'Hoovers' Propose Awards Revamping

The Little Hoover commission this week proposed that the awards system be revamped so that awards be given only to those students who have done "exceptional work" and not just to students holding offices.

In the past, each department submitted names of candidates who were to receive keys and certificates and usually all the students were given the awards. The list had seldom been pared down and this year over 12 per cent of the student body will receive keys and certificates at a cost of over $300. Many students receive two or three keys, depending upon how many offices they hold or activities they are engaged in.

The commission felt this was a "violation of the spirit of the awards system and a specific violation of the constitution" which says "Awards will be given to members of the association who have performed exceptionally meritorious work."

Orators to Vie In Chapel Test

Announcement of the annual Doney oratorical contest to be held during chapel on Tuesday, May 15, was made this week by Dr. Howard W. Runkel of the speech department.

Any Willamette student is eligible to submit an original ten minute oration on any subject to be judged by a board of three qualified judges. Judgments will be based on excellence of thought composition and delivery, each to count one third.

The first prize is the income from two thirds of the $1000 endowment set up by President Emeritus and Mrs. Carl G. Doney in memory of their son, Paul H. Doney, graduate of the class of 1920.

Winner of second place receives one third of the net income of the fund for the year. Decision of the judges will be announced at the Awards assembly to be held May 22.

All students interested in participating in this event are asked to contact Runkel as early as possible.

Glennis Allen to Sing Monday; Senior Recital Program Varied

Glennis Allen, mezzo soprano, will present her senior recital on Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the Waller hall auditorium.

The recital is given as partial fulfillment for the degree of Bachelor of Music. Miss Allen will be accompanied by Gladys

May 15 Deadline Set for Application

Pres. G. Herbert Smith warned Willamette's male population today that May 15 — next Tuesday — is the deadline for sending in applications for college tests under the present draft program.

A directive from selective service headquarters stated that no applications will be accepted from men after "Tuesday midnight."

The commission also proposed that the awards be given only to those students who have done "exceptional work." Ten keys and 25 certificates will be given each year to senior students who have been active in their years at Willamette university.

The composition of awards committee has been changed to consist of the student body president who will act as chairman, a faculty member of the student council, general manager, and three other non-senior members appointed by the president.

Senior's Future Brightens As Firms Seek Employees

Job prospects for the graduating seniors are fairly good this year in comparison to past years, according to Harold B. Jory, registrar. There are many positions open in business and industry, but as in the past, teaching positions are difficult to obtain.

Many of the seniors around campus have remained loyal to Willamette these four years, after finding out that their Bible credits could not be transferred. Now that comprehensives are completed and orals are to be taken, the years ahead are staring them in the face and they

Judge Brand to Interview Law Scholarship Candidates

Chief Justice James T. Brand of the Supreme Court of Oregon said today that he will interview candidates for the $2100 per year Root-Tilden scholarship, offered by New York University School of Law, in the Supreme Court building, Salem, on June 14, 15 or 16.

Dean Niles of NYU also announced that the time for filing applications for the scholarships has been extended to the end of May.

Blue, pianist, and will be assisted by Doris McCain, violinist.

Miss Allen will begin her program with "Vieni, che poi sereno" from "Semiramide," by Gluck, "She Never Told Her Love" by Haydn, and "Aria di Polissena" from "Radamisto" by Handel.

"Una Voce Poco Fa" from "The Barber of Seville" will be sung in part two of the recital.

Two songs by Schumann, "Ertes Grun" and "Intermezzo" will next be sung, followed by two songs for alto, viola, and piano, "Gestillte Sehnsucht" and "Gestliches Wiegeliied" by Brahms. Doris McCain will be the violinist.

Group four will include "Bonjour, Suzon," by Delibes; "Le Charme" by Chausson, "Ici-bas!" by Fuare, "En Priere" also by Delibes and "Cellophane" by Dupont.

Bliss, Hoppe in Run-off; Re-vote Begins May 15

Sherm Bliss and Harley Hoppe are in the spotlight together, vying for the honored position of ASWU's president. The re-vote elections determining the final selection of the students for all posts will be held after Tuesday chapel until 4 p.m. and on Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Final results will be revealed in the Collegian.

