

WILLAMETTE WILL MEET W. VIRGINIA GRADUATE TEAM

Leader of West Virginia Debate Team is Stricken by Typhoid; Alumni Fills Place

According to word recently received by Victor Carlson, forensic manager, the debate to be held in Salem on February 9, will be one in which Willamette University men must meet graduate speakers from the University of West Virginia. The leader of the eastern team has been stricken with typhoid fever and will be unable to make the trip. In the face of a necessary change of plans the local debaters have consented to accept the eligibility of a graduate team and to continue with plans for the debate here. Although such an arrangement is not considered desirable, it will not be permitted to interfere with the staging of the contest, stated Mr. Carlson.

On the evening of March 5, the Willamette University men will meet a team from the Oregon Agricultural College on the local platform. In this debate the Aggies will use the same team which will later make a long eastern tour, debating the famous Bates college team and those of other outstanding universities.

The Willamette University team is now scheduled to leave Salem on March 19 for a tour of probably three weeks in length. During this time the men will debate against College of the Pacific at Stockton, Cal., Redlands University, Stanford (Continued on page 4)

DEAN MILAM, O.A.C. ANALYZES NEEDS OF FOREIGN WORK

Miss Ava Milam, Dean of the Department of Economics, Oregon Agricultural College and for the past two years student of economic conditions in China, was a guest of the campus Saturday morning and held conferences with those of the student body most interested in Christian service, at home and abroad.

Miss Milam was selected by the Chinese government to study the actual economic conditions in China, for the purpose of organizing a department of economics in the University of Peking. She has returned filled with an inspiration for the work being done in other lands, and she is well able to state positively the requirements for foreign service.

Miss Milam says that all the efficiency is of little avail in the long run, without a consecrated life to the work chosen.

PI GAMMA MU SURVEY TO BEGIN FEB. 1

Sunday, February 1st, has been chosen as the date when Pi Gamma Mu will begin its house-to-house survey of Salem, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Jennelle Vandevort, who has just returned from a Y. W. C. A. convention in New York, states that the New York Y. W. C. A. is watching this survey with the keenest of interest. The city has been divided into 20 districts, over each of which a Pi Gamma Mu member, either a graduate or a student, will captain a team of workers. The members of this sociological fraternity ask the help of any one who wishes to work. Students desiring to do so should turn their names in to Professor Laughlin or any member of the fraternity. The survey will probably last a week, during which every house in Salem should be covered and questioned. A questionnaire prepared contains questions relative to the person's birth, nationality, race, education, birthplace, former home, and time of arrival in Salem.

JUNIORS ELECT JOE NUNN, PRES.

Joe Nunn will lead the Junior class for the second semester. The other officers, who were elected Tuesday morning, are: vice-pres., Marguerite Bridgeman; sec., Pauline Miller; treas., Alvin Bond; interclass rivalry, Roderick Blatchford; athletic mgr., Elmer Hansen; athletic mgr. of the girls, Margaret Madis; forensic mgr., Ross Anderson.

NORMAN COLEMAN NEW PRESIDENT OF REED COLLEGE

Norman F. Coleman, president for the past five years of the Four-L's, was recently chosen as the next president of Reed college. This position has been vacant since the death last June of President Richard Scholz, who was inaugurated in 1921.

Significant of the recent presidential appointment was the fact that the regents made their choice public without consulting the student body or considering their petitions. Despite their resentment felt at the method of appointment, the students of Reed have formally welcomed President Coleman and pronounced themselves ready to follow his capable leadership.

UNDERCLASSMEN COOPERATE TO INSTALL SPIRIT

Plan is to Bring High School Fighting Spirit to Campus of Willamette U

At a joint meeting of the two under classes held after chapel Tuesday it was decided that the men of the two classes should organize for the purpose of promoting a real fighting spirit among the rooters at the basketball games. Prominent members of both classes expressed favorable opinions on the matter although it was greatly regretted that the attitude of the school and the two upper classes should make such action necessary.

Dale Hoskins, crown prince, will have charge of the underclasses yell practice and will be aided by a member of the freshman class.

It is the opinion of the underclassmen that since each man comes from what he considers to be the best High School in the Northwest, a school in which a real fighting spirit exists, it is to be expected that since they are at Willamette they will at least try to bring that spirit with them.

No definite action has been taken in regard to what part the girls will play in raising pep but something definite will be done before the Oregon game.

"The Function of the Lawyer" Defined by Professor Harding

Friday evening, January 9, the Blackstone Club met in the Rose Room of the Spa for its monthly banquet and meeting. William McKinnon presided as toastmaster and director of ceremonies. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Professor Roy Harding of the Willamette Law School Faculty, on "The Function of the Lawyer." He gave the members of the Club an idea of what is expected of a lawyer in modern times, and showed how the activities of the profession change with natural progression.

Kenneth Randall, '24 gave an interesting talk on "Legal Ethics," a subject not covered in the class room. Other speeches given by the active members were, "The Writers of the Law," by Clarence Phillips; "Influence of a Lawyer," by Manley Strayer; "Ugury," by James Young; "The Star Chamber," by Leland Duncan; "Larceny in Oregon," by George Rhoden; "Dream of a Law Student After Taking the Bar Examination," by Joe O'Neill; "Literature in Law," by Oliver Crowthers; "Free Speech," by George Dunbar; "Justice in the Modern Law," by Harold Hall; and "Enforcement of the 18th Amendment," by Richard Briggs.

