

VARSITY DEFEATS ALUMNI IN HARD GAME

Alumni Strong on Offensive, But Lack Practice.

In the first regularly scheduled game of the season, the Varsity team defeated the Alumni stars by a 32-16 score. The Varsity men showed up well for the first game, considering the fact that the team was minus the services of Pfaff, Bagley and Gates.

The game was well played on both sides, in view of the limited amount of practice. The Alumni men showed their old form in passing the ball, but in shooting baskets they showed the lack of old-time form. No stars appeared, but McIntyre, Schramm and Gibson, members of the famous 1911 quintet which defeated everything in sight, demonstrated conclusively that they had not forgotten the essentials of basketball.

The Varsity men showed weakness in offensive work, the fact that their opponents were poor in basket shooting accounting largely in the result. However, Shisler and Jewett showed good form, and on several occasions brought cheers from the spectators for brilliant shots in the basket. Flegel also showed good defensive work.

A good sized crowd filled the gyms, including a large number of High School students.

The line-up—

Alumni	Varsity
Gibson	F. Shisler
Tallman	F. Jewett
McIntyre	C. Adams
Schramm	G. Crawford
Minton	G. Flegel

Substitutes—Mickey, for Gibson.

Baskets—McIntyre, 2; Schramm, 3; Tallman, 2; Gibson, 1; Shisler, 6; Jewett, 6; Adams, 1; Flegel, 3.

Referee—Giugrich.

LITERARY SOCIETIES HOLD FORENSIC CLASH

Second Annual Intersociety Debate is Well Received—Solos Please.

The Second Annual Intersociety Debate, which occurred Friday evening, January 8th, between the Websterians and Philadorians, was a fine example of wit and oratory, far above the quality generally displayed on such occasions.

The question was, "Resolved, That the Electoral College Should Be Abolished, and the President Should Be Nominated and Elected by the Direct Vote of the People."

Prof. Matthews, who presided, announced a unique feature of the debate, which was that the final limitation of the question was not given to the debaters until Friday noon. This gave the debaters a chance to show their skill in extemporaneous speech.

The audience showed its keen appreciation by its attention and applause.

Briefly, the line of argument was this: The affirmative contended that the people have an inherent right to rule, and the results of the electoral colleges do not win popular favor. The negative argument was that unmodified popular voting is dangerous because of the undesirability of some citizens. The electoral college furnished a system of checks and balances which cannot be preserved in the direct election.

No decision was rendered, but it was left for each to decide in his own mind concerning the relative merits of each debater's argument.

The affirmative was upheld for the Philadorians by Mr. Frank Francis and Mr. Percy Dawe in a skillful manner. Mr. Arlie Walker and Mr. Harold Eakin, in presenting the negative, maintained the Websterians high standards.

Preceding the debate Miss McCaddam delighted the audience with one of her charming vocal selections. Mr. Jory rendered a most pleasing vocal number at the close of the evening's entertainment.

The Rev. Dr. George F. Hopkins, who was for several years a missionary to the Indians in Canada, delivered three lectures this week. The addresses dealt with Mr. Hopkins' observations and experiences.

M'DANIELS COMES BACK WITH A NEW SUPPLY

President of Board of Trustees and Former U. of W. Dean Make Chapel Addresses.

Last Wednesday the student body was favored with chapel talks by President T. S. McDaniels of the Board of Trustees and by Mr. Priest, formerly Dean of the College of Liberal Arts of the University of Washington, but at present with the Ellison-White Lyseum Bureau.

President McDaniels delivered himself of the "Twainese" remarks and stories which his ever ready wit has taught the students to expect from him. (You know he came from Indiana—great place, that!) Mr. McDaniels then got down to business earnestly urging the students not to let the tasks or detractions of college life lure them away from a close walk with God.

Dean Alden then called upon Mr. Priest, and contrary to the latter's story that he was "stuck, by Jove, and nothing to unload," he gave a live speech, pointing out that all our great educational system is the result of an attempt to save us from the hard knocks of experience. Perhaps the attempt is not of much avail, for youth is always self confident; yet the attempt must be made, for what one generation has learned it must transmit to posterity.

