drawn up, there were only 600 students here." Gunn added, "We shouldn't have a small group running 950 students."

Pierce also said that the Hoover commission had originally intended to cut the forensics allotment in half from its present 7½ per cent. He said that the University, however, wouldn't make up the difference, so a 1½ per cent cut was all they could make.

Dr. Daniel Schulze, general manager of the ASWU, said, "Tuition only pays about half the cost of education per student, so it has taken the attitude that it can't do everything."

"Why can't we charge for Freshman Glee to help pay for the student union?" asked Jackie Chute.

In answer to her question, a vote of nine to two showed that the council approved the idea, though they took no action on the matter.

Gunn said that the Law school will get back about $720 under the new 70-30 per cent ratio, by which the lawyers would not have to pay for ASWU social functions such as Glee, May Weekend, and other expenses such as forensics and music.

President G. Herbert Smith looks over the AROTC contract with Major Norman Campion and financial vice-president Robert Fenix. Campion will teach a new air science and tactics course for all men who enter the air reserve training program.

"I have my heart set on getting a student union," said ASWU's new president Sherm Bliss last night, "and I expect to have a drive for money next fall to build a physical plant."

Bliss, who won this week's election by 29 votes, told the Collegian by phone from Washington, D. C., "It's about time we got our feet on the ground so that we can get a student union."

He will return to the campus June 2.

Bliss received a double victory this week. The new president, who carried on a transcontinental campaign for the reigns of the ASWU from the American university in Washington, D. C., was notified earlier this week that he had been given a full-tuition summer school scholarship to Harvard university where he will study political science.

He will leave for Harvard July 5 and return in September.

Bliss defeated Harley Hoppe, now member-at-large, 307 to 278, in an election bringing 591 voters to the polls.

Felix Calkins defeated Bill Bissell 317 to 274 for the position of first vice-president and social chairman.

In the closest contest of the election Larry Smith edged out Tom Joseph 296 to 288 for second vice-president and election manager. Smith will receive initiation into his new job as manager of Thursday and Friday's constitutional revision election.

Marge Aldinger defeated Beverly Gustafson 309 to 279 to be chosen secretary. Jim Garrett was elected senior representative in the preliminary election. Rollin Cocking defeated John Ambler 96 to 65 to be junior representative. Next year's sophomore representative will be Dick Mercer, who topped Jim Hitchman 112 to 63.

The new officials will be installed May 22 during Awards chapel.

Coeds to Vote On Constitution

The Associated Women Students proposed constitution, passed out in Thursday chapel, will be voted on during the awards assembly on Tuesday. Copies of the constitution can be obtained in the Cat, at Lausanne and the four sororities.

The constitution has been approved by the Student Affairs Committee, and if to vote of the women students passes it, the constitution will be sent to the Student Council for ratification.

Cap and Gown will announce their nominations for officers, and accept more nominations, an AWS special chapel in the Gym, Thursday, May 24, if the constitution is passed. Final elections for officers will take place May 28 and 29.

There will be five officers and six representatives under the proposed constitution. The purpose of the organization is primarily to coordinate the smaller women's groups and activities on the campus.

May 25 Deadline Set for Draft Test

The deadline for receipt of selective service college qualification test applications has been extended to May 25 by selective service, Educational Testing Service announced today.

All applications must be in the hands of the testing service by May 25, 1951. This date applies to the July 12 date for those students whose religious beliefs prevent their taking the test on a Saturday, as well as to the June 16 and June 30 testings.

No more admission tickets to the May 26 test day are being issued.

Students who wish to take the test must secure postal cards from Marion county draft board, complete and mail applications at once.

A Key Group

A new organization sprang from an old one this week to become Cardinal Key honorary fraternity.

Twelve charter members signed their names to the constitution, and by doing so, laid the foundation for what might easily become one of the campus' most important organizations.

Cardinal Key is to serve as a discussion group for faculty and students. Here, for the first time in recent Willamette history, there will be an organization designed to bring both sides of campus problems to the attention of all parties concerned.

Cardinal Key will provide a sound basis for bettering relations between the administration and students.

We sincerely wish this new group success in their venture toward a better Willamette.

Thanks, Editors

The Collegian takes pleasure in acknowledging letters from two ex-editors of this paper — both of whom won All-American ratings.

From Marion Sanders Woodham, '42, who was the first Collegian editor to win such an honor, and from Nancy Stuart, Willamette's director of information, we received letters of congratulation.

The Collegian staff is proud that it could uphold a 22 semester tradition of All-American.

'Mah Friends' ... Election's Quiet This Year

By Jim Miller

There was a time in the bleak past when everyone voted at election time. Maybe the population was smaller and it was easier to fight your way to the polls. Maybe there was enough difference in platforms for an office so that anxiety over the outcome warranted interest in the voting privilege.

Possibly, failure to vote was the same as a chapel cut. Who knows? It still stands on the record as a com-

BEEFS - BOUQUETS

To the Editor:

Mr. MacDougall, what is your reason for opening your newsroom in such a manner that anyone may have access to the material before it goes to press? In lieu of the present answer by Mr. Aschenbrenner to a letter by Mr. Sokolow in the same issue of your paper, I feel your present policy is not justified. True, it does seem democratic that your newsroom should be opened, but if you are going to be consistent, I suggest you post all letters to the editor on the bulletin board in Eaton so as to provide every student with an equal opportunity of rebuttal. Incidentally, I think you and I will both agree that this letter needs answering in the same issue in which it is printed for after all, it's addressed to the editor specifically and concerns him specifically.

Jack R. Brown.

(Editor's note: In answer to Jack Brown, he is right in assuming that it was not in line with Collegian policy to print a reply to a letter within the same issue. The circumstances under the election, however, made it seem advisable to print a reply. The Collegian had no interest, and no right, to enter into a campus political election, and we merely wanted to be as fair as possible to both sides. Any action taken—printing the letter or not—would have made one side or another unhappy. We regret any misunderstandings, and repeat—we tried to be fair to everyone concerned, and had no political axe to grind.)

Government Jobs Available in Many Fields

Foreign service opportunities will be opened to 165 applicants this year. Salaries begin at $3630 and increase to $13,500.

Appointment will be by competitive written and oral examinations. Written examinations will be given September 10-13, 1951, and those who succeed in this and a language examination will be invited to take the oral examination.

Applications must be filed before June 29. These may be obtained by writing the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.

Continuous examinations for dictating machine transcribers were announced recently by the Oregon State Civil Service commission. Positions, when available, are mostly in the Portland and Salem areas and examinations will be given in both these cities.

Graduating Seniors Have Shock Ahead As They Leave Willamette to Get Jobs

By Jane Fooshee

Another batch of seniors is just about ready to graduate, and of course the thought that is uppermost in the minds of most of them is that of getting the type of job which they are fitted for. This is really a great problem and one that shouldn't be treated lightly.

Let us take the case of a typical senior, one Freddy Fullofjoy, who has great aspirations of going into radio work. He is a speech and drama major at Pismo Beach university, and ever since working on a show for the Pismo Beach Workshop series, the thought of some day being a radio announcer fills him with much joy.

