BEARCATS BEST PACIFIC 23-7 IN ONE SIDED FRAY

Willamette Makes 30 First Downs While Foes Pierce W. U. Line But Once.

ZELLER MAKES YARDAGE

Plunging Halfback Assisted by Work of Roney and Irvine in Scoring Touchdowns; P. U. Annexes Point by Fluke Play

The worst drubbing Willamette ever gave P. U. occurred Saturday at Forest Grove when the Bearcats walked on the Congregationalists to the tune of 23 to 7.

Willamette earned three touchdowns before the ball was finally landed over the goal line.

This regrettable touchdown, the second on the team this season, came as the result of a fumble when Willamette was about to score, and a run of more than 90 yards by Tommy Fowler, Pacific's midge quarterback.

As for Willamette's scores, the 30 first downs tell the story. Playing what Coach Matthews characterized as "the most sustained offense he ever saw," the Bearcats went thru, around and over the Pacific line until they were dizzy.

Zeller made the big yardage, scoring all three touchdowns, and a total of about 240 yards from scrimmage, but Roney and Irvine were not far behind in the matter of carrying the ball.

As for defense, Willamette didn't have to show any. Pacific never had the ball long enough to discover how it felt.

The second score followed a 30 yard run on the one-foot line, from which point he carried it across.

Tuffy cashed in on the hours he has spent booting goals in practice, putting over one out of three hard tries, with P. U. men almost on him.

The last score came quickly after Pacific made their fluke touchdown. Willamette kicked off, Pacific failed to gain, and punted out of bounds.

Summary

Pacific kicked off to Irvine, who placed the ball on the 30 yard line. Zeller started the march toward the goal line. Gains of 5 yards or better by Zeller, Roney and Wapato, netted 4 first downs and placed the ball on the two-yard line.

Pacific punted 30. Roney made 6, Zeller 6 and then 4. Roney made 10, but fumbled on the 5 yard line, Pacific again recovering.

Pacific punted again to Irvine. Roney made 8 yards, but a pass was incomplete. Zeller made 3.

Zeller went for 6 yards, Roney for 6, and Zeller 16. A two-yard plunge by Zeller carried the ball over; and Irvine kicked goal.

Irvine kicked 50 to Schindler, who returned 40. Nickel broke up the first play Pacific tried, and they punted to Irvine on the 30 yard line.

Roney made 6 and Zeller 6. Time out F. Wolf. Roney gained 4, Zeller 1, Roney 4. Roney made 4, failed to gain, and Zeller went 5 and 2.

Zeller made short gains, and Irvine pulled an outside kick which almost worked, but Pacific got the ball.

Willamette was penalized 5 for offside. Pacific made 5, but Lawson smeared the next one for a loss, and they punted 20 to Zeller.

Zeller made 2, Roney 6 and Irvine 5. Zeller made 5, then 6, and Wapato 5. Russ went for 1 yard; Zeller 6 and then 11.

GUILT IS DEAN RICHARDS'

Danger Threatens Lest Willamette Maidens Lose Guardian

Worse and more of it—the plot thickens. First the president's son is involved and now it is Dean Richards. It sounds as if Willamette maidens were in danger of losing their esteemed guardian.

In the Collegian for November 3, there was published a story of Hughie and his search for the bishop. And all the time this chivalrous young knight was merely shielding the fair name of a lady. Now the dark secret has burrowed its way to the surface: Hughie was hunting the bishop for Dean Richards. It was she who wanted him!

BEARCATS CALL NEXT ON C. P. S.

Saturday's Conflict Will Be Staged in Big Stadium of Tacoma, Washington.

With a record of three decisive victories and one scratch defeat behind them, the Bearcats journey this week to Tacoma, where they will perform in the big Stadium. This is the first time a Willamette team has invaded that interesting arena.

College of Puget Sound is the proposed victim, and though that school may be regarded as a sister Methodist institution, it is not well to let little sister have her way entirely. Last year W. U. defeated almost the same team, 10-0. Two weeks ago C. P. S. played a tie game with Pacific, so Willamette has an edge.

