'Papa' to Open Tuesday

"Papa Is All," Willamette University Players second major production, opens for a three-night run next Tuesday night at 8:15 in Waller hall.

This is the play which has continually met with success in Portland. It broke onto the front pages of the major Portland papers recently as a result of the Portland Civic theater version of "Papa." The Portland city police impounded Papa's illegally parked automobile during a dress rehearsal.

The production, being staged here by Dean Graunke, head of the drama department, will introduce three new conveniences to the audiences. Coffee will be served between the second and third acts by members of WUPs. Members of WUPs will also maintain a nursery for children of faculty members. The third innovation will be the reservation of seats. Students and the general public wishing to reserve seats may contact the drama office or the student body office.

Included in the cast of seven is Jim Hitchman, Ann Ellsperman, Richard J. Geer, Patsy Older, Sue Mellor, and Eric Ohlund. In addition to her duties as production manager, Marie Corner will play the role of Mrs. Yoder on Wednesday night.

Because of the low stage elevation in Waller hall, the set building will include raising most of the stage area. The set is known as a "Spot" set and will furnish only the necessary doors and windows without the support of the conventional wall.

Furniture, which plays an important part in the production, will be arranged for with the cooperation of local antique and furniture stores. The early American decor of the setting will be used to establish the primitive mode of the play, although the action is set in the present day.

Action centers around the tyrannical Papa who keeps his Mennonite family living in a primitive mode despite their individual determination to escape into the modern life which their neighbors lead. The problem is brought into focus when the daughter, assisted by her mother, attends a motion picture with a young man, thus sharpening the wrath of Papa toward both the young man, whom he sets out to kill, motion pictures, and all other examples of machinery and convenience or pleasure.

Blood Goal Is 250 Pints

Over 250 pints of blood must be donated by Willamette students and faculty on February 18, in order to meet the Willamette yearly total of 500 pints. All blood donated will go to the armed forces overseas.

The Marion county Bloodmobile will be at the Willamette gym on Monday, February 18, from 1 to 5 p.m. Pledge cards will be distributed to living group representatives today, so that students may make appointments for a convenient time. One hundred pints may be processed per hour.

Students who donated blood during the October 9 Bloodmobile visit, may give again. Processing will be faster than last time, as cards are already made out, and only the blood pressure, blood count, and general condition need to be checked.

Willamette has a high percentage in blood giving from the last visit of the Bloodmobile, since nearly one-fourth of the students gave blood.

Leadership Training to Start Tomorrow at Ten

By Stan Nelson

The first Leadership Training and Workshop program for officers of campus organizations and interested students will be held tomorrow in Collins hall. The program, sponsored by the ASWU in cooperation with an AWS project, is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. with a keynote speech by Walter Ericson, ex-Willamette leader, and will conclude at about 3 p.m.

The purpose of the newly formed program is to provide an opportunity for the various officers of the campus organizations to get ideas, discuss problems, and in general learn more about leadership in their groups. For other students who are not officers of organizations, but who are interested, there will be discussions led on discussion techniques and parliamentary procedure.

Walter Ericson, formerly of WU and now principal of Cleveland high school in Portland, will give the keynote address at 10. Ericson, now a prominent civic and educational leader, has formerly held positions of coach and director of admissions at Willamette and is an ex-Willamette leader who knows the problems students must face on this campus.

Student leaders from other colleges will include Mary Frances Cavanaugh of Marylhurst, Virginia Wright and Don McKenzie of Oregon State college, and Sally Schiedler, AWS president at Oregon State college. Willamette students participating will include Sherm Bliss, Jackie Calkins, Marge Aldinger, Doug Nicoll, Barbara Baker, Elliott Motchenbacher, and Tom Schiedler.

All students attending the program are urged to bring sack lunches. Drinks, consisting of milk and coffee, will be provided.

Student Body President Sherm Bliss will lead the discussion for presidents; Maurice Cohn, business manager for Willamette, and Tom Joseph, student body treasurer, will lead the treasurers; the secretaries will be led by Jackie Calkins and Marge Aldinger, former student body secretary and regular student body secretary respectively; Doug Nicoll and Virginia Wright will head the social chairmen group; and the program planners will be aided by Mary Frances Cavanaugh and Barbara Baker.

Groups on discussion techniques and parliamentary procedure, devised for interested students, will have Elliot Motchenbacher to lead parliamentary procedure, Tom Schiedler and Don McKenzie for discussion techniques.

The program for the day is as follows: Walter Ericson's keynote speech at 10 a.m. will start the program rolling. The participants will then break up into discussion groups according to positions of students in their various organizations. Lunch will follow the discussions. After lunch the groups will combine in one big meeting to exchange results of the separate discussions. The final part of the program will be a panel discussion featuring members of this campus and other schools. Sherm Bliss will act as moderator for the panel. Participating members on the panel will be Dick Mercer, Jo Oliver, Don McKenzie, and Sally Schiedler.

Phil Hammond, Lou Prediletto Seek Position In Student Election Tuesday and Wednesday

Phil Hammond and Lou Prediletto will be candidates for the office of second vice president of the student body in an election to be held Tuesday and Wednesday in Eaton hall and the student body office from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sherman Bliss, ASWU president, announced this week.

Hammond is a senior from Portland majoring in speech and drama. He has been active in dramatics and has served as stage manager for Willamette University Players. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi.

"I believe that it will be possible to get out more votes in student elections by taking the ballot boxes around to the living organizations," Hammond said.

Prediletto, a senior pre-law and economics major from Vancouver, Wash., has served as junior class representative, sophomore class president, and president of Cardinal Key. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

"The main thing is to interest students in turning out for voting in any student body election," Prediletto stated.

The office was vacated last month when Larry Smith resigned because of ill health. The

Hoppe Quits Post, Nominates Ringle

Harley Hoppe, promoter of seven Willamette concerts tendered his resignation as concert series manager to the Student Council Wednesday. One month before his final concert on the campus, Hoppe, a senior, nominated Assistant Manager Phil Ringle to fill the top concert post.

Hoppe said that his resignation would make way for a new manager to gain experience before the end of the present series. He suggested that the council appoint a new manager to head the preparations for the March 5 appearance of William Warfield and thereby gain experience for a possible series in 1952-'53.

Immediately after his resignation to the Council, Hoppe nominated Phil Ringle to be elevated to the manager station and the Student Council elected him. Ringle will have full authority of the manager and Hoppe will continue his work with the concert in an advisory capacity.

The year of 1950-'51 marked a year of four individual concerts sponsored by Willamette. Hoppe managed these concerts and in the spring of 1951 he was selected by the Student Council as manager of the newly inaugurated Distinguished Artist Series for the year 1951-'52. He appointed Phil Ringle as assistant manager in the spring of '51 and Ringle has served in this capacity since that time.

WU to Wait On OSC Plans

A meeting of the telephone committee, the Inter-fraternity Council, and interested persons, was held yesterday in the Beta house, to decide a course of action for Willamette in getting rid of the pay stations in living groups.

