- MAY DAY PROGRAM.
- 6:30-9:00—Breakfast.
 - 8:00-10:30—Working squads on campus.
 - 10:30-12:00—Inter-Class Tennis Tournament.
 - 12:00-1:30—Student Body Dinner in Gym.
 - 1:30-2:30—Coronation of May Queen.
 - 2:30—Track Meet with Pacific U.
 - 5:30—Tug-of-War.
 - 8:30—Junior Play, "Esmeralda," at Grand Opera House.

The preparations for May Day indicate that this year we are to have the best ever carried out in following the custom of a great spring gala-day.

The general plan will be much the same as has always been followed in previous years. But many details are under preparation which will make this year's festival the finest ever held on the campus.

Manager Clark has completed very unique plans for the day's events. The students who are assisting with the features of the day have plans which will all go to make the day complete in every way.

First comes the breakfast, served by the Y. W. C. A. girls at the tempting hours of 6:30 to 9:00 a. m. From 8

P. U. MEETS WILLAMETTE IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

Willamette will join issue with Pacific in a track and field meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. It has been the custom for these two teams to meet in Salem on May Day. The contests are usually very close, the score last year being 63-65 for Pacific.

The Willamette material has been turning out in good shape and with the showing that they made against Chemawa last Saturday, they bid fair to take the large end of the score.

The meet will be pulled off on schedule time.

The entire day has been divided into proper divisions and all committees under Mr. Clarke are instructed to come to schedule time. The track meet is to be called at 2:30, weather permitting.

The complimentary dinner to the Salem endowment subscribers to Willamette University that took place at the Marion Monday evening was a very successful affair. Many of Salem's most prominent business men were present and entered into the spirit of the affair with a vim.

After the banquet, enlivened by a number of rousing college songs given by a party of the University men present, State Treasurer Kay, chairman of the campaign committee, was made toastmaster. He made a few spirited remarks upon the value of Willamette as an investment.

R. J. Hendricks discussed the publicity side of the campaign, while Ex-Mayor Rodgers spoke on "What Property-Holders Owe to Willamette."

Ex-Mayor Bishop also gave a strong, hearty talk from the standpoint of a business man.

Dr. Todd and Dr. Homan were also present and made inspiring speeches in regard to the campaign.

Methods and plans for completing the endowment campaign were discussed, and all present showed the greatest interest in its accomplishment.

It is gratifying to see the hearty cooperation that Willamette is receiving from Salem's business men.

ENTHUSIASM REIGNS AT BIG WILLAMETTE BANQUET

Dr. Homan and Dr. Todd Launch Big Campaign to Close Endowment.

The annual Student Body election was held last Friday. During the day the polls were a busy place and there was considerable interest in the result of the election. Out of the "melee" of contesting candidates, the following emerged with an election: president, Errol Gilkey; secretary, Edith Sherwood; treasurer, Leland R. Sackett; editor of The Collegian, Bruce McDaniel; Collegian manager, Paul DeVrees Manning.

In the case of the office of vice-president there was no election, no one of the three candidates receiving a majority. This will necessitate another ballot to decide who shall hold this office, Eric Bolt and Seth Axley being the two highest on the ballot and therefore the candidates for the position.

The officers elected are all well qualified to do good work, and it looks like a prosperous year for 1913-14. However, these persons will speak for themselves during the following year.

THOS. M. GATCH, PROMINENT EDUCATOR DIES IN PORTLAND

Three Times President of W. U.—Recipient of Carnegie Pension—Honored in Profession 55 Years.

Dr. Thomas M. Gatch, a prominent educator for fifty-five years, died in Seattle last Wednesday. Mr. Gatch was president of Willamette three times, twice from 1861 to 1865, and again from 1870 to 1879. He was a recipient of a Carnegie teacher's pension.

Dr. Gatch had a career of fifty-five years as an active educator. It was because of his unbroken service for so long a period in the educational field that he was admitted to a pension in the Carnegie foundation. This happened at the Oregon Agricultural College after his resignation as president, and while he was still serving in a professorship in the institution, a service from which he was required to retire in order to secure the pension. His work began as a teacher in the public

RESIDENT STUDENTS TAKE OFFICES IN EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Epworth League of the First M. E. Church held their regular business meeting and social Friday evening. The election of officers for the ensuing year gave a number of students places on the Cabinet.

