Candidates are commencing to toe the mark for Oregon's 1938 primary campaign. The voting will be done May 20. The general election follows November 8.

The Presidency, of course, will not be at stake until 1940. However, Oregon will elect a new United States Senator next November to replace Albert E. Reames, Dem., successor of Fredrick Steiwer, Rep., resigned.

Governor Charles H. Martin, Dem., and Congressman Mott, Rep., first district; Walter Pierce, Dem., second district; and Nan Wood Honneman, Dem., third district, must run the gauntlet in re-election fights should they attempt to succeed themselves. Supreme Court Justices Henry J. Bean, J. O. Bailey, and Hall S. Lusk must also enter the primaries, running on non-partisan tickets.

The Republican campaign in Marion county will be launched Saturday night at a public banquet with young state representative Lytle Thomas, Polk county, in the role of keynote. Thomas, not an orthodox Republican, in public speeches has frequently ripped into the "old guard."

Charles A. Sprague, a member of the board of trustees of Willamette University, and editor of the Oregon Statesman, will be toastmaster at the rally. Sprague, highly regarded throughout the state, has been urged for months to enter the Republican senatorial primaries. However, editorial duties appear to have more attraction to him than the political wars.

Harold Pruitt, ex-Willamette student, one of Prof. Rahe's debaters during the 1934-35 seasons, now president of the Republican Clubs of Oregon, will be among the speakers. He is receiving strong encouragement to leap into state politics by filing for Representative.

Another package of political dynamite will be exploded in Salem tonight when State Rep. Dr. J. F. Hosch, Bend, avowed candidate for governor, speaks at the Marion County courthouse. Hosch recently resigned from the presidency of the Oregon People's Power League, to work for the Democratic nomination. He is expected to fire both barrels at Governor Martin, giving but scant attention to his Columbia county opponent, Rep. Henry Olsen. The eastern Oregon physician is attempting to build a bridge to deamland on the Bonneville power issue.

One of the primary duties of citizenship is to vote on election day. No citizen may vote, however, unless he is properly registered. Thus with the primaries approaching Oregon's election laws are of significance.

A hasty examination of the Oregon Code 1930 discloses the following information. This is only an outline of the law in Oregon and does not pertain to other states:

1. The primary election this year will be held Friday, May 20. The general election following Tuesday, November 7.

2. A voter must be 21 years of age or older and must have been a resident of Oregon for six months immediately preceding the primary election—or since November 20, 1937. (Oregon Const. Art. II, Sec. 2.)

3. A voter may register without charge by personally appearing before the county clerk in the county in which he RESIDES.

4. A voter must be registered on or before April 20. Books are closed thereafter.

5. A voter should re-register although he was once registered, if:

1. He has not voted in a state election for two years.

2. He has moved from one precinct or from one county to another.

3. He desires to change from one political party to another.

4. Her name has been changed by marriage.

6. If a voter is absent from the county where he is registered (as are many college students) voter should apply to county clerk of county where he is registered for an absent voter's ballot. The voter should make this application before April 20. Then the ballot will be mailed to him and he should return it on or before May 13. It may be submitted by mail or otherwise.

7. If voter becomes 21 years of age after April 20, but on or before May 21, he may register during 30 day period from March 20 to April 20.

8. If voter moves from one precinct to another after April 30, he may secure a certificate from the

Picture At Local Theater Feb. 16-17

An Alexander Korda production, "Fire Over England," will be shown at the State theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 16 and 17, under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women. This picture has been hailed by critics as the finest historical drama ever to have been made in British studios.

Flora Robeson, who played with Elizabeth Bergner in "Catherine the Great," is co-starred with Lawrence Olivier, an English actor of great renown.

The background of the story, is an account of the life of Queen Elizabeth and the adventures of the Spanish Armada with emphasis on the experiences of a hot-headed, young hero, played by Oliver, who supplies the romantic interest. He is captured by the Spanish nobleman who helps him to escape the Inquisition and return to England. There he finds favor with Queen Elizabeth who discovers an outlet for his energetic ardor and zeal.

She inspires him to penetrate the court of Philip II, where his disclosure of English traitors is followed by another escape from Spanish pursuers, returning to England on the eve of the defeat of the Spanish Armada. This unusual picture was richly staged, costumed, and contains masterly dialogue. It was adapted by Clements Dane.

Seven Honor Fraternities On W. U.
Theta Alpha Phi Oldest
Campus; Five Hold National Charters

(By CAROLYN WOODS)

There are seven honor fraternities, five of which are national organizations, on the Willamette campus. The university can almost boast a fraternity for each of the fields of study offered here.

The first national fraternity organized on this campus was Theta Alpha Phi in 1920. This amateur dramatic society is open to upperclassmen who have successfully performed two major or four minor roles, or shown outstanding ability in other phases of dramatics. Its purpose as expressed in the constitution is: "...to foster an interest in wholesome dramatics and provide the means of uniting socially students, alumni, and instructors who have histrionic talents."

