Willamette Welcomes You

Willamette welcomes prospective students, guests, alums, and townspeople to the 43rd May Weekend. Second only to Freshman Glee on WU's social calendar, the occasion started last night with the barbecue watch and opens officially this morning with a parade at high noon through Salem.

Importance of May Weekend is reflected in this recognition of recent weeks. Test-weary students, bogged down though they may be with orals, comps, house meeting, and an occasional date, always seem to crowd into their schedule the necessary song practices, and meetings of the various committees which help to make this May Weekend a success.

We owe much to Bob Stone, May Weekend manager for 1952, who has worked hard to make this weekend the best in WU's history, and to his committee heads, to numerous to "enumerate."

This year's traditions will rest on our lovely Queen Betty Jean I, and her court, the princesses Patsy Older and Carolann Snarr, who are the rulers of our world for May Weekend, 1952. M.L.L.

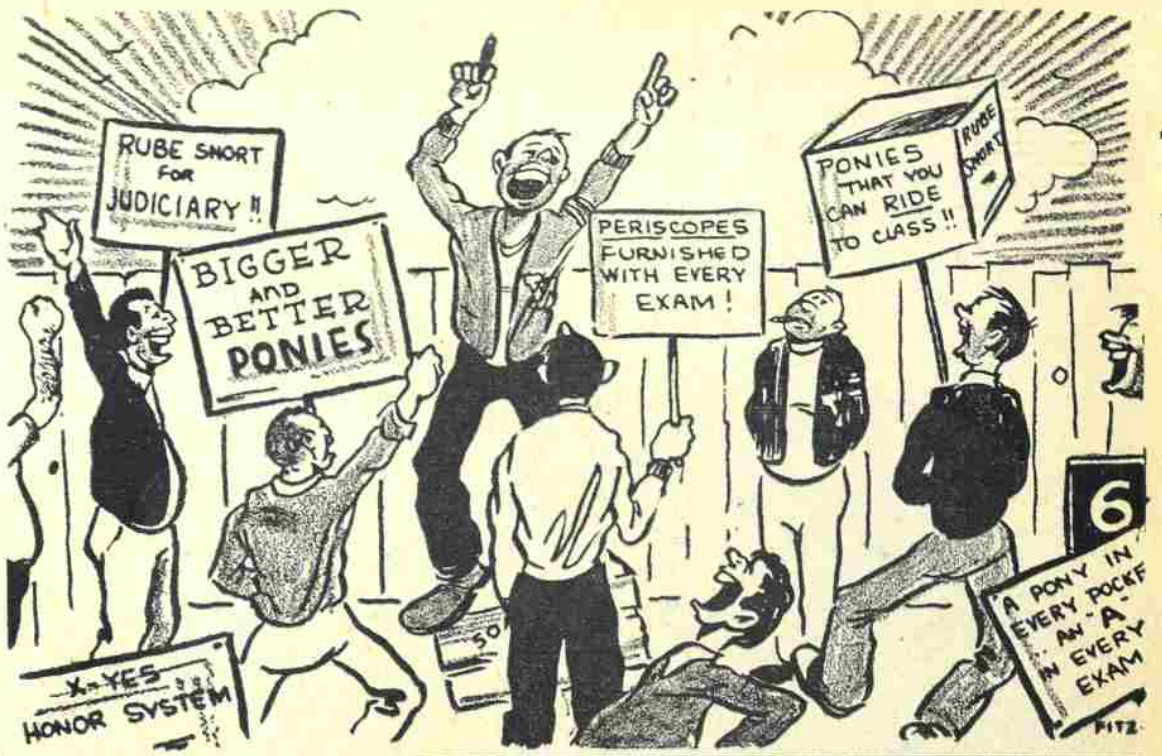

Oregon Exposition

The Associated Students of the University of Oregon have distinguished themselves to the colleges and universities of Oregon once again. The people who are aware of the current student body campaigning at the illustrious home of the Ducks can only pray that the "word" won't spread too far distant as the current political orgy of the members of the ASUO proceeds on its merry way toward making Truman's RFC scandals appear as tame and lilliputian as a Sunday school picnic.

To date, the Emerald (the Oregon daily newspaper) has "exposed" one candidate for the presidency of ASUO as being not "fit to be president of the student body of the University of Oregon" and one fraternity has deplored a man because of his campus political affiliation and his intent to achieve an office through that affiliation. Concealed wire recorders, character assassinations on the question of integrity, and "edited" news stories are all component parts of this distinguished political parade.

Do the students on the Eugene campus realize that rightly or wrongly their actions are deemed by the general public as being representative of the students at colleges throughout the State of Oregon? Does the fraternity in question realize that its action will be held up for public inspection as indicative of the international Greek world? The minority at Oregon who are attempting to put a stop to these immature tactics are to be commended; the remainder deserves only the ultimate in condemnation. M.S.B.

Editor's Note: It is hoped that the Willamette student body will direct their elections efforts in a mature direction toward a serious, dignified campaign period.

Holy Smoke!
Bishop Gerald Kennedy, of Portland, has suggested at a recent Methodist conference that Methodist ministers have restrictions regarding smoking removed from them. Inasmuch as the Bishop is not a smoker the suggestion is all the more admirable.

Community Concerts
has announced its list of artists for the 52-53 season. They are Lily Pons, perennial coloratura soprano, of whom it has been said that "she has reached the point operatically where she should be seen and not heard," Zino Francescatti, who ranks with Heifetz, Menuhin, Milstein, and our own Szigeti as one of the foremost violinists of our time, Manaham Pressler, up and coming young pianist, and the Longines Symphonette, of radio fame. This is a fine series and combined with our own Distinguished Artists and the Portland symphony concerts will certainly give Salem a well-rounded musical fare in the coming season. Meanwhile our own advanced ticket sales have been progressing nicely and attractive posters are up announcing our series.

will be out May 20, reports Joyce Foster, editor, and indications are that it will be a dandy. The UNESCO-sponsored magazine will contain the best of student writing and thought from the various departments as submitted by professors. In addition, however, this year will see a new method for selecting material for the magazine. Students may now submit either prose or poetry directly to the editor where it will be selected by her and her committee for publication — if enough material is submitted to make a representative selection possible.

