DEAN REGINA EWALT

Dean Retires After 13 Years

Regina Ewalt, Dean of Women and associate professor of psychology and education at Willamette since 1948, has resigned her position effective with the close of the current school year.

Mrs. Ewalt replaced Dean Olive

Dahl who retired in 1948 after 21 years of service at Willamette. She had previously worked for the YWCA and at Stephens College in Missouri. She did graduate work in psychology at Columbia University. The women's enrollment has expanded from 371 to 446 during Mrs. Ewalt's service at Willamette. The housing facilities for women have been increased by the three new dormitories: Doney Hall, Lucy Anna Lee House and Emily J. York House.

The sorority roll increased from four to five during Mrs. Ewalt's tenure with the addition of Alpha Phi in May, 1958. At that time the Willamette chapter invited Mrs. Ewalt to become a member.

Another goal was achieved when a chapter of Mortar Board, senior women's service honorary, was established in 1958. Dean Ewalt acts as advisor to this group and to the Associated Women Students organization.

Mrs. Ewalt was unable to reveal her future plans at this time.

Meeting With Smith Advances Revisions

Student Senators presented petitions for changing some of Willamette's more controversial rules. The petition was presented to President G. Herbert Smith Sunday afternoon.

President Smith stressed that the administration positively will not change some of the rules such as the drinking and smoking rules. He also pointed out that he, and not the students, was responsible for the university and the students' behavior. Because of this, he feels that he must make the rules.

In answer to the question of whether students should take their grievances directly to the trustees or not, Smith said that the trustees are concerned with policy making, not administration. Problems pertaining to the board of trustees are considered during scheduled meetings and for this reason immediate decisions are impossible.

Student leaders proposed six specific changes at the meeting. One suggestion was that chapel services be shortened to 20 minutes in length or abolished and the money saved used to obtain better convocation speakers.

Another change would be to add more faculty members, students and three trustees to the Student Affairs Committee. The Committee now is composed of six students, five administrators and one faculty member.

It was also recommended that more student and faculty be included on the disciplinary committee. The Senators also suggested that only the disciplinary committee have the power to place students on disciplinary probation, to suspend them, or deliver other serious punishments.

Still other proposals asked that women be allowed to visit the men's living organizations from 12 noon on, that the library be open on Sundays and that freshmen women be allowed to change house rules, such as the lights out at midnight rule.

New Editor Announces Staff Posts

Members of the 1961-62 Collegian staff were announced this week by Marilyn Sparks, newly-elected editor.

In charge of the news pages will be Judi Dana and Judy Rhorer as news editor and managing editor, respectively. Carol Moholt will serve as campus editor with Sue Strach as headline editor.

Karen Harris will edit the feature page and Penny Vulgas will be the society editor. The sports page will be under the direction of Bob Woodle.

Circulation manager will be Alice Dickie. The positions of business and advertising managers will be filled later by Jim Close, new publications manager.

All those interested in working on next year's Collegian should contact Miss Sparks at the Collegian office.

Band Concert Set for Sunday

The Willamette Wind Symphonette under the direction of Maurice W. Brennen will present its spring concert this Sunday in the Fine Arts Auditorium at 3:30. This is the band's most important event of the year.

One of the features in this year's program will be Keith Taylor's first movement of an original symphony for band. He wrote this last summer while taking a course in band arranging and is presently working on two more movements to complete his symphony. The first is described by Brennen as "fast, rhythmic and an example of a good use of thematic material." Keith is graduating this June as a piano major and plans to attend the U. of Washington next year to work on his Masters Degree in Composition.

Norman Walter's arrangement of the choral piece, "Vinea Mea Electa" by Francis Poulenc will also be highlighted. Brennen praises this senior's first piece as "as equally expressive in band form as it was in choral."

The featured soloist is Sid Smith on the trumpet. He will be playing all three movements of the "Concerto for Trumpet" by Haydn.

There is no admission charge for this concert which will also include such numbers as Richard Wagner's "Good Friday Music" from "Parsifal," Percy Grainger's "Lincolnshire Posy," Joseph Jenkins'

"Charles County Overture" and Arthur Frackenpohl's "Allegro Giocoso." "Huldigungsmarsch" by Richard Wagner and "Moorside March" by Gustav Holst-Gordon Jacob will conclude the series.

Queen Gail I Reigns May Weekend

Senior Gail Larsen, a tall, blonde Alpha Chi Omega from Silverton, Oregon, was chosen by Willamette University students to rule as their 1961 May Queen.

The enthusiastic queen has been active on campus since her arrival. She has served on Glee committees, as AWS representative, secretary of her class and as a member of Student Senate.

She was a member of the Varsity Ball court, treasurer of Beta Alpha Gamma and worked as a May Weekend secretary. This fall she served as vice-president of Panhellenic.

The Associated Women selected Gail as their December Coed of the Month. Besides her campus activities, she has also been a member of the Meier and Frank college board.

A sociology major, Gail's varied interests have kept her busy in choir and Circle theater.

Completing the court are princesses Kay Myers and Sherri Jenkins. Both are also Alpha Chi Omegas.

Kay serves the student body this year as secretary and was previously treasurer of her class. Sherri was elected Winter Carnival queen at Mount Hood earlier this year and has also been active as vice-president of Angel Flight.

The court will reign over the activities held the weekend of May 5-7. Queen Gail will be crowned Saturday afternoon by last year's winner Sylvia Quiring.

