Student Representatives From Ten Oregon Colleges to Discuss School Government

By Don Scarborough

Student representatives from at least 10 colleges throughout the state are meeting today on the campus for the 11th annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders.

The meet began yesterday and will continue through Saturday. Delegates are scheduled to hear talks by Governor Douglas McKay; Pres. G. Herbert Smith; Dr. Robert Gregg; Rev. Robert H. Sweeney, vice-president of the University of Portland; Clifford Robinson, of the state education department, and Dr. V. H. Sword, missionary from India.

The purpose of the conclave is to discuss the problems of student government. The student body president, social chairman, board of publications chairman, and a junior representative from each of the schools was invited to attend and exchange ideas.

Student Problems Discussed
Willamette's delegates to the convention selected by the student council include Russ Tripp, student body president; Rog Adams, social chairman; Jack Brown, publications manager, and Jack Gunn, junior class representative.

Among the problems to be considered are the allocation of student body funds, the problems of the publications board, and student body elections and constitutions. Aside from the general sessions, committee meetings, election of officers and business of the three day meet, a bit of social life will be on the agenda.

Delegates Invited to Game

The conventioners have been invited to the Willamette-Whitman football game Friday night, fraternity dances Saturday night, and to other social functions being planned by Sue Mellor. The dances will be at Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Chi, and Beta Theta Pi.

Rudy Melone, editor of the University of Portland Beacon, will lead discussions concerning problems of the various college publications. Dick Pizzo, student body president of University of Portland, and Eileen Kruegel, student body president of Marylhurst, will be chairmen of the committee on National Students association and Pacific Students Presidents association relations.

John Minter of Lewis and Clark will head the committee on student body finance and Art Johnson, University of Oregon student body president, will chairmen the group on student-faculty relations.

This is the second year in which Willamette has played host to the group which met last at the Eastern Oregon College of Education at LaGrande. According to Russ Tripp, who was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer last year, Multnomah and Vanport colleges will be new additions to the list of schools represented by the federation.

Whip Whitman Banquet Stirs School Spirit

Whip Whitman chairman Dave Beckett discusses outcome of the banquet with the rest of the committee: Donna Lambert, Shirley Ambler, and Ernie Duvall. The dinner climaxed preparations for the annual Willamette versus Whitman competition which will take place this evening at 8 o'clock on Sweetland field.

Football Game On Schedule For Tonight

Originality and adaptability were the featured points of the yell and skit presented by the class, which won the annual interclass rivalry last night at the Whip Whitman banquet in the Salem Hi cafeteria.

Coach Chester Stackhouse and the football team were guests at the banquet which carried out the Whip Whitman theme. The class competition was judged by Mrs. Betty Mendenhall, Mrs. Charles McCarger, Mrs. Grace C. Marquam and Mrs. Edith Wayreuch, sorority house mothers.

Entertainment was presented by a trio from Delta Gamma, a quartet comprised of Dean Melvin H. Geist, George B. Martin, Harold B. Jory and Dr. Raymond A. Withey, and a selection of readings given by sophomore Phil Shaw. Program was under direction of Shirley Ambler.

No meals were served in the living organizations last night due to the all school attendance at the dinner which was estimated at approximately 450 people.

The band presented several numbers during the dinner.

The freshman class yells were led by class secretary, Marilyn Whaley, and their songs by Bob Bain. Three six footers led the juniors. They were Les Aldrich, Chuck Martin and Ted Mertz. Dick Hartley was in charge of the senior class.

The committee for the banquet included Dave Beckett, chairman, Donna Lambert, Shirley Ambler and Ernie Duvall. Last year's chairman in charge of preparations for the affair was Jim Purdy.

The dinner is a traditional affair at Willamette, and is designed to stir up spirit for the Whitman football game, which will follow this year at 8 p. m. tonight on Sweetland field.

Library Gets Books From Late Senator

A collection of approximately 75 books has been given the Willamette library from the collection of the late Senator Charles McNary. The books, of all types and covering many topics, will be placed on the library shelves sometime this month, according to Librarian Thomas Gillies.

These books are of particular interest to Willamette students because of McNary's importance in the history of Salem and Oregon. McNary practiced law in Salem many years before his appointment to the Oregon Supreme Court in 1913.

In 1917 Charles McNary was first elected to the United States Senate and he remained there for several terms.

The height of his popularity was in 1940 when he ran for vice-president on the Republican ticket with Wendell Willkie.

His home has always been in Salem and his funeral in 1944 was one of the first large funerals in the Oregon state capitol.

Chapel Notice

Dudley Strain of the First Christian church will be the speaker at a special Armistice day chapel today at 10 a. m. Except for this chapel service there will be no 10 or 11 o'clock classes, according to Dean Raymond Withey.

Bishop Kennedy of the Methodist church will speak at next Thursday's chapel.

Salem To Review Notorious Problem of 'Where To Park'

Following editorials, cartoons, and features in the Collegian, the administration announced this week that action on the notorious parking problem had been taken before the city council.

Students and teachers alike who have faced the problem of parking their cars within a few blocks radius of the campus will rejoice at the news that a formal request has been made to move the two-hour parking signs on Twelfth street to the west side.

The two-hour rule was allegedly brought about upon request by businesses on the State street business district who objected to students leaving their cars all day in front of the Law school and Baxter hall.

The only comment available on definite action on the matter by the city council was that it would "look into the situation further."

Dean Raymond A. Withey stated that he hoped something might be done to alleviate the problem which became heightened last week when parking on the capitol driveway was forbidden to all but state officials' cars.

'Messiah' Solo Parts Filled

Six soloists for Handel's "The Messiah" have been selected, announced Dean Melvin Geist, director.

The soloists are Virginia Ward Elliot, soprano; Grace Ashford, soprano; Edith Fairham Gunnar, alto; Ormal Tack, tenor; Robert Johnson, bass; and Robert Gwinn, baritone.

Virginia Ward Elliot, formerly on the staff at Linfield college and director of the First Presbyterian church choir in Salem, has appeared twice as soprano soloist with the Salem Oratorio society.

Edith Gunnar sang the alto roll last year. Ormal Tack is director of music at the Lower Columbia junior college at Longview, Wash. Robert Johnson is a member of the Unitarian church quartet in Portland. Robert Gwinn and Grace Ashford are seniors in the College of Music.

"The Messiah" will be presented Sunday, December 11.

Pick Up Books!

Students who have not picked up text books for this semester should go to the Bookstore this week. All the surplus copies will be returned to the publisher this coming week.

Fusser's Guides Now Available

With a warning to all students who have not picked up their Fussers' Guides, both concerning dates and the greatly decreased stockpile of that popular publication, ASWU president Russ Tripp asked that they stop at the student body office to claim their copies.

Especially noting that town students had been the slowest to get their Guides, Tripp said that the amount of directories on hand was steadily diminishing.

