

Program For May Day Festivities Looks Good

Queen to be Elected by Australian Ballot from Student Body at Large--Open Air Breakfast, Tug-of-War and Junior Play will Garnish Occasion

The committee, consisting of Paul Homan, Harry G. McCain and Jessie Young, appointed some time ago to make recommendations in regard to May day exercises, submitted their report Tuesday morning at a special meeting of the Student Body.

The recommendations provided that any girl holding a Student Body ticket is eligible for the position of Queen, but the committee suggested that the custom be established of choosing the Queen from one of the two upper classes. Nominations are to be made by a secret ballot, the three receiving the highest number of votes to stand for election. The election will be by Australian ballot, and this year will be held on Wednesday, April 24.

A manager for May day exercises is to be elected at the same time that nominations are made for Queen. He is empowered to appoint all sub-committees necessary for carrying out the plans for the day. A special committee, consisting of two girls and one boy are to have charge of the coronation exercises.

The program for the day begins with the May morning breakfast served by the Y. W. C. A. Following this, the men will spend the time from 8 to 10 in work on the Campus.

The coronation of the Queen will take place at 10:30. The dinner will be furnished by the classes as heretofore. The early part of the afternoon is to be occupied by short class stunts, such as farces, take-offs, etc. The rest of the afternoon will be taken up by the track meet and the Freshman-Sophomore tug of war. The day will be capped off in the evening by the presentation of the Junior play.

The report of the committee, which has been somewhat supplemented in this report, was accepted in its entirety.

The committee has been continued to draw up constitutional amendments embracing the different features of Student Body control of May day exercises.

Salem High Loses to Varsity

Five-Inning Practice Game. Score 7 to 0--Hewitt is Back on First.

Wednesday evening the Varsity nine played the Salem High School team a five-inning practice game, resulting 7 to 0 for the Varsity. Westley, the High School pitcher, was batted rather freely, and this, with a number of errors, accounts for the scores. Drake, who was on the mound for Willamette, held the High School to a very few hits, but on account of a little wildness, passed several men. The High School was very near to scoring once or twice, but Drake produced the goods in each case and retired the side. McRae's place at short was taken by Homan, while Erskine filled the vacancy in right field. Hewitt again appeared at first, after two or three days' vacation.

While a number of hits were registered, the Varsity showed some weakness in the hitting department, and a few of the men need a lot of hard work to get their stride. A number of practice games will be played from time to time with the High School team.

Sims Leads Oregon Five.

University of Oregon, April 19.—Sims, varsity guard of two seasons past, was yesterday elected to the basketball captaincy for 1912. His college basketball career began at the University of Minnesota, where, in 1910, he played guard on the freshman team. Here he has been the mainstay of the defensive department for the last two seasons.

Willamette U. City's Best Public Asset

Statement of Eastern Visitor to Salem Confirmed Upon Investigation.

An Eastern visitor at Salem, looking over our commercial and industrial enterprises and our public institutions, said recently: "With the single exception of the state house, by far the largest and best public asset you have is Willamette University." The statement was at once challenged by a local man, who found, upon investigation, that the visitor was correct.

There are some 425 students enrolled at Willamette this year. The average attendance for the year will be roundly 400. These 400 students will drop at least $1 a day each on the average throughout the year. Some of the college authorities think it a little more. That amounts to $275 apiece, or $110,000 for the entire student body. There are 46 people in the faculty. These represent at least 40 families. It is conservative, therefore, to reckon a total faculty expense of $49,000. In addition to these there are fully 100 families resident in Salem who are here solely on account of Willamette University; that is to say, if Willamette University had not been here, they would not have come. These 100 families, at an average expenditure of $1000, make another $100,000 or the splendid total of a quarter of a million dollars flowing through the financial arteries of Salem and Marion county, directly from this grand financial asset, Willamette University.

These facts are not realized by the community, except in arithmetical calculations, like the above. The reason is not far to seek. It is this: The faculty and student body of a college or university so mingle and interblend with the general community that they do not emphasize their presence or themselves. They are at once homogeneous and a natural part of the whole. They are received with cordial welcome because they bring with them personal, social and cultured values desirable to any community.

O. A. C. Eleven Will Play With California College

Oregon Agricultural College, April 19.—Next year's football team will take an excursion into Southern California next season, where they will meet the strong Occidental College team of Los Angeles. A game has been scheduled for Thanksgiving day and will be the last game of the season for the O. A. C. pigskin chasers. All arrangements have been made satisfactorily, and President Kerr's approval, which was given last Thursday, makes the trip a surety. Occidental guarantees the traveling expenses of eighteen men, which will allow Coach Dolan to take along a big squad of players.

Berlin Professor Visits Washington Campus

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—Professor Wilhelm Paskowski of the University of Berlin, where he is director of the German Institute for Foreign Students, visited the campus Saturday and was entertained by Prof. F. W. Meisner of the German department. The distinguished German was pleased with the University of Washington. He was delighted with the surroundings and with the work done here and said: "I should like to exchange professorships to be here a year."

McRae and Homan, Crack Basketball Men and Members of the Varsity Baseball Nine Who go to Portland Tomorrow

Tomorrow Willamette will meet Multnomah in Portland and a first class exhibition of baseball is expected. Multnomah's team is reported exceptionally strong this season, and the Willamette boys will have to fight for every thing they get.

Racketers are Enthusiastic Lot

Two Courts on East Campus Completed--No Intercollegiate Matches Yet.

