WORLD DEBATE TOUR PLANS BEING FORMED

Plan of Trip Is to Include Eastern Colleges of United States and Europe

CAIRO TERMINUS OF TRIP

Witty and Redding Are Considered Best Possibilities for Debating Squad

A tour of eastern United States, Canada, and Europe next year by a Willamette university debate team is being planned by forensic officials. It became known last week. Those interested in the proposal have held meetings during the past few days, to do preliminary work.

Dr. John O. Hall, who has a number of friends in European universities, conceived the idea for the trip last year, following the successful tour of the western coast by Charles Redding and Robert Witty, juniors.

If the public speaking officials vote to undertake the tour, correspondence with colleges on the proposed route will be started immediately. It is planned to send a two man team to New York, meeting schools enroute—where they will take passage for Europe to meet institutions in England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland. The trip will be financed by contributions from prominent Willamette alumni, the student body, and guarantees from the schools debated.

While an intensive elimination try-out would be held to determine the team's personnel, it is believed that Redding and Witty would have the edge. These two men have indicated their willingness to forego graduation this year, so as to be eligible to represent the university as undergraduates should they be chosen.

Redding, who is president of the student body, and a Salem man, has debated three years for Willamette with singular success. Last year, Witty and Redding tied with University of Southern California for the coast debate title in the Pacific Forensic League competition, gaining victories over Southern California, Oregon Agricultural college, and Washington state college.

ADDITIONAL BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY COLLECTION

New Reference Dictionaries and Many Interesting Books Come to Librarian During Week

Two large dictionaries and ten new books have been added to the University library during the past week. Funk and Wagnall's New Standard Dictionary and Webster's International are to be kept on the first corner table along with the Readers' Guides.

The books, which deal with the variety of object matter are: "The Portion for the Children," Frank Scribner; "The Shining Pyramid," Arthur Machen; "Letters of Travels," Phillips Brooks; "The Mind at Work," Ronald Lyman; "The Aesthetic Attitude," H. S. Longfield; "How to Read," J. B. Kerfoot; "Lyric Forms From France," Helen L. Cohen; "How to Study Pictures," Charles Coffin; "Reforging America," L. Stoddard.

A small booklet entitled "Outline of Church History" was presented to the library by the author, Frederick D. Aldrich, Mr. Aldrich graduated from Willamette with the class of '21.

Co-ed Begs to Differ and Gives her Idea; Ideal Date is Neither Serious Nor Silly

A few cynical men, revolting in their cultivated pessimism, accuse the co-eds of looking upon men as meal tickets. The defendants sternly plead "not guilty," but at the same time they consider a statement of their preferences most timely.

An ideal date is neither silly nor serious—just interesting. A sense of humor is a much desired attribute. Happy is the man who can entertain with a few original bursts of wit and at the same time appreciate his companion's similar efforts.

Hobbies help to fill in conversational lapses, but their use can be carried to the extreme. It is to be hoped that no one will copy the ardent Biology student who on the way to the theater overwhelmed his date by abruptly kneeling to examine a bug.

There are a few common horses whom everyone dreads. First comes the person who apologizes continual-

EXECUTIVE ELECTION RESULTS IN RE-VOTE

White, Junior Representative at Large, Only Member Elected On First Ballot

The election of the members of the executive committee of the associated students for the senior, sophomore, and freshman classes are still pending until another election at which the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes at the last election will again be candidates. The only class representative which received a majority on the first ballot was Ivan White who was elected from the Junior class.

The students which will again be voted upon are: seniors, Kenneth McCormick and Willis Hathaway; sophomores, Frances McGilvra and Frank Lambert; and Freshmen, Harold Colgan and Dwight Adams. There was also a failure on the first vote to give a majority to any of the faculty for the faculty representative on the committee. Dean Erickson and Prof. Matthews will be voted on again by the students.

Gurnee Flesher was elected chairman of the interclass rivalry committee.

Standing committees which were appointed by the student body president, Charles Redding were: Freshmen glee advisory committee, Kenneth McCormick, Margaret Arnold, and Louise Findley; Constitutional revision committee, Hugh McGilvra, Robert Witty, and Ivan White; Collegian contract committee, Everett Fisher, Kenneth LaViolette, and Wendell Keck; Student chapel committee, Willis Hathaway, Irene Brethaupt, and Margaret Arnold.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS DISCUSSED BY KEENE

Athletics Held to be Beneficial to All By Head of Physical Education Department

At the first meeting of the campus Y. M. C. A. for the year Spic Keene addressed the men on the topic of "Athletics in College." Keene pointed out the benefits of certain classes of athletics to the college student and although he granted that all could not take part in varsity sports he said that athletics could be planned so that everyone could have a part. To answer this need for a more inclusive program of athletics he said that there was being planned a schedule for intra-mural athletics which would be announced later.

