

Famed Philosopher To Speak Thursday

Noted author, lecturer and professor Elton Trueblood will be on campus Thursday and will address meetings of students, faculty and Salem townspeople.

DR. ELTON TRUEBLOOD, cousin of Dr. Paul Trueblood, head of Willamette's English department, has been called "one of the ablest, most widely read and helpful religious philosophers of our day."

Parker Leads Discussion

The third in a series of eight Great Decisions meetings was held last Tuesday night in Baxter Hall. A group of some 12 or 15 students and faculty members discussed the topic, "United Europe—Partner or Rival?"

INCLUDED in the topic were questions concerning the advisability of European economic unity, its effect on the U. S. and possible American positions concerning the market alliance.

Leading the discussion was Dr. Reginald Parker of the Willamette College of Law. Dr. Parker has spent 30 years in Europe, ten of them practicing law in Vienna.

DR. PARKER noted that what is being united was not always so disunited, referring to the Franco-Italian relationship and the lack of any real dissension between the two countries since the second world war.

Economic union was seen as a possible deterrent to a depression on the continent, observing that the crash of '29 helped accelerate the advancement of the Nazi party.

This coming Tuesday the discussion topic for the group will be "Middle-East."

Sunday, a TV program concerning the Middle East will be broadcast on station KGW at 1 p.m. Sunday KBZY radio will carry a program pertinent to the coming discussion from 11:30 to 12 noon.

Dr. Trueblood will speak at the regional chapel hour in the Fine Arts auditorium Thursday on "The Logic of Belief." This is the title of a book he wrote that is used as a text by the beginning philosophy class.

HE WILL MEET faculty and students at an informal coffee hour Thursday at 3. At press time, place of the coffee hour had not been decided, but it will be announced at Dr. Trueblood's morning lecture Thursday.

That evening he will address the Salem Knife and Fork club, speaking on "The Alternative to Sputnik."

DR. TRUEBLOOD is presently professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana. In 1954 President Eisenhower appointed him chief of the religious information division of the U. S. Information Agency.

He has also been on the faculties of Guilford College, Haverford College, Harvard, and Stanford, where he was also chaplain. From 1935 to 1946 he was editor of "The Friend," oldest Quaker magazine in the world, and he has served as chairman of the Society of Friends World Council.

Of Dr. Trueblood's 15 books, the best known is "The Predicament of Modern Man." Other well known titles of his are "Alternative to Futility," "Your Other Vocation," "The Life We Prize," and "The Common Venture of Life."

Alpha Phi to Install Chapter As Fifth WU Sorority Soon

The ivy leaf pledge pin and gold monogram badge of Alpha Phi sorority will soon become familiar sights as plans were announced this week for the advent of a fifth sorority to the campus.

IN MAKING unofficial announcement of the sorority's plans, President

Smith Wednesday told Panhellenic delegates that the new sorority will be housed in University house, starting in the fall, and that the group would be able to remain there for four years.

Plans for the installation of the new group are in the hands of Mrs. Wallace Brennan, Salem, a former national officer of the sorority.

MRS. HERBERT Plumb, Seattle, chairman of the national membership selection committee, will spend several days on campus when the first group of Willamette women is selected.

Consenting to head the local Alpha Phi alumnae advisory board as chapter advisor is Miss Antoinette Kuzmanich, present dean of women at Portland State College and finance officer of Secretary of State Mark O. Hatfield.

PLANS INDICATED by Dr. Smith were that a group of independent Willamette women would be chosen in the near future by the sorority's Salem alumnae to form the nucleus of an eventual Alpha Phi chapter.

It is expected that this will take place within the next three weeks. IT IS HOPED that an Alpha Phi member from another school will be able to transfer to Willamette next fall as a guide to the new chapter.

Anouncement Orders Due Today

Mrs. Delsia Larson, bookstore manager, warns seniors that today is absolutely the last day to order commencement announcements, and that after 4:15 p.m. today, no more orders will be taken. She added that no additional announcements would be ordered this year.

Publication Petitions Deadlines Extended

Deadlines for publications petitions have been extended from today noon until next Friday, Feb. 28, at noon. Petitions called for are those for Collegian and Wallulah editors and publication manager. They should be given to Wayne Haverson, publications manager, or handed in to the student body office.

Petitions for editors of the Fusser's Guide and the student handbook will be due March 14.

Deans Feted for 50 Years Service

Four Willamette deans and their combined five decades of deanship here were honored Wednesday at the annual faculty potluck dinner.

Recognized for service were Deans Melvin H. Geist, Seward P. Reese, Regina L. Ewalt and Robert D. Gregg. Also honored were Mesdames Geist, Reese, and Gregg.

Total years of service of the four deans totals 50 years.

Dean Geist has been dean of the College of Music for 19 years and Dean Reese has served as head of the College of Law 12 years.

Both Dean Ewalt and Dean Gregg are entering their tenth year at Willamette, Dean Ewalt as dean of women and Dr. Gregg as dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

President Smith recognized the length of service of the deans and presented them with gifts.

200 Tickets Available For Anderson Concert

There will be about 200 reserved seat tickets available for the Marian Anderson concert, Wednesday, March 5, according to Chuck Marsters, concert series manager.

Tickets will be on sale at Stevens and Son Jewelers for $3.20 and $2.40.