The work of clearing the two tennis courts on the east end of the Campus has been completed and they are now being worked overtime by the racket enthusiasts. These courts are by no means in perfect condition yet, and need a large amount of scraping and rolling to put them in first-class condition. The work has been slowed up somewhat by the sickness of Manager Jory.

Dr. Sweetland is thinking of tearing up the court on the west end, of the athletic field in order to make room for a second baseball diamond, which is badly needed. If this is done a new court will be constructed in the level plot east of the Varsity Field, near the mill race.

No definite arrangements have been made for intercollegiate matches, but the courts will be kept hot by local enthusiasts, whether such matches are scheduled or not.

Fair Co-Eds to Show Their Hand

The Women of U. of W. Will Edit University's Daily Paper April 24.

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—The editorial board, which will direct the edition, will be Wilhelmina Schumacher, '13; Lucille Thompson, '13; Blanche Thorpe, '14, and Elinor Peterson, '13. In the department editors Fay Wright, '12, will handle society; Irene Mathieu, '13, will attend to exchanges and Florence Gellatley will cover the Young Women's Christian Association and the Women's League. Muriel Elliott and Marie Gabel will be editorial associates.

The reporters are mainly chosen from the regular staff of The Daily, with a few others who are students in the department of journalism, or who have had experience in reporting or literary work at other times. The reporters chosen at present are: Lucille Eckstrom, Margaret Meany, Hazel Randolph, Jessie Grignon, Zelma Reeves, Avis Jones, Ethlyn de Spain, Emille Heusel and Laura Hurd. Changes in the staff or further appointments may be announced.

Junior Collegian Annual Has Gone to Press

The big event of the year in the shape of the Junior Annual is coming on in first-class shape. Judging from the tone of the material which is coming into the Collegian office, the quality of the book may be even superior to last year's Wallulah, which was considered by many critics to be one of the finest college year books ever produced by a western college.

Walter St. Pierre, manager of the enterprise, states that there is no reason to doubt that the book will be a great credit to Willamette University and that it will truly reflect the new life and activity of this institution.

Joe Stearns, Jr., editor ex-officio, in speaking of the literary work being done by members of the Junior class in connection with the Annual, said: "I am convinced that our Annual will rank high among the literary creations produced by the western institutions this year. Without exaggeration I may say that Willamette has among the members of the Junior class some versatile and gifted young people, and I look to see a high standard of excellence in literary work established for other classes to follow. Miss Young and Mr. Babcock, who have charge of the actual work in hand, are both capable and eminently fitted to give us a book which we as students of Old Willamette may be proud of."

The material for the Annual is reported nearly all in, and the actual work of printing and binding is now well under way. The book will be exceptionally well illustrated and the reading matter carefully selected from a large amount of contributions which have come in from every quarter and department of the University.

Methodist Team Walk off with Baptists' War-Lock

In Scruppy Game Willamette Trounces McMinnville, 6 to 3--Drakes Pitching Gilt-Edge--Oakes and Homan Pull Off Double Steal

Varsity Song Birds Sing at Portland

Club Royally Entertained for Dinner by B. Lee Paget.

The Varsity songbirds took a run down to Portland last Sunday to sing at Taylor Street Methodist church, at which time an enthusiastic campaign was made for the endowment. The Glee Club left early Sunday morning, accompanied by Dean F. S. Mendenhall, their director, and his wife, returning home on the late car.

The large church was filled and gave an enthusiastic reception to the boys, and their singing seemed to help loosen their purse strings, judging by the results of the endowment appeal made by Dr. Homan. Incidentally in the course of the service Dean Mendenhall took a turn at the pipe organ and seemed to make quite a hit.

Mr. B. Lee Paget, a prominent Methodist layman and enthusiastic supporter of Willamette, took the club to dinner, which was served in royal style.

O. A. C. Decides to Have Spring Football Practice

Corvallis, April 19.—At a meeting of the members of last year's football team held Monday afternoon, it was decided to hold spring practice, beginning immediately. The object in view is to encourage the men in school who have had no football experience to come out and learn the fundamental principles of the game. There are many husky men in college who have ability along football lines, and Coach Dolan wishes to instruct these men in the game. Practice in kicking and catching the ball will be held on two afternoons a week, and all new men are urged to turn out.

The feasibility of conducting a two-weeks' training camp before college opens in the fall, was also discussed. If such a plan were practical it would certainly prove a big assistance in getting the men into good shape.

Washington State College Changes Athletic Policy

According to certain plans outlined by President Bryan and Vice President Waller, a radical change is expected in the athletic policy of the College. In the future more attention will be given to the all-around physical development of the student body as a whole, with the ultimate object of making every student physically fit.

The result of such a move will mean the establishment of a new and broader system of athletic training whereby every student in the institution will be given instruction under competent coaches and instructors. According to the proposed plans there will be no attempt to abolish intercollegiate games with other institutions, but that the system of individual development will be an added stimulus to a higher standard in athletic contests with other Northwest institutions.

Varsity Nine to Meet Multnomah at Portland

Tomorrow Coach Sweetland's braves go to Portland to meet the Multnomah team. Just what the personnel of the Willamette team is has not been announced yet, but in all probability the following men will go: Drake, pitcher; McIntire, pitcher; Steelhammer, catcher; Hewitt, first; Oakes, second; Harrison, captain, third; and Cole, Tetro, Homan and Ross for the outfield. Multnomah has a very strong team this year, and a hard game is expected.

