

Band Concert Slated Sunday To Feature Soprano Soloist

The University Band will be presented in concert Sunday at 8:25 p.m. in the Fine Arts auditorium, with Ann Kathrens, soprano from Portland as the featured soloist, and the performance of five numbers under the direction of graduating music education majors.

PROFESSOR MAURICE W. Brennen, director of the 54-member band, has arranged for the band the two numbers in which Miss Kathrens will perform. They are "Vissi D'arte" from "Tosca" by Puccini, and "Dich Theure Halle" by Wagner.

Miss Kathrens, who has a career in business, was the soprano soloist in the Portland Symphony and Symphonic Choir production of Bach's B Minor Mass. Among many other musical activities, she has also sung leading roles with the Portland Opera Association in productions of the "Snow Maiden" by Tchaikowski, and "Gypsy Baron" by Strauss. In the Holliday bowl production of the "Student Prince," Miss Kathrens sang the role of Princess Margaret.

BOB ELLIS, Larry Kimble, Sandra McCabe, Gary Monical, and Darrell Wright, senior music education majors, will appear in their last band concert and will be allowed to conduct their favorite numbers in the traditional fashion.

The brass choir, which consists of three trumpets, four horns, three trombones, and one tuba, will play "Fanfare" by Paul Dukas.

OTHER OUTSTANDING compositions to be performed are "La Fiesta Mexicana," a collection of Mexican folk melodies by Owen Reed; "Crown Imperial" by William Walton, the 1937 Coronation march for King George VI of England; and the Ostwald Award winning composition of 1956, "Fanfare and Allegro" by Clifton Williams.

Dr. Nichols Quits Faculty Post; New Chemistry Prof Secured

Willamette will lose one professor to a Midwestern school next fall and receive his replacement from another school in the same area.

DR. CHARLES Nichol of the chemistry department has accepted a position as assistant professor at the University of Minnesota in Duluth as of next fall. Nichol, who has

Helpful Hints On Poison Oak Avoiding Told

A "rash" of poison oak afflictions have been appearing in the infirmary seeking remedies for their ailment in the past week. Nurse Henrietta Altoff, in order to dissuade more customers, has offered the following suggestions:

Number One—If you must walk in the woods, please do it attired in a fashion suitable for protection of limbs which might come in contact with the plant. In other words, sandals, pedal pushers, bermudas and things of that sort, should not be worn.

Number Two—Learn to recognize poison oak and avoid the areas wherein it lies. Dr. Martha Springer has several books containing pictures of the leaf.

Number Three—If you feel that you have come in contact with the plant, wash that part of the body thoroughly with soap and water.

been at Willamette for eight years, will have more time to spend on research, his main interest, in his new job.

Joining the faculty next fall will be Paul M. Duell, at present an instructor at Kansas State college in Manhattan, Kansas. He is a graduate of Kansas State's Fort Hays campus and received his masters degree from there in 1951. He then taught chemistry at Washburn university for a year.

He served as a combat infantryman in the Army during World War II.

DUELL, WHO has taught at Kansas State since 1935, will be "Doctor Duell" to Willamette students, as he has completed the requirements for his doctorate and is scheduled to receive it in August.

Duell, who visited in Salem during spring vacation, will return with his wife and three children in September. He is scheduled to teach courses in general and physical chemistry next year.

Vanishing Dance Back Once More

There will be a May Pole dance, after all. Student Council reversed its decision of last week to cut out the May Pole winding after petitions containing approximately 200 names were submitted asking for reconsideration.

Representatives of the freshmen women appeared before the Council and pointed out that they were eager to undertake the activity and that they had already begun to learn the dance. After further discussion a motion restoring the May Pole dance to the program was passed by a vote of ten to six.

In other discussion on May Weekend, dissatisfaction was voiced at the idea of collecting the registration fee for the Weekend at the living organizations from the arriving guests. Manager Dick White pointed out that it was too late to change plans with any efficiency, and emphasized that the reason that fees were being collected at the living organizations was because of convenience to guests. No further action was taken on the matter.

SB Officer Elections Start Today, Run Until Wednesday

Campaign speeches, signs, and other pre-election activities come to their climax today with the beginning of the primary elections of student body officers for the coming year. Twelve candidates are vying for the office of president, first and second vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

THE "PRIMARY" elections set to run today and Monday will actually be the only elections for four of the five available offices, since the secretary race is the only one with more than two contestants.

The polls opened this morning at eight in Eaton, Collins, the Law School and the student body office and will remain open until 3 today. The Collins polling box will be open between classes only and the one in the student body office will be available at all times when the office is open.

THE PRIMARIES will end Monday at three, by which time four of next year's five officers will have been elected. However, their names will not be revealed until The Collegian comes out next Friday morning. The run-offs for the office of secretary will begin Tuesday at 8 and end Wednesday afternoon at 3. The secretary run-offs will include only the two candidates with the most votes from the primaries.

Those running for student body president are Skip Alexander and Wayne Carr. The one gaining the most number of votes will be president while the other one will be student body member-at-large.

