

WASHINGTON IS VICTOR IN FAST LOCAL CONTEST

Willamette Basket Tossers Defeated by Northern Huskies 29 to 11

FIRST PERIOD IS CLOSE

Score At End of First Half Was 13 to 11—Varsity Falls to Score in Second—F. R. Smith Gains 15 Points for Visitors.

In a freak game the University of Washington basketball tossers downed the cardinal and gold supporters by the score of 29 to 11 on the local floor, Wednesday night.

Victory for the visitors is due to the fact that they had the long passes and shots down to a science. Their men were also much stronger and stood the fast pace better. Judged from the character of the playing in the two halves the contest was two distinct games. The first canto witnessed a first class, evenly matched game, the skill displayed was equal to any big league exhibit. No side could gain a decided advantage, and the lead was a constant shift from one side to the other. In the second half the varsity's team was unable to score, the men seemed fagged out, and teamwork was not in evidence. The Washingtonians played good ball, but it was a slow, one-sided affair.

Both teams opened the contest with exceptional skill, neither team could keep the ball long enough to gain a decent try at the basket, during the first two or three minutes. But a long lucky shot from the side gave the visitors the first tally. This score was evened by a good throw from Jackson. U. of W. again gained the lead by a long rainbow from the center of the floor. Such was the progress of the first half, at no time did a team gain the lead by more than three points. Once the visitors held the large end of a six to three score, while later in the period the score was 8 to 11 in favor of Willamette.

The sensational feature of this period was a field score, in which Captain Flegel threw the ball for a basket two-thirds the length of the floor. The score for the half was 13 to 11.

In the second period Coach Matthews' proteges were unable to gain another point, while Coach Davidson's men added 16 points to their column. The varsity quiet seemed unable to stand the pace set by the northern huskies. The long passes of the visitors made close guarding impossible. On the whole the period was a slow game, there were long standstills augmented by a host of long shots at the basket. Captain and Coach Davidson of Washington took Abel's place during this half. His playing was the period's feature, although he made but two points.

F. R. Smith was high point man for the Washingtonians, over half of their score was made by him. Eaton and Jackson each gained four points for the varsity. Tobie and Nichols did good guarding, and were always on the job to break up passes. Flegel played a hard consistent game. Greater endurance on the part of the visitors was the deciding factor in the game. Few fouls were called, each team gained but one point by free throws.

The line-up: Washington. F. Smith (15) ... Flegel (3) ... Abel (2) ... Davidson (2) ... Balmer (6) ... G. Smith (4) ... Stantz ... For the last minute of play Paulk was substituted for Balmer. Referee, Jamison.

Results of Y. W. Nominations

Results of the nominating committee for the Y. W. C. A. cabinet show that the presidency will be Fannie McKennon or Mabel Garrett; vice-president, Mary Findley or Mildred Wiggins; secretary, Odell Savage or Margaret Fuller; treasurer, Vesta Mulligan or Ethel Fogg.

Montana Registration Gains. Four hundred and forty-six students have registered at the University of Montana. This is an increase over the registration of the first semester.

McCADDAM IS PINCHED

Donates Five Bucks to City for Not Parking Auto.

When Glen McCaddam appeared upon the campus last Friday he was in a most happy mood. Only the night before he had been fined five dollars by the Salem police force because his runabout was not properly parked. Mac forgot his trigonometric training and his car did not subtend an angle of 20 degrees with the curb—hence the fine. Nevertheless the huss voiced Lyceum manager feels that the joke is on the city officials even at that, for the night before he broke three ordinances, he was going too fast, he was making too much noise, and his tail light was not burning.

GILKEY PRAISES NEW YORK LIFE

Willamette Student at New York University Explores National Metropolis

"Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of My Hat" Is His Description of Winter in New York.

Errol C. Gilkey, graduate of 1914, has had some very interesting experiences viewing life in New York during this last winter. While attending Willamette Gilkey did enthusiastic and comprehensive work in the educational department. As a recognition of this fact he was aided by Dr. Sherman, the head of the department, in securing an appointment to the Jay Gould Fellowship at the New York University. He is also doing post graduate work at Columbia university. In a recent letter to a faculty member there appear the following bits of description in Gilkey's own inimitable style:

"Needless to say I am finding the national metropolis immensely interesting. To spend a winter in New York city is in itself a liberal education. Why I am almost beginning to actually enjoy symphony concerts! My only regret is that my purse isn't a little better acquainted with the fifty lucre which seems to be such an essential here in New York, so that I might become better acquainted with all the musical artists which appear in the city. As it is, however, I have managed to attend Grand Opera twice at the Metropolitan Opera House, and to hear some of the most famous musical artists at Carnegie Hall, and by sitting high and dry to see some of the best drama on Broadway. And then to offset this high-brow education I did manage to attend one of the World's Series Baseball games in Brooklyn last fall and to see the national classic Yale-Harvard game at New Haven in November. That was surely an interesting experience, to be one of the 80,000 spectators in the huge Yale bowl.

"Also I have found the famous East Side intensely interesting and I have been down slumming several times, usually alone. The missions, the settlements, the restaurants, and hotels, the theatres—everything is very interesting. Just the other night I attended a thrilling performance in one of the used to be famous theatres in the lower Bowery. It is now an Italian playhouse and there wasn't a word of English spoken, or on the programs and one of the young Italians up in the gallery couldn't understand me at all. That was just like visiting Rome.