Here are a few points to consider when submitting your prose or poetry: Deadline is next Friday, May 9. Any entry will be given serious attention and no restriction is placed upon subject matter. Material will not be returned so make a copy of what you submit. No anonymous material will be accepted; entry must include your name and school address — no nommes de plume, please. Entries may be submitted to Joyce Foster or to the Collegian plainly marked ENDEAVOR. If this plan works in giving students an outlet for publication of their writings, it will be continued by next year's Endeavor editor.

bound about September first is Ann Gibbens who has received a full tuition scholarship to the Cincinnati conservatory of music where she will continue to major in piano. Ann is very happy about the scholarship but will be very busy before leaving as she is scheduled to make another appearance with the band as piano soloist and will be presented in solo recital this summer the first or second week in August. Ann reports that Cincinnati conservatory is somewhat different from the Willamette music school in that piano students have practice pianos in their own rooms, and that arrangements are already being made for her to do accompanying at the conservatory. We wish another very talented gal Bon Voyage and the best of luck in a new school.

Florida Has It D.S. from D.C. Kaiser's Circulation Slowed

By Don Scarborough
WASHINGTON, D. C. -(Special)- I just returned from a vacation in Florida — tanned, travel-broadened, and ready for a short period of recuperation. Pres. Truman frequently makes such trips and returns to Washington ready to tackle his many problems such as seizing steel mills, etc.

But I do not think Mr. Truman has ever had five flat tires in three days, slept four nights on the floor of his car, nor has ever traveled 3000 miles safely only to have an accident five blocks from home.

Things like this make a trip interesting and, I'm certain, memorable.

I do not mean to offend anyone from California, but Florida is the ocean resort. I don't see how you could find much to compare with its miles of sandy beaches and its sunshine. We came at the wrong time and missed the bathing beauty contests, but the natural scenery was compensation enough.

I will have to admit the everglades can become a little tiresome.

some. Part looks like a Wyoming prairie, and the rest like a pre-historic swamp. 'Gators are supposed to be a common sight along the Tamiami trail, but they were gone the day we traveled it.

I shouldn't say this either, but a trip through Virginia in the spring-time is enough to make even a devout Oregonian envious. The Blue Ridge Parkway, the Shenandoah Valley, the Skyline drive, and the innumerable historic sites make Virginia one of the most beautiful and interesting states I have ever visited. I can see why one would want to be "carried back."

I returned to Washington in time to help send Tom Scheidel off for West Point. Tom was impressed by Washington, but the weather here left him uninspired and perspiring.

This is just spring. He should return in the summer when, I understand, the humidity becomes something slightly less than intolerable. The temperature, I hear, may rise to 95, the humidity, to 85.

Such weather does not make our two and one-half hour classes any more enjoyable. If you can not find a Washington Semester student in a classroom, dorm, or Library of Congress, look for him in one of Washington's many parks (totaling one-sixth of the land area). No wonder Mr. Bernard Baruch did all of his important thinking in the open air.

Tom probably has his own impressions now of Washington and the WS program. Should anyone become discontent over the facilities and food and Baxter hall let him describe the pleasant surroundings of Clark house (our home for four months).

The next time you buy a 10 cent cup of coffee think of one of my professors. Sometime ago coffee became scarce, rose five cents and Congress made an investigation of several coffee magnates. This prof of mine, a successful practicing public relations man, helped defend a coffee company president, and regrets it a bit each time he pays out a dime for his cup.

His skill may be the public's loss but it was American U.'s gain. He is an outstanding example of the kind of instructors every school should have: a success who devotes part of his time telling others how to do the same.

It is unfortunate that some of the most intelligent persons are not teaching courses in our nation's colleges. They are out making money.

This same professor was chairman of Washington's recent Cherry Blossom parade. It drew 250,000 spectators. Queen Juliana of the Netherlands attracted 200,000. Officials dropped the parade's extra 50,000. They didn't think it was wise diplomatically to advertise the fact that more persons would like to see a parade than to see the Queen.

This should be welcomed news to seniors who have been studying for orals and comps. Prof. Chester Kaiser has been doing the same. Tests for doctorate degrees are a little stiffer, though, and he has been out of circulation for some time. I enjoy seeing a professor study, but when he is finished he will be a Ph.D., a prof at Willamette, and the rest of us will still be undergraduates.

As Production manager of the May Weekend play "Twelfth Night," I would like to express my thanks and gratitude for the cooperation given me by the many production crews involved. I am especially grateful to my faithful, hard-working committee chairmen, whose responsibility it was to carry out orders and meet deadlines. The success of a play depends as much — the people working "behind the scenes" as the actors on stage. To all the personnel of "Twelfth Night," I again express my thanks. Sue Mellor

Students Pick Mock Convo Resolutions

Preparations are advancing for the mock convention to be held at Willamette next weekend, with proposed resolutions to make up the convention platform already selected, Bob Small, chairman, announced.

Registration and preliminary meetings will be held next Friday, and the convention itself will take place Saturday. A copy of the platform will be mimeographed Friday night and presented to the convention to be voted upon.

To Combine Ideas

Resolutions to be presented by Willamette to the committee were decided at a student meeting this week. Four men were appointed to discuss these resolutions and help draw up the platform from proposals by all the colleges taking part.

Bob Schaefer and Jim Wood will present domestic proposals at a meeting of representatives from the other participating schools next Friday night. Lowell Maudlin and Bob Seamster will discuss the resolutions on foreign policy.

Foreign Aid Favored

In foreign affairs Willamette went on record in favor of military and economic aid to friendly nations, enforcement of regional alliances, international trade and reciprocal trade agreements, and United States participation in the United Nations.

Among domestic policies favored were statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, strict enforcement of the Taft-Hartley act, encouragement of business without unnecessary government restriction, adoption of the recommendations of the Hoover commission by Congress, subsidizing farm products when necessary, and granting the government temporary powers to control wages, prices and credit and to allocate materials.

Willamette students opposed unnecessary government restriction of freedom of speech, further extension of compulsory government programs for social welfare, and further government intervention in civil and social matters under state jurisdiction. They condemned the policies of Senators Joe McCarthy and Patrick McCarran.

