The above is the Commencement week program as secured yesterday from the University office. The events scheduled will follow this program in general, though one or two minor shifts are possible.

The closing of this school year is to be attended by many delightful functions, one of the best of which will be the Senior Class Day. Plans are not yet complete for the day's program, but it will probably be of a more elaborate nature than in the past. Present plans are to have a series of events occupying the whole day, in which all the classes will take part. The Seniors will conclude the day by the outdoor production of the masque, "The Mill-Stream Court," written by Miss Pennington. Work on this has already begun, and it is to be presented in a very novel way, especially with regard to lighting effects, under direction of Prof. R. B. Walsh. The stage will be set on the banks of the mill race.

Owing to the indefiniteness of the exam schedule, the program for Monday is doubtful, but the Girls' Willamette Club will probably do honor to the memory of Jason Lee at this time. An athletic contest, possibly a varsity-alumni ball game, will occur in the afternoon and the evening will be given over to the Intersociety Oratorical Contest.

An innovation is being made this year in the time of the graduating exercises and the widely followed plan of morning Commencement will supersede the former evening exercises. At ten o'clock on Wednesday morning the Commencement address will be given and the sheepskins presented. The annual alumni banquet at six-thirty of the same day will be a fitting climax

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS GIVEN

Dr. Sweetland to Aid Men of University in Physical Work by Giving a Series of Tests.

In the near future, every man in the University will receive a thorough physical examination. The idea is that everyone shall be examined in such a way that the physical director may know just what exercise each individual needs, whether he is now taking too much or too little, and what his general physical condition is. Doctor Sweetland says that this is preliminary to physical courses which will follow later. Some new apparatus has been procured and everything is being arranged for the speedy culmination of the work.

The examination should be very valuable to the men in general, as it will assist them in arranging their athletic work to the best advantage.

EDINBURGH PREACHER TO BE COMMENCEMENT ORATOR

Rev. John Lamond, Speaker at Christian Citizenship Congress Is Secured.

President Homan, after extensive correspondence, has secured for Commencement orator the Rev. John Lamond, of Edinburgh, Scotland, who is to be one of the speakers at the Second World's Christian Citizenship Congress in Portland this summer.

Mr. Lamond is a true Highlander, coming from one of the oldest and most noted clans. Since early life he has been an ardent temperance enthusiast and because of his work in this cause has been called the successor of John B. Gough. It is said of him, "Mr. Lamond is the senior 'city minister of Edinburgh.' He is an eloquent platform speaker and has been prominently identified with the cause of temperance. His sermons are beautiful in diction, eloquent, and marked by a deep spiritual fervor." He is widely travelled and lectures on a variety of subjects. He has made a specialty of criminology and will speak at the Citizenship Congress on "Crime and Its Causes."

What the subject of his address here will be has not been announced.

U. OF W. BALL TEAM IN VALLEY

Breaks Even in Games with Oregon and O. A. C. Last Week.

The University of Washington baseball team was in the valley the past week, playing two games with the University of Oregon and two with O. A. C. The first contests occurred at Eugene, where the team from Seattle won on Wednesday by a score of 5 to 1 and met defeat the following day to the tune of 6 to 1. Friday and Saturday, Corvallis was invaded by the delegation from the Sound. They repeated their Eugene performance, winning one game 14 to 1 and losing the other 10 to 5.

SENIORS BANQUETED BY AFFILIATED JUNIORS

Hotel Marion Scene of Annual Upperclass Feast Friday Evening.

UNIQUE SERIES OF TOASTS PRESENTED

Ralph Moores Is Toastmaster—Setting for Affair Is in Festoons of Scotch Bloom.

Amid beautiful lighting and pleasing decorations, the Junior banquet, complimentary to the Seniors of the University, was given in the dining hall of Hotel Marion Friday evening. Three were a hundred and nine gathered around the banquet board to partake of the feast and enjoy the toasts.

Ralph Moores, Junior Law, was the toastmaster for the evening, and graciously extolled the faults and mannerisms of the speakers of the evening.

Yellow and white was the color scheme for the large banquet hall. Scotch broom and buttercups with plenty of green foliage made the room reflect the springtime air and gave a welcoming charm to the banqueters.

The program for the toasts suggested the coming of graduation, the toasts following the plan of a Class Day program. Murray Wheat of the Junior Law class handled the "Class History" of the Seniors with a great air of mastered facts. His keen understanding of the future gave his history an ultra-modern setting, being dated some twenty years hence.

