Constitution Revisions Fail

Elaine Buckinger was elected Rally Queen this week in an election that saw proposed constitutional revisions fail.

SEVEN OF THE 15 races for class officer spots were decided by a margin of less than 10 votes, according to figures released by second vice president Stan Culy.

This is the first time in recent years that class elections have been held in the spring.

About 150 votes were lacking from the 481 needed to pass the revisions. Passing revisions such as these requires that 51 per cent of the entire student vote vote in the election, and that of this group a two-thirds majority vote yes.

Elected to hold offices in next year's sophomore class were Steve Berglund, president; Marcia Humphrey, vice president; Terry Boyd, secretary; Dean Kohntop, treasurer; and Judy Teufel, sergeant-at-arms.

NEXT YEAR'S juniors elected three men to official positions, including John Jelderks, president;

John Sweeney, vice president; and John Kaufman, sergeant-at-arms. Also elected were Ann Fields, secretary, and Sonja Peterson, treasurer.

The senior class of next year may be unruly, if an indication is given by the fact that the class elected two men to the sergeant-at-arms

Group Chairmen Urged To Decide Fall Dates

Presidents and social chairmen of groups which will be scheduling activities for the fall semester, are urged to set dates for functions this summer so they may be scheduled immediately after school begins.

According to Jo Heald, first vice president, the fall calendar is becoming filled with activities and in order for preferences to be filled, the choice of dates must be in early.

post. They are Frank Bash and Jan Aaseth.

OTHER SENIOR officers are Dave Peterson, president; Don Williams, vice president; Carolyn Miller, secretary; and Kay Sanford, treasurer.

This year's junior class was slightly ahead in percentage of members voting, with 68 per cent in the primaries and 58 per cent in the runoffs.

FRESHMEN were close behind them with 66 per cent in the primaries, although they also hit the 58 per cent mark in the runoffs. Sophomores were last on the list with totals of 63 and 55 per cent, respectively.

It is thought that the proposed constitutional revisions will be presented to the student body again in the fall for voting. Final decisions will be made by Gordon Macpherson, constitutional revision chairman. (See pictures, page 3.)

Hail and Farewell

The seniors will join the ranks of Willamette alumni Sunday afternoon at commencement ceremonies in McCulloch stadium. Keith Neubauer will sing the traditional "Farewell Willamette" for his class as '58 becomes a small part of Willamette's history. (Photo by Jim Cline.)

Language Prof Gets Position At Occidental

Dr. James Fonseca, assistant professor of languages, has accepted a position in the foreign language department of Occidental College in Los Angeles for next fall. His replacement has not yet been chosen.

Although Fonseca expressed regret at having to leave Willamette, he said he believed that more emphasis is placed on his field of work at Occidental.

He came to Willamette in 1953 after a short period at Ripon College in Ripon, Wis., and has been teaching German and Spanish here except for a year at UCLA in which he received his doctorate in Spanish.

He received also his bachelor's and master's degrees at UCLA.

A Puerto Rican background on his father's side is responsible for Fonseca's interest in foreign languages, especially Spanish.

300 Alums Plan Reunion

Some 300 alums are expected for Alumni Day tomorrow.

Highlighting the activities will be the banquet speech of Secretary of State Mark O. Hatfield, former Willamette student, professor, and personnel dean. Hatfield is presently the Republican nominee for governor.

First on the agenda for Alumni Day will be the annual alumni business meeting, which is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. in the Fine Arts auditorium.

As a part of the program, the alumni educators will give a panel discussion moderated by Prof. Edwin Butler. Dr. Robert Gatke will speak on "Where Is Government Going?" Panelists will include Dr. James R. Lyles, Mrs. Joy Hill Gubser, Dr. Earl Fredrickson, and Merle Hayes.

Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. in the fraternities and Baxter hall to all alumni who graduated five years ago and at previous five-year intervals. A band concert on the colonnade in front of the Fine Arts building is scheduled for 4 p.m.

WU Beach Trip Near Tragedy

A fun-filled beach trip turned into a near tragedy Memorial Day when several Willamette music students were almost drowned in the ocean off Neskowin beach.

THE TROUBLE started when swimmers Drury Spurlock and Gail Boden were caught in a "pothole" and swept out to sea by a treacherous undertow. Unable to swim back to shore, they desperately tried to stay above water until receiving assistance.

Planks were brought out by a group of students. Ian Dorsett, after failing to pull Miss Spurlock ashore, managed to bring Miss Boden in far enough for her to swim the rest of the way under her own power.