His girl friend Suzy, who blushing wears his Alpha Cholera fraternity pin, has visions of being a radio singer, too, and they have planned a life of making beautiful music together. She encourages him in his goal and offers job-hunting suggestions as well.

"Baby doll," she mumbled sweetly, "with your brain, talent, ingenuity, and initiative, station KPEW ought to be glad to have the privilege of hiring you!"

Armed with this encouragement, our hero marched to the local station already named as KPEW and informed them of his intention, adding as a sort of good-luck charm, "With my brain, talent, ingenuity, and initiative, you fellows ought to be glad to have the privilege of hiring me!"

A few moments later, Freddy, picking himself up from under the wheels of a passing truck, plodded back to Suzy's house, his high courage somewhat dampened. "They didn't like me," he said.

Suzy comforted him in her own sweet way, and armed with some more suggestions, Freddy set out for Pismo Beach's three other radio stations. "You were too cocky," he told himself. "Be humble," he added, as he crawled on his hands and knees into station KXXX.

A few minutes later he again found himself on the sidewalk. "They didn't even give me a chance to get up off my knees," he muttered as he staggered to the next radio station. "I'll try the smooth dog, man-of-the-world approach."

Meet the Receptionist

He stood at the reception desk a few minutes later, smoking a cigar and twirling a cane. (Which he had taken away from a blind man on the street.) Perhaps his goo-goo eyes would have had some effect on the pretty receptionist, if the fumes from the cigar had not suddenly overpowered him. He pitched headlong into the vase of daisies, and woke up some time later in the city hospital. After convincing them that he wasn't under the influence of anything but job-frustration, he was again on his way.

The last station in town—his last chance, and now what approach should he use? "I've been cocky, I've been humble, I've been smooth. This is my last chance—last chance. That's it!" A last-ditch stand. That was for him.

He clutched his stomach as if feeling the pangs of hunger, and staggering in the door of station KILL, he slowly beat his head against the receptionist's desk as he moaned, "You've got to give me a job! I'm starving, I'm homeless, I'm desperate!" Then looking deep into her eyes, he added, "But I have a college degree . . ." Then he collapsed quietly upon the mimeograph machine.

The girl gazed pityingly upon him, and then quietly took two twenty-dollar bills from her purse, inserted them in his wallet, and called the bouncers.

Again Freddy found himself on the street, but he rose up with a brave attempt at cheerful nonchalance, and went toward the Alpha Cholera house, where he could drown his sorrows in bromo-seltzers. Then, looking up, he chanced to see a fellow-senior approaching.

Another Encounter

"Hiya, Joe!" he called out, still keeping a stiff upper lip.

"Duh-uh—H'lo," was the response, as Joe shook the hair out of his eyes to see who it was who thus hailed him.

"Whatcha been doing, Joe?" asked our hero, evidencing interest in another, even though in the depths of woe himself.

"Duh-uh, lookin' for a job."

"Gee, me too. I haven't had much luck either, how about you?"

"Well, uh, ya know my cousin Homer, that sales manager for KPEW? Due to, uh, us bein' buddies and him owin' me a little money, I'm gonna be assistant program director there. Of course I don't know nothin' about radio, but I can sure use the money! Be seein' ya . . ."

Through blurred eyes, Freddy watched Joe shake the hair out of his eyes again and shuffle on down the street. Then, wearily, our hero turned into Bill's Bowling Alley to answer the sign in the window which read "BOY WANTED—TO SET UP PINS, AND OTHER ODD JOBS."

SCSA Group to Appeal To Methodist Conclave

By Philip A. Shaw

The objectives of the Student Christian Social Action committee took a more concrete form at their Tuesday evening meeting this week with plans to take their case to the Methodist conference.

The group, primarily interested in opposing the new AROTC on grounds offered by the Methodist "Discipline," will soon present the entire issue, facts and principles, to the forthcoming Oregon annual conference of the Methodist church for its consideration.

"What can they do?" asked members of the group. "Take a stand—pro or con. This will come about through the democratic process by which the church effects its policies and program in issues warranting Methodist concern. We feel the AROTC is one of these issues."

They quoted from the "Discipline," which states, "The opinions of individuals sincerely differ on the question of war. Thus, as 'interested Christian students,' the Social Action committee is attempting to acquaint the representative body—the church—with all the related material."

They said that this includes both the conditions and facts concerning the status of an AROTC on campus, and the emphasis of the principles involved in the "Discipline's" statement on "Church and War" and the reasons for the group's opposition to it.

The Methodist church will meet on Willamette's campus in June, when, the group hopes, they will take a stand on this issue.

mentation to classes gone by that great interest existed in student body elections.

It was just last year that a flat-bed truck loaded with rosters, torches, and musical instruments (and the candidate) lumbered through the night to the different living organizations to act its purpose in the furtherance of the cause. Prejudice? You bet, and each one of the followers felt that his candidate was the one for the job. It was just a matter of selling the other eight or nine hundred students on campus. And this job was undertaken with all the anticipated enthusiasm and anxiety expected of such demonstrations.

Political rallies and campaigns seem to be taking a slump when compared with those of days gone by. For example, in last year's campaign, an army plane was crashed on the lawn in front of Eaton with a sign attached stating, "I just dropped in to vote for . . ."

When Grandpa Waller reigned supreme, it was a pretty simple thing to know who was eligible to rule in office, for the entire student body could gather en masse in Waller chapel, with room to spare. There, they regarded each candidate, and no campaign speech was necessary, for everyone knew who was worth what without flowery orations to convince them.

Times have changed, however, and with our soaring population, we must consider the overall merits of the individual seeking office on the basis of a twelve-minute dissertation.

Still, if a candidate is to WIN an election, he should be selected by ALL students, and not a staggering minority or bloc vote as has been found since Grandpa's demise. It would be a sad state of affairs if offices were filled under faculty supervision or by grade points, and yet even with this privilege before us, many do not take advantage of promoting candidates either by word of mouth or the written "x."

Sound representation in campus politics seems a utopian end of all student bodies from the days of Grandpa on. It is our job to uphold our end of the bargain by utilizing the fought and died for power of selection. After all, these are our representatives, yours and mine, and they are primarily in office to fulfill our needs and desires. They should be representative of OUR choice.

Salaries range from $185 to $229 per month. The work involves the use of typewriters to transcribe dictated reports.

An examination was announced this week by the U. S. Civil Service commission to fill physical science and engineering aid positions in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.

Proper education or experience are requisite to the positions. No written examinations are required but applications will only be accepted from students who will complete their course of study within six months after filing the application. Salaries range from $2650 to $3825 a year.

Welfare supervisors and administrators, both for counties and state, were sought this week by the Oregon State Civil Service commission.

Salaries ranging from $296 to $379 were offered for the posts.

ASWU Constitution Will Face Possible Revision in Balloting

Voting will be held next Thursday and Friday on the Little Hoover group's recommendations for a major revamping of the Willamette student body constitution. Balloting will be held in Eaton and the student body office after chapel until 4 p.m. on Thursday and from 8 to 4 Friday.

