WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

SALEM, OREGON 97301

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

TO THE STUDENTS OF WILLAMETTE

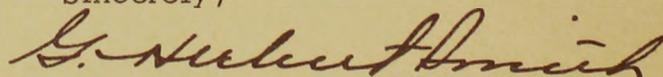

The college year 1966-67 finds Willamette busy with plans for the observance of the 125th year of its history. While Willamette is thus the oldest college of higher education in the Far West, you will find that the University has kept pace with the educational tempo of the times and that the spirit of the campus is experimental and forward-looking in the very best sense of the word.

For the past two years intensive work has been done on a complete reorganization of the curriculum and instructional materials. This will go into effect with the adoption of the four-course program in the fall of 1967. This year the addition to the University Library will be completed tripling the stack capacity and providing new and modern facilities for instruction in modern languages including a new language laboratory. The Truman Wesley Collins Legal Center will be completed, and Doney Hall will be enlarged.

During its entire century and a quarter, Willamette has had but one goal and that is to provide the very best possible educational opportunities for the young people who come here seeking their college work. The University can do no more than offer you an opportunity for an education. We can provide a teaching faculty interested in undergraduates who give primary emphasis to the work of the classroom. Willamette continues to be a student-centered institution in which teaching is our principal responsibility. We attempt to create an atmosphere conducive to the learning process. With all this, you as a student must educate yourself.

We welcome you to this campus and invite you to share in its heritage and to add to the good name of the University by giving serious devotion to intellectual achievement which in turn will enhance Willamette's reputation as you go on to graduate school or into your chosen profession.

Sincerely,

G. Herbert Smith
President

WILLAMETTE HISTORY

Willamette is identified with the earliest history of Oregon and is the oldest institution of higher learning west of the Missouri River. When the Methodist missionary Jason Lee and his company of pioneers formed the first Board of Trustees no one yet knew whether Oregon would become a part of Britain or the United States.

Lee opened a mission school for Indian children in 1834, and eight years later on February 1, 1842, a constitution was adopted for the "Oregon Institute," considered to be the founding of Willamette University. The name was changed in 1853 when the Oregon Territorial Legislature granted a charter to "Walamet University." Dr. Francis S. Hoyt was named first president of the University, and the Oregon Institute was retained as a preparatory school. The University began with five students and one instructor; and in 1859, the same year that Oregon became a state, Willamette graduated its first student, Emily J. York.

UNIVERSITY

Thereafter ensued a struggle by the early educators of Willamette for buildings and equipment. Through the efforts of Alvin Waller, a building was begun in 1864, now known as Waller Hall, which was finished in 1867 with the help of townspeople. Clay from the excavation for the foundation was fired on the campus to make bricks for the construction.

Being remote from the education centers of the east, Willamette attempted to serve the needs of the time. In addition to the College of Liberal Arts, professional schools were established. The Willamette Medical School, started in 1866, was the third founded west of St. Louis and was operated until 1912 when it became part of the University of Oregon. The College of Law was established in 1882, first in the Pacific Northwest, and has given continuous service to the present. The College of Music dates back to 1869 when it was called the Musical Institute. A College of Pharmacy was connected to Willamette from 1887 to 1907 and a College of Theology existed from 1889 to 1930. A graduate center in administration is currently proposed to be launched during the next few years.

Willamette is a private non-profit institution controlled by a board of 45 trustees, thirty of whom are elected by the board, nine by the Oregon Conference of the Methodist Church and six by the Alumni Association. The board is comprised of business and professional leaders of the Pacific Coast.

ATHLETICS

Willamette is justifiably proud of its coaching staff and athletic record over the years. Headed by Athletic Director John Lewis who has been at the University since 1947, the staff includes the following coaches: Ted Ogdahl, football; John Lewis, basketball and baseball; Dr. Charles Bowles, track and cross country; Joe Schaffeld, assistant football and baseball; Gene Cooper, wrestling; Dr. Richard Gillis, swimming; Les Sparks, tennis; and Steve Prothero, golf.

