

A high point in the May Weekend play "Seven Keys to Baldpate" is portrayed here by Dave Finley, who plays a crooked mayor, Bob Alfred, who takes the part of a hermit who hates the world, and Ted Primrose, who plays a gunman. While Alfred holds a gang of crooks at gun-point Primrose sneaks up behind him and wrestles the gun from him. The play goes on to a surprise climax and promises to be entertaining to all, according to Professor Robert Putnam, drama director.

Putnam Sets Three-Night Run For 'Seven Keys to Baldpate'

George M. Cohan's "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will open Wednesday evening at 8:15 in Waller hall with performances also scheduled for Thursday and Friday nights. Willamette students are urged to attend either of the first two performances in order to provide room for visiting high school guests Friday.

Student body cards will be honored only after 8:10 Friday night. Admission for the general public will be 75 cents.

The plot of this year's May weekend production is based on the bet taken by a novelist that he can write a novel in 24 hours. To win the bet, the writer retired to a summer resort which has been closed for the winter.

In the 24 hours he is there, from one midnight to the next, he is interrupted by a steady stream of characters and un-nerving events, all questionably within the law.

"As the play progresses, tension mounts to a climax guaranteed to come as a complete surprise to the audience," Director Robert Putnam stated.

Judie Grant has been appointed production manager. Bill Hagmeyer is stage manager, and Ron Swanson designed the posters distributed in Salem.

Tour Highlight to Be Tito, Franco Talks

Exclusive interviews with Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia and Premier Franco of Spain will highlight a political science study tour, headed by Dean Mark Hatfield this summer.

Students from Willamette who are touring with Hatfield are Bill Schantz, Walter Dauber, Pete Loder, Paul Johnson and Harlan Brock.

Sponsored by Willamette university, the tour is booked through the Students' International Travel association and will leave from Montreal on the SS Ryndam June 19.

A study of the contrasting forms of European government with special emphasis upon England, France, Germany, Yugoslavia, Spain and Greece will be the main objective of the tour. Four to six hours of college credit may be earned by those who apply for it.

Dr. Thomas Bennett, philosophy professor, will also conduct a Willamette student tour of Europe this summer.

Convocation Quality Concern of Council

ASWU responsibility for administering Tuesday convocations prompted student council to declare Wednesday that the quality of the convocation programs should determine whether or not they be held.

A motion that "compulsory Tuesday convocations be held only when outstanding events, speakers or programs are available, with such chapels to be publicized on a central chapel announcement board" passed by an 11 to 4 vote.

Purpose of the motion was to prevent programs being scheduled, irrespective of their merit, solely to fill in vacant convocation periods.

The convocation manager and his committee secure Tuesday programs, a responsibility granted the ASWU four years ago in response to student complaints of faculty management.

Petitions for next year's manager are due in the student body office by 4 next Wednesday afternoon. Appointment will be made by student council the following Wednesday.

Student council has also nominated seniors Daline Montag, Jane Notson and Margie Leonard for the Colonel Percy Willis prize of $25. One of the three will be named by the faculty, and the prize will be awarded in awards assembly in May.

Draft Deferments

Dean Mark Hatfield announced this week that students who desire draft deferment for the coming school year must request him to send the necessary forms to their draft boards before school is out. It is advised that this be done as soon as possible.

ASB Office Petitions Due Friday For Primary Elections May 10-11

All Reports But Weather Ready for May Weekend

With but one more week until the beginning of May Weekend and its many events, manager Tom Schrock was worried about only one thing—the weather. Plans for the many festivities have been arranged, but committee chairmen and manager Schrock can only hope that the recent spring weather will hold out.

"Hello, Salem," will be the parade theme, starting May Weekend Friday at 3 p.m. The Oregon Mounted Police will be a part of the parade, and every living organization will have a car, decorated in their house theme, in the procession.

Barbecue time will be 4:30 p.m. Friday, with entertainment planned by Jo Terhark. The theme will be a casting director's office, and Don Stoffer will be master of ceremonies for the entertainment.

Saturday morning the all-campus sing will be held, and the living organizations will sing a house song and a semi-classical song in the following order: Pi Beta Phi, led by Coralie Doughton; Chi Omega, with Sheila Schuerman leading; Delta Gamma, led by Rosemary Weaver; Alpha Chi Omega, and Carol Emerson leading; Lausanne-Bishop, led by Barbara Young. The men's groups are: Beta Theta Pi, led by Ron Hershberger; Phi Delta Theta, and Keith Mirick, song leader; Baxter hall, led by Walt Reid; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with Warde Sligh leading; and Sigma Chi, led by Page Bailey.

Queen Carolyn I will be crowned by Betty Jean Joseph at 1:30 Saturday. Mrs. Joseph, May queen of 1952, will take the place of last year's queen, Dona Mears Platenburg, who will be unable to attend.

T'nT at Ten

The Willamette university band, directed by Maurice Brennen, will be featured attraction for Tuesday convocation. Selections from their February tour program, including novelty numbers, will be presented during the performance.

Rev. Ernest P. Goulder, pastor of the Jason Lee Methodist church in Salem, will address next Thursday's chapel audience in the First Methodist church.

Publication Petitions Called for Editors

Petitions for the position of publication manager and editors of the Wallulah, Collegian and Fusers' Guide will be due next Friday at 3 in the student body office.

Cal Horn, present publications manager, said that the petitions should include a statement of purpose and the qualifications of the applicants.

The publications board, with the consent of the student council, will choose next year's publications officials from the applicants.

First Class Rating Earned by Collegian For Fall Semester

The Collegian was rated First Class among 444 college newspapers throughout the nation by the Associated Collegiate Press newspaper critical service. The judging included first semester issues through December. The total score was 1520, just 80 points short of the top All-American rating.

Sports coverage and editorial page features were marked superior and news stories and copy reading were rated excellent by the judge.

In Willamette's category as a weekly paper at a school with an enrollment of 751-1250, six of the 46 represented schools rated the superior All-American. Fourteen received the First Class decision.

Stan Nelson, now in the army, was Collegian editor until he was drafted in December, when he was replaced by Margie Leonard.