The League Institute, which will be held on the campus the week following commencement, was discussed. Plans for getting a large attendance both of local and student league members were started.

The officers elected were: president, Herman Clark; 1st vice-president, Eric Bolt; 2nd vice-president, Harold Jory; 3rd vice-president, Mildred Simons; 4th vice-president, Kate Barton; secretary, Norma Harper; treasurer, Howard Jewett; Intermediate League superintendent, Laura Heist.

INTEREST CENTERS IN CO-ED NUMBER OF THE COLLEGIAN

Man Will Be Shown His Place—Co-eds Promise Good Issue of Six Pages.

"When in the course of human events and college affairs it becomes necessary for the co-eds to make their debut in the journalistic world, they come forward with the edition of the semester. The young ladies met last Monday morning after chapel at the call of Miss Laura Heist, president of the Ladies' Willamette Club, to elect an editor for the annual co-ed edition of The Collegian, which will appear next week. Miss Gertrude Eakin was the successful candidate, while Miss Katherine Barton, who was a nominee, was chosen to act as the associate editor.

The policies of the editor, while all are not yet definable, are well tinged with the disdain for the more stern sex. She has stated that when the mere name of man was mentioned in this six pages of "the feminine," there would be an immediate apology for the same.

The paper will be entirely edited by the ladies of Willamette, every department of the paper will have its reporter. Athletics will be well described by Miss Edith Sherwood. She was selected for her ability to apolo-

"ESMERALDA" OCCUPIES THE BOARDS TOMORROW

No Detail Neglected in Making Junior Play the Gala Event of May Day.

PLAY MAKES HIT AT PENITENTIARY

Special Features Will Add to Enthusiasm—High School Has Section—Seat Reservations Today.

With "Esmeralda," the Junior play, but one day off, not a feature has been neglected toward making the biggest dramatic event of the year also the crowning event of May Day, and one of the liveliest and most enjoyable college events of recent years. The occasion will be more than a mere dramatic entertainment. It will be the biggest outlet of college spirit and enthusiasm which has struck the campus for many a day.

While the evening's side-issues will contribute largely to the enjoyment, they will not overshadow the play itself. The presentation last evening at the state penitentiary was received with unstinted applause and did away with any uncertainty there may have been as to the success of the production. It is safe to predict that the reception tomorrow evening will be even warmer, as the characters will be better acquainted with the glare of the footlights.

It is unnecessary to sing the individual praise of the members of the cast. All are working together artistically and harmoniously, and from the time George Drew, in the person of Fred Lamport, raps with his cane on the rough door of Roger's North Carolina farm house until Dave and Esmeralda are re-united in the Desmond studio in Paris, there is something happening every minute. The plot is rich in intermingled humorous and tense situations, sentiment and pathos. Director George C. Blower is well pleased with the way the members of the cast are handling their parts. Mr. Blower

3-0-WILLAMETTE FIGHTS OREGON TO FINISH IN GREAT BALL GAME BUT LOOSSES

Willamette played her first inter-collegiate ball game this season when she was defeated by the University of Oregon in the contest at Eugene last Friday, the score being 3 to 0 for the State "U."

Drake pitched excellent ball, as did also Bigbee, the Eugene twirler. The support on both sides was perfect.

Oregon's first tally came in the opening inning, when Drake walked Mount, who proceeded to steal second and came home when Chandler singled. Oregon added the other two scores in the second inning, when Billings went to first on a fielder's choice, advanced to third on Motschenbacher's two-bagger, and accompanied by Motschenbacher crossed the plate when Bigbee made a two-base hit.

From the second inning on Willamette had the situation well in hand and played stellar ball. Her fielding was perfect. Her only weakness was at the bat. Oregon made her two runs

PRESIDENT HOMAN ATTENDS UNIVERSITY SENATE IN EAST

President Homan leaves tomorrow morning for a trip through the East which will last for about three weeks, the principal stop being at Buffalo, New York, where the Methodist University Senate meets this year. The United States is divided into fifteen general conference districts, and each of these sends one delegate to the University Senate. President Homan represents this general conference district. The purpose of the Senate is to discuss the standards of the Methodist colleges and to plan for their future development.