In the first game played in the home grounds, the Varsity walked away with the visitors from McMinnville by the decisive score of 6 to 3.

The game was won by superior playing in the field and the ability to hit when hits were worth something. The Baptists had some difficulty in connecting with the slants put over by Drake, and in critical as well as all other moments he was practically invincible, but four hits being secured from his delivery.

The game opened with Willamette at the bat. Oakes struck out without a struggle, Homan followed suit, and then the redoubtable Red advanced to the rubber and by a remarkable show of patience secured a walk. Steelhammer then got on first thru an error by pitcher and McRae hit, scoring Red. Erskine thereupon grounded out to the second baseman, and Willamette's half of the first inning was over.

In their half, the visitors thru two errors, a walk, a man hit by pitcher and a single, scored two men. Willamette then retaliated, Tetro scoring, the cause for this act being a double by Tetro and a single by Ross. A couple of errors and a walk helping somewhat. Willamette did not score again till the seventh, when with two men down Homan, lifted out a pretty double into deep left and later scored on a wild pitch and a passed ball.

McMinnville scored again in the fifth on a two-base hit and a couple of errors, but after that inning failed to get a man past second.

The eighth was remarkable on account of the number of errors made, but was otherwise uninteresting. However, in their half of the ninth Willamette woke up with a vengeance and when the smoke cleared away there were three runs to her credit in the score book. Oakes started the festival by a smashing single over third, Homan followed by a Texas leaguer over second; then occurred one of the very few double steals ever pulled off on the local grounds, and when the smoke

Junior Class In Real Action

"Thompson of the Varsity" is Staged by the Junior Class.

The Junior play, "Thompson of the Varsity," is coming on with a snap. The members taking part are getting the play well in hand, and are beginning to do some real acting. There seems to be in the Junior class an extraordinary amount of footlight talent, and the play promises to be a howling success.

A dress rehearsal of the play will be given next Friday evening week at the Penitentiary. The first real staging of it, however, will be on the evening of May 1st, being a fitting climax to the May day exercises.

Report a Royal Time; Made Trip by Boat

The Willamette Law School debating team lost the debate on the judicial recall to the U. of O. Law team, by a two to one decision. The debate was held before a large crowd of Oregon students in the Women of Woodcraft hall, Portland.

The Willamette team, accompanied by a number of supporters, made the trip down the river by boat. They report a royal reception in every way including a banquet after the forensic battle.

This is the third annual debate between the two law schools, the two preceding ones having gone to Willamette.

The other day one of our fertile-minded students entered the Collegian sanctum and after appropriating the editor's easy chair and planting his feet in the editor's waste basket, offered the following suggestion:

"It seems to me that Willamette University might easily support a varsity book store. Two years ago I was a student in one of North Dakota's normal schools. There were four hundred students in this institution, who were all about as poor as the average student usually is. Under the supervision of the school authorities a small book store was conducted on the campus, thereby yielding a handsome annual profit to two needy and enterprising young men. It seems to me that the same thing could be done here in Willamette. Certainly every opportunity to help our students—and some of them need employment badly—should be taken advantage of."

Many suggestions find their way into the Collegian office, and sometimes we find a meritorious one among them. This idea of a varsity book store appears worth while to us. Perhaps some energetic student may act upon it to his ultimate advantage—perhaps not. In any event it does no harm to publish it; and if there are any more who have plans which might prove advantageous to our fellow-students, we respectfully ask that they be submitted to the Collegian for publication.

A TROPHY MANAGER.

It is customary in the various educational institutions thruout the country to maintain a trophy case for the safe keeping of treasures won upon the field and in debate. In many of the larger schools, the trophies have grown in numbers as the years passed by, until entire rooms have been set aside for their separate accommodation.

It is almost invariably the custom, in institutions that have reached the size and importance of Willamette, to elect from the student body a trophy manager, whose duty it is to care for these "war scalps" and heirlooms. Willamette is rich in memories, and tho we do not now require a separate room to contain our treasures, yet a few years more will see the number that we now possess multiplied many times over, and it is now that we should elect some student, deserving of that honor, Custodian of our Trophies.

Willamette's the Best

By James Oakes and Perry Reigelman. Music by Vinton Ellis.

This is the song that captured the Freshman Glee, 1912.

I.

Then all hail my good lads, for we meet once again!
Lay aside every care, let us take up the song!
Let us pledge the Old School with a glad refrain,
In the jolliest tune swell the notes deep and strong!
For the time will soon come when our school days are o'er,
And the faces we've known will then greet us no more,
So, together my lads, clink a toast to her fame,
And drink deep her good health in devotion's sweet name.

Chorus—

For Willamette's the school for mine, for mine,
For Willamette's the school for mine;
Whether playing the game or wooing a dame,
Whether marching the serpentine,
She took us in when Freshmen green,
We leave with polished men,
And we'll tell her fair story in song and rhyme—
For Willamette's the school for mine.

II.

Lo! How hard toiled thy fathers in pioneer past,
When they bladed the rude trail for the march of today!
How with Faith on the waters their bread they did cast,
Little recking the cost, never asking for pay!
And, then, too, may the spirit which burned in our sires
Be yet found in our sons, old rekindling fires,
And on down through the ages their mem'ry shall ring—
So we tune up our hearts and we sing, gladly sing: Cho.

III.

