

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK FOR THIS SEASON NOT VERY BRIGHT

Eleven of Last Year's First Squad Have Not Returned to School this Fall.

ONLY THREE OLD MEN ON FIRST TEAM AT PRESENT

Schedule for This Season Not Very Complete as Yet—Oregon Will Play Here on Nov. 1—Alumni Game Saturday, Oct. 4.

Now, to take up the question which every student asked the minute he arrived in school this fall, namely: What kind of a football team will we have? There is some old material, some new material, but the sum total of the warriors that are gracing the gridiron at present, does not make one exceptionally optimistic.

Of the men who were numbered among the members of the first squad last year, Francis, Erskine, Starns, McRae, Day, Bellinger, Blackwell, all of whom are "W" men, and Young, Hepp, Yoder, promising recruits who participated in several games, have not returned to school and the task of building up men to take the places of eleven experienced men is no easy matter.

However, with these difficulties on his hands, Dr. Sweetland has finally gathered together enough of the men to line up a team and is now busy trying to round them into shape.

Of the members of last year's first squad, just five men are on deck. Three of these men, Rowland, Bolt and Homan, are "W" men, while Booth and Small are subs.

As Captain-elect Francis did not return to school an election was held by the three "W" men early last week and resulted in Eric Bolt being chosen as the leader of the eleven for this year.

The men who are working in the back field positions at present are Rowland, Homan, Doane, Small and Booth.

Homan has played with the Varsity squad for several seasons past and is numbered among the best field generals in the Northwest. He does great dodging on an open field and is some there on running back punts or kickoffs.

Rowland has received several years of football tutoring under Dr. Sweetland, and after holding down the position of fullback throughout last season should be in fine shape to do good work this year.

Doane, who has been working at half, was the sensation of the Sophomore and second Varsity teams of last season and while not possessed of a large football experience, promises to make his mark in this season's game.

Small, who showed up well in what games he was allowed to enter last season, has just joined the squad and will undoubtedly make good. He has an excellent knowledge of the game and should develop into a very valuable man, although he is somewhat handicapped by his miniature stature and lack of avoirdupois.

Booth, who has also been working at half, is an old time member of the squad and is possessed of considerable experience. He is pretty light but does good work at running through a broken field.

The line has been forming as follows: Center, Teeter; guards, Ferris and Pfeiffer; tackles, Bolt and Neustal, and ends, Flegel and Vandervert.

Ferris and Pfeiffer are both new men at the game and, although having the size and the weight, will need considerable work before they can be of much value to the first eleven.

Teeters, who comes from Weiser, Idaho, where he played with Weiser High, has a fair prep school experience and will probably show up well after a few of the rough places have been knocked off.

Captain Bolt is much at home in his old position at tackle and is getting his old form back at a rapid gate. He is the only old man in the line.

Neustal is playing the other tackle and is on the first squad this year for the initial time. He has had considerable experience on the second team and plays a hard, consistent game.

Vandervert and Flegel, now working at the end positions, are both former guards, Vandervert having worked with the Varsity second and Flegel with Jefferson High. They are doing their best to make good at their new positions but will have to put in much hard work before they can come up to the desired standard.

The schedule for this season is quite an indefinite quantity just at present, but promises to take shape soon. The game here with the University of Oregon will probably be staged on November 1st, just one week before the big game between Oregon and O. A. C. at Albany.

Contracts have been signed with several other schools but the dates are optional. Among the smaller schools that will be played are Chemawa, Pacific and Gonzaga.

The first game of the season,

WILL WELCOME FROSH

Annual Y. W.-Y. M. C. A. Reception to Occur Friday Evening at Eaton Hall.

Friday night there'll be a hurry from the supper table; a desperate hunt for a clean collar or new ribbon; a long hour spent before a mirror; a rose; a partner, for all but the Freshies, and a reception. At last the Freshmen will come into their own. Everyone will smile on them, instead of at them, and we'll all try to make them more at home.