Coach Keene stressed the relationship of school spirit and to athletics and their mutual dependence.

The leaders of the association for the coming meetings are as follows:

- Oct. 12, Europe as seen by an American student, James Rettle.
- Oct. 19, Near East as seen by an American student, Kenneth McCormick.
- Oct. 26, Australia, Prof. Matthews.
- Nov. 2, Fraternities, Dean Dubach of Oregon State College.
- Nov. 9, Christianity and Industry, Pres. N. F. Coleman of Reed College.
- Nov. 16, Thanksgiving, James Palmer of Portland Y. M. C. A.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 12. (PIP)—Three styles of hats have been chosen by the senior insignia committee as possibilities for this year's senior hat. They were selected from an assortment of over 20 hats with the idea of utility as well as of appearance in mind. They are of the broad brim-low crown variety and light brown in color. All these hats are of soft felt, with a bordered brim.

MCCORMICK MANAGER FOR 1927 HOMECOMING EVENT

Executive Committee Offers Trophy For Fraternity or Sorority Having Best Sign

At the meeting of the executive committee Tuesday noon, Kenneth McCormick was chosen as manager of homecoming for this year. McCormick is a senior and has served in the capacity of manager on two previous occasions, namely, Freshman Glee and May day of year before last.

Other business of the meeting was the appropriation of two hundred dollars for the use of the manager in making a success of homecoming; the giving of a silver loving cup to the sorority or fraternity who makes the best welcome sign; and the appropriation of money to cover half of the expense of the Willamette band book.

"I'm very careful; I always send my children out of the house before I quarrel with my husband."
"I thought the little dears looked as though they led an outdoor life."

ANNUAL FRATERNITY BOOK HONORS THE WALLULAH

Activity of Membership of Delta Chapter Recognized; Excellent Work Reason for Praise

In the 1927 edition of the Beta Chi Alpha magazine, Delta chapter of Willamette University received honorable mention a column in length. Also, a cut of the staff is included. This booklet is published annually at Alma, Michigan by Beta Chi Alpha fraternity national honorary whose purpose is to better college annuals.

Members of the local organization were congratulated for having edited a fine college annual. Mention was made that Delta Chapter was the first to send in its exchange book for the year. The National Council of the fraternity took note of the many activities of Kenneth Litchfield and gave him the honors as an all around ultra-curriculum man. Mr. Litchfield has served as business manager of the Wallulah, member of varsity basketball and tennis teams.

WALLULAH PHOTOGRAPHING

Editor Reports that Cooperation of Members of Freshmen Class Is Pleasing

The Wallulah editor reports that the splendid cooperation of the Freshman class this year has made it possible for the Sophomores to begin having their pictures taken today. The Sophomore schedule will continue until Wednesday, Oct. 19, Junior week is scheduled for Oct. 26 to 28, and Seniors may have their pictures taken for the Wallulah between Oct. 27 and Nov. 2. The remaining three classes are urged to note the time for having their pictures taken and to make the necessary arrangements by checking a convenient date on the bulletin board list and then being careful to keep it at the Kennel-Ellis studio. Mr. Geddes says that as fine a spirit of cooperation on the part of Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors as that displayed by the Freshmen will mean that all pictures will be taken and cared for by homecoming week.

All students are asked to present their tuition bill receipt and receive their student body tickets from the vice president of the student body at the student body office in Eaton hall up to date only 325 of the 525 or more students have called for their tickets. The coupons attached to these tickets are necessary in having Wallulah pictures taken, and those who have not done so yet are urged to obtain them at once.

WILLIS C. HAWLEY ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Vice-Chairman of House Ways and Means Committee Talks on Experience as a Legislator

Representative Willis C. Hawley delivered the chapel address Monday morning on "The Congress of the United States." Mr. Hawley who is a graduate of Willamette with the class of 1884 has served as a congressman for the last 20 years.

The responsibilities and duties of a congressman were already explained and brought before the students by Mr. Hawley. Of special interest was a careful discussion of congressional procedure.