Oh, that strong men and women may come from thy halls,
With their hearts steeped in love from thy storehouse of power
To engage in life's service wherever it calls,
Or to sacrifice all to the need of the hour.
All too soon comes the time when our "farewells" are said,
And we leave the dear school to face battles instead,
Still fond mem'ries will linger, beguiling anew,
And we pledge once again our old school, W. U. Cho.

Dig.

He wanted a job, and like every one else,

He wanted a good one, you know;
Where his clothes would not soil and his hands would keep clean,
And the salary mustn't be low.
He asked for a pen, but they gave him a spade,

And he half turned away with a shrug;
But he altered his mind, and seizing the spade—he dug.

He worked with a will that is bound to succeed,
And the months and the years went along.

The way, it was rough and the labor was hard,
But his heart he kept filled with a song.

Some jeered him and sneered at the task, but he plugged
Just as hard as he ever could plug;
Their words never seemed to disturb him a bit—as he dug.

The day came at last when they called for the spade,
And gave him a pen in its place.
The joy of achievement was sweet to his taste,
The joy of achievement was sweet to his taste,
And victory shone on his face.

We can't always get what we hope for at first,
Success cuts many queer figs;
But one thing is sure—a man will succeed—if he digs!
—Louis E. Thayer.

The honor system was adopted in the University of Wooster by a vote of 291 to 61.

Adelphian Society.

Amidst the rat-a-tat-tat of the drum and the shouts of the baseball fans, the faithful sisters met in the Chapel to promote their intellectual welfare.

The roll answered by "one good number for a literary program" was especially good, as Miss Gilbert's original ideas always are.

A piano solo by Miss Mulligan was enjoyed by all (as she kept strict time with the band.)

Miss Roberts' paper, "The Faculty," was written from St. Peter's Portal, and recorded the entrance or exit of the "ruling brains of Willamette."

The "Really Reliable Review," our monthly, was edited by Miss Wastell; "nuf sed," you all know her.

The debate, "Resolved, that simplified spelling should be universally adopted," turned out to be an argumentation for only the leaders, negative Wicksbury, affirmative Emmel, Jr., were present. The points were called from the athletic field in loud tones of "Strike one!" The affirmative won, as she had the last word.

A motion was made to omit all the weighty business, and was carried out the door to the baseball grounds.

Websterians and Adelantes Joint Social

Friday evening was the occasion of one of the Websterian-Adelante joint meetings. Things literary were thrown to the winds and their place taken by lighter entertainment. Such edifying diversions as guessing the names of members from pictorial representations, Ruth and Jacob, Boston, identifying noses thrust thru slits in a sheet and spinning the pan, served to while away the hours and bring back lost youth.

Refreshments were served in two courses—shrimp salad with sandwiches, and peach ice cream with wafers.

About sixty persons, almost the entire enrollment of the two societies, were present. Mrs. Walsh was chaperon.

Philodorians Elect.

The Philodorian society met at the usual hour last Wednesday evening. The program consisted of a debate between the law team and three members of the society. The judicial recall was the question discussed. Wells, Wilson and DeLong, the law team, upheld the affirmative, while McCain, Stearns and Nott supported the negative. The judges gave a decision 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative.

After the word battle the society proceeded to business session, and the election of the fourth term officers. The officers elected were as follows: Joe Stearns, Jr., is to pound the marble, and in case of absence Ray Smith fills his place. W. C. Raines, assisted by C. F. Jefferson, will pen all proceedings of the august assembly. Mr. Vandervert continues to be the First National Bank. M. DeLong is to sit by Webster's Edition and say wherein so and so ought to have and should do thus and so. Harry G. McCain was chosen counsel of law. Earl Nott the retiring president, according to old custom, was chosen sergeant at arms.

Websterians.

The meeting of the Webs. on March 19, was one of high quality. "Goethe as a Prophet" discussed by Wm. Schreiber, was the first number on the program. Following this, Paul Smith entertained the society by a reading from Milton. Then came a well-prepared debate on the question, "Resolved, that the recall should be applied to the judicial." The affirmative, upheld by Green and Paget, gained a 2 to 1 decision over the negative, championed by Cook and Bruce McDaniel.

The following new officers were then elected: Geo. Schreiber, president; Robert Minton, vice president; Ralph Homan, recording secretary; Oliver Matthews, corresponding secretary; Ivan McDaniel, treasurer; Paul Homan, critic, and C. B. Harrison, sergeant-at-arms.

The society then adjourned, taking home with them the pleasant thoughts of having a feed on the new officers at the next meeting.

Volunteer Band

The Student Volunteer Band had the great privilege of having with them last Thursday, Rev. Linzell, a returned missionary from India, who is on his way to general conference. An open meeting was held at 3:30 p. m., at which time he continued the brief address that he gave in chapel in the forenoon. His theme dealt for the most part with the religion of the Hindu people, laying special emphasis upon the caste system, and showing how this custom has retarded the development of civilization of this nation, so that it is no farther advanced at present than three thousand years ago. After the open meeting Mr. Linzell met with the band for a short time, answering questions which they desired to ask concerning missionary work, and relating some of his many personal experiences, much to the amusement and interest of his hearers.