OTHER CANDIDATES are Del Cummings and Anita Booth, running for the office of first vice president; Dick White and Vic Backlund, for second vice president; Ann Yoder, Mary Turner, Diane Wickstrom, and Esther Gwilliam for secretary; and Dean Short and Ron Taylor for treasurer.

Jack Jones, chairman of the elections committee, has urged all students to "exercise their privilege of voting in this very important election."

Speech Meet Set Tuesday

Willamette University will play host to the annual state oratory contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Forensic Association of Oregon on Tuesday. Dr. Howard Runkel, director of the event, announced that nine colleges and universities in the state are eligible to send student speakers to Willamette for the contest.

Representing Willamette in the women's division will be Gayle Sandine. Lon Tetrick will speak in the men's division. Other institutions sending contestants will be Linfield, George Fox, the University of Oregon, Oregon State College, Northwest Christian College, Portland State and Lewis and Clark Colleges and the University of Portland.

A forensic coaches' meeting and dinner at Lausanne Hall will take place between the two divisions of the oratory scheduled for that afternoon and evening.

Welcome of May Weekend Guests To Be Varied, Activity-Full Agenda

Dick White's May Weekend committee is busy tying up the loose ends in preparation for Willamette's annual welcome to high school seniors. Queen Flossy I, "Don Juan", and the Queen's Ball are the main attractions, but there is also an important emphasis on the academic side this year.

The Willamette University Players will perform Moliere's version of "Don Juan" Friday evening, followed by a reception for Queen Flossy in Doney Hall. Registration will be handled in the living organizations and Willamette will throw out the really official welcome mat Saturday at the 9 a.m. Orientation Assembly. President Smith and Neil Causbie, student body president, will share the welcoming honors, and Dean Gregg will speak on the value of a liberal arts education.

Dave Amsberry, chairman of the academic preview, reported that professors representing 20 departments will be located in the library, the Fine Arts building, and Collins hall from 9:30 to 11 a.m. to counsel the guests interested in their particular field.

Queen Flossy I will be crowned with all the traditional pomp and circumstance at 11 a.m., then, if by some miracle it doesn't rain, the annual barbecue will be held outside with Herb Talabere making the arrangements.

Saturday afternoon will feature a double header baseball game with Pacific University, and a fashion show from 4 to 5 in the Fine Arts auditorium, sponsored by the Associated Women Students, is geared to inform the prospective coeds about the campus mode of dress.

A chivalrous theme featuring spears, shields, old helmets, and thrones for the queen and princesses will prevail at the Queen's Ball. It will be held in the gym from 9 to 12 p.m. and 1 o'clock late permissions will be allowed.

Music will be provided by Al Robertson and his Portland dance band, and Geri Lindsey, KFOR's singing weather girl, will be the featured vocalist.

Counseling to Start in May

Academic counseling for all presently enrolled students is scheduled the week of May 13 to 17. According to Dr. Charles Dertthick, chairman of the counseling committee, every student should meet with his advisor during this week to plan his fall schedule of classes.

Sophomores should consult the head of the department in which they are planning to major, while those students who are not sure of a major field or who are not sure they will return to Willamette should contact their present advisor.

During the counseling session, the student and advisor should bring the student's course of study up to date, and if possible, work out a proposed course of study for the remainder of college. Registration books will not be filled out at this time, but the proposed schedule will be submitted to the registrar and the advisees should insist on a copy of the proposed course.

The counseling committee has recommended that each faculty member take class time on Thursday or Friday, May 9 and 10, to discuss requirements and vocation opportunities for majors in his particular area. The faculty members will also post the additional hours they will be available for counseling.

Five Receive Scholarships

Five more seniors have recently been granted awards for graduate study in their major fields. They are Eugene Groves, Larry Klang, Don Agnew, Glenn Hall, and Tom Loree.

Groves has accepted an entrance scholarship award of $1050 to Chicago Theological Seminary for the coming year. He is a philosophy major and a senior scholar in religion and he plans to become an ordained Methodist minister. He has been president of the Wesley group, treasurer of the philosophy honorary, and chaplain of the Religious Life Council.

The economics department announced the appointment of Larry Klang as teaching assistant at the College of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of Illinois for the 1957-58 academic year. In addition to teaching, Klang will use the award, which carries full tuition and a $1700 stipend, for graduate study.

Three physics majors received assistantships to graduate schools for study toward their masters degrees. Don Agnew received a $2100 alumni research foundation assistantship to the University of Wisconsin. He has been working this year on the structure of molecules.

Glenn Hall, who plans a career in physics research, has accepted a teaching assistantship of $1500 to the University of Colorado. He will teach general physics labs and problem seminars.

Tom Loree, who will conduct physics labs and teach the basic courses while working toward his advanced degree, has accepted a $1750 teaching assistantship also to the University of Wisconsin.

Vote!

The last elections of the year are starting today. Although all elections were important, perhaps this is the most vital for now we are choosing our next year's officers. The candidates have been campaigning hard, as witness the many, many speeches made during the dinner hour, but all the campaigning in the world won't do a bit of good unless individuals take time out to make their mark beside a name.

