

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS TO OCCUPY THE WEEK

Dr. Wilkinson Leads Student Service Each Evening at Seven.

DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVED TOMORROW

All Other Interests Give Way to the Meetings—Students Interview Dr. Wilkinson.

On Monday evening Dr. Wilkinson of Eugene opened the special students' meetings with a very vital talk on the text, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." There was a fair attendance for the first evening, although there was plenty of vacant seats which will undoubtedly be filled from now on as the report of the deep interest and spiritual power of Dr. Wilkinson's addresses is spread over the University.

The plan of the meetings for the coming week is briefly this: meetings every night from 7 to 7:45, and a ten or fifteen minute chapel talk every day. Dr. Wilkinson wishes it to be understood that he will confine himself to the forty-five minute period, so that students may not be kept too much from their other duties. Another thing the Doctor wants known by all is that he will not subject his audiences to any embarrassing tests as to whether or not they are Christians. He wants those who are not Christians to profess Christ freely and voluntarily and not because some pressure is brought to bear upon them through an embarrassing test. Those who are not Christians are the ones he especially wants to reach, and such persons need have no hesitancy about attending the meetings; Dr. Wilkinson will treat them right.

Tomorrow the University will observe the College Day of Prayer, no classes will be held, no campus work done, no athletics practiced. The whole University will co-operate with Dr. Wilkinson and the Faculty to make this a day of worship and prayer, a real spiritual refreshing. There will be two special meetings during the day, one at ten, the usual chapel time, and the other at seven.

On Saturday there will be no meetings, but on Sunday, the last day of the series, there will be three. The morning and evening services at the First M. E. Church will be led by Dr. Wilkinson in continuation of the student meetings. These two services will be especially for college men and women and a large representation of University students is desired and expected. On Sunday at three o'clock there will be a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at which Dr. Wilkinson will speak and to which every student is invited.

One of the most important features of Dr. Wilkinson's ministry here is the private consultations which he will hold with all students who desire to talk with him upon matters of religion, personal experience, life work, or any other topic upon which he may help anyone. It is hoped that a great number of students will avail themselves of this opportunity to gain help on matter that may be perplexing them. Dr. Wilkinson is a man of men, a man with a knowledge of human nature and a broad experience with men. His many years in the ministry have taught him how to quickly come into personal touch with men and women, and he is eminently fitted to help settle questions that may be troubling students. He knows college men and women and is to serve them.

Every student of the University will be more than welcome at every meeting of the week.

STEARNS IS ON COMMITTEE

Prominent Junior Succeeds Reeves on Student Body Executive Committee.

The most important business transacted at the meeting of the Executive Committee Feb. 1 was to fill the vacancy on the Committee made by Ralph Reeves' withdrawal from the University. Ralph Stearns, a Junior Libertia Ais, a football "W" man, and an active participant in student affairs, was chosen to take Mr. Reeves' place.

Several bills were presented and allowed. The question as to whether the Tennis Association should be made a Student Body activity or not, was brought up and discussed, but no definite action was taken on the matter. Other miscellaneous matters of business were taken up by the committee.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS IN SALEM

On Saturday, February 8, the executive committee of the State Inter-Collegiate Prohibition League met in Salem.

Arrangements were made for the state convention and oratorical contest, which will be held in Eugene, near the middle of April.

The local contests in the various schools will occur about a month preceding the state contest.

PROFS, EXAMS AND SECH LIKE PUT ON SCRAP-HEAP

Last Vestige of Care Disappears at Post-Exam Jubilee Held Friday Evening.

A light-hearted and exuberant student body gathered in the Philodorian and Websterian halls after the basketball game Friday night to "drive dull care away" and annihilate exam papers. Four political parties, the Crammers, the Cribbers, the Flunkers and the Naturad Wonders vied with each other for supremacy during the evening, two parties meeting together for the election of delegates and the formation of party platforms. Eric Bolt, in a quick-witted and masterful style safely guided the destinies of the Crammers and Cribbers, in spite of the ever intruded intrigues of the Messrs. Schramm, Oakes and McIntire, and the constant interruptions of the secretary, Miss P. (alias George Schreiber).