Mrs. Lola Cook Bellinger gave the class poem entitled "Translatari Salaratus." Words fail to suggest the heart-rending

MANAGERS ARE CHOSEN FOR 1913-14 ATHLETIC SEASONS

Athletic Committee Also Recommends Raising S. B. Fee and Securing Coach for Track.

The Athletic Committee met last Wednesday night at Lausanne Hall with the president of the Student Body presiding. The principal business was the appointment of managers for next year's baseball, basketball and track teams. Vandeventer will handle the baseball aggregation, assisted by Harry Irvine; Axley basketball, with Bolt for a helper; Sackett will have Hall to aid him with the track activities. No tennis manager was named.

The committee also made a recommendation that the Student Body tax be raised to five dollars a year. The lack of finances has been a serious handicap this year and the committee makes this recommendation in an effort to remedy this defect.

The committee further recommends that a man be employed as an instructor in the Academy, who is cap-

LAW-MEDIC GRADUATION MAY 23

Dr. Benjamin Young Delivers Address at Exercises of Professional Schools.

The graduation exercises of the Laws and Medics will be held in the Methodist church on the evening of Friday, May 23, the two classes co-operating in the affair. The program for the evening has not been fully decided upon.

Rev. Benjamin Young of Portland will deliver the Commencement address. Judge Burnett will give the charge to the Law class and Dr. Griffith to the medical contingent.

Prof. Walsh and W. L. Carlton will probably entertain the audience with several musical selections, and Dr. Avison will deliver the invocation. The program for this year has taken on an aspect of high class and the exercises will be impressive.

BASEBALL GAMES WITH U. A. C. ARE ARRANGED

Fans Will See Fast Aggie Team in Action Here—Dates Are Still Tentative.

At a conference on the campus yesterday between Dr. Stewart, physical director of U. A. C., and Coach Sweetland, dates were practically settled upon for two baseball games between U. A. C. and Willamette, to be played the latter part of this month. A number of available dates were talked over, and May 24th and 31st tentatively fixed as the most satisfactory, the first game to be in Salem, the second in Corvallis. While these dates are tentative, the games are assured.

This action will bring joy to the hearts of University and city fans, who had almost given up hope of seeing the "Varsity pitted against either of the state schools this season, games scheduled with them having been called off on account of inclement weather. Dr. Sweetland is desirous of meeting Oregon also on the local diamond, and may be able to secure a game with them if finances warrant. These games will fill in good shape the schedule, which, to date, has been rather meager.

Rain has interfered with practice for several days, but the field was in good shape yesterday and the team had a good workout. Medie examinations have kept Steelhammer, McRae, Hamilton and Howard from practice, but these men will be able to work out some this week and next in preparation for O. A. C. Young and Doane have been doing good work on first and Doane also shows up well at the plate.

COLUMBIA WINS STATE MEET

Annual Interscholastic Event Held at Eugene Saturday.

The state interscholastic track meet held at the University of Oregon last Saturday was won by Columbia University with 38½ points to her credit. Washington High was second with 16 points, and Eugene third with 14. Other schools winning points were Hill Military Academy, Astoria, Jefferson, St. Johns, Athena, Salem, North Bend, Union, and Corvallis. Time was slow in all events because of a heavy track.

able of coaching track, as one director, however good he may be, cannot possibly coach baseball and track at the same time and do justice to either. A telegram containing this recommendation was sent to President Homan, who is in the East, urging him to see if he could find an available man for this work.

The members present were Dr. Sweetland, Prof. Van Eschen, Dr. Groves Ford and Miss Jessie Young.

INCREASE IN STUDENT BODY TAX IS FAVORED

Prominent Students Advocate Increase to Five Dollars Per Year.

DEMANDS ON TREASURY HAVE INCREASED

Student Support of Measure Almost Unanimous—Must Go Before Board of Trustees.

There is some agitation among the students of late with regard to increasing the Student Body fee. When the Student Body fee was made compulsory, some two years ago, it was made very small, with the idea that in time it should be raised to meet the ever-increasing and broadening field of student activity.

The departments of activities in the Student Body have greatly enlarged and increased in size and number during the last year. The management of The Collegian has been taken over, tennis has become a Student Body activity, and debate has been revived and well supported. These new branches together with the enlarging of the field of all the sports have made increasing demands on the Student Body treasury.

