

Magician to Give Review Monday

"Do not believe all you see," says Lee Grabel, magician, who will appear in Waller hall Monday at 8 p.m. Magic as performed in King Arthur's time, as performed 500 years ago, and as performed today, as well as impersonations of foreign magicians will feature Grabel's "Magic Review." The campus YW is sponsoring the appearance. Tickets will be on sale today and Monday in Eaton hall and from YW cabinet members. Tickets are 25c.

Grabel is a native of Portland, and has traveled 40,000 miles during the past year, giving over 300 programs. He is the author of "Advising Beginners in the Art of Legerdemain."

Grabel saw his first magic show at the age of eight, and at eleven he performed for a group of amazed magicians, and he has been meeting with continuing success since that time. Mrs. Harry Houdini, wife of the greatest magician the world has ever known, has seen Grabel in action and was impressed with his presentation and skill.

Knopf Honors 8 Inductees

Eight Willamette senior men, who are scheduled to be called into the US armed forces soon and Major Carlton Spencer, head of the selective service in Salem, were special guests of Dr. C. S. Knopf at a luncheon served Tuesday at Lausanne hall following a chapel in their honor.

Of the men Jack Hedgecock and Keith Sherman expect to leave on May 11 and 20, respectively, while those remaining, Henry Stoudenmeyer, Sumner Gallaher, Ralph May, Oscar Swenson, Loren Hicks, and Douglas Treiber, will receive their call sometime before the middle of June.

Legion Asks Trustees for Statement from Knopf

Faculty Makes Albert Prize Selections

Devore, Matthews, Voigt Named; Student Body To Vote Wednesday

Esther Mae Devore, Ruth Matthews, and Bob Voigt were named by the faculty at their meeting Wednesday as eligible for the Albert Prize. Final selection of the winner will be made by the student body who will vote by ballot Wednesday.

Two of the group chosen for the $25 award are seniors, Miss Devore is from Salem and a senior scholar in sociology. Voigt, also from Salem, is also a senior scholar in his major, art, and is a member of Alpha Psi Delta. Miss Matthews is a junior from Portland whose major is English. Both women are members of Delta Phi.

Qualifications for the prize is based on "progress during the year toward the ideal in character, service, and wholesome influence," according to the University catalog. The prize is a bequest of Joseph C. Albert.

Lockenour Contributes To Law Book

Dr. Roy M. Lockenour's eighth yearly contribution, "Tort Liability of School Districts and School Personnel," is appearing in the Tenth Yearbook of School Law, he announced this week. Edited by M. M. Chambers of the American Council on Education, the publication is a narrative topical summary of decisions of the higher courts in all states of the union in cases involving school law, as reported during the preceding year.

A letter from Chambers received by Lockenour recently called attention to the fact the Willamette law professor has written for the Yearbook more times than any other writer: "Your articles are among the most readable to be submitted," Chambers wrote.

Mark Waltz to Sing Senior Farewell

Mark Waltz, baritone from Forest Grove, was chosen to sing "Farewell Willamette" at the traditional senior chapel to be held May 21.

As has been the custom for many years Dr. James T. Matthews will be the speaker.

Waltz won in the run-off election over Harry Irvine. Those eliminated in the first election were Corydon Blodgett and Bob to do so next year should see Dr. Rahe in the next two weeks.

It will be highly necessary for participants to make preparations during the summer as fewer people will be selected because of the tire shortage and less funds.

President Signs as "C.O." In Selective Service Registry

Associated Press newspapers yesterday carried stories making public an accusation by a committee of the American Legion, Capital Post No. 9, contained in a letter to Willamette trustees and concerned with the manner in which Dr. C. S. Knopf registered for selective service. The letter asks that the trustees get a statement from President Knopf specifying his attitudes toward war.

1942 Wallulah Nears Finish Says Editor

Centennial Theme Dominates; Sections Feature Innovations

The 1942 Wallulah is now being printed and will be ready for distribution during the last week of school, according to Editor Art Wilson, who is busy this week reading proof, copy editing final stories, and attending to other last minute details of production.

Continuing the theme that has dominated Willamette's activities this year, the Wallulah will feature the Centennial, and small sketches of Indians, trappers, hunters, log cabins and teepees will appear throughout the 160 pages of the book. Breaking away from the traditional formal type of yearbook, the '42 edition will be informal, showing pictures of groups in their actual work instead of the usual repetition of plates of portraits.

Innovations are introduced in many of the sections this year. Among the living organizations, Lausanne hall is the pioneer in starting a new sort of page. "Life at Lausanne" shows the girls in action in their rooms, in the laundry, in the dining room, and on the way to a formal. The senior section this year opens with a double spread of "Senior Stand-outs" showing prominent senior classmates, with a short story about each one.

"Willamette In Review" is the title of the 20-page opening lithographed section. In this section will be found scenes of registration, Homecoming, May Weekend, the Century Ball and other school activities and social affairs.

