FROSH PREXY EXTENDS CHALLENGE TO CLASSES

Freshman Glee Formally Started Lincoln Program Feature of Tuesday Chapel

Freshman Glee was formally established during the chapel exercises Tuesday by the giving of a challenge by the Freshmen class to a song contest to be held between the four classes, and its acceptance by the leaders of the other classes. Charles Campbell, president of the Freshman class gave the challenge and Donald Grant, president of the Senior class, William Mumford, president of the Junior class, and Paul Ackerman, president of the Sophomore class accepted it in the names of their respective classes.

Lincoln was honored in the chapel exercises by the singing of songs made famous during the Civil war. Dean Erickson gave tribute to Lincoln with a few words about greatness of the emancipator and his service to the country.

NON-SUIT ALLOWED IN STOCKTON CASE

Lawyers Gather in Moot Court Session at Old Phil Hall; Inman Acts as Judge

The Moot Court of the College of Law of Willamette University opened Wednesday night with the case of Stockton vs. Farmer. The plaintiff, Stockton, was bringing an action to recover certain 50 head of cattle which he alleged that his agent had bought from the defendant, and which the defendant refused to deliver, together with $1,000 damages for the wrongful detention thereof.

The plaintiff was represented by Litchfield, Grant and Turner, while the defendant's attorneys were Swift, Minto and Denman.

After the plaintiff had represented their case a nonsuit was asked for by the defense attorneys which was granted by the court. On the grounds that this being an action of replevin that it was necessary to prove that the plaintiff Stockton had title to the cattle or was entitled to possession.

And upon plaintiff's failure to introduce evidence to prove a tender of payment or a willingness to pay, such a contract would still be an executory contract and the plaintiff would neither have title nor would he be entitled to possession.

The case was held in the court room in the Phil halls. The court room was jammed to overflowing with the entire law school student body and several of the Liberal Arts students.

HONOR CODE TO SEEK HELP FROM STUDENTS

At a meeting of the Honor Code committee on Monday, it was decided to make an announcement asking for the cooperation of the students in reporting to the committee any cheating seen on the campus, and to have action taken upon it.

According to Lloyd Harder, chairman of the Honor Code committee, a letter has been written to Oregon State College asking for information concerning the honor system which has been instigated at the state school. It is hoped that a result of the research being carried on by the O. S. C. Honor Code committee at the present time will be made known soon.

FIRST DEBATE OF SEASON MONDAY

WORD BATTLE STARTS

Dual Argument With Monmouth in which Affirmative Teams Will Travel

The first debate of the season, a dual affair, will be held with the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth, Monday evening, February 18.

In each case the affirmative team will travel. Jack Routh and Roy Harland will represent Willamette at Monmouth, and Charles Campbell and Warren McMinimée will argue the negative side of the question in Waller Monday night. Although it has not been definitely decided who will represent O. N. S. it is generally conceded among Monmouth students that Lyle Thomas and Algren Gross will speak at Willamette and Carl Rasmussen and Winfield Atkinson will speak in the home auditorium. Thomas is a former Salem high school debater and a two year letterman at O. N. S. and is well-known to many Willamette students.

The question of the prohibition of the plea of temporary insanity in criminal cases will be argued and no decision will be rendered.

Other debates have been scheduled with U. of Arizona, Southern California, Wyoming, C. P. S. and O. S. C.

GRAPH OF GRADES MADE BY MCCULLY

Decrease in Membership of Freshman Class is About Fourteen Per Cent

"The grades for the semester of 1928-29 are just about right," says Mr. Russell McCully, registrar. They justify the normal curve according to statistics of educational measurement.

In the College of Liberal Arts 23% grades were given to 496 students. A graph has been made showing the relationship in grades between the College of Liberal Arts and the classes of English Composition, Bible, and College Life:

Grades	College of Lib. Arts	Eng. Comp.
A	10%	5%
B	35%	31%
C	36%	43%
D	14%	12%
F	5%	9%

Bible	Coll. Life	Fresh.
4%	14%	8%
31%	48%	37%
27%	14%	28%
27%	14%	17%
11%	10%	10%

250 students were given A's, 823—B's, 859—C's, 330—D's, 117—F's, 84 were conditioned, 157 withdrew.