Summer School Registration Scheduled June 14 in Library

Registration for the summer school session of Willamette university will be held in the library from 9 a. m. to 12 noon on Monday, June 14.

Variety of Courses Offered

The eight-weeks session will begin on Tuesday, June 15, and last until August 6. During this time, classes will be offered in the following departments of the College of Liberal Arts: biology, chemistry, economics, education, English, history, physics, political science, and speech and drama. In the College of Music, courses leading to the degree of master of music education are being offered. Private lessons and other courses in music will also be given.

Three workshops are being presented at the summer session, each lasting four weeks. They are the advanced coaching methods and extra curricular activities workshops, both to be given during the first four weeks of the session, and improvement of instruction, to be offered during the last four weeks.

Four Posts Available To Upperclassmen

Petitions will be due next Friday at 4 in the student body office for student body president, first and second vice president, treasurer, secretary and yell king and queen. Petitions must bear the names of 25 members of the student body.

Upperclassmen Only

Gay Weeks, second vice-president, pointed out that all of the above offices except yell leaders must be filled by upper class students and that all candidates must be in good standing with the University.

"Women can run for any office and there is no limit to the number of candidates that can run for any office," Weeks said.

In Tuesday convocation May 4 nominating and campaign speeches will be given. The Collegian May 7 will carry the platform of each presidential candidate.

Primary elections will be May 10 and 11, with run-offs May 12 and 13. Results will be announced in the Collegian on May 14.

Duties of Vice Presidents

The duties of first vice-president include coordination of campus social activities and management of the social activities board. The second vice-president is in charge of running student body elections.

The student body member at large to the student council will also be selected at this election. The candidate who is defeated in the presidential run-off is named member at large.

Weeks commented, "It was recommended by Cap and Gown and Cardinal Key that the petition for the office of yell king or queen come from upperclassmen."

Mexican Tour Planned

This summer, a 24-day study tour of Mexico is being offered by the Salem YMCA. A trained sociologist will head the tour, and students who go on this trip and complete certain specified oral and written work may earn two or three hours credit in sociology. The entire trip from Salem and return will cover a five-weeks' period. Interested students are asked to contact Gus Moore at the Salem YMCA or Dean Robert Gregg.

Auditors are welcomed in all classes, as they are during the fall and spring semesters at Willamette. They may hear class lectures and discussions, but are not required to complete stated assignments or examinations.

Neither meals nor housing will be furnished by the University. It is requested that students who wish housing contact the dean of students early so that arrangements may be made for their housing in private residences or veterans' housing projects.

Four Years of Language?

To the student who finds spending two years in attempting to learn a modern language more than a chore, the recommendation of a four-year course may come as a kind of blow.

Speaking before a group interested in the extension of the Fulbright exchange program in Portland last weekend, David Wadlinger of the Institute of International Education recommended that the usual two-year language training program in liberal arts colleges be extended to four years.

It's simply that, as Mr. Wadlinger said and we, who take our French painfully but hopefully, agree, that the object of language training ought to be "proficiency" rather than mere "feeling." For about all the average student can learn in the two-year course is a hesitant familiarity with the language.

Language is such a part of a nation's culture that it can hardly be separated. It would seem that the key to highly desirable understandings of a culture by other cultures demands being able to talk in the language of that culture. Proficiency in another language, in a future where world citizenship looms in importance, ought to be the coming thing.

Our point would be that the key to one world is not erasing the cultural barriers that exist but a mutual understanding of them by parties at friction.

New Fad: Rhymes at Unspecial Times

By Babs Jackson
Campus Editor

Come on gang, get hep! The latest fad has hit the nation. In the last few months you may have noticed a new trend in greeting cards. No longer using sweet sticky sentiment on special occasions, today's greeting card is spontaneous and sarcastic. Perhaps lately you received a tender sentiment from some friend, advising you to "Drop Dead."

But the greeting card dealers have failed to see a large, untapped source of revenue. Enterprising students have failed to capitalize on a new idea. I therefore propose that someone should start writing cards, to be sent to college students on unspecial occasions, aptly illustrated by pictures.

Commencement, Commitment
For instance, why not, upon the arrival of commencement, send a card to a senior something like this: A large, content bovine is pictured on the front, with the words "Congrats you Grad!" The verse should go something like this:

Tho' you may have a diploma
For all the world to see,
You always have and always will
Be an idiot to me.

No great occasion, however, is required. A card entitled "Fine Time" would have a verse saying,

Hail to thee, spirit undaunted!
You're on the lib's Ten Top
Wanted.

Winners and Weepers

It's too bad we didn't have cards for Glee, because I can see one with superman on the cover, saying "To the Glee Winner." Inside it would run like this:

Take my advice
And I won't grumble
In three words—
JUST BE HUMBLE!

If one uses an imagination, there are millions of times you've wanted an appropos saying. How many friends could you send this card to? "To a Third Time Social Pro-er";

Do not have a look so dark.
You'll be immortal in the Book of Mark.

Wives and Warblers

Maybe you're a fellow who's been dating a girl for awhile. How she'd love to be remembered upon some special anniversary. Why not send a card with this sentiment inside?

I've never known a nagging wife,
I never hope to see one.
But from the dates I've had with you
I'm sure that you would be one.

A serenade is an event dear to every co-ed's heart. Yet we ignore these occasions, and we should have a card "For the Serenader."

Here's a fol-de-rol, you made the grade
You guys got through your serenade.

Profs and Pins

We shouldn't overlook the faculty when we're thinking of greeting cards. How about a card like this, picturing a replica of Dracula on the cover, with the words printed above the portrait saying, "To My Favorite Prof." The inside would read:

You march right in, so full of zest,
And plunk upon my desk a test.
To me you smile, to me you wink,
But I'm not thinking what you think.
YOU STINK!

It's a big time when a fellow and girl finally get pinned. The girl gets a serenade, but why not send a card like this to her to add to her pleasure? "You're Pinned!"

Do not be dismayed
You finally made the grade!
Down goes another Don Juan,
But tell me—did he pin it on?

