Registration Approaches 1940 Mark

Final Figure May Exceed Last Year's Sum, Erickson Says

Latest available registration statistics last night stood at 588, a slight decrease in enrollment as compared to the total of 617 at the end of the third day last year, Walter Erickson, registrar, revealed.

With many upperclassmen retaining summer jobs through this week, the final enrollment may equal last year's total, Erickson went on to say.

Although freshman enrollment is about the same as last year to date, with 229 as compared to last year's 229, the percentage of girls in the class is much higher. Administration heads attribute this to the national defense activity, both industrial and military, which has kept many of last year's students from returning.

States represented by freshmen in the student body this year include Washington, Idaho, Iowa, Montana, Indiana, California, Wyoming. Freshmen from Alaska, China, Canada and Hawaii have also registered.

Wilson Urges Frosh to Pose

With Willamette's one hundredth year just beginning, preparations for the 1942 Wallulah are close to completion. The yearbook staff is frankly enthusiastic over the excellent theme offered by the celebration of the Centennial year, and no time has been lost in formulating plans and ideas for a completely successful yearbook in 1942.

Two sixteen-page lithographed sections, the use of fewer but larger and more expressive pictures, and an entirely new arrangement are a few of the innovations promised by Arthur Wilson, editor.

The completion of Freshman class pictures for the student section being the paramount problem at present, the drive is now on to have every freshman's picture taken by October 11. In urging all freshmen to hurry down to the Kennell-Ellis studios in the Oregon building, Editor Wilson wishes to make it plain that there is absolutely no charge at the studio, all costs of photography being covered by the student body fee.

Only in the event that the student wishes to have additional prints made will there be any extra fee.

The Wallulah staff has not yet been organized. Although a large share of the staff members will be chosen from Professor Ringhald's Journalism classes, any student interested in yearbook work is urged to contact the editor.

Willamette Has Edge in Reserve Men

Clem Parkberry's perennially dangerous College of Idaho Coyotes will furnish the opposition tonight as Willamette's Battering Bearcats make their initial bid for their seventh Northwest conference championship in eight years under the lights of Sweetland field.

The Caldwell, Idaho, school features a small but fast aggregation with ten lettermen in their starting lineup. Their chief weakness is their dependency on a reserve rank made up almost entirely of untried freshmen. This fact weighs heavily in favor of the Bearcats who will field a

Dr. Knopf Arrives On Campus

COACH "SPEC" KEENE beginning 16th year at Willamette.

Overflowing Lausanne Awaits Newcomers From Far Away

Although there are 106 girls living in Lausanne Hall this year as compared to last fall's 94, Miss Jack, director, said this week that only two newcomers are yet to arrive, a girl from Nome, Alaska, and one from Hawaii.

Several countries and states are represented at the hall this year, including China, Michigan, Iowa, Montana, Idaho, California, Washington and Oregon.

Bring Collegian Line-up to Game

Students! Don't forget to bring your copy of The Collegian to the game tonight. It's a complete game program in itself.

Although 1000 copies will be distributed to fans at the game, none will be given out at the WU students' gate. Through an arrangement with Coach Keene, The Collegian is printing extra copies to fill the places of last year's game programs. They will be given without charge to all off-campus football fans as they enter Sweetland Field.

The practice expected to be continued for each Bearcat home game.

New Prexy to Greet Students Tuesday in Chapel Address

First opportunity for Willamette students to see genial Dr. Carl Sumner Knopf—and vice versa—is Tuesday morning at chapel. The new president and Mrs. Knopf are in Salem, but busy with moving household belongings into University house.

Moving vans from Los Angeles were backed up to the residence yesterday afternoon, and the Knopfs said they were grateful for being allowed to move in without disturbance. The movers were treated to pair's sense of humor in spite of a busy day. Though not officially at home until Monday and not ready to receive visitors, Dr. and Mrs. Knopf are taking advantage of the few days to get settled, rest and see the campus and Salem.

They arrived by automobile Wednesday from southern California, where for many years Dr. Knopf has been with the University of Southern California as professor of archeology and Biblical literature and more recently as director of religious education.

He is a graduate of USC and has the doctor of philosophy and bachelor of divinity degrees from Yale university. He has done considerable "digging" or archeological research in the near east. He is also an ordained Methodist minister.

Friendly and likeable Mrs. Knopf is an accomplished musician.

While many organizations have requested Dr. Knopf appear before them to speak, principal among the functions planned in greeting is a reception in the campus library October 2, given by the faculty and trustees.

Tom Pickett Joins Faculty

Thomas J. Pickett has joined the faculty of the law school as librarian and assistant professor of law, making the fifth full time law faculty member. Pickett, who graduated from the Willamette law school last June is also a graduate of the University of Nebraska and attended the Nebraska law school for two years. He has held a place on the board of editors of the Nebraska Law Review. He is 25 years old and married.

Pickett's appointment raises the size of the law school faculty to the largest in its 58-year history.