Theta Alpha Phi to Present Three One-Act Plays

The Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity, will give three, one act plays February 6. The members of the fraternity are hard at work on "The Man on the Korb," "The Four-Flushers" and "The Rider of Dreams." These three plays are considered to be the best dramatic one act offerings to be found on the stage this year and are expected to be the dramatic treat of the season.

The plays are to be given for the benefit of the forensic council to assist in financing the debate trip to be made in the near future.

The library of the U. of Wash. has just received 351 bound volumes of Leibniz Annales de Chemie, thus completing its set.

Leibniz Annales is one of the rarest and most important periodicals devoted to the subject of chemistry. The work of that department has long been handicapped for want of these volumes.

Since it was impossible to obtain copies of the original edition, it was necessary for the library to accept volumes in Anastatic reprint.

FRESHMAN QUINTET WIN AND LOSE BIG

Jefferson "HF" is Beaten 29-14 But "Lincoln" Wins 24 to 8

While the performance of the freshman basketball squad has been very good this year there is one strange phenomenon to be explained. That is, that, while at times they display a very superior brand of ball, as they did against Jefferson High at Portland, at other times they slow up and take a beautiful trimming, as in the case of the recent Lincoln High game. It is interesting to note moreover that all but one of their defeats have been on the home floor, while in every game away from home they have played very creditable ball. The mystery can probably be explained from the fact that a few of the men are still without a great deal of experience and are easily thrown off their game by merely playing before their own crowd. Also the support, or rather the lack of support, that the team receives from the crowd when they play here is sufficient to shake the nerves of even a veteran.

The two games played recently furnish an interesting example. The freshman squad defeated Jefferson High of Portland last Wednesday by the score of 29-14 in a fast game featured by the stellar work of Eldon Scott, guard, "Scotty" made ten of the 29 points made by the Rooks and proved that when once properly aroused he is a real ball player.

The line ups were as follows: Freshman (29) Jefferson (14) Litchfield (6) F. Robinson (2) Van Nise (3) F. Letho (2) Reidel (4) C. Grayson (4) Anderson G. Miller Scott (10) G. Parker Substitutes— Freshman: Paber (2), Fleisher (3), Jefferson: Flagel (3), Dismick (2). In contrast to the Jefferson game, the Rook squad were defeated on the home floor by Lincoln High, of Portland, last Friday with the one sided score of 24-8. The freshmen put up a game fight but were entirely unable to stop the strong Lincoln offense.

The line ups were as follows: Litchfield (15) F. Price (15) Van Nise (5) F. White Reidel (7) C. Barendson (7) Fleisher (2) G. Storey (2) Scott (1) G. Lewis

ATCHESON UPHOLDS NEW AMENDMENT

Jason Lee, "Pastor," Defends Child Labor Legislation in Masterly Fashion

Rev. Atcheson, minister at the Jason Lee Methodist church, devoted his sermon last Sunday morning to the child-labor amendment bill, which is up before the present session of the Oregon state legislature. Mr. Atcheson voiced his opinion heartily in favor of the bill, and could not understand how legislators can say, "this does not concern Oregon; therefore, there is no issue." He declared that if we are Americans there is an issue as long as any industries are allowed to exploit the childhood of our nation.

Mr. Atcheson showed clearly that the bill is not a treacherous device to give congress onerous powers, nor is it a device of Bolshevistic propaganda to establish communism in the United States.

"If our forests are protected by laws we pass, if the fish in our streams and the birds in the air and the animals on the land are protected by our laws, then surely, we can not object to passing laws that will protect our childhood against exploitation," said Mr. Atcheson.

After the sermon, a motion was introduced to send a resolution to the legislature that Jason Lee church is for the amendment. The motion was carried by an overwhelming majority, but upon objections from some members of the congregation that the motion had not been given proper thought, the motion was dropped and voted upon a second time. This time there were only three or four in the entire congregation who were not in favor of supporting the amendment.

A plan for sectioning large classes on the basis of ability is being considered by the scholarship committee of the University of Nevada.

SHERWOOD EDDY UNDER Y. M. C. A. SPEAKS TODAY

Foremost Leader in Student Thought, Speaker at Asilomar and Indianapolis Gives Exceptional Address

Sherwood Eddy, world known author and student worker, spoke today during a special 9:00 o'clock chapel. Mr. Eddy, after his graduation from Princeton, spent over 23 years among the students of the Orient. Since his return he has been working with the youth movement. He was one of the leading speakers at the Indianapolis Student Convention and at the Asilomar Conference.

He is the author of books and pamphlets on Modern Christianity, the Labor Situation, and the Abolition of War.

Mr. Eddy is a very able speaker who holds his audiences to the last word.

He comes under the auspices of the Student Y. M. C. A., which has brought several able speakers to Willamette recently.

REAL TIPS ON GIRL WINNING

It's funny how these statistic hounds get loose, but anyway one's loose here at W. U. This is his latest effort. He has divided some of our fair girls into classes and then has given his idea of how to win a girl from each class. It's a case of using our pills for one week and you'll use no other. But read it yourself. He has gone on to O. A. C., so no one can get further information or kill him. If you want further statistics write collect, to the United States Board of Engagements and Marriage, care of Layton Mann.

