GENERAL STATEMENT.

Location.

Salem, the capital of Oregon, is most beautifully situated on the east bank of the Willamette river, fifty-three miles south of Portland. Rich farm land lies on all sides and extends away for many miles. The scenery is delightfully varied by hills on the south and across the river on the west. The streets are wide and have a considerable decline westward towards the river. Several living streams of water flow through them into the Willamette, and in their course turn the powerful wheels of the great flouring mills, of which Salem is justly proud. It contains a population of nearly 7,000. The Willamette University, founded at a time when Salem was scarcely a town site, has had the opportunity to grow with the city and impress its work upon the society. For morals and high state of Christian society, Salem is far in advance of most towns of its size. The official position of so many of its residents, in county and state, render an increased culture to society. Many of the state educational institutions are located here, with their officers and teachers, which circumstance adds another advantage to the location of a University. The buildings are immediately in town, and places of business are of easy access. The campus on which the buildings are situated, contains about eighteen acres. The people of Salem have ever given non-resident students a cordial welcome to their homes, their churches and society, so that, although among strangers at first, they are soon made to feel that they are among friends desiring and striving for their best interests. All circumstances combine to make Salem the best University town on the coast. It is not too large, so as to absorb the interests of a University in its business affairs, and is not so small as to be unable to accommodate all its interests. Its ministers, lawyers and physicians are among the ablest in their profession, the people are educated, and its physical features render the city healthful and beautiful for homes.

Every student in school is expected to perform literary work the third Thursday of each Semi-Term, unless excused for equivalent work in Literary Societies or in Elocutionary classes.

Military Tactics.

Company A, Willamette Cadets, has been organized for nearly one year. Much needed exercise and knowledge of military tactics, as well as neatness in personal habit, and precision and grace in all the movements of the body, are learned in the various forms of drill. The guns used in the manual of arms have been presented for use of the University by the State of Oregon. Boys and young men attending the University can purchase uniform suits, for $12 to $15. The clothing is of fine cloth and can be worn on any occasion.

OFFICERS.

Captain, Virgil Perringer; 1st Lieutenant, Wm. E. Burke; 2d Lieutenant, W. T. Rigby.

Correlated Academies.

It is the design of these schools to prepare students as nearly as possible for the Freshman class in the College.

Certificates from the correlated Academies will give the student bearing them the desired standing in the University without an examination on the studies embraced in the certificates.

These Academies are: Wasco Independent Academy, R. H. Willis, A. B., Principal, located at The Dalles, Oregon; Umpqua Academy, located at Wilbur, Oregon, L. A. Edwards, A. B., Principal; Sheridan Academy, located at Sheridan, Oregon,..... Principal; Santiam Academy, located at Lebanon, Oregon, J. L. Gilbert, Principal; Drain Academy, F. W. Benson, A. M., Principal.

Government.

The government of the University aims to be mild, but firm in what few regulations it has. Constant thought is exercised to cultivate qualities of manhood and womanhood discoverable in nearly every student. Whenever a student aims to do right, and be diligent and successful in his daily work, he scarcely realizes that he is under government. While the general oversight has especial care for Christian training, yet the school is non-sectarian in its teaching and government. Its courses of study are little different from any other institution of equal grade.

Literary Societies.

There are two literary societies connected with the school. They have a commodious and well furnished hall in the University building. The Philodosian society meets at 3 P. M. and Philodorian at 7 P. M., on Friday of each week. The objects of these societies are for the increase of knowledge among the members and to bring into practical use the mental drill obtained during the week; experience having shown that these are more readily acquired by a combination of efforts than singly.

The exercises consist of compositions, declamations, orations, lectures, and of writing, reading, musical renditions, discussions and criticisms.

The Philodorian society has a membership for the year of 60 active and 15 honorary members.

The active membership of the Philodosian society, for the year is 40.

The officers of the societies for the school year, are as follows :

Needs of the University.

Large and immediate additions to the funds of the University are much needed. One or two Professorships should be established at once.

A suitable hall for recitations in the College of Liberal Arts must be erected in the near future. Thoroughly to equip this institution upon the plan proposed, resources several times grater than any now possessed will be absolutely necessary. The trustees cannot doubt but that the friends of the school and public spirited men and women will create the needed facilities. The University is now only beginning to live. The character of its life will depend upon the help of those who have money, and who have such love for Christian training as to bestow it upon the institution for this purpose. The corporate name of the institution is Willamette University.

