Publications Head Named; Others Chosen

Mary Louise Lee became publications manager this week, when her appointment was approved by action of the publications board.

A junior majoring in journalism-history, she will replace the vacancy created by the enlistment of Don Pritchett in the navy air corps. Her duties will include the management of all business transactions for University publications in conjunction with Dr. Daniel Schulze, general manager of the student body.

As her first official act, she appointed Bill Moser as advertising manager of the Wallulah. She is also news editor of the Collegian.

Other new appointees include Cliff Gregg, darkroom manager; Bob Small, circulation manager of the Collegian, and Hugh Nelson, advertising manager of the Collegian.

Though Nelson was chosen for his post last spring and has been serving in that capacity during the past month, his appointment to the job was confirmed by Miss Lee. Small took over his duties three weeks ago.

Foreign Guests To Visit Campus

Friday, November 3, will start the YWCA sponsored International Weekend. Twenty foreign guests have been invited to stay in the men and women's living units.

Varsity Varieties will be part of the program for Friday. The Saturday program includes, other than the Hawaiian game, a luncheon at Lausanne at 1 p.m. and open houses at Lausanne and the sororities for all foreigners.

General chairman for the Weekend is Jackie Johnson. Assisting her will be Sue Mellor, in charge of Open houses; Deloris Spelbrink, securing a speaker; Anne Swanson, publicity; Shirley Hair, luncheon tickets; Mary Howe, luncheon, and Marilyn Quamme, placement of guests.

Carpenter Wins Prexy Post; 'Light' Revote Fills Vacancies

Don Carpenter, whose campaign platform included a promise of more votes per elections, is the new second vice-president of the ASWU as a result of a relatively light run-off ballot last week. The total vote came to 445.

In the class re-vote elections, the juniors chose Rod Beals as president; Jim Garret, vice-president; Audrey Bliss, treasurer. The new sophomore officers include Tom Scheidel, class representative; George Porter, vice-president; Mary Ellen Phillips, secretary; John Ambler, treasurer; Hank Wilson and Marie Corner, sergeants-at-arms.

plete the list of frosh officers.

The sophomore class, represented by a 60 per cent member vote, held a slight edge over the freshmen's 58 per cent tally; the juniors followed next with 50 per cent, while the seniors trailed last in line with a 40 per cent representation.

Smith Outlaws Class Brawls

All inter-class brawls and Mill stream dunkings were banned this week under penalty of expulsion from school by G. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette.

The no-dunking decree came from the Oregon board of health, which declared the stream "diseased." The ban on all further "violent disturbances" came as a result of a short but lively mix-up Thursday morning.

Six freshmen and five sophomores fought on Eaton hall's lawn while the fate of freshmen class president, Kent Myers, hung in the balance.

President Smith interrupted the battle when Myers fell from exhaustion. After a hearing with the 11 offenders he clamped the lid on all similar actions.

Smith was quoted as saying two students had withdrawn from school and several more injured as a result of this "over-exuberant class spirit." "All offenders will be expelled from the University," he added.

The Thursday morning incident was caused, it was reported, by the appearance of a small, rectangular building found on the site of the missing senior bench. The shack was ordered removed.

Homecoming committee members Cece Conner, Tom Scheidel, Rod Beals, Sherm Bliss and LuDene Hargrave prepare to clear gate way to McCulloch stadium before crowds of alums and students pour into stands for Saturday's game.

High-Grade-Point Deferment Tentative Plan for Colleges

Deferment of college students with high grade points from the draft until after graduation is reported by G. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette university, to be now under consideration in addition to the present program of allowing all students now registered to complete this year's work.

Willamette's president relayed this information from a talk given by Gen. Hershey to 700 college presidents on the American Council on Education. This group met in Washington, D.C. October 6 and 7 to consider the problems of education in the present period of mobilization.

The proposed plan would defer men who made high records on a given aptitude test and were in these percentages of their class: freshmen, upper one-half; sophomores, upper two-thirds; and juniors, upper three-fourths. This would leave 25 per cent of the able-bodied men in college at the end of three years.

The council discussed ways in which colleges could best serve in the present crisis. National leaders stressed the need for liberal arts as well as technical training to insure future leadership. However, a low birth-rate in 1932-33 affects the present draft-age group so that most of the available men will probably be taken eventually to fill quotas.

While in the capital city, Dr. Smith attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Association of American Colleges. As a member of this board, he helped plan the association's annual January meeting to center on the present national situation. The theme adopted was "The College in This Crisis."

dedent, and a responsive reading will be led by President Smith. The ceremonies will be closed by group singing of the "Old Historic Temple."

A complete transcription of the football game and dedication ceremonies will be made by station KOCO and shipped immediately by air to Hawaii where it will be re-broadcast over station KGU in the islands.