Criteriaons

The Criteriaons met last Wednesday with a goodly number present, and all showed great interest throughout the program. Richter gave a review of the University news. Armstrong read an accurate and detailed biography of President Bartlett. The chapter of the story given by Lund was quite tragic as well as very interesting. The different chapters of the story have shown some great literary possibilities in the Criteriaon membership. The debate, "Resolved, that co-education is not desirable," was unanimously won by the negative which was presented by Cordier and Snidow. In behalf of the affirmative Hoffman and Harvey entered some very clever arguments.

All Criteriaons should be sure to notice the bulletin board for the program of the next meeting.

U. P. S. Y. M. C. A. Holds Regular Election

Tacoma, Wash., April 19—At a regular yearly election of the U. P. S. Y. M. C. A., the following officers were elected to serve during the present spring term and next year: Geo. Thompson, president; Clark Cottrell, vice president; Charles Lawson, secretary, and Arthur Hungerford, treasurer.

The following committees will also serve: Bible study, R. L. Clark, chairman, Max Waldren, Alfred Tisch, Fred Thompson and John Wise. Religious work, Clark Cottrell, chairman, Arthur Smith and Percy Harader. Membership, Henry Webb, chairman, Glen Stambra, Arnold Tisch, Victor Wallace and H. E. Gardner. Social, L. C. ### Barnard Co-Eds Carol.

Barnard College, April 19.—Barnard College wants a new building. They're singing this song to get it:

"We want a great big theatre, where there's room to play;
We want a students' building, where there's no one in the way;
We want a locker, broad and tall,
We want a chapel like St. Paul.
We want a room for junior ball,
So just join in and say:
Buy a brick, buy a brick,
Help the cause, don't stand and kick;
Drop in a nickel, that's the trick,
Help the building, do!
Buy a brick, buy a brick,
We want a building, want it quick!
We have a college that's a pick,
We want a building, too."

Students of Purdue Boycott Street Cars

Purdue University, April 19.—Students of Purdue University have organized a walking club in protest against alleged poor service by the Lafayette Street Car Company, whose lines connect the city with West Lafayette, where the university is located. The students developed their walking proclivities when the street railway system was tied up by the storm last week. Then meetings were held, at which the students decided that as there was no great hardship in walking through drifts of snow, they could continue walking when the streets were clear. The demand for better service is unhelped by the Exponent, the college publication.

HALL NEWS

To be "under the weather" at the Hall is, at times, decidedly interesting. It is not often that Mayme gets a headache so deadly in its grasp that she is moved to send back Nancy's furs and coral beads that she borrowed some two months or so ago. It is not often that Angeline can conjure up a cold so severe that her roommate falters in with the fire extinguisher, and asks Angeline tremblingly where she expects to go if she doesn't survive. But when these events do occur the "family" knows it.

The sufferer lies perfectly motionless, except when meals are brought up. The wash stand near the bed bristles with bottles, powders, pills and chewing gum. The floor is thickly carpeted and the chairs well upholstered with clothes and shoes. The bed is strewn with Cosmopolitans and Blue Books, open to the most anguished of the actresses. Visitors are greeted with a slow hopelessness, their floral offerings accepted languidly. Contributions of quinine, mentholatum and court plaster pour in from sympathizing neighbors, and are added to the second layer mounting rapidly on the wash stand. Filled with the gravity of the situation, the attending roommate bustles about with hot irons and mustard plasters, and gets the places of application mixed.

This week has been especially noted for "last illnesses." Ava McMahon had so serious a cold that nothing was found to relieve her until as a last resort her despairing friend, Miss Wastell decided to administer chocolates. Miraculous results! In less than half an hour Miss McMahon was found down in the parlor pounding out "Make a Fuss Over Me" on the piano, with a vigor that sent chills thru the wall paper.

Arta Anderson also fell ill, and became so alarmed that she borrowed all the Bibles procurable and in the moments that she was not sending fond farewells to the mysterious individual in Spokane, she worked feverishly at memorizing the names of the prophets and the genealogies. By Monday evening she could trace Adam down to Joseph in the bull rushes, where she got beyond her depth.

Constance Jory developed an intensely painful sick headache, with accompanying symptoms of fiery temper and tendency to retract the square roots of her room mate's hair while the latter slept. All the patients have recovered, however, and are able to be about.

Miss Lena Godfrey of Portland was a Saturday guest of Miss Hollenbeck's. Miss Ethel Cutler of New York, a national secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Elizabeth Fox, student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., for the Northwest, made the Hall their headquarters during their stay at the University.

Friday evening there was a congenial little dinner party numbering among its distinguished guests Miss Bradley, Miss Reeves and Miss Young, Mr. J. B. C. Oakes, Mr. Carl J. Hollingsworth and Mr. Errol C. Gilkey. Friday evening was for numerous reasons eventful. It was the occasion of the joint society parties, and, consequently, the hour of the many gentlemen callers and the departure of numerous hunting and fishing excursions to the corner of Twelfth and State.

Miss Laura Austin was away several days last week, stopping at Hillsboro and Portland.

Miss Maude Kenworthy of Portland who spent a number of weeks at the Hall last autumn, appeared suddenly at breakfast Tuesday morning, and visited thruout the day.

Dr. Linzell was a Hall guest at lunch and dinner Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Fraley is so awfully stuck up since the exciting moments of the Philodorian leap year affair that she scarcely deigns to notice any one. She mingles mission furniture with Psyche and outlines her parabolas with bread puddings and raised pancakes.

"Listen to the Freshmen boys serenading us," breathed the Freshman girl, closing her eyes dreamily. "My dear," said the Junior girl, "that's Mr. Johnson running the lawn mower."