17 students withdrew from Bible; 19 from English Composition; and 9 from College Life.

A section from the Bulletin of The American Association of Collegiate Registrars shows the average freshman mortality. Covering the school year 1925-26 the registrars made a special study of freshmen mortality. The total number of freshmen studied were 10,251. The loss was 30.69%, which included those who dropped out and did not enroll the second semester.

In September, 1928, 80 men were enrolled in the freshmen class of W. U., 18 did not return the second semester, which made a loss of 22%. At the same time 84 women were enrolled in the class, 6 did not return, making a loss of 7%. The combined loss is 14%, which is 6.59% higher than the average.

SENIOR CLASS SELECT FRESHMAN GLEE SONG

The senior class selected its Freshman Glee song at a class meeting held last week. Lela Bell Sanders wrote the words and the music was composed by Dorothy Forrier and Doris Phenicie. Practices begin this week.

CONTRIBUTION TO ENDOWMENT ASKED

STUDENTS PUT ON DRIVE

Pledges Made to Mature Two Years After Date of Graduation. No Interest

Willamette students will be asked to contribute substantially to the endowment campaign today in accordance with the plans presented to the executive committee Wednesday by Dr. G. L. Losh, and C. M. Duncan who represent the Philanthropic Finance division of the Methodist church colleges.

The proposed plan for the carrying on of the drive is to appoint Kenneth Litchfield, president of the student body, head, and Jean White, vice-president as first assistant. A captain will be selected by the executive committee to head the drive in each of these four classes. Under these individuals will be two lieutenants who will direct the sergeants of the organization. Each sergeant will be responsible for the seeing of five of his classmates.

The pledges made by the students will be payable two years after graduation, and will bear no interest until that time. With the exception of those made by the senior class of this year none of them will count toward the Rockefeller grant.

Mr. Duncan stated that the purpose of the campaign was not only to solicit money from the students, but also to show the outsiders that the students of Willamette were sold on their college. He also stated that he thought that fifty dollars should be an average pledge from the student body.

Change

If we were to take one of the "best models produced" of automobiles today, place it in a glass cage where no human hand could touch it, and go away and leave it for ten years; if we should return after this time had elapsed, what would we find? We would most assuredly find the same car, but ciphers alone could indicate its worth. During the period no one could possibly have touched it. There could be no lessened worth through handling. The paint would be just as good as new; the rear axle just as good; and the motor just as good as ever.

What, then, has happened to the car? People's minds have changed.

Today it is hard to foresee what the automotive industry, or any other industry will be like in the next 25 years. There will certainly be industries of great utility, which now exist only in their formative period, or ideas yet unborn.

"Where are those ideas coming from unless from the younger generation?"

"Where are those great industries of the future coming from unless out of the ideas of the younger generation?"

The job of the older fellows is to help the younger chaps get the right start, educate them. Education we are told helps get them into a job, but it goes beyond that when they have intelligence. Older people can best help by directing that intelligence into production of useful things.

Older minds should not make the mistake of even trying to limit the field of useful things. The younger generation—that generation which is always coming up—knows what it wants, and it will get what it wants. This is what makes for change. It brings about improvement in old things, and developments in new things.

You can't stop people from being born. You can't stop progress, and you can't stop change. But you can get in touch with it.

Mr. Coolidge's Job

President Coolidge will soon have to hunt a new job inasmuch as the one which he has held in his own right for the past four years has been filled by another man. He has graduated into private life. What will he do?

The Nation is interested in this question, perhaps just as much as the president himself is. Of his plans we know nothing. His New England thrift is supposed to have acquired for him a quarter of a million dollars since his inauguration. His father left him $100,000. Combined they insure Mr. Coolidge a comfortable living, and as one writer termed it, "The Nation is glad." But we are still interested in the question.

Many of us will be missing our breakfast, to prepare for, and later some of us will have to take a cold bath to pay for the singing of a song. A sure sign of the approach of spring.

About the most useless thing on earth is the good intention that was never put to work.

Girls

Girls may be roughly divided into those who are pretty and those who are not so pretty. Pretty girls haven't so much to worry about because they can get a good deal of attention and all they have to do is to look up and bat their eyes and say, "Do you really mean that?"