Both addresses were highly appreciated.

Y. W. SURPRISE

Old People Enjoy Strains by Varsity Nightingales.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting last Thursday afternoon was a unique surprise for those who attended. Shortly after 3:30 the meeting adjourned to the Old People's Home. There the girls sang some of the old familiar hymns for about half an hour, much to the delight of the old people who gathered to hear the songs.

THE PHIL HUMORIST AND THE PHIL-OSOPHER APPEAR

Society to Attend Lecture of Bishop Cooke, Tonight.

The Wednesday evening meeting of the Phils was one of the best of the year. Mr. Flint is, perhaps, the Mark Twain of Willamette, and his manner, always so audaciously childish, is well suited for a lecture on such a subject as, "Japanese Bathtubs and Other Matters."

All the facts, figures, information, explanations and theories coincident with and dependent upon the condition of the country and the interest which accrues therefrom because of the present European crisis, and the "Preparedness Of Our Country For War," and other matters. These Mr. Gleiser dwelt upon in one well-rounded sentence.

And our poet phil-osopher, Mr. Bain, was much at home when treating Sam Simpson, the poet of Willamette and Oregon. He gave an unusually good appreciation.

Our Sam, S. W. Russel, has not literary, but elocutionary aspirations. He must have, or he would not have committed so long a poem as "Wanderlust." He spoke as well as if he'd written the piece himself.

Tonight the society will adjourn at 7:45 to attend Bishop Cooke's lecture at the First Methodist Church.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The management is starting with this issue a Classified Ad Department. We believe that the students, as well as the professional men of the city, will appreciate this department enough to give it your patronage. If you have anything to sell, or if there is some particular article you wish to buy, it will behoove you to place a few lines in our classified department. Ask the Manager for prices.

VESPER SERVICE.

Hear ye! hear ye! next Sunday, at 3 p. m., in the Chapel, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will have a vesper service which, for interest and effectiveness, will far surpass any thing ever pulled off around this college. The program will be as follows:

- * Hymn.
- * Hymn.
- * Scripture.
- * Prayer.
- * Solo—Miss Lela MacCaddam
- * College Quartet.
- * Hymn.
- * Address—Rev. Spencer.
- * Solo—Prof. Walsh.
- * Hymn.
- * Benediction.

What do you think of THAT, everybody? Now, some of you folks who haven't showed your bright and smiling faces in Y. M. or Y. W. meeting, just come out next Sunday; and when this program bursts upon you in its full magnificence, we won't be able to keep you away from future meetings with a padded cell and a straight jacket. Now, everyone be out at 3 o'clock sharp. Now, remember, 3 o'clock sharp. Precisely at 3.

VAN SLYKE TO MANAGE THE JUNIOR PLAY

Committee Chosen to Select Play—McMurray Is Director.

The Juniors are already at work on the annual play, which will be presented May Day evening, at the Grand Opera house. So far, about all that has been accomplished definitely is the election of the manager, Mr. Clarence B. Van Slyke being the man chosen. A committee was appointed to select a play. This committee is composed of five people: Mr. Van Slyke as manager, Mr. Gleiser, Miss Hodge, Miss Elliot and the director. The play will be definitely decided upon in a few days.

If plans work out successfully, this year's production will be in the same high class which the plays of the previous three years have taught the local theater goers to expect. The Juniors are enthusiastic about it, and all are desirous of showing their theatrical ability.

At the Friday meeting, Mr. Van Slyke presented four plays for the consideration of the class. Of these, "The American Citizen," by Madelene Lucette Ryley, and "The Dictator," from the pen of Richard Harding Davis, seemed the best adapted to the prospective talent and the general interest. The odds seemed to be in favor of the latter play.

Yesterday Prof. McMurray was elected director of the play.

Kloshe Klub Is Remodeled.

There is an astounding fact which must be revealed to the student body, but so tremendous, hair-raising and mystifying is it that you must hold your several and respective breaths—the Kloshe Klub has been remodeled.