In football, the University has won more championships (13 titles and 3 ties) than any other team in the league since its founding in 1926. Under Ogdahl, the Bearcats have won four titles with a record of 66-42-10 (60%) since 1952. Lewis' basketball teams have won or shared seven titles since 1947 and Willamette has won more crowns than any other team since 1927. The Bearcats can boast of similar success in the Spring sports down through the years. The 1966 track team, under the guidance of Dr. Bowles for the first year, snapped a four-year Lewis and Clark domination. Cross country, swimming and wrestling are relatively new to the Conference and Bearcat teams have finished among the leaders in all three.

Competition in the NWC is considered to be among the toughest in the country for small colleges. Spirited rivalries are maintained in all sports, and students are admitted to all home athletic contests free with a student body card.

Willamette recognizes football, wrestling, swimming, basketball, cross country, track, tennis, baseball and golf as varsity sports. Freshmen are eligible to compete on varsity teams.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Under the direction of the Department of Physical Education, Willamette offers a wide selection of sports for those students not competing on the varsity level. Teams are organized within the living organizations and competition encompasses the following sports: flagball, basketball, tennis, volleyball, badminton, softball and track. Other sports for both men and women are included in the regular PE program, some in conjunction with offerings at the local YWCA and YMCA.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Willamette has one of the finer football stadiums in the NWC in McCulloch Stadium at Bush Park, a few blocks south of the campus. A quarter-mile cinder track encircles the football field, while adjacent space includes the baseball diamond, practice fields and field-event pits. Bush Park also has softball diamonds available for intramural play.

The gymnasium on campus provides the basketball court, wrestling room, weight room and equipment for trampoline, badminton and volleyball. Four tennis courts are located south of the Fine Arts Auditorium and an intramural field for flagball and archery is located east of York and Lee Houses. Facilities at both the YWCA and YMCA are also available to Willamette students, including swimming pools, handball courts and indoor track.

CAMPUS LIFE!!

HOUSING - DORMITORY

Unmarried out-of-town students are required to live and take their meals in University dormitories, fraternity or sorority houses unless permission to reside in other approved housing is given in writing by the Dean of Women or Dean of Men. Students may also reside with parents or immediate relatives in Salem, providing they have approval to live off campus.

All freshmen students must live in a University dormitory for a full year before residing elsewhere. The only exceptions to this rule must be authorized by the personnel deans.

Any student reserving a room in a University dormitory at the beginning of the fall semester must retain a room to the end of the year, provided the student remains in school.

When reserving space in the University, it is necessary for a new student to make an advanced payment of $75, fifty dollars of which is applied on the tuition of the first semester. The remaining $25 is retained as a general deposit against loss of university equipment or breakage; the unused portion of this is refunded when the student leaves the university or graduates. Such refunds are mailed to graduates during the summer after graduation.

Returning students submit a housing and enrollment card, and a $50 advance payment, by May 1st to reserve housing and classroom space for the following school year.

Students leaving the University prior to graduation may, upon written application to the Personnel Dean, receive a refund of the $25 deposit, less any breakage charges, infirmary fees or other charges, provided the application is made before June 1.

All residence halls and dining halls will be closed during Christmas and Spring vacations.

Fire drills are obligatory once a semester in each living organization.

No animals or other pets will be allowed to be kept in any living organization.

HOUSEMOTHERS

A qualified, competent housemother is assigned to every living organization. It is the duty of the housemother to report without delay to either the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women any dormitory problems.

The Dean of Men and the Dean of Women are responsible for supervising the housemothers and holding meetings with them for the purpose of discussion and advisement in matters of house problems and methods of maintaining the best relationship among the living organization members and with the University.

HOUSING FOR MARRIED STUDENTS

A list of apartments and rooms for married couples may be secured in the Dean of Men's office. A limited number of apartments for married students are maintained by the University. Students should inform the Dean of Men when moving, in order that home addresses may be kept up to date.

MOTOR VEHICLES

The bringing of automobiles to the campus and retaining them here is prohibited to all underclass students who come from out of town and who live on the campus or its environs. This prohibition extends through the first two years and until the student has actually completed a minimum of 56 hours of college work. The only exceptions will be made by the Dean of Students and the Dean of Women for students who absolutely can show that a car is required for their employment and that the employment is necessary for them to stay in school.