Nine major changes in allocation of student body funds to campus organizations appeared on its list of proposed changes.

Under the financial allocation, the group recommended that the Cavern board and the educational activities board be eliminated, and their duties taken over by the finance board. The office of an elective student body treasurer would be created and that person should be chairman of the finance board.

Expenditures of student body money would be more closely checked by giving the finance board power to prevent activities from exceeding their budgets or spending money wastefully.

Tentative budgets would be submitted to the finance board at the beginning of the year under the plan, and student activities would be compelled to turn in monthly accounts of expenditures to the board.

The darkroom funds would come out of publications allotments, while the Freshman Glee fund of one per cent would be taken out of class funds.

The Hoover group also asked that the Law school fund be eliminated under its present form. The Law school would keep 30 per cent of the money it now pays into the student body treasury, and the remaining 70 per cent would be apportioned on the basis of the new allotments. They would not contribute to such funds as music, Glee and forensics.

Under further recommendations, the first vice-president would become chairman of all student body activities.

A central calendar would also be established through which all groups would schedule events. This calendar would be administered by an activities board under the chairmanship of the first vice-president.

The Hoover group asked that the board include one representative from each of the ten living organizations, one representative, preferably a coach, from the athletics department, one representative from Associated Women students, one representative from the College of Music, representatives from church activities, and a service honorary co-ordinator elected to represent the service and honorary groups on campus.

Peripheral activities coordinator would be appointed by the first vice-president. This person would represent all cultural and special groups on campus.

They proposed that living groups be represented on the student council.

Under the proposed awards system, ten keys and 25 certificates would be awarded to seniors who have contributed the most to the school.

Need a Ride?

Seniors who have not yet arranged for transportation to the beach this weekend were requested to contact Norton Younglove or Gordon Mallory at once. Younglove said that lodging will cost from $1 to $1.25 per night, and slightly more for non-seniors accompanying the class.

Opportunities for Seniors Offered By Civil Service Commission

Opportunities to participate in a ten-year program to reappraise all Oregon properties are available to college seniors and graduate students, according to an announcement today by the Oregon state civil service commission.

Graduates and others selected by means of an examination administered by the state civil service commission will start as appraiser aides at a salary of $261 per month for a 40-hour week. At the completion of six months satisfactory work, the salary will be increased to $272.

Graduates applying are required to have had major course work in one of the following fields: business administration, economics, industrial management, engineering, architecture, or forestry; also eligible are junior students with major work in engineering, architecture or forestry.

Application forms and information may be obtained from Harold Jory, registrar, from any local office of the Oregon state employment service, or from either office of the state civil service commission—102 Public Service building, Salem, or 614 Mead building, Portland.

WUP's Gives Drama Awards

Sue Mellor became the first recipient of the Willamette University Players "best acting" award Wednesday night in the closing meeting of the year-old organization.

For "best producing," Marion Sparks was awarded the second of three Oscars and Nickie Haynes received the third for "best radio" work.

The awards were presented by Prof. Ruane B. Hill, drama professor, who has announced his resignation from the faculty to take work toward his doctorate at Northwestern university.

At the same meeting, Miss Mellor was installed as director of WUPs, replacing Miss Sparks, and Bob Witham took over the duties of radio director from Miss Haynes.

All members who had received their 15 activity points were awarded membership cards.

Wilcox Displays Senior Art Work

Allen Wilcox, senior majoring in art, is exhibiting some of his work in the art building this week.

The exhibit includes scratch board prints, pen and ink and sketches, ceramic pieces, etchings, oils, silk screens and watercolors.

The work of Ellen Reynolds will be shown in the exhibit room of the art building in the near future.

Chapel Notice

The annual awards assembly will be held during chapel next Tuesday, May 22. In addition to making awards and presenting gifts, the various honoraries will tap new members. On Thursday, May 24, seniors will attend chapel for the last time. This is to be their first appearance in caps and gowns.

Professors of fourth period classes have been notified that the program may run a little longer than usual.

Biologists to Visit Marine Gardens

About 100 biology students are expected to go on a marine field trip next Tuesday, to be held at the marine gardens at Otter Rock. The students will leave from the Music hall at 5:30 a.m., according to Cecil Monk, professor of biology.

An unusually low tide will offer the budding biologists opportunity to find out how ocean-dwelling creatures meet the problems of life.

The group will break up some rock specimens and hunt for marine fossils in the Miocene rocks near the mouth of Spencer creek south of Otter Rock.

A visit to the aquarium at Depoe Bay will conclude the day's formal activities.

Conference Thinclads to Compete on McCulloch Field Tomorrow

'Cats-Pilots Vie Tuesday; League Over

Willamette's Bearcats will trek to Portland next Tuesday to meet the Portland university Pilots in a twin bill. The double-header will bring down the curtain on the year's baseball play for the Cats.

Conference play came to an abrupt close last Monday when Linfield refused to play Whitman in a make-up game and declared themselves champions.

The Portland games will see six seniors playing their last game for Willamette. They are Burnell Ambrose, Chuck Bowe, Frank Gatchell, Bert Lund, Lou Scrivens and Bob White.

Each team has to its credit a one-run victory over the other. Earlier in the season the Bearcats dropped an 11-10 game and then came back to even it up 8-7. Mike Glenn and Bert Lund will be on the mound for coach Johnny Lewis' Bearcats.

Lewis will probably have Al Brown at first, Cliff Girod at the keystone sack, Millard Bates at short, and Dave Perlman at third. Scrivens will be behind the plate to round out the infield. Dick Brouwer, Ralph Onzuka and John Markoskie will hold down the outfield slots.

Coach Floyd Simmon will start John Becic and Toby Lewis against the Bearcats. Joe Brugato and Tom Becic, John's big brother, are the leading sluggers for the Pilots.

WAA Thumps Linfield In Final Tennis Match

Willamette's WAA tennis team staged a return match with the Linfield gal netters Monday and handily whipped them, 5-1. The local girls have had quite a sensational tennis season, losing very few matches.

Playing for Willamette were, singles Mary Lu Ratcliff, Jo Oliver, Mary Polales, and Joyce Frost. Ratcliff-Oliver and Polales-Betty Breaky competed in the doubles. In taking five out of six from the Linfielders, WU players only dropped one singles dual.

There will be a special meeting called for election of next year's officers in the near future. The date will be published in next week's Collegian.

Senior Ted Mertz will be competing in his final meet for Willamette university tomorrow in the conference cinder event. Mertz is the top track athlete in the Northwest conference, three times scoring over 20 points this spring.

Jasons Favored to Dethrone Pioneers in Cinder Joust; Mertz, Mates Set to Nab Initial Conference Track Title

By Babe Maudlin

At teams tapered off from a hard week's work-out today, the feeling was apparent among Conference participants that Willamette would walk off with top honors for the first time in the annual Conference Track Meet to be held here tomorrow.

Willamette is undefeated in four dual meets with league opponents, winning every one of them by at least 18 points, and two of them by gigantic margins.