This year the annual Y. M.-Y. W. reception will be in the hands of Miss Lottie Penn, chairman of the social committee of the Y. W., and Geo. Vandervert, president of the Y. M. In the receiving line Dr. and Mrs. Homan, Dr. and Mrs. Todd, and Dr. and Mrs. Patterson will represent the faculty.

As usual, this first general get-together and good time of the year will be held in Eaton Hall. Although the program has not yet been announced, all old students know that Friday night will be a great night, and all the new ones who wish to enter into the heart of Old Willamette; to feel her throbbing pulse, and the warm clasp of her welcome hand will find the Y. M.-Y. W. reception a night long to be remembered.

Paul Smith, ex'15, has charge of the live stock department at the State fair. "Pinky" says he will return to school when he finishes his job herding the cows. He will enter the Law Department.

NUMEROUS CHANGES MADE IN UNIVERSITY FACULTY THIS YEAR

Increased Enrollment Makes Necessary Addition of Two New Profs.

CHANGES ALSO MADE IN DEPARTMENT HEADS

Miss Alice Page Takes Charge of History, Frederick Henke of Philosophy and Education—Miss I. B. Davis Preceptress of Lausanne.

With the additions in the faculty this year, it is hoped that the increased number of students can be taken care of without any trouble. The main idea of the trustees in their selection of the new professors, was to find those who were capable of handling the heads of the different departments. The lack of well organized departments that has been noticeable during the last two years, has been due mainly to the fact that the faculty has been rather small for the number of students. Consequently each professor has had more work than he or she could handle to the best advantage.

Each of the new teachers come well recommended and without doubt all will make strong additions to the list.

The academy is represented by Mr. Walter De Bra and Miss Beulah Clark.

Mr. De Bra comes to take charge of the work in Preparatory Science. He is a wide awake and energetic man of strong personality, and will work his way into the hearts of his students.

Miss Clarke will take up the work in Academy English and also the first two years of Latin. She is an alumnus of Willamette and enters her position with a reputation as a special student of languages.

Miss Chappell, Miss A. E. Page, Miss I. B. Davis and Fred Henke are the other new instructors. All the old students are well acquainted with Miss Chappell as she has been an instructor in the academy during the last few years. She will occupy the head of the Greek and Latin department in the College of Liberal Arts. Miss Chappell proposes to put the college work in Greek on a plane with the work in modern languages. As a further means of creating a more general interest in the classics she proposes to conduct courses in history and literature, a knowledge of Greek and Latin not being necessary.

Miss Page is to have charge of the Department of History. She is a graduate of Penn College and a post graduate student of the University of Iowa. Through the re-organization of the work of the different departments, the Department of History has been made distinct from that of Economics and Sociology and Miss Page, who has had four years successful experience as Professor of History at Coe College, is to take charge of the work.

Miss Page has been a member of the History Teachers' Conference of the University of Iowa. She has a new point of view as a student and teacher of History, and has the reputation of interesting the students to the extent of leading them to a great amount of enthusiastic work in her department.

Miss Ida B. Davis, the new Preceptress of Lausanne Hall, has been a favorite with girls because of her sympathetic understanding and good judgment. "She has a pause, patience and good disciplinary qualities" so reads the bulletin. She has had experience in dormitory life in Northwestern University and elsewhere. She will also have charge of the Physical Education work for women.

Miss Davis is a graduate of the University of Illinois, where she has also done graduate work. She is also an alumnus of the Cumnook School of Oratory of Northwestern University.

Prof. F. S. Henke will have charge of the Department of Philosophy and Education. Prof. Henke has done graduate work in Philosophy in Northwestern University, where he received his degree of Master of Arts.

He also did additional graduate work in the University of Chicago from which institution he received his degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

After a few years experience as a teacher of Philosophy he comes to Willamette recommended as a "strong man of agreeable personality, healthy, forceful and enthusiastic nature, capable of inspiring students to an appreciation of the subject he teaches."

