

WILLAMETTE SWAMPS P. U. FOOTBALLISTS

CONGREGATIONALS PUT UP POOR DEFENSE AND ARE EASY MEAT FOR VARSITY.

OPEN PLAYS ARE USED SUCCESSFULLY

W. U. Dazzles Opponents by New Lightning Plays and Scores Repeatedly.

Playing an almost entirely offensive game and never in danger of being scored upon, the Willamette eleven swamped Pacific by a score of 40-0 in Saturday's game at Forest Grove.

As the score would indicate, the game was entirely one-sided, Willamette winning by superior weight and versatility of play. Pacific's team was very light and showed lack of experience in all departments of the game. Outside of several bad fumbles in the first half, "Old Willamette's" representatives covered themselves with glory in giving the bitter dose to their old rivals. The varsity opened up a far greater variety of attack than in any of the previous games, using double passes and split plays to good advantage. They had difficulty, however, in piercing Pacific's line on straight plunges, the opposing center men putting up a strong defence. It was around the wings that the greatest yardage was made. The forward pass was often used, but more often failed than not.

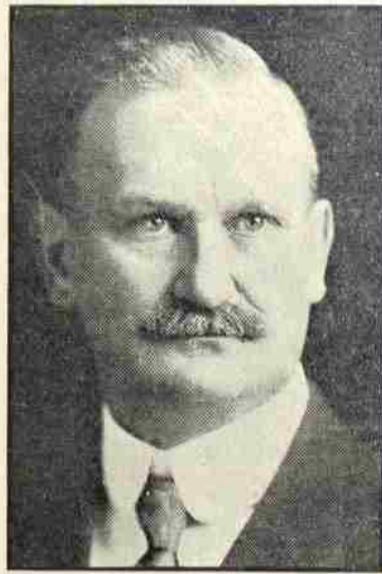

Pacific had difficulty in getting her plays off, as the Willamette line took occasion to break up many of them in their inception and to stop short the career of those which got under way. She made yardage only two or three times.

In the first quarter, Willamette marched down the field twice, only to lose the ball on fumbles inside Pacific's five-yard line. The third march down was more successful and Erskine scored on a forward pass from Rowland. Another touchdown was annexed during this period and one during the second quarter. In this quarter Francis was moved from left half to right end and Stearns went in at half. Pacific tightened up during the third quarter and Willamette was unable to score, though continually threatening the goal. The fourth quarter was a walk-over, three goals coming in quick succession. During the second half, Belling and Lund were substituted at the guards, and Small at left half.

The game was not one to develop stars and personal mention is difficult to make, as the men put up a peculiar combination of good and bad playing. Rowland's punting was much better than in any previous contest. Barring two or three bad fumbles Francis did good all around work. Homan got loose for two or three long runs on punts and Erskine was consistently good for yardage. Stearns and Small, who were worked at left half after Francis was shifted to end, both did good work. Young and Hepp played an especially strong defensive game on the wings. The line was impervious to Pacific's attack, but was hardly aggressive enough. This, however, might be said of the whole team.

For Pacific, Captain Shaver bore

CLASSES TO COMPETE FOR GRIDIRON HONORS

Games, However, Will Not Be Played Until the Varsity Team Has Completed Schedule.

Much interest has been manifested by members of the different classes in the proposed series of class football games, especially are the Sophomores and Freshmen enthusiastic about the material they have for turning out class teams, and according to their own version each will have a team that will capture the championship of the school.

It is expected that teams from the Laws, Medics, Academy, Freshmen and Sophomore classes will be in the race for the campus championship.

In making announcements regarding the coming contests, Dr. Sweetland stipulated that no members of the first and second squads would be allowed to enter, so that the material which will compose these teams is practically an unknown quantity and developments will be watched with ever increasing interest.

No class games will occur until after the close of the regular season.

GLOOM CAST OVER CAMPUS BY DEATHS

Two Members of Sophomore Class Stricken by Loss of Parents.