DAVE CRANE then attempted a rescue by tying a rope around Drury Spurlock, but lost control of the rope and also had no way of getting back to shore.

Meanwhile, several rescuers, including Jim Warner, were having their troubles getting back to safety.

Warner spent 40 minutes fighting the undertow.

"I WAS unable to swim against it, so I cross-currented the tide and finally landed on a high sand area where I could get my footing."

Crane was finally rescued when a plane dropped a life raft to him.

AFTER THE ordeal was over, Miss Boden declared, "I was tired, but very happy and relieved."

Drury Spurlock was so exhausted

Pops Concert Slated

A program of light music is scheduled by the University band for a colonnade concert tomorrow at 4 p.m. in honor of alumni guests for Alumni Day.

The program will include "Black Horse Troop," "Beatrice et Benedict," "Kiddie Ballet," "Holiday for Trombones," "Rakes of Mallow," "Bolero," "Promenade," "Aparita Rocca," "Jazz Pizzicato," "The Gate of Kiev," and "Begin the Beguine March."

that she passed out and needed artificial respiration. She remained under a doctor's care for the weekend before returning.

AS FOR THE rescue operations, everything went smoothly. Ian Dorsett said he was amazed that "everybody was level headed," and added that everyone did an excellent job.

The ordeal was broadcast that evening, and appeared on page one of the Salem and Portland newspapers Saturday morning. However, the news service reporting the incident was in error on several parts of its account.

THE SERVICE stated that Dorsett and Ray Krueger (who also played a big part in the rescue) were also swept to sea by the "pothole," whereas Spurlock and Boden were actually the only ones who were.

The account also stated that all the stranded students were brought in by rope, but instead, several, including Miss Boden, came in on their own power.

to the educated educators

A senior's feelings at this pre-commencement time are a jumble of sadness and happy anticipation for the future as he begins to feel the pride and responsibility that comes with the label, "educated."

However, there may be a tendency to associate our education with the ivy covered buildings, the colorful academic processions, and any combination of surroundings and traditions at Willamette.

Such an attitude would be very unfortunate, for an education is not a place and its idiosyncrosies. An education is people, particularly the profs.

So while we congratulate the seniors for their achievement, we salute the profs who spend their lives sharing their knowledge and ideas.

This commencement will see the retirement of Dr. Henry Kohler and Registrar Harold Jory who have served the students of Willamette for the greater part of their lives. We wish them well as they too graduate to a new type of life, but it will be hard to replace Dr. Kohler's quiet enthusiasm or Mr. Jory's good humor in the total picture of Willamette's education.

Their lives are examples of education in action and we sincerely thank them for the challenge of those examples.

Young GOP's Cheer Insight, Skill of Hatfield, Norblad

Editor's Note: Kay Ruberg, past president of the Young Republicans, was invited by the Collegian to present her views on the November elections. This is in keeping with last week's article appearing in the Collegian by Dan Marsh, representing the Young Democrats.

By KAY RUBERG

Since the airplane tragedy of 1946 which prematurely ended the lives of Governor Snell and three other high ranking officials of both the Oregon state government and the Republican party, Mark O. Hatfield and Walter H. Norblad have been key figures in the rebuilding of the Republican party in Oregon.

MR. HATFIELD has had much experience in government, qualifying him for the leadership of Oregon.

While serving in the state legislature he showed his keen insight into Oregon problems and his clear understanding of legislative action by obtaining adoption of 52 per cent of the 84 proposals he either authored or co-sponsored.

Secretary Hatfield has made definite stands on many issues which are of concern to Oregon voters. He has opposed the so-called right to work law, advocated that facts rather than mere personal opinion determine commutation of the death penalty until the issue can be decided by the voters.

FURTHER, HE has proposed an eight-point program for improvement of education in Oregon, favored a constitutional convention to re-write Oregon's archaic state constitution, and demanded that state expenditures be contained within the present Oregon tax structure.

INCUMBENT Walter Norblad has represented the constituents of Oregon's first congressional district for six terms. He holds a ranking position on the armed forces committee of the House on which he has served both the nation and Oregon.

Though still a young man, Norblad has served Oregon for more than 12 years and has gained high seniority in the seniority-controlled House of Representatives. Oregon needs a man with this position in addition to the high quality of Representative Norblad's dedicated service.

THE FUTURE of the Republican party in Oregon looks bright with such leadership as that of gubernatorial nominee, Hatfield, and incumbent representative, Norblad.

The benefits which they are bringing to Oregon deserve weighty consideration by all voters and the unwavering support of all Republicans. They are men of whom we might all be proud.