True it is no easy task to vote, especially between classes when there are large crowds milling around. This problem has been solved in some measure, however, by keeping one "booth" in Eaton open all day. When one takes advantage of quiet time when almost everyone else is in class, the business of voting can be dispensed with in about two minutes.

What we do today and tomorrow will determine who our officers are in four of the five positions open—so let's vote.

Dear Ed: For Springtime—Assorted Airings and Errings

SMILES AND SINCERITY

Dear Ed:
The students of Willamette have on occasion been accused of a lack of consideration for newcomers, and never taking the little extra effort needed to make them feel welcome. Whether this is completely true or not, it is the opinion of some, which means that not everyone is completely convinced of the warmth and sincerity which should be present.

ESPECIALLY important along this line, is the impression we make on visiting high school seniors, as their impression of campus life from their brief visit may well determine whether they come to Willamette next year, or may even possibly make them question the real value of this college jazz for them.

It is for this reason that we remind the population of the impending May Weekend which starts one week from today. Approximately 270 high school seniors will be here, and it is obviously important that we be prepared to sacrifice a little time and effort to make them feel welcome and informed during their stay.

MANY QUESTIONS come up, which can never be foreseen and answered in an organized program, so it is up to every student to make himself available to help in any way possible. This is actually no drudgery, and can be enjoyable as we share from our vast experience, but we should at least be conscious of our responsibility.

For this reason, we of the May Weekend Committee sincerely hope that through this means we may reach most of the Student Body, and ask them to come smiley, informed, and complete with strong arm, for suitcase-carrying, etc.

IF WE ALL do this, May Weekend will be a great success, and everyone can take equal credit for making it so, as well as having the undying gratitude of the May Weekend Committee.

Jolly,
Dick White
May Weekend Manager.

APATHY AND HEALTH

Dear Ed:
With the passing of four years, we seniors have witnessed a great many improvements in the services offered to the students by the University. Were we to revisit the campus in another four years, undoubtedly we would find additional improvements. Of the existing services, I would like to express some concern about the health service.

THE HEALTH service is capably staffed and has good facilities at their disposal; yet I have been given the impression that the slow response and occasional disorganization within the staff has led to somewhat careless treatment of the few serious illnesses that occur during the school year.

This letter is not intended as undue criticism; it is a hope that by airing this opinion, a review of the health service might be considered.

A concerned senior.

QUEENS AND THINGS

Dear Ed:
I read in last week's Collegian that Flossy was the President of the "Log Club" in her freshman year. If my memory serves me right, the actual name of the club is the "Weed Fiend Club." Indeed it is possibly the only self-perpetuating and spontaneous club on campus.

I REMEMBER that during my freshman year Connie Clark was the President, Mary Mills was V.P. and I was the treasurer. We would hold meetings three to four times a day, usually after each meal and at the close of study hours. To assure attendance at these meetings it was neither necessary to announce them nor to publicize them.

Cavorting Farce Honors May Despite Inferno, Totter Spills

As opening night approaches once again for the drama department there is the usual flurry of unfindable costumes and still-to-be-perfected lines. "Don Juan," Moliere's play to be presented in honor of the merry month of May (specifically Thursday, May 2 and Friday, May 3), is a chuckling comedy with a conglomeration of costumes, a variegated cast, and a number of side-splitting scenes.

Most every Willamette play-goer is already familiar with George Nelson's brand of humor. In "Juan" George is up to his old tricks. In one scene the versatile Nelson manages to make love to both Dona Elvera and Charlotte, characters played by Donna Leonard and Mary Beth Van Cleve. He does this by means of a large swing by which he travels across the stage to visit his two ladies-fair within minutes of each other.

In the final scene George as Don Juan is dragged off into hell. Whether this is because of his many amours is still to be discovered at the May Weekend presentation. However, when interviewed early this week, Don Juan stated that it would be best to see they play on Thursday night since he did not know if he would be able to make it back from the inferno for Friday evening's performance. There may be a second star, George stated.

As for poor Mary Beth, she is suffering from a rather sore posterior as a result of the recent rehearsals. One scene between Charlotte and Pierrot calls for a love scene on a teetler-totter. When Pierrot, played by Laurell Tiller, needs to clinch his argument, he leaves his end of the totter with blistering results for poor Mary Beth.

But as the others cavort on the playthings, Rogene Alger and Sue Tripp have been devising a kind of removable face black. They play two blackmoors and are not looking forward to the tons of cold cream that will be needed to remove their make-up.

The costuming ranges from the 17th to the 20th century creating further problems. Hoop-skirts and the rest will be in offing.

WHEN IT COMES to "love" and "the iron-clad religious concept (and particularly Judeo-Christian concept) that physical gratification is somehow integrally related to spiritual love—whatever that is..." (The Collegian, April 12)—would you please give us chapter and verse for your authority? You may have run across something that I have overlooked for all these years. I have never heard of it before.