The student body has been cast into gloom the last five days because of the great sorrow which has befallen two of its members.

Mrs. Page, the mother of Florence Page, died last week. The Adelante Society of which Miss Page is a member, attended the funeral en masse. The Sophomore class sent a message of sympathy to the family and were otherwise instrumental in making the burden lighter for their friend and classmate. Miss Page has returned to school this week.

Mr. Jory, the father of Harold and Constance Jory, passed away last Friday evening at five o'clock. Mr. Jory was an instructor in Willamette for ten years and was greatly admired by all who knew him. The funeral, which took place Sunday afternoon, was largely attended by the classmates and friends of the bereaved ones, and everything possible was done toward lightening their burden. It is hoped that they will soon be able to return to their school work.

ALUMNI SEEK LEADING OFFICES IN POLITICS

HAWLEY, LANE AND PAGET ARE LOOKING FOR HONORS AT NATIONAL CAPITOL.

MANY FORMER STUDENTS CANDIDATES

Candidates Hold Degrees From Willamette's Liberal Arts, Law, and Medical Colleges.

Willamette alumni and supporters are well represented upon the ballots that are being issued for the fall election, notably, Harry Lane, Democratic candidate for United States Senator; W. C. Hawley, '84, Republican candidate for congressman from the First district; and B. Lee Paget, a member of the Board of Trustees, a candidate for Senatorial honors upon the Prohi ticket.

There are two candidates for presidential elector who are vitally connected with old Willamette, Dr. A. E. Eaton, donor of Eaton Hall, and Prof. E. S. Hammond of the Theological school, both Prohis.

James Heitzel, '08, and Max Gehlar, Law, '07, would serve Marion county as representative and county clerk, respectively, while throughout the state numerous Willamette men are in line for legislative and county offices.

Senator Hawley is the best known man to Willamette students, of the many who are out for office. He has three degrees from Willamette, A. M., B. A. and LL. B. He has filled the office of representative since 1906. He was President of Willamette and Professor of History for several more years previous to his political career.

Harry Lane is a graduate of the medical college. He has been mayor of Portland and now aspires for the toga upon the Democratic platform. In the city election, B. L. Steeves, '91, member of the Board of Trustees, is a candidate for mayor on the Good Government ticket. Dr. Steeves was the first editor of the Willamette Collegian and has served as Lieutenant-Governor of Idaho.

With reasonable success of her candidates, Willamette's good work should in the future, as it has been in the past, be perpetuated in national and state capitals, and throughout the counties of the state.

GEN. ODELL VISITS CAMPUS.

A welcome visitor on the campus Monday was General W. H. Odell of Portland, trustee emeritus of Willamette University and former president of the Board of Trustees. General Odell has for years been one of the staunchest supporters of the University and in its dark days he was one of the small band whose loyalty saved the institution to Salem. It was a disappointment that he did not appear at chapel to speak to the students.

"Toots" Booth to Guide Fourth Years.

The Fourth Years held their first meeting Friday, Oct. 18, for organization and election of officers. The class is the largest for a good many years. Those elected to fill the class offices for the coming year are: president, Warren Booth; vice-president, and reporter, Junia Todd; secretary and treasurer James Durtro.

B. LEE PAGET.

CHARLES M. SHELDON DELIVERS STRONG SPEECH

Noted Author and Evangelist Urges Development of Talents and All Around Development.

The chapel service on last Thursday, Oct. 24, was made of special interest by a talk given the student body by Rev. Chas. M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps."

He spoke first of the preservation and cultivation of our individual personality. In the penitentiaries individuals can be distinguished by the impressions taken of the finger-tips. "No two finger-tips are the same, nor ever will be. If God took such pains with the finger-tips, how much more pains did he take with my soul."

"You should have a great respect for yourself, for God will never make another person like you. You are useful, no matter how common you think you are. In all time there will not be a duplicate of yourself."