Theta Alpha Phi officers are: president, Ed Minneman, and vice-president, Mary Elizabeth Kella. Other members as well as honorary members include Marian Averill, Lloyd Riehl, Billy Utley, Professor Herbert E. Rahe, and Mrs. Genevieve Oppen. Dr. Robert M. Gatzke is the faculty advisor.

Alpha Kappa Nu, an honorary scholastic fraternity, was also organized in 1920. Membership is limited to the ten per cent of each senior class with the highest scholastic standing for the entire university course. Selection is made annually before commencement.

Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science honor society, was organized in 1924. Its purpose is to Guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Lovell, Professor and Mrs. Thompson, Professor and Mrs. Mosher, Professor Childs, Miss Lorena Jack, Miss Helen Arthur, Miss Virginia Harris, Dr. and Mrs. Baxter, Miss MacHilton, and Dean Dahl.

Gals "Who Came To Be Went With"
Doing Thriving Business—Pick
Up Gaudy Collection of Hardware

I refuse to start this story by saying, "In the spring a young man's fancy turns to—". You know the answers as well as I do. There's the poetic ending of "Thoughts of love," the humorous conclusion of "—", what he's been thinking of all winter," or the surprise punch of "—". Model T Fords, track, swimming, or any one of half a dozen things. In the first place I won't use that quotation of "a young man's fancy" because it's not spring; in the second place, the "young man" has not the exclusive rights on these thoughts; and in the third place, the quotation doesn't have anything to do with this story.

"Will you wear my pin . . . when I get it?" is one of the favorite questions these days; and since the answer is usually in the affirmative, it looks as if Willamette has struck gold, because of all the gold pins and engagement rings flashing around. All the gals that came to Willamette to "get went with" are doing a thriving business. There hasn't been so much exchange of hardware since Bob Brady sold his encourage a scientific study of all social problems and to promote cooperation between the several branches of social science. The minimum membership requirement is a "B" average in social science courses. This year's selections to Pi Gamma Mu will be made in a few weeks.

Dr. S. B. Laughlin is president of the faculty advisory committee of Pi Gamma Mu, while Dr. R. M. Gatzke is secretary. Other faculty members are Dean F. M. Erickson, Dr. D. H. Schulze, and Mrs. E. J. Ellis.

In 1926, Tau Kappa Alpha, the national forensic fraternity, was organized on the campus. Its purpose is to promote an interest in forensics. Membership is limited to the debate and oratorical squads. This organization sponsors interclass and inter-collegiate debates and various oratorical contests, of which the Keyes Oratorical contest is outstanding.

Waldo Hiebert is president, and Helen Mae Beal is secretary-treasurer of Tau Kappa Alpha. Other members and honorary members include Kay Ringe, George McLeod, Lawrence Morley, Lorena Tompkins, Aldus Smith, Lando Hiebert, Ed Minneman, Al Klausen, Bill Clemes, Bob Farmer, Professor F. Thompson and Dean F. M. Erickson. Prof. H. E. Rahe is the faculty advisor.

Blue Key, the national honor fraternity, was also organized on the campus in 1926. It recognizes outstanding qualities in character, leadership, scholarship, student activities, and service. The organization is composed of upperclassmen, who are annually elected from the sophomore class.

Blue Key president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer are: Melvin Viken, Verdon Ragsdale, Basil Anton, and George Abbott, respectively. Other members are Leroy Casey, Robert Clarke, Ty Gillespie, Ralph Gustafson, George McLeod, and Lawrence Morley.

In 1928, Delta Theta Phi, the national law fraternity originally an amalgamation of three smaller law fraternities, became an important part of the Willamette Law School. This chapter is called the Wolverton Senate. Its purpose is to promote high scholarship united with the thought of promoting justice and high ideals in the legal profession.

Delta Theta Phi officers include Malcolm Jones, Talbot Bennett, Herman Estes, George McAllister, Frank Kucera, Charles Heltzel, and Charles Dunbar.

Cap and Gown, the local honorary society, was organized in 1931. Selection is made each year of the five Junior girls showing the most outstanding qualities of personality, service, scholarship, leadership, and Christian ideals. This chapter soon hopes to be eligible for Mortar Board, the national senior honorary society for women.

An ice cream social for the benefit of Chresto, a banquet for freshmen and sophomore girls, and a trip to Corvallis, are among the annual activities of Cap and Gown. This year's Cap and Gown members include Iva Bennett, Barbara Crookham, Lillian Hart, Irma Osler, and Betty Taylor. Dean Olive M. Dahl is the faculty advisor.

Miss Louis, Alum

Chapel Program

Portland alumni brought back a little of the graduate spirit at Wednesday's chapel program when three of Willamette's graduates presented a program of music.