Executive Council To Hold Dinner

Ralph May, student body president, announced that present officers and officers-elect of the executive council will meet at dinner at Godfrey's at 7:15 p.m., Monday.

May also promises a guest artist for today's assembly.

Dr. Knopf to Speak At Berkeley Today

President Carl Sumner Knopf will be the principal speaker at tonight's commencement exercises of the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Calif. Dr. Knopf left for the southern state yesterday by train and plans to return to the campus Monday.

The Legion charged that Dr. Knopf "created a disturbance and vehemently protested when he was not allowed to write 'conscientious objector' in the margin of his registration blank and signed only under protest. Since he is an ordained Methodist minister Dr. Knopf would be automatically deferred from military service.

In a statement to the press, Dr. Knopf said, "I am sorry that the committee did not come to me first so they could have gotten their facts straight. Until the board of trustees have had a chance to act, I think it is better for me not to make an issue of it. I do that in fairness to the trustees."

It was impossible to get a further statement since the president left yesterday morning for speaking engagements in California.

Bill Borden Lost in Action In Far East

2nd Lieutenant Bill Borden was lost recently in action overseas according to a report received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Borden. Borden, a senior in sociology, left Willamette last September to join the army air corp. He was stationed at Randolph Field where he received his preliminary training before being transferred to Kelly Field.

The last communication to his parents was a message from Australia. At the time of his death Borden was believed to be over Burma or Java flying a pursuit ship.

At Willamette Borden was a member of Alpha Psi Delta.

Centennial Book Ready

The Centennial booklet will be out next week pending arrival of stock, according to Prof. Murco Ringnald, director. Details of distribution will be announced later.

The booklet which numbers 20 pages including the cover features woodcuts by Constance Fowler, art instructor, one on the cover and others in secondary colors throughout the book. Also included are many fine photographs, according to Professor Ringnald, featuring three by Jack Glaime.

The center spread shows an aerial view of the university and surrounding state buildings. Colors used are gold-brown for the cover and alternate pages in green and brown.

Commercial work on the publication is being done by the Capital City Bindery and Buschong's Lithography.

WU Supports War Effort

The danger of Willamette's becoming labeled a "C. O. school" must be faced! An article appearing in a local newspaper Wednesday has stirred a tumult of criticism and defense which may jeopardize the future of this, one of Salem's oldest institutions.

The first premise of this school we revere is freedom which shall be accorded all its people, as they are accorded freedom by another agency, our democratic government. An important corollary of freedom is tolerance. As Willamette constituents and as American citizens it is our duty, not to judge, whether it be to condemn or condone, but to understand where we may and tolerate where we cannot.

Without commenting on the right or wrong of conscientious objection except to say that being a "C. O." is a personal matter which should be included as one of America's academic freedoms, we would like to point out that the record shows that Willamette has been supporting the war effort to a greater degree than many other colleges. To date, the school has given approximately 100 of her young men to the nation's armed services. She has changed her curriculum to fit the needs of the Navy's V-1 program and is offering several other courses which tie in with a young man's preparation for military service. She has even dismissed classes so that male students might be able to attend talks by recruiting officers.

Action of Dr. Knopf's, and hence, our challengers, has placed the situation so that a definite resolution is necessary. Whatever it is, Willamette asks as it gives, understanding and honest interpretation.

Critics and supporters alike should remember that Willamette is not one man, the faculty, the students, the board of trustees nor the alumni but the whole group and the century of tradition and growth behind them.

Applause—

Willamette should be justly proud of her a cappella choir and band.

If audience reception can be used as a criterion to judge whether a concert is outstanding or not, both the a cappella choir concert on Sunday night and the band concert on Tuesday night would be adjudged great.

Capacity crowds thrilled both nights to serious and novel musical interpretations.

The band and choir under able direction with hours of practice and a fine co-operative spirit produced two of the high-light features of National Music Week, and have done their part to add to the growing prestige of Willamette.—L. M.

IN TIME with the TUNES

By Paul Sheldon

Turned the radio on last night, and who should greet our ears but our old favorite Jan Savitt and his great band playing at Southern California's Casa Manana. Besides having a wonderful organization in the swing field, Savitt himself has a history that bears mentioning.

Jan was at one time a child prodigy, and was supposed to have a brilliant future ahead of him as a classical violinist. He was raised in Philadelphia and for a long time was torn between two fires, classical and swing, and one time he combined the two with a great deal of success.

He organized his first band in Philadelphia around 1936 and called them the "Top Hatters." It didn't take them long to catch on, as Savitt's arrangements were really terrific. He first got a start when he was given a half-hour program on the Red network every Saturday afternoon. It was called the Top Hat club, and besides the orchestra it featured a tap dancer, "Jerry Taps." Savitt also featured a shuffle rhythm that really caught on. And all this time he was still keeping up with his "long hair" by occupying the first fiddle chair in the Philadelphia Philharmonic symphony.

