

Library May Open Sundays, Pends Funds

A recommendation to the administration on an extension of campus library hours from 2 to 10 Sunday afternoons and evenings came out of Wednesday's student council meeting and will be presented to the student affairs committee for final student action before entrance into administration hands.

This recommendation, which would greatly increase student use of the library on weekends, is contingent upon the use of extra money from the ASB social fund for expenses incurred in the extra hours. The library has no budget for the added day. Staffing the library for these hours is tentatively planned by the members of Mortar Board.

Pre-Law Club Begins to Roll

Orrin Ormsbee, junior, has been elected president of the newest primarily academic group on campus, the Pre-Law Orientation club. He is backed by Kevin Midlam, vice-president, Patricia Martin, secretary and Gary McBride, treasurer.

Dr. Albert Dehner of the Liberal Arts college and Edwin Butler of the law school are advisors to the organization which was started to help bridge the gap between the two schools and to inform those interested in the field of law.

A first reading has been given the new constitution which will be voted upon at the next meeting. Meetings are held in the law school basement on Wednesdays at 3 p.m. and are open to all interested.

Orientation on the use of the law library, class lectures open to members and various speakers in their fields of law will be some of the Pre-Law club's features.

Frosh Glee Meet Planned Today

Attention all freshmen who haven't the faintest idea of what Glee is all about! A special Glee Orientation assembly is being presented today at 12:30 in the auditorium for all freshmen.

Sign-up lists for positions in Glee are now posted in all living organizations, according to Glee Manager Glen Downs, who will announce the names of committee heads and the assistant Glee Manager next week. Glen stated that he hopes there will be plenty of enthusiasm in signing up for committees to permit a wider selection of names and thus better and more efficient committees.

President to View Rush Plan Backed by Student Council

As a result of steady campus controversy on the problem of a convenient time for rush in the opening weeks of the school year, a plan to alleviate many of these problems has been submitted to and passed by student council.

DALE DANIEL, past orientation chairman, submitted the proposed orientation schedule to Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity council for approval previous to submitting it to the Wednesday student council meeting for further approval.

Work has been done on the question in student affairs committee. The decision passed from President G. Herbert Smith's office that rush activities could not be held during a week-long period before or during orientation week or between the week and the beginning of classes has greatly influenced the proposed 1960 orientation schedule.

THIS RECOMMENDED schedule, which was to go through student affairs committee yesterday and would subsequently be considered by the president for final approval, conducts orientation week the same as previously, except that the sample classes and lectures would be eliminated. And several activity dates would be changed so that rush activities fall on the Friday, Saturday and Monday directly following orientation week and on the following weekend.

This program separates rush and orientation but leaves the first week of classes void of any rush activities until the following Friday afternoon.

THE PERIOD of silence will be observed during the first week of classes except for possible coffee dates for the fraternities and rushers between 10 and 11 p.m.

This schedule does not greatly emphasize rush activities by placing them alone in a set time before orientation or between orientation and classes, Daniel noted. Yet it allows adequate time for rush separate from orientation and classes. It also allows more time for thoughtful decisions on the part of rushees and social organizations.

Dorm Committee Considers 6 Bids

Specifications for construction bids on the new women's dormitory were let to six different contractors yesterday. The contractors, chosen by the building committee from the Board of Trustees and the architect, will now submit their respective bids.

It will take the building committee several days to select the contractor who will get the contract.

Drama Purges Finals Blues

Worried about finals? Relax, lose your worries in the vicarious purging of the drama. Those bothered with the humdrum of preparation for finals and wishing to find a much lighter pastime may do so by attending scenes from the six full length plays to be given Wednesday, January 20, at 8:15 p.m.

The scenes, which will be given in arena style with both the audience and the actors on the stage at the Fine Arts auditorium, will consist of selections from Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," Clarence Day's "Life With Father," Lorca's "House of Bernarda Alba," Giraudoux's "The Mad Woman of Chailot," Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," and "Mary of Scotland" by Maxwell Anderson.

The scenes will be performed by Barbara Leiseth, Betty Williams, Gayle Sandien, Betty Anne Rice, Barbara Taylor and Earl Gaberman. Langley Brooks, Dianne Dickson and Ross Stephen will be directing the scenes.

Admission is free with student body cards and 75 cents for non-students. Tickets may be obtained in the drama office.

