

ROY BOHLER HAS TASK OF GUIDING '21-22 BEARCATS

Brother of Two Northwest Coaches Is Ex-star of Washington State

OCTOBER 1 BRINGS GAME

New Mentor to Arrive in September and Prepare Team for Clash With Oregon; Big Games Listed for W. U.

Willamette's athletic career will be guided next year by Roy Bohler, ex-basketball and baseball star at Washington State College, and brother of George and Fred "Doc" Bohler, coaches at the University of Oregon and Washington State College, respectively.

Before attending W. S. C., Mr. Bohler played football, basketball and baseball for three years at Schuykill Academy, Reading, Penn. During his career at the State College, he was three times selected for the all-Pacific coast baseball nine, and twice for the mythical coast five in basketball. He was also a member of the football squad, and after his graduation was for two years assistant coach at W. S. C., directing freshman teams and physical education classes.

Leaving his alma mater, Mr. Bohler returned to Pennsylvania, where he spent three years as coach at Schuykill Academy. Later he spent a year at the Chicago Y. M. C. A. College, studying coaching and physical education. Coaching the basketball team at North Dakota Agricultural College last winter, Bohler developed a quintet of freshmen that lost the conference championship by a single point to the state university five. Before coming west again, the new Willamette mentor will take a summer course at the University of Illinois.

Mr. Bohler is recommended highly as a physical director and coach, and Willamette is considered fortunate in obtaining him. Among his recommendations is one from William "Lonestar" Dietz, who developed some powerful football eleven during his coaching career at Washington State College.

The new coach is expected to appear in Salem early in September. His first task will be the building of a team to meet the University of Oregon October 1; several other big games are also listed on the 1921 schedule.

Attempts to line up a practice game for September 24 have proved futile, so it is likely that the U. of O. battle will be the first one on the fall card. Two weeks later the Oregon Aggies will play the Bearcats on Sweetland Field, October 29 the College of Puget Sound will play in Salem, and on Armistice day, November 11, the Bearcat squad will meet Whitman at Walla Walla. This declination of Multnomah club for a Thanksgiving day battle leaves that date open, but it is probable that the Pacific University eleven may be secured for the occasion. Another game to complete the schedule may be arranged with Chemawa, Gonzaga, or Albany.

Ina Moore Conducts Field Day

On June 1 the pupils of Ina Moore's gymnasium classes presented a very successful field day at Mt. Angel Academy. The program consisted of a number of interpretative group dances, such as were given at Willamette at Junior week-end, and a series of indoor gymnasium exhibitions.

Miss Moore has spent a very successful year in her work with the girls at the academy, and the field program was a fitting culmination for her efforts.

Ex-service men receiving help from the Contenary fund this year were assembled in front of Eaton hall to have a group picture taken yesterday noon, as the Contenary board has requested that such a picture be sent them.

CRAVEN ALBERT WINNER

Popular Soloist Named By Students As Recipient of Prize

Everett Craven was named winner of the Albert prize for growth of character and influence by vote of the students last Friday. Craven, Maxine Buren and Fred Radschinner were nominated by the faculty for this honor and their names proposed to the student body a month ago.

Craven's honor is felt to be well deserved by the students among whom he has won a general popularity. He is a member of the glee club and is accepted as Willamette's foremost soloist. In addition Craven is a junior, a Philodorian, an ex-service man and married.

Lausanne: So you're going to be a farmer's wife? What do you know about a farm? You probably don't even know what butter is made of!

DR. BOLTON TALKS AT SENIOR CHAPEL

Announcement of Candidates for Senior Fraternity Made Today

A new addition to the senior chapel program will be included this noon in the uniting with these exercises of those connected with the senior fraternity honors. Because of this lengthening of the program, in this manner, the chapel bell will ring at 11 o'clock this morning and classes will be shortened proportionately.

President Doney will be in charge at the opening of the program to explain the significance and the purpose of the senior honorary society, and to announce the candidates from the class of 1921. Dr. Bolton, of the University of Washington, will then deliver a scholastic address, in keeping with the purpose of these recognitions.

Professor Matthews will open the second portion of the morning's program with one of his famous ten minute talks, Edwin Socolofsky, president of the class of '21, will then express the message of the seniors. In the absence of Harold Jory, Loren Basler will sing that hymn sacred to senior chapel and commencement, "Farewell, Willamette."