This went on for two or three years, and all that time the Savitt band became more and more in demand, and all that time Jan was turning down big offers and contracts with monotonous regularity. He just couldn't quite break away from the symphony, and as long as he stayed in Philadelphia this wasn't necessary.

Finally, however, the Lincoln hotel in New York made the Savitt crew an offer for a two weeks engagement that was too tasty a morsel to be refused, and finally after much hesitancy, Jan accepted. The result is pretty well known by swing fans all over the country. The "two weeks" engagement lasted almost six months, and during that time, the Top Hatters broke all existing records at the Lincoln, and it also broke Savitt's ties with the symphony. Since then, this Quaker City gang has been at all the top spots in the country with ever rising success.

And now, Savitt is better than ever. He has one of the most powerful reed sections in the country. Not of the sickening sweet Lombardo type that makes you look for a place to deposit your supper, but that rollocking type that just steps out and rides. It makes you think of Lunceford at his best.

Maybe it's because of his classical background, or maybe he just has a knack for novelty, but anyway, Savitt is one of the leading exponents of playing the classics as they "should be played," not as they were written. (We hope Dean Geist doesn't sue us). Two of his arrangements of this type are particularly rugged—"Pizzicato Polka" and "Hall of the Mountain King" from the Peer Gynt Suite.

Yup, Jan is really tops, and say, wouldn't it be swell if he'd join the parade of name bands that are going to do honor to our capitol community in the near future?

GUEST GHOST

And has everyone recuperated from that hilarious May Weekend?

Speaking of econ excuses, that popularity man, "On Everybody's Blacklist" Blanding has a few excuses of his own when it comes to breakfast dates. Just ask Keller; she found out the hard way.

Could be Hanauska's haunted by a Spook? Purity boy, E. Harrold trying in vain to reform those State street gals—and was the air blue with CENSORED.

"Be it ever so humble there's no place like Chresto" quote, B. Briggs, who has given up defense stamps and is now collecting late pers. It may not be patriotic, but Joe approves.

On the record (at Lausanne): Miss Dixie Stacer and Miss Hallie Adams signed in at 4 a. m. the other morning. How come, there wasn't a fire drill THAT night?

Be seeing you at the Alpha Psi picnic. A picnic by any other name t'would smell the same.

Biologists Trip to Beach

Some good work done.
An interesting trip.
A beautiful day.
A lot of fun.

This seemed to be the general opinion of the biology and zoology students who made the field trip to four Oregon beaches Monday. A lot of sleepy people gathered in front of Lausanne at 6:45 (oh yes, they did!) that morning to board the bus, the cars, and the University station wagon, to ride to the Marine Gardens at Yaquina Head.

There were six in the station wagon with Dr. Knopf, and thinking they were far ahead of the rest of the party, they stopped at Depoe Bay for clam chowder, toast, and coffee, only to find the others waiting when we reached Yaquina Head lighthouse.

Besides their surprise at the great variety of algae and animal life found there, the group took delight in the look of amazement and the sound of awe in the voice of one coed as she glimpsed the ocean for the first time. She also voiced her surprise that the rest were able to run around and climb over the rocks with such apparent ease. Guess she didn't hear them yelp for help as they slipped on kelp.

Many interesting specimens were found at the Marine Gardens. Among them was a twenty-rayed star fish, which is found only on the Pacific coast, from Monterey to the Aleutian Islands. A sculpin, or rock fish was also found there. At a special outdoor lecture session, Dr. R. H. Tschudy told about the various types of algae that were found on the rocks at the Hean and Prof. C. R. Monk explained the types of life in the different horizons or life zones on the rocks.

On down the beach at Newport, the trippers ate lunch and later found agates and living rock-boring clams, or rock oysters, as they are commonly called. A casual observer might have thought the group was a chain gang if he watched them break up the rocks to get the animals.

Spencer Creek proved an interesting spot. According to Prof. C. R. Monk it is one of the finest fossil locations on the Pacific coast. Fifty-four different species of invertebrates, between 15 and 20 million years old, have been found there.

The biologists were quite willing to believe that and have faith in our professors until Dr. Knopf pointed to a print in the sand and told us that that was characteristic of the Neanderthal man, and that the one beside it was the print of a baby dinosaur. On following the prints, they found them to belong to Prof. Monk and a dog!

Next stop was Depot Bay, where they consumed copious gobs of karmelkorn, popcorn and pop, and then toured the Aquarium. Attracting the most attention were the giant sea anemones, ranging from white to various shades of lavender, coral and green. The octopus there, too, was a center of interest, for everyone was interested in his movements and his change of color from gray to red when disturbed.

Late in the afternoon, before returning to Salem, some of the students took the short ocean excursion on the pleasure boats at Depoe Bay, with the coeds faring fair, and the men a bit seasick!

Man on Second!

A sleepy coed at Lausanne hall thought she was dreaming last Saturday night. She heard men on second floor! Waking up she found that they really were men—but not quite on second floor. Two of the braver of the male species here at Willamette nonchalantly marched in the front door and up to the landing, where they signed out in the signing out book. Caught in the act by two returning Lausanneites, they explained that they were leaving for the night and would be in by 4:10 a. m. so that they wouldn't be weekendend!