A total of 585 votes, or three-fifths of the student body, were cast in primary elections which might prove that students are more concerned over student body leaders than last semester, election manager Don Carpenter said.

Sherm Bliss with 220 votes and Harley Hoppe with 193 votes, won over Lou Prediletto, who drew 174 votes in the race for presidential candidate.

Election Results
Total Votes: 585
PRESIDENT:
Sherm Bliss	221
Harley Hoppe	193
Lou Prediletto	174
FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT:
Bill Bissell	232
Felix Calkins	202
Carl Blanes	141
SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT:
Larry Smith	191
Tom Joseph	178
Dick Cole	134
Joanne Estey	66
SECRETARY:
Marge Aldinger	152
Beverly Gustafson	152
Pat Stanton	129
Jodie Johannaber	116
SENIOR REPRESENTATIVE:
Jim Garrett	77
Wally Snyder	57
JUNIOR REPRESENTATIVE:
John Ambler	69
Rollin Cocking	60
Phil Ringle	30
SOPHOMORE REPRESENTATIVE:
Dick Mercer	82
Jim Hitchman	60
Fred Lincoln	27

The run-off between Bill Bissell with 232 votes and Felix Calkins with 202 votes, will determine the position of first vice president. Carl Blanes lost with 141 votes.

The position of second vice president will be vied for by Tom Joseph and Larry Smith with 178 and 191 votes, respectively. They defeated Dick Cole, who had 134 votes, and Joanne Estey who had 66 votes.

Tying for the position of secretary, Marge Aldinger and Beverly Gustafson each obtained 152 votes, with Pat Stanton receiving 129 votes and Jodie Johannaber drawing 116 votes.

Jim Garrett won the position of senior representative with 77 ballots cast in his favor, over the 57 votes of Wally Snyder. Phil Ringle, vying for junior representative, lost out with 30 votes to a run-off between John Ambler, holding 69 votes, and Rollin Cocking obtaining 60 votes.

Sophomore representative will be chosen from Jim Hitchman with his 60 votes and Dick Mercer with 82 votes. Fred Lincoln lost with 27 votes.

So far, campaigning this semester has been held at a quiet minimum with no ambiguous obstacles loitering on the campus such as airplanes, tractors, and smashed cars as during last year.

This next week, Carpenter said, will prove whether Willamette students are taking a more sober attitude toward elections or whether there are ambitious campaigns lurking in the hearts of some of the students.

Student Recital Set Today at 3

A vocal and instrumental student recital will be given today in the recital hall of the College of Music, at 3 p.m.

Jeanette McMillan, mezzo-soprano, will begin the program with a performance of "Faites-lui mes aveux," from "Faust," by Gounod. She will be accompanied by Alice Rose Jones.

"Der Nussbaum" by Schumann and "Apres Un Reve" by Maure will be sung by Betty Madison, soprano, accompanied by Jan Gray. Carroll Graber, bass, will be heard in "Where'er You Walk" by Handel and "The Wind Speaks" by Grant-Shafer. Ann Gibben will accompany.

"Allegro Con Brio" (from string quartet op. 18, No. 1 by Beethoven, will be heard in an arrangement for four clarinets. Clarinetists will be Jack Proctor, Gordon Mallory, Charles Martin and Margaret Powell. The duet "Dome epais" from "Lakme" by Delibes, will be sung by Betty Madison, soprano, and Jeanette McMillan, mezzo-soprano. Jane Gray will be the accompanist.

Completing the program will be "Invocation de Orfeo" by Peri and "Tu Lo Sai" by Torelli, sung by Robert Bain, baritone, accompanied by Art Dimond.

UNESCO Plans Chinese Banquet

A Chinese banquet will be held at the Chinese Tea Garden by UNESCO next Tuesday night from 5 to 7 p.m. The dinner will be very informal with a short presentation of plans for the future. All UNESCO members, interested friends and foreign students are invited to attend. Further information may be obtained from Sally Cheavens.

must obtain suitable jobs to start their careers.

Industrial positions are plentiful, but most of the teaching positions available are unattractive as to location, salary and teaching assignments, although 19 students have obtained teaching jobs through the University for next fall.

