

Student Body to Vote Wednesday on Sophs For Scholarships

New "Mary L. Collins Fund" Offers Aid to Man, Woman For Junior and Senior Years

All student body members will vote next Wednesday for one sophomore woman and one man who are considered outstanding in the fields of character and leadership, to receive the award from "The Mary L. Collins Fund."

The election will be immediately following the chapel program. From the three men and three women receiving the largest number of votes the faculty will select one man and one woman with the best all-around scholastic record.

Summer Term Booklets Now Available

Two hundred booklets on summer school have been distributed and others are available to those desiring them in Room 126, Collins hall, according to Prof. W. Herman Clark, director of the summer session.

Summer school this year is offering outstanding opportunities to teachers, high school graduates and to college students, says Professor Clark. A full curriculum has been designed for teachers, which includes three courses in drama, 11 in education, two in journalism, five in physical education besides courses in semantics, geology, music, physical science and Dr. Knopf's English Bible class and Dr. Rahe's speech laboratory.

As an incentive to get started in education early because of the present war, vital courses are being presented to high school graduates. A student can now complete his college education in three summers and three winters.

Flier Honored At Memorial

Memorial services for Rex Putnam, Jr., former Willamette student, who was killed April 15 in an airplane crash overseas, were held yesterday morning at the First Methodist church. A lieutenant in the United States army air corps, Putnam was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Putnam, 270 North 21 street, Rex Putnam, Jr., is state superintendent of public instruction.

The telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Putnam Sunday telling of their son's death gave no details of the accident, but said a letter would follow.

The last communication his parents had from the flier was a letter received March 25, which was posted in Brazil, March 18. Lt. Putnam was in the bomber ferrying command and was promoted to the grade of first lieutenant just before leaving the states.

Lt. Putnam received his wings in January of this year. He was a graduate of Salem high school, and went to Willamette for three years. He was a cousin of Dave Putnam, a junior here this year.

"The Mary L. Collins Fund" was given to the university by the widow of the late E. S. Collins and mother of Truman Collins, at present a member of the board of trustees. The purpose of the fund is to offer financial assistance to a sophomore man and woman for both their junior and senior years at Willamette. Awards will be made on the basis of character, leadership and scholarship.

The students chosen will each receive $150 over and above any other scholarship they may have, provided they remain in school. If, due to the war, the curriculum is accelerated, the amount will be allotted to the period which would otherwise correspond to the junior and senior years.

Amounts and conditions of the awards are subject to change from year to year, with the discretion of the committee supervising the fund.

Following is a complete list (Continued on Page 8)

McCall Places Fifth in Finals

Wallace McCall, freshman, placed fifth in the regional finals of the national extemporaneous discussion contest on Pan-American affairs at Salt Lake City, Utah, Tuesday night. Tom Klink of Pacific university won the event against 13 other entrants.

The contest was between representatives from the western states. These speakers were divided into two groups of seven each in the afternoon preliminary contest. Three persons from each group were chosen to participate in the final rounds in the evening. McCall was one of the finalists and took fifth place.

Klink, as the winner, will speak in the national finals in Washington, DC, on May 14 and will be the guest of Nelson Rockefeller, US commissioner of inter-American affairs on an expense-paid trip to South American countries.

Dean Studies V-1 Program

Dean C. F. Luther will attend a meeting on the University of Oregon campus Monday at which finishing details on the Navy V-1 program will be discussed. Headed by President R. L. Stearns of the University of Colorado, the conference will be attended by college leaders from the northwest.

Freshmen and sophomores between the ages of 17 through 19 who are interested in this field will be required to take part in a physical fitness program given by the physical education department. Plans for the V-1 program at Willamette were approved by the Navy department recently. "Students under the V-1 program will be permitted to major in any field they select but must take one year of mathematics and one year of physics and participate in a physical fitness program," Dean Luther stated. Additional information for those interested may be obtained from him or from the Naval recruiting office.

Two Student Body Offices In Run-off Election Today

May Weekend To Be Opened With Cleanup

Frolic, Dance, Breakfast To Precede Coronation; Saturday Chapel Set

By Catherine Thomas

Willamette lads and lassies armed with miscellaneous rakes, shovels and what-have-you and clad in clothes that can take it will combine their efforts next Friday morning in a literal campus spring cleaning as WU's 36th May weekend festivities begin. Later the entire student body will gather for a full afternoon of fun and frolic concluding with an all-school picnic on the lawn between the tennis courts and the law school. Clarence Wicks, manager, announced Thursday.

All students who have tools are requested to bring them for use in the campus cleanup which will begin at 8 a.m. under the leadership of "W" club members. Each class will go to a designated spot where work squads will be formed. Freshmen will meet in the chapel, sophomores in Christ, juniors in the west wing of the library and seniors in the west wing.

Friday p.m. Frolic

Fun for everyone at the all-school frolic Friday afternoon is promised by Keith and Kent Markee who are planning a full program of tennis, cricket, softball, and ping pong. They urge that students and their guests come dressed to have a good time, for all will be joining in the activities. Several exhibition matches have also been scheduled for the event including archery at 1:30, ping pong at 2, and softball at 2:30, which will all be played in front of the grandstand. The customary frosh-soph tug-of-war at 4:30 will conclude the afternoon's sport program.

Members of organized living groups and their weekend guests will receive packed lunches on the campus while independents are being asked to bring their own. Ice cream and pop will be available to all. An attraction of the big afternoon will be a Beta Chi-Sigma Tau entertainment given during the picnic.

Benning Plays

Al Benning's orchestra will be playing for students and their high school guests at the annual May weekend sport dance Friday evening which is slated to begin at 8:30 in the WU gymnasium.

Tickets for the junior play, "Distant Drums," to be presented.

New Publication Campix Appears

This week there appeared the second issue of a new unofficial off-campus publication.

Called Campix, the newspaper employs a lithography process but otherwise resembles The Collegian in department and general makeup.

The experimental paper is edited by Gil Lieser, Collegian staff member.