No matter what the occasion, you can invent a card. And if there isn't an occasion, invent one of those! It's the fad.

Scott Poses Perplexing Question: Pat the Horse or the Girl?

By Jim Scott

While gathering dandelions for a vernal tonic I chanced upon an old Frenchman who eventually showed me a letter from his niece residing in Paris, Old Country. At his request and dictation I wrote his letter of reply. The portions of each letter which might be of interest to students going abroad for the summer are reprinted below.

Sections of the letter from the piece in France: Dear Uncle Jacques: Some students are coming from America and I am to meet them. Aside from some GI's who afforded me a chance to acquire some first hand information as to their feelings I know very little of Americans. Could you please tell me about them and perhaps answer the questions I am including. I have seen movies about a place in America called the "far west" and a town called Laramie, but I do not understand.

The Western Fashion

It seems a silent stranger always comes into town from "west of Pecos" and is "heading out beyond the Tonto Rim" but he stays over long enough to shoot or capture a band of bandits and everyone in town learns to like him except for a pretty girl who eventually falls in love with him. Then, instead of staying in the peaceful valley and romancing the girl, he climbs upon his magnificent horse, gives it an understanding pat and rides away into the setting sun, turning only to wave one goodbye. If this is true it is no wonder that after two centuries, some land scrambles, and a gold rush the "west" is still as sparsely settled as it says in our history book? . . . Is America really a land of milk and honey? . . . Incidentally I have finished my apprenticeship in arc-welding school . . . and by the Seine I shall eagerly await your answer. Your ever-loving niece, Joan.

Highpoints from the letter in reply. Dear Joan of (arc-welding school) I shall try to answer your questions but first I ask you to remember that it is an uneducated man speaking only from his own observations and experiences and it is difficult to convey impressions to one lacking a comparable latitude of experience. For we all must speak from what we know; but it is what we do not know that defeats us. But you will understand this better when you are older. . . . I imagine you might refer to this as a land of milk and honey. Since I came here 35 years ago I have been employed on a large farm where I milk between 80 and 100 cows twice each day and feed them honey-suckle alfalfa.

Paris Is Different

Yes, child, there is a great difference between Laramie and gay Paree (where one would give the beautiful girl a friendly pat and his horse the goodbye—but that is a Seine conclusion rather than a sane reply.) The west was like the movies only as France was like Dumas' books. America's west as now depicted is but a vague tribute to a vanished era and a vanishing type—the "rugged individualist," or so it seems to me.

It seems that American society is a term for a peculiar type of neurosis. Subjective values seem to be at a minimum—the emphasis is on passing to the next grade in the class struggle and the impetus is social pressure. Americans are quick to recognize leaders and classify all others as followers. . . . they seem not to acknowledge that there are those who do neither. . . . where they used to worry about leaving a better world for their children, they now seem concerned about leaving a world. But as I say, do not weigh too heavily what I have said. You must decide. Perhaps an old man of the soil is biased because he will not place his head in the clouds. And yet, you must remember that the greatest teachers left no written words—perhaps there are some of us who study after them. . . .

Over the Transom

Spring Daze Produces Early Lunch

This is D-Day for me! Today I have a test in my hardest subject; a test for which I have not found sufficient time to study and a test for which I probably wouldn't study even if the time were found.

The "D" stands for "daze," which is a contagious disease which runs rampant through the student body when both the balmy spring days and the crowded spring social calendar collide with six-weeks test.

I wasn't the only one what was bit by this spring bug. Sally Cooney got herself in a daze last week, too. Last Thursday, after the hour which was used for Friday's 11 o'clock classes which were dismissed to provide for Good Friday chapel, Miss Cooney picked up her books and hurried home for lunch only to find that she had an hour to spare and a cut in music literature.

This only illustrates that this dreaded spring disease isn't phased by four-pointers!

Those of you who have been keeping up on the objections of the Portland school council to both the University of Oregon and Oregon State traveling talent-shows will be interested to know that some Lewis and Clark student who holds a major student office there also wrote a letter of objection to the editor of a Portland paper.

It seems that Lewis and Clark students, along with some Portland high school faculty members, don't find a talent show which thrives on smutty jokes and "showy" clothes entertaining. A talent show can be put on without using these evils and still hold the attention of all, they say.

If Tuesday's show was an experiment along this line, I, for one, would like to suggest that they give the idea up as a flop. If as much time and talent had been devoted to the live props as that hard-working stage crew gave to the painted scenery, I might not have gone to sleep. I may be "old fashioned," but a little sex goes a long, long way!

Student Letter Continues Discussion of Honor System

(Editor's note: The authors of the following letter have written it "for the express purpose of picking up where Jim Hitchman left off last week in his 5B Roundtable. We invite criticism, comments and discussion.")

To the editor:

In such an admittedly limited vehicle as the letter, we shall attempt to set down our convictions concerning an Honor Code.

Firstly, what is it? Briefly, the Honor Code is a pledge taken by every member of the student body that "they will neither give nor receive unpermitted aid in examinations, in class work, in the preparation of reports, or in any other work that may be used by the instructor for grading."

Further, "that they will do their share and take an active part in seeing to it that others as well as themselves obey the spirit and the letter of the Honor Code."

Finally, the University can manifest a confidence in the honour of its students by "refraining from proctoring examinations, allowing privileges such as taking examinations outside the classrooms, or out of the immediate building."

Secondly, just how does it work? The key to success of the Honor Code is "individual student responsibility." It will mean that each one of us must go out of his way to see that his personal honesty and intent is above reproach. It could be said in this light, that each is considered his "brother's keeper." It could be termed a third person responsibility. We must collectively see to it that the code is observed by all our fellow students.

Thirdly, what about violations? If such a proposal favoring the Honor Code is ratified by a representative number of Willamette students, the authors of this letter will suggest that a separate Honor Code committee be appointed by the Student Council.

The committee would promulgate general policy concerning each member of the Willamette family. It would confidentially review violations and arrive at an understanding with the persons involved. The committee would be designed to be constructive, helpful and educative, rather than solely punitive.