"I think eastern weather has been much maligned because so far it has been very pleasant here. They say that the weather is unusual this winter but I notice that all seasons every where are usually unusual. The wind does blow a great deal, though, and I have thought that the expression, 'Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of My Hat' would describe very well my winter in New York city.

Attorney A. F. Flegel, Sr., of Portland, will make the address of the evening and Coach R. L. Matthews will be heard from. Other celebrities who will speak are J. B. C. Oakes, of '12, Lloyd Shisler, of '16, and E. Deane, of '15, followed by others. President Carl G. Doney will make the award presentations. These speeches will be interspersed with selections by the Ladies' Glee Club and the quartet. Following the program a banquet of fellowship will be held in Lausanne Hall for club members and former 'W' men at which H. P. Jewett, of '16, will preside as toastmaster.

Attebery Manipulates Sophomore Steam Roller

The sophomore class held its semi-annual election last Wednesday, and selected Raymond Attebery to head the class for the remainder of the school year. Election continued, with the following results: Margaret Fuller, vice-president; Glenn Tosters, secretary; Margaret Mallory will care for the class finances in the capacity of treasurer; and Rein Jackson will manage in the line of athletics. Under these new leaders, the sophomores hope for a continuance of the success which has attended their endeavors during the past semester.

W MEN PREPARE LURING PROGRAM

A. F. Flegel Sr. to Deliver Main Address at Award Day Exercises Feb. 22

Ladies' and Men's Glee Clubs Will Sing—Big Banquet At Lausanne Hall For All "W" Clubmen.

Washington's birthday this year will have an added significance for Willamette students for on that day the defenders of the cardinal and gold are to be honored. Although a serious handicap was experienced in the loss of Adams, "W" Club president, work has been progressing and a program of merit is to be presented.

As now planned February 22 is to be the home coming day for all former "W" men and is to be a gala day for present athletes. Invitations have been issued for speakers on the program and a banquet to all associate members of the club and to special guests. The public is cordially invited to the program beginning at 8:15 o'clock in Waller Chapel.

It is hoped that a basketball game can be arranged for the afternoon or early evening. Willamette's famous warblers will make their initial appearance in Salem this year by opening and closing the fireworks. Attorney A. F. Flegel, Sr., of Portland, will make the address of the evening and Coach R. L. Matthews will be heard from. Other celebrities who will speak are J. B. C. Oakes, of '12, Lloyd Shisler, of '16, and E. Deane, of '15, followed by others. President Carl G. Doney will make the award presentations. These speeches will be interspersed with selections by the Ladies' Glee Club and the quartet. Following the program a banquet of fellowship will be held in Lausanne Hall for club members and former "W" men at which H. P. Jewett, of '16, will preside as toastmaster.

Under the recent presidency of Mr. Gates the business of the class has been carried on in an efficient manner. Committees have been working for the past three months on all the manifold details and activities of the year that devolve upon the graduating class.

POPULAR SENIOR AND ATHLETE LEAVES W. U.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Forces Wallace Adams to Discontinue Scholastic Work.

Willamette is indeed unfortunate in losing Wallace Adams, the gritty senior, who left a week ago last Tuesday for the sanatorium at Hot Lake, Oregon, in the hope of recovering from inflammatory rheumatism with which he had been suffering for nearly four weeks. During the four years in which Adams has been a student of this university he has proven himself to be a loyal friend, a popular student and an athlete of exceptional ability.

He won his letter in baseball during his freshman year. Since then he has been the staunch upholder of the cardinal and gold from the pitcher's box. In basketball his cool heady game won for him a secure place on the team, center and guard were his two most familiar positions. "Ad" was always a popular man around the university, his hearty smile and dauntless good humor won for him many friends who miss him now. At the time he left school he held the presidency of the Philodelfians and also of the "W" club. Besides his work as senior in the liberal arts department Adams this year entered the College of Law as a freshman.

RAUCH CHRESTO'S CHIEF

New Men's Literary Society Chooses Second Term Leaders.

Meeting in the Y. W. C. A. room last Wednesday night, the Chrestophilians elected their officers for the coming term. Much credit for the success of the society is due to the retiring officers. The new officials are: President, Edward Rauch; vice-president, Dean Pollock; recording secretary, Clarence Carpenter; corresponding secretary, Philip Bartholomew; treasurer, Kenneth Legg; critic, Paul Doney; and sergeant-at-arms, William Marsters. Tonight's program consists of the installation of officers, the inaugural address, and initiation of all new members. This initiation, so long postponed, is slated to be a sure feature for tonight.

A Willamette program will be given some time in the near future to which all new men will be invited.

GILLETTE HEADS SENIOR CLASS

Seventeeners Elect Last String of Officers; Committees Work

Desire of Class Is to Transpose Examination and Commencement Weeks If Possible.

As students of Willamette University, the senior class held its last election of officers. The results of which show that Alpheus Gillette was the choice as president. In the management of the organization's activities during the last four and a half months of its existence, his assistants will be, vice-president, Gladys Carson; secretary, Edna Billings; treasurer, Leigh Douglas; sergeant-at-arms, Grover Gates.