Meantime, Carlos Raines presided successfully over the Naturad Wonders and Flunkers, and after all spikes had been driven home in the respective party platforms a mass meeting of the assembly was called for mutual enlightenment. The Cribbers, who declared themselves the "nucleus of any true college," presented their platform, concluding with the provision, "All locomotions from class to class shall be by means of a pony." Examination grades ranging from 140 to 125 were made public, and several especially meritorious papers on such subjects as "King Solomon" and "The Kinds of Motion," were made public. The marks on these unique and masterful compositions were not disclosed, however.

Finally, all adjourned to the Philodorian halls to partake of punch and wafers and then returned home with the last pernicious effects of examinations expurgated from their souls.

Oakes Collects Endowment.

J. B. C. Oakes, '12, has accepted a position with Willamette as a collector of the endowment subscriptions. Mr. Oakes has worked in this position for the past three weeks in Portland and is now in Salem looking after the University business which has been placed in his hands.

PROFESSION SCHOOLS SUBJECT OF WILD RUMOR

Consolidation of Oregon and Willamette Schools, Is Talk.

"U" AUTHORITIES MAKE NO STATEMENT

Deans of Medical Schools Correspond No Definite Action Taken by U. of O. Regents or W. U. Trustees.

Are the Medical and Law Schools going to leave Willamette's campus? This question has been bothering the hearts and minds of the students for the past ten days. There is no definite plan announced to that effect and Dean Clements of the Medical school said that there would be nothing definite for several months. He did not deny that there was ground for the rumor, but said that there was nothing definite enough to make a statement.

Some of the rumors which have spread have included the terms of consolidation and in general attained all the appearance of authoritative statements. The facts seem to be somewhat as follows: The University trustees have appointed a committee to investigate the condition of the affiliated schools and report later as to what shall be done concerning them. Absolutely no statement, however, has been made as to the attitude of the trustees. A dispatch from Eugene quotes President Campbell as saying that the University of Oregon regents have not even considered the matter. The deans of the Willamette and Oregon Medical schools, both of which are financially independent institutions, are carrying on correspondence with regard to the consolidation of the two, but have reached no terms. Nothing further than this is authentic. The matter of the Law School lies entirely with the action of the University Board of Trustees.

It is no secret that the maintenance of professional schools is a serious problem before the trustees and the present rumors have no doubt germinated from the fact that they are now considering the best course to pursue.

The medical faculty met Monday evening to consider the proposed consolidation but the attitude of the members and what was accomplished were not made public.

Any statement which seems to come from the Board of Trustees or the office of the University is absolutely without foundation, as they refuse to make a statement for publication. The present state of the discussion is rumor, pure and simple.

Miss Shumway in Concert.

Miss Irma Shumway, one of Willamette's most gifted musicians and one of the most popular girls in the University two or three years ago, has accepted a position under the Weber Lyceum Bureau as pianist in a trio consisting of a pianist, reader and violinist. The engagements of the troupe begin next week. Miss Shumway has taken vocal lessons from Mrs. Mendenhall for three years and piano from the Dean for four. Her friends here have no doubt of her success in the work.

Alumnus Candidate for U. S. Senator.

Hon. J. F. Ailshie, '91, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Idaho, was one of the contenders for the U. S. Senatorship to complete the term of the late Senator Heyburn. After a deadlock of several days, in which he and ex-Gov. Brady were the high candidates, Judge Ailshie withdrew, and Brady was elected.

MINTON QUILTS MANAGERSHIP

New Manager For Collegian Will Be Chosen by Executive Committee This Week.

The resignation of Robert Minton as business manager of The Collegian, to take effect immediately, has been placed in the hands of Jessie Young, president of the Student Body. The Executive Committee has not yet passed upon the resignation, but it will doubtless be accepted and a successor elected at the meeting this week.