Form of Bequest.

I give and bequeath to Willamette University the sum of..... dollars, to be safely invested as an endowment for the support ofProfessorship in the College of Liberal Arts.

Rules.

After long experience, the following rules are found to secure the best general government of the school. It is thought best to publish our rules in order that all may understand clearly under what restrictions they place themselves, by becoming students of this University. No well regulated institution can succeed without rules of government, any more than the State without laws.

General Rules.

1. Payment of tuition, each term, in advance.
2. Attendance at some Church on Sunday morning.
3. Study during recitation hours and from 7 to 9 P. M.
4. No profanity, or the use of tobacco in the school.
5. Attendance at chapel services each day.
6. Permission for temporary absence from school and town.
7. Examination every five weeks in the Academy; every term in the College. Written reports in scholarship and deportment will be sent to the parents of each student after every examination.
8. Half price for one study in school; full price for two or more. Students having studies in more than one grade will pay the tuition of the higher grade, provided they take two or more studies in that grade.
9. Time lost by sickness can be transferred, but no money is refunded.
10. Students coming from other Colleges must bring recommendations from the College they left.
11. No student will be entered at the beginning of a term for less than a term; nor will any student having withdrawn from school during the term without permission of the faculty, be granted an honorable dismissal.
12. No student is allowed to board at a hotel or public boarding house.

To Students.

When you arrive in Salem, come directly to see the President, who will give you all necessary information relative to rooms, board, &c., and will find lodging for you until you are permanently settled. You will thus save your money and find out just what to do.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE.

Faculty of Oversight.

THOS. VAN SCOY, PRESIDENT.

MRS. C. C. B. HAWLEY, DEAN.

MRS. GEN. W. H. ODELL.

MRS. G. W. GRAY.

MRS. MARY E. KINNEY, A. M.

I. This department of the University provides instruction :

1. In Music—(see Conservatory of Music.)
2. In Art—(see Art Department.)

II. It provides a home for all lady students from a distance, whether taking lessons in Music or Art, or reciting in any other department of the University.

It affords a place of residence, under careful supervision, and amid refined and orderly surroundings.

Board in Woman's College Hall with everything furnished except towels, napkins, and bed clothing $3.50 per week. A well-furnished room is supplied. But the occupants are expected to have a room-mate. Day board, and board for those who supply their own furniture, is put at $2.50 per week.

Many parents object to sending their daughters from home to a school where, from want of a College home, under proper oversight, they are compelled to board in families, that, as a rule, acknowledge no responsibility to parents or to the University.

It offers to all the students of the Woman's College—those resident in the building and those living in the city—a center or place of gathering for lectures and for such social events as may pertain to the home life of the department.

The Dean, and other teachers reside in the Hall, and thus it becomes a religious home, and at the same time is surrounded by all the good influence of college life.

Care is taken in the furnishing of the building, in the regulations pertaining to the household, and in the internal life of resident students and officers, to maintain the atmosphere and surroundings of a refined and gentle home, so as to make residence in the College Hall a means of education.

It is not designed making the Hall a means of income to the University; it is not a financial venture, and has nothing in common with the aim of a boarding house. On the contrary, the cost of residence is placed so low as to bring the advantage of the Hall within the reach of all earnest young women desirous of an education.

For price of board, etc., in the Woman's College, see expenses under "General Statement."

Regulations for the Woman's College Hall.

1. Five weeks payment for board in advance.
2. Proper care of room and personal appearance.
3. Attendance upon family worship.
4. Permission for temporary absence.
5. Saturday afternoons are given the ladies for calling and shopping.

Mail is delivered each day, and a person is employed to perform errands and to attend to the janitor work.

The study room will be warmed and opened for study each morning at 6 o'clock for those who desire to study before school.

Due care will at all times be exercised to promote the health, comfort, moral and social well-being of every inmate of the College.

UNIVERSITY ACADEMY.

Information.

The University Academy provides instruction in five different courses.

First. The Preparatory Classical, embracing three year's study, prepares the student for the Freshman class of the same course in the College of Liberal Arts.

