A Cappella Choir

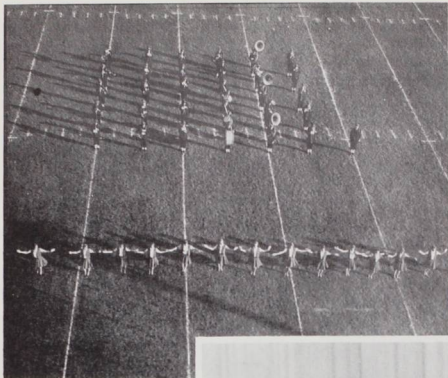

The sixty voices of the Willamette University choir contributed exciting musical excellence at many student and public programs.

Thrice weekly rehearsals were necessary to maintain the choir's high standards of perfection.

Male members of the band highlighted most half-time entertainment with their synchronized marching. The Honeybears can be seen in the foreground.

Band

The Willamette University Band, with its precision marching and outstanding musicianship, presented many fine programs of musical interest.

Orchestra

The Willamette University Orchestra, under the skillfull direction of CHARLES YUKL, entertained hundreds in both campus and outside performances.

Caught at an informal moment, orchestra members put in a few of the many hours of rehearsal which they spent in perfecting a piece.

College of Law

A Law School produced cartoon mocked the manner in which faculty members obtain exam material.

GETTING MATERIAL FOR EXAM QUESTIONS

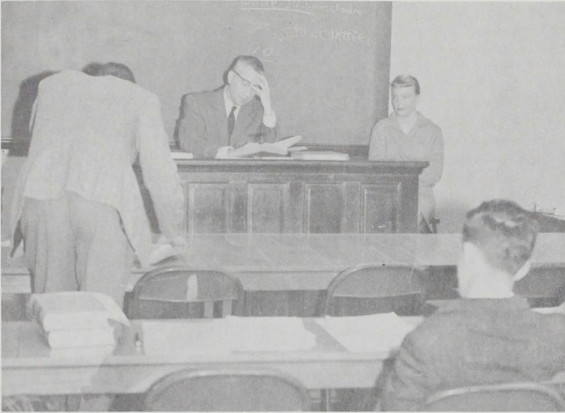

Prior to their national victory, the Law School moot court team gained experience by presenting their case before a convocation.

Law School members held their annual dance at the Marion Hotel.

Trial Practice

Serving as a witness, KAY JOHNSON was one of the many students that helped serve in the law school trial practices as either a witness or jury member.

PROFESSOR COURTNEY ARTHUR served as the "judge" for the trial practices. The practices were held to give 3rd year law students practical trial experience.

Phi Delta Phi

The first professional fraternity in America, Phi Delta Phi, was founded in 1869 to promote a higher standard of professional ethics and culture in law schools and in the profession at large. In its thirteenth year on the Willamette campus, McNary Inn of Phi Delta Phi has continued an active and successful program designed to advance these standards. Active membership in this international legal fraternity is limited to those students with high scholastic achievement.

Posing for an "informal" shot are this year's members of Phi Delta Phi.

Delta Theta Phi

The members of Delta Theta Phi took time out from their studies for a "shot for posterity."

Delta Theta Phi, national legal fraternity for law students showing excellence in scholarship, promotes high scholastic standards and the maintenance of professional ethics within the legal field. This year, the fraternity presented awards to deserving and outstanding members and sponsored many social activities for members and guests throughout the school year.

Tuesday and Thursday mornings found the Wallulah staff busily planning the yearbook which you are now reading.

Blotter

Examining the finished product of their publishing efforts are MARY JOHNSON, assistant blotter editor, and BOB BURROW, editor. Besides preserving the desk tops of hundreds of Willamette-ites, the blotter served as a directory to a number of Salem businesses.

Fusser's Guide

In his typically accurate fashion, STEVE TAYLOR, Fusser's Guide editor, checks for mistakes before sending in the final proofs for the GUIDE. The miniature telephone directory was perhaps the handiest Willamette publication.

Publications Board Manager

Parents Weekend

Parents, like all WU students, had to wait their turn in the registration line.

The barbeque, originally scheduled as an outdoor activity, was moved into the gym because of Oregon's typical liquid sunshine.

A new feature of Parent's Weekend this year was Varsity Varieties, previously a part of Homecoming.

The Alpha Chi's, in keeping with their Scotch plaid theme, sang "Comin' Thru the Rye" as a brisk opener to the women's division of the All Campus Sing.

In accordance with wishes rather than actions, the SAE's sang the "Drinking Song" from The Student Prince.

The Beta's served their parents dinner at the house before the big game, as did the other living organizations on campus.