The next question is, will our team of bawling-rams run up a bigger score than U. of Idaho does on the same team Thanksgiving Day.

One feature of the game we can predict in advance is a big crowd, for Tacoma is a rabid football town, but sees few college games.

However, few of the spectators will be Willamette rooters, according to present indications. A few plutocrats will make the trip, and then there are those who have special attraction; around Commencement Bay.

However, Willamette students will be there in spirit, and the team knows it, and will play the harder for it. The only remaining necessity will be a rousing send-off, of which we will be apprised in good time.

Congressman Tells of Early Phil Experiences

"Tonight my memory travels back 36 years and I am living again in my yesterdays," said Congressman W. C. Hawley in his talk to the Philodorian Literary society last Wednesday evening.

He told in detail of the early history of the society and its early troubles, trials and privations. The first society formed at Willamette was controlled by a group of men who did not go to school but who lived in Salem.

There was continual trouble between this group and the other half of the society who were in school; and because of this the outside group was called the "Sinners" and the others the "Saints." One evening the "Sinners" loaded the library furniture and all the furnishings into a truck and moved them down town, locating where Drs. Epley and Olinger have their offices.

The "Saints" formed the Philodorian society in its present location in 1833, and then Mr. Hawley traced the history of the society during the years he was here as a student, a professor and as president of Willamette University.

Wapato made the opening speech in which he explained how the width of the open door to success would be in proportion to the amount of work expended in opening it. His talk was short, to the point and was well received. Jackson followed with a vocal solo which was good, although he did complain of a sore throat.

"Hike" Ohling, of "stringbean" fame came next in a talk in which he told how school and society look from the outside. Every one was glad to have Hike back again—to look down upon the rest as of yore—tho whether from superior height or

FATE HANGS IN BALANCE

Annual Campaign Gives Good Sized Allotments Of Followers To Philodorians, Lincolnians, Chrestos and Webs

Classes, studying, and other minor details of campus activity were suspended last Thursday while the various men's literary societies put on their annual "roving" campaign. The fate of many a man hung desperately in the balance at times, but on the whole each society expressed satisfaction with the results, which were as follows: Philodorians: Wayne Allen, Ellsworth Anslow, Ronald Bird, Lamont Bullock, Geo. Beck, Charles Coryell, Forest Gunn, Thornton Gleiser, Clayton Hendrickson, Warren Jones, George Millie, Alfred McClintock, Howard Nottage, George Oliver, Alvin Rookstool and Aubrey Tussing.

Webbs: Byron Arnold, Howard Carter, Garnet Harra, Frank Delmarter, Garnet Harra, Avery Hicks, Francis Kinch, Fred Patton, Albert Geyer, James Caughlin, Elmer Shepard, Earl Shaffer, Herald Richards and Gordon Keiso. The Chrestophilians: Oury Heise, Walter Kite, John Lawson, Albert Logan, Fred McEwen, Robert Notson, William Sargent, Leonard Satchell, Perry Sloop, Paul Stollari, Dalton Zeller and Thurston Zeller. Lincolnians: William Fox, Chester Gopner, Kendrick Juhl, Donald Miller, Milkan, Gordon Ramsted, Rayl, and Harold Regele.

Nickel Tells Chrestos of Conditions in Russia

Wednesday evening saw the last open house of the Chresto Literary society. The program was opened by a talk on "What to look for and how to find it," by Edwin Norene. The subject was applied to college life. Mr. Norene emphasized the necessity and value of discrimination in regard to school activities in order that we may get the most out of college life.

Discriminations and choice must be continually made between student activities, friendships, studies, and various other problems that confront us.

"The Height of the Ridiculous" was discussed by Henry Spiess. He took as his example of the height of the ridiculous, the conduct of egoistic frosh, the kind who think the school could not run without them.

After discussing this from the standpoint and experience of a graduate student, Mr. Spiess branched out and discussed what a college man should be.

"Russia, Its Past and Future" was ably and extensively discussed by Jacob Nickel, who is in a position to know, and is interested in the past, present conditions, and possible future of that great country.