Lastly, what does all this mean? The authors of this letter feel that each man and woman who enters this University is "capable of developing and maintaining a high sense of honor." Concealed in a religious setting, our school has aspired to the higher ideals of man, viz. truth, integrity, morality, and honesty.

This code realizes the "honor" possessed by every one of us, and seeks to apply this quality to our activities in the academic community. It seeks to apply this faith to our everyday relationships here at Willamette. Concealed in a Code, it helps to make such experiences living and real to us.

Out of a trust in the honor of each person on this campus, whether he be called professor or student, grows a mutual respect. Such an attitude toward one another carries out into the community. Willamette students will become identified with a maturity of thought and action that is common to all too few students in a majority of American educational institutions.

The success and effectiveness of the Honor Code would depend upon us all, individually and collectively, for its strength; and it would function only with the deep understanding, whole-hearted interest, and active participation of us all. A challenge to successful academic living. Will we accept it?

Hatfield, Patterson Campaigns Started

Dean Says He Will Campaign Actively

A student organization to back Willamette's Dean Mark Hatfield in his bid for the state senate is still in the "highly formative stage," according to Bob Batchelder, who with Deline Montag, will serve as co-chairmen of the group.

Hatfield, himself, had said earlier that he would campaign actively for the office.

Meeting Next Week

Batchelder said there will be a meeting of interested students next week. About a dozen students indicated that they wished to help with the Hatfield campaign in a sign-up following "Demubican day" program March 26.

First job for the group, according to the co-chairman, will be to help the Dean through the May 20 primaries. There it's a three-way, odd-man-out race between Hatfield, real estate man Lee Ohmart and incumbent Douglas Yeater, a Salem businessman.

Farnes Only Demo

The two winners in the May balloting will join Cecil Farnes, the only democrat to tender his candidacy, in the main race in September. Two senatorial posts are to be filled in Marion county.

Ohmart has trailed Hatfield by a few hundred votes each of two times before when they both made successful campaigns for the house of representatives.

Don Norris, chairman of the Willamette university non-partisan Patterson-for-Governor club, offers the aid of that group to Governor Paul Patterson in his forthcoming republican primary race against Secretary of State Earl T. Newbry, and in the November election. Patterson is now filling out the term vacated by Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay.

'Bi-Partisan' Group to Help In Return-Patterson Efforts

A "bi-partisan" organization to help Governor Paul Patterson retain his office in the coming elections has been organized on campus.

According to Don Norris, who was elected chairman at a meeting at Chresto cottage on Tuesday, the group is inviting participation from both political parties. He said he had been assured that the governor's campaign camp would utilize the organization for the May primaries, in which Patterson will oppose Secretary of State Earl Newbry.

Big Fight in Primary

Norris sees that primary as the main barrier to the governor's reelection. Either Newbry or Patterson will face ex-mayor Joseph Carson, of Portland, the only democrat in the race, in the main elections in September.

Actually, those elections will be the first show of the governor's vote-getting ability on the state level. The former president of the state senate from Hillsboro was elevated to the office in late 1952 when then-governor Douglas McKay was appointed to President Eisenhower's cabinet.

Court Helps Patterson

Newbry was involved in Patterson's ascension to the high state office. Patterson's term as senate president was up but a supreme court decision ruled that Patterson was eligible, thus blocking Newbry, who as ranking member of the board of control would have been next in line.

The student group will carry the name, "the Patterson for Governor club," according to the new chairman, Bill Galbraith was named vice-chairman and Kay Holder, secretary.

Tonning Leaves Home Fjords To Follow Brother's Footsteps

By Carla McKeen
Collegian Copy Editor

New to campus this semester is Per Tonning who arrived in this country from Norway on January 20. What made him leave his own country to adopt another and to eventually become a Willamette student was the result of a long ambition coupled with the encouragement of his brother Ove.

Per's home is in a fjord between two towns in western Norway. There he began his schooling at seven to attend the compulsory school for seven years. Following this he studied language at the "gymnas" for another five years.

Brother Recommends WU

It had long been his hope to study in a foreign country. His brother Ove, already at Willamette, "strongly recommended the place" said Per. Then he was selected as an exchange student to Germany. This created a problem culminating in the decision to come to the United States.

Per, now almost 22, waited a year to be admitted to this country under the immigration quota. At the American consul in Norway, he had to swear that he was not a Communist and again repeated the oath when he arrived at Ellis Island.

He finds his course of study, pre-dentistry, to be very different from his former training. In the "gymnas" he had the choice of three "lines": language, mathematics, or economics. He chose language which included five years of concentrated study in English and German and three years of French. He considers French the hardest to speak. He added "very many Europeans speak English fluently."

TV Villains Disturbing

Comparing his newly found home with his former land, Per said the main difference was that the United States was much more mechanized. The average Norwegian home does not have such modern facilities as a refrigerator and there is no television in Norway yet. When asked if he liked TV he replied "Sure do," but added one criticism. The villains in mystery programs very often are foreigners, he observed.

His reaction to his three months at Willamette has been favorable. "I was really impressed with Freshman Glee," he said, admitting that he had been skeptical before he saw it. He termed it "quite an experience—Blue Monday, too."

Professors Keep Mum

The academic standard here is as high as in Norway according to Per. "College students are very well informed" here. In Norway the student has no social contact with his professors.

Per is not an exchange student but an immigrant. He has not yet decided whether or not to remain here permanently, since he has only spent a short time in the United States. But as he said, "I like it so far."

Recital to Feature Modern Piano Music

Contemporary American piano music with explanatory comments will be included in the student recital this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Music hall.

Ronald Hershberger will play "Streets of Laredo" from American Ballads, by Roy Harris. Two numbers will be played by Rosemary Weaver; they include, "Calm" by Theodore Chanler, and "Scherzino" by Roger Sessions. Judy Hitt will play "Wailing Dawn" by William Grant Still.

"With Fife and Drums; A Portrait of Minna Curtis" by Virgil Thomson, will be played by Winifred Waltz. Page Bailey will play, "Tender Thoughts" and "A Gambol" by David Diamond. "Variations From an Album" by Vincent Perichetti will be featured by Robert Van-Vactor. "Sombbrero" by Ernest Bacon will be played by Mary Stout.