Homecoming

HOMECOMING HOSTESS
JO McNARY

Homecoming Manager, GREG MILNES, presented the Homecoming Hostess with a gift from the student body.

Dean Reese of the College of Law was guest speaker at the alumni meeting at Waller Hall.

The after-game tea, held at Doney Hall, saw alumni chatting and reminiscing over the "good old days".

Autumn leaves set the scene for the semi-formal Homecoming Dance.

A dark, damp 5 a.m. found large groups of hard working freshmen diligently raking leaves while the sophomores supervised the job.

Ugly Man, TERRY KENT (right front), "formally" posed with the rest of the Ugly Man candidates.

The freshmen succeeded in building and guarding their bonfire against the ruthless sophomores who tried earnestly to find the wood supply before the scheduled firing.

Successful again, the freshmen managed to climb the pole, slick with grease, and rescue the rook lid nailed to the top.

Christmas Festivities

A visit from St. Nick highlighted the Baxter Hall Christmas party given for underprivileged children.

The annual Lausanne Christmas tea found students and parents visiting the hall.

The orchestra and choir presented a concert of Christmas music to spark the holiday season.

Strains of "Sleigh Bells" were heard as the men of Boxter Hall caroled at the women's living organizations, presenting them with a Christmas wreath.

Mock Democratic Convention

Looking never the worse for the wear was DAVE KENT, Platform Chairman, from Portland State College. His committee worked all night trying to get a platform to suit the northerners and southerners. It was in vain, however, for the South walked out of the convention in objection to the strong civil rights platform.

Temporary Chairman, PETE BLEWETT welcomed the delegates to the convention. ALDEN BESTE, of Portland State was elected permanent chairman. Others on the platform were DR. HAWES, who delivered the invocation, MR. STRAUB, Oregon Democratic Party chairman, who gave the keynote speech, DR. SMITH, and FRAN FARLEY, secretary.

Exuberant New England delegates from Willamette started their demonstration for John Kennedy as he was nominated for President. The convention ended in voting for compromise candidates Adlai Stevenson for President and Lyndon Johnson for Vice President.

[illegible]

At chapel during CR Week students heard DR. EDWARD HOBBS speak on the topic "News for the Dead."

"Perfect Fool"

The typical fairy tale ending of the princess who rejects all suitors for a "sleeping fool" was portrayed in a scene from "The Perfect Fool", one of the two operas presented on November 20 and 21.

"Marriage of Figaro"

The cast takes a low bow before the curtain falls on their performance of "The Marriage of Figaro."

The Caine Mutiny

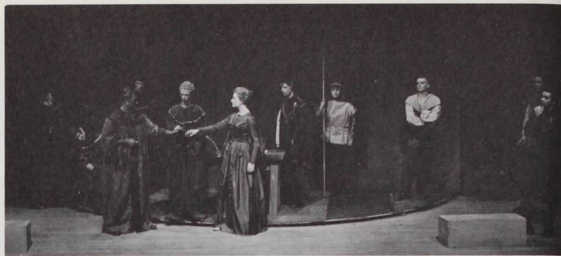

Lt. Stephen Maryk (GARY KRANENBERG), up for court martial, was questioned by prosecutor, Lt. Com. John Chaltee (ROSS STEPHEN).

Lt. Com. Philip Queeg (DON SCHUSSLER) showed signs of nervousness as he was cross-questioned by Lt. Barney Greenwald (TOM CAYLOR).

Cassio (DON COE) had come to ask Desdemona to persuade Othello to reinstate him as lieutenant. Iago (BOB HIGBEE), on the right, had started to plot unfaithfulness on the part of Desdemona. Also pictured was Emilia (MARTHA WYND), Iago's wife.

Feeling that Othello (TED ALEXANDER) had won his daughter fair and square, Brabantio (STEVE HONE) consented to the Moor's marriage to his daughter, Desdemona (SHARON DAVIS).

Brabantio accused Othello and ordered his men to capture him and take him away. Othello's men, however, moved in to protect him as he ordered them to stop fighting.

The Circle

Elizabeth (GAIL LARSEN) listened to her father-in-law (HOWARD HUNTER) expound on women in general, and his former wife in particular, in a scene from "The Circle".

Sign of Jonah

Pronouncing the judgment of "God is guilty" in the travelling play, "Sign of Jonah" were JULIAN THURSTON, DELLA ROGERS, ROSS STEPHEN, RAY WHITLOW, STEVE HONE, GARY KRANENBERG, MARTHA WYND, DON COE, HERB BASTUSCHECK, and CAROLE CARTWRIGHT.

