Willamette to Greet Grads '47 Enrollment Figures Top All Records

October 17-18 Reserved for Homecoming

With "Bearcats Tree Old UBC" as its homecoming theme, Willamette university stands ready to greet its grads at annual homecoming festivities slated for October 17 and 18 on the historical Salem campus.

Such traditional features as the sign contest, rally bonfire, soph-frosh "bag rush" competition, noise parade, alumni banquet and dance will be among the highlights of the gala homecoming program. Gridiron competition for WU's Bearcats will be provided by the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds in the homecoming football contest slated for October 18.

Already hundreds of undergraduates are making all-out preparations for inter-group competitive events, such as the parade and sign contests, in which various living organizations vie against one another for the glory and prestige that automatically is awarded to the victors.

Fellow Alumni:

Nothing you can do will compare with coming back to the old school for Homecoming. We all have the natural tendency to become too preoccupied with our every day affairs—the rut we swore we would avoid in the good old days. It is refreshing and an aid to our perspective on life to get back to Willamette—see the old gang, the new students, the new buildings, the professors, the football game, the fun, and discuss the old and new with friends we see all too seldom.

Can you afford to miss it?
See you at Homecoming!

STEVE ANDERSON
President
Willamette Alumni Association.

All previous Willamette university registration records were shattered with the opening of the 1947 fall term, when no less than 1215 names—including those of 434 freshmen—were placed on the students' rolls.

Freshman registration, law school sign-up and music school and liberal arts enrollment all top enrollments of any previous year, according to Willamette Registrar Harold B. Jory.

Jory's breakdown of registration figures:

Schedule of Homecoming Events

FRIDAY

4:00 a. m. — Freshmen leaf rake. (Lots of manpower this year, what with 434 Freshies in school.)

10:00 a. m. — Sign Contest Judging. (Signs will center around Homecoming theme, "Bearcats Tree Old UBC.")

7:00 p. m. — Noise parade. (The townspeople always get a bang out of this event.) Bonfire and rally at Bush's pasture immediately after parade.

9:00 p. m. — Open house at all girls living organizations.

SATURDAY

Freshmen can sleep in this day.

