THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS provides instruction in four different courses of study:

First, The Classical, embracing four years, is similar to that taught in other institutions of equal grade.

Second, Latin and Scientific Course, embracing four years of study, is prepared for those who desire special work in mathematics and modern languages, and do not wish to study the Greek.

Third, Modern Literature and Art Course, embracing two years, is prepared for those who do not wish to pursue the Latin further than the Academy course, and who wish to supply the place of the languages in college by music and art, and at the same time complete a course in mathematics and sciences.

Fourth, Scientific Course, embracing two years, is prepared for those who wish only the Latin of the Academy Course, and desire special work in Mathematics and the Sciences.

Announcement.

The Seventeenth Annual Course of Lectures will commence on Monday, November 6, 1882, and continue twenty weeks.

Six lectures are delivered daily.

Clinics are held every Wednesday and Saturday for both medical and surgical cases, at which time examinations are made, prescriptions given and surgical operations performed, gratuitously to patients, in the presence of the class.

Terms of Admission.

Every candidate for admission to the Medical Department must be eighteen years of age, and must present to the Faculty satisfactory evidence of a good moral character. Unless already a matriculant of the University, or a graduate of some respectable college, academy or high school, every candidate shall be examined as to his previous education and his fitness for entering upon and appreciating the technical study of medicine.

The diploma or certificate of graduation from such institutions must be presented to the Dean of the Faculty by the candidate in order to procure exemption from the examination, which will cover the ordinary branches of an English educatiod. This examination is not yet so exacting in its demands as we hope to be able to make it before long, but it is intended to test the student's acquaintance with the fundamental branches of an English education, and his general intelligence and capacity to appreciate and profit by professional instruction.

Admission of Women.

Recognizing the equality of rights of both sexes to the highest educational advantages, the Board of Trustees, a few years since, made provision for the

- So effective of education of women, and they are now admitted to this as to all departments of the University on the same conditions that are required of the men.

Resources for Clinical Instruction.

The St. Vincent's Hospital, under the care of Dr. Henry E. Jones and Prof. Rex; the Good Samaritan Hospital, under Dr. Saylor and Prof. Wilson; the Multnomah County Hospital, under Professor Watkins, and the Oregon Insane Asylum to which Prof. Josephi is attached, will each contribute largely, and clinics will be held regularly every Wednesday and Saturday throughout the session at the College Dispensary, and at one or more of the above named institutions, for which no extra charge is made to the class.

It will be the aim of the surgeons in charge of the St. Vincent's and Good Samaritan Hospitals to bring every possible surgical operation performed by them in these institutions before the class, thus making these privileges more valuable than they have ever heretofore been.

INFORMATION.

The Woman's College, so called in honor of its patrons and its distinctive educational aim, is a Department of the Willamette University, co-ordinate with the other Departments of the Institution, the Academy of the University, the College of Liberal Arts, and the College of Medicine.

The new College has for its object the Æsthetic, Social, and Art Culture of young women.

It is exclusively in the interest of the higher education of women, as that subject has come to be the better understood in the experience of the University and in the convictions of its most respected advocates.

The movement is a modification, but in no sense a surrender of co-education.

The literary culture of the young women attending the University will be provided as heretofore in the Academy and College of Liberal Arts, in the same curricula and in the same classes with the young men.

It will thus be seen that the work of the new Department in the case of the young women, is supplementary to that of the Academy and College of Liberal Arts.

The following advantages are afforded by the Woman's College:

Social and Æsthetic Direction.

The Dean of the Woman's College, a lady, exercises an observant and intimate care for the young ladies in all matters pertaining to their social relations, health, refinement in manner and person.

In addition to the above, she directs the attention of the young women, through special lectures and other means, to the higher meanings of woman's life to-day, to interpret to them the motives and moral drift of social observances, to call out their enthusiasm in view of the enlarging responsibilities of educated womanhood at the present time.

The controlling purpose of the College centers here.

Education is valueless apart from opportunity and a worthy purpose.

The opportunities of educated women, though steadily increasing in this country, are, as yet, few, compared with those possessed by men.

It would seem, therefore, that there were the greater reasons that their ambition were roused to seize such as may be offered.

Decorative Art and Design, and Painting.

This work is in charge of an accomplished instructor. Drawing and Design are taught, as also Painting in all its branches. Miss Della M. Quivey, B. P., a graduate of the School of Fine Arts in Syracuse University, has charge of the Art Department.

- A

It is hoped that the friends of Art Culture will aid in the equipment of the Studio, with gifts of casts, specimens of pottery, Art Works and Charts.

Lectures upon the History of Art, its ideas and moral import in different ages and countries, will be had by all the students of the College.

Music.

Music in the Woman's College is provided by the Conservatory, information concerning which is to be found in another place of the catalogue.

College Hall.

A tasteful and commodious building is an indispensable need as the headquarters of such a Department.