ALPHEUS GILLETTE, President of Senior Class.

Under the recent presidency of Mr. Gates the business of the class has been carried on in an efficient manner. Committees have been working for the past three months on all the manifold details and activities of the year that devolve upon the graduating class.

In an effort to materialize the sentiment of the class, at the commencement and examination weeks be transposed, a committee consisting of Carrie Cooksey, Aetna Emmel and Sam R. King was appointed to work with the authorities. This action is an outgrowth of the fact that commencement is noticeable by the absence of students, since most leave for home after their exams are completed.

Considering the many activities that Mr. Gillette has helped to make a success, he is the most deserving man in the class to receive the presidential honors. He was editor of the 1917 Willamette, manager of the Collegian in 1914-15, and manager of football for the 1915 season. The enviable record the class has made in Freshman Glee contests is largely due to his efforts as director. He has also been a member of the Men's Glee Club since entering Willamette.

As work preparatory to the Freshman Glee is the center of all activities the following committees were appointed to serve the class: Sam R. King, Carrie Cooksey, Esther Taylor, Emma Minton, and Earl Flegel to select the words for the class song; while Violet Maclean, Carrie Cooksey, Esther Emmel, Olive Rosche, and Arnold Grapp will pass judgment on the music.

LOLA COOLEY WILL PILOT JUNIOR SHIP

Able Officers Chosen to Direct the Numerous Activities—Glee Committees Named.

Difficult and arduous as are the activities confronting the junior class during the second semester, a large degree of success is predicted in the officers elected. Junior week-end affairs and all the other duties devolving upon juniors will be cared for by the following staff: President, Lola Cooley; vice-president, Mabel Garrett; secretary, Litha Packenham; treasurer, Marvin Holt; reporter, Ruth Lawson; business manager, Harry Bowers; athletic manager, Adolph Spies.

The class interests in the Freshman Glee were also cared for by the appointment of committees who will see that words and music are up to the highest standard of excellence. The committee on words consists of Ruth Spoor, Litha Packenham, and Adolph Spies; that on music of Gertrude Cunningham, Harry Bowers, and Fannie McKennon.

QUEER ANSWERS RESULT OF TEST

Francis Cramer Leads Freshman Class in Annual General Information Test

Highest Percentage is 73—"Savonarola Was a Great Italian Singer"—Addenda Is Defined.

In accordance with the custom initiated last year by Prof. Stauffer another general information test was given to freshmen in conjunction with "College Life." The percentages received varied from 10 1/2 to 73, Francis Cramer getting the highest. Victor Collins, Mildred Johnson, Beatrice Walton, Ethel McGilchrist came next in the order named.

The following are a few of the most interesting and most amusing answers:

Joshua was king of Israel and led the Jews out of Egypt. St. Augustine was the founder of Florida. Armenia is a province in Austria-Hungary. Bucharest is somewhere outside the U. S. Savonarola was a great Italian singer. Curie—a noted French lady, a murderess or scientist. The Sermon on the Mount is found in Isaiah; (2) in Acts. Helgoland is at the North Pole. Bosworth Field was a tennis singer; (2) a battle in the Civil War. 1732 is the date of the Continental Congress. Amphibious is an animal that lives on vegetables. Luke is the shortest of the Gospels. Addenda means in the year of our Lord; (2) without end. Gerard is minister to Mexico. The Bigelow Papers were written by Dickens; The Alchemist by Scott; Maud Muller by Longfellow. 1584 is the date of the discovery of America. A facsimile is the front page of a document. Pel-rarch wrote the "Lives." No one could tell how many votes in the electoral college. No one named correctly and in their proper order the states on the east bank of the Mississippi. Several said it takes light 38,000,000 years to come from the sun to the earth. 490 B. C. marks the beginning of medieval history. Many similar and equally interesting answers were given. The highest mark received last year was 67 per cent or six less than the mark this year. Otto Paulus was high man in the previous test.

GROVER GATES LANDS HIGHEST W CLUB HONOR

Succeeds Wallace Adams As President—Won Letters in Diamond And Gridiron Sports.

To succeed Wallace Adams as president of the W. Club, Grover Gates received the unanimous vote of the members at a special meeting Monday night. In the business affairs of the organization he will be assisted by Addie Tobie as vice-president and Victor Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

The highest honor with which the organization can show its appreciation of loyalty to its purpose could not have been better appropriated. Gates has always been the premier booster in the club. When it comes to engineering Award Day celebrations his skill in preparing a real program is unsurpassed. He is a W man by virtue of both baseball and football superiority. This is Gates' senior year, consequently his position on the diamond in the spring will culminate his athletic career for W. U.

NEW STUDENTS ENTER

Nine New Names Appear on Registration Books.

Registration for this semester has been completed. Miss Benedict has finally restored things in the office to something of the usual order. Nine new students are enrolled in the various departments, most of them specialists in the College of Liberal Arts. The complete list follows: Ralph Gilbert, Woodburn, special; Mrs. Florence Philps, Salem, Journalism; Herbert Taylor, from U. of O., freshman; Metta Walker, from Salem high, freshman law; Nettie Briggs, Boise, Ida., special; Lyle Bartholomew, Salem, from U. of O., freshman; LaVerne Rowersox, Wenatchee, Wash., special; Ivan Cerner, Spokane, Wash., special; and Adolph Greenbaum, Salem, special.