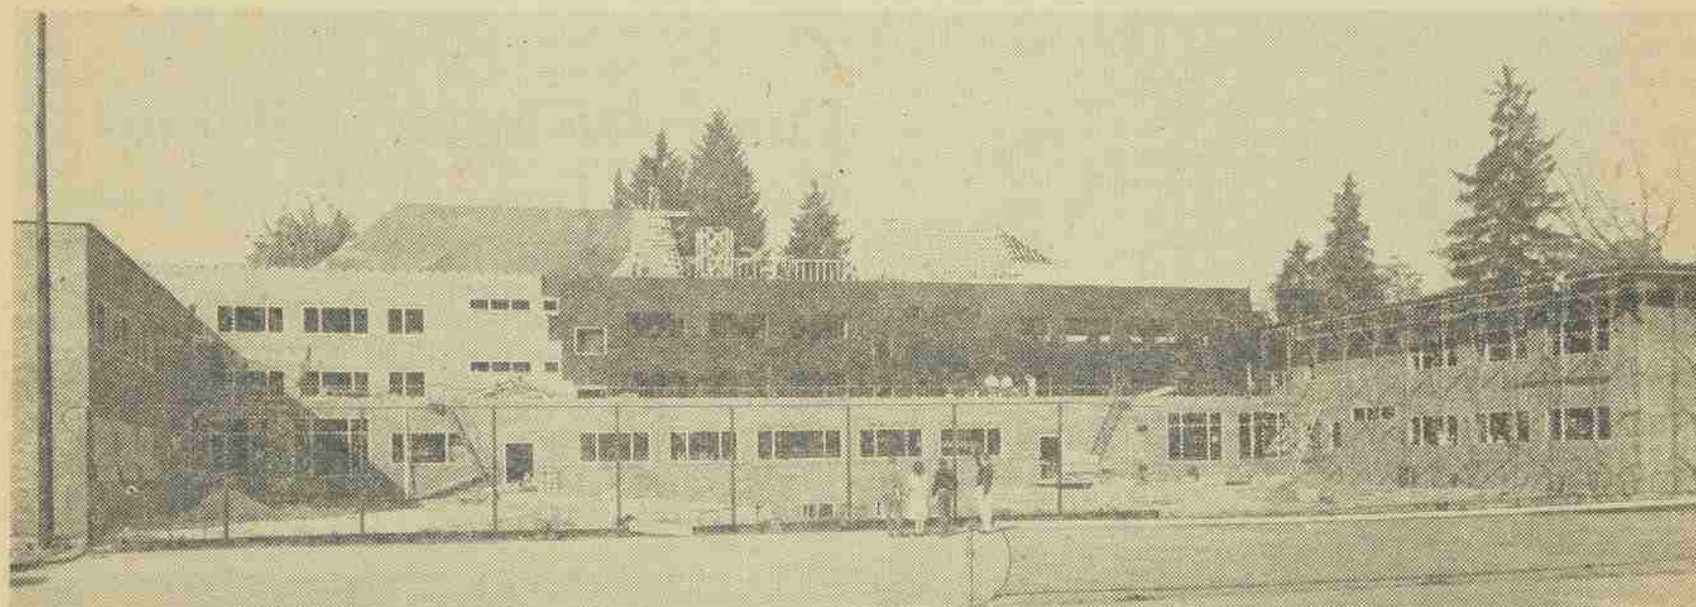

2:30 p. m.—Homecoming highlight, Willamette Bearcats vs. University of British Columbia Thunderbirds on Sweetland field. (Bring along that old cowbell.)

5:30 p. m.—Alumni social hour, Lausanne hall. (Meet your old buddies and that old gal friend.)

6:30 p. m.—Alumni banquet, Lausanne hall. (And it's not on meatless Tuesday.)

9:30 p. m. — Homecoming dance, gymnasium. (Same old gym, same old dancing partners.)

Nearing Completion - Willamette's New Baxter Hall

Many Willamette grads will take their first peek at brand new Baxter hall when they visit the campus during Homecoming festivities October 17 and 18. The new hall is ultra-modern in every respect, and is located just east of the library. See story on page 2. (Cut courtesy Statesman.)

Smith Launches Fund Drive To Raise Extra $100,000

By Eric Bergman

Baxter hall, the university's new men's dormitory reached the 65 per cent completion mark this week. This was announced by Fritz Fjeldheim, superintendent for the Guy F. Atkinson company, general contractors for the building.

Fund Drive Starts

Meanwhile, Dr. G. Herbert Smith, university president, announced that $100,000 must be raised to finance increased construction cost over and above the original projected cost of $700,000 for the dormitory. Furthermore, this additional sum must be raised before the completion of the building in February, 1948, when some 220 men students are expected to move into the dormitory, the most modern on the coast.

Inauguration of the new campaign to raise the additional $100,000 was held on the campus last week at a joint meeting of the university's dormitory finance committee and the board of trustee's executive committee, headed by Charles E. McCulloch of Portland. On the financial committee and to assist with the solicitations for funds are Clarence Bishop, chairman; Paul Wallace, treasurer; William L. Phillips, Salem, and President G. Herbert Smith.

Central Kitchen

The dormitory will house 220 men students, including members of the four campus fraternities and separate housing for independent students. Each of the four fraternity groups will have separate dining rooms and chapter meeting rooms, though meals will be prepared in a central kitchen.

Since the laying of the cornerstone for Baxter hall by Charles A. Sprague, former governor and member of the university board of trustees on June 14 of this year, concrete work has been 100 per cent completed, 50 per cent of the outside bricking is completed and roofing is 100 per cent completed. Superintendent Fjeldheim said that over 4000 yards of concrete had been used in the dormitory construction, which covers a major portion of the eastern side of the campus facing on South 12th street. The portion of the roof, he said, which is the top of the building and houses the copper-covered cupola will be completed this week. Fifty men are employed at present on the dormitory construction, Fjeldheim said.

Cornerstone Preserves Records

Interesting in the laying of the cornerstone last June was the inclusion within the stone latest copies of The Oregon Statesman, the Willamette Collegian, and other newspapers, the 1947 Wal-lulah yearbook, freshman "bible" handbook, campus view book, Dr. Robert M. Gatke's "Chronicles of Willamette" and programs of all campus events of the past spring.

Barclay Starts Alumni Job

Charles Barclay took over as full time university alumni secretary and publicity director at the beginning of the current semester following his appointment by Pres. G. Herbert Smith this summer.

Barclay, senior psychology major, will graduate in February. He has done publicity work for station KOIN and for Jantzen Beach in Portland and is remembered on campus for his activities as May Weekend manager last year.

Long Range Planning

Sweetland field, its seating accommodations, ticket windows, fences, etc., are not in the most desirable condition. No plans for major improvements are being made, however, since it is hoped that the new athletic field at Bush's pasture will be completed by football season next year.

Morange Back From France Sees Hope in French Future

In the opinion of Marion Morange, member of the Romance language faculty at Willamette, who has studied in France for the past year, pride of the French people will be a great factor in the reconstruction of France. Miss Morange went on to say that the French people with whom she came in contact favored the Marshall plan, that they do not want something for nothing, but need goods with which to work. Last year there was a terrific shortage of wheat and coal and all last winter a person either took his own sugar to a restaurant or did without.