Herb Hardy, '31, and now Portland attorney was chairman for the program. Everett Craven, Y. M. C. A. secretary of Portland sang a solo followed by another vocal solo sung by Ray Mike Hienkens, of Astoria.

Ruth Bedford of Portland, accompanied the singers. A duet was sung by the two after the solos. Bill Mack, from the staff of RGW in Portland gave a short address on the future of Willamette in its music capacity.

First Churches' new young people director, Sarah Lewis, graduate of Birmingham Southern College, gave the chapel address of Tuesday on the negro problem of the south.

Holding a quiet audience, the speaker, brought out the poverty and the disease mingled with an ever need amongst the southern negroes.

Bearcats Seek Seventh Conference
Post 3 Victories On Trip
Win In Clash With Pacific Badgers

Needing a victory to retain their hold on first place in the Northwest conference standing, Willamette's Bearcats trek to Forest Grove tonight intent on handing the Pacific university Badgers a trimming. The local hoopsters now head the conference pack with six triumphs in seven starts and a win tonight will send them into the pending frays with C. P. S. here with a better than even chance to tuck away another conference championship.

Reserves are expected to see plenty of action tonight in view of the intensive schedule the Bearcats have played during the past week. Those making the trip are John Kolb, Cecil Quesseth, Dwight Catherwood, Jerry Gasteneau, Larry Nunnkamp, Bob White, Howard Eberly, Dick Jones, Oscar Specht, Otto Skopli, Walter Weaver, and Coach Maple. Bill Anton is still confined to his home in Portland with the flu and Billy Beard has dropped from school.

Three out of four victories in Pacific Northwest conference and a close loss to Eastern Oregon Normal at LaGrande is the record with which Coach Howard Maple's Willamette Bearcats returned to the campus Wednesday.

Leg-weary and tired from the long trip which sent them into action four times in five days, Maple's men took time before last night's game with Seattle College to catch up on much needed sleep and rest.

Hostilities for the travel-minded Bearcats got under way a week ago last night, Feb. 3, at LaGrande, with Bob Quinn's Eastern Oregon Normal school quint furnishing the opposition.

Leading 19 to 14 at half-time, the EON's saw their five-point lead late in the game before a last minute Bearcat rally which fell just 3 points short of throwing the speedy teams into a tie. Final score: 32 to 29, Eastern Oregon Normal. High scorer: Skopli of Willamette with 12 points.

A pair of decisive victories over College of Idaho, at Caldwell, opened conference play on the trip. The first night, Friday, Feb. 4, it was Bob White, substitute center, who paced his teammates to their 46 to 38 win. White with 14 points, led both teams in scoring.

Walt Weaver, veteran guard, scored nine points each to lead the Maplemen to their second consecutive victory over the fast breaking Idahoans, this time by a 44 to 34 score. Half-time score showed Willamette ahead by only two points at 17-15. The game was played Saturday night, Feb. 5.

The Whitman College Missionaries, arch-rivals of the Salem collegians in all athletics, furnished the opposition for the touring Maplemen in a two-game series at Walla Walla Monday and Tuesday nights of this week.

Rated the outstanding team in this year's race for the Pacific Northwest conference championship, Coach Niz Borleske's men ran into unexpected competition in the Bearcats, and dropped the first night's game by a 29 to 24 score. Otto Skopli, freshman guard, again led his team in scoring, this time with 8 counters. Half-time score gave Willamette a one-point advantage at 15 to 14. Trailing 19 to 6 at half-time and 23 to 6 shortly after play in the second period began, the Missionaries put on an unprecedented comeback to nose out the weary Bearcats, 34 to 29, the second night in an overtime game.

Leading by four points with 20 seconds to play, the Bearcats saw the count knotted as the gun sounded, when Reiser sank two free throws and then intercepted a pass to pot a crumple and send the two

Professor Lovell will lead a Forum on "Fascism" sponsored by University Vespers Sunday, February 13, at the First M. E. church, from 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock. This will be followed by Sunset Hour at 5:30 and a devotional service at 6:30 headed by Olive Clemes and Ariss Jones.

A visit to the State Highway Testing laboratories is planned for Math club Tuesday evening, Feb. 15. Members will meet in Room 1 in Eaton at 7:00 o'clock and go from there to the laboratories in the State Agricultural building. They have been promised a guide to demonstrate and explain the equipment. Leonard Lays, club president, looks forward to this meeting as the most interesting so far this year.

Professor Thompson, Edwin Minneman, and Albert Klassen, were initiated into Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic honorary fraternity in Chresto Cottage, Monday evening, February 7.

Professor Moser is a member of the National Council of Tau Kappa Alpha, and he gave a short talk to the group.

