PLAY TO BE STAGED MARCH 20

German Society To Again Appear Before Public.

CAST COMPOSED OF TALENTED ARTISTS

Professor Walsh Whipping Old and New Materials Into Shape for "Neffe Als Onkel," by Friedrich von Schiller.

Johann Christoph Friedrich von Schiller's "Neffe als Onkel," which will be presented on March 20 by the Teutonia Verein, promises to be of equal merit, if not better, than their successful production, "Minna von Barnhelm," of last year.

The story is based on a comedy of errors due to the marked resemblance between Major Dorsigny and his nephew, Franz Dorsigny. From the start the fun is fast and furious, and continues throughout the entire play of three acts.

Professor Walsh has not completed the selection of the members of the cast as yet, but will do so very soon. The dramatis personae consists of: Major Dorsigny... Lester Proebstel Frau Dorsigny... Elwina Schramm Sophie, their daughter... Ruth Hodge Franz Dorsigny, their nephew...

Charles Hall Frau von Mirville... (to be selected) Lormeuil, Sophie's fiancee... Harold Jory Valcour, a friend of Franz... Roland Pfaff Champagne, a valet to Franz... Read Bain A Notary, and several minor characters, to be selected.

The Gemuetlichkeit Club of the Salem High School will present a one-act farcical sketch as a preliminary to the curtain. The co-operation of this society is greatly appreciated and will certainly help to increase the interest in the play itself.

The fact that Merwyn Paget himself is at the helm of the financial side assures a splendid house and he is sparing no pains to work up a great deal of enthusiasm for the event. He has secured stage settings which will be elaborate and will be the equal of the scenery of last year, both from an artistic and an aesthetic point of view.

In an interview the manager wished to go on record as saying that popular prices will prevail, and that while some are under the impression that the play is to be under Interest Prevalent.

Considerable interest is being manifested in this club organized for mutual improvement and enjoyment in the study of the French language and literature. Some two score persons were present to aid in the organization, election of officers and a discussion of the methods of business management.

Committees Selected.

A very capable man was elected as the first president of the club.

The following committees were appointed: A finance committee to determine the amount of dues to be required, and a program committee

LOCAL FIVE IS PURSUED

MULTNOMAH IS ON TRAIL OF VARSITY QUINTET AND PLANS VICTORY.

Multnomah is coming! Five of their strongest chiefs are on the trail of our warriors. They are due to arrive on the campus about dusk on Saturday evening. During the night a great conflict is sure to take place. The students will be out in full force to see the excitement.

Multnomah Strong.

The Multnomah lineup is exceptionally strong. McRae, an old Willamette star, is with them. Darling, former O. A. C. center, and Rossman, from the University of Minnesota, are also strong men to contend with.

As to the outcome of the game there is little doubt in the minds of those who know. That our boys will be defeated by a large margin by the strong club aggregation is little questioned.

School Behind Team.

It is just at such times that the loyal spirit of a college to its teams shows up to the best advantage, when a season has been spent in developing new material and the not overly strong team is meeting a strong experienced lineup. Next Saturday night has been reserved by every student to attend the last game of the season. The rooting squad will be given its opportunity. The newly resurrected band will be there with all its brass, and all that noise can do will be done to cheer and rouse the home team to do their best. The support which such a team needs will be given in full measure and any students who might in the past have questioned the Willamette spirit will witness to it from their own experience.

Home Lineup.

The lineup for the home team for Saturday night is somewhat uncertain. The dopest has, however, picked as a probable team the following: Homan and Tallman, forwards; Carson at center, and Rowland and Flegel, guards.

WASHINGTONITES HONOR WASHINGTON

Northerners Prove the Ability of the Sound Inhabitants by Giving Excellent Program.

In commemoration of the birth of the lad of hatchet and cherry tree renown, special chapel exercises were held Friday morning under the direction of the Washington club. Sam Russell, president of the club, presided and all numbers of the program were given by members of the organization.

