Profs Praise New Public Ad Course at W. U.

Public Ad Heads in South Agree Upon Merits Of Program

Willamette Majors In Line For Graduate Scholarships

Professor William C. Jones has just returned from a trip to California where he had interviews with six authorities on public administration. Without exception all were enthusiastic about the public administration course being offered for the first time at Willamette this year. Our location is unexcelled they said. One of the professors even went so far as to say that if our students would finish Willamette's course of study they would be better prepared than students of his own university.

Among those whom Professor Jones interviewed were: Dr. Frank M. Stewart of the University of California at Los Angeles; Dr. John Pfeiffer of University of Southern California; Dean W. Ballentine Henley, dean of the School of Government of the University of California; Professor Edwin Cottrell of Stanford University; Professor Samuel C. May of the University of California; and Dr. Austin F. Macdonald of the University of California.

Most of the suggestions for changes in our public administration course were very mild as these authorities said we had adequately covered all essential material. They were greatly impressed with our plan of sending liberal art students to the law school for courses in public administration.

All six men said they would be delighted to have any of our public administration students for graduate work. They will give serious consideration to any of Willamette's public administration students interested in scholarships.

Professor Jones considers his trip a great success and says that Willamette is certainly fortunate to have such authorities as these enthusiastic about its public administration course. Jones is hopeful that Professor Samuel C. May, internationally known in public administration and of the University of California, will be on the campus within the next few weeks.

Poetic Prophecies of Weather Are Too Realistic to Be of Any Use

Spring is primarily a poet's season, but because the apple blossoms will eventually and the little lambs grow up, they have capitalized on Summer, Autumn, and Winter too. And to make their influence stronger they have merged into a Poet's Union. Now, the weather prophet, after reading a few poems, predicts for Thanksgiving "brisk and invigorating in the fertile Willamette valley."

Now, poets are all right. I wrote a poem once myself. But at heart I am a Realist. I believe in facing the truth. I take the weather as it comes; in fact, I'm thankful for any weather at all. And I don't believe in dressing it up in any fancy words.

Blue Key Adopts Scholarship Code

Report on Tournament Programs Handed In By Peters

Announcement of New Members Due In Chapel Soon

With the adoption of the scholarship code by which a deserving student will receive aid in attending Willamette university, the report of Warren Peters on the possibilities of the organization printing the state basketball tournament programs, and the selection of two new members to the group, the important highlights of the meeting, the Blue Key, national honorary society, held its regular dinner meeting Thursday noon at the Greenwood confectionary.

The honor code, presented by Randall Kester, was approved by the members present and forwarded to the faculty committee for recommendations. When all changes in the code have been made by the faculty and the society itself, the system will be used to select the honor student each year.

Names of the new members, selected to fill vacancies created by the transfer of two students to other schools, were not made public but will be announced in chapel in the near future.

Weisgerber Still In Scoring Race

Rolling up three touchdowns and a pair of conversions in his two games in California and seven more markers last Friday against Pacific, Dick Weisgerber, Willamette's contribution to the list of national football scoring leaders, maintained his third place ranking during the past three weeks. Weisgerber, with another contest to play, has a grand total of 86 points and is trailing Norman Schoon, 170-pound tackle from Maldwin Wallace college in Ohio, who put on a 31-point spree last week, to run his total to 114; and Art Buck, Carroll college of Wisconsin with 702, respectively. Weisgerber presumably needs to chalk up 25 more points against Whitman tomorrow to capture the 1936 scoring championship of the nation.

Declared by his coach, to be the outstanding pass receiver of the northwest, Laurence Cummins, Missionary end, brings with him the record of being the highest scoring end on the entire Pacific coast.

Presidents' Meet Planned at Reed

The Reed College Student council is planning a conference of student body presidents and council members on the Reed College campus for December 11 and 12. Here various student problems, particularly those of student government, will be discussed.

The president and one council member from each college campus in the northwest are invited. If it is desired two council members may be included in the delegation.

Rudie Wilhelm, Junior, President of the Reed College Student Body, is issuing the call to the conference. The conference will begin with a luncheon Friday noon, and end Saturday evening with a social affair on the Reed Campus. There is a registration fee of $3 per person which covers the cost of food, lodging and entertainment for the conference.

It is believed by the sponsors that this conference will be helpful in creating a better inter-college feeling and will help student leaders to work out mutual problems. The conference is to be wholly student-conducted and suggestions about discussions are from conference members will be included in the agenda.

"Twelfth Night" Turnout is Good

Mrs. Oppen has stated that the play, "Twelfth Night," which the Little Theater Guild has been considering, will definitely be given. There was an excellent turnout for the first tryout and plenty of talent for the various characters.

Nearly all the cast is now chosen, but there will be a final tryout but final tryouts were held Tuesday afternoon.