Temporary Heads Chosen by Frosh

Temporary officers were chosen by the freshman class in their first meeting Tuesday afternoon. Those chosen to fill the offices until permanent selections are made are Al Donald, Oregon City, president; Emma Lou East, Salem, secretary; Bill Babernick, Salem, treasurer.

FROSH JOURNALISM CLASS TIME SET

Professor Murco Ringhald's freshman journalism class will be held on Wednesdays at 2:30 in room 26 at Eaton hall, it was announced today.

Beta Chi "Wail" Newest Campus Canine Mascot

Perhaps you've stumbled over him in Eaton—the new member of the campus canine cove, Beta Chi mascot Wail Piek-up Windy Johnson.

Besides his unusually intelligent expression, Wail is noted for his customary position of relaxation: when he stops walking he immediately folds up like an accordion and falls into a deep slumber.

He's a sturdy little rascal, too. In the last three weeks he has survived three accidents—two with automobiles and one with the door of the "Top Hat."

Many Freshmen To See Action Tonite

Goodman and Barrett May Start Forward Wall

squad of 22 lettermen bolstered by a dozen more capable freshmen.

The Coyotes number two triple-threat backs among their starting quartet, in left half Dutch Sherman and fullback John Hayman. They will carry the load left by the graduation of Ralph Bennett, twice all-conference halfback.

Though still undecided last night as to the exact seven men who will answer the opening whistle in Willamette's front line trenches, Coach Spec Keene intimated that at least one freshman and perhaps more will start in the forward wall.

When the Bearcats have possession of the ball this evening all eyes will focus on jersey number 11, inside of which will be "Dynamite" Al Walden, Willamette's ace fullback and candidate for little All-American honors this fall. Walden, who gave up a lucrative position with a southern aircraft company to return for another grid campaign, ranked among the top backfield men of the nation last year with a rushing average of 7.26 yards per carry and a punting average of better than 40 yards per kick.

Though Walden saw but a few minutes of action against the Portland Air Base last week, he was in the game long enough to tote the pigskin six times for a 6.5 average and get off a boot which carried 55 yards, giving every indication that he will better his sensational records of last season.

Fratola Spotlighted

husky little guard, and another candidate for little All-American rating, will receive the spotlight of attention in the Bearcat line. Playing his first year of collegiate football last fall, the 175-pound ex-Marine proved such an annoyance to opposing backs that he was placed on the all-opponent teams of all of Willamette's eight opponents.

Freshman backs whom Spec predicts will see plenty of action on the basis of their practice session performances are halfback Earl Hampton, a hustling triple-threater from Molalla, Cecil Conner, sharp-shooting passer from Pendleton, and Jack Wardell, hard-socking blocking back from Sedro Wooley, Washington. Glen Norquist, high stepping La Grande halfback who was counted upon for heavy duty after his spectacular showing against the Portland Airmen, may see no action for several days because of a recently sustained shoulder injury.

Goodman May Start

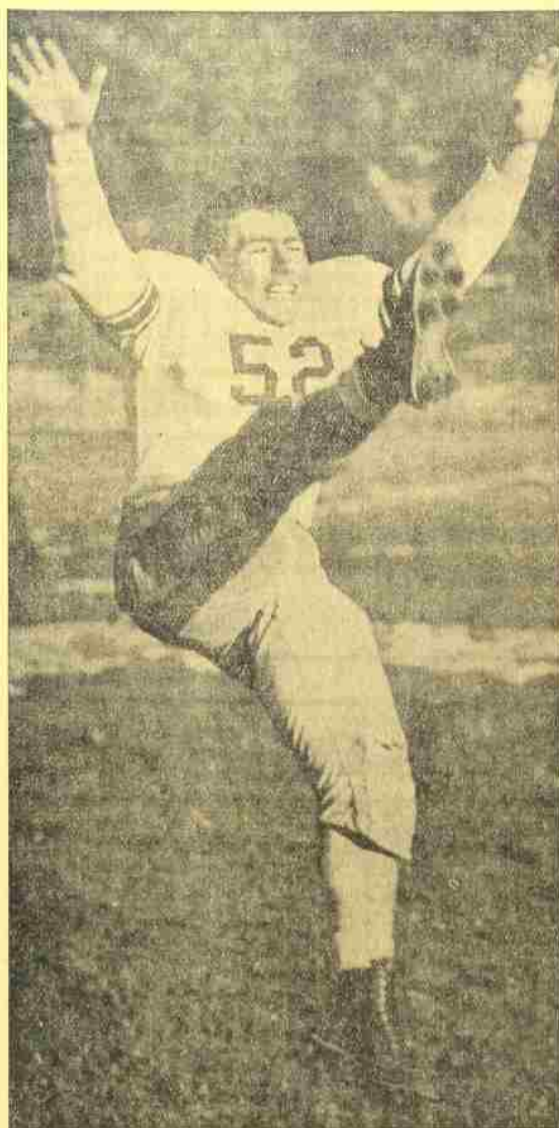

Al Barrett, talented all-city center from Jefferson high, Portland, may crowd Pat White for a starting pivot post, while sticky-fingered Marvin Goodman, first year end from Coquille, will probably get the call at one of the wing positions.

