McCleod Calls First Meeting Of Executives

Erickson Appointed As New Intramural Sports Head

Lindstrum Takes Over Homecoming Actions; Wilson to Help

Faced with the monumental task of the year's appointments and various budget appropriations, the executive council members met for the first time this year Tuesday evening at the home of Leslie J. Sparks, graduate manager.

The business meeting was preceded by a dinner at which the council members were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sparks.

George Erickson, physical education major, was appointed intramural sports manager and Junior Lindstrum, last year's basketball manager, received the homecoming manager appointment. Otto Wilson, also a Salem junior, was named as alternate.

The honor code committee, almost non-existent last year, was selected on the basis of ability for active membership. The committee will be instructed to act in accordance with their full constitutional authority.

The seniors named on this committee were Constance Smart, Warren Peters, and Dwight Aden. Miss Smart and Peters were members of the last year's organization and were re-named this year according to the present practice.

Three juniors are eligible for membership on this committee. Those selected were Ruth Yocom, Irma Oehler, and Leroy Casey.

Neil Scheffer and Bill Clemes were appointed from the sophomore class.

Bill McKinney, campus speech and drama organization head, was named music manager. This is the first appointment of its kind for the past few years.

The graduate manager's salary was raised from 2 percent to 2 1/2 percent of gross receipts. This change did not affect the general office fund, set at 9 percent at the last budget re-appointment.

The graduate manager's salary now amounts to 2 1/2 percent, leaving 6 1/2 percent instead of 7 percent in the remaining office budget.

The office budget, presented by Sparks, the general fund budget, presented by Mel Viken, student body second vice president, and the social budget, presented by Lillian Graham, first vice-president, all received council approval.

Tentative plans were discussed for the entertainment of the Nevada football team when they come to the Willamette campus next week end, and excursion plans for the Oregon State game this week were made.

English Club Meets

The English club will hold its first meeting October 11, when activities for the coming year will be discussed. The members of the club will be divided into small groups and each group will be given a leader. The different groups will treat the various phases of English such as literature, creative writing and dramatics.

Students majoring in English are eligible for membership, and students minoring in English are eligible for associate membership.

Collegian Introduces Helpful Hints For Males During Social Season

The power of the press is about to swing its massive influence behind a new proposed "How to get acquainted with that beautiful girl" article. The columns of this paper will endeavor to show both new and old students the art of introducing one's self to a charming bit of femininity that may be filling one's mind with other than studious thoughts.

In days past it has been the unethical practice of the males to adopt one of two methods for obtaining names, phone numbers and accompanying data required for such a case. The burly, hairy chested fellow always followed the routine of "How are yuh, Babe? What are yuh doing tonight? My name is — (You think of someone) all the girls 'no 'me, I'll be by at 8:00 if I can get rid of — (You probably know her better

Tryouts Held For Homecoming Play

Tryouts were held Tuesday and Wednesday in cast selection for the Homecoming play "The Torchbearers" to be presented October 31 by Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic society, and with the assistance of the Little Theatre.

The play will be under the capable direction of Mrs. Oppen, formerly Miss Thayer, last year's dramatic coach, assisted by Martha Warren.

The cast of twelve, comprised of six men and an equal number of women was chosen from applicants appearing at tryouts in the Little Theatre, which were open to all members of the Student Body.

"The Torchbearers," although farcical, is a very cleverly written satire with witty lines and situations giving excellent opportunity for good character work. Due to technical difficulties in securing manuscripts, the cast had not been chosen at press time. The play will be under the very able management of Miss Marjorie Thorne and her staff of assistants, and Miss Fowler's talented work will produce the sets.

The Theta Alpha Phi Society plans to initiate in the very near future those members chosen last spring, was the announcement made by President Bill McKinney. Society members are chosen from those members of the Little Theatre who have done outstanding work during the previous year.

At present it is planned to have a mid-year play, either the "Twelfth Night" or "The Taming of the Shrew," presented by the Little Theatre with the assistance of Theta Alpha Phi.

Plans Progressing On Soph Dance

Bill Anton, president of the sophomore class, called to order a meeting Tuesday noon in Waller hall, immediately after chapel.

The purpose of the meeting was to take action on the selection of the sophomore sweaters and the sophomore dances for the freshmen.

Mary Virginia Nohlgren reported that the sophomores had been promised the first open week end for the dance, which will be October 15 or 16.

President Anton appointed Betty Lane chairman of the sweater committee and Bill Hall, Leonard Donaldson, Eugene Hill, and Mari-Ann Steigerwald to serve under her.

A unanimous ballot was cast for John Kelly as the executive council member from the sophomore class.

Dr. Bain to Have Education Class

Dr. Verne Bains will teach the class in Introduction to Education this year instead of Dean Erickson. Dr. Bain is connected with the State Board of Vocational Education under Mr. C. A. Howard, State superintendent of schools.

The course will cover the aims of education and try to solve the eternal question: "Shall state or individual be paramount?"

Special lectures during the year will be given by Mr. C. A. Howard, and by Mr. Emerson, who is also in the state department of vocational education.

Father and Son Annual Dinner At Gym Oct. 9

Breakfast Club to Help In Finding Fathers For Campus Men

Dinner Is to Begin at 5:30; Grandstand Section Held

The annual father and son banquet will be staged at the Willamette gymnasium October 9, under the sponsorship of the local chapter of the Blue Key national fraternity according to a decision group Tuesday.