Homecoming signs were erected last last night in preparation for judging at 4 p.m. today. All fraternities, Baxter Hall and Lausanne Hall will have signs erected in front of their living organizations, while sororities have been assigned prominent positions on the campus. Alumni and students will view the Alpha Chi Omega sign between Eaton hall and Waller Hall, and the Pi Beta Phi sign will be erected in front of Collins Hall. Delta Gamma will have their sign in front of the library, and the Chi Omega sign will be between the library and Eaton Hall.

Hawaiian students and members of the Rainbow team will be honored by the ASWU at a banquet at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow evening in Baxter Hall. Tickets are available from Lei Kealoha.

Co-chairmen Miss Kealoha and Doug Nicoll are expecting over 175 students to attend as this will be the only chance for a get-together until May when the Hawaiians will gather at the University of Oregon.

Dr. John Rademaker, former professor at the University of Hawaii, will attend. The island girls will wear muu muus and singing and music will be enjoyed.

All students and alumni are invited to a no-host banquet at the Marion Hotel tomorrow evening at 6 p.m. The venison dinner is sponsored jointly by the Salem Breakfast Club and the Chamber of Commerce as a part of the Homecoming program.

Coach Tommy Kaulukukui was presented with the key to the City of Salem by Willamette president G. Herbert Smith and delegates from the Salem Breakfast Club and Chamber of Commerce upon the arrival of the Hawaiian team in Salem Wednesday.

Delsai Larson Returns Soon

Mrs. Delsai Larson, manager of the bookstore, will return to the University next week after a prolonged stay with her son, who was stricken with paralysis in Chicago three weeks ago.

With both Mr. and Mrs. Larson serving as nurses during the period of illness, he son has recovered from what doctors thought at first to be "hopeless" to a point where his muscular powers are beginning to return, according to Larson.

The senior bench is not lost. Somehow a camera caught the concrete seat, which disappeared several weeks ago, in a mysterious brush patch. The picture strayed into the Collegian office minus any details. Frosh have vowed to keep bench until the sophomores jump into the Mill stream.

Willamette Welcomes You, Alumni

Welcome, Islanders

If the University of Hawaii's Rainbows prove as mild a football team as their name would imply, Coach Chester Stackhouse, several hundred visiting alumni, and a thousand Willamette students will be extremely happy tomorrow night at the University's twenty-sixth annual Homecoming game.

With the variety of entertainment planned for both the alums and visitors from the Island territory to the west, it will be a gala occasion at Willamette, win or lose.

However, the Collegian sincerely hopes that coincidence will not repeat itself. At the last meeting of the two teams in Hawaii on December 6, 1941, events the following day were literally too explosive to make the game anything but a curious happening in a chain of events that led to a long and inglorious war. Therefore, we may hope that in spite of the threatening similarity in world politics both then and now, the game will be remembered as it should have been at that time — college rivalry between two teams that are notably alike in spirit and atmosphere.

This similarity, even with a three thousand mile separation, is probably due to the comparatively large number of students from the Islands, which last year were the third largest delegation from any state outside of Oregon. Exchanges of summer students, broadcasts such as the one aired in Hawaii last Christmas by the Willamette a capella choir, and other student ties have bound the two schools together in a spirit of friendliness which would appear remarkable due to the distance.

In recognition of this growing tie between Willamette and Hawaii, the University throws open its doors and welcomes its visitors from across the sea. May this spirit not only continue, but increase as well.

Votes Do Count

If anyone said "My vote doesn't count" this week, he can look to the box score of votes cast for student officers to see how ridiculous that statement sounds.

In the case of freshman representative, two more votes could have changed the results. Even for second vice-president, there was a mere twenty-two ballot difference in choice. The Collegian does not dispute the results of this election, but merely points out that every eligible vote is necessary to make an election truly representative.

Alma Mater, La De Da

There's an old historic temple rising grandly through the years. La de dah, duh dah de dah dah . . . . Visitors at each football game sitting near the student section must think that Willamette has an oddly-worded alma mater.

Last Saturday night, we heard the whole song! To be sure, it was a freshman who was singing, and to be sure, he was reading it directly from the Rook Bible. But we enjoy solos.

'06 Man Has Close Shave Homecoming

By Jack Brown

So I arrived on campus too early. So I shaved too close. So some dirty guy in a red sweater jammed a rake in my fist. All I gotta say is, "That's a [**]!" way to greet an old alum.

Talk about being loyal to the cause—I'm at the head of G. Herb's "touch list!" You know who bought the paint for the upstairs head in Baxter Hall? I did; and it cost me my best Labrador retriever. If that other litter woulda come through, you people might have had backs on McCulloch's grandstand seats.

Well, anyway here I am loping about campus renewing old memories. "Renewing old memories;" that's a laugh. Every time I turn around some joker is trying to subdue a colored guy by the name of Hew.