The Collegian management takes this opportunity to thank the business men of Salem for their loyal support in making The Collegian a success during the past year.

To the students—for their co-operation in patronizing Collegian advertisers, and trust that the support and co-operation with the Collegian advertisers will be continued in the years to come.

Lyceum Outlook Is Favorable

The outlook for the Salem Lyceum course next fall is by far better than it has been in past years. The course as outlined by the managers, Elmer Streyer and Fred Patton, is going to prove one of the most attractive that Salem has ever had. It will consist of five numbers; two big musical attractions by the highest class artists in the Ellison-White circuit; also two big lectures and an entertainment by an artist of national reputation. The course will start late in the fall and continue through the winter months.

Professor Ebsen desires that all students desiring summer courses meet in his room on the third floor of Eaton hall between 9 and 10 Monday morning, June 20.

CLASS DAY HOLDS IMPORTANT PLACE

Student Lunch to Be Served Under the Auspices of Four Classes

Seniors to Revive Custom of One Act Play to Be Presented Tuesday Evening; Class Stunts in Afternoon

Class Day this year will hold a more prominent place in the commencement week program than it has for some time. Alumni and campus visitors will desire to be on hand for the festivities of that day, Tuesday, June 14. The first big event will be the student lunch on the campus at one o'clock. The responsibility for this affair will be divided among the classes, and it will be a real jolly, all-school get-together.

At two o'clock, the program of class stunts will begin probably in front of Eaton Hall. The various classes are vying in producing masterpieces of originality and fun, which ought to amuse even the most sober professor.

Following the stunts, the presentation of the senior class gift will take place in the chapel. The remainder of the afternoon will be left open for the renewing of old acquaintances and inspection of the campus by the alumni and visitors for commencement.

In the evening the senior class will renew the custom of several years ago of putting on a play. The production will not be an elaborate one, but a very interesting one-act drama will be staged as a farewell effort of the class of '21. The name of the play and the cast of characters have not been divulged, but those who attend will not be disappointed.

The graduating class is desirous that all the students who can do so remain for commencement and help make class day the success that it should be.

JUNIORS TAKE TENNIS WITH ONE TOP SCORE

Freshman Nose Out Sophomores for Second Place; Appearances Give Seniors Rivalry Cup

Winning a first, a third, and two second places in the interclass tennis tournament held last week, the junior net team captured five points toward the rivalry cup. The freshman nose out the sophomores by a single point for second standing in the final results.

In the semi-finals of Class A singles, Gillette (Junior) defeated Alden in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3, while Davies (senior) won from Mickle (freshman) 8-6, 6-4. In the hardest match of the tournament, Davies took the deciding set from Gillette in the finals of Class A. After each player had annexed a set, the third one went to deuce time after time, each man having his opponent pointed at least once during the match. The score was: 5-7, 3-6, 8-6. Alden eliminated Mickle from the running in the contest for third place, taking the match, 6-4, 6-1.

In Class B, Collins and Emmel opened the competition with a lopping match, with the sophomore representative having the edge in placing his returns, and winning, 6-4, 6-2. Ramstead (freshman) eliminated Sackett, the junior's hope, 7-5, 6-4. In the finals, Ramstead continued his winning streak, and clinched first honors in Class B from Collins. Emmel was defeated by Sackett for third place.

Jackson (senior) seemed unable to settle down to his steady form in the opening Class C match with E. Warren (freshman), losing in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4. In a hard, three-set battle Richards (sophomore) was pushed out of the running by A. Warren (junior). Sprincing one of the surprises of the tournament, E. Warren turned the tables on his junior brother and won the final match, 6-3, 6-2. Jackson pushed Richards hard in the contest for third place, but lost out, 6-4, after "Rich" had the second set.

FINAL EXERCISES FOR THEOLOGUES

President Hickman Preaches Kimball Baccalaureate; Graduation Friday

This week sees the commencement exercises of Kimball School of Theology. Starting with the baccalaureate sermon preached Sunday morning by President Hickman, the final activities of the school year have been continuing through the week and will find their culmination on the graduating exercises and alumni reunions Friday afternoon and evening.

Tonight at 8 o'clock President and Mrs. Hickman will tender a reception in the college building to the faculty, students and friends of the school. At 2:30 p. m. Friday, Thomas Gallagher, D. D., of Portland will deliver the graduating address in the Kimball chapel, after which President Hickman will award the diplomas.