Highlighting May Weekend will be the presentation by the drama department of the play "Angel Street." Written in England by Patrick Hamilton, it is known there and in an American movie as "Gaslight."

Usually performed on Thursday and Friday evenings, the play has been changed to Friday and Saturday nights so that more Salem townspeople may attend. The cast has agreed to this although the Saturday performance will coincide with the Coronation Ball.

Members of the cast are as follows: Jan Johnson as Mrs. Manningham, Bill Snow as Mr. Manningham, Ted Alexander as Sergeant Rough, Sue Hill as Nancy the maid, and Chris Hjelt as Elizabeth the housekeeper. The two male members may presently be seen with beards, mustaches and sideburns, which are being grown for this forthcoming presentation.

The set has been designed by Janet Anderson who describes it as "elaborate, busy and typically Victorian." Bob DePew is in charge of locating four pages of props, while Martha Wynd is supervising the construction of the costumes which Toni Doidge designed.

Bit parts are still open and interested men should contact Robert Putnam. These are walk-on parts of policemen and involve no memorization of lines.

Binford Heads Blood Drive; Scheduled for Next Tuesday

Scheduled for next Tuesday, April 25, will be the spring drive on this campus," stated John Binford, blood drive manager. "This drawing will be held in the gym from the hours of 9 a. m. to 3 p. m."

Two trophies will be given to the men's and women's living organizations who give the most blood. The fall blood drive netted 254 pints of blood with the SAE's and the Pi Phi's winning the honors of the men's and women's living organizations donating the most blood. Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon donated 53 pints of blood, more than any other living organization on campus.

The following people are representatives for their living organizations. They are in charge of answering questions and signing up donors in each group. Donors must be 18 years of age and in good health. They must have signed permission slips from their parents.

John Baker is representing Sigma Chi, Rusty Whitney from the Beta House, George Douglass from Phi Delta Theta and Brad Kerwin representing Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Debaters Go To West Point

Lynn Hales and Charles Bush, Willamette's top-ranking debate team, and their coach, Dr. Howard W. Runkel, will leave the campus for New York late this week for participation in the key forensic tournament in the nation. After arriving in New York City by plane, the three will take a bus up along the Hudson River to the United States Military Academy at West Point where they will meet the other 35 teams taking part from all over the country.

During the three-day event there will be tours of the famed national military installation, a dress parade review of cadets, a tournament reception with the faculty of the USMA and an awards banquet.

The national debate topic will be used, "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt a Program of Compulsory Health Insurance for All Citizens." Each team competing for national honors has had an outstanding record of wins in a number of regional tournaments.

Art history students may recognize a French Renaissance influence in the architecture of this earlier Marion County Courthouse. Dr. Robert Gatke has written a monograph on the history of its construction in 1872-1873. Dr. Gatke notes that the structure was quite imposing in the pioneer town of Salem and seemed almost out of place amidst the dirt roads and less-impressive buildings of the young city. This picture was taken after 1903 as the "Goddess of Justice" can be seen on top. (Photo supplied by Dr. Robert Gatke.)

County Tops Work With Tin Goddess

The law school's Tin Goddess is a familiar memento of one of Salem's earlier outstanding landmarks, the County Courthouse. The courthouse was built in 1872-1873 but the Goddess of Justice didn't appear until 1903.

IN THE most recent issue of the Marion County History, vol. 6, an article appeared authored by Dr. Robert Gatke of the Willamette faculty. Supported by funds bequeathed for this purpose, Dr. Gatke has written a history of the construction of this imposing building.

When it came time to move the old courthouse and begin constructing the new one, Marion County ran into some legal difficulties. The site had been bequeathed by Dr. Wilson, early pioneer, for public use but no city of Salem had existed then. The question arose, "Does the courthouse lot belong to the city or the county?" In a friendly suit filed by Marion County, the court specifically deeded the site to the county providing they build a courthouse and beautify the grounds by 1875.

THE WILSON heirs were not impressed with this court action and contested the ownership of the land for a number of years. The records show that the heirs once sold the courthouse on a mortgage which was paid off August 15, 1884, a number of years after the building was finished.

AN EDITORIAL suggestion led to a drive conducted by O. A. Brown to solicit funds for a four-faced clock to put in the cupola of the courthouse. When it appeared that the merchants had pledged almost enough, Brown and his assistants "shamed" non-contributors into giving support. Standing in front of the penny-pinching merchant's store, the men told all who went by what a "tightwad" the merchant was until the latter gave in.

The Goddess of Justice, molded out of tin, was made in Salem around 1903. Costing $375, the statue towered over the town until the early 1950's when the present modern county building was constructed.

From the law students, the golden lady has acquired the nickname of the "Tin Goddess." Frequently the object of practical jokes, students will climb up her to blindfold her, "weight the scales," or put a hat on top. The hats never fit because thus far no student has had as big a head as the Goddess.

(The information concerning the courthouse was taken from Dr. Gatke's article, "Building the New Courthouse, 1872-1873," Marion County History, vol. 6, 1960, pp. 3-20. Our thanks to Dr. Chester Kaiser for bringing the article to our attention. Dr. Kaiser and Dr. O. W. Frost serve on the board of editors for this Marion County Historical Society publication.)

Contemplating mischief? The Goddess of Justice regally greets visitors to the law school as they enter the door. Nicknamed the Tin Goddess, she maintains her dignity with difficulty when restless students decide to "decorate" her with hilarious results. (Photo taken from Wallulah files.)