Burt Cray, local caterer, was selected to furnish the food, and he will probably be assisted by members of the "Tacks," sophomore women's service organization.

The dinner is scheduled to begin at 5:30. Members of the football squad will be in attendance for the "cocktail course," at which time various members will be introduced.

An attempt will be made to present members of the team and coaching staff of the visiting Nevada team during the first of the program.

It is expected that the Breakfast club will cooperate in the furnishing of fathers for Willamette men whose parents will not be able to attend. Blue Key men plan to be on deck at the next two breakfast meetings to enlist support and sell tickets.

Every man on the campus will be contacted in the next week in order to determine which men are able to bring their own dads and which ones wish to be the guest of a breakfast clubber.

Bill Phillips, breakfast club president and exceptionally active among business men as a Willamette backer, will probably be one of the speakers, as will Dr. Bruce Baxter and various other leaders closely connected with the university.

Coach "Spec" Keene has promised to reserve a section of the grandstand to be used by fathers and sons who wish to attend the Nevada game.

International Club Outlines Schedule

The International Club held its first meeting of the year Wednesday, September 30, when President Evelyn Welsh outlined the year's schedule.

One of the main features this year will be club dinners to be held at intervals of three weeks. These will be to acquaint the members with the food customs and habits of the different countries and to promote a closer relationship among the different races.

An effort will be made to keep the membership down this year so that club meetings may be held in the different homes.

Any freshman or transfer student who has resided in another country or is of another race, and wishes to join the International club should contact Evelyn Welsh or James Pyke as soon as possible.

Geology Classes Disband For Year

Because of insufficient enrollment in the course, there will be no Geology class offered this year. The class will be offered again next year and it is hoped that there will be greater interest in the course.

Last year a survey was made of the rock strata of the Columbia river gorge and of the sandbar on the Pacific highway between Aurora and Barlow.

Send Gregory Pipe

A pipe to add to his famous collection has been sent to H. L. Gregory, well-known sports writer of the Oregonian, by the Willamette executive council, as a means of thanking him for favorable publicity received in his column.

This is a custom observed by many of the larger colleges throughout the United States. Among his collection are pipes from Washington, Oregon, California, Notre Dame, Nevada, Willamette, and many other schools. The pipes are displayed on a mantle in Gregory's home.

IN NEW ROLE

Johnny "Scooter" Oravec, the will-o-wisp 155-pound halfback who carried Willamette to 17 conference victories in the last four years, is back again in grid togs on historic Sweetland field, but it's a new role for the Little All-American ball carrier. Johnny is backfield coach of the 1936 Bearcats, and is shown here giving aspiring freshmen the fine points of the art of punting.

Political Student Chapel Is Planned

Plans for a student body political chapel are taking shape under the direction of student body officials.

No exact date for the chapel has been set but it will be announced on the campus soon.

A representative from the organization supporting the platform of each of the four leading presidential candidates will speak for a maximum of six minutes in behalf of his party.

Tentative plans are being made to conduct this chapel in conjunction with a student body presidential poll to be staged by the Collegian.

Veterans of the last poll of this kind, held four years ago, gravely shake their heads and report that, at that time, Herbert Hoover was elected over Franklin D. Roosevelt by Willamette students. Some cite the influence of Dr. Giske as the underlying cause for this misapplication of ballots.

Willamette Gets Books From State Valued at $5000.00

A total of 1,780 books were borrowed by the Willamette library from the state library during the school year from September 18, 1935 to June 17, 1936.

These books, estimated at a value of an average of $3 per book, increased the value of the university library to students by $5000. This service will be continued throughout the present year, it was reported at the university library.

Y. W. Membership Drive

Next Wednesday morning at 7:45 will begin the membership drive of the campus Y. W. C. A. Membership is open to every girl in school, on payment of dues of fifty cents a year. Miss Roberts McMillin is in charge of the drive, which will extend only through the one day, with the goal that every girl on the campus will have been contacted by four o'clock.

The 1936-1937 budget of the Y. W. is two hundred dollars, of which the major part is raised by the membership drive. The remainder will be collected throughout the year from the proceeds of candy sales, rummage sales, the pennant franchise, the May Morning breakfast, and other similar means.

'W' Club Starts Court Trials For Freshies

Code Violators Face Lettermen Vengeance at Friday's Chapel

Bag Rushing at Homecoming Game to Decide Ending

Punishment of violators of the freshman code will begin in earnest tomorrow morning when the first session of the freshman "moot" court is held, according to Bill McAdam, president of the Letterman's club which is in charge of this year's freshman initiation.

"These court sessions will be held once a week in front of the chapel, usually on Friday, and all freshmen whose names are read in chapel for code violations will be tried then," declared McAdam. "Each member of the Letterman's club has been collecting a list of violators and these names will be turned over to a committee of three composed for the first two weeks of Bill Board, George Erickson and Neil Shaffer. This committee in turn will file the names with General Manager Leslie J. Sparks. Mr. Sparks will then assign them some constructive work on the campus. However, if these violators fail to do their work the lettermen will see that they are punished severely," warned McAdam.

Court sessions will continue every week until bag rushing at the homecoming game with College of Puget Sound, and if the frosh are defeated by the sophomores, the court sessions will continue until Christmas.