Minton handed in his resignation some two months ago, but upon the request of the Executive Committee withdrew it for the time. At that time, he gave as his reason that he desired to manage the interscholastic track meet in the spring and that he could not handle both jobs without violating the faculty ruling concerning student offices. He has not stated whether any other consideration are responsible for his resignation at this time.

The change of managers in the middle of the year will work some hardship on the paper temporarily, until a new man has been broken in. If there are any active candidates for the job, they have kept very quiet about it. It is probable, however, that the selection will be made from among the three or four men in the University who have served as assistant managers.

GOODING COLLEGE ADDED TO NORTHWEST SCHOOLS

New School Will Start With Assets of $400,000—Is 3rd M. E. College of Northwest.

Gooding College is the latest to be added to the fraternity of colleges and universities of the Northwest, and the third Methodist institution of learning in the same section. The other Methodist institutions are the University of Puget Sound, at Tacoma, and Willamette University.

This definite action was taken at the recent meeting of the Idaho Conference Commission, together with Bishop Lucecock of Helena, Mont., Dr. Thos. Nicholson, secretary of the Methodist Board of Education, and Bishop Hughes of California, which was held at Gooding on Jan. 23.

The new college, which will be located at Gooding, Idaho, starts out very auspiciously in a financial way, having something like $300,000 in cash and property. Such a start is due largely to the assistance rendered by ex-Governor Frank R. Gooding of Idaho, for whom the town and college are named. Rev. H. W. Parker, of the Idaho Conference, has been appointed field representative, and will carry on a campaign for further endowment, $150,000 more being desired before the college is opened.

Preps Defeated.

On Saturday, Feb. 1, the Academy basketball team met defeat at the hands of the Newberg High School, in a game played in the University gym, the score being 37 to 16.

The preps put up a good fight and were materially weakened by the loss of Booth, who was disabled in the early part of the game. The Academy lineup was: forwards, Bartlett and Chalcraft; center, Gates; guards, Dutro, Armstrong and Booth.

Freshmen Clean Albany College.

The Freshman class basketball team journeyed to Albany Friday, January 31, and defeated the Albany College team by a score of 28 to 12.

Those taking the trip were: Ohling, Bennet, forwards; Lund, center; Young, Reynolds, guards; Bsin, sub; "Bill" Schreiber, keeper of order.

COOK AND WARD GIVE SPLENDID ADDRESSES

Bishop Cook of Portland Deals With Fundamentals of Real Success.

WARD'S MESSAGE IS ON SOCIAL SERVICE

Students Appreciate greatest talks of Year, Given on Friday and Monday.

The Student Body was fortunate in having an address from Bishop Cook, resident bishop of Portland, on Monday. Dr. Cook being in the city for services over Sunday, took this opportunity to address the students of the University. He is a brilliant, scholarly and forceful speaker and dealt with questions of vital interest to the student. His subject dealt with the right basis for the really successful life. Observation and conformance with the laws of the universe, both natural and spiritual, are necessary to a consistent and well-balanced life. Man's efficiency depends upon the degree with which he studies out and applies these universal laws.

Dr. Cooke spoke of honesty in the student. He said that when he was a professor, he could tell, the moment a student came into the class-room, whether he knew his lesson or not. No one can conceal the impression his own conscience makes upon himself.

The central theme of the whole speech was: "No great excellence is reached except through goodness."

"This is an honest universe. You cannot play with the laws of the universe and escape the result. Great mental power is not in itself a promise of success. Man cannot measure the forces of the universe. His finite mind cannot analyze the mysterious forces of Nature. Yet the man who inquires into the laws of the natural and spiritual world is the man who will succeed."