The various positions available now to graduating seniors through the office include campfire executives, process product inspectors, managerial trainees, accountants, auditors, retail store positions, training for bank managers, and civilian defense work

Brand will have as his associates E. K. Oppenheimer of Portland, president of the Oregon State Bar association, and Charles A. Sprague, editor and publisher of "The Oregon Statesman," in Salem.

The scholarships will be offered each year to enable 20 young men, who show promise of becoming "outstanding lawyers in the grand American tradition," to attend the school.

Candidates chosen from Oregon will then be interviewed by a committee for the ninth federal circuit, consisting of Chief Judge William Denman and Federal Reserve bank chairman Brayton Wilbur, both of San Francisco, California, and Ernest Boyd MacNaughton, president of Reed college, Portland, Oregon.

'Meet Arizona' To Be Thursday

"Meet Arizona," student operetta of the "old west," will be given in Waller hall Thursday at 8 p.m.

The story concerns the ownership of the "Ride 'em Hard" dude ranch. The owner dies and no will disposing of the property has been found. The resulting story includes both the comic and sinister element.

Included in the operetta are Corydon Blodgett, Nevada Smedley, Carl Blanes, Wes Hamilton, Gay Simons, Bob Robins, Alice Adams, Terry Murray, Jeanne Rice, Will Hilgert, Ann Swanson, Don Boudon and Jodie Johannaber.

for the American Red Cross.

Any seniors needing positions of any nature are urged to contact the registrar's office and leave the description of the job desired.

On May 14, a representative from Montgomery Ward and company will be here to interview anyone interested in training toward store manager positions. The registrar's office will make appointments for anyone interested.

Gamble's Western Auto Supply company will send a representative to Willamette on May 24, with the intention of obtaining four men graduates interested in becoming store managers for their company.

The men chosen will go into approximately a year's training, beginning in June, at $225 per month plus commission. They will then be assigned to a company store as assistant manager, and after three months will become a store manager.

The American Red Cross has many positions available and detailed employment information may be obtained at the registrar's office. There are jobs available for at home and overseas for either men or women.

Last Foreign Film Set for Tonight

A drama of the first World War tonight will highlight the last movie in the UNESCO series this year.

"Grand Illusion," a film made cooperatively by the three countries of England, France and Germany, takes top billing with two African native dance films, "African Frenzy" and "Rhythm of Africa," as shorts. The movies are scheduled for Waller hall at 7:30 this Friday evening, at a cost of 36 cents.

"Grand Illusion" features the German actor, Eric Van Stroheim, in a story depicting the experiences of a group of French army officers who were captured by the Germans. Their experiences at the prisoner of war camp, illustrated by their efforts to escape and their relations with the German officers, reveal the real tragedy of war.

Men on both sides come to the realization that many of their reasons for fighting were mere illusions and that war is really "very futile."

Legislature and Communism

On the last day of Oregon's legislature last week, there appeared on the floor of the House of Representatives an amendment to the now infamous Senate bill 323.

Willamette's Dean of Men was one of the sponsors of the bill, which was to require anyone who had ever engaged in communist activities or contributed to any communist-sponsored organization to sign a statement to that effect before being granted a teacher's contract in public schools.

The exact effect of this bill is still unclear to us, but the amendment which appeared was aimed at professors in tax-supported colleges and private schools as well. We do not deny that the intent of the bill—to stem the spread of communism—was genuinely patriotic, but the amenders should also have considered recent events in California, where a large share of University of California professors, thoroughly American, refused to sign loyalty oaths. Educators such as Willamette's Dean must have known what the reaction of the educational profession in Oregon would be. (The California law has since been declared unconstitutional).

At any rate, the greatly-broadened amendment completely changed the bill, and a final attempt to pass the bill failed in spite of lobbyist efforts inside the House during the session, which, incidentally, are supposedly not permitted. There were no hearings for the general public on the amended bill. There was only pressure.

Willamette's Dean worked industriously and intelligently on many important pieces of legislation, and we do not condemn him for this single bill. We hope, however, that he will take his profession into consideration before the next election.

School for Scandal

Did you hear . . .

That the Wallulah is leaving out the pictures of Lausanne women this year?