Cast Picked For "Our Town" Production

Hopeful Thespians on the campus were notified of their prospective careers for the next few weeks, as "Our Town" director Ruane Hill announced the casting list for the play.

Scheduled for a one night's showing on December 3 at the Salem high school auditorium, "Our Town" will include in its cast Frank Lockman as stage manager, George Porter as Doctor Gibbs, Dave Beery as Joe Crowell, and Jim Lester as Hawie Newsome.

Dottie Wood Is Mrs. Gibbs

Dottie Wood will enact the part of Mrs. Gibbs, Shirley Dean will portray Rebecca, and Barbara Langley, Mrs. Webb.

Lloyd Hanson will enact George Gibbs, Audrey Bliss will be Emily Webb, Sam Pitner will assume Professor Willard's role, Dave Place will be Mr. Webb and Jean Crakes will become the woman in the balcony.

Twins Baseball Stars

The man in the auditorium will be William Moore, Sue Mellor will portray the lady in the box, Jim Osburn will be Simon Stinson, Cleora Norwood will act as Mrs. Soames, and Constable Warren will be played by Babe Maudlin.

Jim Hartley will take over the role of Si Crowell, Keith and Kent Lawrence will be baseball players and assistant managers, Sam Pitner will enact a dead man, and Jean Crakes will portray a dead woman.

Maudlin, Beery, Lester, Dean, Pitner, Crakes, Place, Mellor and Norwood will act as townspeople. The choir will include Card, Pitner, Crakes, Mellor, Langley, Wood, Osburn, Norwood and the Lawrences.

First Modern Play

Centering about the lives of two families in a typical American small town, the popular play written by Thornton Wilder, was one of the first modern American plays to break away from tradition in several respects.

The appearance onstage of the stage manager and the utter bareness of the stage with no properties, were two of the most outstanding characteristics of the play, which has enjoyed capacity runs and audiences in nearly every city where it has shown.

Although "Our Town" is making its second appearance on the campus, the last presentation was in 1940, and the drama department expected no trouble in ticket sales.

Today It Remains to Be Seen . . .

Armistice day means many things to many people. To some, it is a day where they may take a few minutes from their work or classes to relax, and to others, it means the painful memory of men who lie in the soil of Belgium, Italy, Iwo Jima and New Guinea.

A "war to end all wars" is now only a sad mockery of the brutality and greed of clashing factions who led unwilling young men to unnecessary self-sacrifice in promotion of their own selfish interests.

It has been a long-established custom from grade school to college to spend a moment of silence on November 11 of each year in commemoration of the cessation of hostilities some thirty years ago.

Since that time, there have been other wars and other peace treaties which have made the first Armistice day almost a laughing matter. And yet, the optimism of the peoples of the world in 1919 following the first world-wide struggle was understandable, though perhaps unrealistic.

If those same peoples of the world could have found some effective means of enforcing their wishes against the warring factions who became their leaders, the commemoration of that Armistice day of thirty years . . . and four years ago . . . could not have been called a mockery.

Today, it remains to be seen whether the second generation in this line will be successful in uniting for a truly everlasting peace.

Upon their success, Armistice day will become a memorial to peace—instead of war.

Some Students Go to Chapel Every Week Highlander Knows the Reason—Now!

By Arlie Highlander

"... and the voice of the turtle is heard throughout the land."
—Solomon.

The Fraudulent Five, of which I am a charter member, decided it was my turn so I went to Tuesday Chapel the other day. I had been somewhat curious about this fine old Willamette tradition for some time, so I was interested in learning the set-up in this school-spirit-type mob scene. I didn't catch the speaker's name, but his address sounded something like this:

"The comparatively embryonic state of Israel has been . . . Hey, Mugs! Whassassignment in embryo-lab fer this Friday? Have you got your notes? Well pass 'em over here."

"... not only because of the violence of its birth, but the political implications of such . . . I'm gonna drop Political History, Ginny! It's strictly a dry run in my book. I thought it would be a snap, but wow! Whatta pile o' work. Course, it does have its attractions, but . . . aside from small oil deposits in disputed areas, natural resources are relatively scarce.

"Aside from the normal political and racial differences, there is a language barrier to be overcome . . . Ich bleibe, du bleibst, er bleibt . . . no bleit . . . aah. You shulda taken the German test with us. Schulze wasn't there and that Southard crumb just sat there readin'. Morrie and I both gotta hundred in it.

"... is no reason, actually, why these disputes cannot be settled through normal diplomatic channels . . . Well, you shoul'da griped about it. She gave me a C an' I went up and buttered up the old girl an' she changed it to a B-. All ya have to do is look interested and think of some good question to ask after class. Then they think you're really gettin' something out of it. It ain't hard to do in Comp.

"... and the fact that Palestine is the cradle of three of the world's greatest religions certainly . . . and David hewed Samuel to bits with a sword before the Lord after the battle of Agag and the Amalekites. But who were the Amalekites? Don't bother me, I gotta test in Bible next period. Then Saul sent for Daniel to . . . complete the confusion of these economic, political, racial and religious forces at work.

"The Jewish people are fighting instinctively to preserve a state so hard won, at any . . . an' we called in all the pledges an' made 'em sign statements that they wasn't in on the bench deal. Now, if anybody gets outa line, we got 'em cold. There's only one way to handle 'em. Keep 'em scared so's they won't get ideas . . . like the Stern gang and similar pressure groups.

"... domestic problems, such as the shortage of skilled technicians to carry out . . . buncha busted test tubes, crucibles, flasks an' crap. All afternoon! I'm s'posda be lab assistant but all I do is stand around lookin' intelligent an' make like a bottle-washer when the lab's over. I'm gonna switch my major to . . . carrying water because of the lack of plumbing.

"... but the Israeli government itself is quite unstable, what with many factions still trying to . . . get something on him. She says he came out of the third place about one-thirty and man was he . . . tottering feebly on its administrative legs.

Nobody can say that Tuesday Chapel isn't stimulating!

Someone Said School Spirit Isn't Just Horn Blowing; But Then He Was Hepped Up Over 10-Cent Coffee

By C. E. Wallace

The price of coffee went up to 10c per cup at the state house coffee shop last Tuesday. When a guy wants to join a round table beef session nowadays, he's almost got to have a good gripe or it isn't worth it. He needs a dime too.

A gang of us guys invested 20 cents apiece the other day at a two cup session on SCHOOL SPIRIT. Someone said we had a lousy football team because the students were dead-heads. Someone else said it was the coach's fault. One guy said we have a good team only they lose too many games. Finally someone said it was Pres. Smith's fault.

I was going to put in a good word for the Prez, but you know how those things go. And these guys were hepped up over 10c coffee anyway. So I shut up.

They finally decided we had good players on the football team and that they tried hard to win. If there is anything wrong with the coaching, it is because the coaches are changed too often. Good players aren't made into a good team in one season. Also the students turn out better for the games now than they did when Willamette wins were sure fire.

The cheering is OK. The band is OK. The team is OK. The coach is OK. Everything is OK.