Registration Nears; Profs to Help Out

Avoid hectic lines and get an extra day off. Pre-register next week.

As the hectic registration period again approaches, students are encouraged by Registrar Richard Yocom to pre-register and avoid the last-day rush. Besides helping the office staff, students will be assured of a spot in their desired classes. And they will have an extra day of vacation the weekend of the semester break.

Pre-registration begins Monday and follows a procedure similar to fall registration. Registration booklets will be available the first part of the week in the registrar's office. They are to be filled out with the help of advisors, and respective professors must initial them.

This can be accomplished in the first or last five minutes of class time and faculty members will also post extra office hours for this purpose, Yocom said.

To complete the process the advisor's signature and the signature of the respective dean must be inscribed in the booklet. The completed booklet is then to be returned to the registrar's office where the fee slip will be typed. Fees may then be paid in the business office.

Regular registration for the second semester will be held on Monday, February 1.

Schedules of spring classes are now available in the registrar's office.

Political Interest Sparks Mock Convention Planning

With the breath of a multitude of politicians blowing upon it, the hot bed of national politics and elections becomes increasingly warmer. In keeping with the increase of political activity in this important election year, Willamette is moving forward with plans for the 1960 Mock Democratic political convention.

Geist Re-elected Singing Governor

Melvin Geist, dean of the Willamette School of Music, was re-elected for a two-year term as regional governor of the northwest at the 15th annual meeting of the National Association of Teachers of Singing, held December 27-30 in Cincinnati, Ohio. This, the sixth term that Geist has served in this office, automatically makes him a member of the faculty committee of American Institute of Vocal Pedagogy, which is organizing an advanced study in voice.

Geist presided over one meeting entitled "Changing Curriculum" and also served as one of three judges for the Central region "Singer of the Year" auditions.

Willamette will be the official host for the 1960 edition of the MDPG. Tentative plans for the conclave, according to Pete Blewett, chairman of the convention's organizational committee, include committee, delegation and general assembly sessions, plus some social gatherings of the delegates.

Delegations from all colleges and universities in Oregon are expected for the MDPG. Requirements for delegates include only an interest in politics and the inside workings of the American political procedures. Any student interested in becoming a delegate for the convention can get more information about it by contacting the student body office or the political science department.

This year's mock convention rests on a foundation of four objectives, notes Blewett. First, to stimulate interest in partisan political activities; second, to give students a better understanding of the valuable role that party nominating conventions play in our democratic process of government; third, to give students an opportunity to become better acquainted with the candidates and issues of this important election year and lastly, to give students the chance to formulate and express their own political convictions in a realistic convention atmosphere.

Top Cast Heads Caine Trial Play

Rehearsals for the "Caine Mutiny Court Martial" began Wednesday evening, Director Robert Putnam reported. They will continue until the beginning of finals and then again resume in earnest after February 1.

The cast for the drama, which will be presented March 11 and 12, is Don Schussler as Captain Queeg; Tom Caylor as Lt. Greenwald; Gary Kranenberg, Lt. Maryk; Ross Stephen as Lt. Com. Challee; and Les Edwards as Captain Blakely.

Lt. Keefe will be portrayed by Chuck Bush, Signalman Third Class Uban by Steve McPheters, Lt. JG Keith by Don Coe, Captain Southard by Burt Knapp.

Dale Mortensen will be playing Captain Lundeen; Al Stevens, Dr. Bird; Jim Robinson, the stenographer; Mike Potter, the orderly.

Those interested in procuring tickets and arriving on time should keep an eagle eye peeled for a future story in the Collegian.

Law Nat'l Moot Court Win 'Clear as Day'

A premonition came true when the Willamette Moot Court team became national grand champions December 18, after beating the University of Oklahoma. Clear as day was the picture of the team challenging and defeating Oklahoma, says Dean Seward Reese. Perhaps it was because his heart was with them, or maybe optimism was contagious around the school. Prof. Edwin Butler was cheerfully confident they would win nationals long before the team took the Northwest trophy by storm.

THE TEAM, composed of Dick Franzke, Ted Carlstrom and Marty Wolf, won two out of four special trophies, best team oral argument and best team in competition. Franzke repeated his Northwest competition coup by winning another trophy for best individual oral argument in the contest. The trophies were presented by the Bar Association of the City of New York, which sponsored the contest. Willamette got a take-home prize of $500 cash which will alleviate the debt they incurred in going to New York.