The Bearcats do not appear to be too strong on the first place front, but seem to have the depth to carry them to victory.

Unbeaten in Four Events

In only four events have the 'Cats gone through the season undefeated, and coach C. R. Stackhouse fully expects his thinclads to slide through this cinder meet still unbeaten in those events.

In three of them the Bearcats' galloping Ted Mertz is expected to top the field. Mertz is still undefeated in the high and low hurdles, and his 22 foot 3 1/2 inch broad jump against Lewis and Clark is the best to date. Willamette's broad jumpers have never ranked worse than first and second in any dual conflict this year.

The Jasons' other certainty is Bob Hall in the javelin. Hall has thrown over 200 feet two meets in a row, and is enjoying the best year of his career. Freshman Stan Neperud will probably take second, barring strong competition from Linfield's Grundhauser.

Mertz Pointmaker

Mertz will also compete in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the high jump. Mertz has been beaten in the two sprint events only once—by Lewis and Clark's Bud White—and unless Pacific's Julian Amaya gets off the injury list, Mertz stands a good chance of at least tying for first in the high jump.

All in all, chances are good for Mertz' taking 27 points at the meet, and 23 at the least. In his last two meets the lanky speedster, commonly regarded as the backbone of the team, has scored 26 and 27 points respectively.

The Bearcats should score in every event except the 440 yard dash. Other good chances for first places include the shot put in which Willamette's Jim Hitchman has only been downed once. In the Lewis and Clark go, Hitchman was beaten by LC's McCollum, but since has regained his early season form, heaving the shot 44 feet, 1 inch against Whitman.

L-C, Whits Strong

Willamette's strongest opposition will probably come from Lewis and Clark and Whitman.

Lewis and Clark has three first places pretty well sewed up, and the Pioneers are strong favorites to take two more, and possibly three.

The third opportunity again depends upon the well being of Amaya, who is generally rated as the top pole vaulter in the Conference.

Whitman will probably run one-two in both the mile and two mile, and possibly even grab a third in the latter event. They also are strong in the 440 yard dash and the 880 yard run. Both events will be hotly contested between the Missionaries and the Pioneers. The Whits also have Skip Gilbert, who leaped 5 feet 10 inches last week, in the high jump.

The Bearcats' other great possibilities for points will be in the pole vault with Mark Cotton, Jimmy Noa, Ben Collier and possibly Gene Kerr all doing well.

Cats Place in Conference Golf, Tennis; Hammond, Petz Win Tennis Doubles

Willamette and Whitman shared top honors in the annual Northwest conference tennis meet last Friday at the Irvington club courts in Portland. Carrying off the doubles championship for the Bearcats were Phil Hammond and Bob Petzoldt. Bill McKay won the singles title.

The tennis season ended officially for Les Sparks' net crew down in the den of the OCE Wolves as they wound up a very successful season by humbling the Wolves 9-1, winning six singles and all but the third doubles.

In the conference matches, the representing doubles team of Hammond, a junior, and Petzoldt, a freshman, of Willamette drew a bye in the first round and then went on to defeat the Pacific team of Ken Little and Mark Euscher 8-6, 6-2 and the Whitman team of Cibilich-Bratton in the finals 6-3, 4-6, 7-5 to win the championship.

Cece Conner in the singles played Bill McKay of Whitman in the first round and lost 3-6, 4-6 with McKay going on to win the conference singles championship. This is the first championship that Willamette has enjoyed in tennis since 1942.

DIVOTMEN SECOND

Lewis and Clark collegt became the new Northwest conference champion golfers as they dethroned Sam Voke's Willamette crew at the Top O'Scott golf club Friday. Willamette gained the runner up position, but were 24 strokes off the pace.

Four man totals for the meet were: Lewis and Clark 618, Willamette 642, Whitman 658, Linfield 667, Pacific 685. College of Idaho did not compete.

Bill Wittenberg of the local divoters failed to duplicate the sterling performance of last year and wound up in a tie for third in the individual honors. L-C's Jim Kraus was medalist with a 74-75-149, followed by Whitmore, Whitman, 74-76-150, and Wittenberg tied with Marsh Smith, Lewis and Clark with a 36-hole total of 151.

Other men competing for Willamette were Kent Myers, Ellis Von Eschen and Paul Southworth who completed the Bearcat four man team. Bob Schaeffer and Chuck Massey also competed.

Willamette, Whitman Split Twin Bill; Glenn Twirls Two-Hitter in WU Win

A double-header between Whitman and Willamette's 'Cats knocked conference hopes of both teams virtually in half as they split a two game series.

The Missionaries won the opener by out-scoring the 'Cats 5-3, but Willamette came back in the nightcap to turn them down 2-1 behind the superb pitching of Mike Glenn.

Lou Scrivens, pitcher of the opener, held Whitman to five hits, but the Whits combined these safeties with four Bearcat errors to tally five times.

Ken Wright hurled Whitman to victory in the first game. He fanned twelve Willamette batters while pitching six hit ball. The Bearcats scored in the fifth and seventh innings, and rallied a game in the eighth and ninth, but these outbursts were short-lived as the Missionaries played tight, errorless ball.

The second game was a pitching dual between Mike Glenn and Dick Coon of the Whits. Glenn was reached for only two fake hits in the entire seven innings, while striking out seven enemy batsmen.

Coon was touched for only three hits, but the first inning proved disastrous for the Whitman lads, as Willamette scored both runs in this inning.

Cliff Girod was Willamette's big stick at the plate as he drove out three safe hits for six times at the plate.

PE Officers Elected

The Physical Education Majors club, in their regular meeting held Monday, elected officers for the coming year.

Representing the club next year in their executive positions will be president, Mark Cotton; vice president, Marie Corner; program chairman, Wally Boe; secretary, Mary Lu Ratcliff; treasurer, Don Humphries.

STAN NELSON

Linfield's Northwest conference baseball championship seems to have brought on a few protests from irate coaches around the circuit, particularly on the part of our own John Lewis and Whitman's Bob Burgess. They have a perfect right to beef when one considers how the title was won.

The Wildcat's, coached by Portland Beaver pitcher Roy Helser, defeated College of Idaho twice Monday, giving them an 8-1 record for the season with one game left to play, a cancelled game due to bad weather with Whitman. The odd part about it is that the Missionaries could tie Linfield for the title if they beat them, but Linfield has declared herself champion and evidently doesn't intend to play Whitman. On top of that, Willamette, by winning the rest of her games, would end up with an 8-2 mark — a possible tie for the title also. But Willamette's two games with College of Idaho have been marked off just like the Whitman-Linfield game. Why should an uncontrollable thing like the weather be allowed to determine a champion?

Linfield Tactics Not Good

In our notion, Linfield's move was completely unjustified and unfair to the rest of the conference. Lewis and Burgess quite naturally are rebelling at such action because both have their teams very much in the running. Linfield's "back door championship" certainly has left a bad taste in the mouths of quite a few persons around the conference.

