Rein Jackson '21

Merton De Long '12

S. Marie Corner '22

William McAllister '28

Five distinguished graduates of Willamette University will receive Alumni Citation Awards Thursday, February 9, during Founders' and Benefactors' Day ceremonies in the University's Fine Arts Auditorium.

AMONG ALUMNI receiving citations are William M. McAllister, chief justice of the Oregon Supreme Court; Merton R. DeLong, Rein E. Jackson, Bernice I. Orwig and Sula Marie Corner.

Another feature of the traditional mid-year convocation will be the awarding of degrees to approximately 30 members of the August, 1960, and February, 1961, graduating classes.

DR. ALAN FERRIN, president of the Willamette Alumni Association, will present the alumni citations at the assembly. Two benefactors will be honored at the ceremonies, Dr. L. Franklin Belknap and Rev. Thomas L. Pearne.

KAREN MADSEN will speak on Dr. Belknap. He was an Oregon resident all his life, born in 1852 and died in 1942. He graduated from Willamette in 1888 and continued his education at Garrett Biblical Institute, Illinois. After retiring from the ministry he made his fortune in the pear industry and donated a considerable amount of money to the University.

Rev. Thomas L. Pearne will be the topic of Paul McGilvra. Pearne was a member of the Charter Board of Trustees at Willamette University. He came to Oregon in 1851 and died in 1901. Besides being one of the distinguished churchmen of the early state, he was first editor of the Methodist paper, "The Pacific Christian Advocate."

BESIDES PRESENTATION of these awards, the program will include the traditional singing of "Farewell to Willamette," a song sung only at graduation, and the presentation of diplomas by President G. Herbert Smith.

Established in 1957, the Willamette University Alumni Citation Awards are designed to give recognition to distinguished graduates for outstanding achievements and services which reflect honor upon the University. Citation presentations will be made by Dr. Allan L. Ferrin, president of the WU alumni association.

CHIEF JUSTICE McAllister, a member of the class of 1928, was recently reelected chief justice of the Oregon Supreme Court for a six-year term. From 1931 until 1956, when he was appointed to the high court, Chief Justice McAllister practiced law in Medford. During that time he also served in the state legislature from 1937-1944 and was speaker of the house in 1943. During World War II, he was a major in the judge advocate general's office. In 1949, Justice McAllister was again returned to the state legislature as senator from Jackson county.

REIN E. JACKSON, class of '21, is director of secondary education in the Portland public schools system. He began his teaching career as science teacher in McMinnville high school and served as elementary school principal in that city for seven years. For 14 years prior to assuming his present position, Jackson was principal of Jefferson, Benson and Cleveland high schools in Portland. A past president of the Portland Council of Churches, he has held major offices in several professional organizations. He is currently a member of Portland's Mayor's Committee for Decent Literature and Films and the Board of United Good Neighbors.

Merton R. DeLong, class of 1912, is a graduate of Willamette's College of Law and has been in the investment banking business since 1917. Among various activities that have received his interest and support are the Mental Health Association, National Rehabilitation Association, Oregon Historical Society and Oregon Prison Association. He has served as chairman of the board of governors of the Portland YMCA and was an organizer in 1927 of the Goodwill Industries of Oregon. Since 1955, he has been board chairman of Goodwill.

MISS ORWIG, Willamette class of 1932, is a member of the faculty of the University of Oregon School of Nursing and has responsibilities in the Continuation Education for Nurses, a program for nurses in teaching, supervisory and administrative positions. She has served on the faculty of Emanuel Hospital School of Nursing and at the University of Portland College of Nursing. In 1959, Miss Orwig was recipient of the James E. Culligan Award, given annually to the most outstanding lay faculty member of the University of Portland.

Miss Corner, a class of 1922 member, has devoted more than 30 years to missionary work in India. Her career has included manager of Mecosa Bagh Girls' School, Nagpur, supervisor of three day schools and a health welfare center in Bombay City and principal of Taylor high school in Poona.

Famed Pianist Sets Concerts

Raul Spivak, famed Argentine pianist and recording artist, will launch this year's portion of the Distinguished Artists series at Willamette when he appears in concert next Monday, according to Karen Madsen, student manager. The series is sponsored jointly by Willamette University and the school's student body.

Spivak, known affectionately by North American colleagues as the "Musical Ambassador from the Argentine," not only is outstanding for his interpretations of the classics, but he is also noted for his ability to charm audiences with the warmth and color of his Spanish and Latin American repertoire.

Tickets for the series and individual appearances of artists are available at Stevens and Son, Salem jewelers, said Miss Madsen. All performances are scheduled for 8:15 p. m. in the Willamette University Fine Arts auditorium.

Special feature of artists' stays in the Salem school are lectures and demonstrations before smaller groups of University students in order to allow interested students a closer look at techniques employed by the various artists.

Other artists slated for the Artists series are Jean Erdman, creative dancer, who will be a guest at Willamette on February 27; and Natalie Bodanya, lyric soprano, who will appear on March 8.

Buenos Aires-born Spivak has received favorable receptions from international audiences—Berlin symphony, Tokyo symphony, Detroit symphony and many others—before whom he has appeared during his career.

WU Receives Sears-Roebuck Education Aid

An unrestricted aid-to-education grant from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation totaling $1770 has been received by Willamette University, according to Dr. G. Herbert Smith, Willamette president.

Making the presentation on behalf of the Sears Foundation was J. F. Mosolf, manager of Sears' Salem store. Funds are designed to help cover the costs to Willamette of educating three Sears Foundation Merit Scholars now enrolled at Willamette University, Mosolf emphasized.

Sears Foundation Merit Scholars attending classes at Willamette include William L. Richter, Robert S. Elder, and Paul F. deLespinasse.

Altogether this year, 152 private colleges and universities throughout the country will receive aid-to-education grants of $146,142 as part of the Sears Foundation Merit Scholarship Program, Mosolf said.