"We are checking names closely so the freshmen should watch their steps," is McAdam's warning. "We were not in charge of the initiation which last year caused a great deal of rumpus, but this year we are trying to avoid a repetition of last year's unfortunate conditions."

McAdam stated that the purpose of the Letterman's club in this year's initiation is to uphold school traditions with punishment for violations in the spirit of fun and tending toward the ridiculous rather than bodily harm. Severity will be used only as a last resort. The Letterman's club will especially enforce the following rules:

1. Boys must wear freshman caps at all times on the campus. (The hats are expected tomorrow.)
2. Girls must wear green ribbons.
3. A cheery hello is expected from the freshmen at all times.
4. Boys must doff hats to the members of the faculty.
5. Freshmen must speak first to upperclassmen.
6. Stand and remove the hat when the "Old Historic Temple" is being played or sung.
7. Follow the walks on the campus.
8. No one but seniors inhabit the senior bench.
9. Freshmen do not enter or leave chapel by the side doors.
10. Only upperclassmen wear cords.
11. Freshmen must know the school songs and yells.

Fraternities List Late Pledges

Almost a complete list of pledges have been released by the three fraternities on the campus. The late pledging has been in progress for the past week with the new prospects being lined and shown the various houses prior to their decisions as to which they prefer. Open season on new students is declared after the preference list has been checked and completed in the office.

The Kappa Gamma Rho house was the first to turn in the results of their late pledging. Their number was increased by the joining of John Lindhorst, Wilmer Willis, Al Vesper, Pat Crossland and Ted Ladden.

The Sigma Tau's have added Ronald Adams, Tom Gabriel, Oron McDowell and Kenny Brunow to their list.

Alpha Psi Delta reports the pledging of Jerry Gustinson, Jack Grissell, Portland and Dale Ashland, Woodburn.

BIG EXCURSION TRIP TO OREGON STATE FOR TRADITIONAL BATTLE

Non-Partisans Schedule Meet

Friday night at eight o'clock a non-partisan group of young people of the Willamette campus and the city of Salem will meet to discuss current political and economic situations. The primary aim of this organization is to help the young voters of today to understand the current problems.

Brongwyn Williams, Willamette law student and president of the student body last year, is the instigator of this organization. It is the contention of Mr. Williams that the votes of the young citizens will be of vital importance in the coming presidential election.

This meeting will be given over to a general discussion of the major issues of the coming election.

All young people who voted in the last presidential election and who will be eligible to vote in 1940 are invited to attend this meeting which is strictly non-partisan.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Leonard Ranton, junior music student from Portland, was elected president of the campus Songmen organization at a meeting called last Monday night for the purpose of electing officers and making the year's plans.

The newly-formed executive committee, appointed on the recommendation of Prof. Cameron Marshall, director, consists of Ralph Gustafson, Earl Potter and Ross Gladden.

Tentative plans for a two-week tour of southern Oregon at spring vacation time were discussed. It was decided to retain the Songmen social date on the social calendar to be made up shortly after October 1.

Williams Elected Campus Yell Head

Grover Williams, freshman from Grant high school, Portland, was selected yell king at special election held last week.

Yell king tryouts were ordered by George McCleod, student body president, when it became known that Don Armpriest, elected yell king at the regular student body election last spring, would not return to Willamette this fall.

Campus Fraternities And Sororities Meet In Big Ticket Sale

Fraternities will vie next week for what student body officials guarantee to be a worthwhile prize when they try to outsell each other in a Nevada game ticket sale contest.

First instigated by President Baxter this plan was suggested and approved at the executive council meeting Tuesday night. It will probably be announced at Friday's student body meeting.

New Willamette Faculty Member Predicts War In the Far East

Just as soon as China feels confident that she is prepared to fight Japan there will be a war between the two countries.

That is the opinion among the people in the Orient, according to Dr. Lyman C. White, who has recently returned from an 18,000 mile trip through the Hawaiian Islands, Japan, China, Korea, and Manchuria. He is now at Willamette University as head of the History department, replacing Dr. George H. Alden, who retired last year.

"One of the main causes of the animosity between the two countries is the smuggling carried on by Japan in violation of the Chinese tariff laws," Dr. White said. "While in Japan Dr. White was somewhat shocked at the attitude of the women toward the men. While traveling on a railroad

Biggest Crowd in Years Expected to Follow Bearcat Team

Chartered Busses Are To Leave Campus at Noon Saturday

By ROY FERRIS (Sports Editor Collegian)

Early week plans for the big excursion for the Oregon State-Willamette grid battle are somewhat vague at this time as complete "Dope" will not be gathered until late this week. However, at press time George McCleod, student press, announced that he was sure that there would be ample transportation for all students who wish to go to the traditional game. Further plans will be announced at chapel during the pep meeting on Friday as well as the local newspapers.

It is known at this time that there will be at least three big busses, chartered by the Associated Students to make the trip. Transportation will cost only 35 cents to and from the game. The same itself will cost 55 cents plus the presentation of your student athletic booklet. Busses will leave from in front of Eaton Hall about noon. Exact time will be announced later.

Word from Oregon State is that the Corvallis college will have a well prepared program of entertainment besides the game itself for Salem fans and the Willamette student body. The big "all college dance" to which Willamette students were invited last year is again expected to hold the evening's highlights.