PASS-GRABBER
Declared by his coach, to be the outstanding pass receiver of the northwest, Laurence Cummins, Missionary end, brings with him the record of being the highest scoring end on the entire Pacific coast.

Dean Schulze Relates Meaning Of Thanksgiving

Doctor Daniel H. Schulze, dean of men on this campus, was the main speaker in chapel Wednesday, November 24, addressing the student body on the topic, "The Meaning of Thanksgiving." Doctor Schulze pointed out that too often we take the good things in life for granted and see only the bad things.

"There are many uncomfortable and unpleasant things in this world which do not minister to the spirit of Thanksgiving. While one portion of a community quaffs the sparkling goblet of delight and feasts another portion draws bitter drops of loneliness, loss, and pain."

Doctor Schulze went on to say that although there are many who can't join us in praise, there are some things which call for gratitude on the part of all. He then stated that though there were some things which go eternally wrong there is an equal number which go eternally right.

A reason for being thankful was given by Doctor Schulze who said, "Unless we have come to take the finer things of life for granted there is yet reason to be thankful this year in this year, in spite of unpleasant reverses which life may offer us as individuals."

In closing Dean Schulze, avowed, "The best and most effective Thanksgiving is always 'Thanks Giving.' The faith, courage, and example of our forebearers need to be made our own."

In his speech Dr. Schulze brought home to the students the fact that this modern world forgets to pause to give thanks for what God gives us and only find time to despair what we do not have.

W Club Begins Building Plans For Score Board

The score board for Sweetland field, to be constructed from the proceeds derived from the recent campus sale of "I helped build Willamette's score board" cards will be ready for use at the first baseball game next spring, according to plans formulated by the "W" club at last Monday's meeting.

The club will continue its service to the school by putting signs on the campus in an endeavor to prevent students from cutting across the lawns. The signs will have only one word on them: "Please."

The group decided to boost the December band concert by the purchase of a sizable bloc of seats and aiding in the sale of tickets.

Ferguson Gives Talk In Chapel

Effects of the World War On the Governments of Today is Theme

Speaker is Well Known in Northwest as Orator and Historian

Reverend D. J. Ferguson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Astoria, Oregon, addressed the Willamette students on "The World War and the World Today," as the chapel speaker Tuesday, November 23.

Dr. Ferguson outlined the effects of the world war on the governments of the warring countries. Twenty-eight different countries have changed their form of government because of the world war, Italy, Russia, and Germany would not in all probability, have dictators today had it not been for the world war. When the allied powers laid out the Wiedker Constitutions for Germany with the calm announcement that now Germany could go ahead with her reconstruction program, the powers made a mistake. The constitution proved fearfully inadequate and there was created the perfect opportunity for a dictatorship.

Austria and Hungary both had to reconstruct their monetary systems and governmental policies as an effect of the great war to end wars.

The superiority of the United States in its reactions to the war was a point of the address. Dr. Ferguson was speaking of the spirit Americans had shown in great crises and mentioned Patrick Henry. Giving his immortal words Dr. Ferguson said, "Patrick Henry said 'Give me liberty or give me death,' and he'd only been married two days."

The loss in human lives was brought in and the students were asked if a war to make the world safe for democracy had proved its worth and whether or not there was to be another war.

Dr. Ferguson is known all over the Pacific Northwest for his ability as a speaker and a historian. Every year finds him traveling to some new part of the globe to pursue further studies.

Dr. Ferguson is an authority on Abraham Lincoln, and has made a thorough study of Lincoln's life.

Elks Schedule Christmas Show

The Salem Elks Lodge has scheduled their annual Christmas Charity Show for December 8-9-10 at the Elks Club Auditorium. This year they are sponsoring the Salem Civic Players in a three-act American comedy "Take My Advice" by Elliott Lester, and produced by special arrangements with Samuel French. It recently had a three-year successful run on the New York stage.

The people of Salem and community well remember the Elks Christmas show of two years ago when "The Alarm Clock" was presented. The show that year scored a tremendous hit, playing to packed houses for four nights, and was witnessed by over 2000 people.

It is the annual custom of the Salem Elks to give aid to the needy at Christmas time and to make Christmas a lot more cheery for the families and children of this community. This year they have another big job on their hands. Exalted Ruler C. A. Howard stated, "The Elks Lodge is proud of the Christmas charity work it has done in the past, and earnestly asks for the cooperation of all to make this year a great success."

Ted Paulus, charity show manager this year, also managed the successful show, "The Alarm Clock" and is pleased with prospects of the play this year. After previewing some of the acts of "Take My Advice" he stated, "I believe the play this year is one of the best that I have witnessed. It has all the fast humor, embarrassing situations and good clean comedy which the public enjoys."

The proceeds of the Elks annual charity show will go to their charity fund for their annual Christmas work. The play will be held at the Elks Club Auditorium December 8-9-10.