REIGELMAN IS DIRECTOR

Juniors Select Coach For Annual Theatrical.

Perry Reigelman was unanimously chosen coach of the annual junior play by the class of 1918 in session Tuesday.

He is ably fitted to direct the junior Thespians as he was graduated from the department of oratory at Willamette University several years ago, and has since appeared in various public performances in numerous and clever character roles. He is a favorite with Salem audiences as a reader and also in dramatic interpretations.

Last summer Mr. Reigelman took a special course in directing and presenting plays at Berkeley and he is now ably equipped in this particular line.

SENIORS APPEAR IN CAP AND GOWN

Robed Seventeeners Make Initial Debut at Friday's Chapel; March Is Held

From Now On Caps and Gowns to Be in Evidence the Third Friday, and Each Day of Last Month.

Contrary to a custom of several years' standing was the appearance at the chapel exercises Friday morning of the senior class robed in cap and gown. Heretofore the solemn robes have made their initial entry upon the campus the night of the Freshman Glee.

After a fitting period of expectancy, during which the undergrads gazed wonderingly at the empty seats in the front of the chapel, Dr. Chase started a march on the pipe organ, the rear doors were thrown open, and in came the seniors with their newly acquired robes of honor. At the conclusion of chapel Gillette announced that it was a fitting time for the observance of the annual senior march. Another march was played, the seniors filed out and the other classes followed in order of rank.

The long line of students, two abreast, marched down State street as far as Cottage and then crossed over and came back through Willson Avenue. Upon arriving on the campus the ranks separated at the sundial, the women formed a spiral on one side of the walk and the men on the other. This made a very pretty and novel figure. Joining together again the two lines spread out and formed a huge W perfect in every proportion. A double line march to the steps of Eaton hall concluded the maneuvers.

The senior march is a survival of the time which will be remembered by many alumni when every morning was held what came to be termed the "chapel march."

For the rest of the year up to the last month the seniors will appear in cap and gown the third Friday of each month, the time for the regular student body meetings. During the last month they intend to launch another novel plan and wear the cap and gown each day.

NEW BULLETIN ISSUED

Speeches Delivered At President's Installation Published.

All the addresses delivered at the installation of President Doney, in both the morning and afternoon sessions, have been gathered together and published in a recent university bulletin. These addresses issued in this form should prove a very valuable record. The speeches of Bishop Matthew S. Hughes and President Doney are the main features of the book. Copies of this bulletin will be sent out over the state to the various high schools and libraries. The administration took this means of forming a permanent record of the occasion.

Mrs. Parks to Conduct Bible Class for Women

Mrs. Parks, of the city Y. W., will have charge of a Bible class for the young women of the university. This class will meet in the rest room every Tuesday at 3:40. The signs or symbols of the Jewish tabernacle will be the subject of the study.

Twenty women are now enrolled and others are expected.

PACIFIC BEATS WILLAMETTE IN BOTH DEBATES

Congregationalists Victors Over Mthodists by Unanimous Decisions

NOVEL TEST ADVOCATED

In Local Contest Pacific Advocated Minimum Wage Test for Immigration—Local Team Unable to Down Substitute.

By winning unanimously the decision of both sets of judges, Pacific University defeated Willamette in the dual debate, Saturday night.

The local contest was held in the university chapel. Willamette's affirmative team, consisting of Adolph Spies and Otto Paulus and Pacific's negative team, composed of Glenn Jack and K. W. Irie, were the contestants. Both teams showed the results of original research work which made the debate educative as well as entertaining. The question under discussion was, "Resolved, that a literary test equally restrictive as that of house bill No. 6960 is the best method for regulating European immigration." This question has been before the national congress for about two decades, and has always been popular in debating circles. Prominent men place it among the first problems that confront the nation.

Adolph Spies was the first speaker, he opened the discussion by giving an interpretation of the question as previously agreed upon by both parties. His constructive argument began by a clear presentation of the difference in the type of the immigrant today and that of several years ago. His next point was to show that the literacy test would exclude about 300,000 per year, the number economists claim should be detained. Its effect upon the problem of the "Birds of Passage" was also presented. Most of Spies' argument was based on the report of the United States committee to investigate the immigration problem. In this report it was declared that the illiterate immigrant has an evil effect upon wages, and that he works against assimilation.

For the negative Glenn Jack was the first to respond. He admitted the need of restriction, but argued that the proposed remedy was at fault. His claims were, that there is no relation between illiteracy and desirability, that the criminal is not the illiterate foreigner. He also contended that the test would exclude too many, and that it could not be adjusted to the needs of the nation. Besides public opinion is against it, the test strikes at a man's native opportunity not at the root of undesirability. His chief constructive argument was that the evil was economic in nature and demanded an economic solution.

Continuing the argument for the affirmative Otto Paulus attacked the issue from the political and social aspect. He stated that this was a problem concerning the nation's welfare and not one of charity. The majority of his argument showed the result of illiteracy upon a democratic form of government and its bearing upon race suicide. He claimed that the vast influx of illiterate immigrants was substituting the nation's present stock for an inferior one.