Speaking of the three winners, President G. Herbert Smith was quoted in a Salem daily, "Any coach (Prof. Charles Gromley) would be proud of a team that defeated Oklahoma, Rutgers, Alabama and Syracuse, all in two days. I am sure I join with the faculty and student body in extending congratulations to the Willamette national grand championship Moot Court team."

HERALDED BY newspapers across the country, rated top by five judges in New York, including a Supreme Court judge and lauded by the top educators at Willamette's convocation Tuesday, the team must now turn back to sorely-missed studying and classes of which it is estimated they missed 40 per cent since they began preparations in September.

What does it mean to be judged best law school of 98 and ultimately every law school in the country? What will the effect be on the entire college? Dean Reese didn't venture a guess, beyond the fact that it is bound to be good for the school. Of course the publicity is wonderful, especially for sorely-needed donations to the dipping funds. However, the law school turns away applicants now and is highly selective in its 132 members.

Coeds Prove Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend

Mary Owens

The first surprise announcement of the New Year was made at a party in the Pi Phi basement with Mary Owens as hostess. The occasion was the seemingly Willamette yuletide tradition of announcing marital plans, for Miss Owens is engaged to Roger Moorhead of Salem.

A senior from Boise, she has served as treasurer and recording secretary of Pi Beta Phi. Senior scholar in the sociology department, Miss Owens takes part in the honors program. She is president of Mortar Board and IAWS corresponding secretary.

Moorhead will graduate from Willamette in February in music education. He is presently teaching in Alsea, Oregon.

A June 15 wedding is planned after which the couple will journey on a study tour to the Scandinavian countries, Russia, Poland, Germany and England.

A late December Portland newspaper announcement revealed the betrothal news of Ruth Parrett and Paul McGilvra, and on New Year's Eve, Betas heard the official announcement at a party in Portland.

Miss Parrett, a sophomore from Portland, is in liberal arts and a member of Pi Beta Phi. She held the 1958 Portland Rose Queen title and was also a member of the Little Colonel court last year on the campus.

McGilvra is a junior economics major from Forest Grove. He has served as rush chairman of the Beta house, freshman class president and May weekend manager.

No date is set for the wedding.

Ruth Parrett

Jan Robison

Taking advantage of her chosen field of psychology, Jan Robison announced her engagement to Conrad Moore through the results of a word association quiz. The Delta Gamma chapter room was the site of the event, and the DG members were the participants in unscrambling the mixed words.

From Springfield, Miss Robison is president of Delta Gamma, member of Mortar Board and Psi Chi.

Moore is a 1959 graduate of Willamette in economics. While on the campus he served as president of Beta Theta Pi and IFC. He was a member of Psi Chi and Omicron Delta Kappa. Originally from Coos Bay, Moore is now attending the University of California law school at Berkeley.

Serenading in a pre-Christmas vacation style, the SAE's and their Santa Claus brought holiday merriment to the eyes of Mary Ella Rose as a special box of yellow roses disclosed a surprise engagement ring from her from Jim Brentlinger (Sir Santa for the evening).

Miss Rose, a senior from Burlingame, Calif., is a sociology major and a member of Pi Beta Phi. She served as chaplain for her organization and is presently magazine and gift chairman.

Brentlinger, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is from Myrtle Point and is a senior economics major. The couple plans an early June wedding.

Mary Ella Rose

Midge Scott

Vacation brought much excitement to Midge Scott but this was not evident as she casually strolled into the Alpha Chi house after the holidays. Joyful congratulations soon filled the air as a sparkling solitaire diamond ring was spotted on her left hand. Miss Scott's plans now include a wedding in which she and Gene Patterson will be the center of attraction.

Miss Scott is a junior from Honolulu, Hawaii. In her freshman year she was named to the final court in the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi contest, and this fall she was a candidate for Homecoming Hostess. Serving as historian at the Alpha Chi house, Miss Scott is a psychology major.

A 1959 graduate from Willamette, Patterson was a senior scholar in the history department and a member of Phi Delta Theta. From Warren, Oregon, he is presently serving in the navy in Rhode Island.