'Operation' Creates Turmoil

By MICHELLE MONTE
Controversy and contradiction seem to follow the film "Operation Abolition" wherever it goes. The documentary has been attacked and defended by a variety of groups. Willamette students will have an opportunity to see the film as well as hear "The Sounds of Protest," a record issued by SLATE, a University of California, Berkeley, campus group which gives its version of the May 13, 1960, demonstrations at the San Francisco city hall.

"OPERATION Abolition" is a documentary film compiled from subpoenaed television and news clips taken during the student demonstrations during the May hearings conducted by the House Un-American Activities Committee in San Francisco.

Fulton Lewis III narrates the film. Three Congressmen, including Chairman Francis E. Walter, who serve on the committee, appear as commentators during the 45-minute reel. No credit lines appear with the film. The name, "Operation Abolition," is reportedly the name given by the Communists to their program to abolish the HUAC.

CRITICS of the film state that the Congressmen are of the opinion that the students were the unfortunate dupes of Communist agitators. Students in the demonstration and other critics claim that the film presents a distorted and misleading record of the event. Some newspaper accounts state the film presents incidents out of sequence and neglects to present the other side of the picture: precaution taken by the students to prevent infiltration by agitators, provocative acts by policemen, the fact that the Communists pictured at the hearing were subpoenaed by the HUAC.

Other observers and members of the committee argue that the demonstration was the product of Communist agitation and that the students got out of hand, even to the point of clubbing an officer.

THE NATIONAL Council of Churches issued a statement criticizing the film while the Christian Century, a non-denominational weekly newspaper, published an article by Robert Moon, condemning the production and the distribution of the film as a propaganda move of the HUAC.

On the other side of the scale, Rev. Dr. Curtis Nims resigned as director of the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches because that body cautioned members about showing the film. According to Dr. Nims, who was present during the demonstration, the film gives a fair representation of what occurred. Churches, schools and private groups all over the country have shown the film in order to help people understand the methods and activities of the Communists.

THE ISSUE over the film revolves around charges that is an attempt by the HUAC to maintain its power and justify its methods through deliberate misrepresentation. It raises the bigger questions of freedom as defined by the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. The counter-charge is that the Communists threaten our very existence, using hidden means of infiltrating and weakening our government and society, such as mob violence, and that the people of the United States need to realize the results of their methods and be wary of them.

Anyone planning on seeing the film may find it very helpful to read the number of articles, both pro and con, appearing in a number of magazines such as the New Republic, Time, Nation and others. The film will be shown April 26, Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

Prof Doubts 'Doctor' Claims

DEAR EDITOR,
I think that a series of ads being run in the Collegian concerning chiropractics could be most unfortunate — and especially the one in last week's Collegian in which we are assured that a chiropractor makes an ideal "family doctor."

The ad does not say that chiropractors are not licensed in many states, that M.D.'s do not value chiropractic theory and so do not refer patients to D.C.'s, that some chiropractic hospitals advertise blatantly and widely their "miracle" cures of leukemia and other fatal diseases.

No doubt certain chiropractors are competent in treating minor disorders and some major ones. However, to imply that the chiropractor is adequately trained to do what the M.D. can do is, in my view, most objectionable.

The ads, we read, are prepared by "Health Research Foundation" in Portland. Are we to believe that this pretentiously named organization is doing something other than promoting chiropractic, that it is not in fact a "front"?

I have great confidence in osteopaths, but very little, I'm afraid, for chiropractors, naturopaths and Chinese herb doctors.

Politico's Posters Plaster Campus

A week of active campaigning for student body offices began Wednesday with the various candidates making speeches in the living organizations and placing posters around the campus. Campaigning will run through Wednesday, April 26. Primary elections will then take place Thursday and Friday with final elections being held on May 1. The polls are located in Eaton Hall, with voting hours between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Candidates for each office will have the opportunity to appear before Tuesday's convocation. Eight minute speeches will be allotted to the candidates for ASWU president who are Tom Hemingway, Mike Foster and Frank Sites.

Included in Sites' platform is (1) expand the responsibilities of the member-at-large, making him responsible for following up issues discussed at every Senate meeting, for delivering an annual report as to the effectiveness of the Executive Council and Senate and for the member-at-large to become an active member of either Student Affairs Committee or the Disciplinary Board. (2) Re-emphasize the importance of Student Affairs. (3) Encourage the participation of more faculty members on the Student Affairs committee. (4) Make full and active use of the Executive committee which is comprised of the five executive officers. (5) Make the Student Senate the final authority and (6) extend student appointments to include students who are not Senate members. It is Sites' goal to provide more and better communication between the Student Senate and the student body as a whole.

Representation is the key objective for the campaign of Mike Foster. It is his hope to represent the student body as a whole, all factions, majority and minority. He will strive to make stronger the communication channels, also.

The three candidates for the position of first vice-president are Pat Skidmore, Sue Lewis and Verrill Redo. Each will be allotted a five-minute time period for her speech. Those vying for the title of second

Five Will Compete In Doney Contest

Sue Savage, James Monroe, Paul McGilvra, Ray Honerlah and Mike Wayland will be contestants in the annual Paul H. Doney speaking contest which will be held in convocation on May 2nd.

The prize, based on excellence of thought, compositions and delivery, will be two-thirds of the net income from $1000 and the second prize will be one-third of the same income.