William Covert will play "Presto" from Sonata No. 1 by Harold Shapero. "In Slow Blues Tempo" from Excursions by Samuel Barber, will be played by Gary Monical. Amy Girod will play "Molk Moderato," from Piano Sonata by Aaron Copland.

Plan Africa Theme For Unesco Retreat

"Africa, the Dark Continent" will set the theme for Unesco's spring retreat, featuring speakers Rev. Paul Barnett, Dr. Norman Huffman, Dean Robert Gregg and African exchange students at Silver Creek Falls May 8 and 9.

The economic, political, religious and social aspects of Africa will be treated by speakers and discussion groups, and a film pertaining to these subjects will be shown.

Transportation will be provided by private cars. The cost per person is $3 for the weekend. Those interested should contact John Rehffuss for further information.

but the results were not available at Collegian press time.

Following tomorrow's games, Willamette will play Oregon College of Education in a doubleheader next Tuesday on the McCulloch stadium diamond. The Bearcats will then travel to Whitman Saturday, May 1, for a conference doubleheader. The road trip will be completed the following Monday after a twin bill with College of Idaho.

The Bearcats defeated Pacific on the one-hit performance turned in by Andy George. The game which was played in the rain and the wind at Forest Grove played favorites and enemies for and against both teams. So the two games tomorrow might prove either advantageous or disastrous for the Bearcats in conference standings.

On the mound for the Pacific Badgers in the first game will be Abey Ross who suffered the loss of the game played earlier in the year. George Muromoto, the other leading pitcher for Pacific, will be on the mound in tomorrow's nightcap. Muromoto pitched a little against Willamette in the game at Forest Grove.

In the fielding and hitting department for the Badgers, Kay Frizell, Kemper and Ramsdell lead the team.

For Willamette, George will pitch the first game and he will be after win number three. The starting pitcher for the second game will probably be Dave Gray. Coach Lewis may use either Mickey Coen, Danny Feller or Gino Pieretti instead of Gray. It all depends on who pitched in yesterday's doubleheader in Portland.

The remainder of the Willamette lineup will probably remain the same. This means Pete Reed will be at first base, Terry Ziegelman at second, Bill Nelson at short and Harvey Neffendorf at third. Dale Patton will start behind the plate. The outfield will have Gary Shugarts in left, Duane Shield in center and either Jerry McCallister or Wes Malcolm in right field.

Betas Edge Phi Delt In Intramural Tennis

The Betas and the Phi Delt opened the intramural tennis season last Saturday as the Betas slipped by with a 3-2 win.

Tomorrow morning at nine o'clock the Phi Delt will be seeking their first win when they meet the Sigs. At ten o'clock the Betas will be after their second win when they play the SAE's.

In the Beta-Phi Delt match, the winners won two of the three singles. John Regier was the only Phi Delt to win as he defeated Don Drake 6-1, 8-10, 7-5. The two Betas who won their matches were Bob Packwood over Dave Lingenfelter 6-0, 6-0 and Don Morrison over Bob Allen 6-2, 6-2.

In the doubles, each team won one. Frank Jassman and Bob Miller defeated Ron Hershberger and Gene Mead 6-1, 6-1 for the Phi Delt win. Bob Packwood and Don Morrison of the Betas won their match over Joe Farley and Bob Withers 6-0, 6-1.

Intramural tennis, like badminton, is a round-robin with the team on top to be declared the intramural champ. In softball the winners of the two leagues will meet in a playoff to decide on the championship for 1954.

Seeks Win Number Three

Andy George, Bearcat veteran, will be after win number three tomorrow when Willamette hosts the Pacific Badgers in a Northwest conference doubleheader. George pitched a 9-0 one-hitter against Pacific earlier in the season. (Statesman cut.)

George and Gray Pitch Wins Over Lewis and Clark

Andy George and Dave Gray went the full route as the Willamette baseballers took a doubleheader from Lewis and Clark by scores of 6-5 and 10-6 last Saturday afternoon on the McCulloch stadium diamond.

The double win gave the Bearcats a clean 3-0 mark in Northwest conference play.

George who won his second league game had to go 10 innings in the first game to beat Ray Hyde and the visiting Pioneers. Five Bearcat miscues almost lost the game for the Willamette right-hander. Hyde, who lost the game, struck out 17 Bearcats while George chalked up ten against the Pioneers. Both walked four men.

Gary Shugarts was the difference in the opener as he batted in two runs and scored the winning tally. In the tenth Shugarts singled and stole second. He came in on Pete Reed's single to break up the ball game.

Shugarts opened the Bearcat scoring with a home run in the first inning with Bill Nelson on base. The other three runs for Willamette came in the fourth innings. The tallies resulted from two walks, a hit-batsman, two errors and a single by George.

Lewis and Clark scored single runs in the first and fifth and tied the game up in the sixth with three runs. The Pioneers threatened in the seventh with two men on and only one out, but George put out the fire and went on to win.

Dave Gray went the route in the nightcap to gain his first win of the year for the Bearcats. The veteran righthander was touched for single runs in the second and sixth and two each in the fifth and seventh while giving up a total of seven hits.

In the second game, the Bearcats won the game with a six-run second inning which saw loser Connie Hamilton knocked from the box. Willamette had six hits in the inning with Gray, Terry Ziegelman, Nelson, Shugarts, Reed and Jerry McCallister getting one each.

Willamette opened the first inning with one run on singles by Dale Patton and Ziegelman plus a Pioneer error. The third inning saw the Bearcats score their other three runs on no hits. The tallies resulted from three walks, a pass ball, two wild pitches, a double steal by Harvey Neffendorf and Patton and two Lewis and Clark errors.

Lewis and Clark scoring for the second game featured three home runs, two by Connie Kilmer and one by Jerry Shepard. All three were with the bases empty.

Peddicord Pitches No-No for Sigs; 'Mural Softball to Start Third Week

Intramural softball continued into its second week with many thrilling games and fine performances.