Messrs. Doane, King, Gary and Bartlett have worked unceasingly on this undertaking. The ceiling and upper part of the walls have been calcimined, burlap panels cover the lower part of the walls, a liberal amount of paint has been applied to the woodwork, and various pennants have been stuck up around. The effect is truly soul inspiring. Everyone who wishes may behold the same, at the rate of five cents a peek, by applying to the manager.

The faculty committee on Orations consists of Professors: Matthews, (chairman), Morton, Walsh, Alden and McMurray. Those who expect to try out for the State Oratorical are urged to have their orations in the hands of this committee soon.

The pony contest will soon be over, but Clarke Walsh is still in the game. Help the best man to win that pony.

JUNIORS WIN FINALS IN INTERCLASS DEBATES

Gary, Gleiser and Bain Will Represent Willamette Against O. A. C.

The Junior debaters were awarded a 2-to-1 decision over their Freshmen rivals after a heated forensic battle, in the chapel, on Saturday evening. That their O. A. C. opponents will have to hustle if they obtain the judge's decision, was apparent to all who were fortunate enough to be present. The question under consideration, "Resolved, That the Administration Should Build Up a Government-owned Merchant Marine," was timely, and therefore of unusual interest. The affirmative was ably upheld by Messrs. Randall, Doxie and Spiess, but Messrs. Gary, Gleiser and Bain proved too much for them in the finals.

It was argued on the affirmative that the building up of a government-owned merchant marine was necessary from a military and commercial point of view, while the negative treated the question from an economic standpoint, with emphasis on international complications which would evolve.

The appearance of the debaters was very pleasing and impressive, and commanded strict attention at all times. The argument advanced showed an unusual amount of care from a constructive and a literary standpoint.

Owing to the sudden called meeting of the city council, Professor Von Eschen was unable to cooperate with Professors Walsh and Matthews as judges, and Mrs. Walsh kindly consented to officiate in his stead.

Mr. Thomas Douglas rendered two of his popular bonnie Scotch ballads, which were much appreciated. Emery Doane presided.

As Forensic Manager Ohling has resigned, it will be necessary for the council to elect his successor in the near future. Until that time nothing of a very definite nature can be ascertained in regard to the debate with the O. A. C., to be held in Salem, on March 12.

BASKET BALL.

Class Games.

Standing of the teams—

	W.	L.	Pct.
Seniors	1	0	1.000
Freshmen	1	0	1.000
Kimball	1	0	1.000
Juniors	0	1	.000
Sophomores	0	1	.000
Academy	0	1	.000

The games played last Friday resulted in the Seniors victory from the Juniors, 28-1; the Freshmen from the Sophs., 8-5, and Kimball from the Academy.

Next Friday the schedule is as follows:

- Seniors vs. Sophs.
- Academy vs. Juniors.
- Freshmen vs. Kimball.

Quite a number of students took advantage of the few days of skating during vacation.

Prof. McMurray went to Portland for the vacation. Laban Steeves was his house guest for a few days.

Mr. Charles P. Ohling has given up his work in Willamette to accept the position of assistant editor of the Daily Capital Journal.

CAN WILLAMETTE BEAT OREGON?

Next Friday night, at 8:30, the whistle will blow for one of the biggest games Willamette has had for several years, and if the students think our team can win, and can make the team feel that the students are right there with their "pep," IT CAN BE DONE. Whatever the result, all the students must be there with their enthusiasm at top notch.

INSPIRING ADDRESS BY PORTLAND PULPIT ORATOR

Matchless Expression Of Lofty Ideals Gains Appreciation From Students.

Dr. Frank Loveland, of the First Methodist Church of Portland, rendered a powerful address yesterday morning at chapel to a large assembly of students and townspeople. The speaker said that the destinies of civilization are in the West, and it behooves the American youth in college to awaken to the new civilization which must be brought to our shores. We are but the trail blazers of a mighty empire, whose vast resources are just beginning to be tapped. The tides of population will surge to this Westland. A "steep" tomorrow faces us.