The baccalaureate sermon at the First M. E. church, Sunday morning, was well attended. President Hickman in advising the young ministers said that the world must get back to a few fundamentals and stressed the need of a rediscovery of God and of a rediscovery of sin. The unforgettable want in a minister, said President Hickman, is that of a sound moral conviction and a will to burn out his life for the cause.

Annual Vesper Service Led by Prof. Matthews

The annual V. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. vesper service will be held in the First Methodist church next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Professor Matthews is master of ceremonies for the afternoon and a unique and unusually interesting program is to be given. The address of the hour will be delivered by Professor Von Eschen and the best musical talent available in the university will appear on the program.

The vesper service is to be given in honor of the seniors and alumnae, as has been the custom. Each honored guest is to give, in a short talk, his departing message on "The Greatest Thing in College."

It is expected that the entire student body, the faculty, a large number of the alumnae and many friends will attend the vesper service.

Special A. S. B. Meeting Held

A special student body meeting was called last Friday at Chapel period. Business of the day included a number of important student announcements and the casting of ballots for the Albert prize.

President Doney Introduces Plan and Professor Matthews Gives Talk After Which Student Body Adopts Constitution

During the chapel period yesterday morning plans were perfected for having Willamette students take an active part in the campaign to raise the funds for the new $15,000 gymnasium.

First President Doney said a few words describing the building that it is hoped can be built. Besides a large floor for basketball and other games there will be an extensive system of showers, lockers, etc. There will also be a swimming tank and a baseball cage.

Professor Matthews made one of the speeches for which he is famous. He traced the development of athletics at Willamette from its earliest development. (No. Tuffy Irvine was not heard from.)

A special meeting of the student body was then called by the president, Paul Flegel, and action was taken to organize the Willamette Gymnasium Boosters' club, the constitution of which was read by Lawrence Davies and adopted unanimously. It follows:

Inasmuch as we feel that the greatest possible effort should be exerted by the administration and students of W. U. for the securing of a new gymnasium in the very near future, and

Since it is our desire to co-operate with and assist in the campaign for the gymnasium soon to be held by the Board of Trustees. And

Since we feel that great benefits may be derived in both interests and (Continued on page 4)

SONG BOOK NOW SELLING

Second Supplement Gone to Press; Advance Sale On

The second supplement to the Willamette song book has come to press and will soon be in the hands of the students. An advance sale is now in progress with committees in charge in each of the classes. Orders may also be left at the varsity book store.

The first announcement of these facts, as given by Ivan Corner in student body meeting last Friday, was received with cheers by a long waiting crowd. This supplement is being published by the Websterians who have been working upon it for about five years. All the leading songs adopted since the publication of the first supplement will be incorporated in the book, including those from this year's glee.

The supplement is obtainable in three different forms: included in the old song book, for students who have no book at all, selling for $2.50; the supplement alone, to be placed in a book already owned, at $1.50; or the supplement in a cover, for those who do not care to own the first part of the book.

TENNIS MEN PICK ANOTHER VICTORY

Two Out of Three Matches Secured in Meet With Oregon Aggies

Willamette's tennis team tucked away another northwest conference victory last Friday when they won from the Oregon Agricultural College players in two of the three matches. "Nibs" Moodie disposed of Kenneth Joy, the Aggie singles champion, in straight sets, 6-0, 6-4, forcing a left-hander and playing on dirt courts for the first time this year. Doney lost his match to Mahery of O. A. C., 6-3, 6-5.

Altho the varsity net men lost the first set of the doubles, 2-7, they came from behind and took the next two, 6-3, 10-8. The last set was the feature of the afternoon, Moodie and Doney having a point-set victory no less than 15 times. After the set went to deuce, the Willamette players won the odd game each time, so that the Aggies were fighting an uphill battle for the last 10 games.

The victory at Corvallis is the second for the varsity within the last two weeks, the Washington State College team having been trimmed in a dual tournament here recently.

The dual tournament with the University of Oregon, scheduled for last Saturday afternoon, was cancelled by the lemon-yellow officials, by mistake as was discovered later.

Margaret Bowen, Willamette singles representative, went to Eugene Friday for matches with the University of Oregon and O. A. C. seeded players. Altho inexperienced in college tennis, Miss Bowen forced Madeline Staboom, the Oregon champion, to a deuce set, losing finally 6-3, 8-6. Saturday she was matched with Alice Nielsen of O. A. C., who took the first set 6-3. In the next set the Willamette representative took the first five games, after which the match was called to enable the Corvallis team to leave for home.