The "A" league teams from the Beta and SAE houses met on Monday in the first game of the week. It was a Beta victory all the way as Bob Straumford and Dale Gustafson both hurled tight ball, with the final score reading, 15-2. On Tuesday the Sig and Law School four o'clockers clashed with the Law Schoolers emerging with the win, 12-5. The final game of the week for the "A" league saw one of the biggest trouncings of the season. The Phi Delt scored 11 runs in the first inning and went on to defeat the SAE's, 16-2, behind the tight pitching of Joe Farley. Yesterday's Beta-Phi Delt game was played too late for publication.

The "B" league also produced many thrilling ball games this past week. In the opening game on Monday the Phi Delt dropped the Betas by a 12-10 score in a game that saw the Betas take a 10-3 lead only to blow the game by giving up nine runs in the final frame. Tuesday the SAE's walloped the men from Baxter to the tune of 14-4, as they held the losers scoreless until the final inning. Behind the no-hit pitching of Merl Peddicord, the Sig 6 o'clockers downed the Beta B's 2-0. It was a hard-fought contest with both sides playing good ball, but the no-hit performance by Peddicord proved to be too much for the Betas. The Phi Delt and the Sigs met last night, but the results were too late for publication.

Next week's games:

'Cats Defeat Portland; Hitchman Tops Mark

One Willamette track record was broken and another one tied as the Bearcats opened their dual meet season with an 85-46 win over the Portland university thinclads Thursday, April 15, on the McCulloch stadium oval.

Jim Hitchman broke his own shot put record of 43' 10" with a toss of 46' 5 3/8". In the other best mark of the day, Judson Jones tied the 440 record with a time of 51.6 seconds. Jones, a freshman from Portland, ran his first 440 race for Willamette and tied the record which has stood since 1921 when Rein Jackson set it.

The scoring of the meet was close in the running events with Willamette holding a 41-36 lead after taking the mile relay—the last running event of the meet. The field events told the difference. Willamette won 44 points to Portland's 10 in this portion of the meet. Overall the Bearcats won nine firsts to the visitors' six.

There were four double winners. Portland's Fred Flowers finished the 100 and 200-yard dashes first as did Dick Sinko in the mile and two-mile. Willamette repeaters were Larry Standifer in both hurdle races and Larry Thompson in the broad jump and pole vault. Thompson was the high scorer for the meet with 12 points.

Sigs Win Bowling Title In Playoff With SAE's

The Sigs won this year's intramural bowling championship as they defeated the SAE's in a playoff between the two league champions.

The Sigs who were led by Joe Harvey and Vern Lafley won the "A" league championship while the SAE's were the champs of the "B" league. The mainstay for the SAE's was Kent Myers.

Hurdleman

Larry Standifer has become the top hurdler for the Willamette track team this year. Standifer will run in both hurdle events against Pacific today in Forest Grove. (Statesman cut.)

Golfers Play Linfield; Suffer Two Setbacks

Seeking to get back on the winning trail, the Willamette golfers will host Linfield in a conference match this afternoon on the Salem golf course.

The Bearcat linksters will play Portland State on the home fairways next Tuesday and then travel to Forest Grove the following afternoon to meet the Pacific golf squad.

Coach Jerry Frei's Bearcats suffered two losses the past week. Tuesday the Portland Pilots handed Willamette a 15-3 setback on the Salem golf course and last Friday in Portland the Portland State squad edged the Bearcats 10-8.

Bruce Cudd of the Pilots was medalist Tuesday with a five-under-par 65. Kent Myers for Willamette had a two-below-the-board 68, but it was to no avail as Cudd was his opponent for the afternoon. In the Portland State match, Bill Stoughton won the medalist title with a 71. Ron Hoxie was the top golfer for Willamette with a 74. Portland university over Willamette.

Pacific Meet on Tap For Today; Whip OCE

The Willamette cinder force won their second dual meet of the season Tuesday at McCulloch stadium with an easy 99-32 win over Oregon College of Education.

The Bearcats will travel to Forest Grove today to meet Pacific in a dual contest scheduled for this afternoon.

The visitors failed to place a man in the mile which Don Miller won and in the shot put which Jim Hitchman placed first. The firsts for OCE came in the 220 low hurdles by Bill Arnold, in the broad jump by Don McKenzie and in the javelin by Frank Grove. Willamette's record holder in the javelin, Stan Neperud, was out of action because of a sore back.

Bill Van Horn was Willamette's only two-event winner and the only one in the meet as he outran his competition in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Larry Standifer missed being a two-time winner as he was nipped at the tape by Bill Arnold of OCE in the 220-yard low hurdles.

Don Miller missed the school record in the 880 by two-tenths of a second. Miller turned in a time of 2:01 and the Willamette all-time mark stands at 2:00.8.

The Social Scoop

By JULIE MELLOR, Editor

With spring finally here, every Willamette coed is sighing with mixed feelings of ecstasy and despair—for it means a chance to wear all those luscious stored-up cottons, but it also means weekly washing and ironing sessions!

BAG's Hold Party

Beta Alpha Gamma held its annual party for all freshmen women with a grade point average of 2.5 or above Tuesday evening at Lausanne hall.

General chairman for the event was Yvonne Bowles, who sang in the entertainment, which also consisted of Amy Girod in a piano solo, and a poem about the activities of the BAG's this year.

Arizona Attractions

The University of Arizona played host to 207 delegates to the Western Intercollegiate Associated Women Students conference at Tucson, Arizona, April 8-11. Judy Finch, Mary Reeh and Nina Hines attended business meetings as well as a trip to the Suhaurri Vista guest ranch, where they enjoyed swimming and horseback riding, and later ate a "chuck wagon" lunch. Other sights of interest were the reconstructed jails and saloons at the rebuilt "Old Tucson," depicting early pioneer days.

The delegates attended business meetings on AWS activities and projects, administration of AWS regulations, and orientation of new students.

The convention closed with a "Western Stomp," famous old Arizona dance, and Nina Hines must have enjoyed the trip, for she is now planning to transfer to that school in the fall!