After an introductory speech by Mr. Russell the following program was rendered:

Hymn... "America" Prayer... Dr. Henke Piano Solo—"Fifth Nocturne"

...Miss Florence Cooke Vocal Solo—"Star-Spangled Banner"... Miss Florin Lachmund "Washington"... Harvey Tobie Trombone Solo... Clarence Van Slyke "Mount Vernon Bells"... Quartet Hogue, Barnes, Bagley, Hanke.

Miss Corinne Lachmund accompanied on the piano. The Washington Club was organized last December through the efforts of Harvey Tobie and George Odgers, for the publicity and social purposes. Much work has already

THOMAS B. KAY GIVES ADDRESS

MILLER, HARRISON AND OTHERS FAVOR AUDIENCES WITH WITTY SPEECHES, WHILE SWEETLAND DELIVERS MASTERPIECE.

From the time the chapel doors opened until the last strains of the "Ode to Old Willamette" sifted out into the night air, the spirit of Old Willamette filled the auditorium from the basement to the roof—the very rafters re-echoed the feelings of the evening. The old memories, recalled by the yells and songs, brought tears of gladness into the eyes of many of the old graduates, and the recollections of the many happy hours spent in Willamette seemed brighter and dearer than ever. The old locomotive, starting with the regular rhythm, made a thrill of anticipation start through the minds of the old alumni. The thoughts of many ice cream robberies and the midnight hazing parties of long ago, crept in and crowded the thoughts of work and worry far out into the oblivion of forgetfulness. The faces of the faculty the morning that the old, submissive cow was found complacently sleeping on the chapel rostrum and their subsequent actions—all these things passed rapidly before them as song after song, and yell after yell, made them recall that they, too, like those now present in the University, had once been active creators of Willamette "pep" and spirit.

As each speaker dwelt on some phase of college life, a tremor of satisfaction and gladness seemed to seize the graduates, and they resolved to put their Alma Mater on a foundation just a little higher than the one she now occupies.

Glee Club Performs.

Marching up the old rostrum steps with firm and steady strides, the royal Glee Club men, Willamette's best advertisers, took their places on the platform, after being introduced by Paul Homan, acting chairman of the evening. From the moment the Oxford music-master, Dean Mendenhall, struck up the familiar chords of "The Way of the World" until the lingering notes of the pleasing encore ceased to reverberate, the audience enjoyed the melodious harmonies above mentioned. The continued cheering of those assembled clearly showed that Willamette admirers have a warm spot in their hearts for the Varsity Glee Club.

Alumnus Speaks.

E. Kinney Miller, '05, then advanced to the edge of the platform; in fact, so close as to cause some of the more susceptible co-eds to shiver with delight, and started his memorable address, "The Olden Days." Dwelling on the virtues of the teams of "yesterday," Miller showed how Willamette had ever been a home for real athletes, men who could do real things in a creditable manner. Mark Savage, an old-time mass-player who once supported the cardinal and gold, and many other ex-warriors had their

ALL CABINETS ARE TO GATHER

WILLAMETTE TO BE SCENE OF MANY INTERESTING MEETINGS.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet conference will be held at Willamette from March 27 to 30. Miss Fox has charge of arranging the program, and any of the girls who know her will be certain of the excellent qualities of the conference. Miss Butler has been secured for presiding officer, and this point alone makes us sure of a good week-end.

Schools Represented.

The schools represented are: University of Oregon, Albany College, Oregon Agricultural College, Philomath, Willamette University, Salem High, Chemawa, Eugene High. With these schools we are assured of a valuable exchange of ideas as well as inspiration from the lectures and classes.

The reception for the girls will be held Friday night, March 27. Then Saturday, at 12:30, the Summer Conference Luncheon will take place. This is always a delightful affair, and is one which none will care to miss.

Cabinet in Charge.