Persons at the meeting discussed the likelihood of hiring a lawyer, and filing a formal protest with the Public Utilities Commissioner.

It was said, however, that since Oregon State college has a lawyer, and is taking definite action with the telephone company through the PUC office, that any sudden protest by Willamette students would probably be unfavorable to the cause.

Mr. Seibert, head of the Co-operative Managers Association at OSC, said earlier this week, that a letter had been sent by the lawyer, Peter Gunnar, to the Public Utilities Commissioner refusing the plan given by the P T and T at an informal hearing December 4. The commissioner will ask the telephone company for some other solution. If no solution is given by the phone company, then a formal protest will be filed with the PUC asking for an interpretation of the "semi-public" tariff ruling.

Appointments Set

All town students are being sent appointment cards of their Wallulah portraits, to be taken at Steimonts' studio, 1849 State street, during the week of February 11-15. Any student who cannot keep his appointment is urged to contact the student body office immediately for a new appointment. New students this semester are also urged to contact the Wallulah office for an appointment at the photographers. Final deadline for Wallulah portraits is Friday, February 22, 1952.

Farewell Willamette

"Farewell Willamette, school we love." Thus sang Charlie Nee in honor of the seniors yesterday. Farewell, seniors. We will miss all the spirit, smiles, attitudes, and ideas you have brought and left on the Willamette campus.

It has been said that a degree is only as good as the university it comes from. In many ways each one of us can be proud that we are a part of this educational institution. A university learns with its students. Education is simply an exchange of ideas, and the process of discriminating between those ideas.

Each graduating senior has a new world to follow now. All we can do is wish you all the best of good wishes.

Little Man on Campus

"Well, Dean, for th' last few days we've been discussing theories of revolution—an' then about ten minutes after class took up today."

D. S. from D. C.

(Ed. Note: Bob Ulrich and Don Scarborough are attending American university in Washington, D. C., this semester. Scarborough, former news editor of the Collegian, describes his adventures and impressions in the Nation's Capital.)

Washington, D. C. (Special Monday, Feb. 4)—It is almost impossible to state an impression of Washington, D. C., after only 24 hours in the city. But if forced to I would say only that Washington is "intriguing." I arrived here late Sunday morning and in the few hours I had to look over the sights I could only get a sketchy view of the city and the federal buildings. But what I saw was a thousand times more interesting than any word picture could describe.

I didn't see Blair house, they say it is guarded and hard to approach since some Puerto Ricans tried to shoot up the place and assassinate President Truman.

One thing you can't help but notice is the lack of anything taller than the Capitol building and the Washington Monument. Erecting a building higher than the dome of the Capitol, like "looking down on the Emperor," is strictly against the law of D. C. City laws, incidentally, are made by congress.

One apartment owner tried to beat the rules by building his apartment on a slope. Technically one side of the building is the regulation 12 stories, while the other is 13. Still he cannot use the top floor.

American university, where Bob Ulrich and I will be spending the spring semester, is divided into two sections. The School of Law and the School of Social Science are located down-town, a few blocks from the White House. The main, and larger campus is situated about 30 blocks northwest of the city.

The buildings are very impressive. The women's dormitory has a lobby that is better than most hotels. The chapel which students attend each week (it's a Methodist school, too) is more like a cathedral and it puts the First Methodist church to shame.

The Washington Semester appears to be quite an experience. About 20 schools are involved and 10 send students each semester. The out-going fall semester had five men and 20 women. Ours will have 19 men and nine women (although I heard something about importing more women.)

The atmosphere here is the most informal I have ever seen. I spent Sunday evening in the lounge of the men's dorm with three Washington Semester women and five regular AU men. One of the men warned me that women are not allowed in the men's residence, but they don't seem to go by rules. One woman went upstairs to get a can of tuna fish(!) and ran into a man wearing only a towel. It didn't seem to phase anyone.

The six of us spent the evening talking about the Washington program and watching television (they have two sets in the dorm). About 10:30 I asked the women what time they had to be in. Washington Semester women, I learned, have 12 o'clocks every night.

My temporary room-mate is an econ major from Hamline college in Minnesota. I had never heard of it, but then he had never heard of Willamette in Oregon either. It looks like my biggest job here will be teaching Easterners how to pronounce Oregon names.

"KNOWLEDGE is of two kinds. We know a subject ourselves, or we know where we can find information on..." —Samuel Johnson.

In other words you either know—or you know where you can go.

Oh Johnny!

Met Johnny Ray last weekend. He is a nice quiet guy who is very sincere about his career. Johnny was here visiting relatives and friends before going to Los Angeles and San Francisco. He opens in Philadelphia on the 14th of this month. Though I am mainly interested in, shall we say, "serious" music, I gotta admit that there is something about Ray's voice that fascinates me.

Incidentally, I have a prospective bet with Rube Manashe. If the juniors lose Glee I imitate Johnny Ray and if the Frosh lose he imitates Mario Lanza. Should be a kick hearing Rube sing "Be My Love" . . .

Great Scott!!

Jim Scott has written a sequel to "The Lesser Lines," this one called "The Hypothetical Mountain." "The Lesser Lines," you will remember, ended with the words "I found myself searching for I know not what." "H. M." ends with "I found myself searching for I NOW KNOW WHAT," and is characterized by the same beautiful prose and reflective mood of "L.L." Jim says he is going to write another work and let us in on what he knows he is reaching for.

Dr. Kollman says that Scott's writing is philosophically sound which carries a lot of weight with me. Suggested title for the next epic: "Now That I Know What I Am Searching For What Am I Doing At Willamette?" —HMMMMMM.

Dear Editor:

Whether students and faculty realize it or not, Willamette university is an integral part of the community of Salem and the surrounding area thereof. I was reminded of this fact Monday evening while listening to Ralph Dobbs' concert.

Though easy to understand, it's hard to express how much this man has contributed to the prestige of our University, our college community, and our town. Dobbs' name is becoming, by leaps and bounds, synonymous to that of success. As I've expressed to him personally, we are exceedingly fortunate. There is no adequate means by which this man's abilities can be fully accounted for by gratitude of the community, sincere though it may be, for his is an aura of patient and painstaking, marvelous perfection.

The reality that Waller hall nearly had to utilize the available standing room to accommodate the audience at his recital should stand as a witness to the community's interest in the man. Willamette should be proud and grateful for the privilege of having such a man as Ralph Dobbs on the faculty staff.

Jim Miller.

To the Editor:

I have several objections to your story in the last issue of the Collegian titled Freshman's Midnight Climb, etc. My first objection is that you misspelled my name. I had understood that it was very bad journalistic practice to misspell names. In the second place while misspelling my name, which was bad enough, you used it in a manner which cast reflection upon me in a negative manner. I do not appreciate being made the object of your rather bad humor. Just for the record I was charged with disturbing the peace not disorderly conduct which implies that I was drunk. I was not yelling like Tarzan. As a matter of fact I was not yelling at all. I was not swinging. I was standing on the scaffold minding my own business. Your article seems to imply that I climbed the church under the inspiration of a horror movie I had just seen. This is not true. I climbed the church to make an honest buck.