Then he spoke of some of the results of a true education. The first is teachableness. "The last thing to be found in a true student is pride. After all, man knows so little about the universe, and the greatest men are always the most humble and teachable."

The second result is a great love of hard work. He spoke here of his own experience in learning this lesson as a part of his education. "Men should go to their work as hungry people go to a meal."

Third, clean habits should make the real student to have the finest mind and the strongest body. "I say, if a young man wants to shut the door of his opportunity and success in life, just let some bad habit get into his life."

Fourth, a true education must result in clear ideas of right and wrong.

But these must be followed by action. "It does not take as much courage to hunt the North Pole or wild beasts in Africa as to stand up and admit when a score at the ball-game is gotten unfairly."

Fifth, a sense of world citizenship. "An education should broaden one's sympathies. One of the finest things a true student can have is a love of man."

Sixth, and most important of all, is a profound religious life. "All knowledge from books and laboratories is of no avail unless there is a consciousness of God and of our brother-

RULING OF FACULTY DRAWS FIRST BLOOD

TODD AND HOMAN RESIGN AS JUNIOR PRESIDENT AND WALLULAH MANAGER.

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENCY AFFECTED

Other Prominent Students Preparing to Hand "Fare-Ye-Wells" to Various Organizations.

The first blood from the late rulings of the faculty which allows a student to hold only one of the initial offices of the student organizations, such as presidency, managership or editorship, was drawn Friday noon when Paul Todd, president of the Junior class, and Ralph Homan handed in their resignations to the class. Mr. Todd will hold his office until his successor is elected.

Jessie Young, Carl Hollingsworth, and Errol Gilkey have yet to meet the cold facts that they hold more offices than the law allows. Miss Young is president of the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Body; Carl Hollingsworth is President of the Y. M. C. A. and the Senior class; Errol Gilkey is Editor of the Annual and President of the Kloshe Klub.

Miss Young had not decided when this issue went to press which of the honored offices she holds will be left vacant by her resignation. Miss Young is favored with success in both positions and said that she would not be able to state for a few days from which office she would resign.

Carl Hollingsworth, Senior president and guide of the Y. M. C. A., did not care to make a statement so early after the late ruling. Gilkey will relinquish the reins of the Kloshe Klub and keep the Annual job. It is probable that two or three others will be affected by the ruling.

PEARL BRADLEY CELEBRATES HER BIRTHDAY

Rough-House Also Helps Break Monotony of Life at Lausanne.

Saturday evening after the class party, the Freshment Hall girls enjoyed a personal effects search. The Sophomore friends and neighbors had plundered and pillaged the rooms until they looked canny and unnatural to say the least. Powder was missing, pictures were secluded or reversed, a pair of number five Sunday shoes had mysteriously disappeared and one girl weepingly bemoaned the loss of her best beau's picture. Just as everyone was getting settled for the night a perfect combustion of sneezes broke out and pillows and girls fairly flew apart.

A delightful dinner party, consisting of Misses Pennington, Frances Pohle, Alta Altman, Margaret Graham, Theodosia Bennett, Stella Graham, Jessie Young, Gertrude Reeves, Ada Mark, Emma Loughridge, Ava McMahon, Ruth Young, Helen Wastell and Mildred Bartholomew, assisted Miss Pearl Bradley in celebrating her birthday Friday evening. The dining room was prettily decorated in autumn colors. Red was the color scheme used on the table, both in candles and centerpiece, which was of chrysanthemums. Games and several readings given by Miss Loughridge furnished entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

A LITTLE TOO DRASTIC.

We think we voice the judgment of a large majority of the student body in saying that the recent action of the faculty with regard to limiting the number of important offices to be held by any student to a single one and disqualifying those delinquent in their studies from holding any important office meets a distinct need. There is one provision, however, which he are disposed to criticize—the one which makes the ruling "ex post facto" in their application. An injustice is being done those who have been elected to more than one responsible position in requiring them to resign, to say nothing of the confusion resulting. A round of resignations and special elections will be required to straighten out the situation and the results will be far from satisfactory. By making the provisions apply only to future elections, this could have been avoided.