I am wondering if you have the Gospels in mind, or the letters of Paul, or the early church fathers, or Saint Thomas Aquinas, or the Protestant reformers, or Margaret Sanger, or who? I really can't think of anyone. Please share your sources.

Forms to Be Signed

Veteran students who have not yet signed the regular monthly form for the month are requested to do so immediately by Mrs. Lillian Haytack, veterans secretary, in the office of the Registrar.

Elegant Simplicity Keynote In Silver, Bronze Show

Simple elegance and gleaming ingenuity of silver and bronze work has been displayed during April in the Fine Arts Gallery. Six display cases of Max Nixon's work contain everything from sterling candleabra to cuff links. Regularly a professor at the American School of Craftsmen in Rochester, New York, Nixon is teaching this year at the University of Oregon.

MOST STRIKING in the exhibit are the sleek candleabra and the large bronze vase. Slender, purely graceful lines are found among his candy dishes, pitchers, tea pots, and bowls—some with a touch of decoration: a simple stone set in the handle, or a motif around a bottom rim.

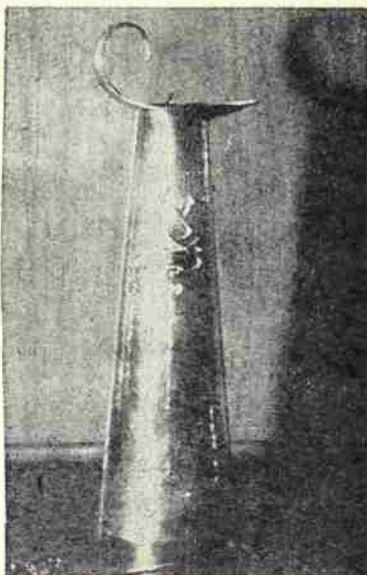

Enormously slender and frivolous, the long pitcher (shown at right) and stirrer each sport a branch-like decor on top, and the pitcher's handle is an upward extension of the rim also forming the lip.

MOST UNIQUE and somewhat bizarre, are the rings. One sports an uncut hunk of crystal as big as the Hope diamond, one more elegantly has an opal perched atop a simple and massive setting, another two staring stones at the top of a wide curve.

Nixon's most exquisite work is done with turquoise enamel applied so very thinly that the dainty design in the silver beneath can sparkle through. This technique is lovely in the tea strainer and the small round cuff links with silver tubing.

THESE OBJECTS defy description—their utter perfection makes adjectives useless. No amateur can tell just how it is that they differ from less beautiful craftsmanship—except as he experiences the simplicity, the purity, the self-contained beauty of each work of art.

In Passing . . . Bo

Every college student should visit Salem's public police court at least once in his college stay. The experience of an hour or so there justifies four years of college life, if in no other way than to show a college graduate what he should have to escape.

AFTER THE TRAFFIC cases have been dealt with, the jailer brings up the night's accumulation of vagrants, drunks and trouble-makers. He lines them up in the front row of the courtroom and as soon as the last two-fifty fine for running a stop sign is levied, the judge turns to this dirty, grey-brown group.

The process of law provides that if you appear before a magistrate and plead guilty, the court will pass a sentence or a fine upon you. If you plead "not guilty," the court will set your case on its docket to be considered under due process of law and you will be free on bail until your case comes up. If you decide to plead "not guilty" to a charge, you must appear once before the magistrate to announce your plea and then appear again before the court in session. If the charge is something simple, like running a red light, and you are employed, then it is cheaper to plead guilty and pay the two-fifty fine than to fight it.

BUT BACK TO the group before us. Most of these dregs are those who have been unable to raise the five or ten-dollar bail and have, therefore, spent the night in the cooler. If they were ever capable of looking neat, the twelve to twenty hours that most of them have spent in the drunk tank are not calculated to bring out the best points of their breeding. In the main, they have on dirty suit pants and coats that don't match, or very faded and patched levis. They all wear at least a three day's growth of beard and from beneath their baggy and puffed eyelids the dark of the eye and the red of the eye is visible.

When they are fined, they pay it off by spending a day in the jug for every two dollars of the fine.

THE PERSONNEL of the court is one clerk, one bailiff, and the judge. As each case comes up, the judge reads the charge from a sheaf of paper that he has been given by the clerk. If the defendant pleads guilty, the judge listens patiently to any extenuating circumstances and then passes the sentence; if the defendant pleads "not guilty," he is free to go on bail. On Monday morning the crowd is a little thicker than usual. The judge reads, "John Ferrico Gonzales."

A beefy, dirty Mexican stands up to the court rail.

The judge intones, "You are charged with being drunk on a public street. How do you plead?"

The Mexican mumbles something. The bench frowns down on the man and asks, "What? Speak louder, please. How do you plead?"

The Mexican mumbles a little louder, "Guilty."

Our representative of justice shuffles through some of the papers on his desk and then reads the long page attached to the warrant "Have you been here before?"

Sullenly the answer, "Yes."

"How often in the last six months?"

The Mexican answers, "Don't know. I been here plenty times"—a pause—"I got a job ten miles in the country where I was supposed to be this morning at six. Give me a break, please, I have no money except fifteen cents."