From the very beginning, its long line of development was traced thru its various rulers and on down to the present day. With a speculative eye Mr. Nickel looked into the future and predicted a great career for Russia.

A vocal solo rendered by Roy Skeen was very much enjoyed. Mr. Skeen has a good voice and his ability as a singer is rapidly advancing. He sang as his first number, "Absent," and responded to an encore with "My Hosary."

A debate had as its question: "Resolved that the constitution of Oregon should provide for a divided session of the legislature." The affirmative was upheld by Leland Lynn and the negative by Ed Notson. After a short discussion pro and con, the judges gave a 2-2-1 decision in favor of the affirmative.

Parliamentary practice conducted by Robert Story concluded this feature of the evening's program. At the end of the "Robert's rules of order" performance, the men drew their chairs around the fire, where ice cream and waters were rapidly disposed of.

MISS FAKE NEEDS RULES

Professor Fails as Shining Example When Crowded Into Bus

"Rules for Teachers" will be the next set of regulations to be installed. A year ago it was "Rules for Girls." And why this fall from grace by our good faculty?

The time was Saturday evening; the place was in a large bus coming to Salem from Forest Grove. The bus was crowded. The chief characters were Miss Fake and Mr. Nickel. The sad part of the story is the reflection it has upon the character of Miss Fake—she talked as if she were accustomed to it.

As stated above, the bus was crowded. Miss Fake sat in one seat with Mr. Nickel by her side. There was not room for Miss Fake and Mr. Nickel and Mr. Nickel's arm, so the latter took the back seat; that is, it took the back of the seat. Now do not begin to blame poor Mr. Nickel; the time was Saturday evening; the place was in a large bus coming to Salem from Forest Grove. The bus was crowded.

The villains sat in the seat behind Miss Fake and Mr. Nickel. It was late, and they noticed that Miss Fake nodded drowsily. Slyly but suddenly they gave Mr. Nickel a vigorous shove.

The bus resounded with laughter. But did Miss Fake blush? Did she drop her eyes in confusion, and shame? "Miss Fake merely stared sleepily at the crowd and inquired, "Why, what's the matter?"

FORTUNES TOLD BY BASKETBALL

Petticoat Pirates Seek Light on Future from Actions of Magic Plaything.

Halloween mysteries do not end with a few parties. Some of the fair ones were disappointed in what the witch had told so by use of a little magic, a basket ball was endowed with an eye for the future. The girls lined up and took their turns. "Who marries a rich man?" Each player held her breath as she tried to put the magic ball in the basket.

Again and again many delicate questions were asked and answered otherwise. Ask the Petticoat Pirates for future information.

A new team has been organized recently with Harriet Van Slyke captain. Others on the Kicking Cuties are: Mary Wells, Mildred Wells, Cleona Smith, Alice Sykes, Florence Howe, Elsie Leppold and Elsie Morton.

The scores for the past week were Jazz Babes 4, Bear Kittens 2, Peppy Poppers 17, Kicking Cuties; Maud's Gang 7, U. Tell 'em 5; Bearkittens 6; Petticoat Pirates 2; Maud's Gang 2, Bear Kittens 0.

Webs Speak on Various Big and Timely Topics

Last Wednesday night the Webs held an open meeting for all non-society men on the campus. The meeting was full of jazz and pep from start to finish and the program was one of the best that has been put on this year.

The meeting opened with the usual song "On Willamette, Ever Onward" led by McFutry, this being followed by a brief address of welcome by President Sociolofsky.

Paul Wise spoke on the topic "The evening after the day before," giving the latest election returns from all over the country.

The famous novel "Ruben Strawfoot" which was begun last week, was continued by Verne Ferguson. The plot is steadily growing deeper and more mysterious with the development of each chapter. The next chapter is eagerly awaited.

D. D. McGraw, with his world-famous theatrical troupe put on a thrilling two-act tragedy. It dealt with the fortunes of two young men who wished to marry the same girl, but as she demanded that they each have $10—well what could they do?