As you have perhaps gathered from our remarks, the theme of this editorial is that the action of the faculty, while in general commendable, is rather too drastic for immediate execution.

LET THERE BE WALKS.

It is absolutely senseless that, during the rainy fall weather, spectators at games on Willamette Field should have to walk through a hundred and fifty yards of sticky clay to reach the grandstand. While the most extensive improvements have been made on the playing field, the comfort of the onlookers seems to have been entirely overlooked or disregarded. A very little work would be necessary to build a plank walk from the main gate to the grandstand. We would suggest that the boys of the Academy be asked to furnish the labor of this task, or, better still, that they volunteer their services without asking. The Executive Committee should see to it that the walk is constructed within the week.

WELCOME ADDITIONS.

There is a premium upon chairs in the library during the second and third morning periods when only about half those wishing to use the room can be accommodated. The addition of two or three more tables and chairs to match would relieve the situation. While we are speaking of the library, we would suggest that two or three waste-baskets would be a most welcome addition to the equipment. The tables, littered as they usually are with crumpled sheets of note paper, are decidedly not presentable.

VOTE RIGHT!

Monday, Nov. 4, is the date of the city primary election. The fight is between good government and "whiskey rule." Willamette University is vitally concerned in whether Salem shall be a clean city or a "rotten" city, and her influence should be cast wholly on the side of those who would make Salem a city worthy to be the seat of a great institution of learning. Every student who can establish his eligibility to vote in this election should feel in duty bound to use his influence and cast his ballot for good government.

A JAR TO OUR COMPLACENCY.

We are sure that college spirit is not at so low an ebb as one would be led to think from a communication published elsewhere. Willamette spirit is something deeper than any rally or outward display. At some later time, we will attempt to the best of our ability to put the meaning of Willamette spirit into words. Meanwhile, there is enough truth in the article mentioned to make it worthy of your attention.

TOO BIG A RISK.

Besides being out of our province, any expression of opinion on national or state politics would be rather too prejudicial to our personal safety to be worth the risk. It is unnecessary to urge those who are eligible to vote in Tuesday's election to take advantage of the privilege. Every one will be on hand to help "save the country" according to his own peculiar notion.

The Collegian takes great pleasure in calling the attention of Willamette students to one of Salem's most recent adjuncts in the way of student conveniences.

This is the Bullock Studio, whose ad you will find in another part of this issue.

This studio is especially fitted for students. It is located in the southwest corner on the fourth floor of the Hubbard building. It has room for taking a group of 100 to 150 people. Besides having a north skylight, it has arranged a device so that water will be continually running over the glass and thus give the picture a tinted effect that can be procured in no other way.

This is the only studio in the state that has this new device.

The studio is equipped with both men's and ladies' dressing rooms, hot and cold water, and steam heat.

The management has carefully gone over all the kinds of stock used in the largest studios of the East and has selected only the best for its use.

Mr. Bullock has taken particular pains and used all caution in securing the best that money could buy for his studio. He has traveled all over the Northwest, carefully studying the various studios, selecting the best ideas in each one to put into his own. The result is that Mr. Bullock presents to Willamette students and Salem the most finished, the most complete, and the most up-to-date studio in the Northwest.

Mr. Bullock has secured the services of an operator and artist who has specialized in this business for ten years. Thus it makes it possible for the Bullock studio to turn out as good a class of work as can be done.

It would not be out of place to say a word about Mr. Bullock himself. He is a man of good moral worth and character, a member of the Christian church of this city, and stands for all that is clean and moral in the town. It will certainly be a pleasure for Salem people to deal with a man of this character.