Back in 1870 You and Your Girl Walked a Block Apart

By CAROL HOBBS

The rules and regulations of Willamette University may seem harsh, but students can take comfort in the thought that even in the 1800's there were somewhat similar rules.

IN THE 1870's the faculty ruled that men and women students must be at least one block apart when going to and from school. In those early days there were two literary societies in both male and female departments to afford the usual opportunities for intellectual and social culture.

The brother and sister societies, the Hesperian and the Concordia, were allowed only one joint meeting a term.

A STRICT stipulation made it improper for either sex to visit the halls with members of the opposite sex during the sessions of the societies—except by permission of the faculty.

There were no social calls allowed during study hours. Except in the parlor, gentlemen company was forbidden and protracted visiting in someone else's room was totally forbidden.

IN 1919, when the women's rules were established, a Collegian headline cried, "Mourning Reigns."

The paper proceeded to ask students:

"Why on the morn of Thursday, November 6, sombre bands of black crepe (some ignorant and irreverent soul might have thought it mosquito netting) adorned the left sleeves of all the men in school.

"ASK IF YOU dare why the melancholy expressions of W. U. Students—nay, W. U. inmates,

While basking in his glory in a field in West Salem, Jackson, Jr., is admired by Don Kaneski, Hubert Youngblood, John Gallagher and Ellen Nute. The new mascot of Willamette's Young Democrats is rapidly becoming their most popular member. (Photo by Lewis Seagraves.)

Dear Ed:

Two Sides to Every Story?

Dear Editor:

In his article last week dealing with the gubernatorial race in Oregon, Mr. Don Gordon was remarkably vague with his treatment of the minority opinion.

APPARENTLY he either fails to comprehend why anyone would prefer Governor Holmes over Mr. Hatfield, or he chooses to completely ignore the reasons why an increasing number of students, at Willamette and other schools within the state, are one by one taking their stand behind the positive leadership of Governor Holmes.

I feel that it is quite appropriate for the sentiments of this minority group to be fairly and accurately presented. In pursuance of this objective, may I submit the following.

ACCORDING to Mr. Gordon, the students feel that if Mark Hatfield continues to meet the issues as he has in the past he should receive the governorship. However, upon reading the Voter's Pamphlet of the Republican Party, I find no issue which Mr. Hatfield has squarely met. Neither does Mr. Gordon's article throw any light upon the subject.

Indeed, it is alarming that students in a presumably intellectual university will unconsciously leap on the bandwagon in support of a "favorite-son" candidate whose position on many specific issues has remained cleverly obscure.

GOVERNOR HOLMES, on the other hand, without resorting to the cleverness of political hedging, without creating the impression of being a two-party man, has taken a definite stand on current issues of importance. Recall, if you can, what has been Mr. Hatfield's stand on capital punishment.

What does he say about insurance laws? Why has he remained silent about the proposed reorganization of the State government? How does he propose to combat the current unemployment problem?

AND HOW DOES Mr. Hatfield stand on the agricultural question? Does he favor repeal of the laws adverse to horizontal industry? Does he favor the move to reorganize the Board of Agriculture?

The State Legislature a few years ago submitted a memo to Congress with specific recommendations concerning the Hell's Canyon Dam Project. As state senator, Mr. Hatfield absolutely refused to say whether he was for or against the power development program.

DOES ANYONE recall whether he has subsequently taken a definite stand on this issue, or have his opinions remained strangely obscure?

When Mr. Hatfield shall have taken a definite stand on these and other problems confronting the people of Oregon, then, and only then, will he deserve or be worthy of such spontaneous support as has been acknowledged by Mr. Gordon, who also states that the students were surprisingly realistic in their expressed attitude. Let us go one step further and admit such additional realities which we know to be true.

IT WILL NOT do to say that Mark Hatfield has made no enemies, or that he uses no smear tactics. It will not do to say that his "young, dynamic, appealing personality" shall be the deciding factor.

To be sure, these factors are to the former dean's credit, but they are, when compared with the leadership and qualifications of Governor Holmes, but dust and darkness. Mr. Holmes has provided the state of Oregon with an administration of action, accomplishment, and promise for the future.

Willows Weep, But Not Petrie

By JOE PIERRE

"Woodman, spare that tree. Touch not a single bough!" sang the poet, with emotion. But when questioned about the removal of the trees on Willamette's lawn, Dr. Richard Petrie, financial vice president, said:

"Story? Why, there isn't any story. When a tree is dead you cut it down, that's all."