Were Dick Stacer and Harold Adams surprised to find official notices from the secretary of Lausanne hall house council in their boxes Monday, fining them for breaking rule something-or-other of the Lausanne constitution which says that failure to sign back in after leaving the hall is punished by a ten cent fine! The gals gotta raise revenue some way, fellas!

"Motive" Features College Journalism

"Reflecting Rather Than Influencing Student Opinion." "Is Working on a College Publication Valuable?" and "What Is a Good College Newspaper?" are but three of the articles in the April issue of "Motive," devoted to a discussion of college journalism and the problems, purpose and place of the college newspaper.

"Motive" is the publication of Methodist students, using articles from college newspapers throughout the country and other features written by college journalists. Two of The Collegian's columnists have written for "Motive" within the past year. Paul Whipple, member of the class of '41, wrote last spring, and Robert Stephey, senior, wrote for the magazine in January.

Incidents Show Influence

According to the articles, from the standpoint of the editor, college papers influence students. Editors can point to incidents which are evidence of the paper's influence: attendance at meetings or chapel; lectures, plays, and dances to which newspaper publicity brought success. One of the most curious places where a newspaper's influence is felt is in its errors. Errors are often believed, but more than not, the misinformation brings telephone calls, in-person calls, and jibes from the readers.

The view of the reader is that newspapers reflect, rather than influence student opinion. College papers often depend solely upon student body funds for their support, and thus become a reflection of this student opinion. Leonard I. Garth, of Columbia college, as a reader, says that colleges with a preponderance of commuters, day students or town students, in which the college paper is financed mainly by student body funds, will have a college journal and a brand of college journalism which reflects rather than influences student opinion, except in cases of a purely local, collegiate nature.

Value of Work

The value of working on a college newspaper is concisely stated by Bob Barsky, editor of The Daily Bruin at UCLA. "In a word, the college paper builds character: loyalty, responsibility, determination, resourcefulness, honesty—those are more than figures of speech, and those are traits which anyone will value." He believes that the work helps breed a sturdy spirit of self-responsibility, and cultivates a certain ability and facility with words.

Then there is the matter of campus prestige and social position. It teaches the student how to meet opposition, to overcome it, or to lose gracefully.

Trustee Honored By Men's Group

R. J. Hendricks, oldest member in years of service of the Willamette board of trustees, was honored on his 79th birthday at a dinner given by the men's group of the Congregational church Wednesday night. Former head of the Oregon State Boys' Training school and editor emeritus of The Oregon Statesman, he is well known to Willamette students as a columnist on that paper.

Dr. Lovell to Address United Nations Group

"What we are fighting for" will be the topic discussed by Dr. R. Ivan Lovell, professor of history, Wednesday when he speaks to the United Nations conference which meets at the Unitarian church in Portland.

It teaches him immunity from dishonesty, sensationalism, emotionalism, callousness, and all that goes with it. And, finally, it makes those at the top better able to understand what is wanted and expected of them when they are again subordinates.

"A top-flight college newspaper is one that covers the news of the campus first, and that of the world outside somewhat tardily," says Edward Nell, in discussing requisites of a good college newspaper. Headlines of the good college newspaper are written in the terms of college life and language. The editor keeps his eyes on the microcosm that is college and his feet on college ground.

Senior Class to Give Two Defense Bonds

Naval Commission on the sea or in the air.

Freshmen. Sophomores. Here's a challenge—and an opportunity! Your Navy needs trained men. Trained men to become Naval Officers! And your college is ready to give you that training now.

Here's New Navy Plan

If you're 17 and not yet 20, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You then continue in college, including in your studies courses stressing physical training, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years of college work, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers

If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period after you have reached your 18th birthday, you may, if you so desire, take the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer . . . and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses, or who withdraw from college, will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination.

Deck or Engineering Officers

If you qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation, you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Other Opportunities

If you do not qualify as either potential Aviation Officer or as potential Deck or Engineering Officer you will be permitted to finish your second calendar year of college and will then be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen. But, even in this event, because of your college training, you will have a better chance for advancement.

Pay starts with active duty. It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

SPORT LIGHTS

Comparing WU Diamond Records
How Toolson Became a Base Thief

By GIL LIESER

Comparisons sometimes bring some interesting facts to light, and if not dwell on too long make 'fair-to-middlin' reading for the sports fan so with this in mind we thumbed through the files until we came across the batting and pitching records of the 1941 Bearcats, and compared them with those released on this page today.

Of course last year's figures covered the entire season which included at least six Northwest conference games that this year's edition has yet to play; excluding the possibility of additional games in the event of the renewal of play-off hostilities with the eastern division winner. This means that the records of the current season include in the main, the toughest opposition Willamette is called upon to face each year, while the majority of games with less potent NW league clubs, in which batting and pitching averages should be fattened, are yet to come.

