AND

THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

Dear old school! How strong we love thee!

Round thy memories how we cling!
Gladsome hearts beneath thy shadow,

Loyal hearts to thee we bring.
Old Willamette! How we cherish

All thy legends and thy lore,
Born upon the calm Pacific,
Guides us onward evermore.

GREETING.

To every student with determination and high ideals, Willamette extends the hand of cordial greeting. We welcome you because of our strength and yours. "To be and to do" is our slogan. Life and service are our aims. We believe they are yours.

You are beginning four years of university life. They must be fruitful years. Their fruitage must be greater freedom, greater gladness, finer appreciation of all things beautiful and greater strength. In the democratic life of Willamette University you will find the means of developing these. You have come to that which is to be your Alma Mater. It shall be your high privilege to absorb its spirit and add to its fire and life. Its history is replete with struggle and often, out of seeming defeat it has come to victory. So shall your life be. With Willamette men and women about you and an honest spirit within, you cannot fail.

We believe in the physical, the intellectual, and the spiritual. These make up the balanced life. And the balanced life proves itself strong in the final testing. Find a home in Willamette but let your vision sweep wide. Let it penetrate into every avenue of life and learning but make yourself master in one realm.

Now, student friend, we bid you welcome to class room, athletic field, assembly, literary life, social life, music, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Come in and dwell with us.

ERNEST C. RICHARDS.

So, here's to thy gold and card'nal!

And here's to thine ancient lore!

And here's to the hearts that beat for thee,

Loyal, forever more!

NEW STUDENTS.

Incoming trains are met by representatives of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. Write to either of the following, telling on what train you will arrive. They will also be glad to aid you in finding boarding places or employment.

MISS NICHOLS

Y. W. C. A.

New students, we are very glad to know you. The Y. W. C. A. extends an especially cordial welcome to every new girl who has come to Willamette University. We are looking forward to large things in our associations this year because our relation to world problems is the most unique and vital that it has ever been. Systematic efficiency must mark every undertaking as we attempt to solve the fascinating yet perplexing questions that are ours. Will you not become acquainted with us, our work and our play, as soon as possible? We invite you to our weekly meetings, our study classes, our social affairs and our Rest Room. Again, I would say, "We are very glad to know you."

GLADYS NICHOLS,

President.

MR. GREEN

Y. M. C. A.

That the Army Y. M. C. A. is playing a unique and important part in the lives of the soldiers, goes without saying. In the surroundings and activities peculiar to the College man the "Y" comes with an equal force and effectiveness. Perhaps you have been in a hurry to go to a show, and have found one collar-button gone—remember your consternation—well without the "Y" your equipment for a well rounded College Life must give you the same feeling.

The Y. M. endeavors to help you to a satisfactory adjustment in your new surroundings, and to serve you in any way possible. The members of its cabinet are fellows who know college life—its hardships, and the compensation it offers. If you want work, let them know; if you are in trouble, none will be more willing to help; if you are happy let them know it, the "Y" exists because you need it. Don't be afraid to use it to the limit. It stands for Service, Character, and a Clean Fighting Spirit.

THE STUDENT BODY.

The Associated Student Body is the legislative organization of the students of the University. Its purpose is to promote the general welfare of the school and secure the co-operation of all the students in any matter which concerns them as a whole. The membership includes all students registered in any department of the University who have paid their Student Body dues. While being under the supervision of the president and faculty, it has control of such intercollegiate activities as debates and athletics, the business management of the Collegian and social affairs of a general character.

The officers for 1918-1919 are:

President	Harold Nichols
Vice-President	Lelia Johnson
Secretary	Helen Rose
Treasurer	Clark Story
Editor of The Collegian..	Homer Tasker
Manager of The Collegian..	Royal Moore

DR. DONEY

Some have gone to join the colors,
Many more will choose that way;
Underneath the starry banner,
In the world's great cause today.
College days have brought the vision,
Human hearts and hopes to scan,
For the nation we are fighting,
For the brotherhood of man.