Miss Morange, who was one of the 1946 recipients of a fellowship given by the Oregon division of the AAUW, has just returned to the Willamette faculty this year. While in Paris she lived in the International Student Settlement which is a ten-minute subway ride from the university and is composed of about 25 houses, each built by a different nation.

The purpose of her stay in France was to do research work of the populist movement in French literature and especially the work of Dabit, who died in 1936. Dabit, artist, novelist, and essayist, was predominantly interested in the working class group of Paris. He is, however, little known in the United States for his works have not been widely translated into English.

Miss Morange was fortunate in having the opportunity to meet Andre Gide, a French writer, to discuss correspondence which he had received from Dabit. She also talked with Dabit's mother and wife and from his wife she received several of Dabit's unpublished and unfinished works.

According to Miss Morange, feeling of the French toward Americans is very good. The French extended many invitations to the U.S. house during her stay in Paris, there were so many, in fact, that all could not be accepted. The invitations included visits to the theatres and excursions into the suburbs of Paris where the French took care of all arrangements, even food and transportation.

The French organization which compares to our AAUW also had a well planned program. They saw to it that students in the university met and became acquainted with the French person or organization which could aid them in the field of work they were studying at the university.

Reconstruction in Paris is progressing slowly, but surely, and Miss Morange remarked that the contrast of conditions when she arrived in the city and when she left showed marked improvement.

Trophy Given Beta Theta Phi

A recent frosh-soph chapel in Waller hall was highlighted by the presentation of the new Sigma Chi Foundation scholarship trophy.

Ralph E. Morrison, secretary of Sigma Chi alumni, presented the trophy to President G. Herbert Smith on behalf of the Sigma Chi Foundation and John Alden Towers of Philadelphia who sponsored the trophy.

On the basis of highest average grade point among WU fraternities for the 1946-47 school year, Beta Theta Phi with an average of 2.74 was the first to receive the award.

Converted Adair Buildings House Infirmary, Band Room

Two new buildings which were added to the campus this year to help accommodate the increased enrollment are now being utilized. The former Camp Adair buildings have been converted into an infirmary and a band rehearsal hall.

Construction of the infirmary, which is east of the gymnasium was begun last fall. Ten foot sections of the building were transported in on flatbedded trucks and lowered into place by crane. The H-shaped building contains a physia-therapy room, kitchen, matron's quarters, sterilizing room, and two wards, one on each side. One ward is for men and the other for women. There are six private rooms and one isolation room.

The new music annex is just west of the grandstand. The building has three rooms which will provide space for a large rehearsal hall, equipment room and an office for Mr. Brennen, the band director. All Brennen's classes will be held in the new building.

21 New Members Join Faculty

KOCO to Air Regular WU Broadcast

Willamette university will begin a series of student-produced radio broadcasts Tuesday, October 14, at 7 p.m. over station KOCO with a program devoted to Homecoming activities, according to Joe Power, who is assisting in the production.

The campus-produced radio show will consist mainly of news of campus activities and of interviews with students and faculty members. Travis Cross is to have a regularly scheduled sports department on the program which is scheduled every Tuesday from 7 to 7:15.

The broadcasts will originate from the Music building until a studio can be built in Waller hall.

Bob Scott, Carl Ritchie and Power have been active in the organization of the series which is the activity of the drama department's workshop. Prof. Lloyd Jones of the speech and drama department is advisor.

President G. Herbert Smith and Steve Anderson, president of the alumni association, are slated to appear on the initial program.

'Assistants' Added to Staff

Coming to Willamette as assistant professor of religion is Dr. Raymond A. Withey who holds his doctor's degree from Boston university.

Joining her husband, Dr. Norman A. Huffman, as a member of the faculty, is Mrs. Norman A. Huffman who replaces Constance Fowler as acting professor of art. She received her master's degree from Duke university and has been head of the art departments at Queens college, Charlotte, N.C., and Wesleyan College for Women, Macon, Ga.

New Assistant Librarian

The new assistant librarian, Mrs. Kathryn Anderson, also joins her husband on the faculty. She holds her A.B. from University of Michigan and a Bachelor of library science from University of California.

Mrs. Isabel Childs Rosebraugh, Willamette graduate and past city editor of the Statesman, will instruct a section of Dr. Robert M. Gatke's Problems of Government class.

Influx Is Largest in History of WU

Joining with over 400 freshmen in becoming acquainted with Willamette's campus, 21 new faculty members began their first classes as the fall term opened. This is the largest group of additions and replacements in the teaching staff in Willamette's history.

Three replacements have joined the ranks of the physical education department. Having received her degree from WU last June, Virginia Cannon replaces Mrs. Jean Williams as a teacher of women's physical education. Jerry Lillie and Johnny Lewis have been acquired as men's athletic coaches.