He closed by mentioning three rules observed at West Point. They are:

1. Thou shalt not lie. This applied in a very broad sense. The student who frankly confesses to not being prepared on a lesson may be excusable, but the one who makes some vain attempt to bluff it out cannot be trusted.
2. Thou shalt not steal. And this also applies to stealing men's character, success or happiness, which surely is the worst kind of this crime.
3. Thou shalt not be afraid. The world needs straightforward men, erect with the confidence given by a clear conscience, who will go, with clear brain and pure heart, into the world of service.

Everyone present was inspired by this intensely practical speech by the Bishop.

Ward Speaks Friday.

Social service was the subject of Harry F. Ward's speech in chapel on Friday. This occasion of Friday's chapel came as a short session of respite to the tired subjects of the week's examinations. All students laid aside their irksome duties to listen to and become inspired by this enthusiastic and interesting speaker. Every student was impressed with the sincerity of the man and the magnitude and worthiness of the great cause he presented.

No subject could be made to come closer to the student in preparing for life than does this one of service in social lines.

Mr. Ward is the secretary of the Social Service Commission, which represents and is supported by thirty denominations in the United States.

"UNFAIR!"

We (we students, not we editor) say a good many things we don't mean, and a pretty large proportion of this effervescence is devoted to the subject of examinations. When a fellow flunks or a girl gets 89 instead of a desired 95, its mighty easy and a common practice to blame the "prof" for unfairness, "too general questions," "too many detailed questions," "catch questions," and a lot more of similar rot. Personally, we can say that in twenty-five or more examinations taken under Willamette professors, we can remember not a single one which was unfair and which a student of average intelligence ought not easily to pass (assuming of course reasonable study throughout the semester). Examinations are, of course, a strain, a breeder of anxious fears, a necessary evil, (and even worse things might be said of them), but as for unfairness, save that sad wail for irate papa or the hired man back on the farm.

IT IS TO WORK.

Few members of the Freshman, and even of the Sophomore class, realize the magnitude of the work done on the athletic field two years ago with only student labor. The spirit of loyalty shown at that time we have yet to see equalled by any student body. But in the past year, we have grown too civilized, too refined, don't you know too fat and lazy and self-contented, and have lost the habit of hard work. Just now, a call is being made for men to put the grounds in shape for spring athletics and to provide facilities for a more general indulgence in these sports. If the men of Willamette have not lost the old-time spirit, there will be no lack of labor on the athletic field.

For the sake of uniformity, The Collegian will use strictly the "unreformed" spelling. "Through" will be "thorough," "bought" will be "bought," and "phthisic" will be "phthisic." Contributors will confer a favor by conforming to this rule.

STUDENT BODY FAVORS KENYON-SHEPARD BILL

Sends Message to Oregon Congressmen Requesting Their Favorable Action on the Bill.

Last Friday morning the Student Body decided without a dissenting vote, to send a resolution to the Oregon Congressmen, expressing its approval of the passage of the Kenyon-Shepard Bill, which prohibits the shipping of liquor into dry territory. Wm. Schreiber and Jacob Stocker were appointed to draw up a fitting resolution, which is given as follows: "We, the assembled Student Body of Willamette University, respectfully request your favorable action in regard to the Kenyon-Shepard bill. "We deem this measure absolutely essential to progressive legislation, and to the efforts of the sovereign state for good government. "We represent the sentiment of the best people of Oregon."

The Hall girls who were so fortunate as to spend the week-end, between semesters, at their homes, have returned ready for work.

SWEETLAND CONSIDERED FOR BIG COACHING JOB

WILLAMETTE PHYSICAL DIRECTOR HAS REPUTATION IN THE EAST.

Oregonian Reviews Career Which Led U. of Pennsylvania to Consider "Doc" for Head Coach.

The following article, from the Oregonian of Sunday, Feb. 9, only recalls what every athletic authority in this section knows, that in Dr. Sweetland, Willamette has a coach without peer in the Northwest, and with few superiors in the country.

"Dr. J. G. Sweetland, Jr., the veteran athletic coach of Willamette University, was among those considered for the football coaching at the University of Pennsylvania, according to a Philadelphia newspaper. George Brooke, Swarthmore coach, was officially named a few days ago at a salary of $10,000.