Collegian to Appear On Schedule, May 1

Next Friday — no school! May Day! But The Collegian will make its usual weekly appearance that morning. Copies will be distributed to workers as WU men and women beautify the campus with rakes, shovels and hoes. In case there are some sluggards who fail to appear (perish the thought) Friday morning, some copies of the paper will be distributed at the all-school frolic Friday afternoon.

'Drums' Features Old Costumes

Centennial in costumes as well as centennial in theme and setting is the plan for "Distant Drums," May weekend play. Costumes of a century ago are being loaned to the cast by various Salem people and students states Mrs. Margaret Ringnald, drama coach.

Corydon Blodgett's hat and vest and Gilbert Clausman's frock coat are being given by Mrs. C. L. Blodgett along with other properties nearly 100 years old. The dress worn by Helen Newland Jones comes from Mrs. Ringnald's family and was made in San Francisco before 1850. The patchwork quilts used

Vice Prexy, Secretary To Be Chosen

Hamilton, Wicks, Moser, Mathews, Schlesinger Placed in Office

Run-off election for the offices of first vice-president and secretary of the student body is being held in Eaton hall this morning. Zoe Fretz and Dorothy Tate are competing for the position of first vice president, and Margaret Ewing and Jean Jackson are opponents on the secretary ballot.

Regular student body elections last Friday proved a victory for independents and put into office three people from southwestern Washington and two from Oregon. Independents were chosen for associated student body president, editor of The Collegian, editor of the Wallulah and publications manager.

President for the 1942-43 school year is Bob Hamilton from Shelton, Wash. Dix Moser of Tenino, Wash., will edit The Collegian, and Nadene Mathews, Vancouver, Wash., was chosen editor of the 1943 Wallulah. Ralph Schlesinger, Salem, was re-elected publications manager. Alpha Psi's Clarence Wicks, May Weekend manager from Albany, was chosen second vice president.

Two of those chosen in Friday's election, when 378 ballots were cast, each won over two opponents. Hamilton polled 246 votes to win the presidency over Wes McWain of Sigma Tau and Dick Stacer of Alpha Psi. Nadene Mathews won 197 ballots to edge out Alpha Psi's Paul Sheldon and Jan Johnson, Beta Chi, for the position of Wallulah editor.

A total of 252 votes won Wicks the second vice presidency, defeating Willard Austin. The Collegian editorship was won by Moser, who polled 224 votes, edging out Ruth Mathews of Delta Phi. Schlesinger, who received 249 votes, won the position of publications manager from James Garson.

Blodgett Sings For Rotary Club

Corydon Blodgett, baritone, gave several musical selections at the regular Rotary club luncheon on Wednesday, April 22. Margaret Hood accompanied him at the piano.

'Drums' Features Old Costumes

In the play are also from Mrs. Ringnald and all are 100 years old or more. Lois Phillips is to wear a century-old dress loaned by Miss Eco Yeater of Kennell-Ellis studio, and the dress worn by Barbara Hathaway is used by courtesy of Hilma Breuser. Herb Simpson is contributing three of the winter caps, coats, and shoes. Barbara Viesko secured a beaver hat.

Large pioneer muskets to be used in the production come from Robey Ratcliffe, who was once quarterback on the Willamette football team, from Cliff Parker, and the Willamette Museum.

The Will to Work!

Next Friday morning instead of wandering sleepily to our 7:45 classes, we'll be busily giving the campus a "manicure." Here will be a group of men and there a bunch of coeds—all busily occupied with making the campus as beautiful as possible in preparation for the May Weekend festivities.

A pretty picture isn't it? And one which must be enacted in real life. The administration has given consent to dismissal of classes for the day, the W club will be on hand to supervise the work—not to see that we all keep busy—and those in charge of grounds beautification will be prepared with lots of plans and ideas.

Now, we all know that our part is to contribute our time and energy. But the idea has been advanced by some that we, the students, won't turn out but will stay at home in our nice warm beds. Let's show them that our sense of honor and duty is strong; let's maintain the good record of concerted action we have made thus far!

Willamette Has Friends

Rising costs—where have we heard that before? Nowadays it's not a question of where but how often. It sounds like something we didn't learn in econ but prices are up, the value of money down and what that means to a university is the low buying power of its endowment. A university in these times needs friends, friends to see and meet the needs of rising costs.

Willamette has found such friends in the E. S. Collins family. One has but to glance across our fine campus toward the Collins hall to appreciate a concrete evidence of their aid. Now through the establishment of the "Mary L. Collins Fund" Willamette students have a new cause for gratitude, the very substantial benefits to be received by selected juniors and seniors.

Yes, Willamette needs friends, and Willamette has them. Thus we will be able to meet the exigencies of the times and aim for the larger victory.—R. M.

TRAVIATA

By Gina Gruntli

Being something in particular about an inconsequential matter

HERODOTUS relates that Xerxes wept at the sight of his army, which stretched farther than the eye could reach, in the thought that of all these, not one would be alive after a hundred years. A century, a hekaton, ein Jahrhundert, un siecle, ten decades, the tenth part of a millennium. Willamette is a hundred years old. And in looking over the mass of rabble that have gone through her hallowed halls and are still cluttering them up, one might weep in the realization that not one has ever perceived the measure of her greatest genius.

I REFER to my brother Gino. Everyone on the campus, in the streets of the town, and in the calm countryside has heard how he has been silenced, censored, gagged, muzzled, muffled, stifled, throttled, quelled, hushed, stilled and suppressed. Yet who has risen to cry out with him against the tyranny that besets him and shout with him against the enormity of keeping him so in silence? No one! Personne! Kein! Nadie! Not a single solitary member of the herd, merorum pecorum! He alone has had to bellow it from the house tops and publish it in the press. What manner of boobyery have we here that will not join a good man when they hear him?

It remains for me alone, me, his little sister whom he has publicly proclaimed as able to follow his scintillating logic and accept his point of view, sometimes, when the stupid, thick-headed, obtuse dolts that make up the Willamette population cannot. It is for me to join his incessant furor against being held mute any longer.