Al Siebert.

Dr. Kollman:

We realize that we were endowed at birth with potentialities equal to those of every other person in this class. However, the actualization of these potentialities has been sadly limited by the material conditions which have surrounded us since birth and in which we are living at present. The greatest fault in our existing environment is that we have little opportunity to contemplate first principles due to the disturbing influences of our less philosophical colleagues. Also, the only place in which we can cogitate adequately upon said principles is the furnace room in our basement. This room is decidedly not conducive to such deep thought due to the reverberations of the furnace, water heater, and pump which share the occupancy of our retreat. In addition, we are thwarted in our search for the Golden Mean by the fact that all the chairs in the furnace room are rocking chairs and do not provide the necessary stable background. We know that in order for a virtuous action to take place, one must possess both the desire for the ends and the means to obtain those ends. In our case the desire is present, but due to the aforesaid material conditions, our desire (the efficient cause) has been able to achieve a formal cause which is only an extremely slight degree of the final cause (an A). Therefore, we hope you will take the above conditions into consideration when grading our papers.

To Women Students:

With the start of a new semester old organizations pick up where they left off at finals, and begin cropping out with bigger and better plans. So is the case of our own AWS.

Last semester, as a blossoming, but nevertheless fumbling youngster, we tried our wings and, among other things, instigated a Coed-of-the-Month, sponsored an auction for the purpose of building up our Scholarship fund, sponsored campus organizations in half-time entertainment at some basketball games, and made up a box of food to be sent to a needy family at Christmas time.

Projects are already in the air for spring semester, with an AWS-ASWU Leadership Training and Workshop course being sponsored tomorrow on campus, a faculty baby-sitting service being planned, a WPA dance to be given at the end of the month for the entire campus, the proceeds to be divided among the women's organizations according to need, and a scholarship fund still building up.

It seems that I am always being asked "what is the purpose of AWS?" I guess the answer seems obvious to me because I am associated so closely with the organization. AWS is a service organization — to promote and sponsor projects which will aid the campus as a whole, faculty and students alike.

As a judiciary body, AWS will legislate and enforce rules pertaining to women. During every spring semester the AWS Judiciary Council, which consists of members from every women's living organization, will consider and repair the women's rules in an effort to meet fairly every new situation.

AWS is a coordinator of women's activities — representing women locally and nationally. It is our aim to promote and encourage leadership and self-government among women students. Our plans are big, our hopes great, our enthusiasm boundless!

To match these reactions financial aid is necessary, so if you women are as interested in helping a group whose main interest is you, please remember to buy your AWS card (only 50 cents) from your living organization representative or at the student body office within the next week. AWS is your organization, whether you purchase a card or not, but in order to continue as a prosperous and useful group it needs your support.

"Mom and Dad"

or "Papa Is All" ("As You Like It") is now in full rehearsal and promises to be one of the most entertaining plays we have seen. Cast includes domineering Papa, played by Jim Hitchman, his dominated wife, Ann Elspersmann, dominated daughter-in-law, Pat Older, and dominated-son-inventor, Dick Geer. One might say that Papa is the dominant character of the play. Gifs through the play an Amish accent yet now which is handled very well by the players. The play will be presented next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Waller hall where the stage is being raised for better visibility.

I was nearly as interested in watching Director Graunke as the players themselves. A skilled mime, he picks up a character at the drop of a cue and obviously knows theatre in general and this play in particular like the back of his latest issue of "Theatre Arts." All this is tempered by a subtle wit which can and has reduced those within earshot of a stage-whisper into fits laughter.

Waters Still

(but not always)

The stage play "A Member of the Wedding" which played in Portland a few days ago was memorable for two reasons. The play itself as it dealt with the problems of an adolescent girl was beautifully written and deserving of the New York drama critic's award. The performance of Ethel Waters as Berniece Brown, the deeply religious, deeply human housekeeper who helped the girl over the many problems which to the girl assumed epic proportions, was magnificent. Backstage at the Mayfair theatre the writer was struck with the deep humility of the Negro actress, every tragedy of whose personal life is so plainly written in her face.

Drama Department Casts Eleven Receive Diplomas

'Through Glass, Darkly'

"Through a Glass, Darkly," the one act dramatic production to be staged February 27 and 28 at 8 p.m. in the Waller hall chapel, will be the drama department's contribution to the program for Religious Emphasis week.

This play, which throws a new light on the well-worn theme of religious intolerance, will mark the first time that a separate drama, aside from major productions, has been presented for this occasion.

Members of the cast are: Bob Kaplan, Aaron; Margaret Conklin, Clara; Kent Lawrence, Sandy; Ruth Joseph, Carol; Judi Wood, Rosalie; Bob With, n, Phil; and Fred Cummings, Mr. Lawson.

The story of "Through a Glass, Darkly" revolves around the Schaeffers, an orthodox Jewish family in Brooklyn. These people, especially Aaron and Clara Schaeffer, are very strongly anti-gentile. Confusion and trouble arises when their son, Sandy, returns from the West with Carol, his very beautiful gentile wife.

Their solving of this problem is the main theme of the play and is an attempt to show how different religions can live together in harmony.

Religious Emphasis Week Committees Plan Schedule

Preparations are now under way for Religious Emphasis week, to be held on February 26, 27 and 28. Under the leadership of General Student Chairman Norm Lawson, committees have organized a coffee hour, panel, firesides, movie, play, and a special chapel speaker.

Speaking in chapel on the three days will be Dr. Glenn Olds, chaplain of the University of Denver and Willamette university graduate.

The schedule is as follows. On Wednesday, February 26: 10:00, chapel; 4:00, panel discussion; 5:30 to 7:30, firesides will be held at all living organizations, with guest leaders in charge of discussions.

Eleven students received degrees yesterday at graduation exercises held in connection with Founders' and Benefactors' Day. The ceremony was in the gymnasium. Degrees were also awarded to four others in absentia.

Bachelor of Arts degrees were granted to: Jan Hajda, James Burr Miller, William John Moore, Albert Eugene O'Hara, Richard Lewis Ryman, Betsy May Stuller, Jack Floyd Thompson, Walter Robert Thurman, and Pearl MacDonald Young.

A Master of Education degree was presented to Mary Letty Parker Robinson, while Harold Wellesley Pierce received his Bachelor of Laws.

Receiving their Bachelor of Arts degrees in absentia were:

Peter Louis Bryant, Joseph Frederick Lambert, Donald Jonas Miller, and Ward Miller Stanton, Jr.

The graduates and the a capella choir met at the library and proceeded to the gym. The university band presented "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar for a processional.

Tom Scheidel and Marjorie Aldinger were the featured speakers. Scheidel spoke on the life of David Leslie, one of Willamette's founders. Leslie, a Methodist minister, was president of the board of trustees from 1843 to 1869, during which time the university charter was granted.