Water Sociolofsky discussed the football situation east of the Rocky Mountains and gave some interesting information heretofore unknown to many.

"Say it with flowers" was the extemporaneous topic allotted to "Crosby" Olson. He made a success, for as he said, "It is part of the business."

Willamette Aggregation Puts Forth Longer Line Than Home School; Band Leads In Parade Thru Village After Game

A twenty piece variety band, accompanied by more than one hundred rooters, invaded Forest Grove Saturday afternoon to lend support to the Bearcats in their annual trouncing of Pacific University's football team. The significance of the term Willamette became an empirical reality to the citizenry of the northern village, who witnessed a W. U. serpentine of twice the proportions of that mustered by the home school.

After the game, the Willamette delegation further advertised their presence by a downtown parade, which ended with a band concert and yell rally.

"Tuffy" kicked off just as the first group of Cardinal and Gold supporters arrived on the sidelines and gave a healthy Bearcat yell. Shortly after, Fisher's Merry Men put in a belated appearance to instill some additional pep into the grandstand.

Yell King Gillette's caravan of two mammoth buses and several smaller cars, all filled to capacity, left the Willamette campus at ten o'clock Saturday. Shortly after dawn, the track occupied by the varsity musicians and fifteen co-eds, for whom they obligingly made room, departed for the Pacific sparring ground. The game was delayed for twenty minutes pending the arrival of the latter company, who appeared after an eventful journey of six hours' duration.

Except for the serpentine, and general pep demonstration, nothing of import happened during the afternoon's visit, unless it were noted that a too enthusiastic exponent of "Willamettism" was expelled from the sidelines by a disinterested portion of Pacific's male guided deputy constable. Allegations population forsook slumber the night prior to the game, when, assisted by the city constabulary, they maintained perfect order in the vicinity of the campus, and awaited the appearance of indiscreet youths with malevolent aims.

The scores for the past week were Jazz Babes 4, Bear Kittens 2, Peppy Poppers 17, Kicking Cuties; Maud's Gang 7, U. Tell 'em 5; Bearkittens 6; Petticoat Pirates 2; Maud's Gang 2, Bear Kittens 0.

Dr. Wood Visits Willamette

Dr. D. H. Wood, traveling secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist church, was a campus visitor Tuesday.

Speaking in chapel and holding student rallies, Dr. Wood has engaged in the personal work of the board and is continuing with young men and women who think of devoting their life service to the foreign field.

Dr. Wood has been a missionary to India and in his shaped talk he contrasted life there with that in America.

ANTIQUITIES DISCOVERED

Rare Scientific Specimens Glimpsed Thru Unsuspected Cracks

A new discovery, a relic of antiquity, has been found on the Willamette campus. The unearthing occurred in Professor Franklin's room during class time. That is the place that one would naturally expect to find original sociological research in operation.

Surely if Professor Franklin had understood what marvelous discovery was going on he would not have been so cross with poor Tink for the latter's joy over the very note that brought the glad tidings.

The communication which Tinkham received direct from the discoverer conveyed the following message: "Behold, the marvels of science are unfolded; Girls still have ears. Thru the cracks in Miss—'s hair, I see 'em."

STUDENTS HELP HOUSE VISITORS

University Assists Epworth League with Its Annual District Convention.

Salem District Epworth League convention met in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of this city, November 5, 6, and 7.

A committee under the direction of Hubert Wilken met the trains Friday afternoon and escorted the delegates, about eighty in number, to the first church where Mildred Garrett assigned them to the homes of First Church members and to the fraternities and sororities of Willamette University.

Friday evening saw the delegates the guests of the First Church Epworth League and W. U. students at a reception under the direction of Raymond Roney and Albert Geyer.

The Saturday forenoon session was opened with prayer by Fredric D. Aldrich, the district president, which was followed by an address on each phase of Epworth League work. The subjects and speakers were as follows:

"The Epworth League President," Floyd H. McIntire. "The Department of Spiritual Work," Edwin H. Norene. "The Challenge of World Evangelism," Robbin Fisher.