Other promising linemen in the freshman ranks are James Fitzgerald and Bob Bennett, all-city guards from Portland, and wingmen Dave Kelley and Clarence Walden.

The game will start at 8:00 p. m. Student entrance will be at the gate on the east end of the north grandstand in back of Waller Hall.

GIL LIESER, Editor

Al Walden, Willamette's little All-American fullback candidate, begins his third Northwest conference campaign with the Bearcats tonight.

Keene Begins 16th Year as Bearcat Coach

This fall marks the 16th year of Roy Servais "Spec" Keene's reign as head football coach and athletic director of Willamette University.

In 1926, Keene left his position with Corvallis high school and came to Willamette, then in the athletic doldrums, to become physical education director and head coach of all major sports.

In the 13 years' climb to a position as one of the nation's strongest small colleges, athletically, Keene's football elevens have piled up 54 Northwest conference victories against only 14 defeats. His all game mark of 73 wins on Pacific Coast gridirons for Willamette is compared to but six ties and 47 losses. Approximately half of the latter have come at the hands of Pacific Coast conference clubs.

Year	Won	Tied	Lost
1926	1	0	2
1927	2	1	2
1928	2	0	3
1929*	4	0	0

'Cats 5th in Total Offense

Willamette's Battering Bearcats ranked fifth last season among the nation's total offense leaders in figures recently compiled by the American Football Statistics Bureau.

Methodist backs attained their record with an average of 5.40 yards per try. The Bearcats placed 19th in the department of first downs, with 111 to their credit.

Backs Rank 3rd in Nation

Willamette university's 1940 gridmen again made the nation's football statistics hall of fame when they placed third among the country's rushing leaders.

Bearcat backs toted the ball 3090 yards in 366 carries for an average of 4.88 per try.

SPORT LIGHTS

By GIL LIESER, Sports Editor

Tonight King Football makes his official debut down our way, when Spec Keene leads his Willamette gridmen into their initial defense of their Northwest conference crown against Clem Parberry's ever dangerous College of Idaho Coyotes.

This year's edition of the battering Bearcats have the potentialities of being one of the greatest grid machines ever turned out in the annals of Willamette football. Whether these 1941 Bearcats play up to their capacities and write Northwest gridiron history or whether they remain just a fair country ball club depends on many elements, not the least of these being the support they receive from the student body.

It cannot well be said that Willamette football teams have received poor support from their fellow students in the past; neither can it be said that they have received nearly the support merited by their achievements in northwest gridiron circles.

This isn't written in an effort to arouse the fire of "school spirit." No amount of writing will do that. All we're asking is that you come out to the game this evening and let the Bearcats entertain you for a couple of hours. If, when the game is over you haven't received two hours worth of entertainment from the team and Willamette's Cardinal and Gold band, then try a good movie the next time a football game comes to town.

THE PASSING PARADE

It is with regret that we learn Neil Owens must soon leave for a stint with Uncle Sam. Not merely because of the loss of this hustling fullback to the team, but his loss to the student body as a whole. Owens, who came to Willamette last year as a freshman from Gresham, Oregon, quickly became among the most popular on the campus. His ready smile and willingness to shoulder the work of campus activities will not soon be forgotten. . . . Good luck Neil, and we hope you won't forget us.

W U Co-Captain

Reynolds and Barstad Get Captain Vote

Buddy Reynolds and Martin Barstad were elected co-captains of the Bearcat football aggregation at a meeting of squad members this week.

Both players are two-year lettermen with three years of gridiron experience behind them.

Halfback Reynolds gained coast-wide recognition with his passing which made Willamette's aerial attack one of the most dangerous phases of their offense.

Barstad, who has held down a tackle berth for two successive years is giving every indication in pre-season practice that he will be a hard man to chase out of the front line trenches when this fall's pigskin firing begins in earnest.

1941 Bearcat Grid Schedule

- Sept. 19—Port. Air Base at Salem.
- Sept. 26—Col. of Idaho at Salem.
- Oct. 3—Portland U. at Portland.
- Oct. 10—Linfield at McMinnville.
- Oct. 17—Whittier at Salem.
- Oct. 25—U. of Idaho at Moscow.
- Nov. 1—Open.
- Nov. 7—C.P.S. at Salem (homecoming).
- Nov. 11—Pacific U. at Salem.
- Nov. 20—Whitman at Walla Walla.
- Nov. 26—Mather Field at Sacramento.
- Dec. 6—U. of Hawaii at Honolulu.
- Dec. 13—Army Team at Honolulu.

Grid Scorecasts

By the Editor

The prognosticating bug has bitten us again, so for another season of gridiron thrills and upsets we don the climbing spurs and throw our hat into the ring . . . here's hoping we find a sturdier limb than befell our lot last fall.