Miss Aldinger discussed Eric V. Hauser, a Willamette benefactor. In 1929 he bequeathed the university $100,000 which was used to build the present library.

Charles Nee sang "Farewell Willamette," and the A Capella choir presented "O, All Ye Nations" by Heinrich Schutz, "Lead On, O King Eternal" by Carl Mueller, and "Old Historic Temple" by Perry Reigleman and F. S. Mendenhall.

Deadline Near For Drill Team

The Willamette University AROTC drill team has set next Thursday, February 14, for the final deadline for cadets wishing to participate in drill team activities.

The team meets Wednesdays at 2 p.m. and Thursdays at 7 p.m. Those interested may obtain further information from Team Captain Bill Van Horn, Team Adjutant Lou Prediletto, or any drill team member.

A faculty string trio composed of Ethel Lou Stanek, Prof. Stanley Butler, and Dr. Willis C. Gates played Beethoven's "Trio in B Flat Major, Op.11."

Sherman Bliss, ASWU president talked on Founders' and Benefactors' Day, and President G. Herbert Smith conferred the degrees. Dr. Robert Gatke gave the benediction, and the band played "Fame and Glory" by Matt for a recessional.

Mock GOP's Set up Plans

Organization of Willamette's student-sponsored Mock Republican convention drew one step nearer completion with the mid-January National Committee meeting.

Seven out-of-town delegates from Southern Oregon College of Education, Linfield, Vanport, Marylhurst, and the University of Oregon, plus a representation from Willamette disposed of pre-convention business by electing a National Committee president, hearing reports of committees and setting a tentative date March 29, for the next meeting of the National Committee.

Bob Hillard of Southern Oregon College of Education was unanimously elected as president of the committee.

The report of the Resolutions committee proposed 20 to 25 topics to be voted on by the participating student bodies and be reduced to approximately 15 as the platform of the convention. The topics will be written on May 9.

The State Delegations committee gave its report on methods of distributing the delegate representation among the schools. One method proposed was to choose the delegates on a percentage basis with number decreasing for schools with an enrollment of 2,000 or over. Also discussed was basing the representation on the number of interested students and the ability of the individual school to send large or small delegations. The deadline for entrance commitments of schools not yet participating in the May Convention was tentatively set for the latter part of February.

The National Committee also resolved on a plan to have Willamette issue all publicity items and that such material would be sent to all schools.

Warfield Last Series Artist

William Warfield, American baritone, will mark the final concert in Willamette's 1951-'52 Distinguished Artist Series with his appearance on the Salem High School stage on March 5. Warfield, who is experienced in foreign languages, will sing in foreign tongues besides his English renditions at his 8 p.m., appearance.

Arkansas born, Warfield has traveled extensively in the United States and Australia and recently achieved fame for his performance in MGM's musical "Showboat."

Tickets for the season's finale are available in the student body office at prices of $3.20, $2.40, and $1.50 on the campus and for the same prices in town at Stevens and Son, Wills Music Store, Heider's, and The Salem Record Shpp.

Mendez to Serenade Friday

By Jane Fooshee

Students and people of Salem will have the opportunity to hear Rafael Mendez, "The World's Greatest Trumpeter," on Friday, February 15, at 8:00 p.m. in the Salem High School Auditorium. The Willamette University Band, directed by Maurice Brennan, will accompany Mr. Mendez in his concert here. Mendez is the head trumpeter for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios in Hollywood; he has been featured in a large number of motion pictures, and will be starred in a movie to be produced in the near future.

Rafael Mendez was born in Mexico and was an accomplished trumpeter at the age of five. At this time, Mexico was in a state of revolution, and when the fabulous Pancho Villa stayed in the town overnight, he was so delighted with the Mendez family orchestra (there are 15 in the Mendez family) that he took the whole orchestra with him on his rebel army mauling trips.

At the age of 14, Mendez came to Indiana and after many hardships finally landed a job with the Buick Auto Factory Band. Success came to him until a swinging door smashed his mouth and left it bleeding and torn. He had to learn to play all over again, and this took over three years.

By hours and hours of hard work, he finally recovered his old skill, and success came again with radio and concert work, television shows, the Hollywood Bowl, and motion pictures.

Mr. Mendez is giving a concert in Phoenix, Arizona, on Wednesday, February 13, and he will be here in Salem the next day to rehearse with the Willamette University Band. Following his concert here on Friday, February 15, Mendez will go immediately to Hollywood, where he has a playing engagement on Saturday.

His Salem concert is under the sponsorship of Wills Music Store, and all the proceeds will go to the Salem High School and Willamette University Band instrument funds. Tickets may be obtained at Wills Music Store and from Victor Palmason, band director at Salem High School, and are priced at 60c for students, $1.00 for general adult admission, and $1.50 for reserved seats.

Medical College Admission Test Offered by Testing Service in May

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1953 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May, it was announced today by Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges. These tests, required of applicants by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 10, 1952, or on Monday, November 3, 1952, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1953 take the May test.

Future Teachers To Meet at OCE

Future Teachers of America will hold their regional meeting on Saturday, February 16, at Monmouth College of Education. A large group of Willamette students are expected to attend.

Students participating in the meeting will be from all parts of the state except the immediate Portland area.

"Every FTA member should try to attend this important gathering," declared Dr. Martin, head of the education department.

will give them an edge to capture their fourth straight conference championship. If Lewis and Clark who leads the league with nine wins and one loss takes both games, the Pioneers will have just about sewed up the conference honors although they still must make a three-game road trip to Whitman and College of Idaho.

The starting line-up for Coach Eldon Fix's cagers will probably be big John Fuez at the pivot post. Gary Jackson and Don Paulson will be in the back court and Ed Reid and Ken Servas will be at the forward spots. Servas leads the league in scoring with 135 points in ten games. Servas Clutch Scorer

The main problem which Coach Fix and his Pioneers faced is how to stop the high scoring Bearcats. In their first meeting of the season, the Bearcats hit the century mark as they drubbed the Pioneers by a 103 to 62 count. In seven games so far, the Bearcats have averaged 75.4 points per game while the Lewis and Clark quintet holds a 67.7 point average per game.

Last Friday night the Pioneers had to go into overtime to beat Pacific 60-57. It took a basket by Servas, the Pioneers' great clutch scorer, to give them a 50-48 win over Linfield last Saturday night. The win gave Lewis and Clark a clean sweep in the three-game series this season against the Linfield team. Meanwhile Saturday night, Willamette crushed the Pacific Badgers 92-55 on the Badgers' own floor.

The line-up for the Willamette Bearcats will probably remain the same as Coach John Lewis will stick with his winning regulars. Daryl Girod and Lou Scrivens will at the guard spots and Dick Mase and Ted Loder will be in the front court. Doug Logue will be at the center post for Cardinal and Gold quintet. Logue who is third among the top scorers of the league with 124 points has the best average per game with a 17.7 count.

Phi Delts Snare Lead Over AA's for Plaque

Although they lost to the Sigs in the intramural basketball playoff, the Phi Delts edged out the All-Americans for the lead for the intramural plaque which will be given to the winner at the end of the year.