Barbara Pinney led the devotional service of the Willamette Wesleyans Tuesday night, Feb. 8. Each member present gave his philosophy of life and basic religious beliefs. The records of these philosophies will serve the bases of discussion for several weeks, in order to help members form sound beliefs.

Plans Progressing For
Frosh Glee Contest

Plans for Freshman Glee are rapidly progressing, according to Keith Sherman, 1938 Glee manager.

The respective classes have appointed committees which in turn are shaping formations and writing songs which have to be voted on by the members of each class. As soon as the final vote has been taken and the songs chosen, the classes will begin to practice for the Glee in earnest.

The theme "Loyalty" offers unlimited inspiration to any aspiring music and lyric writers that Willamette may have.

Ruth Alice Grant has been named chairman of the banner and presentation committee.

Dr. Bruce R. Baxter spent the past week filling a busy program of speaking engagements before various groups and conventions. On Sunday, February 6, he was the guest preacher at the Centenary-Wilbur Methodist church in Portland. His topic on the "History of Methodism" was in relation to the recent Methodist conference at Chicago. The same afternoon he spoke on the Songmen's KEX program from Waller hall.

Tuesday, February 8, opening the annual Homemakers' conference at the Oregon State College campus, President Baxter addressed 600 Oregon women on "Religion in the Home." Mr. and Mrs. Baxter were guests at their luncheon.

On the next day, Baxter spoke on the "Meaning of the Aldersgate Experience," at the International Tea given by the Women's Foreign Missionary society at the First M. E. church. In the evening he motored to Portland to attend the annual Amateur Athletic Union dinner at the Multnomah hotel.

Culminating the week's program, tonight the president is speaking at the annual banquet of the superintendents and principals of public schools of the State of Oregon to be given at Salem High school.

Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers will hold their annual banquet and statehood dinner commemorating the 79th anniversary of the admission of Oregon to the Union on Monday, February 14, at the Congress hotel, Portland. Dr. Baxter has accepted an invitation to participate in the program, which Governor Martin and Mayor Carson will also take part. Judge James Grayford is the chairman of the affair. There will be a program, music, and later, dancing.

Willamette men debaters are Aldus Smith and Bill Thomas, Francis Wiles and Myron Fogue. John Hobson and Clyde Williams, Dick Tatro and Bill Campbell, Roger Miller, Al-Bert Klassen and Lando Hiebert, Doris Darnielle, Della Willard, Francis Pickard, and Marian Hall will enter the women's debate division. Bill Clemes, Edwin Minneman, Lando Hiebert and Liston Parrish will be entered as orators, while Aldus Smith, Bill Thomas, Haynor Smith, and Ellsworth Morley, Doris Darnielle and Henry Kortemeyer will compete in the extempore speaking contest. The after-dinner speaking contestant has not been selected. Several judges from Willamette or Salem will accompany this group of speakers. Morrill Cray, debate manager is planning the transportation and other details connected with participation in the tournament.

ANOTHER LINCOLN?

Tomorrow marks the birthday of one of the immortal figures in the history of the United States . . . Abraham Lincoln.

The biography of the man reads like a fairy tale. No one ever overcame greater odds in reaching the highest pinnacle that this nation has to offer or the profound admiration of the entire universe than did the simple, rustic American boy who grew up to lead his country through its most difficult crisis. He won that right to leadership because he displayed throughout his entire life the indomitable qualities of courage, perseverance, righteousness, truthfulness, honesty, sympathy and leadership. Added to these were his brilliance of brain power and his unusual talent in speaking. His associates, from even his earliest boyhood, recognized these characteristics, and as the widespread recognition of them grew—so grew the fame and popularity of Abraham Lincoln. It was upon the strength of these characteristics that Lincoln was made the leader of the nation, though his education and social training had been sorely neglected.

What are the chances of there being another Lincoln? A boy born into the country today cannot follow in the footsteps of Lincoln and hope to reach the same goal.

Lincoln attained the goal he did with a meager education, and with little social contact, because his character was pure enough to be extremely outstanding, and because the country was small enough to allow him to be known, even with the crude methods of communication that existed, to a majority of the people in that country.

A youth today, though he have the same character, must have something more—something to carry him over the obstacles of increased emphasis on education and social life, a large country with an enormous population, and the problems caused by industrialization, capital, and labor.

Yet, the opportunities today are far greater for the American youth than they were in Lincoln's day. What makes up the difference? Higher learning is the one thing that the American youth can count on to lead him toward the elusive goal reached by our school days' hero, "Honest Abe." Through the channels of higher learning we are able to overcome the obstacles that melted before Lincoln as his popularity spread. To "reach the top" today means that one must have more education than did Lincoln, more contact with the social world, the ability to solve the intricate problems that arise, as well as the power to place one's self before the eyes of the greater numbers of people. Higher education offers the one way to overcome these obstacles—allows us to put ourselves before the people through the press and airways, allows us to solve the difficult problems, and generally equips us for leadership.