"This is the job for which the friends of Coach Dobie of Washington were noisily boosting the Seattle mentor. Strangely enough, Dobie and Dr. Sweetland coached rival institutions back in North Dakota a few years ago. Dobie was at the State Agricultural College at Fargo and Dr. Sweetland at the State University at Grand Forks.

"In his four years at the University of North Dakota, the famous Willamette coach had remarkable success, winning the state championship three successive seasons—1904, 1905 and 1906—and defeating the Aggies three games in four, although the farmers had been winning regularly for several years prior to his regime. Dobie's imported ringers, including Eakins, Muckleton, Cutting and Jack Marks, caused the lone reverse.

"In 1907 Coach Sweetland's eleven walloped the University of South Dakota by the overwhelming score of 26 to 6, the Southerners being coached by Jureau, now leader of the champion University of Wisconsin squad.

"After leaving North Dakota in 1907, Dr. Sweetland coached the Everett High in Washington, losing but one game. He has been athletic director of football, basketball, baseball and track at Willamette University for the past four years and has had remarkable success with only mediocre material. He is also on the faculty.

"Willamette has won the Northwest non-conference championship every year since he assumed charge.

"Dr. Sweetland's first coaching experience was gained at Ishpeming, Mich., where he won the Wolverine state championship for three successive seasons, 1901, 1902 and 1903."

The comparative size of the first fifteen universities of the country are given in the following table:

1—Columbia.....	10,000
2—University of California.....	6,659
3—University of Michigan.....	4,931
4—Cornell.....	4,518
5—Harvard.....	4,518
6—Northwestern.....	4,001
7—University of Illinois.....	3,748
8—University of Nebraska.....	3,596
9—Syracuse.....	3,550
10—University of Minnesota.....	3,448
11—Yale.....	3,232
12—University of Washington.....	2,458
13—University of Missouri.....	2,367
14—University of Iowa.....	2,170
15—University of Cincinnati.....	1,890

A good many students spent the lull after the storms of exam week at their homes, but the majority of them spent their spare time around the University, registering and otherwise preparing for the coming semester.

T. S. McDaniel, president of Willamette's Board of Trustees, and Hon. R. A. Booth, of Eugene, were at Willamette last week conferring with President Homan upon matters of University business.

The Junior play committee are getting busy under the chairmanship of Murray Wheat. Nothing definite has been done, as the members are still scouting about for a suitable production.

SOPHS STIR UP KING JOLLITY

Valentine Party of Affiliated 'Fifteeners Held at Graham House.

The home of Miss Stella Graham, 1137 Court street, was the scene of much merrymaking on the evening of Saturday, Feb. 1, when the Sophs convened to stir up old King Jollity. The party partook of the Valentine flavor and the games indulged in were all new and entrancing. About fifty students, including the Soph Medics, enjoyed such games as "The Game of Love," "How to Propose," the "Fate of Man," until refreshments of olives, salad, cocoa and wafers, and candy were served.

This was the first Sophomore party at which members of the affiliated class have been present. They sure mixed to perfection and it is hoped that they will continue the good work.

The scene of festivities was deserted when "the frost began to fall" and even now one may see an occasional Soph chewing diligently on the candy heart he was lucky enough to win from Dan Cupid on the eventful eve.

Teutonians Elect.

The ever wide-awake and progressive Teutonians met at the pleasant home of Ralph Stearns last Saturday evening for their regular meeting. After a pleasant half-hour spent around the fireplace in combating the chilly elements of the atmosphere, the regular business of the meeting was taken up. Officers for the ensuing semester were elected as follows: president, George Schreiber; vice-president, Edith Sherwood; secretary, Beatrice Thompson; treasurer, Ralph Stearns; reporter, Lulu Heist.