A. S. U. W. Reports Show $1700 Gain for Year

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—That the Associated Students has made $1700 in its undergraduate activities this year was the opinion expressed by the board of control members last night, when they declared that at the beginning of this annum the A. S. U. W. was $7200 in debt, while at the present time but $5500 stands against the student body on the left-hand side of the ledger.

The Daily has a surplus of $829.12, with total assets of $2,133.32 and aggregate liabilities of $1284.20. Jerry Riordan, manager of the student publication, estimates the unexpired advertising contracts at $1000.

The general manager's report up to March 31, 1912, shows a small gain in the record of previous years, altho the disbursements are slightly more than the receipts.

For the cooperative book store the assets are placed at $22,291.39, and the liabilities at $9499.34, showing net balance of $12,792.05 after a slight reduction of stock.

From Other Colleges

Efforts are being made at Ohio State University to install a university press on the campus.

The Sophomore class of Kenyon College will give a minstrel show during Hop Week at the school.

Harvard University has decided to accept a number of exchange students from Scandinavian universities.

King Chulalongkorn of Siam has given to the library of Brown University a set of Buddhist scriptures.

A fund of $85,000 was pledged at Hutchinson last week for the benefit of the endowment of Southwestern.

Stanford University has received an endowment of $50,000 to found a chair of spiritualism. Thomas W. Stanford of Melbourne, Australia, is the donor.

Three hundred and twenty-five new geological specimens from the mine of Alabama have been placed in the collection of the geology department of Kansas City.

Cornell recently received a gift of $100,000 from Jacob H. Schill, the New York banker. The endowment is to be used for the purpose of studies in German culture.

University of Michigan is soon to have a new auditorium. It is to be called the Hill Memorial auditorium, and excavations for the building have already commenced.

A member of the University of South Carolina baseball team is named Boozer. My! how embarrassing it must be to be shouted at by that name from the bleachers.

Statistics computed concerning the 1909 class of Wellesley College show that of a class of three hundred young women, two hundred and forty-five were married in 1910.

It has been rumored that Reilly, the Yale all around athlete, who played four years on the Eli's football, baseball and basketball teams, will be coach at Union next year.

Athletic relations between Yale and Cornell have been resumed. These two great eastern institutions have never met on the track, and have not played each other in football since 1889.

At the Junior Prom held recently at the University of New York the students did not quit dancing until daylight. One special feature of the evening was the great number of moonlight dances.

A baseball team composed of Chicago students is touring the country, playing college teams both in the east and west. Their first game was with the University of California, the last part of March.

Oberlin College conducts both a primary nominating and a final election in choosing students officers. The primary is held two weeks before the final election, and is taken on printed ballots, the same as the final election.

The Vanderbilt faculty has refused to allow the Freshmen of that institution to wear green caps as a color distinction. In this case the faculty turned down a measure which the entire student body, from Seniors down to Freshmen, has indorsed.

A series of scholarships for graduate students from India has been provided by the University of California. The recipients of the scholarships will be provided with all college expenses for three years, while they study for the master's degree or the doctor's degree.

The campus corporation known as the "Associated Students of the University of Washington" does a business of $70,000 a year. Its assets include a $2000 grandstand, a valuable fleet of racing shells, a boathouse, athletic equipment running well into the thousands, a daily newspaper and a year book.

The regulations concerning the wearing of green caps by the Freshmen at the Washington State College have just been issued. All Freshmen shall wear a green cap with a red button. This cap shall be worn from two weeks after school begins in the fall until the first of December, and from St. Patrick's day until Campus day, inclusive. This cap is to be worn at all times on the campus and within the city limits, except on Sundays.

The athletic committee of Yale University has recommended the expenditure of $1,000,000 for improvements at the athletic field of the university. The recommendations include: Football stadium, $500,000; baseball stadium, $200,000; track stand, $100,000; clubhouse, $100,000; improvement of the land, $100,000.

Princeton.

The Princeton University swimming and water polo teams are to take a trip to the middle west where they will compete with some of the colleges there.

The Princeton Triangle Club, a dramatic organization, is to make a tour of 2000 miles. They go as far west as Chicago.

Beats High Jump Record.

Geo. Horine '13 of Stanford U. broke the world's high jump record in the meet with the U. of Southern California, held March 29. The height was 6 feet 6 1/2 inches, or half an inch higher than the record made by M. F. Sweeney at New York in 1895.

Whitman Loses to Idaho.

Whitman lost the eleventh annual debate with the U. of Idaho, held in Moscow on March 29. The question was: "Resolved, that the United States should endorse Taft's arbitration policy." Idaho defended the affirmative of the question.

Many Try Out.

The Lehigh University track team has more than 50 men trying for positions. The first event for the team will be on the interclass meet on April 26, and on the next day the team will go to Philadelphia for the Penn relays.—Tech.

Law School Daily Monday.

Under direction of Roberty Denny, the barristers, lawyers and solicitors of the university will conduct a special edition of The Daily Monday. The regular staff will loaf.

U. of W. Receives Chimes.

Col. A. J. Blenheim of the Seattle Times has given a $12,500 chimes to the U. of Wyoming. The Denny Hall cupola will be remodeled for the receipt of the chimes during the summer vacation.

University of California.

Nearly $1,700,000 is needed annually for the support of the university. The state contributes only $500,000, while gifts amounting to approximately $1,250,000 were received last year.