The Phi Delts who defeated the Baxter team in the first game of single elimination playoff lead the race with 78 points. The All-Americans hold the runner-up spot with 76 and one half points. In third place are the Sigs with 66 count.

Rounding out the lower division are the SAE's, Baxter and the Betas. The SAE's lead the second division with 61 and one half points. Baxter is next with 45 counters and the Betas trail the pack with 36 points.

Torrid Cardinal and Gold Rook Crew To Tangle With Pioneer Frosh Twice

By John Swenson
The highflying Willamette Bearkittens will be gunning for their 13 and 14 triumphs of the season and their eight straight win when the yearling squad from Lewis and Clark come into their sights tonight and tomorrow evening. Both games which are preliminaries to the varsity clashes are set for 6:10 p.m.

The rampaging 'Kittens who have been stopped only once this year captured their ninth win as they trounced the young Badgers from Pacific 88-49 January 18. Big Larry Baggett who dropped 23 counters through the hoop captured high point honors for the night. Dick Bertram helped the Frosh cause with 17 counters.

Every Bearkitten saw action the following evening as they walloped the Lewis and Clark Freshmen 73 to 45. Dave Gray's deadly one-handed push shot was a strong factor in the Willamette victory. Gray led all scorers with 20 points.

Last Saturday night Coach Sam Vokes' cagers traveled to Pacific and crushed the Pacific

Junior Varsity 78-39. Although they had a very short pre-game warm-up because they arrived late at Forrest Grove, the Willamette Bearkittens hit a .455 field goal average. Baggett again led the scoring with 17 points and was followed close behind by Ken Havernick who hooped 13 points for the evening.

Lebanon high's Warriors gave the Frosh a scare Tuesday night as they held their own for the first half before losing to the Cardinal and Gold machine. Johnny Stolsig, speedy and accurate Warrior guard, provided most of the fireworks as he bucketed 28 counters. Stolsig hit 14 out of 15 shots from the free throw line. Gray won high point laurels for the Bearkittens as he copped 20 points for the night.

In the future the Bearkittens will greatly miss Larry Scheelar who has enlisted in the Navy. Scheelar was valuable asset in Vokes' strategy. Scheelar held his own on the backboards for the Bearkittens and he had 86 points to his credit when he left the squad after the last Pacific game.

Willamette WAA Team Captures First Place In Archery Competition

Willamette's WAA archery team copped first place honors in the national Women's Inter-Collegiate meet. The Willamette team which entered the class D competition racked up a total of 6206 points out of a possible 6480.

The University of Connecticut squad which edged out the Willamette entries for the past two years dropped back to the runner-up spot in this year's competition.

Three other squads from Willamette entered the national competition and they placed sixth, twelfth and fifteenth.

Pat Click shot the highest score in the match with a tally of 536 hits out of a possible 540 and she led the WAA team to national honors.

Other members on the winning team were Ursula Glaeser, Catherine Kenyon and Jane Connell.

Charlene Asvik, Nancy Doughton, Beverly Kleist and Jeanne Martin composed the team which placed sixth in the national ranking. Composing the squad which won twelfth place were Jeanette Denney, Jean Helgerson, Ellen Ray, Martha-jane Stearns, Betty Walser and Judith Wood.

Sally Bridgman, Adele Lampson, Suzanne Lovely, Wanda Makinson, Jane Notson and Greta Wildey were on the team which place fifteenth.

Schools entering the competition are placed in several classes according to type of range used and distance of shots. Class D which Willamette participated in is for schools which use an indoor range and shoot arrows at a 20-yard distance.

Cardinal Crew Wins Three for Three As Willamette Racks up Wide Margins

By Pete Pratt

Though making only three starts in as many weeks, Willamette's torrid Bearcats accounted for a trio of raging Methodist victories in that time, winning the closest skirmish of the three by a 32-point margin.

Latest of the historic trio was a crushing 92-55 defeat of Pacific's hapless Badger crew, rendered following a two-week Bearcat layoff for final exams.

Prior to exam week, the Bearcats registered their first "century" in the long history of the university when they went wild to swamp the league-leading Lewis and Clark Pioneer quintet 103-62.

Bearcats Redhot

The crushing of Lewis and Clark followed close on the heels of another clash in which Pacific's Badgers held the Cardinal and Gold to a relatively close 74-42 triumph.

The Bearcats scored the most one-sided of the two victories over Pacific last Saturday night on the Badger floor, commonly referred to as the "cracker box." Willamette played a steady, red-hot game that evening, scoring 23-points in each quarter for a grand total of 92 against 55 for the Badgers.

The Cardinal crew took 79 field goal attempts Saturday night, sinking 41 of them for a deadly .506 percentage. As soon as the 23-10 first quarter lead was established by the regulars, Coach Johnny Lewis began clearing the bench of substitutes. The entire crew of 14 men saw action. Although Doug Logues and Ted Loder shared scoring honors for the Bearcats with 20 apiece, 13 men figured in the tallying for Willamette.

Willamette Breaks Record

On Saturday evening, January 19, the Willamette floor was the scene of the Bearcat's first hundred-counter. The 103-62 victory over Lewis and Clark, previously and since unbeaten in conference play this season, broke a Bearcat scoring record set earlier in the season when they topped Chico State in a walk-away, 98-58.

The basket which broke the hundred mark was sunk by frosh-reserve guard Benny Holt who had not previously scored a single field goal.

It was a close game for the first eight minutes as the Pioneers jumped off to an early 3-0 lead. The two quintets were deadlocked at 15-all, when the Mighty Bearcats began to click. With Logue, Loder and Dick Mase leading the way, the Bearcats were never in danger after that. The trio scored 30, 19 and 15 points respectively.

Fast Break Clicks

Friday evening January 18, the night before the Lewis and Clark record-breaker, Willamette met Pacific's Badgers on the Willamette maple-boards and came out victor by a 74-42 count. The Bearcats used an especially fast offense that evening which kept the Crimson and Black team going around in circles throughout the fray.

Spring Sports

All those who are interested in turning out for the golf team this spring are asked to see Coach Sam Vokes individually sometime next week.

Also track managers for this year's Bearcat cinder squad are needed. All those who are interested in this managerial post are urged to contact Track Coach Chester Stackhouse in the Athletic office.

Second Annual Relays Set for April 5; Draw Record Number of Participants

A record total of 75 high schools from the states of Oregon and Washington already have accepted invitations to participate in the second annual Willamette Relays on April 5, reports Athletic Director Chester Stackhouse.

In the college and university ranks, there are 12 entries from the states of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. They are Central Washington College of Education, College of Idaho, George Fox College, Lewis and Clark, Olympic Junior College, Oregon College of Education, Pacific University, and University of Oregon.

Rounding out the college and university teams are University of Portland, University of Washington, Whitworth College and Willamette.

Seven of the 75 high schools entered will come from Washington. They are Auburn, Battle Ground, Centralia, Kelso, Lewis and Clark of Spokane, Mount Vernon and Vancouver.