WHY, you may ask, has he been so bridled and restrained that he cannot utter even a sound? It is with him as with all great men; viz., his thought is devious, his logic unorthodox, his facts colored, his manners questionable, his sense of fairness embryonic. Yes, that is the reason, as all men know. It is not because he insists on calling a spade a spade. It may be fairly said of the great Name Caller that he would never call anything what it is. Why call it a spade when he can label it a manure fork or a dung trowel? Why admit that his drivel was rejected when he can say that he was silenced, censored, gagged, etc.? No, it cannot be said in truth that he has fallen into the bad taste of calling things by their right names, albeit he does call them names.

"He is most courageous who never faces his opponent," and Gino is most courageous. In his shadow boxing he has never been known to pull a punch. And no one has ever been known to attack more fearlessly, ferociously and fiercely any straw man he may have set up himself.

Poetry for the weak:

Competition . . .

Two issues of what some choose to call The Collegian's opposition have now made their appearance. And everyone must admit that the Campix has created considerable interest.

The idea of lithographing the sheet making possible the use of many pictures was one of near-genius. And although these first two attempts have been crude typographically and sometimes on the prosaic side from the reader's viewpoint (as yet, nothing has appeared in its columns that could not have just as well been printed in The Collegian), and one can expect it to improve as time goes on.

The staff of enthusiastic workers which the editor has gathered together, however, brings the greatest surprise. If that worthy had shown as much energy and ability to get others to work for and with him this past year while working on The Collegian, he might have been elected to the chair of Collegian editor—or at least might have been a candidate for the job.

Knight Flight

Dedicated to the Memory of Lt. Rex Putnam
Out of the night he thunders on
Swift as the hawk at break of dawn.
Mingled with stars, unblinking and bright,
The lights on his wings mark left from right.

Through two pairs of eyes he glances down,
Then raises his goggles to look at the town.
The men in the streets lift their heads and stare
To see the insignia painted there.

But that is a secret the night will keep
Hidden from people who toss in their sleep,
Fitfully dreaming of terror and Death
And feeling around them It's icy breath.

As quickly he came, so quickly he goes,
His goal and his mission nobody knows.
But some mother's son is this lord of the air,
And, fast as he goes, there follows her prayer.

notes from the law school

THE only thing we can't understand about the case of Ohio Wesleyan Female College v. Love 16 O. S. 20, is that the college was successful.

An Illinois case furnishes an in-a-word description of the new "quasi-campus" publication (or should we say "quasi-publication?"): Haw v. Haw, 295 Ill. App. 488.

And our bells are tolling slightly off-key in honor of the umpteenth debut of our fellow-columnist and Aeropagician . . . welcome back to print, you lucky man . . . (what is that darned thing about, anyway? . . . meaning Milton, of course.)

The prisoner was charged with the larceny of "one piece of bacon of the value of 37½ cents" and convicted by a jury and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary, in Stover v. Commonwealth, 92 Va. 780.

"Cactus" Bud Reynolds is taking elbow-bending exercises in preparation for the annual law school picnic this coming Friday . . . He's certainly taking that freshman v. upper-classmen softball game seriously. "Sluggo" Jack Walker and Larry Johnson are offering to wager money on the freshmen, and DeSully and Foley are calling all bets.

Officers of Delta Theta Phi law fraternity elected the other night include: Dean, Bill Thomas; vice-dean, Charles McColloch; tribune, Herb Carter; clerk of the rolls, Bud Reynolds; clerk of the exchequer, George Constable; master of the ritual, Fred Bernau; and bailiff, Wayne Hadley. First official meeting of these officers will be the "Founders' Day" banquet at the Benson hotel in Portland on May 14, which the Wolverton Senate will attend in toto.

Biggest shock we got out of the column "Juris-Prudis" was the author's description of himself as an "average law student" . . . maybe he'll print a retraction.

FROGFUZZ AND EMBRYOS

By NADENE MATTHEWS

From frogs to embryos to dead pigeons and smelt—which smelt! This is the work of a biology student in three brief weeks. The lab students first began examining and dissecting Rana Pipiens (leopard frogs to you) in an effort (what an effort) to compare the arterial and venous systems of the frog to those of a human. They also found that the skeleton of the frog was similar to that of a human, all allowances being made for the respective sizes of the two mammalian groups. While the human skeleton is generally more round, that of the frog is flattened.

Leaving the frogs in the garbage can, they then took up work on mammalian embryology. Pig embryos from very early stages to the time near birth were corked up in bottles. The largest of these resembled nothing more than the china piggy-banks down at Woolworth's.

Work on human embryos provided the most interest, with specimens of the fetus from the six weeks stage to full maturity of the embryo. Do you know how long it was before you were born that you developed hair? When your fingernails first grew and when your toes developed? Drop around the biology lab some time and ask the lab assistants to show you.

Last week, biology students picked feathers from dead pigeons and scraped the scales and muscles from smelt. Dissection followed, with some of the amateurs in the lab showing great skill in the work.

Med Colleges' Opening Dates Accelerate Pre-Med Training

Medical colleges are accelerating their programs in order to train physicians more quickly during the war emergency according to word received here by Prof. C. R. Monk, pre-medical advisor. Students in pre-medics should therefore plan their college programs with reference to the opening dates of the medical school sessions, Monk states.

The medical colleges are making no changes in their requirements for admission; they are merely eliminating the usual summer vacations "for the duration." Most medical schools require 90 semester hours of college work for entrance, with certain courses specified in biology, chemistry and physics; a few medical schools require the bachelor's degree for entrance.

Willamette is cooperating in this accelerated program by offering science courses in the summer sessions which will enable the student to complete entrance requirements as early as possible.

To enter medical school by March to April, 1943, 90 hours of liberal arts must be completed by January 29, 1943, to enter from December 22, 1943 to January 1, 1944, liberal arts must be completed by the end of the summer session, 1943, and in September 1, 1944, by the end of the summer session, 1944.

All premedical students are urged to confer with Dr. Monk in order to make certain that specific requirements are being met.