Freshman Glee

GLEN DOWNS, Freshman Glee Manager

The sophomore class repeated their position of last year—fourth—with their "Seaswept Serenade", and four-pointed star formation.

With two hearts pierced in love, the juniors took first place again with "Spring in Our Hearts."

In their satire of the 1950's the Seniors included a cut-up of Mendes-France's milk campaign.

"Peanuts" complete with Good Ol' Charlie Brown and sister Sally was a big hit in Senior Cut-ups.

The freshmen, breaking the jinx of freshmen-in-fourth place, sang their way into second place with "Serenade in Black and White."

The seniors, third place winners for the third straight year, sang "Celestial Rhapsody" in a music staff formation.

The decoration committee, shown hard at work on the fourth floor of Waller, transformed the gym into an atmosphere for "Serenade."

BOB HAKALA, freshman class president, issued the challenge for glee to the other classes.

Assistant Glee Manager, DOUG SIMON

Still learning how to pivot, the sophomores took their turn at 6:00 a.m. practice.

Blue Monday

DR. SCHULZE, being repaid for his not mentioning the fourth place sophomores, got his shoes shined by bald NICKY FAX.

The sophomores made the traditional march of the losing class across the mill stream to the tune of "Boom Jason."

Victim of a Glee bet, KAREN SMITH leisurely "sacked out" in the lobby of Eaton Hall.

The snake dance, the newest sophomore sport, was performed by SUSIE WILLIAMS, accompanied by NANCY GRAY, in front of the Music School.

Two freshman girls, MARY ANN WRIGHT and SANDY CLINE, were served "breakfast in bed" by the losing half of their bet.

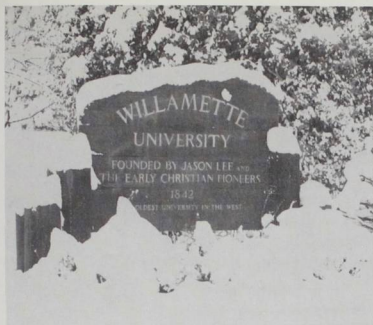

Varsity Ball Queen

LUCY HOLM

Snow Princess

CHRISTINE FRANZ

March came in like a lion this year with snow at her heels as the Willamette campus was blanketed for the second time.

Many Were Cold, Few Frozen

Fun took precedence over studying for finals as these WU students entered into snow combat.

As the novelty of snow on the campus wore off, loyal students walked the shoveled paths to class.

Not even a snow blizzard could keep enthusiastic Willamette students from trekking across the white expanses to attend chapel.

May Weekend Manager DICK BARTON

A panel discussion was held to enlighten the prospective freshmen. Members of the panel were DEAN BLAKE, JOHN BERGSTROM, DICK BARTON, JOANNE McGILVRA, and PAUL McGILVRA.

The traditional May pole dance was presented in the queen's honor by the freshmen women.