That's when Pres. Smith's name came up!

It seems as though the president of Linfield college promised their football team that if it won he'd take them all out to a turkey dinner and also he'd stand on his head in front of the grandstand. The team won and Pres. Dillon of Linfield stood on his head.

Someone said he thought maybe Pres. Smith would stand on his head too if it would do any good. But no one listened. I don't think those guys believe Pres. Smith could stand on his head.

Of course after a while of listening to the beefs, you could tell Pres. Smith was just their fall guy. Someone said he heard there was a deal once a few years back when Pres. Smith traded places with one of the students for a day. The story goes that Doc Luther gave Pres Smith a bad time asking him math questions. And all the time this student was sitting down in the Prez's office taking it easy.

That story is what got Pres. Smith off the pan at our beef session. "You mean this student bloke was Prez for a day," one guy asks, "and he just sat there like a bump on a log?"

It's a good thing no one knew that student's name or there'd be one alumnus who wouldn't get a path raked for him on the campus for many a homecoming.

But you'd die laughing at some of the things these guys figured this student should have done.

Well, anyway that was when our bull session turned into a 20c two cup deal. Ideas started coming out of these guys like bubbles from a seltzer bottle.

The guys finally decided that all this talk about school spirit was the bunk. Just rumor. Someone said school spirit isn't a matter of horn blowing. It's what a guy or gal does when the cards are down. What we need is to have something happen so we could spontaneously show our school spirit.

We thought of burning down one of the school buildings so all you guys and gals could join together in a bucket brigade. But we'd have to get Pres. Smith's approval for that. Somehow the guys didn't think he'd go for it.

That got them talking about Pres. Smith again, and the guys all decided he was O.K. too. Everything was O.K.

That did it! We got up and left.

Who wants to sit around drinking 10-cent coffee and saying nice things about people?

BEEFS and BOUQUETS

Dear Editor:

In lieu of the worthy cooperation evidenced by those many persons who participated so enthusiastically in Willamette's most successful 1949 Homecoming, we wish, by this token, to make known our recognition and appreciation of the energy expended and the time consumed by them.

We are grateful for the singular opportunity, which Homecoming afforded us, to have served you.

Homecoming Committee,
Jackie Chute
Don Benson
Gordon Pratt
Stan Aschenbrenner.

Dear Editor:

In last week's Collegian, Joe Larkin stated in his column that the law students were griping about the Baxter hall residents taking up parking places in front of the law school. "The reasoning is," he stated, "that if those students leave their cars parked somewhere night and day, why don't they park them down by the Music hall so the law students can park near their building."

Well, well, well, well, well.

I believe in the old saying, "It's better to give than to receive," but it would be stretching an interpretation of the saying if one were to park down by the music hall, just so that some law student could park near "his" building.

Of course I suppose one could move down in front of the music hall and walk to his room. And I suppose, if a state employee took his parking place there, he could gripe to the Secretary of State, and that august person, no doubt, would order his employees to quit parking on State street altogether.

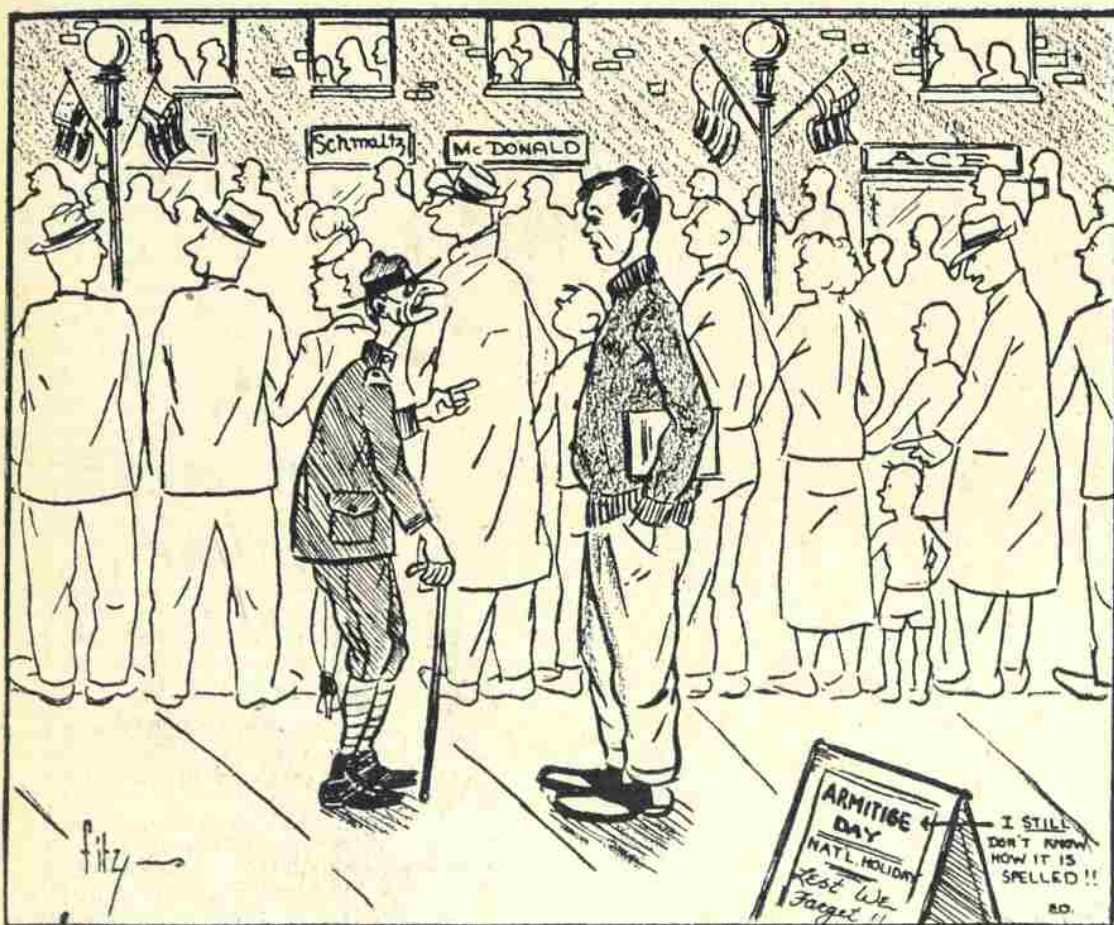

What a laugh!

I can sympathize with the law students, just as can nearly every other student, faculty member, state employee, or anyone else who has tried to find a parking place in this area every day between 8 and 5. (Not counting Saturdays and Sundays.) But I don't sympathize with a bunch of gripers who single out another campus group as a solution to their problems.

Let the gripers get out of bed early enough in the morning and get down to school and fight for the parking places with the rest of us.

W. Drexel.

Intercollegiate Speech Meet Attracts 200

The Willamette campus last week end was the scene of the annual institute of the intercollegiate Forensics association of Oregon.