Festivities of Spring Proceed Under Rule of Betty Jean I

By Margie Leonard

May Weekend, 1952, is under way under the gracious rule of Queen Betty Jean Mullin, who will be officially vested with her royal office in coronation ceremonies tomorrow afternoon.

Meanwhile, the full program of festivities begins this noon with a special parade through downtown Salem. Open cars will carry the royal court and other dignitaries, with the University band and other student groups included in the line of march.

The barbecue at Sweetland field is scheduled for 12:30 with a menu of barbecued beef on bun with sauce, potato salad, carrots, celery, ice cream, and a choice of coffee or punch.

Tickets will be on sale at the field priced at 65 cents for off-campus residents and guests and 30 cents for students in university housing.

Cocking to Head Entertainment

"Maniacs of '52" will provide post-barbecue entertainment, emceed and directed by Rollin Cocking. The greased pole climb and tug-of-war competition between the sophomore and freshmen men follows in the schedule of afternoon events.

Tonight's performance of "Twelfth Night" has been set aside for university students and guests, with reservations blocked in sections for the respective living organizations. Elaborate costumes and a unique setting will highlight the third and final performance of the Shakespearean comedy at 8 o'clock tonight.

Songfest Set for 9:45

Ten campus living organizations will compete in the all-school songfest in the gymnasium tomorrow morning at 9:45. First and second place trophies will be awarded in both the men and women's divisions.

Queen Betty Jean I will be crowned by last year's Queen Alice Adams in coronation ceremonies, complete with the Maypole dance and daisy chain, at 1:30 on the green of Eaton. Winners in the songfest will then be announced and will give a repeat performance of their winning presentation.

Following the coronation, Queen Betty Jean will be honored at a tea at the Alpha Chi Omega house, with all students and guests invited to attend. A baseball game and track meet at McCulloch stadium are also part of the afternoon's activities.

Evening to Feature Dance

The May Queen's ball will transform the gymnasium into a colorful duplication of the ancient Greek May festival setting from 9 to 12 Saturday night, with music for dancing by Ted Becker's orchestra. Informal open houses will be held from 12 to 1:30 at all living organizations, with one o'clock late permissions granted for the women.

The Queen's breakfast will be served Sunday morning from 9 to 11 in the dining room of Lausanne hall by members of YWCA. Following breakfast, the royal court will attend services at the First Methodist church.

Primary Elections Slated Thursday, Friday; Cocking, Scheidel Up for ASWU President

A change in plans for student body elections, just announced by second vice-president Lou Prediletto, will result in primary elections being held next Thursday and Friday, May 8 and 9.

Campaign speeches by the various candidates will be given in next Tuesday's convocation, May 6. Results of the primaries will appear in the following week's Collegian of May 16 along with results of the runoffs of Tuesday and Wednesday, May 13 and 14.

The top three offices of president, first and second vice-presidents have only two candidates running, excluding runoffs for those posts. Tom Scheidel and Rollin Cocking are listed for the top post; Bill Covert and Jim Hitchman will vie for first vice-president; and Paul Jewell and Bob Stone are candidates for second vice-president.

Marlene Vincent, Mary Ellen Phillips, and Amaryllis Lilles are running for student body secretary. The treasurer post will be a contest between Dick Mercer, Marilyn Merz, and Jim Bergmann.

Dick Church is unopposed for yell king while five women have petitioned for the four yell queen positions. Those competing are Augusta Krause, Elizabeth Gunn, Bea Kauffman, Julie Mellor, and Elanore Rigby.

Candidates for first and second vice-presidents, treasurer, and secretary will be allowed three minutes for speeches in Tuesday convocation. One minute speeches will be allowed for their respective managers. Yell queen candidates will lead a yell as a group.

The student body presidential candidates will be allowed to speak for five minutes and managers will be given two minutes to introduce president office-seekers.

Paul Hoffman To Visit WU

Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the advisory board of the Citizens' Committee for Eisenhower, will address Willamette's convocation Tuesday, May 13, at 10 a.m. His topic will be "Youth in Politics." Students from other Oregon colleges will be invited to attend.

Hoffman started out as an automobile salesman for Studebaker following his graduation from the University of Chicago in 1909. From 1925 to 1933 he acted as president of Studebaker.

In 1948 President Truman named Hoffman administrator of the Economic Cooperation Administration. Hoffman retired from his post to become president and chairman of the board of trustees of the Ford Foundation.

Debaters Place At Point Meet

A Willamette debate team composed of Tom Scheidel and Elliott Motschenbacher, won 29th place in the national invitational tournament held at West Point last week.

Accompanied by Dr. Howard Runkle, they made a 2-6 record debating the subject "Resolved that: the Federal Government Should Adopt a Permanent Program of Wage and Price Control."

Previous to the debate Scheidel, Motschenbacher and Dr. Runkle interviewed the Northwest Regional OPS directors, two United States senators, a supreme court judge and several prominent business men.

This victory placed Willamette in the upper three per cent of the nation's debate teams.

Fun and Finesse Displayed in Bard's Comedy

By Darrel deChaby

"Twelfth Night," the third major production by the Willamette university drama department will be seen in its final performance tonight in the Waller auditorium with curtain time at 8 o'clock.

When seen by this reviewer at Tuesday night's dress rehearsal the play contained many moments of fun and finesse and a few lesser moments when the words and intentions of the immortal Bard were somehow lost in the confusion of comic situations. As a production "Twelfth Night" is keyed to a realization of the comic possibilities provided by its setting. In this realization is more than successful. The play is colorfully staged and costumed and swiftly paced—the technique used by director Graunke of having four female attendants juggle props distracting in a minor degree but only because they all have nice legs.

"Twelfth Night" contains some outstanding performances where in the comic essence and charm and wit of the comedy are admirably captured by the players.

Bill MacDougall as the strutting posturing Malvolio gets into a pair of cross-gartered yellow tights, loses himself in a voice and a set of gestures which no mother would willingly recognize and comes across with a vastly amusing characterization. He is an admirable foil in the secondary comic situation of the play wherein he is duped, this apparition, into believing that he is loved by the Countess Olivia, whose servant he is.

Marjorie Leonard gives a sparkling performance as the vivacious Maria, a spirited lass with a ready tongue who really begins to glow when the sun goes down. Maria is one of Shakespeare's most delightful characters and Miss Leonard makes her come to life with all the verve, wit, and ready laughter that her creator intended.