With the good start made in tennis this spring, it is expected that this branch of athletics will be pushed even harder in 1922. Besides the cancelled U. of O. tournament the season's schedule shows two distinct victories for Willamette in the three tournaments with conference schools. Moodie and Doney will both be in school next spring; an undisciplined conference championship in tennis is predicted for the cardinal and gold by many followers of the game.

McKittrick Athletic Manager

Bryan McKittrick has been named by the executive committee as athletic manager for the year 1921-22. Mr. McKittrick is ably suited to fill this position as he is well versed in the business of athletics and having served Willamette four years on the floor and on the diamond is no inexperienced player.

President Doney to Confer Degrees Upon Graduates; Announcement of Prizes and Scholarships Will Follow

Willamette University's seventy-seventh annual commencement will be held Wednesday, June 15 at ten o'clock in the morning. The oration at this time will be given by Rev. J. R. Magee, D.D., who is pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Seattle.

At 9:30 a. m. the procession of faculty and seniors will form at Eaton hall, whence they will proceed to the church. They will be welcomed by an organ procession.

Just who will give the invocation and the scripture reading has not yet been definitely decided, but there will be music before and after the address. President Doney will confer degrees upon the largest class ever graduated from Willamette after which ceremony will come the announcement of prizes and of senior scholarships.

The following will receive degrees: Graecla Clyde Ausman, Carrie Elizabeth Berg, Iris M. Chenoweth, Charlotte May Crohan, Gladys Mae Croser, Beatrice Alberta Dunning, Jessie Winifred Eyre, Mildred Garret, Edna Gilbert, Marguerite A. Gutchow, Areta Vesper Jones, Elsie R. Lippold, M. ## Ten Baseball Men to Receive Letters Next Fall Is Announcement

Ten members of the 1921 baseball nine will be awarded letters next fall, according to an announcement from the awards committee at Friday's student-body session. Men earning their "W" during the past season are: Irvine, pitcher; Townser, catcher; McKittrick, first baseman; Page, second baseman; Basler, third baseman; Shafer, third baseman; Davies, shortstop; Power, Inlet, and Gonzans, outfielders.

All of the men except Townser, Shafer, and Gonzans already possess baseball letters. At least three of the lettermen will not be on hand for the varsity season in 1922; Page, Basler, and Davies will all graduate this spring. The absence of these men together with McKittrick, who has played his four years of college baseball, will necessitate the development of a new infield next year. The present combination which with an occasional shifting has remained intact during the last two years, has been recognized as one of the best in the conference.

There's always something to be thankful for. A one-legged man never has to worry about tripping over his own feet.—Michigan Daily.

BUILD THAT GYM

About a month ago Willamette lost a coach and a gym. Now Willamette has secured a new coach, she had already started upon a plan to secure a new gym, and we must continue with it. Remember the pledges you made last spring, and have them paid by fall. As we go out for the summer, let us do all we can to inspire enthusiasm for this new gymnasium and to cooperate with all plans being made to secure it.

YOU ARE STILL A WILLAMETTE STUDENT

In a few more days Willamette University will have completed another year of her existence. In a few more days we shall all be on our way to various places in the Northwest or elsewhere.

But it is well to remember that while we are not actually studying at Willamette we are still Willamette students. In a way every college student represents his college. Wherever he is, whatever he may be doing, somebody will be noticing him; somebody will be forming opinions of him, and thru him of his school.

It is well for all of us to keep this fact in mind. Whatever reputation a Willamette student makes he makes not merely for himself, he either adds to or subtracts from the reputation of Willamette by just that much.

DO YOU WANT A GOOD HAND-BOOK?

Everyone knows how valuable the student hand-book is at the beginning of each school year. The freshmen gain a part of their first impressions of Willamette from the type of the hand-book which is given them. They take it that the kind of book published is indicative of the spirit of the institution, and every loyal Willamette supporter wants to see a neat, handy Y. M. Y. W. C. A. book published.

But we cannot get something for nothing, and it is certain we cannot have a hand-book without money with which to publish it. The Christian associations cannot provide enough funds for the purpose, hence we must depend upon the loyalty

ALUMNI NOTES

A. B. '84

Oregon will have more to do with the final figures in the agricultural schedule of the permanent tariff than any other state. Congressman W. C. Hawley, A. B. '84, and former president of Willamette University, as chairman of the sub-committee on the agricultural schedule of the ways and means committee, has completed his work and reported the findings of the sub-committee to his associates on the general committee.