Possibly there isn't a future Lincoln in the lot of the American people today, but if there is someone who will reach the pinnacle of immortal glory that that individual knew, it is through the medium of higher education alone that the goal will be attained. The realization of ready opportunities for higher education that assist the youth of America today should spur them on to greater attainment.

WORTH SEEING

"Fire over England," the epic dramatization of the conflict of the Spanish and the English in the sixteenth century, is to be shown at a local theater next week. Sponsored by the American Association of University Women, the picture comes to this city with high recommendations. For general historical value the picture has yet to be equalled. Along with the historical background is offered a brilliant picture of the court life, under both Queen Elizabeth, of England, and King Phillip, of Spain, a vivid account of the defeat of the Armada, and spicy romantic interest, supplied by Laurence Olivier. Oliver's exploits, alternating between Spain and England, tends to tie up the narrative, compare the life of the people of the two nations, and to offer the minute details of the diplomacy, the social life, and the character of the two regents. To see the picture is to come closer to the actual setting of this period in history than ever before. The A. A. U. W. is doing a tremendous favor to the campus by bringing this picture to the city. Willamette students should not pass up this opportunity to see "Fire Over England."

ITS IN THE AIR

Freshman Glee is in the air! No, there is nothing unusual about that fact, for every year about this time the spirit of the annual all-university songfest envelopes the campus. Would-be songwriters and aspiring formation managers spring into prominence overnight, and before we realize it, Freshman Glee time is upon us. All in all it is one of the best things that happens to the university each year. Freshman glee does more to unite the school than all other forces combined. Let us get behind this year's manager and the coming glee event. It will be well worth our while!

Introducing . . .

PROFESSOR C. L. SHERMAN

Dr. Charles L. Sherman, in our midst, represents intellect! Fittingly he has a strong personality, an unusual ability to psychologically adapt himself to conditions and people around him. His classes are large and popular and all who contact him receive intellectual benefit, philosophy, and idealism.

When Dr. Sherman came to W. U. in 1914, he took the position of the youngest man on the faculty. And in all the years that he has spent here he has maintained that youthful, sincere, intellectual attitude that has so distinguished him as an educator.

Ever loyal to the Willamette campus, Dr. Sherman may often be found battling for betterment with some unmovable obstruction or pleasantly, modestly helping some mentally bewildered student to regain his composure.

The science of living, indeed, Dr. Sherman is well fitted for philosophy. For in New York university, Dr. Sherman conquered two degrees, Ph. D. and Pd. D. Here is a Christian man teaching other striving Christians the art of a good life. And it is well.

Dr. Sherman has a witty manner of expression, a gentlemanly polished carriage, and an expression in his eyes that definitely peers directly into the soul.

Dr. Sherman and this humble writer wish to announce that we approve of the new library building, and that the construction may now proceed.

MAGIC OF THE PEN

Edited by JOSEPHINE GILSTRAP

Editor's note: During the first semester, this column was devoted primarily to original poetry composed by students on the campus. Last week the first bit of prose, The D's, an example of alliteration composed by Phyllis Macy, was run in this column. Expecting to continue the publication of bits of prose during the next few weeks, the editor has chosen for this week part of a paper written by Beverly Brown, entitled "Portraits From a City." The original paper was 4000 words in length and it is from this article that the following excerpt, "The Clubwoman," is taken.

THE CLUBWOMAN

Her ankles were crossed at the correct angle. Her hands in their tight-fitting, expensive, gray gloves were lightly clasped in her ample lap. She was sitting in the correct, stiff-backed manner that her governess had taught her as the only posture of a lady. Her substantial bosom was smooth under a close-fitting, smart, gray suit. The darling touch of pink rouge was softened by the light touch of talcum powder. She sat there quietly with the correctly attentive look for the great lecturer she had just had the opportunity of introducing. She could hear his mellow, liquid tones flatter the club ladies on their charitable work and excellent organization. Her attention, caught for the moment, wandered again; and she glanced at her small feet in their gray suede shoes. Her tiny ankles and aristocratic feet with their high instep and narrow width were her pet pride. Her mother had always told her you could tell a lady by her feet and her hands. These young girls of today with their tanned hands and colored fingernails and their large feet in clumsy brogues had forgotten the aristocratic traditions of a lady. They would never have their feet spoken of as "angel's feet," treading on my heart. She had worn size two as a girl; and today in spite of pain and discomfort, she would never wear a larger size than No. two and a half.

The speaker was speaking loudly now. She hoped that, for goodness sake, he wasn't one of these ranting, raving idealists. It did disturb her so to be yelled at. He was talking of the Japanese war now. That was a horrible thing—all those poor, homeless Chinese being bombed and that pledge she had been forced to sign to promise not to wear any more Japanese silk stockings. She didn't know what she was going to do when her present supply of silk hose was finally used up. A lady could not stand anything harsher than silk against her delicate skin.