Among the leading schools entering from Oregon are Klamath Falls, state track champions last year; Salem, runners-up to Klamath Falls last year; Corvallis, Eugene, Grant of Portland, Milwaukie and Molalla.

The contestants will be divided into a novice class and into a senior class. The novice class will include the men who have never won a varsity track letter while the senior class will include the varsity track winners.

The relays will be run off in four and one half hours. Each race will be a final race. Certificates will be given to all winners.

STAN NELSON

Here we are, back at the old stand after a long vacation from writing tasty tid-bits about athletic proceedings at old WU. With the new semester some changes have been made in the sports department. Your old "bySTANder" has ditched the ship for newer grounds and Erwin Weber, a capable man on the staff for the past three semesters, will move into the editor's post. It looks as though we haven't quite shaken the duties of pounding out a weekly (or is it "weakly") column. Some mention should be made of the other staff members for the second semester, because it is a lot of work getting out the regular two pages each week—so here they are, bless their hearts: Pete Pratt, Don Empey, Hal Johnson, "Lefty" Shield, John Swenson, and Frank Winship who will handle statistics.

Coming up tonight and tomorrow night, first at Palatine hill and then at the local court, are two basketball tilts that may decide who the conference champ will be—Willamette or Lewis and Clark. The odds are in favor of the local crew due to their overwhelming 103-62 win over L-C before and because of the fact that the Pioneers have yet to make that rugged jaunt to Whitman and College of Idaho. Yet, because they whipped them badly once doesn't mean that the Bearcats will breeze through the Fixmen of Lewis and Clark again. That is the unpredictable aspect that makes basketball such an interesting game. Let no one assume that the 'Cats will mop up L-C and go on to win the conference—even the best of them depend on vocal support—let's give our men just that tonight and tomorrow night.

Just received word that two 'Cat athletes, John Markoskie and Lou Scrivens, have new offspring—both came up with girls though, so the new Misses Markoskie and Scrivens have been nominated for yell queens in about 1970. No doubt both of them wanted boys to carry on their fine athletic traditions, but it just didn't turn out that way. Scrivens was so hopeful that he named his Randolph Lou before it arrived, but hastily changed the name to Rebecca Lou. If they ever do have boys they will probably turn out to be violin players anyway.

'Valentine' Theme Set For Dance

Red and white decorations will provide a "romantic" atmosphere for the annual Valentine day dance sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon this evening. All students have been invited to attend the affair from 9:30 until the last dance at 12 o'clock.

Dress for the dance will be semi-formal, and 50 cents admission will be charged each couple. The affair is to be in the recital hall of the Music building.

Jane Foosee has planned a red and white color scheme for the dance which will be carried out in decorations of a false ceiling, hearts and silhouettes.

Music will be from records chosen by Jodelle Parker, and entertainment has been planned by Gay Simons. Punch and cookies will be served by Anne Swanson and Donna Jenkins, and Jane Gray has invited patrons and patronesses to sponsor the dance.

Couple Plan Wedding

Valentines decorated the Delta Gamma chapter house January 21 to announce the engagement of Sylvia Hastings and Warren Mulkey.

Miss Hastings is a sophomore and a member of Delta Gamma. Mulkey, a junior majoring in economics, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The wedding will take place next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Christian church. Attendants will be Marylou Hastings, sister of the bride and maid of honor, and Marilyn Quamme. Following the wedding a reception will be held at the church.

The couple will live in Salem and Mulkey will continue his studies at Willamette.

Phi Delt's Pledge

Phi Delta Theta, social fraternity, pledged four men this week. The new pledges are George Evans and Dennis Elsasser of Portland, Jerry McNeerney of Parkdale, and Bob Smith of Seattle.

Bishop Kennedy Banquet Speaker

Bishop Berald Kennedy of the Methodist church will be the main speaker at the "World Wide Banquet" presented by Wesley fellowship next Friday evening at 6:30 at the First Methodist church.

Bishop Kennedy has just completed a trip around the world and will speak on "The World Church As I Saw It."

The "Co-Ed" for February was chosen from women students by a board composed of Pres. G. Herbert Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, the president of the student body, and members of the Associated Women Students cabinet.

As a music major during her four years at Willamette, Miss Gustafson has been especially active in music activities. She has served as treasurer of Mu Phi Epsilon, music honorary, and is now senior scholar in music theory. Serving as accompanist for the class of 1952 at Freshman Glee last year, she is often called on to serve as an accompanist and appeared in Varsity Varieties.

The Theodore Presser Foundation scholarship in music was awarded to Miss Gustafson. She has also been song leader for Alpha Chi Omega and is now serving on the advisory committee for Freshman Glee.

Recognition for a high grade point during her freshman year was awarded February's "Co-Ed" when she was tapped for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta. During her sophomore year she was active in Beta Alpha Gamma, activities honorary, and served as president of the Junior Panhellenic council. Last spring she was tapped for membership in Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, and was elected president of the group.

Pepcats and UNESCO have also found her active during her college career, and she is treasurer of YWCA. She is now serving as recording secretary of Alpha Chi Omega.

Campus Groups Select Officers

Pat Faber, junior from Central Point, has been elected president of Delta Gamma for 1952. Other officers installed with Miss Faber last evening were vice-president, Wilma Aller; recording secretary, Mary Polales; house treasurer, Delores Miller; chapter treasurer, Jo Anna Hirtzel; social chairman, Marlene Vincent, and Panhellenic representative, Betty Breakey.

Dona Mears Pi Phi Prexy

New officers of Oregon Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi were installed at the chapter house Monday night. Those elected to serve for the spring semester are: president, Dona Mears; vice-president, Amaryllis Lilles; corresponding secretary, Carolyn Crane; recording secretary, Beverly Rands; treasurer, Joyce Frost; Panhellenic representative, Alice Girod; and social chairman, Maryln Ingraham.

Bishop Elects
President of Bishop house for the spring term is Mabel Davis. Other officers chosen in recent elections include vice-president, Greta Wilday; secretary-treasurer, Sallie Cheavens; historian-reporter, Cathy Kenyon and song leader, Sandra Schuerman.

No Firesides Included In Spring Social Events

In order to relieve a crowded social calendar, exchange firesides between fraternity and sorority groups on campus have been deleted from the spring social calendar.

The AWS Leap Year dance will be held in Baxter hall on March 1. Practices for Freshman Glee will begin soon after Rush Week is over, and several house dances are scheduled the weekend following Glee. The Varsity Ball will be held the weekend after spring vacation, and preparations for May Weekend will continue throughout April.

For "HIM"! From YOU

Terrific Selection of Valen-Ties and Bows

New "Long Look" Bows. A smart Bow Tie from Jayson's means that you cared enough to give the finest!

Prof. Clark to Leave WU After 29 Years

Professor Herman Clark, one of Willamette's finest and most loyal professors is retiring this June after 29 years of duty in the science department.