Strains of Lohengrin to Resound for Couples

Keeping a secret in a dormitory is almost an impossibility as Sue McCullough can easily verify. She became engaged but was going to hold off the announcement for a time. However, dormmates discovered the news and so a song to the effect greeted Miss McCullough at dinner this week.

Hailing from San Mateo, she is in pre-nursing at Willamette. Fiance Mel Uyaan of the Philippines is presently in the navy in San Francisco.

The couple will be married the end of June.

AN EARLY Christmas gift to Virginia Moran from John Maffitt proved to be a forerunner to a dinner party in Seaside which ultimately brought the announcement of the couple's engagement.

Miss Moran is a freshman in liberal arts. Holding the title of Miss Seaside, she served as hostess to other candidates throughout the state in the contest for Miss Oregon last summer.

Maffitt, from Beaverton, is a sophomore chemistry major at Portland State. He has served in the US Air Force in England.

No date is set for the wedding.

A NEW YEAR'S Eve party brought forth the engagement news of two Willamette Betas and their fiancées. Neil Hutchinson and Leah Thom were the first couple to expound upon their romantic news during the evening.

Miss Thom, from Salem, attended Oregon State for one term where she was a pledge of Alpha Phi. She is now employed in Salem.

Hutchinson is a junior mathematics and physics major from Portland. No date is set for the wedding.

TERRY KENT and Judy Jones are planning marriage in June. Miss Jones is presently a senior at Grant high school in Portland. Kent is serving as president of the senior class and was a member of the Willamette varsity football team. A pre-ministerial student, Kent will enroll in Boston university in the fall to study at the seminary.

Bill Wall is announcing his engagement to Beverly Pederson of Salem. Wall, a senior sociology major, also resides in Salem. He was a well known figure on the football field throughout his years on the campus.

Miss Pederson is employed in Salem in the office of Master service stations. Taking part in the advanced ROTC program, Wall plans to enter the Air Force after the couple's summer wedding.

Pinnings

Sherrie Pearl, junior Alpha Chi pledge, to Dale Church, OSC, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Laurel Ratcliff, Delta Gamma sophomore, to Herb Talabere, 1959 Willamette graduate, Phi Delta Theta.

Sylvia Quiring, senior Alpha Chi Omega, to Paul Ingrey, Kappa Delta Rho junior, Colgate university.

Society Reveals Court Finalists

The three finalists for Little Colonel have been announced by the members of Arnold Air society. The women are Lynne Higginbotham, Alpha Phi; Trish Evans, Pi Beta Phi and Kathy Johns, Lausanne hall.

They will be voted on by the members of AFOTC on Monday and Tuesday of the coming week. The Little Colonel will be crowned at the annual Military Ball to be held January 15 in the ballroom of the Marion hotel.

Chaplain Gives Tribute

The community of Salem and the university alike were shocked during the holidays to hear that Dr. and Mrs. Brooks Moore had been killed in an automobile accident in Eastern Oregon less than 24 hours after Brooks had preached his last sermon. Amid the excitement and joy of the Christmas season, and with the deep affection hosts of people felt for them, the tragedy seemed like some impossible error despite the beautiful service on December 24th.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore will be remembered by numerous Willamette students as the faithful friends and constant advisors of the Wesley fellowship. They will long be remembered as the host pastor of the student body as the sanctuary of the First Methodist church was redecorated and served as the worship center of the university chapel for many years.

But Dr. Moore will also be remembered as a trustee of the university, as a leading minister in the Oregon Conference of the Methodist church; a member of the literature committee of the Methodist Board of Education, and as a spiritual leader in the entire community.

Dr. Moore was born in Florida. This left a certain southern charm in all he said. After taking his divinity work in the Boston University School of Theology, he held pastorates in Idaho, the native state of Mrs. Moore, until Bishop Baxter, the former president of Willamette, personally chose him to be the new minister of the First Methodist church in Salem in 1947. In every way Brooks and Ferne Moore were devoted to the church, and it is fitting that their friends should keep their memory alive by creating a fellowship for some student who is going on into the ministry. —Chaplain Harlev Zeigler

Bearcats Host Whitman Twice As Conference Action Begins

Following last night's conference opener with College of Idaho, the Bearcats face the Missionaries from Whitman tonight and tomorrow night on the Jason floor.

In his eleventh year as head coach of the Whitman club, Bob Burgess faces a building year. With only three lettermen back, Whitman will have to rely on new talent to improve its fifth place 7-8 conference record of last year.