PHILOSOPHANS SETTLE POLITICAL PROBLEMS

While Uncle Sam sat on the fence and watched with doubtful mien the outcome, the G. O. P., the Bull Moose, and the Burro, had an exciting race in the Philodorian halls last Friday afternoon.

To calm the stormy spirits of the contestants, Miss Gertrude Reeves played an instrumental solo. Mrs. Lola Belle Bellinger reviewed the party platforms, pounded in a few tottery planks, and Miss Mildred Bartholomew presented Woman's Work in the campaign. Miss Mary Pigler gave the Presidential Outlook which is whatever the individual wishes to make it.

Second roll call was responded to by direct votes for president. Woodrow Wilson won by a large majority.

Ralph Homan wrenched his knee badly while celebrating at the rally and is at present viewing the world from the vantage-point of a pair of crutches. The knee is an old offender, being the one which kept him out of football this season.

Maxwell Ball, who has been sick at his home in Portland for the past two weeks, turned up on the campus Monday. He was threatened with pneumonia but has thoroughly regained his fair-weather legs.

COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Editor:

Last Saturday evening the student body was asked to meet the returning football team. When the train arrived there were about five boys and five times as many girls to welcome the victors. A rather weak yell issued from the throats of those few ardent supporters, but all in all, the whole affair was a very sickly attempt.

When a school of the number of students that Willamette has, can't turn out more than a half-dozen fellows to meet their own team, there is something radically wrong.

The spirit heretofore shown in Willamette on such occasions has far outshone the demonstration on Saturday night.

If the student body doesn't wish to back the various branches of athletics in the school, it is high time that such things were either excluded or put on a different basis. At present the team is receiving less support from the student body as a whole than ever before.

The rally was not attended as well as in the past and seemed to show a wane in the school spirit.

The students will awake to find their team losing heart and defeat staring the institution in the face.

If you have a single drop of loyal blood in your veins, get busy and help raise the spirits of the members of the team by showing them that you believe in them.

We don't call on you to think of your Honor, but to think of your Duty in such a matter. Don't let the fairer sex beat you out in a matter of this kind. Be men, and men of some spirit.

FRESHMEN LEAD Y. M. C. A.

The Freshmen took charge of last Sunday's Y. M. C. A. meeting. Their program was well arranged and the topic, "The Y. M. C. A. in Foreign Fields," was presented in a most interesting manner. The meeting was led by Tinkham Gilbert.

The Association was favored by a musical selection, "Hark! Hark! My Soul," by the Congregational quartet.

Mr. Hanke opened with a comprehensive review of the missionary field. Mr. Schroeder's enthusiastic treatise on the Work in China won the interest of all, while Mr. McMillan ably spoke of the Y. M. C. A. work in all lands and its relation to the commercial world.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Odgers, chairman of the Mission Study department, announced that a class in the study of "The Chinese Revolution" in charge of Messrs. Chu and Hollingworth, is to be formed.

ADELPHIANS HOLD FIRST MEETING.

The Adelprians held their first open meeting of the semester Friday, Oct. 18. A good many of the new girls attended. The program rendered was as follows: Piano Solo, Vesta Mulligan; History of the Adelprians, Clara Perkins; Vocal Duet, Lois Ashly and Esther Emmel; Original Story, Junia Todd; Vocal Solo, Hortense Ingalls. A lively parliamentary practice was followed by a five minutes' recess. The outlook for this coming year is very promising.

Mrs. Sherwood Speaks at Y. W. C. A.

The report of the Summer Conference which was to have been given at the Y. W. C. A. meeting of last week was postponed until this week. The service Thursday was very much saddened on account of the death of the mother of Florence Page. Mrs. Sherwood gave a memorial talk based on the ninety-first Psalm, and Miss Schneider sang "I Trust in Thee."

SUCCESS COMES TO SECOND TEAM SAT.

Score 7-0—Results Produced in Second Half—Their Third Victory.