The Oregon State 45 piece band will parade Salem streets Friday afternoon in respect to the opening game in Corvallis. This is expected to create additional interest in Salem along with that which Mrs. Royer has mapped out a comprehensive field of activities for this year, with volleyball and basketball following soccer, and baseball, tennis and archery in the spring. Student heads of various sports as selected by the W. A. She is filling the temporary vacancy caused by Miss Currie who is studying in the east. Mrs. Royer was graduated from the University of Minnesota, and obtained her Masters Degree in Science from the University of Oregon.

where one would be likely to be caught by bandits," he said. "Soldiers, barbed wire stations, and the pulling down of not shades on the trains at night are some of the precautions taken."

The worst town Dr. White visited was Harbin, Manchuria, which was largely composed of Russian refugees. In referring to this town Prof. White said, "Opium dens and worse were commonplace. It is said that 80 to 90 percent of the people use opium or heroin. Open sewers exist all over the city."

At Fushan he visited the greatest open cut mine in the world with the coal seam 420 feet thick. The entire trip cost $330 dollars or little less than 2 cents a mile, Dr. White said. He was given reductions on most of the railroads because he was a teacher. In Tokyo he stayed at the best hotel for only $1.50 a day. Entertainment in Japan was also very cheap. Dr. White paid only 69 cents for one of the best seats and a dinner at the Takarazuka Girls Opera which he described as "modern and rather westernized."

Band Rehearsal

Held up by the late arrival of a sousaphone the Willamette University band will hold its first rehearsal next Tuesday, October 1st, at 7:30. At present time the place of meeting had not been announced, but will be posted on the bulletin board some time before Tuesday.

According to the new bandmaster, Ralph Nahlgren, Willamette will have a band that will be as good as showmanship as they will be at turning out marches.

To date he has 29 signatures from the freshman class alone, not to mention the many lower classmen that are interested. The upperclassmen will enroll for band Friday at chapel.

The band will be whipped into form in the short space of a week and will make their first appearance at the Willamette-Nevada game.

Ridiculous—Not Brutal

A decided step to the fore is to be noted on the campus this year in the revision of the freshman initiation program. "Hazing" has been going out of date rapidly on large campuses for some time. Last year the Cubs attempted to uphold old time practices, ran into a big, tough frosh class bounced once—and are no more.

"Ridiculous but not brutal" was the initiation program key announced by "W" Club President Bill McAdams in his short chapel talk to the first year men.

We think that is about the treatment any 1936 model freshman should expect—providing he stays out of a fraternity house.

Era of Good Feeling

Students in need of part time employment, who are attending Willamette, are more fortunate than they may realize.

This campus has gained the reputation of one upon which a student "can get a job if he wants it."

This feeling of goodwill has been the result of continued, arduous efforts on the part of university officials, alumni, and friends of the university.

Grads and veteran faculty members here during the early 1920's and before the war can remember a time when town and campus relations were not nearly so congenial.

Townpeople of that day, if not in a majority—then, certainly in all too great a majority, regarded the campus with disapproval. Open warfare between university and high school students was almost expected. Something was wrong with the Salem high graduate who entered Willamette.

Now a prevalent practice among business men offering part time employment is to "keep the job open for a university student." Townpeople are staunch in their support of campus activity. Many more than Willamette's share of Salem high students come to the campus.

To mar the existing friendship between the town and the campus might easily make useless the patient work of many years. Let us tread carefully in all relations which include Salem and its people—even in the good old student custom of borrowing.

Big Excursion Trip

has already been shown in the Capital city. The band will also be at the game to entertain between halves and throughout the grid battle.

Willamette valley towns are counted upon to rally to the support in order to get the first look at two truly great grid elevens.

Coaches Lon Stiner of Oregon State and Spec Keene of Willamette have already expressed their viewpoints of the game and nothing will be saved if one or the other becomes victorious they believe.

Lon Stiner fears that heavy Bearcat forward wall and shifty backfield while coach Keene thinks that the great Joe Gray with his dangerous passing and running will prove a little too much for his well-balanced machine that trampled Albany for Willamette's 15 consecutive conference victory last Friday night.

Hundreds of Salem fans will motor down to the game with the students to help match the rooting of the larger Orange team.

"Romona" Brings Color to Grand

It is very doubtful if there is a Willamette student who has never heard, seen, or read "Romona," the love story of an Indian man and maid, as revealed by Helen Jackson's novel by that name. Several years ago "Romona" was shown on the screen, but that was before the era of sound and technicolor.

Beginning this Saturday, the Grand Theatre offers to Willamette students, Faculty, and friends the opportunity to see what already is being acclaimed as one of the best pictures ever to come out of the Film Capitol. One hundred percent technicolor, "Romona" will turn the silver screen at the Grand into a great prism from which will emanate all the varied colors of Nature in their true beauty. There is no glare of color, no ribald of noise to cause eye and ear strain. Rather, there is a perfect blending of tones, both color and sound, out of which comes the unfolding of a "beautiful" picture.

Many students are of the opinion that Loretta Young is the prettiest girl in motion pictures. Her is the title role, and opposite her will be Don Ameche, star of the radio productions "Grand Hotel" and "First Nighter." Supporting them will be a great cast headed by Kent Taylor, Pauline Frederick, Jane Darwell, and Katherine DeMille.

This picture will appeal especially to students of the English Literature classes, as well as their professors, and doubtless many of them will find in it their acme of this year's entertainment.