Dr. Loveland showed that not only a new civilization, but with it a new Christianity must be wrought out in America, or the archaic institutions which have precipitated the awful holocaust of Europe will threaten the national culture of tomorrow. The menace most to be dreaded is the moss-back—for it is the passive man who wrecks the nation. "Blessed are the men who dream, who build air castles, and can see tomorrow. The curse of Europe is that; but the hope of America lies there also. Contentment is the most deadly enemy of both church and state."

"He who dreams is the brother of mankind. It is thru the world-wide vision of men like Plato in his Republic, Sir Thomas Moore in his Utopia, and Bellamy in his Looking Backward, that the battle flags will be furled in the parliament of the world. The day must come when the spirit, not the flesh, shall rule. We have no need for the men who live below the diaphragm, but our civilization demands men who live above the epiglottis. Ours must be a life of activity, not one of seeking repose."

While the speaker scorned contentment, he wished for everyone that spiritual poise so necessary in every efficient life. We have no reason to feel content unless we have lifted the world heavenward. Each one must work out his own destiny, following his loadstar even tho it lead thru lonely wildernesses or thru the barren deserts. The glory of man is not in his perfection, but in the fact that he is striving. You can have anything you want, if you want it badly enough. The great works of science, art, literature, culture—the priceless heritage from our forefathers—are the results of toil, torture, imprisonment and death."

Dr. Loveland concluded his address with an eloquent appreciation of the work of man in service to his kind.

Athletic Books Acquired.

Athletic Director Thompson wishes to call attention to several new books in the library which have been placed on the reserve shelf so that they can be read in the library at any time. These books are as follows:

- "At Home in the Water"—Crossan.
- "Olympic Games—1912"—Sullivan.
- "Football For Public and Player"—Reed.

"Athletic Training"—Mike Murphy, and also the two monthly magazines, "Physical Training" and "Mind and Body."

These books are well written and interesting, and every student participating in athletic training should read them.

OPPORTUNITIES OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK DISCUSSED

Mr. George Pratt Makes Appeal For Help of College Students.

On last Friday, the Rev. Mr. Elvin, of the First Congregational Church, and Mr. George Pratt, secretary of the Western Washington Sunday School Association, gave addresses in chapel. The prime motive of both the speeches was to impress the importance of the religious education of the child upon college men and women. The high place which the child occupied in Christ's conception of the Kingdom was emphasized, as was also the fact that it is easier to train the child than to reclaim the adult. These speeches were both timely and interesting.

THEN TAKE ME BACK!

"Glee Club practice, five o'clock! Five o'clock! Five o'clock!"
Soon the old familiar will come with its punctual, sharp cut, regularity. Up the south bank, thru Boise, Missoula, Butte, and back home by way of Spokane and the north bank; that's the contemplated trip, and it is a good one too. The annual trip is being planned by Willamette's patriotic warblers. But we have no right to call them ours, because the support that Willamette gives to these men is of a purely spiritual nature. Happily the manager selected each year by the club has been a man of foresight, and consequently this organization of individuals has made its tour without incurring any financial burden upon its members. Naturally the men do not desire to take big risks with no chance to realize material gains from them.

Who brings the greatest number of students to a university? It is not the professor whose fame has spread so that those who are interested in his department will sacrifice much to gain the privilege of sitting at his feet. It is not the man who travels over the country scattering pictured bulletins and preaching the gospel of Christian education. It is not the student who returns home to talk French to the high school chums he has outgrown, and to attack every existing institution with a rooster hat, tin horn, rah, rah, rah, manner. But it is that organization of joyous, whole-hearted men, our best, who tour the towns and the cities far and wide, shattering the sadness of many a soul, looking back home with the devoted determination: "We'll sing thy praise, We'll chant thy lays, For we love our W. U."

That club gets a hearing. Its memories cling to the small town, the source of many a desirable college student. Let that club, backed by the student body purse, go taking its committee to search for good prospects along its itinerary, and it would take a wild prophetic guess to estimate the immense returns of each trip. Give the manager of the Glee Club a decent appropriation, and then we can tackle even greater things. Back the Glee Club and you are making a safe investment.