Let me tell you about one old memory I tried to renew. Back in '06 the co-eds inhabiting Jason's Land were what one might call a "conservative crew." I gets to thinking—"If I can get in on a leaf rake, there's no reason in the world why I can't strike up an acquaintance with one of those things fluttering about campus."

After changing the blade on my razor back at the hotel, I makes mad steps toward the hall they call "Lausanny." I rings the doorbell, and before I can stick my foot in the door (an ol' '06 trick), this creature grabs me; yells "Aloha" in my left ear; swivels her hops; and flings a mess of daisies around my neck.

It nothing sacred around here? Up till now, I've put my faith in those four words imbedded in the sun dial in front of Eaton Hall; Sagacity, Chastity, Holiness and Charity. I think it's about time the women directed their attention to something besides the latter.

This pushball contest they have between the freshmen and sophomores is quite a thing. That's something they didn't have in my day. It was tried once or twice, but the competitive spirit was lacking on the part of 98% of the men because of their sorely bandaged left feet (the result of an ol' '06 trick.)

I guess you'd say the "whirlpool" on this campus is revolving too fast for an old guy like me to jump into. Best I quit shaving and go to raising retrievers once more. If the market's good, that upstairs head in Baxter just might get a new coat of paint one of these years.

Second Encounter With Rainbows Recalls Pearl Harbor, Nip War

By Jim Miller

Almost nine years have passed since the Bearcats last met Hawaii's Rainbows in a test of might on the football turf—nine momentous years that have seen a complete change of the world's face; nation's destroyed; government's dissolved; conquests begun and ended in destruction.

(Dateline, December 4, 1941: "Cats arrive in Honolulu; are underdogs by at least 12 points." Gil Lieser, publicist for the Willamette team).

The tide of battle turned, from the contest of a football field with Oriental gambling syndicates operating at full strength, wagering the abilities of the two teams, to the contest of the globe with nation's pitted against one another in the test of world domination.

(Dateline, December 6, 1941: "Hawaii 20, Bearcats 6; The weather was cool with a brisk wind sweeping a fast field." Gil Lieser).

A confused nation awoke on that December 7 to the realization of how trivial the boundaries were that separated it from the conflict of the then realized Near East. A sporting world faced the cessation of the Rose Bowl. A democracy geared itself for war.

(Dateline, December 6, 1941: "Honestly, this trip is the greatest experience in the lives of most if not all of us." Gil Lieser). "Cats O Kay . . ."

It wasn't until August 14, 1945, nearly four years later, that the people of the United Nations realized a cessation of hostilities from the imperial arm of the Japanese. Once again, "normalcy" began seeping back into reality as horror oozed out.

(Dateline, December 12, 1941: "All are fine. Return indefinitely delayed." Coach R. S. "Spec" Keene).

The sweep of conquest now retracted for a time and the gust of decline began wisping into the prosperity gained by the elements of war profiteering at home.

(Dateline, December 23, 1941: "All okay—don't know when we can return—all on 'special' duty." Senator Douglas McKay. Issue In Doubt Soviet demands rose as a potential threat to harmonious world peace by the disclosure that they too have access to the atomic weapons. Wrangling within the confines of "peace-seeking" people at Lake Success indicated the possibility of future hostilities.

(Dateline, December 26, 1941: "Willamette University Party Returns. Will arrive in Salem via train this afternoon." The Oregon Statesman).

Peace throughout the world—rebuilding of Europe was becoming a reality through the assistance of the Marshall Plan—peace, and how we loved it . . . every month.

(Dateline, October 6, 1950: "Over 100 Hawaiians to Attend WU Homecoming; Bearcats to face the Rainbows at dedication of McCulloch Stadium." The Willamette Collegian).

Peace and Progress

South Korea has been invaded by Communist forces and retaken via the efforts of the United Nations. A democracy once again gears itself in preparedness by promoting a Universal Military Training program. Fleets are being removed from mothballs; Marine, Navy and Army reserve units are being re-activated; Austin and Malik cough at one another over peace-pipes while blood flows above and below an imaginary line designated as the 38th parallel.

Progress is sometimes a funny thing, isn't it?

Illinois Transfer Compares Campuses; WU Warmer

(Don Miller, a junior majoring in economics, spent two years at the University of Illinois and here presents a comparison of the student makeup of that school in relation to that of WU)

When we consider that the entire Willamette campus might be neatly placed in the University of Illinois' football stadium, we may think there is no basis for comparison of the schools. But Illinois, with its reputation as one of the top members of the Big Ten, with its student population of 20,000 — strong at Champaign — Urbana, is far outdone in many ways by Willamette university.

The informality of the students reflects itself in the students' dress. Middle western college campuses are not graced by cords and levis. Of course, girls seem to dress as girls always will, sweaters and skirts being the "symbol of the coed" everywhere.