The new cabinet will have charge of the local part of the arrangement. These are as follows: President, Mildred Bartholomew; Vice-President, Lella Lent; Secretary, Esther Emmel; Treasurer, Anne Ketel; Devotional Chairman, Genevieve Avison; Social Chairman, Beryl Holt; Bible Study, Anne Ryan; Mission Study, Violet Maclean; Rest Room and Summer Conference, Keith Van Winkle; Extension, Inez Gottia.

Miss Estelle Chappell was hostess at a large dinner party Saturday evening complimenting Prof. and Mrs. Robert Walsh. The dining room was prettily decorated with red carnations and ferns.

Prof. Wallace MacMurray and Earl Flegel were the guests of Prof. and Mrs. Walsh at dinner on Sunday.

OBSTINATE BIRD REFUSES TO FLY

Theologue Fears to Hurt Creature's Feelings and Refrain From Hurling Bricks.

(By A. Sparrow.)

"No, I am sure it is not a joke on me; at least it hadn't ought to be. You see, it was this way: Laden with a pocketful of salt, I was sent out by Prof. Peck to study the methods of flight of the various birds that infest the campus. I spied one sitting complacently on the little shrub near the chapel watching the Kloshe Klub cook prepare the indomitable cream potatoes, and chirping lustily whenever the door at Lausanne opened and the odor of bean soup filled the atmosphere. The little creature was aware of my approach, but knowing my sweet and peaceful disposition, it did not offer to fly, so I saved my supply of salt. He had light brown feathers, and—" "Did he have a red chin?" asked another.

"Or was he the kind like I saw that stands on his head to drink the sap?"

"No," he retorted, "he was only an ordinary sparrow. Well, I got nearer and nearer, advancing on the line followed by the Spiral of Archi-

Varsity Aspirants Are All Well Acquainted With the Ropes and Maintain That They Will Make the Contest a Hot One.

A contest of more than ordinary interest is the local tryout of the Intercollegiate Prohibition League, which will be held in Waller Hall Auditorium, Friday evening, February 28, at 8 o'clock.

This contest has always been an exciting one and always calls forth the efforts of Willamette's best orators. This year's tryout promises to maintain the reputation of those of past years, as several very excellent and forceful speakers are working for the honor of representing the Varsity in the State Prohibition Oratorical Contest, which will be held in Newberg some time next month.

Locals Strong.

The local chapter of the I. P. L. is one of the strongest in the Northwest and its orators have always carried off honors. Several years ago Harry G. McCain won first place in the State and the Pacific Coast Contests and second honors in the National Contest. Last year Jacob Stocker carried off second place in the State.

Orations Spicy.

For Friday evening's contest the following orations have been submitted:

"The XVIII Amendment".... Miss Mildred McBride "Our Next Step".... Glen MacCaddam "A Social Conversion" Frank Francis "The Liquor Traffic and Social Progress".... Jacob Stocker Several popular Varsity musicians have been secured for musical numbers, and the evening's program promises to be very entertaining and instructive.

The apartments of Fred Chit were the scene of a unique but much enjoyed affair Friday evening, when he entertained at a four-course Chinese dinner party. The service and dishes were truly Chinese. The latter part of the evening was spent in conversation on subjects of Oriental life. Those present were Alfred Hanke, Mr. Tong, George Odgers, Mr. Yaa, Reade Bain, Fred Chit.

Track Work Progresses Under De Bra's Guidance

Training for track has been in progress for some time. The track in the Stadium has been utilized daily except when the weather permits of outdoor work on the track of the athletic field.

Prof. DeBra, who is assisting in the track work, says: "Our first purpose is to give every man a thorough physical training; and, second, to develop a track team. By accomplishing our first purpose we will succeed much better in our second."

As regards a track team. It will be hard to fill the places of such men as McInturff and Francis. Small is out and will be in the best of form for the sprints, and Mills is still out for the horizontals. Little can be said of the new material. The quantity of it is encouraging, while the quality can be better judged later on. It seems certain that a number of good distance men will be developed.