After interviewing many of those prominent in student affairs, it appears that the sentiment among the students is, in almost every case, in favor of raising the fee from $1.50 to $2.50 per semester.

At present it is evident that the income of the Student Body is inadequate to meet the expense of the activities, which should be carried on. So it is necessary to take this means to raise the funds needed. However, it should be with the idea of improving and strengthening the departments already under Student Body control, rather than to increase the branches of activity, at least for the present.

Miss Jessie Young, president of the Student Body, when interviewed on this subject, said: "This is the only way in which we can meet the demands of our growing Student Body activities. It is necessary to adopt some such plan as this in order to insure success in our work. In my estimation, the plan will meet very little opposition in Liberal Arts."

President-elect Gilkey expressed himself thus: "There is no question that the fee should be raised. It is only to be expected that our activities should demand more of each student, and every student should be willing to vote for it."

W. W. H. Clark's statement was: "It is the only way to solve the difficulties of our increasing demands. Other schools do it; why shouldn't we?"

Miss Gertrude Eakin says: "I am heartily in favor of raising the Student Body fee. Surely every student is ambitious enough for the success of our activities to vote to add this small amount to his fee. I heartily endorse it."

Murray Wheat, of the Law School, said: "I am in favor of it, and think it is a good thing. I believe you would get the entire support of the Laws if you went further and joined the Conference."

Mr. Smith, of the Law School, also expressed himself as in favor of the increased fee, and adds: "It is the only equitable way of meeting the uncertainties which may arise in every school year."

Wm. Schreiber added a new phase to the question: "I am in favor of raising the fee to $5 a year, and in-

INCREASING THE STUDENT BODY TAX.

The present demand for an increase in the amount of the Student Body tax is the unavoidable result of Willamette's rapid advance in athletics and of the unification of all general student activities under a single authority. The institution of this compulsory tax two years ago marked a big step toward the proper support of athletics. The demands at that time were not heavy and the tax was made especially light to insure its adoption. It was evident even then, however, that the amount would not long be sufficient.

Since that time, athletic and other Student Body expenses have greatly increased and the revenue is plainly inadequate. The revival of debate, the fathering of May Day and tennis, the increased size of athletic squads, and the necessity for providing better schedules have all resulted from the general advance of the University and are the causes for the present demand. It is impossible to support properly the activities now gathered under the Student Body organization with the present income. A stationary tax under present conditions would mean, within a year or two, student affairs decidedly shabby in comparison with the other departments of University life.

A study of the answers to a questionnaire sent out by the National Collegiate Athletic Association reveals the fact that among a large number of colleges having a compulsory tax, Willamette's was among the very lowest. Very few were less than five dollars, while several ranged as high as twelve and fifteen. In general, the taxes ranged from five to seven dollars. A five-dollar tax is needed at Willamette. Proper disposition of it would provide not only better support for intercollegiate activities, but greater facilities for general participation in sports. The need is plain and we anticipate little opposition to this timely move.

CHANGE THE NAME.

The Collegian suggests that the name of the "Student Body of Willamette University" be changed to some title less ambiguous. No term that we can think of has been so troublesome to the editorial "powers that be." "The Student Body" is the official name of the organization under whose authority the various intercollegiate, and a few other, activities are gathered. But "student body" is also the general term by which the students of the University are collectively known, without reference to the organization of the same name. The result is onending confusion. In this office, we have to edit the term most carefully, to make sure that the words are capitalized when referring to the organization, and not capitalized when used as a mere collective term.

Almost every reference to the "student body" is clothed in ambiguity. For instance, the Student Body, as an organization, supports athletics, and yet, if attendance at games is small or interest lax, we are told that "the student body is not supporting the team," using the term, of course, in its general sense. The point is sufficiently clear to need no further illustration.

The simplest and easiest remedy is to change the name of the organization. The common term among colleges of the Northwest is "Associated Students." At Wesleyan University, the name is "The College Body." Either of these, or some similar name, would be satisfactory. We would at least know what we were talking about. Anything but "Student Body!"

SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE DUE.

The subscription campaign made in the student body for the support of spring activities has to date brought in between $100 and $125. The exact amount can not be ascertained because of the illness of Merwyn Paget, treasurer of the Student Body. Those who have made subscriptions are requested to pay them as soon as possible to some member of the Executive Committee, preferably to the one who took the subscription. Those who are able to subscribe and have not yet done so, should see some member of the committee at once, as the amount raised is hardly sufficient to cover the need. The amount should be made fully $150.