Cheer Up, Seniors! No Flunks--Yet

Flash! This article is of particular interest to public ad. majors. When asked for some exciting bit of news for this week's Collegian, Prof. J. W. C. Harper had but one statement to make, to-wit:

"I have not flunked any senior comprehensives as yet."

So cheer up, seniors, for all you know you may have come through with flying colors. And anyway, it's spring, so who cares?

Modern Design

On Land, in the Air, and on the Sea

From Willamette boys in the service comes this week the news that Art Miller of Aromas, Calif., and former student at the university is now in training with the largest class of navigators and bombardiers at Ellington Field, multimotor flying school. He is due to be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army air corps upon completion of his training.

Cecil Quesseth, WU alum and law school student spent last weekend here on leave from Lowry field where he has completed an Army air corps technical school course. He left Monday for Gowan field, Boise.

Cliff Stewart begins radio school at the University of Colorado in Colorado Springs May 1 for a five-month course. He has been in preliminary training in San Diego at the Navy training station.

Word has been received that on Friday Ervin W. Potter, '41, has completed basic training at the medical replacement center at Camp Grant, Ill.

Stan Eland, class of '42, was on the campus yesterday on leave from the Navy air corps in which he has been enlisted for a year. While at Willamette he took a CAA course. He was a member of Sigma Tau.

Queen Chloe Honored At Tea

Queen Chloe and Princesses June and Cleo will be honored at the Delta Phi Queen's tea in the sorority house on Court street from 3:30 to 5:30 next Wednesday.

Forming the receiving line will be Queen Chloe, Mrs. Garfield Anderson, Princess June, Mrs. O. W. Woldt, Princess Cleo, Mrs. Nissen, Betty Sackett, Dean Olive M. Dahl, Mrs. Carl Sumner Knopf, and Mrs. Frank James.

Eleanor Todd will receive the guests at the door and Shirlee Morgan will have charge of the guest book.

The serving table will be decorated with a plum taffeta cloth under net upon which will be placed an arrangement of white and lavender lilacs and pink tulips flanked by tall tapers.

During the afternoon, Helen Zimmerman will play the piano. Senior members will serve in the dining room.

Alpha Phi Scene of Party

Juanita Cullens and Marion Sanders were hostesses at a party at the Alpha Phi Alpha house Saturday evening honoring Private Sonny Adams on his birthday anniversary and his mother who is a guest in the city from Cheyenne, Wyoming.

A huge birthday cake centered the serving table and spring flowers decorated the rooms of the house. Dancing and games provided the evening's entertainment.

Guests were Dolly Cullens, Sergeant Adams, Virginia Loop, Corporal Schmidt, Helen Wertz, Sergeant Johnson, Anne Morris, Sergeant Van Dell, Donna Spence, Charles Douglas, Gayle Dennison, Joe Brown, Jean Selden, Leslie Bean, Barbara Viesko, Sergeant Lane, Marion Sanders, Corporal Kindler, Sonny Adams, Juanita Cullens, Mrs. W. E. Kirk and Mrs. Waldo Adams.

Miss Constance Fowler will entertain a group of students at a fireside in her home Sunday. —Courtesy Statesman.

Ex-Students Tell Betrothal

The engagement of Ruth Anunsen and Tom Hill was revealed at the Tri-Delt house at Oregon State recently.

The couple both attended Willamette and were members of the class of '42. Miss Anunsen was affiliated with Alpha Phi Alpha sorority.

Kappas Plan Surprise At Annual Formal Dance

If one were in on the "Know" concerning the Kappa Gamma Rho formal dance and banquet, one would probably be laden down with the information that can't be told until Friday night.

The secrecy begins at the banquet which will be held in the Quille at 6:30. Jack Hedgcock is to be Master of Ceremonies and then comes Loren Hicks with big things to say. Other speakers will be Jim (Tony) Morell(i), Oscar Swenson and Mr. W. E. Erickson. Something else is being planned as a big surprise at the dinner but no one will talk.

Jimmy Whitmore from Portland is the imported band leader and he and his orchestra will furnish the music from 8:30 to 11:30. Spring will hit the Chamber of Commerce hall in the form of flowers, blossoms, picket fences and lawns.

Special guests will be Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Geist, and Mr. and Mrs. Erickson.

Those attending will be

House Has Traditional Breakfast

Delta Phi sorority maids will entertain at their annual garden breakfast Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Traditionally, engagement or wedding announcements are made at this breakfast.

The guests will be seated at a U-shaped table in the garden. May baskets of lilacs, tulips and narcissus will decorate the table, behind which will stand a trellis and picket fence interlaced with lilac and white dogwood.

At the breakfast hour, Jean Kohagen, accompanied by Helen Zimmerman, will sing for the pleasure of the group.

Bidden as special guests are Dr. and Mrs. Carl Sumner Knopf, Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Tschudy and Mrs. Frank James.

Arrangements for the breakfast are being made by Zoe Fretz, Eleanor Todd, Betty Ann Swanson, Marcia Fry, Muriel Linstrom and Norma Calhom.

Springs's Nice Weather---The Alpha Psis Hope

Spring doth bring such dreary weather. Have we nothing else but spring doth bring such dreary weather. Have we nothing else but spring doth bring such—whoa! Because it's determined they are not to have it that way for once for the Alpha Psi Delta formal Saturday night at 9 o'clock.

A Modern Spring theme will be the cause for a bank of flowers at one end of the Veteran of Foreign Wars hall. This will form Alpha Psi Delta in flowers at the center.

Wes Lang and his orchestra, featuring a girl vocalist, will be there.

Jack Walker is in charge of the decorations. Don Hawes will concoct the punch.

Special guests will be Dr. and Mrs. R. I. Lovell, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Rahe, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Zeller, Lt. and Mrs. Wendell Patch, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hathaway.