THE Homecoming Day celebration, held last Saturday, was the beginning of what can be one of the most worthy events of the school year. By having the alumni, the friends of the institution and the students all banded together on a common occasion to do honor to the warriors of the Cardinal and Gold, in that manner we will create a feeling of comradeship and mutual responsibility that will keep Old Willamette ever moving onward to a higher goal. It is up to the students to make this celebration a success, and although the showing Saturday was quite impressive, yet, as a whole, the students did not boost the proposition so much as was in their power.

When students congregate for the purpose of cheering for the grid-iron players or any other person mentioned as eligible by the yell leader, it is only fair that they be perfectly square in their actions. Last Saturday some of the personal element entered only too conspicuously into the cheering. It takes a liberal-minded man to be a good booster. If persons feel that they are unable to make their personal feeling of antagonism subsidiary to the main issue under consideration, it is only fair that they either refrain from deterring others from being absolutely fair-minded or educate themselves sufficiently to become strong enough of will to be square themselves on such occasions. The public is a harsh judge.

While general spring house-cleaning is in order, The Collegian staff will undergo a thorough remodeling. Only those who actually perform the regular work assigned them will be retained on the staff.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

In a fast basketball game on a slippery floor, McMinnville College defeated the Chemawa Indians, 30-22.

The Montana quintet was completely outclassed in the games with the Utah Aggies and U. of Utah, the scores being, respectively, 72-31 and 82-17.

After losing five conference basketball games to the U. of W., Oregon got "sweet revenge" by defeating her opponent, 24-9, in the last game of the series.

O. A. C. succeeded in giving the U. of W. basketball team its first defeat of the season in a fast game, played on the O. A. C. floor Thursday night. The score was 20-13.

The W. S. C. basketball team has defeated Whitman in two games of the last series of three, thus giving the Aggies the lead in the eastern division of the conference.

If the plans of Bishop Scadding materialize the girls of U. of Oregon will have a new dormitory by next October. It is to cost $15,000 and will accommodate thirty women.

It is estimated that in the United States $1,900,000 is annually spent on intercollegiate athletics, while scholastic athletics cause an expenditure of $71,000.—Oregon Emerald.

Columbia has officially made soccer football a part of the regular training in gymnasium work. At least 600 students will be required to play a game twice a week. A champion squad is to be selected from this number.—U. of W. Daily.

President Landes of the U. of W. says green caps for Freshmen foster a better class spirit, and, being a mark of distinction, aid them in becoming acquainted with others. All Freshmen have not the usual distinguishing mark—strange as it may seem!

The Board of Visitors at the U. of Virginia, which corresponds to our Board of Regents, will consider at its coming meeting the proposal to have a woman's college in affiliation with the institution. As is known, most of the state colleges and universities in the South do not admit women.—Evergreen.

At the U. of Oregon a faculty committee has been chosen for the purpose of establishing a plan for prescribed instruction, as is used in Eastern colleges, and dispensing with the elective system. The student will have his course mapped out for him, with probably a few electives.

CAMPUS NOTES

Harry Critchlow spent a few days in Salem last week.

Leland J. Bond, '17, has returned after a week's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Flegel were Salem visitors the latter part of the week.

J. C. Vandervert, a former medical student of Willamette, spent Sunday in Salem.

Miss Krenning, after a week's absence, has made the student body glad by her reappearance.

Mr. Harrison, commonly known as "Brick," was the guest of honor at the Kloshe Klub on Sunday.

Mr. Laurence Todmeim of the Portland Y. M. C. A. was on hand for the exercises Saturday evening.

It seemed like old times to hear Carl Hollingsworth's hearty laugh ringing out through the halls.

The Sophomores are glad to hear of the convalescent condition of their friend and classmate, Mr. Little.

Glen McCaddam, the lusty Glee Club manager, spent the week-end transacting business at Marshfield.