Willamette Grads Take Advanced Work at USC

Willamette has four students doing graduate work at the University of Southern California. Bob Utter '36 is attending the government school there. Young-Ho Chin, Chinese boy who graduated from Willamette a few years back, is now finishing work on his Ph.D. Frank Childs and Carl Weiser are also doing graduate work at the University of Southern California.

Continual Panning of Conditions At Willamette Carried to Extremes

By BOB KEUSCHER

Is there anything worthwhile at Willamette University? For the past six weeks, columns of the Collegian have been filled with the wailing and moaning of a number of Willamette students who evidently believe that there isn't anything good in the entire school, and I, for one, am sick and tired of it all.

First, someone found fault with the way the professors were teaching a number of subjects the didn't take into consideration the multitudes of students who have graduated from the university as well-educated men and women who had exactly the same kind of college training offered now, to which no one but perhaps the writer himself paid the least bit of attention.

Borleske's Crew Out To Gain Revenge For Past Defeats

Six Cardinal and Gold Gridders To Perform For Last Time

Vowed to their purpose, Whitman college's veteran football eleven invades Salem tomorrow for their traditional battle with the champion Willamette Bearcats determined to knock over the high-flying Keenemen and gain revenge for licks received in the past two seasons. While nothing but prestige is at stake this season, the game always brings out the best in each team and tomorrow's game will undoubtedly be one of the best of the season.

Two years ago "Nig" Borleske, crafty mentor of the Missionaries, brought, as sophomores, practically the same outfit that meets the locals tomorrow to Salem, and when Johnny "Scouter" Oravec, Dick Weisgerber, Loren Grannis, Mike Balkovic, "Chuck" Versteeg and Co. finished with them the score stood, Willamette 75, Whitman 0. That very day the Whitman lads promised themselves that they would gain revenge for their humiliating trouncing.

Last season the Missionaries all but gained their motive when they whittled 65 points off the score and held the Cardinal and Gold team, paced by the brilliant "touchdown-twins," Oravec and Weisgerber, to a 10-0 count.

Thursday marks the last chance for the Washingtonians to even scores because most of the sophs of 1934 are seniors now and will close their grid careers in the Willamette tilt. In perfect condition and in just the right frame of mind, the Missionaries will put all they have into the turkey-day contest in order to emerge victorious.

Just by way of proving their desire to win tomorrow the Missionaries played their second string men against the Eastern Oregon Normal eleven last week and lost the game, all to allow the regulars to be in tip-top shape for the Willamette fracas.

Mainstays of the Walla Walla squad are the sensational, pass-snagging end, Laurence "Scotty" Cummins, declared by Borleske to be the best pass receiver in the northwest; Horace Whitacre, one of the best passers and punters in the league; Captain Barnes, four-year veteran tackle; and two line

"Thanks a Million"

It's too bad that the American University Student has lost all proportion of the meaning of "Thanksgiving" Day—or is it?

This writer, for one, no longer accepts all the historical ditties he was "learned" in his grammar and high school days concerning the Puritans and Pilgrims and Indians. We are told that the Puritans prayed their thanks—for what? To be more Puritanical? Or to hoo-doo their savage guests?

To the average Willamette student, Thanksgiving, 1936, should be a day on which that student could pay thankful tribute to the work done by those members of the Student Body who have not been satisfied with a day-to-day, room-to-room educational existence; but have made bold to cry out, even with faint voice, against a doldrum student life.

If you must pray, thank your God that you are a member of a Student Body whose soul is slowly but surely rising from its mire of Puritanism to a nobler height of Normalcy. Let moralists moralise, let preachers preach, and teachers teach—but "thanks a million!"

So, little blue boy, when next you laff

Continual Panning

I'm sure the alumni readers of our student publication are wondering just what kind of a school old Willamette has become.

Now, I'm not against student opinion. On the contrary, I'm entirely in favor of students expressing their opinions on some phase of school life that needs changing, but for heaven's sake why can't some one find something in the school that pleases them. And when you find it, dear readers, let's hear from you. Just because the Collegian offers its columns for free argument on school policies, is no reason at all for students to pick the entire institution to pieces.

After all, if Willamette is such a bad school with so many vital things lacking on the campus, why did you enter in the first place?

Student Editorials

Again we wish to present a cross section of campus opinion. One of the following columns was submitted voluntarily and the other was solicited by the editor. Right or wrong we believe they are both worthy of the consideration of campus men and women. Comment will be appreciated. We request that published letters "to the editor" be signed and written as briefly as possible.—Editor's note.

Dear Mr. Editor:

There seems to be a member of our student body who is never happy unless he is running down something or somebody. In fact, as often as I have read his comments, I have never been able to find a constructive criticism. According to this individual our student body is considered as a slave to the customs of society, as an aggregate we are effortless, non-original, and highly un-expressive in thought and action. In other words, according to this individual, we might be considered a complete non-entity.