However, some idea of what Bearcat pitchers and stick-wielders must shoot for if they are to equal the performances of last season, may be gained from a quick glance at the diamond history book.

Richardson Ahead of '41 Bat Figure.

Last spring Jack Richards, at present leading the club in batting, rated second to Clint Cameron, now a Salem Senator, with a .352 average, seven points under his present figure; while Ward Walker followed Richards, as he does at present, with a .329 average . . . 16 points under his present clip of .345.

Orville Ragsdale, who finished up with a .250 figure must raise his present record of .222 by 33 points to better the '41 figure. This also applies to Bob Daggett, now hitting .174, who hit .204 last year, and to Joe Murray, whose present telephone number of .077 is quite a few degrees below the .215 figure he finished with last spring.

On the other hand, Bend Schaad, who wound up with a .143 average in '41, now boasts a comfortable .250 figure, some 107 points above his previous mark.

Toolson Needs Whiffs (We Mean as a Pitcher).

In the pitching department we find that Toolson, who at present has an earned run average of 2.80, last season finished off things with a nice 2.17 average. Earl must also collect 34 more strikeouts to equal his 66 total of last spring. Jack Richards, the victim of very poor support in three starts this spring, must lower his current ERA of 6.50 quite a bit to equal the 1.69 figure that won him top honors in 1941.

Bill Hanauska, the other member of Spec Keene's "big three" mound staff must also lower his present 3.3 earned run average if he is to equal or better his mark of 2.67 for the '41 season.

These comparisons give one a rough idea of the road that lies ahead for Spec's diamond hands as they embark on the second lap of their four "twin-bill" conference series. Whether they can better their former marks against the coming circuit competition remains a question that only time and the score-book can tell.

Tooley Has a Field Day.

Bearcat baserunners had quite a field day during the Linfield twin-bill Tuesday, at the expense of an inexperienced catcher, and a "not-too-wide-awake" infield and leave it to the "Earl of Burley" Toolson to come up with something different.

Not content with pitching Willamette to victory in the first game, Earl had to stick a finger in the scoring pie in the sixth inning with as thrilling a steal of home plate as we've seen in many a day. Earl was resting on third, having advanced there by Ragsdale's single, after reaching first on one of three charity passes issued him during the matinee session by the wild-and-wooly Wildcat mound corps, when he suddenly took off for home plate as the pitcher thoughtlessly wound up for the delivery. The pitch and Toolson reached the catcher at one-and-the-same-time, but Earl's daring attempt to filch home plus an unorthodox slide in a sitting down position, completely faked the catcher and the Idaho lad was safe.

Thus ends the saga of the home plate steal of Earl Toolson, the "Burley Bandit," and now Mr. Tooley will you kindly remit a not-too-small sum for the above advertisement.

Bearcats Cop First Series Of NW Play

Toolson Hurls Four Hitter, Fans Eleven; Bennett Leads Batters

Exhibiting a return to the form which carried them to the Western division conference title last spring, Spec Keene's Willamette diamond crew pounded out a twin triumph over a hapless Linfield nine, 10-3 and 7-3 at Sweetland field, Tuesday afternoon.

Earl Toolson, sporting a good curve ball and speed to burn, threw a four hitter at the Wildcats in the first contest, and struck out 11 batters along the route.

Willamette broke the ice in the last of the fourth, when Ragsdale and Perry received free passage to first and Walker and Bennett followed up with a single and triple respectively, to score three runs. Two Linfield errors and a base on balls contributed to the fourth Bearcat score in the sixth frame.

Singles by Daggett, Ragsdale, Barnick and Walker, and consecutive doubles by Richards and Bennett produced six more runs for the Keenemen in a "big seventh" uprising that sewed up the contest. Linfield registered a lone tally in the fifth and added two more in futile ninth inning rally.

Bill Hanauska was a little more liberal with his offerings in the second contest but kept seven blows well scattered while his mates were making the most of an equal number of hits off Partlow, Linfield's number one mound ace.

The Methodistsmen lost no time in getting off to a two run lead in the initial frame, as Barnick doubled to score Perry who had reached first on an error, and scored a moment later himself, on an infield out.

Willamette added a single run in the fourth when Richards tripled to score Walker who had doubled and Bennett followed up with a single to bring lefty Jack across the plate. A Linfield error, successive doubles by Richards and Bennett, a single by Daggett, and a triple by Ragsdale which emptied the loaded bases, brought across four more runs for the Bearcats in the sixth inning.

Linfield registered a tally in the sixth and scored two more in the seventh and final inning of the nightcap.

Catcher Bob Bennett with a triple, two doubles and a single in six times at bat, and Lefty Jack Richards with a triple and two doubles in seven trips to the plate, took hitting honors for the afternoon.

Racqueteers Win Twice

The Willamette university tennis team downed the Linfield Wildcats at McMinnville Wednesday, winning four matches and losing three. The 'Cats coped three of the five singles events and split even at one each with the Wildcats in the doubles play.