The meeting was attended by representatives of the larger colleges in Oregon including the University of Oregon, Oregon State college, Linfield college, Lewis and Clark college, University of Portland, George Fox college and Pacific university. Smaller colleges and high schools attended by invitation.

Two hundred contestants participated in the discussion, debates and extemporaneous speaking, according to Dr. James Kirkwood, Willamette speech professor.

The topics for the college debate and discussion groups were: 1. Nationalization of basic industries, and 2. A Marshall plan for the Orient. The topic for extemporaneous speaking was "Government control of industry."

The topic for the high school debaters was "Direct election of the president." "The present crisis in labor relations" was chosen by the high school students for extemporaneous speeches.

The contestants attended a luncheon in Lausanne hall. Mr. Robert Fenix, business manager at Willamette, gave the welcome address.

The purpose of the institute, according to Kirkwood, was to bring the current issues to the attention of those present.

Those participating from Willamette were: Tom Scheidel, Harley Hoppe, Caroline Matter, Jean Kyle, Keith Lawrence, Kent Lawrence, Jim Wood, Marques McClanahan, Wilma Aller and Gloria McClellan.

'Jailed' Females Stage Mourning, Sing for Sisters

Solemnly lining the stairs of Lausanne hall last Friday night were the campused freshman women who serenaded their more fortunate sisters who were able to attend the dances that evening.

Bedecked in black for the occasion, the girls sang mournful songs to the coeds as they came down the stairs to meet their dates for the evening.

The women who were week-ended for entering the men's living organizations on the morning of the freshman leaf rake spent a good deal of their confinement studying rules so that they will know the do's and don'ts in the future.

Baxter Hall Sleepers Roused By Early Morning False Alarm

"Out of the building!" "Women and children first!" . . . Although this isn't exactly what men of Baxter hall and the four wings were saying on Tuesday morning at 2:30 a. m., incoherent reports would indicate that the fire alarm awoke all, or at least most, of the inhabitants there.

Sleeping members of Baxter awoke at that ungodly hour as groping hands sought to douse the alarm clocks that were at first thought the cause of the noise.

When the men were awake enough to realize that it was neither an alarm clock nor a runaway Noise parade bell, the halls were crowded with pyjama-clad men seeking to throttle the fire alarm which clanged merrily on and on and on . . .

Since ripping the bell from the wall was deemed necessary, if not impossible, by all quarters, there appeared to be no solution except going back to bed with earmuffs.

Then the ringing stopped as suddenly as it started, and peace again prevailed over Baxter. Late reports still could not trace the origin of the ringing, since the alarms rang all through the building.

Fire trucks which arrived at the scene after the alarm were sent back when investigation disclosed no evidence of fire.

Ore. Christian Youth Council Draws 200

With some 200 high school and college students attending the fall assembly of the Oregon Christian Youth council last weekend, President Dave Poindexter felt that protestant denominations were well represented. "This year, for the first time," said Poindexter, "union of the many denominations seemed possible."

The Oregon Christian Youth council, part of the state division of United Christian Youth movement, represents 44 protestant denominations. Under supervision of adult leaders, this year's assembly held workshops to discuss areas of action in communities.

Principal speaker for the council under the theme, "Upward and Onward," was Rev. G. Hayden Stewart, student leader from the University Christian church at Seattle.

Wallace Richy of Oregon State college, is the newly elected council president, replacing Dave Poindexter, who has served for the past year.

150 Churches To Observe 'WU Sunday'

Willamette university Sunday will be observed by 150 Methodist churches throughout Oregon this Sunday as special offertory services are held.

Sponsored by the National Board of Education of the Methodist church, funds from the collections will be utilized for the general support of Willamette, oldest institution of higher learning in the West.

Willamette Sunday was originated in 1942, the University's centennial year, by Pres. G. Herbert Smith, then in his first year at Willamette. Since then, it has been an annual event throughout Oregon.

Two years ago, the offering was designated for Baxter hall, men's residence which stands as a memorial to the late Bishop Bruce R. Baxter.

Nine students have been selected to assist Dean Raymond A. Withey who is in charge of the program this year. They will speak to various Methodist congregations.

Frank Lockman will speak to the Centenary-Wilbur church, Portland; Anne Swanson, Lebanon; Bill Ross and Bill MacDougall, Mt. Tabor, Portland; Jean Crakes, First Methodist church, Eugene; Mark Cotton, Canby, and Russell Tripp, Albany.

Yale university; Chancellor Robert Maynard Hutchins of Chicago university; Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Methodist church, and Dean Harold Bosley of Duke university.

A full schedule of sub-conferences, recreation, and music, directed by Russell Ames Cook of the Princeton symphony and the Portland symphony, will occupy the time of the delegates during their four-day stay in the mid-west.

Bearcats Upset 20-0 By Red-hot Wildcats

By Dave Card

Chester Stackhouse must be a very puzzled gentleman following Willamette's 20-0 loss to Linfield at McMinnville last Saturday, for there seems to be no reason for the Bearcat's poor showing so far this year.

First Since 1925

Yet Linfield, certainly not an outstanding team but a rather poor one, took the measure of the Bearcats 20-0, and the big question seems to be "Why?" For Linfield, this was the first victory over Willamette since 1925, and at the end of the encounter even Linfield's president was standing on his head in the middle of the field.

Score Come Early

Linfield struck first in the opening moments of the game as Harrison returned a Willamette punt 21 yards to the Bearcat 25-yard marker. From there, on second down, Harrison took a pitchout from quarterback Mel Fox and raced to the two-yard stripe. It took just one play from this point for Bob Hoy to hit paydirt, and following Bob Hein's conversion, the score stood 7-0.

The home-townners were unable to score again until late in the first half an intercepted pass by Heins on the Bearcat 32 set up another scoring thrust. After the first-down play following the interception gained but two yards, Fox's pass to freshman Jon Waldorf was complete to the 16-yard stripe.

An incomplete pass followed, and then Fox fired a touchdown aerial to John Down in the end-zone for six points. This time Hein's try for the extra point was no good, and Linfield led at half-time 13-0.

Fumble Costly

The Wildcat's final score came following the recovery of another

Willamette fumble, this time on the Linfield 43. From this point the winners started their TD march that was culminated by a three-yard touchdown romp around right end by quarterback Fox. Heins added the extra point, ending the evening's scoring with the count 20-0 against Willamette.

Willamette never did penetrate deep into Linfield territory driving to the 30 early in the second half, only to have a fumble stop the march.

Bearcats Pass

Held to a net yardage of 79 yards on the ground, the Bearcats took to the air frequently during the game, completing nine out of 19 for 166 yards. Four, however, were intercepted, and these four, along with four fumbles recovered by Linfield, nipped any Bearcat scoring thrusts in the bud.