An additional $227,642 in stipends will be distributed to the scholarship holders themselves, he added.

The Sears Foundation makes direct aid-to-education grants to schools—such as Willamette—because current tuition charges do not reflect the school's entire costs of educating the students, Mosolf explained.

Students Rate Dean's Listing

Fourteen College of Law students were named this week for the Dean's List for the fall semester. This announcement from Seward Reese, Dean of the College of Law, was accompanied by a list of these prospective lawyers.

To be chosen for this honor, the student must have a G.P.A. that ranks in the top ten percent of his class.

Third-year students on the list are William Crow, Ronald Hershberger and Gary McClain.

Second-year students named are Bob Drug, William McAllister, Michael McClain, Thomas Moore, James Nevin and Stan Urbigkeit.

First-year students honored are Thomas Lodge, Gary McBride, Charles McGinnis, Roger Nelson and Richard Sly.

Third-year student William Crow has been on the list for the last five semesters, while second-year students William McAllister and Stan Urbigkeit have been on it twice before.

Aldous Huxley, world renowned author, pauses a moment to think before replying to a question. A number of Willamette students and faculty attended an informal meeting with Huxley last Tuesday afternoon. Huxley commented on the problem of nationalism, one example of the "collective insanity" prevalent in modern society. However, the visiting author dwelled primarily on the potentials of the mind and the question of mind control. Education plays an important role in directing the thoughts of a society, but Huxley pointed out that the question of "in what direction shall they be led?" can only be answered in the purpose for men's lives which a society dictates. Following an informal presentation, Huxley answered questions from the audience. For more details, see store on page 2. (Photo by Russ Olmo.)

Who Needs Trivia Trade?

In recent years, diversity has become the watchword in many areas of the American culture. Farms have become diversified; diversity of experience is now a requirement for executive positions with many firms and the trend has spread into retail sales.

Not too many years ago, one could go to the local apothecary (druggist) and be reasonably sure of finding in the shop the herbs, medicines and services peculiar to the drug trade. Today the druggist sells rose bushes, garbage cans, clothes, paint, toys, books and baubles. The modern drug store is the essence of diversity.

The Willamette Bookstore is a small scale version of this multi-level merchandising. In shopping around one encounters such items as stuffed animals of infinite variety, sleeping gowns, rings, wooden angels, souvenir mugs, plates and belt buckles, perfume, cigarette lighters, key chains, weekend date applications, pillows and various items of children's clothing.

The perennial problem of buying books and supplies at the start of each year and at the semester break, plus the ever present clamor for a larger selection of titles, brings up a valid question of the necessity of stocking such items.

It seems that with toy and jewelry stores and notions counters available to Willamette students at downtown stores, the handling of such trivia could be eliminated. If this move were made, at least a portion of the problem of bookstore service would be eliminated. The space devoted to pleasure and impulse items could handily be used for storage and display of the prime stock-in-trade, BOOKS.

The staff of the bookstore has, in the past, done an admirable job of getting the books out, considering the handicap under which they have had to work. This still does not justify the stocking of trivia in the face of the cry for better bookstore service.

If the Willamette Bookstore stocks these items because it is necessary to compete with local merchants for the trivia trade, then we suggest that the organization be examined to measure the service offered in terms of the service needed and desired.

Moon Maps Spice Class

Snooping around the physics department can be a very interesting tour, but even more so if you have a guide, such as Maurice Stewart, professor of physics, who knows something about the odd mechanisms scattered around the rooms.

SOME OF THE more interesting paraphernalia acquired by the physics department this year are an atlas of the moon, a machine to measure the speed of light and a kit to measure radioactivity of isotopes.

The moon atlas is the pride and joy of astronomy instructor Stewart. Since the astronomy course isn't offered this year, the atlas won't be used until next fall.

THE ATLAS is a series of photos representing the best from Lic, Mount Wilson, Yerkes, and McDonald Observatories. The atlas has 220 sheets of four 11 by 14 pictures.

The usefulness of the pictures is increased by the fact that each sheet is a study of a certain area, each picture taken under a different lighting condition to highlight every possible feature.

ACCORDING to Professor Stewart, the pictures approximate looking at the moon from a 30-40 mile distance and if assembled together, they would make a picture of the moon 100 feet across.

Another interesting machine recently purchased by the physics department is an instrument to measure the speed of light. The machine will be used in the optics course stated Stewart.

CALLED FOUCAULT'S revolving mirror, the machine has been the recent study of Pete Briggs whose task was to calculate within one-tenth of one per cent the speed of the revolving mirror.

Landsverk Electrometer is another of the "gadgets" collected by the physics department. It is used to measure the radioactivity of isotopes and to calculate the half-life of isotopes.

Similar to the Gieger counter in purpose, the electrometer will be used next year in the modern physics laboratory course.

CAN'T YOU FIND A QUIETER WAY OF FINDING YOUR CLASSES?

Newspaper Features Defeat Diagrams

(Editor's note: In the last issue of the Collegian, an editorial from the November 5, 1913, Collegian was reprinted. The following article comments on other items in this and the November 1, 1913, issue. Our thanks to Brazier Small, graduate of 1916, for the chance to see what students were doing and thinking almost a half century ago.)

Besides the saloon issue, students of 1913 seem to also have been ardent football fans. In a football "extra" issue of November 1, 1913, "Our Heroes" were individually pictured in all their grandeur along with the diminutive mascot, muffled in a sweater emblazoned with a "W" almost as big as the lad himself.

MORE THAN due consideration was given to weighing the advantages of the opposing team—almost too much! It doesn't seem like good psychology for the coach to publicly announce that "Willamette has about the same chance this year against U. of O. as an eighth grade team would against Willamette. This is an accurate confession and the score will correspond."