NEW WEBS PUT THROUGH PACES

Axley and Kennell Furnish Amusement for Lausanne Hall.

Thursday evening, Lausanne Hall was the scene of action of the final round of a Websterian initiation. Mr. Seth Axley proved himself a very efficient waiter and dishwasher. Had it not been for a few slight blunders, one would have thought him an old hand at the business. However, such breaches of etiquette as serving the bread "a la loaf," butter on the meat platter, and tea "a la pot" were overlooked.

Mr. Frank Kennell was another victim of the Webs on Thursday evening. Mr. Kennell called upon one of the girls at Lausanne Hall, but under the ban of the disfavor of the Websterians was forbidden to speak a word. However, Miss Lent says that Mr. Kennell is a very good penman.

About nine p. m., several alarm clocks which seemed to have accumulated in one of the rooms off the parlor suddenly interrupted Miss Lent's remarks, but Mr. Kennell was game and did not make his departure until all the alarm clocks had run down. Arnold Hall balanced the tray at Kloshe Klub the same night. He served them up fine, but he afterwards found that his pedometer registered seven miles.

PHILODORIANS ELECT MOORE TO PRESIDENCY

Burgess Ford Speaks at Meeting Last Wednesday—Program Especially good.

On last Wednesday evening, at the Philodorian halls, occurred one of the most enthusiastic and interesting meetings of the year. After an exceptionally well rendered program the election of officers for the coming term took place. J. Stanford Moore was elected to the presidency to succeed Burr Tatro. James Corpe was elected vice-president; Charles Hall, secretary; Hans Schroeder, assistant secretary; Harvey Tobie, treasurer; Russell Betts reporter; Walter Gleiser, censor.

The men were then addressed by Prof. Burgess F. Ford, who spoke briefly on the opportunities of the college man in society work and the prospect for the future of Willamette University in athletics.

The program for this evening promises to be a unique as well as instructive digression from the routine of the ordinary.

PATTERSON SPEAKS TO Y. M. C. A.

Adjures Men to Accuracy in Observation and Thinking.

Prof. Patterson gave a short talk on the value of accuracy and seeing all sides of a question in shaping one's views. He called attention to the general lack of accuracy in observation and thinking and showed how indispensable accuracy is to a clear view of questions. He also called attention to the necessity of a man's getting more than one point of view, unless he is to be narrow-minded and prejudice-bound.

GLEE CLUB OFFICERS CHOSEN

Business of Year Wound Up at Meeting Friday Evening.

At the annual business meeting of the Glee Club last Friday, the officers for the following year were elected and other business of the year was disposed of.

The officers elected were: president, Errol C. Gilkey; vice-president, Warren Booth; secretary, Paul Irvine; treasurer, Harold Jory; manager, Glen McCaddam.

PREP SOCIETIES ON PICNIC.

Spend Saturday in Country as Guests of Rosamond Gilbert.

On Saturday, May 10, the hospitable home of Rosamond Gilbert was the scene of a truly delightful picnic of the Adelphean and Criterion societies. For every moment, from the time the bedraggled but cheerful crowd arrived from the two o'clock car, until the indulgent chaperone succeeded in starting them on their homeward journey, the entertainment committee had something planned.

Charades and a "track meet," in which the "Willamette" team, under the leadership of Mr. Gates, won over "Oregon" and "O. A. C.," whiled away the afternoon. Supper was served in true picnic style, and one had only to close his eyes to imagine himself searing his fingers and roasting his "wieners" over a real bonfire, instead of over a kitchen range.

After an evening spent in parliamentary practice, singing and various games, the crowd departed with decidedly pleasant recollections.

TEUTONIANS GET NEW MEMBERS

Club Entertains First Year German Students at Magers' Studio.

The Teutonia Verein, with a number of first-year German students as guests of the evening, enjoyed the delightful hospitality of Miss Beatrice Thompson and her aunt, Miss Minnetta Magers, Saturday evening at Miss Magers' studio. A short program was rendered in German, anecdotes by the Misses Flora Cone and Miller and an original poem by Wm. Oldenburg, during the course of which the first-year students had much ado to watch their neighbors and time their appreciative nods appropriately. They felt more at home, however, when, after the program, the party gathered around the piano for songs, and the members of the Verein were tactful enough to select "Der Lorelei," "O Tannenbaum," and like lyrics of first-year comprehension.