Burton Heads Department

Heading the department of psychology is Dr. Arthur Burton who comes to Willamette from the State College of Idaho. Dr. Burton received his doctor's degree from the University of California.

Due to the doubling of the size of this department, another instructor, Mr. Frank Jacobson, has also been added. Jacobson received his B.A. from University of Oregon and will complete his master's degree in December. Additional courses in experimental psychology, clinical measurements and clinical psychology, tests and measurements will enlarge the department this year.

Anderson Replaces Bate

Two new professors have been added in economics and business administration. Charles Meek Anderson, who replaces Russell M. Bate as associate professor in this department has taught at the University of Chicago, Wittenberg college, University of North Carolina, University of Florida, Ogelthorpe university, the New Mexico Military Institute and the University of Wyoming. He received his master's degree from University of Michigan and has taken work on his doctorate at University of North Carolina and Columbia university.

Dr. Joseph H. Pryor, replacing Dr. Carl J. Folkerts as professor of economics and business administration, recently headed the business department at State Teachers college, Flagstaff Arizona. He received his doctorate from the University of Southern California.

Hocking Language Head

Recently heading modern languages at Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., Dr. George D. Hocking replaces Dr. William Moellering as chairman of the department and professor of romantic languages. He taught at John Hopkins university, the University of Delaware, Dartmouth college, Kenyon college, and during the war was with the State Department as cultural relations advisor in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Mrs. Laura Dunn comes to Willamette as an instructor in English and Spanish. A Phi Beta Kappa, Mrs. Dunn received her A.B. from University of Oregon and has taught six years on the high school level.

Jones Instructs Speech

Coming from Friends college, Wichita, Kansas, Lloyd S. Jones is a new instructor in the speech and drama department. He received his master's degree from Denver university.

Heading the education department is Dr. George B. Martin who replaces Dr. Lawrence A. Riggs in this position. Holding his doctorate from University of California, he comes from the public school system at Berkeley, California.

Morris Succeeds Lantz

The position of assistant professor of education will be taken by Dr. J. Russell Morris who replaces Dr. Robert C. Lantz. Dr. Morris received his doctorate from Stanford university.

Dr. Martha E. Springer, coming from Indiana university, replaces Prof. Roland E. Rethke as associate professor of biology.

A graduate from Willamette in 1942, Dr. Robert Purbrick is to instruct in physics this year. During the war Dr. Purbrick conducted research work in nuclear physics at University of Chicago after receiving his doctorate from University of Wisconsin.

Bentz New Math Prof

Assistant professor of mathematics and instructor in elementary engineering is Ralph P. Bentz who replaces Ruth Porter. He has taught at Pennsylvania State college where he received his master of education degree and at Culver Military academy and Evanston Junior college.

Caroline Trump, instructor in biology, comes from the faculty of Florida college for women. Her master's degree was received from University of Michigan.

Heading the department of sociology is Dr. John A. Rademaker who succeeds the late Dr. S. B. Laughlin. Having received his doctorate from University of Washington, Dr. Rademaker has taught at University of Hawaii and Bates college.

Poet Outfit Tipped 19-0 By Willamette

With Freshman Halfback Keith Sperry racking up a pair of six-pointers, and with the entire forward wall playing a bang-up game both offensively and defensively, the Willamette Bearcats fashioned out a 19-0 triumph over Whittier college's Poets of Whittier, Calif., on Sweetland field October 3 before a crowd of 4000 fans.

The game was minus any spine-tingling touchdown jaunts or awe-inspiring passes, but the consistency of the Bearcat's play drew the respect of every fan present. There was, however, one glaring flaw in the Willamette team—it's pass defense. Bearcat backfielders encountered considerable difficulty in attempting to cover potential pass receivers, and only the fact that the Poets' pass flingers had a wild and inaccurate night at pegging the pigskin, saved Coach Jerry Lillie's 'Cats from having at least two touchdowns charged against them.

Willamette built up a 6-0 lead in the initial quarter when Sperry plunged over the goal stripe from one yard out to climax a 34-yard march. The 'Cats had driven to within 25 yards of the Poets' goal, only to have an intercepted pass nullify their original scoring attempt. When Whittier punted after being held motionless for a pair of downs, Willamette started its touchdown march which was capped by Sperry's plunge.

The next 'Cat counter came in the third canto, and it was Mr. Sperry who again took care of the scoring, this time on a 30-yard sprint after finding a gaping hole in the center of the line.

Lillie's crew added their final touchdown late in the contest. The Bearcats gained a first down on the Whittier three-yard marker, but were held for downs and relinquished the ball to the Poets. Whittier Back Feary fumbled two plays later, the ball bounced into the end zone and 'Cat Quarterback Earl Hampton plopped on it for six points. Bill Reder place-kicked the game's final tally.