The three judges are faculty members, but their names will not be disclosed until after the competition, according to Dr. Howard Runkel.

vice-president are Bob Elder, Mike Estcourt and Pat McClarney. Joann Gay, Anne Petrie and Sherrie Steele will compete for the office of secretary while Dick Barton, Jim O'Hair and Carl Williams will contend for the treasurer's position.

Scholars Vie For Awards

Thirty-five sophomores are eligible for consideration for the annual Mary L. Collins scholarships, offered to sophomores who have exhibited at least a 3.30 grade point average, good character and leadership abilities.

According to the records of the registrar the following students will be listed on the ballot distributed to the student body later this month:

Ronald Welch, Robert Woodle, Susan Bowers, Judith Crockett, Judith Dana, Karen Gardner, Joann Gay, Shirley Gillard, Alice Hamilton, Elizabeth Keyser.

Also, Ruth McMath, Patricia McWilliams, Anne Martin, Elaine Pflugmacher, Mary Richards, Brenda Russell, Sylvia Schubert, Sherrie Steele, Karen Stone, Susan White-law and Mary Ann Wright.

'Operation Abolition' Coming to WU

Next Wednesday, March 26, the controversial film, "Operation Abolition," will be shown on the Willamette campus in the Fine Arts Auditorium at 7 p.m.

THE FILM deals with the protest made by college students last May 13 in San Francisco dealing with a hearing by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The film, which lasts approximately one half hour, will be followed by a record telling the other side of the so-called "May Riots." After completion of both film and record a discussion group will be held.

IN COMMENTING on this film, the Washington Post gave the following comment on November 30, 1960. "A propaganda movie called 'Operation Oblivion', concocted in large part by the Mouse Committee on Un-American Activities, is now being given wide commercial distribution. The movie presents a mendaciously distorted view of the demonstrations staged by a group of college students. This is a flagrant case of forgery by film."

The film is being brought to the Willamette campus by two Campus-Y organizations in conjunction with the junior honor's program. "We are sponsoring this movie, not to take sides, but to show both sides of a controversial issue", comments Gail Durham and Mike East-erly, presidents of the campus YWCA and YMCA.

THE CAMPUS YMCA and YW-CA plan to work together to present other topics of current interest to this campus, as part of the nation-wide YMCA organization.

Other topics on their agenda include tentative plans for discussion of the United States Peace Corps and the John Birch society.

(Editor's Note: The errors in the fourth paragraph of this story have been noted by our proof readers, but we felt the humor should be shared.)

Loan Funds Available Now

Dr. Richard Petrie has announced that those needing loans for either this year's or next year's college fees should begin now to make arrangements for them. For help in paying this year's obligations, Willamette has several loan funds available to students. Such loans must be paid back in the summer of this year. Applications for loans from these funds should be made not later than May 1.

National Defense Loans are also available to WU students. These are to be repaid within 11 years after graduation, and 1/2 of the loan will be cancelled for teachers who teach for at least 5 years. Special consideration for these loans must be given to teachers and language, science and engineering students of superior ability.

Students should plan now to apply for loans if they think they will need them next year. Petrie's office has information about loans and also about various outside lending agencies. Dr. Petrie also urges students to consult the college catalog for information about the new plan for spreading college costs over a twelve month period. Those wishing to take advantage of this program must make arrangements to do so by June, when the first payment on next year's expenses is due.

Blewett Wins Fulbright Aid

Pete Blewett has been informed that he is the recipient of a coveted Fulbright Scholarship. This award, described by Blewett as a "door-step to door-step" prize, will enable him to study and travel in Europe for nine months with all expenses paid.

Blewett leaves for France sometime in September and says that he will take advantage of every opportunity to travel while there. Two years ago he studied at the International People's College in Denmark. A French major, Blewett is preparing for a career in the Diplomatic Corps. He hopes to incorporate this position with his strong interest in teaching.

Blewett applied for this scholarship with the Oregon State Committee which submitted his name to a screening committee. His application was then forwarded to the national board and finally on to the deciding board. Each state offers two of these Fulbright Scholarships.

dent G. Herbert Smith, appoint three men and three women to serve as voting members of this committee, the women serving when a woman is brought before the board and the men when a man's case is brought.

President Tony Meeker, commenting on these changes says, "It is the opinion of the Student Senate that these will aid in helping better student-administration relations, and President Smith is also in favor of this change."

Student Senate adopted another resolution with regards to better student administration relationships. There is an already existing faculty-administration committee that meets with the faculty committee of the Board of Trustees once a year. Student Senate proposed that President Smith appoint three student members to also serve on this committee.

At this same meeting last Monday, Student Senate passed the by-law revisions that were printed in last week's Collegian, which dealt with the Finance Board and the Freshman Glee Executive Committee.

Judges Select Moot Team

Second-year Willamette law students William McAllister and Ron Somers were judged winners Thursday, March 30, in the final round of the moot court debate which revolved around the hypothetical question concerning the constitutionality of a statute requiring a car rental corporation to obtain a license from the state of "West Dakota."

McAllister and Somers will debate as a team in the regional and national moot court competition sponsored each year by the Young Lawyers Committee of the New York Bar Association.

A third member of the team, Thomas Niebergall, has been selected to prepare the brief which will be presented at the Pacific Northwest regionals in November and at the nationals in December.