After a game or two, refreshments were served, after which the guests prevailed upon Miss Magers to sing for them.

TWO RESCUED FROM ICY GRAVE

Hall Brothers the Goats and McDaniels Heroes in Little Drama.

In the spring, as the poet says, the "young man's fancy lightly turns to love," but it seems beyond the capacity of the same person to tell where a canoe will lightly turn too. At least, Arnold and Charlie Hall find it so; but both can now testify that theirs turned into the icy waters of the Willamette.

The perpetual sunshine of a few days ago so melted their hearts that they decided to spend two-bits for a pleasure trip. They were nicely under way when Ivan and Bruce McDaniel came around the bend in a launch and tooted for the right of way. The boys responded by immediately plunging into the river to play with the fish. Luckily, the boat was provided with a boat-hook and the two were rescued from a watery grave. They were last seen "getting their money's worth" and drying off their wet garments in the wind.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK PROGRAM GIVEN OUT

To the collegiate festivities of the week.

Students and campus visitors will be fortunate in hearing several fine addresses. Bishop Hughes, a very forceful speaker and a man of strong personality, delivers the address to the Kimball College graduates. President Fletcher Homan preaches the baccalaureate sermon, and Rev. John Lamond of Edinburgh, Scotland, an eminent Scotch divine, will give the words of wisdom to the Liberal Arts Class of 1913.

It is the desire of President Homan, the faculty and the Seniors, that all students remain during Commencement week to take part in Class Day exercises and lend support to the other ceremonies of the week. They wish to make Commencement week the gala time of the year and are asking the Student Body to co-operate with them in this.

Smaller details of the program for the week will be announced later.

CRITERIONS ELECT OFFICERS.

Haight Will Lead Academy Society During Last Term.

The Criterion Literary Society held its weekly meeting in the chapel last Wednesday evening at 7:30. A short program was given, after which was held the installation of the society of officers for this term. The new officers are: Haight, president; Dawe, vice-president; Day, corresponding secretary; Cordier, treasurer; Bagley, censor; Stout, sergeant-at-arms. A lively business meeting followed. A roving program has been prepared for this evening. All members should be out.

FRESHMAN GIRLS SELL EMBLEMS

Continuing the custom inaugurated on May Day, the girls of the Freshman class appeared again last Friday offering University emblems and pillows for sale, the proceeds to go for repleting the Freshman treasury, which has been severely ravaged by the many receptions and other functions in which the class has taken a leading part.

The emblems, class shields and pillows offered for sale are the work of the class artist, R. W. Little.

ANNUAL NEARS COMPLETION

MUCH OF WALLULAH MATERIAL
ALREADY OFF PRESS.

Financial Success Now Depends on Number of Copies Sold—Should Be Ordered Early.

From present indications it will not be more than ten days before the Wallulah will be ready for distribution.

Editor Gilkey has the material well in hand and is giving the printer copy as fast as it can be used. At present almost one-half of the book is printed and a good part of the other half is set up. The printers are doing everything possible to rush the work and still do a good job. Great care is being taken to bring out the cuts with the result that all of the pictures are reproducing in a most satisfactory manner.

The bindery assures the management that they can turn out the books in very short order after delivery from the printers. The covers are here now and are out ready to put on the books. The color, which is a brown, far exceeds all expectations of those who ordered it. Some were quite skeptical as to the appearance it would make, but all who have seen the leather in the large piece praise it highly.

It was the original intention to print a 225-page book, but it has been necessary to increase the number of pages to almost 250.

The method of distribution has not been worked out yet. In all probability, however, time will be taken some morning at chapel with three or four distributing stands in the chapel and Eaton Hall. The bulletin boards and Collegian will give the announcement next week.

The financial success of the book now depends entirely upon the sale of copies. There are still about 100 of the books unsold, with about 250 students who have not subscribed. If these books go as they should, the Wallulah will pay for itself.

As the supply will be strictly limited to 250 copies, all who intend to purchase a book will not be sure of it unless they order in the near future.

cluding in that sum The Collegian. The paper is now under Student Body control and should be supported by every member. With this fee, the Student Body could afford to pay for the paper for all the students, and the support would be more general.