Whittier made a strong scoring bid in the second stanza, when it gained a first down on the Willamette four-yard line. The potent Bearcat line held for downs, and Willamette took over possession with the porkhide encamped just four inches from its own end zone.

SPORTS

A New Victory Bell Tolls

Willamette university's victory bell pealed 19 times to hail the Bearcats' October 3 victory over Whittier college, but the bell which tolled the good news was not the "old faithful" bell which many a WU grad has rung in years past to celebrate a Bearcat triumph.

The old bell, which cracked several years ago, still hangs in the tower of historic Waller hall, but has retired from active duty and is used solely for ornamental purposes. The new bell was installed last May as a gift from the Southern Pacific Co., and now hangs alongside the old bell. It was rung for the first time just a few minutes after the final gun of the football contest in which the Bearcats defeated Whittier 19-0.

Dr. Robert M. Gatke, Willamette historian, said the old bell had been used continuously on the campus since the days of the old Oregon institute, and that he believed it came around Cape Horn to Oregon. It was used as the school bell for many years, even after the original institute building burned in the 1870s.

It was installed in Waller hall, completed in the late 60's, and remained there until part of the building burned. Then it was placed on a tower near the present gymnasium. After another fire in Waller in 1919, remodeling permitted the final return of the bell to that tower.

Ground Seeded for 3 New Willamette Sports Fields

Seeding of turf at Bush's pasture for three Willamette university athletic fields has been completed. Business Manager Robert Fenix announced recently, and it is expected that the new sports grounds will be usable by next fall. The fields are located on the university's 10-acre tract of the huge pasture, most of which recently became city park property.

The turfing involves the new football and practice fields and baseball diamond, all a part of the gigantic, modern Willamette athletic plant which eventually will stand on the Mission street site, just across the street from the state school for the blind.

Football Schedule

Saturday, Oct. 18—U. of British Columbia, at Salem.

Saturday, Oct. 25—College of Puget Sound, at Tacoma.

Friday, Oct. 31—Pacific University, at Salem.

Friday, Nov. 7—Linfield college, at McMinnville.

Saturday, Nov. 15—University of Portland, at Portland.

Saturday, Nov. 22—Whitman college, at Salem.

All home games will be broadcast over radio station KOCO (1490 kc.). The November 15 game at Portland will be aired over both KOCO and KALE (1130 kc.) Portland.

in clearing off the land surrounding the stadium site. It is hoped that construction on the actual stadium will get underway soon. A track has been cut but remains to be completed, and tennis courts will be put in later.

Bush's park is situated just a few blocks from the campus. Until the new stadium is completed, Bearcat footballing will be conducted on Sweetland field.

'Mural Sports Interest Keen

Intramural athletic activity is expected to thrive at an all-time high at Willamette U this year. The 'mural touch football leagues have already started play and intramural basketball practice is now under way.

Touch football is being played at noon. Most basketball practices and games will probably be held during the early evening hours.

Physical education activity participation is not required of any veteran attending Willamette, but most of the vets have shown an interest in the physical education program and are turning out for P.E. classes and intramural sports.

Les Sparks still holds the job of university physical education director.

'Cats Blasted By COP Crew In '47 Debut

Racking up three touchdowns in the initial quarter and maintaining a steady barrage of six-pointers throughout the remainder of the contest, College of the Pacific's Tigers rambled to a 56-0 victory over a badly outplayed Willamette Bearcat eleven in the WU's 1947 debut at Stockton, Calif., September 26.

The COP crew just simply outran Coach Jerry Lillie's inexperienced Bearcats. However, particular weakness was noted in Willamette's tackles, and since returning from Stockton, Lillie has been experimenting with various mid-line combinations in an effort to strengthen the tackle slots.

A trio of 'Cats—Fullback Bob Warren, veteran End Bill Reder and Guard Bob Donovan shone exceptionally bright in the Willamette lineup and gave indications of developing into major trouble-makers for opponents during the current season.

The Bearcats were sadly out-gained by the home club. Pacific's club racked up a total of 439 net yards from rushing and passing compared to a dinky 28 yards compiled by the hapless Willamette gang.

The 56 points amassed against Willamette was an all-time scoring record for the Tigers, coached by Larry Siemering, who succeeded football's grand old man, Amos Alonzo Stagg.

Tiger Quarterback Eddie LeBaron led the way for Pacific, and sub halfback Don Brown provided the game with its biggest thrill, an 85-yard scamper to pay dirt.

Pacific built up a 31-0 half-time advantage, and Lillie, realizing the trend of the contest, began using substitutes at will, in order to offer experience to his non-starters. A total of 31 Bearcats saw action in the fray.