WILLAMETTE'S BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

Willamette's basketball line-up of home floor exhibitions is as good as that of any of the northwest conference teams. O. A. C. will play six conference games at home; W. S. C., five; Whitman, three; Oregon, four; Washington, four, and Idaho, five. Willamette will play four conference teams, meeting the quintettes of the four largest schools in the Northwest. The fact that these crack teams will appear in action in Salem should draw a crowd that will pack the gymnasium each evening.

There is a human tendency to let the best opportunities slip by unnoticed just because we may obtain their benefits with but little effort. People have traveled half way 'round the globe to see Niagara Falls; others have heard the waters' mighty roar during all of their lives, but they have never considered the sight of the world wonder worth the short trip. Salem people may know that some fast basketball teams will be here this season. They may know that Willamette's men will at least put up a stiff fight. But, human like, they will not attend the games unless you emphasize their importance. Do your part. A red-hot series of games is not of much value if the students are all who attend them.

ON YOUR MARK!

Come forth, you oratorical aspirants! The season's here with three big contests just ahead. It's time to get ready to bring them home.

SELF GOVERNMENT.

If student self-rule is what you want, ask for it!

REGULATIONS AGAIN.

This is an appropriate time for the restatement of those general regulations which have to do with the scholastic work and student activities of the College of Liberal Arts. Only a few minor changes have been made since last year.

CONDITIONED AND INCOMPLETE WORK.

A "conditioned" student is one who has passed in the regular class work, but has failed in the final examination, or has neglected to finish incomplete work. For the removal of the condition a student shall have the privilege of taking the next regular semester examination in the subject in which he is conditioned. An examination for the removal of a condition may be given at another time only by special action of the Faculty, and on the payment of a fee of 2.00. Such an examination is not to be given until at least a month after the first examination.

A student taking a second examination in any subject shall not receive in that subject a higher mark than "Passed." If a student shall fail to remove a condition by a second examination within a year, he must repeat the course, unless on recommendation of the instructor in charge, the Faculty allow him to review the subject with the assistance of a private tutor.

SECOND EXAMINATION.

Students who fail in the semester examination shall not be permitted to take the second examination until at least a month after the first examination.

Any student marked "Failed" in class work shall be debarred from the semester examination.

A second examination shall be considered a special favor to be granted only by vote of the Faculty.

OUTSIDE WORK.

When, in the judgment of the Faculty, occasion demands, a student may receive credit for work done outside of the class, with a tutor approved by the head of the department concerned, provided he passes an examination given by the professor in charge, and the total number of credits made during any semester does not exceed the Faculty regulations regarding the number of hours that may be taken. Credits for vacation work will be allowed only by special action of the Faculty.

FAILURE TO MAKE PASSING MARKS.

Freshmen who do not pass in one-half of the work for which they are registered, thereby eliminate themselves from the College of Liberal Arts, and can be reinstated only by special action of the Faculty. Other classmen shall eliminate themselves if they fail one-third or more of the work for which they are registered, and shall be reinstated only by special action of the Faculty.

ABSENCES.

Each student is individually responsible for his absences from class, and shoulders the responsibility of such absences, which shall include ordinarily a "Failed" in his daily class record for each absence.

Students registering for any course after the first meeting of the class will be considered absent until regularly registered.

College Social Life

COLLEGE SOCIAL LIFE.

The third Faculty reception of the year is now history. Last Monday evening Lansanne was beautiful with trailing ivy, umbrella plants, cut flowers and ferns. Just within the reception hall, Miss Gertrude Eakin greeted the guests, who were later received by Dean Alden, Dr. Loveland, Professor and Mrs. Ira Morton, Coach and Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Fannie Elliott-Price, Professor and Mrs. De Bra and Professor McMurray. The College of Music orchestra was there, and accompanied college songs.

In the dining room Mrs. Oswald West and Mrs. Lauterman served sherbet and wafers, assisted by senior girls. Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Parks poured.