Jacobson and Gilmore led the local racquet wielders with decisive wins in the singles events and Gallagher and Gilmore added the winning touch in the doubles play. Take Multnomah Into Camp In their match during the May Weekend festivities with Multnomah college the Bearcats exhibited a wealth of power and triumphed in every match. The final tabulation found Willamette the winner, 7-0.

Richards Tops Bearcat Diamond Men in Hitting And Fielding Departments

Official Willamette baseball statistics, brought up to date yesterday for release this morning, bear out the contention of many sports writers, that Lefty Jack Richards, heavy-hitting Bearcat first baseman and alternate pitcher, is the outstanding performer in Spec Keene's 1942 diamond cast.

Still leading the batters at a nice .359 clip and again topping his teammates afield with a .990 average, Richards now heads the RBI column with 13 runs batted in, and has moved into a slight edge over Bob Bennett in the extra-base hits department, with a home run, three triples and four doubles to his credit.

The sophomore from Portland, who swings and pitches from the port side, has collected eight runs and 19 hits in 53 trips to the plate, and has committed only one error while handling 99 chances in the field.

Ward Walker, ground-covering center-fielder, who holds down second place in the hitting department with a .345 average, tops Richards by a narrow margin in the matter of runs and hits, having collected nine runs and 20 hits in 58 times at bat. Walker also ranks second in the matter of runs-driven-in, with 11 to his credit.

Rookie Catcher Bob Bennett, still holds the honor of having swatted the highest percentage of extra-play blows; Bob has connected nine times in 45 trips to the plate, four of these going for triples and four for two base hits.

Toolson Has Best Record On Willamette Mound Staff

Leading Spec Keene's mound staff, according to statistics released for publication this morning, is Big Earl Toolson, Burley sophomore, who has a record of two wins against three defeats and an earned run average of 2.8 runs per game. Toolson also holds a wide margin in the matter of strikeouts with 32 to his credit, or one more than the combined total registered by Willamette's other three hurlers.

But even more worthy of note than Toolson's excellent record, is that of newcomer Ammon Adams, who in eight innings against the University of Oregon, an inning against the Prison Greys, and a full nine inning stint against the Salem Senators, has compiled the remarkable earned run figure of one (1) run per game.

In the total of 18 innings Adams has worked, he has permitted only 12 hits and has issued only four walks.

'Cats Seek Additional NW Wins Against Pacific Today

Twin Bill at Forest Grove

Toolson and Hanauska
To Share Mound Duty

Striving for another Western division title Willamette baseball team journeys to Forest Grove to play the Pacific University Badgers in a double header today.

Last year the Bearcats showed power in taking all four games in their series with Pacific, which entitled the Bearcats to play Whitman for the Northwest Conference championship.

During the current season Pacific has split a double header with Oregon, and has won one and lost one in conference play with Linfield.

Probable pitchers for the game today will be Toolson and Hanauska. They both were credited for a win against Linfield. For the Badgers will be Lee, veteran sophomore who has proved to be their ace hurler this year. He was responsible for the win over Oregon. Feathers will start the second game for the Badgers.

In comparative strength, Willamette has an edge in the pitching department because of the "Big Three" who have all been sought by professional scouts. Pacific's strength lies in Bill Lee. In the hitting department the teams are of about equal strength.

Tomorrow the Bearcats venture up to Portland to play the Pilots a double header. So far all the games with Portland have been called off on account of rain. Who will pitch is doubtful but it will probably be Richards and one of the following: Adams, Jackson, Kerns and Walker.

Pesky will be on the mound for Portland.

'Mural Mirror

Bill Habernicht

With spring finally showing its face on the campus of Willamette, softball fans and players got down to cases and began to put the finishing touches on the intramural softball schedule.

Though it did rain on Monday the weather cleared up the next day to let the Psi Yankees beat out a 20 to 0 victory over the Sigs in the most lopsided game of the year. Moses and Hawes, and Geddes and Findley made up the batteries. The Psis collected 17 hits while the Sigs could only count up six in this department.

We dropped over to watch the boys play yesterday and saw one of the best softball games we have seen in quite awhile. The Rubes came up to tie the Psi Yankees and then held them scoreless for two rounds but just couldn't score against the strong defense of the Psis. The Psis broke the spell in the eighth and the game ended 7 to 6.

Taking a 7-run lead in the first inning, the Law school walked away with a 9 to 3 win from the Alpha Psi Reds in the other game held on Sweetland field yesterday. Otto Skopil of the Law school gang put in an outstanding performance by snagging the ball from the short stop position no matter how they were hit. Achor of the Psi Reds played a good game from center field by making good every catch in that position. The Law school lads would most likely have made many more runs, but Achor just wouldn't let them hit into center field. Gardner, Kelley and DeSulley, Reynolds made up the batteries for the tilt.

Until next week when we will be here again with some more trash from the mural world we are afraid this is thirty.