Formal Reception Fetes Faculty Members

A very brilliant affair last Thursday night was the formal reception for which Dr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter were hosts at Lausanne hall in compliment to the new faculty members of the university. Hours were from 8 to 10, on this "Community Night," for which Dr. and Mrs. Baxter extended an invitation through the press to all townspeople who could have then their first opportunity to meet the new faculty members. Faculty members, students, members of the board of trustees, and all other friends of the university were invited to attend.

Mrs. Ernest C. Richards introduced to the receiving line, which included Dr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter, Dr. and Mrs. Lyman White, professor of history; Dr. and Mrs. Chester Luther, professor of mathematics; Dr. and Mrs. Verne Bain, professor of education; Mrs. Gall R. Royer, women's physical education director; Forrest Mills, assistant librarian; Mr. and Mrs. James Tate Huey, city librarian; and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lear.

Miss Mary Jeanette Sargent entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Sargent who visited her from Waco, Oregon, on Monday.

Tea Honors New House Mother

Alpha Phi Alpha's will honor Mrs. Charles Wilson their new house mother, with a formal tea at their chapter house on Summer street next Monday, October 5. Calling hours will be from four to six.

The Misses Kathryn Thompson and Lunella Chapin will greet their guests at the door. Miss Norma Fuller will introduce to the line, which will include Mrs. Charles Wilson, Dean Olive Dahl, Mrs. Robert Gaitke, and Miss Rachael Yocom. Mrs. David Wright and Mrs. Fred Thompson will pour the first hour, and Mrs. George Pierce and Mrs. William Kirk the second hour. Sophomore members of the house will serve.

Vari-colored astors, Michaelmas daisies, and other seasonal flowers will be used to decorate the rooms.

Church Reception For Friday Night

Tomorrow night, members of the First Methodist church will be hosts for a large reception between the hours of eight and ten o'clock in the Carrier Room of the Educational Temple, honoring Willamette university students. Special guests for the affair are Dr. and Mrs. James Milligan, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Baxter, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Magin, and Miss Mildred Bartholomew. An invitation through the press is being extended to all members and friends of the church.

Mrs. Lloyd Hockett will act as toastmistress for the affair, with responses being made by representatives from the different departments of the church. Mrs. Walter Minier has arranged an entertaining program, which will include among other events readings by Miss Martha Jane Hottell, and songs by Miss Jewell Minier and Earle Potter. A special feature of the evening will be one of Professor Cameron Marshall's famed illustrated solos.

Mrs. Walter Spaulding and Mrs. Frank Myers will preside at the punch table during the first hour, and Mrs. Wade Ellis and Mrs. E. O. Willing the second hour. University girls will serve.

The social committee in charge of the affair is headed by Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. B. H. White.

THE RAMBLING SHOPPER

By Uncle Willie

Hi-de-ho, Blokes! er Folks! Here it is—here is a 1—er two shiels of wool—er, I mean, er, two weeks of school have passed away and Weshman Freak—er—er—er—past. Yeah! Now that fool life is carmel—I mean school life is normal, again, Uncle is reminded to advise his pals and gals that Pelly the show-it—er, Shelly the poet was wrong—or right—yeah, right, when he said "If Winter comes—er, If Winter Comes—er, can it be behind a bar—I mean, can it spring a bar—no, no—can Spring be far behind?" And stuff. E pluribus in God we trust. Period.

(Why did Uncle ever listen to that Senator?) Well, pals, Uncle wants to begin this column today by remarking upon the number of gals by the name of Kay in this here institution. There's Kay Thompson, Kay Faxon, and Ho-Kay, for example, but when you go down town (get that!) you find only one Kay, and that is Kay's dress shop. Were you over to need some new thing-a-majigs, you could get the whole Kayboodle at Kay's.

It isn't every day of the week that George Self goes into the Bluebird, but when he does, he sure stows away the grub. Personally, Uncle thinks that Cananova George has his eye on some chicken that isn't on the menu. Or maybe Jessica Kinsey chaws her chow there, too. Anyway, it's guys like that Self-made man, and Harvey-the-Joe, and Bob Hart what give to the Bluebird that Collegiate air—or something.

Now that Uncle finds that he doesn't have to take French to complete his graduation festivities, he has no trouble at all in recalling with ease some of his French vocabulary. That is, those parts which are not comestible. For instance, the other morning Virginia (Vignette) Moore, turns to Uncle and says, "Silly!" She didn't know that Uncle had taken enough French to know that the French make use of their final "e", so Uncle knew right away that she was reminding me to a window sill. Guess that was because she could see through Uncle. Anyway, Uncle was even, because he had previously asked, "Ven do Venita?" (If she can't

Barn Dance Is Great Success

The entire Willamette student body was host and hostess to itself last Saturday night, with a big barn dance staged at the Salem High School auditorium. Hay racks to transport the guests to the high school were provided at Eaton Hall, and every effort was made to transport the school into an old-fashioned barn. Pumpkins and corn stalks were the principal decorations, and old time music was provided by Bob Briggs and his fiddlers.

Patrons and patronesses were Miss Mildred Bartholomew, Miss Constance Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Aaa Fisher, Professor and Mrs. Egbert Oliver, and Mrs. and Mrs. Roy S. Keene.

Miss Lillian Graham, student body vice-president, was in charge of the party and reports that its welcome justifies another similar one soon.