Willamette, with its well-balanced social program, permits an adequate amount of time for study. Certainly study is encouraged more here than at a school like Illinois. With a total of almost 100 fraternities and sororities at the U. of I., the extra-curricular demands placed on the students in them are tremendous. Competition is ruthless contests are carried on to almost ridiculous extremes.

The system is vast, the pace is exciting, but for these things, I believe most of us are perhaps more well-situated at a school with the careful modeling that Willamette has.

Refunds, Credit for Courses To Be Given Drafted Males

Students drafted into the armed forces during the school year will be given credit for academic work completed before induction, according to a resolution adopted this week by the University. Credit given will be proportional to the time spent in a particular course.

Monetary refunds will be based on credit not given for courses taken.

A student going into the service must withdraw from his courses officially through the registrar's office and arrange with instructors all matters pertaining to his courses.

Upon official withdrawal from courses the student will receive credit as follows: for a one-hour course credit will be given at the discretion of the department.

No credit will be given for less than eight week's work in a two-hour course. One credit will be given for eight to 15 week's work and full credit for 15 weeks or more.

For a three-hour course no credit is granted for less than six week's work; one credit for six to nine week's work; two credits for nine to 15 week's work; and full credit for 15 weeks or more.

For four- or five-hour courses no credit is given for less than six weeks and for more than six week's credit is to be determined by the instructor.

These provisions apply to the College of Liberal Arts and the College of Music only, stated Dr. Robert Gregg, dean of the College of Liberal Arts. The College of Law is considering the plan.

Tuition will be refunded in proportion to the number of credits not given to the drafted student, according to Robert Fenix, business manager. If two-thirds of the credits are given, he stated, one-third tuition will be refunded.

Refunds will also be made for board and room in Baxter and Bishop based on the length of occupancy.

In granting credit the instructor will determine by means of an examination, either a six-weeks or special, satisfactory achievement by the student. In addition the student must show progress in completing outside assignments. The student is held responsible for all daily or weekly assignments up to the date of withdrawal.

In cases where there is a likelihood of entering military service the student is warned to inform and cooperate with the instructor to avoid complications.

All matters of interpretation regarding these provisions for withdrawal are to be referred to the scholarship and petitions committee of the faculty, according to Gregg.

Hatfield Given GOP Support

"The campaign will be actively supported by the Willamette Young Republicans", was the unanimous decree by the group to Mark Hatfield, dean of students and Republican nominee to the State Legislature. Organization of campaign poster routes and first-meeting discussion was formulated at the meeting of the group held last Wednesday in the Sigma Chi wing of Baxter.

Hatfield presented information highlights received at the Young Republican Federation of Oregon convention held last August in Baker, Oregon. With the pointers gained from this convention, the group made plans for the Young Republican College League convention to be held in Eugene next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Planning included selection of Dave Card to fill the vacancy as delegate to the resolutions and platforms committee and election of Bob Small as a member of the nominating committee to the Eugene convention.

Tom Osborn, WU alum and past president of the group, now studying at OCE, stated that he would attempt to organize a group to represent that college at the Eugene convention.

An organizational meeting will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Phi Delt wing prior to departure for Eugene. Interested students are invited.

Chapel News

Aloizy Adamzyk, Polish exile, will speak at Tuesday chapel. Dudley Strain, minister of the First Christian church of Salem will speak Thursday.

Law Students Print Handbook

Law students began preparations this week for the "Willamette Series of Legal Handbooks", the yearly publication edited by the student body of the College of Law.

Editor of the handbook this semester is Joe Larkin, who will be assisted by Walt Foster, Jim Fitzgerald, Murley Larimer, George Wilson, and Dale Pierson, seniors; Charles Cloudey, Glenn Ramirez, Thomas Enright, Bruce Burns, and Ervin Hogan, juniors, and supervised by J. C. Paulus.

The legal book is designed to present information on court instruction given to juries, which are lawful according to decisions by the Supreme court. Supplements keep the book timely, and, according to one law student, "No other campus publication is more wildly or happily received."

'Hot' Band, Cheering Rooters Build 'Rainbow Killing' Blaze

A cheering swarm of Willamette rooters, judged to be the largest to gather on the local Southern Pacific platform in several years, plus a contingent from the University band turned out Wednesday night to meet the Willamette Bearcats fresh from a victory over the Chico State Wildcats.

Willamette meets the University of Hawaii Saturday on the McCulloch stadium turf.

Led by Bill Bissell, the WU rooters, in addition to entertaining fellow passengers and train watchers, provided "a spark of enthusiasm destined to blaze into a rainbow subduing fire", commented Chuck Bowe, Bearcat captain.

The "hotter half" of the Willamette band, organized on the spur of the moment, kindled the fire with a "jammed up" version of the Old Historic Temple and the Darktown Strutter's Ball.