But though the problem of not so pretty girls is greater, it is not insoluble. They and their families must first make up their minds whether it is worth the effort. If they decide it is worth the effort the girls can begin to develop personality. If their noses are too long they can learn to smile a great deal, which brings the line of the nose to a sudden end. Or they can work on their complexions. On the other hand, if their smile is a trifle toothy they can learn to register pleasure by keeping their mouths shut and twitching their nostrils. Or they can smile and close their mouths quickly before it is very noticeable. Then they can go into things awfully energetically. And they can get their mothers to have the crowd in quite frequently and use a few pretty girls as decoys. If they are artistic they may even get to look exotic, like something off a Grecian urn, and thus provoke curiosity.

On the other hand, if a not too pretty girl and her family decide it is not worth the effort the girl can take up something unusual and worthwhile like anthropology or the study of insects. If she keeps at it long enough she is sure to meet some man who is wrapped up in anthropology or the study of insects, and he will not have had much experience with girls and probably will be unconscious of the distinction between pretty girls and not so pretty girls. He will regard her more in the light of a specimen, and a girl may be a very good specimen without being very pretty. So unless she is particular she can have the man and they will live happily ever after, and she can have no end of fun making his slides and complimenting his scientific papers.

In fact, the outlook for all sorts of girls is most encouraging, and there isn't the least reason for making themselves and their parents unhappy by wishing they had never been born.—Baltimore Sun.

Robert Louis Stevenson in his "Apology for Idlers" brings out the point that a person can gain infinitely more education out of observing things for himself than out of poring over uninteresting books and attending boring lectures to learn about the actions of other people. This famous man got the inspiration for his greatest works by wandering leisurely over the country and learning little facts of nature which never find their way into textbooks.

It is alright to dream of cherry blossoms, but it still wintry outside.

"Oh, Gerald, there's a nice gift for you"
"For ME?"—"Yes, for you to give ME."

Along the Way

(By The Wayfarers)

Of course, we went to the first game. The yellman's new Patty-cake Man yell was the berries. Clap your kneecaps and if there are no mishaps, you'll win the game, perhaps.

Ah, now we have it. Those Whitman people are Hebrews. Didn't you notice that seven seemed to be their number of special omen.

When the gun went off right in our ears, Tuesday night, we thought it was just another Willamette yell.

"Don't go into that Zoology lab, if you value your constitution," the pup which we met in Eaton Hall, told us. This same little doggie made quite a tour of the building. He first went up to the third floor, to get some higher learning, but he came down in a hurry when he discovered the labs were after him. He seemed to be looking for something new and different so we let him into the English Novel class. But master dog didn't appreciate our services a bit.

Yours for bigger and better leebegs.

THE GREEN GORILLA.

Twelve Years Ago

A noteworthy item was brought up in the last meeting of the Websterians, due to an unrest that has prevailed for sometime on the campus a motion was made that the Websterian Library society cease functioning and dissolve. A great debate arose and the motion was passed that more interest and activity be injected into the meetings.

An extremely interesting lecture was delivered in the chapel Monday evening by Professor Charles Sherman, head of the education department here. He set forth very clearly in a masterly way the importance of the study of Education.

The flashy Sophomores are again victors over the Freshmen. With this last victory, the Sophomore basketballers have clinched the supremacy for this year. Both teams have showed very good form and spirit this season. Possibly the Sophomores show better team work.

Professor W. E. Kirk, the college librarian, announces the donation of several new books by some of the members of the faculty. There are some new books on Education, on Philosophy, Astronomy, and Ethics. Some of these books were badly needed, and will be used much. Some will be placed on reserve shelves.

LEAGUE CABINET HOLDS MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

At a First M. C. Epworth League cabinet meeting held Wednesday night, it was decided that the league would sponsor a patriotic party Thursday, February 21. It is to be held in the basement of the First M. E. church and the whole student body is invited to attend.

The meeting Sunday night will be a trip around the world from the M. E. hymnal. The ideas will be carried out in costumes. As a preliminary to the meeting, an Oriental tea will be held from 5:30 to 6:30. There will also be exhibits from various countries.

Perhaps

I should have been a sailor-man,
Sailing on the sea;
By sun and wind burned to a tan,
Tan enough for three.