PARKING

Parking space for cars is provided in the parking lots south of Matthews Hall and on Winter Street. To park there you must register your car with the Dean of Students and receive a sticker to be displayed prominently on your car. Park only in the marked stalls. Parking anywhere else on campus is forbidden because the service entrances must be kept free for the use of emergency vehicles. You will be fined if you violate parking regulations. Special facilities for parking motor vehicles other than automobiles are provided on the parking area south of Matthews-Belknap Hall.

COUNSELING AND ADVISING

Although each student is responsible for his own academic progress, faculty members are available for counseling and advising throughout a student's undergraduate career. Certain faculty members are assigned as advisors to Freshmen and other students who are undecided as to their major. After the student has elected his major he will be assigned an advisor who is a member of his major department.

A Willamette University graduate should have depth in one Concentration area, breadth in the arts and the sciences, facility in expression in English and in at least one modern foreign language, and the possession of a strong sense of historical and philosophical self-awareness. The academic program at Willamette promotes these objectives.

GRADING SYSTEM

A Grade of C represents a satisfactory level of performance which can be expected of any student of normal ability who gives a reasonable amount of time, effort, and attention to the work of the course. Such satisfactory performance should include:

- Familiarity with the content of the course as shown by an acceptable mastery of the information, concepts, or skills involved;
- Evidence of a basic understanding of the significance of the course and its relevance to broader areas of knowledge;
- Full participation in the work of the class, including:
 - Regularity of attendance,
 - Completion of work on time,
 - Making up work due to unavoidable absences,
 - Contribution to class discussions;
- Evidence of an open and active mind stimulated by the desire to learn,
- Ability to express himself both orally and in writing in acceptable English.

A Grade of B indicates a higher level of performance than the satisfactory standard defined for a grade of C. It involves excellence in some aspect of the work, such as the following:

- Completeness, accuracy, and detail of knowledge,
- Effective capacity and initiative to do independent work and therefore contribute to the course objectives, (i.e. outside reading, papers, research projects over and above course requirements),
- Ability to do creative thinking.

A Grade of A. involves a level of performance that is conspicuously excellent in several if not all the factors indicated in the definition of B.

A Grade of D indicates below standard performance. It signifies work which in one or more important aspects falls below the minimum acceptable standard but which is of sufficient quality to be counted in the points required for graduation if balanced by superior work in other courses.

A Grade of F indicates an unacceptable level of performance. It signifies work which in one or more important aspects falls below the minimum acceptable standard and is not of sufficient quality or quantity to be counted in the points required for graduation.

TO CHANGE OR DROP COURSES

Courses may be changed within two weeks of the last registration day by securing permission from your advisor, the instructors of the courses involved, and the personnel deans.

A course may be added after this two week period only when a petition is approved after it is submitted to the Committee on Academic Achievement via the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

To drop a course:

1. Fill out an Enrollment Change booklet available in the Registrar's Office.
2. Have this booklet signed, in correct order as stated in the booklet, by the professors involved in the change, your advisor, the personnel deans and the Business Manager.
3. Return the cards to the Registrar. You must continue to attend the class being dropped until the change is completed and approved.

If a student drops a course more than 5 weeks after the opening of the semester for any reason other than serious illness, he will be given an F unless permission for his withdrawal has been granted by the Committee on Academic Achievement. If the course is dropped after 5 weeks and the student is failing at that time, he will receive an F in the course.

ATTENDANCE

There are four basic rules of attendance which apply to all students in the Colleges of Liberal Arts and Music:

1. Students are expected to attend classes.
2. Professors are expected to keep adequate attendance records.
3. Professors have the option of referring students who have excessive absences (or cuts) to the personnel deans.
4. Requiring class and attendance is left to the individual instructor. Each professor will determine the maximum number of cuts for his classes and if the student exceeds this maximum his grade may be lowered by the professor.

PROBATION

1. Disciplinary Probation -- When a student is guilty of a serious breach of conduct or of college regulations he may be dropped from the university or placed on disciplinary probation by action of the Student Discipline Committee or the personnel deans. When on Disciplinary Probation, the student becomes ineligible to represent the university in any public appearance or hold any major office; he forfeits all scholarships or grants; entry is made on the student's record; and further misconduct may lead to the student's dismissal from the university.

