--------------	------------------------------------------------------

Light doesn't flash,
Time is depleted by the minute,
A bird has stopped in flight.
The light hurls itself down a cliff,
Wakes up the columns and,
Without moving, they dance.
The hour is transparent:
Let's see, if the bird is invisible.
The color of his song.

Blue Bird Charles Villiers Stanford

Le Chant des Oyseaux Clement Janequin

Wake up and arise, you sleepy hearts,
The god of love is calling.
On this bright first day of May,
The birds display their magic;
Hark to what they want to say,
Away with feelings tragic!
And faree-a-ree-rong, prettily, my dear.
You will be smiling all day long
If you but join their singing,
You will be glad.
You shall hear at my command
A sound so sweet and gentle:
Thrush and little starling, too,
They shall all begin to sing
With voices sentimental.
Should we too,
Could it be,
All the sparrows will join in the song,
The noisy sparrows join the noisy song.
Blessed soul of God!
Hear them sing!
Now's the time for drinking,
Off we go,
Many birds will miss the sermon;
Now, mistress mine,

Woodpecker Stephen Chatman