Fred Cummings as Feste the jester, to whom nothing is sacred, revealed a flare for comic acting and a firm grasp of the illusive qualities of his difficult character—and incidentally that he has a fine tenor voice. His performance is resourceful and intelligent; rewarding to the playgoer and in keeping with the intentions of the author.

The Countess Olivia is given another fine characterization by Marijo Ogle. Notable in her performance was her clarity of diction. Some of the play's most beautiful lines belong to Olivia and they were all heard. But Olivia, as played by Miss Ogle, cool and articulate as she was, somehow lacked fire and was rather more a lady than a woman capable of and anticipating the experience of love.

Sir Toby Belch, a roustabout knight with a seemingly endless capacity for cakes and ale and mischief, was delightfully played by Garold Meinke in a spirited characterization. Sir Toby draws not a sober breath throughout the play until, under the temporarily sobering influence of a crack on the pate, he proposes to Maria, leading the observer to imagine that their life together will be one endless practical joke. In league with his command of the cups, Sir Andrew Aguecheek, played to the trunken hilt by Lawrence Monk, Sir Toby draws a great share of the laughs in the comedy. In their intoxicated enthusiasm, however, these two produce some of the lesser moments mentioned by resorting rather to slapstick, alien to Shakespeare, than to projecting their lines.

Others in the large cast include Doug Graham as Orsino, Duke of Illyria; Barbara Remel-meyer, Viola; Fabian, Dick Geer; Curio, Robert Searce; Valentine, Keith Lawrence; Antonia, a sea captain, George Evans; on sea captain, Robert Alfred; Priest, Dave Belch; and Sebastian, Milton McDowell. The four attendants are Dorothea Anderson, LaVaughn Sleeper, Jhanna Beckham and Gloria Nandie Sue Mellor is production manager for the play.

This scene from "Twelfth Night" shows Bill MacDougall as Malvolio frustrated in his efforts to win the hand of Olivia, played by Marijo Ogle. The interruption is provided by a clown, Fred Cummings. Student tickets for tonight's Waller hall performance will be on sale at the door.

Bearcats, Missionaries Ready for Cinder Meet

By Hal Johnson

Blue skies and a fast field may very well see some school track and field records fall when the Bearcat cinder squad faces the track team from Whitman tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 p.m. on the McCulloch oval.

According to 'Cat mentor Chester Stackhouse the milers, half-milers and mile relay team will attempt to set new records if the weather is right. Three men in the field events may hit new records also. Jim Hitchman, who has already unofficially broken his own shotput record of 45 feet and one and one-half inches, Layton Gilson, who has heaved the discus to within 12 inches of the school mark, and Ray Fretheim, who has pole vaulted only two inches short of the Willamette record, have made several good showings this season and stand good chances of setting new records.

As a team, the Bearcats will go into the meet a very slight favorite over the Missionaries. The Washingtonians have made several good showings this season, especially in a multiple meet last week, in which they tallied 77 points. Their nearest opponent had 49 and one-half points.

Whitman Strong

Some excellent individual showings have been made on the Whitman squad this spring too, which will have a fairly strong bearing on the outcome, since their strongest events coincide somewhat with those of the Bearcats.

The strongest competition will come from the high hurdles and the mile. Gloucester won the highs last week with a time of 15 and two-tenths seconds, two-tenths of a second under the Willamette record, and McFadden has run the mile in four minutes and 30 seconds. This is three seconds under the Willamette record set in 1933. The pole vault event will also see some rugged competition. Whitman's Klise was second last week in the vault event which was won with a 12 foot-six inch jump, the same mark that Fretheim is trying to reach.

The Missionaries also won the 100-yard dash, the 800-yard run, the two mile distance event, the shot put, and the broad jump.

Stack Predicts Win

Coach Stackhouse confident of a good showing by his squad in their bid for a third straight conference victory this season. Just how good it is, is dependent somewhat on the weather, for the man-power situation is well in hand, with the making of another team of champions on the cinders. Stackhouse has even ventured a prediction as to the score, giving his own squad a 67-63 edge.

The Jasons are in good shape in nearly all departments. Larry Standifer is back in action after recovering from pulled-leg muscle, which hasn't seemed to slow him down a great deal. Verne Shangle is looking good in the broad jump, and the javelin event is in especially good shape with Stan Neperud and Bob Hall throwing. Hitchman and Merlin Schulze are providing top competition in the high jump and Darrell Corkery has been consistent in the low hurdles.

Golfers Rack Up Two As Wittenberg Stars

The Willamette golf team plays host to Reed college today on the Salem golf course. The Bearcats will be seeking their seventh win of the campaign.

Coach Sam Vokes' squad scored two more victories this past week to run their total to six wins in seven starts. The Bearcats beat Portland State 13 and one-half to 3 and one-half as Bill Wittenberg fired a 67 to take medalist honors. Wittenberg, Ken Baines and Ellis Von Eschen all swept their matches while Dick Church won two points, Dan Callaghan got one and one-half points and Kent Myers received one counter.

The other victory was at the expense of Pacific by a 15-3 count. Wittenberg was again medalist with a 69 while Myers followed close behind with a 70. The whole team swept their matches with the exception of Church, who lost two and one-half points, and Wittenberg, who lost a half a point.

Bearcat Nine Faces OCE Tomorrow In May Weekend Clash at McCulloch

The Willamette Bearcats, who have only a slim mathematical chance of winning the Northwest conference baseball honors, step out of league action tomorrow afternoon and meet the Oregon College of Education Wolves on the McCulloch field at 3:15 p.m.

The Bearcats return to conference play next Tuesday afternoon when they face the Pacific

Badgers on the home field at 3 o'clock. After the Badger tilt, the Bearcats have only two league games on their schedule and those are against Linfield and Lewis and Clark.

Coach John Lewis' team was to meet the Portland Pilots yesterday, but the game was called because of wet ground. This game has been postponed until May 17.

George Connelly or Verne Vannice will receive the pitching assignment for tomorrow's May day game. Mike Glenn will pitch for the Bearcats in the game against the Pacific squad next Tuesday.