Of course the spotlight of attention in our locale focuses on Sweetland field this evening where Willamette's Battering Bearcats begin defense of their Northwest Conference title by entertaining the always dangerous College of Idaho Coyotes. Though the Keenemen are still far from the form they give promise of showing later, we think their lineup of veteran lettermen and formidable array of reserves will be enough for a two touchdown victory over Clem Parberry's gang.

Saturday the eyes of the nation will turn towards Seattle, where one of the season's outstanding intersectional clashes will feature the Washington Huskies and the Golden Gophers from Minnesota. As much as we would like to give the nod to the West's representative we don't believe James Phelan has yet found an adequate replacement for All-American Dean McAdams . . . Washington 7—Minnesota 13.

Elsewhere on the Pacific Slope we'll call . . .

- U.S.C. over O.S.C.
- Stanford over Oregon
- California over St. Marys
- U.C.L.A. over W.S.C.
- Idaho over Utah
- Montana over Brigham Young
- Gonzaga over Pacific Lutheran
- Portland over Pacific U.
- Hawaii over College of Pacific
- Santa Clara over U.S.F.

Weisgerber Back as 'Cat Grid Coach

Dick Weisgerber, ex-Willamette backfield ace of Little All-American and professional football fame, is back in the Bearcat lair this fall to lighten the coaching chores of Spec Keene and his assistants.

Selected to the fullback position on the nation's Little All-American eleven in 1935, Weisgerber stepped into professional football, after graduating, where he played through four seasons with the Green Bay Packers.

For the past two summers the hefty griddier has been behind the mask and pads as an umpire in the Western International League, where his size and alertness earned him the respect of players and fans alike.

Betrothals Are Told

Three former Willamette coeds have recently announced their engagements and wedding dates.

At a lovely tea in the Brierwood home of her parents in Portland, Anne Faxon announced that on October 3, she and Leighton Blake will be married. Bishop Bruce Baxter will perform the ceremony at the bride's home. Miss Faxon was a member of the class of '42 and is affiliated with Delta Phi sorority. Blake graduated from Willamette where he was a member of the football team, president of the W club and a member of Blue Key.

On October 5, Florence Gallon, a member of Beta Chi, will be married to Kent Herbert Price. The news was revealed at a party given at the bride-elect's home in Portland. Her fiance attended Linfield and Oregon State Colleges.

Weddings Are Events of Summer Season

At the First Congregational Church on September 6, Ruth Yocum was married to Bruce Carkin. The bride's brother and cousin lighted the altar candles and Laura Lee Tate sang.

The bride wore a gown of white satin. Her sister, Rachael Yocum was her maid of honor and her gown was of powder blue taffeta. Bridesmaids were Roberta Jean Yocum and Jean Carkin. They wore peach faille taffeta frocks.

Earl Carkin was his brother's best man and ushers included Warren and Vernon Carkin, Raymond and Ralph Yocum, Everett Clark and Robert O. Smith.

A reception followed at the Alpha Phi Alpha Sorority house. Serving were Dorothy Tate, Barbara Viesko, Mrs. George Abbott, Katherine Thompson, Barbara Kurtz, Jean Lauderback, Pat Carson, Mary Benriett and Lunelle Chaplin. Jeanette Brown and Betty Williams were in the gift room and Rose Ann Gibson, passed the guest book.

SEWERT-FRIGGARD

Geraldine Friggard became the bride of Robert Siewert at the country home of the bride's parents, Saturday, September 6.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Robert Hutchinson before an altar banked with gladiolas and other garden flowers. Eleanor Aspinwall played the wedding march and Joan Friggard lighted the tapers.

The bride wore a black velvet dress with red trimming. Her honor attendant, Elsie Schneider wore powder blue velvet.

Miss Friggard attended Willamette and was a member of Beta Chi sorority. Mr. Siewert attended Salem schools.

HILL-BURK

August 23 at St. Paul's Episcopal church Margaret Burk became the bride of Robert Hill. The couple have moved to Eugene where they will attend the University of Oregon. Mrs. Hill graduated from Willamette this spring.

POGUE-RIGGS

A 4 o'clock ceremony united Doris Riggs and Myron Pogue in marriage at the Dallas Methodist Church Sunday, August 24.

The bride wore a white silk net and lace gown with tight fitting bodice and long sleeves. Her sister, Margaret Riggs, was maid of honor and wore a pink organza gown. Bridesmaids were Leila Pogue and Margaret Johnson. They wore identical frocks of peach and blue. Lowell Joseph was best man for Mr. Pogue.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss

Betty Starr sang.

The couple left for Boston where he will attend Boston Theological Seminary and she will work toward her master's degree at Boston University.

The bride attended Oregon State College and is a graduate of Willamette. She is a member of Delta Phi Sorority. Mr. Pogue is a 1941 Willamette graduate.

Dr. and Mrs. Knopf Honored in Los Angeles

Dr. Carl S. Knopf, the newly elected president of Willamette university, and Mrs. Knopf were honored at a dinner sponsored by the Willamette Club of Southern California on September 18, at the Friday morning Club of Los Angeles. Friends of the Knopfs in various clubs and organizations of southern California expressed their greetings and regrets in losing them from the community.