Miss Anderson is considered the world's greatest contralto and is especially famous for her singing of Negro spirituals.

Democrats to Discuss Local, World Events

Young Democrats of W. U. will discuss current events at 2 p.m. this Saturday in the S.A.E. house. All professors and students are invited and will have an opportunity to air their views concerning the present world and local situations.

Willamette's Young Democrats are currently handling arrangements for the Young Democrat's State Convention to be held in Salem, May 9-11.

Macpherson Named to Post

Gordon Macpherson was elected May Weekend manager at student council Wednesday after he outlined his plans for an elaboration of the academic preview with an emphasis on the orientation aspect of the Weekend for high school seniors.

MACPHERSON IS A junior political science major who served as manager of Orientation Week during his sophomore year. He was also dance chairman during the last May Weekend.

The council meeting was attended by H. T. Walters, student body president at Oregon College of Education, and the members of the OCE cabinet, who visited the campus to observe Willamette's student government in action.

MUCH OF THE action concerned the insurance program. Council voted to consider bids from other insurance companies in an effort to make the best possible insurance program available.

reverse psychology

"Don't Vote! Let your class go to the dogs."

This and other choice bits of reverse psychology are being employed by the elections committee in a last-ditch effort to inspire a delinquent 50 per cent of the student body to vote in today's primaries and next week's final election for class and AWS officers and the rally squad.

We can hardly blame them for their cynicism, but it's just possible that this negative approach will appeal to the apathetic Willamettites.

To the adventuresome individuals who will brave the "agony" of the balloting procedure we would make this suggestion.

Attempt to objectively consider each candidate in terms of what he could do for the office. This is particularly difficult in the case of the rally squad where figure, face, or affiliation are too often the determining factors in place of coordination and real ability to create enthusiasm.

Rally tryouts and speeches from AWS candidates were available in Tuesday's convocation for all those objectively inclined, and to the would-be voters who didn't make it to convo, we sincerely hope their little game of eeney, meeney, miney, mo on the ballot will elect the best possible candidates.

"Vote! Be a non-conformist."

Tramp Steamer, University Unveil India to Phi Delts

Willamette Phi Delts seem to have an affinity for India.

Dick Crooks, a junior political science major, temporarily turned seaman, recently took four months off to tour Japan and India. At the same time Herb Talabere was bowed under his studies at the University of Allahabad, India.

Hopping tramp steamers, Crooks left the United States on the first of August, arriving in India on Sept. 5. He found that by endeavoring to meet the students of the countries he had a better chance to see the people in their true light.

"I WAS HUNTING jazz records one day in India, because I hadn't heard American music for so long," Crooks related.

"Here I met Harry Antick, an Indian interested in American music. At first he was reluctant to talk to us because he was from the better classes. But after a while he decided we were pretty decent and with him I got into the temples and religious services."

MANY OF Dick's experiences that seem funny now weren't at all humorous when they were happening. "Like the time in Vizagatam, India," he grinned.

"I couldn't pass up getting a picture of a beautiful Moslem temple on a hill - but forgetting the law prohibiting shoes in the temple I stomped in and was wandering

English Theologian To Speak to Wranglers

Dr. John Whale, renowned English theologian, will be the guest speaker at the Wrangler's club meeting this evening. Dr. Whale, who spoke to the student body in chapel yesterday, will carry on a discussion concerning "Britain's Welfare at State."

Faculty members of Wranglers may expect inside information on this topic, since Dr. Whale is himself British.

Students wishing to speak with Dr. Whale will have the opportunity to do so until Saturday afternoon, when he will leave for McMinnville. Dr. Ziegler especially urges all students planning to enter the ministry to meet with Dr. Whale.

around examining the tombs and ornaments.

"Suddenly the worshippers became very irate and I found myself fighting my way through a very hostile crowd!"

FROM INDIA he sailed to Portuguese Goa, a rich, but small country in conflict with India. Here Crooks found himself walking along the outskirts of the country staring into the muzzles of machine guns.

He hopped a steamer to Ceylon where he was able to participate in a Hindu religious service, although he added that he was afraid that if they had known he was an American they wouldn't have let him in.

HE ARRIVED in Japan about November 2 and there met Kidio Yaji, a travel consultant who guided him through the rural areas. He started for home the last of November via a tramp steamer and met "a little rough weather" - a typhoon.

Commenting on the number of people he met, Crooks explained, "When you are on your own and have no one else, you have to make

'Burgers, Glee Songs, Coffee Found at Lebolds; Plaques and Toothpicks, Matches Vanish Also

Coffee anyone? This familiar query echoes across the Willamette campus every night at 9:30 as study-weary students anticipate that half hour of relaxation enjoyed by so many at Lebold's.

THIS FAVORITE haunt of Willamette students came into existence nine years ago, then at a location across the street from its present site, and has been a haven for the college crowd ever since.

Yesterday Lebold's celebrated its ninth year of catering to the whims of WU students, giving them a place to gather in a friendly, relaxed atmosphere.

Steaming coffee pots make the rounds time and again as the bulging booths eavesdrop on the latest university scuttlebutt, while hungry students fill up on the famous Smorgasboard burgers and chips.

