

VANDALS FROM NORTH CAPTURE BASKET SERIES

Idaho Twice Takes Bearcat Five Into Camp; Visitors Displayed Good Teamwork

VARSITY OFFENSE WEAK

Local Men Threaten Only in Second Half of First Contest; Fox Bros. Star

By DEAN POLLOCK.

Sporting Editor, The Collegian. Bowing to the greater aggressive strength of the opposing quintet, the Bearcats lost both games of the series to the University of Idaho five on the local floor last Wednesday and Friday nights. The scores were 26-19 and 32-10.

Swinging their efficient scoring machine into action early in the first game the Bearcats acquired a substantial lead before the end of the opening period, while the Bearcats, who throughout the series were apparently hampered by the lack of any effective offensive plan, were unable to penetrate the Vandal defense and ended the half with only six points against 17 for the visitors.

Bearcats Stage Comeback

Fighting desperately in the second half, Coach Bohler's crew showed itself capable of a comeback and out-scored Idaho by four points, but this was not sufficient to overcome the immense lead piled up in the preceding period. Logan, with three successful shots from the floor, led the attack, and Gillette added five more tallies by scoring three free throws and a field basket. In an attempt to stem the rally the Idaho team fell into a game of keep-away which materially slowed the contest for some time.

The Northerners, though not especially fast, used a good system of team work which enabled them on several occasions to slip behind the Bearcat defense for close shots.

Edwards High Point Man

Edwards, Idaho center, was high point man of the game with 10 tallies appearing for him on the official docket. The Fox brothers, forwards for the panhandlers, showed themselves to be stellar performers. The line-up: Willamette Idaho. Gillette 7 F A. A. Fox Logan 8 F S. R. Fox Doney 2 C 10 Edwards Dimick 2 G Garfin Patton G Telford Substitutions: Willamette; Secolofsky for Patton; Idaho; Styner for Telford. Referee: Eddie Durno, University of Oregon.

The inhabitants of Moscow wrote another disastrous page in history by overwhelming the Cardinal and Gold defenders in the second game of the Idaho-Willamette series. Although hotly contested, the second game was not nearly so rough as its predecessor, but even at that the statement reflects small credit on the latter contest. As in the first game, the half ended with a nine point lead of the visitors, but the precedent was broken when the second period failed to uncover the (Continued on page 3.)

SUMMER SCHOOL IS PROBABLE SAYS DEAN

Extensive Curriculum to Be Given; Eight Departments to Offer Many Valuable Courses

That Willamette will probably offer a very adequate summer school is a late report from Dean Alden's office. The work will be more extensive and the curriculum more nearly complete than in past years. Dean Alden states that the proposed summer school for the coming summer is not an absolute certainty but very probable.

The following is a tentative list of the courses:

- Chemistry: Beginning chemistry, industrial chemistry. Education: High school teaching, intelligence levels, moral education, principles of education. English: Contemporary poetry, Shakespeare. French: First year, second year. History: Colonial history, American constitutional development, northwest history. Political science: Comparative government. Social sciences: Current economic problems, immigration and Americanization. Spanish: First year, second year. This is the first time Willamette has conducted an advertised summer school.

SUCCESS MARKS VARSITY DRAMA

"A Doll's House" Staged in Chapel Last Night

PARTS WELL ENACTED

Classic Ibsen Production Holds Tale of Modern Interest

"A Doll's House," a three act play by Henrik Ibsen, was presented in the chapel last night by the members of the class in dramatic interpretation. The play was one of the heaviest yet attempted by the department, and its complete success reflects much credit both upon the cast and their coach, Miss Minna L. Harding.

The plot of the play is a psychological study intended to portray the moral that it is a mistake to raise girls like little dolls with no end of responsibility.

Miss Tucker Takes Lead

A father believes that a girl should be raised as a gay doll without the least responsibility or care. His daughter, Nora, played by Lucille Tucker, is accordingly reared without any thought of the cares of real life. Nora marries a young man by the name of Helmer, Roy Skeen, who holds ideals similar to those of her father. She continues her doll-like life until the death of her father and loss of health by Helmer force her to meet conditions for which she has had no training.

Dr. Rank, played by Everett Craven, advises Helmer to go to Italy to regain his health. Nora is induced by Krogstad, Virgil Anderson, a bank clerk, to forge a name on a note in order to obtain the money necessary for Helmer's trip. Helmer recovers and returns home to receive an appointment as president of a (Continued on page 4.)

PERSONALITY IS LECTURE TOPIC

Professor Sherman Gives Address to Large Crowd

TREATMENT SCHOLARLY

Three Stages of Personality Development Are Discussed

That self-freedom is the highest aim of personality, that the dynamically ideal or creative stage is personality's highest form of functioning, and that admiration is personality's truest expression were the salient points of a scholarly and masterful lecture on "Choosing a Personality," delivered by Dr. Charles L. Sherman in the chapel Monday evening. More than 500 people were present. The fourth of the lectures of the series were given by the faculty will be on February 13, when Professor Peck of the department of biology will speak on "The Poetical Aspect of Evolution." The entire series of lectures is free, and open to the public.

Personality Has Three Stages

Dr. Sherman discussed successively the nature, growth, development, and functioning of the normal personality. "There are three stages in the development of the personality," said Dr. Sherman, "the unconscious, the conscious, and the dynamically ideal, or the creative. The unconscious or subconscious is the store house of man's lowest tendencies and desires. It is to our waking consciousness what habit is to society, the flywheel, as Dr. James would say."

The feeling developed during this period will determine the future of the child, therefore it is to be hoped that this stage in the development of the personality will be but the concrete realization of the normal self-regarding sentiments.