The Webs and Adelantes held a joint program and jolly-up in their halls last Wednesday evening from 7:30 until 10 o'clock. A delightful program was rendered. Miss Esther Emmel whistled a solo; an excellent paper, "Modern Political Methods," was given by Mr. Earl Flegel; Miss Eunice Miller read one of her charming original stories; Mrs. Thomas

Douglas responded to several encores with Scottish songs; an impromptu debate was held with Messrs. Bolt, Doane and Bartlett on the affirmative, and the Misses Fields, McInturff and Aetna Emmel on the negative; and last but not least, a very clever original Adelante playlet, "The Last Chapter," was staged. Parliamentary practice concluded the program, after which "Eola" was the order of the evening. Dainty and delicious cakes were served by the committees in charge, of which Miss Barton of Adelantes and Mr. Paul Irvine of the Webs were the capable chairmen. Miss Chappell, Miss Page and Miss Hixon were honor guests.

Miss Todd and the young ladies of Lansanne were hostesses at lunch last Thursday noon. The guests included Dean Alden, Mr. T. S. McDaniels, president of the Board of Trustees, Hon. A. Smith of Portland, Dr. B. F. Steeves and Dr. R. N. Avison.

The members and friends of the Young Women's Christian Association held a most delightful surprise meeting at the Old People's Home last Thursday afternoon.

Miss Rosamond Gilbert desires to publicly express her appreciation of the loyal support given her by her friends in the recent Adelante election. She feels that it was solely due to their cooperation that she gained the position of second usher over her many opponents.

Miss Fannie Elliott, University librarian and instructor in the Academy, was called to Champagne, Ill., Dec. 6th, on account of the severe illness of her fiance, Mr. Price. By Jan. 1, Mr. Price had sufficiently recovered to come to Chicago, Miss Elliott's home, and on January 3d, at the home of Miss Elliott's brother in Chicago, a quiet ceremony was performed uniting in marriage Miss Elliott and Mr. Price. Only the relatives and a few close friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Price were college friends, and the wedding marks the culmination of a pretty romance. The students of Willamette are glad to know that Mrs. Price will remain here until the close of the second semester. Mr. Price is assistant librarian in the University of Illinois. After June, Mr. and Mrs. Price will make their future home in Urbana, Ill.

On Dec. 31 occurred the marriage of Mr. Herman Clark, '14, and Miss Gertrude Lukey at the home of the bride's parents in, North Salem. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin Sherwood. A large number of relatives and friends were in attendance. Mr. Clark is well known to Willamette students, having graduated last June. At present Mr. Clark is teaching science in the Astoria High School. Miss Lukey, for the past two years, has been teaching in the Salem public schools, and has made many friends who extend congratulations to both Mr. and Mrs. Clark. They are now making their home in Astoria.

Mr. Leslie Newton, ex '17, and Miss Esther Ferguson, were quietly married at the groom's home, in Hood River, on New Year's Day. Mr. and Mrs. Newton are both well known young people, Mrs. Newton having graduated from Salem High School in the class of '13. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Newton are now at home to their friends on their ranch at Canby, Oregon.

The Adelantes were given a rare musical treat last Friday afternoon. Prof. Walsh rendered Tosti's "Good-bye," and "Just You and I." Other beautiful and appropriate numbers were: Piano solo by Miss Flora Cone; violin solo by little Miss Marian Emmons, and a piano duet by the Misses Anson and Page. Following the program occurred the election of officers for the second semester. Following are those elected: President, Kate Barton; Vice-president Alice Fields; Recording Secretary, Gertrude Cunningham; Corresponding Secretary, Naomi Runner; Treasurer, Aetna Emmel; 1st Directress, Leila Lent; 2nd directress, Leila Doughty; 1st Critic, Gertrude Eakin; 2nd Critic, Mildred McBride; 1st Usher, Helen Pearce; 2nd Usher, Rosamond Gilbert.

The ever-popular scrap bag program was the feature of last Friday's Philadassian program. The stunts were clever and entertaining. The program was opened with a piano duet by Violet McClain and Olive Rasche. An original poem was read by Bess Hackett. Readings were given by Miss Clara Schmasse, Dorothy Schmasse and Helen Goltra; vocal solo by Isabel Gilchrist; Hamlet up-to-date by Valeria Goldberger and Elmo Ohling. Campus scenes—by everybody else. The last number on the program was a candy treat by Lucille Jaskonski.