SAEs Initiate Sisters of Minerva

Last Sunday, April 16, Sigma Alpha Epsilon initiated fourteen Willamette coeds into their service organization, the Little Sisters of Minerva. The initiates, who have been guests of the SAE's for several dinner parties, are Val Boden, Elaine Buckinger, Corky Demler, Rosemary Doolen, Judy Gillhousen, Betty Hoehn, Marcia Humphrey, Dianne Hunnex, Mary Lee Jones, Liz Keyser, Carol Jo Knudson, Val Ramsdell, Jean Sherwood, Sherrie Steele and two senior members, Dean Regina Ewalt and Mrs. Elmer Wooton.

THE COEDS will assist the Willamette SAE chapter in rush and will attend other social functions. They will also sponsor social and moneymaking projects of their own. A bowling tournament, cookie sale, car wash and a dance are some of the activities planned.

Each fall the new Queen of Violets and her court will be initiated into the organization. Other new members will be selected jointly by both the chapter and the Little Sisters and initiation will take place in the spring. Each initiate is the recipient of a membership certificate and a Little Sister's pin, which is a miniature replica of the SAE member's pin.

NEWLY elected officers of the group are Liz Keyser, president; Sherrie Steele, vice-president; Carol Jo Knudson, secretary; Jean Sherwood, treasurer; Val Ramsdell, historian and Val Boden, song leader.

Willamette's Little Sisters of Minerva chapter is the 55th chapter to be established at SAE chapters

Spring Reigns As DG Coeds Tell of Troths

A box of candy an engagement ring and a poem read at dinner at the Delta Gamma house led to the announcement of the engagement of Jan Hardy to Gary Ramsden.

MISS HARDY, a junior from Portland, is majoring in physical therapy. She has been active on campus as junior class treasurer and serves her living organization as first vice-president.

Ramsden, a student in civil engineering at Oregon State University, is a resident of Salem. A member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, he spent the last year in the service.

The couple plan a May 27 wedding at First Methodist Church in Portland. They will return to Corvallis for the summer.

Delta Gammas were also surprised with the engagement announcement of Alice Hamilton to Mike Vasey. The announcement was made by reading a poem and passing a candle.

MISS HAMILTON, a sophomore music major from Roseburg, is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Mu Phi Epsilon.

Vasey, a University of Oregon student, is a junior and is majoring in math and history.

The couple plans a late summer wedding.

throughout the country. The organization is a recognized affiliate of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. District conventions are held each year at which representatives from different schools exchange ideas. The Willamette chapter plans to send a delegate to the next convention which will be held in Santa Barbara, California.

social scoop

By PENNY VULGAS
Collegian Society Editor

Spring has sprung, they say, and last week the Pi Phis and Phi Deltas attempted to celebrate it's arrival. Unfortunate cold weather put a damper on the marshmallow roast planned for the Pi Phi backyard and resulted in a roaring fireplace inside the house. Special entertainment for the evening was in the form of a vocal rendition by their combined "choirs" of the Portuguese Drinking Song under the direction of Dick Adams and George Douglass.

OVERLOOKED in last week's issue was the Spring house dance sponsored by the Men of the YMCA. The theme, "Jazz on a Summer Night," featured swimming, dancing and original entertainment of Beatnik poetry. Chess was also included on the program. Another feature of the evening was the originality of coffee flavors.

Chaperones for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. R. Ivan Lovell, Captain and Mrs. C. Paul Muzzio and Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Yocom.

Bean-Steak dinner was a featured event last Tuesday at the Alpha Chi Omega house. Those who improved in their grades since fall semester were awarded steak dinners and those — well, those who didn't keep up to par dined on beans.

WOMEN'S living organizations rarely serenade, but Tuesday the Lee House members, complete with their rendition of "By the Light of the Silvery Moon" were "Singing in the Rain" to announce their spring house dance to the men's

Spring Dances Set With Varied Themes

"Velvet Moon" will be the theme of Lucy Anna Lee's spring house dance to be held this evening. The formal affair will be preceded by dinner in York House for all those attending the dance.

ACCORDING to Gayle Emerson, the decorations for the dance center around the velvet moon, stars and a garden scene to accentuate the evening's atmosphere. Music for dancing will be provided by a combo from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Chaperones for the evening include Dr. Norman Huffman, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Stillings and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Trueblood. Sue Bowers is chairman of the dance. Assisting her are Karen Egan, music; Anne Cooley, favors and Barbara McPartland, refreshments.

TO THE STRAINS of "A Happy Wanderer," the women of Alpha Phi serenaded the men's living organizations last night to announce their spring house dance, "Edelweiss." In Switzerland, a fellow who loves a girl climbs to where the edelweiss grows and picks the velvety white blossoms for her. The Alpha Phis dedicate their dance to this custom.

According to Diane Mayer, general chairman of the event, the dance will be held at the South Capitol Masonic Temple from 9 to 12 tonight. Decorations depict an edelweiss festival held in a town square, with views of the Alps and chalets to enhance the atmosphere. Pretzels and root beer will be served as refreshments.

Committee chairmen include Pat Clark, decorations; Mary Johnson, refreshments, and Barbara Beasley and Betty Pease, programs.

Chaperones for the affair are Dr. and Mrs. Chester Luther, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kraft and Sgt. and Mrs. William Junor.

"THE UNTOUCHABLES" is the theme of the roaring Twenties dance scheduled at the Phi Delta Theta house tomorrow night. Costume clad guests will dance to the music of a ten-piece orchestra, led by Bob Jones.