Personally, however, allowing for the fact I look at most things with a jaundiced eye, I have been unable to find our society in such a deplorable condition as the above would represent. I feel that a person's actions in society, or in relationships with other people, should be restricted by what is so conveniently called "The Laws of Etiquette." It is wrong to suppose that individuals think as the crowd thinks, for our thoughts are concealed, in the most part, behind the wall of good breeding. Such responses are to be encouraged, not criticized.

This same critic maintains that the student's attempt to increase his scholastic standing has become rare. This also is a lack of foresight on the part of our critic.

Education is not based upon the grades received. I feel that the purpose of a college education is to make the individual socially, mentally, and physically capable. The manner in which the individual acquires these traits seems more important to me than his or her grades.

In closing, I would like to challenge the person who wrote "In Response" to point a way out of our social inheritance. Will he please show our highly incapable student body a way to act in public; and above all, will he kindly show us how to think.

Sincerely yours,
RAYMOND BURBY.

TO BE SEEN ON THE SCREEN

GRAND

Everything is merry at the Grand this week, because the Dionne Quintuplets are playing hosts to their many admirers in their latest picture, "Reunion." As a sequel to their first picture, "The Country Doctor," this picture offers the same cast of characters with a few more additional stars. The plot is intriguing, and the acting of the five little starlets exceptional, because they act so humanly. The prize crack of this picture is made by Slim Sumnerville to Papa Dionne during a game of horseshoes. Papa D. makes eight "ringers" in a row, which causes Slim to remark, "You never miss, do you?"

STATE

Following his policy of giving his patrons what they really like, Ed Lewis will present his second vaudeville acts this week end, along with Bing Crosby and Frances Farmer in "Rhythm on the Range," beginning Thanksgiving Day. The gent who steals the picture, however, is that bazooka playing artist, Bob Burns, who turns this comedy into a riot.

HOLLYWOOD

Shirley Temple, in "Poor Little Rich Girl" continues to draw admirers to the Hollywood. As a result, the management announces that the picture will run through Thanksgiving Day. Many patrons have seen this picture two and even three times, so it must be good!

For Willamette, six seniors will also be playing their final football game. They are Charles Veraleog, George Erickson, Bill McAdam, Don Brandon, Bob Yagt, and Darryl Newhouse. None of these men have ever played in a losing game against Whitman and are out to keep the record intact.

The Bearcat attack will be featured by the power drives of the burly Weiszerber and the wide-sweeping runs of Beard and Brandon. If the going gets tough the Bearcats are sure to take to the air with Beard and Brandon tossing the airballs.

Comparative scores give the Salemites a decided edge, but when Willamette and Whitman tangle, dope means nothing, all of which promises the biggest, most thrilling pigskin clash of the season.

Benefit Tea Aids Scholarship Fund

An interesting affair of last Wednesday afternoon was the "Copper Tea" given by the Social Service Committee of the campus Y. W. C. A. as a benefit for its scholarship fund.

Chresto was colorfully decorated for the event, in a motif of gardenias.

Mrs. Paul Ellis and Miss Marian Wakefield received the guests at the door. Mrs. Morton Peck, Miss Helen Pearce, Miss Mary Ann Morange, and Mrs. Roy Lockenour poured. Members of the committee who served were Miss Harriette Foster, Miss Julia Pogle, Miss Rae Hungerford, Miss June Charbeneau, Miss Hannah Kaufman, and Miss Ethel Baxter. Miss Rae Hungerford was in charge of the affair, assisted by Miss Barbara Chapler and Miss Dorothy McGee.

Fraternity Formals Are Highlight of Weekend

The most elaborate formal affairs of the season took place last Saturday when Sigma Tau and Alpha Psi Delta fraternities entertained in honor of Willamette collegians.

Sigma Tau's were hosts for a smart dinner dance in the Mirror Room of the Marion hotel. Small tables were placed around the room and dancing was enjoyed during the dinner hour and following. The tables were centered with attractive white figures and pom poms. Clever programs of white and blue with the fraternity crest were given to the guests. Maurice Binford and his orchestra from Portland provided the dance music. A feature of the evening was the Sigma Tau trio, composed of Jerry Sherman, Bruce Eckman, and Louis Stutz, which rendered several numbers. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Moulton Gatke and Prof. and Mrs. E. S. Oliver.

Guests were the Misses Catherine Faxon, Lunelle Chapin, Betty Savage, Betty Howe, Alice Speck, Katherine Ringe, Clara Lentsch, Charlotte Hill, Charlotte LaDue, Helena Schneider, Jane Fisher, Alene Fairclough, Helen Trulsen, Marian Clenaghan, Betty Lou Lacy, Dorothy Wright, Virginia Beaton, Anna May Unrath, Ina Bennett, Harriet Childs, Dorothy Dingle, Elise Sharp, Betty Williams, Melva Belle Savage, Barbara Chapler, Joy Cooley, Jeanne Probert, June Charboneau, Maxine Beagle, Wanda London, Maxine Goodenough, Birdena Ogden, Ruth Arney, Genevra Pond, Jean Morrison, Dorinne Wilson, Helen Drake, Jeryme Upston, Muriel Stewart, Virginia Moore, Enid Wingham, Ethel Denham, Marguerite Clark, Harriet Weisman, Betty Hamilton, Sue McKensie, Mary Coleman, Rosemary Geneste and Jean Hollingsworth.