"The Slums of New York," Edwin Sociolofsky. "Christian Recreation and Culture," Raymond Roney. "Business Efficiency in the Epworth League," Leslie H. Springer. "Religious Education of Children," Hubert Wilken.

"The Epworth League Institute," Fredric D. Aldrich. Miss Sadie Pratt, Mr. Floyd McIntire, Miss Helen McIntuff and Miss Olivia Thomas furnished the music of the forenoon session.

In the afternoon occurred the annual convention business meeting, where the reports of the Epworth Leagues, the district officers, and the committees were read and adopted. The election of the district officers for the next year was followed by their installation by the Rev. E. E. Gilbert, D. D.

The music at this service was given by Miss Sadie Pratt, Miss Gertrude Aldrich, and Miss Mildred Strevey. Dr. Gilbert then delivered an address to the delegates.

Saturday evening Professor T. S. Roberts favored the convention with a pipe organ concert. Miss Ruth Bedford gave a piano selection and Professor Hobson sang that beautiful solo "Gloria," by Buzi Pecca. Rev. G. H. Parkinson then addressed the convention on the subject "Mohammed, Buddha, or Christ."

Sunday morning Rev. B. E. Kirkpatrick celebrated holy communion for the convention delegates. Mr. Leslie Springer sang "He Knows the Way," and Miss Evelyn De Long played several selections on the organ.

At the morning worship Dr. Kirkpatrick preached the convention sermon choosing as his subject, "The Epworth League and the Future of the Church."

The convention will be held next November at Oregon City.

W. U. TO HAVE SHARE IN DRIVE FOR RED CROSS

Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. Will Manage Annual Roll Call Among University Students.

PEACE WORK EXTENSIVE

Program for Next Year Emphasizes Measures for Prevention and Control of Suffering; War Services Continued

Willamette University will have its share in the fourth annual Red Cross roll call which the Willamette Chapter, American Red Cross is to hold from Armistice day, November 11, to Thanksgiving day, November 25. Among the students this campaign is to be conducted thru the Christian associations, while among the faculty Dean Alden will hold the office of chief propagator.

During the war the campus boasted a university auxiliary which held biweekly work-meetings and claimed almost every student and instructor as a member. During the last two years, however, the university auxiliary has been allowed to lose its identity and the work has merged with that of the city organization.

Willamette chapter includes Marion and Polk counties and contains a number of centers at which auxiliaries are located. Bruce W. MacDaniel, W. U. '15, has charge of the roll call work. It is thru his efforts that the campaign is being organized in the university along Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. lines.

Red Cross service does not end in time of peace, as is shown by the program advanced for the coming year. By its congressional charter, the American Red Cross is officially designated:

"To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war in accordance with the conventions of Geneva."

"To act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with the military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the American people and their army and navy."

"To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods, and other great national calamities; and

"To devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."—Act of congress, Jan. 5, 1905.

During the year 1921 the American Red Cross purposes to continue its work as laid down by the second duty, aiding in every manner possible the families of men who served in the late war; but it purposes to devote the major part of its energies to a fulfillment of the third and fourth duties. In a preventative line such activities as health service, Junior Red Cross, nursing and disaster relief will be organized and extended.

One of the important phases of health service is the establishment of health centers, places from which health educational work can be conducted and from which health influences will radiate thruout the community. Besides these centers, activities are organized in the line of clinics, health information bureaus, first aid and water first aid.

Home nursing and public health nursing are both taught by the Red Cross. Classes in home nursing have lately been organized in Salem, and the Collegian readers will remember that similar classes were conducted last spring. The department of public health nursing assists the various chapters to obtain public health nurses for needy communities. This department has definite understandings with state health departments, state tuberculosis associations, and other such agencies, and works with them in promoting the public health.

It is really a pleasure to us to fit every pair of glasses with the most painstaking care. And judging by the many words of praise we receive it is also a pleasure to our patrons. Morris and Keene Optical Company, 507 Bank of Commerce Bldg.

HAVE YOU ANSWERED ROLL CALL?