FROSH-SOPH RIVALRY DECIDED IN TUG OF WAR OVER MILL RACE---UPPER CLASS REGULATION

The Frosh-Soph feud of eight months' standing will break forth anew Thursday afternoon at the annual Frosh-Soph tug-of-war. As has been the custom in years gone by, the Frosh challenged the Sophs to a tug-of-war to be held across the mill race. This event will be called about fifty-three.

Last year spikes and implements of every conceivable size and shape were used by the men to impede their progress toward the brink. This year an upper class committee, consisting of Dr. Sweetland, Louis Hepp, '14, and William Schreiber, '13, were appointed to draw up the rules and regulations.

Rules for the "Pull."

The tug-of-war shall take place across the mill-race, on a well-levelled spot, southwest of the athletic field.

Each team shall consist of eight men, who shall pull unaided in any way; no holes shall be dug, no stakes driven, nor any other means shall be employed to assist in pulling.

During the contest, no person except the officials, shall be allowed within five feet of any contestant.

No resin, or any other preparation shall be applied to the hands or rope.

Knobs in the rope shall be prohibited and no contestant shall be permitted to encircle any part of the body with the rope.

Only light-soled, rubber-bottomed tennis shoes shall be worn on the feet.

Time shall be as follows: first round, four minutes; one minute rest; second round, three minutes.

The winners of the contest, in case neither team is pulled into the race, shall be decided by the position of the handkerchief, which, at the beginning of the contest, shall be tied on the rope, midway between the two teams.

MAY DAY.

May Day at Willamette now means to the Willamette student a good time for himself and some work to help improve the looks of the campus. The day is well fitted to impress pleasant memories upon all those who participate. For the past nine years each May Day has had added to it many little touches in making the surroundings nearer perfect, the student more satisfied and friends more enthusiastic.

Tomorrow will be (the weather permitting) one of the most elaborate of its kind in the history of Old Willamette. Her May-pole dance and the coronation ceremonies will be presentable to the most fastidious guest. The May morning breakfast with its background of green trees will begin the day. The tables upon the lawn add a charm to the whole morning. Class rivalry and an intercollegiate contest will be included in the day's program, but how many guests from out of town will witness this!

Schools have their week-ends. The friends of every student are invited. High School graduating classes are invited—it is a Boosting Day. Why could not Willamette make this her Gala Day, for entertaining her friends?

This is the period of the year when many High School students are making their plans for the coming year; why should they not come to Willamette?

This year can not see this Utopia attained, but Willamette must have in the near future some significant day on her calendar which will present her to her friends and prospective students in a true style. Why not make some day later this spring an "at home" to guests?

Teutonia Guests of Ralph Stearns.

The Teutonia were entertained Saturday evening at the home of Ralph Stearns. A very interesting and novel discourse by Mrs. Walsh on "Deutsche Werben" and a talk on the wine industry by George Schreiber constituted the program. Delicious and much appreciated refreshments were served.

schools of California in the fifties, after which he was a professor of Greek and Latin in the University of the Pacific at Santa Clara.

In 1860 he came to Oregon as professor of Greek and Latin in Willamette University, and the next year became president of the institution, serving until 1865.

Dr. Gatch is a well known educator and has been at the head of several institutions other than Willamette, including Portland Academy, Blue Mountain University, University of Washington and O. A. C. He also had the presidency of Oregon tendered him, but refused it.

He leaves a wife and three children, Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Grace Gatch of Seattle, and Claude Gatch of Berkeley, Calif. A grand daughter, Orytha H. Gatch, graduated from W. U. in 1909.

SOCIETY
SOPHS ROYALLY ENTERTAIN THEIR FRESHMAN GUESTS

Web-Adelante Halls Decorated for the Event—Unique Program Pleases.

The Websterian halls witnessed a novel spectacle Friday evening when the Class of 1915 entertained their rivals, the Class of 1916, and Freshmen and Sophomores met for once without consciousness of class rivalry. The Sophs as hosts and boosters were gracious beyond description and attentively conducted their guests about to marvel at the rare and unique decorations—the "flour garden" (by courtesy of the N. Y. Milling Co.), the "fountain of youth," the "rustic seat," and the forest, which offered a variety of game and where spoons grow on the trees.