The other new instructor, Miss W. Davis, received her Master of Arts degree from Columbia University and her Masters Diploma in English from the Teachers College of New York City. She has had two years of experience in public speaking and debate work at the American Academy of Dramatic Art and also two seasons' work at the Kansas State Teachers College.

Harley Blackwell, ex-'14, has entered the Oregon Agricultural College where he will pursue a course in Mechanical Engineering.

FINE HANDBOOK ISSUED

Associations Do Themselves Proud in Publishing Latest Edition.

The Willamette Association Hand Book of this year is the classiest book ever published at the local institution. It is the equal of any to be found at the larger colleges and is a great credit to the editors and manager. The principle features of the book are the full Morocco binding, gilt edging and the new style of paper. The latter feature is entirely original with the Willamette management, and the straw brown paper makes an exceedingly artistic background for the printing.

The material within the book has been greatly enlarged and rearranged. Attractive cuts have been added and help to make the book more valuable. In the general information department, such ingenious arrangements as the "game scores," "record your cuts," "addresses," "personal account," "memoranda," greatly increase its usefulness to the student.

Miss Kate Barton deserves great credit for her untiring efforts as editor of the edition. Her assistants were Miss Beryl Holt and Elizabeth Luce.

Ivan McDaniel was the manager of the book. His assistants were C. M. Byrd, Paul Irvine and L. Probstel.

Nothing more need be said as to their work as the book speaks for itself.

All those who have not yet secured their copy of the book may get the same from either the editor or the manager.

STAGS GATHER AT GYM LAST FRIDAY FOR ANNUAL MIX

Old and New Men Spend Enjoyable Evening Getting Acquainted.

TODD AND PATTERSON ADDRESS STUDENTS

Numerous Games Numbered Among Events of Evening's Entertainment—Have Big Supply of Eats—Many Present.

Last Friday night, at a little before eight, the old "gym" which has been undergoing its habitual spell of dormancy and peace during the drowsy months of summer, was awakened with electric suddenness and some rudeness when the four herds of boisterous "stags" congregated for their annual "mix". For real hilarity, a good self-respecting foot ball "jolly-up" would have to carry an extra large cargo of steam to best it. Stunt after stunt was presented, game followed game, some old, some new, some that only fellows enjoy, some that only some fellows enjoy though all take part in them.

After fifteen minutes of severe, but effective "getting acquainted", the crowd was divided into groups going by the names of the principal Northwest Colleges. The first contest then was a race known as the elephant relay, the decision in which was awarded by Professor Henke to Oregon, the team that actually won. The next stunt, the blame for which is due to Washington aggregation, consisted of some apparently Indian maneuvers, under the direction of "Big Chief" Gary. It was a "yelly" as almost anybody could expect. Following this there nearly came an exhibition of Doane's marvelous lifting powers, but just when Toby and five other men had perfected their arrangements to hold him down the by-standers all took treacherous advantage of Toby and he lifted a howl instead. Three deep, serpentine and yells, and a long winded game of "lobster soccer" followed each other without a halt and all was proceeding splendidly when mutiny suddenly broke out at the introduction of the "eats." It was quelled sufficiently to begin a grand march, but this, after two minutes, ended in a stampede for the cafeteria bench where the "feed" of apples, cider, and bakery doughnuts that were sweet, was available without much lingering ceremony.

While seated on the benches at this surpassing "feed" Dr. Todd was called for a speech. He spoke with the earnestness that usually characterizes his talks of any kind, and emphasized in particular the undoubted fact that college life is real life, that its struggles are just as big, in fact, essentially the same, as those that are to be met later, or to use the common but inapt phrase, "out in the world". He sought to impress, also, the value of showing good habits while in college, because each one is becoming acquainted and establishing his reputation with many who are certain to be leaders in the commonwealth twenty years hence.

Next, Mr. Patterson told of the pleasure he experienced at the return of his youth which had almost died out, he said, during the vacation while he lived apart from youth.

