PRICE FIVE CENTS

Co-eds Boycott

Whitman Experiment Goes On Rocks of Feminine Disapproval.

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 23, I. P.—The Co-eds of the college have called off the Leap Year plan which they started a week ago. The A. S. B. had previously decided that the women should do all of the dating and paying the expenses for the next two weeks. First the women refused to call for the men and then if they did not show up in time the girls did not wait for them, (some of the men were giving the co-eds a treat of their own medicine). Finally the fair sex appealed to the student body to reconsider the idea but the motion was laid on the table.

Balked on this side the fair sex decided to boycott the men. Consequently the Leap Year dating lasted but one week. Many of the co-eds were "good sports" and dated the "secret sorrows" and showed them a good time. As always "The Woman Wins".

WHITMAN COLLEGE PIONEER JANUARY 13, 1928

The heartiest approbation has been voiced almost unanimously by members of the masculine sex for the system whereby quintessential femininity has been granted the rare privilege of making dates for the all too brief period of two weeks. By common consent, the plan has met unbounded success in its first week of trial and the men have cooperated splendidly and even eagerly. Last Tuesday gave evidence clear and irrefutable that the men are backing the idea to the limit. When the men voted down the motion to shorten the period a week, and it was noticeable that even members of the fair sex, many of them, held back on supporting the proposition. And all seemed reluctant to lose one week of privilege. (It must be remembered that Leap Year only comes once in four years.)

The reasons which may be assigned for the remarkable and unusual success of the innovation effected by virtue of the committee of the common people are various and differ with individual men. Harry Rothrock thinks, "It is a great idea. Since it has been put into effect I have been able to devote ten more hours to my studies." Then on the other hand there are some who have found the relaxation afforded by shows, library dates, etc., very beneficial. Mental strain and fatigue has been reduced considerably.

Then another item which strikes dear to the heart of every man but more particularly to Scotchmen like Mark Bradford, is that pecuniary or monetary phase. It has been a great relief to some to attend theaters and enter the front door and not slip through exits; to sit down at a soda fountain without fear of having to pay the bill by washing dishes.

Then the dance at Prentiss proved a huge success, so it is said. For once there were no feminine wallflowers. But pleasant though the dance was, it might be unfortunate to allow an indefinite continuation of dances having ladies choice as we found Saturday what a wallflower feels like and what a wallflower thinks about.

CHIEF VIRTUE NOVELTY (PIONEER JAN. 13)

The chief virtue of the leap year plan is its novelty. The women are eager to do something different—perhaps, even something which may shock the people of the town or their parents. Proprietors and employees of downtown places of entertainment expect the men to be the hosts, therefore the girls like to surprise them.

The men would do well, however, not to push the matter too far, for "the worm when trod upon, will turn." The women believe the scheme will lose its novelty by the end of a week, and have officially expressed this belief by a vote to this effect at a meeting in Prentiss hall. Although the men, on account of their larger numbers and deeper voices, overruled their weaker sisters by voting to lay on the table a motion made by Mary Lou Lipscomb in chapel Tuesday morning for shortening the period of "leap year dates." The women can have the last word by refusing to make any dates after this Friday night.

The motion for the men passing out of chapel first was considered by most of the women as almost too much. If more of them had remembered their places sooner, there would probably have been a scramble for the door even before the freshmen came along, as there was then.

The women feel that if any of the men have any complaints to make about the new system they should consult the responsible members of their own sex, for the people who are promoting and directing it are men, as well as those who are clamoring for its long extension.

THE SONG BOOK

The delay in the circulation of the Willamette Song Book has met with an expression of regret on the part of many students. Such disappointment is not especially pleasing, yet it seems to assure us of the unsatisfied demand for this book.

May each student of the university make avail of this long looked for opportunity of procuring one of these books.

Charles Redding,
President A.S.W.U.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY SLATED FOR DEBATE

Progress Reported in Effort To ward Definite Organization of World Tour

The men's first intercollegiate debate will be with Pacific University at Willamette on February 16th. Two other contests are scheduled with University of Montana on February 23rd and with Southwestern University of Los Angeles on April 6.

The question for debate is: "Resolved that American investors and investments in foreign nations should be protected by the government of the nation in which they are made."