The varsity second team achieved another of their regular 7 to 0 victories Saturday afternoon by defeating Independence High School by the above named score.

The Independence team proved to be a very strong aggregation and kept the scrubs busy from whistle to whistle.

The score came in the first of the second quarter when Reynold succeeded in bucking the pigskin across and Toots Booth successfully negotiated with the cross-bars for the 7 points that gave the victory to Willamette.

Although the seconds did not maintain the upper hand throughout the entire game, the nearest Independence came to scoring was when the seconds received a punt on the ten-yard line just at the close of the first half.

The second team was minus the services of Chapelle at half, Pfaff replacing him, but otherwise played their regular line-up. They are now looking for more high schools to conquer.

ADELANTES FLEE COLD WORLD.

The Adelantes took a decidedly unique trip last Friday afternoon, when each member of the society answered roll call by conducting her sisters to some place or person of interest in Mythland. The journey was specially interesting and several side-trips were taken to the adjoining countries of Fairyland and Dreamland.

The Misses Lulu and Lina Heist, through the aid of music, took us to a most delightful station, "Love's Dream." Other places enroute were: Hades, the Castle of Cupid and Psyche, the Moon (where we visited the monarch of that place), and numerous other stations. Many wonderful characters that all students of mythology hope to meet at some time were encountered.

Special mention must be made of the side-trips taken with the Misses Austin, Plumer and Heist, on the wings of song.

Next Friday is initiation and all members are urged to be present.

TEUTONIA ERECTS ANOTHER PILLAR.

The German Club has laid permanent foundations and bids fair to become one of the important factors in the life of the University.

Some constitutional changes have recently been made, requiring a more diligent attendance and a more faithful performance of duties in order to hold membership; thus raising the standard and increasing the efficiency of the organization. Prof. Walsh has large and enthusiastic plans for the future of the society and is exerting his energy toward the realization of these plans.

The club met last Saturday night at the home of the Misses Heist, and besides spending a very delightful hour in social conversation, which is carried on entirely in German, and the singing of some German songs, rendered the following program: Inaugural address, outlining the policy of the year, by the president, Wm. Schreiber; Original Story, by W. H. Oldenburg; and a very entertaining and instructive account of his European trip by Mr. Stocker, dwelling particularly upon his travel through America, his journey over the deep, and arrival in Paris. At a later date he promises to give an account of his travels through Germany and Switzerland.

On Saturday, Nov. 9th, the club will meet at the home of Prof. Walsh.

Y. W. C. A. CONDUCTS BIBLE CLASSES AT CHEMAWA

Those who hold that an organization should be not merely good, but good for something, will be gratified to know that this year the Y. W. C. A. Extension Committee are conducting weekly Bible classes at Chemawa.

Ruth Young, Marie Lovelace, Daisy Mulky, Lella Lent and Mary Hansen are the girls who are devoting every Tuesday evening to this work, and under them are studying twenty-five or more girls ranging in age from fifteen years up. The younger girls are organized into a "circle" under the charge of one of the women connected with the school, and in this department the study is carried on by means of Bible stories.

Th work has been undertaken upon a substantial basis, for in addition to the individual preparation made by the girls during the summer, there is a class for those engaged in the teaching at Cemawa, conducted by Miss Chappell, for a half-hour every Sunday afternoon. Miss Fox, during her recent visit, spent Sunday afternoon at an enthusiastic service at the Indian school, and at that time organized the Bible classes.

Any girls who would be interested in accompanying the committee some Tuesday evening would be cordially welcome.

STUDENT ANNOUNCEMENTS TO ADORN NEW BULLETIN BOARD

At last the unexpected has happened. Dr. Patterson, by many rousing speeches, has at the last moment averted a great crisis. No more will society announcements and their kindred spirits be read in chapel. Instead, a nice little case will hold the announcements on a brand new bulletin board which the school intends to erect.