Mr. Hawley cited some rather stupendous figures of taxation when he said that ninety billion dollars have been raised by the ways and means committee since he has been a member of it. At present Mr. Hawley is serving as vice-chairman of that committee.

In 1884-85, Mr. Hawley was president of Oregon State normal school and from 1891 to 1907 he occupied the position as instructor of Latin, mathematics and history in Willamette university. During the latter part of this period he served as head of the history department. For the next six years Mr. Hawley acted as president of the university. Mr. Hawley credits the influence of a Yale graduate who was a very dear friend of his as being instrumental in arousing his ambitions towards congress.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 12.—(PIP)—The young men's debating team will meet 18 colleges and universities at its debate tour this year. The schedule includes debates with the Universities of Utah, Wyoming, Willamette, and Occidental colleges. The tentative question is "Resolved, that the American policy in Nicaragua should be abandoned."

BEETHOVEN SOCIETY SPONSORS CONCERTS

Salem Artist Series Will Include Many Famous Musicians For Winter Season

FOUR PROGRAMS INCLUDED

Brailowsky, Edward Johnson, Mary Lewis, and London String Quartet Included

Salem is able to call itself fortunate in having this winter the second annual presentation of the Salem Artist Series. Last winter the series included Cecilia Hansen Dohnanyi, Ukrainian National Chorus, and Werrenrath, the world's greatest tenor. This season the numbers are as great and will prove the series a success.

The first number, Thursday, October 27, will be Alexander Brailowsky, the great Russian pianist. Critics are unanimous in their praise of his playing and they give him a brilliant technique and a keen interpretation—which praise is seldom paid any artist.

Edward Johnson, the Metropolitan's favorite tenor, who was chosen for the leading tenor role in "The King's Henchman" will sing Friday evening, November 25. He, by some critics, is given the highest honors which have been accorded any singer.

On January 26, Salem will be honored by the presence of Mary Lewis, the brilliant Metropolitan opera star. Everyone will remember her sensational debut two years ago, and of the almost instant fame showered upon her. This will be her first appearance in Salem.

At the last number of the series the London String Quartet will present its program. This quartet, founded in 1908, has been playing for nineteen years, and has produced more than a hundred new works. It has been called the world's greatest chamber music organization.

The Salem Artist Series this year is again being sponsored by the Beethoven society and special student tickets may be secured from them.

WILLAMETTE GIRLS LEAD AS RESERVE SUPERVISORS

Women Plan to Act as Leaders of Girl Reserve Groups in Junior High and Grade Schools

Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Baker, general secretary of the Salem Y. M. C. A., plans are being formulated to organize, with the permission of the principals, girl reserve clubs in the junior high and grade schools of Salem. These clubs are to be under the immediate supervision of Willamette students—two supervisors for each club.

A meeting of the advisory committee was held on Friday afternoon, at the Y. M. C. A. At this meeting Miss Baker outlined the nature of the advisory work. Those present were: Marian Michaelson, Evelyn Hartung, Buneva Culbertson, Esther Lisle, Loretta Varley, Lysle Scheldt, Minnie Shrode, Bernice Mulvey, Marvella Edwards, Esther Dierfemach, Dorothy Taylor, Ruth Burch, Leah Fanning, Dorothy Estling, and Dorothy Hutcheson.

The girl reserve movement is an organization within the Y. W. C. A. for younger girls, and is international in its aspect. The object of this movement in direct accordance with the purpose of the Y. W. C. A., is to make a contribution to those elements in the life of a girl which set free the ideals and convictions that help her live as a Christian of her age. It endeavors to aid her to grow, through normal activities, into the habits, insights, and ideals which will make her a responsible, eager, and capable woman.

Girl reserves are grouped, usually, according to their ages and interests, into triangles. The duties of the triangle are performed through three committees, membership, social, and service. The Blue Triangle of the girl reserves should symbolize to every girl who wears it the highest type of service for God and country.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock a number of girls gathered around the fireplace in the living room of Lausanne Hall to receive a surprise party for Mildred Hubbard. The occasion was in honor of her birthday. Those who participated in the affair were: Eugenia Savage, Roberta VanDerEden, Edna VanDerEden, Emma Mober, Theresa Mober, Elma Hubbard, Ruth Mober, and Carolyn Mober. The occasion was a very enjoyable one.

What will the people do with all these names after they get through paying for their automobiles?