That the SAE's and Chi O's are losing their national charters because Willamette is too small?

That the Collegian is supporting a candidate for student body president?

(And prior to two weeks ago) That an air force magazine showed definitely that Willamette wouldn't get an AROTC unit?

We heard, and frankly, such rumors have made us quite concerned with the mental development of some of Willamette's littler minds. Why should a campus with the tradition of fairness that Willamette possesses be such a prey to the fantasies that pop out of someone's demented brain?

If students will listen, laugh, and forget, most of the unpleasantness will disappear and Willamette will once again seem like a school for learning and companionship—not scandal.

Kenton Praises Audience; 827 Fans Crowd Gym

By Ann Klindworth

"This has been one of the most enthusiastic audiences I have played before," said Stan Kenton at the close of his concert Monday night. A crowd of 827 fans (derivation of 'fanatic') beat feet to the rhythm of the 20-man orchestral troupe, enjoying the art and antics he showered on this Salem performance.

Tuning up the audience with a Kenton creation, "Collaboration," this pace-maker in creative jazz didn't take long to put everybody into the rhythm mood, which resulted in the "jitters" Larry Smith was humorously alluding to in the next day's chapel.

The "Artistry in Rhythm" continued with such pieces as "Peanut Vender," "Concerto to End All Concertos," "September Song," "Thermopolae," and improvisations on "You Go to My Head." While Kenton harmony and Kenton style flowed from everything, his own compositions offered the "bigger-than-most-Tuesday-chapel-crowds" audience an interesting contrast. Some of these were: "Eager Beaver," "Artistry in Bolero," "Opus and Pastels," and the tremendous trumpet solo, "Maynard Ferguson."

Harley Hoppe announced that while 500 student tickets were sold, most of them apparently went to non-Willamette students. Financially, the concert was a "small success," netting its local sponsor, UNESCO (Kenton's modern jazz is a "cultural" enterprise), to help pay for their foreign student.

Pretty Baby

"You can't threaten me, buster. I'm voting for Schneebles"

BEEFS-BOUQUETS

To the Editor:

There exists on the Willamette campus an "intellectual" element of which I, as a fellow student, am genuinely ashamed. The group to which I am alluding is of course the organization which has taken the title of Pacifists. I am sincerely sorry that they have been able to circulate their nebulous ideas with such complete freedom from criticism, and it is my desire that Willamette be saved from the reputation which it will certainly receive if this situation is allowed to continue.

All of my life I have had a name for those whom I knew, or knew of, who were afraid to meet their responsibilities and obligations in a brave and forthright manner, whether such responsibilities were to the government, their friends, or their homes.

It is not my position in this letter to debate the relative merits of pacifism generally, but we in the United States are in a tight spot today. Of course no one wants war and all of the horrible destruction it brings, but it seems preferable to me to use that means when the alternative is losing all we have by lying down.

I feel sure that those who have been taken by this ethically desirable movement, do not desire that all which this way of government means should be lost. Yet they advocate running away in fear when it is threatened. No one wants war, but if its forced upon us and we face destruction, what logic is there in trying to out talk a hot bullet? Lets come out of the heavens and be practical, gentlemen.

The AROTC program seems to be the inciting influence behind the outbreak. Such a program is un-Christian we are told, and should be denied. Yet in this program the university is filling a need of the nation, and at the same time, incidentally, providing the men on the campus with a fine opportunity, an opportunity which is denied thousands of other young men in the nation. War may be inconsistent with the strict Christian doctrines, but what church will advocate a policy of non-support to the nation in time of trouble? Rest upon your church gentlemen, but why not defend with all the facilities at your command the institution which permits you to select that church, worship in it and preach such doctrines in its name.

When time is apparently so short, preparedness seems to be the first means at our disposal to avert attack. It takes a long time to re-educate a world which has for thousands of years thought in one track, and our danger is now. Let our cloudy thinkers work on it when the time is in our favor, (and God speed them to their goal) but the danger is real and imminent, and I am ashamed that such a provocative and vociferous group has been able to start the idea on the Willamette campus. There are still many of us who will meet our responsibilities as American men, and fight when it's forced upon us and talk about it before and after.

MUSIC WEEK CONFLICT . . .