The great man was talking in his ordinary, soft, mellow tones again. He was speaking of a time when there would be a world league of nations. Mercy, had she gotten a radical by mistake. She could never live that down in her club. He seemed to be finishing now. She led the modulated, conservative round of applause and stood up to thank the speaker. "It's been a great privilege to listen to such a stirring speech—one that makes you live and think."

Closeups of the Staff

Skating, fishing, and writing . . . principally writing . . . are the hobbies of the individual selected for this week's Closeup. Ahleen Bamber has been interested in journalism since her high school days and in both high school and Willamette has done considerable work on the student publication. Ahleen was born in Auburn, Nebr., June 16, 1918. She attended grade school in Denver, Colo., and then moved with her family to Oregon City. At Oregon City high she worked four years on the newspaper staff, serving in her last year as assistant editor of the "Elevator," the student news organ. Ahleen also did considerable work in dramatics in high school.

Last year Ahleen attended Marylhurst college, enrolling as an English major. A sophomore at Willamette this year, Ahleen is still majoring in English with hopes that Willamette may offer a course in journalism before she is ready to graduate.

Meanwhile, Ahleen is getting, along with her work in the English field, all the practical experience possible by working on the Collegian. Ahleen started as a reporter for Lausanne hall, then wrote the feature column, "From The Files," and last week was elevated to the position of assistant editor. In the latter capacity, Ahleen serves as chief head-writer for the paper.

It is evident which of the three hobbies listed above attract the most attention of Ahleen Bamber, but she finds plenty of time for fishing and skating, being gifted along both lines. Journalism is her first love, however, and if interest in her work may be used as a guide, Ahleen is destined to go far in the field.

Vespers Swim Party Success

A group of about 60 Willamette students enjoyed a gay pre-season picnic last Friday sponsored by the Vespers organization. Using the Y. M. C. A. tank in place of the "old swimming hole," a delightful hour of swimming was enjoyed. Ping pong and billiards also added to the merriment. At 10:00 o'clock they met at the First Methodist church, where hot dogs were served. The evening was properly finished with school songs in anticipation of the not far-distant Freshman Glee. Miss Barbara Chapter led the singing and Miss Marian Chase played the piano.

Also attending the Ballet Russe performance at the Portland Civic auditorium last Tuesday evening, were the Misses Catherine Hendrick, Lorene Tompkins and Mary Jeannette Sargent.

Miss Barbara Crookham had as her guest for last Wednesday her mother, Mrs. A. L. Crookham, of Portland, who stopped over in Salem for a visit on her return trip from Oakland, Calif.

county clerk which will entitle him to vote in his new precinct. There are other statutes upon this subject but these are the ones of chief importance to university students. It also should be noted that you may register by mail if you are absent from the county in which you reside. Special emphasis should be placed upon the fact that you can only register in the county in which you actually reside. You may not reside in two places at the same time. If your residence is in Portland, you cannot for voting purposes consider it in Marion county. Residence as used in these code sections is virtually synonymous with the word "home."

MAPLE COURT URMURS....

By DAN MOSES
(Collegian Sports Editor)

The Willamette Bearcats return home this week after a strenuous road trip into Idaho and eastern Washington, losing only one conference game, to Whitman, remaining in first place in the standings, one game ahead of the Missionaries.

Much of the success of the team may be attributed to the rapid improvement of the four freshmen and the other three newcomers to the squad this year. These men, freshmen Johnny Kolb, Howard Eberly, Dick Jones, Otto Skopil, and sophomores Cecil Queseth, Oscar Specht, Dwight Catherwood, and Bob White have improved to such an extent that Coach Howard Maple has played some of them as much as the regulars, changing his starting lineup almost every game.

Four Veterans on Varsity

When the season started last fall, Coach Maple had four of the five regulars back from last season's conference championship team—all conference center Bill Anton, all-conference guard Walt Weaver, and Larry Nunnenkamp and Jerry Gastineau, versatile forwards; while Bill Beard and Oscar Specht were returning reserves.

Yet, with such a potentially strong squad, Coach Maple found that the ability shown by his newcomers warranted their consideration in the starting lineup. Particularly noticeable has been the improvement shown by the freshmen, Johnny Kolb, Howard Eberly, Otto Skopil, and Dick Jones, with the first three playing fairly regularly.

Kolb, six-foot forward from New Jersey, has proved himself to be a dead-eye shot, while he handles the ball well on the offense. Eberly, six foot, three inch center from Oregon City, has shown himself to be particularly adept at retrieving the ball off the backboard and on tip-in shots, while he has shown rapid improvement in the ball handling department.