It seems the trees were diseased and dying, and while their precipitate removal from this vale of tears might be classed by a tree surgeon as something like mercy killing, from the practical standpoint it was the only thing to do. Just another example of the survival of the fittest. If any weeping is done, it will probably be done by the weeping willows.

Code Gives Future Lawyers Smoke Break During Testing

For 11 years Willamette's College of Law has been using the honor system to prevent cribbing and partial views of the professors toward certain students during final examinations.

SINCE THE code's beginning, only two or three students have been reprimanded for anything that appeared improper by the honor committee, which is made up entirely of students.

Rules and regulations of the code are set up in the constitution of the Student Bar Association.

BEFORE TAKING the exams, all students receive a number which is locked up in the school safe and remains unknown by the professors.

On the day of the examination each professor hands out the test to individual students, who are free to go to any part of the building to answer their tests.

STUDENTS ARE at their own freedom to move about and may go out for a cigarette or fresh air.

Under nearly all circumstances a professor never enters a room where a student is being tested for fear of seeing his number, types of ink, or handwriting.

The completed tests are taken to the administrative office by the students, and then they are handed to the appropriate instructors.

CR Week Adds Contests, Picks Theme

With a theme of "The Critical Christ," Christian Resources week, Nov. 16-21, will be highlighted by the addition of two new contests, a hymn-writing contest and an essay contest.

IT IS THE hope of Chuck Foster, manager of the week, that this theme will promote student thinking and evaluation of individual, campus, national, and international problems.

In the evaluation during the week, students will be encouraged to recognize in the various discussion sessions that Christ would be critical of many phases of contemporary life.

THREE CONTESTS will be a part of the week. For the hymn contest, original words are to be written to either an old hymn or to new music.

The essay contest will entail essays written after the week is over, to aid in evaluations.

The traditional poster contest will be held again, with the winning poster on display on the covers of convocation programs. Deadline date for the posters will be three or four weeks after school begins in the fall.

4 Law Students Make Dean's List

Tom Gooding, Jena Schlegel, George Wagner, and Douglas White are the third year law students to make the Dean's list this spring.

Wagner has made the list every year since he entered as a freshman, and has a fellowship to Harvard for advanced law training.

A new baby interrupted her law studies in March but apparently Mrs. Schlegel recovered sufficiently to make the grade.

The Dean's list is made up of the top 10 per cent of each class.

Senior 'Blast' Rather Tame; Bridge, Fudge Main Features

In spite of a little rain and a much smaller group than at first anticipated, the sedate seniors managed to have a qualified ball during the current beach trip.

BRIDGE WAS the main intellectual pursuit and the ardent participants were fortified during the late hours by enormous quantities of Dean Ewalt's fudge.

The Dean, who provided about 30 pounds of fudge for the hungry crew during the course of the weekend, recommended that future classes provide more refrigerator space for the candy.

THINGS WERE gloomy last Friday evening when Chuck Marsters and the food for the rest of the weekend failed to arrive. Hours later, after make-shift meals had been scraped together, as could be expected, Chuck arrived.

Car trouble was at the crux of the matter, but Ed Andrick of the Baxter hall food service took the time and trouble to transport both the food and Chuck to Oceanlake.

THE FESTIVAL of Flowers at Depoe Bay was a big attraction, but not nearly as exciting as the red scooters which could be rented in Oceanlake to ride up and down the beach.

Dixie Ruud's scooter was a little more excitement than she needed when the gear slipped out of neutral and Dixie went flying down a hill. However, there was some consolation in being the first patient to use Al Siebert's first aid kit.

At times, sleeping arrangements were a little cramped and Bob Braddy and Bob Campbell took to the beach in self defense. The same situation provided frequent change of scenery for the married couples by occasionally splitting them up for the night.

Pre-Registration Books

Students who have not yet turned in their pre-registration booklets to the Registrar's office are asked to do so by 5 p.m. today. Unfinished booklets can be completed during registration next fall and any schedule changes can be recorded at that time.

Music Honorary Initiates Seniors

Alpha Xi chapter of Pi Kappa Lambda, national music honorary, initiated new members at a banquet recently. Newly established on campus, this is its first independent initiation.

Three outstanding seniors of the graduating class have been elected to the chapter this year. They are Myra Friesen, Ron Kingsley, and Nancy Groth Sailor.

Completion of Final Exams Brings Variety of Positions

By JEAN PRITCHARD
Collegian Reporter

After the last final examination next week, another school year will come to a close. For some, this means only two or three more years of studies ahead, and for others it means the last part of a college experience.

However happy or sad that final week may be, the beginning of summer carries nearly the same meaning for all.