New Officers

Newly elected officers for the freshman honoraries have been chosen. Leading the men of Phi Eta Sigma will be John Edmondson. Assisting as vice-president is Don Agnew; secretary, Eldon Erickson; and treasurer, Hugh Armstrong.

Arda Lien was chosen to the Alpha Lambda Delta presidency. Vice-president is Sally Jones; secretary, Lois Monk; treasurer, Shirley Ulinder; and historian, Pat Gordon.

Briggs Gains Backing

Bill Briggs has become famous in California, Nevada, and Oregon, from his recent antics on the choir tour. He can especially be noted for his thunderous roar of "Hey" in one song, in which he must have thought he was singing solo!

Pi Phis Have Birthday

Pi Beta Phi will be celebrating its 88th anniversary on the 28th of this month. Plans have been made for a picnic with the chapters at the University of Oregon and Oregon State college, with the Willamette chapter playing hostess.

SAE's Fete Parents

Parents' day will be celebrated for the second year this Sunday by members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, as their respective parents will journey to Salem for the event. Beginning the day will be group attendance at the Methodist church. # Dances, Beach Trip on Weekend Agenda

Dancing, of the formal and costume variety, will be of main interest to members and dates of Chi Omega, Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Chi this weekend.

"Moon Mist" for Chi O's

"Moon Mist" is the theme of Chi Omega's annual spring formal, to be held tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock in the Labor Temple. The dance is being held in honor of the senior members, according to Carol Svinth, general chairman.

All decorations, planned by Jean Kimberling, will be in blue and silver, and will feature a moon centerpiece.

Sherbet punch and crescent-shaped cookies will be served, and are the planning of Lynn Moodhe, refreshment chairman.

Programs, designed by Donna Cedarstrom, are silver and blue with a crescent moon on the front.

Glenn Benner's "Count's Dance Band" from the University of Oregon, will provide music for the evening.

Honored guests will include Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean Mark Hatfield and Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg. Chaperons are Dr. and Mrs. George Martin and George Edwards.

Betas to Go Swiss

A "smorgasbord" dinner will be featured at Beta Theta Pi's formal spring house dance tomorrow evening at the chapter house. The theme for the dance is "Beta Chalet," announced Wayne Frederickson, general chairman.

Dinner, planned by Gene Mead and Chuck Peter, will be served from 7 until 9 o'clock. Dancing will be from 9 to 12, to the music of Wayne Muesey's combo.

Under the direction of Bill Farr, the house will be decorated to resemble a Swiss chalet.

Honored guests invited by Paul Shaffer will include Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean Regina Ewalt, and Dean Mark Hatfield.

Sigma Chi's Turn Pirate

"Pirate's Paradise," the Sigma Chi costume dance, will be held tomorrow evening from 9 to 12 o'clock at the chapter house.

Dressed in the garb of the olden pirate days, the couples will enter the house over a gangplank, and descend into a "pirate's cave where hidden treasure is kept," according to decorations chairman Rolie Bliss.

Refreshments, planned by Bob White and Dale Greenely, are in keeping with the theme, but are a "secret concoction."

Chaperons invited for the evening are George Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Joseph, Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Howard and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Derthick.

Honored guests will include Dean Regina Ewalt, Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Dean Mark Hatfield, Dean and Mrs.

Robert Gregg and Mrs. Alda Stillwell.

Journalists Explore Russian View of America

(This is the last in the series of articles by American college editor Dean Schoelkopf following his visit in Russia early this year.)

By Dean Schoelkopf
Editor, Minnesota Daily

(ACP) The talk in Russia today is of peace.

We heard it everywhere we went. This is the line: The Russian people suffered great losses in the last war. Their homes and their factories were leveled. Their friends and relatives were killed and crippled. And so they want peace, they say.

Russian View of America

They think the American people want peace, too. But they believe that "war mongers" control the government. They say President Eisenhower does not really set policy but is "a tool of the monopolies."

Anatoly Krasilevich, 25, an engineering student at Moscow university, told me he doesn't think there will be a war between the United States and Russia for five or six years.

"It will take America that long to get ready after your losses in the Korean war," he said. "But there will never be a war unless the United States attacks Russia."

We were repeatedly asked why the United States is building a network of air bases around the Soviet Union. The Russian people think the bases will be used to launch an "aggressive war."

When we asked students why Russia keeps the largest standing army in the world, we were told it is for defense purposes only. One interpreter told us that Russia does not have any long-range bombers—only fighters for defense.

Our other interpreter smiled at that obvious untruth.

Anti-American Campaign

Along with the words about peace, Soviet leaders have been carrying on an extensive program of anti-American propaganda. We could see evidence of it everywhere. Posters in the factories and schools depicted

Uncle Sam as a villain—carrying cannons under his arms, dollar signs in his eyes, committing some mayhem on John Bull and characters representing other nations.

Cartoons in magazines and newspapers follow the same theme: dollar-hungry American militarists, politicians or businessmen looking for war or money, or both.

We asked often why there should be all these hate-America posters if Russia really was interested in friendship among nations. We always were told that these posters were not directed against the American people, but against the military men and monopolies who want war.

Russians think the United States already has started one war—in Korea. We were told that Secretary of State Acheson and President Truman planned the war with Syngman Rhee, and that South Korean troops invaded North Korea.

Interested in McCarthy

But the political consciousness of the Russians we met extended beyond international affairs. They were much interested in internal problems of the United States.

We were asked often about Sen. McCarthy. Usually the question was, How much popular support does he have? They said they think most Americans oppose him. They called him a fascist and an enemy of Russia.

We were asked about the rights of Negroes in America, and why there were no Negroes in our group. We were asked about our political affiliation, and to define the difference between Democrats and Republicans.

Our religion interested Soviet students, and at Kharkov university we were asked if we believe in God. When three members of our group said yes, the 300 Russian youth remained silent. When one said no, they applauded and cheered.

Even more disturbing to us than the Russians' misconceptions about the United States was the conformity of thought we found at colleges and universities—places we think of as centers of free discussion.

Thoughts Must Conform

We could ask the same question at every school—about Beria, Korea or anything else—and we would get the same answer every time.