Getting on the brighter side of things, Lewis asked us to mention the baseball managers he had working for him this season, as all three did bang up jobs. Managers do the most on a team and get the least recognition for it. His letter is always well earned.

Peyton Serves Faithfully

Topping the list is Gene Peyton, who has been a baseball manager for the past four years. Peyton, who graduates this year, has served as baseball manager four years, basketball three years, and at least one year put in on football, giving him a phenomenal number of eight managerial letters in all. Willamette athletics will lose an invaluable aid when he leaves. Another conscientious baseball manager has been Howard Wilson, a freshman who managed Sam Voke's frosh basketball squad. Wilson looks like another Peyton. Humberto Lopez has also been praised by Lewis as a top flight manager. Lopez supplied the amusement for the team which is important in keeping the players loose.

Ted Mertz will compete for the last time for Willamette tomorrow. Though not the most spectacular thinclad in Willamette's history, he is certainly the most versatile and the most valuable. Willamette has never seen a performer such as Mertz, and furthermore, probably never will again. He has been a coaches dream. Though little recognized out of the state of Oregon, the incomparable Ted's performances here has established him as one of the greatest track stars of all time.

Bearcats Thinclads Retain Undefeated Record; Mertz Scores 27 Points as Whitman Tumbles

Displaying tremendous power in the field events, Willamette's powerful track team ran up its fourth conference dual meet victory in as many tries last Saturday, topping Whitman 74½ to 56½.

Once again tall Ted Mertz led the way. He topped his 26-point effort of last week by winning four hurdles—the high and low hurdles and the 100 and 220-yard dashes—tying for first in the high jump and notching a second place in the broad jump for a total of 27 points.

Mertz beat Whitman's favored Buddy Dodge in both sprint events in fairly good times. He ran his best low hurdle race of the year in nosing out the Missionaries' Caldwell in 25.2 seconds. His tie for first in the high jump found him crossing the bar at 5 feet 10 inches.

Shangle Wins Jump

The speedster failed to get off a good leap in the broad jump at teammate Vern Shangle won that event at 20 feet 2 inches.

The Cats swept the discus and the shot put and ran one-two in the javelin, broad jump and high hurdles. They scored near-sweeps in the pole vault and high jump.

Burly Bob Hall won the javelin throw while 250 miles away from the scene of the event. His winning toss of 202 feet 11½ inches was made at the University of Portland invitational meet, but was counted in the Whitman meet under an agreement between the Whitman and Willamette coaches.

Whits Top Distance

But while Mertz and his mates were running away with the short dashes, the hurdles and the field events in general, the Whits were scoring heavily in the distance runs.

For the first time this year the Bearcats lost the mile and two-mile runs. Whitman swept the two-mile, Wagner winning in the good time of 10:23.4, and ran first and second in the mile, handing Willamette's Wally Boe his initial defeat in that event.

The Missionaries also showed power in the 440-yard dash and the 880-yard run, sweeping the first named and running one-two in the latter. The Jason's Bob Goff tied for second in the 880 with Whitman's Ramaley.

Whit's McFadden Shines

Of great help to the Bearcat cause was the return to form of shot putter Jim Hitchman and, to a lesser extent, discus man George Porter. Hitchman shoved the iron ball out 44 feet 1 inch and Porter whipped the platter 115 feet for a pair of Bearcat first places.

Whitman's big winner for the day was Scott McFadden who grabbed first place in the half-mile and mile runs.

Claude Nordhill, junior from Newberg, was chosen by Sigma Alpha Epsilon to serve as chapter president for the ensuing year.

Those serving under him will be: Jim Ellis, vice-president; Jim Wood, treasurer; Bill Covert, secretary; Vern Zeuske, herald; Larry Pritchett, correspondent; Bob Shangle, warden; and Earle Eschelmann, chronicler.

XO Seniors Are Honored

Graduating seniors of Nu Delta chapter, Chi Omega, will be honored at a 6 o'clock formal banquet at the chapter house Monday evening. Those to be feted are Barbara Garrett, Wesley Woodard, Jeanne du Buy, Pat Zahare, Barbara Lee Miller, Norvada Smedley and Alice Adams.

Invited guests are Dr. Helen Pearce, Mrs. George Hill, Mrs. Robert Moe, Mrs. W. C. Dyer and Mrs. Charles Cloudy. Spring flowers will be used about the rooms and the banquet table will be centered with a large bowl of mixed flowers flanked by white lighted tapers.

Shirley Swoboda will act as general chairman for the affair. Assisting her will be Joyce Crouch and Carol McLeod, banquet arrangements; Pat Palmer, invitations; Arlene Deakins and Ruth Price, entertainment.

Summer Camp Counselling Jobs Open in Oregon; Other States

By Marge Leonard

Experience rather than financial gain is offered to women students during the summer vacation in camp counselling positions in Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Connecticut.

Majors in the fields of education, sociology, physical education and psychology should be especially interested since they can obtain experience in their major field of interest and at the same time enjoy such activities as swimming, boating, riding, hiking and out-door cooking and camp crafts.

Salaries range from $40 to $300 for such positions as unit leaders, unit assistants, water front directors and assistant directors. Room and board is provided, and since living is very informal, the cost of necessary clothing is usually at a minimum.

Working in check stations for the Payette National Forest as a counselor is an opening at Camp Alice Pettenger at McCall, Idaho. Further information and appli-

Students Travel to Beach; Leave Campus Deserted

Members of the senior class will leave this noon for the annual senior beach trip at Taft. A program of recreation, relaxation and entertainment has been planned for the weekend which will end after lunch on Monday.

Ellen Reynolds and Alice Adams will assign the seniors to rooms in the Taft hotel upon their arrival Friday afternoon, and a charge of $1.50 a night will be made. A midnight weiner roast on the beach has been planned for Sunday evening, and the seniors will participate in various sports and recreations.

Alice Adams, Ellen Reynolds and Jodie Johannaber have made arrangements for housing, and Gene Peyton is in charge of food. Transportation is being arranged by Gordon Mallory, and Jack Brown and Nickie Haynes will direct the entertainment during meals.

Chaperons invited by Marion Sparks will be Mr. and Mrs. Ruane B. Hill, Dr. and Mrs. George Hocking, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Althoff.

Juniors Go to Taft

Junior class members will be welcomed by the seniors Sunday when they arrive at Taft for the annual beach party of the two groups. A late lunch will be served the seniors by members of the junior class about 4 p.m. on the beach.

Larry Smith is general chairman of the affair, and Jo Anne Estey and Smith are making arrangements for the food. Tom Joseph has announced that all juniors will be picked up at their respective living organizations at 8 a.m. on Sunday.

Soph-Frosh Beach Trip

Freshmen and sophomores will leave tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock from Lausanne hall and travel in trucks to Neskowin beach for the annual beach trip of the two classes. Expenses of the trip will be paid by the junior and sophomore classes as payment for Freshman Glee bets lost to the freshmen.

Paul Jewell is general chairman making arrangements for the affair, and Rollin Cocking is planning transportation for the group. Recreation will be under the direction of Dick Pätzoldt, and publicity is being handled by the freshman class. A lunch prepared by "Pop" Crary will be served on the beach.