THE MISSIONARIES are certain to miss the services of Max Johnson this season. The talented forward was a unanimous all-conference choice as a senior last year.

Swim Team to Form

All students who are interested in trying out for Willamette's swimming team are urged to meet in the athletic office. Dr. John Paulus will be the coach of WU's newest varsity team. Two meets with OCE have been set.

Mural Basketball Squads Active

Men's mural basketball action got back under way this week with a few scheduled contests.

Tuesday night's first game saw the Phi Delt's edge the Law School 37-33. Wendell McLin and Truman Baird topped the scoring with 11 and 10 points each. Baird iced the game for the Phi Delt's with three baskets in the final minutes.

The SAEs had matters their own way in the second game as they ran over the Rinky Dinks 40-16. All the SAEs broke into the scoring column with Bob Penater's eight points leading the pack.

Baxter hall forfeited their contest to the Betas.

The Law School five edged the Betas 23-14 in Wednesday night's opening round. Jim Donnel scored 12 of the Beta's 14 points.

A well balanced Sig team outplayed Baxter in the second contest, winning 34-18.

Freshman Jiggs Burnett scored nine points to lead the Phi Delt's to a 24-20 victory over the SAEs. The Phi Delt's remain undefeated in Wednesday night action.

Denny Michaelson, 6-7 senior, is the only "big" man returning as a starter. He earned the center post after Bob Chrisman, 6-8 senior who had been a two-year regular, decided to drop out of school early in November. The loss of Chrisman left a sizeable hole to be filled in the rebounding and scoring departments.

Along with Michaelson will be sophomore guard Dick Phelps who earned a letter as a freshman last year. He stands 6-1 and is a strong board man for his height.

ROUNDING OUT the lineup will be Ralph Lillie and Al McKee, both 6-3, at forwards, and 5-11 Jerry Johannes at the other guard. Johannes, an 180-pound freshman speedster, is expected to develop into the Missionaries' floor general.

The Whitman squad earned a disappointing 1-6 pre-season record as compared to the 8-2 performance compiled by Willamette.

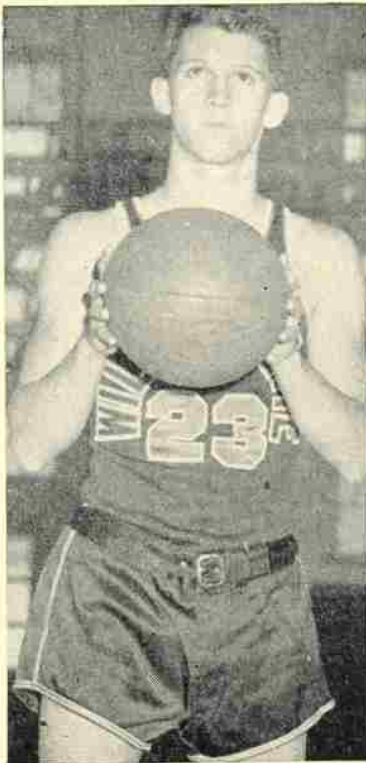

COACH JOHN Lewis intends to continue with the same five starters he has used most of the season. Fidel Gaviola and Larry Lynn will open at forwards, Buz Wilfert will start at center, and Ed Grossenbacher and Junior Sato will open at the guard positions.

The two teams will meet again at Whitman on February 22.

THE WILLAMETTE Bearkittens will play preliminary contests both nights. Coach Jerry Long's squad will host the Salem Auto Parts team. Preliminary games will begin at 6 p.m. followed by varsity action at 8 p.m.

WU Earns Third in Tourney; Lynn Selected Top Player

There was plenty of excitement for Willamette's hoopsters when they traveled to Chico, Calif., Dec. 27-29, as they finished third in the Far West conference tournament. An overtime defeat at the hands of Whittier kept the Bearcats from possibly winning the championship. WILLAMETTE looked impressive in its three encounters, showing greatly improved rebounding and offensive strength. Forward Larry Lynn, who had a combined total of 71 points, was voted outstanding player of the tournament.

The Lewismen opened with an easy 75-64 win over Humboldt State, as Lynn scored 31 points, his highest total as a Bearcat.