OXFORD SCHOLAR DISCUSSES CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND

It just occurred to me that you would probably breathe curses on my head if I sent this letter without any reference to war conditions. As a matter of fact, there is very little to tell. I had expected to come into an atmosphere electric with excitement. But so far as one can see on the surface, the excitement is nil. There are no public demonstrations of any kind. One cannot long forget, however, that war is on. National airs are whistled on the street, men in uniform are numerous, every day one will see squads of recruits drilling in the streets, and flags are much in evidence. Also the red cross and nurses in costume are frequently seen, since perhaps five hundred or more wounded men are in improvised hospitals here, including the university examination halls and Masonic building. large proportion of the students in the university are drilling regularly. Numerous black arm-bands are the only outward evidence of the sorrow that is haunting hundreds of homes. In spite of all this, however, things proceed quite calmly and peacefully and one is put to no inconvenience by war conditions.

The more thoughtful persons with whom I have talked about the war feel very deeply the justice of England's position and, of course, take the war very seriously. They realize the disastrous result to themselves which would follow a German victory, but are optimistic as to the result. In fact, one finds general optimism both as to the final outcome of the war and as to England's safety from invasion. There is absolute confidence in the ability of England's fleet to protect the island. The unanimity of opinion seems strange after one has heard the difference of opinion and arguments in the U. S. where there are so many German sympathizers. There, a German may speak out, but here a German sympathizer has only one course and that is to keep his opinion strictly on the "q. t." I am wondering if there is much bad feeling in Salem or even in Willamette because of the war. It would not surprise me if some of the loud-mouthed partisans should come nearly to blows.

The newspapers here of course put everything in as optimistic a light as possible but do, I think, give as fully the facts as the American papers were doing. The press is absolutely free from criticism of the government's policy or of the conduct of the war and everything seems designed to produce absolutely unity of spirit among all Englishmen. The English are gratified with the general feeling of America on their side.

I have not said very much, but it may be better than nothing (and it may not.)

Yours,
P. T. H.

CHIEF JUSTICE McBRIDE
LECTURES ON OLD OREGON

Interesting Facts Presented on "Oregon's Forgotten State Builders."

(Concluded from last issue)

In calling the roll of those early pioneers whose heroism and self sacrifice were foundation stones upon which was builded the moral, literary, and civic structure of our commonwealth I could find abundant material in the lives of persons connected with the founding of this university. While their influence upon the destinies of this institution and of the state persists and will remain to the end of time, and in that sense "their works do follow them," their names are fast fading from public remembrance. Let me recall to the memory of the students of this university the name of that noble Christian woman, Mrs. Chloe A. Wilson, formerly Miss Chloe A. Clark, who braved the perils of a journey from New York to Nisqually to become a teacher to the Indians, and who married Dr. Wilson in 1840, and in that year came to Salem the first teacher in the Oregon Institute, which later developed into our present Willamette University. "How far a little candle sheds its beam." Could this good woman have lived to see this prosperous institution with its efficient corps of professors, its students and graduates in Divinity, law, medicine, and literature scattered over every state and territory of the Pacific, everywhere reflecting the culture received within these walls and honoring their Alma Mater by their achievements in their various lines of endeavor, she might well have exclaimed with one of old, "Now, Lord, lettest thou thy servant depart in peace." Let us hope that with prophetic vision born of enthusiasm for that which is good and true she did get a glimpse of all this progress e'er she was called away. We are sure that in that sunrise land she looks down with pleasure upon the fruition of her faithful services to this institution, to humanity and to the state.