To the Editor:

I'm a member of the string quartette that gave a concert Sunday evening at Waller hall.

I believe that certain events should be brought to the attention of the student body, events that I have watched with great interest but with much greater apprehension.

As part of a long planned project for a Spring Music Festival at Willamette university the quartette was to initiate the program with a concert on Monday, May 7. This date, as all other dates of the Festival, was set months in advance and cleared through all proper administrative channels. A few weeks ago a student through his various contacts, announced that he could bring to the campus Stan Kenton and thus raise money for the student body.

The "catch" was that the only available date was May 7, the date set for the opening of the Music Festival. The problem was presented to the music department and they, in their willingness to cooperate, suggested another meeting as soon as they could check the calendar of events, with the possibility, even at that late date, of working out some other dates for the Festival.

They also wished to check with the administration for their views on the subject. This the student accepted. That afternoon, in blatant disregard of his word, this student went to Portland and returned with a signed contract committing the school to support a concert to be given at the gymnasium on May 7.

Suffice to say, an arrangement was worked out by the quartette and music department, not entirely satisfactorily, as it impaired the continuity of the Festival.

It did not seem correct to allow this to pass into limbo and be assigned to the "see-I-knew-I-could-get-it-done-with-some-high-pressure" files, without passing comment.

More than ever these days do we need people with high moral integrity. It seems to me, that in our educational system this above all should be stressed. Too many actions are glossed over with the thought that to gain an objective any means can be employed.

The integrity of a person's word, the ability to work within the framework of existing laws, the desire not to take shortcuts or flaunt and disregard authority because it does not coincide with one's own viewpoint, and the willingness of proper authority to take prompt and vigorous action to uphold a high moral standard in our day to day living is most imperative in trying to mold a world in which we can eventually live in peace.

Bernard Sokolow

. . . AND A REPLY

To the Editor:

I would like to state, in reference to Mr. Sokolow's letter, that in addition to the student to whom he refers, a group of several other interested students were present and took part in the discussion with the administration and with the Music school faculty about scheduling of events.

I feel that the difficulties encountered were due to some degree of misunderstanding accentuated by a need for promptness in making arrangements. In view of the complexity of the situation, impetuosity can not be looked upon as more than one of a plurality of its causes.

Stan Aschenbrenner

To the Editor:

Maytime is playtime — except for those who must work for May Weekend. As this year's May Weekend manager, I would like to thank all those people who worked to make the weekend a success.

To my general committee, Barbara Garrett, Dick Cole and Shirley Clifford, I want to extend special thanks for all the help they have given me.

Once again, my thanks for your splendid co-operation.

News Briefs

FTA Members to Vote

All FTA members are to deposit their ballots in a box located on the table opposite the education department bulletin board before 5 p.m. Monday.

Anyone who hasn't received a ballot by mail can obtain one from Bob Robins, Burnell Ambrose, or an education professor. Final meeting of the year will be Wednesday, May 16, at 7:45 in Chresto Cottage.

Committee to Meet Tuesday

The Christian Social Action committee will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Little theatre on second floor Waller.

The meeting is to determine the emphasis of their program "of Christian principles and the Methodist church's stand."

Wallulah Complete by June

Wallulah staff members said today that they expect completed editions of the yearbook to reach the campus by graduation time.

Final material for the book will head for the Portland printers this weekend, which is the same date that it was submitted last year.

"We have been given assurance that this year the Wallulah will be printed and returned to school in time for graduation," said a staff member of the publication. Graduation has been set for June 16.

'Cats Meet Whits In Track Feature

Whitman's Missionaries will entertain the Willamette Bearcats Saturday afternoon in what may prove to be the outstanding track feature in the season prior to the Northwest conference meet.

Whitman, a team that was strong enough to easily whip the Bearcats in a dual meet here last year, has shown power in meets with Montana and the University of Idaho. Losses by graduation seem to have been very slight.

The 'Cats are fresh from three straight victories over conference opponents and will be hoping to make it a perfect record for the year. The winner of this dual meet will be a strong favorite to capture top honors in the conference meet, to be held here May 19.