After a close game in the first five minutes, Willamette got its fast break in gear and rolled up a 39-28 halftime edge. When the lead was expanded to 18 in the second stanza, coach John Lewis substituted freely.

SEMI-FINAL action saw the Bearcats bow to the Whittier Poets, 60-54 in overtime. While WU shots were circling the rim, the Poets cashed in on five field goals after the score was knotted 50-50 at regulation time.

After a slow start, the Bearcats battled back and trailed by only 27-24 at the half.

THE SCORE was tied 50-50 with 2:30 left when Whittier went into a stall. A shot with nine seconds remaining was missed, but Willamette, upon snaring the rebound, was unable to ice the game when Eddie Grossenbacher's last second shot was blocked.

Larry Lynn again led the Cats with 15. Grossenbacher tallied 14 and center Buzz Wilfert got 13.

THE FINAL game was another thriller, as the lead changed hands seven times before Willamette emerged a 69-68 winner over San Francisco State. Larry Lynn's jump shot with 16 seconds remaining enabled WU to earn third place.

Eddie Grossenbacher had a hot night, hitting on 14 field goals for 28 points. Lynn added 25. Also greatly aiding the winners' cause was Buzz Wilfert with 15 rebounds, and guard Hisao Sato with his fine floor play.

BOTH LYNN and Grossenbacher earned all-tourney first team berths. This was the fourth time in as many seasons Grossenbacher has been named to the Far West all-tourney squad.

Jasons Conquer Seattle-Pacific

Coach John Lewis's Bearcat basketball quintet ended a successful pre-conference schedule by dumping Seattle-Pacific 74-66 at West Linn Saturday night. The victory earned the Willamette team an 8-2 record going into last night's conference opener with College of Idaho.

The final contest was not an easy victory for the Jason squad. Trailing 35-32 at halftime, the 'Cats dropped three more points to the Falcon club before Ed Grossenbacher found the range and closed the gap.

Rebounding and accuracy at the charity stripe told the tale after that. Outmaneuvered in both departments during the first half, Willamette took the advantage and at one time led 62-51 with three minutes showing on the clock.

Willamette jumped off to a 4-0 lead as the evening's action got underway, and held a 17-10 advantage at the eight-minute mark. Then, with the aid of a fine display at the charity stripe, eight for nine in one stretch, the Falcons moved ahead.

After the burst as the second half got under way, the Falcons lost their touch and the 'Cats took over.

Willamette tallied 28 of 83 shots from the field for .337. The Bearcats were able to sink only 18 of their 29 free throws.

Rebounding, a department in which Willamette has shown continual improvement during the early season, was controlled by the Jasons by a slight 52-49 edge. Larry Lynn grabbed 18 off the boards for Willamette. Ben Shellenberg paced the Falcons with 15.

Grossenbacher led all scorers with 25 points on nine field goals and seven free throws. Three other 'Cats hit double figures. Lynn was second high with 14, Buz Wilfert tallied 11 and Fidel Gaviola scored 10 points for the winners.

Sub guard Jerry Clyde came off the bench to lead the Falcon attack. He scored 17 points on eight field goals and one of two attempts from the charity stripe. Dave Wortman added 14 in the Seattle Pacific attack.

Fund to Commemorate Dr., Mrs. Moore

Plans for a scholarship fund in memory of Dr. Brooks H. Moore, pastor of the Salem First Methodist church, and his wife, Fernie, who died in an automobile accident before Christmas, have been announced by Mrs. Moore's family.

THE FUND, called the Fernie and Brooks Moore scholarship, will aid Willamette students interested in the ministry. President G. Herbert Smith reports that each day several checks for this fund arrive from friends and relatives of the Moores.

The Moores died December 22 when their car hit an icy patch in the road, veered off the shoulder of the road and tumbled 226 feet down a drainage ditch. They were traveling to Buhl, Idaho, for a Christmas reunion.

DR. MOORE had been on the Willamette Board of Trustees for seven years and had also been a member of the faculty committee. Several years ago, Dr. Moore taught religion courses at the university on a part-time basis. When Willamette held its chapel services off-campus, Dr. Moore was the host of the church used for the service. For about ten years, he was the first chapel speaker of the year.

Dr. Moore had been the pastor of the First Methodist church since 1947, when he was appointed to the position by the late Bishop Bruce Baxter, a former Willamette university president.