With the argument that won the debate Irie made the last constructive speech. He attacked the question from a purely economic view, and as a substitute for the literacy test advocated a minimum wage test for immigration. This is to be manipulated so that a foreigner who could not compete successfully in the labor market during the first three years of his life in America should be deported.

In the affirmative rebuttal, Spies failed to give any evidence directly against it, but argued that it was not a feasible plan since it was untried and had never been seriously considered.

As an introduction to the contest Miss Ethel Forbes presented two pipe organ numbers "March Solenne" by Gounod and "Pierina's Song of Hope" by Baptiste. While the judges were preparing their decision, Miss Grace Gayley sang "Florian's Song" by Goddard and a "Serenade" by Nevin.

In the Forest Grove debate Willamette's negative team, Charles

By Carrie Cooksey

From all appearances every person around the campus during the past week has been exceptionally busy planning this or that affair. It was to be hoped that when the society page of the Collegian was made up for the week, that there would be a number of affairs to write up. Such is not the case. All previous dates and engagements must have been for committee meetings, planning for social events to be heard from in the near future.

A pretty buffet dinner was given by Dr. and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney Saturday evening at their home on State street, their guests being the members of Dewdrop Inn and the Owyhee Club. A several course dinner was served and duly enjoyed. Victrola music contributed to the pleasure of those present. Later in the evening, the young ladies participated in games of various kinds. At the conclusion of this delightful affair, the party attended the Willamette-Pacific debate.

Assisting Mrs. Doney during the evening were Mrs. J. O. Hall and Mrs. C. Ebsen. Those invited on this occasion were Mrs. Ida H. Garrett, Mrs. Nellie N. Hobbes, the Misses Mable Garrett, Ruth Spoor, Esther Emmel, Freda Campbell, Aetna Emmel, Esther Yend, Vesta Mulligan, Beatrice Newport, Blanche Baker, Velma Baker, Hazel Hockensmith, Bernadine Hobbes, Ethel Forbes, Reta Hobbes, Beth Briggs, Bernice Knuths, Mabel Walker, and Pearl Crowder.

Miss Evelyn Gordon was reminded of her birthday on Monday by receiving an immense box of candy from her girl friends. The girls of Lausanne hall were asked to share Miss Gordon's treat.

Miss Marguerite Wible, assisted by a group of friends, celebrated her birthday last Saturday in a most fitting manner. Having received a most interesting looking box of "eats" from home, Miss Wible asked Miss Junia Todd and the Misses Allene Dunbar, Lucile McCulley, Esther Cox and Veda Brown to come to her room at noon Saturday, where the contents of the wonderful birthday box were served. The guests thoroughly enjoyed the good things and departed, wishing their hostess many more happy birthdays, and also that she might be the recipient of other boxes of "eats."

Charles Hall, ex '16, who is now a student in medicine at the University of California, where he received his bachelor of arts degree, has been appointed an assistant in the research department of the Hooper Foundation for Original Research, conducted in connection with the university. This honor came to Mr. Hall over a number of other applicants. He is in his sophomore year of the medical course. Many university people will remember Mr. Hall, as he took his first two years of college work at Willamette, making an enviable record at that time. Now his friends wish to congratulate him on the recent success.

The Misses Litha Packenham, Fannie McKennon and Margaret Fuller had as their luncheon guests at the hall Sunday evening the Misses Margaret Garrison, Ruth Green and Mary Findley.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright, from Union, Or., visited their niece, Miss Margaret Mallory, at the hall during the past week.

At their Friday afternoon meeting, the Philodossians enjoyed a novel program whose theme was "The Land of the Midnight Sun." Miss Mary Findley escorted her audience on a personally conducted tour, up narrow fjords, down gulches and ravines, through fishing villages and lumbering camps. Only when she had reached the far Baltic did she surrender to Miss Clara Perkins, who endeavored to call back the spirit of the Vikings of Helgoland. This was followed by a reading, "The Seafarer," a further expression of the wild restlessness of the ancient Norse, by Miss Odell Savage. The northern epic "The Volungar Saga" formed the basis of an interesting synopsis by Miss Olive Rosche. Miss Lucile McCulley closed the program with a vocal solo, "In Northern Seas."

Mrs. Leslie Newton, formerly Esther Ferguson, and baby Clara Maude are in the city for a few days' visit with Mrs. Newton's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Alden presided at a pretty dinner party Tuesday evening at their home on Liberty street. The guests for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. Robert Stauffer, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Richards. Following the dinner, the party attended the Ladies' Glee Club concert at Waller hall.

The Leslie Epworth League enjoyed an evening of games, music, and excellent eats at the home of Miss Gladys Carson last Tuesday evening, besides accomplishing some important business. They have undertaken the support of a student in the Hingiva Bible School of China, while still carrying certain home benevolences.

Invitations have been issued for the Faculty Reception which will be an event of Saturday evening. This affair will be formal in nature, and is looked forward to as one of the delightful social events of the year.

Miss Elizabeth Levy, who is a member of the freshman class, has recently shown her ability as a violin teacher in presenting a number of her pupils in recital work. Those appearing in this recital which took place February 10 in Silverton, Oregon, were members of Miss Levy's violin class organized in that town. Assisting on the program was Miss Margaret Garrison, who gave several readings proving a delight to the audience. In the absence of the regular accompanist, Miss Ethel Forbes of this city acted in that capacity.