This argument finds favor with a good many students, as it would enlarge the circulation of The Collegian and help to make it a paper of all the students. At present, about half the students support the paper, as far as subscription goes.

Charles B. Harrison, '12, ex-president of the Student Body, who was on the campus this week, is strong for the increase. Mr. Harrison, who was one of the originators of the compulsory tax idea, says that at the time of its institution it was recognized that the tax would soon be too small for the growing demands and would have to be increased.

A large number of other students of different classes and interests have been seen and are very nearly unanimous in endorsing the proposition.

This question will be presented at Student Body meeting Friday morning. In case the amendment carries, a petition to the trustees will be drawn up for their consideration at the June meeting. The sanction of the trustees to the additional tax will be necessary because they allow the money to be collected in the University office at the time of registration.

Friends of John Hatz, '12, have received announcement that he is the proud father of a daughter, Helen.

Clarence Forbes is on the sick list. He is to be operated on for appendicitis in the near future.

Miss Marguerite Deering, '16, attended the Junior week-end festivities at U. of O.

Schreiber Bros., together with McDaniel Bros., managed to scrape up enough long green to allow the aforesaid two corporations a sojourn to O. A. C. last Friday to view the annual military inspection. The Schreiber Corporation has two of its members attend that institution, while B. McDaniel has faint recollections of his army life, having once served a sentence there.

Burgess Ford, '05, superintendent of the Estacada schools, was a University visitor last Wednesday. He came up for the meeting of the Student Body Athletic Committee, of which he is a faculty member. He was accompanied by four Estacada High students, Ewalt, Malcolm Woodie, Kenneth Bartlett and Milton Evans.

Oregon won the annual track and field meet with the University of Washington held in Eugene last Friday by a score of 75 to 56. The feature of the meet was the breaking of the coast record for the javelin throw, Bill Neill of Oregon throwing the Grecian weapon 169 feet.

Geo. Schreiber and Clifford Cordier left the campus yesterday afternoon to attend a German Sunday School and Epworth League Convention at Bethany, Ore. They will be gone for several days.

Bill Oldenburg was just coming out of the Kloshe Klub. Harper says, "Well, Bill, are you ready for the physical examination?" "Yes," says Bill, "I've just been in here cramming for it."

Miss Emma Loughridge, '14, and Harley Blackwell, '14, will be visitors at Stanford this week. They will attend the graduation exercises, at which two Willamette ex-students, Paul Blanchard and Miss Florence Dunlop, are to be graduated.

"Peggy" Paget is still out of school and will not be back for a couple of weeks at least. The latest report is that he has just undergone an operation for an abscess of the ear, and is doing as well as can be expected.

INDIANS DEFEATED 8 TO 5 TRACK WORK OVER FOR YEAR

THIRTEEN HITS MADE OFF TWO CHEMAWA PITCHERS.

Varsity Retrieves Former Defeats—McRae Is Strong With the Willow.

(With apologies to the Co-Ed Edition)
Willamette baseball team defeated the Chemawa nine for the first time this season in a hot contest played on the local diamond a week ago yesterday, or, according to the latest system of reckoning of time, one day before the appearance of the co-ed edition.

For the first time this season, Drake, the Varsity's head twirler, took the mound against the Red Men, and the victory is attributed largely to this fact.

The fact that the Varsity men hit the ball was the most potent factor in the scoring. In former games this season, batting has undoubtedly been the weak point of the team, but in this contest everybody seemed able to connect and as a result Chemawa changed pitchers in the seventh, only to have Willamette make 3 runs the first inning under the new heaven's dispensation.

The feature of the game was the batting of McRae, who secured four safeties in five trips to the plate. Homan was also there with the willow, hitting three times.

Captain Homan scored 3 tallies, while McRae and Lund each crossed the plate twice. Drake was responsible for Willamette's other score.

The score: R. H. E.
W. U. 0 0 0 1 1 1 3 0 2—8 13 4
Chemawa 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0 2—5 7 7
Summary: earned runs, Chemawa 1, Willamette 6. Three-base hit, Wilcox. Two-base hit, Homan. First on balls, off Drake 1. Left on bases, Chemawa 3, Willamette 7. First base on errors, Chemawa 4, Willamette 5. Struck out, by Drake 5, by Verigen 1, by McDonald 1. Double play, Lund to Booth, Downie to Walker. Hit by pitcher, Downie, Steelhammer, Gates.

passages and the skylark twitters of its masterful comprehension. The poem fully represented the Seniors. The class prophecy as suggested by Mr. Wheat did not coincide with the clever rhythmic prophecy that Miss Laura Heist presented. She brought to view character after character in the cedars of Lebanon. Their traits very much altered from the present resemblances. This was the most appreciated toast of the evening.