Philharmonic to Give Concert

A much anticipated event for Willamette musicians is the opening concert of the Salem Philharmonic orchestra, which will take place December 4, in the Salem armory.

Miss Elizabeth Boylan, former Willamette student, will be featured piano soloist at the concert of the orchestra, which is under the expert guidance of Jacques Gerszkovitch. She is a student of Miss Frances Virginia Melton and has frequently appeared during the latter's Sunday afternoon musical teas. In addition to her playing, she is also interested in composing and has just completed "A Garden Suite" for full orchestra. Miss Boylan has had special coaching with Jacques Gerszkovitch on the Mozart D minor Concerto, which she will play at her first appearance here.

Independent Men Give Line Party

The Independent Men's organization and its guests enjoyed a line party last Saturday night, when, after congregating at Chresto, they attended the cinema at the Elsinore. After the picture, they returned to Chresto for a program of informal games and songs. Chresto had been decorated with balloons. With refreshments of pie ala mode and chocolate consumed, everyone grouped around the piano for group singing led by Cloyd Riffe. Well-liked was a "Meller Drammer" starring Don Buxton, who dragged the heroine, Taro Asai, from the room by a rope around "her" neck, while the villain, Kenneth Hayes, considered himself foiled. About twenty-five couples attended the party, with Dean Dahl and Dr. Ballinger as special guests.

Miss Stella Scurlock, accompanied by Miss Barbara Crookham, was a guest at the Sigma Tau fraternity for luncheon Thursday, November 19.

Curt Ruzik, Ronald Sherk, Bill Wagner, Dick Walker, Grover Williams, Justin Weakley, Fred Weakley, Douglas Olds, Stanley Eland, Kenneth Brunkow, Al Tebbault, Louis Stutz, Bruce Tekman, Douglas Sharp and David Clark, Howard Campbell, Malcolm Waltham and John Robison from Portland.

Hazel Green was the scene of the Alpha Psi Delta formal dance. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Harry Wesley and his orchestra from nine to twelve o'clock. The Thanksgiving decorative motif was used about the hall. A large turkey on a platter was placed in the middle of the floor, and Pilgrim men and women were about the room. At intermission Arthus and Ruth Thomason gave a tap dance accompanied by Ruth Armpriest, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Schulze and Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Jones served as patrons and patronesses.

Alpha Psi Delta guests were Misses Helen Olds, Esther Gibbard, Ruth Chapman, Marian Steigerwald, Mary Fronnet, Evelyn Sherk, Mildred Rickman, Jean Bartlett, Aris Jones, Esther Vehrs, Peggy Peterson, Esther Black, Ruth Armpriest, Marguerite Smith, Antoinette Irish, Bellroie Molloy, Althea Stevens, Lois Miller, Margaret Hauser, Caroline Hunt, Angela Coates, Rachael Yocom, Elizabeth Sears, Mona Starbuck, Lucille Brainard, Alice Unruh, Luella Corn and Margaret Ayers; Messrs. Maynard McKinley, Kenneth Manning, Edward Frantz, Emery Aden, Corlis Berry, Wayne Brainard, Bob Brown, Henry Frantz, Jim Robinson, Max Hauser, Verne Adams, Dwight Aden, Bill Anton, George Billings, Hal Catty, Don Collins, Roy Ferris, Everett Gary, Brant Gard, Frank Guerin, Louis Hershberger, Guy Heimsboth, Glenn Heimsboth, George McAllister, John Kelly, Wilmer McDowell, Harry Mosher and Art Lampka.

Dessert Dance Given Friday

Alpha Psis were guests at dessert dance at the Delta Phi house Friday evening before the Pacific game. The girls had rolled up the rugs in the dining room, living room, and hall, and spangles aided smooth dancing.

Between bites of gingerbread and whipped cream the fellows and girls danced to Marian Draper's piano tunes. Noticed in a corner were Martha Warren and Max Hause doing adagio, while later they were seen practicing several solo steps. The party mixed gayly and broke up at 7:30 to allow everyone time to get to the game. Guests were: Dwight Aden, Henry Frantz, Wayne Brainard, Frank McLeod, George McAllister, Frank Guerin, Wilmer McDowell, Cecil Quesseth, Bob Anderson, Louis Hershberger, Max Hauser, Bob Yeo and Warner Crow.