He first came to Willamette in 1909 as a student! In 1914 when he graduated, there were 23 people in his class. He first took a position as the head of Astoria's science department. The following year he came to Salem high school where he held a similar position, in addition to writing the course of study for general science, and advising the Idaho school system on science instruction. During this time he was taking further studies at the University of Washington and the University of California.

Although Professor Clark has taught nearly every science course, physical science and geology are his two specialties. He originated the physical course himself, and he has always taught it. The course was a new idea for it contained a general background of the principal sciences in one course, and thus was ideal for non-science majors.

Regulations Increase

Surprisingly enough, there are many more regulations today than there were when Clark was a student. He remembers, as a freshman, hearing Willamette's president in his opening chapel speech tells the new students that there was only one rule: "Act like ladies and gentlemen." Of course, in those days there wasn't much need for rules concerning boy-girl relationships for the two sexes got together for about only three social functions a year. If a boy visited a girl at Lausanne, the couple sat in the parlor with a chaperone. "Brother," exclaims Dr. Clark, "if you walked to church with a girl one week, you were called on the carpet the next!"

"Dancing was considered the straightest road to Hades," relates Prof. Clark. This attitude was changed about 17 years ago when a committee of trustees and faculty members, including Clark, studied the problem and decided favorably on dancing.

Willamette Resembles Farm

The Willamette campus that Professor Clark first saw bears little resemblance to today's campus. It contained three buildings: Waller hall, Eaton hall, and the music building which was the medical building. It looked more like a farm than the city park it today resembled, and the whole expanse was cared for by just one man. Almost every tree on our campus has been planted by a student. They used to go wild on Arbor day. For many years the campus was partially surrounded by a walk with lines of maple trees on both sides of it. This "maple walk" was a favorite post card souvenir of Salem. "My what a mess when all those leaves came down," recalls Professor Clark. "In those days leaf rake meant leaf rake."

Chapel and Freshman Glee are two institutions that Prof. Clark is especially fond of, although he did like chapel much better when it was held five days a week in Waller hall. It was more of a family group, everyone was there, faculty and members alike. The professors took turns giving the chapel talks and the whole school was afforded the opportunity of getting to know each other better.

Glee Unites Freshmen

The professor goes on to say that "the freshman class is never a class until after Freshman Glee." Clark believes that the idea of spontaneous song, upon which the Glee was originated, has sort of died away. He can remember how, through the years, the basis of Glee, the song, has often been submerged. Because of the fierceness of competition, various devices such as lighting, decoration, costume or formation have been accentuated to such an extent that they have tended to submerge the importance of the song.

Professor Clark is not happy to be leaving Willamette, but he is looking forward to retirement and the freedom it will bring. He rates Willamette as "one of the outstanding schools" and "morally way out ahead." He has no definite plans after next June. There are several papers that he plans to write, and he would like to do a good deal of work on his house and yard. Also he has been quite successful in his sideline jewelry business, and he is considering expanding it.

Registration Lags; Figures Fall Behind

The latest registration figures for the 1952 spring semester shows that 858 students have signed up at Willamette for the coming session. This number is, according to figures received from the office of Harold Jory, registrar, through Wednesday, February 6.

The 858 students enrolled so far is still 122 short of the 980 high of the spring semester last year and further under the 1035 that registered for the fall session of 1951. In an effort to speed up registration, Jory warned that Profs will be instructed to remove from classes those who have not registered by today.

Y Secretary Visits Campus

Paul Keyser, regional student Y.M.C.A. secretary, was the guest of the campus Y, Tuesday. Mr. Keyser attended the first meeting of the spring cabinet and spoke at the regular weekly meeting.

Members of the newly chosen cabinet are: Gordon Ruff, president; Don Empey, vice president; Larry Doyle, secretary; Hew Todd, treasurer; Dave Belch, publicity chairman; and Bill Lawrence, program chairman.

At the business meeting Mr. Keyser spoke about the relationship of local Y groups to the international Y.M.C.A. organization. The spring program was discussed.

The next regular meeting of the campus Y will be Monday, February 11 in the rumpus room of Lausanne hall at 12 noon.

R. E. Contests To Continue

By Carl Blanes

The Inter-Faith Council, making plans for Religious Emphasis Week this year, thought it would be important to continue the Essay and Poster contest for two reasons: to stimulate thought in advance of Religious Emphasis Week concerning Christ's formula for living, and give students opportunity to express their convictions literally and artistically.

This year, CHRIST'S WAY TODAY? has been set for our slogan by the Inter-Faith Council. Seeing the world split several ways by several prevailing ideologies, one of which we can see gaining steadily in Europe and Asia, we in 1952 America need to examine our spiritual heritage and take a firm course of action.

Posters submitted must be on 12x22 tag-board (available at the bookstore) and should be executed with a view to being photographed. The winning poster will be reproduced in black and white on the cover of the Religious Emphasis Week programs.

Essays will run approximately 500 words, and should center around the theme although original titles may be selected. The winning essay will be printed in the Collegian and must be submitted without name and registered with a number.

The deadline for both Essay and Poster contest are Friday noon the 15th of February. Prizes of $15 and $10 are offered for first and second prizes for both Poster and Essay contest.

"Carmen la de Triana," a Spanish film was shown by UNESCO last Wednesday. A good crowd viewed the film and its additional feature "Land of the Maple Leaf."

The main feature, based on the same book as the opera, "Carmen," painted a vivid picture of the fiery gypsy, Carmen and her many suitors.

Imperio Argentina was cast as Carmen and did very well in dialogue, singing and dancing.

AWS Seeks Memberships; New Spring Project Planned

Memberships in the Associated Women Students for the spring semester are being solicited this week.

Representatives in living organizations and for town students were appointed by membership chairman, Judy Fullager, and have been accepting memberships in the AWS.

The membership fee of 50 cents may be paid in the student body office after Tuesday. Until then, membership cards may be secured from Ardith Bailey, Jane Horn, Pat Faber, Thelma Klepp, Shirley Dean, Bea Kauffman, Judy Finch or Sandra Schuermann.

Baby-Sitters Wanted

Willamette women will soon have an opportunity earn spending money by baby-sitting.

The Associated Women Students have posted lists on bulleting boards in the living groups for women who are interested in such a project to sign. The lists will be collected next Friday and a meeting of all the women who signed the lists will be held soon after that date.

A survey of faculty members by the AWS indicated the unanimous approval of the project by the faculty. The service will also prove helpful to campus organizations in securing baby-sitters for chaperons for their social events.

Forensic Group to Meet On Willamette Campus Tuesday

Willamette university will play host to the Intercollegiate Forensic association next Tuesday, February 12, in the association's annual experimental speaking and peace oratorical contests. The contest will be held in the afternoon in Waller hall.

Entrants in each of the events and their coaches, representing the colleges and universities of Western Oregon and Washington will be present for the contest. The public has been invited to hear the speeches. Competition in experimental speaking will begin at 1:30 p. m. and the peace oratorical competition is scheduled for 4 p. m.