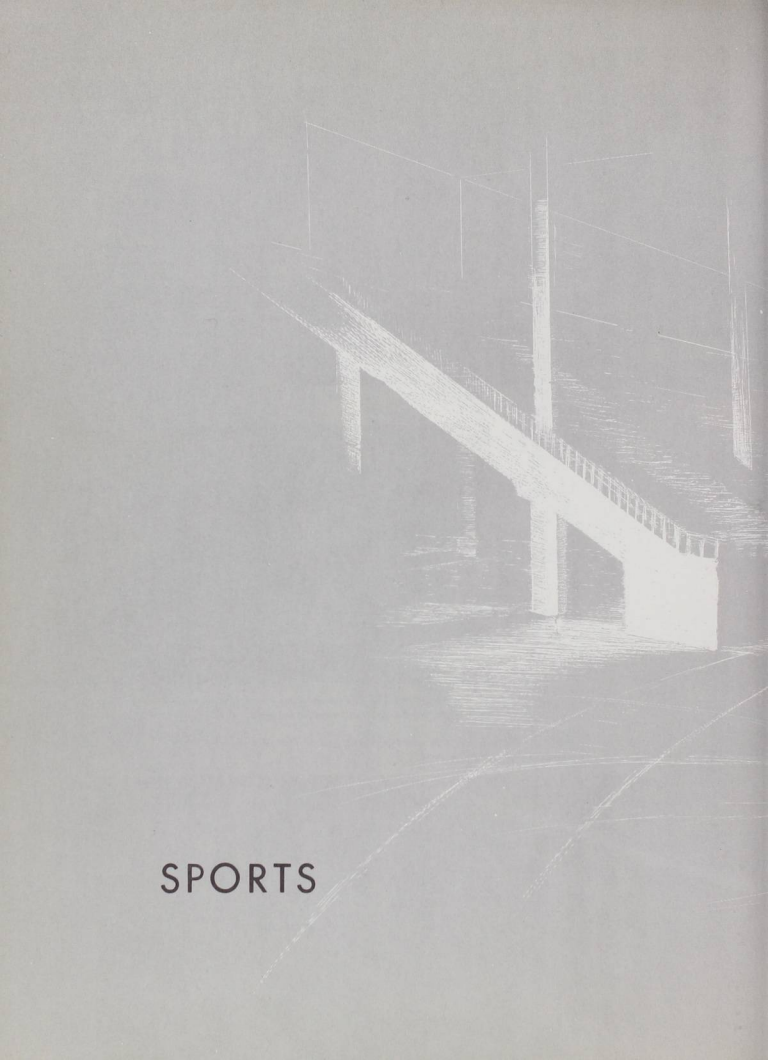

SHARLEEN JARRETT, from Meier and Frank's fashion department, checked last minute details with models PATTI MARTIN, PATTI WHELAN, and JEAN SHERWOOD for the AWS fashion show. Meier and Frank sponsored the show.

With one of the few sunny days of the year falling on May Weekend, it was possible to hold the barbecue outside on the quad.

Willamette students and high school guests enjoyed themselves at the May Weekend dance, "An Evening in Paris."

Track

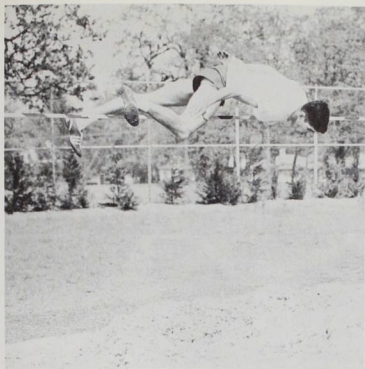

TED OGDahl, head track coach and organizer of the Willamette Relays, guided the WU track team to second place in the Northwest Conference track meet.

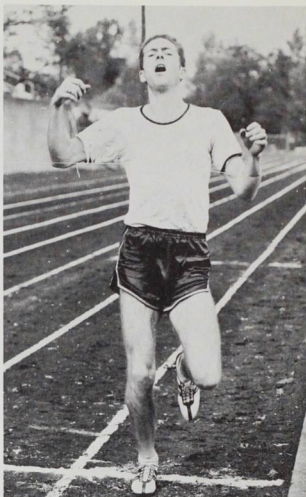

BOB ROY displayed his tremendous power and skill with the shot put. ROY holds the school record for the discus, with an impressive thrust of 162.5 feet, which gave him a berth in the NAIA finals.

A Whitman track man slashed the tape but STAN SOL-OMON was a close second, followed by JOHN BAKER, another WU man, at the Whitman meet.

This excellent form gave KEN ASHLEY the school record of 6'-5 1/4" in the high jump and a place in the NAIA finals.

Fleet BILL FAIRBANKS left competition far behind in winning the two-mile race against Whitman. FAIRBANKS also runs the mile.

With a look of determination, JIM ROBINSON hurled the discus far enough to place in the meet.

KEN ASHLEY stretched out and won the high hurdles event against Whitman.

Baseball

Pre-game strategy was planned out between Coach JOHN LEWIS and pitcher JERRY PFLUG, who was the only senior in the squad.

DICK KREBS added to the familiar spring scene at McCulloch field as he laced out one against Lewis and Clark.

Big GARY LEWIS, only a sophomore, stretched out for a throw which demonstrated his vast potential for the 1961 team.

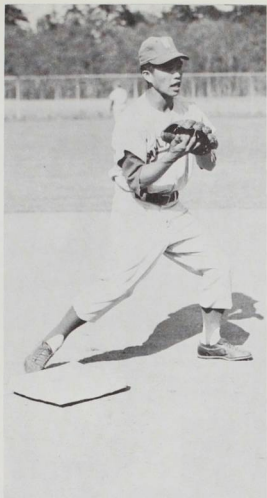

Sliding into second base, STU HALL avoided being tagged by a Pacific Badger.

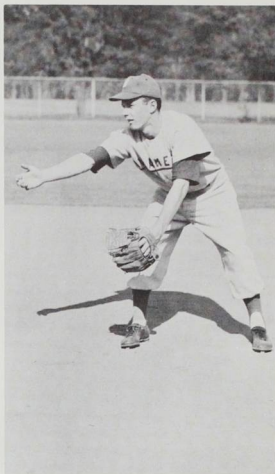

The main-stay bearcat pitching staff for the 1960 season included: JERRY PFLUG, FIDEL GAVIOLA, and TOMMY LEE.