WU Thumps Pioneers In Dual Cinder Event

Chester R. Stackhouse's tracksters roared easily past their third conference opponent last Saturday as they dumped Lewis and Clark for the first time in recent years 77-54, on the Pioneers' track.

With Ted Mertz pulling down the best performance of his career, the 'Cats came up with the necessary depth to soundly trounce the Pioneers. Mertz tallied 26 points on first places in the high jump, broad jump, high and low hurdles, and seconds in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

The thinly strung speedster hung up a meet and a Willamette school record in capturing the broad jump. He leaped 22 feet 3 1/2 inches to eclipse the dual meet record held by LC's Milt Staples by nearly a foot, and the school record held by Babe Maudlin at 21 feet 7 inches.

'Cats Sweep

The Pioneers captured eight firsts to the Bearcats' seven, but lacked the depth to win. The Cats placed one-two in both hurdle races, the javelin, the high jump, the mile and two mile. They swept the broad jump for the third meet in a row.

In winning the javelin event, chunky Bob Hall cast the spear 197 feet to beat his own dual meet record of 194 feet, set in 1949.

Lewis and Clark picked up three new meet records including the 100 yard dash, the 440 and the mile relay.

Jasons Eye Final Conference Test

Today three Bearcats, Cece Conner in the singles and Phil Hammond and Bob Petzoldt in the doubles will enter in Northwest conference tennis tournament competition at the Irvington Club courts in Portland. Lewis & Clark is the host school and a drawing will be held at 9 a.m. preceding the matches.

Last year at Willamette, the Whitman team won both the singles and doubles championships but only the doubles team will be returning to defend their crown.

For the first time since 1943, Coach Les Sparks has piloted his crew through conference competition without a loss, holding double wins over the three conference schools in this area, meeting Whitman and College of Idaho only in the conference matches.

The Cats powered to a 5-2 win on the local courts over Linfield on Monday and Tuesday traveled to Palatine Hill to hand Lewis & Clark a similar 5-2 trouncing. Last Saturday in a last minute switch, the team had to travel to Portland U to play a match that had been supposedly scheduled here for the May Weekend festivities. The locale made little difference to the Cats as they smashed to a 6-1 victory, losing only the No. 2 singles.

The team will complete their season next week in return matches with OCE and Portland U.

Twin Bill on Tap For Diamond Men

Currently holding down third spot in the Northwest conference baseball standings, the Bearcats will meet the in-coming College of Idaho Coyotes and Whitman Missionaries tomorrow and Monday afternoon respectively in twin bills. Game time for both days is set at 1:30 p.m.

Whitman is currently leading the conference with six straight triumphs while the Coyotes, having broken even in six games, rest in fourth place.

Frank Gatchell and Bert Lund or Claude Nordhill will be on the mound for the Bearcats in tomorrow's games. Lou Scrivens and Mike Glenn will face the Missionaries in Monday's tilts.

The Coyotes will be out to spoil Willamette chances for their second straight conference title when the two teams meet tomorrow.

The Missionaries need only to win three of their four remaining games to clinch at least a tie for the title. They face Linfield tomorrow in a doubleheader in the other two games.

Golf Playoffs Today; WU Defending Champs

The defending champion Bearcatgolfers will journey to Lewis and Clark and the Top 'O Scott course for the conference playoffs today.

Though the Cats lost heavily by graduation they will still be a threat to retaining the conference toga. The heavy favorites for the divoteer crown will be the Lewis and Clark Pioneers.

Most of the Pioneers strength will come from having their home course on which to play. Last Tuesday they trounced the Cats 15 1/2 to 2 1/2 on the Top 'O Scott links. Kent Myers picked up 1 1/2 while number one man Bill Wittenberg earned a single point.

Wittenberg is defending champion medalist in the conference golf match. Last year he shot a smoking hot 64 to easily lead all contenders on the Cats' home course.

Games Under Protest; Playoffs Next Week

Action was very limited this week on the intramural softball front as the teams move closer to the double elimination playoff which is scheduled to start next week.

Meanwhile, rhubarbs are as usual holding the action up. Out of four games played Tuesday, three are under protest.