One Night Stands

Jimmie Clower. Mid Tomlinson. Katie Rossman. Ruth Ross. Gladys Fleisher. Reno Fryer. Zelda Mulkey. Florence Young. Jessie Pybus. Katherine Kirk. Mildred Mills.

This group is the kind that is hard to win. You must do something extraordinary or one night is all you get. You must always get your date at least two months ahead of time, and usually phone from a booth or your fraternity will kid you for making dates with hoochies. And follows, this is a real hint. Don't pull the same line with each girl. They get together and compare notes and the laugh's usually on you when five girls find that you're the only one according to you. Watch your step in what you say and don't refer too often to your last date with some one else. And say, a good way to avoid paying the taxi fare is, after delivering the girl safely home, ask the driver to drive slowly so you can see whether she is saving. He will swallow this and you can open the door and dismount at five miles per hour with $3.41 in your pocket.

Intellectual

Betty Hyde. Juanita Henry. Ann Silver. Bobbie Humphreys. Mary Gilbert. Adeline Gates. Dorothea Sibley.

It takes preparation for this bunch. Raise an artist talent and be sure and read something by Tolstoy. Start in by asking for a date to some play and ask her, if possible, in literary surroundings. Start your date by asking if she has seen the latest painting by—I forget the name—Anyway share the effect. Make her know that you live in the library, have snappy stories, and use a cane. Be sure and not grab her hand at the wrong time and don't offer to trade yours. Have some copies of the Little Leather Library in your pockets and accidently pull out the manuscript by your last story. Make a big effort the first night—lasting impression etc.

BEARCATS BREAK EVEN ON JOURNEY

Washington Wins Easily; Whitman Barely; Ellensburg and C. P. S. Are Beaten

Thursday morning, Jan 15, the varsity hoop squad and Coach Rathbun left for a northern tour in Washington during which they played two conference and two non-conference games, winning the latter.

Thursday night, at Seattle, the University of Washington five blanketed Willamette in a walk-away until the last quarter when the Bearcats scored ten points. The 70 to 10 score would have been much revised had the team set this pace earlier in the game. The Huskies have a much better defense than Oregon who allowed Willamette 31 points the week before.

On Friday night in Tacoma, the fellows staged a little walk-away themselves, defeating the College of Puget Sound 42 to 24. In the first quarter the scoring was about even, but the Bearcats' fast pace soon put the game on ice. This win evens scores for the 8 to 0 defeat by C. P. S. in football on Hometown Day.

At Ellensburg Normal the following evening Willamette was again victorious. The official score is not available.

From there the team shipped to Walla Walla where, after leading a large part of the last half of a fast, furious game, they lost to Whitman College 27-24 on Monday night. The loss of the game would have been easier on Whitman, for if the Bearcats had won, the team's standing in the Northwest Conference would have been 333, while Whitman, having lost four games to Willamette's previous two, would only stand at 200.

Whitman, however, deserved her victory, piling up a heavy lead in the first half and holding it despite desperate Bearcat efforts. Hartley was high point man of the game with ten counters.

Lineup and summary: Whitman (27) Willamette (24) Nielson, 6 Emmel, 5 Holmgren, 8 Fasnacht, 4, 3 Yeaney, 6, 1 Hartley, 6, 1 Faust, 1, 6 Ericson, 6 Fry, 1, 3 Robertson, 6, 4 Buck, 3, 3

National Y. M. Secretary Presents Problems And Philosophies

Mr. Miller, national Y. M. C. A. secretary, gave a most unusual address in chapel last Friday. His general subject, hidden till the last of his speech, embodied the theory of evolutions. The body of the address, however, discussed philosophies of life in connection with religion. "Religion," said Mr. Miller, "is your discovery and acceptance of your own philosophy of life." This proved quite an interesting summary of his conceptions of philosophy. Some of the finer points of his lecture on personal philosophies were: The object of your existence; your conclusions drawn in relation to your life work; your status on all questions and problems of life; and your ideal of why you are here. The outcome of this broad discussion was the observation that there is an inner something akin to your soul from which you and your personality orient. His really big point came at the conclusion of his speech. Directly quoted it is this: "The secret of social evolution is that one thing, one life, dies in order that more might live."

WESLEYANS SELECT NEW OFFICERS

The recently elected officers of the Willamette Wesleyans for the coming semester are: President, Ann Silver; Vice President, Herbert Jasper; Secretary-Treasurer, Millicent King; Chairman of Committee for Luncheons, Irene Smith; Reporter, Morrison Handmaker; Professor J. D. McCormick was selected advisor for the coming term. At the meeting of this organization held last Wednesday reports of the Asilomar convention were given as follows: Discussion on race questions, Merle Doney; Mr. Kazawa and his message, Warren Crowe; Discussion of the labor problem and Mr. Coleman's speeches, Thomas Row; Eddy and his talk on peace, Howard West; the ministry as a vocation, Percy Hammond.

The left trouser leg of every freshman at the University of Dakota must be pulled up 8 inches above the shoe every day between noon and 4 p. m. according to rules laid down by the Sophomore class. The Freshmen boys must not be seen talking to a girl during that time.

CAR OVERTURNS ON CHOIR'S TRIP TO MONMOUTH

Confronted by the necessity of choosing between collision with a train or an abrupt stop, Dr. M. C. Findley turned his closed car over into the ditch while driving to Monmouth, Sunday. The Kindleys were taking some members of the First M. E. choir to the concert which was given by the Salem choir in Monmouth's assembly.