Among those attending the formal will be Hazel Bunnell, Sumner Gallaher, Mardell Webb, Ralph May, Beulah Briggs, Joe Van Winkle, Rowena Upjohn, Jack Walker, Jean Carlin, Pete Faminow, June Dimond, Tinkham Haight, Marion Wampler, Dave Putnam, Nancy Boles, Dick Stacer, Virgie Buzzard, Clarence Wicks, Eleanor Todd, Art Wilson, Lois Phillips, Don Barnick, Helen Zimmerman, Al Barrett, Ruthanne Thompson, Vinton Ellis, Muriel Lindstrom, Dick Espey, Esther Hall, Don Hawes, Pollyanna Shinkle, Dick Kern, Beth Nordean, Gib Kister, Emma Lou East, John Macy, Marcella

Lausanne Hall Is Singing Dream-Song Serenade

"Lausanne hall is singing —" to the fraternity and sorority houses tomorrow night. But a little thought reminds us that there is more to a spring serenade than meets the ear.

A lot of clever planning and hard work goes on behind the scenes of the finished musical program. For instance, one committee plans the songs to be sung, another group secures transportation, one group makes the hot chocolate for the returning serenaders, still another group of musically-minded maidens trains the singers in the parts for harmony, and one coed takes the dedications to be announced at the different houses.

Lausanne's serenade will be "A Dream Serenade." The hall women this week have been singing during supper, and have even given up their after dinner dancing to practice the songs, under the direction of Song Leader Louise Wrisley. Late practices, too, have kept the women up 'way past their bed-time.

Among the dream-songs to be sung tomorrow night will be a specialty number by Jean Wing, Shirley Valliant, Peggy Newlee, Nancy Austin, Jean Fries, Jackie McBee, Virginia Barber, Shirlee Morgan, Jean Van Skike, and Marion Fisher.

At the close of the serenade, when the dream-man vies with the dream-songs, weary serenaders will return to the hall for hot chocolate and warm beds.

Serenade planners are Zoe Fretz, Jean Fries, Reba Lehman, Peggy Newlee, Alice Jones, Nancy Austin, Barbara Horton and Margaret Hood.

WU Couple Married Saturday

Friends are congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stephey (Helen Acheson) this week on their marriage Saturday. The Rev. Robert Hutchinson performed the service at his home at 11 o'clock that morning. He was assisted by the bride's father, Rev. Thomas Acheson of the First Methodist church, Boise, Idaho.

The bride's sister, Mary, and Elizabeth Hamilton were bridesmaids, and Peter Faminow was best man for Mr. Stephey. Only relatives and close friends of the young couple attended the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephey will make their home in Salem until their graduation from Willamette, and will then move to Wilmington, Delaware.

Sgt. and Mrs. Dale Shepard after their wedding April 12.

Mrs. Shepard, formerly Mary Ellen Mills, attended Willamette one year, where she was a freshman class officer and a member of Beta Chi sorority. Shepard is a sergeant pilot in the Royal Air Force and is stationed at Alberta, Canada. Both graduated from Salem high school.

Just LOOKIN'

By Ruthanne Thompson

Fraternity formals seem to hit the spotlight this week. The Sig Monte Carlo party was the first of them, held last week-end, and from all reports, their make-believe nite club was plenty "smooth" —and so were the gals who attended.

Among those present was Mary Jean Huston with newly-elected President Martin. Mary Jean wore a green print pique formal with a full skirt and a little white pique jacket.

Shirlee Morgan was attired in green flowered dimity, with a low neckline and tiny buttons to the waist.

Doing and looking her best at the roulette wheel was Suzanna Schramm in pink velveteen. The neckline is high with a ruffle of white lace around the throat and the skirt is full.

Sippin' punch at the bar was Dorothy Tate in a bright tomato red crepe. The dress is made on straight lines, with the skirt falling in folded pleats. At her waist was a wide gold belt and a gold clip adorned the V of the neckline.

This week-end the Kappas and Alpha Psis are holding their spring formals Friday and Saturday nights respectively.

At the Kappa formal will be Florence Duffy in a new white starched chiffon. The skirt is full with flowers "splashed" here and there; the top is shirred, and round her neck you'll find a strand of pearls.

Another new formal will be worn by Shirley Caulfield. It's pink brocaded taffeta with a scalloped neckline and shirred skirt.

At the Alpha Psi formal there'll be June Dimond in a blue crepe full skirt. The dress has a velveteen jacket with three-quarter length sleeves and buttons down the front. Her bracelet is the trickiest piece of jewelry we've seen yet. It's gold link with rhinestones and—well, wait till you see it!

Another dainty piece of jewelry is being worn by Beth Nordean—a necklace with a tiny cross. Beth's gown is white marquisette with a robin's egg blue slip underneath. The dress has a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves, and a full skirt.

Emma Lou East is wearing the brightest bit of spring you'll see in some time. It's printed pique, mostly red. The back is cut low with ribbon shoulder straps and the skirt is full.

There'll be loads and loads of gals dancin' this week-end and loads of new spring formals. Everyone's looking forward to one glorious time—so it's a toast to Hilarity, Joy-Making and just plain FUN!

Vespers To Honor Class of '42

"'42 won't miss the bus. They waited a hundred years for us."

This familiar Freshman Glee motto of the senior class will be the theme for the Vespers senior banquet Monday evening at 6:30 in the dining room of the First Methodist church.

In honor of the seniors, Vespers members will be hosts to the class at the annual bonvoyage banquet. Invited to honor the class of '42 are Willamette students and faculty, and Salem townspeople. To make sure "'42 won't miss the bus" travel posters and luggage will decorate the rooms.

Speaker of the evening will be Mr. Frank Bennett, superintendent of Salem public schools, whose topic is "The Greatest Game in the World." He and Mrs. Bennett and Dr. and Mrs. Carl Sumner Knopf were named as patrons for the dinner. Dr. Knopf will bring the group greetings from the University.

Dix Moser is serving as master of ceremonies and will introduce Margaret Pemberton, the newly elected president, who will give the welcome to the senior class. Response will be given by the senior class president, Bob Voigt.

Musical entertainment will be provided by Michael Carolan who will sing, and Virginia Loop, who will play the vibra-harp.