Disregarding protests, this is how they came out. In the A league, Baxter and the SAE's re-played an original protest game with the SAE's coming out on top, 11-4. Bob DeBord twirled the victory. At the other end of the field, a surprising Law School outfit handed the high riding Sigs an 8-4 loss.

B league action saw the Sigs trounce the Betas, 15-3, as Dan Montag set the Betas down with three hits. The other game, between Baxter and the Faculty, and the only one not under protest by the way, was forfeited by the Faculty.

'Cats Top Badgers for Third Conference Victory

Willamette's Bearcats chalked up another league win last Tuesday as they defeated the Pacific Badgers 10-9. The Cats didn't fare so well in their non-conference tilts, as Oregon State shel-lacked them 20-2 and Vanport eked out a 12-11 victory.

Two clean hits in the top of the ninth inning provided Willamette with its victory over Pacific. Bearcat pitcher Lou Scrivens contributed to his own victory by rapping out a solid double in the final inning. He was driven around on a single by infielder Dave Perlman.

Scrivens went the route for Willamette, facing 43 Badger batters and yielding nine hits.

Pacific coach Pete Jonas utilized three pitchers. Freshman Tommie Fisher started but was relieved by Ed Ball in the eighth inning. When Ball was removed in favor of a pinchhitter, Lyle Carter came in to pitch the final stanza and was charged with the loss.

Oregon State's Gene Tansell proved to be the big spark plug in his team's 20-2 victory as he pounded out two homers and two singles in six times at bat.

 Ice Cream Parlor Open Sunday

Desert Splendor, Dude Ranch, Orchid Theme Used at Fraternity Formals

Desert sands and pastel draperies will greet members and guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon when they arrive at the chapter house tomorrow evening for "Desert Splendor," spring formal dance, from 9 until 12.

A fountain with iron trellises and roses, planned by decorations chairman Jim Switzer, will be the center of attraction in the foyer, and golden stars on three walls and the ceiling will add to the desert effect in the living room. Desert scenes will be viewed through Arabeque windows, and interior lighting will be used to highlight a display in the fireplace.

Revolving lights on the lawn will silhouette desert, sea, and sky scenes in colored cellophane on the dining room windows. Punch will be served by Jim Freeman in the chapter room from a punch bowl in the middle of a display of palm trees, moss and flowers.

Dance programs have been planned by Bob Howe, and patrons and patronesses invited by Bill Covert are Mrs. Elizabeth Higbee, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Beal and Mr. and Mrs. Bartel. Dean Mark Hatfield and Dean Regina Ewalt will be special guests.

Sigs to Go Western

A western motif will be featured at the "Lazy Sig Dude Ranch" Sigma Chi formal dance this evening from 9 to 12 at the chapter house. Bob Miller has made arrangements for the affair.

The decoration committee consisting of Dave Anderson, Bud Lafky, Dick Mercer, George Juba, Bob Smith and Don Irwin, have planned decorations which will turn the Sigma Chi house into a Las Vegas dude ranch for one night. The walls will be covered with wood paper marked with brands; a rustic wooden fence, saddles, sage brush and juniper trees will complete the theme. The center of attraction on the patio will be a covered wagon. The basement is to be a gambling casino. The guests will be supplied with paper money to bet and gamble with.

Paul Barkla and Ken Benshoof have planned leather programs with the Greek letters Sigma Chi branded on the cover.

Dancing will be to the music of Gordon Winchcomb and his band. Gay Weeks and Bob Halsan have planned refreshments.

Beta's Use Orchid Theme

Members and pledges of Beta Theta Pi will entertain their guests tonight at a formal dinner dance, "Orchid Terrace." Orchid hues and windows painted to resemble a night skyline will simulate the atmosphere of a roof garden nightclub, with the basement decorated in the manner of a rustic bar and the chapter room used as a lounge. Music will be by the Charlie Nee Trio.

General chairman Doug Nicol is being assisted by committee heads Earl Fedje, Ted Loder, Phil Hammond and Gene Walters. Art Dimond at the piano, Don Carpenter's comedy routines, and the harmonizing of the Beta Quartette will provide entertainment.