All new transfer students to Willamette were honored guests at a dinner last night in Chresto cottage from five to seven, for which the Y.W.C.A. cabinet were hostesses. The affair was given as a sort of postlude to freshman week, and it is hoped that it will become an annual event.

Alpha Psi Deltas Celebrate Game

Alpha Psi Delta fraternity celebrated the victory over Albany Friday night with an informal dancing party, at the chapter house on Cheniketa street. Chaperones for the affair were Prof. and Mrs. E. G. Oliver.

Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. James Nutter of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sturgis, the Misses Virginia Beasom, Elizabeth Sears, Charlotte Kallender, Lucile Brainard, Rachael Yocom, Irma Oehler, Marguerite Smith, Elva Schon, Maravene Thompson, Alice Speck, Margaret Ayers, and Kathryn Thompson.

Hosts were Corlis Berry, Glenn Helmsoth, Bob Yeo, John Kelly, Guy Helmsoth, George Abbott, George Billings, Al Piella, Louis Hershberger, Carl Rhoda, Art Lampka, and Wilmer McDowell.

Sigma Taus Give Victory Dance

Sigma Tau fraternity was host Friday night to a group of collegians after the football victory. An informal supper was served to guests in the dining room. The table carried a bouquet of zinnias and autumn leaves. Joe Harvey was in charge of arrangements.

Honored guests were the Misses Charlotte LaDue, Barbara Crookham, Mary Jane Lau, Jean Probert, Catherine Faxon, Betty Lane, Helen Olde, Vivian Wilkins, June Charbonneau, Betty Williams, Joy Colley, Dorothy Kibbe, Melva Belle Savage, Betty Lou Lacey, Jermie Upston, Marguerite Clark, Margaret Gary, Myrtle Swearing, Sylvia Swearing, Eleanor Perry, Elizabeth James, Jane Fisher, Sherry Glutz and Geneva Pond.

Escorts were Ross Gladden, Willard Petre, Lloyd Riehl, Frank Hunt, Jack Alton, Otto Wilson, Jerry Sherman, Grover Williams, George LaVatta, Paul Silke, Tom Gabriel, Cecil Quesseth, Douglas Oude, Bill Miller, Doug Sharp, Louis Stull, Windy Henderson, Bud Estes, Ray Ramson, Ronald Adams, Ralph Ramson, Joe Harvey, Ronald Shark and Ridgley Miller.

Several Beta Chi's were hostesses for an informal evening after the Albany game. They were the Misses Jean Hollingsworth, Dorothy Ellinger, Lucella Corn, Ruth Runzo, and Julia Johnson. Their escorts were Ralph Nobler, Frank Pemberton, LeRoy Casey, Paul Radcliffe, and Bob Vagt.

His friends are concerned to know that Burris Preston underwent an operation for appendicitis at Salem General Hospital last Monday night. He was resting well

Willamette's Chances Look Fairly Good

Air Route May Be Used Against the Beavers This Saturday

Freshmen and Reserves Make Competition Hot For Veterans

By PAUL STURGES (University Publicity Director)

"We will have to go into the air this season. We haven't the weight necessary to successfully continue our powerhouse line attacks," was the announcement Head Coach "Spec" Keene greeted his football aspirants with on the opening day of grid practice this year. True to his word, nearly half of each day's training session has been devoted to an intensive passing scrimmage.

But on the eve of the second game, against Oregon State, there is every indication that the canny Bearcat grid mentor will once again rely on devastating line attacks. Perhaps, should that be obtained, "Spec" will run in the crowd of speedy and tricky ball-carrying and throwing backs uncovered in the training sessions.

Then, Cardinal and Gold fans will see a lot of football magic from a team that for years has been noted for its line plunging tactics.

Despite this news of major importance from the veteran mentor, the greatest of interest is still being shown in just who Keene will name as his starting lineup for this game with Oregon State this Saturday.

At the present time, the reserves and freshmen, who have made it hot for the 1935 returning veterans, seem to have the inside edge. In fact, only two players can be definitely sure of their starting berths. The singular pair are Dick Weisgerber, big fullback, and Chuck Versteeg, lanky three-year veteran end.

In addition to Weisgerber at full, Coach Keene has Neil Shaffer, 183-pound sophomore, who can also be used as a half; George Utley, of Clatskanie, a 1934 line plunger who was out of school last year, and Les Fallon, 195-pound rook from West Linn, who comes with a fine reputation.

"I CAN DO IT SPEC"

"And here's a fair example," says Dick Weisgerber, Willamette's great "Jersey Juggernaut" fullback, as he crashes head-on into the cameraman and romps over him to a touchdown. The husky two-year all-Northwest conference line smasher hopes to show the class of 1940, as well as the rest of his schoolmates, just why he deserves the distinction of being the Northwest's outstanding candidate for all-coast full.

other three backfield berths, and since Weisgerber will call signals, the other positions to be filled are open to halfbacks. Bill Stone, three-year veteran blocker, has been slowed up by an early-season knee injury, but will probably be a starting player when his injury responds to treatment.

Chief candidates for the other two posts are Jiggs Burnett, stocky La Grande boy who has lots of drive and Oravec's number one substitute last year; Don Brandon, three-year veteran, on the bench most of last year because of injuries, and Billy Beard, 175-pound Oregon City speedster, who likewise was out of action because of injuries last year.