This week the Collegian is giving you a Red Cross issue. Among the many organizations which cry for space in the many publications of state and nation, there is probably none more worthy than the American Red Cross.

First. Originally the Red Cross was organized to relieve sick and wounded soldiers. The American amendment extended this so as to include giving aid in great calamities, as famine, pestilence, flood and fire.

Second. From October 1, 1919 to October 1, 1920, the local chapter used $6139.68 for direct relief and $800 for public health work.

Third. The writer of an editorial in the last issue of the Collegian challenges a custom which is prevalent among university students here, as well as people of refinement throughout America.

(By Lorlei Blatchford)

On Friday evening, November 5, a reception to the visiting delegates of the Epworth League convention was held at the First M. E. church. A number of Willamette students were present. Mr. Geyer took charge of the evening's program and games in a most efficient manner. Mrs. Street delighted the audience with a reading in which she portrayed several characters at the photographer's. Miss Mildred Strevey and the Varsity quartet sang. Ice cream and cookies were served, and at 10:30 the guests departed, seemingly well pleased with the hospitality of the Salem League and Willamette students.

Eleven Lausanne women, as the guests of the Misses Grace and Irene Brainerd, enjoyed the contents of a large box from home last Wednesday evening after study hours. Pickles, cake, and giggles predominated. "Lights out" at 10, sent all girls scurrying to their respective rooms.

On Friday afternoon, the Adelanters held their regular meeting in their halls. After a brief program, consisting of a piano solo, by Lucile Atwood, and parliamentary practice led by Marie Corner, a long business meeting was held.

Miss Mary Jane Albert, a former student of Willamette University, who is now attending U. of O., spent the week-end in Salem at the home of her parents.

The Misses Lucille Tucker and Lorlei Blatchford were the dinner guests of Miss Alma Wells at Lausanne hall on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Hazel Wells has been spending the past week with her sister, Miss Lucille Tucker. She was a guest at the Philodossian meeting on Friday afternoon.

Miss Emma Shanafelt spent Sunday at her home in the country.

Mr. Sheldon Sackett spent the week end at his home in Sheridan.

Ruth Busch and Dante Robbins spent the week end with friends in Forest Grove. They were among those present at the game.

Miss Lorlei Blatchford entertained two of her freshmen sisters, the Misses Elaine Oberg and Caroline Stober, to dinner on Sunday.

Miss Emily Erwin's mother and father had dinner with her at Lausanne hall on Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Walker spent the week-end with her mother in Portland.

Mr. Max Wilson of O. A. C., spent Sunday with Miss Elsie Morley.

On Friday evening Miss Lois Nebergall entertained her father and aunt for dinner at Lausanne hall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bohrnstedt and daughter Alberta, and Miss Dorothy Stafford were dinner guests at the Delta Phi house Sunday.

Lenora Ramsey and Alma Wells spent the week-end at their homes near Independence.

Sidney Wood of Milwaukie, Elmer Ivey and Roger Blackman of Oak Grove, and George Thomas of Yamhill were guests of the Sigma Tau fraternity over the week end.

The Sigma Tau fraternity was host to 21 delegates of the Epworth League convention at dinner Saturday evening. Dr. George H. Parkinson was among those present.

Paul Stephens Flegel attended a party at the home of Miss Margaret Morgan while at Forest Grove last Saturday evening. Both report an enjoyable time.

Glan Chandler was a dinner guest at the Kappa Gamma Rho, yesterday.

Mr. P. M. Blenkinsop, of musical fame around the Willamette campus, showed his preference for duet singing Sunday afternoon when he was married to Miss Mabel Dreyer at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lisle. Dr. Gilbert officiated and only the family and intimate friends were present.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edna Dreyer and the groom by Reverend Robert Gatke. The students of Kimball College had entertained for the young people with a party at the Lisle home on Monday evening, while Reverend Gatke had been host at a dinner and theater party given in their honor Wednesday evening.

Twyla Dotterer spent the week end at her home in Portland and returned about 8 o'clock last evening.