The starting infield for both games will have Alva Brown at first base, Cliff Girod at second base, Dave Periman at third base and Elmer Haugen or Millard Bates at shortstop. Harve Koepf will be behind the plate.

In the outfield, it will be Dick Brouwer in left, Denny Elsasser in center and John Markoskie in right. Gene Jones and Duane Shield may start if coach Lewis makes any last-minute changes in the outfield.

In the hitting department, Brouwer leads the regulars with a .418 average. Brown still leads in runs batted in with 21 and Brouwer is second with 15. In extra base hits, Brown has four doubles and two triples and Brouwer has three home runs to lead the team in those departments.

WAA Team Captures Wins in Reed Playday

Dolores Christenson captured top honors in the archery match and Mary Polales won her singles match in the Valley Nine playday held last Saturday at Reed college.

The Willamette WAA team entered four archers in the competition and besides Christenson's finish, they placed third, fifth and sixth. Ursula Glaesar, Kathy Kenyon and Pat Click finished in that order.

Polales won her singles match against Linfield. Mary Lu Ratcliff, Willamette's other WAA entry, lost her singles match. Willamette's doubles team of Ratcliff and Dolores Miller also lost their match.

Linfield will be the tennis competition for Willamette's WAA squad next Thursday afternoon on the local courts.

'Cat Cinder Squad Wallops Badgers, Retains Unbeaten Conference Record

Willamette's unbeaten track squad notched their second straight conference win of the year by drubbing the Pacific Badgers 95-36 on the McCulloch oval last Friday afternoon.

The Bearcats showed plenty of strength and depth in the meet as they captured 10 events and swept four while tying for another. The win was the tenth consecutive victory for coach Chester Stackhouse's thinclads.

The four events which the Bearcats swept were the mile, two mile, 880-yard run and the low hurdles. Pacific captured first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the 440-yard run and the mile relay. The high jump ended-up in a four-way tie with two men from each squad sharing honors.

Jerry Mellis of Pacific, the only double winner for the losers, won both the dashes for his team while George Stewart in the 440 and the relay team were the other two winners for the Badgers. The relay team was composed of Mellis, Stewart, Ron Schmidt and Roger Kolmeyer.

Winners for Willamette were Larry Standifer in the high hurdles, Verne Shangle in the broad jump, Layton Gilson in the discus, Ray Fretheim in the pole vault, Jim Hitchman in the shot put and Bob Hall in the javelin. Fretheim and Gilson missed breaking the school marks in their events by two and 12 inches respectively. Fretheim vaulted an even 12 feet while Gilson threw the discus 128 feet and five inches. Hitchman and Merlin Schulze tied Bob Holzgang and Bill Jarnigan in the high jump.

The clean sweeps in the distance races were turned in by Wally Boe, Rod Beals and Ralph Adams in the one mile and Boe, Beals and Don Empey in the two mile with Boe finishing first in both runs. Darrell Corkery won the low hurdles with teammates Standifer and Rollin Cocking following right behind. The other shut out came in the 880-yard run with Bob Goff and Mike Hovis finishing behind Adams.

Willamette's Chance for Pennant Slim As Eastern Road Trip Proves Fatal

Losing three out of four games on their road trip, left the Willamette Bearcats with only a slim mathematical chance of capturing the Northwest conference championship.

Coach John Lewis' squad dropped a twin bill to the Whitman Missionaries by scores of 2-1 and 8-6 last Monday at Walla Walla. The Bearcats split the double-header against College of Idaho last Saturday in Caldwell as the Coyotes won the first game 6-5 and lost the second 13-5.

The Bearcats now have a 3-4 record in league play with single games with Pacific, Linfield and Lewis and Clark remaining on the schedule.

In the Whitman series, Sid Aronson was credited with both wins as he relieved the starting pitchers for Whitman. In the opener, he came on in the tenth and pitched to only three batters as his teammates scored the winning run in the last of the tenth. In the nightcap, Aronson pitched the last four innings to gain the victory. Benny Holt and Andy George were the losing pitchers. Both games were won on unearned runs.

In the second game, Alva Brown connected for a grand slam home run. The ball sailed over the left field fence some 400 feet away.

After trailing 5-0, the Coyotes scored three runs in both the fifth and sixth innings to win the opening tilt from the Bearcats. Dan McFadden was the winning hurler and George was touched for the loss.

In the second game, the Bearcats led all the way to win the 13-5 decision. Mike Glenn gained the victory while Roger Sayre was tagged for the loss.

Sig Squads Hold Undeclared Records As Intramural Softball Race Tightens

The Sigs, a smooth working softball machine, remained atop of both the "A" and "B" intramural league standings as of last Wednesday's action. The "B" loop leadership was determined last night when the Sigs met the Betas, but the result of the game was not received in time for publication.

In the "A" league, the Sigs defeated the All-Americans 13-6 to increase their winning streak to four straight. The Phi Delt are close behind with a 3-0 record. Lou Prediletto pitched his mates to a 10-8 victory over the Betas last Wednesday after winning from the AA's the day before.

In the "B" league four teams hold 2-2 records as upsets spot the softball results. The "A" league has yet to see an upset as the stronger teams of the league have continued their winning ways.

The upset of the week in the "B" league came when the Betas knocked over the Baxter team by a score of 10-7 last Wednesday night. The Betas were backed by the fine pitching of George Adams. The winners had gone down to defeat the night before at the hands of the SAE's by a 3-2 count in an extra-inning thriller. The All-Americans defeated the SAE's 6-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Larry Martin in Wednesday's second game.

All-Americans Remain Atop Minton Standings

The All-Americans and the Phi Delt are the only undefeated teams in intramural badminton play as second round action finished last Wednesday night.

The AA's lead the league with a 3-0 record. The Phi Delt have won their only two matches of the season. A three-way tie for third place is between the Sigs, the Betas and the SAE's. Baxter is in the league cellar with a 0-2 record.

Oregon State Rooks to Be Next Target For Unbeaten Bearcat Racket Squad

Coach Les Sparks' undefeated tennis team will be after win number seven as they meet the Oregon State Rooks tomorrow morning. Starting time is set for 9:30 a.m.