Try-outs for these contests, as well as for those of the proposed world debate trip, will be comprehensive examinations both oral and written. As yet, Coach Hall has not drafted complete plans for the try-outs of the world tour.

Victor D. Carlson, special forensic manager for the contemplated world debate trip, reports that most of the universities have welcomed the coming of the Willamette debate team. Seven colleges which have responded favorably to our inquiries are: Denver University, Wheaton College, Lawrence College, University of West Virginia, University of Alabama, Louisiana State University, and University of Wyoming.

With the exception of Alabama and Louisiana, all of these institutions have previously met Willamette University on the platform. University of West Virginia is the college of which Hugh Doney, President Doney's son, is a faculty member.

The tour through England, Scotland, Wales, and Ireland will be handled by the Institute of International Education, 522, Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Aspirants for the world debate team are working hard, holding practice debates and spending each Saturday forenoon under the direction of Coach Hall. Those who are working on this question are: Robert Starrett, Roy Harland, Lowell Mundorf, Charles Redding, Robert Willy, Fred Toose Jr., Wade Harmon, David Odell Bennett.

EXAM JUBILEE FIRST GUN IN LEAP YEAR DATE PLAN

Special Features Promise To Make Skating Party Unusually Attractive

To avoid a conflict with the game with Ashland Normal which was scheduled for Saturday, February 4, the date of the Post ex Jubilee has been set ahead to Thursday evening, February 2.

This year the annual post exam jubilee will take the form of a leap year party at the skating rink.

According to Virginia Merle Crites, chairman, this affair will not be like the ordinary skating parties. Special features are planned, each skate is to be different.

Helen Sande and Oscar White will entertain with a feature skate. Paul Trueblood and Kenneth Lawson will depict college life in the gay 20's.

Barbara Gallagher and Miss Lois Lattimer will tell fortunes.

The party is being managed by the following committees:
General chairman—Virginia Merle Crites.
Program committee—Dorothy Ferrer, Evangeline Helneck, Wendell Games committee—Margaret Arnold, Georgia Fairbanks, Roberta Willy, Refreshments—Louise Findley, Florence Emmons.

The committee urges all the girls to get their dates early and requests that all boys who do not have dates come anyway.

All students who have not returned their proofs to the Kennell-Ellis studio by tomorrow will have the selection of the picture which will appear in the 1928 Wallulah made by the members of the staff according to the solemn warning issued by Paul Geddes, editor of the annual.

The editor reports that the work on the book is progressing rapidly. The selection of the cover design and color scheme has been made and the sample returned to the Weber-McCrea company of Los Angeles. The cover colors will be blue and gold.

LEGISLATION PASSED FAVORING LEAP YEAR

Period Between February 4 and 18 Declared Open Season for All Co-eds

MEN ARE INSTIGATORS

All Rebels Considered as Liable To Incur Wrath of Their Fellow Students

From all indications the men of the university thoroughly believe that the co-eds of Willamette should be made to take their leap year obligations seriously. If the women thus far this year have perhaps been a little backward in availing themselves of the traditional privileges which quadrangulally devolve upon them, the men have solved the matter with the great American panacea for all ills, namely legislation.

William Mumford was the sponsor of the movement in the student body meeting last Friday which set aside the period between February 4 and February 18 inclusive as the period during which fussing should be done only on feminine initiative. The main support of the movement came from the left wing of the chapel, but endorsement was not lacking among the so called "fair sex". However, the opposition consisted of one brave man who voted his convictions and a large share of the right wing of the chapel.

Mr. Mumford's notion with his introductory remarks was as follows: "In order to keep Willamette in her place with other universities of the Northwest and to aid in promoting a better spirit of friendship among our own students, I move that

ALBANY FACULTY MEMBER GIVES VIEWS ON PANAMA

America Held Not Actually Responsible for Revolt of Present Canal Zone

Dean Ward W. Sullivan of Albany College spoke to a group of debaters and history students last Saturday morning on Relations between the United States and Columbia or what part did the United States play in the Panama Revolution.

According to Dean Sullivan although the American Government exerted unusual pressure on Columbia, it was not actually responsible for the Panama Revolution which resulted.

A revolt had been expected for some months, and was not the sudden decision which it seemed.

Nevertheless Columbia refuses to believe this and years of dissension between that country and ours followed.

In 1921 an attempt was made to settle the difficulties by paying Columbia $25,000,000.