Although the car slid from the road and turned on its side, its occupants escaped any more serious injury than a certain nervousness.

Despite this accident, the concert was a success.

FLUNK LIST GONE FOREVER; ANCIENT IDEA DISCARDED

Source of Lausanne Gossp Must Sprout Anew; Great Exultation Expected

The tender feelings of our below grade scholars have at last been allowed a salve by the faculty. There will be no "flunk list" posted on the bulletin board during next semester.

The office call has not been abolished. As heretofore those who fall below the saving "P" will be required to offer their excuses and regrets to Dean Alden, and they still risk being dropped from the course, in which they fail to receive a passing grade.

Publicity will not be resorted to unless some action is necessary to enforce the calling rule. By some means not yet devised, each professor will notify the delinquents in his classes.

It is too bad for some of us to be deprived of the juicy tid-bit of the flunk list. The Sunday papers will also have to hunt further for space fillers in their sections of morbid news.

Incidentally, the subtle, half-hidden compliment of being on the flunk list for Bible will be deleted to those among the progressive Frosh. Much to our great regret, the flunk list is dead. Long live the flunk list!

ASSOCIATED COLLEGES MEET IN CHICAGO; DONEY PRESENT

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney sent his greetings to Willamette University through Dr. Hickman when they met at the meeting of the Association of American Colleges held in Chicago January 5-9. While Dr. Doney is much improved in health, he is not entirely convalescent.

During this winter Dr. Doney, president of Willamette, has been on a leave of absence from the college on account of his failing health. He and Mrs. Doney are making Boston their home for the winter.

Boston has become half way home for Willamette alumni who are living or are studying in the East.

On New Year's day a score or more of the alumni gathered at the Doney's home where they exchanged school gossip and reminiscences.

An international debate will be held between Cornell University and McGill University at the latter's home town, Montreal.

WELLSLEY SONG LEADER HAS 100 PER CENT TEETH AND A SMILE THAT'S PLUS

Miss Lorna C. Brown, song leader of the Wellsley class of 1925, has been pronounced the only American girl at the college with perfect teeth. The photograph shows that her smile is at least 100 per cent perfect.

WALLULAH STAFF WIN CHAPTER OF BETA CHI ALPHA

New National Aims at Closer Co-operation of Annual Staff

Another National Fraternity makes its bow to Willamette with the organization of the local chapter of Beta Chi Alpha, National Fraternity of Annual Staffs.

Initiation of Ann Silver, Ruth Hewitt, Genevieve Thompson, Hollis Vlek, Joe Nunn, George Atkinson, Dick Briggs, Clarence Oliver, Junita Henry, and Loyal Warner is to take place at once. Professor Williston has been selected as faculty member.

Beta Chi Alpha aims to promote and develop closer understanding and better methods between and within annual staffs, and evolve more effective Annuals. There are chapters at California, Southern California, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Cornell University and other colleges. Willamette is the smallest school having a chapter.

To qualify for Beta Chi Alpha, a student must be, or have been, an editor, manager, or Department head of a college Annual. His grades must be passed upon by the Faculty of his school.

This is the fourth National Honorary Fraternity to come to the Willamette campus.

W. U. GRADUATES ARE MAKING GOOD IN MANY POSITIONS

As further proof that Willamette alumni are receiving their share of success come the enthusiastic reports of Loren Basler, '20, who has been for the last two years coach at Lewiston, Idaho, high school. Mr. Basler was coach at Athol, Oregon, before he went to Lewiston, and so successful was his coaching that he won the eastern Oregon district championship in basketball.

Mr. Basler made good immediately at Lewiston high school, and this year won the championship of Northern Idaho. Coach Exendine, the noted coach at Washington State College, commenting on the game between Lewiston and Nampa, said: "I have never seen so many accurate and timely passes. Lewiston is certainly a well coached team."

Assistant Coach Neldig of the University of Idaho, seeing the same game, said: "The game might easily have passed for a high class college game. It was exceptionally played by both teams. I was surprised to see the lighter Lewiston team gain so consistently against their opponents. It shows that they were exceptionally well coached, and I cannot say too much for your coach, Mr. Basler. He certainly has a remarkable team, and he stands out as one of the best high school coaches in the country."

While Mr. Basler was at Willamette, he played on the varsity football, basketball and baseball teams. He was known familiarly to his fellow students as "Dax." He is a member of the Sigma Tau fraternity.

Mr. Basler is by no means the only one of the alumni that is traveling at a not slow gait toward success. Willamette alumni have made good in many fields, especially in teaching. Albert Geyer, editor of last year's Collegian, is teaching school at Lyons, Oregon, where he is acting as principal of the high school, as well as teaching six subjects. Kathleen LaRue and Mary Wells, of last year's class are teaching at Raymond, Washington. It is a notable fact that Raymond high school has a regular policy of getting as its teachers graduates from Willamette University. Alma Wells is teaching at Prosser, Washington, and is making remarkable progress. Francis Kinch, member of the class of '23, is doing educational work in Spokane, Chile, and has incidentally, to make his work more efficient, entered into a marital partnership.