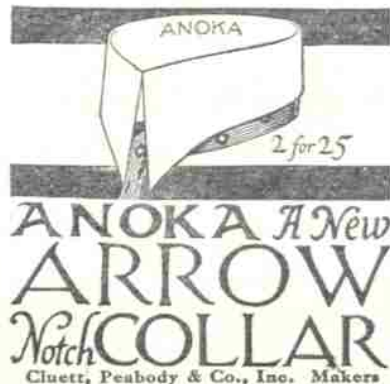

Lost, strayed or stolen, one moustache belonging to Professor DeBrae. As yet no reward has been offered.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated last Friday morning in chapel when the Washingtonians gave a delightful program.

Among the many out-of-town guests to the Award day exercises were "Brick" Harrison, J. B. C. Oaks and Austin Flegel, Jr.

Prof. Von Eshen's classes went free three days last week on account of the professor being subpoenaed as a witness on a case in court.

To the dismay of the "Dear Professor," the alarm clock went off in Analytics class last week. Professor Matthews declares that the incident was unpremeditated.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swarthout have returned from their honeymoon and are residing at 140 Superior street. Swarthout says that young men had "better not call for several weeks, as he has a good rifle, loaded with buckshot and salt, and a fine double-barreled shotgun handy. No trespassing allowed.

Meetings on Mondays.

It was decided to hold the regular meetings of the club on the first and third Mondays of each month at 8 o'clock in the Library Auditorium.

The meeting last week was concluded by a lecture in French, given by Monsieur Payen, which was profitably enjoyed by those present.

SOCIETY NOTES

Charles B. Harrison was the guest of honor at the Kloshe Klub at dinner Sunday.

The Hon. R. A. Booth of Eugene spoke to the Y. W. at their last meeting. His subject was "The Woman of the Twentieth Century."

One of the largest functions of the week was the five-course chafing-dish luncheon which the men of the "W" Club gave in the dining room of the Kloshe Klub, Saturday evening. The room was effectively decorated with pennants and banners. Dr. G. J. Sweetland, Dr. Fletcher Homan, State Treasurer T. B. McKay, E. Kinney Miller and Charles B. Harrison were the guests of honor.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the First Presbyterian church at Corvallis, Wednesday evening, February 18, when Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McBee, became the bride of Arthur Swarthout, the Rev. J. R. Bell officiating, the ring ceremony being used. The church was beautifully and artistically decorated with greenery and masses of flowers. The happy young couple left immediately for a short honeymoon, after which they will be at home at 140 Superior st., Salem. Mrs. Swarthout is a member of one of Oregon's oldest families and is a graduate of O. A. C., where she was popular in society circles.

been done in advertising Willamette in the State of Washington, and plans have been adopted for further work in this line. Members are expected to be especially active during the summer months in trying to persuade people to attend Willamette.

This is a worthy work and it is to be desired that more students in attendance at Willamette will organize like clubs for the spreading of their university's fame and influence.

Miss Fox of Y. W. C. A. Takes Fatal Step.

Cards were received on the campus announcing the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Freeman Fox, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A. for the Northwest, to Norman Hooper. The marriage is to take place in 1915.

Play to Be Staged

the auspices of the society itself, it will be a school affair and representative of the very best of Willamette talent.

As part of last year's cast is to be seen in action behind the footlights again, one may easily see that the talent will be of the best. Rehearsals started on Monday evening and will go on now at a rapid rate. Professor Walsh is particularly well-fitted for the directorship, for he has successfully staged a number of plays in addition to "Minna von Barnhelm." His enthusiasm is taking, and, with the hearty co-operation of the students, the evening of March 20 promises to be one to be long remembered in the minds of ardent lovers of Deutsche Sprache.

"BREAKWATER" TO CARRY SINGERS

Marshfield to Be First Stop, While North Bend, Coquille, Myrtle Point and Bandon Constitute Other Points.

Arrangements have been completed for the Spring trip of the Glee Club through the maritime towns of the Coos Bay region. Glenn McCaddam, manager of the club, returned early this week from his advance trip through that country, having secured engagements in five different towns and enlisted the support of the High Schools in each place. It is probable that about twenty men will take this trip and, although the club is showing splendid early season form, daily rehearsals will probably be held until Spring vacation.