In addition to OSC match tomorrow, the 'Cats are scheduled to leave on a short road trip next week as they meet Lewis and Clark next Tuesday and Pacific next Thursday. Coach Sparks and his squad are also aiming at the coming conference meet which is to be held at Whitman in Walla Walla on May 15. Each conference school enters one doubles team and one player for the singles.

The high-riding netmen have run their victory skein to eight straight with wins over Oregon of Education, Southern Oregon, Lewis and Clark and Linfield in the past week.

Last Wednesday the Bearcats dropped the Linfield Wildcats 6-1 at McMinnville. The Bearcats won all four singles and split the two doubles matches. Winners in the singles were Chuck Cartier, Dave Wisnom, John Ambler and Bob Bell. The doubles winner for Willamette were Bill Laswell and Bob Packwood.

Tuesday the netmen defeated the Lewis and Clark Pioneers 6-1 on the local courts. Singles winners were Cartier, George Watts, Wisnom, Ambler and Jim Morgali. The doubles team of Laswell and Packwood won again as the Bearcats lost only one match to the Pioneers from Palatine Hill.

Willamette defeated OCE last Monday 5-2 on the loser's courts and defeated SOCE 6-1 on the home courts last Saturday.

STAN NELSON

Where'd the Ball Go?

"Little mistakes" proved costly to Willamette's struggling baseball crew in a disastrous road trip to the eastern schools. Coach John Lewis stated that there is no outstanding team in the conference and that Willamette could have just as easily swept the trip, but those little mistakes beat them. "You never can tell what is going to happen in college baseball," he told a luncheon gathering at Walla Walla—then his statement was ironically proven that afternoon on the baseball field as the Bearcats dropped two heartbreakers to Whitman—both of them booted away on those exasperating small, but mostly mistakes.

There can't be any kickback or hard feelings, however. The old axiom that the good teams win the close ones still has plenty of truth to it. Willamette's cleaning on the road trip leaves them with a 3-4 record and only a mathematical chance for the title. Sitting pretty right now are Whitman and Lewis and Clark with records of 4-2 and 2-0. The same thing that happened to the Bearcats could easily ball up the Missionaries or Pioneers because of the balance of the teams this year.

Lewis Names His Best: Girod

Names in the news: Cliff Girod, the hard plugging second sacker who is whacking the cover off of the ball at a terrific .387 clip . . . Says John Lewis of Cliff: "He's the best ball player I've had at Willamette; he's hitting awfully hard and hasn't made a miscue in the field yet" . . . Bill Van Horn who tied the school dash record in a 10 flat performance against the U of Portland. Van may be the man to beat the century 10 second mark . . . Stan Neperud, the strong armed sophomore who broke Bob Hall's school and NW conference javelin record with a 206 ft. 4 in. toss—looks like quite a battle between Hall and Neperud from here on in . . . Alva Brown who hit a 400 footer at Whitman . . . one of few ever smacked over their 370 foot wall which, incidentally, sits on a bank. Brown has tremendous power when he pulls that ball.

Queen and Court Honored At 'Ancient Pagan Festival'

An atmosphere of an ancient pagan festival will prevail at the Queen's Ball tomorrow night in the gym, to be held from 9 o'clock until the last dance at 12.

At one end of the floor will be a small platform with a throne on it for Queen Betty Jean and her court, princesses Carolann Snarr and Patsy Oider. Forming the entrance to the platform will be a silhouette with a garland of flowers stretching to the throne. Evergreen trees and a small pool will complete the decorations, planned by Carl Blanes.

Bill Becker and his orchestra will provide music for the dance, and after intermission Bob Stone, May Weekend chairman, will announce the queen's dance.

Programs, designed by Alice Girod and Arlene Deakins, will be peach colored with a silhouette on the cover.

Chaperons will be Mr. Stanley Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Chester

Stackhouse and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Beal.

Honored guests are Dean Regina Ewalt, Dean Mark Hatfield and Dean and Mrs. Robert Gregg.

Flowers are not in order for the dance.

Sue Mellor Given Award

Highlight of the Founder's Day banquet, held Monday evening at the Pi Beta Phi chapter house, was the announcement that Sue Mellor had received the Amy B. Onken award for Lambda province.

The award is presented to the outstanding senior in the province each year for her campus activities, service to her sorority, scholarship, personality, and school loyalty.

Dona Mears made the announcement of Miss Mellor's award during the banquet which was attended by active members and alumnae of Pi Beta Phi.

The tables and rooms were decorated with bouquets of lilacs and tulips. Mrs. Cornelius Bateson, president of the alumnae group, presided at the banquet, which commemorated the 85th anniversary of the founding of Pi Beta Phi. Ann Gibbens played piano selections and the Pi Phi quartet sang. Dr. G. Herbert Smith was guest speaker.

Alpha Chi's Fete Queen

Honoring May Queen Betty Jean Mullin and her court, members of Alpha Chi Omega will hold a reception Sunday from 3 to 5 o'clock at the chapter house.

Greeting the guests at the door will be Nancy Lumijarvi. Queen Betty Jean Mullin, princesses Patsy Oider and Carolann Snarr, Mrs. Elvah Stanley, and Jane Pinkerton, president of Alpha Chi Omega, will receive visitors.

Refreshments of punch and cookies, prepared by Betty Royer, will be served. Joyce Foster will arrange flowers in an informal spring setting, and invitations have been sent by Lola Brooke.

AWS Convention Pictures Posted

The bulletin board in the library this week contains information concerning the IAWS Convention, which was attended by Nancy Lumijarvi and Harriet Bennett during spring vacation in Berkeley, California.

The board includes a picture of all the girls attending, clippings on the convention, program outline, and a map of the University of California campus where the convention was held.

ist for the choir and has sung for many campus affairs. A brunette from Portland, Betty Jean plans for a career in television or fashion work. Activities chairman of her sorority, Alpha Chi Omega, she has also been Varsity princess and is now senior class secretary.

Active in drama has been Patsy Oider, a senior from Medford. A member of the Willamette University Players, she had roles in "Papa Is All" and "Winter's Tale." Blonde Patsy is a member of Delta Gamma, and has served as chapter president and Panhellenic representative. A home economics major, Patsy will teach in the primary grades in Portland.