Mr. Rodgers and Mr. Carlisle, both delegates to the Salem Epworth League convention, were dinner guests at the Kappa Gamma Rho house yesterday. The former's home is in McMinnville and the latter's in Hillsboro.

Mr. Orin Thomas spent the week end at his home in Arlington.

Misses Virginia Mason and Gladys Gilbert were visitors at the Delta Phi house. They were delegates from Albany College to the Epworth League convention.

Marguerite Cook entertained her father and mother at dinner at the Delta Phi house Saturday evening. Ruby Rorenkranz was a dinner guest of Fern Gleiser Thursday evening.

Friday evening Mrs. Ebsen and a few of the Chrestomatheans entertained at dinner. The following were present: Emily Irwin, Hulda Hageman, Elsie Morley, Irene Pratt, Myrtle Mason, Elsie Lippold, Helen Satchwell and Dorothy Lamb.

The Chresto program Friday afternoon was entitled "Kamera Kraft." It consisted of a vocal solo by Fay Finley; a paper by Elizabeth Berg "The First Camera Man" which traced the history of camera; another amusing dialogue "Look pleasant please" by Eva Roberts; "Photography as an Art" by Elsie Lippold. A piano solo by Mabel Stanford concluded an enjoyable program.

Miss Eugenia Meyers was a guest Beta Chi House on Friday night.

Portland visitors over the week end after the game were Misses Buren, Collins, and Flegel.

Miss Dorothy Thompson was a guest of Miss Grace Collins for dinner on Friday night.

A number of new women were entertained Tuesday afternoon by the Palladian Literary Society with a pleasing program on English Poets in Florence. After the program a social hour was enjoyed.

Friday afternoon the Philodossian girls met to enjoy a program of true literary merit: "Pippa Passes," a solo, Vivian Isham; "Thru England with Browning," Aretal Jones; "Philosophy of Ben Ezra," Emma Shanafelt; Andrea Del Sarto," Mildred Wells; "Sonnets from the Portuguese," Florence Howe.

On Friday evening, the Rose Room at the Spa, was the scene of a charming dinner party. Covers were laid for ten Adelanters and their guests. Beautiful baskets of yellow baby chrysanthemums comprised the table decorations while daintily guided A's served as place cards. Guests of the evening were: Mrs. Alpheus Gillette, Mrs. Jack Wells, and the Misses Laura Helst, Elaine Oberg, Margaret McDaniel, Caroline Stober, Mabel Davies, Carol Cheney, Anna Lavander, Alma Wells, Lenora Ramsey, Andred Funch, Phyllis Palmer, and Mrs. Street. This dinner was the closing event of the Adelanters' rushing season for this year.

Last Friday evening a clever and attractive progressive dinner party was enjoyed by several Philodossians and their guests. The groups enjoyed the first course, cream of tomato soup and saltinas, at the home of Evelyn De Long, where they were served by two girls in Dutch costumes. The next course was butterflied salad and saltinas served by Japanese maidens in the Phi halls. Roast chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, creamed cauliflower, hot buns, butter, jelly and pickles were served by negro butlers at Mildred Clarke's home on north Church. At the Findley home the last course which consisted of brick-lae-cream, cookies and coffee, was served.

The guests were Jewell Cox, Jean Bailey, Lois Warner, Pauline Rickli, Marjory Cable, Kathleen La Raut, Edith Brooks, Irene Brainerd, Eva Ledbetter, Dorothy Owen, Ruth Hill, Opal Munson, and Edna Jennison.

Cow bells, circular saws, chains, and whistles, were some of the musical instruments used by a number of Lincolnians, Monday evening, in delivering congratulations to P. M. Blenkinsop and his bride, who were married Sunday.

The Lincolnians met at the public library about seven o'clock, bringing various noise making weapons, and went to the home of Mr. Blenkinsop in South Salem. Here they sang a song and gave a concert on the above mentioned instruments. The crowd was invited in and the evening was spent in singing and listening to phonograph music. Cake and coffee were served, and the young men departed, singing "Blenkinsops look fine tonight."