IF THE BOOTHS could but reveal what has transpired on the premises in the last decade, what a

Unequal Demos Polled

The forthcoming state election has been on the minds of Willamette students and faculty alike during the past weeks.

To further establish the generally known condition of Willamette's Republican predominance, a sample poll was conducted by the Collegian to determine approximate percentage of political affiliation.

OUT OF the Willamette students polled, 55% responded, 19% of whom identified themselves with the Democratic party, while 76% preferred the Republicans, 2% professed Communism and 2% were "Republicanats."

In lieu of the unbalanced party favor at Willamette, two active Democrat faculty members were asked to give some of their views of the issues and candidates in the forthcoming election.

DR. IVAN LOVELL, professor of history, feels that the issue on public power, favored by the Democratic party, would be a determining factor in the election.

THE CANDIDACY of Mark Hatfield brings an expression of surprise from Lovell. Republican Hatfield is a supporter of the two-party policy, where ideally the major parties should enjoy approximately equal time in power.

Hatfield's running would seem to contradict his stand on this matter as the Democratic party has only been in control in Oregon for two years.

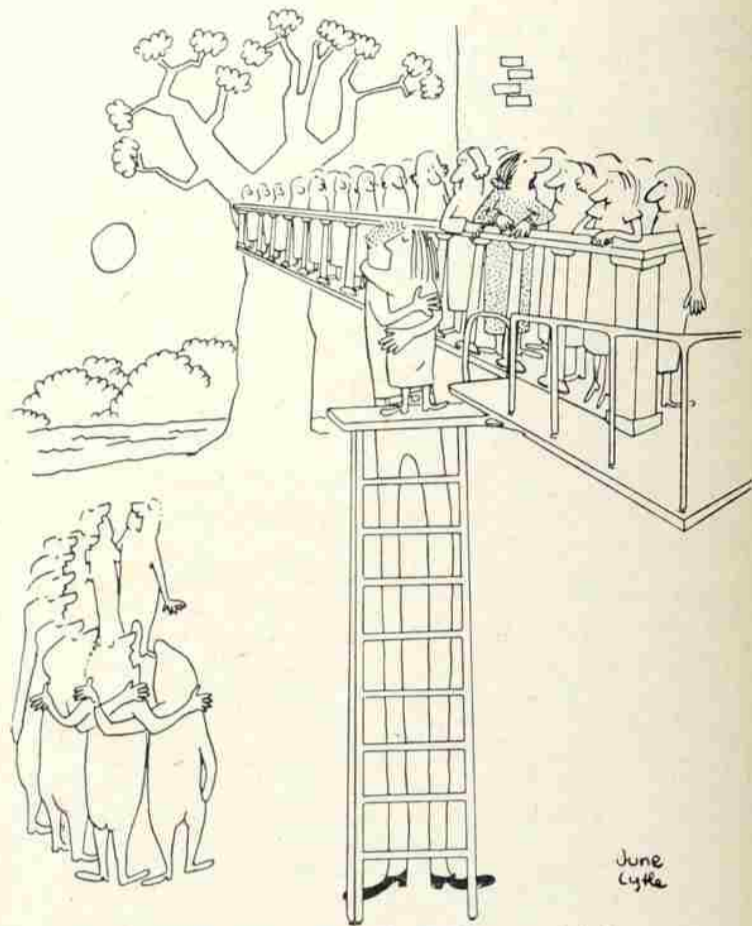

"Governor Holmes has been excellent, and his two-year term of office has not yet been sufficient to demonstrate his abilities," Lovell concluded.

THE TEN principles recently presented to President Eisenhower by ten governors including Holmes impressed Dr. John A. Rademaker as being important in the state election.

According to Rademaker, professor of sociology, these principles are backed by Democrats and pertain to issues not being carried out by the present national government.

Rademaker feels that these are strong issues and should be carried out immediately.

"I still say they'll never make a go of it."

History Sees Monday Absent; Former Glee With Beards!

Ever hear of the Whiskerino Contest? Do you know who won the silver anniversary of Freshman Glee? Or how Glee got started?

In honor of this year's Golden Glee a special history committee is probing into Willamette history to discover how Glee got its traditions.

Co-chairmen Dean Kohntopp and Karen Henninger have written letters asking for information to all founders of Glee, past Glee managers and song-leaders of winning classes. The data they collect will be printed in pamphlet form and released after Glee.

One of the first founders was Mr. J. A. C. Oakes of Portland when in 1908 he organized a group of students and the Class of 1912 was declared the winner.

The winning classes of Freshman Glee were announced for twenty-one years by Professor James T. Matthews, then head of the mathematics department. Dr. Daniel Schultze now gives the fatal words.

In 1934 all Glee bets were cancelled by the faculty and changes in the order of judging were initiated. Previously a percent basis was used, but this was changed to enable the judges to choose first, second, third and fourth place winners.

Among other traditions discovered by the History committee was the revival of the Whiskerino Contest for the 40th Annual Glee. In 1932 the seniors made their first appearance in caps and gowns and in 1933, to celebrate the 25th Anniversary a Glee princess was crowned. Incidentally, the 25th Glee was won by the Freshmen!

BEAR HEADS ANNOUNCED

New Honeybear officers have been chosen for the following semester and include Lee Wilkinson, president; Marilyn Wright, secretary-treasurer; Connie Kent, costumes; Rosella Homrich, publicity; and Drury Spurlock, dance recorder.