Personality a Moving Equilibrium

In the second stage, personality becomes a matter of choosing. This is the conscious period of social awakening and of idealizing. Personality is now a moving equilibrium. Then comes the creative stage of development, and with it the personality which appreciates the world as the purposeful home of man. With such a personality the individual rises above the environment, and the choosing of that which ought to be rather than that which is, characterizes it. The platonic love, the longing of the imperfect and incomplete individual for the perfect and the complete is the highest product of this stage in the development of personality. And the aim of the whole development is to prepare ourselves for the remodeling and bettering of human experience, the most happiness to the most people.

Post-Exam Jolly-up to Be Great Affair; Kinch Chairman of Committee

A post-exam jolly-up to be held in the literary society halls on the evening of February 4, the Saturday after exams, is being planned by President Riehl, who has already named the committee. The chairman, Francis Kinch, is an energetic junior who will doubtless see to it that a jolifying entertainment is planned. Anna Lavender and Don Lockwood will have charge of the program. Janie Farmer of the refreshments, and Paul Stollar of the decorations.

The jolly-up is an annual event at Willamette and is always one of the happiest and most enjoyable informal occasions of the year.

1923 Class Election Results in Tie Vote

The junior class will be forced to resort to the time honored coin flip or else stage a new election as a result of a tie in votes cast at the class meeting Monday when election of officers was the order of the day. For president Roy Skeen tied with Bruce White while Fern Gleiser and Nell Fiske each received the same number of votes for vice-president. Genevieve Fluhay was elected secretary, Ellsworth Knudsen, treasurer, John Reblin, athletic manager, Howard George, janitor-manager, Elmer Stevens, sergeant-at-arms.

NO MISSION CLASSES

In line with sentiment expressed at a called meeting of all students in the university Monday, no mission study classes will be conducted by the campus Y M and Y W next semester. It was the opinion of the majority that there was too limited a number of classes of this character, during the latter part of the year, Edwin Norone presided at the meeting.

CO-ED DEBATE TRYOUT IS SET FOR TOMORROW

Eight Contestants Expect to Enter Forensic Lists; Six Women Will Be Selected

There are eight contestants expecting to take part in the women's debate tryout that will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Waller hall chapel. The question is, Resolved, that the western nations and Japan are justified in refusing to relinquish their territorial claims in China which they hold by treaty. The negative will be upheld by Loriel Blatford, Blanche Jones, Elaine Oberg, Lois Geddes, and Louise Jouchin; affirmative, Ruby Rosenkrantz, Violet Coe, and Ruth Richards.

Gay McLaren, Dramatic Artist, to Appear Under Auspices of Art League

A date being set aside by a number of Willamette students is Tuesday, January 31, when Miss Gay McLaren, dramatic artist extraordinaire, will give the entire play, "Enter Madame," at the Grand Theater, under the auspices of the Salem Arts League.

Last Rites For Harry Bowers Are Conducted At Brownsville, Oregon

The funeral of Harry Peterson Bowers, '18, former president of the student body, who died January 3 in Voodenburg, Ind., was held Tuesday, January 10, in Brownsville, Ore. The First Methodist church where the last rites were held was filled with friends who had come to do honor to the memory of a splendid life.

FRESH TO PLAY SILVERTON

The freshman basketball team will journey to Silverton Friday evening where the high school team of that city will be played. According to Jack Vinson, manager of the yearling squad, two games have been arranged for next month with Lebanon high school, one to be played here and one at Lebanon.

Dr. Corry Dies. Nathaniel Silas Corry, Ph. D. president of the Boston School of Expression, died suddenly at his home in Boston last month, at the age of 75.

27 MEN RECEIVE COVETED AWARD

Certificates and Sweaters Are Given on Friday

FLEGEL IS CHIEF SPEAKER

Ill Health Causes Coach Bohler to Faint in Middle of Talk

By ROBERT NOTSON. Tribute to the 27 lettermen who had earned their official "W" awards in football, baseball, tennis, and track was the keynote of the athletic award day program held Friday at the usual chapel period. Yells, songs, and short addresses suited to the occasion featured the program. Coach Bohler, who in spite of his illness had attempted to address the student body, spoke on the "Meaning of a Letter." He described briefly the award day program at the University of Chicago which he witnessed last year. In the midst of his talk the strain of speaking became too great for his weakened condition.

Flegel Lauds Athletics

A. F. Flegel, Sr., member of the board of trustees, was the main speaker of the day, taking for his subject "Why a College Education?" Mr. Flegel lauded college athletics, but emphasized, as a friend of the sports, the danger of swinging too far away from the original educational purpose of our educational institutions. "To excel in athletics is a fine thing, especially at the time," said the speaker, "but a good college education is infinitely finer in the long run."

Yell King Verne Ferguson and Song Queen Mildred Streyer assisted with songs and yells to bestow due honor upon the members of former Bearcat teams. The men's and ladies' club, appearing for the first time, contributed two selections each, which were roundly applauded by the audience.

Professor James T. Matthew, acting for President Doney who was absent, with the assistance of Ralph Barnes, president of the varsity "W" club made the presentation of the coveted "W" sweaters and certificates. Those receiving awards for the first time were given sweaters; those who have received sweaters previously were given certificates.

Football men receiving awards were: Sweaters—Fred Patton, Willard Carey, Harold Isham, Harold Richards, John Moody, Walter Secolofsky; certificates—Waldo Zeller, Harry Barry, Bruce White, Vern Bain, Ralph Barnes, Willard Lawson, and Bernard Ramsey.