Two prominent ends are secured by its provision:

It affords a place of residence, under careful supervision, and amid refined and orderly surroundings, to girls from a distance.

Many parents object to sending their daughters from home to a school where, from want of a College Home, under proper oversight, they are compelled to board in families that, as a rule, acknowledge no responsibility to parents or to the University.

It offers to all the students of the Woman's College—those resident in the building and those living in the city—a center or place of gathering for lectures, and for such social events as may pertain to the home life of the new Department.

Mrs. Andrew, Dean, Mr. Andrew, the Curator, Miss Quivey, the Art teacher, all reside in the Hall, and thus it becomes a religious home and at the same time surrounded by all the good influence of college life. Mrs. Miner, educated and kind, bestows every attention requisite to her duty, for the comfort and pleasure of the home life of the girls.

Care is taken in the furnishing of the building, in the regulations pertaining to the household, and in the internal life of resident students and officers, to maintain the atmosphere and surroundings of a refined and gentle home, so as to make residence in the College Hall a means of education.

It is not designed making the Hall a means of income to the University; it is not a financial venture, and has nothing in common with the aim of a boarding house or boarding school. On the contrary, the cost of residence is placed so low as to bring the advantage of the Hall within the reach of all earnest young women desirous of an education.

The success of this new department for the last two years since its organization, has encouraged the managers to provide larger facilities. Accordingly during the summer the building will be enlarged to nearly three times its present capacity, and will be in readiness to receive students by next September term.

How

A mansard roof will be put on the present building and an addition 40x30, and two stories high, will be added to the rear, providing twenty two new rooms.

Regulations of the Woman's College Hall.

- I. Five weeks in advance for board.
- 2. Proper care of room and personal appearance.
- 3. Attendance upon family worship.
- 4. Permission for temporary absence.
- 5. No social calls during study hours.
- 6. No boisterous noise in the Hall.

The study room will be warmed and open for study each morning at 6, for those who desire to study before school.

FACULTY.

THOMAS VAN SCOY, A. M., B. D., President.

WILLIAM J. STABLER,

Director and Professor of Piano, Organ, Voice, Theory and Composition.

MISS NETTIE PIPER,
Instructor in Vocal Culture and Piano.

MISS NELLIE HALL, Assistant Instructor.

MISS A. R. LUSE, Elocution and Dramatic Art.

MISS A. MOORES, B. S.,
Instructor of the German and French Languages.

MISS D. QUIVEY, B. P., Drawing and Painting.

This Department of the University is in a flourishing condition, and is becoming a prominent feature of the institution. It furnishes a full and thorough course for all who desire to graduate in music. Pupils have the choice of two courses, the Virtuoso and the Ordinary. The VIRTUOSO course requires the pupil to have a thorough knowledge of the theory of music, including Harmony, History of Music, including a familiarity with the lives and works of the Great Masters; to become an artist upon some instrument, or as a singer. The Ordinary course requires the pupil to complete Harmony; a short History of Music and the lives of the Great Masters; to be a good player upon some instrument, or a good singer. The Virtuoso Course requires four years with the pupils entire time. The Ordinary Course requires three years. This time, however, may be shortened in proportion to the advancement and ability of the student. A SPE-CIAL COURSE is provided in the study of the Pipe Organ. In the NORMAL Course, pupils are prepared to teach music, and when they complete a satisfactory amount of study, recommendations are given.

By attending the Conservatory, pupils are brought under the influence of systematic teaching and in the associating with other pupils, are stimulated to more earnest effort. The instruction given is according to the methods now in use in the best Eastern Conservatories. Persons on this coast who desire a complete and satisfactory course in Music need not be at the expense of going East. Salem is well adapted as a city for a school of music, being as it is, in many respects, the Boston of the Pacific Coast. The Society in Salem is of the very best, and all influences are of an elevated character.

The Conservatory has ample facilities for all who wish the best instruction, having at present three teachers, five pianos, two organs—one organ being a fine pedal instrument. All pupils are advised and encouraged to take a regular course and graduate.

The free advantages deserve special mention. Ist. Public Rehearsals are held once a month, at which pupils of the proper advancement appear in songs and instrumental solos, four and eight hand pieces. 2d. Lectures upon Musical History, &c., are given occasionally. 3d. Chorus Rehearsals are held once a week. 4th. Pupils are entitled to instruction in the notation and rudiments of music once or twice a week. 5th. Pupils have access to the Conservatory Library.

Visitors are always welcome, and are invited to come and see the regular work of the pupils.

Branches Taught.

Instruction is given on the Piano, Organ, Violoncello.

Literary Societies.

There are four well organized literary societies connected with the school. They have commodious and well furnished rooms in the University Hall. In these societies the students obtain much of that culture which is so useful in almost every vocation, by writing, reading, declaiming, delivering orations, musical renditions, by discussions and criticisms. The Athenæum and Concordia, ladies' societies, meet at 3 P. M., Fridays. The other two, Alka and Hesperian, meet every Friday evening. These literary societies each have small but well selected libraries to which each member has access.