YMCA Promotes Freshman Mixer

Swimming, dancing, and badminton will be among features of the Freshman mixer, promoted by the Campus Y, to acquaint freshman students with the facilities of the Salem YMCA at 8 p.m. next Friday.

Millard Bates, chairman of the affair, said that the program will include entertainment by freshmen, plus sports such as swimming, handball, and table tennis.

Mozart, New Pooch at Bishop, Music Lover, Soon to Hit Road

By Philip A Shaw

Schneebles, Tony, Pal and Cookie preceded him. Each in their own way won a place on the campus and into the hearts of the students. Now, the latest addition, Mozart, a nine-weeks old cocker spaniel, has entered into the lives and hearts of the men of Bishop manor.

From this point on, the views in this article will be from the biased view-point of the owner.

Musical Talent Recognized

Mozart was given his name because of his intense interest and outstanding vocal rendition when in the atmosphere of the harmonious rhythms of the ukulele. And at his age all indications point to a genius previously realized only in the life of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, who was romping through the various royal palaces of Europe on a piano-playing spree at the age of nine years. Mozart is easiest to remember. Amadeus is just too common, and the Wolfgang part isn't appropriate at his age. So Mozart it is.

The problem of housebreaking this pure-bred mutt is . . . a problem!! He refuses to use the john—even his own homemade one. He has learned not the 'how and why' of etiquette concerning the use of socks, shoes, and, oh yes, even bare feet, as teethers. On the other hand, this cocker pup has a high regard for poor study habits—he sleeps restfully while you stare at a text in the wee hours of the morn after having foolishly wasted the better part of the evening exchanging affectionate 'nips'.

To be sure, there are a few subversive elements who are desirous of "removing the pooch." This idea is popular in connection with Schneebles, but it seems so unfair to view such a

Willamette to Tackle Hawaii To morrow in Homecoming Tilt

Celebrities, Hawaiians Scheduled to Attend Encounter

Collegian - Sports

STAN NELSON, Editor

These Willamette football players from Hawaii won't be strumming guitars or singing chants when their fellow countrymen from the University of Hawaii invade McCulloch stadium tomorrow. Reading from right to left, standing, Charlie Koani, Bill Ewaliko and Al Minn; kneeling, Charlie Nee, Ralph Onzuka and Jim Noa.

Aloha Hawaii. Yep, this is it, the big game. Homecoming with the Rainbows from Honolulu and from all indications it should be a hum dinger.

Although defeated by Fresno in a high scoring game, the U of Hawaii team is very big and tough. The invaders from across the sea will have a slight edge over the eBercats, according to pigskin prophets.

First Meeting Since '41

This will be the first time these two squads have met since that memorable game on December 6, 1941. On the following morning the Japanese unleashed their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. The score on that Saturday afternoon game was 20-6 in favor of the Rainbows. The members of that '41 Bearcat squad, along with dignitaries of Oregon and Hawaii, will be the honored guests at this Homecoming game.

Six Bearcats will renew friendships with Honolulu gridders Saturday with whom they played in high school competition in the islands. The players are: Al Minn and Bill Ewaliko, backs; Charlie Nee, guard, and Charlie Koani, freshman fullback. These four will probably all see action against the Rainbows. The other islanders are Ralph Onzuka and Jim Noa, backs.

McCulloch Dedication Slated

Saturday, with Homecoming, will also see the formal dedication of $200,000 McCulloch stadium although two tilts have been played on the new turf.

Tonight at 5:30 the Salem Breakfast Club and the Salem Chamber of Commerce are jointly sponsoring a buffet supper in honor of the Rainbows and Bearcats.

Rainbows Employ "T"

Hawaii coach Tommy Kukulukui employs a "T" with variations with his Rainbows who are still gunning for their first win of the season after losing to Fresno State and San Diego State. However, these losses were to larger schools and the islanders are still favored to break the four-game winning streak of Willamette.

The Bearcats, intent on adding another victory to their string, are in high spirits for the Hawaii game despite the fact that this will be their third game in seven days. A victory over Hawaii would make the Bearcats a real threat to the high flying Lewis and Clark Pioneers with whom they tangle next Saturday in Portland.

Fumbles, Interceptions Set Stage as Bearcats Defeat Chico State, 19-7, for Fourth Consecutive Grid Triumph

Four wins in a row, and two in one week, is the present record of the Willamette football team after defeating Chico State 19-6 at Chico Tuesday. Chico fumbles and Willamette pass interceptions were the main factor in the Willamette win as the Bearcats recovered five Chico bobbles and snagged four of the Wildcat's aeriels.

Willamette's first score came following the recovery of a Chico fumble on the Bearcat's 30. Al Minn was the big gun in the winner's scoring march, rambling for 40 yards on one play, and scoring from the eight on another. An attempted pass was no good on the try for the extra point.