Baseball awards went to Sweaters—Earl Shafer, Elwood Towner; certificates—Athill Irvine, Bryan McKittick, Leron Basler, Lawrence Davies, Lyle Page, Raymond Dimick, and Raymond Gannans. William Fox received a sweater, and T. B. Ford and Athill Irvine certificates for their work in track. Certificates were awarded Hugh Doney and Noble Moodie, varsity tennis men. Clare Gillette received a sweater for his services as yell king.

A number of the men due to graduation, were not able to be present to receive their awards. These will be mailed out from the student body office.

BAND GIVES OUT DATE FOR PUBLIC CONCERT

Varsity Musical Organization of Appearance in Public Recital on February 7; Patronage Requested

Proposals to raise money for uniforms and other expenses, the university band has announced a public concert for the evening of February 7 to which all students and friends of the above are invited. A program or ensemble numbers as well as feature selections such as solos and other numbers, will compose a recital which promises to be worthy of a large patronage. An admission charge of 25 cents will be made.

"Every one in the student body is expected to attend," said Glen Chandler, in charge of the band, speaking of the concert yesterday. "We promise a program of real merit and the organization surely deserves the support of the student body. Talent of especially high quality outside the university will make the program of added interest."

The band made its first appearance in its new uniforms Friday evening when the entire company wore yama-yama suits. Credit for this improvement is due to the home economics department, which, under the direction of Professor Fiske, made the costumes.

STUDENT MEET THIS MORNING

Honor Code in Amended Form Is Up for Final Action

STAFF AWARD PROPOSED

"C" Pin May Be Given Collegian Staff for Work of Merit

The regular associated student body meeting which was postponed from last Friday will be held today at the chapel period, with the regular order of business. Reports will be heard from all standing committees, and from the newly appointed committee on the post-exam jubilee.

The honor system will be up for its final discussion. The honor code has been in committee since the December student body meeting when the recommendations of the honor committee favoring an honor tradition and a means of publishing it were favorably acted upon by the student body. The so-called "tap" system proposed by the honor board did not receive the majority support of the assembly and has not been included in the student amendment to be presented today.

Honor Code Formulated

The honor code to be brought up today reads: Section one: For the purpose of perpetuating the spirit and practice of honor which Willamette university has always cherished as her ideal, the associated student body hereby adopts the following standard of action to be considered as its tradition of honor: Dishonesty in examinations, unfair work on notebooks and essays, improper use of library books and materials as well as property of other persons and the employment of all illegitimate methods not herein specified, shall be deemed opposed to Willamette's standards and students guilty of such action shall be guilty of (Continued on page 4.)

TOMORROW DAY OF DEPARTURE FOR GLEE CLUB

Men's Organization Said to Be Best in History of University; Repertoire Varied

ITINERARY TO BE LONG

Club to Travel Up the Columbia River, Cross Into Washington; to Visit Tacoma, Portland

When the Willamette men's glee club boards the train tomorrow to begin a three weeks' tour through Oregon and Washington, what is said to be the finest organization of its kind ever sent out from the university will have started its trip. Such is the belief of Everett Craven, club manager, who said: "Without any doubt this is the best club Willamette has yet turned out."

Itinerary to Be Long

Beginning at Sherwood the club will take its itinerary up the Columbia river, across the Oregon line into the state of Washington, going north as far as Spokane and then across the state to Tacoma. From this point the singers will travel south, giving their last concert of the itinerary in Portland February 13.

Composed of Edward Warren, Noble Moodie, Everett Craven, and P. M. Hinkinson, the Willamette quartet will contribute some valuable numbers to the program. Much interest will be centered in the double quartet, a new feature in the club. Its personnel is as follows: Edward Warren, Floyd Horton, Jack Vinson, Clifford, Sarr, Lyle Bolton, Everett Craven, P. M. Hinkinson, and J. Fred McGrew.

With the aid of Professor Hobson the heavier selections have been worked out in the detail. The more effective of these are "The Trumpeter," "Sea Fever," "The Bell Man," and "Tell Me not of a Lovely Laugh."

Humorous Skits Numerous

Among the humorous selections will be a skit by Fred McGrew and Vernon Sackett. Their rapid fire, infectious humor promises bringing down the house. A duet by "Two Happy Cops," and the agony quartet, composed of imported grand opera singers, "The Two Gendarmes," duet by Everett Craven and P. Hinkinson, will be exceptionally good. An agony quartet, supposedly composed of imported grand opera singers, is to be humorous.

Solos by Everett Craven and P. Hinkinson are added features on the club's program. The following itinerary has been planned:

- January 26, Sherwood. January 27, Oregon City. January 28, Hood River. January 29, The Dalles. January 30, Goldendale. February 1, Pendleton. February 2, Athena. February 3, Walla Walla, Wash. February 4, Kenwick, Wash. February 6, Spokane, Wash. February 7, Cheney, Wash. February 8, Davenport, Wash. February 9, Wenatchee, Wash. February 10, Tacoma, Wash. February 11, Klabor, Wash. February 12, Portland. (Continued on page 4.)

WHY DON'T WOMEN TALK?

HERE seems to be something wrong with student body meetings; some students talk a little and others not at all. Contrary to the usual conception of the source of remarks, what discussion occurs comes entirely from the men. Now it so happens that this institution is both democratic and co-educational, yet scarcely, if ever, is a woman heard to express her views. Undoubtedly the women think on issues of moment to the school but they keep their thoughts closely concealed. Why this continued silence?