Bearcats and Mums Will Decorate Gym

Bearcats, huge mums and cardinal and gold streamers will decorate the gym tonight for the sport dance following the Willamette-College of Idaho game.

Marjorie Waters is in charge of the affair assisted by Bob Voigt.

Chuck Regon and his orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

Y.M.C.A. Is Scene of Party

Wednesday evening an informal get-acquainted party was held at the Y.M.C.A. Highlights of the evening were swimming, ping-pong and folk dances which were directed by Miss Alda Currey and Carl Grieder.

Glennerva Harnsberger and Loren Hicks were in charge of the affair. In the check room were Luann Green, Carol Clark and Corliss Clark.

Formal Reception Is Held in Gym

One of the outstanding social functions of freshman week was the Y.M.-Y.W. formal reception in the gym Thursday evening.

Ralph May introduced to the receiving line which was composed of Glennerva Harnsberger, Loren Hicks, Tom Hall, Grace Cramer, Dean Olive M. Dahl, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Schultze, Dr. and Mrs. Chester F. Luther, Dr. and Mrs. Egbert S. Oliver, Prof. and Mrs. Maurice Brennen and Prof. and Mrs. Joel W. C. Harper.

During the evening Wes McWain was master of ceremonies and musical selections were given by McWain and Mark Waltz.

The gym was decorated with fall flowers and autumn leaves. Crystal bowls and autumn flowers decorated the serving table.

Reception Will Honor Dr. and Mrs. Knopf

A stellar event of next Friday will be the formal reception given by the faculty and trustees of Willamette honoring Dr. and Mrs. Carl Knopf. The affair will be held in the University library between the hours of 3 and 5 for students and from 8 to 10 for townspeople.

Mrs. Roy Keene is in charge of the plans for the reception, and she is being assisted by Mrs. Chester Luther, Mrs. Grover Bellinger, Mrs. Paul Wallace, Mrs. Daniel Schulze, Dr. Helen Pearce and Dean Olive M. Dahl. Mrs. Melvin Geist is planning the decorations and Miss Lorena Jack, Mrs. Ralph Purvine and Miss Bernice Orwig will be in charge of the dining room.

At the door guests will be greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Tinkham Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith, Dr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Erickson.

In the receiving line will be Dr. and Mrs. Carl Knopf and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace. Mrs. Grover Bellinger, Dean Olive Dahl and Dr. Helen Pearce will introduce to the line.

Receiving from the line will be Dean and Mrs. Daniel Schulze, Dean and Mrs. Chester Luther, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Lochenour, Dean and Mrs. Melving Geist, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Rahe and Prof. and Mrs. Roy Keene.

The serving table will be beautifully decorated with a gold satin cloth and autumn flowers in copper bowls. Copper candlesticks will hold the tall lighted tapers.

Alternating at the urns will be Mr. J. Edgar Purdy, Mrs. J. C. Harrison, Miss Lorena Jack, Miss Lois Latimer, Mrs. Frank James, Mrs. Charles McCargar, Mrs. W. E. Kirk and Mrs. Murco Ringald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lee, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley, Prof. and Mrs. Lestie Sparks, Prof. and Mrs. Herman Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sherman and Prof. and Mrs. Earl Brown will invite the guests into the dining room.

Assisting in the serving will be Mrs. Maurice Brennen, Miss Gale Currey, Miss Helen MacHirron, Mrs. Marion Morange, Mrs. Earl

Freshman Dance With Kappas

Kappa Gamma Rho gave freshmen men and women a chance to become acquainted with the social side of college life Tuesday evening when they gave a dance following open house.

Chaperones for the evening were Prof. and Mrs. J. W. C. Harper and Mr. Walter E. Erickson.

Other guests were Jean Fries, Frances Dillon, Miriam Ferrin, Betty Adkins, Barbara Byrne, Flora Leonard, Rosella Bell, Yoshi Yoshizawa, Dorothy Calderwood, Beth Nordean, Charlotte Woodward, Jean Van Skike, Louise Wisley, Lucille Appleman, Caroline Doby, Bettie Browne, Dorothy Tate, Cleo Nisson, Margaret Siegmund, Maxine Bolland, Sally McClelland, Marian Hermanek, Beverly Nordean, Esther Gunnesdal and Maxine Holt.

Sigs Have Guest Week

On the Sunday preceding the first week of school, the Sigma Tau fraternity entertained the Salem Freshmen as well as the out of town freshmen who arrived early, with a dinner at the chapter house. The newly decorated dining room was supplemented by a huge three foot centerpiece in the middle of the table consisting of roses, gladiolus and white lilies. Later in the afternoon everyone adjourned to the Elsinore theatre, and then returned at 5:30 for a buffet lunch.

Tuesday evening, after the freshmen spent another hard day on the campus, the Sigma Taus opened their doors for their annual "open house," which ended with the extraction of the rugs from the floor to make room for dancing. After the refreshments, which were served in the lower dining room, the guests adjourned to the first floor where Mickey Mouse cartoons were shown.