SATO scrambled back to first base, after an attempt was made by the Pacific first baseman to tag him out.

He's out, as HISAIO SATO tagged second base in the Linfield game. SATO, along with TOMMY LEE, JIGGS BURNETT, and DAVE BROCK, was named to the All-Northwest Conference Baseball Team.

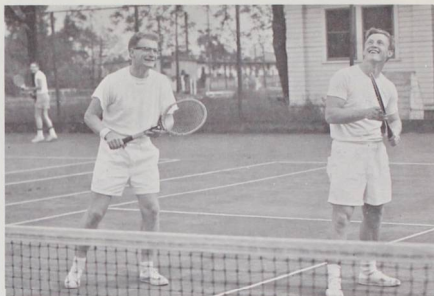

Filling the short-stop position this year was DENNY FRANK, a promising Freshman prospect for future Bearcat teams.

Awaiting their turns at batting and catching practice were: DAVE BEATON, DICK KREBS, JAN LOCKMAN, JIGGS BURNETT and DICK HAMADA.

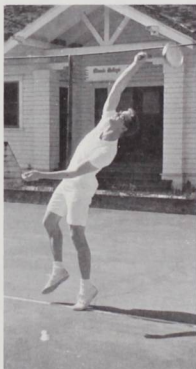

TIM CAMPBELL, number one man for Willamette and the Conference, demonstrated the overhead smash that was feared by all his opponents.

Willamette's number one doubles team, BOB BENNETT and TIM CAMPBELL, waited for a high ball from the opposing team during a match at Willamette. BOB and TIM also won top honors as a doubles team in the Conference meet.

Willamette's number two man, DALE DANIEL, displayed his favorite shot, the backhand.

GERRY WINNER wielded his powerful serve against Reed College in their match with Willamette.

BOB BENNETT proved to be an indispensable part of the team.

Tennis

Golf

RUSTY BEATON and JOE KARMOS showed the form that made them number one and two men on the Willamette Golf team.

Dear Grandma,
 School this year has really been great! Our G.-
 P. A. went up and so we went down (to the cold basement, that is) to celebrate. We decided that our pledge class was wonderful, our house didn't slide any further into the Mill Stream, and none of us were kicked out of school. There has been one bad deal, though, and that is that our bicycle seats were always wet since we had to tear down the bicycle shed. The rest of the time this house was kind of like a resort with breakfast in bed and then there were those ever-increasing, ever-nearing, and ever-loving ducks! All in all,
 it's been a terrific year—the best yet!

Love,
 Prunella

Fall '59 began on a hilarious note with the attempted kidnaping of Homecoming Hostess, Jo McNary by an able bodied group of Lewis and Clark cowards. When we weren't busy draining our flooded basement, we indulged in multitudinous activities such as: exercise sessions in the living room (after hours), hunting for contact lenses in various debris, and calling the Fire Department to investigate strange spirals of sinister smelling smoke at the Annex.

Our date dinner, Christmas Open House, Pledge Fun Nite, Housemother's Tea and House dances were howling successes. As a matter of fact our scholarship chairman howled for a week. C'est la vie!

The theme "Primitiva" set the African scene for an exotic fun-filled evening at the fall house dance. The social calendar was full as it extended into the second semester with the house's annual Owl Hoot when the house girls took the pledges to parts unknown! The spring brought happy as well as sentimental planning for the White Carnation Ball given in honor of the seniors. The year ended on a happy note with a casual "sweatshirt date party" in the great out of doors.

Log of H.M.S. Delta G.
June, 1960

Anchors aweigh, D.G., we're setting sail . . . As the H.M.S. Delta G adds a final touch of polish to the anchors, getting ship shape for a summer of smooth sailing, the Hannah crew takes a last look back at a few of the fun times in port. The highlight of the year was the fall house dance, held in Mountain View School, on Popcorn Hill. What a regression romp that was! D.G.'s did their part in helping the new "spontaneous function" plans get off to a good start with several root beer and popcorn gatherings. Our twenty new deck hands are wonderful—really did their part. The entire crew added a few new sparks to the D.'G. spirit at the retreat at Silver Falls. Spring brought flowers and other land-lubber things such as pins and engagement rings. Even though we are losing some valuable crew members to Dan Cupid, we did keep the scholarship trophy for the thirteenth consecutive semester.

And so the H.M.S. Delta G. is off, soon to return with her Happy Hannah Crew ready to return for another great year at Williamette.