Members of Alpha Phi Alpha were entertained last Sunday at Betty Galloway's farm home, three miles out of McMinnville. The day was enjoyably spent in playing outdoor games, hiking, and eating. Those making the trip were Lunelle Chapin, Ruth Yocom, Rachael Yocom, Betty Galloway, Betty Williams, Jean Anunson, Helen Hammond, Margaret Engdahl, Lorna Barham, Mary Fronk, Audrey Reid, Grace Jackson, Marjorie Herr, Anoka Contes, Kay Thompson, Norma Fuller, Esther Vehrs, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Galloway, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Yocom.

Miss Anna May Unrath visited in Portland with her parents over the week end and attended the concert given by Kirsten Flagstad.

Miss Sue MacKenzie of Portland was a guest at the Delta Phi house Saturday.

Miss Julia Philip spent the week end in Corvallis, attending the Homecoming affairs there.

First Dinner of Thanksgiving Day Given Thursday

Memories of the first Thanksgiving day were brought to life last Thursday night by members of the International club when they re-enacted the first Thanksgiving dinner at Chresto Cottage at 7:30.

Evelyn Welch was in direct charge of the dinner and was assisted by the following committees: Table decorations, Beth Hall; program, Phyllis Bunnell; room decorations, Martha Okuda and Tota Yada, and dinner preparations, Bill McKinney. The fall motif was carried out in the decorations and the dinner table was centered with a birch bark canoe. Candles supplied the light for the dinner.

Guests invited by the members were Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Baxter, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Schulze, Prof. and Mrs. Lestie Sparks, Pauline Winslow, Rachael Yocom, Martha Warren, Ruth West, Ross Gladden, Everett Gary, Lawrence Morley, and Bronk Williams.

International club members present were Martha Jane Hottel, Kay Alley, Irma Calvert, Muriel Jones, Ardelle Yaden, Virginia Bendixson, Phyllis Bunnell, Dorothy Wright, Martha Okuda, Beth Hall, Mary Jeanette Sargent, Jean Hollingsworth, Evelyn Welch, Helen Burdick, Norma Fuller, Echo Johnson, Marie Bendixson, Olive Clemes, Taro Asai, Chujio Saito, Abe Hakiwara, James Pyke, Bill McKinney, Tota Yada, George Self and Eugene Hibbard.

Flagstad Concert Pleases Audience

Willamette students who braved the dense fog Friday night to hear Madame Kirsten Flagstad in concert in Portland heard a program that rewarded every possible effort. She sang, with a beautiful, clear tone, songs in German, in Norwegian, and in English; and after each number she was returned time and again for encores and the quaint bows with which she concluded each group.

It has been years since a Portland audience showed such enthusiasm. The ordinarily lethargic group would not be silenced, and it was not until the stage had been darkened three separate times and the curtain decisively lowered that the audience rose to go. Even then by far the majority of the group grouped around the stage and with calls for "Encore" and "Bravo, Flagstad" continued to ask for still further songs.

The Flagstad concert is the first on the Paramount Concert series and promises equal enjoyment with the Ellison White group.

The members of Beta Chi were hostesses to a number of guests over the week end. Miss Helen Drak of Camas, Wash., and Miss Rosemary Geneste of St. Helens Junior College, Portland, were the guests of Miss Helen Olds and Miss Jean Hollingsworth and attended the Sigma Tau formal Saturday night. Miss Elina Hinkie of Tillamook was a guest of Miss Pauline Winslow. Miss Janet Mann and Miss Pat Thompson spent Thursday and Friday with Miss Phyllis Pythian at the Beta Chi house, visiting later in Portland.

THE RAMBLING SHOPPER

By Uncle Willie

Hi-de-ho, blokes — uh, folks! After seeing Jim Fowler and his pickled pigs, Uncle can't help but think of Dr. Sherman's insistence that hogs can eat poisoned corn and not be effected by it. Seems to Uncle that he's seen some "hogs" who were pretty well effected by poisoned "corn;" so he guesses it all depends on whether you eat or drink the stuff.

Which reminds Uncle to remind his pals and gals to see Dr. David Bennett Hill to see if their molars are still able to chew their chow. Donchewkno?

Rumblings this past week are the result of Martha Warren's chapel announcement that Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" was to be put into production just as soon as Genevieve Oppen could find an actor for the role of Toby Belch. Personally, Uncle would change the name to Burp, but that is not the question; Toby, or not Toby—that is the question, as Billy himself wrote. But Uncle can suggest that if you are bothered with unnecessary rumblings, just go down to Doc Lewis' Drug Store and let "Doc" help you.

There's no peace in Uncle's domicile since Auntie got a squint at a book in Mr. Gueffroy's Commercial Bookstore, called "The Loves of Casanova," or something. And there's no peace in Dr. Schulze's Psych. of Religion course since Uncle found out that even Bob "Mystic" Anderson and Geo. Self hadn't read "Elmer Gantry." Say, pals, if you want something hot for these cold evenings, just get yourself wrapped up with one of these books. (But don't get scorched!)