I should have been a sea-dog bold—
Now in the scorching sun,
And now in murky fog—wind—
cold—
Where work is never done.

I should have been a bo'sum's mate:
"Pipe all hands on deck.
The ship's broached to, we'll chance our fate,
And leave the poor old wreck.

I should have been a skipper smart—
Brass buttons and gold braid;
Knowing every course by heart,
And of no storms afraid.

Ships, ports and seas, and cargoes queer,
Catch my romantic mind.
I should have gone to sea, I fear,
For there real joy I find.

Sorority Open House Event of Saturday

On Saturday evening the sororities held their annual Open House for students, faculty, and friends of the University. The event was particularly interesting this year, due to the fact that two of the sororities, Beta Chi and Delta Phi, are occupying their new houses which were built last summer. The Alpha Phi Alphas purchased their house a few years ago.

The Delta Phi house, which was open from 7:30 to 8 o'clock was decorated in keeping with the valentine motif. Margaret Bolt greeted the guests at the door, and Elizabeth Atkinson introduced to the receiving line, which included Dorothy Ferrier, Mrs. John Reed, Miss Frances Virginia Melton, Dean and Mrs. Roy Hewitt, and Beatrice Hartung.

An old-fashioned bouquet between red tapers centered the serving table. Doris Phenicle and Helen Heise poured during the early part of the hour, and Bunea Culbertson and Beulah Welch during the latter part. Those who assisted in the serving were Mary Hershberger, Mildred Cook, Joyce Kidder, Margaret Pro, Helene Price, Florence Emmons, Anna Lanke, Yvonne Cornell, Mary Allen, Pauline Findley, and Betty Lewis. Little Joan Newcombe distributed the favors.

Erickson, Grace White, Mary Louise Aiken, Jean White, and Margaret Wood.

The serving table was centered by a lovely bouquet of daffodils and acacia between candelabra which held yellow tapers. Mrs. A. C. Eoft and Miss Lella Johnson poured during the hour. Those who assisted in the serving were Beryl Hale, Doris Steele, Margaret Morehouse, Frances Smullin, Helen Pybus, and Helen Cochran. Little Sybil Spears distributed the favors.

During the hour Rosalind Van Winkle, Evelyn High, and Margaret Ghormley played piano selections, and Fay Irvine played violin numbers, accompanied by Helen McPherson.

The serving table was decorated with a centerpiece of lavender primroses and yellow daffodils between lavender tapers in silver holders. Mrs. J. H. Lauterman and Mrs. Alice Fisher poured during the hour. Those who assisted in the serving were Helen Ka-four, Sarah Poor, Dorothy Taylor, and Dorothy Gordon. Gladys Miller distributed the favors.

Ladelle Cummings and Elizabeth Ogden gave a number of vocal solos, and Margaret Warnke, and Bessie Weaver played several piano selections.

Members of the Willamette University Glee Club were hospitably entertained in the homes of a number of the university grads of recent years. Mr. and Mrs. (Lena Gilbert) Joe Nee, entertained in Klamath Falls. Mr. and Mrs. John Fasnacht (Marie Roest) in Bandon. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Faber (Beulah Launer) at Central Point. In all but two cities, Gold Beach, Oregon, and Crescent City, California, of the fourteen cities which the Glee Club visited, they were received by alumnae of the university.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held in the association rooms Thursday afternoon. Miss Marcia Seeber, regional secretary from Seattle, spoke on "Our Relation to the National Student Movement" and told something of the Seabeck summer conference which is now being planned.

Following the discussion ten was served. Jean White, Dorothy Taylor, and Margaret Wieneke were the committee in charge. About thirty-five girls attended.

Miss Ethel Givens, ex-member of the class of '31, announced her marriage to Laurence Edwards at a party given in her honor. The announcement came as a complete surprise, the date of the wedding being October 4. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are making their home in Turner, Oregon.

WOMEN SPEND HOUR UNTIL NEARLY THREE

After the basketball game on Friday evening, February 8, the Y W house-party in honor of Marcia Seeber, National Y. W. Seabeck secretary, was begun at the Bohrnstedt home on the Jefferson highway. The women who spent Friday night there were Miss Seeber, Elsie Tucker, Jean White, Beatrice Lockhart, Katherine Everett, Emily Brown, Ruth Margaret Hall, Virginia Slusser, Josephine Olsson, Margaret Schreiber, Dorothy Taylor and Margaret Marsh.