Doc Sweetland and quite a few other dopsters really missed the mark on this one, however, for Collegian headlines November 5 triumphantly blare "W.U. Defeats Oregon 6 to 3." To really make the victory sweet, the subsequent article reports that the three U. of O. points were garnered by Oregon's second string team. Evidently waiting for the Oregon regulars to take the field, WU walked all over the first string players during the second half.

AS A SPECIAL after game reporting feature, a play by play account of the game was provided for the readers who couldn't attend or wanted a record of the event. The entire game was very carefully diagramed, much like a map, on four outlined fields, one for each quarter. This is a feature that hasn't been seen for some time!

for the individual to develop his potentialities. However, as Huxley commented, the problem is to form a culture which is both steady and elastic. The culture must be stable yet provide opportunities for innovation and progress.

Huxley commented briefly on the studies of selective breeding which are designed to increase the intelligence of the human species but as he said, not enough is known about the subject, and public opinion is opposed to such practice. Huxley added that selective breeding is inevitable and is "in the cards."

EDUCATION IS the way to improve intelligence, increase love and friendliness and decrease aggressiveness in the world, according to Huxley. It is now only on the symbolic and verbal level and has neglected the "non-verbal humanities." Education should include training in sense perception, awareness and imagination. It has not taught the means by which ideals can be implemented, Huxley continued.

Huxley concluded the summary of his paper by commenting that we, in our modern society, can learn much from other societies, both primitive and ancient. For example, our religion ignores the muscular side but the Greeks worked off their aggressive tendencies through dances. As an amusing sidelight, Huxley added that he, being a man, would probably not have appreciated the Greek women who became so excited in one dance that they tore the men limb from limb.

QUESTIONS followed the lecture, and Huxley first commented on his novel Brave New World which was written in 1932. The novel was set 600 years in the future, but Huxley said that even in the 30 years since the novel was written, some of its speculations are coming true. Huxley felt that society doesn't have to be pushed in the extreme direction portrayed in his novel.

When asked about the use of drugs to increase an individual's perception, Huxley replied that their use is not necessary but could be valuable.

TO ANSWER the question about who should control man's mind, Huxley asked, "What are humans for?" Are they, he wanted to know, cannon fodder, consumers, or what? Huxley concluded by saying that to develop potentialities in a stable and elastic society, control must be judged in accordance to the purposes the society wants for its citizens.

Dr. Maxwell Jones, state hospital psychiatrist, arranged for Huxley's visit to the hospital for the purpose of studying the therapeutic community treatment.

WU Graduates Move Next Door

Willamette University is well represented in the 1961 Oregon Legislature with six members, three Democrats and three Republicans, among the 90 lawmakers.

WITH this representation comes control of several key positions. The alumni group has the chairmanship of the House Ways and Means committee, vice-chairmanship of the Senate Ways and Means committee and Senate chairmanship of the alcoholic control committee.

Al Flegel is one of the Willamette alumni in the Oregon Legislature. Flegel's political experience began in the House of Representatives where he served as chairman of the education committee.

IN THE 1961 Legislature, Flegel is a member of the Senate, serving as the chairman of the alcoholic control committee and vice-chairman of the highways committee.

A member of the class of '28, Flegel participated in football, basketball and baseball while at WU. When not engaged in politics, Flegel operates a storage firm in Roseburg.

REPUBLICAN Senator Melvin Goode is another Willamette alum, graduating from the law school in 1935. Serving his second term in the Senate, he is vice-chairman of the Senate Ways and Means committee and a member of four other committees.

Goode is a practicing attorney in Albany and a part owner of three sawmills near Albany.

Representative Clarence Barton is a graduate of the Willamette Law School, class of 1934. A Democrat, Barton is currently chairman of the House Ways and Means committee. In private life, he is a lawyer in Coquille.

A BURNS Republican, Robert F. Smith is a graduate of the class of 1953. This is Smith's first session as a representative in the Legislature.

Douglas Heider, '56, begins his second term as a Representative in the Oregon Legislature. A Marion county Republican, Heider is well known in this area for his large private enterprise, Heider's Appliance store.

YOUNGEST member of the Willamette alumni group in the capitol is Emil Stunz, class of 1957. Stunz is a Nyssa Democrat and practicing attorney. In his first session in the Legislature, Representative Stunz serves as vice-chairman of the highways committee.

Sixty-six bills have been introduced or co-authored by the Willamette group. Representative Heider takes credit for the most with 21 bearing his signature. Senator Al Flegel has introduced six personal bills.

Missing A Uniform

Since a few days after Christmas Mrs. Ella Watson, the housemother of Lausanne Hall, has been searching for the owner of a suitcase left at the dormitory just after Christmas vacation. The suitcase was delivered with other baggage, but no one has claimed it. The suitcase contained men's clothes, including a military uniform.

The suitcase can be claimed by identifying it.

The Globe theatre featured "distinctive pictures with pipe organ," "Oxford Trail" was showing the week of November 5. Price? Only ten cents! Competing theaters offered "licensed films," "perfect ventilation" and a "fireproof" building.

THE STUDENT with money might have been attracted by the United States National Bank advertisement: "We welcome the student account. Deposit your allowance regularly and pay your bills by check. It will not be so easily spent, and at the end of the year you will have a complete record of all disbursements."

The Beau Brummels of 1913 were informed that the Scotch Woolen Mills' "suits cannot be beaten at any price and they only cost $15 and $20, made-to-fit, made-to-satisfy." The cost of living has gone up!

Raul Spivak, noted Argentine pianist, will appear in concert Monday evening, 8:15, in the Fine Arts Auditorium. The "Musical Ambassador from the Argentine" will include a variety of Spanish and Latin America numbers in addition to a representation of the classics. (See story, page 1.)

Methodist Magazine Sponsors Contest For College Students

Together, the million-circulation family magazine of the Methodist Church, is sponsoring a competition for college students to determine the vitality of campus religion.