We cannot believe that women are less interested in student body affairs than are men for a casual observation of attendance will reveal a larger per cent of women than men present at the meetings. They vote just as regularly and intelligently as the men. But they never say anything. Nor is it possible that men usurp all the time for on different occasions women have been urged to express their convictions in words. It is quite apparent that the more representative the discussions, the better general understanding the student body will have of any problem that comes up for solution. Surely no discussion is representative that is not in part, at least, carried on by the women who constitute a majority by actual count.

Is it because men have done all the talking in past that do it now? Do we cling to absurd tradition that women, like children, should be seen and not heard? There is no tradition that keeps women from getting the highest grades in scholastic work; there is nothing that prevents them from taking a leadership in social activity; there is no reason to believe that they cannot carry out their own particular undertakings in an efficient and satisfactory manner. Is there any reason then, why they should not take a more active part in student body activities?

WHAT IS THE AIM OF A LIFE?

YEARS ago Henry Drummond, an English minister, sought to answer that oft-recurring question, what is the highest aim, the summum bonum of a life? And to the query, this beloved man whose influence has made itself felt through the many years since his passing, answered—love.

When we view a world discordant yet upward climbing; a place where as never before courageous men and women are daring to venture their all in a service of love, one must answer that truly Drummond was right, that our modern version of his thinking implied in the every-day "service" is indeed the thing towards which creation itself is moving. The alchemy of a love which embraces not self but others; which makes sacrifice desirable and hard tasks a pleasant lot, is indeed hard to comprehend but we, as Drummond, know that it exists. When one views students, with a smile on their face and a glint of the eye that bespeaks a heart dedicated to a cause of service, conviction of the real motivating of life in its largest terms, grips us anew and with a high purpose we press on to more noble endeavors in a perfect cause.

Few chapel speakers fail to emphasize the importance of this ruling factor in life. From the press, from the pulpit, yes from our every-day contacts with Willamette students we are forced to the conviction that after all the love of others must be the guiding force in a life well spent. Perhaps with this view as an end in life we may also settle that somewhat less vexing question as to why we are in college. Is not the university preparation, translated into its largest setting, but a place where we view life with the perspective of the minds of all time, and catching the vision, go out to work a life of real merit in a world which needs our help?

WRONG USE OF GOOD TIME

THE majority of chapel talks are very appropriate to a student body that is essentially religious and composed of various creeds and beliefs. But such talks, that are appropriate, present universal truths that can be lived by any student whatever his particular creed may be. What if Willamette is a Methodist school, should it strive to be exclusive and self-sufficient? Will it lose sight of the true elements of Christianity, the sympathy and helpfulness that comes from service and co-operation, for the sake of an unfruitful partisan controversy? Aside from the fact that there are Catholics in our student body who must feel keenly the sting of such statements as were made from the chapel platform, the period allotted to worship and religious thought could be filled much more profitably than by an arraignment of Catholicism on historical or any other grounds.

WORRY ON EXAMINATIONS

THIS issue of The Collegian marks the paper's last appearance until the time of examinations for the first semester is over. It is to be hoped that staff members, managerial heads and editors as well, will survive the deluge and take up their duties again at the beginning of the new semester.

A word to the wise may be useful. Freshmen are prone to over emphasize the importance of the examination. Were the truth known it would doubtless be revealed that each professor lays far less stress on the examination than the average student would surmise. It is the day to day study, the conscientious preparation of each lesson that tells in the final grade. After all, no great worry need be manifested over the finals; assume the philosophic attitude which says exams are to be taken but not overtaken; too much worry is needless and leads nowhere.

A warning to those studying in the library: Don't let your mind wander, you might lose it in the crowd.

A good thing to remember is not to forget that semester examinations are not far away.

It is much easier to discover weaknesses than to remedy them.

"Getting by" should never become a Willamette ideal for study.

From the Collegian of Jan. 1892
THIRTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Chas. W. Moe, candy maker for W. T. Stoltz was so kind as to donate his services to make the candy for the candy pullings on New Year's evening. He can be seen at the Spu at 110 State street, where he is making pure cream candies and taffies.

New bell arrived. The old one was melted in the November fire.

A Mann has lately been initiated into the Philodorian society.

Willamette university having determined not to be behind the times, has settled the stupendous question as to the college colors. The several committees after a close consultation, decided that cardinal red and gold shall be the representative.

Mr. Rounds, before chapel, rendered an excellent essay on prohibition; putting forth clearly the difference between prohibition and temperance.

At their regular meeting the Philodorian in their turn discussed the question: "Resolved that women should have equal privileges with men." J. A. Coffey led the affirmative side and D. S. Benedict the negative. In spite of the gallantry of the affirmative the negative brought out the most argument and won the question.

Mr. B. L. Steeves, A. B. '91, who is now in the medical department at Portland, will spend his vacation with his parents and—in Salem.

In Rolls county, Mo., a young woman went out in front of the house and waved her hand at a traveler. In three days they were married. Girls, go out in front of the house and wave your hands.

FRESHMEN HAVE GREATEST NUMBER OF PROBATIONERS

CORVALLIS, Jan. 24.—The largest number of probation students this term were found in the freshman class. Reports that 154 students were placed on probation this term because of low grades received in the last quarter's work are made by the registrar. Of these, 74 were freshmen.

A rigid policy of dealing with those who are found deficient in grades has been given until mid-term to make up their deficiency, which means that if they do not produce results, they will be dropped from the institution.

This professor's unusual success in the canning industry, he attributes to his care in selecting fruits. He uses only the best.

Last summer, a farmer rented the cannery for two days. During that time he canned 20,000 No. 10 cans of loganberries. Professor Von Eschen asked if he thought such moldy berries would keep. He retorted that he'd been canning for years, and guessed he knew.