Bearkittens Cop 12-6 Win

Coach Marv Goodman's Willamette university junior varsity eleven racked up a 12-6 victory over the Linfield college juniors on Sweetland field October 6. The contest, originally billed for Linfield's gridiron, had to be moved to Sweetland field because McMinnville vandals had tore the goal posts out of Linfield's gridiron.

Thunderbirds Meet Bearcats October 18

An empty seat will probably not be found in the grandstand or bleachers of Willamette's Sweetland field the afternoon of October 18. For it is then that the WU Bearcats, now under a new coach, Jerry Lillie, take the field opposite the Thunderbirds from University of British Columbia.

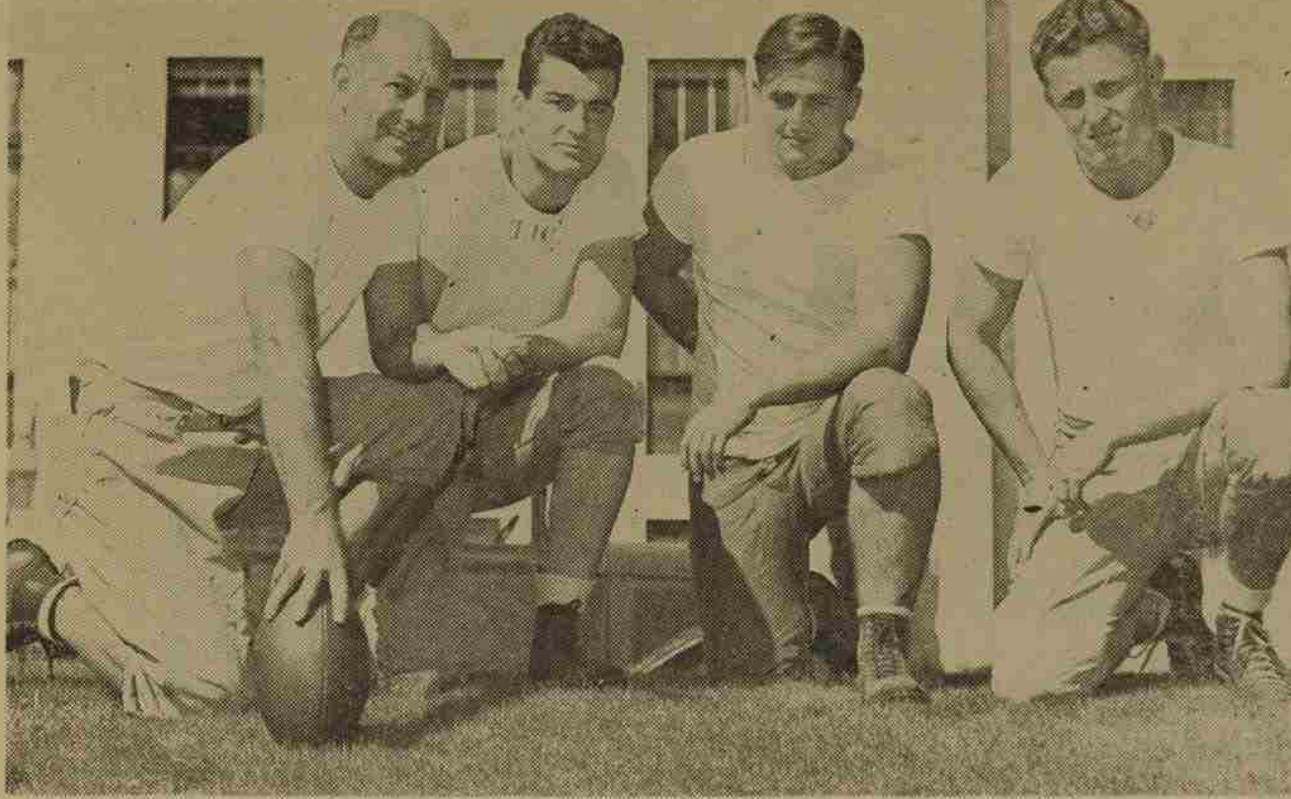

The tilt was originally scheduled for Saturday night, but was switched to an afternoon hour in order that the contest would not interfere with the traditional Saturday night homecoming dance.

Little is known of the UBC team, so Lillie and his gang of Bearcats are preparing themselves to meet what may come. The Vancouver, B.C. outfit suffered a loss to College of Idaho in its first outing this season.

This is only the second season that UBC has fielded a football team. Rugby is played by most Canadian schools, especially in Western Canada. British Columbia U. joined the Northwest conference last season.

Over 8500 are enrolled at UBC, making the Canadian school second only to University of Washington in student enrollment.