WILLAMETTE IN VOLUME OF UNIVERSITY DEBATES

Negative Speeches of Redding and Berreman on Supreme Court Question Selected

In the recently published volume of the handbook of intercollegiate debates which includes only those of the highest standard, Willamette has been recognized by the editor Egbert Ray Nichols.

The debate held at Redland, California on March 1925 on the subject of the restriction of the power of the Supreme court in which Charles Redding and Joel Berreman of Willamette University upheld the negative, has been published in handbook for 1927.

The editor in his forward states that the University of Redlands and Willamette University are perhaps the two strongest debating colleges of their size on the Pacific Coast and that their records for the last fifteen years show consistent ability and high standards. He also states that the debates included in the volume compare to advantage with previously published debates which were given by colleges of national and international reputation in forensics.

STUDENTS ARE CAST IN "WHITE COLLARS"

Managers and Several Players in DeMolay Production Students of Willamette

Of interest to Willamette students is the play to be presented by the Salem DeMolay chapter on November 1st. The play, "White Collars," which was one of the season's hits presented by the Henry Duffy players in Portland this summer, is to be given at the Elsinore theatre, and five of the nine people in the cast are Willamette students.

The play is being managed by Bob Sears and Jack Minto, and under their direction it will be widely advertised in Salem and many nearby towns. This is the first local dramatic production to be presented in Salem's best theater, and every effort is being made to insure the presentation's success. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Brazier C. Small, a dramatic critic and instructor of wide experience.

"White Collars," which is a quite recent work, presents, as suggested by the title, the problems of the "Great Middle Class." It outlines the difficulties encountered by men who hold "white collar" jobs. It shows what "cast-iron class consciousness" will do to happy associations within a family. It shows where the differences arise between the rich and the "respectable poor."

Jack Minto has the part of William Van Luyk, the man rich by inheritance; Harold Tomlinson takes the role of Frank Thayer, a "white collar" whose sister becomes the wife of her employer, Van Luyk; Kathryn Elgin plays the part of Nellie Thayer, Frank's other and flapper sister; Martha Hobson is Sally Van Luyk, Bill's aristocratic but well-meaning sister; and Charles Kaufman acts as the obnoxious exponent of the "Great Middle Class," Cousin Henry. Other players besides the Willamette students are Betty Shipley as Mrs. Thayer, Charles Bier as Mr. Thayer, Fay Jo Wells as Joan Thayer, and Bill Boeles as Tom Gibson.

He—"Still love me?"
She—"Yes."
He—"Very much?"
She—"Rushes."
He—"Then say, honey, couldn't I keep six bits out of my salary this week?"

Second Vice President Takes Advantage Of Unsophisticated Freshman Students

"Tell her that I insist that she come in and receive her student body ticket in person!"

Can you imagine Kenny becoming so dictatorial, and all because someone timid Fresh had prevailed upon her to present her receipt for her at the student body office? It actually happened, however, for we have it from good authority. The young lady was probably so overcome by such a forceful response that when she obediently entered the grand presence of the vice-president of the associated student body of Willamette University, her retiring manner removed all necessity for naming the Freshman class as her nationality. At any rate, Mr. Litchfield omitted that

SPECIAL EXCURSION ASSURED BY CLASSES

Action of Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores Makes Possible Special Rooter Train

6:30 SATURDAY IS TIME

Rooters Will Arrive in Tacoma At 1:30 to Witness Bearcats and Loggers Play

As a result of the action taken in the four special class meetings held yesterday noon it was definitely decided that there would be an excursion train run to Tacoma to carry the Bearcat rooters who wish to see Willamette open its conference schedule against the College of Puget Sound.

According to the sponsors of the trip the train will leave from Lausanne hall at 6:30 a. m. on Saturday morning, arriving in Tacoma soon after 1 p. m. If plans are carried through the train will return to Salem by 10 p. m. on Saturday.

Tickets for the excursion can be secured after chapel today. Each student must sign up with their respective class representative before they will be given tickets.

According to class action the Juniors and Sophomores contributed $200 each from their class treasuries to subsidize the trip, while the Seniors voted to aid the trip by paying $2.00 of the fare of each senior class member making the trip. The Freshmen voted to make the matter one of individual initiative.