The University office has had a much more business like appearance during the period of registration this year than ever before. With Mr. Dawkins as acting registrar things have gone along at a rapid gate. Much of the confusion which has been so noticeable in the past has been remedied. It is with great enthusiasm that the students welcome this system as it facilitates the work of registering and does away with delay.

Hitherto the work has all been in the hands of a few who had enough to do without the additional labor. This addition to the office force removes that one great responsibility from the shoulders of that few and also shows clearly that Old Willamette is gradually forging ahead. Here's hoping we may require an additional registrar in the near future.

Although football holds full sway at the present time, still it would be well for those not athletically inclined, to bear in mind that the Oratorical tryout is not many months off and that the sooner they begin their orations, the better will be their chances of victory.

Willamette is never fully represented in either debate or oratory tryouts and it is time that the students awakened to the fact that they are deterring their school by not supporting these branches of student activity. The sooner we get busy and try out for these honors, just so soon will Old Willamette's prominence in the forensic world increase. We have an unlimited amount of talent in Willamette that is going to waste because of lack of use. Let's get busy.

Freshmen, the evergreens of society, are pouring into our halls once more. Ever since Willamette first opened its doors to the student world, men and women of various types have spent their required years in study and then entered the broader field of life.

Gradually the classes have increased in number and "pep." The present class bids fair to be one that will add life to the University and get the scapls of their "enemies"—the Sophs.

We welcome these new students into our ranks and know they shall not be disappointed in Old Willamette. Although some may purchase season chapel seats from the mercenary Sophs, and others may visit the new fountain across the way, still we are led to believe, from the general appearance of the class, that they will survive these trifles and become full-fledged college men and women before many months have elapsed.

The Collegian desires all those who wish to get in contact with newspaper work in any of its branches to confer with the editor at once. The staff has not yet been selected, and will be chosen on a competitive basis. Throughout the year, only those making good, will be retained on the staff. If you have had any experience we want you, and if you desire any we will be glad to initiate you into the new field of work. The sooner you attend to this the sooner you will get into the harness and get an added start.

That you are responsible for this record.

That you will receive a prize of $6 if you trade with the largest number of our advertisers this semester, provided that you spend at least $1 at each place you wish to have counted.

That you will receive a prize of $4 if you preserve the largest number of certificates representing purchases of 50 cents or less.

That either a clerk or a proprietor must sign each certificate.

That you should sign in ink for your own good.

An exceedingly interesting place for any student to visit who enjoys the practice of observing any feature indicating progress in industrial methods, is the new baking plant that has recently been installed by the Royal Bakery, near the Hotel Marion on Commercial St. The bakery is one of the most modernly equipped of any such establishment in this part of the country; its oven, which was manufactured by the Peterson Oven Co., of San Francisco, is one of the newest and largest made, costing $2500, and, according to the proprietors, has no equal nearer than Portland.

In general, the outside appearance of the oven is that of a large vault and is faced with beautiful white pressed brick. The walls are 18 inches thick. The furnace, which extends underneath the middle of the oven, is seventeen feet long, the outside length of the vaults, and from here the heat rises and travels through 5-inch flues, like miniature halls, which run above and below and on both sides the entire length of the oven. During the passage of the heat and smoke these flues receive a thick coat of soot but they are easily cleaned by means of a long brush, like a ram rod, which pushes the deposit to the end of the flue and down a chute to a small iron door from which the soot from all the flues is taken.

The oven proper is 12x14 feet inside and about a foot high, this being next to the largest size made. Between 1200 and 1500 loaves can be baked in it at one time and continuous baking is of course possible. During the last few weeks 6000 loaves of bread have been turned out of this oven daily, the firm employing four men constantly on bread alone and half as many on cakes.

Willamette University will rise in the estimation of Salem business and both the institution and the student affairs will receive such support as they never have had before.

Town and Gown will be friends and both will prosper.

That all you must do is to spend your usual amount but to spend a large part of it as is consistent with your best interests with those business men who help to make our paper possible and PRESERVE THOSE CERTIFICATES.