WILLAMETTE AT THE FRONT

When the first order of mobilization came, Willamette University promptly responded with the finest of her youth. Willamette men composed over one-third of Salem's Company M at the first enlistment and many alumni and students have entered the service since that time. Not a better morally constituted company can be found anywhere in the country, and they are known throughout France for their high standards. Everywhere are our boys fulfilling the ideals of this our college and theirs, making their influence for good felt all over France. Continually are they receiving advancement, several doing official work for the government, others having received commissions are fulfilling their tasks with a vim, and even the "non-coms" are doing old Glory honor.

Those in France have made a big sacrifice, but our men at home are making just as large a sacrifice by remaining in the United States and doing their bit here. There is not a boy in our University who would not be in France but for more pressing duties at home.

The University has also made a great sacrifice in sending Dr. Doney to the front, but his letters of greeting and instruction throughout the spring have been making up in some degree, for his absence. His presence next year with increased vigor and inspiration will be an added incentive to all of us to be more zealous in doing our share at home.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Philodosian.

For more than thirty-five years the Philodosian Literary Society has been identified with the best in Willamette's traditions. The literary programs, which occur every Friday afternoon, conform to a high standard of excellence made possible by the carefully selected membership. Social life—receptions, joint programs, jolly informal parties and picnics—is shared with the brother Philodorian Society. Not only is it made an aid to cultural development but it provides many of the happiest hours of college life. Through co-operation in work and play are formed the true, deep friendships symbolized in the society pin, the gold phi.

Philodorian.

As the oldest organization of its kind west of the Rocky Mountains, the Philodorian Literary Society bears the responsibility of maintaining the high ideals of its founders; their aim—Perfection; their motto—Service. The society endeavors to develop in its members, not only literary ability, but also those fine traits of character and that singleness of purpose which mark the true gentleman and leader.

The co-operation of the Philodosians lends attractiveness to the social life of the society.

All men of the University are expressly invited to attend the literary meetings, Wednesday evenings throughout the year.

Adelante.

The Adelante Society takes its name from Spanish and has for its symbol the Minerva head. The word Adelante means progress and the Adelante Literary Society signifies for the college woman the highest cultural development. At the regular meetings each Friday afternoon the Adelantes enjoy interesting and instructive programs. The membership of the society is limited and so great deliberation is taken in the selection of members. One of the requirements for membership is that each girl must complete ten hours of college work before becoming an active member.

The society halls are the scene of many delightful joint social functions with the Websterians, our brother society.

Websterian.

The Websterian Society is a literary and social organization in which forensics and parliamentary training hold the pre-eminent place, with many social events playing a close second. The regular meetings are held on Wednesday night at which time the programs are composed of numbers of speaking, reading, debating and parliamentary drill. In these every member is given a chance to supplement his regular work with important matters that are not given in the class room.

The Webs are proud of the strong, active leaders they have produced during the past twelve years and have every right to expect that the coming years will be as successful.

Chrestomathean.

The Chrestomathean Literary Society is the youngest organization of its kind on the campus. It has the enthusiasm and idealism of youth and a hearty spirit of "carry on." The Greek chi is the official emblem by which its members are known, and is representative of the Greek name which means "lovers of learning." The society has exalted ideals of culture and womanhood and it directs all its energies toward their realization. It has a limited number of members which are carefully chosen each year.

In the social world the Chrestomatheans co-operate with their brother society, the Chrestophilians.

Chrestophilian.

During the two years of its existence the Chrestophilian Literary Society has consistently featured many good programs which include lively debates, interesting and helpful discussions, and numerous drills in parliamentary law.

The goal of the society is well expressed in the constitution. "The object of this society shall be the promotion of the spirit of brotherhood, and advancement of its members in social and literary culture, in the cultivation of logical thinking, in fluency of expression, and in the use of parliamentary rules."

The Chrestophilians enjoy the co-operation of their sister society, the Chrestomatheans, at all social functions.

Girls' Inter-Society Rules.

The three young women's societies have adopted the following rules.

Rule I.—That each society shall hold its reception and each new girl shall have an opportunity to attend each society at least once and not more than twice before the second Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Rule II.—That no girl shall be invited to join a society, either by verbal or written invitation, before the second Saturday before Thanksgiving.