Three new members are Jane Sanford, Sherri Jenkins, and Miss Spurlock. Any Willamette coed can try out for this group but she should have talent for dancing and ability to get along well with others.

WHAT A LONG PIECE OF MUSIC!

Music was recorded on a two-hour tape for the Beta pledge party last Saturday night at the home of Tony Meeker in Amity, Oregon. A Valentine theme with decorations was carried out in honor of the pledges and their dates who occasionally found an intermission in this long piece of music to enjoy root beer straight from the keg and potato chips and cheese dips.

NO GRUESOME COUPLES HERE

Though the Independent Women of Willamette had intended to announce the most gruesome couple at their "Grusum Tusums" dance last Friday night, they evidently couldn't find any couple quite gruesome enough even though some strong contenders could have been Anthony and Cleopatra, Lucy and Charlie Brown, Hunchback of Notre Dame and mate, and Chester Good, complete with dragging foot, and Kitty, who were all well portrayed.

"ARROW DAY" BEAUTIFIES SCHOOL

An especially nice tradition was kept by the Pi Phi last weekend as they celebrated Arrow Day and Founders Day, by painting the floor of the student body office with a badly needed coat of red paint. Every year on this day the Pi Phi do something for the school.

AMEN CORNER

Dr. Roy Walker, member of the political science department of Pacific University, will speak to Wesley Fellowship on "The Middle Eastern Crisis" with emphasis on the Arab-Jewish problem this Sunday, at the Methodist church, at 6:45 p.m.

St. Paul's Church will hold special Lenten services at 7:00 p.m. during the coming six weeks. Father Rosenthal, Curate at St. Paul's, will deliver the sermon this Friday.

Two WU Coeds Wed Saturday

Sue Tripp, a sophomore at Willamette, and Clyde MacIver, a junior, were married at 8 p.m. Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church in Vancouver, Washington.

Darlene Rose, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Jody Mills and Deanna Bruning wore pale blue dresses and carried sprays of pink carnations. Carlyle Johnson served as best man and JoAnne Warren sang the "Lord's Prayer." A reception was held afterward at the church.

Sally Dodge, sophomore at Willamette, was wed to Robert Griffith Saturday at 8 p.m. at the All Saints Episcopal church in Portland.

Maid of honor, Lynn Coleman, wore blue and carried daffodils, Marilyn Morton and Lo Ann Munding were candle lighters, and Carolyn Risley sang. The couple will live in Portland.

Willamette's Angel Flight Much Admired at Conclave

Angel Flight members who attended the regional Arnold Air Society conclave at the University of Washington last weekend found Willamette's Angel Flight organization was much admired.

"We are the only Angel Flight fancy drill team in the United States as far as anyone knows," remarked Carole Warren, one of Willamette's delegates, "and our uniforms seemed to definitely stand out."

"The University of Washington Angel Flight costume is a dark skirt and white blouse while Washington State members had costumes similar to Willamette's except they wore capes instead of jackets."

The two Washington schools along with Central Washington College of Education where an Angel Flight group has not yet been formed, asked that a copy of Willamette's Angel Flight constitution be sent to them.

According to Miss Warren, Willamette's group seemed to be the only group with no financial problems or lack of campus support and interest. "Though we gave more

Cap and Gown Veep, Martin Awarded AWS Cup for Feb.

Jean Martin, vice president of Cap and Gown, was awarded the AWS Coed of the Month Cup for February at convocation Tuesday.

A social senior this semester, Miss Martin is doing graduate work in education and was a February graduate in journalism-social science.

During her four years at Willamette she has served as treasurer and rituals chairman of Delta Gamma, Alpha Lambda Delta president and junior advisor, Collegian campus editor and feature editor, Wallulah editor, Kappa Delta Pi secretary, and student body office manager. She presently holds the Myrtle L. Atkinson scholarship.

Miss Martin has also been a member of Beta Alpha Gamma, Creative Writing club, Disciplinary Board and Gamma Mu.

suggestions than we received," said Miss Warren, "we learned how much the terrific support given us by the ROTC detachment and the Arnold Air Society have contributed to our success, and also gained a deeper appreciation of what the Arnold Air Society is trying to achieve as we saw their policies being formulated."

Kathy Evans, Sherri Jenkins, and Sue Jenkins were the other Angel Flight members attending this conclave.

Joe College and Betty Coed candidates for tomorrow night's AWS dance relax at a typical pastime of most college students, listening to records. Seated on the bench from left to right are Ed Johnson, Doney's nomination; Toni Folsom, Sigma Alpha Epsilon's nomination; Dean Bishoprick, Delta Gamma's nomination; Sharon Bates, chosen by WITs; Bill Long, chosen by Alpha Chi Omega; and Joan Sherrill, chosen by Baxter. Seated on the floor are Gloria Carver, nominated by Phi Delta Theta; Alice Eastman, nominated by Sigma Chi; Leroy Cornie, chosen by WITs; Paul McGilvra, chosen by Lausanne; and Sylvia Quiring, chosen by Beta Theta Pi. ## Betty, Joe Named Tomorrow; Late Pers at Penny a Minute

Tomorrow evening will feature the announcement of Betty Coed and Joe College during intermission at the AWS dance to be held in the American Legion Hall. Tickets are on sale in the living organizations for $1.50 and music for the evening will be provided by Jim Conley's band.