2. Academic Probation -- A full time student may be placed on Academic Probation by the Academic Achievement Committee, if he passes in less than 8 semester hours, if he has a grade of "D" or lower for one-third of his work in a semester, or if his grade average for that semester falls below "C". The penalties for Academic Probation are the same as those for Disciplinary Probation. Also, a student placed on Academic Probation may be dropped from the university at the end of the probationary semester if he is again subject to probation.

3. Social Probation -- A campus organization is placed on Social Probation by action of the Student Discipline Committee or the Personnel Deans when the organization has been found to be in violation of university regulations to the extent that corrective measures must be taken. While on Social Probation, the organization is prohibited from planning or participating in extracurricular functions.

EXAMINATIONS

Final examinations are given in all subjects at the end of each semester. During the semester, professors may schedule examinations at any time.

CONVOCATIONS

Convocations are scheduled at 11:00 a.m. on designated Tuesdays and Thursdays. These student-faculty planned assemblies of the student body are held in the Fine Arts Auditorium and in local churches, depending upon the type of program. Six to eight religious convocations are scheduled for a year, and eight absences are allowed for the school year. Students may be excused from participation in the convocations by appropriate Personnel Dean, only when a student's employment makes attendance impractical. A student may elect to become a non-participant by indicating this to the appropriate personnel dean at the beginning of the semester thereby becoming ineligible to represent the University in any public appearance or hold any major office, and forfeiting any scholarship or grant from Willamette University. Student whose absences exceed the eight allowed during the year also become non-participants and are subject to the same restrictions as above.

ACTIVITIES

All student activities must be scheduled through Activities Board which holds weekly meetings to schedule these activities.

There will be no more than one major function (this includes dancing and large parties which involve much preparation) for each living organization each semester. Other organizations are restricted to one major function each year.

A Salem city ordinance prohibits dancing in Salem on Sunday. Therefore, dances held in Salem which are open to the public must end on Saturday night at 12:00.

Activities Board may place an organization on Social Probation for failure to comply on time with scheduling procedures.

TO SCHEDULE AN EVENT

1. Fill out a form which can be obtained from the Student Body office (in duplicate).
2. Obtain a signature for the meeting place.
3. If the activity is coed, obtain the signatures of two chaperones on separate Chaperone Blank.
4. Present the completed forms to the First Vice-President of ASWU before the Activities Board meeting each week.
5. It is advisable to submit your request early to the Activities Board to make sure it will meet with no conflicts on the Social Calendar.

MEETING PLACES

Suggested meeting places for noon and afternoon meetings are Lausanne rumpus room, physical science lecture room in Collins, classrooms in Eaton, Waller, and the Little Chapel in Waller, and the Matthews Student Center meeting room. Evening meetings may be held in one of the living organizations, Waller Hall, or the library.

The Business Manager should be consulted for permission to use these meeting places with the exception of the library and the living organizations. See the librarian to use library facilities and the presidents of the living organizations to meet in their quarters. In addition, meetings including women in men's living organizations at times other than visiting hours must be cleared through the Dean of Women.

The Gymnasium is a popular on-campus place to hold a dance, and you can schedule one any time except during basketball season. Be sure to make arrangements with the office of the Director of Physical Education for the time of your event, the time you will be making preparations and for the serving of refreshments.

Waller Hall has two rooms which are available for formal meetings. The Auditorium has seating for 360 and must be scheduled with the Business Office. The Little Chapel on the fourth floor has seating for 30 and may be used only for devotional and religious meetings. It must be scheduled through the office of the Chaplain and the Business Office.

USE OF INTOXICANTS

Throughout its history Willamette University has had a consistent policy regarding the use of intoxicants by students. THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

The Associated Women Students wish to welcome you to Willamette University whether you are a new student, or returning for another academic year.

As a woman student at Willamette you are a member of the Associated Women Students. The A.W.S. officers hope you will take full advantage of this membership by participating in its activities.

We have prepared the following "Coed Cues" in hopes they will be of benefit to you in learning and understanding the standards of Willamette and helping to better acquaint you with the University.