It is the expectation of all the members of the ways and means committee that the completed tariff bill will be reported to the house some time this month. Unless there is some unforeseen fight on the bill on the floor of the house, it is expected the measure will be passed and sent to the senate early in June. Barring wide discrepancies between the action of the house and the senate, the permanent tariff could be in the hands of the president for signature by the middle of July.

Juniors Take Tennis

As were viewed during the four days' tourney, the juniors coming thru their two contests and safely winning first place. In the semi-finals, the senior team, composed of Emmet and Davies, lost to Gillette and Sackett, juniors, 7-5, 6-3. The sophomores, Alden and Collins, disposed of the freshman team, Mickle and Ramstead, after a hard-fought match, 7-5, 6-4. In the finals the junior squad showed the sophomores into second place by winning 8-6, 6-2, and the freshman crowded the seniors out of the third position by taking the match 6-8, 6-3, 6-4.

Apparently, the tennis-tournament will have little effect upon the final standings of the classes for the rivalry trophy. Although no official count has been made by the interclass rivalry committee, a check of the points won by the different classes indicates that the class of 1921 has taken first place for the second consecutive year. The juniors will doubtless take five points for the largest number of lettermen on varsity teams, whereas the seniors should capture second honors in this connection. Third place will go to the sophomores. Without taking the "W" men into consideration, the seniors are leading the field by a single point, and altho the juniors are due to take 10 points in a single sweep, their previous standing was too low to give them a chance at the interclass cup.

A pleasant vacation to our Willamette patrons. We thank you for your patronage during the past year and hope you will continue to let us serve you in the future. D. H. Mosher, 474 Court St.—adv.

(By Lorlei Blatchford)

Just as the crocus and the blue-bird tell us when spring has come, so do the days when the sedate seniors leave off coming to classes denote the nearness of commencement and vacation. It is with mingled emotions that the last pleasure of the year recedes into memory as one utters an incantation of farewell:

I. It is June upon the campus
And you go,
And in June I would be lonely,
But I know

II. That in summer for Willamette
You will yearn;
And in autumn to the campus
Will return.

On Saturday afternoon the boys and girls of the deaf school were the guests of the Willamette Y. W. C. A. at a picnic in Painter's woods. Even tho' there could be no vocal exuberance, the delight of the children could be guessed by the joyous enthusiasm with which they jumped rope and played ball. After a lively game of flying dutchman, ice cream cones were served to the appreciative guests. When the last little lad had had his third cone the picnic came to an end. The expressive, but unexpressed, joy that shone on the faces of the children of silence was to the hostesses high reward for the afternoon spent.

On Friday the Phi halls were a scene of a joyful reunion. 'Dorians and 'Dorians had united to hear the program which the freshman girls were to give in honor of the seniors. The program opened with an "Ode to the Seniors," sung by Edith Brooks. Kathleen La Raut gave a piano solo and there followed the "Gypsy's Revelations." The Gypsy, once Marjorie Cable, saw in her crystal the future of all six senior Philodossians. The revelations were surprising and interesting. From Fay and her missionary barrel to Marguerite on the stage. Of particular dramatic interest to the help-less spectators was the arrival of two vicious cannibals, who carried away poor Sibyl amid her cries for Paul. The program closed with a "Farewell to the Seniors," sung by Irene Brainerd.

Howard George led a snappy parliamentary drill, then the new Philodossian officers were installed: President, Mildred Clarke; vice president, Grace Brainerd; recording secretary, Ruth Smith; corresponding secretary, VeOna Williams; treasurer, Eva Ledbetter; critic, Vivian Isham; sergeant-at-arms, Marguerite Cook; reporter, Ruth Hill; kitchen custodians, Kathleen La Raut and Marjorie Cable.

After the business meeting refreshments were served and the Phils disbanded until the joyous fall.

Miss Remoh Tryer of Grants Pass, was a guest of Miss VeOna Williams at Lausanne, during the early part of last week. She was on her way home from the debate tournament in which she participated at Eugene.

Caroline Stober and Lelsa Ruby journeyed to Portland to spend the week-end at home.

Miss Alma Wells spent the week-end enjoying the wonders of nature at her home in Independence.