The dance will be from 9 until 11:30 p.m. and one o'clock late permissions will be granted women students who pay for the additional time at a penny a minute after 12:30.

The girl who is chosen Betty Coed will be presented with the following gifts from downtown merchants: blue Capri pants from Lipman's; a brown bulky knit sweater from the Cover Girl; a green sweater from Adlers; and a necklace from Stevens and Sons.

Joe College will be presented an Ivy League shirt from Meier and Franks; a tie from Hewitt's; a tie set from Alex Jones; a $5 gift certificate from Bishop's; cuff links from Stevens and Sons; and cuff links from Jayson's.

This first formal dance to be sponsored by AWS is under the direction of Cathy Lund. Pat Duffy is in charge of decorations for the evening and Mary Blanchard is chairman of the refreshment committee.

Other chairmen are: Kathy Evans, chaperones; Sue Jenkins and Virginia Cain, publicity; Phyllis Thompson, tickets; Jean Pritchard, invitations; Eugenia King, gifts; and Jane Eagleson, chairman for clean-up.

Advisor for the dance is Linda Berry and BAC's are in charge of the balloting for Joe College and Betty Coed.

Snyder Installed DG President

New officers of Delta Gamma were installed Monday night with Sue Snyder taking the gavel as president, Barbara Roach as first vice president, and Joan Sherrill as second vice president.

Other officers for the coming year are Ann Fields, recording secretary; Betty Strausz, chapter treasurer; Midge Edmundson, house treasurer; Jan Robison, scholarship chairman; Carolyn Miller, rush chairman with Marge Stout as her assistant.

Karma Miller will be the Panhellenic representative; Jody Mills, social chairman; Jo Heald, student council representative; Kay Sanford, house manager; Gayle Sandine, Religious Life Council representative.

Mary Ann Dreyer is corresponding secretary; Sue Trueblood, projects chairman; Jean Pritchard, historian; Eugenia King, song leader; and Joan Griffiths, ritual chairman.

Willamette Wins, Nabs First Then Loses, Slips to Second

Willamette's hustling hoopsters jumped into first place in the Northwest Conference basketball race by downing their foul-happy visitors from Linfield, 83-77, before a capacity crowd in Salem Friday night.

THE VICTORY came after a fierce struggle between the two top squads in the conference. A strong second half effort earned the Bearcat victory in the important contest.

Coach Johnny Lewis' boys proved the importance of foul shots as they sank 41 of 48 attempts from the charity stripe for a sensational .854 percentage, setting a new conference record. Thirty of these came during the second half. The opening minutes showed the Bearcats frigid from the floor as they had trouble finding the hoop consistently. After twelve minutes of play they were behind 28-25 and finished the half on the short end of a 41-37 score.

THE SECOND half was a different story. The inspired Bearcats immediately began to click on a variety of shots and, led by big Tom Johns, outrebounded their bewildered visitors. With four minutes showing on the clock, they held a commanding 76-66 lead and finished with an effective display of ball-control to insure the victory.

Little Jack Riley, Linfield's sophomore speedster, led all scoring with 33 points. All conference as a freshman, Riley connected on a variety of shots. His highly publicized running-mate, Bill Machamer, was well controlled and limited to seven points for the evening.

WILLAMETTE'S two leading scorers, Eddie Grossenbacher and Vic Backlund, led the winners with 22 points each. Tom Johns scored 16 points, 12 of these on free throws. Ron Taylor also hit double figures for the winners, scoring 14 points.

Both teams suffered a cold night from the floor, each winding up with a .375 percentage, the Wildcats connecting on 27 of 72 attempts and the Bearcats hitting 21 of 56.

In the rebounding department, Willamette's 6-8 center, Tom Johns, led both teams, grabbing off 16, nearly half of the Bearcat's total of 33. The winners picked off 19 rebounds during the second half as compared to 11 by Linfield. This advantage, along with their consistency in foul shooting, seemed to spell victory for the Bearcats.

THE LOSS was number two for Linfield and dropped the McMinnville squad into second place in the race with a 6-2 record, two wins behind the Bearcat 8-2 win-loss standing.

The Willamette Bearcats lost their first place spot when they traveled to McMinnville last Saturday night, and were dumped by the Wildcats, 86-81. The previous night, Coach Johnny Lewis' Bearcats defeated Linfield and moved into the conference leadership, largely on the strength of their dead-eye free throw shooting. On Saturday night, the Bearcats were knocked off by the free throw shooting of the Wildcats.

Both teams scored 30 field goals, but the winning Wildcats hit 26 points from the charity stripe while the Bearcats hit only 21. The Wildcats went into the lead for the final time with 6:41 left in the first half. With the score at 26-25 in favor of the Wildcats, Linfield went on to victory, although the Willamette quintet seriously threatened in the later stages of the game.

Linfield hit a .483 percentage on 30 of 62 shots from the field. Willamette shot at a .461 clip on 3 of 65 attempts. The Wildcats also held a slight rebound edge, nabbing 43 to 37 for Willamette.