The program was as follows: Cradle Song ..... Weber Kenneth Bennett. Merry Bobolink ..... Krogman Ferdinand Rue. Melodie in F ..... Rubenstein Nora Buell. The Swallows ..... Cowen Miss Margaret Garrison. Pettitt Waltz ..... Gruenberg Stanley Barrier. Gavotte ..... Papini Miss Esther Dinwoodie. Cavatina ..... Seybold Miss Maud Largent. Reading ..... Selected Miss Margaret Garrison. Sextet, "Lucia di Lammermoor" ..... Danizetti Karen White. Spring Song ..... Mendelssohn Miss Largent.

Special mention is due Miss Lela Belle McCaddam, who appeared in vocal selections on the third lyceum number previous to Judge Alden's lecture Thursday evening. The first piece sung by Miss McCaddam was taken from Ernani, "Fly With Me," by Verdi. The interpretation of this piece was of the highest order, and Miss McCaddam's beautiful soprano voice was displayed to a good advantage. For an encore, Miss McCaddam gave "Butterfly Time" by Vernon.

Mrs. Geo. H. Alden and Mrs. Wm. Kirk were joint hostesses at a Kensington tea given at the home of the latter, Thursday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4. The tea was given for the benefit of the Scholarship Loan Fund. A special feature for the afternoon was a talk by Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, her subject being Palestine. Mrs. Doney has brought an interesting message to the ladies of her sojourn at Nazareth in particular. Many views were shown from which a general idea of the Oriental peoples and their customs was gained. Those present for the affair were truly grateful to Mrs. Doney for this interesting talk. The invited guests were about twenty-five university faculty women and the wives of the trustees. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Beethoven Club, an organization of the music students of Miss Joy Turner, met in the College of Music last Saturday afternoon. At this time a theoretical study of music was made, also the lives of musicians were studied. Those present were: Paul Purvine, Edith Thompson, Clifford Hulsey, Ross Harris, Elizabeth Thompson, Merle Tucker, Cleda McFarlane, Simon Volechok, Claudine Gerth, Mike Steinboch, Gertrude Riessbeck, Cloyd Cochran, Ruby Lister, Marian Emmons, Floyd Sigmond, Loraine Ross, Oswald Leaverson.

Mr. Andrew Burleigh, of Portland, was a visitor at the Alpha Mu Kappa home last week.

Several of the members of the Alpha Mu Kappa spent the week-end out of town. Sid Burleigh visited in Silverton and Jit Fletcher, and Harold Tobie were the guests of Perce Austin in Woodburn.

Mrs. Findley, Mrs. Lockridge, of Grants Pass and Mrs. Clark were campus visitors Tuesday of last week.

Miss Gertrude Dillard visited relatives in Dallas over the week-end.

Miss Evelyn Gordon spent the week-end with friends and relatives in Hillsboro, Or.

On Sunday, Miss Ethel Fogg had as her dinner guests, Mr. Reynolds of Portland, and Mr. Philip Bartholomew.

Misses Ruth Winters and Ethel Hansen had as their guest for lunch Sunday evening and Monday noon. Mr. Wright, of LaGrande, Or.

Mr. Paul Miller '18, was the guest of varsity friends a few days last week. Mr. Miller expects to be in Willamette next year.

Miss Ruth Tasker, a former Lausanne member, has been spending the past week at the hall, as her mother has been out of town during this time.

Miss Gule Leo spent the week-end in Portland.

Mrs. Minerva Todd and Miss Junia Todd were Sunday dinner guests of the Misses Flora Housel and Addie Tobie at their apartments on South Twelfth street.

A group of Miss Joy Turner's pupils assisted the Woman's Club at a program given in St. Joseph's hall last week for the benefit of the Scholarship Loan Fund. Miss Beth Briggs appeared in piano numbers, while Miss Marian Emmons and Mr. Ross Harris added violin selections.

Miss Margaret Mallory spent the week-end in Portland.

Mr. Alpheus Gillette and Mr. Errol Proctor were luncheon guests at the Dewdrop Inn Sunday evening.

Friday afternoon the Adelante Society did not have a literary program as they usually do, but an important business meeting took its place. Matters of importance were considered. Plans were made, and committees were appointed for the second semester. The members are looking forward to a delightful time in the Adelante Literary Society this spring.

Washingtonians Plan Attractive Program and Dinner for Noted Date

The Washingtonian Club has planned a very unique affair for February 22nd. The program to be given in chapel on that day is as follows: Organ Prelude, Dr. Chace. Invocation, Dr. Doney. Announcements, Dean Alden. Violin Solo, Miss Elizabeth Levy. Vocal Solo, Miss Lela McCaddam. Selection, Ladies' Glee Club. Address, Judge Benson. America, all.

At noon a dinner will be given in the parlors of the First M. E. church for all students, faculty members, alumni, and board of trustees. Toasts will be given by representatives from the different classes and alumni. Tickets will be on sale Friday of this week at the university.

The hearty support of every one connected with the university is desired, to make this the most pleasing occasion of 1917.