When they had waxed sufficiently enthusiastic over the beauty of the decorative schemes, Eric Bolt mounted the platform and amid reminiscences and witticisms slowly unwound from a ball of twine the program for the evening. Here again the Sophomores had displayed the originality that makes them famous. The Misses Mulkey, Graham and Van Winkle sang the tale of "The Three Young Maids of Dee," and miraculously demonstrated their transformation into the three old maids of Dee. After the audience had sobered down, Miss Kuntz was called upon for a piano solo, which was followed by a duet, "Romeo and Juliet," flirtatiously rendered by Messrs. Paul Irvine and Doane, "en costume."

J. Read Bain and Chas. Ohling were called upon to prove to Dr. Patterson and Professor Walsh that "It is better for Freshmen men to escort Sophomore ladies and Sophomore men to escort Freshmen ladies, after the Russell-Oldenburg policy." Many personalities were resorted to, but aroused no resentment among the audience, since the debate being carried on in numerals and letters of the alphabet was not wholly intelligible. Other much appreciated numbers of the evening were a piano solo, "Traumeri," by Lester Proebstel, and "The Sugar Plum Tree," sung by Mary Hansen.

At an early hour the party was served to such refreshments as have graced no other function of the season, and after a few class and school songs the Freshmen took leave of their royal hosts.

MEMBERS OF THE KLOSHE KLUB ENTERTAIN SUNDAY

Some of the members of the Kloshe Klub entertained very pleasantly at dinner on Sunday. The guests and hosts were as follows: Misses Pennington, Aileen Ambrose, Ghetta Jennings, Eleanor Ruby, Helen Wastell, Emma Loughbridge, Gertrude Eakin, Helen Goltra, Mildred Bartholomew, Beatrice Thompson and Hazel Smith; Messrs. Leslie Chappell, Joseph Gearhart, Eric Bolt, Harold Wieder, Crawford Young, George Odgers, Max Ball, Errol Gilkey, Wm. Oldenberg and Arthur Marsh.

Miss Lucile Cogswell of the University of Oregon spent Sunday with Willamette friends.

Carl Hollingworth made a week-end visit to Portland.

Miss Jessie Young spent the week-end in Portland.

SOPHS ACCEPT CHALLENGE.

Miss Daisy Mulkey, vice-president of the Sophomore class, accepted the Frosh challenge to a tug-of-war, Tuesday morning at chapel.

"Since it is the custom for the two lower classes of W. U. to furnish entertainment and amusement for their faculty, fellow-students and friends, we, the class of 1915, do hereby accept, with delight, the challenge as stated by the class of 1916 to a tug-of-war across the icy fluid which flows between the romantic banks of the historic mill-race."

SOPHOMORES LEAD LIVE Y. M. C. A.
 Paul Irvine Presides—Axley, Sackett, Tobey, Jory and Marsh Spoke.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon was one of great interest and profit to those present. The Sophomore men were in charge, Paul Irvine presiding. Special music was furnished by the Philodorian trio. The rest of the time was spent with short speeches by different members of the Class of 1915 on different phases of the subject, "The Y. M. Man in Action." Seth Axley dealt with "The Y. M. Man in Society," in a "practical and straight manner." The popular "institution, fusing," received a heavy blow from him.

In "The Y. M. Man as a Student," Leland Sackett brought forth some very interesting points. "Buck" Tobbie's handling of "The Y. M. Man in His Home Town" was original and very interesting as well as instructive. Harold Jory spoke on "The Y. M. Man in His Own Room" and developed the idea that it is there that one can best develop "his possible self." Arthur Marsh spoke in a most capable manner of the influence of "The Y. M. Man in Athletics." The concluding speech of the meeting, "The Y. M. Man True to Himself," was made by Stanford Moore, in which he summed up all that had been said by the other speakers, thus bringing the gathering to a fitting end.

Bill says that it is not good for one to keep late hours—but it's all right for two.

SACKETT BREAKS INTO POLITICS.