Chaperons invited by Joyce Robertson will be Mrs. Lillian J. Watts, Mrs. Margaret Chapler, Mrs. Bertha Johnson, Mrs. Betty Mendenhall, Dr. Martha Springer, Mrs. Carolyn Saxton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Derthick.

BAG's Tap Tuesday

All freshmen women with a grade point average of 2.5 or better are requested to sit in the north section downstairs in the gymnasium during awards chapel Tuesday. Present members of Beta Alpha Gamma will tap ten new members of the sophomore honorary.

Music Honorary Initiates Eight

Eight new members were initiated Tuesday into the Willamette chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority.

New members are Norma Cox, Jane Fooshee, Barbara Gertson, Ann Gibbens, Patty Jo Hammond, Edna Hill, Anne Swanson and Doris Hale.

Following the ceremony, old and new members attended a pot luck supper at the home of Norvada Smedley. A surprise shower was held there in honor of Miss Jean Farquharson, piano instructor and sorority advisor, who will be married to Orestes Lazarides June 13.

Boards Choose Griffin, Colony

Following interviews with personnel representatives, Jo Colony was invited to participate in the Lipman Wolfe & Co. college board and Shirley Griffin was selected for the board at Olds & King for the summer. Miss Colony, a junior, is affiliated with Chi Omega and Shirley Griffin, a sophomore, is a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Senior Women Honored At AAUW Reception

Senior women students were honored at the annual program and reception sponsored by the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women Wednesday evening. The 8 o'clock event was held in Baxter hall.

Nine foreign students will comprise a panel to discuss the comparison of education in their native lands with the work in the United States. Dr. Edward C. Kollmann, adviser to foreign students on the campus, was moderator for the program.

Participating in the panel were Mrs. Laurence Freidenrich of Switzerland, Michael Sweeney of Ireland, Egil Okstad and Ove Tønning from Norway, Jan Hajda of Czechoslovakia, Astrid Tarem of Estonia, Thomas Subia of the Philippines, Mrs. Ursula Wilson, Germany, Stephen Kwan, China.

New officers were elected at a short business meeting following the program.

At the reception Miss Olive M. Dahl and Mrs. Guy N. Hickok poured. In charge of refreshments was Mrs. Arthur P. Sprague. Arranging the tea table were Miss Elizabeth Beers, Mrs. Bruce Spaulding and Mrs. Carmen Jennison. Members of the AAUW recent graduate group acted as hostesses during the social hour. Mrs. Regina Ewalt was in charge of invitations.

Retiring president for the local AAUW branch is Mrs. Ervin Potter.

Cap and Gown Taps

All junior women are requested to sit downstairs in the gymnasium during awards chapel Tuesday. Seven outstanding women of the junior class will be tapped for Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, at that time.

The Amen Corner

A student panel discussion on "Christianity and Communism" will be the main feature of this week's meeting of Wesley. John Ambler is chairman of the panel. There will be fun, food and fellowship at 6 o'clock.

A delegation from Phi Zeta Christo will leave the First Christian church tomorrow morning for a retreat at the White Swan mission in Washington. The group will return to Salem on Sunday evening.

Other members will meet with the high school group at the church at 6 p.m. on Sunday night and will have a discussion entitled, "Christian Ideals." This will be led by Bev Roberts with Joyce Rautenkrantz being in charge of the worship service.

Westminster fellowship will hold its last meeting of the school year Sunday at the First Presbyterian church. The group will have a weiner roast and a recreational program is being planned.

Students to Vote on Constitution Changes; Hoover Group Offers Revisions, Reasons

I. CRITERIA UPON WHICH RECOMMENDATIONS ARE BASED

- (a) All possible efforts must be made toward building a Student Union at Willamette.
- (b) The governing structure of the ASWU must be organized for maximum efficiency.
- (c) The activity program of the ASWU must recognize the dual purpose of any body of university students in providing both intellectual and cultural opportunity on the one hand with social cooperation and recreation on the other.
- (d) The allotment of S. B. funds should be divided as nearly as possible upon the basis of value to the school, to the students, and to the participant of any given activity.

II. FINANCE

PROBLEMS:
 (a) All of the work of controlling and keeping accounts of student body activity expenditures has fallen upon the shoulders of the General Manager which constitutes a very unfair burden upon him.
 (b) Bookkeeping procedures have of necessity under the present system been inadequate.
 (c) There is at present no adequate system of keeping ASWU activities within their budget by regulating their expenditures.
 (d) There is much duplication of responsibility between the Finance Board, the Cavern Board, and the Educational Activities Board and for all practical purposes they do not even function.
Recommendation: That Article IX read as follows:
 Sec. 1. The membership of the Finance Board

MUSIC:

(Band, Orchestra and Choir). At present this fund receives 11 per cent and is dependent upon the full amount for support of basic activities. The music managers of each of the three groups meet annually to apportion the allotment between them.
Recommendation: That the budget remain at 11 per cent, of which 1 per cent shall be set aside to establish a sinking fund to be increased at the start of each year until it reaches the amount necessary to purchase needed equipment, supplies, etc. It is hard to tell which part of the expenses for these organizations is the student body's responsibility and which part is the administration's. The line is drawn between instruments and music. None of the student body funds are spent for instruments but between $100-$150 is spent for music. In the past they have had to draw upon other funds in order to purchase necessary equipment.

FORENSICS:

In the past the largest expense has been tournament expense, chiefly food and transportation. The prime value of forensics is to the participant himself; the next value "selective recruiting." The maximum participation is 30 students.
Recommendation: That the forensics allotment be cut from 7 1/2 to 6 per cent on the basis that its direct benefits are to a very few and because the main benefits will not be impaired by such a cut.
OFFICE:
 This fund is being used as a second reserve fund. Sometimes expenditures are less than the amount allowed, and often they exceed the allocation. The office stores money from year to year and often

2. The Freshman Glee Fund shall be provided for out of the Class Fund. Each class shall give at least one-fourth of their allotment to the Freshman Glee fund.

3. The College of Music shall reserve at least 1 per cent (of total ASWU budget) for a sinking fund to buy permanent equipment.

4. The Capital Outlay allotment shall revert after 3 years to the Student Union Fund.

Sec. 4 remains unchanged.
 Article VI, Sec. 5. The dues paid by members of the Associated Law students to the ASWU shall be allotted as follows:

Publications	35 per cent
Office Fund	7 per cent
Willamette University	3 per cent
Drama	6 per cent
Forensics	6 per cent
Student Union	8 per cent
Capital Outlay	5 per cent
Law	30 per cent

100
 Article VI, Sec. 6. No special assessments shall be made to augment funds already allotted in the Constitution, except through the reserve fund, unless through express permission by the student council.

Article VI, Sec. 7. There will be the following qualification to the ASWU fund allotments:

1. At least one per cent of the ASWU income shall be provided for the darkroom, the sum to be taken out of the publication's allotment.

2. The Freshman Glee fund shall be provided for out of the class fund. Each class shall give at least one-fourth of its allotment to the Freshman Glee fund.