Hall Intercepts Pass

Willamette scored again in the second stanza, this time a pass interception by Bob Hall setting it up. After Hall pulled down the pass on the Willamette 20, Paul Jewell took over and led Willamette to pay-dirt. Jewell made several nice gains, the longest going for 16 yards, and finally scored from the seven. Minn placekicked the extra point to give Willamette a 13-0 lead.

The home-towners made their only score in the second period, with two long passes putting them in scoring position on the WU 16. From there halfback Bill Clary scored in two plays.

Taylor Scores

Willamette scored again in the third period aided by another recovered fumble and some more nice running by Jewell. Halfback Bob Taylor cracked across from the seven to score. Minn's attempted kick for the extra point was no good.

The Bearcats were pressed all the way and coach Chester Stackhouse was forced to use his regulars instead of saving them for the homecoming game tomorrow. All the Willamette players got in the game, however, and it was a reserve unit that held Chico on the Willamette one-foot line in the final period.

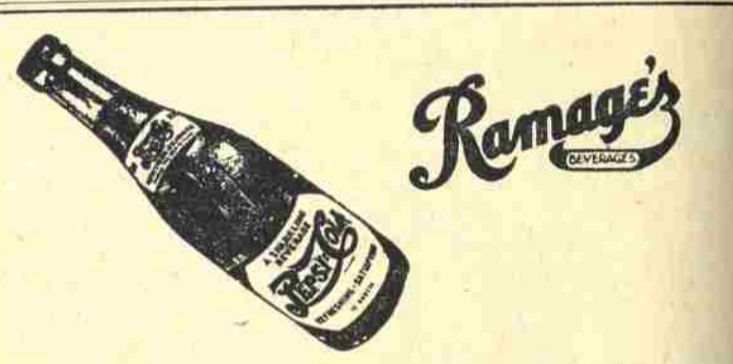

Halfback Keith Sperry, a leading ground-gainer on the Willamette team for the past four years, was the only Bearcat injury as he suffered a sprained ankle. The injury is not believed too serious and Sperry has not been counted out of the homecoming tussle for sure. Showing well for Willamette in the line were Art Beddoe, Don Hosford, Dorrance Noteboom, Wally Richartz and Jim McHale.

Jayvees Lose to OSC Rooks

The Willamette Junior Varsity football team will try to get into the win column today when they tangle with the University of Oregon frosh. The game will be played at Eugene with kickoff time scheduled for 2:30.

The Bearkittens suffered a 45-7 setback at the hands of the Oregon State Rooks Tuesday in their first outing.

Two other games are on tap for the JV's, and others may be added. October 20 the Bearkittens take on the Lewis and Clark junior varsity in the only home game on the schedule thus far. Armistice day will find the Bearkittens at George Fox college in the final encounter of the season.

Kangaroo Kourt Punishes Freshmen

Kangaroo Kourt proved again last Tuesday that the crime of being a freshman is punishable unto the worst a Letterman can invent as almost 50 offenders appeared to be sentenced in the chapel program.

B and B's circus has nothing on the Kourt as freshmen received orders involving cold baths for Frank Kehrl and Schneebles, rope skipping and passing out literature for Ray Loter who, as master of ceremonies, decreed all sentences.

In as much as this was Kangaroo Kourt, there were no lawyers and the poor peasants, as they knelt before the three honorable judges, had their choice of pleading guilty or of being declared guilty.

Larry Carrol is now an official health inspector by order of Gov. Douglas McKay as a result of one sentence. He can inspect all rest rooms.

Earl Atkinson and Carol Emerson secured a permit to ride a two-wheel bike in the area of the city dump after being found guilty of "living in sin" without the sanction of a Letterman.

Human tennis balls, Jim Morgali and Bob Bell, were batted back and forth over a ping pong net, having been convicted of playing tennis atop Waller hall.

A boxing match between blindfolded Stan Steindorf and four lettermen climaxed when Stan charged into the stands, then rebounded into a box containing the heads of Kent Myers and Bob Goff. Myers and Goff had been sentenced to stick their heads in the box, Myers because he is freshman class president and Goff, because he isn't, while obliging women intermittently hacked and poured eggs, flour and pies on them.

Judges "Lefty" Nordhill, Lou Scrivens and Ted Mertz received their reward for presiding over the trials when Marilyn Hunter was sentenced to make love to them, winding up with tomatoes in her face.

Talent was discovered in the class of 54 when Duane Maddox, who just happened to have music with her, was sentenced to sing and Bob Anderson was obliged to play the piano.

A 30-second kiss was the first prize awarded Marilyn Ingraham and Ken Benshoof for defeating Jane Horne and Duane Shieff in a pie-eating contest.