The Washingtonian committee in charge is: Harry Crisp, chairman; Miss Edith Bird, and Miss Anna Elder.

TAYLOR IS FROSH PREX

Infants Take Two Days to Choose Class Officers.

The freshman class meeting, called last Friday for the election of officers for the new semester, was marked by a large attendance and the best of good fellowship. Election opened by a unanimous vote in favor of Victor Taylor for president. Velma Baker was elected as vice-president, and Marian Barnes, secretary. As the majority of the members now began to imagine the weakness caused by a lack of sustenance of life since an early breakfast, the meeting was adjourned until Monday, when the remaining officers were selected. Clark Strong was made treasurer, and Ed Rauch, the former class manager, was elected to succeed himself, as also was Ed Bolt, the athletic

DR. HALL GIVES SCHOLARLY TALK

Large Audience Attends Lecture, "Remedies Against Poverty," Monday

Dr. Chace Plays Organ Prelude—Hall States That Dollar Above Man Causes Poverty.

To a crowded chapel, Dr. John O. Hall delivered his lecture "Remedies Against Poverty" last Monday evening.

Dr. Doney presided. As a fitting opening Dr. Chace played a prelude on the pipe organ the Overture from "William Tell" by Rossini. Dr. Hall then produced some charts to show the increase in the wealth of the United States. The following are extracts from the lecture:

"Social unrest is the keynote of 20th century life. The presence and sting of poverty is the cause of this unrest. Every person in this state would have to entertain 85 people if we were to feed the poor of this nation."

"Why have we so many poor in this rich country, this country where we have so many wealthy people?"

The terrible labor conditions which existed on the continent a century ago were then depicted, references being made direct to Gibbon's history as an authority. Speaking of the effect of machinery upon the manhood of nations he said in essence:

"England has twice been obliged to lower military standards, then they had to impress men from the rural districts. The stature of the city man was so far below standard."

Dr. Hall pointed to the schools as the basis upon which the poor could be lifted from their present unjust state. "In the present situation the heaven of the rich is built on the hell of the poor."

The American republic he characterized as follows: First, equality of opportunity; second, each individual is obliged to serve the community; third, a government that serves the majority of the people; fourth, a government that considers people from the human rather than from the industrial standpoint.

Remedy against poverty: "Put man before the dollar. As long as industry is run for profit the dollar will be put before the man." Until industry is run for the mass of the people it will put the dollar first.

Orders are coming in for spring. Leave yours now and be assured of early delivery. D. H. Mosher, tailor to men and women, 474 Court street.

Rev. Elvin Addresses Students

For the chapel services of last Friday the varsity Y. M. succeeded in getting Rev. Elvin of the Congregational church to speak concerning the city association. He told of the relationship which existed between the two organizations, how Mr. Mathews and Mr. Gingrich were seen upon the floors of both associations.

A special invitation was extended to the varsity organization to join the city body, thereby gaining more privileges.

RED CROSS SOLICITOR IS ATTACKED

STATE OF OREGON FAILS TO PROVE THAT BARON WALDORF IS PREYING UPON AMERICA'S SYMPATHY

In the case of the state of Oregon versus Baron Waldorf held in the Willamette Moot Court Monday night the jury failed to agree whether or not the state had proved the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. The state attempted to prove that he had solicited money as a representative of the Red Cross society and then appropriated same to his own use. District Attorney Hayden conducted the prosecution. Smith and Small represented the defendant. William Wiener, who signed the indictment as chief prosecuting witness for the state, declared that he contributed $100 to Waldorf's little scheme last December. When asked what made him doubt the solicitor's honesty, Wiener answered that Waldorf acted nervous and seemed anxious to depart as soon as he received the money. Wiener lost no time in wiring the Red Cross society concerning Waldorf's authority. The answer he received charged the self appointed solicitor to be an impostor.

The second witness for the state, Mr. Nightingale, president of the Red Cross society, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., declared that no credentials were issued from any other source than the head office, and that Waldorf had never received a commission from the society.

Baron Waldorf, retired capitalist, philanthropist and solicitor for the Red Cross society, testified that he is an old friend of Mr. Brekley, the director of the Red Cross society, from whom he received a commission to solicit money for the Belgium Relief Fund. He also stated that he had received authority in writing from the society, signed by Woodrow Wilson.

"Who is president of the society?"

asked Small.

"Woodrow Wilson," the witness replied.

"Did you hear Mr. Nightingale testify that he is president of the society?"

"Yes," Waldorf replied.

"Does Nightingale look anything like the president?"

"Not a particle."

The defendant's lawyers then charged Nightingale with being the real impostor in the case. To save himself from a charge of perjury, Nightingale started the court room by announcing the existence of two Red Cross societies. This statement practically put the state's attorneys out of business, for they relied altogether upon the genuineness of President Nightingale.

The district attorney attempted to prove that Waldorf had recently arrived here from Europe.

"Where did you get your title of Baron?" Bayne asked.

"My mother and father gave it to me when I was a very small boy. It's my first name," the defendant replied.

Waldorf told the district attorney that his credentials were burned up last February. In response to a question concerning his financial condition, the defendant denied any stringency in this regard.