Second. The Preparatory, Latin and Scientific, embracing three years of study, prepares the student for the Freshman class of the same course in the College of Liberal Arts.

Third. The Preparatory, Literature and Art Course, which is the same as the Latin and Scientific, prepares the student for the Freshman class in the same course in the College of Liberal Arts.

Fourth. The Teacher's Course is prepared for those who do not wish to take a College course, but who desire to fit themselves thoroughly to teach in public schools of common and high grade, and be able to pass examination for Life Diploma and State Certificate. It embraces a three year's course. See Course of Study for the branches taught in this course, and statement under Normal department.

Fifth. The Business Course aims to give the student the most thorough and practical education that can be obtained in two year's study. A thorough knowledge of all kinds of business papers, such as promissory notes, drafts, checks, deeds, mortgages, etc., together with the laws relating to them, and the more important principles of political economy will be required, and great care will be taken to give the student the latest and best information in all the studies of the course, which is described in another place.

All the studies preparatory to any of the Academical courses, are taught in the Grammar School.

Diplomas.

Students completing any of the five courses in the Academy will be awarded diplomas certifying the work done. All who desire diplomas must write a graduating essay or oration, and hand it in to the President by the first of May. A committee will select eight of the best of these productions to be delivered at the graduating exercises.

YOUNG MEN'S BOARDING HALL.

Two years ago, a building was purchased and remodeled so as to accommodate forty young men and boys with good rooms at a charge of $1.00 a month for each room, and table board at $1.50 to $1.75 per week. In this way, two boys have generally roomed together and reduced their room rent to fifty cents each per month. There are rooms in the University building for thirty more young men at the same price. Many of those in the University building have taken their meals at the boarding Hall, which is only two blocks distant. More than eighty young men have boarded in the Hall, either all or a part of the past year, with an average of nearly sixty during the whole year.

The design is to charge the young men for board only what the material and cooking cost. For the price, the board has been very satisfactory, and supplies a long felt want in the University.

The young men are expected to supply furniture for their own rooms. This will cost from $6 to $15 each, according to the value of the furniture. Many buy second-hand furniture. All furniture can be re-sold when the students leave. Furniture can be left in the rooms and no room rent is charged during vacation. Bed clothing can be brought in a trunk or box, and save buying.

Board for five weeks in advance and room-rent for ten weeks in advance is charged. Any one being away for more than one week at a time, on account of sickness, will be given credit on board for time lost, but no room-rent will be refunded. The greatest care has to be taken to meet expenses in boarding at such low rates. Students, on arriving in Salem, can come directly to the Hall and find a home and friends at once. Board and tuition for the school year will cost from $92 to $112, according to the advancement of the student.

NORMAL INSTRUCTION.

Special training is provided for those students who are preparing for the profession of teaching. An English course, consisting of such studies as are considered most practicable for teachers of high school and common school grade, has been arranged. Students completing this course of studies are awarded diplomas. More students have graduated from this course than from any other Normal School in the State. It has become very popular with those who desire a good practical English education. Those who have pursued studies in other good schools, and wish to take advanced standing in this as well as any other of the courses laid down in this Catalogue, can do so by presenting a certificate of scholarship in the schools which they have left. In addition to the regular course of normal study, lectures on the theory and practice of teaching are given by the President and prominent educators of the State actually in the work of teaching; so that the student not only obtains a good education, but also learns the most advanced and best methods of instruction. The success with which graduates from this school are meeting in almost every county of the State, and in other States and Territories, is of great encouragement to the authorities of this institution. With the increased facilities for board and cheap living for students, not excelled anywhere, the outlook for a very large attendance was never so hopeful.

Those who complete the course will be able to pass an examination for a Life Diploma in the State of Oregon, or for other grades of certificates, both state and county. It will be seen that this course embraces more studies that are included in the list for the highest State Diploma. Branches required for a State and Life Diploma.

THEOLOGY.

Rev. Nehemiah Doane, D. D., Lecturer.

At the beginning of last year, a Lectureship in Theology was established for the purpose of furnishing students who are preparing for the Christian ministry as their life work, increased facilities for acquiring such preparation.

This department comprises instruction in the external, internal, collateral, and experimental evidences of Christianity, and in all the Doctrines and Duties set forth in the Holy Scriptures, following the order usually pursued in extended treatises on these subjects.