Accused of making love to the Lettermen inadequately was Carol Crane while Betty Breaky was accused of being over-adequate. Both were sentenced to sew patches on Malcom Campbell and Larry Standifore, while blindfolded. Malcom was spotted impersonating Errol Flynn on the steps of Waller hall and Larry was sentenced for theft at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Tryouts Set Thursday

Tryouts for Shakespeare's "Winter's Tale" will be held Thursday in Waller Hall's Little Theater, according to Prof. Ruane B. Hill, director. A cast of 18 is needed. All interested in production work are also invited to the meeting.

Noise Parade To Tour City

Deafening ears along its path, Willamette annual noise parade will wind its way through Salem tonight at 7:30 p. m.

Limiting each organization to two entries will somewhat shorten the parade this year and tend to concentrate more and noisier articles on each vehicle.

Air compressors will be the big items in the parade and every kind of horn or noise making device will be used by the participants. The judging is to be done on noise only and a cup will be presented to each men's and women's organization making the noise.

The parade will form in front of Lausanne going north on Winter to State, west on State to Cottage, north on Cottage to Court, west on Court to Liberty, south on Liberty to State, east on State to Church, south on Church to Mission and McCulloch stadium.

Posters Given Salem Stores

"The Spirit of Homecoming" entered the Willamette art department, too. Fifty posters combining football and fun, Willamette tradition and Hawaiian gaiety, were processed by Nancy Lawson, sophomore art major, and distributed to various Salem stores.

Miss Lawson's obviously red poster was reproduced fifty times by the use of a special silk screen process. This method allows the paint to filter through the silk onto the poster board in the pattern of the original. No difference is thus noted between the original and its copies unless one looks very closely, thus seeing a fine screen effect, which has its own artistic interest.

30-by-6-foot Mural Completed
Margaret Simpson, 1950 Willamette graduate, recently completed a 30-by-6-foot mural depicting the intellectual and spiritual development of man. This mural, begun during the summer, has three sections, each flowing in theme and line movement into the next. The first visualizing the chaos, confusion and disorganization of mankind before, as shown in the second panel, spiritual leaders arose to give them different religious philosophies.

Concert Results 'Gratifying'; Nets $779 for Student Body

Results of the Rubinstein concert were "very gratifying," stated Harley Hoppe, chapel manager, in an interview this week. The ASWU cleared $779.32 from the concert which will go to the chapel fund.

Rubinstein himself said that the audience was one of the most enthusiastic to which he had played.

More than one half of Willamette's students were present at the concert.

The dePaur Infantry chorus is tentatively set for December 3. The group, composed of 35 ex-GI negroes of World War II, will present a program including spirituals, hymns and songs of World War II. The singers were last here in 1946, sponsored by the Community Concert series.

Efforts to secure such artists as James Melton, Alec Templeton and the Carl Wagner Opera Co. are still being made.

Guest speaker for chapel Oct. 17 will be Alozy Adamczyk, who will speak on Poland under Communist domination. Oct. 24 will be the Campus Chest show and on Oct. 31, David O. Woodbury, noted scientist will speak on "Science, It's Hope for Tomorrow."

Deferments Available

Letter certifying that the recipient is a full-time student at Willamette and thus eligible for deferment may be obtained from the office of the dean of students, according to Mark Hatfield. The certificates should be obtained of the physical examination.

Education Club Meeting Wed.

New students enrolled in education courses and all future teachers will be welcomed to the first meeting of the year of the Education club at Chresto Wednesday at 7:45 p.m.

President Bob Robins will lead discussions which will include the Children's bill, plans for the organization, and club business. Other officers who will also assist are Chuck Bowe, vice-president, and Wesley Woodard, secretary.

Refreshments will be served.

L. & C. Invites W.U.

Willamette students are invited to attend the Lewis and Clark Homecoming dance in Portland next Saturday night, October 21, according to Don Stamm, senior class president of the Portland school.

The dance will be informal, with suits and heels of the shoe variety, and will be held after the Willamette-Lewis and Clark game in the gymnasium on Palatine hill. There will be a charge of fifty cents per couple.

Alums to Invade For Homecoming

Alumni from classes dating back to the 1890's will invade the campus today and tomorrow for Willamette's twenty-ninth Homecoming celebration, which will be topped by the Willamette-University of Hawaii football game, dedication of McCulloch stadium, and receptions in each living organization.

Presiding over the alumni luncheon Saturday will be Walter E. Erickson, alumni president, and vice-principal of Cleveland high school in Portland. Guests of honor will include Governor and Mrs. Douglas McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCulloch, Coach Tommy Kauluhukui of the University of Hawaii, the 1941 football squad, and teams before 1905.

Dedication of the stadium will take place at half time, with Sherm Bliss, Homecoming manager, and Stan Aschenbrenner, ASWU president, in charge of the occasion.

Open houses will be held in all living organizations following the game tomorrow, and all parents and alumni have been invited to inspect the houses on Saturday.

Radio Auditions Set for October 16

Auditions will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, October 16, at radio station KOCO for the Warwick Radio Theatre, according to Ray Loter. The Theatre is a weekly radio dramatic program which will broadcast a half-hour show weekly.