Dean Sullivan was especially fitted to speak on this subject because in compiling material for his doctors thesis he was allowed to search through the secret archives of the state department in Washington.

A SOUVENIR

Of course we want one!
Each year we try to acquire for ourselves a few more Willamette souvenirs—among others a Willamette Song Book. There are so many songs of which we have but a vague impression, and for some reason it is easier to familiarize ourselves with a thing when it is down in black and white. In just the few minutes of chapel singing it is impossible to thoroughly learn all the really good songs that Willamette has—thanks to the Freshman Glee of previous years. So this year we are going to purchase a Willamette Song Book.

LARRY WOLFE'S FIVE SHORT IN LETTERMEN

Coach Produces Team From Green Material Which Has Five Victories to Credit

By Jas. A. Ellis
Editor, Linfield Review

LINFIELD COLLEGE, McMinnville, Jan. 23.—With only two lettermen from last year, and only one regular, on the Wildcat basketball squad Coach Larry Wolfe was faced with the problem of producing a team from green material for the 1928 season, and despite this handicap as well as several others, Coach Wolfe turned out a team that won five consecutive games and has yet to taste defeat except in a practice scrimmage with the Oregon Aggie varsity when the Aggies were in tip-top condition just before leaving for their eastern barnstorming trip.

The Wildcats' first victory was over the Reed college five of Portland by a 35 to 21 point. Pacific college of Newberg was the next victim in a Willamette valley conference test by a 25 to 23 score.

The third hurdle for the team was a Northwest conference game with Pacific university on the local floor and this obstacle was cleared with a 28 to 21 score. The fourth victory was over Albany college in a Willamette valley circuit game with a 20 to 15 score. The fifth win was at the expense of the Chemawa Indians last Friday, the score being 38 to 25.

The two lettermen on the squad are "Phil" Warren, speedy forward, and a regular, and Bern Martyn, substitute. "Hamp" Agee, captain, another regular is one of the mainstays of the quintet. "Hos" Hostettler, guard, plays a star defensive game. Stensland, scrappy forward is a consistent player. Harry Burton, flashy player and a sure point gatherer, plays at the pivot position. Others who get into the play are John Harris, Archie Finley, former local high school star, and Vernon Beard, also a product of the local high school.

The next game for the Wildcats five, after the game with Albany here Tuesday evening, is the big test at Salem Saturday evening with the Willamette Bearcats.

AN ACID TEST

Every college makes some claim to distinction on the basis of uniqueness. The proud boast may be made on some feature of the composition of the student body, height of scholastic standards, or a brilliant history. Willamette is not among the least of these in respect to its claims of uniqueness, for it has many things which are distinctly and peculiarly its own.

Probably one of the most pleasant experiences which comes in the career of a student at this university is the realization that he has daily the privilege of association with a group of men and women with almost any one of whom he could find pleasure and profit in making their acquaintance. We believe that there is something unique in the character of the students composing the student body of this university. Our conviction does not suffer even with the knowledge that many other loyal students in other universities are making a similar assertion in support of their Alma Mater.

Small things are often the real tests of character. The provision in regard to Leap Year fussing on the part of the women of the university had its beginning in the spirit of jest and the desire to participate in something for the sake of sheer novelty. In spite of the fact that we are neither proponent nor critic of the innocent innovation, we are rather disposed to regard its success or failure as indicative of something more fundamental in itself, in that it is revealing the true character of our student body.

Whether as a spectator or as a participant we will watch with interest how all play the game. We have the highest hopes that all concerned will prove themselves good sports.

NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP

The concluding efforts of any endeavor (be it the end of a school semester or anything else) as long as human nature continues without some radical changes will of necessity be hectic moments filled with frantic efforts and feverish haste to make amends for all past failures and neglects. The futility of comment on such a condition at this period of the semester is acknowledged without further words.

However, we do venture some comment on those who have suddenly become studious ascetics, denying themselves the pleasure of enjoying their lunch hour, keeping all sorts of weird hours, and at late hours of the night steeling their lagging minds to its vain task with cups of black coffee. There is no need to mention any names; dark lines under the eyes, furrowed brows, and unpleasant disposition are the almost sure indications of the midnight devotee of the cause of higher learning.

We do not mean to slight the usefulness of a thorough review in preparation for an examination but merely attempt to emphasize the necessity of plenty of sleep and exercise for the highest grade in the long run.