Daisies Tell Engagement

A basket of daisies with a card reading "Daisies Won't Tell but Hare Wilt," announced the betrothal of Miss Shirley Hare of Salem to Wilson J. Wilt, jr., of Eugene, Saturday evening at the Chi Omega house. The traditional chocolates were passed arranged as a daisy to carry out the theme.

Miss Hare, a freshman at Willamette, is majoring in Liberal Arts. She is a pledge of Chi Omega. Wilt, a junior at the University of Oregon, is majoring in business administration and is a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Sigma Chi Elects Wilson President

Jack Wilson is the new Sigma Chi president following Monday night elections. Wilson is a junior from North Powder, Oregon, and will assume office along with other newly elected officers following installation ceremonies Monday.

Serving with Wilson for the 1951-52 term will be Babe Maudlin, vice president; George Juba, treasurer; Phil Ringle, secretary; Don Irwin, corresponding secretary; Bob Halsan, historian, and Jim Hartley, associate editor.

Three Fraternities Plan Trips To Near-by Beaches on Sunday

Members of Phi Delta Theta and their guests will travel to Neskowin Sunday for a day-long beach party. Cars will leave at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Harry Summers is supervising arrangements for the affair with the pledges serving a picnic lunch prepared by Pop Crary. Baseball and football games on the beach will be organized by the pledge class.

Accompanying the group on the trip will be Dean Mark Hatfield, Miss Joan Voight and housemother Mrs. Madeline Dyer.

Wesley Holds Senior Banquet

Graduating members of Wesley Fellowship were honored Thursday evening at the annual formal senior banquet. Loren Ranten, general chairman, acted as master of ceremonies and read a poem dedicated to each senior and a "last will and testament." Lois Brinks entertained with a violin solo and Ann Gibbens played several piano numbers.

Committees were: Harriet Bennett, tickets; Joan Currie and Darrel Crossler, decorations; Marge Aldinger, food; Gloria Nandie, publicity, and Jean Crakes, programs.

annual Sigma Chi beach trip, held this year at Neskowin. Cars will be leaving for the scene of the party by 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

A picnic lunch is being planned.

SAE Travels to Waldport

Hidden lake, on the coast near Waldport, will be the destination of members and pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and their guests for their annual beach trip Sunday. The group will leave early Sunday morning and return that evening and will be accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Higbee and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Beal.

Committees working under direction of general chairman Bob Shangle are headed by Kent Myers, transportation; Jim McHale, chaperons; Jim Switzer, food, and Larry Pritchett, location.

YW Conference In Portland

Delegates from the campus YWCA will leave this afternoon to attend a regional planning retreat near Portland. The inter-collegiate retreat will be attended by delegates from colleges in Washington and Oregon and will be held today and tomorrow at Menucha, conference center overlooking the Columbia river.

Beta, AXO, Sophomores Win May Weekend Competitions

Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Chi Omega were winners, the Bearcats were losers, and the sophomores emerged both as underdogs and champions in the round of competitive events that were part of May Weekend activities.

The Beta's, directed by Art Dimond, and Alpha Chi's, under Beverly Gustafson, carried off the laurels in the men and women's divisions of Saturday's all-school sing, with second place trophies being awarded to Sigma Chi and Pi Beta Phi. It was the fourth consecutive first-place for the Beta's.

Willamette's baseball team suffered defeat at the hands of Oregon State on Friday and Vancou on Saturday in their afternoon games at McCulloch stadium. No rain fell on either contest, but waited instead to fall full force during Saturday night's dance.

Having had the least representation at Thursday's watch, the task of cleaning up after the barbecue Friday noon fell to the sophomores. In the greased pole climb and tug-of-war, however, the sophomores defeated the freshmen.

The remainder of the weekend's scheduled activities went off without incident, although the coronation of the queen was held in the gymnasium rather than the stadium in view of the threatening weather. Over 200 high school guests and a large representation of alumni witnessed the events.

Choir to Present Workshop Show

The radio workshop will feature the Willamette university choir during its regular Sunday show over KOCO at 9:00 p.m.

Under the student direction of Art Dimond, the choir will be presenting a wide variety of musical renditions which were most frequently sung during the current year. Producers said that it promises to be a very entertaining program.

Director for the show is Jim Gay, with Jane Foose as supervisor. Engineer is Jim Morrison.