Freshmen Show Up Well

Skopil, the former Salem high and Corvallis star, has shown himself to be one of the best ball handlers on the squad, in addition to being an excellent shot. Dick Jones, the final member of the freshman contingent, though not given the opportunity to play that the other men have had, has shown considerable improvement, also leading the freshman team in scoring.

Cecil Queseth and Dwight Catherwood, up from Coach Leslie Sparks' 1937 frosh team, have looked continually better as the season progressed and are handy men for any coach to have around. Oscar Specht, a reserve from last year's conference champions, has also seen considerable action and has two seasons yet to play.

Eastern Trip Proved Strain

The team returned Wednesday afternoon after the strenuous games in Caldwell, Idaho, and Walla Walla, Wn., and appeared somewhat tired from the strain of traveling and playing crucial games. It seems that old lady luck deserted the men in Coach Maple's car, for they had to cope with three flat tires on the trip. Well, maybe it was something to break the monotony to get out at night and flag somebody with a jack to raise the car, eh, boys?

Those who rode with Graduate Manager Sparks had better luck, however. (See Cecil Queseth for the moral of the story).

Remaining Schedule Favors Bearcats

The schedule the rest of the way favors the Bearcats. Tonight the conference leaders travel to Forest Grove where they meet the Pacific Badgers in the final conference hoop battle of the season between the two. The Bearcats are favorites due to a previous victory and a better season record, but the Badgers may prove tough on their own court and provide an upset.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday nights the Willamette hoopers are scheduled to meet the Oregon Normal Wolves in non-conference tests, but on Friday and Saturday nights the Maplemen meet the College of Puget Sound Loggers on the local court in a two-game series which will determine whether or not the Bearcats will repeat their title-winning feat of last year.

C. P. S., Whitman Still in Title Race

At present C. P. S. is in third place in the standings, one game behind Whitman and two behind the Bearcats, so that the Loggers would have to win both games to receive any title consideration, while the locals must get at least a tie for the championship. However, the Maplemen can undisputedly claim the title by winning both games from the Loggers.

CASTS LOT WITH SENATORS

Bill Beard, as revealed in last week's Collegian, has decided to drop from school to play professional baseball. Last night Bill revealed the Washington Senator's major league club to be the team of his choice, "Rev," one of the greatest athletes to ever attend Willamette, expects to leave soon for the Nats training camp in Orlando, Florida.

Willamette Hoop Team Wins From Seattle College, 48-17

Spectacular Long Shot By Queseth, Bearcat Guard, Is Highlight of Lop-Sided Contest

Playing their seventh game in ten days, Coach Howard Maple's varsity hoopers last night easily rolled up a 48 to 17 victory over the Seattle College Chieftains on the Bearcat floor, as every man on Maple's squad played a portion of the contest.

Due to an early basket by Conyne, the Seattle cagers went into a 2 to 0 lead which they held until Kolb of the Bearcats tied it up at the three-minute mark. Conyne's tally was the only field goal scored by the visitors in the first half, as the Maplemen piled up a safe lead which was never threatened.

W. U. Leads at Half
The local hoopers were decidedly "on" in the first half, making good eight out of 19 tries, to must beat College of Idaho both times in order to stay in the title chase.

Title in 1938 Would Give W. U. Best Record

If the Bearcats win the championship this year, it will give them six conference titles to five for Whitman; while if the Missionaries win, they will gain the distinction of having won the most Pacific Northwest conference championships to date. In 1927, Willamette and Whitman tied for the title; and Pacific was the winner of the other crown in 1934.

Below is the record of previous conference champions to date:

Year	Champion
1926	Whitman
1927	Willamette and Whitman (tied)
1928	Whitman
1929	Willamette
1930	Willamette
1931	Willamette
1932	Whitman
1933	Willamette
1934	Pacific
1935	Whitman
1936	Whitman
1937	Willamette

Weaver Proves Outstanding

Throughout the season one fact regarding the basketball team has been noticeable, Walt Weaver has played nearly every minute of every game. Weaver, all-conference guard, is considered one of the best defensive men in W. U. basketball history; and every opponent that the Bearcats have faced thus far has found dependable Walt with the assignment of checking the most dangerous offensive man of the opposition, with Walt coming through in grand style.

Though Weaver is noted for his defensive ability, he has been consistently garnering his share of the points, last year out-scoring most of the other guards in the conference. In addition, Walt handles the ball well on the offense, besides being a tower of strength under the backboard. Walt is well "worth his salt."

W. U. Will Play 9-Game Schedule

1938 Football Slate Lists Six Home Games

The Willamette university football team will play a nine game schedule next fall, it was revealed here yesterday.

Six of the Bearcat games will be home games while the other three will be played away from Salem.