Each society desirous of having announcements appear in this manner have donated one bright simoleon to help cover the expense. The school will stand the rest of the cost and is doing a very noble act in erecting this board, as it will be instrumental in saving the life of an umbrella and a life-preserver are all that have kept the genial Dean from being swamped by notices ere now.

SIXTEENERS GATHER WITHOUT MISFORTUNE

Fear of Sophs Unfounded.—First Social Event of Class.

Despite their terror of the Sophomores, the Freshmen gathered courage to assemble in the Websterian halls last Saturday evening for their long-anticipated party. There was a great fear for the safety of the refreshments, so the Class of '16, in its wisdom, appointed a body-guard to prevent any such deporting of eatables, and were rewarded by the distinction of having held a Freshman party with refreshments intact.

When the crowd had gathered at eight o'clock in the pennant-decked halls, it seemed as though everything bid fair for an evening unmolested. The president, Sam Russel, gave a short address, during which his assertions that the Class of '16 ought to be the best in the history of Willamette were greeted with hearty cheers. Conversation programs were distributed, signed up, and the conversations were well on their way when the expected happened—the lights went out. This age-old trick was the sole interruption essayed by the fifteeners, and after some time spent by candle-light, the revelry was renewed and all went smoothly.

Interspersed during the evening were a piano solo by Miss Kuntz, a duet by the Misses Boyer and Avison, and a reading by Mr. Jewett. The program ended with a march to supper, headed by the class president. Toothsome refreshments in the class colors, brown and gold, were served and the party dispersed.

Favors in the form of class rolls attached to the programs were provided. The honorary guests were Dr. and Mrs. Patterson, Miss Pennington, and Miss Krenning.

NEW ART QUARTERS FITTED UP.

The Art department is now located in the chapel building, as a result of a shifting of this department and the Y. W. C. A. rest room, in order to gain more room for class work. The old office rooms located in the northwest corner of the building on the auditorium floor, have been partitioned, shelved and overhauled in general, making a very cozy home for Miss Gill.

ENTHUSIASM RUNS HIGH

Jupe Pluve Tries to Break Up Rally but is Squelched.—Bonfire Postponed Till Later.

With a large turn-out of students present the first varsity rally was staged in the gym last Friday evening. The only drawback was Jupe Pluve's grouch, which put a stop to preparations for the big bonfire and drove the celebrators indoors.

Prior to the conclave in the gym, the men gathered at the chapel and led by the varsity band marched the serpentine down through the business section of the city, going down Court street and returning up State to the gym. The parade was enlivened by several unique stunts and yells were given at intervals. The Sophomore white elephant and Pacific's goat were the principal attractions.

But the gymnasium was the real mecca of the evening's rally. When the male contingent returned from the street parade they found the fairer members of the student body had arrived and were already starting the excitement.

The first stunt pulled off was the forming of the official W. U. The "W" being composed of boys and the "U" of girls.

Yell-leader McCaddam had prepared a well organized program, the carrying out of which consumed the remainder of the evening.

Prof. Matthews spoke on the history of athletics in the institution and the Freshman class president, Russell, made a short speech on the mission of the Freshman class. Band music interspersed with college songs and yells occupied the time between stunts and speeches.

The Sophs gave harrowing moving pictures by use of the shadow effect. The Freshmen presented an original hazing scene closely resembling a dog fight.

The varsity yells, both old and new, had been printed and during the course of the evening each was given several times until all were mastered.

The crowd adjourned with a better knowledge of school yells and songs and with a renewed supply of old Willamette spirit.

Conference Football Schedule.

- November 2—
O. A. C. vs. W. S. C. at Pullman.
Idaho vs. U. of O. at Moscow.
- November 9—
O. A. C. vs. U. of W. at Portland.
O. A. C. vs. Whitman at Corvallis.
- November 28—
O. A. C. vs. Occidental College at Los Angeles.
U. of O. vs. Multnomah at Portland.
Whitman vs. Idaho at Walla Walla.
W. S. vs. U. of W. at Seattle.