ANNOUNCEMENT — Uncle is now writing his latest success entitled "The Twelfth Nightie." He asks his pals not to call it "Willie's Nightie," because it has nothing to do with automobiles. It was inspired by the Howard Corset Shop's new P. J.'s, called Dormetts. Frank Pemberton, who already knew that door mats were things what had the word Welcome on them, was a little surprised to find that the Howard Corset Shop had started to make sleeping tog outfits of them. But don't run off gals; they're really the thing—and so sleep-inspiring!

Say! Don't fail to go down to Bishop's new store and walk around and be surprised! No fooling, Uncle thinks W. U. men are fortunate in having such a haberdashery as the new Bishop's. Classy doesn't even begin to describe it. And, pals, you can wear clothes as snazzy as Geo. LaVatta, and still keep within your budget. Take your troubles to Kenny Manning, and let him clothe them.

You guys and gals don't seem to realize that it isn't every mayor of a city who is willing to bow at your feet, who is human enough to unlace your shoes—and not laugh when your toe sticks through your sock. Yes Sir, pals, none other than Mr. Varney Kuhn is that mayor, and his shoe shop on Court St. is the scene of his daily "salams" to his customers. All he asks is that you don't "salam" the door.

Well, well, well. Here Uncle has written his column without the help of a poem. That will never do. So here goes:

Hey, piddle, piddle, A cat-gut fiddle, A cow filled up with "moon" The dog did laugh and did cavort And to his mate did "croon"

Oh say, have you seen the Football window that Jeston-Miller now have. It sure is a dinger, what with all those action pictures of Bill McAdam, Tootie Becken, Art Gallon, Bill Beard, Darrell Newhouse, and Dick Weisgerber. They were "shot" by Joan Jeston's new trigger man, Nels; and Matesy, they sure are the best pictures I've ever seen of those "mugs."

And so, Uncle leaves with this little bit of philosophy. Even though you can't eat all you can on Thanksgiving— KWITCHABELLIAKIN!

Hill Talks to Wesleyans

Wesleyans met Monday noon with Gene Hill talking on "Thankfulness and Thanksgiving," based on an essay by Dr. Edwin Holt Hughes. All of the members participated in a general Thanksgiving program and discussion.

Louis H. Mazin, ex-W.U., received his bachelor of science degree from Boston University in June. He is attending Columbia University by means of a scholarship in the school of business. He spent the summer serving as adviser in a Y. M. C. A. boys' camp in Maine.

Three-Way Playoff For Passball League Title Scheduled

Physical Ed. Staff Outfit Leading Race

By defeating Kappa Gamma Rho 31 to 29 last Thursday in a hard-fought game the Physical Education men clinched the league leadership for the regular season standings in the intra-mural passball league with nine victories and only one defeat. However, the school championship will not be determined until next week when the three leading teams—P. E. staff, Alpha Psi Delta, and Kappa Gamma Rho—will engage in a championship double elimination playoff series.

The P. E. staff defeated the Independents by the overwhelming score of 49 to 0 last Monday. On Tuesday Kapa Gamma Rho upset Alpha Psi Delta, 27 to 21; and Sigma Tau forfeited to the Independents on Wednesday. The outstanding play of the week was turned in by Ralph Gustafson of the Kappas when he kicked a long field goal from almost midfield against the P. E.'s.

Scoring 18 points against the Independents and 13 against the Kapa's, "Lee" Canessa of the P. E. staff climbed into undisputed possession of the league's leadership in scoring with a total of 57 points while close behind is his teammate Hal Moe with 50 points. Harry Mohr of the Kappa's retained third place with 42 points to his credit.

Individual scorers stand as follows:

"Lee" Canessa, (P. E.) 57 points; Hal Moe, (P. E.) 50; Harry Mohr, (K.G.R.) 42; Basil Anton, (A.P.D.) 24; "Elmer" Aden, (A.P.D.) 23; Frank Guerin, (A.P.D.) 21; C. Lighthouse, (P.E.) 20; L. Rook Hoop Outfit Rounds Into Form

With the season drawing very near, the freshman hoop squad, under the direction of Coach Les Sparks, is rapidly rounding into form.

At the forward spots, two diminutive ball hawks—Cece Queseth and "Buzz" Hagedorn are sure to see plenty of action, possibly alternating at one forward, while Leland Shinn, formerly of Baker, Sam Kyle and Willard Petre, star at Dallas last year, are very much in the race for the other starting spot.

At center, Bill Wagner and Bill Robinson, two lanky pivotmen, both fairly good shots but slow about, probably will get the call. Hank Carey, ex-Independence center, is another possibility.

The guard posts will be filled by Dwight Catherwood, Steve Staynor, and Mel McKibben, with Wallace Turner and Jim Cheatam, other candidates.