C. L. Starr, M. Reinhardt, George Brown, Dr. Patterson, Miss Jessie Young, Car Hollingworth and Paul Todd added in the good fellowship of the evening by toasts appropriate to the program. Vice-President Edward H. Todd and Judge John McNary were unable to be present.

The banquet itself was well planned by the committee from the Junior classes. Miss Lottie Penn, chairman of the Liberal Arts committee, deserves much of the credit for the success of the evening.

Teen courses were on the menu for the evening's feasting. The dinner was fittingly accompanied by music from the Willamette orchestra. The evening was closed with "Old Willamette," played by Mr. Rae Smith, Senior Liberal Arts and composer of the music.

The tables were decorated in the class colors of the Seniors and dainty candelabra. The setting was not elaborate, but the simplicity gave the charm which was needed to complete the surroundings. The room was gay in festoons of Scotch bloom.

The committee which made the affair a success was composed of Miss Lottie Penn, Edith Sherwood, Mrs. Rolla K. Page, Paul Todd, Edward Tallman and Raymond Rowland.

Prominent speakers from many of the leading institutions in the Northwest were in attendance at the Conference on the Conservation of Human Life held at Reed College last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Though Under Handicap, Season Is Encouraging—Coach for Next Year Probable.

As no other meets are scheduled, track work is off for the rest of the spring, with the exception of an inter-class meet which will probably occur soon.

The track season has been somewhat disappointing because of the inability of the management to secure meets, but it also is encouraging in many respects. There is no doubt that the material on hand is the best which Willamette has ever had and the work this year will be invaluable in producing a strong aggregation next spring, when it is hoped that the team will have a special trainer, a need which has been badly felt this year. This, with a better schedule of meet, will put track athletics on a firm footing in another year. Such men as McInturff, Francis, Mills, Doane and Small are among the cream of Oregon track athletes in their events, and in another year will doubtless be given a better opportunity to display their ability.

A telegram received yesterday from President Homan, in response to the one sent by the Athletic Committee, stated that he expected to secure an additional instructor with athletic experience, who would direct track work. If this is done, there is no doubt of future success in this most distinctly collegiate branch of spring sports.

Harrison Visits Campus.

"Brick" Harrison, last year's baseball captain and Student Body president, and otherwise noted, was on the campus last week shaking hands and enjoying the jokes of a year ago. The long looked for game of tennis with Doc had to be postponed on account of rain, but the Doctor expects to trounce Brick at the earliest opportunity. "Brick" is in the office of the H. S. Gile Wholesale Grocery Co. of Portland.

On Monday morning at the regular class period, the class in physiology profited by a lecture by Dr. Sweetland on "First Aid to the Injured." This was the first of a series of lectures on the practical phases of the subject to be given before the class.

Professor Cooley Judges Debate.

Professor Cooley acted as judge at the O. A. C. W. S. C. debate held in Corvallis Saturday evening. The question was that of a federal charter for corporations doing interstate business. O. A. C., supporting the negative, won a 2 to 1 decision.

Freshmen Plan Picnic.

The Freshman class is planning a picnic for its regular semester class function. It is not definitely arranged as yet, but there seems to be a strong sentiment in favor of getting out to the woods for a day.

The Misses Ruth Young and Eleanor Raby spent the week-end at their homes in Portland.

RECEPTION TO BE GIVEN IN HONOR OF SENIORS

Dean and Mrs. Patterson Open Home to Four College Classes Friday Evening.

Invitations are out for a reception to the four classes in honor of the Seniors, to be given Friday evening by Dean and Mrs. G. H. Patterson at their home on Union Street.

The plan is for the Freshmen to come at 7:30 and remain until 8:30, when they will be relieved by the Sophomores, who will be replaced by the Juniors at 9:30. Each class is supposed to furnish some kind of entertainment for the Seniors.

To one knows what the nature of the entertainment will be, but each class is reported to be working up something original in the way of stunts.

"Exam" Dates Not Yet Set.

According to the University office, the days on which examinations will be held have not been definitely determined, but will be announced in the next Collegian.