They spent the hours until nearly three o'clock in settling Cabinet questions, toasting marshmallows, singing, deciding what time to get up next morning, and reading a very sincere letter of welcome from Mr. Bohrnstedt, who is in California.

Saturday began with a sliding session out on the icy lawn, during which the more daring ones

Love is Ticklish Feeling That Can't Be Reached By Scratching; Need of Valentine Bureau Felt

Love is that ticklish feeling you can't scratch—generally bothering the heart. It is very well known—even your best friends tell you about it. That's the insidious—but not today. For hearts are trumps!

It seems there is a crying need on the campus—a Valentine bureau. Every one can't "Say it with flowers." There's a reason. Perhaps you have discovered that people differ? Logical conclusion—Valentines should differ. While a pot of tulips accompanied by a billet-doux like: "This little bird (picture of bird on card) knows something he won't tell that is in my heart about somebody else," might be fine for a sweet little black-haired girl, it might not suit a tall, willowy blonde.

Did you ever hear how Uncle Edrastus wooed and won Aunt Symanthy. Now Aunt Symanthy was mathematically inclined. So after wasting a good many hours in the arts of gentle persuasion, he finally turned to other sources. On Valentines Day Symanthy received the following problem written neatly on note paper:

To prove—Symanthy loves Edrastus. Proof:

1. All the world loves a lover.
2. He is a lover.
3. She is all the world to him.
4. Therefore, she loves him.

Maybe she likes astronomy.

Send her a note couched in astronomical terms. Something like "I'm so bright, my mother calls me son," or "I'm ready for Job's Coffin if you do not love me!"

Poetry is nice but often defeats its ends. Consider the big boy who sent his father a valentine like this:

"Roses are red, violets are blue. Send me a ten, and I'll owe you!"

He almost swore (not a W. U. student) to end it all when he received on the return mail:

"Roses are red, roses are pink. I'll send you a ten I don't think!"

Business men enjoy terse, straight to the point messages. He loves to stick them up in the bathroom to read as he shaves. Imagine the thrill he would get when he read, through soapy eyes, "He that sitteth on a red hot stove shall rise again!"

Sweet essence of boloney!

This must cease. Otherwise, gentle reader, you may be reminded of the poor Englishman who was worsted by a Yankee.

"Why do you wear that glass over your eye?"

"Oh my eye is so weak!"

"Do you wear a glass hat?"

Moral—Do not forget "her" today!

"We Are Back." Socially We Were Not Bored, and Financially Trip Was Successful. That Is All Now

We came, we saw, we were off! Come fast, go boom. That's the university glee club's idea. And going fast has its effect, of course.

Anyway, that is what the mail says. Many letters follow much singing. "But," said one "fem", "I could have fallen for the mr—but I couldn't look over his hair-cut." Now, the glee club will consider the cuts of the hair becoming or unbecoming to the individual. Pass that off, though—all fems aren't quite so have-it-my-way-ish.

Hey, hey, would you lamp this? A certain black-haired, cockney glee club reader, found it inconvenient to do as they do who are either in at the time set, or much out. Partying with certain ladies after an appearance in concert, he discovered that he had missed the last bus out and consequently, in soup and fish, as it were, he was obliged to be obliged. He was obliged. Next day, our own Willie helped him out with the necessary articles of clothing. The reader didn't like the soup and fish idea so much.

Then too, there was the glee-man whose date left him dateless when the date's steady date came and saw and stayed.

"Financially our trip was quite the success," they say, "and socially, we weren't bored."

That is all now.

coasted down hill in an apple box and a snow shovel. An informal discussion with Miss Seeber followed, which proved very helpful to the women. The chief thought was on the living of a fuller, richer life. Different persons whose lives and personalities seemed richer were discussed, with the view in mind of deciding upon the requisite qualities for such characters.

One of the best hours in the crowded day was that in which Y. W. and Seabeck songs were sung and Seabeck days recalled. The beautifully furnished home and the country setting of trees were added delights for the women, some of whom did not arrive till Saturday. These were Dean Dahl, Margaret Wieneke, Louise Brown, Margaret Ghormley, Doris Clark, Sarah Dark, Marjorie Nelson, Dorothy Hutchason, Esther Lisle, Roberta Vanice, and Mildred Cook.