For the best article on "Why I Go to Church," the magazine will present a cash award of $250. Two cash awards of $150 and $75, as well as five honorable mention certificates, will also be presented.

The competition has been named the John Dickins Award in honor of the early American Methodist who is credited with having suggested the name for the first Methodist school in this country—Cokesbury.

Those eligible for the competition are undergraduate students between the ages of 17 and 25, enrolled full time in any recognized junior college, college, or university, regardless of religious affiliation. Pastors are not eligible.

Articles must be typed double-spaced in manuscript form on 8½ by 11-inch sheets, must be between 2,000 and 2,500 words in length, and must be accompanied by an entry form which may be obtained from the magazine.

Articles will be judged on the basis of thought-content, human interest and literary expression. All entries must be postmarked not later than May 1, 1961. The award-winning article will be published in the September issue.

WU Placement Office Starts Interview Scheduling

The University placement office is now entering its busy period, with several job interviews scheduled for the next few weeks. All these interviews will take place in the conference room in Eaton Hall.

REPRESENTATIVES from California Packing Company will be on campus February 10. All information and materials about this company are available in the placement office. The position to be applied for is in accounting.

Tiger Squadron Visits Tucson

Twenty-one cadets and officers of the Tiger Squadron will represent the Willamette AFROTC department in the Sunshine City Drill team competition to be held Saturday at the Monahan-Davis Air Force base near Tucson, Arizona.

The Willamette drill team left for the Tucson base this morning from Salem via a C-47 piloted by Captain Milton Golart, assistant professor of Air Science. The group will return Sunday evening.

Approximately 40 drill teams and 20 Angel Flight drill teams will be competing for honors at the invitational meet.

Commanded by Cadet Captain Edwin Sasaki, the drill team will present an exhibition of precision marching and rifle exchanges.

Six Week Continental Tour Available

A six-week tour to cities of the Soviet Union and Europe for first-hand study of social services and living conditions has been announced by the General Extension Division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

The tour will leave New York on Friday, June 23, and will return to New York on August 5. Itinerary includes visits to Copenhagen, Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Yalta, Warsaw, Cracow, Geneva, Paris and London.

COST OF $1789 for each participant includes scheduled airline flight from New York to Europe and return, transportation within Europe and the USSR, hotels, three meals per day, and sight-seeing.

Tour leader, Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, has been in Europe and the Soviet Union during the last two summers. In 1959 she was a participating member of a tour studying problems of urbanization, and in 1960 she was leader of the Soviet-European study tour sponsored jointly by the General Extension Division and the Danish International Student Committee. Mrs. Moorhead is professor of health education and consultant in health and community welfare with the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

TOUR MEMBERS may earn a maximum of six college credit hours by registering for a three-hour seminar in Comparative Education and a three-hour course in Ideologies of the Twentieth Century. Credit earned may be transferred to any of the Oregon State System of Higher Education campus institutions. "Willamette University will accept the credit hours from these courses," according to Richard Yocom, registrar.

Study aspects of the trip have been planned with the cooperation of the United States Public Health Service, the United States Office of Education and the World Health Organization of the United Nations. In the cities of Europe and the USSR leading scholars and governmental social agency staff members will lecture to the group. Tour participants will be able to visit kindergartens, schools and other social agencies in the areas visited. Lectures, study visits and sightseeing are planned to allow adequate time for the pursuit of individual interests.

A brochure containing detailed itinerary and travel information may be obtained by writing Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, General Extension Division, 1250 Emerald Street, Eugene, Oregon.

New Parkers Need Stickers

All students and faculty members planning to use the new University parking lot must have official stickers on their cars. Student stickers are square and if not picked up during registration, may be acquired in the business office. Stickers are available at no cost to students. Applicants should have automobile registration to secure stickers.

Faculty members will receive their identifying markers this week. Dr. Richard Petrie, financial vice president of Willamette, cautioned that the lot will be posted immediately and all unauthorized cars will be towed away.

Auditions Slated for May Weekend Play

Tryouts for the May Weekend play, "Angel Street," by Patrick Hamilton, have been set for Tuesday, February 21, according to Drama Professor, Robert Putnam.

The tryouts will be on an audition basis, and a reading of the play will be necessary prior to the audition. Putnam emphasized that students interested in auditioning should read the play, planning to memorize a scene or passage for the audition.

A copy of the play will be available in the library, on two hour reserve.

Library Lists CR Readings

"Secular people are asking questions that contemporary religion does not seem to answer," says CR Week speaker, Joseph Mathews. Resource Week speaker Mathews is one of the program directors of the Faith and Life Community at the University of Texas.

Students participating in this community are making experimental approaches to the problems of modern man and his society through intensive study, worship, service and experiences of encountering life together.

Mathews has sent a list of suggested readings to prepare Willamette students for the issues he will raise during Christian Resource Week.

A list of these recommended readings can be obtained in the school library, where there is also a display of religious art. Most of the books suggested by Mathews can be checked out from the reserve room.

Convo Exemptions Must Be Renewed

In a recently issued bulletin, Dean of Students Walter S. Blake says that students are to occupy the same seat they have occupied during the fall semester for chapel and convocation.

Requests for exemption from chapel and/or convocation should be submitted to the Dean of Students' office. Fall semester exemptions must be renewed.

Any questions will be answered either in the Chaplain's office or in the Personnel office.

Since announcement of the new convocations schedule, there have been two changes. The program on February 7 will be pianist Raul Spivak. The February 28 program will be creative dancer Jean Erdman.

Prof Will Spend Spring At Rutgers

Willamette professor of law, Dr. Reginald Parker, will be holding a visiting professorship for the 1961 spring semester at Rutgers College of Law in Newark, N. J.

Dr. Parker will be teaching administrative law and comparative law. He also will be a member of the State Committee to Draft Administrative Procedure Rules.

He is the author of a book on American administrative law which appeared in 1952 and of another book written in German explaining American law in general which appeared in Vienna last spring. He is also the author of many articles, one of which appeared in the Willamette Law Journal and he has a pamphlet on labor law which is going to be published next spring.