A dinner at Nohlgren's restaurant followed by the attendance of the entire group at the play "Papa Is All" will round out the day's activities.

This will be the first time since 1949 that Willamette has entertained one of these state-wide speech events which are held at different campuses successively through the list of participating schools. Dr. Runkel will select the Willamette contestants for each of the two contests later this week.

Solomon Knows Own Worth

By Darrel deChaby

Marge Aldinger, Harley Hoppe and I met Solomon at the airport the day before his concert here. While we waited for the plane Marge gave an oration to the agent which went something like this: Resolved, your peanut machine doesn't work and I want my money back! Harley was on the phone as usual and I was gazing into the clouds as usual. The plane landed and the great man stepped out, looking like a bank president, complete with horn-rimmed glasses and a funny looking little bag that looked like it had a bowling ball in it. Maybe it did, I don't know. "How do you do?" he said in a Basil Rathbone accent that was not only clipped but trimmed and hung out to dry. He offered cigarets around. I took one. Solomon smokes Camels and carries them in a long leather case. Very European. My lighter worked on the third try. "Darn thing never works," said I. Solomon said nothing. I meant to save the butt

Gunn's Art Shown

The art department is displaying for the first time today an exhibit by Paul Gunn, art instructor at Oregon State college, featuring oils, water colors, and prints. The exhibit is in the art building.

Gunn recently exhibited the paintings that can now be seen in the Portland Art Museum. He also gained much attention when he received the purchase price for one of his prints in the second annual Print Exhibit at the Portland Art Museum in 1950.

Faculty Women to Perform; Cello-Piano Duets Featured

By Jane Fooshee

The Willamette University College of Music, as a part of the 1951-52 Faculty Series, is presenting Miss Ethel Lou Stanek, cellist, and Mrs. Catherine Schnelker, pianist, in recital on Monday, February 11, at 8:15 p.m. in the College of Music recital hall. The program is open to the public and all students are urged to attend.

Miss Stanek and Mrs. Schnelker will present a program of sonatas representing three periods of composition. As an example of the early classic period in music, Miss Stanek will play the Suite No. 5 in C Minor for Violoncello Solo by J. S. Bach, which consists of a Prelude and Fugue, Sarabande, and Gigue. The instrumental suite, as it appears in this composition, was the direct predecessor of the sonata, and though not called by the title of "Sonata," it rightfully belongs in such a program.

For their second number, Miss Stanek and Mrs. Schnelker will play the "Sonate Pour Violoncelle et Piano" by Claude Debussy. This represents the Impressionistic school of composition, and consists of a Prologue, Serenade, and Finale.

The final number on the program of sonatas is the Sonata for Cello and Piano by Burrill Phillips, in three movements; Allegro, Adagio, and Allegro assai et vigorosamente. This composition has a special significance for Miss Stanek, for the thesis she is writing as the final requirement for her Master's Degree, now near completion, is an analysis of the Sonata. The composer, Burrill Phillips, is at the present time the head of the composition and theory departments at the University of Illinois.

A native of Wisconsin, Miss Stanek is a newcomer to the campus this year. She fills the place in the College of Music faculty vacated by Jean Farquharson, teaching piano, theory, and Sixteenth Century Counterpoint. She is also teaching cello, which is an innovation in the curriculum of the College of Music.

Mrs. Schnelker, the wife of Prof. Joseph Schnelker, also of the Music School faculty, is assisting in the piano department and directing the training choir. She received both her Bachelor of Music and her Master of Music degrees from Oberlin Conservatory of Music in Ohio, and taught piano there last year.

Arena Drama Scheduled

Rehearsals were begun this week for the arena adaptation of Robert Sherwood's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." The five scene drama will be presented February 12 during a meeting of the Daughters of Veterans of the Civil War.

Cast in the experimental production are Bob Kaplan as Abe Lincoln and Gloria Nandie as Mary Todd Lincoln. Garold Mehnke will portray Ninian Edwards; Keith Lawrence, Josh Speech; Arlene Deakins, Ann Rutledge; Jean Thomas, Elizabeth Edwards; David Belch, Bowling Green; and Ann Shidell, Nancy Green.

Bliss Designates Glee Executives

Duane Denney, Beverly Gustafson, and Amaryllis Lilles have been appointed to serve as the Freshman Glee executive committee, Sherman Bliss, ASWU president, announced.

This committee will advise and assist the freshmen and help formulate Glee policies, Bliss said.

The freshmen committee chairmen met Monday to discuss Glee plans, Ruben Menashe, manager, announced. Committee members will be appointed by next week, and the tentative budgets should be prepared.

Campus Buildings Get Face Lifting

Study rooms on the main floor of the Law school are being repainted and re-varnished by the maintenance crew, according to Dr. Fenix, financial vice-president. The maintenance crew also has re-decorated the locker rooms for the visiting teams, the coaches' locker room and the lower hall of the gym.

The last of the old stadium has now been removed. Since the ground was wet trucks were unable to get in and remove the lumber. If the weather permits that part of the campus will be cleaned up so that the athletic field will be able to take care of the intramural sports.

Several two-year-old cedar trees were planted inside of the fence at McCulloch stadium to help beautify the grounds and help form a windbreak. This is part of the ground plans for the stadium.

and press it in my album of Chopin Etudes, but forgot and threw it away.

Solomon relaxed when he learned that he would have the same Steinway grand piano here that he used in Portland. "Good," he said, "I like that piano." And he meant it. I questioned him about the 32 Beethoven sonatas he is recording. He mentioned that he had just recorded the "Pathetique." "I couldn't pass this up. 'I'm learning that one,'" said I. Solomon was not impressed. Marge said something to the effect that a friend of hers had called Solomon the greatest pianist in the world. "Your friend has good taste," said Solomon. And he meant it. I was impressed.

Arrangements were made for the artist to practice on the grand piano in Waller hall the following morning before his Steinway arrived from Portland. I guess you'd call it practicing. What he did was just play superbly for about an hour and a half. It was all Bach, Mozart and Beethoven. He played nothing that was on his program for that evening and said that this was what he was to play for his New York recital in a few weeks just prior to returning to England. Gad, that old box hadn't sounded so good since Dobbs played on it two days previously. Solomon had lunch with Dr. and Mrs. Lovell and they compared notes on merry England. Dogged Solomon out to the high school auditorium and heard another hour of music. This was real practicing. Solomon went over one phrase of "General Lavine Eccentric" ten or twelve times, played beyond this point a few measures and then repeated the process. When he was satisfied he went on to "Une Barque sur l'océan." Just as it was listing slightly to portside he suddenly stopped, glared at the clock on the wall and remarked, "That — thing ticks VERY AUDIBLY every minute. Good thing it doesn't tick every second isn't it?" We stopped the clock. Solomon can't stand competition. In fact, there are some who say he hasn't any competition. Be that as it may, or may it be as that, or it may very well be, he "gassed" Carl Blanes, and drew from Professor Josef Schnelker this remark: "Best piano playing I've heard in ten years." So be it.

Return Proofs