FRENCH HUSBANDS ARE IN DEMAND AT O. A. C.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 13.—(PIP)—The romantic French, apparently, are the most appealing of all nationalities to the girl with considerations of marriage, according to a sociological study made in one of the classes here. But the domestic German maiden is the choice of the men, the same vote shows.

The French received the votes of 38 per cent of the women and 22 per cent of the men. Fifty per cent of the men chose German women, while only 18 per cent of the coeds showed preference for the German man. Among other nationalities mentioned as matrimonial choices, the Scotch were rated third by 22 per cent of the men and 36 per cent of the women; the Italians were mentioned in every case—perhaps due to the fact that the better class of Italians do not leave their sunny homes. Hindu, Japanese and Negro were the most unpopular.

WOMEN FILL GIRL RESERVE OFFICES

Clubs Flourish at Parrish, Garfield, Leslie, and Washington Under Leadership

A group of Willamette students have for the past several months been filling responsible positions as Girl Reserve advisors in the Salem public schools. This activity is nearly the least known on the campus but is the biggest undertaking sponsored by the university Y. W. C. A.

These G. R. clubs include both grade school and junior high school girls. The work of the advisors is varied and is often a severe test of their ability for leadership. The year's program consists of projects, parties, hikes, devotional meetings, health programs and ceremonials.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic leader in the group is Louise Brown, advisor for Richmond's club of twenty girls. She reports that her members are "perfect darlings," and are working on hobbies at the present time.

Florence Power has charge of the sixth grade club at Washington. As their outside project these girls are dressing small dolls to represent the different nations and are learning the music of the various countries.

All of the city clubs are trying to raise money for the summer outing held yearly at Camp Santally, near Mehama. Nellie Badley's corp at Leslie junior high recently earned more than twenty dollars for this purpose by means of a doughnut sale.

Eloise White is advisor at Garfield which has the largest membership of any G. R. club in Salem. The Garfield G. R.'s have been specializing in service work during the past semester. Ceremonials also interest them especially, Barbara Mobery is Miss White's assistant.

A group that likes to hike is the club at Parrish in charge of Josephine Olssen. They are just starting on a new project in connection with this idea. Helen Breithaupt's corp at McKinley is also studying fire-building and woodcraft.

Highland, a school at the extreme north end of town, has a peppy club of little girls that are working hard on a program to be given in public soon. Muriel White leads this group.

The Salem Lions club has done much for the Y. W. C. A. in the past, and a Lion is present at the monthly luncheons which the Girl Reserve Work committee holds.

Mrs. Jennie Vandervort Moorehead, a Willamette graduate is Girl's Work chairman of Salem.

For just twenty-four hours was the fury of the Missionary attack able to keep the Bearcats out of leadership in the Northwest Conference. Then the Bearcats appropriated a little fury of their own and sunk Whitman under that 55-24 score, that regained leadership for the Bearcats and made them favorites in the race for Northwest honors.

Other games in which conference teams participated were relegated to the background. On Tuesday, the Bearcats gave another demonstration of their power by trouncing the Pacific five 48-21 for their second victory over the Badgers. A Whitman five, grimly determined to make up for their complete collapse before the Willamette whirlwind the preceding night, snowed under the powerful Multnomah Club team 39-14.

Puget Sound gave warning of unexpected strength by stopping the strong Linfield five 47-33. Previously the Wildcats had beaten the Loggers and the result was a decided upset. It appears that Willamette series in Tacoma is not to be taken lightly.

With memories of that one point margin by which victory was snatched in the first encounter still fresh in their minds, the Bearcats began to prepare for Linfield's invasion in a serious mood. Willamette supporters hope that the Bearcats improved condition will make victory certain.

Other conference games in the near future bring together the Missionaries and the C. P. S. Loggers at Walla Walla, February 14 and 15.

EXAMS STOP FROSH BASKETBALL TEAM

With the Willamette semester examinations seemingly the only opposition able to stop the Freshmen basketball team, the Rook team is now an apparition to Coach Sparks. This year's bunch of yearlings was the most promising ever turned out at the institution and according to their coach, they would have made a basketball reputation that would have probably never again been equalled by a rook team.