SUMMER IS the time for relaxation, vacations, and—jobs. Summer jobs mean money, and money seems to be one of the prerequisites to a college education. Consequently, most Willamette students will join the ranks of summer employees.

A STUDENT survey indicated that the Willamette student body will be holding a varied selection of jobs this summer. Some of the procrastinators are still hunting for work, so these examples may give some help.

Caroline Prince will attend the French summer school at Middlebury College in Vermont, and her spare time will be spent in working as a waitress. The only catch is that she has to do all her conversing with the guests at her tables in French!

CYNTHIA SHAW and Karen Enberg will be handling lots of money this summer, for they will be working at Ladd and Bush and Federal Savings Banks respectively.

Canneries are also popular with the Willamette crowd. Joe Stewart and Ron Johnson will be working at the American Can Company, while Jo Heald and Eugenia King do office work at Lamb-Weston, Inc., in Weston.

Bob Hellenenthal has an interesting job for the summer. He will provide entertainment for Seattle visitors by explaining various points of interest from sightseeing cruises on the Puget Sound.

IN ORDER to earn spending money for his trip to Europe next year, Pete Blewett will be seen working in Salem as delivery boy for the Capital Drug Store.

Ron Walker is going to help the medical profession a little this summer. He will be night X-ray technician for Salem Memorial hospital.

Working for the highway department, Jim Brentlinger will take care of the shrubbery and water trees. Along that same line, Joe Karmos will spend his summer laying irrigation pipe on a farm, and Ed Johnson will lay pipe lines for a gas company in Boise.

LUMBER COMPANIES are also popular for summer work—Matt Miller and Dick Krebs will be employed by lumber mills, while Bob Monson and Stewart Butler do construction work.

Ever popular on the campus is the Vita Craft company. Don't be surprised if Tom Caylor, Wayne Carr, Dick Hill, Mike Graydon, Bob Craig, Dale Denham or Keith Christianson come to your door selling pots and pans.

Jerry Brackins has a job in New York City on a YWCA-YMCA summer service project. She will be at a day camp counselling office and live in a settlement house. David Patch has a somewhat similar job working with migrant farm workers in the Midwest.

Linda Leenhouts plans to do Scout directing in Pasadena, Calif. Joan Sherrill will be a student trainee for the State Public Welfare Commission.

VACATIONERS to Yosemite and Crater Lake National Parks might very well run into John Sweeney or Marilyn Wood who will be part of the staff at those locations.

Gary Buell starts his mortician apprenticeship this summer, and he will resume it next summer after a nine-month leave of absence for school.

Nettie Hansen and Martha Egleston will work at Berg's in Portland, and Ann Fields will do secretarial work at the Triangle Dairy in Boise.

ALL WILLAMETTE junior men in the ROTC program are looking forward to a glorious vacation at summer camp, for which they will also be paid.

So, no matter where one goes this summer he is apt to run into a fellow Willamette student who is working to earn tuition and expense money for next year.

Law Student Grads Gather at Bush House

Immediately after graduation all Willamette law students, parents, friends, and faculty are invited to Bush House lawn to congratulate the graduating law students.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schlegel (first and third year law students respectively) are caretakers of the Bush house and hosts for the occasion.

This last get-together of the 36 graduating students is being planned by the third year class.

Fall Weekends Report Progress

Jim Brentlinger, Parents' Weekend manager, Pat Holcomb, secretary, and members of the administration met with representatives of the Parents' Association Board this week to formulate plans for the weekend.

Dates for the weekend have been set for October 10-12 and the tentative schedule is the same as last year's.

Chairmen for the weekend are: Barbara Pfaff, off campus promotion; Dick Forcum, on campus publicity; Marcia Humphrey, registration; Gerald Darby, physical properties; Jim Warner, all-campus sing; Frank Caruso, barbeque and coffee hour; and Bob Trelstad, academic preview.

Varsity Varieties manager, Ross Stephen, urges everyone with any type of talent to work on it this summer in order to be ready for the tryouts in the fall. Auditions will be held within two weeks after school begins.

Committee heads are pending final information which will be obtained this summer.

Hartman and Spence in NAIA Finals

Tempus fugit, and how! The Collegian sports page goes to press for the last time with this issue, and in reminiscing over the past school year, we're inclined to believe that ol' Father Time has changed his pace from a march tempo to a sprint. All-in-all, it has been a fabulous year.

THE FOOTBALL season was a great success, despite the fact the NWC title was snared from our grasps by Linfield in the last game of the season. Highlighting the year was the trip to Hawaii, along with the selection of Vic Backlund, Bill Long and Gary Raid to the NWC All-Star first team.