The program rendered was a timely one, dealing as it did with the trials and triumphs of the famous author of "Binna Von Barnheim." Edith Sherwood gave a short, concise biography of Lessing, pointing out the influences which made him great in character and famous as a dramatist. His place in German literature was ably discussed by W. H. Oldenburg. "Die Deie Ringe," a stirring poem by Schiller, was next recited by Jacob Stocker, and another production was given by Naomi Runner.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served and further sociability was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held on February 22 at the home of Eunice Miller. All German students are cordially invited to attend.

FOOTBALL CAPTAINCY SCRAP AT WASHINGTON SETTLED

Dobie's Charges of Politics Are Upheld—Board of Control Takes Charge of Election.

Herman Anderson was elected captain of the University of Washington football team for the coming season at an election held last Friday.

This election terminates a squabble for the captaincy which has held the interest of the state at that university for some six weeks past.

The election should have occurred shortly after the close of the season but was held up by Coach Dobie, who charged that many undue influences were being brought to bear on the different "W" men and that the office, whose incumbent should really be elected because of merit, was being determined by fraternity politics.

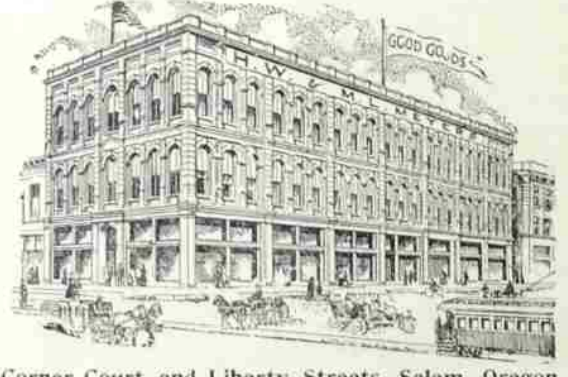

A faculty committee spent some time in investigating the charges and finally made a report of the evidence secured, to the Student Board of Control, upholding Dobie's charges.

The board then nominated two candidates, Herman Anderson and Frank Jacquot, and the "W" men elected from these nominees, the vote going 7 to 5 for Anderson. Patton and Van Presley, the original candidates, were entirely eliminated from consideration.

President Homan leaves today, a bad case of grip permitting, for Gooding, Idaho, where he meets with the Idaho Conference Commission with regard to the establishment of a Methodist College in southern Idaho.

ORATORICAL COMMITTEE MEETING AT NEWBERG

Date of Contest Set and Judges Nominated—Gilkey Represents Willamette.

A meeting of the executive committee of the State Oratorical Association was held at Newberg, Saturday, February 1. Representatives were present from Pacific University, McMinnville College, Pacific College, University of Oregon, Oregon State Normal School and Willamette University. O. A. C. was the only member of the association who failed to send a representative. Errol C. Gilkey, the Willamette Association's executive committeeman, was the Willamette representative.

March 14 was set for the state contest, which will be held at Newberg as heretofore announced.

The order of speakers, which is determined by rotation from year to year, was taken up. The assignment of places for this year gives to Willamette next to last place. Judges for both thought and composition were nominated, the final selections to be made from among those nominated. The matter of instituting a new system of judging, with a single set instead of the present two sets, was not threshed out. This matter will be considered at a meeting of the committee the day of the contest and their decision referred to the annual business meeting of the association the same day.

SETTLEMENT WORK IS PICTURED

Miss Pritchard of Portland People's Institute at Y. W. C. A.

On the Thursday before examinations, Miss Pritchard of the Portland People's Institute addressed about a hundred students on the subject of settlement work. "Settlement work," she said, "is a living of the Christ-message among the people, an attempt to demonstrate the divine truth of the brotherhood of man." The People's Institute in Portland, which was organized nine years ago, is supported entirely by subscriptions and embraces sewing and cooking classes, little housekeepers' classes, a club for working mothers, a kindergarten, a gymnasium and other departments which do much to contribute to the betterment and happiness of the people among whom it is located. The importance of this work in Portland was shown to be doubly great on account of the opening of the Panama Canal in the near future, which will undoubtedly flood Portland with immigrants. The number of foreigners in the city at the present time is about twenty-eight thousand, which means that every tenth person is foreign born.