Sociology is the major of fair Carolann Snarr, who is from San Bruno, Calif. A senior and member of Pi Beta Phi, Carolann has served as Panhellenic representative, social chairman, and house manager of her sorority. Active in campus affairs, Carolann is a member of the YWCA. Her plans for the future center around social group work.

The Amen Corner

Rev. Walter A. MacArthur will give a chalk talk to the Wesley fellowship group this Sunday evening. Rev. MacArthur, who is the pastor of the First Methodist church at Roseburg, has been a speaker at MYF summer camps and church conferences. Supper and recreation will be at 6 o'clock in the First Methodist church with talk and worship following.

Y Sponsors Breakfast

Student body members and high school guests are invited to the YWCA breakfast at Lausanne hall dining room Sunday morning from 9 to 11 a.m.

Hostesses will be Shirley Hutchinson, YWCA president, Marjorie Aldinger, past president, and Shirley Swoboda.

Miss Swoboda will seat the queen and her court on their arrival at 10 o'clock. The royal court will attend the Methodist church following the breakfast.

Spring flowers will be arranged on the tables and throughout the room. Suits, hats and heels will be worn for the affair.

Tickets are now on sale in living organizations and will be available at the breakfast Sunday morning. Price of the tickets is 50c for men's living organizations and Lausanne hall and 75c for other guests. Money from the affair will be used to send YWCA delegates to Seabeck.

Jewell Elected Wesley Prexy

Paul Jewell was elected president of Wesley at a meeting held last Sunday. Other members elected to the cabinet are: Norman Lawson, vice-president; Mary Jo Ewell, recording secretary; Stuart Shaw, treasurer; Willis Ludlow, worship chairman; Lola Brooke, program chairman; Lisbeth Shields, community service; Tom Foster, world friendship; Judy Fullager, recreation; Vernon Groves, morning worship; Hal Hargreaves, song leader; Sally Benjamin, historian; Ann Klindworth, OMSM representative; Paul Baker, member-at-large.

One O'Clock Late Pers

One o'clock late permissions will be granted for women tomorrow evening following the Queen's Ball, which will end at 12:30 p.m. The decision to grant 1 o'clocks instead of 3 o'clock late pers, as announced previously, was made by the Social Activities board early this week. Open houses at living organizations have been cancelled, according to the announcement made by Felix Calkins, student body social chairman.

BAG's Sponsor Freshman Tea

Beta Alpha Gamma, sophomore women's service honorary, will give its annual tea Monday from 4 to 5 o'clock at Cresto cottage.

Invitations to all freshmen women with grade point averages of 2.5 or above have been written by Betty Breakey. The 13 BAG members will explain the functions of the honorary, and Carol Emerson, secretary, will show this year's activity scrapbook. Refreshments, arranged by Betty Howat, will be served.

Traditions Date Back to '06; 43 Festivals Reveal Changes

By George Evans

May Day traditions dated back to pagan spring festivals almost before the start of history. Willamette's traditional May Weekend, though not nearly so old, dates back over quite a period of time—1909 to be exact. That year, Hattie C. Beckley, who is now Mrs. G. C. Bellinger, was Willamette's first May queen. She started the succession that has continued through 46 years, Betty Jean Mullin being the 46th queen to take over the throne.

To this first coronation have been added such accepted customs as the May Queen's ball, may pole dance, tug-of-war, greased pole climb, parade, May Weekend play, and most recently, the inter-fraternity sing.

The last two, the play and the song contest, have probably undergone the most change since their origination. It wasn't until 1942 that the play was sponsored by the ASWU. Prior to this it had always been a production of the junior class. The sing was originally the inter-sorority sing and was first held in 1944.

The actual coronation itself was for many years held in the Greek garden at the east end of the library. This year, weather permitting, May Weekend manager Bob Stone hopes to hold it in front of Eaton hall. Attempts have been made to hold the coronation in the sunken garden of the State Capitol, but success has been nil because of the weather.

Students will have a chance to see last year's queen, Alice Adams as she returns to the campus to perform the annual ceremony of crowning the new occupant of the throne. Alice is now teaching in Tualatin.

For the first time since the Navy V-12 unit left the campus, a Willamette military unit will perform in the parade. The May Weekend parade will see the Willamette AROTC unit stage its first public review.

After this weekend, the 46th annual May Weekend will have been written into the books as history. The crammed-full-of-activities weekend with its springtime spirit of fiesta, flowers and femininity will be over for another year, when the 47th queen steps to the throne and dons the crown in celebration of another week of splendor.

Wayne Morse

Wayne Morse Emcees Convo

Wayne Morse, Republican senator from Oregon, will serve as honorary chairman of the mock convention next week, Bob Small, chairman, announced.

Educated at the University of Wisconsin, Senator Morse has a J.D. degree from Columbia. He was on the faculty of the University of Oregon from 1929 to 1944, holding the title of dean and professor of law during most of that time. He has been a senator since 1945.

Horseshoe Print on Elbow To Be Subject of Mock Trial

By Lois Mulcahy

What would you do if you were kicked by a horse as you approached him from the rear? This will be explained at a mock trial presented by the law school in the last of the Faculty Forum series next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the music hall.

This is a personal injury trial presented by a group of law students under the guidance of Professor Charles A. Jens.

In this horse case the plaintiff is alleging that the defendants horse, while being approached from the rear, kicked the plaintiff, injuring the elbow; that the defendant carelessly, negligently and unlawfully failed to notify the plaintiff of the horse's mischievous propensity to kick. The plaintiff is asking damages in the sum of $10,000.

The group of third year law students will try to simulate court room and court proceedings so that if any student is ever called into court he will know what takes place. They will attempt to explain and answer all questions asked by the audience.

Dean Seward P. Reese was formerly scheduled as the speaker representing the law school.

The series of lectures is under the direction of Dr. Edward Kollmann and is offered to foster an active academic program on the faculty level which will encourage understanding of subject matter and problems in various fields of the arts and sciences.

Students, faculty and townspeople are invited to attend the mock trial.

Senior Artist Reveals Work

Betty Jean Simpson, senior art student from St. Helens, Oregon, is exhibiting her art work on the elements of design in the Art building until May 17.

The exhibit features woven place mats and napkins designed with a combination of driftwood color slats and textured thread. Also shown are linoleum block printing and silk screen work.