"Smile pretty," said the photographer, and that's just what they did. The smiling group is candidates for Betty Co-ed and Joe College, each sponsored by a campus living organization. The winners will be selected and announced at the February 17 all-campus dance, "Guys and Dolls," sponsored by the Associated Women's Students. Left to right the candidates are: Corky Demler, Ann Martin, Anne Davenport, Dexter Maust, Gordie Rounds, Barbara Green, Pete Kremer, Carl Williams, Barbara Leiseth, Doug Simon, Martha Boyer, Greg Childs, Elaine Buckinger and Jerry Auvinen. # Fraternities Elect New Spring Slates

COMPLETING the slate of officers are Judy Girod, corresponding secretary; Carolyn Parr, Panhellenic delegate; Bonnie Scott and Sherrie Steele, rush co-chairmen and Martha Boyer, social chairman.

Chi Omegas recently elected Fran Farley, president; Prudy Melendy, vice-president, and Betty Rice, secretary. Other elected officers in the Chi Omega house are Rosemary Stanberry, treasurer; Shirley Gillard, pledge trainer; Evelyn Landrith, correspondent and Verrill Redo, social chairman.

OREGON Gamma of Phi Delta Theta has chosen Larry Thompson as president. Other officers selected to assist Thompson are Paul Richey, reporter; Bill Baker, secretary; Stuart Hall, social chairman; Ron Brown, rush chairman and Bob Youngblood, librarian.

Finishing the roster of Phi Delta officers are Dale Sticka, historian; Tom Ihrig, chaplain; Dick Krebs, warden; George Douglass, alumni secretary; Bill Snow, scholarship chairman; Jim O'Hair, chorister and Kevin Nagel, intramurals chairman.

SAE's Present Open House

"A Wake for Our Departed Brother" is the theme Saturday night when the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon present an open house from 8 to 12 p.m. In memory of their departed brother the SAE's were seen on campus yesterday and today in mourning, wearing black attire.

As a special feature for the evening there will be a contest to choose the most popular coed on campus. Competing for the honor, for which the prize has not yet been revealed, are representatives from each women's living organization.

Candidates are Claudia Peterson, Alpha Chi Omega; Pat Clark, Alpha Phi; Cari O'Donnell, Delta Gamma; Joyce Heringer, Chi Omega; Merle Gillespie, Pi Beta Phi; Hilary Teague, Lucy Anna Lee House; Carol Jo Knudsen, Doney Hall and Kathy Higbee, Lausanne Hall. According to Pat Mitchell, SAE social chairman, voting will be from 8 to 9 p.m. by both members and guests.

Bob Burrows is general chairman for the open house. Chaperones include Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brennan, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Duell and Captain and Mrs. Paul Muzzio.

Glamour Begins Annual Contest

For the fifth year, Glamour is looking for the "Ten Best College Girls in America." Candidates for the honors are selected from nominees selected on college campuses throughout the country. Willamette's Best Dressed Coed contest will be sponsored by the Collegian with co-eds from the campus competing for the honor.

The ten outstanding young women chosen by Glamour will receive many prizes including national recognition for their colleges in the August College Issue of Glamour and in newspapers throughout the country and an all-expense paid two week visit to New York as guests of Glamour magazine.

Dedrick Starts Career, Teaches History Class

Miss Jane Dedrick, 1960 graduate of Willamette, is beginning her practice teaching at Fort Vancouver High School in Vancouver, Washington. Miss Dedrick is practice teaching from Portland State College where she is doing post-graduate work.

Summer Courses Offered Abroad

Special six-week summer school courses at four British and two Austrian schools are being offered to American undergraduate and graduate students in July and August, 1961, announced the Institute of International Education.

EACH student, according to his particular subject interest, may apply for study at one of four schools under the British University Summer Schools program. Elizabethan drama will be taught at Stratford-on-Avon, English literature at the University of London, English literature and art from the 1870's to the present day at Oxford and political and economic history, philosophy and literature of Britain from 1559 to 1789 at the Edinburgh school. The majority of these courses are designed with the graduate in mind, but undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered.

Fees, which will include board, residence and tuition for the six weeks at each of the four British schools, are approximately $254. A number of full and half scholarships are available to interested students.

BOTH Austrian schools include in their programs the opportunity to attend performances at Salzburg's music festival. The Salzburg Summer School emphasizes the German language and requires that all of its students enroll in a language course. Other courses, which will be taught in English, include foreign policy, Austrian literature, European music and history of Austrian art. The fee for this six-week program, including registration fee, room and board, tuition, examination fees, several tours and three Salzburg Festival tickets, is $225. A few full scholarships are available. A half-term program is offered for $135. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 40 years of age and must have completed at least one year of college by June, 1961.

The University of Vienna offers summer classes at its St. Wolfgang Campus near Salzburg. Study is combined with outdoor life at a mountain lake in an attempt to enable English-speaking students to become acquainted with the Austrian educational system and social life.

FEES for the six-week program, which include tuition, tours and excursions, maintenance and attendance at the Salzburg Festival, are $250.

Applications for either of these schools may be obtained from the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67 St., New York 21, New York, or from one of the Institute's regional offices. Scholarship applications for the British summer schools must be received by March 1, 1961, while the deadline for admission applications is March 31. The due date for the Austrian schools is March 1, for scholarship applications and May 1, for admissions.

AWS Dance Honors Betty, Joe

Once again it is time to choose a new Betty Coed and Joe College, according to Sherrie Steele and Mary Ann Wright, co-chairmen for this year's AWS dance. The event will be held at the VFW Hall from 9 to 12 February 17.

EACH LIVING organization has selected a candidate of the opposite sex to vie for the collegiate honors. Voting takes place at the door the evening of the dance. Gifts will be presented to the winners.