The homecoming weekend will get underway early Friday morning, October 17, with the customary freshman leaf rake, and will end late the next night as the gymnasium doors are locked following the annual homecoming dance.

Lillie

Lewis

Ogdahl

Goodman

Introducing WU's New Coaches Lillie, Ogdahl, Goodman, Lewis Teach Bearcats How

A complete new set of football coaches—Jerry Lillie, Johnny Lewis, Ted Ogdahl and Marv Goodman—have stepped into the football picture at Willamette university, replacing the former coaching trio of Walt Erickson, Elmer Schaake and Bunny Bennett.

Lillie, who comes to Willamette after coaching at Punahou high school in Honolulu, Hawaii for one year, is serving as head football coach. Johnny Lewis acts as assistant coach, Ted Ogdahl as backfield mentor and Marv Goodman as junior varsity tutor.

The names Ogdahl and Goodman are not unfamiliar to fans who have followed Willamette university football teams during the past few years. Both Ogdahl and Goodman earned little all-American distinction while performing for Bearcat grid machines. These two ex-Willamette athletes have returned to the campus to gain their masters degrees in education.

Goodman played for the Bearcats as late as last year, when he was named on the first string little all-American squad. One of the most versatile athletes ever to attend WU, Goodman earned letters in baseball, basketball and track in addition to starring as a football end while attending the Bearcat institution.

Ogdahl was a backfield luminary on the Bearcat teams of 1940-42, and landed a berth on the little all-American eleven in '42. As a member of the U.S. Marines, Ogdahl played football for the College of the Pacific V-12 team. During the 1945 and '46 seasons he played for the San Diego Bombers of the Pacific Coast professional football circuit.

Head Coach Lillie, prior to his island venture, bossed athletic teams at Central Washington College of Education for one year. He is better known, however, for his success with Grant high school (Portland) athletic teams from 1937 to 1945. He led the Grant Generals to a state football championship in 1943, and his track squads pocketed the Portland city thincled championship for seven consecutive years.

Assistant Tutor Lewis is taking his first fling in collegiate coaching ranks, after considerable success as a high school basketball and baseball mentor. At one time Lewis was a professional baseball pitcher with the Yakima club of the class 'B' Western International league. Lewis will serve as head basketball and baseball coach during the current school year.

Since Lillie is an adherent of the "T" formation, Willamette teams can be expected to employ various forms of the "T" during Lillie's stay at Willamette.

Stands Dely Rain

Rain or shine, patrons using the north bleachers of Sweetland field during the homecoming game opposite University of British Columbia October 18 can remain dry. This situation is brought about by the covering of the stands, which took place this month.

Although covering was provided for but one contest last year, the present roofing will remain for the entire season. Regular roofing paper has been applied to the sturdily constructed stands.

Underrated Willamettes Rack Up 19 to 6 Win in League Opener

CALDWELL, Ida., Oct. 11-(Special)-A vastly underrated Willamette university football team tonight put an abrupt end to the lossless ways of the College of Idaho Coyotes by taking a 19 to 6 victory over the home team before a small but stunned crowd. The Coyotes were heavily favored but faded beneath a 13-0 Willamette halftime lead and the overall play by the inspired Bearcats. The stout defensive play by Coach Jerry Lillie's visitors completely bottled up the Coyotes when they approached scoring territory, with the exception of a 62-yard run by George Ward late in the fourth quarter for C of Idaho's lone score.

The Bearcats scored first near the end of the opening quarter when, after taking over on the C of I 41 Keith Sperry romped off right tackle on a T-formation play and scooted the entire 41 yards to the touchdown. Bill Reder's placekick made it 7-0. Again in the second quarter, after holding the Coyotes for downs on the 26, Willamette started a drive from midfield. On the first play Ewaliko, the Hawaiian halfback went 39 yards to the 11. Two plays later he went 10 yards to score. Reder's placekick was good, but WU was penalized and his second attempt went wide.

Law School Notes . . .

Opening of Salem's first legal aid clinic is set for October 15 in the Willamette university law school building, it was decided at a recent meeting of the Marion County Bar association.

Sponsored by the county bar association, the clinic's services will be extended to anyone living in the Salem trading area. Office hours are to be from 2 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, and at other hours by appointment.

Purpose of the clinic is to provide legal aid for deserving persons who cannot afford to pay for it. The bar committee in charge consists of Donald Young, chairman, Wallace P. Carson, Charles H. Heltzel, Robert DeArmond, Sewart P. Reese, dean of Willamette law school, and E. O. Stadter, jr., secretary.

The office in the law school, situated at State and 12th streets, will be manned by university senior law students, who will interview applicants and refer them to local attorneys, Stadter said. The clinic will be supervised by Dean Reese and by Prof. Quinton Johnstone, new law teacher at the school.