Following the lecture there were thrown on the screen pictures illustrating the various phases of the work.

Paul Anderson received word Monday that his father was very ill at his home near Spokane. Anderson left yesterday morning for home and was doubtful whether he would be able to return, that depending on the condition of his father, who is all alone.

The Oregon Freshmen defeated Washington High of Portland 40 to 28 in a game played at Eugene last Friday evening.

The subject as taken up by Mr. Ward was of the broadest scope, embracing social work in all its branches.

He spoke of the unbounded opportunity for public service offered in every walk of life. Every college student should make himself familiar with the principles and ideals toward which the social workers of the time are working, and learn to apply them to the conditions which will confront him wherever he may be situated in life.

He called attention to the attitude which many colleges take toward society and social questions. One example of this he found in the self-centered preoccupation of the social life of many a college.

Mr. Ward constantly impressed upon his audience the great opportunity for service, especially for the college man or woman. A man can no longer neglect to heed the challenge to helpful, altruistic service, and continue to follow a self-centered career. He must reject or accept a great opportunity for service to his brother man.

Today there is as large a field in this work for women as for men. Any women who confine themselves to their own intellectual circle, drawing themselves from the need of society which makes a demand upon them, are losing the fine opportunity of life.

This should be the governing motive of life: "Not to rule, but to serve; not to get, but to give."

Attorney N. M. Newport, '90, of Lebanon, was a recent visitor on the campus. Mr. Newport looked about the grounds and buildings and in conversation with some of the fellows became quite reminiscent about the old days. He was one of the founders and first business manager of the Willamette Collegian. Dr. B. L. Steeves was the first editor.

A new piano, recently purchased by the Y. M. C. A., has been installed in the Association quarters, and will add to the enjoyment of the rooms.

Dr. Sweetland spoke before the city Y. M. C. A. recently on the subject of "Health."

FAIR WEATHER BRINGS JOY TO BASEBALL FANS

Track Enthusiasts Also Look Up—
Work to Start This Week, the Weather Permitting—Dope
Is Encouraging.

The fair weather for the past week has set the baseball fans and track enthusiasts agog and dope sheets are the order of the day.

From present prospects, the baseball season should be the most successful in years, for Dr. Sweetland and Captain Homan will have a splendid array of veterans as a nucleus for the nine. Veterans of former years, though not all "W" men, are: Homan, McRae, Steelhammer, Drake, Erskine, Booth, Lund, Gates, Ross and Hewitt. Homan was shifted last season from the outfield to first base and will probably be used this season at second to fill the vacancy left by the graduation of Jimmy Oakes. McRae, who is playing his third season, is a valuable man wherever you put him. He is about as good a college short-stop or first-sacker as they make them, but may be shifted behind the bat. Steelhammer, although most valuable behind the bat, may not be able to play that position, and will probably run a strong race for the first sack. Ross is the old stand-by in the outfield. Drake, with a year's college experience, should be one of the best box men in the Northwest. Booth, Lund and Gates lack experience, but with the work of half a season on the Varsity last year, should develop into valuable men. Booth as an infielder, Gates and Lund in the gardens. Hewitt, who played for a time last season at the initial bag, will be a candidate for "Brick" Harrison's job at the "difficult" corner. It will take a fast man to fill the shoes of Harrison, who was probably the fastest college third baseman in the Northwest last year.

Just what the Freshmen have to offer in the way of Varsity material is not known. Shisler, Tallman, Bain and others have prep school records behind them, but will have to demonstrate their class.

As yet the schedule is incomplete, but two games each with Oregon, O. A. C. and Multnomah are practically assured, and others will be played with the Penitentiary, Chemawa, and probably McMinnville.