Cans Sometimes Explode

A few weeks ago, he was called to the storehouse. Eight thousand of those cans had exploded. The contents covered the floor to a depth of four inches. Incidentally the cans cost the owner $1 each.

"Up in the laboratory, I have 10 bottles of cherries each put up in a different preservative. About the middle of February, I shall open them and see which one is best."

Students are familiar with the ever-ready incident with which this interesting faculty mity illustrates his lectures. Consequently, the questions of his rhapsodies superceded the "canned stuff."

Knows Oregon Well

"No, never have traveled by rail. The train has always been the means—Oregon, I know, as well as, or better, than any other professor on the faculty. Almost every summer, the university sends me out on some trip."

"One wild tale was told by this seemingly veracious pedagogue. It runs thus:

Near Bend is a road through a forest. It is as crooked as a politician's intentions. Seemingly, no one could speed in such a place.

However, there was a horse thief who was headed for Bend. Ninety-five miles from Bend, the sheriff and his deputy stepped on the starter. Two hours and a quarter later, the horse-thief galloped in, to find the officers of the law scornfully awaiting him.

"Schedule time! That is my aim. One summer, Mrs. Von Eschen and I were going east. I figured out the train schedule, and" (boys please note) "we arrived back from our trip through Colorado, Kansas, Illinois, Iowa, Utah, and California just 19 minutes later than we had planned."

And he excused that slight tardiness, "The train was late."

The couch fainted because of overwork and worry has brought back an old nervous trouble. His job is a big one, and he has worked beyond endurance. W. U. suffers a major handicap because of numbers—greater this year than ever before. No gym is the bunk. A change in leadership in a period of transition. There has been a lack of cooperation in management because we have no athletic council, a lack which must end, presto. We have faith in Coach Bohler, let's back him to the last 3/4 of an inch.

There would be more quiet in the library if Dr. Franklin could restrain his love of bawling-out folks.

Fergy will learn—give him rope—. The second time he asked her what we'd sing.

The number of talks about here who believe in exams is rapidly decreasing—by Feb. 1 the total number will approximate 0 or less.

Inquiries reach us concerning sleeping powders. A girl wants to be sure that she will not be choked again to the accompaniment of Jeter! Jeter!

Chub ain't particular—tooth paste or having cream or anything out of a tube will do.

Miss Fake insists on Sphinxian publicity. This week she was locked in science hall, and didn't jump out until 2 fine looking heroes (S. Sackett and R. Skeen, 50c each, please) were ready to catch her in their arms.

Don't dog the referee—it only brings confusion and punk results.

We saw men replacing old telephone poles. Before the old ones were taken out the new ones were placed beside them to support the wires. This wonderful system of communication must not be broken for a single hour. We are changing our views and ways of thinking. Childhood's religious concepts are worn out, but let us so replace them with new ones that the communication of our souls with God will suffer no interruption in the process of transition. Scholarly, able, sane leadership is offered in the department of religion, every college man ought to take at least one fundamental course there each semester.

announcements—but who blames him? It need be the chapel could be opened at stated hours for forensic practice.

If curtains are needed to conceal love scenes which are fake—how about curtains when they're real?

Our friend Ralph has more love of joking than we supposed. Working men are as much worried about college gowns as we are about the disposal of the excess of quality hours the Profs. are going to give us this semester. The gown adds an air of dignity to the graduation exercises and senior affairs without which there will be a sad lack. Down with the Bolsheviks.

What does Judge Ryan think of the Kappa Gamma Rho phone service? Ask him, or Don, or any of the boys.

It wouldn't take 1/2 as long to write a theme if you didn't have to keep counting the words to see when it's finished.

If you want an argument for the gowns look at a picture of some class of 15 or 20 years ago which didn't wear them. Styles change and the day will come when we will feel like ruminants to see how much we look like them in the styles of 1922.

There is music in the sighs given forth by our profs. when they look on those heaps of exam papers.

Yours truly,
MIGHTY BUSY PHINX.

Y. W. C. A. work in America was the theme of Tuesday's meeting. Miss Alice Brown, the field secretary, spoke on the history of the working woman and of the general conditions of child labor in America. As a special musical number, Kathleen La Raut sang.

Morningside College Finds Honor System Is Successful in Class

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 17.—(Intercollegiate News)—The honor system has been tried in the class in public speaking at Morningside college and found successful. Consequently all other classes are to be put under the same rules, according to President Frank E. Mossman. The student body has expressed itself as being in favor of the plan.

Hamline university and Lawrence college are, however, finding it difficult to adopt the system. At Hamline university the plan was presented to the student body and rejected, but since then some of the objectionable features have been removed and the students are expected to vote upon it favorably.

The system at Lawrence college contains a clause whereby the student's credit is remanded if he pleads guilty, and his name is announced in chapel. A second offense may mean permanent suspension. However, the endorsement of the faculty is required before penalties can be inflicted. Whether the student body will accept this ruling remains to be seen.

"W" Club Holds
Successful Banquet
at Lausanne Hall

The annual "W" club banquet, an event of exceeding interest on the campus, was held on Friday evening in Lausanne hall's spacious dining room. About fifty were present.
Guests of especial honor at the club were Miss Frances M. Richards, Professor James T. Matthews, Brazier Small and Bert Ford, the latter two being ex-members of the organization. Clever place cards of kewpies playing football were used for the young ladies, while the place cards of the young men suggested some personal characteristic. They were exceedingly clever and produced much mirth.