Library.

There are about 2,500 volumes in the library of the University, to which is added from time to time, by purchase and donation, books useful to students and teachers in the prosecution of college work. The present year, much interest has been shown in the library, and many useful books have been read.

College Christian Association.

This association meets every Tuesday at 6 P. M., and is designed to keep up a growing religious sentiment among the students and to bring the unconverted to a saving knowledge of Christ. The Association is unsectarian in its principles and work, and is organized on the basis of College Christian Associations generally.

Notice.

A student on entering town from a distance should come at once to the President, so as to be assisted in making the cheapest and best arrangements for a home and boarding place.

Mr. Skinner, the gentlemanly agent at the depot, will give directions to those who may be strangers. Ladies will at once find a home and kind friends in the Woman's College.

Rooms for Young Men and Boys.

A number of rooms can be had in the University Hall, where young men may have a home with the President and board in the same family in the University boarding room, at a cost of two dollars and a half per week, the rooms being unfurnished. Those desiring to board here should bring their bedding along. What furniture is needed can be bought cheap and re-sold on leaving.

Business Department.

The attendance during the past two years has been such, as regards both the number and quality of the students, as to prove the necessity of a business course of a much higher grade than is usually found in large cities where the expenses are so high as to render a shorter and more imperfect course almost a necessity to the majority of students. Here, instead of studying some three or four branches for as many months and paying a high price for an inferior article of board, tuition, and almost everything connected with the course, the student may take a course that will fit him for a teacher, as well as for a bookkeeper, and give him a good general knowledge of several very important branches of study.

- So-oH

The studies have been so arranged as to accommodate those who may be able to attend for only a short time; but, in all cases where it is possible, it is desired that students should complete the entire course.

The aim will be to make this by far the best Business course on this coast; and, in proof of this, some of the advantages over the ordinary Business College courses are given below.

The student lives in a student community where he is incited to obtain as broad an education as possible; he has the use of the library and reading-room and the privilege of attending the literary societies and the lectures delivered before the University; he has the special instruction of an experienced book-keeper who has taught in some of the best Eastern institutions; he pays his tuition in small sums, so that if he is dissatisfied with the course, or from any cause leaves school, he suffers no loss as too often happens where he pays for a one or two years' scholarship in advance; he may, at a moderate expense, learn telegraphy if he especially desires it; and more important still, he can save enough on board to pay his tuition.

Museum.

The museum consists of a small but choice selection of American and foreign minerals, a collection of rocks and fossils sufficient to illustrate many of the more important features of geology—also, a number of good specimens to aid in the study of zoology. To each of these collections valuable additions have been made during the past year and a plan devised by which it is hoped to rapidly increase them in the future.

Literary Exercises.

Special drill will be given in composition, elocution, and general literary exercises throughout all the courses of study. These exercises are additional to those mentioned in the curricula.

Elocution.

Instead of making extra charges, as heretofore, for elocution, it will be taught to every student as a regular line of study, under the tutorage of Miss A. R.

H 56

Luse, who has given such satisfaction, teaching this branch, during the last year.

Correlated Academies.

It is the design of these schools to prepare students as far as possible for the Freshmen class in the College.

Certificates from the correlated academies will give the students bearing them the desired standing in the University without an examination on the studies embraced in the certificates.

These Academies are: Umpqua Academy, located at Wilbur, Oregon, H. L. Benson, A. M., Principal; La Creole Academy, located at Dallas, Oregon, S. A. Randle, A. B., Principal; Sheridan Academy, located at Sheridan, Oregon, Rev. J. H. Skidmore, Principal; Santiam Academy, located at Lebanon, Oregon, J. L. Gilbert, Principal.

College Journal.

The University and Correlated Schools publish monthly a twenty-page journal, which contains all the news of the different departments, reports of scholar-ship of the students, literary articles and general educational news, and gives notice of the successes and honors attending the work of those who have gone out from among us. It is well worth the subscription price. Subscription, $1

Needs of the University.

Large and immediate additions to the funds of the University are much needed. One or two Professorships should be established at once. The one needed as much, or more than any other is a Professorship in Theology, in order by special training to supplement the work of those preparing for the ministry.

Five thousand dollars endowment on the Woman's College Department must be obtained before the building and lands now used for this department is secured to the Trustees. A suitable Hall for recitations in the College of Liberal Arts must be erected in the near future. Thoroughly to equip this institution upon the plan proposed, resources several times greater than any now possessed will be absolutely necessary. The Trustees cannot doubt but that the friends of the school and public spirited men and women will create the needed facilities. The University is now only beginning to live. The character of its life will depend upon the help of those who have money, and who have such love for Christian training as to bestow it upon the institution for this purpose.