Willamette's Bill Ewaliko again gave evidence that he is the Bearcat's outstanding backfield man, as he ran and punted well throughout the evening. Chuck Patterson, Bob Hall, and Al Minn were outstanding on defense, as has been the case throughout most of the season, and freshmen Joe Bonowitz and Dick Ruff looked good on the receiving end of a couple of passes.

Bearcats Face Whitman Here Tonight; Hope to Retain Axe

Coach Chester Stackhouse and his band of Willamette university Bearcats, after their 20-0 thumping at the hands of the Linfield Wildcats last week, will be battling the Whitman Missionaries tonight at 8 p.m. on Sweetland field.

The contest will mark one of the oldest rivalries among small western colleges. The feud was started back in 1925 when the Missionaries were at their fullest power, and they dominated play for the first six years. So far Willamette holds the edge over the Whitman eleven by ten games, the Jasons winning 17 while the Missionaries have won but 7.

Jasons Hold Edge

So far the Stackhouse crew has come out on top in the last six meetings, and through the last 17 games, the Jasons have come out on top 16 times.

Last year the Bearcat squad came out of the 24th mixer with a 26-7 victory over the Whitman's.

The Missionaries, a fighting crew whenever they meet the Bearcats, have been tasting one of the worst seasons that they have ever had in the Northwest conference. Up to date they have won two and lost seven, and share the conference cellar with Willamette, each with no wins.

To Determine Cellarite

So tonight's encounter will determine which grid eleven will remain in the cellar of the Northwest conference, and which will have a winless league record.

The Whitman eleven will be introducing a new coach this year in Archie Kodros, when they arrive for the 8:00 affair. Kodros was a one-time University of Michigan great where he was selected on numerous all-American teams.

Injuries Hit Whitman

Coach Kodros started out with what looked like a strong team to cop the Northwest crown, but week by week he was waylaid by the injury jinx. At one time the Kodros crew had seven regulars out of the starting lineup nursing injuries.

The Whitmans, who use the wide - open, throw-the-ball-around type of play, will be captained by Tackle Bob Monahan and Halfback John Baxter. Monahan is a 200 pound tackle and has earned three letters at that spot for the Missionaries. Baxter is a 155 pound halfback and is the fleet breakaway scat-back for the Kodros crew.

One of the heavies on this year's Missionaries is John Richardson. Richardson is a 205-pound plus fullback, being reconverted from tackle to the department of ball carrying this year. He is a two year letterman for the Kodros eleven.

Bearcats in Shape

The Whitmans have a fine flanker in Harold "Willie" Wilson, a 185 pound two year letterman. Wilson has been a steady performer at both defense and offense the last two years.

According to Coach Stackhouse, no serious injuries were suffered in last Saturday's mix, so the Bearcats are expected to be at full strength for the contest tonight.

The tentative lineups are as follows:

Willamette		Whitman
Pohnson	LE	Miller
Kukahiko	LT	Golden
Bowe	LG	Salzer
Patterson	C	McGovern
Beddoe	RG	Gaiser
Hosford	RT	Murray
Bonowitz	RE	Wilson
Connors	QB	Boyes
Ewaliko	LH	Baxter
Sperry	RH	Smith
Clabaugh	FB	Richardson

Whit Headman Faces Cats

Whitman's head mentor Archie Kodros, pictured above, as he appeared as captain of the Michigan team of 1939. Kodros will throw his grid machine up against the Bearcats tonight at 8 on Sweetland. He is new as head coach of the Missionaries and holds a season record of 2 wins and 5 losses which is the same as that held by the new Bearcat coach, Chester Stackhouse.

Baxter Keglers Tie Phi Delts For Intramural Bowling Lead

The Baxter No. 1 bowling team moved into a first place tie with the Phi Delt No. 1 team in the intramural bowling league, taking three out of four points from Baxter No. 2 last week, and four points from the SAE No. 1 team this week.

The Phi Delts, meanwhile, took three out of four from the SAE twos last week, and three out of four from the Betas this week.

Other results of last week saw the SAE ones take four from the Phi Delt twos, the Independents take four from the Baxter threes, and the Betas take three out of four from the Sigs.

This week's other action saw Baxter two take four points from the Independents, the Sigs take four from the Phi Delt twos, and Baxter threes take four points from the SAE twos.

High individual average up to last week was held by Paul Smith of the Baxter No. 1 team with 171. Other leaders include Brownie Valdez of the SAE No. 1 team with 167, John Janetski of the Baxter ones with 163, Chuck Harris of the Betas with 160, and Don Carpenter, also of the Betas, with 159.

Last week saw an increase in the number of games rolled up to date as Harris rolled a 230, Smith a 215, Arnie Simsonson a 206, Carpenter a 204 and Jerry Coen a 201. Smith also has an even 200 game.

High team series honors still belong to the Phi Delt ones with 2662, followed closely by Baxter No. 1 with 2647. The SAE ones are third in this department with 2417, and the Betas hold fourth with 2456.

Haglers Take Top Honors in Tourne

By Joyve Kelly

Taking top honors in the women's basketball tourney, The Hagler's pushed the Push-Pull-Click-Clicks into second place Friday, November 4, by a score of 32-15. Maria Puckett and Ruth Hagelstein took high scoring honors on their respective teams.

In third place position are the Hangover Hags captained by Mary Margaret Will. They fell to this place early in the tournament and maintained it by defeating the Push-Pulls, Tuesday, 24-22.

Basketball behind now, the WAA will start a volleyball tournament between WAA and the women's living organizations. The first game will be WAA vs. Delta Gamma.

November 21 there will be a volleyball tournament in the gym. Eight colleges will be represented and refreshments served to all afterwards. On November 17 the WAA from Willamette will journey to Oregon College of Education for a volleyball game there.

The next intercollegiate play night for women will be at Lewis and Clark college the 12th of January.

22 Cat Hoopsters Survive First Cut Of Cage Season

Twenty-two prospective varsity hoopsters got down to some hard work on team offense and fundamentals, after the first squad cut early this week.

A week of intensive concentration on the basic skills of basketball gave Coach John Lewis a good chance to see the material on hand from which to mould a varsity squad. With only eight upperclassmen still out for the varsity, the coach expects to have Willamette's youngest cage crew in several years.

A short three weeks remains until the Bearcats come to grips with the always formidable Loggers of Puget Sound. Last year, the Jasons did not engage the Loggers and they are somewhat of an unknown quantity.

The 'Cats will be out to duplicate last season's feat of a victory over the Oregon Ducks in the hoop opener.

Men still on the squad were the six lettermen Al Fedje, Lou Scrivens, Pete Bryant, Ted Loder, Doug Logue and Dick Brouwer, and last year's frosh team stars George Matile, Hugh Bellinger, Lefty Nordhill, Chuck Robinson, Dan Montag and Cliff Girod.

Concluding the list were Ray Osuna, Reg Waters, Pat Hanna, Dean Nice, Ray Pointer and frosh Jack Evans, Jack Hande, Bob Smith, Warren Killinger, Bob Watson and Dale Greene. Next week, the crew will be further trimmed to varsity size.