Miss Simpson is displaying a mask as the result of papier mache work. The mask is three dimensional of free form and is composed of verticle and horizontal plates. She notes that the plaster of paris form for the mask was made with special emphasis on tactile qualities.

Senior Beach Trip

Sign up lists for the senior beach trip are now posted and all seniors who plan to go on the trip must sign a list by May 7, according to Doug Nicoll, class president. They are posted in Collins, Eaton, and the Music School.

Ten Organizations to Sing

Ten campus living organizations will vie for two coveted winner's trophies at the annual all-campus sing to be held as part of the May Weekend festivities tomorrow morning in the gym. The fifth annual event will be marked by first place and runner-up trophies in both men's and women's divisions.

Alpha Chi Omega and Beta Theta Pi are seeking to repeat last year's role of winner in their respective divisions. Alpha Chi Omega has won five times since the beginning of the women's contest in 1944 and Beta Theta Pi has won in every instance since 1948 when national fraternities first entered the sing.

Women to Start Sing

The contest will get underway at 9:45 a.m. with Alpha Chi Omega leading off in a field which includes about 350 participants. Each group will sing one house song and one semi-classical number in any order and this chorus will sing "What Is This Thing Called Love?" and "Dream Song" and will be led by Jane Foosee.

Delta Gamma is scheduled next with "I'll Be Seeing You" and "Cream Rose" and is to be led by Harriet Aller. A group from Lausanne-Bishop will follow singing "May Day Carol" and "Lausanne House Song" and will be led by Barbara Young.

The fourth group in the women's division will be Pi Beta Phi singing "If I Loved You" and "Follow the Arrow" and they will be led by Jodie Johannaber. Completing the list of women competitors will be the Chi Omega chorus to sing "Charlottetown" and "Songs in the Twilight" and it will be led by Dorthea Church.

Betas to Begin Second Group

The first group in the men's division will be Beta Theta Pi to sing "Meadowlands" and "Sons of the Stars" led by Bob Bain. Bill Bissell will lead the Phi Delta Theta group in "Comin' Up the Mountain, Children" and "Dreams of Phi Delta Theta" and it will be followed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon led by Bill Covert and singing "Make Believe" and "S. A. E. Sweetheart Serenade."

Sigma Chi is number four and will be led by Herb Brower in "I Only Have Eyes for You" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." The last men's chorus will be Baxter hall led by Chuck Johnson in "Througn a Long and Sleepless Night" and "Baxter Fellowship Song."

Rules Call for 25

Rules governing the sing call for at least 25 members in each group and the renditions must be a cappella. The trophies will be presented by Queen Betty Jean I at the coronation and the two winners will give a repeat performance.

Judging this year will deviate from last year's point system with each judge naming a winner. The groups will judge in three divisions, the first of which is interpretation which includes style, the appropriateness of the tempo for the selection, dynamics and diction. The second division will be tone quality, and the third will be musicianship, which includes rhythm, pitch, harmony and phrasing.

The winning songs will be broadcast over KOCO as a part of a special May Weekend program.

College Offers Drama Awards

Lewis and Clark college has announced ten $100 scholarships for the third annual Fir Acres Summer theater of modern plays. Summer theater work will begin June 9 and extend through August 8 under direction of Elizabeth Davis Gardiner.

The tuition scholarships are open to qualified applicants regardless of age, training or experience in acting, stage craft and dramatic production. Winners will be selected May 18 on the basis of tryouts before the summer coaching staff. They will receive regular college credit.

The repertory will open with "Two Blind Mice" and will be presented July 3, 4 and 5. There will be a new play each week throughout July.

Applicants for scholarships may contact Mrs. Gardiner at Lewis and Clark college, P. O. Box 149, Portland.

Announcements Here

Senior graduation announcements will be ready to pick up next Monday, May 5, at the Willamette university bookstore, according to bookstore manager Mrs. Delsia Larson.

Festival Manager New Rotarian

Bob Stone, 1952 May Weekend manager, was chosen by the student council Wednesday for Rotarian for the month of May. Stone is a junior from Port Angeles, Wash., and majors in political science.

The Rotary post was awarded to Stone on the basis of his fine job done as May Weekend manager. He is also president of Baxter hall and has an outstanding record in school activities.

Party to Entertain Mothers

The Willamette Portland Mothers' club will entertain mothers of prospective Willamette students at a tea to be held Thursday, May 8, at 1:45 p.m. at the Neighbors of Woodcraft hall in downtown Portland.

According to Charles Paeth, director of admissions for Willamette, the purpose of the tea will be "to allow present Willamette mothers to become acquainted with mothers of future Willamette students and to answer their questions concerning university plans for their sons and daughters."

Betty Jean "B. J." Mullin, popular Willamette soprano, will start off the program of entertainment. She will be followed by violinist Doris Loder and Edna Marie Hill on the piano.

Speakers will be Mark Hatfield, dean of students; Regina Ewalt, dean of women; Robert Gregg, dean of the college of liberal arts; Charles Paeth, director of admissions; Sherm Bliss, representing the student body; and Nancy Lumijarvi, representing the associated women students. G. Herbert Smith, Willamette university president, will speak if he is able to attend.

There will be two tea tables. Pouring will be Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Robert Gregg, Mrs.

Robert Fenix, and Mrs. Melvin Geist.

The tea will be preceded by a business meeting for members of the mothers' club at 1 p.m.

Paeth considers the function "a very excellent thing, providing the all-important opportunity to become acquainted on a family level.

Springer Travels Contest Open

Dr. Martha Springer, associate professor of biology, will represent the University at a meeting of science teachers from schools throughout Oregon in Portland tomorrow.

While at the meeting Dr. Springer will attend discussions on a coordinated program for teaching science beginning with the first year of grade school and continuing throughout college.

Tomorrow's meeting is under the direction of the Portland schools, with representatives from all educational institutions in Oregon invited.

All contestants wishing to enter the annual Doney oratorical speech contest must contact Dr. Howard Runkel on or before Tuesday, May 6, in order to be eligible for participation.

Speeches are to consist of 10 minute long orations. The contest will be held on Thursday, May 15, during the regular chapel period. Only men students are eligible to compete.