According to social chairman Stu Hall, the refreshments will be served during the evening in the "speakeasy" atmosphere of the Phi Delt abode. Other committee chairmen include Kevin Nagel, chaperones; Ken Cruden, refreshments and Dick Adams, music.

Chaperoning for the evening will be Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Shay, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yocom and Travis Cross, public relations assistant to Governor Mark O. Hatfield.

"A FUN informal dance at the beach" is what the Kappa Sigs and their dates will be attending tomorrow, according to social chairman, Russ Olmo. A boat has been chartered for rides in the afternoon, along with other beach activities.

Thinclads Face Tough Test

Willamette's track team, easily victorious in its first two meets, should have its hands full tomorrow when it faces Portland State at Portland.

The meeting will be a quadrangle affair, with OTI and Pacific also participating, but host PSC will be Willamette's big obstacle.

The Vikings have a host of veterans and a strong team which has won ten straight dual meets dating back to 1958. Last year they won their conference title and the District 2 NAIA team championship.

Portland State will be paced by veterans Jon Abraham, Tim Small, Stan Miller and Jay Hall and newcomer Loren Remy.

Abraham has excelled in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and broad jump. Small has run the mile in 4:25 this year and also been a winner in the two mile. Hill and Miller are both fast in the 440, with the former finishing in 50.5. Hill is anchor man on the Viks' fast mile relay team.

The Vikings showed their strength last week when they defeated a strong Lewis & Clark team, 85½-45½.

Last Friday, the Bearcat cindermen got their dual meet schedule off to a flying start, defeating Pacific, 98½-32½. The winners swept four events and took first place in all but two in the rout.

Ken Ashley, Dexter Maust and Bob Ball grabbed two wins for Willamette. Ashley cleared the high jump at 6-6 and won the high hurdles in 15.9. Maust took the 880 and mile, while Ball snagged both sprints.

Other winners for WU were George Tiger in the 440, Arvin Henderson in the two mile, Don Green in the shot put, Tom Toombs in the broad jump, while Bob Roy and Ted Foxley captured the discus and javelin respectively.

Doug Stewart scored both Pacific firsts, taking the 220 low hurdles and the pole vault.

Netters Meet Linfield Today

Willamette's tennis team travels to McMinnville today to play Linfield in its second league match of the season. The Bearcat netters won their first conference match from Pacific, 6-1, last Monday.

Linfield had one of the top NWC squads last year, defeating Willamette in its dual match. However, the team is new this spring, with none of last year's lettermen on the squad.

Of two players who did not graduate, Roger Stewart has been unable to play thus far, and Lannie Phillips, who performed well in last year's conference tournament, did not return to school.

The Wildcat netmen have also played Pacific, losing 4-3.

Willamette turned back the Badgers for its first win of the spring, as Dale Daniel, Dwight Billman and Pete Smith all won two straight sets.

Last week, the Bearcats opened their schedule by breaking even in six matches against OCE. They traveled to Eugene last Friday, losing to Oregon, 4-2.

Coach Les Sparks says Willamette is not as strong this year with only two returning lettermen currently on the squad. Bill Richter and Tom Ihrig have been unable to play because of lack of time, but may be out later.

Sparks considers Whitman and Lewis & Clark to be the strongest teams in the league.

Next Tuesday the netters will play at Lewis & Clark and next Friday they will travel to Portland State.

In singles matches of last Monday's encounter at Pacific, Daniel defeated Dave Lowe 6-0, 6-4, Billman defeated George Long 6-2, 6-2, Smith won over Brad Ross 6-4, 6-2, and Mike Wayland (WU) defeated Dave Hackett 6-2, 4-6, 6-2. Ken Cruden of WU was defeated, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5, by Dave Hendrickson.

In the doubles matches, Daniel and Smith disposed of Lowe and Hackett 6-4, 8-6, and Wayland and Billman defeated Long and Ross by 7-5, 6-4.

Bearcats Eye Badger Baseballers

Willamette's diamond crew invades Forest Grove tomorrow to play Pacific in a crucial doubleheader.

Coach John Lewis expects the Badgers to be tough foes, as they lost two extra inning games last week, one in 14 and the other in 11. One defeat was to Linfield, which shut out Willamette.

Probable starters are Tommy Lee and John Frederick for Willamette. Both pitchers have won two and lost one.

THE BEARCATS broke even in their first two league encounters last weekend, defeating Lewis & Clark 8-1 here last Saturday but dropping a 6-0 game to Linfield the day before. In the process, the Wildcats' Fred Herrmann pitched a no-hitter.

In the win over LC, the Bearcats got five runs in the first three innings to provide a cushion for John Frederick who went all the way to notch the victory.

The batting attack was paced by Hisao Sato and Denny Frank who each hit three run homers. Sato's came in the second to give WU a 4-0 edge while Frank's came in the seventh to give the Jasons a lead 8-0. The Pioneers' lone run came in the eighth.

HERRMANN, a senior "junkball" artist, had only two close calls in his masterpiece. In the first inning, Sato hit a hard liner that was snared in centerfield. Then, in the fourth, Jim McCaffery hit a slow roller to the mound but was out by a step.

Three walks, a hit batsman and an error provided WU with its only baserunners. Jerry Martyn paced the Linfield attack with a two run homer.

Tommy Lee, who was driven from the mound in the sixth inning, suffered his first defeat of the year.