The design is, to adapt these lectures, as much as possible, to the capacity of all classes of students, whether they are more or less advanced in their studies. Nearly thirty students, preparing for the ministry, have been benefited by these lectures during the past year.

ANCIENT LANGUAGES.

Rev. Thomas Van Scoy, D. D., Professor.

Five recitations a week through four years, and three recitations a week for one, are given in the Latin language and literature. For the first three years, the grammar is constantly taught, together with Latin Prose, composition, and the reading of the standard authors. In the second and third years, special attention is given to construction and formation of sentences. The fourth and fifth years are devoted mainly to the literature of the language and reading the best authors. The same method is pursued with the Greek. In addition to the classic literature, one recitation a week during a year is given to the study of Hellenistic Greek and the reading of selections from the New Testament. The study of Hebrew is continued for one year. Most of this time is spent upon the structure of the language. The student is able to read selections from the Bible during about half the year, and obtains such a knowledge of the language that he is able readily to pursue it by his own effort.

MATHEMATICS.

T. C. Jory, A. M., Professor.

The course embraces Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry with its usual applications, Analytical Geometry, and Calculus.

Thorough instruction is given in the principles of these branches, with a view to the development of the power of independent thought and original investigation. In addition, therefore, to a careful study of the demonstrations and solutions furnished in the text-books, original demonstrations of many theorems are required, and the most important conclusions of the mathematicians are carefully traced to their sources, the definitions and axioms on which they ultimately depend.

Finally : in order to develop a habit of careful attention to details, without which progress is difficult and excellence impossible, correctness, conciseness and neatness are required in all class exercises, both oral and written.

ART DEPARTMENT.

W. E. Mitchell, Principal.

Miss Marie Craig, Instructor.

Information.

This work is in charge of accomplished instructors. Drawing and design are taught, as also painting in all its branches.

It is hoped that the friends of art culture will aid in the equipment of a studio with gifts of casts, specimens of pottery, art works and charts.

Decorative art is made a specialty. When the weather is suitable.

ble, the pupils of the department are taken by their teacher to sketch from nature. Many of them make very rapid progress. Pupils are first taught pattern drawing, then put at the more difficult work of drawing from objects. Afterward they are allowed to advance to paintings in India Ink, and Sepia and Oil Painting.

At present, this department of work is made to supplement the course in literature and art, for the completion of which the degree of Bachelor of Literature is conferred. It is hoped from the present success of art work in the University, soon to be able to outline a curriculum and award honors for advancement in this with its correlated branches of study.

The Art Department and Conservatory of Music comprise the work designed to be done under the auspices of the Woman's College.

NATURAL HISTORY AND LITERATURE.

Wm. S. Arnold, A. M., Professor.

Quite a large collection of fossils, minerals, etc., is provided for the aid of the teacher in imparting the most practical knowledge of Geology and Mineralogy.

Zoology and Botany are illustrated by a great many specimens of Natural History gathered from various parts of the country; most of the animals and birds of Oregon, and neighboring States, are represented by stuffed specimens, nicely mounted. Physiological charts, a superior manakin, skeleton bones and other material, render the advantages for the study of Physiology most excellent.

The most thorough work is done in English Literature, Political Economy and Book-keeping, as well as other kindred studies in a business education.

The object in this Department, is not only to familiarize the student with the text book, but also to make him an intelligent observer of the works of nature about him.

SCIENCE.

Rev. S. A. Starr, A. M., B. D., Professor.

Throughout the entire Junior year, instruction is given in mechanics, hydrostatics, acoustics, electricity, heat and optics. The text book used is physics in Snell's Olmstead.

During the first and second terms of the Junior year, instruction is given in organic and inorganic chemistry, and during the second term qualitative analysis is taken up, and the students are made familiar with chemical reactions, and acquire skill and precision in chemical manipulations; each student performs his operations and makes his investigations under the immediate supervision of the Professor.

In the Academy, the last two terms of the third year, the class study Steele's Descriptive Astronomy, and are made familiar with the constellations of the heavens, visible in our latitude, during the year; and in the College the Senior class receive instruction in Loomis' Mathematical Astronomy, during the last two terms of the year.