Lawrence Davies, member of the class of '21 is making good as special writer for the Portland Telegram. Mr. Davies is familiar to several still in school as "Bumbance." Davies, who used to show some of the other colleges the fine points of basketball while he was playing on the Willamette varsity squad.

Colored jackets will be worn by the women who play on various athletic teams at the University of Minnesota. This year the freshmen will wear green, the sophomores blue, the juniors purple, and the seniors gold.

CAMPUS CRITICISM

"Every tree on this campus, except for two cottonwoods by Lausanne, was planted by some student."

Apparently the Collegian article on campus scenery touched one of your interests. It touched your interest, which Dewey declares we dare never hope to bring forth in you; but rather dare only expect to fan to a flame after you, the owning individual, have lighted it.

How does our campus look to you? Look at it! Surely you have not been so long in biology and chemistry laboratories and yet would go, like a Schoolman, to a Collegian article for your opinion?

Have bricks in the campus scenery been misplaced? Do certain spots softly jar you as you pass?

Look about you. Observation will yield a truer answer than argumentation.

But remember before you leave school that certain question will arise the meaning of which you must learn. Who is responsible for the misplaced bricks: Student Body—Administration—or faculty? Shall correction, perchance, be a co-operative undertaking?

If you do not care for facts as you find them, remember that in making yourself—which is perhaps the most effective method of altering a situation—there are three steps:

1. Having interest enough to look.
2. Having sense enough to investigate.
3. Having will enough to do more than talk.

—J. H.

ALL THESE HELP SO MUCH!

Are you one of those whose favorite pastime is criticism? Is one of your favorite criticisms the appearance of Willamette's campus? Recently the Collegian carried a student opinion article on that subject.

In order to be just to both sides we made an investigation. The Eaton Hall shrubbery is not full of weeds. It is somewhat detracted from—by papers cast there by students.

The Waller Hall dump contains two ladders placed there since the article was written, six Christmas trees—student decorations, some leaves, which are too wet to burn, some more student decorations, some paper plates from a student lunch—and nothing else.

The paths worn across the lawn by students, the Christmas tree dumped in the rosebed, by students, the shrubbery destroyed by students' bicycles—all these help so much!

Are we a bunch of children that Dean Clark must pick up after us? Are we a superior race, to stand aloof and criticize?

Is Willamette a shop, where we buy education for a price, and demand "service with a smile," or is it an institution to which we all belong, for whose glory we all strive—for whose beauty we may all be careful?

—D. C. T.

AN UNSCHEDULED EXAMINATION

Five days from now, when the process of squeezing the sponge commences with a 7:45 test, every one of us will be up for an unscheduled examination. The subject is health.

The questions will be: (1) Do you know that your spine is made of human, living tissue? (2) Do you think it is logical to study until 4 o'clock in the morning? (3) Should worry be added to exhaustion until the last examination leaves us hysterical? (4) When do we expect to pay for the laws of health we break?

The final examinations of the semester severely test our common sense. This is particularly true if we belong to any one of three classes: underclass folks; let-it-slide folks, and the our-jobs-keep-us-busy folks.

If we are underclassmen we know not what is expected of us—tests are so new. Being terrified by scare-stories we cram, press, and squeeze the sponge.

If we are let-it-slide folks, we run a mad race to catch up with the class.

If we belong to the our-job-keeps-us-busy class, we drop the job for a week or two of study.

At 7:45 Monday morning, an unscheduled exam begins. The subject is health. Have we common sense enough to pass?

Negroes Not All Porters

The theory that most Negroes employed by railroads are working as porters is about as obsolete as the old contention of railroad men that all section hands had to be foreigners.

This is indicated in a nation-wide survey of Negro employment on railroads which has just been completed by the U. S. Department of Labor.

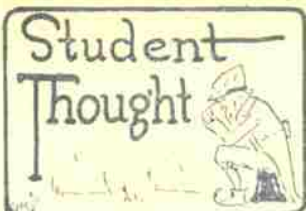

The survey reveals that a total of 126,865 Negroes are now employed on the steam roads of this country and less than one-fifth of this number are porters.

Two Negroes have elevated themselves to positions as superintendent, one in Ohio and the other in Florida. Ninety-seven are telegraphers, 202 inspectors of way and structures, and 111 locomotive engineers.

A total of 95,717 Negroes are now employed as laborers for the railway lines.

Train and Pullman workers now total 20,224 of whom 22 are colored maids.—Missionary News.

To-day you do not know me. To-morrow shall I know you? To-day you walk by with your head aloft. To-morrow shall mine be so? Life changes and time moves on. Your sneer to-day will be my laugh to-morrow. You are too good to know me. Shall I be too good to know you tomorrow? Now I am below you socially, and yet, life changes and time moves on!

But I sincerely hope that when— If God be good—I pass you by to-morrow—shall not be too small and childish to refuse to recognize you with your pins and badges of today. I shall want my success to be worthwhile. I am foolish to let the "sneers" bother me but are there not some more foolish than I?

To-day you do not know me. To-morrow shall I know you?

Glee From Northwestern Sings for Salem, Feb. 12

One of the many things which will attract Willamette students to the appearance of the Northwestern University Glee Club, from Evanston, in Salem, February 12, is the fact that it is piloted by Gus Anderson, who was a member of Willamette quartette for some four years between '16 and '20. Gloomy Gus is quite a prominent campus figure of those days.