Utah A. C. Wins Debate.

In a hard fought debate with Montana S. C., Utah A. C. won by a unanimous decision.

BOARDING HOUSE GEOMETRY.

A pie may be produced any number of times.

A landlady can be reduced to her lowest terms by a series of propositions.

A bee line may be made from any boarding house to any other boarding house.

The clothes of a boarding house bed, though produced ever so far both ways, will not meet.

Any two meals at a boarding house are together less than one square meal.

If from the opposite ends of a boarding house a line be drawn, passing through all the rooms in turn, then the stovepipe which warms the boarders will lie without that line.

On the same bill and on the same side of it, there should be two charges for the same thing.

If there be two borders on the same flat, and the amount of side of one be equal to the amount of side of the other, each to each, and the wrangle between one border and the landlady be equal to the wrangle between landlady and the other, then shall the weekly bills of the two boarders be equal also, each to each. For if not, let one bill be the greater. Then the other bill is less than it might have been, which is absurd.—The Purdue Exponent.

Never was such a beautiful assortment of Millinery shown in Salem as you can find at Lange's. Call and be hatted.

Philodorian Entertain.

Last Friday evening the members of the Philodorian society, entertained their society brothers with a leap year party. The society rooms were unusually pleasant in their decorations of scotch broom and cherry blossoms. On the walls were prominent several posters which had inscribed upon them sentiments suiting the occasion, such as "Gentlemen never flirt," or "No lady will remain seated while a gentleman is standing."

All the games played were in harmony with the event. Changed occupations was the source of great amusement. In this game each gentleman performed in pantomime the occupations usually enjoyed by the fair sex, while the ladies shown forth nobly in their representations of putting up stove pipes and mowing the hay. Another interesting game was one in which each young lady wrote a proposal and each gentleman an acceptance or refusal.

The refreshments were a welcome departure from the old stand-by of ice cream and cake. They consisted of shrimp salad, sandwiches, olives and vienna coffee.

Not until the chaperones said "it must be done," did the party break up. While it was to be greatly regretted that so many men were unable to be present on account of the debate in Portland, the occasion was a grand success and much credit is due to the Misses Thomas and Wilson, who had charge of the affair.

The Rainier Shiners were out seven strong last Saturday. Their walk took them out toward the Penitentiary, and they lent the ball game a little of their enthusiasm. The Rainier Shiners meet every Saturday at 2 o'clock at Lausanne Hall, and tho the party is not very large, it is never composed of the same people. Old clothes and a good time seems to be the central idea. Mrs. Peck is a faithful and satisfactory chaperone. Next Saturday, rain or shine.

The students are glad to see Harold Jory, who has been on the sick list for the last two weeks, back on the Campus again.

The Cattle Rustler Hard to Connect With

Varsity's Broken Lineup Loses to the "Pen"

Presenting a broken lineup and disliking the offerings of Thomas, Portland Northwest League pitcher, the Willamette nine met defeat at the hands of the Penitentiary team last Saturday, by a score of 8 to 5. The defeat was due largely to the pitcher, Thomas, whom the Penitentiary officials borrowed from Nick Williams who was in town playing the Salem city team.

Thomas was represented as a buckaroo who had been rustling cattle in Eastern Oregon. He was found for eight hits and five runs, but these were not enough to win the game.

MacRae and Hewitt were missing from the Willamette lineup. Homan took Mac's place at short, Erskine took first base, and Lund went to right field. McIntire and McDaniel did the pitching. The contest was a much better exhibition of the national game than that of a week ago, when the "Pen" was snowed under by a score of 18 to 2.

Popular Periodicals: What the College Man Reads

Data gathered from newsstands in the vicinity of the campus gives some interesting information on the popularity of periodicals among the college men.

The Cosmopolitan is easily first among the monthlies, with McClure's a fair second. Estimates of the increase of the latter's popularity since the advent of Owen Johnson's Stover at Yale vary from fifty to four hundred per cent. Everybody's and the Popular Science Monthly follow. Such excellent magazines as Harper's, Scribner's and the Century are near the bottom of the list. This is either because of their greater expense, or because the college youth prefers lighter reading during his freedom from academic duties.

Popular Mechanics lives up to its name leading the scientific field. The Scientific American is far below.

Of the weeklies, the Saturday Evening Post is by far the most prominent, and is the greatest seller of all the periodicals outside of the daily papers. The sale of the Outlook is always good. The other weeklies have little patronage.

It goes without saying that Life leads, by a large margin, the competition for humorous publications. Its sale is almost equal to that of the Saturday Evening Post. Puck and Judge are not popular.

The college publications have necessarily not been taken into account, but it is interesting to note that the sale of the Record among the New Haven people has largely increased, and its popularity has grown four-fold in spite of the fact that its price has lately been raised.

The professor favors the Atlantic Monthly, and now and then a marital member of the faculty is seen to purchase the Ladies' Home Journal.—Yale Record.

A New Organization Formed in College

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—A new organization has been formed in the Washington State College recently. The name of this society is Kappa Alpha. Its purpose is to secure some closely knit organization which can work effectively for the interests of oratory and debate in the College, a local honor fraternity has been organized. The new fraternity includes the majority of the "W" debaters and orators of the institution. The members are: H. A. Sewell, L. L. Nolin, John Meyer, Ralph Gaines, Louis Bristlaw, Joe L. Phillips, Harry Chambers, A. D. Stewart, Everett Jinnett and Chester Boddy.