Until the time eligibility cut eight of the prospects off of the team, the rooks had been undefeated, and had an average score of better than forty points per game.

The rest of the Freshman schedule is to be played by the Willamette super-varsity, composed of members of last year's Frosh team, and the survivors of this year's disaster.

The personnel of the squad now representing the sub-hopes of the W. U. fans is: Faber, Hall, and Harmon, forwards; Carpenter, center; and Marsters, Troxel, and Balderee, guards.

SWAFFORD ELECTED TO CAPTION SCIENCE CLUB

Wilburn Swafford was elected president of the Science club at a meeting held Monday noon. Other officers elected were: vice-president, George Burrell; and secretary, Donna Hildesheim.

Plans were formed by the group for a party to be held sometime in the near future.

FANS SEE PACIFIC FALL HARD 45-21

Adams Big Gun Willamette Offense. Scales Feeds Ball for Scores

Willamette advanced one step nearer the conference championship Tuesday night when they romped on Pacific 45-21 but at the same time failed to show anything like championship style.

The Bearcats seemed to take the game as not much more than a joke and had Pacific been able to score, the game would have been anything but a walkaway.

Adams was the big gun in the Willamette offense. Scales showed some neat floorwork and repeatedly fed the ball to Adams for cripple shots.

The Bearcats ran up a 21 point lead before the Badgers were able to score on a long shot. The half ended 24 to 2. Of these Adams scored 17, Scales 3, and Cardinal 4.

The Pacific offense started to function in the second half. Walker and Miller hitting the hoop for several baskets. Charlton went out on fouls, and several Willamette reserves were given a chance to show their wares. Benjamin played a good floor game in the short time that he was in the line-up but had hard luck on his shots.

In a preliminary game the Willamette super-varsity won from the Pacific super-varsity 16 to 14. The Bearcat reserves did not seem to function properly until in the last few minutes when faced with a three point disadvantage, they speeded up and scored five points in quick order.

Bearcats Down Whitman In Thrilling Offensive After Dropping Their First Game

Missionaries Take First Tilt 38 to 27. Cardinal Runs Wild In Game Friday Night. Willamette Has Decided Chance For Title

In what was perhaps the truly greatest victory ever tolled by W. U.'s victory bell in many years, the fighting Bearcat basketball team smothered their ancient rivals, Whitman, 55 to 24. Not only did they decisively wipe out their defeat of the night before, but the Bearcat players also showed their backers that they had a fight and playing ability not to be surpassed by teams of coast conference rivals.

Ed Cardinal, Willamette center led the team in scoring with 21 points to his credit. Ed turned in one of the best games of his career and his aggressive playing and uncanny scoring ability marked him as a repeater for all-conference honors. Cardinal made the exceptional record of completing over 50 per cent of his tries.

The Willamette guards were outstanding in their ability to check the Whitman players. Flesher, who has but recently recovered from a broken ankle, followed the ball consistently and also demonstrated his basketball eye by garnering 7 points for the Bearcat cause. Hawk the other guard, played a brand of ball which ought to rate him a place on the all conference team. Harold broke up many of Whitman's rallies by his aggressive play and constant checking. He garnered three baskets in leisure moments.

The play of the forwards; Adams, Scales, and Litchfield, was fast and aggressive. Scales although not scoring his usual amount of points, worked the ball down under the basket and enabled his mates to ring the counters. Scales was one of the fastest men on the floor and proved that the Whitman defense was not impregnable. Adams specialized in taking the ball from the backboard and looping it through the hoop for points. Dwight made 13 of his team's total and his consistency of play helped steady the team at moments when Whitman threatened to rally.

The game put Willamette back at the head of the conference and provided that the W. U. players can win the rest of their games, they will have the championship won. Whitman has no game scheduled with Linfield, therefore should she also win the rest of her games, Willamette would have a higher percentage of games won.

Croxdale and Holmgren were the outstanding players of the Whitman team, but they were checked too closely to be of much help.

This game is incidentally the first conference defeat to be suffered by a Whitman team in any sport since the 1927 football season, when they lost a 12 to 0 game to College of Idaho, and the first that Willamette has won over them in three years.