Some students have not yet reached that stage of good sense and rare judgment attained by Chesterfield who wrote while he was a student at Cambridge, "I reserve time for playing at tennis, for I wish to have the corpus sanum as well as the men sana: I thing the one is not good for much without the other."

MUSICAL AMBASSADORS

Lindberg could well be ranked among the greatest ambassadors in the service of the United States. His winsome personality and modest character have proven the most effective means at the disposal of the government for the creation of good will in foreign countries. His series of visits to the different Latin American countries have been in a measure successfully promoted friendly relations in a region where the Monroe doctrine has no reason to make the United States particularly popular.

Willamette unfortunately has no Lindberg, but it has other organizations and means at its disposal which have the possibilities of equal effectiveness in a different field.

The Men's Glee Club leaves tomorrow on a two weeks tour of Oregon and Washington. They are one of the best means of advertising which this school could hope to have. Through their music and their personalities they can represent Willamette better than paid advertisements or a high powered publicity campaign could ever hope to do.

We wish them the best of luck on their trip and we remind them of the duties and obligations of their high calling as ambassadors of Willamette university.

Speaking of orthodox chapel exercises we believe that Dean Erickson made a contribution to the cause which ought to be sufficient to prove that orthodoxy has not been languishing during the absence of its chief priest and high guardian.

The page advertisement on the back page of this issue is but another testimony of the fact that Salem business men will support the activities of Willamette in a big way. Speak up and let them know that you appreciate their interest in Willamette.

Nothing short of an initiation would make a man carry an umbrella.

The mid-winter institute held at Tualatin last week-end was a success with forty-six Leaguers registered from six different churches.

Ralph Coleman Loses Whistle When Game Gets Too Rough.

Ralph Coleman, referee in the Pacific game, showed good psychology in losing his whistle when the game began to get rough.

The size of the Pacific gym seemed to hamper the Bearcats who have practiced on a large floor all this year.

The attendance at the Pacific game was small but they made up for their size by their spirited cheering.

It is with much regret that we notice that Robert Ashby, who was picked last year as all conference guard, and who the two previous years was picked as all state high school guard, has not only dropped from the basketball squad but has left school.

In the Pacific game the Willamette men made one out of every three shots at the basket, while in the Columbia game they made only one out of every five.

It is certainly gratifying to see that the old grade are taking such a keen interest in the Willamette team this year. Three came up from Portland to see the game at Forest Grove.

Speaking of Willamette graduates, the Forest Grove high school holds one in very high esteem. Russ Rarey of Tillamook visited Forest Grove recently with his basketball team and administered them a 55 to 0 defeat.

CLIFFDWELLERS DEFEATED IN ONE SIDED ENCOUNTER

Both Teams Shoot Often But With Little Success; Irishmen Get Off to Fast Start

With only an occasional sparkle in the offense but with an all but impregnable defense the Willamette quintet won a rough but fast game from the Columbia University team 37 to 10.

nected with field goals without giving Willamette a look in. Willamette's offense looked pitiful and their defense looked little better at this stage of the game.

The second half was mostly Cardinal and Flesher, the pair accounting for 15 out of the 20 points that were made.

WEST LINN VANQUISHES ROOKS BY CLOSE MARGIN

Fresh Continue to Lose by Small Scores in Spite of Rally in Second Half

By building up a large lead in the first quarter the West Linn high team defeated the Willamette freshmen by a score of 32 to 31.

With defeat staring them in the face the Rooks settled down to work in the second quarter and the half ended 20 to 10.

At the end of the second week of the title race three teams are tied for leadership with one win and no defeats.

BEARCATS LACK PEP AGAINST PU BADGERS

Pacific Forced To Resort to Long Shots; First Conference Win for Willamette

Lacking their usual fight and spirit the Bearcats won their first conference game last Friday night from the Pacific University Badgers 34 to 24.

While the entire Pacific team stood still the bearcats made two baskets by passing the ball in quickly when they had it out under their own basket.

ROOKS AVENGE DEFEAT ON GRANT HI GENERALS

Portland HI School Team Defeated 22 to 18; Lead Changes Often During Game

In a game preliminary to the varsity struggle with Columbia the Willamette freshmen avenged their recent defeat and won from the Grant High Generals 22 to 18.