Students from the freshman, sophomore and junior classes, and faculty members may purchase banquet tickets in the bookstore, and townspeople may secure reservations by calling the First Methodist church.

"Unknown" Hurls 2-1 Victory Over Senators

By GIL LIESER

SPORT LIGHTS

Perhaps all is not lost after all, as far as Bearcat diamond hopes are concerned. Their better than great defensive exhibition in backing Ammon Adams to a 2 to 1 victory over the Salem Senators proved that Keene's charges are capable of playing a better brand of ball than the one they had been accustomed to playing this spring.

Of course Tuesday's game may have been only a flash-in-the-pan, but this scribe for one believes Willamette's baseballers have finally hit their stride . . . they've proved that they are capable of much higher caliber defensive work than they had shown previously. And that's all it takes to make some of those close ones go their way.

We are not attempting to detract one iota from Adams' heady pitching performance against the Senators, when we say that it is too bad the Bearcat diamonders couldn't have extended to Richards, Toolson and Hanauska during those Oregon and Oregon State series, the same swell support they gave Ammon Tuesday.

Had they done so, there might never have been a lengthy losing streak, and likewise Spec's "big three" of Hanauska, Richards and Toolson, and particularly the latter, might never have received the dose of heckling extended them by a small but vociferous rooting section as Adams coolly sat down the Senators in one-two-three order in the last of the ninth to hang up his remarkable victory.

. . . But then, why should we defend Mr. Toolson? Anyone with the gift of gab, phrased in the first person singular, that is possessed by the likeable "Earl of Burley," is merely getting his just desserts in a case like that.

We wonder if it might have been Keene's new infield combination of Perry at third, Daggett at short, Ragsdale at second and Richards at first, that turned the trick out at Waters field; they appeared to be definitely the best clicking quartet of infielders that the Bearcat bossman has yet put together. The play of keystone men, Daggett and Ragsdale was exceptionally flossy.

It might be remembered that Spec tried the same second base combination in the third and final game of the Whitman series last spring, and it clicked so well that he made a mental note of it for reference to this season. But Ragsdale's absence from the squad during the first four weeks of play, due to the pressing demands of textbooks, forced Spec to file the idea until later. Now that "Rags" has safely passed the crises (and we do mean orals and comprehensives) perhaps we will know if he and Daggett were just "hot" that day in Walla Walla and last Tuesday at Waters Park, or whether they really are the answer to the coach's prayer.

"Sports" In the Spotlight . . .

. . . As if dying his rusty brown locks a corn-cob yellow in debt of a senior wasn't enough, Wally Johnson, freshman wrestler and trackman, had to tear down to a barber in McMinnville after the recent Linfield meet, and order a "pig-shave" de lux because his hair bothered him while running . . . it'll never bother him again . . . he's a living example that all those stories told to Easterners about the Redskin scalpings in the West aren't just fictitious.

. . . Then there was Earl Toolson's irony-laden remark directed at a Salem Senator: "aw shutup . . . I can't hear myself talk."

. . . If spring football were in vogue at Willamette it MIGHT be chalk talks that Al Barrett and some of the boys hold every few evenings in Chresto.

WU Thinclads Meet Pacific Wednesday

On Wednesday the old rivalry between Pacific and Willamette will flare again, this time on the cinder oval. Who will come out the victor will be a tossup, as both apparently have teams of equal strength. Both teams beat Linfield by approximately the same score, so the meet should be close all the way.

Those who showed ability in the last meet and will be in there fighting Wednesday are Paul Cookingham and Don Tasker in the weights and discus. Tasker also running the hurdles. Macy, who was unbeaten last year, will be in top form for the 440 and Lilly has been cutting his time in the dash way down. Runyon will be in the long and tiresome two mile with Ogdahl, Macy, Lilly and Runyon in the mile relay, Nash being the alternate. Ross and Nash in the 880 and Abel in the high jump. Bob Bailey turned out for the first time this week and will be in the broad jump with Chuck Furno.

Netmen Win One, Lose One

After a year of absence, Bud Gilmore once again is holding down the number one spot on the Bearcat tennis team. Not losing a match this year, Gilmore is still wielding the wicked racket which cut down many an opponent during his two-year reign as NW singles champ.

The team so far has had two matches, the first being with Portland U and the second with the Irvington club of Portland. The 'Cats did not lose a single game in downing Portland with ease, 5 to 0. The Irvington club beat Willamette 4 to 2. Gilmore was the only varsity man to show up for the clash. He accounted for the two sets won.

The entire squad consists of one, Bud Gilmore, two, Sumner Gallaher, three, Hume Downs, four, Glenn Olds, five, Ken Jacobson, six, Dave Tesarik.

The schedule consists of the following matches:

April 29—Reed at Portland
May 2—Linfield at Linfield
May 7—Oregon here
May 12—Reed here
May 19—Oregon here
May 22—Northwest conference meet at Walla Walla

Adam's Amazing Win Breaks Ten Game Losing Streak

Fine Support Figures in First Victory Since Initial Game of Current Season

No one would have thought, had they seen a thin bespectacled hurler pitching to batting practices a few weeks ago, that the Bearcats would need him to break a ten-game losing streak. But need him they did, for none of Spec Keene's big three were able to stop Oregon, Oregon State or the Salem Senators for ten straight games, until Ammon Adams threw a five-hit performance down the latter's throats for a 2 to 1 victory Tuesday.

Coolness and control, plus excellent support defensively, that had been entirely absent in earlier contests, were largely responsible for the newcomer's success against the Western International league club. Adam's only other collegiate competition had been an eight-inning stint against Oregon early in the season as a relief hurler.

Salem's only run was an unearned tally, when Leniger singled, advanced on the only Willamette error of the game, and scored later on a fly ball that would have been the third out but for the preceding error.

The Keenemen registered their first run in the fifth when Murray reached first safely, was advanced by Daggett and scored after consecutive singles by Ragsdale and Perry. The winning tally came in the seventh when Daggett walked, was sacrificed to second by Adams, and scored on an error at first base.

Leading man with the stick was "Dad" Walker who connected with two of the four hits Willamette made off Clow and Swope of the Senators.