THE JUDGE looks again at the defendant and then at his pile of papers. Still looking down, he says, "In the last six months you've been here eleven times." He looks at the defendant, then scribbles something on a piece of paper and hands it to the bailiff, who in turn hands it to the clerk. In a monotone the judge chants, "Fifty dollars. Frank O'Connor."

The Mexican sits and another bum stands.

"You are charged with vagrancy. How do you plead?"

And the scales of justice measure out the morning.

Challenge 'Education Week' Over, Collection Work Starts

"The education part is over, now we can start collecting," commented Challenge Fund Manager Laurel Tiller. During the past week he and his assistants have been bombarding freshmen with information about the Challenge Fund and its reason for existence.

While concentrating his efforts on the freshmen, Tiller added that contributions from anyone would be very welcome, pointing out that many sophomores have never contributed to the drive.

"If we meet with cooperation everywhere as we did at South Hall," Tiller said, "we should go way over the top." Fund representative at South Hall, Bob Youngblood has reported 100 per cent participation in the drive, a week before it officially started.

Once again Tiller stressed the fact that the room deposit method of giving is "essentially painless" and has in the past proved the most popular form. "But that doesn't mean that we are going to slight the town students," Tiller warned. In order to enlist their interest as well as that of the students on campus, the Challenge Fund committee has been waging an intensive poster campaign during the past week.

Results of the drive will not be known until about a week after the campaign has closed. Tiller explained that this is because individual cards must be checked of past and present gifts to see how much remained to be collected before the drive started in addition to counting the money contributed during the week.

Petition Schedule Set for Next Fall

Student Body second vice president Doug Houser presented the petition schedule for next year's managerial posts to Student Council Wednesday for its approval, and it was unanimously accepted. All petitions will be due at noon of the day designated.

Tuesday, May 7, petitions are due for the posts of Parents' Weekend and Orientation managers. The following week, on May 14, Convocation and Campus Chest manager candidates must have their petitions in, and on May 21 petitions will be due for Homecoming Varsity Varieties managers.

Decision on a proposal to send the old and new Student Body presidents to Scottsdale, Ariz., for a conference with other Pacific coast school presidents was postponed until next week by Student Council Wednesday.

The conference, sponsored by the Pacific Students Presidents Association, is one of the oldest student officer meetings, and according to Student Body president Neil Causbie, seems by its literature to be one of the most productive. The cost of sending two delegates would probably amount to around $232.

It was the feeling of Council that it should wait to decide upon this matter until it was known if the jazz concert had paid for itself or whether the student body would have to make up a deficit.

Red Cross Drive Takes 200 Pints

The Red Cross expressed satisfaction with the 200 pints of blood they received from the Willamette student body during the spring blood drive Tuesday, but Tom Honl, chairman of the drive, was disappointed because 130 students who had pledged a pint of blood failed to report.

Honl also mentioned that much sickness prevented many people from donating, and that over 30 students were rejected because of colds and other reasons.

He stated that he was very happy with the results, but wished that all those who had pledged blood had fulfilled their responsibility.

Registrar Gives Names of 30 Collins Scholarship Eligibles

The Registrar's office has released the names of the 30 sophomores who are eligible for the Mary L. Collins scholarships awarded to two men and two women for their junior and senior years.

Clark, Martha Eagleson, Priscilla Fax, Jean Galbraith, Rosemary Gilbert, Sandi Harris;

Marg Lowe, Caroline Miller, Ann Rees, Sondra Roark, Gayle Sandine, Sue Snyder, and Sandra Wagner. This list does not include the following students who qualify but who are already holding major scholarships for their junior and senior years: Gary Larson, Conrad Moore, Kay Ruberg and Joan Sherrill.

Students whose names are not on this list and who think they meet the requirements are urged to see the Registrar as soon as possible so their records may be checked.

This list of students will be voted on by the University students at a regular convocation and from the three of each sex receiving the highest number of votes, the faculty will choose the two men and two women they feel to be especially qualified on the basis of scholarship. The winners will be announced at the awards convocation Tuesday, May 21.

The scholarships are provided for out of the Collins Foundation, which also gives scholarships to incoming freshmen and a graduating senior.

Laurel Tiller, Challenge Fund manager, here demonstrates his new method for soliciting money for the Fund. Feeling that most soliciting nowadays is too high-pressured, Tiller has turned to the subtle, indirect approach as he gently persuades freshmen coeds Rosemary Lamb, Mickey Daum, and Darlene Rose to part with their money for the good of the cause.

'Juan' Tickets Available

Tickets for the May Weekend production of "Don Juan," to be presented Thursday and Friday nights, May 2 and 3, will be available at the drama department box office every afternoon next week from 1 to 5. Students must bring their student body cards to have them punched to get seats, which are reserved.

Tickets are available for non-Willamette students at Stevens and Sons jewelers.

Students who do not plan to accompany May Weekend guests of their organization to the Friday night performance are urged to attend "Don Juan" Thursday night, since many of Friday's seats will be allotted in blocs to the living organizations for their guests.