A trio of Hawaiian hula dancers provide a bit of entertainment for the Bearcat football team as it prepares for forthcoming Hawaii game. Charlie Nee and Bill Ewaliko provide "uke" music for the girls. Hawaiian hula music has visibly increased in popularity since the Rainbow game was scheduled for the dedication of McCulloch stadium. Football players seem to be particularly impressed by the esthetic form of the maneuver.

WU Meteorite Proven False

Willamette's chances of having an outstanding meteorite in its geology museum faded this week, according to Dr. Herman Clark, head of the geology department. Reports from eminent west coast experts indicated that the large meteorite that the Willamette geology department received last fall was only a "very good" imitation.

The supposed meteorite was found within 30 miles of Salem last year and brought to Clark and the Willamette university geology department for inspection and testing.

Had it proved to be a genuine meteorite it would have been of national importance, said Clark. It was quite large, weighing nearly one-half a ton.

The material was tested thoroughly by the Willamette chemistry department and displayed enough characteristics of a meteorite to warrant being sent to the University of Oregon chemistry department and to Dr. J. Hugh Pruett. Unwilling to say it was not a meteorite, Dr. Pruett sent it to the UCLA chemistry department.

Although the false meteorite looked quite like the genuine article, none of the chemistry departments could find in it any trace of the element nickel which is common to most known meteorites.

Dr. Clark thought it was unlikely that this object was a new kind of meteorite.

WU 'Crusade' Ends Today

Today is the climax of the nation-wide "Crusade for Freedom" on the Willamette campus.

According to Ted Loder, head of the Crusade, scrolls with signatures ascribing to freedom, must be returned to President G. Herbert Smith tonight. Dr. Smith is Marion County chairman of the Crusade under F. N. Belgrano Jr., state chairman.

"Crusade for Freedom" is a mass movement that, according to sponsors, is to show that the American people, as a whole, desire world freedom and friendship. It is designed to provide a "dynamic campaign of pro-freedom propaganda" to be transmitted to communist-dominated countries and even into Russia herself.

Radio Show to Begin

A broadcast giving an insight into campus life will be the first program presented by the "Willamette Fireside" Monday, November 6. All aspects of college life and activities will be presented: music, drama, sports, and several interviews.

Practical radio experience is the aim of the student actors and producers of the radio show heard weekly over KOCO.

First tryouts will be Wednesday night. Supervision will be by members of the advance radio course.

Lawyers Elect

William Pilling, senior in the College of Law, was elected last week as magistrat of the local chapter of Phi Delta Phi, law fraternity. George Gross was chosen exchequer; Harry Ohlmann historian; and Edwin York, clerk.

University of Hawaii Football Team Arrives Via Airliner On Mainland for Homecoming

By Homer Hotchkiss

Sleepily and yet expectantly, the University of Hawaii football team yawned as it stepped from its airliner Wednesday noon to the solid ground of mainland, Salem, Oregon. From the airport the team was escorted to the Willamette campus in preparation for the twenty-ninth Homecoming game Saturday.

Probably the 3000-mile trip had something to do with their condition—more likely they had been reading the Collegian.

The Hawaiian language, not being required at Willamette, is naturally strange to anyone, especially, it seems, to Collegian staff members.

At any rate, moaned staff members, ridiculed by sharp-eyed Hawaii students, an expression intended to connote "welcome back" was corrupted into "I am sleepy."

It was a quite easy mistake to make, admitted interrogated islanders. "Hoi Mai" means "welcome back" and "Hoi Moi" is "I am sleepy." (Of course this could still be wrong judging from past experience with the language.

Whether they were sleepy or not, the squad of sun-tanned footballers had all the potentials of an 11-man rock-crusher.

Judging from the comments of on-lookers, it will be a pleasure just to watch a game in which sun tans come from the sun.

Mayor Robert L. Elfstrom, president G. Herbert Smith, a host of newsmen, Willamette students and the University band greeted the squad.

The Amen Corner

Prof. Ralph Dobbs, well known member of the Willamette school of music faculty, will present a concert of sacred and classical music at this week's meeting of Wesley. The group will meet at 5:30 p.m. for the recreational hour, and the program will follow immediately.

A discussion, "Youth Questions Religion," will be the main feature at Westminister fellowship for this Sunday. Members will meet in the social hall of the First Presbyterian church at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Canterbury club will have its regular meeting next Sunday evening, starting with a chapel service at 6:30 p.m. Supper will be served in the Episcopalian parish house, and this will be followed by a group discussion period.

Members of Phi Zeta Christo will meet at 5 p.m. for the weekly recreational and supper hour. Following this, a study, entitled "Three to Make Ready, and Four to Go," will be discussed. This will be led by Lucille Proctor, and Dave Kowitz is in charge of the worship service.