Intramural Ping Pong Final Standings

Team	W	L	Pct.
Alpha Psi A	8	0	1.000
Rubes	6	2	.750
Alpha Psi B	4	4	.500
Sig A	2	6	.250
Sig B	0	8	.000

Hoping you haven't lost your interest in the intramural world and substituted spring fever for the noon hour sports league, we will try to get out an understandable report as to what has been going on in this department for the last few weeks.

When the final standings of the ping pong league were announced, they showed just what we thought they would. It seems as though the Psis have chalked up a few points towards the intramural plaque again. They walked away with first and third places to give them a stronger hold on the much-fought-for award.

The most outstanding players of the ping pong league it has been reported were Dan Moses, Sam Gallaher and Art Wilson of the Alpha Psi A team who went through the season not losing a match. Mac Dunbar of the Sig A team put in a nearly perfect season. He lost one of his many matches. Honorable mentions for the singles are: Mark Waltz (best all-around player), M. Barbour, Merritt Dean, Al Barrett, Dick Wicks and Joe Van Winkle.

Doubles: Moses and Wilson of the Psi A squad and Waltz and Dunbar of the Sig A team lead this field of play.

Sliding into second we come to the softball department of this busy sports world. This year the intramural softball league has been divided into two leagues, the American and the National.

The American league is composed of the Alpha Psi, Yankees; the Rubes, White Sox; the YMCA, Indians; Sig, Red Sox; while the National league is composed of the Kappa, Cardinals; the Faculty, Giants; the Law School, Dodgers; and the Psi, Reds. These teams are playing a regular season of games, at the conclusion of which there will be a playoff between the two leagues for the championship title.

Galloping toward the home plate (we don't like third), we find that the softball lads of 'mural sports world have been making with a little play during the noon hour on Sweetland field's two diamonds.

In the American league this week there has been much play. The opening tilt of the week in this league saw the YMCA tossers take the 920 Oak street boys for a cleaning with an 11 to 8 victory.

The big game of the week was on Tuesday when the Alpha Psi Yanks edged out a strong and aggressive YMCA squad in a 3 to 2 tilt. Wednesday was a sad day for the intramural fans (the gals in Lausanne hall). It rained.

Richards Leads Bearcats With Stick and Afield

Slugging Jack Richards, Willamette's flashy first baseman and a member of Spec Keene's "Big Three" hurling staff, continues to lead Bearcat hitters according to the first official statistics released by the publicity department yesterday. The blonde-thatched southpaw has combed out 15 hits in 42 trips to the plate against Oregon, Oregon State and the Senators for a respectable .357 average. Richards also has a home run, two triples and two doubles to his credit.

Trailing Richards at the 12-game mark is Ward Walker, ground covering center-fielder who has slammed out 16 blows in 47 times at bat for a .340 figure. Only other Bearcat hitting in the "300's" is third baseman Bob Perry who has hit safely 12 times in 40 trips for an even .300 batting average.

Honors for the best percentage of extra-base hits goes to catcher Bob Bennett, who has swatted five bingles, three of them going for triples and two for doubles.

Best fielding average on the Bearcat roster belongs to Lefty Jack Richards who has committed but one error in 74 chances for a figure of .989.

"All aboard for Corvallis!" will be the main cry of 15 members of WAA as they leave by bus Saturday morning to spend the day on the Oregon State campus where they will be the guests of the Oregon State coeds who are holding their annual sports day. A tentative program was received here last week and has the theme of "Fort Up and At 'Em." The schedule for the day is based on the regular army routine. Much interest is being shown by girls who are anticipating this event, as our own Flag day was cancelled in favor of attending the one tomorrow.

If you have made your points in bowling, badminton or ping-pong, please turn in your hours to the various managers by next Friday.

If you are one of these girls that is skilled enough to shoot a bow and arrow, you are invited to come out and improve your score on Monday and Wednesday from 4 to 5 p.m., and also to make your points in this interesting sport. There are no particularly high scores that you have to break to make your points, so come one, come all.

All girls interested in making tennis points and wishing to have competition are asked by Barbara Vlesko, tennis manager, to sign on the bulletin board in Eaton hall.

With all of the fine weather we have been having lately, a number have been seen riding bikes. It also seems that many of the girls have been talking of the way some of the fellows are seen playing softball during the noon hour. Well, girls, your chance to show them up is just around the corner as softball will start within a few weeks.

Pilots Snow Under WU Team 104-27

Willamette's cinder-trodders absorbed their worst defeat in several years Saturday when the Portland university Pilots handed them a 104 to 27 whipping on the Rose City oval.

The Maplemen salvaged some dignity by capturing the shotput event and tying for first place in the high jump. Cookingham's toss of 43 feet 7 inches was good enough for a first in the weight event, and Elmer Abel's leap of 5 feet 10 inches brought him a three-way tie in the high jump.

Willamette took five second and four third places, failing to place any men in four events.

Ten men representing Willamette are slated to leave with Howard Maple today for the two-day, Bend Relay Carnival at Bend.

BX, Signs on Air

An independent group of Beta Chis and Sigma Taus serenaded the listeners of the Evergreen, the Canadian, and the NBC networks Monday night for a half hour impromptu program.

The idea started when a group of Willamette men and women scheduled an unpremeditated, unprepared and unscheduled serenade outside the home of Jean Sevillier, head man of KSLM. Sevillier liked the program, it seems, and since some of the performers were old hands around the studio, he decided they should put the program on the air.

So for a half-hour solos by Corydon Blodgett and Keith Sherman, selections by the Beta Chi trio and group singing carried the name and fame of Willamette from coast to coast.

Band Schedules Spring Concert

"Strike up the Band," commands Director Maurice Brennen, as Willamette's Bearcat bandmen practice for their annual spring concert May 5 in Waller hall at 8:15 p.m.

Two of the concert highlights will be Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine" and excerpts from Tchaikovsky's "Symphony Pathétique," according to Brennen. Feature numbers will be provided by the brass sextet and the Willamette male quartet.