Cat Chats

By Dale Reynolds

Question of the year—What's wrong with the Bearcats? That is a good question and we wish we could answer it but we suppose that Coach Stackhouse would like to have an answer to it more than anyone else. In an attempt to answer the question we would say the Bearcats need better blocking and tackling. It may not be that simple, but blocking and tackling would help considerable.

Question of the week—Will the Bearcats keep the axe? We will venture to say, YES. After all, the Whits carry only a 2 win-5 loss record which is the same as the hapless Bearcats carry and although the game promises to be close the Bearcats should hold the final nod.

Bearcats Losing Long-Win Records

The days of the Bearcat's reign seems to be coming to an end, but fast. During the past two seasons, several long win rivalrys have fallen by the wayside. Last weekend the Bearcats played as poorly as a football team could play to lose 20-0 to Linfield for the first time since 1925 when the Jasons lost by a 3 to 0 count. This year's 41-14 loss to the potent College of Idaho team ended a 21-year win streak with that rival.

Last season, the Bearcats lost to College of Puget Sound for the first time since 1933 when they took their first Homecoming loss in 20 years by a 7-6 score. This year, the Loggers only made matters worse by downing the Cats 27-0. Another rivalry win streak came to an end last year when Pacific hung one on the Bearcats for the first time since 1936.

Tonight another rivalry win streak is at stake and this one is the Whitman rivalry which has the traditional axe as a trophy. The last time the Whits beat the Cats was in 1939 when the Jasons lost by a close 8-7 margin.

Substitution Penalties Heavy

The Bearcats have been taking more than their share of penalties from a violation of the substitution rule. Coach Slackhouse has been substituting in violation of the rule all season and was penalized four times against Linfield for the same violation. However, one can't be too strict on a violator of a particular rule since college football is governed by a set of 70 rules each with one to eight variations. To further confuse college coaches, there are 56 major and minor rule changes this year.

The rule the Bearcats have been penalized for is a newly revised rule and reads: Rule 3, Section 10, Article 2: "Substitutions: 'Whenever the game clock is stopped because of a substitution, the team making such substitution will be penalized five yards. The 'one man free sub rule' has been abolished. However, when possession of the ball changes, the Referee will take 'time out,' during which 'time out' both teams may substitute at will.

Harriers Dropped; Lack of Interest

Due to lack of interest on the part of potential cross-country candidates, Coach Stackhouse said that there will be no entrants from Willamette in the coming Oregon invitational harrier meet.

There were a few possible harriers out early in the season, but none showed enough interest to compete against such stars as Oregon State's George Fullerton, defending champion and a former All-American high school miler. Year before last, Willamette won the team laurels, and in the past two years hasn't had enough interest to field a team.

Betas Blank SAEs In Finals As Phi Delt's Top Dorks 7-0

Phi Delta Theta won a try for a berth in the double elimination playoff between the four top teams Friday when they beat the second place Dorks 7 to 0. This tied them with the Baxter Goons for fourth spot. The Phis and the Goons have a win, two losses and a tie each. The first game in the playoff schedule resulted in a 20-0 victory for the Betas over SAE. This game was played last Monday.

The games to be played Tuesday and Wednesday were rained out and were played on Thursday and Friday. The Thursday schedule, as we go to press, reads Baxter versus Phi Delta Theta (for fourth place in the playoff); Today, Dorks versus the winner of the Phi-Baxter contest.

The Phis, who have never met the Beta club, were not beaten by more than seven points in the two contests they have lost. Getting their share of the breaks in the Dork tussle they pulled through with a score in the first half and held on. They had possession of the ball at the final gun.

The Phis marched down field and got their score when Rog Adams threw to Clyde Jackson in the end zone. Adams booted the extra point. The Dorks threatened but the clock ran out before they could counter in the first half.

The Dorks started to roll in the second half, but were stopped when Dave Card intercepted. The Phis stalled off by employing running plays.

Beta copped the initial contest in the playoff when they downed the SRAEs 20 to 0. Don Carpenter recovered an SAE fumble to give the ball to the Betas on the enemy 10-yard line. Dick Endsley threw to Earl Fedje on the first play for a touchdown.

The SAEs made several attempts to score but the Beta defense held each time. The Betas scored again in the first half, Endsley to Carpenter, and scored once more in the last half. Carpenter kicked two extra points out of three tries for after-touchdown points.

Bearkits Smash George Fox; Face Pacific Juniors Today

A surprising Willamette reserve eleven, fresh from the 33-0 lacing they gave George Fox college, will face the Pacific JV's today in a game at Oregon City. The game is a benefit for crippled children and is the last one on the Bearcat's schedule. To date, the Willamette club has won three to only one loss.

Pacific, to compare scores, eked out a 20-19 win over the Quakers. Nevertheless, today's clash should be a terrific one when the two clubs square off at Oregon City.

Two names made news in the 33-0 shellacking Willamette gave George Fox college. The first was Keith Leninger, who proved himself an able replacement for injured Ed Jarman by pitching three touchdown passes in quarterbacking the team. The second was Ralph Onzunka, a speedy little sophomore back from Hawaii who set up the final reserve score with a brilliant 50-yard run.

The first two came on short passes from Leninger to Mark Cotton and Bob Shangle. John Skimas and Chuck Mary booted the extra points. Willamette took a 20-0 lead shortly after this when Wally Richards recovered a Quaker fumble in the end zone. The try for extra point kick was blocked.

No more scoring came until the second half when the reserves got two more.

The Leninger to Shangle combination clicked again for one after a 90-yard drive by the Bearcats. The extra point kick was again blocked. The final TD came when Jim Noa cracked over from the three after Onzunka's 50-yard dash set it up. Leninger then passed to Skimas for the extra point and the 33-0 victory. Lineups:

Campus managers for the group are Maury Underwood and George Juba. Dues will be $3.00 per year. Students who belong will receive discounts on goods and services in the following types of business—service station, movie, bowling alley, beauty shop, barber shop, restaurant, cleaners and laundry, shoe shop, men's clothing, women's clothing, variety store and gift shop.

Pi Beta Phi Initiate Five

Formal initiation ceremonies last weekend entitled five girls to wear the Pi Beta Phi arrow. Initiated were: Carolann Snarr, San Bruno, California; Mary Louise Lee, Salem; Marge Letticken, Dallas; Jean Kell, Burlingame, California; and Nancy Adams, Baker.

Geri Bowles Tapped by Honor

Geri Bowles, editor of last year's Wallulah, was tapped Tuesday by the Willamette chapter of Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary. Women are chosen, not only for high scholarship, but for participation in campus activities, growth in leadership, and for Christian standings. One purpose of this organization, which is limited to 10 per cent of the junior class, is to establish eligibility for membership in the National Mortar Board.

Members tapped last spring were Betty Ferguson, LaFyrne Showacy, Inie Lou Wilhelm and Doris Gragg, who is serving as president.