Others who will probably see action are Warren Bertelson, Salem, Jack Criswell, Portland; and Don Chappelpe, Salem.

Last Week
W., 13, Pacific 0; Idaho Southern, 30, C. Idaho 0; Gonzaga 5, C. P. S. 0; E. O. N. S. 3, Whitman 0.

In a week that saw three conference teams take whitewashings from outside competition, the Northwest conference wound up its last Saturday of play last week end and left just one tilt—the traditional Thanksgiving day battle between Whitman and Willamette—on its football slate for 1936.

Last Friday's Willamette-Pacific tussle which went to Coach Keene's Bearcats not only gave the Cardinal and Gold gridders their third consecutive pennant, but marked the first time in three years that an undisputed title had been won by any outfit. In 1934 and 1935, College of Idaho and Linfield, respectively, claimed part of the laurels won by the Bearcats.

The turkey-day classic will have no bearing on the championship, but will decide the second place winner.

BACK NEXT YEAR

Forced out for the entire season by a serious leg injury sustained early in the year, Bill Stone, member of the champion Bearcats in 1934-35, saved his one remaining year of competition and will be among the veterans back next fall. Bill is regarded as one of the best blocking backs in the league.

THEY COACHED CHAMPION ELEVEN

Campus Quarterback

By BOB KEUSCHER
(Collegian Sports Editor)

From around the conference comes word of the rapidly approaching basketball season and, if reports now circulating are true, the 1936-37 casaba tossing race will be one of the hottest in years, especially if the round-robin schedule now mentioned frequently is put into action. Except for Whitman, co-champion with Linfield a year ago, conference hoop mentors throughout the league have on hand a wealth of material and should put out teams of excellent caliber.

At Whitman, Coach Borleske has lost last year's stars—Reser, Bierwagon, Clark and others—and must build from the ground up. Only returning regular is Eddie Giest, lanky center, but with several promising reserves and rooks on hand, a pennant contender can be anticipated from the crafty Missionary mentors' camp.

Pacific, under the tutelage of a new coach, Pete Miller, will have a squad built around Ed Ellertson, center, and Chuck Silstrom, forward, both stars last year. John Seim, Mill City high flash last year, is making a serious bid for a regular forward post.

Henry Lever at Linfield hopes to successfully defend his claim to the championship with a quintet built around six veterans from last season including Art Holten, all-conference center and league-leading scorer last season; Milt Robins, Lloyd Morris, and "Swede" Swenson, guards; George Harrington and Ernie Stranz, forwards. John Stauchberg, freshman from Tillamook high, and Jack Walton, transfer from S. Oregon Normal are other prospects.

And now to turn to football just long enough to make a few final guesses. Score today: Right 32, wrong 7, tie 6. Here are this week's selections: Willamette after a terrific battle with Whitman; Washington to march into the Rose Bowl by drubbing W. S. C.; Nebraska to lick O. S. C.; Stanford to nose out Columbia in an intersectional go; and Alabama to win the spot opposite the Huskies in the Rose Bowl.

Girls Now Turn to Maplecourt Sport

Willamette's athletically minded coeds have now turned their attention to basketball, with regular practices underway for the past two weeks. Inter-gym class, inter-class, and all-school teams will be chosen in the near future and actual play will begin early in December. Kay Thompson is the girl in charge of basketball play, with Mrs. Royer, the general instructor.

Soccer play was discontinued a bit early this year when the weather took a decided turn for the worse, and, as a result, the gym class competition was not completed. No all-school all-stars were chosen. On the whole, however, the soccer season was declared a success by the W. A. A. and all girls who took part were awarded their full quota of points toward letters.

Interclass Hoop Play Won by Jrs.

Downing their toughest opposition, the sophomores, 19 to 15, in their first game and then rolling over the freshman and seniors by 25 to 13 and 24 to 8 scores respectively, the junior class basketball team walked off with the 1936 interclass hoop tournament concluded Tuesday noon.

Second best team was the sophomore outfit who trounced the seniors 23 to 13 but forfeited to the rooks. By tripping the frosh 16 to 14 the class of '36 won their only game of the tournament. The freshman outfit failed to show any fire at all and was completely outclassed.

Outstanding players of the tournament were the two junior stars, Bill Dick and Lee Canessa, a pair of transfers from U. of Oregon; Jack Alton and Oscar "Rosy" Specht, soph flashes; and Billy Sutton, diminutive senior star. High scorer of the tournament was Dick, who dropped in a total of 24 points in the three tilts. Box scores:

Wildcats Name 9 Locals, Opponents

Recognizing the prowess of the Willamette Bearcat grid machine as by far the best they met all season, Linfield's football team named nine W. U. players on their all-opponent squad chosen last week.

On the first team were: Hogenon and Becken, guards; Newhouse, tackle; Versteeg, end; Urell, center; and Beard and Weisgerber, backs. Honorable mention was voted McAdam, end, and Brandon, back.