The Glee Club will embark on the good ship "Breakwater" the afternoon of March 31 for their trip over the calm Pacific to the Marshfield shores.

The schedule for the engagements is as follows:

- Marshfield—April 3.
- North Bend—April 4.
- Coquille—April 6.
- Myrtle Point—April 7.
- Bandon—April 8.
- Sunday, April 5, will be spent in Marshfield.

Returning, the club will leave Marshfield on Saturday, April 11. To the men this trip will excel all previous voyages in excitement and novelty, while to the neighboring sharks encountered en route this trip will prove by far the most pleasurable and profitable of all time.

Mac says he had a most delightful trip, among the hearty people of the coast. While there he called upon F. L. Grannis, W. U. '06, who is teaching in Marshfield High School.

The program which is to be presented has not been completely planned. "The Mascot" will be used on the trip, while the sketch for the home concert is yet to be produced.

The personnel of the different parts was given in a late issue. One omission was made, however. Mr. Mills will hold down the position of waiter—he will feed the fishes.

overcome in advancing the athletic interests of the institution. "Brick's" little talks are always appreciated by the students and the manner in which they received his thoughts clearly shows that he is losing none of his old ability as a stump speaker.

President Gives Awards.

The crowning event of the evening came when those who had labored long and hard for the Cardinal and Gold received their official "W's" and sweaters. The leaders in baseball, basketball, track, football, debate and oratory each carried away with them the coveted trophy and the memory of the words of President Homan as he presented the awards to each representative. Congratulating them upon their athletic ability and the commendable manner in which they had upheld the honor of their institution, President Homan further spoke of their duty toward their Alma Mater, and brought before them the fact that loyalty to one's school is the earmark of true sterling worth. Many a proud heart throbbed with joy as the President held forth the prized emblems to the winners.

"Ode to Willamette."

The last number on the evening's program, "Ode to Willamette," left the audience in a reflective frame of mind and as each person filed out the front chapel doors it is not idle speculation to say that more than one person was secretly planning to do something worth while to help the plucky Cardinal and Gold, and to put Old Willamette on a plane far above that of any institution in the country.

Banquet Held.

Following the chapel services, a banquet was held by the "W" men in the Kloshe Klub dining rooms.

Miss Elmo Ohling, ex-'16, was the week-end guest of Miss Pennebaker. Next week's lecture, "Hydrotherapy," will be given by Miss Davis. Monday, March 9, Dr. Fisher will talk on "Nervousness."

The Young Women's Christian Association enjoyed a most helpful address, "The Twentieth Century Christian Woman," by Hon. R. A. Booth. The Misses Gertrude Eakin, Ruth Hodge and Eva Hogue, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Eakin, attended the State Christian Endeavor Society at Albany, Feb. 21-23.

The Misses McMahon and Wastell entertained most delightfully Friday evening, "Rook" and music entertained the Misses Harding, Poisal, Avison and Kuntz, and Messrs. Van Slyke, Hager, Homan, Todd, Lund and Russell.

Last Monday night the women of Lausanne Hall elected officers for the new semester. Following are the results: President, Ava McMahon; Vice-President, Ione Lewis; Secretary, no election; Treasurer, Flora Housel, and Devotional Chairman, Addie Tobie.

The first quarterly reunion of the original "Black Sheep Society" was held at the Thompson residence, Friday evening, Feb. 20. Carrie Jacob-Bond, songs and "English monkey" were enjoyed by the Misses Cooke, Lent and Thompson, and by Messrs. Van de Vert, Doane and H. Irvine.

Friday evening the Misses Lornsten, Samson, Hicks and Manning gathered around a chafing-dish for the specific purpose of making fudge. Later in the evening the Misses Ogden and Floria Lachmund joined the candy cooks. Miss Lachmund entertained the company with songs, self-accompanied on the banjo (tennis racquet.)