THE BASKETBALL team proved to be the surprise of the conference as they romped through a successful season, and wound up with a co-championship. Backlund and Grossenbacher made first team all-star positions, while Tom Johns made the pivot position on the second squad. Much of the success of the team must go to the tremendous improvement of Johns.

A LACK of experience proved to be the deciding factor in this year's baseball fortunes. However, the young Bearcat squad gave high hopes of future success in the diamond wars to come. Backlund, Frank Caruso, and Speer made the All-Star team. The selection of Backlund gave the great performer a clean sweep in conference all-star selections.

THE OL' MASTER, Les Sparks, once again brought home the bacon, as he guided a very green tennis team to the Northwest Conference title. Coach Jerry Long's golf squad completely overshadowed all other conference competition as they walked off with the NWC championship. Named to the NWC All-Star golf team were Jan Aaseth, Rusty Beaton, and Joe Karmos. Aaseth was NWC medalist.

THE 1957-58 ATHLETIC season at Willamette was not only highly successful, but gave every indication that the future of athletics at Willamette will be very bright. Coach Ted Ogdahl will have a real potent grid machine next fall, while Coach John Lewis will have many from this season's co-championship basketball team returning.

Fall Football Outlook Bright; Gridders Show Enthusiasm

Willamette football fans should be provided with some fine entertainment next fall. A seasoned Bearcat crew will seek to dominate Northwest Conference play and win the trophy which eluded them in the final minutes of play last fall at Linfield.

COACH TED Ogdahl should meet both quality and depth when practice begins on September 9.

"Speedy and deceptive" were the words halfback Jack Berkey used to describe the returning backfield. One possible weak spot will be the fullback position. One of the seven returning lettermen backs will have a real task trying to fill the vacancy left by all-conference Vic Backlund. A host of new backfield talent will also be on hand to scrap for a starting berth.

ALL-CONFERENCE tackle Gary Raid needed only one word to describe next year's line: "Great!" His comment is backed by the 15 lettermen stalwarts who will attempt to earn the seven starting assignments. All line positions will be at least two deep with experienced talent.

The squad will open its season at Salem on September 20 as they host Whitworth.

"LEWIS & CLARK will also be a strong contender for the conference crown with 28 lettermen returning from last year's squad," said Ogdahl.

All-conference and little All-American center Bill Long feels the Bearcats should go all the way. "Speaking for the team, we've been looking forward to this fall every day since that fiasco at Linfield last November. We couldn't be in better shape for this season."

"Although we lose Backlund, we

Skip Spence who will compete in the national finals of the NAIA track meet at San Diego tomorrow. Spence and Dale Hartman were selected by the NAIA district 2 coaches to compete in the national contest, with eight other tracksters from this district.

Sigs Nab Mural Toga; SAEs Claim Second

Intramural results for the year show that the men of Sigma Chi ran away with the championship, amassing a total of 201 points.

A team is awarded three points multiplied by the number of places it finished above the last place team in each sport.

The Sigs dominated the championship scene, taking first place in football, basketball, softball, and badminton. The Sig Alphas took the tennis crown, and the Rinky Dinks were volleyball champs.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon nosed out the Phi Deltis for second place as they totaled 118.5 points to 117.0 for the Phis.

Following in fourth place was the Law School with 99.0. The Betas tallied 66 and the Rinky Dinks followed with 57. Finishing out the standings were the Independents (12), WITS (9) and the Five Old Men with 7.5.

Tennis and badminton came to a close this week, both schedules being curtailed by weather and other events.

SAE took the tennis crown with a perfect 4-0 record, Wednesday, when they topped the runner-up Sigs. The Baxters, Betas, and Phis finished in that order.

Two NAIA Records Tumble

Finishing fourth in a field of eight, the Bearcat thinclads broke two records for the District 2 NAIA track meet last week and in doing so qualified two men for the national NAIA meet tomorrow at San Diego.

DALE HARTMAN broke the district record for the 880 that he set in 1956 by running the distance in 1:56.3. This topped his previous mark of 1:57.2 by nine-tenths of a second. Hartman will run in preliminary heats today as he attempts to qualify for the finals of the meet.

High jumper Skip Spence was selected by the coaches of the district to travel to San Diego with Hartman. Spence holds the school high jump mark with a leap of 6 ft. 2 in. and also claims the Northwest Conference mark for his event with a jump of 6 ft. 1 3/4 in.