In 1867 the Pi Phi's joined William Tell, Dan Cupid, the Indians, and the shirtmakers as bearers of the arrow. Since it struck Wilamette, it has pierced male hearts, shot its way into campus activities, plunged into projects, and has now taken deadly aim at the bright white street light near the front porch. You're apt to catch a Pi Phi racing to class on her trusty bike, daydreaming 'neath the pink tree in her front yard, hitting the books in the library — left side, playing a good game of bridge in the solarium, or scouting for the missing scissors, which promise a pinning serenade. She lives in a big white house, loves spring and lots of company, and will welcome you with a smile if you should happen to stop by.

Immediately following Dean Ewalt's annual search for a head baby-sitter for the Doney Hall tyrants, the social season at said address was in full swing with Mrs. Margaret McCutcheon in that position and Lynn Linforth as fall house president. With the exception of our fall house dance, Nero's Nest, our Christmas tea and open house, we won nothing, were congratulated for nothing, and participated in nothing. Ironically, climaxing the winter season, the only Doney resident to snag a husband was Housemother McCutcheon.

Dean Ewalt promptly phoned the Wee Tot Babysitting Service, and with Miss Lois Latimer safely installed as housemother and Tee West as spring house president, we began a second semester full of whirlwind activities—the dust storm type. Having spent the semester going in circles, we fittingly called our spring dance Carousel. To counteract our fall activity record, we became socially aware and copped the coveted trophies for the Most Easy to Sneak Out of Living Organization and outstanding work on the Open-Door Policy.

Last year
After confused Freshmen became oriented
Unusual things began to happen.
Stolen doors, lost animals, guinea pigs, snowballs, fire trucks,
And the more common "weekends", fire drills, dances, and serenades kept the dorm hopping with excitement.
Never was there a dull moment all year!
None will forget the numerous rules, the demerits, the house-

Eternal adventure in good old Lausanne!

The keynote for this year in "woogland" was efficiency. Mike Myers won the year's scholastic efficiency award with his yard-long eversharp which need be refilled only once every four months. However, we have been unable to present Mike with the award since he emerges from his room only for short periods every four months.

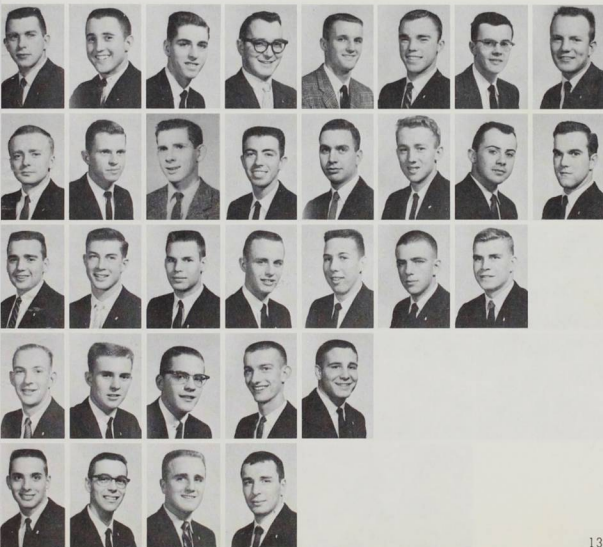

Outstanding genius was demonstrated by Hugh Stites by his efficient construction of a makeshift staircase from the first to the second floor of the house, rendering possible our split-level fall house dance.

Our efficiency in reducing the time required for intra-mural sports was monumental. But our lust for efficiency reached its peak of expression in the reduction of the weekly scholarship trophy services from thirty minutes to fifteen minutes.

Scholarship chairman, Ron Gerbing, spearheaded our drive for efficiency — barricading rooms, hiding clothes, puncturing tires, and in general discouraging the brothers from leaving the house for dates or other nonsense. Ron's most brilliant policy was the removal of vacuum tubes to suppress television viewing and hi-fi listening. At the close of finals week we playfully burned Ron in Effigy, a small town eight miles east of Salem.

Oregon Gamma chapter of Phi Delta Theta had an extraordinary year of activity on the Willamette campus. The most publicized event was the annual pledge sneak, which proved more burdensome than expected to unaware members and administration alike.

Dante's Inferno was the theme of our fall semester house dance, and contrary to some beliefs, this title was not intended to mimic the atmosphere the administration sets on this campus. All who attended had an excellent time.

Instead of the annual Christmas party given by our mother's club we were surprised by a gala Valentine's Day party which was received very enthusiastically. Other spring activities included Project Day, Alumni Banquet, the beach trip and the informal house dance.

This summer a number of Phis are planning to motor to Houston, Texas, to attend the national fraternity convention. We are only hoping that we beat President Smith there.