L. Raymond Sackett, erstwhile candidate for Student Body treasurership and present incumbent-elect, made his first debut into politics in the approved fashion, and there swung the entire Theolog vote to himself. The means are unmentionable—suffice to say they were real ward-heeler methods; in fact, young Sackett has seemingly set the proverbial river on fire—"where there is smoke there is fire," they say. This can be understood only when the reader realizes that Sackett sails from Sheridan.

If you haven't had a square meal for a month, come to the May Day Breakfast, 6:30 to 9.

Good News Writing.

"My idea of first-class reporting is simplicity of style, perfect description of what happened and of its method, following the modern requirements of the five w's—who, what, when, where and why," said Edgar B. Piper, Portland editor, in addressing a convocation of students at the Oregon Agricultural College.

"The 9th chapter of St. John is a good example of simplicity of style, a good style to follow for those wishing to pursue journalism. To be a good journalist one ought to have a human curiosity, a knowledge of history, economics, sociology, industry, a deep interest in affairs, and a steadfast desire to succeed."

Get in condition to work on the campus May Day. The Y. W. will serve breakfast from 6:30 to 9:00. Get there early.

After the Oregon debaters, Howard and Zimmerman and David Pickett, had arrived at Salt Lake City, Utah, to debate the state institution there for the intercollegiate championship of the West, Pickett took the mumps and was unable to enter the contest. It was postponed and Vernon Motsechenbacher was dispatched to take Pickett's place.

Mr. James B. C. Oakes, '12, spent Sunday in the Capital City.

The girls will expect you around Lanes Hall May 1st in the morning; breakfast from 6:30 to 9:00 o'clock.

has shown his ability as a play director and to him is due much of the credit for the excellence of the production.

Among the many special features of the evening will be 'varsity songs and yells, also songs and yells by the classes, all of which are planning to reserve solid sections. The Seniors and Juniors have a practical monopoly on the boxes, while the Sophomores have a solid section in the balcony. A block of seats has also been reserved for the high school students, who will contribute their share to the noise of the evening.

The play will be produced tomorrow evening, though the other May Day exercises may be postponed on account of the weather. The curtain will go up at 8:30.

The ticket sale is being pushed by members of the Junior class, and, with good weather, present indications point toward a "standing room only" house. Tickets may be secured from any Junior at fifty and seventy-five cents. Reservations may be made any time today or tomorrow at the Grand box office.

CORPE, '16, GIVES THE STUDENT BODY HISTORIC GAVEL

Promise Made During Nominations for Student Body Offices Fulfilled Friday.

The Student Body has formally received the gavel which James Corpe, '16, promised to donate a couple of weeks ago, when the president was having difficulty to get order in an over-enthusiastic meeting. Besides being a very clever bit of lathe work, of which anyone should be proud, the new Student Body gavel has a history which Mr. Corpe briefly related before presenting it.

Early in the forties, a ship leaving England for the Oregon country brought some English apple seeds with it, and upon reaching Vancouver, Wash., the captain gave them to Dr. McLaughlin. The "Father of Oregon" planted some of the seeds in the yard of the mission at Vancouver and some flourishing apple trees grew up, being now the oldest apple trees in Northwest. When the settlers began to go up into Eastern Oregon and possess the land, Mr. Rhyneason took some apples from the old mission trees along with him and planted some seeds in front of his home in La Grande. These grew up and became fine old trees, the oldest in Eastern Oregon.

Last year, when Mr. Corpe was going to High School at La Grande, he stayed at the home where two of these old trees are. In the course of a storm, a large limb was broken off. Mr. Corpe took manual training in the high school, and in the course of the winter turned out two gavels and a set of six cups from the broken limb.

The grand daughter of the farmer who imported the seeds to La Grande received the cups. The Episcopal vocation official received one gavel, which is held in proper accord in Los Angeles; the other is given to Willamette, the school of early pioneer sacrifice.

The presentation of the gavel to Miss Jessie Young, president of the Student Body, was greeted with great applause. Mr. Corpe gave a second gavel with which the president shall rule, while the historic apple wood shall be used only on state occasions.

ANNUAL IS TO BE OUT ABOUT MIDDLE OF MAY

The Annual will be out about May 15. This volume will be especially fine, and will be of great interest to every student. There are some very novel features about the book—products of Editor Gilkey's fertile brain—and the cuts are of the highest order. Every student will want a copy of this record of the year's events and progress.