Rule III.—That each girl answer in writing.

Rule IV.—That an inter-society council be established to consist of two members from each society to be appointed by the presidents of the respective societies at the last business meeting of the school year.

Rule V.—That there shall be an additional member of the council, a faculty lady elected by the council.

Rule VI.—That the duty of the council shall be to decide all inter-society matters. Its decision shall be final.

Rule VII.—That these rules shall be published in the Handbook and the first issue of the Collegian.

WILLAMETTE PLAY TIMES.

Oh, come and let us loudly sing!
Sing Old Willamette's praise!
The mem'ries dear that 'round her cling,
The joys of college days!

There is a continual round of social events for the new students entering Willamette. Especially at the opening of the school year, the college social calendar does its part in dispelling homesickness.

The first event of the year is the reception given by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., an affair which serves as a general introduction into the spirit and good fellowship of the entire student body. Everyone becomes acquainted and the new students depart, feeling that they have already become a vital part of Old Willamette.

The hike to Chestnut Farm to which all the University women are invited by the Y. W. C. A. is one of the most delightful events of the fall season. The warm hospitality and good times are such that if once enjoyed it will never be missed.

For the men of the University, the Stag Mix held in the gym with the Y. M. as host, is an informal gathering which is a splendid "get-acquainted affair." Special stunts and story-telling, besides plenty of good eats, are some of the features of the occasion.

For those students who cannot go home for Thanksgiving vacation, the Jolly-up in the gym serves as a wonderful substitute and stimulus. Games of an informal nature furnish plenty of entertainment and amusement.

At the conclusion of the mid-year exams, the spirits of the most foreboding individual are animated with the joys of a Post-Exam Jubilee.

An annual custom which belongs strictly to Willamette is the Freshman Glee. For this occasion each class writes an original college song and these are presented by the classes, competing for the prize, a pennant made by the Freshmen. The songs composed for the Glee are printed in the Willamette Song Book.

As a fitting climax to the series of social affairs, the May Day festivities are the crowning event. Among the events of the week-end are the Junior Play, May Morning Breakfast, served by the Y. W. C. A., the tennis tournaments, student feed and baseball games. The above named events are merely preliminaries to the crowning of the queen. Dances and the winding of the May-pole in the presence of the Queen follow the coronation. As a culmination of the week-end festivities, the Juniors entertain the students and their visiting friends at the Junior Prom.

Commencement brings a score of good things such as one can never forget. Once a freshman is present at a college Commencement there lingers with him a desire to receive a "sheep-skin" also. This last week brings to the campus many graduates who assist and partake of the activities. The program of the week includes Dr. and Mrs. Doney's reception in honor of the Seniors, the Senior play, presentation of the Senior gift, class day stunts and the Commencement exercises. The closing event is the banquet given by the Alumni in honor of the graduates.

ORGANIZATIONS.

"W" Club.

Rah, Rah, for the boys of the "W"
Who fight for the cardinal and gold.

Membership in the Athletic "W" Club is the most highly prized honor open to the endeavors of the student. The requirement for membership is the winning of the official award in football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis. Because the athletic standards are so high, this is no easy matter and therefore means much when once it is attained.

Girls' Willamette Club.

Rah, Rah, for the girls of Willamette,
Her standards they'll ever uphold.

The Girls' Willamette Club is composed of all the women students in school. Although the club is made up entirely of girls, it is not wholly for girls, since it recognizes woman's influence in the maintenance of the high standards which are our pride. Its purposes are to live the true Willamette spirit and to aid in keeping alive the memory of Jason Lee.

Bar "W" Club.

The Bar "W" Club is made up of those students who have represented the University in debate or oratorical contests. The pin which is proudly worn by the members, stands for much hard work, perseverance and self-denial.

The Student Volunteer Band.

The purpose of this organization is to give students training and education along the line of foreign missions. The movement was started in 1886 and since that time it has sent 6934 students to the various mission fields of the world. There are seven colleges in Oregon which have the organization with a membership of 325 members. All students who are planning to make the foreign mission field this ultimate goal, should become members of this Band.

Men's Glee Club.