Coach Lewis says that he is satisfied with the team's defense but that there should be more hitting strength from the outfield and that the pitchers need to work on their control.

Willamette's overall record is 6-4. Jiggs Burnett is the leading hitter with a .455 average, three home runs and 15 runs batted in. Dave Brock is second among the regulars, batting .333 with seven RBI's.

SAE's Win In Badminton

The Sig Alphas defeated Baxter and Sigma Chi this week to move into sole possession of first place in intramural badminton.

Last Wednesday, the SAE's scored a 3-0 sweep over Baxter, while the Betas beat the Phis, 2-1, and the Law School defeated the Rinky Dinks by forfeit.

In Tuesday's activity, the Law School beat the Betas and the Phis beat the Rinkies in addition to the SAE win over the Sigs.

Seven teams are entered, with each playing the other in a six game round robin.

Horsehidiers Edge Viks

Jiggs Burnett batted in four runs with two hits to lead Willamette in a comeback 5-2 win over Portland State last Wednesday. The game was played in spite of a steady drizzle.

The Bearcats were trailing by 2-1 until they put across four runs in the eighth inning. Fidel Gaviola, who started and pitched the first six innings, and winning relief pitcher Bob Whipple limited the Vikings to only two hits.

Baxter Wins Bowling Title

Intramural bowling came to a close last Wednesday, with Baxter No. 1 finishing in first place six games ahead of the SAE number one team.

Baxter closed out its season with 76 wins and 12 losses by taking three of four games from Sigma Chi No. 1, which finished third.

In other games, the SAE's took four from Sigma Chi No. 2, the Beta No. 1's swept four from the Hi-Lows, Phi Delt No. 1 took four from the Beta number two team, the Phi No. 2's took four from Kappa Sigma, and Baxter No. 2 won three of four from SAE No. 2.

Highest game for the day was a 213 by Bryan Jones. Charlie Saverude recorded a 205 while Bill Redmond had a 201.

During the previous week's action, Tom Elliot had a 236 while Bob Hisel chalked up a high series of 561.

Unofficially, the top three bowlers in averages were Charlie Saverude, Bill Slimak and Larry Godwin respectively. Highest individual game was recorded by Bruce Rose with a 248.

WU Track Team Wallops OCE

Willamette's cindermen easily defeated OCE, 83-47, to win their second straight dual meet at rain-swept McCulloch Stadium last Tuesday.

The Bearcats scored three place sweeps in the 220 yard dash, discus and javelin. Ken Ashley accounted for 13 points with wins in the high jump and high hurdles, while George Tiger garnered 12½ with firsts in the 220, 440 and third in the lows while running a leg on the winning mile relay team.

Bob Roy, in winning the discus, had his highest mark of the year at 149-1.

Other Bearcat winners were Tom Toombs in the 100, Dexter Maust in the 880, Don Green in the shot and Ted Foxley in the javelin.

Golfers Triumph

The Bearcat divoters, under the direction of new coach Bob Prall, clubbed Pacific 14-4 and OCE 11½-6½ in golf matches this week. This left them with three wins against one loss in dual matches this year.

Bob Elder, Bob Woodle, Bill Cornell and Ron rahl were two time victors for the Bearcats, while Mike Laughlin and Bill Hemenway won one each. Elder was medalist against the Badgers with a 75 while Woodle had a 73 against the Wolves.

YR's To Hear 'Birch' Member Frosh Glee Rules Undergo Revisions

"Conservatism in America" will be the subject of a speech by Ernest G. Swigert at a Young Republicans meeting next Wednesday, 6:30 p.m. at Baxter Lounge.

Swigert, who is president and member of the Board of Directors of Hyster Company in Portland, was president of the National Association of Manufacturers in 1957. He was also NAM director and regional and national vice-president before becoming president.

"We feel very fortunate to have such an outstanding citizen to speak to the YR's," said Tyke Smith, newly elected president of the Willamette Young Republicans.

Swigert has had a long career in business which started with Electric Steel Foundry Co. in 1915. After serving in the U.S. Army Air Corps in 1917-18, he returned to "Esco" where he became vice-president in charge of sales in 1923. He joined Hyster in 1929.

The 69-year-old businessman is married and has four children. He attended Portland Academy and Milton Preparatory in Massachusetts. He graduated from Harvard in 1915 with a degree in metallurgy.

While in the Army, Swigert was a lieutenant.

He is a member of the John Birch Society.

Jim Seitz, former YR president, is co-ordinating plans for a First Voter Program next fall. He will also be one of Oregon's ten delegates to the national Young Republican Convention in Minneapolis this June.

Swayze Picked For Manager of Homecoming

Student Senate Monday saw the election of Frank Swayze to the position of Homecoming manager, 1961. Commenting on Homecoming, Swayze feels, "I believe the purpose of this weekend is twofold, primarily for the alumni and secondly for the students to kindle better relationships between them and the alumni."

Swayze advocates the use of a general theme, around which the entire Homecoming activities would revolve, using this to incite enthusiasm and spirit in its participants. The Homecoming dance will use the same theme, to top off the weekend activities.

Tentative plans include the invitation of a prominent Willamette alumni to speak at the Alumni Association meeting and also possibly at the Koffee Klatch after the game.

Plans also include the changing of the dance from Friday night to Saturday night, for greater alumni participation and football player attendance. In place of the Friday night dance, some other activity will be held, possibly a play.