ECHO MEETING SUNDAY WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Old and New Students Relate their Varied Experiences During Past Summer.

The new men of the "Varsity" and also the old ones, will not soon forget the "Echo Meeting" of the Y. M. C. A. which was held Sunday afternoon in the Websterian Halls. With President Van de Vert in the chair the meeting opened with several rousing songs. The remainder of the meeting was taken up by short "echoes" from the men present, of whom there was a goodly number. The speeches were full of enthusiasm and the spirit of Willamette was much in evidence. Judging from the interest shown, this year is to be the best ever witnessed by the Y. M.

After a short and inspiring concluding address by Dr. Todd the meeting was dismissed and the men went en masse to the river and across the bridge where a picture was taken of all present.

Next Sunday afternoon at the usual place and at the customary hour the "kick-off" meeting will be led by Prof. Matthews. All men are cordially invited to be present as a treat is in store for all who come.

KLOSHE KLUB ROOMS HAVE BEEN REMODELED

When the old Kloshe Klub members visited their club rooms, after returning from vacation, they were some surprised at the appearance of the interior.

The old and somewhat shaky floor had been removed and a cement one put in its place. The burlap had been removed from the walls and they are now plastered and present a very neat appearance.

The dining room has been slightly enlarged and is much better than it was prior to the renovation. The kitchen has several improvements and has been more conveniently arranged.

A large number of freshmen have been added to the membership of the club and many of the most prominent students are to be found in the said quarters during meal time. As has always been the case, the club is already planning the politics and President Gilkey of the Kloshe Klub, and it might be mentioned in passing of the student body, also, has given written permission to several members of the seventeeners to hold important jobs during 1917.

WILL SPRING SURPRISE

Dean of the College of Music Refuses to be Interviewed.

CUB TURNED DOWN HARD

Says He Has Something Up His Sleeve which He Will Divulge at Right Time.

Seated in his big arm chair before his desk in the Music Hall office, Dean Mendenhall, of the Department of Music, complacently eyed the Collegian reporter sent to interview him concerning his plans with respect to the Glee Club and Ladies Organization.

"Nothing doing," said the Dean, "not a word do you get. It's going to be a surprise. I have planned some startling events for the year but I positively will not divulge them to the public as yet."

"But," said the news gatherer, "we want to know what the trips will be." The Dean, however, had again lost himself in the work of registering the new students who are going to take musical work and would say no more.

Although nothing definite was divulged by the Dean, still we can be sure that there will be something new in the musical world of Willamette this year and that the Dean will spring some unexpected program on the public.

The work of registering the new students is far from being completed as yet, there being many who have signified their intention of taking a course in the Music Department and have not yet made their arrangements. At present there are about as many signed up as there were last year but without doubt when all are satisfactorily registered there will be a bigger enrollment than in the past.

The Glee Club tryout has not yet been announced but it would be well if all applicants would get out behind some convenient hen coop and have a preliminary rehearsal before appearing before the Dean.

DAN CUPID VERY BUSY

Many Varsity Students Tie Up this Summer.

It seems as though Old Willamette is destined to become a matrimonial stimulator. During the final weeks of last year and the following summer months various and sundry persons have succumbed to the artful wiles of Dan Cupid. First, there was Hepp, who captured his bride and fled to Portland; Robert Minton, the fellow who has never been accused of going with the fair sex, stole a march on his friends and succeeded in winning a California bride. The couple are residing in Salem at present. Ross McIntire and Florence Metcalf hid themselves to Newport during the month of September and were united in marriage within hearing of the mighty deep. Dr. McIntire has had a very profitable year practicing medicine. "Stooge" Flegel and Minnie Chambers were next in order and were spliced just before school opened this fall. Flegel will practice law in Portland this winter.

COLLEGIAN MOVES TO ROOMS IN WALLER HALL

The Collegian has moved its office from Eaton Hall to the old Y. M. C. A. room, located at the west end of the second floor in Waller Hall. Because of the demand for more room for class work the Collegian was forced to vacate.