I have thus sketched in crude lights and shadows some of the salient features in the lives of the persons I have mentioned. It is not a history, but a suggestion of the history that ought to be written. No complete history of Oregon has yet been written, and I confess that I had a motive in preparing this imperfect sketch. It is this: I firmly believe that the founders of the Methodist Mission in this country were the primary factors in turning the tide of immigration to Oregon, and thereby creating in the East the sentiment and interest that saved Old Oregon to the Union. I want this university, the fruit of the early endeavors of the grand old missionaries and their lay associates to have the credit that rightly belongs to them as the pioneers of Oregon greatness; and when history shall finally make up the roll of those who toiled, sacrificed, and braved hardship, danger, and even death, that Christianity and free government might be established under the American flag upon this Western coast, I want no deserving name omitted. I have barely suggested the material. To the professors, former and present students, and citizens of Salem should be left the pleasant task of searching out and recording permanently the names and services of those grand men and women who made this institution possible and American civilization here a fact. The material for such a history exists and we older pioneers who have seen these fertile valleys transformed from hunting grounds into grain fields, our method of navigation changed from canoes to steamboats, our land travel from the Indian trail to the graded and finished highway, and the steam railroad and electric cars—who have seen towns and cities spring up where in earlier years were only log cabins and Indian wigwams—will join with the present and younger generation in the task of embalming in the now imperishable form of written biography the good deeds and valuable services of these and many other almost forgotten state builders.

The man who thinks he can take a lot of "hot air" without getting "HOT," had better think again. Let Axtell cook you.

REGULATIONS AGAIN
ELIGIBILITY.

In the interest of the individual student and for the purpose of distributing responsibilities and honors, no student may hold more than one office. The following shall be known as major officers: President of the Student Body, Treasurer of the Student Body, President of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., Editor of the Collegian, Business Manager of the Collegian, Editor of the Junior Annual, May Queen, Manager of any student body activity, Manager of the Junior Annual. Only Seniors or Juniors shall be elected to any of the above-named offices.

The following shall be known as minor offices: Presidents of the Literary Societies, Presidents of the class organizations, and Presidents and Managers of special student organizations, such as baseball and football, not including manager of boarding clubs and similar bodies.

Only one major and one minor office, or two minor offices, may be held during a school year by any student.

The Editor of the Collegian, and editor of the Junior Annual, must have completed, satisfactorily, at least fourteen hours work in the English Department.

No student marked "failed" the preceding semester shall be eligible to office, except by special action of the faculty. Only students doing satisfactory class work and those whose conduct is commendable shall be eligible to election to any office. Such standards of work and conduct must be maintained throughout the tenure of office.

It is always understood that one must be a bona fide member of the class he represents as shown by the records in the office.

To participate in any inter-collegiate or inter-society contest or represent the college or any class or any society in any public way, a student must be regularly registered and be doing satisfactory work in a minimum of twelve hours of college work. A student below passing grade in any course for which he has registered is debarred from participation in any such contest or representation.

If any conditions should arise not covered by the foregoing provisions they should be presented to the Faculty for special action.

The Collegian and The Junior Annual are to be under the supervision of the Department of English, and the Editors may receive credit for their work. The Editor of the Collegian may earn a maximum of five credits, and the Editor of the Annual may earn a maximum of two credits, depending upon the quality of the work done, as determined by the Department.

STUDENT FUNCTIONS.

In order to safeguard the interests of all student body activities, the Faculty requires that all contemplated dates for social and athletic events be submitted to the Social Committee.

The Social Committee shall receive all requests for official functions for the semester, within two weeks after the beginning of the semester, and shall then make the assignment of dates.

Each student organization shall be allowed one official social function each semester.

All private functions shall be referred to the Social Committee.

All social functions to which students are invited should have a chaperone, and the name of the chaperone must be reported to the Social Committee at the time such requests are made, or in case of official functions, not later than three days before the date assigned for the function.

The names of the members of the various teams or participants in contests or such events must be submitted to the Faculty at least five days before the event.

All events of any nature, social or athletic, should be so arranged as to avoid late hours on Saturday, or travel on Sunday interfering with the proper observance of Sunday, and furthermore, no engagements should be made with any parties who disregard the day.

College musical clubs are under the general direction of the committee on non-athletic college organizations, and are governed by essentially the same as those governing athletic teams.

No mid-week dates shall be, except by special action of the Faculty, and at all times when a date will necessitate the absence of any student from his work he must be excused by the Faculty before he leaves.

Committees on social arrangements shall consult with chaperones, whose duty shall be to advise with them concerning programs, and time for serving refreshments, with a view to proper hours for beginning and closing anticipated functions. Evening social functions should close at 10:30.