In the department of Philosophy, the subjects taught are the facts of mental phenomena: embracing the cognitions, feelings and conative powers; the laws of thought; the philosophy of the beautiful and good; the history of philosophy; the evidences of Christianity and the analogy of Bishop Butler.

ELOCUTION.

Miss Nettie L. Brown, Instructor.

This line of study is in the charge of a teacher who has made this important branch a special work. The students are arranged in classes, and special drill is given to each one to develop the vocal organs, by which a great ease and variety of utterance is attainable. Much care is taken also to acquire a proper emphasis and expression to voice, feature and gesture, in order to bring out and impress the full meaning of the author. Public exercises are appointed frequently during the year, in which the students render such pieces as will make a first-class entertainment, and at the same time give confidence and readiness in delivery. By this method the poorest readers have, in a short time, not only become good readers, but have been able to render before an audience, in an excellent manner, very difficult pieces.

About one hundred of the students have received special elocutionary instruction during the present year. These students are excused from the regular duty of declaiming in the various sections appointed for this work under the other teachers.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

Miss Bertha Moores, B. S., Instructor.

German and French are taught in this department. From one to two years are spent on each of these languages. In the Modern Literature course, and in the Latin Scientific, the study of these two languages is continued through two full years. After completing the course in the grammar and reading exercises, the most popular and standard authors are taken up, and the student is made acquainted with the very best German and French literature. Care is also taken to make the student acquainted with a vocabulary of words in common use, so as to render the task of learning to converse in these languages as easy and practicable as possible.

ENGLISH.

Miss Minnie Cunningham, B. S., Instructor.

This work comprises a thorough training in those common English branches preparatory to entering upon the more advanced courses of study. Many parents prefer to send their children to the University, while yet quite young, in order to have the advantage of being regularly trained for the higher courses in the same institution, and in order to obtain the benefits of association with older and more advanced school-mates. The department of Common English has been provided for such pupils. While pursuing these branches, and while they are constantly mingling with those in advance of themselves, these younger pupils become enthusiastic to continue their study, and a very large per cent. of them go on into the higher grades.

Vocal Culture, Piano, Organ, Violin, Harmony and Class Teaching.

FRANKIE JONES, PRINCIPAL PIANO DEPARTMENT,

Piano, Organ and Harmony.

EVA COX,

Piano, Organ and Thorough Bass.

LULU SMITH, ASSISTANT TEACHER.

Information.

The Conservatory of Music affords facilities for a thorough and symmetrical education in the theory and practice of music. The value of music as an element of culture depends very largely upon the other elements of culture, literary and scientific, acquired with it. It is, therefore, advised that the pupils in music pursue at the same time some other study or studies in one of the departments of the University. An exclusive musical education will, however, be given to those who desire it, and instruction may be taken for any longer or shorter time. Special opportunities will be afforded to those who desire to fit themselves for the profession, either as artists or teachers.

Pupils have the choice of two courses : the Virtuoso and the Post Graduate. The Virtuoso course requires the pupil to have a thorough knowledge of the Theory of Music, including Harmony, Single Counterpoint, History of Music, including a familiarity with the lives and works of the Great Masters ; to become an artist upon some instrument or as a singer.

The Post Graduate course adds to the Virtuoso course the study of Double Counterpoint and Fugue, Orchestration, and continued studies in advanced piano-forte playing and voice training, preparing the student for the degree of Bachelor of Music in Course.

By attending the Conservatory, pupils are brought under the influence of systematic teaching, and in the associating with other pupils are stimulated to more earnest effort. The instruction given is according to the methods now in use in the best eastern Conservatories. Persons on this coast who desire a complete and satisfactory course in Music need not be at the expense of going East. Salem is well adapted as a city for a school of Music. The society in Salem is of the very best, and all influences are of an elevating character.

The Conservatory has ample facilities for all who wish the best instruction, having at present five teachers, five pianos, three organs—one being a fine pedal instrument. All pupils are advised and encouraged to take a regular course and graduate.