An inner and outer office are now under construction and the rooms will be finished in dark tan. A private phone for the use of the Collegian only has been installed and additional office fixtures have been secured, all of which will greatly aid the new staff in their year's work.

stories. Immediately afterwards the "stags" departed, taking an extra bushel of apples with them.

Varsity Women Have Picnic.

Laden with innumerable quantities of good things to eat and overflowing with enthusiasm, the majority of the young ladies of the University left the noise of the city and sought the pleasant banks of the old Willamette last Friday afternoon. A huge bonfire was built by the more suffragette members of the crowd and thereon the delicious hot dogs were allowed to sizzle. The merry throng did not reach home until the shades of night made the girls think of those members of the University who were patiently awaiting them at the foot of the steps at old Lausanne.

Miss I. B. Davis chaperoned the party.

An Irreparable Loss

If you lose money it can be found or more earned. If you lose time and opportunity they cannot be replaced—they are gone forever—a total loss. The time and opportunity to get a business training is this fall and winter. Seize this opportunity to prepare for the greatest success your abilities will permit, and enter the Capital Business College, of Salem, Oregon.

WEB OFFICERS CHOSEN

First Literary Meeting this Evening—Lots of Eats.

The Websterian Literary Society held a live business meeting in their halls last Wednesday evening. The election of officers took place and the following men were chosen to serve for the first term: Paul Todd, president; Emery Doane, vice-president; Arnold Hall, recording secretary; Foster Luce, corresponding secretary, and Seth Axley and Lester Proebstal, critic and marshal respectively.

An excellent program has been prepared for the meeting to be held this evening. The fellows of the University are urged to be present if they are interested in forensic work. It is the purpose of the society to give each visitor a clear insight into the life of the organization. As an added incentive the Webs announce that there will be "eats" and plenty of them.

PHILODORIANS BUSY

Held First Meeting Wednesday—Program Tonight.

The Philodorians started the year with their usual dispatch by having a rousing business meeting last Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance of old men and the enthusiasm that was in evidence at the first meeting was certainly a good omen for the ensuing year.

The first literary program of the year will be given this evening at 7:30 and all interested are cordially invited to attend. There will be eats.

AXLEY ROBBED

Is Captured by Ruffians on Dark Street.

Last Saturday night when the members of the Collegian Staff were grinding out copy, the benevolent manager decided that he would feed the poor, benighted fellows. As the story goes, the selfsame fellow hid himself to that part of the city known as the business district, and invested in a few crates of cantaloupes. All went well until he had almost arrived at the Collegian office and then, from behind each tree and bush, emerged about "steen" hungry Seniors, Juniors, Sophs and Freshies, all to be satisfied with the eats meant for a scant half dozen. The rest is the same old story. When the crates reached the office they were surely bare. Hereafter, the Collegian will have a special delivery wagon, guarded by the local militia, in order to convey their eats in safety.

which will be with the Alumni, is to be played on Saturday, October 11th. The Alumni will have an extremely strong team and should have it over the Varsity by a good, large margin.

While the material that has come in does not contain any very flattering possibilities, yet the students have great confidence in the ability of Dr. Sweetland to build a team no matter what he is given to work with and are of the opinion that Old Willamette will make a very respectable showing before the season is over.

ful environment, but which revived with the opening of College and with his feeling again the inspiration in the customs of our community life. He commended the success of the Y. M. C. A., declaring that he found in it only the simple straight forward manliness which it was its ideal to engender.

Mr. DeBra, speaking for the Freshmen, expressed their gratitude for the fun and fellowship they had enjoyed at the "mix". Dr. Sweetland, following him, urged every man to take some part in as many student enterprises as he could with wisdom. He said that he had no sympathy for the man who was nothing but an athlete, but he believed that every man who did proper training in some kind of athletics would be the better for it. President of the Student Body, Errol Gilkey, while delivering the last speech on the list, practiced his usual custom on such occasions—lost control of himself and told some