Wednesday evening after the "Y" mix, a theatre party was held at the Grand theatre, and was attended by around 35 or 40 members and freshmen boys. After the show, the group was met by Ralph Nohlgren, who opened the Blue Bird for a special party where everyone enjoyed their hamburgers and milkshakes as well as singing various songs in practice for the serenade to be held by the Sigs Friday evening after the dance.

Thursday evening found the Sigma Tau house in the spirit of the old country. The Swedish Smorgesbord was the center of attraction. Dancing was enjoyed upstairs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kolb pictured on the steps of St. Joseph's Catholic church after their marriage culminated a campus romance, Wednesday, September 17. Mrs. Kolb is the former Genevieve Doud of Salem. Kolb was an outstanding athlete before his graduation in June. He was awarded letters in three major sports each of his four college years.

The New Willamette Spirit

There seems to be a new spirit pervading the Willamette campus. The older students naturally noticed it before the freshmen but it seems that the frosh are aware of it, too. The pros seem to be at the center of this new radiance which is causing everyone to glow with expectancy—perhaps they are its source. At any rate, the new tabloid Collegian is an outward, physical expression of what we like to term "the new Willamette spirit."

More than likely the new outlook is sparked by anticipation for the coming of Dr. Carl S. Knopf. The newest improvements and changes are also responsible. Everyone is expecting great things to happen here at Willamette and feels that the steps forward which have been taken since last year are, to a large degree, enough to guarantee that those great things will occur.

Leading the hopes and ideals being stirred anew this year will be The Collegian. By way of a policy, the staff feels that if the paper can support and promote what it feels are worthy causes and at the same time maintain the standard set up at the first of the year, it will have contributed much to a Greater Willamette.

A Freshman's Prayer

I pray for patience. I need to smile and say "hello" even to that smooth senior who scares me. Unfamiliar faces and forbidding walls may soon be my dearest friends. Perhaps I scare that senior a little, too!

I pray for nonchalance; the wisdom to realize in spite of advisors and catalogues that many will be my choices and possibilities. Four glorious years will decide my "major" and specific direction. My horizon is this class period, now!

I pray in thanks for I am very proud to be in the class of '45, the freshman class Willamette awaited a hundred years!

SWING--LO!

By Russ Hackett

Since swing is now taking an important part in the musical field, it is only fair that we devote a column to the followers of this art . . .

Probably the worst blow suffered by fans of Charlie Barnet, the king of the saxophone, is the twin loss of his guitar player and featured vocalist in a fatal automobile accident, which occurred while the band was on a recent tour of ne-night appearances. Barnet stated that the guitar vacancy will not be filled as no one could actually take the place of the beloved guitarist. The orchestras of Paul Whiteman and Erskine Hawkins will be appearing in Portland during the next two weeks. Many Hep Cats and Alligators are expected to attend. Recently Gene Krupa, America's drumming man, also made a tour of the Pacific coast and was terrific! Ask Barbara Pitts, she was there—front and center.

The best selling record of the month and favorite of the juke boxes is Krupa's recording of "Let Me Off Uptown," featuring the sky high trumpeting of Roy Eldridge, recently added negro trumpet player. Eldridge is now heavily featured as well as sparking the brass section. Keep on the down beat until tonight when all the boys of Chuck Regon's orchestra will be swinging you at the dance after the big game.

Sweepings . . .

Up from the cellar is Joe Dwight taking what play-boy Frosh through the glassy side?

From the press box—Gil Lieser starts the season with a blonde dark horse.

The Valentino corner brings a short heart-throb, Bob Finley.

The ballot-box of the Sig House lays 2 to 1 for Prexy Vern Summer!

The field brings forth Big Blake! Don't ask his first name, Slipper!

Little Theater gives us a dynamo, Mrs. Ringnald.

Long Waif Beta Chi! Doggerel verse to us!

Dig, Dig! Well all right! Delta Phi and here's to your coming meal ticket—

Torch Song—We ain't got no Heady!

Alaska sends blond Yvonne Magee and the line forms at the right.

Tailor's night mare Wes McWain runs Vinton EHS a neck and neck—

Here's to the whole bunch of you—

Signed,
Unfinished Business.

Tall and Handsome

That man you see on the campus this year is NOT Wesley McWain even if you did think so. The following poem definitely proves it and we defy anyone to produce evidence to the contrary.

This is the tale of Wes McWain of the after-dinner speech.

He captured all the cups and things that came within his reach.

The reason for this grand success was told me by his brothers

When Wes got up to speak, there wasn't room for any others.

But every dog must have his day,
and every king must fall.

Too much of even this good thing was just too much, that's all.

So time went on and Wes McWain grew thinner—thinner—thinner.

He couldn't after-dinner-speak, because he ate no dinner.

All through the summer months this man grew less and less and less

Until when fall come 'round again

There wasn't any Wes.

W.U. Grads Report First Impressions of Teaching

By Ruth Matthews

Facing the grim reality of earning a living turns care-free college students into stern arms of discipline, according to reports from Frances Pickard, '41. "Pick" (that is, Miss Pickard) teacher of English and physical education at Ontario high school, majored in speech at Willamette and was popular for her dramatic works on the campus.