17th Century Music Featured In Music School Faculty Recital

A program of 17th century violin music, performed in an authentic manner with accompaniment of harpsichord and cello, will be presented by Charles Heiden, violinist, assisted by Nona Pyron, cellist, with Josef Schnelker at the harpsichord, at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, April 26, in the Recital Hall of the School of Music. Seldom played violin sonatas by J. J. Walther, Giovanni Legrenzi, Archangelo Corelli and Francois Couperin will give opportunity for the demonstration and discussion of baroque performance practices, including various styles of ornamentation.

"The harpsichord surpasses the piano for baroque ensemble music because its plucked tone blends so well with the violin," says Heiden, associate professor of violin and conductor of the orchestra. The single-manual Sabathil harpsichord, supplied for this concert by the Stone Piano company, was made in Vancouver, B. C. Specially designed for the extremes of the American climate, this modern instrument substitutes plastic jacks and a light metal frame for the traditional wooden materials. The harpsichord will be displayed following the concert.

Featured in the concert-demonstration will be the Italian and French styles of ornamentation. "Like jazz performers today," says Heiden, "violinists in the seventeenth century added their own embellishments to the music they performed." Similar original ornamentation will be re-created by the performers in Wednesday's performance.

Fine Arts Program Offered For Summer School Session

Willamette University will have two four-week summer school sessions in education, liberal arts and music. The first session, June 19-July 15, 1961, will feature courses in biology, economics, English, foreign languages, history, music and other fields.

A special voice workshop will be a part of the second session, July 17-August 12, 1961, sponsored by the National Association of Teachers of Singing. A visiting staff of nationally known teachers will present work in pedagogy, diction, style and literature. This one-hour course will be the week of July 30-August 4.

Any work necessary for the Oregon five-year standard secondary education certificate may be taken during the summer, with the exception of student teaching.

Willamette is also sponsoring a summer study tour to the University

The rules for scoring Freshman Glee have been changed this year, after revision by a special committee that was set up for this purpose. The new rules, which were recently approved by student senate, will go into effect next year.

Words and music will be in one division, instead of two as they were previously, with a maximum of 90 points for both. They will be judged by three judges, each being able to give 30 points apiece.

Vocal rendition will be worth 120 points, 30 points apiece by each of four judges. This will be divided

DeLespinasse Wins Grant

A National Defense Graduate Fellowship valued at more than $6,000 has been awarded to Paul F. deLespinasse, senior political science major, according to Dr. Robert D. Gregg, dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

DeLespinasse, who will graduate with honors in June, plans to enroll next fall at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md., where he will apply his fellowship toward three years of graduate study in the political science field. Upon completion of his advanced study, which leads to a Ph.D. degree, he plans to follow a teaching career on the college level.

In addition to the National Defense fellowship, he was honorary winner of a Woodrow Wilson fellowship. Only 1500 National Defense awards are made each year in the various fields of advanced study.

DeLespinasse is senior scholar in political science, assisting Dr. Robert M. Gatke.

Since the national capital is only some 40 miles from the Baltimore school Dean Gregg pointed out that, "It is a wonderful opportunity for one of our top scholars. Nowhere else is it possible to have as complete a political science laboratory.

of Grenoble in France. Interested students may obtain additional details from Dr. Marion Morange. College credit can be arranged for this tour.

A bulletin of the offered courses and additional details is available in Dr. James Lyle's office.

Students Take Part In Hostility Measurement

Five psychology students are involved in a project at the State Mental Hospital. Mary Ann Wright, Loretta Ray, Chris Ryer, Ed Sasaki and Larry Hjelle are experimenting with the use of projective techniques and the measurement of hostility by the TAT, or Thematic Apperception Test. Aiding with the experiments are Dr. Bernard Merstein, Arthur Wiens and Dr. Charles H. Derthick, head of the psychology department.

into three classifications: tone quality, diction and expression.

Ninety points will also be given for formation. Two-thirds of this will be for execution, marching and precision, and one-third to the formation itself, including its adaptability to its song and theme.

The committee has suggested that the judges be instructed to give the maximum number of points in each division to the winner, so as to avoid the problem that has occurred in the past few years. At times, one judge has given the winner in a division a certain number of points and another judge has given the same class only half as many points, leading to certain discrepancies in total points.

What are the opportunities in Chiropractic?

The fact that 10,000 more students are demanded by this growing and uncrowded profession attests to the unlimited opportunities for many serious students who have an inherent desire to serve, to help others in maintaining and in reestablishing health.

The opportunity for independence, as in any profession, is particularly fostered in Chiropractic. Usually the Chiropractic physician establishes his own private practice as does the medical doctor or the dentist, in any community he so desires, downtown or in his residence. He establishes his own working hours and when and how long his vacation may be.

The Chiropractic physician has the choice of the most attractive general practice or of specializing. Among the major specialties are the treatment of athletic injuries, diseases of children, diseases of women and mental and nervous disorders.

A large and growing number of practitioners devote their entire practice to diagnosis through the taking and interpretation of X-rays or laboratory tests.

For those whose talents and interests qualify them, there is a great opportunity to teach and do research work. The profession needs trained men and women to further investigations, to collect data and to conduct the scientific development of Chiropractic knowledge. Chiropractic teachers are needed to carry out the programs of the accredited Chiropractic colleges.

To anyone seeking an honorable and useful career, Chiropractic offers a good livelihood and an absorbing interest.