Oregon Poets Subject of Web. Program

The Websterian Literary Society met last week as usual at the usual time and at the usual place with a large number of members present. A good program on "Oregon Authors" was given. Several excellent biographies and criticisms were given by Arthur Marsh, Seth Axley and George Schreiber on the lives and works of Joaquin and Minnie Myrtle Miller, Ella Higginson, Ella Emery Dye and Oregon's Historians.

A lecture, "What is a Gentleman?" by Prof. R. B. Walsh, will constitute the program which will be followed by initiating ceremonies at the meeting tonight.

Five Years from Now.

The young man of seventeen or eighteen who prepares himself thoroughly for business now, should be at the head of a business or department manager of a corporation five years hence. How about you? Have you prepared for a place in your business? The Capital Business College will do its part if you give it a chance. Next week will be a good time to commence such a course.

Co-eds will serve a feed like mother used to make at the May Day Breakfast, 6:30 to 9.

FROSH-SOPH TUG OF WAR

The officials shall consist of one judge for each side, these to be upperclassmen, and one judge of the contest. These judges shall be approved by the two teams.

The duties of the judges for each side shall be to enforce the provisions of the aforesaid rules.

The judge of the contest shall start and stop the contest by the firing of a pistol, shall act as timekeeper and render the final decision.

The defeated team, if not pulled in, must take a plunge into the mill-race. Failure to comply with these rules shall be considered the defeat of the offending team.

Prof. Walsh Speaks to Y. W. C. A.

Much is always expected when a member of the faculty is to talk at Y. W. C. A., and the girls who heard Professor Walsh last Thursday on the subject of "Prayer" were in no way disappointed. He treated the subject in a masterful manner, emphasizing the fact that prayer must be for the right things, and drawing an important line of distinction between "faith in prayer" and "prayer in faith." Special music was also rendered.

The Y. W. C. A. girls know how to fix up the "ests." If you don't believe it, come to the May Day Breakfast, 6:30 to 9.

"W." MEN DEFEAT CHEMAWA

Indians Meet Disaster on Willamette Field Last Saturday, Score 68-54.

Willamette defeated Chemawa in the opening track meet of the season by the score of 68 to 54. The meet was held on Willamette Field.

Mills proved to be the greatest point winner for Willamette, making 13 1/2 points. Brazier Small, Willard McInturff and Grover Francis were close seconds, the four men totaling 48 points.

The Indians entered 6 or 8 men for every event, while Willamette had to depend on a few reliable point gainers for her entire score.

The results of the events were as follows: 50-yard dash, Stimson (W) first, Walker (C) second, Small (W) third, time 5 3/5 seconds; 100-yard dash, Small (W) first, McInturff (W) second, Breeden (C) third, time 10 2/5 seconds; 220-yard dash, Small (W) first, McInturff (W) second, Johnson (C) third, time 23 4/5 seconds; 440-yard dash, McInturff (W) first, Sellew (C) second, Johnson (C) third, time 55 4/5 seconds; 120-yard high hurdles, Mills (W) first, Dunbar (C) second, Francis (W) third, time 17 3/5 seconds; 220-yard low hurdles, Mills (W) first, Dunbar (C) second, Johnson (C) third, time 29 3/5 seconds (Francis tripped on the second hurdle from the finish and fell—at that time he held second place); broad jump, Francis (W) first, Lachance (C) second, Dunbar (C) third, distance 19 feet 8 inches; high jump, Lachance (C) first, Mills (W) and Stimson (W) tied for second, height 5 feet 8 inches; pole vault, Service (C) first, Doane (W) second, Dix (C) third, height 10 feet 4 inches; 1/4-mile run, Jim (C) first, Marsh (W) second, Young (W) third, time 2 minutes 11 2/5 seconds; mile run, Jim (C) first, Marsh (W) second, Alphas (C) third, time 5 minutes 2 seconds; shot put, Eader (C) first, Francis (W) second, Saunders (C) third, distance 27 feet 10 inches; 1/2-mile relay race, Willamette team, Small, Francis, Mills and McInturff, first, time 1 minute 40 2/5 seconds; discus throw, Saunders (C) first, Pfaff (W) second, Sorter (C) third, distance 107 feet.