This action is largely the result of the initiative taken by the junior class which was the first organization to sign up for the trip. Juniors which have signed up to go are as follows:

FACULTY ABSENCE RULES PRINTED FOR STUDENTS

Regulations Regarding Absence and Excuses Are Published For Reminder

1. For every three unexcused absences from classes or chapel one credit hour will be deducted from the total earned during the semester.

2. For numerous excused absences, whatever the cause, an equitable number of credit hours will be deducted—penalty to be determined by scholarship committee.

Blanks for making out excuses will be found under the mail box in Eaton Hall. Excuses turned in on anything other than the regulation blanks will not be accepted. Excuses for illness must be accompanied by a certificate from the University physician.

Excuses will not be accepted if turned in more than one week from date of absence. At the beginning of each week a list of unexcused absences for the previous week will be posted on the bulletin board. If you have been reported absent by mistake, secure a statement to that effect from the professor concerned and drop it in the excuse box. All corrections must be made within a week after list is posted.

question which is one of two necessary to fill out the stub on the ticket. However, he substituted beautifully and, assuming a very earnest air, he questioned her very respectfully as to where she lived, what her father's name was, from what high school she graduated, etc. And the dumb little Freshman meekly answered all his questions, supposing them to be of vital importance in the issuing of her student body ticket.

Doubtless with a confident nature would have proved too great a temptation to carry the questionnaire and the fun into a still more interesting conversation had not her chum been looking over Kenny's shoulder and at this point favored him with "a knowing look."

STUDENT WRITING

It has been quite truthfully said that the title "a self-made man" is a misnomer. Examination of the biographies of great men will reveal that it was often the encouragement and the true appraisal of their abilities of some friend or casual acquaintance which strengthened the resolve when it was beginning to weaken or gave the spark of vision which was later to burn brighter and burst into a flame commanding the attention of the world.

Lincoln recognized and evaluated the guiding influence in his life when he said that all he was and ever would be he owed to his angel mother.

It may not be that the parents are the dominating influence in the life of every person, but it is almost universally true that they are the closest and most vitally interested followers of the careers of their children. For the parent the smallest defeat on the part of their children is a Waterloo and the smallest victory makes the great triumphs of history seem small in comparison. No school-boy orator ever has a more appreciative auditor than his father or mother. No college athlete ever has a better rooter supporting him from the sidelines than his own parents.

Unfortunately, or looking from another point of view it might be said fortunately, parents have usually to follow their children while they are at school from a distance. An occasional letter is their main source of information, and no aspiring author will ever receive a higher price for his manuscript than the price of appreciative reading which is given to letters by every parent.

Knowing all this, it is to be regretted that the average student does not write home oftener and allow those so vitally interested to participate with him in the pleasures which he is enjoying.

A CULTURAL CHALLENGE

The traditional picture of the European student which comes down from literature is that of a person who lives in a garret, eats very meager meals, and makes every sacrifice possible in order that he may have the higher enjoyment which comes from the knowledge of the best in literature, science, the dramatic arts, and music. We have often read of him sitting or standing in the back part of the theaters with an open book before him waiting for the opera or the play to begin.

The accepted picture of the American collegian is not so flattering when it comes to the appreciation of the aesthetic. He is most likely to be represented as a youth extravagantly dressed in the latest, eating at irregular hours a diet which defies all the laws of nature and common sense, and having no serious purpose in life.

Both portraits probably have a certain element of truth in them, but neither convey the whole truth of the matter.

The American college student is for the most part a serious person with a standard of values and an appreciation of the finest and best which is far above the average. This fact is shown on our own campus by the fact that the Beethoven society has taken the initiative in sponsoring the Salem Artist Series in order that the residents of Salem and the students of Willamette may hear four unusual musical concerts. However, an interested few cannot make the effort a success. Concessions have been made which make it possible for all students to attend without any great sacrifice on their part. The nature of this opportunity makes it a cultural challenge to be answered only by the student body.

Mad Hatters Inn

Isn't it appropriate that "Campus Kapers" followed the "Family Party?" We can state without fear of contradiction, that is often the case. Quite so.

(With apologies to various and sundry)

I've seen it in a book.
Had a very snooty look.
And a kin of English-chapple air about it.

It went with dollah, collaw, hothaw.
Mothaw, Brothaw deah, and fathaw.

Just consult a Corniahman, if you doubt it.

It doesn't sound so queer
To our good old Yankee ear
When in London—it sounds good—
We don't deny it.

But our mouths become like chasms
And our mirth bursts forth in spasms
When a fellow student thinks that he can try it.