Joy

Joy played among the triflums
Last spring—
A hundred rooms woke to hear
Joy sing,
But winter caught and held Joy in
The stream—
When Joy crept to the water's edge
To dream.

—IRENE BERG.

I Breathe the Fog

I breathe the blue-gray fog of night—
The leafless branches of an alder tree
Are dimly sketched—a little whiter than the gray—
Oh, all the things that come to me!
Invisible songs of that far way,
Haunting shadows of that light
Forever dim; and dear loved echoes of imagined sound
Which is the silence of the streams that flows
Deep in the valley; overhanging-ground
Sees that deep way it goes.
I breathe the blue-gray fog and understand
This bond that holds me chained unto the land.
And with the pain of that deep breath
I know how one must feel who has come back from death.

—ELIZABETH HYDE.

There will be no issue of the Collegian next week because both the reporters and editors will be busy with exams. Happiest wishes for a Glorious Fourth.

K.K.K. Thought To Be Organized in Fraternity

(The New Student)—Many are mystified, some are indignant, at Albany, New York, over the report that the Exalted Order of the Ku Klux Klan has been incorporated for over a year in the guise of a Greek letter fraternity, the Alpha Pi Sigma.

The papers of incorporation characterize the Alpha Pi Sigma as a "purely fraternal, patriotic society" which will "own and control all regular meetings in groves" not only in the state of New York but also "in the entire United States."

This new society is said to have been organized by the Klan as a way out of difficulties caused by nullification proceedings against the incorporation of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. These proceedings were due to the fact that alterations were made in the papers of incorporation between the time they were approved of by the Supreme Court Judge, George E. Pierce in Buffalo and subsequent filing in Albany.

Suspicion as to the true nature of this "frat" was aroused when it was learned that Wilson D. Bush, Kleagle and personal representative from Atlanta in New York, whom loyal Klansmen call "His Excellency" is mentioned in the incorporation papers of the society as its president. The phrase declaring that "both sexes" are eligible for membership also aroused suspicion. Then a comparison of these papers with the nullified documents of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan revealed their very startling similarity.

Supreme Court Justice Charles L. Guy, who approved of and consented to the certificate of incorporation, when told what had been learned about the Alpha Pi Sigma, expressed indignation. He said that when he approved the papers of incorporation that they were for a college fraternity.

Robert L. Noah, who drew up the papers declared that he thought Alpha Pi Sigma was to be a general fraternity to which college men who belonged to any fraternity would be eligible.

Lausanne Hall Shows Hospitality

One of the largest affairs on the university calendar is the Lausanne Hall Open House which was held Saturday evening from 7:30 to 10:30, by the resident girls. Gladys Morton, Mildred Tucker, Oma Emmons, Marjorie Kadow, Dorothea Sibley, Mabel Flock, Louise Kauffman, and Erma Taylor welcomed the guests at the door and took them to the receiving line, to be greeted by Laura Best, president, Miss Frances M. Richards, Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, and Miss Edith Denise.

The living rooms on the first floor were attractive with freesias and narcissi, while on the second floor in the living room, pink carnations were in evidence. In the dining room Lelia Johnson, Marion Linn, Laura Phipps, and Erma Taylor presided over the punch bowl, assisted by Irene Clark, Esther King, Helen Lockwood, Margaret Brown, Margaret Johnson, Grace Linn, Helen Baird, Ruth Drew, Wanda Elliott, Elizabeth Vinson, Eleanor Mereweather, and Anna Howell.

During the evening Elizabeth Vinson and Wanda Elliott rendered piano numbers; Mary Keith and Betty Sullivan, violin selections; and Adeane Smith, vocal solos. Phoebe Smith and Beulah Ricks presented each visitor with attractive favors.

On Christmas day in Yamhill, Evelyn de Moss, '23 and Harold Lyman, '22, were married by the Reverend Hiram Gould of Newberg. The couple were attended by Miss Beulah Bryner, sister of the bride and Morris Roach.

Spain Interests The Adelantes

Gay seniors and lovely seniorites lured the members of the Adelante Literary Society to visit Spain, Friday afternoon—not to visit the old Spain of Europe but the new Spain of America.

The program presented was delightfully artistic and entertaining, and was considered by those who attended the meeting one of the very finest of the year. The first number was entitled "Mission Chimes," a violin solo by Kathryn Kirk, accompanied on the piano by Anna Howell. "Enel Camino Del Rey," or "On the Highway of the King," was a most interesting report, given by Anna Howell, of the landscape architecture, and people of New Spain. Ruth Ross, as a dashing torador, and Genevieve Junk, as a charming seniorita gave a delightful interpretative dance in costume. The concluding number of the program was in the form of an original short story entitled a "Spanish Romance" and read by its author, Dorothy Owen.

Poe is Clonionan Theme

The Clonionan Society at its last meeting took up Edgar Allan Poe. Lillian Gustafson gave a sketch of Poe's life, Rose Wetherell read one of his stories, Elizabeth Silver gave selections from his poems, and Elizabeth Lenon discussed his contribution to literature.

Bethel Mayes and Beulah Fanning gave musical numbers.

Willamette University
FOUNDED FEBRUARY 1, 1842
Salem, Oregon
A Christian institution of higher learning. Located at the Capital of the State of Oregon. A beautiful campus opposite the Capitol building. Buildings and equipment attractive and adequate. Faculty of highest character, preparation and teaching ability. Student body clean, able and wholesome. Scholarship high and credited everywhere. Very inexpensive. Rich in tradition and in large and honored alumni. Students wishing work in the College of Liberal Arts, in Law, in Theology, in Music, or in Fine Art are highly advantaged at Willamette. Closest investigation invited. Bulletins on request.