The delicious banquet was served by a group of Lausanne hall maid-ens, daintily dressed in white. The menu consisted of:
Fruit Cocktail
Vegetable Gelatine Salad Saltines
Roast Veal Pickles Jelly
Mashed Potatoes Hot Rolls
Brick Ice Cream
Cake Coffee

Professor Matthews made an exceedingly delightful toastmaster, and treated the company to several good laughs. The following toasts were responded to:
"Wit, Women, and W's," Bernard Ramsey.

"Historic Battles," Brazier Small.
"The Value of a 'W,'" Ralph Barnes.

The merry banqueters disbanded at a late— or shall we say early—hour, after a most enjoyable and memorable evening.

Palladians Have Scottish Program

The Palladians, at their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon, gathered "On the Banks of Bonnie Doom" for a little glimpse of Scotland's literature and music. A well interpreted piano duet by Lila and Mildred Marcy opened the program and placed everyone in an appreciative mood. A clever conversation between Ethel Moorcroft and Elsie Smith on "Scottish Writers of Today" revealed some interesting facts of the lives and the writings of several modern, Scottish authors. Then that the great Burns might not be forgotten, Lola Housley read "A Man's Man for a' That." A typical Scottish song, "Loch Lomond," as sung by Mae Beissell, created an atmosphere truly of Scotland. A brief parliamentary practice, led by Mildred Marcy, concluded the program.

Adelantes Have Varied Program; Elect
L. Blatchford President

A varied program occupied the Adelantes at their Friday meeting.
Dorothy Thompson began the program with the third installment of the complicated society serial, "The Mystery of the Gold Nugget." Georgia Cook presented a very carefully prepared review of Edith Wharton's
"Age of Innocence." Lorlei Blatchford sang a beautifully expressive "Serenade" in Italian. Ruth Wise gave a pleasing sketch on art, using Adolph Schreyer's "A Kaby" as the basis of her discussion. With delicious appreciation, Pauline Remington read a well chosen group of modern poems; and, again, Leila Ruby fascinated her audience with a violin solo. The last number of the program was a clever farce given under the direction of Deane Hutton, involving Cleopatra, Julius Snoezer, and Mark Anthony.

An important business meeting followed the program, at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing semester: President, Lorlei Blatchford; vice president,
Marie Corner; recording secretary, Caroline Stober; corresponding secretary, Audrey Bunch; treasurer, Carol Cheney; first directress, Pauline Remington; second directress, Dorothy Thompson; first critic, Elsie Gilbert; second critic, Gladys
Bartholomew; first usher, Alma Wells; second usher, Anna Laven-der; first kitchen custodian, Erna Hardin; and second kitchen custodian, Miriam Lovell.

"Oregon, the Switzerland of America," was the topic of Friday's Philodorian meeting. It becomes really remarkable how many mountains, caves, lakes, volcanoes, poets, and prunes Oregon can boast of. It all goes to prove the old theory that there is nothing new under the sun, and that Oregon possesses all the charm and scenic beauty of Switzerland, and goes one step further, to most of us it is home. Especially charming was Ruth Hill's original poem on the products of Oregon,
"Capiae Oregonian!"

Both Miss Brainerd and Miss Mc-Inturff are members of the Delta Phi sorority and of the Philodorian literary society. Miss Brainerd is of Marshfield and Miss McInturff is of Spokane. Both Mr. White and Mr. Lawson are Sigma Tau and Philodorian. Mr. White comes from Hobson, Mont., and Mr. Lawson from Blanchard, Wash.

The guests of Miss Brainerd and Miss McInturff, on Saturday afternoon were: Odell Savage, Lois God-des, Ruth Smith, Dorothy Norene, Marie Corner, Pauline Remington,
Betty Chase, Lorlei Blatchford, Mary
Wells, Elsie Hop Lee, Sadie Pratt, Marguerite Cook, Fern Gleiser, Ruby Ladbetter, Ruth Hill, Eva Ledbetter, Pauline McClintock, Vesta Dicks, Mildred Streyer, Deane Hatton, Emma Shanafelt, Virginia Masson, Mary Notson, Helen Hoover, Jewell Cox, Thelma Mills, Irene
Brainerd, Mrs. George Warner, Mrs.
E. W. Brainerd, Mrs. Pauline Josse, and Miss Ferec.

Laura Best was a dinner-guest of her junior sister, Pauline Rickel, at the Beta Chi house on Friday.

Miss Edna Jennison spent the week-end in McMinnville at Linfield College, representing Willamette University at the Y. W. C. A. conference. Miss Jennison was entertained at the home of Dean Emanuel Northrup and at the College Eating club.

Lois Geddes and Naont Phelps entertained Saturday evening at a "chafing dish party" at Lausanne hall. The following guests were invited: Dorothy Palmer, Junette Jones, George Oliver, Edwin Thomas, Leon Jennison, and Vernon Sackett.

Fay Spaulding and Mildred Hansen were dinner guests at the home of Kathleen La Raut on Sunday.

Emma Shanafelt, Deane Hutton,
Joe Nee, and Percy Hammond made up the deputation team that held services under the direction of Professor Hertzog in McCabe on the subject, "The Challenge of Christianity."

Dinner guests at the Beta Chi house on Sunday were: Robert Not-son, Dean Pollock, Oury Hisey, Harvey McLain, William Sargent, and Leland Chaplin.

Gladys Taylor was a guest of Ruth Smith at the Beta Chi house last week.

Misses Elaine Oberz, Esther Paroungian, Mabel Davies, Ruth Smith, Margaret McDaniel, and Caroline Stober, were dinner guests at the Kappa Gamma Rho house Sunday. The afternoon was spent in music, song and story. Miss Minna Harding chaperoned the party.