As the University of Oregon and O. A. C. have been unable to come to an agreement upon the place for the contest. It is probable that no football game will be played by the teams representing the two institutions. This comes as a keen disappointment to the supporters of both teams, as it had seems almost certain that the schools would resume friendly relations this fall. Oregon will play at either Eugene or Corvallis, but O. A. C. holds out for Portland.

The crowd was gathering in the college church for the Commencement exercises. An elderly lady had taken up her station down in the "peanut" row, which was reserved for the class.

A very polite Freshie, who was acting as usher, approached, but at the critical moment all his fine diction failed him, and getting his syllables somewhat mixed, he blurted out: "Marden me, padam, this pie is occupewed. May I sew you to a sheat?"

The largest cross country squad in the history of Harvard reported this fall; sixty-one candidates signed up.

Yale opened for 212th time this year so she is at the boiling point. But it may be 212 in the shade after the harvard game.

"TAINTED GIFT" SPURNED BY U. OF W. STUDENTS

President Kane Stops the University Press.—Paper Printed Downtown.

A clash between the regents and the students of the University of Washington has resulted from a protest of certain students against the acceptance of the $12,000 chimes presented by Alden J. Blethen, publisher of the Seattle Times, which they term a "tainted gift." Because a petition signed by fifty-one of the most representative students asking the regents of the University not to accept the chimes, was to appear in last Monday's Washington Daily. Secretary Stevens, representing President Kane of the University, ordered the presses stopped and publication of the petition omitted.

In retaliation to this act of Secretary Stevens, a group of students who were opposed to the acceptance of the chimes from Blethen, alleging that the University would no longer be free to combat the sinister influence that pervades American society when it accepts donations from and erects monuments to men who typify these same anti-social influences, started the circulation of a petition, anyway, to secure the erasure of a laudatory inscription on the chimes and the reimbursement of Blethen. Also refusing to refrain from publishing the regular daily edition, the manager and editor, both students, took the locked forms down town, where the daily issue was run off. Now the University of Washington may have a damage suit on its hands. The manager of the paper has withheld $700 due on salaries to employees, pending the outcome of the difficulty.

man. Let us not look into the microscope so long that we forget the God that put the thing there at which we are looking. Let us love God and love man."

The address was simple and direct and made a deep impression upon the students.

FACULTY REGULATES CLASS ATTENDANCE

The following is the Faculty's report concerning attendance in class: "Every student is expected to be in his place from the first day of the semester until the close of the examinations. Students who are not present at recitations during the twenty-four hours preceding and the twenty-four hours following the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter recesses and at the beginning and the end of the semesters, will be marked, unless excused by the faculty, three absences for each recitation missed.

"For each absence in any subject up to one-tenth of the regular recitation periods, deductions are made from the final grade of the students as made up from the daily standings, as follows: One-half per cent for 4 or 5 hour studies, one per cent for 2 or 3 hour studies, and one and one-half per cent for one hour studies. For each absence in excess of one-tenth of the recitations, twice the above schedule of deductions is made. A student by previous arrangement with the instructor, may raise his grade for any day's absence by making up work thus missed because of necessary absence. The making up of work, though strongly urged, is not in any way to be understood as modifying the above percentage of deductions. In case of prolonged and unavoidable absence, the faculty may, on petition, vary the rule.

"If the student is tardy at any exercise, he will be so marked in the instructor's record-book, and three such tardy marks in a given subject will be recorded as one absence in that subject. When a student is absent from a test or examination, no grade will be given him until the test or examination has been taken, and for this he must pay a fee of $1.00, unless he can show that he was detained by sickness.

"Teachers are to report all students who are absent one-tenth of the recitations of a course to the President as soon as that number shall have been reached.

"If a student drops a class without written permission from the department concerned, signed by the Dean, and presented to the department within two days after it is granted, he will be reported 'failed' in that study."