3. The College of Music shall reserve at least one per cent (of total ASWU budget) for a sinking fund to buy permanent equipment.

4. The capital outlay allotment shall revert after three years to the Student Union fund.

III. ACTIVITIES

PROBLEMS:
 (a) There is no provision at present for scheduling all types of ASWU activities on one calendar.

(b) The many and varied activities chartered by the ASWU have never been logically grouped or classified in order that some coordination between them might be achieved and some method of compelling them to schedule their events on a master calendar might be devised.

(c) We have thus far failed to recognize that though Social Activities constitute a major part of our activity program, they by no means comprise all of it. The other activities must also be responsible to some central authority of the ASWU.
 (d) Duplication of activities, their functions, their meeting times, now exists in several cases, which must be avoided on a small campus.

Recommendation: That Article XII read as follows:

Sec. 1. Membership of the Activities Board shall consist of the First Vice-President, who shall act as chairman, the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men, the social chairmen from the living organizations, one representative from AWS, one Faculty representative from the Athletic Department, one Faculty representative from the College of Music, the chapel manager, the president of the Inter-faith Council, the Service-Honorary Coordinator, and the Peripheral Activities Coordinator. The Service-Honorary Coordinator shall be elected by the presidents of all the service groups and honoraries from among their number during the spring of the preceding year. It will be the responsibility of this officer to keep in touch with all the honoraries and see that their schedules are put on the activity calendar by the activities board. The peripheral activities coordinator shall be appointed by the First Vice-President from one of the cultural and/or special interest groups. The Activities Board shall be empowered to compel all ASWU activities to schedule their events on the Activity Calendar before such events may be held.

Sec. 2. At a meeting held the first of each school year, each activity will submit a tentative schedule of activities. At the beginning of each month, definite activity plans must be submitted along with the time and place of meeting.

Sec. 3. Appeals from decision of this board shall go to the Student Council.

IV. STUDENT COUNCIL REPRESENTATION

Representatives on the student council have very little direct contact with those they represent. In the past, the woman-representation on the campus has been very poor. Any adequate change would necessitate increasing the size of the student council which would be better in principle as there is only one governing group existing for the university.

Recommendation: That Article VIII read as follows:

Section 1. The Student Council shall consist of the president, the two vice-presidents, the secretary, the treasurer, a member of the faculty selected by the council for a term of one year, a representative from each living organization, two representatives from unaffiliated town students (1 man, 1 woman, chosen at a meeting of said group), and one representative from the Law School. The runner-up for the position of student body president shall be a member of the council as a member-at-large. The member-at-large shall be responsible for seeing that the town students organize and elect representatives to the town student council.

Section 2. During the school year 1951-1952, the four class representatives elected under the old provisions shall serve together with the council elected under the new provisions as one governing body.

V. AWARDS

Awards are at present actually based on a previous record or upon the length of service. Twelve per cent of the student body is eligible for awards and $300 has been spent this year. Under the present policy, the faculty advisor for each activity suggests the candidates for awards.

Recommendation: That Article I of the By-Laws read as follows:

Section 1. Membership of the Awards Committee shall consist of the president, who shall act as chairman, the faculty member of the Student Council, the general manager, the student managers from the various activities and three other members who are not seniors to be appointed by the president of the student body.

Section 2. The committee shall award ten keys and twenty-five certificates to senior members of the student body who have performed exceptionally meritorious work. A special award shall be given to the president of the student body and he shall be exempt from consideration for other awards.

Section 3. As printed.

Section 4. Funds for the awards among the various activities shall be derived from their respective allocations.

Section 5. Any unused portion of the fund at the end of any year shall be transferred into the Student Union fund.

shall consist of the treasurer of the student body who shall act as chairman, the First Vice-President, the Publications Manager, Forensics Manager, Music Manager, the Drama Manager, the Member-at-Large, Chapel Manager, a Law School representative and the General Manager or the assistant Manager to serve as an advisory member without vote.

Sec. 2. Meetings of the Finance Board shall be held once a month.

Sec. 3. The Finance Board shall have the power to review and revise the expenditure programs of all ASWU-supported activities. Said board shall be charged with the responsibility of controlling funds so that all expenditures are charged to the proper activity fund and that constitutional allotments are not exceeded. Appeals from the decisions of the Finance Board may be made to the Student Council.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the manager of each of the following named activities to submit budgets to the Finance Board: Publications, Social, Tuesday Chapel, Forensics, Drama, Music, Homecoming, May Weekend, Freshman Glee, and Office. The individual budgets of the activities must be submitted to the Finance Board within 30 days after the school year begins or 30 days prior to the expenditure of any money from that fund. The budgets must contain the beginning balance, estimated receipts, estimated expenditures by major purpose, and the estimated balance at the end of the school year. In addition a five year capital outlay budget must be submitted which shows proposed expenditures for permanent equipment and fixtures for that period.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Finance Board to prepare monthly statements showing exact expenditures for the previous month and current activity fund balances.

Sec. 6. Unused funds for one school year shall be left to the credit of the activity fund for which they were allowed and such deficits as are approved by the Finance Board shall be deducted from the reserve fund; if not approved, such deficits may be deducted from that same activity's allotment for the following year.

Recommendation: That the Educational Activities Board be abolished since its functions will be carried out in toto by the Finance Board and the Activities Board. (Strike Article XIV from the Constitution.)

Recommendation: That the Cavern Board be abolished since it does not now function and because the Finance Board as proposed will handle the function of this board. (Strike Article XIII from the Constitution.)

BUDGETARY RECOMMENDATIONS:

DRAMA:
 Money is spent as it is needed with about 59 per cent being put into permanent equipment and supplies. Under the present set-up, no large items are needed. That is, without storage space and adequate stage facilities it is impossible to buy new equipment. Stable materials are the largest expenditures and most expenses occur in connection with actual play production. As soon as the drama organization, Willamette University Players, becomes more organized, budgeting will quite possibly enable drama to break even on performance expenses.

Recommendations: Since more than 50 per cent of the funds allotted to the drama department have been put into permanent supplies, and since some of these supplies have been purchased which are no longer available, the drama department will be able to carry out an adequate program on 6 per cent of the ASWU budget.

fails to make repairs and replacements when they are necessary. Many expenditures are charged to this fund which should be charged to separate categories or to the reserve fund.

Recommendation: That the Office Fund be cut to 7 per cent. That a capital outlay fund be established to facilitate the purchase of permanent supplies and to make necessary repairs possible. This fund would be established by an allocation of 5 per cent for three years. The original outlay will be maintained by the gradual replacement of funds borrowed upon by the organizations benefitting from them. They will be controlled by the Finance Board which will be responsible for compelling groups to make adequate repayments to the outlay fund. After three years, the 5 per cent allocation will go into the Student Union fund.

RESERVE:

This fund is not being used as a true reserve fund but rather a miscellaneous one. This must be corrected by efforts of the Finance Board and General Manager. Any surplus over $500 at the end of the school year will be transferred to the Student Union building fund.