Bearcat Hoopsters Travel, Meet C of I and Whitman

With the Northwest Conference title race still a wide open affair, Coach Johnny Lewis' battling Bearcats travel to Caldwell, Idaho this weekend for a two game series with the College of Idaho, and then moves on to Walla Walla for a Monday encounter with Whitman.

THE BEARCATS meet the College of Idaho tonight and tomorrow night in an all-important series. Willamette defeated the Coyotes earlier in the year on the Bearcat maples, but since that time the Coyotes have displayed marked improvement.

With the conference champion issue not decided by any means, equally important is the fact that Linfield, now leading the NWC, makes the same jaunt this weekend. The Wildcats play at Whitman tonight and Saturday, and at College of Idaho on Monday.

Following the eastern road trip, the Bearcats have one more game to go, with Pacific University. The Bearcats meet the Badgers on February 28. Linfield will have two more contests, both with Lewis and Clark on a home-and-home basis. Linfield dumped the Pioneers last Tuesday night, 81-76.

COACH JOHNNY Lewis added junior varsity star, Fidel Gaviola, to the traveling roster this week. Gaviola, who has been averaging around 20 points per game for the Willamette junior varsity, made the eastern road trip with the Bearcats.

when that great ship went down and the last thing to leave the sinking ship was a bottle of Coca-Cola. That's because all hands stuck to Coke to the end. Now there's popularity! That's the kind of loyalty the sparkling lift, the good taste of Coke engenders. Man the lifeboats, have a Coke!

TERRY ZIEGELMAN

By DOUG CARD
Collegian Sports Writer

"Colorful" is the word which best describes today's featured Bearcats. Besides being good ball-players, they are also great crowd pleasers, as Willamette students have shown by heavy cheering for their "favorites." Although not starters, all three have contributed in the 'Cats drive for the champion ship.

THE OLD MAN

Terry Ziegelman, 5' 10" guard, is the "old man" of the team, as he is in his fifth year at Willamette, and has lettered two years. Zig is from The Dalles. Terry is famous as the fireball of the ball-club, and on the bench he is a real "old-fashioned" "holler guy." He's a hustler on the court, too, and deserved the honor of scoring the hundredth point against Lewis and Clark. His main scoring weapon is a jump shot.

Terry also had a good career in baseball here, lettering four years. Zig is a departmental assistant in P. E., and he lives and works at the State Hospital.

FRIENDLY GIANT

Buzz Wilfert is a fantastic freshman from Albany. Buzz is leading the team in shooting with a spectacular shooting average of .543, but he often leaves the fans wondering how he does it. Even when surrounded by defensive players he will score on long sweeping hooks or cross-over lay-ins. Although he has a long way to go, he has improved his rebounding, defensive work, and ball handling. Buzz should step into the big shoes of Tom Johns at center next year, and the slim 6'6" boy should give the fans a lot of enjoyment, as well as giving the team good performances. The friendly giant is majoring in liberal arts.

DAZZLING DRIBBLER

Hisao (pronounced E-saw-o) Sato, 5' 8" guard, is also a freshman with good natural ability and a bright future. He hails from Hawaii where he had an outstanding record. He possesses great speed and spring, and is a dazzling dribbler and ball handler. "Butch" had his best game in leading Willamette to their first Far West Tournament win. Although inclined to be erratic, he has a good two-hander and jump shot, and should play a lot of good ball at a guard slot in the next three years.

Junior also shines as a baseball shortstop, touring Japan last year with a group of Hawaiian all-stars. Very friendly, Hisao is popular on the team with his ukelele playing. He also lives at the State Hospital.

SAE and Sigs Fight for First

The intramural basketball play-offs narrowed down to a photo-finish between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi. The Wednesday league SAEs and the Tuesday league Sigs met in a real thriller Wednesday night, which saw the Sigs emerge victorious on the strength of a 29-26 decision.

THE SIG ALPHAS were undefeated in both league and tournament play up to Wednesday night. The loss forced the playoffs to be extended to Thursday evening when the same two squads met again to determine the championship. Bob Klindworth led the Sigs to victory with 11 counters, while Dale Hartman paced the Sig Alphas with 14 points.

While first and second places were not decided by press time, the other four places were filled. Third place was nabbed by the Phi Delt Wednesday team, fourth went to the Rinky Dinks, fifth place was captured by the Sigma Chi Saturday team, and in sixth spot was the Phi Delt Tuesday quintet.

Coeds Play In Tournament

The Women's Physical Education Department announced the results of their basketball team's performance in the Oregon State College women's basketball tournament. There were 11 schools participating in the tournament.

WILLAMETTE defeated Reed College of Portland by a 20-6 score. They lost to Oregon State College in a close contest, 25-20, and dropped their final game with University of Portland, 25-19.

Results of the Intramural Bowling Tournament, which was sponsored by the Women's Physical Education Department, were released this week.

THE AVERAGE score for each organization is as follows: Doney Hall, 104.8; Alpha Chi Omega, 94.4; and Delta Gamma, 94.2.

Mural Volleyball Begins Saturday

Intramural volleyball swings into action this Saturday, February 22. There are six teams entered in each league as of now, and there are hopes that eight can be signed up for action.

The first round of play will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the Betas meeting the Sigs on court number one. The SAEs will meet the Rinky Dinks on court number two. At 10:45 a.m. the Phi Delt tangle with the Law school.