Luncheon guests at the Kappa Gamma Rho house Friday were Coach MacMillan, William Gartin, and Adrian Nelson, of the University of Idaho basketball team.

Messrs. Tifford, Alfred Fox and Richard Fox of the Idaho basketball team, were lunch guests at the Delta Phi house on Friday.

A number of the men of the Nupha Psi Delta fraternity were entertained at dinner at the Delta Phi house Sunday.

Elizabeth Chase was a dinner guest of Helen McInturff at the Delta Phi house on Wednesday.

Helen McInturff
and Grace Brainerd Announce Engagements

Double announcement of the engagement of Grace Brainerd to Bruce White and of Helen McInturff to Willard Lawson was uniquely made Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. Brainerd at 1835 Center street. The presentation of a cleverly adopted playlet, centering around "four and twenty blackbirds baked in a pie," effectively intimated the secret of the hour. The King and the Queen of Hearts (Margu-rite Cook and Sadie Pratt, accompanied by Lorlei Blatchford) sang the blackbird chorus, after which the herald (Irene Brainerd) announced the significant proclamation that the King desired to bestow upon two young ladies the tokens of love's order. Miss Grace Brainerd and Miss Helen McInturff were summoned before the royal throne and each thereupon received the Sigma Tau pin of her fiancé. "When the pie was opened," each guest was presented with a paper blackbird bearing the names of the betrothed.
For the refreshments, dark-frosted cakes, in blackbird shapes, were served with fruit jelly. The decorations were of red carnations. Miss Sadie Pratt crystallized the sentiment of the announcements in her beautiful rendition of "At Dawning."

Philodorians
Study "Oregon"

"Oregon, the Switzerland of

Tennyson Is Theme
for Chrestomatheans

A distinctively literary program was presented by the Chrestomathean literary society last Friday afternoon at their regular meeting.
Alfred Lord Tennyson was the subject of the program which consisted of "The Early Life of Tennyson," a paper read by Mary Saar; "His Later Life and Famous Works," given by Mabel Rentfro; "Crossing the Bar," a vocal number by Junette Jones; and "St. Agnes' Eve," a reading by Zelea Mulkey.

Mrs. Millard Doughton, of Albany was the guest of her sister, Miss Elizabeth McClure at Lausanne, over the week-end.

Miss Lola Millard was the guest of Miss Fay Spaulding at Lausanne hall, Saturday evening.

Miss Frances M. Richards entertained informally at dinner on Friday evening in honor of Miss Mary Alice Holman. The following enjoyed her gracious hospitality: Miss Helen I. Hanna, Miss Minna L.
Harding, Miss Helen Pierce, Miss
Lida Fike, and the guest of honor, Miss Holman.

Lois Geddes and Naont Phelps

VANDALS CAPTURE

counter thrust capable of staying off utter disaster, and the ingubrious tally bound cast up his final accounts with a monstrous 32 appearing opposite an ineffective 10 counters.

First Minutes Close
The first few minutes of the fray gave promise of a close contest with neither team able to score and both working a fast passing game. A Fox converted three from the foul line before the Vandals were able to hoop a field goal, after which the ball swished through the net with bewildering regularity.

Gillette marked the first tally for Willamette with a successful free throw, and a long range parabola by Doney and a neat basket tossed by Dimick completed the Bearcat score of the period.

The second half was largely a repetition of the first with the Vandals score mounting steadily while the local team was rarely able to advance the ball beyond the center of the court. The close checking of the visitors is made apparent from the fact that neither Willamette forward was credited with a field basket.
The Bearcat quota for this period came from another basket by Dimick, one by Socolofsky, and a converted foul by Gillette.

A Fox again came into prominence by shooting eight out of nine from the foul line and bringing his total count to 16.

The line-up:
Willamette Idaho
Gillette 2 1 1 1 1 6 R. Fox
Logan 1 1 1 1 1 6 A. Fox
Doney 2 1 1 1 1 6 C. Thompson
Dimick 4 1 1 1 1 4 Gartin
Socolofsky 2 1 1 1 1 2 Telford

Substitutions: Willamette— Pat-

Doney for Gillette.
Referee: Leon Fabre, Portland.

"TRAMP POET" TO SPEAK HERE

Vachel Lindsay to Come Under Department Auspices

SPEAKER EMINENT POET

Lindsay Hailed as Dramatic and Distinctive Person

Vachel Lindsay, "American tramp poet," declared by English critics to be the "most remarkable American poet writing," will speak in the Willamette chapel on Wednesday evening, February 8, appearing here under the auspices of the department of sociology.

Dramatic Personality An article in Current Opinion for September 1920 characterizes Lindsay very ably and has also been quoted in "Who's Who." Not since the days of Walt Whitman and Jack London has America produced a literary figure so dramatic and so distinct.

ter attended at institutions in Chicago and New York in 1910, when he published his Village Magazine. He was almost unknown. In the summer of 1912 he walked from Illinois to New Mexico, distributing rhymes and preaching his "Gospel of Beauty." A peculiar note in his reading won the attention and admiration of all. Floyd Dell exclaimed on hearing him, "This is Homer chanting to the Greeks!" Since that remarkable tour, he has been famous. In France he is already hailed as the authentic voice of America.

Another interesting characterization of the poet appeared in the "Living Age" for February 1920. "Lindsay is militant, a direct-actionist, a soul-saver. His poetry is written to be read aloud. A genuine mob poet. His idea is to be free in spirit while working within limits."

Lindsay is said to read his poems in a remarkably striking manner. He "intones, sings, shouts and acts his verse in keeping with the mood and spirit of the lines."