There's more than one advantage to being a

Mad Hatter, if you says nice things about people they think you extraordinarily sensible—whetens, if you wax sarcastic they say—"Oh well," and tap their foreheads.

"And the moral to that is; 'be what you seem to be. Or if you wish me to state it more simply, Never imagine yourself not to be otherwise than what it might appear to others that what you were or might have been was not otherwise than what you had been, would have appeared to them to be otherwise."

(This is quoted from the sayings of a friend of mine, the Duchess.

who is a prominent member of society in Wonderland)

Being a visitor on the campus, I the Mad Hatter, have had a chance the body of my observations. In pax to poke around a bit. Herein lies request.

Most of the material was brought upon the platform Friday—a few remnants were exhibited later. Now the question is how much yardage can we get out of all that exhibited. We are inclined to believe that this material is guaranteed not to shrink.

Office Notes: You can always tell when a girl has set the date for her wedding. It's when she begins to talk back to the boss.

There is a point in the race for scanty clothing at which the girls must stop, says a physician. Just give them time, doctor, and they'll find it.

A he-man is one who lets his wife boss him because he is too proud to quarrel with a woman.

A man isn't licked until he begins to blame his wife for his failures.

All that women's clothes leave to the imagination is what makes them so expensive.

Asked why Ananias was so severely punished the boy at the head of the Sunday school class answered: "Please, teacher, they weren't so used to lying in those days."

Ed Snow—(arriving home late)—
Can't you guess where I've been?
Wife—"I can, but tell your little story."

The person who thinks all others are fools is at least a very safe motorist.

MAKE BELIEVE

Mile and mile, and row on row
The English hawthorne hedges grow.
Across the way a gay blue-bird
Would tilt its head, pretend it heard
Our children's chatter o'er the tea,
In those make-believe days of Janice an me.

Life's young fancies and life's gray fruits
'Tis many a stride of our seven-league boots
From our dreams of the wonderful life we'd see

Last Thursday afternoon the chapel was the scene of the charming and impressive Recognition Service of the Y. M. C. A.

Former Willamette Students Are Married at Walla Walla

A wedding of much interest in Willamette circles was solemnized Friday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Young Walla Walla, Washington, when their daughter, Miss Elvira B. Young became the bride of Victor Rhodes of Raymond, Washington.

The bride was lovely in a beaded gown of white georgette and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by Miss Marjorie Thomas who wore a gown of pale blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of roses.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Keith Rhodes.

Following the ceremony a dainty appointed wedding breakfast was served to the guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes left for a short trip. On their return they will make their home in Walla Walla, where they are attending Whitman college.

BEARCATS VANQUISH MONMOUTH TEACHERS

Willamette Eleven Plays Real Football for One Half and Then Loses Its Punch

Playing snappy football for one half Willamette defeated Oregon Normal last Saturday by a score of 28 to 0.

The Bearcat's centered their attack on the ends and tackles. The game was featured by the playing of "Dutch" Dietz, Willamette's 132 pound quarterback and Eaton, half-back.

Willamette is fortunate this year in having someone who can convert goals. R. DePoe a rook from Chemawa converted four goal with apparent ease. This feat is all the more remarkable since the goal posts have been moved back 10 yards by the new rules of this year.

McKenzie made the first touchdown on a straight line buck after six minutes of play. Two minutes later Eaton broke away for a sixty yard run and the second touchdown. McKenzie made the third touchdown after a 25 yard run by Dietz. Charles DePoe substituted for Eaton in the second quarter, made a 20 yard gain and then followed with a touchdown.

Willamette played inconsistently in the second half losing much yardage on penalties and attempting several wild passes. This might have been due to the fact that they used no sure yardage plays. Monmouth threatened to score once when they intercepted a pass on Willamette's 15 yard line. After 3 incomplete passes Monmouth failed in their attempt at a place kick.

The Bearcat line made big holes in the Teachers line but the interference often failed to take out the Monmouth secondary.

The line up was as follows:
Willamette Position Monmouth
R. DePoe L. E. Ayer
Woodworth L. T. Eg. Lehman
Emmons L. G. Eckstine
Rogers C. K. McKree
Mort R. G. Swett
Versteeg R. T. W. McKree
Mumford R. E. Rees
Dietz Q. Ev. Lehman
Eaton L. H. Huston
Houk R. H. Chestnut
McKenzie F. Robertson
Substitutions: DePoe for Eaton, Ruch for Woodworth, Haldean for Mumford, Cardinal for DePoe, Lang for McKenzie.