Which Will Reign at Sweetheart Ball?

Sigs to Reveal Sweetheart At Formal Ball Tomorrow

Jean Kell, Delores Fisher, or Shirley Griffin will be in the spotlight tomorrow night when a crown of white roses and a corsage in the shape of the Sigma Chi cross presented to one of the three women at the annual formal ball will single her out as the choice of Delta Zeta chapter for their "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" of 1949-50.

Sweetheart Revealed at 9:45

The three women composing the court, selected from an initial group of 25 will arrive at Sigma Chi house, scene of the dance, at 9:45 p.m. at which time they will be informed which one is the sweetheart. Immediately following this, the sweetheart will be announced by a fanfare and led to a setting in front of the bandstand where the coronation ceremony will be conducted by Bill Olson and Babe Maudlin. Gifts from the various merchants in town will consist of a rhinestone choker and bracelets; the local Sigma Chi chapter will present the large sweetheart trophy to the winner for her living organization, and a smaller duplicate for herself; recordings of the ceremony and a large photograph of herself will be presented to each member of the court.

Blue and Silver Color Scheme

Blue and silver will dominate the color scheme this year with the dancing area being decorated with blue hearts as planned by Sherm Bliss. The ceiling of the rooms will be hung with small blue hearts sparkling with silver italics. Nine of the walls will be covered with a huge blue heart, three of them framing a picture of the three members of the court. Potted palms will be placed at various parts of the room. A large score of the words and music to the song "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" will form a backdrop for a small heart-shaped pool in the front yard. Lighting effects will be achieved by black light.

The upstairs chapter room will be transformed into a lounge from which refreshments of heart-shaped hors d'oeuvres will be served. The Sigma Chi fountain punch bowl will also be featured.

Plastic Dance Programs

Dance programs with plastic covers engraved with the Sigma Chi crest in gold acetate have been ordered. Guests will also be given corsages of lavender and white orchids. Wayne Meusey's orchestra has been secured by Bob O'Neill to play for the affair.

Patrons and patronesses for the formal ball will be Sigma Chi hostess, Mrs. Nan Furman, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Oliver, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Schulze and Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gatke. Alumni of Sigma Chi are special guests.

Jottings
By Gerry

This week I saw a fresh gleam in the tired eyes of Don Carpenter, stalwart editor of the Willamette humor magazine. It seems as though he got the word this week that Stan Kenton is back in the music business via 75 concerts throughout the states, with (get this) no less than 40 pieces in his new aggregation. Carpenter seems to think Kenton's new "1950 Intonations in Music" will more than replace his old "Artistry in Jazz" series.

Carpenter is in the band business, too. As many know he was the instigator of the solid, but smooth Junior Bop-Band. He says he, too, may add woodwinds and a string section like Stanley Kenton.

It is that time of year when some are getting busy making out lists of gift suggestions for Christmas.

I hope everyone finds time to browse through The Moderne and see the unusually large assortment of gift cards by Norcross, Hallmark and Rust Craft. Matching ribbon and paper for gift wrappings are also featured.

One item in the gift section that is particularly appealing are the satin traveling slippers with foam rubber soles that sell for $1.98. They come in all colors in sizes small, medium and large.

Marilyn Cook

Marilyn Cook Tells Troth

The engagement of Miss Marilyn Cook to George M. Gottfried was made known to friends of the couple this week upon receipt of small notes inscribed with a clever verse announcing the betrothal.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Cook of Tigard and is a senior student in history. Mr. Gottfried, son of Mrs. Mary Gottfried of Salem, is a member of the class of '49 and is affiliated with Sigma Chi. At present he is studying for his Master's degree in the graduate school of education and plans to teach history upon completion of his work.

The wedding is planned for late summer.

First Nickel Hop Success; Profit $25

The first Nickel Hop on the Willamette campus, held in connection with open house at the women's living organizations October 28, has proven a success, according to Jackie Johnson, president of the Pepcats, who sponsored the initial event.

Profit from the introductory hop amounted to $25 and will be used to finance further similar affairs. Arrangements have been made for the purchase of a small loving cup which will go to the living organization with the largest attendance. Won this first time by the Chi Omegas, the cup will be presented in Tuesday chapel by Mrs. Alice Nelson, Pepcat advisor.

Delta Gammas Initiate 2 Women

Delta Gamma anchors are now worn by Maria Puckett and Pat Stanton, who were initiated last weekend. A luncheon was given in their honor Saturday at the Golden Pheasant.

The Delta Gamma province secretary, Mrs. Donovan Worden, will be a guest of the chapter during the latter part of this week. Mrs. Worden is making a tour of all Oregon chapters of Delta Gamma. She will be honored at a luncheon at the house on Saturday. Nonnie Faaborg is general chairman for the affair.

Travel Booklet Due in 1950

"Study, Travel and Work Abroad", an explanatory bulletin concerning foreign scholarships and educational opportunities, will reach Willamette at the first of the year, according to Ellen Montague, Collegian editor.

Supplementing material and information available in the office of Dean Raymond Withey, chairman of the University's board to pick candidates for foreign scholarships under the Fulbright act, the publication is printed by the U. S. National Student association.

The bulletin will explain the program of the NSA which sent over 600 students abroad last summer. Plans for 1950 include the sponsorship of at least 800 American college students in foreign lands.

Inquiries on the booklet will be answered at the Collegian office.

Fireside Will Honor Women On Scholarships

Class Dropping to End

According to Registrar Harold Jory, November 19 is the last day to drop any courses. If a student is passing in the course and drops it after this deadline, he will automatically receive a failing grade. If a student is failing the course and drops that course, he will still receive the failing grade.

Meeting the gang to discuss a quiz—a date with the campus queen—or just killing time between classes—the Dine-A-Mite Inn at the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kansas is one of the favorite places for a rendezvous. At the Dine-A-Mite Inn, as in all college off-campus haunts everywhere, a frosty bottle of Coca-Cola is always on hand for the pause that refreshes—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Unesco Plans UN Meeting

UNESCO's first official meeting will take place Tuesday, November 15, at 8 o'clock in Chresto Cottage, announced Lowell Miller, organizer of the group, Tuesday.

The constitution of the organization has been passed by the student council and UNESCO is now an official organization on the Willamette university campus.

Everyone who is interested in furthering the cause of world peace will have a place in UNESCO, Miller said. Specific abilities that will be of value are administrative ability, language facility, writing ability, typing and talent in speaking.

One project of the group will be the exchange of objects of educational and cultural interest with people in other countries and establish international understanding. A tentative plan of UNESCO is to present a model United Nations meeting at a Tuesday chapel sometime next semester. This will require people with knowledge of the working U. N. People with language facility to write the speeches of the delegates, individuals with knowledge of staging and students with acting ability.

All students who are interested in this project are invited to the meeting and foreign students especially. Anyone who is able to increase the present list of foreign or local contacts of the organization should turn in such information to the UNESCO office, second floor, Eaton hall.