Tuesday night, the men of Baxter Hall take on the Law School at 7 p.m., while the Sigma Chis meet the Betas. At 7:45 p.m., Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon meet.

Wednesday night, the Phis and Beta Theta Pi engage in the opener in court one, while the Law School meets the SAEs on court two. At 7:45 p.m., it's the Sigs and Baxter Hall.

With wide-eyed admiration, Salem youngsters get autographed bats from the great Lefty Gomez. Lefty was in Salem early this week for speaking engagements and to help kick-off the Salem Senator baseball season.

VERNON "LEFTY" GOMEZ, the great New York Yankee pitcher of the 1931-39 era, was in Salem this week as guest of the Northwest Baseball League and the Salem Senators professional ball club. Gomez is now a representative of Wilson Sporting Goods, and is much in demand throughout the country as a speaker.

GOMEZ, who was dubbed "Goofy" during his playing days because of his on and off the field antics, kept his audiences in stitches with endless repertoire of baseball yarns. Speaking in his droll style, he related many of the unusual happenings of his career. While speaking, he managed to slip in many of the so-called "Gomezisms" like: "I never intentionally threw a spitball in my life—of course I used to sweat a lot."

WHILE GOMEZ was one of the all-time great southpaw hurlers, his ability as a hitter was execrable. He just couldn't seem to follow the ball. It seems he had to face Bob Feller one dark, overcast afternoon and he was totally lost. Now Feller's bullet-ball was something for a batter to face even when visibility was at its best. But when the day was gray, it took something like radar to locate the streaking pellet. When Gobeze came to bat, he stepped into the batter's box and reached into his back-pocket, pulled out a book of matches, lit one, and held it over his head. "Cut the comedy!" growled the umpire. "D'yuh think that match'll help you see Feller's fast one?" "Shucks, that's not what I've got in mind," replied Gomez. "What I want to make sure of is that Feller sees me!"

HOWEVER, Vernon Gomez was far more than a goof. He pitched 13 years for the Yankees, won 198 games, led the league in 1934 with a 26-5 record and in '37 with 21-11. When it came to World Series games, Gomez really had it. He hurled in six World Series games and won every game.

INTERESTING sidelight on Gomez' visit here is the fact one of his ex-battery mates resides in Salem. Who is he? Why none other than ex-Willamette catcher, and now a graduate student at Willamette, Harvey Koepf. No, we haven't flipped. It's the truth. Harvey Koepf, when in high school in Oakland, California, caught for the national championship Junior American Legion club. The club won the national title in Omaha that year, and Gomez went along and threw batting practice every night. Of course his battery mate was Koepf. One night 6,000 fans showed up two hours early to see Gomez hurl to the junior leaguers.

Which Class Will Win Glee? Point System to Tell Winner

Will it be the class of '61, '60, '59, or '58? Which class will be victorious at the Golden Glee March 15 and which one will swim?

A group of four presentation judges, three word judges, and three music judges will decide which class will be awarded the coveted banner.

THE CLASSES will be judged basically on the same point system used last year. Points will be awarded on the following basis: music, 20; words, 20; formation, 20; and vocal rendition, 40.

Points for formation will be broken down as follows: originality, 10; adaptability to theme and song, 5; and execution, 5.

Each music judge may award 20 points, making the possible total for music 60 points. Similarly, there will be a possible 60 points for words, and with four judges awarding up to 60 points for each presentation, there will be a total of 240 points in this category. The grand total of possible points is 340.

THE STUDENT council approved this judging system, along with other previously employed rules submitted for the 50th Glee by Manager Dale Daniel.

The wearing of caps and gowns upon entering the gym will this year be left up to the discretion of the senior class.

UPON suggestion of last year's

Glee council, two rules, generally understood by all in the past, have been revised. Because of the somewhat controversial antics of last year's senior class, it was felt that the by-laws should be established in black and white so there would be no further misunderstandings.

Among the additions are: "(13) Since so many guests visit the campus for Freshman Glee, the events of the evening should reflect good taste on the part of the students."

ARTICLE 15 states: "Concerning Blue Monday, the fourth place class shall be responsible for the Blue Monday convocation preceding their swim in the mill stream. Students should refrain from making Blue Monday bets which will physically involve members of the faculty, or will result in damage to University property."

The complete copy of Glee rules may be obtained in the student body office.

Physics Dept. Adds Stewart

The appointment of Maurice Bruce Stewart as assistant professor of physics was announced this week by President Smith. Stewart will begin teaching here in September.

THE ADDITION of another member to the physics department staff will permit greater course offerings in physics next year.

Stewart received his BS with honors in 1954 and MS in 1955, both from the University of Alberta. He also served on the faculty there as an instructor in mathematics and a research assistant in math and physics.

HIS MASTERS thesis was titled, "An Interferometric Examination of a Metal-Surface Bearing."

For the past year Stewart has been doing graduate work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He is a member of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada. During his undergraduate years he won the Governor General's Gold Medal, two scholarships and the University of Alberta honor prize.

Redlands Graduate to Replace Hanson as Philosophy Head

Dr. Milton D. Hunnex, a graduate of the University of Redlands, has been appointed associate professor of philosophy and head of the philosophy department, announced President G. Herbert Smith recently.