A student would answer and say he was speaking for all students of the Soviet Union. When we asked how he could speak for a student a thousand miles away, he would reply that all students have the same thoughts on important issues.

Despite all the talks we had with students, we never could get on sufficiently intimate terms with any of them to determine if there were any dissenters.

We talked to selected groups and individuals. But even had we wandered completely at random, there would have been a real reluctance on the part of Soviet citizens to disclose any rebellious thoughts to foreigners—especially Americans.

Jane Gray to Present Recital Sunday

Jane Gray, pianist, will be presented in her senior recital by the College of Music Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Miss Gray was chosen campus coed for the month of April, and is active as a member of Pi Beta Phi and Cap and Gown. During the past year she was president of the local chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music society for women.

She is also a member of the First Presbyterian church quarter, and was elected song leader of her sorority. Miss Gray was selected to be a member of the May Weekend court by the student body.

Sunday's program will be comprised of four parts. The first includes "Sonata in G Major" and "Sonata in G Minor," both by Scarlatti, and "La Poule" by Rameau. "Sonata Opus 53" will be presented in the second section of the recital. This Beethoven composition consists of Allegro con brio, Introduzione: Adagio molto, and Rondo: Allegretto moderato.

Five numbers make up the next group. These are "Nocturne in G Minor, Opus 15, No. 3" and "Nocturne in E Minor, Opus 75, No. 1," both by Chopin; "Intermezzo Opus 118, in A Major" by Brahms; "Alma Brazileira" by Villa-Lobos; and "Festival Dance" by Turina.

The program will be concluded with "Pour le piano" by Debussy, including Prelude, Sorabonde and Toccata.

Willamette to Host Ten Law Schools

Arrangements are nearly completed, according to Dean Seward Reese, for Willamette Law school to play host to the conference of Western Law Schools on May 7 and 8. Representatives from the faculties of law schools in the ten western states are expected to attend.

Sheldon D. Elliot, president of the American Association of Law Schools, will address the group at an evening banquet in the Marion hotel.

Events planned for the conference include discussions of common problems, conferences with state officials and sight-seeing tours.

Dean Reese is chairman for the conference which is meeting in one of the smaller western cities this year for the first time.

Essay Contest Topic On Fraternity Worth

Of interest to many Willamette students, the essay contest, "Should social fraternities and sororities be abolished?" sponsored by the Writers' Workshop of Boston, Mass., offers prizes of $300, $200 and $100.

The essays in this nationwide contest open to any college or university student must be no more than 500 words long, but may be either for or against the question. Essays will be judged on the basis of originality, sincerity, and aptness of thought.

Essays must be submitted by May 15 and must be accompanied by 50 cents to help defray the cost of reading and judging the papers. Any number of entries may be submitted but each is subject to the 50 cent charge. Essays may be sent to Writers' Workshop, P. O. Box 187, North Postal Annex, Boston 14, Mass.

Questionnaires to Seek Causes for Transferring

In an effort to find out why students leave Willamette prior to graduation, the student council committee on student transfers is sending out questionnaires to approximately 500 previous undergraduates.

Chuck Carter, chairman of the committee, stated that the letter contained several possible reasons why a student might leave Willamette. These are to be checked or supplemented by the former students.

Some of the suggested reasons are inadequate funds, too prohibitive rules, dissatisfaction with living organizations, and dissatisfaction with size of the University.

Summer Selling

Tomorrow morning in Eaton 33 a representative of Weaver Aluminum will interview interested men for part time work during the school year and full time during summer. Those interested should see Dean Hatfield immediately.

'Final Fling for '54'

Seniors will meet this noon in Waller hall to decide the site of their forthcoming beach trip, according to Jane Horn, class secretary. The "final fling for '54" will be observed May 20 through noon of May 24, and the problem of prices will be explained before accommodations are chosen.

Five Orators Seek Doney Prize May 3

Five men will compete in the annual Doney oratorical contest during convocation on May 3, according to Dr. Howard Runkel of the speech department.

The all-male group includes Don Empey, Karl Freerksen, Lewis Harapton, Harley Hoppe, and Fenton Hughes. Women are also eligible to participate but none submitted their names before the deadline.

The Doney prize is the income from $1000, awarded each spring to the students whose speeches are rated first and second in excellence of thought, composition, and delivery by judges selected by the president of the University. The first place winner receives two-thirds, and the second place winner, one-third of the net income.

The endowment was presented to Willamette by Dr. and Mrs. Carl G. Doney in memory of their son, Paul H. Doney, class of 1920.

Faculty 'At Homes' Set for Thursday Night

Fourth in the series of Hazen foundation sponsored faculty "at homes" will take place Thursday evening. The evening is set aside for those professors who wish to invite students to their homes for informal get-togethers.

Dean Gregg said that on the three previous dates earlier this spring more than 75 freshmen students had attended evening open houses at the homes of their advisors. According to Gregg, "the program seeks to implement the rare privilege students in smaller colleges have to become acquainted personally with their professors and their families. Students should not be hesitant to take advantage of this opportunity."

The program, in its third year here at Willamette, has grown and broadened in scope, however, special emphasis has been placed upon seeing that freshmen receive opportunity to attend the functions.

The Hazen foundation sets up matching money to help defray the cost of simple refreshments served by the professors.

YMCA Construction To Benefit Students

An expanded college and adult program will result with the completion of a new YMCA youth building, according to M. E. "Gus" Moore, local YMCA general secretary.

A $450,000 building campaign began this week to provide the new youth building on North Cottage street in the same block and adjacent to the present building. It will include another gym and swimming pool complete with locker facilities and a three-story boys' department building.

The present building will be enlarged to house a larger program for college students and adults, enabling more Willamette students to take advantage of YMCA instruction.

The fund-raising campaign is the first since the YMCA was organized in Salem. The $450,000 goal is expected to be subscribed by May 17 with building to begin soon after.

Experience Best Teacher

A panel of four Willamette graduates will evaluate their practice teaching and the benefits of their educational courses at the Future Teachers of America meeting Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. in Cresto Cottage. The speakers are all now in their first or second year of teaching.