State Officers Talk to Class

With four statesmen as guest speakers, Mark Hatfield's problems of government students were recently enlightened on the procedure of qualifying as successful political candidates, and on the duties of our state officers.

Speakers included Lawson McCall; Walter J. Pearson, state treasurer; Robert Jones, assistant publisher of the Capital Journal, and William Healy, assistant secretary of state.

McCall, representing Governor Douglas McKay, spoke on the political duties of the state governor. A former broadcaster from Portland, he was appointed to his post in the state house by McKay.

State treasurer Pearson spoke at a later date on the "Qualifications of a successful political candidate." An active statesman, Pearson is regarded by some as a potential candidate for governor at the next election.

Another outstanding guest speaker was Robert Jones, who spoke on "Press and Politics." A former foreign correspondent, Jones covered the League of Nations news, owned his own newspaper in California at one time, and handled regional political campaigns.

Last in this group of noted speakers was assistant secretary of state Healy, who also spoke on the "Qualifications of a successful political candidate."

Phi Eta Sigma Hears Prexy

Phi Eta Sigma's national president and one of the founders of the freshman honorary spoke to members and prospective candidates from the freshman class in Baxter hall Wednesday evening.

Dean C. Thompson, from the University of Illinois, urged the group to maintain high standards throughout their college careers, and voiced a hope that Phi Eta Sigma might someday be part of every important college in America.

President of the local chapter, William Merriam, introduced Dean Thompson and Willamette President G. Herbert Smith, who addressed the approximately 30 members and guests present.

Lorenz, Ambrose Named To ASWU Athletics Board

Howard Lorenz and Burnell Ambrose were appointed this week to the athletic board of Willamette university by action of the student council.

Lorenz, a senior and president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Ambrose, a junior and member of Sigma Chi, will serve this year on the advisory board. Once active, the board has become advisory since the athletic fund which used to be included in student body fees was placed under the tuition costs.

Giving of athletic awards and everything pertaining to students in the field of athletics comes under the supervision of this board.

Willamette Rules Aren't Bad--- Look At Bowling Green U!

If Willamette students think they are plagued by rules galore and regulations a'plenty, may they take note of happenings in other sections of the collegiate world.

Bowling Green, Ohio, for instance, is the home of Bowling Green state university. This, in itself, means nothing. But at that college, female students of the unmarried variety are unable to ride in automobiles at any time during the school year.

It sounds rather unpalatable, but maybe when the girl's parents come to visit her on weekends, she can run alongside the auto and talk to them through the open windows. She apparently must go home on the train, which might possibly mean that the railroad lobby in the Ohio legislature has had something to do with the establishment of this rule.

Freedom of the press, or something, seems to be affected by the ruling at Adelphi college, Garden City, N. Y., where students can no longer roam at will through the stacks. Just what happens behind the stacks? The press release did not include that information.

A new angle on putting students under "close supervision and counseling" instead of academic probation has been put into effect at Cornell college, Grinnell, Iowa. Further investigation into the new law shows that the faculty will have "full power to make its own regulations" on the matter, and that it may "recommend expulsion or suspension on academic grounds." But there still is no probation!

University of Oslo To Open Sessions for U. S. Students

The University of Oslo, Norway, will again hold a summer session for American and Canadian students who have completed at least their sophomore year in any accredited college or university. The opening date will be some time during the last week in June and the closing date will be some time during the first week in August.

The university will provide lecturers and guarantee the educational standards of the courses. All classes will be conducted in English and an American dean of students will, as in the three previous sessions, be included on the administrative staff.

The course of study includes a general survey of Norwegian culture for all students, selected courses in Norwegian history, language, literature and the arts, and special courses conducted by university professors and representatives of the government in various phases of the Norwegian political and social sciences and economics.

Puddles, Dangers Await Student On Nocturnal Jaunts on Campus

By Jerry Stinson

From the time of the middle ages the matter of finding a light has been a constant problem of man. Times have progressed, to the modern enlightened area. Enlightened? Just ask some of the women on the Willamette campus if they think we are in an era of light!

"You walk on that path from the Library to Lausanne and step in a puddle—mud all over your socks, and on top of that you can't see where you're going." This is the comment of a typical coed walking on campus in the dark of a Salem evening.

On the other hand, the male of the species gives out with a steed of another light value. "More light, what for? There's nothing to be afraid of. If there is less light, we can't see those mouldy old historic temples!"

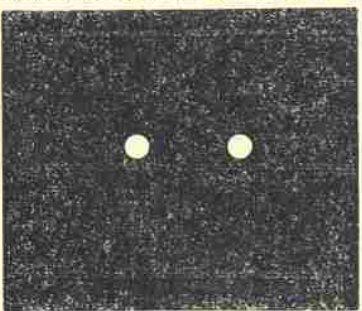

There is the problem . . . Is there really a need for more light on campus? The consensus of opinion shows that more light is needed between the library and Eaton hall. Says one freshman, "After all, this area is flooded most of the time and if you don't have your rook lid with the miner's light, you stand a good chance of drowning."

There is a deficiency of light along the driveway behind Eaton and Waller halls. One male student claims "This may be a blow to fusers but they can go to the grandstands."

More light is needed from State street to the buildings on campus. From the number of people questioned, both fellows and gals, as a whole, agreed that more lights are needed in all the aforementioned places.

A comment by those who did not think more light was needed was, "I don't really think anything will happen to girls when they walk along the campus, and after all, the fellows can take care of themselves." And as a rebuttle, "I really don't feel too safe walking across campus alone at night. You can't even recognize people as they come toward you, or from behind you when you look around," was the comment from more than one Willamette miss.

The situation, although not realized by a majority of people on campus, seem to be very real and very frightening to a few people.

Two white eyes peering out of the inky blackness and a grimy hand pulling a soggy body out of a puddle is the reward for the brave soul who ventures about the dimly "lit" campus at night.

Hatless Frosh Pose Question, Who Won Pushball Contest?

Perhaps it was only a mirage two Saturday afternoons ago, but members of the Collegian staff were prepared to state with finality that the freshmen had lost, not won, the pushball contest on Sweetland field.

Maybe it was just an after-effect of the off-side score of the football game that preceded the freshman-sophomore rivalry, but the ball did appear to proceed far down the field toward the section defended by the freshmen.

In any event, the appearance on the campus of hatless frosh should indicate that the victory really went to the freshman class. All the grunting and struggling that the sophomores put into the battle to make the rook hats a common sight on the campus until Christmas seems to have been in vain.

Whether the authorities in charge of enforcing the rook hat rule have chosen to ignore the results of the contest, or whether it truly was won by the freshmen, there are probably one in ten of the class of '53 who can be seen about the campus, excepting Tuesdays and Thursdays following chapel, attired in the familiar little cardinal and gold caps.

Or is the calendar on the Collegian wall a month and a half slow? In that case, Merry Christmas!