Among the works which Mr. Lindsay will doubtless read, as they are considered among his best, are: "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight," "General William Booth Enters Heaven," "The Congo," and "A Handy Guide to Bebebe."

STANFORD STARTS THREE MILLION DOLLAR CAMPAIGN SANFORD UNIVERSITY, Stanford, Calif., Jan. 24.—(P. T. N. S.)—With three million dollars as the ultimate goal, the most vital campaign for the financial support of Stanford University in its history began this morning.

A few "novelties" in photo mountings, left over from our holiday stock, will be closed out at considerable reduction in price to students who have already had sittings made for the 1923 Wallula Parker-Shrode Studio.

TEAM HAS MANY GAMES ON LIST

Gillette Ordered to Drop Hoop Tossing by Doctor

Considerable consternation has been manifested in the Bearcat camp due to the announcement that "Jeter" Gillette, star basketball forward, will be unable to take his place in the regular line-up for the rest of the season.

The team leaves Friday for Forest Grove, where they will play the Pacific five. They will proceed to Portland Saturday to play the Multnomah aggregation.

The P. U. team is quite an unknown quantity. It has not participated in any important games, as yet, and it is difficult to estimate its strength. However, according to Patton, of the Bearcat five, whose home is in Forest Grove, the Pacific quintet will be fast and accurate, although not formidable.

The Multnomah combination is much stronger at the present time than it was last year, when it was given a sound drubbing by the Bearcats. The Portlanders triumphed over Oregon's squad not long ago, but fell before the University of Idaho by a large score.

Varsity Leaves Tuesday Tuesday, January 24, the varsity representatives will invade the state of Washington for the purpose of playing two games with Whitman on February 2nd and 4th and one with Walla Walla Legion team on February 3.

The Whitman team will be fully as strong as when they were in Salem, while the Bearcats will be greatly weakened by the absence of Gillette.

The Walla Walla Legion team, it is rumored, is one of the strongest legion teams on the coast. One of their players is Dement, who starred for Whitman for several years.

Coach Bohler has not definitely decided whether or not he will have Gillette accompany the team as a substitute. "Jeter" is out on doctor's orders because of an attack of pneumonia early in the winter.

ORATORICAL CONTEST TO COME ON MARCH 10

State Intercollegiate Oratorical Association Holds Meeting Saturday: Nine Schools Here

Representatives from nine Oregon colleges were present at an executive session of the Intercollegiate Oratorical Association of Oregon held Saturday for the purpose of laying plans for the work of the association during the coming year.

Tryouts for the orator to represent Willamette will be conducted within three weeks as the representative of this school must be known at least four weeks before the day of the contest. Virgil Anderson, university foreman, is urgently demanding that all possible aspirants see him at once and arrange for the local tryout.

The following colleges were represented at the meeting: University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural College, Linfield college, Pacific college, Pacific university, Monmouth Normal school, Albany college Eugene Bible school.

CLUB LEAVES

The three Sundays on the trip will be spent in Hood River, Spokane and Portland, where the club will sing in the larger churches.

After the long trip shorter ones will be made to nearby towns. The local concert will be arranged for late in March.

The personnel of the glee club follows: First tenors, Edward Warren, Floyd Horton, Noble Moudhe, Lyman Marsters; second tenors, Roy Steen, Jack Vinson, Willard Lawson, Clifford Sarff; baritone, Benjamin Rieckl, Elmer Streyer, Lyle Bolton, Everett Craven; basses, P. M. Blenkinsop, J. Fred McGraw, Vernon Sackett, and Walter Kellan; accompanist, Byron Arnold.

PACIFIC COAST COLLEGES TO EXCHANGE NEWS BY WIRELESS CORVALLIS, Jan. 24.—(P. T. N. S.)—The exchange of news between O. A. C. and the University of Oregon in the future will be made by wireless. Steps have been taken to connect all the colleges on the coast using the Pacific Intercollegiate News Service by means of the wireless. O. A. C., University of Oregon, Stanford, and the University of California now have radio outfits.

WHITMAN COLLEGE RAISES SCHOLARSHIP REQUIREMENTS

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Jan. 24.—(P. T. N. S.)—Hereafter a student at Whitman must pass in at least 89 per cent of his hours, instead of in 50 per cent. It has been announced. It is expected that this will weed out poor students and raise scholarship still higher. The action is made necessary by an increasing enrollment and limited accommodations.

flagrant violation of the sacred traditions of the university.

Publication Provided For Section two of the proposed student body amendment reads: "To stress the importance of the honor code, a committee of five composed of two seniors, one to act as chairman, and a member from each of the other three classes shall be appointed yearly by the president of the student body at the last annual meeting; the same committee to have as its duties the carrying out of one public honor code rally within three weeks after the opening of each semester; the publication of the honor code in the first and last issues of The Collegian each semester; and in any other manner deemed advisable to give widespread publicity to this code."

Another provision to be raised today is the student body amendment providing for awards for The Collegian staff. This amendment if carried, will entitle a percentage of the staff to an Old English gold "C" at the end of one year's meritorious service. It is thought that such award would tend to increase the efficiency of the university paper.

SUCCESS MARKS DRAMA

Krogstad tries to regain his position from Helmer. Upon Helmer's refusal, Krogstad threatens to reveal Nora's forgery. Helmer appears griefed only for the injury it will do his name, and Nora sees him in his true light. Krogstad is dissuaded from his purposes by a former sweetheart, Mrs. Linden, Mildred Stray, but the breach between Nora and Helmer has been made complete by Nora's realization that she has exercised poor judgment. She goes out into the world for herself to learn something of real life.