Willamette University has always been proud of her Men's Glee Club. This club is composed of the best male voices in the University. During the last two seasons the club has been especially active. In the spring of 1917 the boys made a fifteen hundred mile tour of Oregon. In 1918 they covered about eighteen hundred miles on their tour of Washington and Oregon. On these trips the Glee Club has been an enthusiastic and efficient advertiser for "Old Willamette."

Ladies' Glee Club.

The Ladies' Glee Club is one of the most valued organizations on the campus. The girls have worked faithfully and under Dr. Chace's leadership have reached a high standard of efficiency. This year the club gave its annual Salem concert and several in other towns, besides rendering valuable assistance on programs.

Red Cross Auxiliary.

The call of the American Red Cross in the spring of 1917 was answered by the formation of a live auxiliary which has made itself felt keenly on the campus. After only a little over a year, it boasts a membership of 132. The auxiliary is partially self-supporting; the monthly pledges amount to $22.35, while 221 hours a week have been pledged to Red Cross work. One afternoon a week is spent in sewing and making bandages. Knitting socks, sweaters, and wristlets for the soldiers "over there" occupies every spare minute of all who wish to make the best use of their time for a good cause.

Washingtonian Club.

The Washingtonian Club is composed of those students and faculty members whose homes, present and past, temporary or permanent, are in the state of Washington. It has for its primary purpose the boosting of Willamette in Washington and of Washington in Willamette and for its secondary purpose the furthering of friendships between Washington students at Willamette. With these ends in view, letters and Collegians are sent to high schools and prospective students throughout the state of Washington, several social affairs are enjoyed and a banquet is served to the entire school on Washington's Birthday.

Intercollegiate Prohibition Assn.

Those who are earnestly interested in the furtherance of the great cause of Prohibition have banded themselves together to study and discuss the various phases of the question. Through their oratorical contests, local, state, interstate and national, they have done much to spread the name and fame of Willamette.

Greater Willamette Club.

The fact that youth is no draw-back to great achievements has been proved conclusively by the Greater Willamette Club. Organized in the spring of this year results of this wide awake organization have followed each other in rapid succession. Composed of all the students and with the Student Body president as its head, the activities are managed by a manager elected by the club and a committee appointed by the president. Its purpose is implied in its name and even greater things are expected of it during the coming year.

Salem High-Willamette Club.

This club was just organized last year, but despite the fact that it is very young, it has a great task before it. It is composed of graduates of Salem High School and its aim is to interest every S. H. S. student in Willamette and to secure just as many Freshmen from the Senior class as it is possible to get. The club realizes that Willamette's greatest single field for new students is the local high school and so have made their motto "to make every Salem High Senior a future Willamette Frosh." Last year the club contained among its members about one-fifth of the students enrolled in school and it is hoped that when the club has had a few years to work that it will include even a greater per cent than this.

Lausanne Hall Club.

The girls of "Old Lausanne" pride themselves upon their splendid spirit and deep interest in school affairs which have made them leaders in all activities. They entertain in a most delightful manner and happy is the man who is bid to their parties.

Dewdrop Inn Club.

One of the jolliest organizations in College is Dewdrop Inn. It is a clubhouse for girls who believe in study but who do not forget the playtime that calls them to dreamy evenings with "ukes" around the fire-place, or more lively fun in the woods on "hikes" and picnics. The girls are happily anticipating the fourth year in the Inn at 152 North Thirteenth street, when Mrs. Ida H. Garrett will again be their pleasing house-mother.

Commons Club.

The Commons Club is the only eating house for men on the campus. The object this club has in view is to provide good, wholesome board for the fellows at a nominal cost. During the year 1917-18 the average cost per month was about $12.50. An initiation fee of $5.00 entitles one to membership for four years in this club of good fellowship.

H. K. Klub.

The H. K. Klub was organized by eight young men, living in a house together in the school year of 1917-1918. In this club board and room was secured for the very reasonable price of $5.00 a week. It may be more or less next year but certainly will be reasonable. This club promoted Christian association among the fellows and helped to sustain a fine Willamette spirit.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS.

Willamette Collegian.