First Whitman Game With Willamette

Playing a fighting brand of basketball the Whitman Missionaries were able to overcome an early Willamette lead and finally win a 38 to 26 victory from the Bearcats. The Willamette players started off in good shape but had difficulty in finding the basket. After the beginning of the second half, the Bearcats seemed to lose their confidence and they failed to regain their stride during the remainder of the game.

The scoring of Wood, Croxdale, and Holmgren was a feature of the Whitman victory, while the checking of Applegate was another brilliant light in the Missionary victory.

The contributing factor in Willamette's defeat seemed to be the disheartening affect which the missing of so many close shots produced, and although the Bearcats tried hard enough to overcome their opponents they were outplayed by the clever Missionary quintet.

Woods was the high point man of the game with 16 markers to his credit.

BLUE KEY DISCUSSES TENNIS IMPROVEMENTS

The Blue Key Fraternity held its monthly meeting at the Spa on Tuesday, February 12.

Kenneth Litchfield reported on the status of the project of erecting backstops for the tennis courts. The cost of wooden framework backstops would amount to between $250 and $300. Litchfield stated. There has been no definite action from the administration on this matter, as yet. As the Northwestern Tennis Conference is to be held here this spring, the erection of new backboards is very desirable.

Donald Grant, Paul Geddes, and Kenneth Vannice were appointed as a committee of three to interview the Southern Pacific Company about cinders for the track.

A definite report from the committee on National Fraternities will be given at the next meeting.

NEW SCREEN TEAM GARNERS LAURELS

Joan Crawford and Nils Asther join as a new team of screen lovers in "Dream of Love," which opens Sunday at the Elsinore theatre.

In this brilliant picturization of the old French play, "Adrienne Lecouvreur," Miss Crawford and Asther give the finest and most forceful performances of their careers and win new laurels as dramatic artists.

Fred Niblo, who directed the modernized version of the old play which Sarah Bernhardt made famous, surrounded the featured couple with an elaborate supporting cast, including Alleen Pringle, Carmel Myers, Warner Oland, and many others of note.

Miss Crawford, fresh from her triumphs in "Our Dancing Daughters," and with John Gilbert in "Four Walls," gives an outstanding portrayal of the gypsy dancing girl who rose to stage stardom in the little Balkan province where her lover was pretender to the throne. Asther, who recently appeared opposite Marion Davies in "The Cardboard Lover," is dramatically romantic as the Crown Prince who is willing to give up the throne for the gypsy girl.

FRATERNITIES DISCUSS SPICY TOPICS OF LIFE

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 13.—(PIP)—"What Kind of a Mate to Choose and Why?"

What Is the Use of Trying to be Good?"

Such are some of the topics of the latest literary fad on the campus—after dinner speaking at the fraternity and club houses. What's more, the subjects are spicy topics of life, love, work and play. Choosing a mate and principles of being good are two of the most popular discussed this week by the faculty members, and visitors who give the talks. Other popular topics are "What Do You Mean by Modern?" "Present Day Morals Among College Students."

KITTEN WANDERS INTO EARLY FRENCH CLASS

A kitten with an un-catlike desire for learning, found its way into one of Miss DeNise's French classes Tuesday, after having spent the previous day inspecting the campus and halls of Willamette. It was carried about by various kind-hearted Freshmen throughout the morning, arousing many remarks and smiles in other students. A gentle "meow" might even have been heard during chapel, if one listened carefully. Professor Monk expressed an unwillingness to end the kitten's existence because of its tameness.

Three teams in the donut league are coming down the stretch neck and neck. The Alpha Psi Delta's, the Law School, and the Faculty, have each lost but a single game.

Monopolizing the attention of the donut fans if any, was the Law School vs. Alpha Psi game which saw the law students lose their first game of the season, by a score of 17-14. The Alpha's scoring combination of Paige, French and White, is apparently the class of the league. Steelhammer and Minto played some pretty ball for the Lawyers.

The Upper Class furnished the remainder of the entertainment by the taking the Kappa Gamma's into camp 23-15 and conquering the Lower Class 24-20. Silke, of the Upper Class gave a fine demonstration of dropping "longs" in both games.