A jolly party, consisting of Lucille Tucker, Laura Ruggless, Mildred Brown, Bob Story, Don Lockwood, and Dean Pollock, left early Saturday morning for a trip up the highway. The weather being fair, the party enjoyed a merry day of picnicking. They spent Saturday night and Sunday in Portland, returning to Salem on Sunday evening.

Miss Caroline Courtney, a member of the affirmative debating team of Grants Pass high school, has been the guest of Miss Isham at the Delta Phi house during the past week.

The Alpha Psi Delta fraternity announces the pledging of John Moody and Frank Bennett.

Dinner guests at the Alpha Psi Delta house Friday evening, May 20, were Miss Mildred Lawson of Spokane and Miss Fay Pratt.

Miss Emma Shanafelt and Mr. Lester Day had dinner "at the farm" last Sunday.

Miss Mary Paroungian, ex-'19, has also returned to Salem after a successful year's teaching at Clatskanie, Ore.

Mr. Vernor Sackett journeyed to Sheridan to spend Memorial Day.

Miss Marjory Flegel spent the week-end at her home in Portland.

Bright and early on Sunday morning the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet hastened to Bush's pasture to prepare breakfast for the senior women. The sun was shining, birds were singing and the merry picnic makers worked with light hearts. About 7:30 the girls of the senior class, accompanied by Miss Emma Shanafelt, president of the Y. W. C. A., arrived. The table was spread under the trees, and was decorated with varicolored wild flowers. A delicious repast was served, consisting of strawberries on the stem, chilling a mound of powdered sugar, bacon and eggs, hot buns, jelly, doughnuts, coffee, and bananas. The breakfast was indeed a happy get-together. Other guests were Mrs. Elsen, and the Misses Grace Bagley, Mary Findley and Mary Paroungian.

Last Saturday morning the boys who worked so faithfully in burning up the remains of the gym, were liberally treated to punch and ice cream, by the committees appointed from the various classes. The girls report that the workers were very enthusiastic over the refreshments, while the boys say that the treats were fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Portland arrived Friday night to visit their daughters, Helen and Vashti. The family motored to Corvallis on Saturday, returning to Portland Saturday evening. Miss Jean Bailey accompanied them to Portland. The Misses Johnson and Bailey motored back to Salem on Sunday afternoon in company with Mr. Donald Ryan of Salem.

Miss Beatrice Thompson entertained with a delightful party on Saturday night for the members of the cast and managerial staff of "A Rose of Plymouth Town." Many clever and interesting games were participated in by those present. A grab bag afforded much entertainment and amusement. Delicious refreshments of brick ice-cream and cakes were served at a late hour.

Miss Helen Johnson was the guest of honor at two dinner parties last week. On Thursday evening Miss Jean Bailey entertained the Misses Helen Johnson, Vashti Johnson, and Alma Wells, at her home. A large birthday cake with the correct number of candles was the center of attraction. On Friday evening, Miss Johnson was happily surprised with a birthday party at the hall. The table was daintily decorated with pink rosebuds and pink crepe paper. An immense birthday cake, covered with pink candles centered the table. Covers were laid for the Misses Helen Johnson, Vashti Johnson, Alma Wells, Jean Bailey, Carol Cheney, Margaret Gates, Ruth Taylor, and Helen Dark.

The senior members of Sigma Tau entertained with a dinner at the Sigma Tau house on Sunday, June 5. The guests were the Misses Sybil Smith, Mildred Garrett, Charlotte Croisan, Fay Peringer, Margaret Cook, Edna Gilbert, Mary Notson, Myrtle Mason, Evelyn DeLong, Elsie Gilbert, Faye McKinis, Marjory Flegel, and VeOna Williams. Dean and Mrs. Alden chaperoned.

Mr. Fred Halverson of Forest Grove, was a visitor of the Alpha Psi Delta house last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Sackett of Eugene are the proud father and mother of a baby girl, Harriet Elizabeth, born on Friday, June 3.

A fine eight-pound boy was born at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Booth of San Francisco on June 1. His name is Warren Roscoe Jr.

One of the best Y. W. C. A. meetings of the year was held in the chapel on Tuesday morning when Miss Mary Findley, recently returned from a year's study in Columbia University and social service work in New York city, spoke to the organization.

Miss Findley told many of her most interesting experiences in her characteristic charming manner, and was greatly appreciated by her listeners.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dimick, both of whom attended Willamette last year, announce the arrival of a son, Harold Marion. Mr. and Mrs. Dimick have spent the past year at Tillamook.