Geneva Russell To Have Recital

Geneva Russell, a student of Prof. Stanley Butler, will present her junior piano recital Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the recital hall of the College of Music.

The program planned consists of varied compositions by Couperin, Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, Brahms, Criffes, and Bartok.

Soloist with the University Orchestra at their last concert, Miss Russell is a member of the Alpha Lambda Delta and Mu Phi Epsilon, national women's music honorary, of which she is projects' chairman and treasurer. She received a freshman honor scholarship and has been given the Chamberlain-Schultz and Theodore Presser awards. Her engagement to Darrell Wright, a senior music student, was announced recently.

Activities Listed For Candidates

Three candidates for student body offices were omitted in the last week's issue of The Collegian. Del Cummings, Diane Wickstrom, and Esther Gwilliam are those candidates.

Del Cummings, candidate for first vice president, was last year's Freshman Glee manager, president of Sigma Alpha Chi, chairman of the homecoming committee, member of the student council and activities board, social chairman of his fraternity Phi Delta Theta.

Diane Wickstrom, candidate for secretary, has been Orientation Week manager, a member of Beta Alpha Gamma, Varsity Varieties publicity chairman, May Weekend committee, Mock Democratic convention delegate, and a delegate to the Associated Women Students regional convention.

Esther Gwilliam, also a candidate for secretary, has been secretary of the sophomore class, a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Sigma Iota, Pi Gamma Mu, AWS Council, and a member of Canterbury Fellowship.

Graduate Aid To Be Given 2

Two students in the psychology department this week announced that they have accepted assistantships for graduate study in western and eastern colleges.

Gayle York has accepted a graduate assistantship in human relations at Ohio University in Athens, Ohio. The assistantship will run for two years and carries a stipend of $1600 for the first year.

She will work approximately 12 hours a week as a dormitory counsellor, and six hours a week as an assistant in the office of the dean of women. She is working for her master's degree, and plans to go into student personnel work.

Hugh Armstrong will study at Syracuse University next year on an assistantship amounting to $1800. As yet his duties have not been fixed by the University.

Culy Elected to Head Next Year's Unesco

Stan Culy was elected president of Unesco at its meeting last Friday. Other officers are Terry Jew, vice-president; Joe Stewart, secretary-treasurer; and Don Coe, publicity chairman.

The group agreed to support a proposal of Dr. Vojtech Andic that the Salem United Nations group hold two followup discussions similar to the Great Decisions program held during the late winter. The proposed subjects were the teaching of foreign languages, the role of the United States as an international host and other related topics prepared by the central office of Unesco. The dates decided on for the discussions were Tuesdays, May 7 and 14.

ΔΓ, A Chi O Dances Tonight; Costumes in Order for Each

Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Gamma will begin the round of house dances planned for this weekend, when they hold their spring costume festivities this evening.

Dale Greenlee and Bob Joseph were selected to be faculty members. No, not at Willamette, but at the National Sigma Chi leadership training workshop this summer. Bob will be a member of the group that instructs next fall's pledge trainers as to the significance and duties of their office, and Dale will be on the board that teaches undergrads the "whys and wherefores" of Sigma Chi, and its place on the campus.

The American National Red Cross will be represented on the campus Wednesday, May 1, by Miss Barbara Wagner, recruiting assistant, who will interview graduating students interested in various positions in the fields of welfare and recreation. All interested students are asked to call Dean Ewalt's office for appointments for interviews.

According to the bulletin issued, currently needed are young women to do casework and recreation with the armed forces, and men to serve as welfare workers at military installations.

If there are two girls who have matching pink, peach, yellow, or white formals, and wouldn't mind lending them, please contact Dottie Cummings or Joyce Ambler right away. We are searching for a breathtaking color scheme for the coronation procession and would appreciate some help.

When I was home last weekend, one of my mother's friends called to congratulate me, and said that she was May Queen in 1927. Her dress was short with a long waist, and she received a $25 clothing allowance.

Bob Barker, Collegian reporter, will not be taking Saturday afternoon bicycle excursions for quite awhile. He distinctively managed to run into a gravel pit, a mail box post, and the side of a house in one fell swoop.

Pi Beta Phi celebrated the anniversary of their founding with a picnic with the Oregon State and U of O chapters at Bush's pasture Wednesday evening. Thursday night was spent with the alums, at a banquet at 6:30 at China City. Dr. G. Herbert Smith was the guest speaker, and the banquet honored the senior actives as well as the founders.

The senior members of Pi Beta Phi will honor Ann Notson at a luncheon shower in the Oregon Room of Meier and Frank's at 12:30 today. Carole Pfaff is the hostess; Miss Notson's wedding is planned for June 23.

"Women in Politics" will be the theme of the Oregon Citizenship Clearing House conference to be held tomorrow at Marylhurst College. The conference was originally scheduled to take place in December, but was postponed because of snow.