"EATS AT MAY DAY BREAKFAST"

Y. W. C. A. Girls Serve Breakfast on Campus.

"You must wake and call me early, call me early, Mother dear; Tomorrow'll be the happiest time of all the glad New Year."

And the Y. W. C. A. girls are going to start the day right by serving you such a breakfast as you haven't eaten since this time last year. You can't have a big, fat, crisp waffle, swimming in a plate of maple syrup, every day in the week; and doesn't it make your mouth water even now to think of that delicately browned ham, with bisuits so light that they'll melt in your mouth?

The dainty co-eds in equally dainty gowns will vie with each other to produce the most artistic table, and the most approved service.

The queen will grace the occasion with her presence; the faculty, the Willamette boosters from all over the city will be there. So it goes without saying that the students must be, too. Time? 8:30-9:00 o'clock. Place? W. U. campus, near Lausanne Hall. Girl? Y. W. C. A. boosters.

MAY DAY PLANS COMPLETE—A FLORAL FESTIVAL

o'clock until 10:30, all the boys will work in seven separate squads on different parts of the campus. The time checks given for work will admit the holder to a real healthy dinner served in the gym.

The latter part of the morning will see the class tennis tournaments. Seniors and Juniors will compete and the Sophs and Frosh also will ply the rackets for the prize. The championship contest will be held between the winners later in the spring.

The coronation of the May Queen is the big affair of the day. The plans that are being arranged will make this a real festival feature. All decorative details will be carried out in elaborate floral designs. These are under the direction of Mr. R. W. Little.

Preceding the coronation exercises, the coronation party will be led to the throne by a troupe of young ladies, who will execute several folk-dances. The stage about the throne will be a bower of blossoms and flowers. At either side of the arched canopy over the throne will be massive columns wreathed and draped with floral garlands.

After the coronation of the Queen, there will be the winding of the may-pole.

The plans for the coronation are being directed by Stella Graham, Kate Barton and Lucille Kuntz, while the May-Pole dance is under the direction of Helen Wastell.

The track meet with Pacific U. is sure to be a fine contest, and will attract a large crowd to the athletic field.

The annual tug-of-war across the mill race between the Sophs and the Frosh will add lots of merriment and excitement to the day's pleasures.

As a fitting end to the day, the Juniors will present the excellent play, "Esmeralda," at the Grand Opera House.

The schedule for the day will be followed to the minute.

The Y. W. C. A. girls will serve breakfast on the campus May 1st from 6:30 to 9:00 a. m.

INTEREST CENTERS IN CO-ED NUMBER OF THE COLLEGIAN

gize gracefully. The May Day festivities will be well covered by a large corps of reporters, while the society columns will properly reflect the sentiments of the socially inclined.

The next edition promises to be "something different," by prediction of the young ladies.

GRIEF AFFECTS FROSH'S MIND.

Merwyn Paget went to his home in Portland last Saturday, to recuperate from a bad attack of the grip. He will return to college in a few days.

However, this attack seems to have made a profound impression on the mind of his bosom friend, "Red" Young, who, with a view to enlisting sympathy, passed in the following doleful account:

"Mr. M. E. Paget has been dangerously ill for the past week with a complication of diseases. After a sudden relapse Saturday, he left for Portland, where he expects to remain in the hands of skilled physicians until his recovery."

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET COMMITTEE PREPARES FEAST

Committee Is Completing Plans for Consummation of Social Event.

The Junior-Senior banquet committee, from the Junior Law and Junior Liberal Art classes, has been selected. They are planning for the banquet to be held Friday evening, May 9th, at Marion Hotel.

This banquet will be the first spring function, in honor of the Seniors.

Invitations will be posted the last of the week and plans for the day will be ready for The Collegian's next issue.

The committee, which has this in charge is composed of Miss Lottie Penn, Edith Sherwood, Paul Todd, Liberal Arts; Raymond Rowland, Edward Tallman and Ray Smith, Laws.

Don't miss that May Morning Breakfast. It will be better than ever, and "that's going some."