The free advantages deserve special mention. They are equivalent to fifty free lessons each year if pupils take the advantage of them. 1st. Public rehearsals are held twice each term, at which pupils of the proper advancement appear in songs and instrumental solos, four and eight-hand pieces. 2d. Lectures upon Musical History, etc., are given occasionally. 3d. Pupils of the fourth and fifth grades will receive two terms one lesson each week in methods of teaching. 4th. Chorus rehearsals are held once a week. 5th. Pupils have access to the Conservatory Library.

Visitors are always welcome, and are invited to come and see the regular work of the pupils.

Branches Taught.

Instruction is given on the Piano, Organ, Violoncello, Violin.

In Notation and Rudiments of Music, Solo singing in Italian, German and English.

Harmony, including Counterpoint and Fugue, Orchestration.

Art of Teaching Vocal Music in the Public Schools.

Oratorio and Chorus Practice.

Class Teaching.

The class system of teaching music is very popular wherever it has been thoroughly tested. When not more than two or three pupils of equal grade receive lessons in a class, the improvement is generally equal to private instruction.

Reading Classes.

Pupils have the advantage of Reading Classes once or twice each week. This will enable them to become better readers and strict timeists.

Course of Instruction.

The course of study in the College of Law occupies two years, the students being divided into two classes, the Junior and Senior.

The daily exercises consist of lectures and recitations from standard text-books, the latter being accompanied by oral explanations.

The student will be frequently referred to the leading cases on the subject under consideration, and required to be prepared for questions upon them at the next exercises; they will also be encouraged to put questions freely to the instructors at all recitations.

Moot courts will be held regularly, at which one of the professors will preside, and the students will act as counsel. The students will be required to draw all the necessary pleadings according to the common law or equity forms, as the case may be, and discuss their sufficiency.

The plan of study comprises various branches of common law, equity, jurisprudence, commercial, international, constitutional, criminal and maritime law.

The first year of the course is devoted to the study of general commentaries upon municipal law, the law of contracts, of real estate and commercial law.

The second year includes equity, jurisprudence, the law of torts, criminal law, evidence, pleading and practice.

The principal text-books to be used in the course are Blackstone's Commentaries, Tiedman on Real Property, Kent's Commentaries, Parsons on Contracts, Cooley on Torts, Bispam's Equity, Wharton's Criminal Law, latest edition ; Greenleaf on Evidence, Chitty on Pleadings, Vol. I., Bliss on Code Pleading and Daniel on Negotiable Instruments.

Other text-books will be used for reference and illustration.

It is believed that a number of students can obtain positions in law offices in Salem and get the use of books free of charge.

Students will find their own books.

State Library.

Students have free access to the State Library, which contains a large collection of law text-books and complete set of the United States Supreme Court Reports, and the reports of nearly all the States and Territories.

The Courts.

The Supreme Court of this State holds all of its sessions in Salem, and sits nearly the whole school year. The Circuit and County Courts have regular sessions in this place. Students can attend these Courts when cases of importance are being tried, and become familiar with legal business.

Lectures.

Members of the Faculty will, in addition to the ordinary expositions given during recitations, deliver lectures upon important legal topics when deemed advisable, and also eminent members of the bar from different parts of the State will deliver lectures to the students occasionally.

Examinations.

In addition to the examinations which will occur at the beginning and close of the year, the classes will be examined as frequently as the Faculty may deem it advisable.

Students desiring to enter the Junior class will be examined as to their qualifications on the third Tuesday of September, and they must at the same time, unless they are personally known to some member of the Faculty, present certificates showing that they are possessed of good moral character.

Graduation and Degrees.

Students who have pursued the full course of study, and have passed satisfactory examinations and complied with the rules of the College of Law, will be recommended by the Faculty for graduation, and the corporation will confer upon them the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Admission to the Bar.

The Faculty confidently hope that arrangements will be made by which graduates of this College will be admitted to the bar of all the Courts of this State without examination.

Attendance and Deportment.

It is desirable that all students enter the school at the beginning of the year.

All students will be expected and required to attend all recitations of their respective classes, and to pursue their studies diligently, except when excused from so doing by sickness or other good cause.

Students will be expected and required to conduct themselves with propriety, and to refrain from intemperance, gambling, and other misconduct, and to obey all rules and regulations adopted by the Faculty or Trustees.

Classes.

Students will not be admitted to the Junior class unless they possess at least a good common school education, and, if they have not received a degree from some college of art, they must satisfy the Faculty that they possess such education. A knowledge of Latin is desired, but not required.