The Women's Hygiene Class greatly appreciated the lecture on "Public Hygiene and Sanitation," by Dr. Morse of the State Board of Health. The subject was treated from a very practical viewpoint. Many helpful suggestions, concerning water, meat, milk and other food supplies will be of inestimable value to the future home-maker.

Miss Tasker—Say, Editor, do you recall your last week's item concerning the folks who went to Portland to witness "Hamlet," etc.?

Editor—Why, I have a faint recollection—

Miss Tasker—Well, you didn't record all the names, did you?

Editor—I put in all co-ed names, but—

Miss Tasker—Well, I'm positively sure you left out Max Ball's name.

Mr. Carl Hollingsworth, '13, the "Hall brothers" of 1912-13, was the dinner guest of Mrs. Lena Kramer last Thursday evening. After refreshments a reunion of "old girls" was held in the parlor. Old-time songs were sung and folks of other days discussed. "College Chums," an original lyric written by Lucille McCulley, and set to the tune of "Sweet Genevieve," was the final rendition of a pleasant evening.

Probably the most romantic occasion of Hall life occurs when electricity grows dim, candles glow bright and song ensues. This is a time to which every "new girl" looks forward with the keenest anticipation, and to which every "old girl" turns backward with pleasant memory. As it happened, for the first time this year Lausanne lights died out Monday eve, Feb. 23, "a la temps dessert," and candles were brought forth to the strains of "Just a Song at Twilight."

Wednesday evening a double quintette of fair Lausannettes might have been seen meandering across the campus and through the Capitol grounds, their progress being somewhat like the "Charge of the Light Brigade." A few moments later beautiful melodies wafted upon the evening breezes brought a response from Miss Krenning. Waller Hall was then favored with a little ditty entitled "You Need Sympathy." Of course this was appreciated to the fullest extent. Next the songsters wended their way to the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Homan. Fortunately, the President was absent. However, Mrs. Homan received the benefit of the serenade. "Last, but not least," the "W" Club men who were holding a meeting in the lower left-hand corner of the Chapel building, had their ear drums cracked to the tune of "Good Night, Dears."

Miss Krenning Addresses Men's Society.

One of the most profitable meetings the Philodorian have held this year occurred last Wednesday evening when Miss Krenning spoke to the society on the subject of "Friendship."

She discussed this absorbing subject from the standpoint of the emotional, intellectual and spiritual, dealing with many points of interest and giving helpful instruction concerning them.

The meeting closed with a question box by means of which the members acquired information on points not previously touched upon and of interest to them.

Young Man Makes Good.

Coming into a new town where he had but few acquaintances, and with the pluck of a Trojan, a local man has made good as a dealer in Salem. His work in the tailor line has received recognition from some of the leading needle manufacturers of the Coast and the East as well. Although but new at the work this energetic worker has shown his special ability along the tailoring line. The name of the firm which he has established here is Spaulding's Cleaning and Pressing Co., 495 Court Street.

Another address of the Y. M. Vocational Series was given in the Websterian-Adelante Halls Sunday afternoon by "Brick" Harrison, '12. His subject was "Business as a Vocation." After carefully eliminating the other vocations, he dwelt upon the qualifications and requisites of a business man. The various business fields and their opportunities were discussed in closing. Harrison is a very forceful speaker, and made a "hit" with the men. His "spicy" stories added much to the talk.

Obstinate Bird Refuses

medes. The bird twisted its head around so queerly that I retraced my steps for fear that the creature would wring its own neck and I did not wish to have its murder on my conscience. I unwound it all right.

"After watching the manner in which it blinked at the crows on high and the method used to oil its feathers, I grew impatient. The time was flying and the bird was not. How could I see how it flew unless it got busy and did it?"

"Well," asked a bystander, "did you see it fly?"

"No, it did not feel disposed to use its wings, so I went on, but I will get to see it yet."

Oh, ye gods of deluded dips, why didst not the youthful theologian smite the feathered "kweeture" with a brick?