PUBLICATIONS:

Recommends that the dark room allotment be included within the budget of publications thereby to relieve the dark room manager of unnecessary financial responsibilities. Furthermore, the work of the dark room is almost entirely for publications, viz., the Wallulah.

LAW SCHOOL:

There is an obvious diversity of interest between the law school students and the liberal arts student. We feel that it is hardly justifiable that the law school support all student body activities, therefore we recommend that they support the 70 per cent of student body activities which are of a cultural nature and to which all students contribute. We recommend that they be exempt from the other 30 per cent of student body activities because they are chiefly social activities in which the law students have no interest. The student body dues paid by the law students shall be apportioned as follows: Publications 35 per cent, Office Fund 7 per cent, W.U. 3 per cent, Drama 6 per cent, Forensics 6 per cent, Student Union 8 per cent, Capital Outlay 5 per cent.

Recommendations: Change Article VI, Sec. 2. Correct to read—Student body dues are ten dollars per person per semester. Article VI, Sec. 3 to read as follows—The New Listing of budgetary allocations is as follows:

Publications	35 per cent
Office Fund	7 per cent
Willamette University	3 per cent
Social	5 per cent
Tuesday Chapel Fund	2 per cent
Drama	6 per cent
Forensics	6 per cent
Music	11 per cent
May Weekend	3 per cent
Student Union	8 per cent
Capital Outlay	5 per cent
Awards	1 per cent
Reserve	4 per cent
Classes	4 per cent

100
 Art. VI, Sec. 7. There will be the following qualification to the ASWU fund allotments.

1. At least 1 per cent of ASWU income shall be provided for the Darkroom, the sum to be taken out of the Publications allotment.

Norvada Smedley to Present Senior Recital Next Thursday

Norvada Smedley will give her senior recital Thursday evening, May 24, in the Waller hall auditorium at 8 p.m. Miss Smedley is taking a major in music education at the college of music and a minor in voice.

Her recital is given in partial fulfillment for a bachelor of music degree and will be the last of the senior recitals given this

Students Prepare Afternoon Recital

A student recital will be given today in the college of music recital hall at 3 p.m.

The program will begin with Carol Emerson, pianist, playing "Three Visions Fugitives" from op. 22 by Prokofieff. Webers "Second Concerto for Clarinet" will follow with Charles Martin, clarinetist. Alice Rose Jones will be his accompanist.

Jane Gray, pianist, will play "Sonata in C major," by Scarlatti, and "The Snow is Dancing" (from the Children's Corner Suite) by Debussy. Edna Marie Hill, pianist, will next play the virtuoso "Prelude in F Minor," by Chopin, to be followed by the "Etude in F Major," also by Chopin.

Completing the program will be two movements from the Mozart "Quintet in A Major K. 581," by Mozart. Gordon Mallory will be clarinetist, Martha Benard, violist, Thomas Facey and Doris McCain, violists, and Wilma Aller, violincellist.

Christensen Wins WSC Fellowship

Bob Christensen, senior mathematics major, accepted a teaching fellowship last week to Washington State college at Pullman.

He attended Willamette three years, and will continue his studies at WSC for an advanced degree.

Gates High Sees Willamette Movie

Ed Armstrong and Mrs. C. R. Nelson, representing Willamette's admissions office, visited Gates high school Tuesday. They showed the Willamette film to the members of the junior, senior and visual education classes.

year. Gladys Blue will accompany her.

The program will open with three songs by Bononcini, Sarti and Gluck. Part two will include "Elso's Dream" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner, and "Voi lo sapate," by Mascagni. Part three will include four German folk songs by Brahms: "Death and the Maiden," "The Linden Tree," "I Know a Maiden," and "Mary Wandering." Group four will include a selection of three songs called "Sketches of Paris," by Manning, "Echo," by Hindemith, and "The Buckle," by Bliss.

Also to be present is a group of five Irish and Welsh folk songs in a setting by Beethoven for voice and string trio. The songs are: "The Pulse of an Irishman," "Return to Ulster," "Aeolian Harp," "Waken Lords and Ladies Gay," and "Cupids Kindness."

Members of the string trio will be Gladys Blue, pianist, Doris McCain, violinist, and Wilma Aller, violincellist. Students, faculty and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Choir to Present Workshop Show

The Radio Workshop will feature the Willamette university choir during its regular Sunday show over KOCO at 9 p.m.

Under the student direction of Art Dimond, the choir will be presenting a wide variety of musical renditions which were most frequently sung during the current year. Producers of the show promise it to be a very entertaining program.

Duane Denney New MED Prexy

Duane Denney was recently elected president of Mu Epsilon Delta, pre-medic fraternity. Stephen Kwan will be vice-president, Dick Mercer, secretary, and Vance Yung, program chairman.

Petitions Due

Petitions for next year's Homecoming manager must be submitted to the student body office by next Wednesday. Persons seeking the position will be considered at the next student council meeting.

Class in Russian May Be Taught

Plans have been made to offer a one-year course in beginning Russian next year if five or more students sign up for the course.

Dr. Hocking will teach the subject which will be a three-hour accredited course, but will not fulfill the language requirement as the course probably will not be taught the following year.

New Men's Honorary Replaces Blue Key; Will 'Serve Need'

Twelve Willamette upperclassmen voted a new honorary fraternity into existence Tuesday with the formation of Cardinal Key, which will replace the Blue Key organization abandoned by the same men last month.

President Lou Prediletto presented a newly-written constitution to the group, which was adopted unanimously.

The constitution declares that "This organization shall serve as

Pianist, Arranger Turns Composer

Wayne Meusey, popular music student, organizer of the Wayne Meusey combo, pianist and arranger, has turned composer. He has written an "Opus Magnus," which he jestingly refers to as his "opus madness."

According to Meusey, the work is for string quartet and departs somewhat from the ordinary in that it has only one movement instead of the usual three or four.

He says that it has "some very unusual harmonies." The work is being tried out by members of the string quartet at the College of Music and may be played in student recital soon. It is about 20 minutes in length.

a student co-ordinating body in student - faculty - administration affairs." The group will hold monthly dinner meetings to discuss campus activities with officials and faculty members of the University.

It is to be a local honorary, with voting power limited to the twelve student members.

Though official confirmation of Cardinal Key has not yet been granted, President G. Herbert Smith said that he approved the principles of the organization.

Honorary members of Cardinal Key will include Smith, Dean Robert Gregg of the College of Liberal Arts, Dean of Students Mark O. Hatfield, ASWU General Manager Daniel Schulze, and two other faculty members.

Prediletto said that "This will serve a need on the campus that Blue Key as a service honorary was unable to fill. We need somewhere for students to sit with administration men on a friendly basis, and to talk out problems affecting students."

Charter members of Cardinal Key are Prediletto, Secretary Bill MacDougall, Bob Skirvin, Jack Gunn, Chuck Bowe, Sherm Bliss, Gil Oliver, Jack Brown, Burnell Ambrose, Dave Beckett, Dick Endsley and Stan Aschenbrenner.