Right behind them are Art Gallon, fiery red-thatched Portland sophomore and probably the hardest blocker on the squad; Dexter Russell, midwest passing ace; Jim Hogg, 180-pound sophomore reserve from 1935, and Ernie Mosier, lightest man on the team but an out-standing prep passer at The Dallas high.

Paul Bennett, tiny blonde all-city quarter from Jeff high of Portland has shown ability in the last two days, and may boost one of the above group out of their positions. Other candidates are Jack Ferguson, freshman from Canada; Henry Frantz, young brother of the great Eddie Frantz, a former Bearcat star; Kenneth Olson, newcomer from Astoria, and Walter Joslin, husky Dallas rook.

Five veterans, three of them three-year lettermen — Versteeg, Bill McAdam, the California debating star; and George Erickson, lanky three-sport player — take care of the ends. Last year's freshmen sensations, Walt Weaver,

BLOCKING HALF

Fashioned after the playing of Southern Cal's Ernie Pinckert and Illinois' famed Britton, is that of Bill Stone, Willamette's own competent blocking half. It's this husky three-year veteran from Oregon City who made it possible for the "Touchdown Twins" to go on many of their scoring sprees last season. Bill has been nursing a bad knee for a week, but will probably see action Saturday.

lanky Wisconsin pass-snatcher, and George Abbott, Portland defensive ace, may unseat the veterans at any time. Other candidates are Francis Schmidt, transfer from Eastern Oregon Normal who has been moved to a wing from his usual center berth, and Bill Hall, Portland sophomore, who can be used at virtually any position in the line.

The starting tackle nominations are likewise undecided, especially since the return to school of George Simio, 260-pound letterman of 1934, and the entrance of Jim Lamb, tall bruiser from Pasadena, Cal. Last year's regulars, 235-pound Darrell Newhouse and 214-pound Rob Vagt may get the starting call because of their experience. Last year's big freshmen pair, George Billings, of Portland, and Karl Kahle, Sherwood, are also in the thick of the fight, although Billings has been somewhat slowed up by a rib injury.

Among the other members of the 45-man squad out for football this year are Willard Petrie, Dallas; Dwight Catherwood, Mill City; Nick Dunne, Montana; Melvin McKibbin, Astoria; Wayne Brainard, Idaho, and Cecil Quesseth, Salem.

Bearcats Crunch Albany 42 to 0

The "Crimson Crusaders" smashed their way through a helpless but scrappy bunch of Albany Pirates on Sweetland field last Friday night to a score of 42 to 0.

Unable to get going in the first quarter because of penalties the Bearcats came back in the second, third and fourth quarters to pound out easily their 14th consecutive Northwest conference victory.

The game featured coach Keene's first 1936 debut and the first game in four years without All-American Johnny Oravec.

Albany was unable to make a first down against the Bearcats while the cardinal and gold machine tore through to gain constant yardage at all times. Weisgerber, Brandon, Beard, Hogg and Schaeffer stood out in the local backfield, tearing off sizeable gains. Yada and Newhouse, along with the entire line functioned well for the early season game.

All-Coast Honors May Be Gained By Dick Weisgerber

Willamette fans are already proclaiming Dick Weisgerber, the big two-year all-Northwest conference back, as the Northwest's logical candidate for all-coast fullback, provided he can continue to perform in true all-star style during this year's grueling "ten games in ten weeks" schedule.

Weisgerber, the 210-pound "Jersey Juggernaut", is a triple threat grid player of unusual ability. His trio of assets are listed as plunging, punting and place kicking. In these three departments, the husky junior has few

All-American Johnny Makes Great Honors

Famed W. U. Star Wins Praise of Mid-West Sport Writers

One of the greatest honors ever and one of its athletes, went down in the annals of the northwest sports history this summer, when Johnny Oravec, Willamette's great halfback, won a position on the all-nation collegiate all-star eleven, which played the professional champion Detroit Lions to a 7-all tie at Chicago on Sept. 1.

Oravec won his position due to the combined efforts of more than 100,000 Willamette students, alumni and friends. From every part of the northwest and even from California, the mid-west and the far east the famed little 165-pound Little All-American back won the votes of the nation's football public.

Today Johnny, just the same despite his long trip to the great Illinois metropolis and his chance to exhibit the grid wares taught him by Coach "Spec" Keene to the nation's greatest 1935 football players, is back on the Sweetland field on which he won everlasting fame for himself and Willamette.

Johnny is back-field coach of this year's Bearcat eleven, and the competent manner in which he has handled the players in pre-season training sessions has brought rounds of praise from fans and the head man, "Spec."

In Chicago, or rather in Evanston, at Northwestern University, where Johnny and his all-star team-mates drilled for the big game, the little "scooter" was praised often by the big mid-western sports writers. The Chicago Tribune, one of the nation's largest newspapers, devoted a seven-column banner and a 800-word story to his ability at running back punts and his baffling, twisting acrobatic runs.

But the night before the big game, rain drenched Chicago and the great Soldiers' field where the tilt was to be played, eventually forcing a one-day's postponement. The next night Johnny and Bobby Wilson, the famed All-American back of the Southern Methodist, sat side-by-side and watched their heavier team-mates play the entire game.

Twenty-four of the all-star squad spent the thrilling 60 minutes on the bench, but the two full squads who didn't play still rated as better than the other millions of American youths who play the pigskin sport.