Highlights of the conference will include an address on the role of Congresswoman by Edith Green, United States Representative, and panel discussions on "Political Behavior in Women" and on "Role of the Legislator," the latter by Jean Lewis of the Oregon Senate. The conference will last all day and most of the evening.

Bearcat Baseballers Lead Conference

One of the reasons the Bearcats are currently in first place in the Northwest conference, is the hitting of Frank Caruso. Frank has hit safely in 12 consecutive contests thus far. In the Bearcats' last game, against OCE, Frank blasted two home runs, a double, and a single in six trips to the plate.

Lewismen Lick LC Twice, Win 6-2, 4-1

COACH JOHNNY Lewis' Bearcat baseballers took both ends of a doubleheader from the Lewis and Clark Pioneers last Saturday, 6-2 and 4-1. These two wins enabled the "battling" Bearcats to take a firm grip on the number one spot in the Northwest conference, with four wins and no losses.

Things got rolling in the first game when Gary Burdg and Tom Moore singled behind Vic Backlund's walk and Howard Speer drew a free pass to first when he was hit by a pitch. This put the Lewismen out front 2-0, and they were never caught.

WILLAMETTE jumped to a 5-0 lead in the fifth with singles by Howard Speer and Burdg, and Vic Backlund's double. The Pioneers got on the score-sheet in the sixth as Joe Johnson doubled in George Adams, who had walked. Each team added an unearned run in the eighth.

IN THE SECOND game, the Bearcats scored all of their runs in a "wild and woolly" sixth inning. To start things off, Speer was knicked with a pitch, then Backlund singled, and Burdg followed suit. Dick Rohrer laid down a bunt, which was fielded by the pitcher and flipped to the catcher who dropped it, and Speer scored. Jac Fowler laid down an unfielded bunt which went as a hit, and Backlund scored. Gary Burdg scored on Tom Moore's fielder's choice and Rohrer romped home with the fourth and final Bearcat tally, when LC's catcher threw the ball into left field on a pick-off play.

Up to the sixth inning, Jac Fowler and the Pioneer's Ron Stempel had carried on a scoreless pitching duel. The Pioneers could get only one of the runs back in its half of the sixth, when Bill Acker rode home from second on Johnson's single.

JOHN FREDERICK was the winner in the first game, as he gave up two runs on eight hits, struck out two and walked four. In the second game, Jac Fowler received the win as he went the distance, giving up one run on five hits, striking out three and issuing one walk. Willamette's big stickers were Vic Backlund with three for six and Gary Burdg who went three for seven.

Portland Beats Jasons In Close Contest, 4-3

THE WILLAMETTE Bearcats dropped a close, non-conference, game with the University of Portland Pilots, Tuesday, 4-3. A walk to Larry Larsen in the bottom of the ninth inning forced in Harvey Jones with the winning Portland run.

Brad Lucas had the bases filled and a 3-0 count on Larsen when he was replaced by Dick Hartley, who threw one pitch. It was a ball and the game was over. The Jasons scored twice in the sixth, Howard Speer's single driving home Ed Gressenbacher and Terry Ziegelman. They picked up their final run in the seventh on singles by Vic Backlund and Brad Lucas.

Jason Netmen Keep Winning

COACH LES Sparks' tennis team ran its Northwest conference dual match victories to 38 consecutive wins last Tuesday. The Bearcat netmen took a 6-1 decision from the Linfield Wildcats. The Willamette team won the singles and its one doubles in straight sets.

RESULTS:

Singles—Royal Keith — Willamette, defeated Art Krohn, 6-2, 6-4; Tim Campbell — Willamette, defeated Fred McMinnif; Don Smith — Willamette, defeated Jim Benson, 6-3, 6-0; Gerry Winner—Willamette defeated Bill Kinkel, 6-1, 6-3; Marshall Jelderks—Willamette, defeated Elton Clark, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles — Keith and Campbell—Willamette, defeated McMinnif and Benson, 6-4, 7-5; Clark and Kinkel — Linfield, defeated McIver and Gordon, 6-1, 6-4.

Golfers Dump Linfield, 11-7

The Willamette University golf squad added another victory to their skein, as they downed the Linfield Wildcats, 11-7, last Tuesday at the Salem Golf Club. Linfield's John Huggins was medalist with a 70. Willamette meets Pacific University this afternoon on the Salem Golf Club's green.

Bearcats Travel

THE WILLAMETTE University baseball team, currently leading the Northwest conference, left early this morning for their annual road trip to Eastern Washington and Western Idaho. The first of four conference tilts will be played at Caldwell, tomorrow afternoon against the College of Idaho Coyotes.

The Coyotes are a much improved team over last year, as they demonstrated last Monday, when they dump the Linfield Wildcats in both ends of a doubleheader. The Bearcats won a twin bill from the Coyotes in Caldwell last year, while dropping two games to Whitman in Walla Walla.

SUNDAY MORNING the Lewismen will move on to Walla Walla, where they will meet the Whitman Missionaries in another doubleheader on Monday. The Whits are potentially a power laden club, strong in all departments. The Missionaries finished second in the conference last year, and boast an abundance of pitchers, of varying abilities, this year. Coach Leggett's baseball club is the only Northwest conference team which can claim two all-conference men at the same position. Warren Holtz earned the distinction of all-conference center fielder two years ago; while Max Johnson won the honor last year.