Drum-majorettes Margy Smith, Virginia Loop and Donna Belle Savage will appear in their first performance since the close of the football season.

YW Retreat At Smith Creek

The annual spring YWCA cabinet retreat will be held as usual this year in spite of tire rationing, beach restrictions, and themes. The group, which is composed of this year's cabinet officers and the newly elected ones of next year, are leaving this afternoon for the Smith Creek camp in the Silver Creek recreational area and will return Saturday night. While there they will discuss plans for next year.

Those going are: Grace Cramer, Wilma Matthes, Mary Elisabeth Ross, Pat Short, Bettie Len Payne, Miriam Ferrin, Ella Rose Mason, Luella Ibach, Lois Robinson, Luann Green, Dawn Bates and Dean Olive M. Dahl, advisor.

May and Hamilton to Go To Sun Valley Convention

Ralph May and Bob Hamilton as president and president-elect of the Willamette student body leave Tuesday for Sun Valley, Idaho to attend the annual Pacific Student Presidents' Association convention, April 30, May 1 and 2. They will make the trip by train.

Host to the convention is the University of Idaho, while membership in the association includes colleges west of the Rockies, in New Mexico, Hawaii

Baldwin to Lead Vespers Forum

Catherine Thomas, Ray Short and Leo Baldwin will lead the student forum at University Vespers Sunday evening at 6:30 in the First Methodist church. "Applications of Christianity" is the forum topic and Baldwin is chairman for the discussion. Martha Weaver will lead the worship.

Margaret Pemberton, newly elected Vespers president, extends an invitation to all university students to attend Vespers Sunday evening and participate in the discussion.

Newberg Seniors Hear Laughlin

On their annual visit to Oregon's state institutions, 75 Newberg high school seniors met in Waller hall Tuesday morning to hear Dr. S. B. Laughlin speak on points of interest on their tour. After his talk Dr. Laughlin answered questions from the students. Their tour included the penitentiary, the school for the feeble-minded, the state hospital, and the school for the blind.

Deltas, Psis Present "Sam for May Queen"

"Sam Gallaher for May Queen" may become an actuality if rumor has the right info on today's assembly program. It's the first of the fraternity-sorority programs and will be presented by the Delta Phi and Alpha Psis.

Choir to Sing Music Week

National Music Week, May 3-9 will feature two concerts by the University a cappella choir, one here and the other in Portland.

The annual a cappella choir concert will be held this year at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday, May at 8 p.m. The concert is open to the public.

May 4 the choir will sing in Portland for the third annual College Choral Festival. Several northwest colleges will participate. Each group will appear with its own director for several numbers and Chester Duncan, school music supervisor of Portland, will direct the combined choirs to close the festival. Tentative plans are underway for the choir to entertain the Grant high school in Portland on that date.

May Weekend to Be Opened With Campus Cleanup

ed Saturday, May 2 in Leslie auditorium will go on sale this Wednesday. Ralph Schlesinger said this week. The price is 50 cents and all seats are reserved. The concert by the a cappella choir has been set for Sunday evening at 8:15 in the First Presbyterian church.

Queen Chloe I and her court will be honored at the traditional breakfast served to students and guests Saturday morning at 9 by members of YW. The breakfast will be held on the lawns in front of Eaton hall and will be served from Chresto. Tickets are 35 cents and will be on sale this week according to Luella Ibach, chairman. Money raised will be placed in a loan fund for sending delegates to the Seabeck summer conference.

Knopf, Choir to Appear

An assembly at which Dr. C. S. Knopf will be the speaker and the choir will sing will take place at 10:30 in Waller hall after the breakfast. Following the short program members of Blue Key will show guests about the campus. Registrar Walter E. Erickson stated this week that 250 invitations to attend the Willamette celebration have been sent to high school seniors by his office.

Open house in Collins hall with several exhibits to be shown is being planned for Saturday morning from 10:30 to 12 under the direction of Prof. Cecil R. Monk. A special Centennial exhibit will also be on display in the museum during the regular hours.

Members of the May parade committee announced this week that groups other than living organizations may enter floats if they wish although such entries will not be eligible for the prizes to be awarded. Decorated bicycles will be judged in a separate division and will be eligible for an award. Judges will be Leslie Scott, Rex Putnam, W. W. Chadwick, and Judge Kelly. Rules for judging in all divisions have been posted in Eaton hall.

Programs—Patriotic

Patriotic programs of the weekend events are being designed and prepared for students and guests under the supervision of Dick Stacer. They will be available next week.

Sociology Classes Hear Talks, Visit State Hospital Clinic

A series of lectures by outside speakers, and visits to the annual clinic at the state hospital, are adding interest to the classes of sociology, according to Dr. S. B. Laughlin.

Roy Hewitt, former Dean of Willamette's law school, who spoke yesterday on "Causes of Divorce," opened the series by outside speakers in Dr. Laughlin's course on the family. "The Christian Family" is the topic Dr. Frank Brown will use when he speaks to this class next Tuesday.

Members of the sociology seminar at Dr. Laughlin's home

A complete list of May Pole dancers was announced this week by Jean Moore who is directing the presentation. Those taking part are: Elvy Fredrickson, Jack Hedgecock, Jean Jackson, Tom Hall, Beulah Briggs, Joe Van Winkle, Reeve Schmidt, Dick Stacer, Harriet Monroe, Dick French, Shirley Caufield, Ken Lilly, Ruth Mathews, Hale Tabor, Margaret Ewing, Bob Voigt, Miriam Jensen, Mike Carolan, Glennerva Harnsberger, Don Burton, Dorothy Tate, Hume Downs, Wilma Matthes, Ward Miles, Lois Gladden, Wes McWain, Barbara Vlesko, Gil Lieser.

Flower girls will be Betty Sackett and Pat Short. Mary Martin is accompanist.

The committee planning decorations for the May Weekend dance under the chairmanship of Ruth Mathews includes Henry Tanaka, Reeve Schmidt, Jack Glasse, Bill Nesbitt, Lois Gladden, John Martin, and Peter Faminow.