We Need Every College Man In Officers' Training

★ To Man the Mightiest Air Army in the World ★

Make Your Choice This Week For Present or Future Officers' Training

IF your blood boils at the very thought of an enslaved world:

If Jap treachery and Nazi savagery make you see red and itch for a gun—calm yourself with the promise that we shall pay them back with compound interest!

We shall—and you as a college man now have the opportunity of serving as a Flying Officer—a Bombardier, Navigator or Pilot—with that branch of service which will do that paying back in person—the U. S. Army Air Forces!

Under the new Army Air Force Reserve Plan—if you are a Senior or wish to leave school—apply now for your Aviation Cadet training.

You and your friends can share together the work and fun of flight training, and after approximately 8 months—earn the right to be flying officers in the U. S. Army Air Forces!

On the other hand, if you are a Freshman, Sophomore or Junior—you can, if you like, continue your studies under the Deferred Service Plan of the Army Air Forces—and become better prepared for Officers' Training later.

New Simplified Requirements

To qualify you must be 18 to 26 (inclusive), physically fit—and pass a new, simplified mental test which college men find easy.

When you are ready—and facilities are ready—you begin as an

THREE ENLISTMENT PLANS FOR COLLEGE MEN

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standing.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R. O. T. C. plans.)

Aviation Cadet at $75 a month, with expenses paid.

If you have majored in science or engineering you can try for a commission in the ground crew—in Armament, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

80% Have Won Commissions

Due to thorough training—about four out of every five Aviation Cadets this past year received Second Lieutenants' commissions—of which 67% are now flying officers.

The tremendous expansion of the Air Forces should assure rapid advancement in all branches. And after the war—you'll be ready for the ever-growing opportunities in aviation.

Settle Your Service Now

The years ahead are war years—and every college man should make his plans accordingly.

To make America supreme in the air we need every college man who can qualify for active or deferred service.

So take advantage now of this option. You may never again have such opportunities.

See your Faculty Air Force Advisor for information and help with details. Join the thousands of America's college men who are enlisting this week!

NOTE: If you are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today.

Prom Dancers Will Find "Back to Nature" Theme

The gym will be the scene of another big event come tonight at 8:30, which is the time and place of the annual formal junior-senior prom.

The upper-classmen and their dates will be plunged into a wild and wooly atmosphere that should mean a good time for anyone, providing they are used to this life in the rough business. To quote Reevea Schmidt, chairman of the decoration committee, "Even the 'Indians' known to Jason Lee won't recognize the gym at the junior-senior prom, for the theme is 'back-to-nature.'"

Huge evergreens will create the forest primeval and grim savage warriors will lurk from within the shadows. Rustic benches will furnish relaxation for foot-weary war dancers and for those who can take it, it will be 'nature in the raw is seldom mild—ah, wilderness!' See what we mean?

Reigning supreme in this jungle atmosphere will be Hal Hardin and his orchestra with the kind of swing that lends a gay note to any occasion.

Programs are available in the bookstore, and, by the way, at least one half of every couple must be a junior or senior.

The entire faculty has been invited as patrons of the affair.

Committees working on the dance are: Patrons, Harriet Monroe, Flora Leonard and Dorothy Calderwood; programs, Sally German and Norma Calborn. Taking care of the publicity angle is Olivia Olsen.

P. S. Bows and arrows will please be checked at the door upon entering.

YW to Relax In Renovated Room in Eaton

By Dorothy Burton

Perhaps there isn't any place like home, as the old familiar song says, but the YW girls are certainly doing their best to get the homey atmosphere in their new room on the third floor of Eaton. The hard-working girls started this week, under the supervision of Lois Robinson, to carry out their plans, which will completely renovate the room.

The walls are being calcimined, the old furniture is being refinished, and some new added. The color scheme has not definitely been decided upon, but it will be worked out around the new wine davenport. New drapes will add another cozy aspect.

The girls are all working enthusiastically to make this a clean attractive room where they can go to rest if they are not feeling well, or to rest and relax between classes, and as Wilma Matthes said, "—just let down our hair and flop!"

APA Kappas Plan Program

Members of Alpha Phi Alpha and Kappa Gamma Rho joined in an informal get-together after their respective house meetings Wednesday night. The group danced, played ping-pong and a dart game, and toasted marshmallows in the Alpha Phi Alpha basement playroom.

Later in the evening, plans were begun for the Alpha Phi-Kappa chapel program scheduled for Friday, May 15.

Just LOOKIN'

By Ruthanne Thompson

"Oh, happy, carefree college days!" as Lil Abner would say, and he's right, too. They're plenty happy and carefree during the month of May 'cause in a few weeks, school will just be a memory—ain't that right, kids?

And by the way, you'll be a sun goddess this summer in the new swim suits being featured. There's a wide variety of fabrics to choose from—wools, rayons, cottons, lastex, sharkskin—and you'll be putting your best figure forward in any one of them. To those who look holy heck in bathing caps, they're offering something new in a rubberless type. A picturesque rumba bandanna of water repellent striped seersucker.