A nine-year law practice in Chicago and work in Los Angeles have given Prof. Johnstone a first hand knowledge of the operation of legal aid clinics in those cities, Stadter said.

Although the clinic will provide free services to worthy persons it will not handle cases involving bankruptcy, criminal divorce (except where requested by the county welfare commission) industrial accident, cases deemed not meritorious and where applicants could reasonably pay attorney's fees.

Seven Law Grads Pass State Bar

Seven WU law school graduates successfully passed the state bar examinations given in July, according to Arthur S. Benson, clerk of the state supreme court.

Students passing were George E. Constable, Frank J. Healy, jr., Rupert E. Park, Marion Reynolds, Arthur T. Cavanaugh, Thomas Benton Gabriel and Warren Lesseg.

Healy worked with the handicap of total blindness. He studied through the long course by using braille and his exceptionally keen memory. Dr. Seward P. Reese, dean of Willamette university law school, said Healy graduated at the top of his class despite his handicap and was a "very bright student."

The candidates will be formally admitted to the bar at a special ceremony in the supreme court building.

Law Alums Set Up Funds

Meeting for their annual reunion at the Marion hotel Friday evening, Willamette university college of law alumni voted to establish three funds for the benefit of the institution and elected Allan G. Carson of Salem as their president. The law college funds will consist of one for scholarships, one for loans and another for publication funds for law reviews. First moneys received will be used for the latter fund, with surpluses being channeled to the others.

Elected to serve with Carson were John Ebinger of Klamath Falls, vice president; Joseph B. Felton, Salem, secretary-treasurer; Judge Charles Redding of Multnomah county and Frank Van Dyke, Medford, executive committee. J. B. Bedingfield of Coos Bay presided during the dinner meeting with President G. Herbert Smith of Willamette and Dean Seward P. Reese of the law school as principal speakers.

Members of this year's graduating class were guests.

Prof. Kenneth H. York of the WU law school was elected editor of "The Brief," quarterly magazine of the Phi Delta Phi, at the national convention held at Glacier park, Montana. York came to Willamette last September after having served in the Marine corps for five years.

He received his AB and LLB degrees at the University of Colorado.

Joseph B. Felton, '33, was sworn in as the new district judge of Marion county in July, 1947.

Former WU Instructor Dies

Mary E. Reynolds, former instructor at Willamette university died at her Salem home this month, and was buried in the IOOF cemetery. The Rev. Brooks Moore officiated.

Miss Reynolds was born in Beverly, Ohio, the daughter of Dr. John Reynolds, former Salem physician, and Sally Truesdale Reynolds. She came to Salem with her parents in 1873 and taught at Willamette for 13 years early in the century.

Buying Books 'n' Stuff

Death Claims Former WU Professor Dr. Laughlin

Dr. Sceva Bright Laughlin, member of Willamette university faculty from 1923 until his retirement a few months ago, died August 15 at his home in Salem, following a prolonged illness. The educator also had served as a member of the city council and was a past master of the Salem Grange.

Dr. Laughlin served Willamette as professor of economics and sociology from 1923 to 1935 and was professor of sociology and anthropology from 1935 to 1946.

The veteran educator was born at New Providence, Iowa, October 16, 1881. He received his A.B. and A.M. degrees from Penn college at Oskaloosa, Iowa, October 16, 1905. He continued his studies at Haverford college, Harvard university, University of Chicago and received his Ph.D. at the University of Iowa.

Dr. Laughlin began his teaching career as principal of the Pleasant Plain Academy in Iowa in 1906. In 1907 he joined the Iowa public school system and from 1908 to 1910 was principal of Akron high school. He served as superintendent of schools at Larchwood, Iowa, from 1910 to 1912, and as teacher of English at Friends Boys' school at Ram Allah, Palestine, until 1913.

In 1914, Dr. Laughlin joined the faculty of Culver-Stockton college at Canton, Missouri, where he served as head of the history and social science department until 1920, when he moved to Park college in Parkville, Missouri. From this school he transferred to Willamette in 1923.

Dr. Laughlin was the author of four books—"Missouri Politics During the Civil War," "Will the American Farmer Become a Peasant?," "A Handbook for Thesis Writing," and "Beyond Dilemmas—The Quakers Look at Life."

Surviving are his widow, the former Lillian C. Goodall, to whom he was married in October, 1913; a daughter, Marj P., of Philadelphia; two sons, John S. Laughlin of Champaign, Illinois, and William S. Laughlin of Cambridge, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Vena Norton of Mesa, Arizona, and Mrs. May Caylor of Omaha, Nebraska; and two brothers, Melvin Laughlin of New Providence, Iowa, and Owen Laughlin, of Chicago, Illinois.

Funeral services were held in Salem, August 19 with burial in Belcrest Memorial Park.