A team has been in use for the past week, crowning the old diamond and constructing a new one. If the good weather continues, practice will begin the latter part of this week. The new diamond will afford facilities for a much larger squad.

Just what will be done in track will depend on the showing made by the new men. Mills in the jumps and hurdles, McInturff in the sprints, Blackwell in sprints and jumps, Doane in pole vault, are all good men, and, with the other men who trained last year, will make a strong framework for the team. Doubtless the strongest addition will be Brazier Small, the star sprinter from Salem High.

The track is now being put in shape and, weather permitting, work will be begun next week. Meets with O. A. C., Pacific and Chemawa are planned.

Miss Lent Is Hostess.

Miss Lella Lent was hostess at a delightful dinner party given Saturday evening at Lausanne. Those present were Misses Barton, Boyer, Mulkey, McQueen and Avison, and Messrs. Paul Irvine, Odgers, Bolt, Chappel, Russel and Paget.

The table was decorated in violets and smilax with a centerpiece of the violets with narcissus. The color-scheme of violet and pink was carried out in both candies and ice. Games and music furnished entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

Miss Eleanor Ruby, a mid-year graduate of Washington High, Portland, arrived Friday to take up her abode at Lausanne. Miss Ruby expects to study music.

VARSITY WINS FROM ALUMNI AND CHEMAWA

Old-Timers Lose 21-14, Chemawa 18-8
—First Game is Fast, Second
Slow and Rough.

Last week saw two basketball games on the gymnasium floor. The first one was between the Alumni vs Willamette University Friday, and the second on Saturday evening with the Chemawa Indians.

The first game was fast and hard played with the Varsity in the lead all of the time, and ended 21 to 14. The "has-beens" seemed to think that they stood a better show of winning from their "alma mater" with McIntyre, the once-famous forward, in the game and were not content with the beating they got some two weeks ago. However, they were disappointed for the Varsity men made it their particular business to see to it that he and his old partner Schramm got merely a few tries at long distance.

More than this, they thought that if they could keep Homan, star University forward, covered, they might keep the score down, but again they failed, for they did not take into consideration his accuracy on the long shots. He certainly had a night on and rolled in circus shots from all angles, positions and distances.

The passing of the team and their general work was probably a little above their usual standard, although they were unable to hit the basket in very many instances. Seemingly, the only trouble with the men is their inexperience. They will be a strong bunch within the next two years if they can hang together and develop in all the various phases of the game.

The lineup of the teams was: Alumni—Schott, Schramm, forwards; McIntyre, center; Minton, Gibson, guards; Willamette—Homan, Tallman, forwards; Pfaff, center; Hepp, Young, guards.

Summary: baskets from field—Schott 3, Minton 1, Schramm 1, Homan 8, Young 1. Baskets from fouls—Schramm 1, McIntyre 3, Homan 3. Referee, R. Homan. Scorer, Baker.

Chemawa Game Slow.

The other game, with Chemawa, was a very slow and poorly played exhibition of the season's sport. It was rough and many hard feelings were in evidence during the progress of the game.

The shooting of the team as a whole was a little better than it has been at any previous time this season. That is to say, the baskets were not all made by one man. The score of this contest was 18 to 8 in favor of the U.

The Varsity team was not at its best by any means, seeming to suffer from the game of the previous night to a great extent. They did not have the life that is necessary nor the eye that plays another important part.

The student attendance at both games was very small. In fact, there was no crowd at the last game, just a few enthusiasts who are loyal enough to support their team no matter what the class.

The lineup: Chemawa—Wilcox, Jim, forwards; Slough, center; Clements, Dunbar, guards. Willamette—Homan, Tallman, forwards; Pfaff, center; Young, Hepp, guards.

Summary: Baskets from field—Jim 1, Slough 1, Clements 1, Homan 3, Tallman 1, Pfaff 1, Hepp 1. From fouls—Clements 2; Homan 3, out of 7 tries. Referee—Schramm. Scorer—Bain.