SPENCE, A freshman, is making his first trip to a national meet under the banner of the Cardinal and Gold. Hartman will close out his collegiate track career at the NAIA meet which will be his second appearance in the national test. In his previous trip to the finals Hartman finished seventh with a time of 1:55.

"Hartman seems to do better when the competition gets tougher," said track coach Ted Ogdahl, "and I think he will do real well down south. Spence has been improving steadily over the season and has jumped 6 ft. 4 in. in a couple of practice sessions."

BESIDES HARTMAN'S effort in the 880 at the district meet, the Jason mile relay squad turned in a 3:24.9 time to top the 1957 record of 3:26 set by Lewis and Clark.

Hartman and Spence are two of eight men selected by coaches of the district to compete in the national meet.

880: 1-Dale Hartman (W), 2-Thompson (EOCE), 3-Gower (OCE), 4-Ryder (L-C), 5-Gelden (W). 1:56.3 (New record. Old mark of 1:57.2 set by Hartman in 1956.)

Mile relay: 1-Willamette (Skip Spence, Fidel Gaviola, Jack Berkey and Dale Hartman), 2-Lewis and Clark, 3-OCE, 4-Portland State, 5-EOCE, 3:24.9. (New record. Old mark of 3:26 set by Lewis and Clark, 1957.)

Frank Caruso To Head Lettermen

Frank Caruso, Willamette's all-conference first baseman, was elected president of the Lettermen's club for next year at a meeting last Thursday night.

Other officers elected were Gerry Winner, vice president; Gordon Rounds, secretary; Keith Driver, treasurer; and Ed Grossenbacher, social representative.

Further business included the adoption of a constitution. The members also discussed plans for next year, especially regarding the enforcement of freshman regulations.

Engagement Cat Out of Bag; Future Wedding Plans Told

JANNICE ROBNETT

The cat was let out of the bag on Jannice Robnett's birthday, Monday, when Pete Cauble brought her a box of assorted gifts to open at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

mentary education major from West Linn, and affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega.

Cauble, past president of Sigma Chi, is a senior psychology major from Salem.

The couple plans to be married in the summer of 1959.

Collegian Writer Looks Back At What Happened This Year

By DICK ROHRER

As daily newspapers across the country turn their pages to a review of the dying year on December 31, the Collegian follows suit as the end of this school year approaches.

As one faces the last day of classes today and looks toward his final "opportunities" beginning tomorrow, he could well pause and consider the question, "What happened on the campus this year?"

WHO REMEMBERS last September, as we were looking in all corners for more living space? You recall quite well if you were one of the Baxter hall men who spent some time dwelling in the basement.

Over 380 freshmen entered WU last fall and the total enrollment, boosted well over 1100, presented its problems, as well as presaging a banner year for Barney Bearcat.

SPEAKING OF Barney, he finally found some companionship, as the Honeybears made their first appearance on McCulloch stadium turf. A more thrilling sight was hardly in evidence all season, although Ted Ogdahl's warriors fought every team in the conference to the final gun, just losing the coveted NWC title in the season's final game at Linfield.

There were many events last fall, ranging from the appearance on campus of Tarantula Ghoul to the entry of educational TV in the classroom. Those of you who were thoroughly frightened by Tarantula's appearance will certainly remember this girl!

AND THOSE of you who studied under the tutelage of the magic eye were partakers in the first educational TV experiment in Oregon.

Tears were shed in January at the passing of academic Dead Week; tears of joy were shed by the many coeds announcing their engagements to the men who had been chasing them until they had been caught.

FEBRUARY 13, when Friday the 13th came on Thursday, proved to be a very lucky day for some 23 students, with four masters and 19 bachelors degrees being awarded at mid-year. Some 190 students sat among the audience that day, looking forward to June 8, when they too would don the traditional cap and gown.

One last look at the fall semester showed the feminine side of the campus invading the male domain once again, as the AFROTC introduced its Angel Flight, an admittedly welcome addition to the ROTC activities.

THE END OF February saw student apathy once again expressed in student elections. It also saw the dramatic talent on display with the presentation of Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke."

February's close also brought the beginning of March, and the appearance of the world's outstanding contralto, Marian Anderson. Those who were fortunate enough to beg, borrow, or steal (or even buy) a seat for her performance will never forget that night.

There are those who would just as soon see no mention of Freshman Glee creep into this review, but it just isn't possible. Glee is too big to too many people, faculty and student body alike, to ignore it completely.

HOWEVER, LET it suffice to say that the seniors stood tall, and the frosh swam well, as the 50th annual Glee came to a close.