Mr. Goodfellow, cashier of Ladd & Bush bank, testified that he had known the defendant for 20 years, and that his bank account had never been below $5000 during this time. He also said that Waldorf always kept another account for the Red Cross funds, and that a draft for $625 was sent to the cashier of the society not long ago.

Deputy District Attorney Hayden told the jury that it was their solemn

SOPHS LEAD BASKETBALL

Win Every Game in Interclass Contests.

Interest in class basketball was at a climax, Monday, when the first teams of the freshman and sophomore classes collided, resulting in the downfall of the former by a score of 16 to 7. There will be only a few more games played as the close of the season is approaching.

Many of the games have been lively and close, while some teams have sprung many surprises on their opponents.

The standings of the teams is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Per
Soph (1)	4	0	1000
Frosh (1)	2	1	750
Frosh (2)	2	1	666
Juniors	2	2	500
Frosh (3)	1	3	250
Soph (2)	1	4	200
Seniors	0	4	000

PEN MINSTRELS PLEASE

Second Annual Performance Delights Large Audience.

A real surprise was in store for those who attended the minstrel show at the penitentiary last Friday night. The "boys inside" certainly proved themselves proud in their second annual performance. As an amateur show it deserves to rank with the commercial vaudeville type generally seen in Salem. For nearly two hours and a half the audience was kept in a state of laughter by the songs and original hits. Friday afternoon the men who were to take part paraded the streets and serenaded Governor Withycombe at the state house.

Don Matthews Resumes Work on The Collegian

Among the names of the students that appear on the registration books is one Don Matthews. About the middle of last semester he substituted the life of the scholar for that of the rustic lumber jack, in order to give his nerves a rest. However, the alluring Willamette life was too much for him, and due to nature's good work he is enrolled again. His presence on the campus is of special aid to the Collegian, as he has resumed his position as feature artist.

Williams heads the list of colleges which have contributed to the fund for the Relief of European War Prisoners. The donation at Williams amounted to $8600. Yale follows with $5000, and Wesleyan and Dartmouth gave $5000 and $4000 respectively.—Ex.

duty to society to convict the defendant. "I've got some respect for a man who has got nerve enough to go out and hold someone up; but a man who is low enough to commercialize the sympathy that the Belgian atrocities have wrung from the American hearts, is a menace to society and should be thrown into prison."

20 STUDENTS ENTER JOURNALISM

Course to be Conducted in Co-operation with Work on The Collegian

Half of Class Is Women—Many Intend to Enter Journalism As a Profession—Texts Used.

Twenty students are enrolled in the Journalism class offered by Prof. Hancock this semester.

A live working program has been arranged which is practical in every detail, and great things are expected in the way of real results from this course. Many of the members of this class intend to go into journalism as a profession so the quality of the work done will no doubt be of a high quality.

Three texts will be used this term, Beyer's "Newspaper Writing and Editing," Harrington's "Typical Newspaper Stories" and Woolley's "Mechanics of Writing." The study of these books will make up the foundation upon which the composition or actual writing will be based. Other outside reading will be required which will probably include three interesting newspaper books.

Actual story writing will be assigned in co-operation with the editor of the Collegian in order that the students may profit by the actual publication of their work. The Collegian assignments will in this way be more evenly distributed and the work be less for each individual.

There will be one recitation period per week, Thursday at 2:30, Monday being devoted to private conferences with the instructor for the criticism of stories. Two hours credit is given for the course. There is an equal number of men and women on the class roll proving that women are attracted to the profession of the journalist as much as men.

This class is but the beginning of a course which may culminate in a strong department in this branch of Rhetoric.

FROSH CHALLENGE SOPHS

Freshies Not Satisfied With Defeat—Want Another Try.

The freshman basketball team is out fifth a challenge to the sophomores to play a return game within one week. This game is not to count in the present interclass series. The action is the result of last Monday's game when the sophs defeated the freshmen. Captain Teall was not allowed to participate in this contest because he had played with the varsity against the Multnomah Athletic Club in Portland. He was not a regular member of the squad, but played in Portland because of the inability of two of the regulars to make the trip.

With Teall in the line-up the score might have been different. It is for this reason that the challenge has been issued. The challenge is issued to the same team which played against the freshmen, Monday.

Washington vs. O. A. C.

The University of Washington basketball team played two games at Corvallis last week. The first game was a victory for the Washington quintet with a score of 27 to 20. O. A. C. won the second by a decisive 27 to 14 victory.

Randall and Bryan Conley, met Jones and Taylor of Pacific. After the contest the victors royally entertained the varsity team at an all university function.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that both Willamette teams were deficient because of poor delivery due to inadequate coaching.

JEFFERSON GETS FIRST CONCERT

Men's Glee Club Makes Initial Presentation in Lyceum Course

Most of Regular Program Given—Popular College Pieces and Classic Productions Are Featured.

The first Glee Club concert of the year was given Wednesday night at Jefferson, when the university warblers appeared on the lyceum course of that city. Burgess Ford, the manager, had secured the largest hall available for this number on the course and a full house greeted the Willamette singers. The entertainment was well received and on the whole it did credit to the organization.

Being at the first of the season, many details can be perfected before the big trip is made. But Dr. Chace, who accompanied the club, said that "it was far above the average college entertainment."