The Willamette Collegian is recognized by authorities as standing foremost among the college papers of the Northwest. The circulation is about twelve hundred copies each issue. These are sent each week to alumni and friends of the University and to all high schools in Oregon and Washington. Every school week, after Wednesday's chapel, the Collegians are distributed. All forms of college life are emphasized but special attention is accorded athletics and social events. Editorials of great value are also included. The reporters of the staff are for the most part members of the journalism class.

The Wallulah.

This attractive volume is published each year by the Junior class and serves as a record of the college year. Its appearance is one of the features of Junior Week-end. It reviews all sides of college life and in the years to come will prove a most pleasing reminder of "those college days of long ago."

Willamette Song Book.

Few schools or colleges can boast such a collection of songs as are found in the Willamette Song Book. Most of the songs, which are strictly original, are the contributions of the various Freshman Gleees, with the addition of a few Glee Club songs.

The Handbook.

Early in the summer of each year, the two Christian Associations, with the aid of the University, publish the Handbook. It is primarily for the benefit of new students and contains information in brief form of all University activities. We shall feel amply repaid if it renders some little service to you during your "first days." You're welcome.

For our dear old Willamette U.

The Varsity loved so well,

The college leading all others

As our conquests nobly tell;

We shall live and die for W. U.

And do it with a will,

So here's to the best in all the West,

The greatest college still.

ATHLETICS.

Give a cheer for old Willamette,
For her mighty football team,
For the battling five on gym floor
While they fight for varsity fame.
To the wearers of the letter

Let us sing our songs of praise,
By their efforts we have conquered,
They have brought us victories.

Due to the efforts of Coach R. L. Mathews, athletics at Willamette have become an organized branch of the Student Body. They are directly controlled by an Athletic Council consisting of one faculty member, two alumni, two "W" men, the Student Body president, and athletic director. An athletic manager is elected each year to manage the details of all athletic activities.

To those playing the required amount of time in football, basketball, baseball, track and tennis, the official "W" is awarded. A sweater is presented the first year an award is earned and a certificate for each following year. Men winning four awards in any one branch are honored by receiving a Willamette blanket which shows the branch engaged in and the captaincies held.

Under the supervision of Coach Mathews athletics have reached a high standard of efficiency and have turned out winning teams in all branches. Owing to the demands the war has made upon the boys, teams for the 1918-19 season will be seriously handicapped but all athletics will be continued with vigor as before.

Forensics.

Increased interest in forensics at Willamette is probably due to the Department of Oratory which is becoming more efficient each year. This past year our representatives defeated Pacific University in a dual debate and also the College of Puget Sound. The greatest forensic event of the year was the State Oratorical contest at which Willamette was host to the orators representing the various colleges. Much interest was aroused by the several local contests and try-outs. In April our orator won first place in the State Intercollegiate Prohibition contest.

Forensics were given a decided stimulus last year when Miss Margaret Garrison won the state and inter-state contest. She will represent the Northwest next December in the National contest and we are confidently looking forward to another victory.

On Willamette, ever onward

To the highest goal in view;

From the bell tower rings the story

Of thy conquests, W. U.

In our mighty Alma Mater

Let our faith be ever bold,

That victory may be the prize

Of the Cardinal and the Gold.

FRESHMAN GLEE—1918.

Junior Song.

Oh sweet is day's stern labor,
We conquer without fear;
And sweet the hours of evening
When college friends are near,
So gathered here at twilight
Amid the shadows long,
Soft notes of youth and springtime
Are mingled in our song.

Freshman Song.

Come, show Willamette's spirit,
Let's battle for the right.
Shout so all can hear it,
"That's the old fight!"
To win will ever be our aim,
We'll strive with all our might,
And we'll shout it to the victory,
"That's the old fight."

Senior Song.

We are soldiers of Willamette,
We're the nation's patriots, too;
We seek the might that's gained thru
right,
So here's to W. U.
We seek the might that's gained thru
right,
So here's to W. U.

Sophomore Song.

Then we'll strive, we'll stand, we'll stay
by old Willamette
With her legends and traditions old and true.
Something seems to draw us onward,
ever to the victor's goal;
'Tis the magic of thy spirit, W. U.