Colonel Byers Relates Modoc War Adventures

Colonel Byers, who attended Willamette in '61 and '62 was the chapel speaker at the Memorial Day exercises held Friday, May 27. After telling of some very funny incidents of his college life, he recalled some of his war experiences in the First Oregon cavalry against the Indians. His unit operated in a large territory from Klamath Falls to northeastern Oregon. He recounted a narrow escape from death which he had while surveying in Klamath during the Modoc wars.

"Lahoma," the Edgar Lewis-Path production that comes Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the Liberty theater makes us realize how very recent is some of the history of the United States.

That those days of Oklahoma in the making were thrilling, dangerous, adventurous and romantic is shown in "Lahoma," which has been produced with a fidelity to types, habits, customs and topography that is proof of Edgar Lewis's familiarity with that country.

"Scrambled Wives," the vehicle chosen by Miss Marguerite Clark for her first independent production, which will be the attraction of the Liberty theater for four days, beginning Sunday, was one of the most amusing comedies on Broadway this year. After a long run in New York, it was taken to Chicago, where its first success was duplicated.

GREAT SECRET REVEALED

Senior Membership of Cocodossians and Cocodorian Told

Inasmuch as operations of the Cocodossian and Cocodorian Literary society have occasioned many inquiries and given rise to much speculation as to the purpose of the organization, its scope and field of endeavor, it has been thought advisable to publish a statement for the benefit of those interested. The society is well organized and efficiently managed, and includes among its members many influential and popular students, all of whom have enthusiastically cooperated to firmly establish the organization at Old Willamette.

The society was first introduced by the appearance of posters and announcements in Eaton hall. Activities have not been restricted to the formal banquet, the early morning breakfasts and the customary society joints, but the members have endeavored to project the spirit of the organization into the campus life of the entire student body by a poster campaign—by serving peanuts at the junior play, by providing a clock to be used when the clouds rendered the sun dial useless, and by many other events of aesthetic and practical value.

The society will convene for its last social and business session within the next few days. This last meeting shall consist of a farewell gathering in honor of the graduating members who are the nut cracker, an ex-student body president and yell king, who will bear high our torch in Portland, the High Nut, who scored a wonderful success in debate at Pullman, and the nut censor who recently appeared in two recitals under the direction of the School of Music.

To just what limit of self-sacrifice an artist will go in order to play a role he likes was strikingly illustrated when Paramount was searching for an actor to interpret the role of Tommy Sandys in Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," which will be shown this week-end at the Oregon theater.

Gareth Hughes, a 22-year old Welsh actor was about to begin a coveted starring engagement with Metro, in California, and as he appeared to be the logical Tommy of all the young actors in the country, an offer was made to him to play the part, but there was one tremendous drawback; Gareth had been ordered to the hospital by his physician to undergo an operation for appendicitis. "The operation can go bang," wired back Gareth. "I just must play Tommy. He is the most lovable boy."

A diamond necklace worth $50,000 always is good to look at, even though it lies in a plush case in a jeweler's show case. But when you have a close-up of it as you do in the Cosmopolitan-Paramount picture, "Proxies," which comes to the Grand theater for three days beginning next Sunday, you have an additional thrill.

This necklace, according to the story of "Proxies," was the antenuptial present of Homer Carleton to his fiancée, Carlotta Darley, daughter of a millionaire. The necklace is placed in Darley's safe for safekeeping, but Clare Conway, a maid of predatory instincts, learns the combination and possesses herself of the adornment.

When Peter, the butler, her sweetheart, catches her with the jewel case in her possession, he forces her to return it and reminds her of her promise to live as straight as he, a former convict is doing. Thus a double love story, embellished by many thrills, the results of situations that arise, develops.

A pleasant vacation to our Willamette patrons. We thank you for your patronage during the past year and hope you will continue to let us serve you in the future. D. H. Mosher, 474 Court St.—adv.

Alumni to Gather Here At Commencement Time
Wednesday will witness a gathering of the alumni upon the Willamette campus. In the afternoon at four o'clock will be held their annual business meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year. In the evening a reception will be held at Lausanne hall after which the company will adjourn to the First Methodist church for the annual banquet. It is hoped that there will be several members of the class of '22, 50-year graduates, at the gathering. Representatives of the class of 1897, 25-year graduates, will also be greeted as honor guests.