The men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon would like to dedicate this page to the Administration of Willamette — without it we might have had more fun than ever before. Oregon Gamma of Sigma Alpha Epsilon started its eleventh year at Willamette with the usual con game and eventually found itself with thirty-one of the best pledges available. This in itself speaks for the high quality of lines handed out by the brothers this year in their endeavors toward better extra-curricular activities.

The most memorable event of the year was the crowning of the third Queen of Violets, Miss Elizabeth Keyser, at the annual Violet Ball. Capturing the most beautiful girls of Willamette's campus at the Kidnap Dinner was the start of a process which led us to our Queen. We would all like to kidnap girls every weekend, but the Dean of Students frowns on this sort of activity.

Delta Zeta chapter of Sigma Chi was preceded on the Willamette campus by a local, Sigma Tau. Sigma Chi has grown to over 155 chapters throughout the U. S. since its founding in 1855.

A very active fall was highlighted by the selection of our Sweetheart and her court at the annual Sweetheart dance, a Christmas tree serenade, firesides and a province conference in Portland with the chapters of Sigma Chi in the Northwest.

Spring weather picnics, house dances and open houses were always welcome activities.

Baxter and South Hall

First semester found members feeding certain Lausanne women a line. It was found communication could occur at all hours, if the batteries were connected. After some time a violent storm in the vicinity of Eaton Hall put Baxter Hall out of commission An early event in the year was a tea honoring our new Housemother. The Fall house dance, "Scarlet" was enjoyed by all, with the exception of a dozen paint-dipped worms which participated in the painting of the abstract wall-murals. . . . Our twelve-man chorus supplemented our regular serenades and also had the opportunity of presenting a special serenade to our winning candidate for Betty Coed When the Willamette Chimes ceased to function shortly before Christmas, Baxter Carillon appeared, keeping the campus entertained (?) in Christmas music Included in the various Spring semester activities was the house dance followed by the always-popular Beach trip.

Adieu '60

President SMITH spoke at the mid-year graduation ceremonies which were held in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

For the fourth and final time the class of 1960 prepared to enter Freshmen Glee; however, this was only after "G. Herb" BEATON had persuaded the class that tradition required their participation. Thus after a week of diligent practice on "Celestial Rhapsody," the seniors concentrated on more important matters, namely cut-ups. Presenting "adieu to you Willamette," to the tune of "The Old Historic Temple," the class of '60 vowed to "attend all parties thrown by Smilin' Charlie Paeth." Then their "moon" promptly rose over the horizon, and landed in third place, again, after having taken the banner as freshmen.

Sunday June 5, 1960, marked the end of another four year college span, as the class of '60 marched to the stage to receive their degrees from President Smith.

Degrees in hand, graduates filed off the stage and returned to their seats for the recessional.

CLUBS AND HONORARIES

Mortar Board

One of the greatest honors possible for any senior woman student on the Willamette campus is to be selected to membership in Mortar Board. This senior honorary requires a four-year grade point average of 3.0. The coed's activities on campus are also a deciding factor.

ANN FIELDS, SYLVIA QUIRING, and JANE DEDRICK talk with WILLIE SNOW ETHRIDGE at a tea given in her honor.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa is an organization on campus comprised of junior and senior men who have shown outstanding participation in campus activities. Willamette's Expansion Program

Amid the various rumors that have circulated around campus, concerning the proposed Student Union building, a new men's dormitory, etc., one became a reality in September of 1959 when final plans were drafted for the two upper class independent women housing units, pictured at right. These units will house sophomore, junior and senior independent women after one year of residence. The contemporary design, drawn by Willamette's architect James L. Payne, integrated the two 45- women units into one compact structure, yet each retains its own individual facilities, such as a patio, dining room and a living room.

As of May 25, 1960, construction work was well under way as the picture below illustrates, with scheduled completion for one of the units set for fall of 1960.

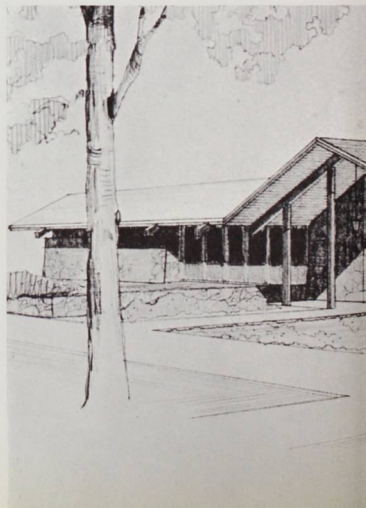

Under a long range plan, the purpose of the University will be to retain the intimate atmosphere of a residential college with at least 75% of the student body housed in campus living groups. As housing becomes available, the enrollment in Liberal Arts and Music will be increased from 1000 to 1250 students. Of this number, approximately 525 will be women and 725 men.