Spic 'n span summer suit dresses. On the campus they're worn by Pollyanna Shinkle and Betty Thelander. Pollyanna's is a two-piece brown and white striped seersucker. Betty's is a brown and white striped cotton.

Anchors aweigh—my boys, and make way for Jackie McBee in her navy sailor dress with the little red bow in front.

Something new in blouses worn by blond Saly McLeland. It's white pique with tiny eyelets throughout, fitted, and buttons down the front.

Newest shades by Cutex—Saddle brown 'a particular compliment to your dashing young cavalryman," and Alert "a captivating, merry, rose-red."

Patriotic—sho nuff! Betty Provost struts her stuff in a red, white, and blue striped blouse with a white collar and white cuffs.

Along the print dress line, one of the most colorful jobs we've seen belongs to Grace Covert. It's a pink and aqua print with lots of flowers, lots of sparkle, and lots of charm!

Talk about stripes! Marj Maulding has a clever red and white striped cotton dress. Horizontal stripes on the upper, vertical on the lower, and come to think of it, they're stripes going every which way. Pretty darn confuzin' but plenty cute!

Checkered gingham for that little girl look—and honors go to Donnabelle Savage in her very attractive red and white checkered frock.

Twelfth Street Entrance, Park On Improvement Program

The latest development in the program for cleaning and beautifying the campus is the plan to pave the road cutting across the campus from 12th street by the tennis courts, to the gymnasium and Sweetland field, the mill stream park and improvement of the speech offices, according to Dr. Carl Sumner Knopf who is directing the program. A volunteer group will carry on the work during the summer and be completed by the opening of the school year next fall.

Volunteer work has already been done on the mill stream project and Waller hall windows and doorways recently received a new coat of paint.

Dr. Knopf expressed the hope that each student would undertake one job for which he would be responsible throughout the school year. Thus no hardship would be imposed on any one and the students would have an opportunity to understand and fully cooperate with the project.

Staff Sgt. Floyd Baumgartner, class of '42, has been sent to officer's training school at Camp Lee, Va., from the Pendleton air base where he has been stationed.

Word has been received about another former Willamette student, Pvt. Russell K. Satter, class of '44, who is now stationed at Camp Elliot, San Diego, Calif. Mrs. Ed Satter, his mother, says that Russell has qualified second highest in his group in the automatic rifle school, which entitles him to a specialist rating. He also wrote that he is gaining weight and likes the corps fine. He enlisted in January.

Sonny Dunham To Play Here

"Trumpet playing like Harry James, tromboning like T. Dorsey plus a style all his own." That's the way swing fans characterize the abilities of Sonny Dunham, "America's trombone and trumpet stylist," who brings his 18 musicians to the Salem armory, Wednesday, May 20. Dunham's appearance, following Jack Teagarden's band, is the second of a series of "name" dance bands being brought to Salem.

Dunham's 16-piece band and two vocalists have just completed an engagement at the Hollywood Paladium and before that played on the east coast. Featured on national radio networks and Blue Bird records, Dunham played for several years with Glen Gray's Casa Loma orchestra before forming his own organization a few years ago.

Dr. H. C. Hutchins took charge of Dr. Lantz's classes during his absence.

Service Men List Being Compiled

A record of Willamette's men in the armed forces is now being compiled in the office of the registrar. The findings will reveal the number of men inducted to date, in which branches they are, and where they are now located.

Mr. Erickson estimates that the number will be approximately 100 undergraduates.

Vespers Sets Falls Retreat

Members of the new and old cabinets of University Vespers will travel to Silver Creek Falls tomorrow for annual spring retreat, to plan the Vespers services for the opening months of the coming year, and to discuss the freshman reception in the fall.

The group will leave the First Methodist church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and spend the day and evening at the falls, with a hike around the falls and a fireside party in the evening scheduled in addition to the business meetings. Dr. J. C. Harrison and Miss Ruth Cramer will serve as advisers for the group.

Reeva Schmidt, as general chairman, is directing the work of the committees. Betty Adkins and Doris Laney are planning the program; Paul Libbey, transportation; Leo Baldwin and Don Tasker, recreation; and Martha Weaver and Margaret Pemberton, menus.

May Weekend Play Cast Pleases Director Ringnald

"The cast surpassed all my highest hopes and aspirations in their performance Saturday night, and I knew they were good," stated Mrs. Margaret Ringnald, drama director, concerning the Junior May weekend play "Distant Drums."

Chosen because it concerned Oregon history, "Distant Drums" depicted the life of pioneers crossing the plains to Oregon and gave Willamette students the chance to portray frontier characters as they were in the early days of the Oregon Institute. According to Mrs. Ringnald, the cast did exceptionally well in making the characters real, in putting themselves in the parts, in carrying out the characterizations and dialogue.

Adding to the effectiveness of the play was the set, consisting of covered wagons and a pioneer camping spot, the Indian drums beating in the background, and the frontier outfits, equipment, and beards used by the cast.