The A.W.S. officers are more than ready to serve you during the coming year. We hope that you will take the opportunity to become acquainted and present your ideas to us in order that we may initiate activities which may be of interest and benefit to you as an individual.

Again, welcome to Willamette University.

MESSAGE TO ALL WILLAMETTE WOMEN

One of the greatest freedoms of the individual in a democratic society is the freedom to choose among different life patterns. Each woman represented on our campus must eventually arrive at her own expression of purpose, whether as a center of home and family, a contributor to the economy, a voluntary participant in the community, or a combination of these.

In comparison with your grandmothers, each of you has a quarter of a century of additional life for which to plan. If you marry and have children, you could still have 20 years of gainful employment after your last child is in college. Your own college experience should provide the foundation on which to build a meaningful life. However, it is your responsibility to use wisely the opportunities which are yours in college, both socially and academically, for never again will these opportunities be so easy for you to grasp.

I wish you success in your college endeavors and invite you to stop in my office at any time that I can be of assistance to you.

Vera Haberer
Dean of Women

What is AWS...

You, young woman, are a member of the Associated Women Students of Willamette University -- better known as AWS. The University has delegated to us the responsibility to serve as a self-governing organization. AWS in turn has defined its role to promote and develop leadership and equality of women, to provide a means for the expressions of the opinions of women students on matters of general interest to them, and to cite outstanding achievement of women at Willamette University.

The role of AWS is vital because you are a modern woman in a changing world. The ability to adapt to an expanding world is the ability to live meaningfully. AWS reflects the sentiments of the Willamette women and coordinates a busy world to best suit your needs and your interests.

AWS conducts its business through its elected cabinet officials and council. The AWS Council includes cabinet members plus representatives from each women's living organization. Freshman dorms have two representatives each. At its Council meetings held every Monday at noon, all AWS activities are planned, Coeds of the Month chosen, scholarship recipients selected, and women's standards are formulated and enforced.

Our campus group is a member of the Intercollegiate AWS and works with IAWS in all its activities, aims and purposes. Delegates are sent to the state, national and regional IAWS conventions each year. Willamette has been named host for this year's work filled state convention.

AWS - IT'S MULTIPLE PURPOSES

1. To promote and develop leadership and more equal participation by women.
2. To act as a vehicle for women to express their opinions.
3. To recognize individual and group achievement.
4. To help incoming women to make the transition between high school and college.
5. To promote cultural and intellectual activities.
6. To instigate and coordinate various activities on campus that will serve the minds and interest of every woman.

CONVENTIONS: As a member of the Intercollegiate Associated Women Students, which includes AWS's from colleges all over the nation, delegates to regional and national conventions represent Willamette. This year's national convention will be held in Virginia. Willamette is proud to host the annual AWS state convention which is tentatively planned for October.

ORIENTATION ASSEMBLY: The Dean of Women and the AWS cabinet take this time to introduce themselves to the graduating coeds of 1970. Together they will talk about the "feminine" role on campus, and review the objectives and working procedures of AWS.

BIG-LITTLE SISTER PROGRAM: Sponsored for the second year by AWS, much fun and frolic should be in store for the big and little sister involved in this program. Many friendships have already begun through summer correspondence between big and little sisters, and the coordinated activities planned for this year should aid freshmen in getting to know many upper-class women.

AWS AUCTION: Scheduled for October, this all-campus activity finds various living organizations as well as professors putting their creative talents to use by auctioning off such tidbits as male fashion shows, home-made dinners and horseback rides.

AWS CHARITY PROJECT: Torches will transform the parking lot beside Matthews Hall into a festive street dance this fall. The all campus frolic is designed to raise money for the National Cancer Society in past.