New Webs Give Peppy Numbers

At the regular meeting of the Webs, the new members presented a program which consisted of a number of popular songs by a selected quartette; the latest hits from Hollywood by Bud Strayer, the harmonica artist; a humorous dialogue by Don Grant and Vernon Taylor; agonies on the saxophone by Goodenough; and selections of syncopated classics by the Melody Fiends, Fred Arpke, Q. Cox, and Charlie Swan.

After the program, the society elected the following officers for next semester:
President, Ellis Von Eschen; vice president, Keith Rhodes; critic, Clarence Phillips; corresponding secretary, Leroy Hiatt; recording secretary, Arthur Roundtree; treasurer, Roderick Blatchford; scribe, William McAllister; sergeant at arms, George Moorehead.

On Friday evening the Y. M. and Y. W. cabinets gave a delicious supper for Mr. Miller, the national Y. M. C. A. secretary in the society halls. Afterwards, the guest of honor spoke of the organization of the Y. M. C. A., and then the group discussed the problems of the Y. M. and Y. W. on the campus.

Kenneth Giles, '28, of Medford announced his engagement to Gladys Bridges of Medford. The announcement was made Saturday evening at the Epsilon Delta Mu fraternity house.

The pupils of Byron Arnold, '24 were presented in Waller Hall last Friday night at a piano recital. Mr. Arnold was assisted by Mr. Howard Halbert, of Corvallis, an accomplished young violinist.

The main business of the Chrestomathean Literary Society in its regular meeting, Wednesday afternoon, January 14, was formal initiation of eighteen new members. Grace Jasper as president of the society had charge of the ceremony. After the initiation a brief business meeting was held for the nomination of officers for next semester.

Bernard Ramez, '22, was a guest at Phi Kappa Psi last week.

Star Party Entertains Frosh

Esther Lisle and Gladys Kerns were hostesses for a unique star party at the home of the former on Friday evening. Professor Gazen Squint conducted the group through a number of star games, and then the hostesses served refreshments of jello, cake and cocoa.

The star gazers were Pyra Franklin, Bertha Miller, Madge Reid, Mary Peck, Irene Breithaupt, Bonita Banister, Barbara Gallagher, Helen Mackey, Douglas Wilkinson, Paul Miller, Kenneth Lawson, Arnold Taylor, Paul Trublood, Henry Oberson, Frank Alfred, Ralph Shawn, Kenneth McCormick, Wilfred Thomas, and the hostesses, Esther Lisle and Gladys Kerns. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lisle.

SMITH COLLEGE STUDIO THEATRE
From Upton Sinclair, novelist, social Jeremiah and controversialist, who was hailed by George Brandes, the renowned Danish critic, as America's foremost novelist, comes the following bit of news:
"Samuel Eliot, Jr., a grandson of ex-President Eliot of Harvard, is teaching drama at Smith College, and the young ladies there have organized a Studio Theatre to produce their plays in New York City. Professor Eliot writes explaining that their plays are rather radical, and they want a real respectable feminist play to start out with; so they are opening on November 16th with my "Nature Woman." They are going to produce it as a "period play"—it was written in 1911—and the audience is expected to laugh hilariously over the old-fashioned ideas which were considered radical 13 years ago. I am enormously entertained by the idea of being a back number."—New Student.

WILLAMETTE WILL MEET

University, University of Southern California, University of Denver, Washington State College, College of Idaho, University of Wyoming, winning up the trip against College of Puget Sound at Tacoma.

Coach Rabskopf has not as yet selected the two men to represent W. U. in the clash with West Virginia but the choice has been narrowed down to three men: Joel Bereman, Charles Redding, and Ward Southworth. Southworth is the only one of the three who has had varsity experience though Redding, a freshman, debated four years for Dodge, Iowa, High School, also winning honors in an Iowa State Extraneous contest. Bereman, a sophomore, has had no debating experience but has proved to be a most capable speaker.

Three men will be chosen within a short time to represent Willamette University in the Mid-Western tour. Selection will be made from the present squad, consisting of Southworth, Bereman, Redding, McClintock, and Rawson Chaplin. Two lettermen, Warren Day and Victor Carlson, who were members of the squad have been forced to drop out on account of a lack of time for debate work.

A benefit is to be given on February 6 by the Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity, in order to obtain money to defray expenses of the debate trip. The entertainment will consist of the presentation of three one-act plays under the direction of Prof. Raskopf.

Servilla Ricks, Mary Martin, Helen Arpke. Listen fellows, this is a real tip. Keen women and how they are won has been discussed since time began. Now they of course have a line, you know, yes, I fussed them too. Feed them just as heavy as what they give you, but be careful when they get collic not to put in too much mush. Many a brave shock has fallen here. These are the girls who some night when you do not suspect get tired of lines and if you don't talk straight stuff, out you go. Always have money with you and don't write checks to the Spa, it's not good form. If you are broke, take her to a dance. Get her in free at the door, and then crawl in a window. Money's really essential here.