The organization will insure the en-

Cornell Always'll Win, Says Former Champion

Boston, Mass., April 19.—In Arthur Duffy's column of Sunday's Boston Post, the athletic critic has the following to say of Cornell and her many championships:

"There seems to be no stopping the Cornell athletes winning college athletic honors. Some time ago, before Jack Moakley took charge at Ithaca, the Cornellians were unheard of in athletics. Then Charlie Courtney, the well-known rowing coach, was obtained to drill the Ithacan crews, and we all know the enviable position to which that rowing expert has brought the Cornell crews. Now the wrestling game seems to be the next for Cornell, and their recent win of the intercollegiate wrestling championship was one of the surprises of the college year. Last year Cornell finished last in the race and no one gave them a look-in this season. All that is left in the college sports now is the football and baseball championships. Cornell has obtained Al Sharpe, the old Yale man, to coach the gridiron team next year, and the Cornellians are making great preparations to annex the diamond honors. Pretty soon there will be no more championships for Cornell to win."

"W" Club Favors Uniform Sweaters for Athletes

Pullman, Wash., April 19.—Tom Griffiths '13, president; Robin Wells '12, vice president, and Garner Wright '13, secretary-treasurer, were officers elected by the "W" club at its last meeting. They hold office one year. The club favors a uniform style for all sweaters of purple, and "Ws" of gold for all major sports, the emblem to be knitted into the garment. A sweater, they thought, should be awarded with every "W." Women's emblems should be German "Ws." Tom Griffiths and William Coyle were chosen to present the resolutions to the athletic committee of the board of control.

Seattle's Teams Take Honors in Debate

Washington's 1912 debating season, which closes Wednesday night with a debate between the Oregon and Stanford teams, was rated this morning by Prof. J. C. Herbsman, the most successful in the history of the institution.

"For the first time in the history of the higher educational institutions of the Pacific Coast, the University of Washington this year won the debating championship of the coast, getting unanimous decisions in three of the four debates," said Prof. Herbsman.

"Washington, represented by A. R. Hillen and John Bovington, gained unanimous decisions over Washington State College and the University of Oregon. Glenn Hoyer and Rex Rudebush received unanimous decisions over Stanford University, Glenn Hoyer and Fred Bennett defeated Whitman College with a 2 to 1 decision.

"The varsity's defeat over Stanford University is noteworthy, because Washington defended the negative side of the judicial recall question in California, where a law subjecting judges to popular recall has been passed.

"Fourteen out of a possible fifteen judges' votes were given to Washington—a remarkable record."

Y. M. and Y. W. Cabinets Entertained

Last Saturday evening Miss Jessie Young, president of the Y. W. C. A., gave a party in honor of the Y. W. and Y. M. cabinets.

The evening was very pleasantly spent in the playing of several unique games, such as one would naturally expect Miss Young to originate.

Refreshments of apricot ice cream and lemon sherbet with wafers were served, and the guests departed only when it was necessary to catch the last car (?) for home.

Surely now that the two cabinets have proven so congenial, great things may be expected of them.

AN ENJOYABLE CONDITION

How much more enjoyable it is to have made a profitable investment than merely to know you might have made it. The young men and women who have been trained in the Capital Business College are enjoying the profits of their training. The ones who merely keep thinking about getting the training will have to keep thinking about the profits from it—they won't have them. Next week will be a good time to enter.

Join the Procession Get Tickets

Owing to an omission, on the part of the writer, in last week's Collegian, only three states were slated for the Probi Oratorical Contest, to be held in Salem, May 19. The account should have read: "The Inland Empire, Oregon, Washington and California," making four orators in the contest. Join the procession and get a ticket before it is too late. Remember, they are only 25 cents, and you have the opportunity of a fine program as well as the contest.

A hundred and twenty-one tickets went in ten minutes, in the University Chapel Wednesday morning—and only seven hundred and fifty may be sold. Don't miss the opportunity.

METHODISTS WIN FROM BAPTISTS

cleared away Jimmy was safely reclining on the third cushion while Paul was discussing the weather with the second baseman. Then Red came up and the he strove mightily, he finally flew out and Chinker, not to be outdone by his captain, followed suit and went to the bench by the same route. Then the mighty McRae, of football fame, advanced to the plate, planted both feet firmly on terra firma and clouted out as neat a single as anyone could wish. The Baptists thereupon blew up with a loud bang and when they got thru throwing the ball hither an yon, Jimmy, Paul and Big Mac were safely across the much-sought-after home plate, slightly winded but happy.

The visitors tried their durndest to score in their part of the ninth, and one man did get a scratchy single, but he was dispatched by Steelhammer's trusty right while trying to purloin second and with him died McMinnville's last hope for a score, the next man striking out and the last man flying out to Tetro.

The game was exciting and a good one to watch.

The umpiring was all that could be desired, both teams were satisfied with the decisions rendered, and the game was singularly free from raggings.

There were several breathless moments. Twice did Steelhammer gather in a wild throw and nab a runner at the plate. Drake also established a record when he struck out four men in a row in the second and third innings.

McRae was Willamette's stronghold with Homan, Harrison, Oakes and Steelhammer right behind him. Drake pitched gilt-edged ball thruout and captured one two bagger and showed himself to be the best pitcher Willamette has had since the days of Jerman. His control was good at all times, and there was not an earned run secured by the visitors.
