Fair one, if we were within these woods
We would have plenty of fine nuts to eat.
We would eat to our hearts' content.
Fair one, your beauty has me tangled in knots.
Fair one, if we were within this pond
We'd place small ducks there to swim around.
We'd place them there to our hearts' content.
Fair one, your beauty has me tangled in knots.
Fair one, if we were within this oven
We'd have little warm pâtés to eat.
We'd eat them to our hearts' content.
Fair one, your beauty has me tangled in knots.
Fair one, if we were within this garden
We'd sing all day long.
We'd sing to our hearts' content.
Fair one, your beauty has me tangled in knots.

Lauliku lapsepoli (The Songster's Childhood)

arr. Veljo Tormis

Soloists: Christian Clothier, Morgan Schetter

Translation:

When I was very little, al'leaa

I grew so prettily, al'leaa

I was but one night old, al'leaa

Just two days old

Mother took my cradle to the meadow

Put my crib on the heath

Put a duck to rock the cradle

The bird of summer to push me.

The duck had many words

The bird of summer had lots of songs

The duck sang many songs to me there,

The bird of summer - it spoke to me a lot.

That is where I learned the songs

That is where I learned the words

All of them I placed on paper

All of them I hewed into a book.

That is why I have so many words

That is why I have so many tunes.

Laulusild (Bridge of Song)

arr. Veljo Tormis

Soloists: Olivia Brady, Annie Armstrong, Isabella Lamb, Dani Abraham

Translation:

I have a good mind

To take into my head

To start off singing

Begin reciting

Reeling off a tale of kin

And singing a tale of kind.

The words unfreeze in my mouth

And the phrases are tumbling

Upon my tongue they scramble

Along my teeth they scatter.

Brother dear, little brother

Fair one who grew up with me

Start off now singing with me

Begin reciting with me

Since we have got together

Since we have come together from two ways!

Willamette University Chamber Choir
Wallace Long Jr., Conductor

We seldom get together
And meet each other
On these poor borders
The luckless lands of the North.

Let's strike hand to hand
Fingers into finger-gaps
That we may sing some good things
Set some of the best things forth
For those darling ones to hear
For those with a mind to know
Among the youngsters rising
Among the people growing.

When I start to sing,
To sing, to spin a yarn...

How Can I Keep From Singing

arr. Jane R. Fjeldsted

Koudjaj

Sydney Guillaume

A time to sow
And a time to reap.
A time for work
And a time for leisure.
Today we rest.
Today we celebrate.
Drum major, lead on,
Musicians, play on!

Now it's time to relax,
We must take a break and dance meringue.
Now it's time to let go,
Time to kalinda and 'zouk'
While we await the harvest.
"A time for everything,
And everything in its time."
That is a sacred quote that we must observe!

Beat the drums, blow the trumpet,
Play the violin and clarinet.
Musicians, singers, let's show them what we got.
Let's sing, dance meringue and kalinda,
Today is the big feast!
We will party like there's no tomorrow
With no fear, nor danger
We'll sing and dance
As life requires it.
All day long we've been at work
Laboring, making a difference.
We sowed and planted,
We scattered and watered.

Musicians, play on, it's party time!
Dance and 'zouk' like there's no tomorrow,
Today is "Koudjaj!"

Consecrate the Place and Day

Lloyd Pfautsch, Lyrics – Joseph Addison

Cloudburst - El Cantaro Roto (The Broken Water Jar)

Octavio Paz

Translation

The rain . . .

Only blood, only dust,

We must dream aloud,

Eyes of shadow-water

Only naked footsteps on the thorns?

We must sing till the song puts forth roots,

Eyes of well-water

The rain awakens

trunk, branches, birds, stars,
We must find the lost word,

Eyes of dream-water

Blue suns, green whirlwinds
Birdbeaks of light pecking open pomegranate stars

We must sleep with open eyes,
We must dream with our hands,
We must dream the dreams of a river seeking its course,

And remember what the blood,
The tides, the Earth, and the body say,

But tell me, burnt earth, is there no water?

Of the sun dreaming its worlds,

And return to the point of departure.