Frances began school with a firm hand to impress students with her severity only to be punished by the long arm of circumstance. The first day she sent a boy from her English class to the principal's office. The two following sentences in the oral test she was giving were:

1. Marial was as vexed as me but she kept her temper better.

2. That's where he sat when I saw him last. Margo Wright, physical education major who graduated from Willamette last year, finds herself teaching English and physical education at Heppner. High school freshmen, she has decided, write funnier compositions than anybody. And grammar has become more than someone whose funeral is on the afternoon of the ball game.

We can't help envying both students and faculty of the Redmond High School, for whom do they have to keep them in line but Mary Head, our last year's (A.S.B.) first vice president, now their dean of women. And if we know Heady, there is a line!

'Prof Previews' Give Frosh Idea of Things to Come

By Bettie Browne

"Don't judge them by their pictures!" That is the warning Dean R. F. Thompson issued to the freshmen at the faculty reception Monday evening.

"Their pictures" to which the dean referred were cartoons placed along the walls of the gymnasium, in which were concealed the names of the faculty members.

Some amusing impressions would be the result if the pictures were taken literally. Dr. R. M. Gatke, for instance, would emerge as a shifty-eyed bandit with a "gat" in evidence, while Dean Shulze would be leading the rest of the boys astray.

A pig-tailed, grinning Raggedy Ann doll would be the fate of the dean of women who would keep company with Professor Harper, the wild-haired genius of the harp.

Librarian Spencer, however, would be the really bad boy of the faculty. For Mr. Spencer, ignoring the advice drummed into the students, would enter the library to find that his borrowed book was six days overdue.

On August 12 Miss Margaret Moulton, '40, became the bride of Robert H. Day, '40. The ceremony was read by Dr. Daniel Schulze. Mrs. Day is a member of Beta Chi and is a teacher in the home economics department at Parrish Junior high school. Mr. Day is associated with the Salem Boy Scout council.

In St. Luke's Episcopal church at Grants Pass Miss Roberta Borland was married to George Erickson, '37, on August 28. Mrs. Erickson attended Oregon State college where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Erickson was prominent in athletics at Willamette. The couple will be at home at St. Helens where Mr. Erickson has accepted a position as football coach in the high school.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heltzel of Salem are parents of a son, Thomas Gabriel, born July 2. He has a sister, Katherine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Sheldon (Eileen Goodenough) of Okanogan, Wash., have a son, David Bryan, born August 11. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Goodenough of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sheldon of Twisp, Wash.

Five generations now represent the Paul H. Hauser family of Salem, for on August 19 Judith Margaret was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Hauser, Jr. of Portland. Mrs. Louise Benson Robertson is the maternal grandmother.

Do You Know? . . .
Bruce Spaulding, '30, district attorney of Polk county has been named a member of the board of governors of the Oregon State Bar association.

Lieutenant Bill McAdam, former Willamette football star, was the handsome man in uniform who was seen on the Willamette campus over the weekend. He is located at Moffett Field, California.

Oliver Crowther, '26, assistant attorney general for the last five years, has resigned to enter the general practice of law in

New Drama Coach

Mrs. Murco Ringnald who is filling the place of Mrs. Genevieve Open as dramatics coach for the year. She is the wife of Professor Ringnald, journalism instructor, and has a wide field of experience in dramatics. Mrs. Oppan is taking graduate work at the University of Washington.

Handbook Out Tuesday P.M.

Appearance of the 1941-42 Student Handbook is expected Tuesday afternoon, according to Mary Jo Geiser, editor. Production difficulties have delayed printing until the weekend but students may begin securing the books from the office of the general manager, L. J. Sparks, at that time.

The Centennial Edition of the book contains several innovations such as side indexing and waterproof cover. The cover will be finished in gold and white.

South American Influence on Willamette Dancing Seen

"The infiltration of South American music into the campuses of America is beginning to be felt at Willamette and in turn is creating a demand for instruction in this most modern of ballroom techniques," according to Paul Armstrong, Salem dancing instructor. To meet that demand Billings & Armstrong School of Dancing is planning a special ballroom class to be begun in the near future.

Portland, according to I. H. Van-Winkle, '98, attorney general. Crowther has been chief of the legal staff of the industrial accident commission.

Ivan B. White, '29, was granted the degree of master of public administration at Harvard on June 19. He sailed the first part of July for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, to become vice-consul of the United States embassy.

Dr. Elizabeth Bishop, '33, is now Baker county health officer. Dr. Bishop was graduated from the University of Oregon medical school, and did her internship and graduate work in eastern hospitals.

New Clothiers Invite Patronage of WU Men

A new store has opened its doors to serve Willamette men with their clothing problems since Commencement day last June. The S&N Clothiers at 456 State street recently purchased Brooks Clothiers and placed it under the management of H. H. Margg. At the same time, the establishment was remodeled and a new stock of merchandise put in.