TWO YEARS ago, in recognition of ten years of service, the members of Dr. Moore's congregation arranged for a ten-week trip for him and his wife. Plans were being made for an exchange pastorate with England to commemorate 15 years as minister of the Salem church.

Funeral services were held at their Salem church the day before Christmas. Dr. S. Raynor Smith, assistant pastor, officiated. He was assisted by Dr. Recter Johnson, Salem district superintendent of the Methodist church, and by President Smith.

Marines Plan Waller Hit

The marine officer selection team headed by Captain R. D. Mickelson will be on the Willamette university campus January 12 to interview applicants for the officer programs of the United States Marine Corps.

The Marine Corps offers all college students an opportunity to complete their education and earn a commission as a second lieutenant in either the ground components or as a marine aviator. Successful applicants are commissioned upon graduation and have the option of selecting the program of their choice providing they meet the mental and physical requirements.

The interview team will be located in the Bearcat Cavern. Any students interested in obtaining additional information on the officer programs of the Marine Corps are invited to contact members of the team during their stay on campus.

Substitutes Report On Philo Confab

Eldon Olson and Alan Zehnbauer have returned from Christmas vacation in California, during which time they attended the first session of the Pacific Northwest Philosophical conference for 1959. The session lasted for about three hours, and four different philosophers were heard. The talks consisted of readings of papers prepared by the speakers themselves on topics of their own personal philosophical interests.

Olson, being rather inhibited in stating his reactions to the conference due to illness at the time of the interview, seemed to be impressed nevertheless. Zehnbauer said that the session was interesting and rather fun. Olson and his companion were not able to contribute since their attendance was strictly unofficial. The students attended the conference in the place of Dr. Milton Hunnux who was unable to go.

Zehnbauer said that the talks were "somewhat enlightening" in that they learned a number of different things that the philosophers are interested in.

He also added that the two came to the conclusion that modern philosophers are of two schools of thought: the positivists, and the metaphysicists. The positivists take the scientific attitude, in that they believe the study of semantics is their main purpose. The metaphysicists are more interested in what is more generally conceded to be of a philosophic nature—i.e., arguments concerning the existence of a god and the like.

Departments to Meet

A joint seminar meeting of the departments of political science, history and economics will be sponsored by the social science honorary, Pi Gamma Mu, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in room 30 of Waller hall.

Dean Gregg will be guest speaker and will show slides and relate accounts of his recent trip to the Near East and Europe. All students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Neuberger Staff Position To Be Announced This Fall

Senator Richard L. Neuberger has again announced that he will appoint an outstanding young man or woman to his Washington office as research assistant on September 1, 1960. This year, however, the initial appointment will run only until January 1, 1961, for an election occurs in November and the senator is a candidate. If he is re-elected he will expand the appointment to September 1, 1961.

Each year Senator Neuberger offers to an Oregon graduate who has demonstrated high ability and a sincere interest in the problems of government an appointment to his staff as research intern for one year at a salary of $4,499.50. Three of his former interns have remained in government work and one, Larry Hobart, is now his legislative assistant, so that program appears to be successful in encouraging superior students to enter government.

Senator Neuberger has appointed a selection committee of which Dr. John Swarthout, Dean of Portland State college, is chairman; other members are J. W. Forrester, editor, East Oregonian; Miss May Darling, member State Board of Education; and Father David H. Fosselman, University of Portland.

AAUW Foreign Film Series Starts With 'Mon Oncle'

Only little boys and dogs love Mon Oncle. But he seems to get along anyway.

Mon Oncle, portrayed by French star Jacques Tati, is a quiet, curious bachelor who just doesn't adjust to this modern world. Confounded by automatic garbage disposal units and self-operating sprinkler systems, Tati bumbles through life enjoying himself.

When finally given a job at the plant, Mon Oncle manages to get everyone spinning on his ear while he pokes and jerks along. Only the undying affections of his nephew and his dog save Mon Oncle from success.

Oncle is the first of six foreign films to be shown at the Grand theater this year. This "Curtain at 7:45" series is being sponsored by the American Association of University Women which receives 20 per cent of the proceeds to use toward scholarships.

All original language bills, the six films include French, Indian, German, Swedish, English and Russian efforts. The going price per flick is $1 with the package of six going for $5. Tickets are available at WU, Stevens and Sons, the Grand and the Elsinore.