"Guys and Dolls" is the theme for this year's dance with decorations depicting a college atmosphere. Traditionally the first dance of the second semester, the event gives women students an opportunity to ask fellows out and it gives the men a financially free evening. Tickets may be purchased for $1.50 from representatives at each living organization. The event will be semi-formal.

Chi Omega Invites You

The women of Chi Omega invite you, the students of Willamette University, the faculty and friends to their open house, at their chapter house, at 425 14th Street N.E., tonight after the Willamette-Lewis and Clark game. Refreshments, card playing and dancing will be available to all during the evening.

THE OBJECT of the dance is to raise money for the AWS scholarships which are awarded to deserving coeds on the basis of need, scholarship and character.

Vieing for the Betty Coed title and the nominating organizations are Elaine Buckinger, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Martha Boyer, Phi Delta Theta; Barbara Leiseth, Kappa Sigma; Barbara Green, Beta Theta Pi; Anne Davenport, Sigma Chi; Anne Martin, Baxter Hall, and Corky Demler, YMCA.

Nominees from the women's organizations include Dexter Maust, Alpha Phi; Gordie Rounds, Delta Gamma; Pete Kremer, Alpha Chi Omega; Carl Williams, Lucy Anna Lee House; Doug Simon, Chi Omega; Jerry Auvinen, Pi Beta Phi; Greg Childs, Lausanne Hall; and Fidel Gaviola, Doney Hall.

AWS Announces Election Plans

Elections of officers of the Associated Women Students, are just around the corner. Petitions are due today, according to Karen Madsen, judiciary vice-president. Candidates for president must be a junior; while those running for either judiciary, orientation or scholarship vice-presidents should be either sophomores or juniors. The positions of secretary and treasurer are open to all women students.

Presidential candidates will speak to the student body at the convocation February 7. Other candidates for officers will speak at the women's living organizations throughout the ensuing week.

Summer Courses Offered Abroad

Special six-week summer school courses at four British and two Austrian schools are being offered to American undergraduate and graduate students in July and August, 1961, announced the Institute of International Education.

EACH student, according to his particular subject interest, may apply for study at one of four schools under the British University Summer Schools program. Elizabethan drama will be taught at Stratford-on-Avon, English literature at the University of London, English literature and art from the 1870's to the present day at Oxford and political and economic history, philosophy and literature of Britain from 1559 to 1789 at the Edinburgh school. The majority of these courses are designed with the graduate in mind, but undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered.

Fees, which will include board, residence and tuition for the six weeks at each of the four British schools, are approximately $254. A number of full and half scholarships are available to interested students.

BOTH Austrian schools include in their programs the opportunity to attend performances at Salzburg's music festival. The Salzburg Summer School emphasizes the German language and requires that all of its students enroll in a language course. Other courses, which will be taught in English, include foreign policy, Austrian literature, European music and history of Austrian art. The fee for this six-week program, including registration fee, room and board, tuition, examination fees, several tours and three Salzburg Festival tickets, is $225. ## Hoopmen Eye Pioneer Five In Twinbill

Hoping for better fortunes in the second half of the Northwest Conference basketball race, Willamette hosts Lewis and Clark tonight and travels to Portland tomorrow in a two-game series with the Pioneers. Currently in last place with six losses in seven games, the Lewismen will have to sweep both encounters to keep alive any chances for gaining one of two league berths in the NAIA District 2 playoffs after the season.

THE PRE-SEASON favored Pioneers have had a rather exciting record in their five NWC games thus far. They beat Pacific twice by margins of two and three points, the second in overtime, edged Willamette, 63-60, and lost two games to first place Linfield by four and two points, the latter in another overtime.

In their victory over the Jasons, Lewis and Clark trailed by 12 points midway through the second half before putting on a spurt and going ahead with only 33 seconds left.

The Palatine Hill squad has plenty of experience and height, making them tough under the boards. They often resort to the fast break as an offensive weapon.

LEADING THE Pioneers have been forward Royce McDaniel who sparked them in the comeback win over the Jasons, and Mike Vermillion who has alternated between forward and center. A freshman, 6-4 forward Jim Boutan, has also been impressive lately.

Bob Fox, 6-6 center who was considered a likely all-conference prospect this year, has not seen as much action as expected but is an agile shooter and rebounder.

WU Swimmers Meet Portland U

Willamette's swimming team will seek their second win over Oregon College of Education today when they travel to Monmouth for a dual meet. The Bearcat tankers defeated OCE here in their opening meet.

Next Friday, the swimmers will travel to Portland University for a meet that was originally scheduled for January 13 but had to be postponed. The Bearcats also have a meet at Linfield the following week and a return match against Portland here.

Judi Dana Tops College Archers

Judi Dana of Willamette tied for first in the nation in all gold ends, and topped all others in Class D women's competition as results of the National Intercollegiate Archery Tournament were revealed last week.

Miss Dana tied Dave Zuccarini of San Bernardino College by getting 14 all golds, which are awarded for a perfect bull's eye record for a series of six arrows.

She also got the highest point total of women competitors in her class, putting together a series of 514, 526 and a perfect 540 for 1580. Since each archer's top score among the three is counted in the final results, she recorded the highest score possible.

Willamette's five teams placed third, sixth, 10th, 14th and 16th among the schools in Class D competition, which finds archers shooting 60 arrows 20 yards away at a regulation 48-inch target.

The first team scored 720 hits, 5680 points and 504 golds in gaining third spot. Finishing first in Class D competition was Brooklyn College, followed by San Bernardino in second.

Harriet Dockstader of Willamette placed 16th in the tournament with three all golds and totaling 1500 points. She placed 7th in Class D competition, garnering 42 golds and 504 points for her highest score.

Other top Willamette scorers included Carol Hawes with 1426 series, Jo Ann Tacker with 1410 points, Barbara Flint, 1382 and two all golds, and Cookie Manwaring with 1350.