California Tour Stated

The schedule again calls for a California tour, with games scheduled with the San Diego Marines and Santa Barbara State college on the trip, while the San Jose Spartans are tentatively slated to meet the Bearcats on Sweetland field on November 5.

W. U. to Play Linfield
Fresno State, Whitlir, and Nevada have been dropped from last year's schedule; and Santa Barbara State, San Diego Marines, and Linfield have been added to the slate.

A highlight is the fact that Willamette and Northwest conference teams will renew athletic relations with Linfield college which school withdrew from the Northwest conference more than a year ago. The Bearcats meet the McMinnville Wildcats on the local field in the opening contest of the season on September 24.

Complete Schedule

Following is the complete schedule as released:

In a preliminary game, the Bearkittens paced by McKown and Gilmore, defeated the Airline Twines, 25 to 23.

Intercollegiate Tourney Plans Set For W. U.

SONS Suspension Wreaks Havoc In Drawings For Feb. 24-26

(By PAUL STURGES)

The suspension of Southern Oregon Normal by the A. A. U. held the spotlight this week as plans went rapidly ahead for the first annual Oregon state inter-collegiate tournament, to be held in the Bearcat gym February 24, 25 and 26.

Loss of the SONS from the tourney may wreak havoc with plans already set, especially if Eastern Oregon Normal decides not to enter the competition. This would leave only seven entries and necessitate one first round bye. If the La Grande quintet enters, an even eight clubs will be on hand.

Kansas City Beckons Winner

Other schools expected to return their official entry blanks to the executive committee this week include Willamette, University of Portland, Albany college, Mount Angel college, Pacific university, Linfield college and Oregon Normal.

Winner of the competition, on the Bearcat floor will be sent to Kansas City as Oregon's entry in the national tournament, slated for early March.

Officials for the three-day local tourney will be Max Allen, of Salem, and Emil Piluso, of Portland.

First Round Thursday

Current plans call for two first round games Thursday afternoon, and another pair Thursday night. Semi-final tilts are slated for Friday night. Saturday night will feature, in addition to the championship clash, a tilt between Friday night's losers for the third place trophy.

Expected to be pre-tournament favorites are Oregon Normal, Willamette, Mount Angel and Portland, perennially a quartet of the state's toughest collegiate quintets.

Frosh In 3-Way Tie For 1st Spot

With Summer Gallagher, Erv Miller, and Ed Maerz leading the way, the Willamette freshman team wound up the second half play in the city "Y" league in a three-way for first place with C. Y. O. and General Finance, by defeating Safeway, 32 to 28, in a game played on the old high floor last night.

Playoff to Decide Champ

The second half championship will be decided in a two-game playoff between the dead-locked quintets; and the winner will meet Chemawa, first half tilts, for the championship.

Wrestling Squad Has Ex-Champs

3 Ex-Salem Hi Men Form Nucleus For Team

Twenty-three men answered the summons to turn out for wrestling last week and are working out daily, according to Corliss Berry, manager.

Verne Rierson, of Camas, Wn., senior here, is the coach.

Outstanding of the candidates for the Willamette wrestling team are a trio of former Salem high school champions—Tats Yada, heavyweight; Earl Nichols, 115 pounds; and George Clark, 121 pounds.

Salem Men on Squad

Bob Reeves, 129 pounds, and Jerry Cottow, runnerup in state high school tournament at Salem high last year, complete the list of Salem lettermen.

Other men who are expected to turn out, heavyweights and football players, are Floyd Cline, Bill McKinney, Bud Milliken, Bill McAdam, Bob Hinman, Francis Schmidt, Bill Wimer, and Ellis Rogers.

Arthur G. Olson, freshman with plenty of experience at Tillamook high, George Abbott, Roger Baker, Paul Tanaka, Ardo Stock, Don Smith, Cecil Wickline, Charles Sugai, and Art Olson are the other men practicing for the squad.

Five games were scheduled, five were played, and a new all time record has been set; that's the climax, now I have seen everything.

The Law School sparked by Curt Johnson led the parade with a 24 to 15 win over the Independents. Dale Crabtree of the Independents copped high scoring honors for the game with 12 points.

Fish Chokers Beat Sigs

In a closely contested game which ran into one overtime period, the Fish Chokers beat the Sigma Tan's, 38 to 35. Bruce Williams for the winners made the biggest ante, exactly 15 points.

The P. E. staff co-league leaders dropped a scrappy Kappa team by a score of 31 to 24.

The Fish Chokers again advanced into the spotlight posting a 38 to 24 win over the Alpha Psi's. And speaking as one who knows, may I say that this game came as nearly to answering the description of football on a basketball floor as anything that I have ever seen. At any moment I expected one of the telephone operators to be aroused from quiet meditation so that she might rush a call through to a telephone manufacturer requesting him to start "clipping."

Law School Wins

In the final game of the competition to date, the Law School downed the Twisp, 43 to 18.