In furthering this goal, the construction of a new men's dormitory to house 240 men was scheduled to begin July 1, 1960, and the building ready for occupancy in the fall of 1961.

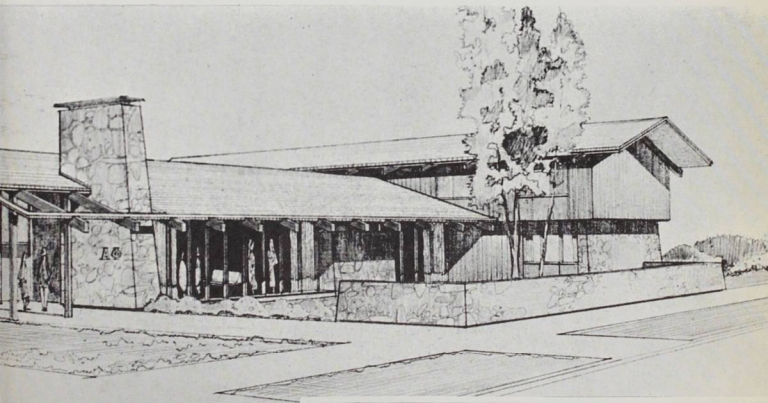

Located just south of Baxter Hall, the new dormitory will include a wing to house upper class independent men, the center section for freshmen men, and the right wing, as per the picture at the left, to house two new national fraternities, which were yet to be selected.

In planning for the future development of women's sorority housing, the Board of Trustees of the University proposed a development program providing for the University to supply a suitable location for building sites which would be leased on a 99 year basis by the sorority. Here again the houses would be designed by the University architect James L. Payne for harmony and continuity. Each sorority would be designed to house from 40 to 48 women students plus a housemother.

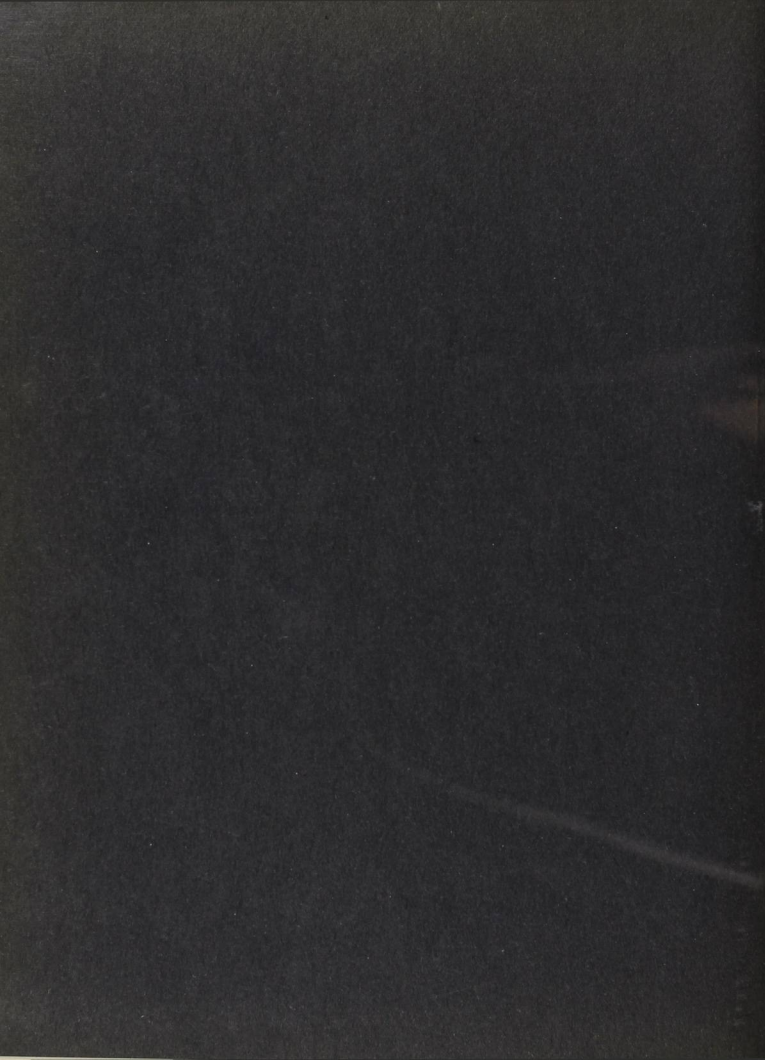

The proposed financial program for the finance of such living organizations would include both the sorority and the University.