Bearcat basketball—a first place tie, and elimination in a playoff game against co-titleholder, Linfield. It was an outstanding season for John Lewis' ball-bouncers, and promise of things to come.

Yes the Greek letter groups also made news during the year, but perhaps the newest society, Alpha Phi, made the biggest news just by making its appearance on campus. All eyes are on the fraternities now, to see whether they have an addition to their family as well.

SPRING BROUGHT much to the campus—announcement of Dr. Walter S. Blake as new Dean of Students; a commendable voting percentage of nearly 80 per cent of all eligible voters in student body elections; a May Weekend which was very successful in all respects.

Perhaps most newsworthy was the announcement of an interdepartmental honors program, to which some 15 outstanding sophomores have been selected for next year.

Tennis, track, golf, and baseball—four spring sports which experienced varying degrees of success. Perhaps the biggest news of the sports year was the signing of catcher Vic Backlund to the Dodger chain.

A three-sport All-Conference athlete, a 4-point student, an outstanding individual, Vic will certainly represent Willamette well in professional baseball.

AND SO, where do we go from here? We might mention last weekend's beach trips, but there are those who would just as soon forget them.

We might mention this Sunday's program in McCulloch stadium, but it is on the minds of everyone involved, so it is hardly necessary to bring it up again.

That about does it then. The end of the year is finally here. Nine months ago it seemed as if the end was too far away to even consider, yet here it is.

TO THOSE who leave the campus, to return only for alumni gatherings—congratulations and best wishes.

To those who return in September to take up the tools of learning once again—good luck.

Lawyers Get Down to Cases To Clear Final Bar Hurdle

Students are at last settling down in earnest to study! The stocks of midnight toil are being checked and typewriters are heard whirring well into the night. The College of Liberal Arts is girding its loins for battle, preparing to test the student's store of "knowledge."

BUT MEANWHILE, across the campus in the "old gray stone building" on the corner of 12th and State, an atmosphere a little grimmer and a little tougher is prevalent. The State Bar examinations loom in the not too distant future for third year law students.

In anticipation of these exams, the lawyer hopefuls are turning to Dr. John C. Paulus and his annual Bar Review. The review, a series of lectures running from June 9 to July 8, is composed of 42 two-hour topic presentations covering all the subjects taken by the students in their three-year curriculum.

ONE OF MANY conducted throughout the country, the review is Dr. Paulus' personal undertaking, although he is to be assisted by Dr. Reginald Parker, Dr. Charles Gromley and Dean Seward Reese.

This year finds many of the applicants for the review hailing from points across the continent. Students from as far away as Chicago, Harvard, Yale and Cornell have applied for admittance to the course.

A LOW MORTALITY percentage may be one reason for these distant entrants. Figures indicate some 83 per cent of students, following the course, are successful in their bar exams.

Not only the review faces the student hopefuls, for Dr. Paulus also schedules weekly exams to test their knowledge and, also, as a "baptism under fire," to prepare for the real thing. Some of the fields covered are contracts, constitutional law, wills, corporations and recent cases.

Fulbright Data Now Available

Persons interested in the Fulbright awards which offer international travel expense and, in most cases, partial or complete tuition and maintenance for study in 46 foreign countries during 1959-60 should contact the campus Fulbright advisor, Dean Ewalt.

The Fulbright awards for study and research in Europe, Latin America, and the Asian-Pacific area are administered by the Institute of International Education for the U. S. government.

General eligibility requirements for the awards are U. S. citizenship, a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before departure, language ability sufficient to carry on proposed study, good health, a good academic record, and demonstrated capacity for independent study.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study which can be carried out profitably in the year abroad.

Competitions for the 1959-60 academic year close November 1, 1958. Requests for application forms must be postmarked before October 15.

Library to Open 8 to 5 Throughout Summer

Willamette's library will be open from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. Monday through Friday throughout the summer, Mrs. Ruth Robbins of the library, stated. It will not be open during evenings.

Orientation Week Plans Tentative

Tentative plans for next fall's Orientation week are under way, according to the manager, Tom Weston.

Dorms will open Sunday, September 14, meal service will begin Monday morning, September 15, and Fall Rush is scheduled Monday through Friday.

Plans for the rest of the week are much the same as last year, according to Weston. Freshmen will be taking tests and attending assemblies and social functions to become acquainted with classmates and the University.

Registration will be held for the freshmen on Saturday, September 20, and on Monday, September 22, for returning students. Classes will begin September 23.

Judy Taylor has been chosen as secretary for the week, with John Jelderks, entertainment chairman; Judy Olsen, welcoming; and Gail Larsen in charge of registration.