P. M. Blenkinsop is a prominent member of the Lincolnian Literary Society, a noted singer, and a student at Kimball School of Theology. He was expected to be married soon, but the time was not generally known. A shower was given in honor of his lady last Wednesday evening at the Lisle home where she has been staying.

Parliamentary practice was conducted by Ramon (Squint) Dimick and was full of the old Web pep throat.

Dr. Ellwood C. ### AT THE OREGON

Gambling pays! At least so Clarence Burton says. A friend of the Paramount character man returned from Big Bear Lake, California. While there he found twelve eggs which he brought with him. He was about to throw them away, believing them to be bad.

"Give 'em to me," said Burton. The dozen were placed under a hen and subsequently nine baby Mallard ducks pipped the shells. With genuine Mallards selling at empty-ump dollars each Burton figures he's struck a miniature gold mine.

Clarence Burton plays the part of Martin Green in "Burglar Proof", a new Paramount comedy-drama starring Bryant Washburn which will be shown at the Oregon theatre for two days beginning Friday next. "Burglar Proof" was serialized by Tom Geraghty and is the funny story of a tightwad's reformation. Maurice Campbell directed.

Steffanson to Talk on Salem

Steffanson, the explorer, will speak in the Salem armory a week from Friday night. His coming will be an additional number for the Salem Lyceum course offered by Leslie Springer. Mr. Springer has arranged a reduction in price for those holding season lyceum tickets, and has put tickets for sale in the hands of Myrtle Mason, Ben Riekl and the Varsity Book store.

Secretary Colby
Says:

"I CAN only merge my voice in the great chorus of praise and tribute which the work of the Red Cross has called forth and which it has fully earned. Its record in the war is a fine monument to great giving, great doing and great achievement. It is not only worthy of support, but it is our duty to support it, each of us, to the full extent of our ability."

General Ireland
Says:

"NOT only has the American Red Cross generously met every demand made upon it, but in assisting in our efforts towards salvaging the physical wrecks of the war it has performed prodigies.

"During the last year thousands of sick and wounded have been returned to their homes in as able-bodied a condition as it was humanly possible to achieve.

"But coincident with the rehabilitation and gradual reduction of the numbers of the war-maimed there looms ahead another weighty task for the American Red Cross, which, while it may not approach the magnitude of recent war activities, in the far-reaching results it can have upon the young manhood of the Nation promises to become equally as important as any of the work undertaken in the past.

"I refer to the functions exclusively and voluntarily to be carried out by the American Red Cross in our peace-time army. "The new army will consist principally of youths voluntarily enrolled in the formative period of their lives. It will be organized along new and essentially progressive lines. On a scale hitherto undreamt of the soldier will be surrounded with every conceivable agency for the advancement of his moral, physical, vocational and educational development.

"In training them to meet the National obligations so certain to devolve upon them in any war of the future, and at the same time preparing them to qualify for and fit into a place in the commercial or industrial life of the Nation upon the conclusion of their peace-time tour with the Colors, the army will urgently need the support and assistance of the American Red Cross.

"In recognition of the splendid work it has accomplished in the past and the good that it can do in the future for the army alone, and with a profound appreciation of its constructive work among the civil population, such as the extensive prosecution of anti-tuberculosis measures and the institution of other agencies for the upbuilding of the public health, the activities of the visiting nurses' associations and of the Junior Red Cross, I urge upon every member who has been affiliated with the society during the war to keep alive his or her active membership therein, and, in addition, vigorously to support the ensuing campaign for new members."

The show is presented each year by the faculty and students of the horticultural department. Cash prizes were awarded in the students' fruit judging contest, which was held to acquaint the students with good fruit and give them practice in judging it. Awards of horticulture books and ribbons were made for the best exhibitions.

"The Anchor" tells of a very interesting club that has been organized on the campus of Hope College. This is a Bachelor's Club, which consists of certain heart-broken wrecks, and cast-off victims of heartless cupid. A cordial invitation to join is extended to all who conscientiously feel that they belong in this class.