Five Coeds To Lead Band

Five experienced and highly capable drum majorettes, four more than last year, will lend color, zest and spectator-appeal to the University Bearcat band this year, declares Maurice W. Brennan, band director.

Freshmen aspirants for the band, who appear to be largely "trombone-minded," are expected to increase the membership of the band to better than 50 players. "But possibilities of having a well-balanced band appear very good," Brennan believes. Lighted maneuvers will be made by the band at some of the home games.

The band will be on hand for the game tonight but no marching is planned. Next Thursday when Willamette plays Portland university at Portland the band will execute marching formations and provide music at the game.

Drum majorettes include Barbara Pitts, sophomore; Donabelle Savage, Marjorie Smith, Virginia Loop, and Yvonne Mozee, freshmen. President of the band this year is Glenn Williams, senior.

Campus Reaction To Tabloid Seen

By Mary Jean Huston

This year's Collegian is the new tabloid size. Do the students like it? We-e-ll, yes and no.

Sitting on the steps of Waller talking to Wes McWain, I found his opinion on the negative side. "A bit high schoolish," he called it. The old larger size looked more like a regular newspaper and apparently appealed more to the dignified Westley.

Miriam Ferrin, sister of Al Ferrin, '41, thought it very helpful to the new students coming out as it did on Monday. Not having anything to compare it with, she didn't know whether she liked the new size better than the old.

"A paper is a paper to me, but this year's first edition of the Collegian certainly had lots of news." Rollo Stowaser really appreciated the efforts of the staff and asks only that the high quality of reporting be kept up.

Marion Sanders, last year's Collegian editor, likes the new format. "A tabloid is ideal for a weekly college newspaper," and believes The Collegian the best yet.

Girls Find Hall Revamped

Returning upperclassmen and more than seventy new girls entered a renovated Lausanne Hall this fall. Not only has the whole building been cleaned but new streamlined chairs have been placed in the lobby and new "glass" curtains in the dining room. Double bunk beds have been ordered for use on the sleeping porches, and the kitchen has been completely repainted.

Library Offers New Magazine

"Omnibook Magazine," a digest of current popular books, has been added to the University's library, according to Mrs. Dorothy Shinn, assistant librarian. It is a monthly publication which presents new books in a brief but more extensive form than those printed in the Readers' Digest. The magazine is seen as a boon to busy students and to libraries with limited purchasing budgets.

WU's Author File "Best on Coast"

"Definitely photogenic," was the decision of authorities who chose the Authors Catalogue of the Willamette library to be photographed for the University of Washington Union Catalogue this summer. This record includes the best catalogues of libraries on the coast and Willamette was one of the few small schools to be represented.

A photostatic process was used for the records. This week catalogues of the Oregon State library are being photographed.

Miller's Opens New Tea Room

Willamette students are invited by Mrs. Sargent, hostess, to enjoy the new tea room which was opened yesterday at Miller's department store. Included are a cove bar featuring red leather upholstery, a banquet room serving 75 persons, and a smaller music room. The cream walls, decorated with panels of pastel Dutch scenes, are fringed with potted ivy. Long windows are equipped with venetian blinds. "The tea room has one of the best cooks in Salem," according to Mr. Keith, advertising manager at Miller's.

WU Dramatists In Summer Plays

Five students from the Willamette drama department took active part in dramatics productions this summer. Three were performing simultaneously in Seattle, one in Long Beach, and one in Cleveland.

Everett Andrews played in the melodrama, "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl" for the Seattle Repertory Play House. Mary Elizabeth Kells and Betty Irvine played in "The Barretts" at the University of Washington Show Boat.

Arthur Olson was in Long Beach playing in "R. U. R.," while D. deLacey performed in Cleveland.

Mrs. Oppen, former dramatics head on leave for a year, has a readership at the University of Washington where she will work for a master's degree.

Lausanne Elects Council

Election of house council members was the main item of business at Lausanne Hall's first house meeting early this week. Council members for this semester are senior, Barbara Byrne; junior, Yoshi Yoshizawa; sophomores, Ruth Ransome and Margaret Pemberton; freshmen, Kay Wilson, Jean Freeze and Nancy Austin. Phyllis Flynn was elected song leader to replace Jean Kohagen, who is not living at Lausanne.

June Woldt, president, explained regulations to the freshmen and transfers and introduced the following officers: Reeva Schmidt, first vice president; Zoe Fretz, second vice president; Dorothy Estes, secretary-treasurer, and Hermie Palmer, reporter.

Play Sought For Homecoming

With Homecoming set for November 7 the drama department is considering plays and casting for the annual Homecoming play, according to Mrs. Margaret Ringnald, drama instructor.

Last year's production, "Little Brown Jug," will be remembered as a great success. The class in advanced interpretation hopes to find a modern comedy as amusing as last year's melodrama.

Try-outs will be open to the entire student body. Those interested in taking part should get in touch with Helen Newland or Mrs. Ringnald. Any aspiring directors on the campus are welcome to observe work on the play and try out their own art in the play production class.