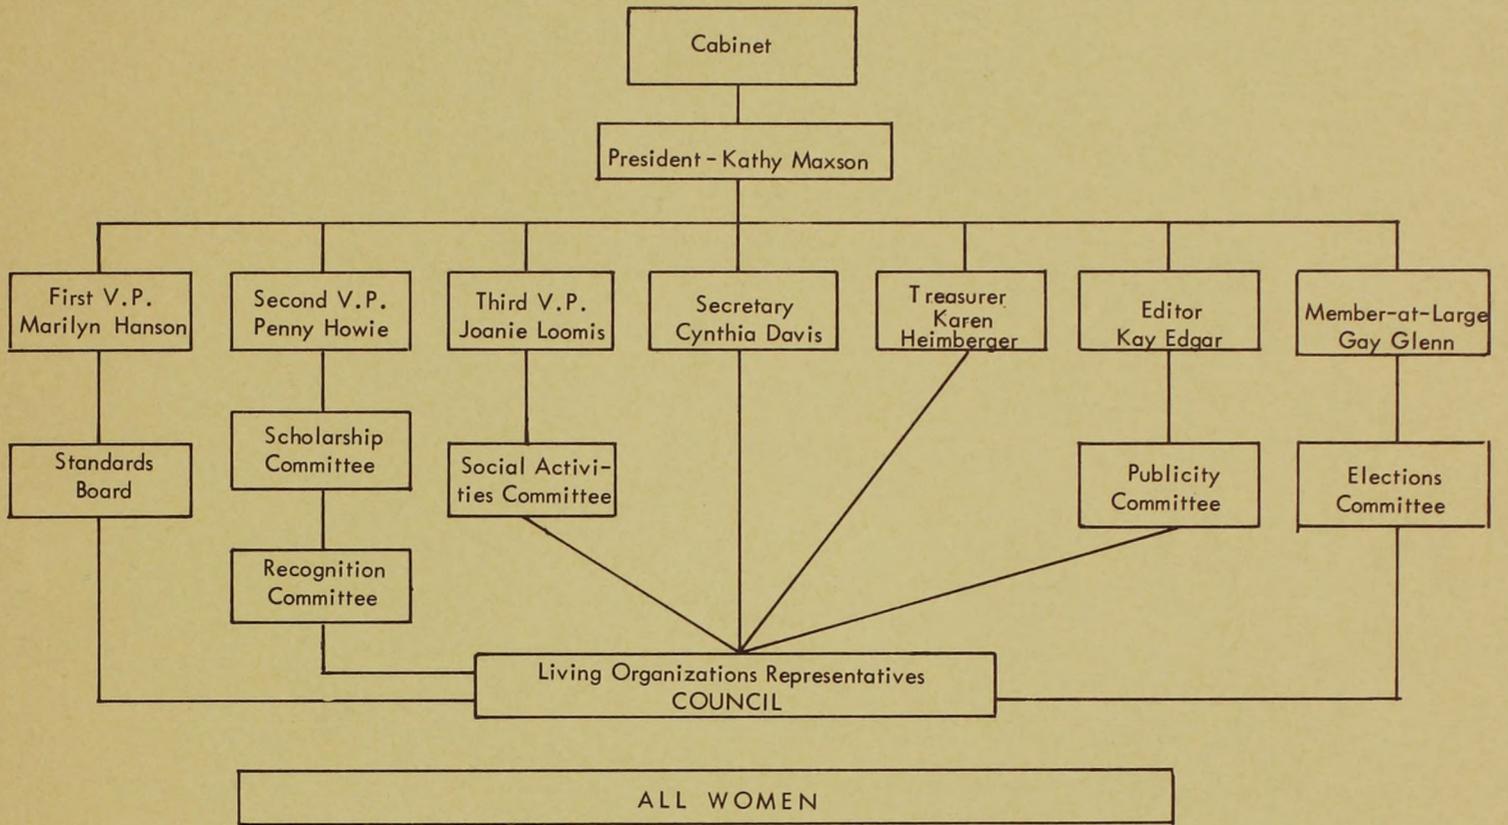

SPECIAL ALL-WOMEN'S EVENTS: Throughout each year, the AWS Special Events Committee, chaired by Joanie Loomis and Nancy Bearg, will be creatively planning programs to interest the Willamette Coed. Highlighting last year, were the "Snow Bunny" fashion show and a bridal fashion show.

SPRING WEEKEND: This is an annual all school project planned to introduce the visiting high school student to all aspects of Willamette life. AWS channels its efforts into a fashion show presenting the collegiate wardrobe.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS: To take place in February, the officers elected will begin their tenures of office soon afterwards, carrying on the AWS program until the following January.