Home from the big game (five pounds lighter because of the intense heat during the first two weeks) and a short vacation at his New Jersey home, Johnny brought back many souvenirs, as well as memories, of the month when he rubbed elbows with such great All-Americans as Jay Bowman, University of Chicago; Truman Spain, Southern Methodist, and Keith Topping of Stanford, as well as many others.

Principal of these remembrances is the complete uniform issued for the all-star game, intact even to the helmet. Another is a white blanket with the All-American crest upon it, and still another, a white sweater, with the same emblem, proclaiming to the world the football ability of its wearer.

No greater honor was ever brought to Willamette university than placing Johnny in the all-star game, and students will remember him as the player who made it possible, and themselves, grads and friends, as the ones who supplied the means of travel.

peers in the Northwest conference. Last year's statistics for the seven games in which Dick took an active part, show that the "beef" portion of the no longer infant famous "Touchdown Twin" combination, played 360 out of a possible 420 minutes.

In almost 50 line plunges he averaged slightly over four and a half yards per try. In punting, each of 83 boots travelled an average of 40.53 yards. Place kicking, his final triple-threat ability, was such a success that Dick now has a brilliant record of converting 22 out of 40 tries for point after touchdown.

Last season Johnny Oravec was the only Bearcat to score as many points or make more yardage than big Dick, and with the famed "Slinger" out of the lineup, Dick should be Willamette's main offensive star this year. In addition to his three "p" duties, Weisgerber will co-captain the team through at least the first game, and will call the signals.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

"NOT BAD, DICK, NOT BAD"

"If you keep that up all year my worries will be about over." In just such a way did Head Man "Spec" Keene approve the actions of his big fullback, whom he is counting upon to be Willamette's main offensive star this season. But the pensive mood means Mr. Keene is not too sure that the "Juggernaut" can win ten games in ten weeks for the Cardinal and Gold, at least, not all by himself.

Campus Quarterback

By ROY FERRIS

Keene: Knock, knock!
Fan: Who's there?
Keene: Thistle.
Fan: Thistle who?
Keene: "Thistle be our toughest, hardest and probably the most disastrous game of the season." Of course, it's in reference to the Beaver-Bearcat battle this Saturday at Corvallis.

Just because everyone has been telling us that Willamette hasn't a chance against the Beavers, we will go one better to predict a 21 to 7 victory over the Beavers.

That's a nice way to make yourself popular with the coaches and unpopular with everyone else but yours truly will be praying that he's wrong, and that the score will be reversed.

The way the coaches and writers are guessing on scores this season I believe it's about my turn. If it's too bad I promise not to do it again.

As said before: Oregon State 21—Bearcats 7.

Reasons: To make the Bearcats mad and simply because papa Stiner must show something to the home folks or go back home and hulk corn. Another reason is that, like last year, the Beavers will shoot the works to give the California scouts an idea of what they are going to do in Portland the following Saturday. Smart football—remember last year the Saturday after the Willamette game, U.C.L.A. crushed the Beavers by a sizeable score.

Other week-end predictions: At Walla Walla: Albany 0—Whitman 46.

At Caldwell: College of Idaho 6—E. Ore. Normal 13.

At Tacoma: College of Puget Sound 19—Linfield 7.

At Portland: Pacific 6—Fort Lewis 13.

A funny thing that Slaty Gill, the man mangel of Oregon State basketball teams, was officiating in the Albany-Willamette game. Maybe that's another mystery story presented by Coach Keene. Gill saw a lousy passing attack against a tired and battered bunch of Pirates. That's about all, except at times those Beavers were hitting just plenty hard and show a sign of the real old running attack that has carried the crimson Crusaders through 14 consecutive conference victories.

My opinion along with the rest of the fans is that this boy Bennett looked awfully good in that ball game Friday night. Especially his first year, acted like a veteran, showed some real whirlwind running along with excellent selection of plays, and best of all, there didn't seem to be any "Varsity Shy" in him.

Word is around that "Spec" will see what players he has left, after four days of hard scrimmaging against Oregon State. Battered and tired after hard workouts this week, the players huddle into their showers, bruised and limping. Some of the first stringers will be

New Coaches for Three Northwest Conference Teams

Pacific University, Forest Grove. —As Northwest conference football squads swing into action, three new coaches will be making their conference debuts. At Pacific university will be Roger Folgate who replaces Anson Cornell as chief "brain-truster" at the Forest Grove school. Assistant Folgate will be the new assistant coach, Pete Miller, graduate of Kelso high school and Pacific university, who comes to Pacific from Milwaukee high school where he has turned out numerous Big Nine championship teams. Coach Folgate will not be entirely a newcomer to the Pacific Northwest conference as he served several years as aide to "Nig" Borleske at Whitman college.

Coaching the College of Idaho off their first game with Albion Normal will be Harlan O. ("Pat") Page, a second newcomer to conference coaching ranks. Pat Page has been football mentor at the University of Chicago, University of Indiana, Butler college of Indianapolis, and the Montezuma, Cal., high school.

Succeeding Joey Mack as coach of the Albany Pirates will be Don Faber, formerly head coach at Ashland high school. Joey Mack has transferred his gridiron affections to the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, where he will be assistant coach. —The Oregon Journal.

The game is Oregon State's first home stand of the season and Willamette's first seasonal invasion.