Willamette's teams competed during three weeks last November and December, sending their scores in each week. From these, the highest for each participant was counted. The archers were directed by Mrs. Jean Williams of the Women's PE department.

JV's Play LC Twice

Willamette's junior varsity hoopers will be seeking to break a three-game losing string tonight and tomorrow when they tangle with Lewis and Clark in games preceding the regular varsity encounters.

After defeating Pacific's JV's 69-60, last month, the Bearkittens dropped a return match to the Badgers, 66-62, were edged by OCE, 69-66, and last Saturday were toppled by Linfield's Wildkittens, 88-74.

In last week's fray, Linfield built up a 50-38 advantage at halftime and the home team could never catch up. Fred Earwood paced the winners with 25 points, while Ron Whitehead led Willamette with 19 tallies. Gene Gregory scored 17 in a losing cause.

Wildcats Topple Lewismen

Willamette's basketball team finished a month of disappointing games when they dropped an 80-73 tussle at the hands of Linfield here last Saturday. As a result, the Bearcats found themselves at the bottom of the Northwest Conference with one win and six losses.

In previous activity following two defeats in three games to Whitman and College of Idaho, Willamette dropped two encounters to Pacific, 72-68 and 58-52, and were edged by Lewis and Clark, 63-60, after leading throughout the game.

LAST WEEK, free throws, which had been one of WU's strong points, proved their undoing. Though committing only one more personal foul, the Jasons converted only 11 of 22 attempts while Linfield hit on 20 for 30.

Coach John Lewis felt the squad showed overall improvement in other departments. The Bearcats were out-rebounded by only 47-44, outshot the visitors 79-62, and shot a respectable .413 from the field. They also did not lose the ball through violations and steals as often as in the past.

Gal Swimmers First

Willamette's women's swimming team finished first in their opening meet of the season last month, finishing ahead of five other schools at Oregon College of Education's swimming pool.

WU won the meet with 33 points in ten events, several of which were relays. Finishing behind were OCE with 25 points, Oregon State with 22, and Marylhurst, 12.

The Willamette team consisted of Sue Freed, Betty Burgoyne, Linda Pond and Nan Means.

Mrs. Jean Williams, who organized the team, was particularly happy about the results because both Oregon State and OCE teams have use of their own pools.

ing lineup by inserting Dale Drake at guard and Lee Weaver at forward along with regulars Junior Sato, Fidel Gaviola and Buz Wilfert. Drake contributed 12 points and some steady playmaking. Sato and Gaviola were high scorers with 17 apiece.

AS FOR the game, it found the Bearcats continually chasing Linfield after the Wildcats gained the upper hand in the early stages of the first half. The visitors maintained leads of five to ten points, and held a 36-28 advantage by intermission.

The second half saw the Lewis-

Bowling Race Remains Close

The see-saw intramural bowling race found Baxter No. 1 back on top by one game after the SAE No. 1 team was forced to settle for a 2-2 split with Phi Delt No. 1 last Wednesday.

Baxter moved into first when they took four straight from the Arnies. Charlie Saverude led the winners with a sizzling 596 series and a 219 game.

In other matches, Beta No. 2 took four straight from the Sig 2's, Sigma Chi's No. 1 team took three of four from Beta No. 1, Baxter No. 2 took four from the Hi-Lows, and the SAE No. 2's took four from the Phi Delt No. 2 team.

Six Will Attend Legislative Seminar

Six Willamette students and two faculty members will have a unique opportunity to study the legislative process in the Oregon Citizenship Clearing House Legislative Seminar to be held on February 9 and 10 at the Capitol building and the Marion Hotel. Twelve Oregon colleges will participate in the program.

DR. THEODORE Shay and Dr. Edwin Stillings will attend the seminar with students Bill Henderson, Bob Youngblood, Kevin Nagel, Jean Savage, Pat McWilliams and Judy Rhorer.

Highlighting the program will be a speech at the Friday luncheon by Governor Mark Hatfield entitled "The Governor's Role in the Legislative Process."

BRIEFINGS ON procedure and agenda will precede the first legislative session on the students' schedule. A panel discussion will provide information on "The Budget and State Finance." At a luncheon meeting students will hear Senator Harry Boivin, President of the Senate, and Representative Robert Duncan, Speaker of the House, talk on "The Presiding Officer and the Majority Party Program." "The Role of the Minority Leaders" will be handled by Senator Anthony Yturri and Representative F. F. Montgomery.

Lobbyists will discuss the "Third House" with the students. Those already on the panel are Estes Snedecor, Jr., PGE; George Brown, AFL-CIO, and John Lansing, Pacific Power and Light Co.

ACCORDING to Don Balmer, Oregon Citizenship Clearing House Director, various committee sessions will be open to the students. An early breakfast is scheduled with the Ways and Means Committee on Friday. The group will be able to attend its meeting and those of the agriculture and the labor and industries committees.

A visit with the "Fourth Estate" will take the students behind the scenes in the legislative struggle. Doug Seymour, Capital Journal, will moderate a panel discussion including Mervin Shoemaker, Portland Oregonian, Robert McBride, Portland Reporter, and Tom Wright, Salem Statesman.

The programs are arranged by the Citizenship Clearing House which has a number of programs aimed at encouraging students to learn about government and enter the political arena. The organization pays part of the expenses for these programs and will pick up the tab for costs in excess of the $5 which the students are asked to pay for four meals, lodging, and travel.

29 to Receive Diplomas At Special Chapel Thursday

Commencement exercises for 32 graduating seniors will be held on Founder's and Benefactor's day, February 9, in a special chapel service at 11 a.m. in the Fine Arts auditorium. This day is set aside each year in recognition of the founders and benefactors of Willamette. (See story, page 1.)

In the traditional apparel of cap and gown, the graduates will receive their degrees from President G. Herbert Smith.