Officials: Mason, Referee; Zellar, Umpire; T. Zellar, Head linesman.

RESERVES ARE DEFEATED BY CHEMAWA INDIAN TEAM

Teams Gained About Equal Yardage But Bearcats Were Unable To Score at Critical Time

While the first string football men were playing Monmouth Normal team Saturday afternoon the reserves received a defeat at the hands of the Chemawa team. The game, which was on the Chemawa field, ended with a score of 13-0. Although Chemawa ran the ball over the line for two touchdowns while the W. U. boys failed to score, the amount of yardage made by each team was nearly equal. The weakness of the Willamette men seemed to be in their offense. When they had the ball within scoring distance they lacked the final punch necessary to push over the goal line.

The men taking part in the game were: Ackerman, center; Query, guard; Beck, guard; Propp, tackle; Klindworth, tackle; Glass, end; Goodrich, end; Winslow, quarterback; Waddill, fullback; Kaufman, half-back; French, half-back; Taylor, tackle; Willitt, tackle; J. Dietz, half-back; Philpott, guard.

GAME WITH LOGGERS WILL BE IMPORTANT

First Conference Game Will Have Decisive Effect on Outcome of Title Race

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE STANDING
College of Idaho	1	0	1000
Whitman	1	0	1000
Linfield	0	1	000
Pacific	0	1	000
Puget Sound	0	0	000
Willamette	0	0	000

Whitman and College of Idaho, the two eastern schools of the Northwest circuit lead the conference by virtue of their victories over Linfield and Pacific respectively. Willamette and Puget will not be seen in action until next Saturday when they meet at the Tacoma stadium.

On the local field Willamette opened its season with a very unimpressive showing against Monmouth. The most salient fault was a lack of co-ordination. They lacked the smoothness of a well oiled machine. Every fellow knew where he was to go on only about five plays. Unless the varsity men can remedy this situation, they are badly beaten before they start to the College of Puget Sound. The line was extremely weak on offense, there seemed to be no pretense of going thru and getting the secondary on only a few plays did they look good in this department. Fight and punch was very conspicuous by its absence. Previous to the game and this week much fight has been shown so there is no particular reason for discouragement.

According to some who were present at the game, Cornell had a team that showed the earmarks of a powerful aggregation. They worked together and every man knew where he was supposed to go and went there. Their line was very strong and very little gain was made thru them. Pacific was only able to make yardage by circling the ends and by passing. Naturally with a passer of the ability of Emerson, who McEwan said that he would trade for any man on his team, would make any team keep their heads up. The Pacific line is slow and the 13 to 6 score fairly represents the difference between the two teams. The Coyote line had drive while the Badger line failed to function when drive was needed.

The loggers loom as a very difficult obstacle in the Willamette march to the coveted pennant. With Gillihan and Purvis both good passers, in the game Willamette must be very careful. The passing ability of these two men may be judged by those who last year saw the deadly accuracy with which Wilson, now playing end, made a 50-yard pass for a touchdown. Certainly if such an exceptional passer is moved up to the line then these other two men must be equally good.

SEATTLE ALUMNI TREAT FOOTBALL MEN TO SHOW

One feature of the trip of the Willamette football team to Seattle to meet the University of Washington was put on by the Seattle Willamette club. Edwin Socolofsky, who is the treasurer of the club, on the evening after the game took the entire squad to the New Broadway to see Richard Dix in the Quarterback.

This is the first time that the alumni club has done this but the men are hoping that it will become one of the accepted traditions. Members of the club expressed satisfaction with the showing which the team made in the game and scoring the first touchdown for many years.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HAS LONG MORNING WALK

Hiking is One Means of Gaining Points for Entrance to Membership in Organization

Members of the Women's Athletic association hiked into the hills south of Salem Saturday morning. The hikers left the campus at 9:30. Frances Lemery, president of the association, reported that they hiked eight miles. Hiking is one of the means of gaining points for association membership.

Monday afternoon a business meeting of the Women's Athletic association was held to discuss plans for the year's work. A report on program and requirements for membership will appear later.

"Woman," said the speaker, "how I admire the mind of a woman. It keeps young and fresh while a man's mind becomes warped and hide bound."
"No wonder," muttered the meek looking man in the back of the hall. "She changes it often enough."