DR. HUNNEX will replace Dr. Clifford T. Hanson who has accepted a position as professor of philosophy at Wartburg College in Waverly, Iowa. Dr. Hanson has been at Willamette since 1956.

Dr. Hunnex received his Ph.D. degree through the Intercollegiate

Program of Graduate Studies in the Humanities and Social Studies conducted jointly by Claremont College, Pomona, Scripps, Occidental, Redlands, and Whittier.

HE RECEIVED both his BA and MA at the University of Redlands.

He has served on the faculty of San Bernardino Valley College since 1947 as chairman of the school humanities program.

HE IS A member of the American Philosophical Association, the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, the American Association of University Professors and the California Teachers Association.

Dr. Hunnex served in the Army air force reserve and was on active duty in the navy in 1945-47.

WU Band to Present Concert Sunday in Fine Arts at 8

Willamette's concert band will present the program of their recently completed Eastern Oregon band tour Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Fine Arts auditorium, according to Maurice Brennan, director.

THE PROGRAM will again be presented in the auditorium during convocation at 11 a. m. Tuesday.

The 55 band musicians returned to Salem about 5:30 p. m. last Friday after a week of touring with concert performances at Woodburn high school, Forest Grove, McMinnville, Banks, Jefferson high school in Portland, Tigard, Nea-Ka-Nie, Seaside, Taft and Toledo.

ONE OF the biggest surprises of the tour, reported Paul de Lespinasse, band member, occurred at the Seaside city limits when a police escort and a sound truck met the bus and preceded it into town.

The police car was blowing its siren while the truck announced the scheduled evening concert.

THE BAND traveled by Greyhound bus and was housed by band members in the schools where the band played.

The Sunday and Tuesday programs will be quite varied, including numbers in the popular vein

"Wealthy" seniors agreed to donate the money represented by these money bags to the alumni loyalty fund. Class officers Jim Wells, Joyce Hill, Bill Long, and Frank Tannehill, dutifully guard the senior class's hard-earned cash. (Photo by Lewis Seagraves).

Seniors to Give to Alum Fund

The class of 1958 voted this week to support the Willamette Alumni Loyalty Fund which is earmarked for raising faculty salaries.

This action was taken at a class meeting Monday, where members suggested that each contribute the entire amount of $2.25 required as deposit on caps and gowns, while setting a minimum of $1.25 per person.

It was felt that using the deposit would be the least painful way for each senior to contribute.

Outgoing class president Bill Long said that the action grew out of discussion of the traditional senior class gift to the university.

"Nothing seemed more appropriate," he commented, "than contributing to the Willamette educational program. As seniors and future alumni we are beginning to realize the importance of our support in maintaining the high caliber of the university faculty."

The gift should amount to considerably more than $150, since 144 seniors are registered at present. It will also raise the total in the one percent donor challenge fund to around $3,000.

President Smith, having received notice of the projected gift, commented, "Alumni are the continuing body of any University. It is gratifying to learn that the class of 1958 recognizes the vital role of alumni support in higher education."

Six Place High In Speech Meet

Six of the eight Willamette men comprising the school's delegation to the College of Puget Sound forensic tournament last weekend reached the semi-finals or finals, according to Dr. Howard Runkel, forensics coach.

Top achievement of the group was that of Lewis Bright, senior speech and drama major, who won first place gold trophy in the senior men's extemporaneous speaking contest and third place award for the tournament in senior men's impromptu speaking.

He was also a finalist in interpretative reading.

Students from colleges and universities in the Pacific Northwest entered the competition, held in Tacoma last weekend.

Wayne Haverson will portray the Reverend Winemiller in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" which will be presented in the Fine Arts auditorium next Friday and Saturday. The pastor's psychotic wife, the cross he must bear, will be played by Barbara Bredsteen. (Photo by Jim Cline).

Production Heads Appointed For 'Summer and Smoke'

The scene is the pre-World War I South in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" which will be presented by Theta Alpha Phi, dramatic honorary, on Friday evening at 8:30 p. m.

THETA ALPHI PHI forms the core of the production, from constructing scenery to sewing costumes. Each of the committees entrusted with one phase of production has two chairmen. One is a Theta Alpha Phi member who is the supervisor and the other is a non-member who will direct the work.

Crews behind the scenes of the play are faced with definite problems, according to director Robert Putnam, as the play takes place during a period between 1910 and 1916. Costuming, props, and sets must be specially made for this Victorian presentation.

ACTORS HAVE to be fitted with at least two costumes each, as the play takes place during the summer and winter seasons. In charge of costumes is Mary Beth Van Cleave, Theta Alpha Phi member.

All the sets for the play are being made by the stagecraft classes. The set includes a living room, a street, and a doctor's office, which are all on the stage at the same time.

THE MAKE-UP crew is headed by Theta Alpha Phi member Beth Newberry. She will be helped by last year's makeup class. She is also in charge of ticket sales.

Bob Braddy is director of the stage lighting and helping him is Dianne Dickson.

PROPS POSE a special problem for the committee under Robin Mosely and Lee Wilkinson, as they must find a Victorian sofa, a complete anatomy chart, some firecrackers, pocket watches, old fashioned telephones, an antique loving cup and other relatively rare items.

Muriel Miettunen planned and made all the publicity posters.