Cindermen Lose to Linfield, Meet OSC

COACH Ted Ogdahl's cindermen lost to a well balanced Linfield track team last Friday afternoon, 75-56. The Linfield team scored heavily in the field events and displayed an extremely well balanced squad, as they picked up points in all but one event.

The Linfield team, led by hurdler Sam Stewart who won both hurdle events, nabbed eight first place spots and tied for another. Howard Glenn was high point man for the meet with 11 points, as he won the shot put, tied for first in the high jump and took a second in the broad jump.

WILLAMETTE'S Dale Hartman and Larry Thompson were the meet's other double winners. Hartman won the mile and 880, while Thompson tied for firsts in the high jump and pole vault. Willamette swept the 100-yard dash, when Windy Sequeira finished first in 10 seconds flat and Denny Server and Bob Schaefer crossed the finish line in the number two and three positions.

Twin Bill Divided With OCE Wolves

THE WILLAMETTE Bearcats split a doubleheader with the Oregon College of Education Wolves last Wednesday, and in doing so, picked up their first non-conference win of the year. The Bearcats won the opening game, 6-2, but the Wolves came roaring back, scoring in every inning but the fifth, to notch a 19-6 victory in the night-cap.

Dan Feller, pitching excellent ball, scattered seven hits to get credit for the win. In the hitting department, Frank Caruso's fifth inning grand slammer was the big blow for Willamette in the first game. Caruso also put out out of the park in the second game, and picked up a total of four hits in six times up.

OREGON COLLEGE of Education rapped four Willamette hurlers for a total of 16 hits in the second game. Catcher Barry Adams and right fielder Wayne Osborne each clouted three hits to pace OCE's victory. Fred Butler started the game for Willamette but he pitched to just two men, and then had to be replaced due to a sore arm.

Inspection Due Of Detachment By Air Force

The annual inspection of the AFROTC detachment at Willamette University has been scheduled for Monday and Tuesday. It will be conducted by a team of three officers, led by Col. Graydon J. Jones, appointed by AFROTC headquarters at Montgomery, Alabama.

HIGHLIGHT OF the two-day inspection will be the review of the University Cadet Corps, honoring the visiting inspection team. The review, to be held at McCulloch Stadium at 1 p.m. Tuesday, will parade before Col. Jones and his inspection team, President G. Herbert Smith, Lt. Col. Edward Fritsch, commander of the local detachment and his staff, and Cadet Col. William Wheat, Cadet Wing Commander, and his staff of cadet officers.

Also on the reviewing stand will be Little Colonel Jean Pritchard and her court, Little Captains Toni Filsom and Jean Galbraith. The cadet troops will be led in the review by Cadet Captain Larry Martin as Commander of Troops, and Cadet 2nd Lt. Duane Hines as Wing Adjutant. The public is invited to witness these events.

THE INSPECTION of the detachment will cover the educational and administrative functions, observance of the leadership training received by the students as cadets, and interviews and discussions with the cadets. The AFROTC program furnishes the Air Force with 80 per cent of its young officers, and these annual inspections bring this chief source of manpower under the scrutiny of headquarters. Through the inspections, new methods of instruction and ideas for improvement of the program are passed on to the 188 detachments throughout the country.

After completing the inspection at Willamette, Col. Jones and his team will depart for inspections of other AFROTC detachments in the northwest.

Concert Bookings Complete For Next Year's Artist Series

Students can mark their next year's social calendar for the concert dates of the Distinguished Artists Series, which were received this week, according to Chuck Marsters, concert series manager.

On November 23, the series will open with the Nora Kovach and Istvan Rabovsky Russian ballet. This Hungarian ballet team is a repeat from the 1956-57 series, at which they were very well received.

January 22 will mark the appearance of Leonard Warren, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera and veteran of Telephone Hour programs.

On February 6, Seymour Lipkin, pianist, will make his first Salem concert appearance. The 25-year-old pianist prodigy has appeared as guest soloist with 30 American Symphony orchestras, giving 60 performances.

The final artist scheduled with the Willamette concert series is Marian Anderson, contralto, on March 5. A maker of headlines for nearly 20 years, Miss Anderson was frontpage news again a year ago as the first of her race ever to sing with the Metropolitan Opera.

Reserved season tickets for the Distinguished Artists Series are on sale now at Stevens and Son, jewelers, priced at $6 and 7.20. Student tickets will go on sale next fall.

The highly dramatic presentation will be interspersed with musical interpretations by Professors Brennen and Dobbs, and much "heretofore unrecognized talent" will be brought to light, according to the organizers of this artistic treat.

The program is under the sponsorship of the faculty committee headed by Dr. Paul Trueblood.

Prof. Butler to Speak

Prof. Stanley Butler of the College of Music will be the speaker at the Portland District Music Teachers Association in the Congress Hotel Wednesday morning.