Home Bodies

Clara Jasper, Adelia White, Hazel Malmstrom, Myrtle Jensen, Peggy Bodine, Mary Spaulding, Lucille Wylie, Hollis Vick, Daphne Molestrom, Carmelita Barquist, Joanne Corskde, Hulda Hegeman, Eugenia Savage, Blanche Billmeyer. Always, wear your Epworth League pin and have a photo of your mother in your pocket when you call on one of these. Be sure and read up some good recipe for making something so you can let her know you're a home man. Don't use too much perfume with these girls and wear your out-of-date suit. If possible have your hand bandaged, sympathy from these girls is great. Cope all you can and in your talk don't mention the last movie but how you liked Macbeth and The Fool. After all, Home Bodies are a fine lot and many boys end with rice in this group.

Pep and Fun

Maggie Arnold, Louise Garrison, Edie Ellis, Helen May Lockwood, Jo Zimmerman. This is the bunch you want to rush when you're looking for a good time. Lines don't go. Be as clever as you can but never crude. They'll ditch you quicker for that than anything else. Do not be too shiekish. And don't refer to What's This Essay on Love. If you want to talk about that subject, work up to it. Take these girls to a party and you'll probably be lonely because the other fellows will want them. In trading pictures give her as many as one as possible. Don't be frivolous and ones in a while be serious. No one is so humorous and funny that they don't enjoy a little seriousness. When you're making excuses to them be careful how you do it, they know all the old ones.

Perfect Pal

Marie Rosten, Mildred McKillican, Cleo Waddle, Mary Keith, Ducky Kelso, Doris Coult, Lucia Card, Ruth Howitt, Gena Thompson, Elizabeth Fairchild, Lois Taylor. Here is where lots of fellows come to see and finally stay. This is the kind of girl who is just the name, a little pal. You can take your troubles to her and she helps you out. No lines or forced stuff goes here. Be your natural self and you'll get there quickest. Ask her advice in things and show her that you like it. Pal around with her and don't let her know you go lots with other girls. Do her every good turn you can, and be sure and eat that she is over to the fraternity for dinner a couple times. In short, "speak for yourself, John."

Cross word puzzles have won a place in the class work of the students at Princeton University. A member of the faculty has offered a prize to the student who will make a puzzle that can have two solutions. The English department will use them if some can be found which are sufficiently hard to be used in examinations.

Frash.: "My grandfather built the Rocky Mountains."
Soph.: "That's nothing. Do you know the Dead Sea? Well, my grandfather killed it."
—COLLEGE GREETINGS

PICK YOUR COOK

All examinations are tedious but the girls of the Junior Cookery class know about refinements of the operation. What would we all think of having practical, vocational, applications made of our semester's work?
Jessie Pybus, Isabel Nafsker, and Lucille Wylie, cooked, served and presided at a dinner given Tuesday as a part of their final examination in cookery.
Dean and Mrs. Alden, Paul and Mrs. Brown, and Miss Latimer were the guests. Their judgment is not public but if any one is interested in selecting a cook, they might give information privately.

The menu was served formally in six courses. It included:
Fruit Cocktail
Lobster Timbales
Roast Beef, Potato Puffs, Creamed Carrots in timbale cases, Brown Sauce with Olives, Raisin and Butter, Perfection Salad
Fig Ice Cream California Sponges

A new system of examinations has been adopted by Dr. Warner Brown of the department of psychology at the University of California. One of the new methods requires the pupils to supply one word to make a sentence complete. In another he must choose among several alternatives. A third consists in giving him a number of statements and asking him to tell of each, whether it is true or false.

According to Dr. Brown, this type of test gives the student more choice of questions, because more ground is covered in less time. He says it exposes knowledge of a subject, rather than mere ability to state things.

Sophomore women at Oregon Agricultural College have selected scarfs of orange brushed wool with three black stripes to be their class designation.

Cake
Coffee and Mints
Then is sufficient to test any girl's ability as a cook and hostess. The other members of the class are going to serve similar dinners on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. Each evening, one girl will set as hostess and the other two will serve. The menu is to be prepared by the three.
Fortunately will be the girls who accurately place each fork, each salt cellar, and who remember the square rule of applying 12 inches may well trouble their dreams but the terrible F will stand for fumbling.—Ranking.

The color scheme for Tuesday was yellow and white and the waitresses Misses Wylie and Nafsker, wore white. Miss Pybus' dress was a semi-formal dark silk.
When the last dinner has been served the girls will be thoroughly examined. Get your private information on the results early and then—Pick your cook.

Ohio State University will distribute 7000 handbills, on which are printed five rules for better sportsmanship at basketball games, at their next game. These rules are on courtesy, fairness, hissing, smoking, and the right of the coach to do the coaching.
Syracuse University is out of debt for the first time in nearly a quarter of a century. Over $1,000,000 has been pledged to its fund. Among the larger gifts reported was one of $5000 from George Eastman, camera manufacturer and philanthropist.

The majority turning in the most money at the University of Nebraska for the campaign to raise funds to send the nuns to Notre Dame will be serenaded by the band.

The old name "gash room" has been retained for the names of the girls study room at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, by protest from alumnus when an effort was made to change the name. The gash room is supported through the sale of candy, chewing gum, apples and pretzels, sandwiches and during examination week. Many needs of the girls are provided for—cards, stamps, envelopes, pencils, penknives, sharpeners, ink, medicines, pins, needles and thread.