Members of the class of August, 1960, receiving their degrees will be Bachelor of Arts - Timothy Cannell, Larry Jay Conrad, Robert

Master of Arts in Education degree will be awarded to Richard Allan White. Corydon McCall Bloodgett will receive a degree as Master of Music Education.

The Class of February, 1961, includes Bachelor of Science in Law, Harry David Lewis; Bachelor of Music, Patricia Jean Holcomb and Bachelor of Music Education, Elizabeth Anne Laird.

Glee Boss Announces 'Blue' Convo

"Glee parodies will be different this year. They will be all together at the end of Glee, while judging is going on," say Mike Wayland and Pete Smith, Glee chairmen. "There will be no other glee entertainment other than the parodies." This was one of the main decisions made at a general Glee meeting February 1.

Parodies are a take-off on well known songs and have been held at different times during Glee.

"There will be a Blue Monday this year," says Wayland. Blue Monday will be March 6 in a special convocation at 11 a.m. A switch will be made in Monday and Tuesday classes to accommodate for the Monday convocation. Whether to have a Blue Monday has been the source of much argument since the beginning of the school year.

Rules for 1960 Glee will be the same as last year with one exception: any infringement of the rules will be handled by the Student Senate. These were previously handled by the Glee executive committee.

Glee records, which will include all four class songs on a 45 rpm record, should be ordered now. In charge of this are Bob Powell, who can be reached at Baxter Hall, and Phil Krozek, who lives at the YMCA. Price has not been definitely decided, but a delivery date of two weeks after Glee has been set, according to Powell.

Hawaii Tells of Summer Session

Summer session of the University of Hawaii, located on the Manoa campus in Honolulu, will begin June 27 and terminate August 6, with special rates as low as $555.

Included in this price are round-trip transportation across the Pacific from U.S. gateway cities, air-conditioned Waikiki Beach accommodations and a full schedule of 22 planned activities including dinner dances, sight-seeing trips, field trips and beach parties.

Air and steamship accommodations have been set on all major steamship and air lines and reservations for travel and enrollment for the summer session are now being accepted.

Complete information including application forms and illustrated bulletins are available by writing to Dr. Robert E. Cralle, 3305 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles 5, California.

Youth Groups Tap Leaders; Plan For Future Programs

Several church youth groups have recently been active in choosing officers and planning programs. The Lutheran youth group has elected Margie Mikkelsen as president. Other officers named are vice-president, Jim Monroe; secretary, Barb Beasley. The group meets for lunch and discussion on Wednesday noon in the YWCA basement.

New officers of the Methodist Church's Wesley Fellowship are president, Bill Frick; vice-president, Eve McAllister; secretary, Katherine Klinkenberg of OCE; treasurer, Gail Evernden; Worship, Ruth McMath; World Christian Community, Grover Gentry; program, Janet Stewart; recreation, Mary Martin; deputations, Carl Williams and arrangements, Jean Stephenson.

The Christian Church youth group will spend the next two Sundays in a School of Missions, which is currently a topic of special emphasis at their church. The group meets for snacks at 5:30; the study period begins at 6:15. This Sunday Mrs.

Board Names Sparks

L. J. Sparks, head of the physical education department, has been reappointed to the Salem Park Advisory Board for another three years. Sparks has served on the board since its organization.

The Park Advisory Board makes recommendations concerning park and recreation matters to the Salem City Council. It also advises the city park superintendent.

Second Veep Petitions Due; Election Dates Revealed

Elections for the Spring semester are nearing. Petitions for the position of second vice president of the student body are due next Tuesday. Primary elections will be held on February 9 and 10 with the run-offs on February 13 and 14.

Candidates for the senior class are president, Dale Mortenson and Bill Richter; vice president, Jerry Spoonmore, Wayne Gladwin, Steve Carmichael and Joan Barber; secretary, Ann Stambaugh and Norissa Leger; treasurer, Sherri Jenkins and Stew Butler; and sergeant-at-arms, Buz Wilfert and Pete Weisel.

Nominees for the junior class include Phil Thom, Mike Foster and Paul Richey, president; Lyle Green and Dave Marsters, vice president; Verrill Redo, Bitsy McCready, Marianna Koch and Wendy Caulk, secretary; Janeen Hardy and Bob Youngblood, treasurer and Mike Estcourt, sergeant-at-arms.

Vying for the presidency of the sophomore class are Pat McLarney and Paul Powers. Other candidates are Joann Gay, Dave Robertson, Sherrie Steele, Barney Kliks and Peter Verloop, vice president; Sue Jones and Trish Evans, secretary; Mary Ann Wright, Pauli Hibbard, Holt Williams and George Douglas, treasurer and John Baker, Robert Lutje and Rich Litchfield, sergeant-at-arms.

Freshman hopefuls include Chuck Reinhorn and Ken Cruden, president; Ernie Gohlert, Diane Hunnux and Dennis Wong, vice president; Carol McChesney, secretary; Pat French, Carol Knudsen and Mary Lee Jones, treasurer and Jim Booth and Bob Powell for sergeant-at-arms.

Students will be contacted about time and place to meet. Everyone is welcome.

Accordionists Plan Concert

For the first time, American audiences will be treated to a musical phenomenon that has thrilled international audiences - the Hohner Accordion Symphony, a 25 member aggregation of virtuosi of the accordion and harmonica - according to Celebrity Attractions. This unique orchestra, direct from Germany, will be heard in person at the Public Auditorium in Portland on Friday evening, February 10, as part of its first U.S. tour.

Birthplace of the Hohner Accordion Symphony is the Black Forest "singing village" of Trossingen. There is an old saying that gypsies are born to play the violin. The same is true of Trossingen natives in respect to the accordion and harmonica. Trossingen, center of German accordion music for 90 years, is the home of the century-old Hohner Works, manufacturers of the famed Hohner instruments.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at Celebrity Attractions, 916 S.W. King, Portland 5, Oregon.