The students who pursue their studies at this school for one year and pass a satisfactory examination in all the studies of the Junior year, will be admitted to the Senior class.

Students who have pursued the study of law a year in some other college of law, or have studied law under a competent instructor for at least one year, and pass a satisfactory examination by the Faculty of this College in the branches taught in the Junior year or their equivalents, may be admitted to the Senior class.

Scholastic Year.

The school year begins on the third Wednesday in September of each year, and ends on the third Wednesday in May, and this year constitutes one term. Students will not be admitted for a shorter period than one year.

Expenses.

The charges for tuition will be $50 per annum for the first year, one-half of which must be paid or secured at the beginning of the year. A fee of $5.00 will be charged at graduation to those receiving diplomas.

Board and lodging can be obtained at reasonable rates.

The 23d annual course of Lectures will commence on Tuesday October 9, 1888, and continue six months. Commencement exercises for conferring degrees will be held Monday, April 8, 1889. There will be a vacation from December 22nd to January 2nd. Lectures will also be suspended on Thanksgiving Day.

The present organization of the school embraces fifteen working teachers, most of them instructors of long experience, and men of extensive observation in the several departments to which they are assigned. They are thus enabled to unite the theoretical and scientific with the positive and practical, making the lectures complete in all the departments of medicine.

In the plan of instruction adopted in this institution, clinical teaching occupies an important and prominent position; the practical subjects presented in the scholastic course being fully illustrated at the bedside.

The scholastic lectures are given in the main amphitheatre of the college, in the eight branches of Medical Science, viz.: Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Surgery, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Obstetrics, and Diseases of Women and Children. In the practical branches, there is also given clinical instruction, for which excellent facilities are afforded by the College Dispensary, which has been established solely with a view to affording additional advantages for students of the college.

The Portland Hospital, the largest and best appointed institution of the kind on the Pacific Coast, will soon be in course of construction, it will be three stories high, heated with steam, lighted with electricity and supplied with an Otis Elevator. It will be exclusively under the control of the Faculty, affording ample clinical advantages.

THE NEW COLLEGE BUILDING.—This elegant structure in all its appointments is completely adapted to Medical teaching. It is situated on Fourteenth and C streets, near the geographical centre of the city, and is convenient to the city hospitals and several street-car lines.

On the first floor are the clinical lecture room, of ample size, with drug room, etherizing room, and waiting room adjoining, and a spacious, well-lighted and handsomely finished museum; also, gentlemen's cloak room and toilet and janitor's apartments.

On the second floor is the main amphitheatre, well lighted and ventilated, capable of seating one hundred and fifty students.

Opening out of this are the chemical laboratory, anatomical rooms, library, and faculty rooms; also, ladies' cloak room and toilet.

On the third floor is the dissecting room, lighted from above and from all sides, thoroughly ventilated, well supplied with water, and with accommodations for twenty tables.

Terms of Admission.

The requirements for admission are :

1. Creditable certificates of good moral character. 2. Diploma of graduation from a good literary and scientific college or high school, or a first grade teacher's certificate. Or, lacking this, a thorough examination in the branches of a good English education, including Mathematics, English composition, and Elementary Physics or Natural Philosophy.

The diploma or certificate must be presented to the Dean of the Faculty, who may (if any doubt exists in regard to qualifications of applicant) subject him to an examination.

Admission of Women.

Women will be admitted on the same terms and have the same advantages as men.

Terms.

The fee for a full Course of Lectures is $120; Matriculation ticket (paid but once), $5; Demonstrator's ticket for each course $10; Graduation fee, $30. Tickets for one or any of the Departments may be had separately at $20 each, with Matriculation fee paid but once.

Students who have paid for two full courses in this school, are entitled to attend free of charge thereafter.

No variation is made, under any circumstances, from the established fees of the college.

The Expense of Living in Portland, Etc.

The expense of living in the city of Portland will, of course, vary according to the views and habits of students. At the present time, good board, including lodging, fire and light, may be had at a convenient distance from the College, at from $4 to $6 per week. Pains are taken to provide a list of boarding-houses in the vicinity of the College to suit the wishes and means of students.

Persons desiring further information are requested to address the Dean of the Faculty.
